You could change things by midnight tonight in 2015

You have a chance to help us in 2015 by a donation to REACH-NYC by Midnight Tonight. Please help us with a much needed donation... Offer ends on December 31, 2014. Here's what has taken place and what is coming in the 2015.

REACH-NYC has been blessed this past year with help from our partners across the nation and the world, in supporting new ideas and concepts to help those in need, while also reaching out to affluent members of our community who have entered our circle of friends for the first time.
In the area of Bible Studies, REACH-NYC does not focus on Beasts with big teeth, instead we focus on the God of love that has a big heart. Illuminating a forgiving God who has all the best intentions for a person’s life. We do it with a combination of classic Biblical studies combined with effective and personal pastoral counseling.

This past year, REACH-NYC sponsored events have delivered needed services, with our partners in ministry to such groups as "Sister Friends Galleria Supporting Low Income Women and Their Children" who help women who are homeless learn the skills and transition into housing of their own.

REACH-NYC has also sponsored three concerts this past year, with local professional talent attracting 80% of attendees from the Greenwich Village and surrounding communities of New York City. At these concerts a reception is held that introduces those attending the reception to meet the musicians, to taste and enjoy healthy vegetarian foods made especially for our guests.

At our last concert in August, an amazing contact was made via a guest from Israel, who in turn connected REACH-NYC with a famous musical group from Israel who will be playing at our first sponsored event in March of 2015. Truly, your gift to REACH-NYC has helped not only locally, but has been vital connecting people around the world.

Based on the latest correspondence from our recent connections, we have concerts ready to schedule in 2015 for February, March, April and June. It is a new and creative way in which to “Create Conversations” with talented New Yorkers, who in turn attract new friends to our gatherings.

Again, partnering with Historic Manhattan Seventh-day Adventist Church, it has been an honor to now have 12 different groups that meet at this magnificent venue to help people struggling with addictions and family histories to have a safe and consistent place to meet weekly in their various recovery groups.

REACH-NYC is an independent ministry supported only by the donations of individuals like you, who want to help others in creative ways that are focused and open to members of all faith traditions. Our leadership has spent many hours developing programs that reach the needs of all classes of people living in this vast metropolis and do it with knowledge gained by understanding that dialogue and a receptive acceptance of everyone is vital in the times in which we live.

Below is the information that you need to send your donation to REACH-NYC for a tax deduction that will do many individuals a lot of good. A donation of $1,500 can support a concert or other outreach program in your name or that of your institution or company. However, any amount you give is vital to what we are trying to do to be of help to others.

Clicking on the link below, ("Make a Donation") can be the easy way in which to make a secure donation, or send your check to the address below, dated by December 31, 2014. With your help, even more great creative ministries can take place in 2015.

All of us at REACH-NYC wish you the very best for the New Year. May God grant each of us peace and a calm spirit.

Best regards - Tony Romeo / Executive Pastor
