Bags Full of Love.
Hitting The Streets of NYC.
Saturday, November 10, 2012. Members of Manhattan Seventh-day Adventist Church and REACH-NYC combine efforts to prepare bags full of fresh bread, ready to deliver to the Lower East Side residents of Manhattan hit hard by the recent hurricane.

Dear REACH-NYC Friend -

On Saturday afternoon, members of the Manhattan Seventh-day Adventist Church in Greenwich Village, and REACH-NYC partnered to fill bags of fresh bread, to distribute to families still under the hardship caused by the recent hurricane.

Here are a few photographs of how the effort came together. After a great worship service, the members went to work filling bags and bags of over 75 gifts for people living on the Lower East Side of Manhattan.

Every church in the Greater New York Conference of Seventh-day Adventists are doing something to help with the massive work that will go on for months and in some cases years, to get families back to normalcy.

Here is how you can help us in this continuing work here in NYC.
Many of you have asked how you might be able to help with the tremendous need that has left many people in the Greater New York City area, without food or shelter. REACH-NYC is partnering with Adventist Community Services, to provide much needed help in the most needy areas of this great city, that has been most affected by the recent Hurricane that has impacted vast stretches of NYC.

At this writing, over 450,000 people are still without power and in NYC alone, more than 40,000 people have lost their homes or apartments and need to be relocated to another place to stay. The City of New York is doing all it can, and it needs all of our help.

The Red Cross is on the ground, working along side FEMA and Adventist Community Services is there as well, working in partnership with these agencies.

You can help with your monetary donation by sending a tax deductible check made out to "REACH-NYC." All donations will be immediately sent to Adventist Community Services, to the attention of Pastor Ruben Merino, Director of ACS in the Greater New York area. Please indicate "Hurricane" in the memo section of your check.

Please consider what you can do personally or if you are a member of a faith community, why not combine your donation together. The need is urgent and every dollar will go to help a family or individual in need.

Mail your tax deductible donation to:

REACH-NYC
P.O. Box 651
North Salem, NY 10560

All donors will receive a personal letter of thanks and the assurance that you are helping a New Yorker who needs not only the supplies your donation will provide, but the loving touch of the person who will provide it.

The City that never sleeps, has never needed help like it does now.

Thank you for whatever you can do.
May God give you peace.

Best regards - Tony Romeo, Pastor / REACH-NYC and all of us on the team and from the members of
