Where do I begin to tell you all the great things that are happening at REACH-NYC, and great experiences that are being held over the next few weeks.

Let me first share with you a great music video that my good friend Anthony Nunziata has just produced. Anthony Nunziata along with his brother William have been featured performers on TV and have been the featured artists at important venues all over NYC and around the nation. Their voices are outstanding, and their respective performances cover what is known as The Great American Song Book.

His latest video was shot in New York City, and the featured song is The Lord’s Prayer. As you view this video, I hope it inspires you as it did me. The great news I have to share is that both Anthony and Will Nunziata, by special arrangement, will be singing live and in person at the worship service on Saturday, November 30, 2013 at the 11:30 a.m. worship service at Historic Manhattan Seventh-day Adventist Church, 232 West 11th Street, NYC., just 1.5 blocks west of Seventh Ave. South, in the Anthony and Will Nunziata helped us at a Memorial Service remembering the events of September 11, and their appearance with other talented New York City musicians made that night special. We look forward to having Anthony and Will with us once again, joined by their musical arranger and pianist.

Here is a short Bio of Richard Elofer:

Richard Elofer was born in Casablanca, Morocco, from a Jewish family. He was raised in the Jewish faith and was proud of his heritage. Richard Elofer's family decided to immigrate to France when he was 8 year old. His father contributed to establish the synagogue of the town of Villejuif, in the suburb of Paris. This "synagogue planting" action of his father demonstrates the degree of involvement of his family in Judaism. Richard Elofer became Bar-Mitsva when he was twelve in father's synagogue, it is also there that he received his course of Talmud Torah in order to be prepared for the Bar-Mitzva, and it is also there that he received his first rabbinical Bible course.

It is a custom to offer a Rabbinical Bible for the Bar Mitzva, thus receiving his first full rabbinical Bible, he started to read it intensively. This reading and some encounters changed radically his life and at the age of nineteen decided to accept in his heart Yeshua (Jesus) as the Messiah of Israel and his Savior and joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church of Paris.

When he was twenty he decided to work as a pastor and went to study at the "Adventiste Université du Salève" in France earn his first theological degree and started to work as a pastor. His first seventeen years of ministry (1979-1996) led him to various ministries in France. Then he received a call to be the President of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Israel. He worked in Israel for fifteen years (1997-2012). While working in Israel, the General Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, asked Richard Elofer, in 2000 to be part time director of the World Jewish Adventist Friendship Center, a Global Mission Center dedicated to train ministers and leaders for Jewish ministry, and also to plant Jewish-Adventist congregations among Jews. In 2012 Richard Elofer moved back to France and became the full time director of the World Jewish Adventist Friendship Center.

He completed his education earning a MA in Global Leadership (MAGL) (2008) and a Doctorate of Intercultural Studies (D.I.S.) at Fuller Seminary (2012).

Richard Elofer is married to Liliane, they have three children: Rachel, accountant in England, Raphael currently engineer in computer science in Edinburgh, Scotland, and Johann, dentist in Paris.
