Truth Through Personality!

“T he Word became flesh and dwelt among us...” 1
“Jesus said, ‘I am the way, the truth and the life...’” 2

What incredible statements! God became human! Jesus is Truth! Jesus was Truth in personality!

God has revealed Truth through many significant means: nature, the promptings of the Holy Spirit, providential guidance, Godly counsel, and through the written Word—the Bible.

But the supreme way that God revealed Truth was through personality! He humbled Himself and became a human being. Incredible condescension! Truth was so important for humans that God Himself became a human to show us the Truth.

A live, heart-thumping, breathing, eating, walking, talking, laughing, crying, thinking human being can personify and define truth in a far superior way than can mere theological statements (however good and important those theological statements are). This is where Hope Channel has the advantage in proclaiming truth. People see it. They hear it. They evaluate it for themselves. As the adage says, “A picture is worth a thousand words!”

One of the big reasons we will begin broadcasting twelve hours of live programming each week starting January 9 is that we want more live “truth through personality” programming. We want viewers to see real people relating to the issues of the day—answering questions and applying Scripture to today’s situations. Different topics, Different speakers. Different age categories. (Learn more about these programs and their hosts beginning on page 4.) Truth comes through personality! We want Hope Channel to be a “window for the world” to teach the wonderful truth God has given His church—by doing it through personality.

Please pray for Hope Channel’s program hosts and that each new program will attract much larger audiences. Why? None of us want to exalt ourselves. We want to exalt only Jesus. Hope Channel does not exist to magnify personalities or build empires. We want only to be the “window” by which people see Jesus. Truth through personality makes an impact.

For each one of us the challenge of being “truth through personality” is an invitation of Jesus. “Go you...” 3 Jesus said. In Isaiah God says: “you are my witnesses.” 4 By being authentic genuine disciples of Jesus, Jesus lives and works through our senses and our personalities so that others see Jesus in us. What a privilege and awesome responsibility—to represent THE Truth through our personality.

And what is the result? As Ellen White put it: “The strongest argument in favor of the gospel is a loving and lovable Christian.” 5

It has been a blessing to watch Prophecies Decoded every time I’m off work. I belong to another religion, but the more I watched the more it opened my mind and heart. Thank you so much! I believe the Holy Spirit is guiding me in the right direction. Please send me the rest of the presentations. Thank you, Dr. Clouzet. Every time I watch I cry—a cry of joy!

Rosebelle, watching on DIRECTV ch. 368

Prophecies Decoded has changed my life completely. I tried sharing what I was learning on Hope Channel in my Sunday church but was told “not to worry about silly things like that.” I thought my life had changed when I became a Christian two years ago, but now these teachings have blown me away. My partner of 18 years and I will soon be married and join the Adventist Church. We began observing Saturday as God’s holy day in our home. I love this new life.

Penny, DIRECTV viewer

The Prophecies Decoded seminar has been such a blessing to us. Thank you for uplifting Jesus and sharing God’s word. One of our guests told us she had learned more in these meetings than she had in the last five years in her church. She urged a friend to watch who then found it on TV at home. During an altar call at the conclusion of one evening’s presentation, the friend says she actually stood up in her home and walked up to the TV, in tears, in response to the call! Praise God! In our small town of less than 500 we have at least two individuals who are interested in joining the church, and one is sharing what she has learned with her Sunday church. Others in the community have shown an interest and we have been able to get acquainted with them. Seeds have been planted which we pray will bear fruit in the future.

Brace yourself. Christian television as we know it is about to experience a tectonic shift. And as a Hope Channel viewer, you’ll get to be the first to experience it.

Welcome to a new era in Christian TV.

Starting with two hours each night, Monday through Thursday, and expanding to three hours nightly in February, Hope Channel will offer the world the best in Bible study and insights for healthy, faithful living—and make every host and guest expert available to you!

“No other block of programming on television will offer such deep, beneficial, relevant insights on life. Nowhere else can viewers have such unfiltered access to the hosts and guests, or get such Biblically accurate answers to their most perplexing questions during a live program,” says Hope Channel president Brad Thorp.

