AIU OLYMPICS 2011
OPENING CEREMONY

This Saturday night, November 5, 2011
6:30 pm, Student Center Building
EVERYONE IS INVITED!

Organized by the Student Council

Snapshots
AIU sends flood relief team to Ayutthaya province for the second time,
Sunday, October 30, 2011

Photos by Charlie Bagah
Social Committee organizes second game night at AIU Muak Lek campus

From October 3 to 7, 2011, a team from AIU, comprised of Pastor Johnny Wong, Tonou Hunlede (Matthew), Luther Ku and Shachee Mehta was invited to speak at the Ekamai International School (EIS) Week of Prayer (WOP) in Bangkok. The theme of the WOP was “Who Am I?”

The task was indeed enormous as each speaker conducted their own week of prayer in the different levels assigned to them.

I hope in the future, our students will be more involved in events such as this that could have significant impact to the lives of others and also their own lives, whereby students and faculty of AIU could do something together to impact others for eternity.

One memorable highlight for Matthew was the “little ones” in the kindergarten. “There was one of them in particular that I set myself to win her heart.” Matthew made sure he greeted her every day. “At first, she was really scared of me but on the last day, she smiled a couple of times at me, greeted me with a wave, shook my hand and again smiled.

“I was so thrilled to have made a friend!”

It was Matthew’s first time to speak to a crowd of more than one hundred students. He was nervous and unprepared for the audience that he was going to face. However by God’s grace, Luther pulled through and he thanked God immensely.

“Praise God for He was my source of inspiration.”

Being a speaker at the EIS WOP helped Shachee overcome her fear of speaking to small children. Not only that, she also discovered that sharing Bible stories and spreading God’s love proved to be an unforgettable experience.

“I would love to do it again if I was ever presented with the opportunity.”

Matthew and Luther (center) with Grade 5 students and teachers.

Shachee Mehta
Sophomore, Psychology & Education
WOP speaker for Primary School (Kindergarten – Grade 2)

“I hope in the future, our students will be more involved in events such as this that could have significant impact to the lives of others and also their own lives, whereby students and faculty of AIU could do something together to impact others for eternity.”

One memorable highlight for Matthew was the “little ones” in the kindergarten. “There was one of them in particular that I set myself to win her heart.” Matthew made sure he greeted her every day. “At first, she was really scared of me but on the last day, she smiled a couple of times at me, greeted me with a wave, shook my hand and again smiled.

“I was so thrilled to have made a friend!”

It was Matthew’s first time to speak to a crowd of more than one hundred students. He was nervous and unprepared for the audience that he was going to face. However by God’s grace, Luther pulled through and he thanked God immensely.

“Praise God for He was my source of inspiration.”

Being a speaker at the EIS WOP helped Shachee overcome her fear of speaking to small children. Not only that, she also discovered that sharing Bible stories and spreading God’s love proved to be an unforgettable experience.

“I would love to do it again if I was ever presented with the opportunity.”

Matthew and Luther (center) with Grade 5 students and teachers.

Shachee Mehta
Sophomore, Psychology & Education
WOP speaker for Primary School (Kindergarten – Grade 2)

“I hope in the future, our students will be more involved in events such as this that could have significant impact to the lives of others and also their own lives, whereby students and faculty of AIU could do something together to impact others for eternity.”

One memorable highlight for Matthew was the “little ones” in the kindergarten. “There was one of them in particular that I set myself to win her heart.” Matthew made sure he greeted her every day. “At first, she was really scared of me but on the last day, she smiled a couple of times at me, greeted me with a wave, shook my hand and again smiled.

“I was so thrilled to have made a friend!”

It was Matthew’s first time to speak to a crowd of more than one hundred students. He was nervous and unprepared for the audience that he was going to face. However by God’s grace, Luther pulled through and he thanked God immensely.

“Praise God for He was my source of inspiration.”

