March 22
London Community Health Weekend

Dr. Hans Diehl is speaking in London, Ontario, on March 22 at Sauders Secondary School, located at 941 Viscount Road, London.

Dr. Diehl will present four sessions, starting 10:00 a.m. and concluding at 6:00 p.m. Fellowship lunch will be provided, potluck style at the local school cafeteria.

Dr. Diehl conducted his first CHIP program in 1988 in Creston, British Columbia after doing a 2-year post-doctoral fellowship in cardiovascular epidemiology, sponsored by the National Institutes of Health of the USA. The popularity and the life-changing results of the program caused international interest, and in 1997, first set of CHIP DVDs was produced in Kalamazoo, Michigan, making the program available for local churches. The following year, in 1998, the clinical results of the Kalamazoo, Michigan, CHIP were published at the invitation of Caldwell Esselstyn, MD from the Cleveland Clinic in the American Journal of Cardiology, showing cholesterol drops not expected or previously seen in community-wide educational programs. London volunteers, Gord & Kathy Rayner, began the community outreach in 2003, sharing with hundreds of people principles of healthy lifestyle, and currently conducting the 20th training session. Don't miss this opportunity to meet and visit with Dr. Diehl.
