Dear Friends,

Thank you for all you have done through your prayers, time, talents and contributions to enable The Hope of Survivors to continue to serve victims of clergy sexual abuse around the world. Your support has also enabled us to provide much-needed educational seminars to clergy and church administrators. Education and awareness of the issue are essential for prevention and healing.

God has opened many doors for this ministry in 2013, and we are eager to see what good plans He has for all of us in 2014. With your help, much more can be accomplished and more victims can find the hope and healing they desperately need.

Time and again, I receive emails or cards from victims who say that, without The Hope of Survivors, they would have lost all hope, given up on God, or even committed suicide. I praise God for providing a ministry, and all who dedicate their time and talents to assist, to help those who are at a breaking point.

“I wanted to thank you for being there for my family when it was really hard and also for believing in me, it meant a lot, it’s only people like you and my mother that kept me going without doing something really stupid that might have taken my life.”—Child Victim
