Thousands of children in Romania remain out of school or abandon school each year due to lack of funds for school supplies. The situation in one of the poorest areas of Romania, the Jiu Valley, is similar. In April 2011, because of the partnership between Romania and Hungary, between the cities Haidudorog and Stei, our workers have participated with the Stei City Hall in the cultural project “Easter Traditions and Customs” offering a healthy alternative to traditional Easter food. Thus, our representatives prepared and presented vegetarian “drob” (lentil) as an alternative to the lamb “drob”, and a vegetarian soy paté. The products were presented in the Hungarian city of Haududorog and were highly appreciated by Hungarian tasters as well as Romanian ones. The recipes were published in the partnership bulletin in Romanian, Hungarian and English, so that all interested persons had access to them.

From June 27 to August 31, 2011, Maranatha Romania organizes in Bihor County the “Vacation Bible School”. Within this action (involving regularly about 18-20 children) the focus is on helping children with social problems (and thus with behavioral problems, school issues), but not only. The program provides courses in mathematics, Romanian, English, Spanish notions and crafts: origami, collages, etc.; ethics and behavior, notions of Bible knowledge and various games. Also, for the professional guidance of children, but also to broaden their cultural spectrum, the association decided to make visits to various institutions on every Thursday. So far we have visited the City Library and City Hall. The children are delighted, most of them registered at the library, and now all want to be mayors, and wait anxiously every Thursday for a new adventure. Certainly, because it’s the summer vacation, nature outings are present- that is why we try to spend Sundays on the wooded hills surrounding the city. We thank all those who support us, and especially the City Hall represented by the mayor.

Maranatha Romania missionaries came with book stands in the street

For the second consecutive year, our missionaries have installed the book stands on city streets where they work. We lend people with health, education, family and spiritual books. People come to our stands, measure their blood pressure, the percentage of body fat and can borrow our books. For those who wish, they can be visited at home by our missionaries and are able to make friends that allow them to lead these people to Christ. We need support in prayer so that this summer, as well, the Lord will move hearts. Last year we started this action only in one city, and today a family is preparing for baptism there, following work with the book stands. Praise the Lord.
