A revival of true godliness among us is the greatest and most urgent of all our needs. To seek this should be our first work.

(Review and Herald, March 22, 1887)