Dear Center for Adventist Research,

“This is the covenant I will establish with the people of Israel after that time, declares the Lord. I will put my laws in their minds and write them on their hearts. I will be their God, and they will be my people.” Hebrews 8:10, NIV

The other day I watched a skywriter—a pilot in a specially equipped airplane—practice his “penmanship” over the city. A political campaign was in progress, and this provided the motif of the pilot’s message—“Elect So-and-so.” In his urge to communicate—and to exalt himself—man writes where he can; on cave walls, high on the Behistun Rock, on plaques and medallions on the moon, on signs in underwater national parks. But the most unusual place is reserved for God—He writes on the “pages” of the human heart ...

Heart writing

“This is the covenant I will establish with the people of Israel after that time, declares the Lord. I will put my laws in their minds and write them on their hearts. I will be their God, and they will be my people.” Hebrews 8:10, NIV

The other day I watched a skywriter—a pilot in a specially equipped airplane—practice his “penmanship” over the city. A political campaign was in progress, and this provided the motif of the pilot’s message—“Elect So-and-so.” In his urge to communicate—and to exalt himself—man writes where he can; on cave walls, high on the Behistun Rock, on plaques and medallions on the moon, on signs in underwater national parks. But the most unusual place is reserved for God—He writes on the “pages” of the human heart.

The expression is figurative, of course, as the heart was once considered the seat of emotions. Still, the picture is a vivid one. Who but God could transplant the principles of heaven into one born in, and steeped in, sin? Who but He could instill His law in us so permanently that it becomes a part of our personality?

God writes, not to exalt Himself, but to exalt humanity—to lift people from sin and transgression to a personal relationship with Himself. The Holy Spirit is the medium. He presents the character of God as our ideal and compares it with our own. He reminds us of the position with God we once had and could again attain. He reveals the care and love of God. He longs for us to return as His children. The Holy Spirit shows how God demonstrated His love on Calvary, how that sacrifice opens the way for our reconciliation with our Creator.

In this atmosphere of love, little by little, word by word, as it were, God's law is written on our hearts. We take on His will, His design, His purpose for us.

In our innermost being, at the foundation of our personality, we change from a selfish, rebellious, ego-centered being to one whose natural impulses are in harmony with God and His universe. Will you let God write on your heart today?

Jesus says, "You are the light of the world." Matthew 5:14, NIV

Quiet Hour Ministries is echoing His request to "let your light shine before men." Matthew 5:16, NIV

We are looking for Ambassadors of Hope to partner with us in sharing the light of saving grace with the world. Your annual commitment of $1,200 or more assists in bringing the light to tens of thousands of people in more than 35 countries each year. Some are impressed to give larger gifts as God leads. We encourage you to prayerfully consider what you can give to help finish the work of spreading the gospel.

In gratitude for your partnership, we invite you to be our guest at one of five weekend events in 2011:

April 1-3, 2011
Weekend in Temecula, California

April 15-17, 2011
Weekend in Chattanooga, Tennessee

September 17, 2011
Sabbath in Napa, California

October 21-23, 2011
Weekend in Stevenson, Washington

October 29, 2011
Sabbath in Silver Spring, Maryland
