Dear Center for Adventist Research,

It's probably one of your worst nightmares. I know it's one of mine. Imagine how devastating it would be to see your home burned to the ground.

That is exactly what happened to Daniel. His home was devoured by a fire in December, right before Christmas. Everything was lost, and his insurance money didn't come through right away. Instead of their comfortable home, his family was without a home, all their earthly possessions gone!

But surprisingly, Daniel wasn't devastated. Moving into a smaller place, he and his family patiently waited for their insurance money to come through, all the while grateful that they had all survived the fire.

They decided to donate it toward building a church!

There's so much opportunity for outreach right now in Vadu Moldovei and the members are actively working on sharing the gospel, even though they don't have a regular place to meet. Imagine what they will be able to do when they have a place to call home!

Charlene West, our executive director for international evangelism personally met Daniel in Romania. Because of his great sacrifice, Quiet Hour Ministries pledged to help cover the remaining cost of the church so that Daniel's donation will not be in vain.

For so many of us, church is a place of peace and fellowship, where we can worship our Savior and enjoy the friendship of other believers.

For the congregation of Vadu Moldovei, the idea of one place where they can meet is still just a blueprint. But you can change that!
