We’re Going to the Fair!
Giving away books around people with books …

FREEQUENTLY CALLS COME INTO OUR OFFICE ASKING for books to give away in Florida. So it was no surprise to us that we should get the call asking for books to give away at the Miami International Book Fair. One hundred thousand people are expected to visit the fair over the duration of eight days. We decided to donate more than five thousand books to be given away at the event.

A local church has paid for a booth at the Fair, and church members intend to offer the books freely to visitors of the event. A couple of cheerful volunteers are going down to help with the distribution, and are expected to return with lots of pictures to share.

We were given several months to get ready for this job, so we put our thinking caps on and came up with an idea that we think is going to work well. We contacted a company which produces printed carrier bags, the kind you might expect to see at a convention such as this, and asked them to prepare a white bag for us with “Will America Survive?” printed in red. We’ve put the books “The Perfect Storm” in the bags, half English, half Spanish.

All that remains is to get down there and give the books away. If you’re in town during the Fair (Nov. 11-18), track us down; we’d love to see you, if only briefly.

We solicit your prayers and give thanks for your continued support. It is you that makes it possible for us to say “Yes” when calls like this come. Keep it up — you won’t be disappointed.
