Japan Earthquake Alters Coast Line, Changes Earth's Axis

VOA News & Reuters.com / March 12, 2011

"The massive earthquake that hit Japan on Friday was so powerful that it changed the shape of the country's coastline and shifted the earth's axis."

--This personal email update just arrived from long-time friend (Japanese/American) with family and friends in Japan. "So much suffering and loss
Friends,

Most of you would have heard about this big Tsunami that has hit north-eastern coast of Japan.

The area that has been hit the hardest is Miyagi prefecture around Matsushima, Shiogama and Sendai area.

My wife and I spent a week there last fall. Shiogama is known for the highest amount of fresh tuna catching volume out of all Japanese ports.

We had a great sushi lunch there prepared by a Chef who had just become a Japanese champion in tuna cooking contest.

I have no doubt that Shiogama port is totally gone, and so is his restaurant. I hope that he had enough time to escape.

Nikkei future is greatly down as well as Japanese currency. . . I am not sure how much it is going to cost for the repairs of damages, but Japan has been feeling the pain of this great recession. She may be forced to liquidate much of her foreign investments to bring back her capital from foreign countries to rebuild Japan. Do you all understand what that means? That means that Japanese fund managers will sell their investment overseas in the coming week, triggering massive global level sell-offs in the stock market. I hope not!

Unfortunately, since there is nothing you and I can do but to watch CNN video feed and pray for the safety of those in Japan, including my family members and relatives that I cannot make any contacts at the moment.

From religious note, I am afraid that we may be beginning to see 'the beginning of sorrows' predicted in Matthew 24, Mark 13 and Luke 21 by none other than Jesus Christ. Remember the word of Jesus in Luke 21?

10 "Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.

11 "There will be great earthquakes, famines and pestilences in various places, "and fearful events and great signs from heaven."

25 "There will be signs in the sun, moon and stars. On the earth, nations will be in anguish and perplexity at the roaring and tossing of the sea.

26 "People will faint from terror, apprehensive of what is coming on the world, for the heavenly bodies will be shaken.

I personally believe that lots of frequent earthquakes around the globe is foretelling the arrival of Planet X (Nibiru) approaching from the direction of the south pole. It is creating so much gravitational anomalies! We may be getting ready for another pole shift like In the days of Noah. Notice the expressions: 'for the heavenly bodies will be shaken.' Heaven will look shaken because earth's pole will be shifting! Don't you think?

This event is giving a little chill because my friend J. ___ told me about a week ago about the gravitational effect of Planet X in conjunction with one of the large tailed comet passing by the earth right now. J.___ has given me the crisis window of between March 7-15 and Bang! J.___! You were absolutely right! We may have to start paying attention to what this small group of astronomers have to say about what the government has not been telling us.

"Friends, avoid the coastal cities! Move to the higher ground! Because the time may be approaching for the west coast to be terribly shaken in the near future.

"May God help us and protect us all!"

Japan Earthquake Alters Coast Line, Changes Earth's Axis

VOA News
March 12, 2011

Swirls of waves approach to a coast in Iwaki, Fukushima Prefecture, northern Japan, March 11, 2011 after a powerful tsunami spawned by the largest earthquake in country's recorded history slammed the eastern coast.

The massive earthquake that hit Japan on Friday was so powerful that it changed the shape of the country's coastline and shifted the earth's axis.

Geophysicist Kenneth Hudnut, who works for the U.S. Geological Survey, told CNN that the quake moved part of Japan's land mass by nearly 2.5 meters.

Experts say that the huge shake, caused by a shift in the tectonic plates deep underwater, also threw the earth off its axis point by at least 8 centimeters.

Thousands of people were unaccounted for in Japan on Saturday, a day after the 8.9 earthquake shook the country and giant tsunami waves crashed 10 kilometers inland in the northeast.

Some information for this report was provided by Reuters.
Four overturned train carriages lie at impossibly skewed angles. A cruise ship sits on its side. Another teeters perilously on the edge of a quay.

All had been flung from their courses by the devastating force of the tsunami, but pictured from above – in such unlikely settings – they appear almost as toys scattered by a child who has grown bored with playing.

Elsewhere, terrified survivors wait to be rescued atop a building in Kesennuma, in north-east Japan, after fashioning a giant SOS sign from bedsheets.

And residents in Rikuzentakata can be seen on the roof of a block of flats that appears to have been put through a shredder.
Four entire trains carrying hundreds, possibly thousands of passengers, vanished after the earthquake. At least one was a high-speed Japanese 'bullet' train. Rail operators lost contact with them as they operated on coastal lines on Friday.

East Japan Railway Company admitted it did not know how many people were on board.

As well as the ships seen here, a cruise liner is said to have simply vanished with hundreds of holidaymakers on board.

Kesennuma – near the off-shore epicentre of the magnitude 8.9 quake – has been burning furiously, with broadcasters reporting that fires are spreading out of control.

Aerial footage of the city, home to 74,000, shows the whole area engulfed in flames.

Witnesses said the fires were caused after the tsunami smashed into cars, causing them to leak oil and gas. They described a city of 'fire and water' – what is not ablaze is submerged.