“And it’s not going to be only during the program. Our hosts will interact throughout the week through each program’s website, blog, Facebook page, and Twitter account.”

“Each host, a deeply-committed Christian with a passion for communicating the Savior’s love and deepest truths, have been preparing for months to bring you a lively, informative understanding of the Bible and how it applies directly to your daily life,” says Kandus Thorp, Hope Channel vice president for programming. “A big advantage of the four nights of live programming is that you’ll get fresh, new programs every night. You’ll understand the issues of the day from a Biblical perspective. You’ll learn to relate to our Creator and Redeemer in exciting new ways that will bring new joy and purpose to your daily life. And these will be programs you’ll want to share with friends.”

Unlike other programs on television, viewers can call, text, e-mail, or post Bible-related questions for the hosts and their guest experts.

All the new programs will be available around the world on Hope Channel, Hope Channel International, Hope Channel Europe, and live to Hope Channel India. Take this moment to get acquainted with the hosts of these dynamic new programs, and discover what you will experience each evening.
8-9 p.m. (ET) Mon.–Thurs. Let’s Pray!

You’ll never have to pray alone! Get deep spiritual insights into the art and science of prayer as co-hosts Kandus Thorp and Pastor David Franklin lead this interactive global community of prayer. Viewers can use traditional and social media during the program and throughout the week to request prayer and connect with people who ask for prayer.

Thorp and Franklin will deal with everyday, real-life issues—from personal finance and health concerns, to relationships and parenting. Viewers will have their requests prayed for during the live program. Let’s Pray will also feature inspirational stories of healing, miracles, and the ministry of prayer in unusual situations.

“Viewers will become empowered to pray and be transformed by their prayer experience,” says Franklin. “Spiritual growth happens in a community; and this interactive global community will strengthen the faith of those who are already strong and lift those who may be on the verge of giving up,” says Franklin.

“Prayer is the most universally accepted spiritual practice,” adds Franklin. “As such, it has the greatest possibility to make a major impact on many lives. We will help people open their heart to Jesus and help them build that relationship to last throughout eternity.”

Franklin, an associate pastor at the Berea Temple Seventh-day Adventist Church in Maryland, and his wife Cynthia, a therapist, enjoy outdoor pursuits, working with young adults, multicultural ministry, and eating Belgian waffles.

Hope Channel viewers are well-acquainted with Kandus Thorp as a program host. However, few people realize that she is a pioneer in using satellite television for evangelism. She has co-led global initiatives resulting in more than 250 satellite TV evangelistic events. She designs sets, coordinates program production events around the world, hosts the long-running My Story, My Song programs, and is an accomplished musician. She has been married to Pastor Brad Thorp for nearly 30 years and homeschooled their three grown sons.

9-10 p.m. (ET) Mondays: storyLine: The Bible Way

“I love a good story and think the Bible has the best stories,” says Chantal Klingbeil, host of storyLine.

“Each week we will step into the world of another Bible character battling with real-life problems. These were real people who interacted with the living God who offers real solutions that we too can use,” says Klingbeil.

“We’ll start with a Bible story and explore it with experts on history, archeology, and other relevant disciplines to

People will be motivated to read the Bible and see that it is relevant and personal for them. They’ll say, ‘Wow, that’s in the Bible? Let me check it out for myself,’ and then see that God speaks to them through it,” says Klingbeil.

Klingbeil is a writer and professor with a master’s degree in linguistics. She and her husband Gerald have served as academics and missionaries in numerous countries and cultures. He is an associate editor for Adventist World and Adventist Review magazines and they homeschool their three daughters.

For many, theological material seems like dry academic information. However, Cross Connection breaks that notion so that theological history, archeology, culture, and even ancient language becomes surprisingly engaging,” says Kostyuk. “And we will have guests with real stories about how a true encounter with Jesus has changed their lives.”

“By knowing more about Jesus and His teachings we will know ourselves, and Scripture will come alive in our lives. We will see vividly the validity of His message, and see how the Bible interprets itself,” Kostyuk explains. “Jesus connected with us on the cross. It is our time to connect with Him and be amazed by His earthly life.”

