One Day Left to get the $130 registration discount for San Diego. After midnight, February 11, 2014, the fee goes up to $190.

Connect to Seattle 2014 from the comfort of your living room or office by clicking here and to watch the messages via the Hope Channel.

If you haven't already "Liked" the One project Facebook page or following us on Twitter, sign-up for the latest information and quotes.
DAY 1 Report from Seattle

We’ve just wrapped up Day One in Seattle and the day was full of challenging messages, enriching conversations, and worship that brought us to the throne room of grace. Even with some snow and ice in the northwest, over 760 participants braved those elements to gather these two days, along with over 500 watching online, all to focus on the Jesus that is our Present Truth.

The morning began with our new segment entitled, "Author's Corner." Bill Knott was our first author, as editor of the Adventist Review Bill talked about the importance of dialogue and how it's okay to disagree as long as we can still hold respect for one another. Bill claims that we actually grow through the process of disagreement, and said that according to his research of the church's early documents, the Adventist church was founded upon a covenant of mutual respect and goodwill.

After a welcome by Japhet De Oliveira, we were challenged by reflections from Alex Bryan, Randy Roberts, David Franklin via video in Baltimore, Sam Leonor and Dilys Brooks. We also shared our dreams for our church via messages from Tommy Poole, Anna Romauld, Garrett Speyer, Raewyn Hankins, as well as some open mic reflection time.

We invite you to view some photos from Seattle that have already been uploaded by clicking here.

As we end the first day, we share with you a quote from Scripture that speaks to some of our discussion on Present Truth, as well as a prayer from Sir Francis Drake that was shared by Pastor Randy Roberts:

"Behold, I am doing a new thing; now it springs forth, do you not perceive it? I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert." (Isaiah 43:19, ESV)
“Disturb us, Lord, when we are too well pleased with ourselves, when our dreams have come true because we have dreamed too little, when we arrive safely because we have sailed too close to the shore. Disturb us, Lord, when with the abundance of things we possess, we have lost our thirst for the waters of life; having fallen in love with life, we have ceased to dream of eternity, and in our efforts to build a new earth, we have allowed our vision of the new heaven to dim. Disturb us, Lord, to dare more boldly, to venture on wider seas where storms will show your mastery, where losing sight of the land, we shall find the stars. We ask you to push back the horizons of our hopes to push us into the future in strength, courage, hope, and love.”

We invite you to pray for us in Seattle as we head into Day Two. Feel free to join us by registering for Live Stream courtesy of the Hope Channel.

Send Us Your Quote from Day One

What has Day One meant to you? Maybe it was an inspiring reflection, or a meaningful conversation during recalibrate, or a dream that is stirring in your heart. Send us your quote by emailing Paddy McCoy and let us know.
Please remember to take a few minutes to head to the Fifth Avenue room, across the lobby from the main meeting room, to share what you would say to your church if you had the opportunity. Maybe it's a burden you have, maybe a concern for a lost or hurting friend, or even something you'd like to thank the church for that has impacted your life. Whatever that something is, please take a few minutes during refreshment break and lunch break tomorrow to share your "Dear Church" with us.