Ministry Among Buddhists Meeting Just Around the Corner

This January, just a few short weeks into the New Year, we will be holding our 10th annual Ministry Among Buddhists (MAB) meeting in Bangkok, Thailand. The dates are: January 26th through the 29th, 2012.

We are looking forward to some interesting sessions. This includes a number of guest speakers that have never attended our meetings before, as well as some of our "seasoned veterans". We will hear from places where reports are few but blessings are many.

We want to discuss issues in a real way about what works and what does not work as we labor among the many and varied Buddhist groups in Asia. Even more importantly, we plan to seek the Lord and ask what He would have us do and how He would have us work as earth's history comes rapidly to a close.

We will have a special track for Sabbath and Sunday to assist teachers, business people, and others who work among Buddhists everyday but may not know how to effectively share the valuable truths entrusted to us as Seventh-day Adventists.

The weekend will also include a special emphasis on the 3 Angel's messages in light of a Buddhist audience. This will remind us to take a fresh look at the core message and mission for Seventh-day Adventists. We hope to renew our hearts and minds with the message that we are to live and give right now. This message demands our clear understanding, our attention and our prayerful action. Whatever we do should contribute toward the completion of the prophetic commission given to Seventh-day Adventists.

We would ask you to join with us in praying for these upcoming meetings, the speakers and the attendees. Pray that Jesus will open the windows of heaven, and pour out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

If you are able to come to these presentations, please consider doing so. Contact us by sending an email to secretary@bridgesforministry.org