Kostyuk graduated from Newbold College and the University of Wales in England with masters in Theology, Biblical Studies, and recently served as a teaching pastor at Forest Lake Church, Apopka, Florida. He is married to Julia, a registered nurse, with whom he enjoys scuba diving and hiking.

Pastor Oleg Kostyuk is familiar to viewers as a panelist on Hope Sabbath School. On Cross Connection Kostyuk and his guests lead a fresh, in-depth study and interactive conversation on the life of Christ using multimedia connections during and after each program.

“People will have a sense that it’s ‘no longer a dry academic information. However, Cross Connection breaks that notion so that theological history, archeology, culture, and even ancient language becomes surprisingly engaging,” says Kostyuk. “And we will have guests with real stories about how a true encounter with Jesus has changed their lives.”

Pastor Shawn Boonstra

Returns to weekly television with an interactive program on Bible prophecy. He’ll answer some of the most intriguing questions about the end of time while debunking myths and unraveling prophetic mysteries.

“Disclosure will equip the audience with the tools they need to understand Bible prophecies for themselves,” says Boonstra. “They’ll find a new appreciation for the times in which we live, a deeper understanding of the battle between good and evil, and a sense of the implications of God’s intervention.”

Hope Channel is teaming up with Amazing Facts and It Is Written in January to air two powerful outreach series to which you and your church can invite your community.

Reclaim Your Faith, a four-part program by Pastor Doug Batchelor, president and speaker for Amazing Facts, is designed to touch the hearts of Christians who have left the church. Reclaim Your Faith will air live from Hope Channel’s studios at the world headquarters of the Seventh-day Adventist Church January 13 to 15 at 7:30 p.m. ET, on Hope Channel.

Revelation Today will air live each evening (except Mondays and Thursdays) from January 20 to February 18, from Las Vegas on Hope Church Channel. Led by It Is Written speaker/director Pastor John Bradshaw, this 22-part series will inform and inspire by revealing Christ at the heart of Revelation.

Hundreds of thousands of Adventists and other Christians are missing from church. Among reasons for leaving church people cite busy lives, that they no longer believe in the teachings of the church, that they don’t like a pastor or other church member, or they have witnessed behavior that turned them off to the church. But current events are causing them, and millions of other non-churchgoers, to explore spiritual answers to their concerns.

During his series, Batchelor will address these issues to help the disenfranchised reconsider their decisions. He will address their deepest concerns in a Biblical manner that refocuses attention on the love of Jesus and His power to offer spiritual and emotional freedom with a new outlook on life.

“Revelation Today will appeal to new interests as well as former Adventists,” says Bradshaw.

“In light of all the human drama in the world, Revelation Today promises to be an exceptional opportunity to pull back the veil hiding the facts behind humanity’s pain and suffering, and reveal what’s really going on according to Bible prophecy,” Bradshaw explains.

“The purpose of Revelation Today is to stir interest among people, enable people to make new friends for Jesus, and open the door for follow-up Bible studies. We will lift up Jesus, let the Bible speak for itself, and encourage people to trust Jesus and fully accept Him in faith,” he adds.

“Irrespective of people’s religious backgrounds, they will be comfortable attending this exciting series. Today’s most-discussed prophetic subjects will be presented clearly so people can make the Bible the foundation for their lives,” adds Bradshaw. “We will show from the prophetic book of Revelation how the things going on in the world today are working to bring the world together for Earth’s last crisis—and that Christ is our hope who will see us through. Revelation Today will reveal that forces at work in the world today are driving us toward the greatest event in human history—the Second Coming of Christ!”

“Those invited to attend or watch on TV either series are promised a warm welcome; inspiring, heart-warming Christian music; and solid, reassuring Bible teaching,” says Hope Channel president Brad Thorp. “We are excited to offer both series and encourage churches to invite as many as possible to participate. Together these two series will help viewers find or reaffirm their faith in the Bible and provide them a strong foundation for a new life in Jesus.”

