Reaching Out from Within
Crossing the line to get across the border …

A RECENT NEWS REPORT GAVE DETAILS OF SMUGGLERS carrying Kentucky Fried Chicken from Egypt into Gaza. The lengths some people will go to for some finger-licking fast food seem to have no bounds. Though illegal, business is booming for a Palestinian entrepreneur.

When it comes to working within the law of the land, the wisest course is to be obedient. But there are times when a Higher Law, ordained by a Higher Power, must dictate the behavior of the faithful; “We should obey God rather than man” ought to be the guiding verse for the People of God.

When you think of the concept of smuggling, what usually comes to mind is the selling of illegal drugs or alcohol. But there is another kind of smuggling that involves the carrying of the Word of God into areas on the planet which forbid its publication — think, Communist countries or Islamic regimes. The presence of God and the Name of Jesus are not universally welcomed.

Most Christian denominations have settled into the doctrines that suit them best; any other spiritual food-for-thought is not encouraged. Occasionally, though, members of a church become exposed to a broader interpretation of the Bible, and seek to share their newfound knowledge with friends and family in their home churches. Such has been the case with a handful of quiet evangelists across the northern border; they have been using our Community Mailing service to send thousands of copies of Will America Survive? (full-text GC) into their former religious community in Canada. They are getting results.

Every day more and more people within that community call our office with questions: “Who are you?” “Why are you doing this?” “Tell me more!”

To sow a new idea—without getting in the way of that idea—is not an easy thing for a human being to do, so a book works perfectly as a carrier for disinterested seed. Once the thought is sown, the thinker eventually concludes that the idea was one of personal conviction; very few people disagree with themselves, as we’re sure you’ll readily concur.

Some pastors use the term “sheep-stealing” when referring to cross-denominational evangelism. Perhaps it’s best not to think of it that way. The Bible is a big Book, with many themes worthy of our contemplation, none perhaps as important as an end-of-time judgment and a soon-coming King. If these concepts loom large in your daily thinking, and you’d like to share them, consider sponsoring a Community Mailing in your area or beyond. Call Lary Petty @ (205) 646-2941; Lary will gladly explain the details.

Thank you for allowing us to help you in your personal work for the Lord. The privilege is ours.

Here’s a story we really shouldn’t tell you:

Jail Break

Anyone acquainted with the US prison system will be aware it takes a proverbial Act of Congress to get anything worthwhile through the gates to the prisoners. Recently, though, a DVD we sent made it through the red tape and landed in the lap of a prisoner before being vetted by the Chaplain. The DVD draws attention to the massive disruption in the natural environment. The prisoner took the DVD to the Chaplain, who quickly decided that it needed to be seen by all the inmates. A jail break, indeed!

Community Mailing®
