Dear Family and Friends,

In this newsletter is an update on the Clean Water Project in India that our JFA team is currently researching and filming. Also, you’ll see a nicely written newsletter from Daniel and Tesha Bair, who lead our All Asia Studio Team in Thailand.

Note: The last two newsletters have included amazing modern-day miracles written and experienced by Gayle Haberkam in Thailand. To read more of Gayle's stories from her blog (one of them involving a snake!), please click here. These stories are wonderful to read to your children also.

Update: Clean Water Project in India
Wow, that's a lot of dust! Will that ground bring forth water?

In the town where this well is being drilled, the current water situation allows each family to fill up anywhere from three to nine pots of water per week, using one spicket for four families, which runs water for about an hour/week, as long as the water is there. This gives each family only 8 to 24 gallons weekly for drinking, cooking, bathing and washing clothes. That is not very much. When the water runs out, a family can buy 264 gallons for 750 rupees ($12), or a woman can walk about 4 miles to get water, carrying one pot on her head and one pot on her hip. This still doesn't take care of the weekly needs, though. As you might imagine, due to these water challenges, dehydration is common.

Our team in India filmed the above well, funded by JFA, being drilled on the local SDA Church property. Some water appeared at 200 feet down, but it was sparse. The drilling continued to 800 feet and water was found, but, once again, not the amount desired. So, the next necessary step will be to buy a pump motor, complete with electric wires, pipes and a holding tank, all totaling about $1,700. We are seeking to raise this money quickly, so the people in this community can have relief.

Note: Most of the water in India is very salty, however the water coming out of the well is not salty. It’s good water! We just need the pump to access it.

If you would like to donate to the need for a pump motor, as well as other items involved in our Clean Water Project, please call us at 423-413-7321, or click on the following link for our Clean Water Matching Grant of $12,000 to provide water throughout as much of India as possible.

"By the Word of Their Testimony"
Daniel & Tesha Bair - Thai Gospel Media Project

Revelation 12:11 “And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death.”

At this time of year, we think about "the blood of the Lamb", Jesus death for us on the cross. Revelation says His blood is key to overcoming. His blood represents the power of His salvation through His death, burial, resurrection, and intercession for us.

But the other element by which we overcome is “by the word of their testimony”. Testimonies are an expression of faith, showing our dependence on the “blood of the Lamb” and all that it represents. And testimonies are not only helpful for the person giving it, but also for those who hear them. One of the most powerful ways that the gospel spreads here in Southeast Asia, is through the testimonies of the believers....Read more Revelation 12:10-12 The event of the death, resurrection, and enthronement of Jesus constitutes the decisive battle of the great controversy. It was at the cross that Satan was defeated (John 12:31-32; Luke 10:17-19). The proclamation goes forth: “Now the salvation and power and the kingdom of our God and the authority of his Christ have come, for the accuser of our brethren has been thrown down.”

Satan is the “accuser of the brethren.” Zechariah 3:1. He presents to us and to God every sin, mistake and character flaw as a reason that we should belong to him as his rightful prey, but “the blood of the lamb” “cleanseth us from all sin.” 1 John 1:7. His “blood,” His strength and righteousness and sacrifice, joined to the “word of their testimony,” is powerful to overcome Satan. Our personal knowledge and love of Jesus binds us to Christ and His saving power. Our advocate says to Satan, “The Lord rebuke thee. Is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?” Zechariah 3:2.

Christ’s faithful people “loved not their lives unto the death.” They would rather die than dishonor Him. They love Jesus more than the trivial pleasures to be gleaned from a few decades of mortal existence. With Jesus as their Shepherd they do not fear the devil’s “great wrath.”