“People come through here at the worst times of their lives and I get to tell them about a channel they can watch from their hospital bed that will give them hope,” says Vikki Geigle, an occupational therapist at Three Rivers Hospital in Grants Pass, Oregon.

Geigle brings hope and healing to those affected by strokes or accidents by re-teaching necessary motor skills. She also brings hope and healing of the spiritual kind by praying for patients and recommending they watch Hope Channel on the hospital’s TV service.

“My workplace is a mission field,” says Geigle. “My job gives me lots of opportunities to witness.”

Geigle has several coworkers who also watch Hope Channel and recommend it to patients for its inspirational content and focus on healthy living, and they do so without overstepping any boundaries.

“I don’t press a belief system on patients or friends, but I can tell them about the blessing I receive by watching Hope Channel,” she adds.

She unhesitatingly recommends Hope Channel with the authority of her personal testimony.

The grueling demands of hospital work can sap the enthusiasm for life out of a person; but Geigle has received hope and healing herself from Hope Channel. Geigle bought her satellite dish on the recommendation of a friend. She wanted positive, informative programs to keep her buoyed during a rough patch in her life, and Hope Channel quickly became her favorite.

“I get to start my days and prepare for Sabbath with great teaching from Pastors Derek Morris, Dwight Nelson, and many others. Hope Channel is such a blessing,” she says.

“I served as a missionary in Africa and was immediately impressed with Hope Channel’s internationally diverse program line-up. The series Wait A Minute Pastor with Pardon Mwansa really touched me,” she adds. “It’s great to see our brothers and sisters around the world sharing the love of Christ through so many different programs that reach so many different people. Hope Channel’s constant gospel presence is important to my life and provides perfect company. It gives me a sense of extended family and shows that the world church is one big family.”

And Geigle encourages Hope Channel supporters to continue backing the ministry.

“Hope Channel is changing lives. I get to see it at work and in my church. Many Christians are missing out on the true gospel, but Hope Channel gives them the encouragement, correction, and admonishment they need for these times. Hope Channel is a tool I can give others to find Jesus on their own, without being aggressive or confrontational about my beliefs,” Geigle explains.

It certainly didn’t appear to be a traditional evangelistic meeting.

The TV studio was turned into a local meeting place with about 50 guests sitting around 10 small tables, similar to the setting in any of the 500 or so remote sites where more than 8000 attended, including about 2000 who are not baptized church members. There was a panel discussion, but no special music performances. And, they showed a “movie,” – a special video production developed to introduce Biblical principles.

Each Wednesday and Sabbath between October 8 and December 3, 2011, Faith Simple aired from the Hope Channel studio near Frankfurt, Germany. Participants watched a video clip about a young couple realizing how their encounter could change their lives. Each evening’s video built upon the next to make Biblical truth relevant in daily life.

Following the video clip, the two pastor-hosts each presented short sermons on that evening’s Biblical topic. Matthias Müller and Klaus Popa expanded on questions that arose in the video so they could “take the sermon out of the pulpit and into the street” for a real-life application.

Then they and their expert guests discussed the topic in four different online chatrooms with as many as 200 people at once while participants in the studio and in the remote sites discussed the topic in small groups. Afterward, everyone reassembled for Müller’s and Popa’s closing remarks.

“We chose not a doctrinal presentation but a life-issue approach so we could to cover all the important Biblical topics from a personal perspective,” said Müller. “We decided to be personally open and vulnerable, and not be the expert teacher with all the answers.” They intentionally avoided the traditional auditorium-and-pulpit setting.

“This new approach was important in successfully reaching the region’s dominant postmodern mindset with a relevant message,” said Müller. “Members thanked us for the fresh approach telling us that they finally had the courage to bring friends without fear of being embarrassed by an old-fashioned style of presentation. Attendees’ reactions were very enthusiastic.”

The series aired on the region’s number-one in-home satellite service to about 15 million homes in Germany, Austria, and Switzerland; on a number of local cable networks; and over a popular online TV service. Thousands more watched online. Positive responses and reports of baptisms were coming in from around the world at press time.

Christiane: You have really achieved something significant by approaching people in an authentic and competent way.

