"Concerts for Peace"
The music continues...
This Saturday Evening, May 23, 2015 at 7:45 pm.
With two more outstanding musical performances in June.

In the 1881 Landmark Sanctuary of Historic Manhattan Seventh-day Adventist Church, 232 West 11th Street, NYC.

It is a dream REACH-NYC has had for a long time; a concept of bringing people together from our community to share beautiful music, share ideas that are uplifting, and to fill our lives with good conversations to build friendships as we all come together to enjoy the gift of a shared community in a venue dedicated to the belief that God loves each and every one of us, no matter our ethnicity, faith tradition, or station in life.

The concept seems to be working, as we meet new friends, and conversations begin to blossom in greater understanding of each other.

REACH-NYC is happy to bring more great music to the Greenwich Village community, with gifted musicians, that not only provide uplifting music, but also help sponsor community organizations that seek to help those in need.

Please take a moment to scroll down and learn more about outstanding featured talent that begins this Saturday evening, with two young performers and continue with two more diverse performances in the month of June.

On Saturday evening, May 23, 2015 at 7:45 pm, a young talented team of musicians will be performing classical and modern pieces on guitar and flute. The group known as "Green Moon" will be the featured talent. Isaac Greene, guitar and Louna Dekker-Vargas, flute, will bring exciting music to Historic Manhattan Seventh-day Adventist Church and again, all donations will go towards a local non-profit community group. Please scroll down for the official program flyer.

There are more concerts planned through June and all summer, so keep your ears literally open for some outstanding music.

REACH-NYC will sponsor a benefit concert that has just been added to "Concerts for Peace" to help finish and edit a film dealing with Alzheimer's disease produced by Greenwich Village Filmmaker and resident Hannah Reimann. “My Father’s House” Documentary, is a loving and intimate film that documents the life of Ms Reimann’s father. The concert will feature the talent of Hannah Reimann, vocal, piano and Dulcimer, accompanied by folk guitarist Michele Temple, who will be joining her at this special event. The familiar songs that touched a generation in the 1960’s and early 70’s and original compositions will move your soul. The concert will be held on Saturday evening, June 6, 2015 at 8:30pm. You will want to be there on this special evening dedicated to those living with Alzheimer’s and their caregivers. Special guests will also be on the evening’s program. As always, this concert has Free admission with donations encouraged to provide funding with all proceeds going to complete “My Father’s House.” You will not want to miss this special event. Invite your friends and neighbors.

Hannah Reimann, at the piano, will feature the intimate combinations of voice, piano, guitar/voice and guitar/mountain dulcimer from Joni Mitchell’s rich 1968-1975 period of songs including Big Yellow Taxi, Blue, Both Sides Now, A Case of You, Help Me and many other hits.

The evening will also feature Ms. Reimann’s own compositions. Critics have praised Hannah Reimann including: “An extraordinary voice…” - XM Satellite Radio

On Sunday, June 21, 2015 at 3pm the Flute Choir of New York will be performing under the direction of the French Flutist Nicolas Duchamp, that will feature 10 flutists. This will be a unique concert that will thrill all those who attend. An afternoon of the most relaxing music ever to be performed in the 1881 sanctuary of Historic Manhattan Seventh-day Adventist Church. Scroll down for the official invite for each performance.
