Rumors of War II: The Last Days?

While the mainstream media remains focused on non-issues, like birtherism and the Royal Wedding, events are in motion around the world that could lead to our demise. While others stand idly by, TOMORROW - Wednesday, April 27th at 9pm ET - Insider Extreme is bringing you the most important documentary of the year: Rumors of War II: The Last Days? The real story is shocking and may not be suitable for younger viewers.

In the first installment, Rumors of War (now available on demand), we explored the extremist regime in power in Iran and their fundamental belief in an Islamocentric world. Before the film even premiered, Glenn commissioned Part 2 -- the information is THAT important.

Rumors of War II: The Last Days? will explore the End of Times prophecy and its connections to the modern world. By examining our unstable economy, dangerous unions between Russia, Turkey and Iran, and chaos in the Middle East, we will try to make sense of the trouble brewing around us.

Knowledge is power, and now more than ever, it is vital that you educate yourself. The intensity and speed in which the world is changing may leave you and your family with questions - join us for the answers tomorrow night at 9pm ET only on Insider Extreme.