Andrea: Very beautiful, professionally set-up website. My compliments! I wished my Catholic church could do the same.

Anonymous participant in one of the chat rooms: This is the best evangelistic series EVER. My 10-year-old son wants to be invited into your studio.

Gad: Your new perspectives are changing even my pre-programmed thinking!

Katrin: I am learning so much through this broadcast. I am understanding the matter between man and God, and whether it was really by chance or whether God wanted it the way it is.

Elke: Yesterday I saw your live program at 11:30 a.m. here in the USA. My brother told me about the broadcast and that he is watching it in his church. It was wonderful.

Hope Channel Pays Tribute to Former Board Director/Co-founder Phillip Follett

The ministry of Elder Phillip Follett in the Seventh-day Adventist church spanned more than 50 years. He served the world church as a General Conference vice president. He died of cancer at his home in Collegedale, TN, on October 7 at age 79.

“Many do not know that Elder Follett was a key ‘founding father’ of Hope Channel’s global network. Hope Channel is one of the monumental contributions Elder Follett made to the Adventist Church,” said Hope Channel president Brad Thorp. “He was a pioneer in ‘NET’ evangelism.”

Follett was Hope Channel’s first board chairman, facilitated many NET meetings that spanned the globe, and strongly advocated for Hope Channel to create multiple contextualized channels that led to the development of 13 full-time channels using nearly two dozen different languages and eight of the world’s 10 most-spoken languages.

Novo Tempo Now Reaching 1 out of 3 Brazilians

Hope Channel in South America has just announced the purchase of 25 new TV stations. This acquisition includes one high-power station to generate the signal and 24 additional low-power stations. The signal will cover more than 33 million people in five different state capitals including São Paulo, Brasilia, and their surrounding areas.

The purchase of the former home shopping network was possible by a combination of contributions from the Adventist church’s South-American Division, regional church offices in Brazil, the church’s publishing house in Brazil, and the generosity of an Adventist businessman.

“There is no other explanation than being a miracle from God,” says Pastor Antonio Tostes, director of the South American Media Center and Novo Tempo TV in Brazil. “Several factors contributed to the acquisition. The financial circumstances of previous owners, the good financial situation of the church in Brazil, and the contribution of the donor all came together at just the right moment.

“There were other interested parties, but they could not get their offers together in time,” adds Tostes. “When our negotiations began, the price decreased by 30 percent. The timing was providential. Under any other conditions we could not afford to buy it.”

With all the units on the air, Novo Tempo reaches almost 60 million people, about 33 percent of Brazil’s population.

Novo Tempo now owns 40 low- and high-power stations across Brazil. Another 400 low-power stations belonging to municipalities carry their signal 24 hours a day. Novo Tempo’s programming is also distributed by SKY, a popular cable company in Brazil reaching 3.7 million homes and an additional 10 million people.

Hope Channel president Brad Thorp points out that the more Novo Tempo invests in reaching the public, the better have been the evangelistic results. Tostes confirms that observation.

“Today we are having an amazing evangelistic return. Our Bible School is receiving more than 20,000 contacts a month and sending out more than 10,000 Bible courses a month. We’ve been answering more than 13,000 Biblical questions every month,” explains Tostes. “The Novo Tempo workers are amazed at the doors that God is opening. We see these happenings as a call to a renewed love and dedication as our Great Hope approaches.”
Hope Channel Philippines on the Verge of Covering Half the Population with Gospel

The Adventist church’s Southern Asia-Pacific Division has acquired rights to two broadcast licenses that will expand current coverage to half the country, including 19 major cities.

The first is a platform to obtain 15 TV frequencies and 20 radio frequencies. The second has frequencies in eight large cities including: Metro Manila (North Philippines); Cebu (Central Philippines); and Davao (South Philippines).

“Metro Manila has a potential viewership of close to 20 million people,” says Jonathan Católico, Southern Asia-Pacific Division communication director. “All cable stations reached by the signal will carry our programs. In total, we will soon reach close to 50 percent of the Philippine population.”

