"God Hates Me?" - A look at crazy theology. This Friday, Oct. 28 / 7 p.m. / 232 W 11 St. NYC
"God Hates Me?"

Join us this Friday night, Oct. 28, 2011 at Cafe Reach as we take a look at religious abuse and what the true meaning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ is all about. What is the Gospel to you? What have you been told? What are the myths that have confused you as you think about religion?

Cafe Reach is a relaxed place to unwind from the busy life of New York City in a candle lit atmosphere where you can enjoy some stimulating conversation and share ideas and questions that may have been on your mind for a long time.

Enjoy a hot drink, some simple food and meet new friends.

Members of all faith traditions are welcome including your personal stories on how religion has affected you or those you love.

P.S.: If you would enjoy a more formal worship experience, we also invite you to the sanctuary of historic Manhattan Church on Saturday mornings at 11:00 a.m., where we enjoy good music and what we call "A Conversation with the Word." This is a New York City landmark where generations of New Yorkers have found a warm and inviting place to worship God.

Surrounded by the stained-glass windows depicting important Bible themes, you will instantly feel at home. Members of all faith traditions are welcome here. Please join us.

Soon we will be sharing more about the power of "small groups" as a venue in which we can learn more about the love of God and how to love each other better. Think about starting a small group for prayer and fellowship in your apartment, community, local coffee-shop, or place of business.