Being a speaker at the EIS WOP helped Shachee overcome her fear of speaking to small children. Not only that, she also discovered that sharing Bible stories and spreading God’s love proved to be an unforgettable experience.

“I would love to do it again if I was ever presented with the opportunity.”

Matthew and Luther (center) with Grade 5 students and teachers.

Shachee Mehta
Sophomore, Psychology & Education
WOP speaker for Primary School (Kindergarten – Grade 2)

“I hope in the future, our students will be more involved in events such as this that could have significant impact to the lives of others and also their own lives, whereby students and faculty of AIU could do something together to impact others for eternity.”

One memorable highlight for Matthew was the “little ones” in the kindergarten. “There was one of them in particular that I set myself to win her heart.” Matthew made sure he greeted her every day. “At first, she was really scared of me but on the last day, she smiled a couple of times at me, greeted me with a wave, shook my hand and again smiled.

“I was so thrilled to have made a friend!”

It was Matthew’s first time to speak to a crowd of more than one hundred students. He was nervous and unprepared for the audience that he was going to face. However by God’s grace, Luther pulled through and he thanked God immensely.

“Praise God for He was my source of inspiration.”

Being a speaker at the EIS WOP helped Shachee overcome her fear of speaking to small children. Not only that, she also discovered that sharing Bible stories and spreading God’s love proved to be an unforgettable experience.

“I would love to do it again if I was ever presented with the opportunity.”

Matthew and Luther (center) with Grade 5 students and teachers.

Shachee Mehta
Sophomore, Psychology & Education
WOP speaker for Primary School (Kindergarten – Grade 2)
Campus Calendar

NOVEMBER 3, THURSDAY
Department worship, 7 pm - 8 pm
Various locations on campus (check with department)

NOVEMBER 4, FRIDAY
Vespers by the Faculty of Business Administration, 7 pm, Auditorium
The Seekers: “A New Song
After Vespers, Fellowship Hall.

NOVEMBER 5, SATURDAY
Thai Sabbath -- Auditorium
International Sabbath -- Church
SS lesson study, 9 am
SS program, 10 am
Divine Service, 10:45 am.
AY Channel 7: “Discouraged and Worried?”
5 pm, Church.

AIU Olympics 2011: Opening Ceremony
6:30 pm, Student Center building.

NOVEMBER 8, TUESDAY
United Prayer, 7 pm, CH112

NOVEMBER 9, WEDNESDAY
Chapel: “Trendiliness in Dress” by Acharn Phuong Linh Nguyen Thi,
10 am, Auditorium.
Find satisfaction in Biblical guidance on trendiliness in dressing and be inspired of true inner Christ-like appearance.

Campus Family Group, 7 pm,
Various locations

Weekly Events

The Seeker Ministry

THEME: JUST DO IT!!
“ลงมือทำ!”
Topic: A New Song
บทเพลงใหม่

Friday 8pm Fellowship Hall
วันศุกร์ 20:00 น. ห้องสมานฉันท์

Festival of Faith (FOF) Organized by the Chaplain office. Speaker: Pr Gilbert Cangy.
Date & Time: Monday - Saturday, November 21-26
Venue: Kiti-Tasanee Auditorium & AIU Church

Upcoming Events

AIU Olympics: Opening Ceremony Organized by the Student Council.
Date: November 5, 6:30 pm
Venue: SC Building

Outdoor Thai Culture Fair Organized by the Student Council.
Date: & Time: Sunday evening, November 20, 5 pm - 10 pm
Venue: Football field

Campus-wide Christmas Program Organized by the AIU Social & Cultural Affairs committee.
Date & Time: Sunday, December 18, 7 pm
Venue: Football Field

Email your announcements to pr@apiu.edu, the latest by Tuesday afternoon at 3 pm. For outside timings, contact the editor at ext 1189. We do not accept For Sale advertisements.

Newsbyte is published every Thursday by the Marketing & Advancement office.