Officials said the number of dead was likely to soar as thousands were still unaccounted for. An estimated 215,000 survivors have been placed in makeshift shelters.

A huge international rescue effort was also underway and a British team was preparing to fly out. The fate of residents of the shredded flats of Rikuzentakata, also on the north-east coast, was not clear last night.

Footage broadcast on Japanese TV showed that minutes before the tsunami struck, it appeared a typical Japanese town moving towards rush hour, with hundreds of cars on the roads.

Then, as the torrent of water sweeps in, the entire region merges into the sea, causing a flood that few would be able to survive.

Many homes were crushed beneath the intense pressure of the first barrage of water which left behind a tangled mess of wrecked wooden buildings. Cruelly, many others that initially stood firm were washed away when the ferocious waves...
continued to roll in from the Pacific.

- Some quite scary and ridiculous comments here. Why do people start quoting the bible,saying its Gods way,climate change because of us humans. Its a natural disaster, Japan and the surrounding areas have been having these for centuries! It happens, one day we will be gone because of something like this and then it'll all start over. Lets hope the death toll doesn't grow to large.

In one of the photographs of the piled up cars there seems to be a white dog stranded in one at the top of the pile. It would not be that difficult to help this dog to freedom. Did any photographer stop to do this? If not I do not understand some people's ability to walk away unconcerned. - Carol, Liverpool, 13/3/2011 07:09

If a picture equals a thousand words and touches your soul it will have helped. Since you were not present you will never know if any photographer took time out to rescue a dog or a person. I suggest that bringing the plight of these people to the world's attention with pictures is very important. And if it causes millions of people to donate or help it's served it's purpose.

Our Lady of Emmitsburg
To the World through Gianna Sullivan
June 1, 2008

My dear little children, praised be Jesus!

Little ones, thank you for coming to pray. Know how much God loves you. He has given you tremendous gifts.

Children, for the last 20 years I have oftentimes spoken of “change.” I have told you that there is no time for fear; there is only time for change. You must know by now that I have recently spoken of an arising of “two suns.” When you see the two suns on the horizon, you must know that this is a time of change, a time of this new beginning about which I have spoken to you before. After you see the two suns, there is only a short time before you will see a tremendous change in weather. After this, as you know, there are more changes to come.

Children, God did not create only the Earth. God is the Creator of the cosmos, with its many galaxies, many orbits, different stars and different planets. God is the Creator! There are other planets like earth, far beyond your understanding.

I can tell you this: Even your governments and the Church authorities already have knowledge of the stars aligning and its implications upon you. You must not fear but must be prepared, primarily spiritually.

After awhile, you will see a time when there is another body in orbit around your solar system, coming between Earth and the Sun and leading to tremendous devastation. Approximately 60-70% of the world’s population, as you know it, will cease. Of those who survive, 60% of them could die of disease and starvation.

Prayer is the answer! Prayer can mitigate much of anything to come. Love and unity must be at the forefront, not survival of the fittest. But I can assure you that secretly those in governmental positions around the world and Church authorities all know. As your Mother and with you as children of God, it is my duty to forewarn you and to draw you to my Son for protection. Look not too far before you will see two suns. Make my words known to all people: Life is important because God loves you. Those who are in control of the financial world think differently. But I your Mother know what true Life is!

So prepare, spiritually prepare. You will always be with my Son if you trust. God has a special plan, a new beginning! Look to Him; and do not fear, but love with all your heart.

I look to you, and I answer your prayers. Even if you are a sinner, and even if you were wrong, I come for your intercession. Now you must remove your “self” from your desires and look to help all people.

Peace to you (fading whisper).

Most Sorrowful and Immaculate Heart of Mary, Pray for Us!
People involved in full-time ministry are occasionally given the opportunity to contemplate what the world will be like when their services are no longer needed. The Bible speaks of a time when no one will have to teach another about our Heavenly Father, for we shall all know Him.

It appears that none shall have an intellectual advantage over another in the matter of “knowing God.” No list of degrees or string of letters after our names will deem any one of us more qualified than another to speak of the things of God. In the earth made new we can be sure that the things which can be known and comprehended about God, will indeed be known—by all.

Right now our world is so full of confusion, bloodshed, ladder-climbing, jealousy and—not so much unbelief—but uncertainty about what to actually believe in. Who can keep count of the variations of religion that are added to the constantly growing list? When a seeker wants to find truth, where shall they go? Well, of course, that’s a broad question. And one may ask, “Truth about What?” While all truth is eternal, some truths take a while to ripen in the mind. And some truths, though important, are not as essential as others. Knowing the precise measurements of the universe might be completely unnecessary, if you have no plan or possibility to one day actually check the math out—with your own eyes. Right?

On a regular basis, though not as often as we would like, we receive shipments of thousands of books that take up temporary residence in our warehouse, books that ultimately belong in the hands of fellow travelers of Planet Earth. As we make plans to take thousands more books to give away during Mardi Gras in New Orleans, we are reminded of the ongoing need for both workers—and tools. Keep up the good work, and Thank You for giving us the opportunity to also help you in your efforts.

There comes a moment when we shall meet those who will include you and your labor in the list of things that made a difference in their lives. Keep it up!
