NET 2011: Prophecies Decoded
September 30 - October 29, 2011

Prophecies Decoded, with Dr. Ron Clouzet, will open Friday, September 30th, at 7:30 p.m. EDT. For the first time in the history of the church, an evangelistic series will be broadcast on Direct-TV, with an average nightly viewership of 100,000 people. The potential is great to reach large numbers of people in North America, and yet we know the enemy of souls will be working hard to resist the will of God.

There are a number of ways that you, as friends of NADEI, can get involved.

Visit the Prophecies Decoded homepage. Find a host church location near you.

Watch the broadcast on the Hope Channel. Invite a friend to watch with you.

Read Dr. Clouzet's blog, pray4net.blogspot.com.

Like us on Facebook.

Most importantly, pray with us. Pray for the presenters, the host churches, the members throughout the division working to make this happen. Pray for the technology and the equipment, that they may all work properly. Pray for the guests, former members, and current members who will attend. Pray that everything we do is for God’s kingdom and His glory.

New Book on Decoding Bible Prophecy now available!

Written by Dr. Clouzet in preparation for the NET meetings, this small book is a primer on the study of Bible prophecy, providing clear principles to help understand it. In a language accessible to everyone, it highlights the differences between the futurist, preterist, idealist, and historicist schools of interpretation, pinpoints the fallacies of the Dispensationalist model, and gives actual examples from Daniel and Revelation about how to interpret symbols and other Bible texts. This is an excellent resource for people wanting to understand the most mysterious portions of Scripture. It is ideal as a gift for anyone attending a series of public meetings on Bible prophecy.
