NY13 Compassion Prayer and Candlelight March, NETS, and More...

Dear Center for

Revelation of Hope evangelistic campaigns will begin this month in metro New York City. It is part of a world-wide initiative by the Seventh-day Adventist Church to reach the urban centers of the world where the fastest population growth is happening. This initiative, known to church members as NY13, is the boldest endeavor of the church to date to reach cities with the gospel of Jesus Christ in 2013 and beyond.

God is about to do something special in New York City with more than 400 evangelistic meetings planned throughout the metro areas of New York, New Jersey, and Southern Connecticut. Many of the evangelistic meetings will be conducted by local pastors, but also by visiting evangelists from across North America and other parts of the world. Besides the biblical presentations on prophecy, the meetings will involve, among others, youth ministry activities, health expos, community service projects, and small groups, many of which will be conducted in several languages. Most meetings will occur in local churches, including Adventist world church president Pastor Ted Wilson's campaign at the Greenwich Village Manhattan church during the month of June.

We solicit your earnest prayers that Pentecost will be repeated in Metro New York City in 2013 and beyond.”

NY13 Compassion Prayer and Candlelight March Against Violence

Thousands of youth and young adults will impact New York City this weekend with numerous acts of compassion. We have more than 30 projects taking place and we invite you to sign up for one of these compassion projects.
Two highlights for this weekend include: the compassion prayer and candlelight march across the Brooklyn Bridge and the flash mob for time square.

Watch our flash mob promo video.

We still have a big need for volunteers on Friday, as well as Sunday. We are doing well on projects for Saturday, some of them are already filled and no longer available, but we need help on Friday especially.

We have made some changes and moved some of the projects that were originally scheduled by the Project Team for Saturday to Sunday.

Northeast Evangelism Training School - NETS

What is NETS?

NETS is an evangelistic training school that prepares soul-winners who are cross-trained in Bible work, health evangelism and public evangelism. Graduates are prepared for an entry level career in lay ministry or to more effectively serve God in their own churches, communities, or schools.
Compassion march, NETS and more

Supported by the General Conference and the North American Division, NETS is a part of the Atlantic Union Conference and is dedicated to training students who are serious about realizing the potential that God has given them.

At NETS, you will:

- Grow in your own relationship with Jesus Christ
- Learn the skills to become a powerful Bible worker
- Use health evangelism as an integral part of winning souls
- Learn to share your faith with confidence
- Answer difficult Bible questions with authority
- Learn how to preach moving and inspiring sermons
- Encourage people to make decisions for Christ
- Gain a profound understanding of Daniel and Revelation

To register to be apart of this evangelism training school or to find out more visit: netsatlanticunion.org or call 978-696-6043.

THOUSANDS PROTEST GUN VIOLENCE IN MARCH ACROSS BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

“Youth and young adults participate in a march against violence to encourage more compassion”

Brooklyn, NY, March 23, 2013 - More than 3000 youth and young adults from the Seventh-day Adventist Church and the community will participate in a compassion rally and march across the landmark Brooklyn Bridge in support of acts of compassion and saying NO to violence. Scores of youth and young adults in our local communities are killed in senseless acts of gun violence. We are marching for change. Change the statistics! Change the trend! No more violence! It’s time for Compassion. This march will inspire hope in our young people that a bright and prosperous future can be theirs if they say no to violence. This march reflects the need for more compassion in the way we live our lives.

This anti-violence march will take place on March 23 at 3 p.m. Participants will first gather at the Cadman Plaza (North) at 2:00 p.m. and the march begins promptly at 3:00 p.m. The march will end at Foley Square in Manhattan. A press conference will be held at 2:45 p.m.

Invited and confirmed elected and public officials include: NYC Public Advocate and NYC mayoral candidate Bill de Blasio, 9th Congressional District Congresswoman Yvette Clarke, 8th Congressional District Congressman Hakeem Jeffries and regional Health Administrator with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Michelle S. Davis.

Visuals: Thousands of youth in compassion t-shirts with banners, signs and posters against gun violence and other acts of violence. Visit www.compassion-now.org for more pictures, videos, and more.

Interviewee options: Organizer Pastor Jose Cortes Jr., Congressional officials Yvette Clarke, Hakeem Jeffries, Bill De Blasio, church leaders, local youth and parents.

Confirm your attendance for the press conference by contacting Pastor Rohann D. Wellington, communication director for the Greater New York Conference of Seventh-day Adventists at 347-742-6087 (cell).
The Seventh-day Adventist Church is a mainstream, protestant denomination with more than 17 million members worldwide. It has about 70,000 members in Metropolitan New York City who worship in just over 120 churches. There are two offices that oversee the work in that area: Greater New York Conference in Manhasset, and Northeastern Conference in Jamaica. They work closely with two academies, 19 elementary schools, and numerous community-based ministries. The church places great emphasis on fulfilling the mission of Jesus to proclaim to all peoples the everlasting gospel in the context of the Three Angels’ messages of Revelation 14:6-12, which is accomplished through preaching, teaching, and healing ministries.

Join us for an unforgettable four months in 2013!

Spring (March – June)
Join NETS in New York City as we work together with Ted Wilson, Mark Finley and others to reach Manhattan for Christ. Learn to share the gospel in an urban environment as you study how “Christ’s method alone” can be put into practice in a real-world setting. Experience revival in your own life as you see others changed by the love of Christ. Don’t miss this once in a lifetime opportunity to work hand in hand with world church leaders and other experienced soul-winner to reach the Big Apple for the glory of God.

Fall (August – November)
Come to the beautiful New England campus of Atlantic Union College to learn about soul-winning in the place where Seventh-day Adventism began. Rich with heritage and a zeal for souls, the Northeast is ripe for harvest and you will get to be a part of one of the most ambitious outreach efforts the Seventh-day Adventist Church has had in this territory in many years. Fall is the time for harvest and a bountiful one awaits you as you work with the Lord in New England to bring souls to Him.
