Hi Center for Adventist Research,

I would like to thank you for attending our SEC Youth Day of Fellowship on the 18th February 2012. I hope that you were blessed by the fellowship, ministry and messages that you received during the day.

Overall we have heard great feedback from those who were there. Many people commended the program and mentioned the fact that they were blessed by being there.

For some, due to entry controls and/or delays in granting permission to open the balcony (not by SEC), some of your experience was not nice. We apologise for the inconvenience you may have been caused. Noting the fact that you wanted to be a part of the worship experience. We acknowledge that we really need a bigger venue, however we are seriously constrained by the finances. We hope we can work with the administrators and hopefully, with your input (providing us with venues within your community seating 1800 or more). We have heard your cry and will do our best to move to the level acceptable to all. We however, are facing the need to come up with a method that will not result in people taking tickets in advance and not showing. I am wondering if a token charge for ticket in excess of 10 is the way to go.

On another note, the Olympics are fast approaching and we need your involvement and to know what you are doing for the games. We are mindful of the restrictions placed by London 2012 and that no one is really saying what you can or cannot do. I will be placing a powerpoint slide online, taken from the London 2012, which I presented at Clapton SDA, outlining the said restrictions.

We are now ready to let you have the Going for God T-shirts and Tracksuits. More info will be made available on the Pathfinder store soon.

If you would like to be more involved with the SEC Youth Ministries we want to hear from you. We welcome your input, ideas and comments. Please fill in the form here.
and we will be in touch with you.

Have a great day Center for Adventist Research and God bless you.

Many thanks,

Steve Thomas
SEC Youth Director