The acquisition has been made possible, in part, by church members who give 50 cents per Sabbath for five years combined with denominational contributions and, as Católico puts it, “donations from kindhearted church members all over the world.”

“We currently use the Hope Channel International signal as the main source of programs, and add three hours of local programming each day,” explains Católico. “We receive a lot of letters and calls from our viewers asking for additional information, Bible studies, and baptism. The locally produced programs are very well received and denominational prejudices breaking down.”

HCi Programs Now on SKY Service in UK

Viewers of the United Kingdom’s Revelation TV channel are enjoying two top programs from Hope Channel International’s schedule. Viewpoint, a topical discussion program, and In Conversation are airing at 8:30 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays.

“This is exciting because it opens Hope Channel and some of its programs to a large new audience on the SKY satellite TV service,” says host Victor Hulbert. Revelation TV can be seen in the UK on SKY 581 as well as Freesat 692. SKY counts more than 10 million subscribers in the UK. Please share the good news with your friends who may be SKY subscribers in the UK.

Pakistani Programming

Hope Channel, in an unprecedented effort to produce Christ-centered programs for Pakistan, commissioned producer Andrew Hunt of Australia to create 52 programs—26 programs in Urdu and 26 programs in Punjabi. They will be available on DVD and for broadcast by Hope Channel India and Hope Channel North Africa/Middle East. The series of culturally-sensitive and relevant programs were shot in six days and will be presented as a gift to the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Pakistan to help with their evangelistic efforts.

Software Upgrade Makes Multiple Hope Channels Available for Local Church Websites

Every Seventh-day Adventist church and school can now offer eight different Hope Channels on their website.

With one click a visitor to a website on the netAdventist system can start watching Hope Channel, EsperanzaTV, Hope Channel International, Hope Channel Europe, Hope Channel North Africa/Middle East, Hope Channel Germany, Hope Channel Norway, and Hope Channel India.

The free software enhances a church’s or school’s community outreach by allowing a choice of channels to offer. The new service comes as the result of a joint-effort between software developers at Hope Channel’s Stimme der Hoffnung (Voice of Hope) studio in Germany and the global software and technology department of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

To acquire the free netAdventist service visit http://www.netadventist.org/sign-up/ and follow the easy-to-use instructions. Those already utilizing the service can download the upgraded video player.
longer business as usual’ on planet earth,” says Boonstra. “Things are changing. It’s not the world our grandparents, our parents, or even we grew up in. People are trying to make sense of the world we face. Even with the proliferation of programs on last-day events on other networks, none give viewers tools to dig into their Bible to learn and understand for themselves. We will,” Boonstra explains.

Boonstra is well known for his 12 years with It Is Written in Canada and the US. He has authored more than 15 books and conducted numerous evangelistic

Church.

Dr. Nerida
Titchiner-McKibben

7-8 p.m. (ET) Mon-Thurs. Health and Lifestyle

From pre-natal to end-of-life care, the principles God prescribes are scientifically proven to add years to your life, and life to your years! Dr. Nerida Titchiner-McKibben, a dynamic medical doctor and health educator, hosts this nightly presentation of Christian lifestyle principles.

Dr. Nerida is an MD from New Zealand with a specialty in obstetrics and gynecology and extra training in lifestyle and integrative medicine.
She and her husband, Pastor Daniel McKibben, enjoy travel and outdoor pursuits.

She and her guests will give advice on how to live a more healthful life from every aspect of medicine—cardio, vascular, respiratory, bones and joints, organs, nervous system, mental health, oral health, exercise, diet, men’s/women’s/children’s health, and anything in between. Biblical principles will be foundational and a whole-food, plant-based diet will be presented as the most ideal.

“This program will cover physical, emotional, and mental health from prenatal to the grave,” says Dr. Nerida. “I want people to make good choices each day and equip them to be healthy and whole.
Their questions and testimonies, along with the contributions of our guest experts, will drive this program.”

“Health and Lifestyle will become the place that people can go to for Biblically-based, best-practices answers to their questions on health,” she adds. “We’ll give people hope and enable them to live their dreams of a long and healthy life filled with good.”
