Two Car Accidents Injure University Students

Three Loma Linda University students and a Walla Walla College student were involved in two auto-mobile accidents which have hospitalized two of the students.

In one hospital are William R. Ford, SM©52, and William C. Chay, SM©57, Mr. Ford suffered chest and other injuries, according to Loma Linda University Hospital. He is under intensive care there. Mr. Chay's accident resulted in compression of the lumbar vertebrae, and his doctor, Charles E. Jesse, MD, is in a body cast. With Mr. Ford at the time of his accident the night of March 21 was Rosemary K. Kellogg, SM©58, a Walla Walla College, sister of Barry L. Kellogg, SM©57, who is in Loma Linda University Hospital and who has been accepted to the School of Medicine class of 1968, was not injured.

In the second accident, Stefanie J. Estache, SM©66, sustained leg cuts, bruises, and a sprained ankle from the accident in which she was involved with Mr. Ford the night of March 22.

Their accident occurred when their car and another driven by Mrs. Harold Worth, 1917 Del. Leavenworth Street collided on Central Avenue as she allegedlyisclosed a turn near Calipatria. Mr. Estache and Miss Kellogg were taken to Redlands Community Hospital, and Mr. Ford was admitted to Loma Linda University Hospital.

The other accident occurred when the small, foreign car in which the couple was riding went into a skid on a curve and turned over near Yucaipa.

The other accident was reported by the State Police, and the driver of the car, Peggy J. Fritzsche, SM©66, was treated and discharged from University Hospital.

Mr. Eby and Miss Kellogg were involved with Mr. Ford the night of March 23. Their accident occurred when the small, foreign car in which they were traveling went into a skid on a curve and turned over near Yucaipa. Mr. Eby and Miss Kellogg were taken to Redlands Community Hospital, and Mr. Ford was admitted to Loma Linda University Hospital.

SM Alumni Sponsor Missouri Camp

A 143-acre site on the Lake of the Ozarks is now the property of the Missouri Camp of the Seventh-day Adventists as the result of the work of several School of Medicine graduates practicing in the state.

Robert M. Crawford, SM©52, of Sullivan, Missouri, was in Loma Linda recently with James E. Chase, president of the conference, recruiting students. Dr. Crawford reported that construction of the main lodge and shower facilities will begin this spring and that a new school already has been built.

The group of alumni was re- cent in recruiting and sponsoring the purchase of the site, which has 2000 feet of shore frontage on the lake. Also working with them was Ray C. Alex, SM©70, director of the Missouri Camp of the Seventh-day Adventists.

Three Loma Linda University students and a Walla Walla College student were involved in two auto-mobile accidents which have hospitalized two of the students.

In one hospital are William R. Ford, SM©52, and William C. Chay, SM©57, Mr. Ford suffered chest and other injuries, according to Loma Linda University Hospital. He is under intensive care there. Mr. Chay's accident resulted in compression of the lumbar vertebrae, and his doctor, Charles E. Jesse, MD, is in a body cast. With Mr. Ford at the time of his accident the night of March 21 was Rosemary K. Kellogg, SM©58, a Walla Walla College, sister of Barry L. Kellogg, SM©57, who is in Loma Linda University Hospital and who has been accepted to the School of Medicine class of 1968, was not injured.

In the second accident, Stefanie J. Estache, SM©66, sustained leg cuts, bruises, and a sprained ankle from the accident in which she was involved with Mr. Ford the night of March 22.

Their accident occurred when their car and another driven by Mrs. Harold Worth, 1917 Del. Leavenworth Street collided on Central Avenue as she allegedlyisclosed a turn near Calipatria. Mr. Estache and Miss Kellogg were taken to Redlands Community Hospital, and Mr. Ford was admitted to Loma Linda University Hospital.

The other accident occurred when the small, foreign car in which the couple was riding went into a skid on a curve and turned over near Yucaipa. Mr. Estache and Miss Kellogg were taken to Redlands Community Hospital, and Mr. Ford was admitted to Loma Linda University Hospital.

Mr. Eby and Miss Kellogg were involved with Mr. Ford the night of March 23. Their accident occurred when the small, foreign car in which they were traveling went into a skid on a curve and turned over near Yucaipa. Mr. Eby and Miss Kellogg were taken to Redlands Community Hospital, and Mr. Ford was admitted to Loma Linda University Hospital.
Graduate School Accepts 27 For Summer or Fall Classes

The Graduate School has announced acceptance of 27 students to begin studies in various fields in June or July. Fifteen accepting students are today engaged in summer nursing programs. Future students whose fields of study and their present school or address are:

Nursing — Eileen T. Almo, Glendale; Joy Anderson, Los Angeles State College; Patricia A. Berra, Loma Linda; Beverly Randol, Douglas, Arizona; and Cindy A. Young, Glendale, California; and Mary A. Decker, Fresno, California.

Dean Smith Speaks To NASDA Group, College Students

Guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Northwest chapter of the National Association of Seventh-Day Adventist Dentists (NASDA) in Portland, Oregon, was Charles T. Smith, dean of the School of Dentistry.

The meeting was held in the Hilton Hotel, where Dean T. Smith, dean of the School of Dentistry, was the special guest. Dr. Smith visited the various divisions of his college and talked on "The Role of the Dentist in the Seventh-day Adventist Church." The following day he spoke for a chapel service at Walla Walla College, Washington, showing slides of the school and the activities of the School of Dentistry, who then attended the college.

The dean indicated that he plans to follow the same procedure of visiting the various schools, former students at other colleges, and other groups. After the meetings he described the visit as "one of the most productive I have had." Dr. Smith visits the various divisions of the college and talks around the country bringing help in proximity to them.

For lack of a room, Dr. Smith also spoke about church work which in students are involved, because "everyone knows what the church is doing scientifically, but not immediately." In addition to his other activities, Dean Smith, who was accepted as a church worker at the Forest Grove, Oregon, Sabbath school.

Dr. Lund to Emcee Talent Festival

Master of ceremonies for a talent festival, Lorna Linda Union College will be Melvin R. Lund, DDS, associate professor of fixed prosthetics. The program will feature a variety of musical numbers, dance, and comedy acts. The festival will be held on the school's campus.

Several faculty members from the School of Dentistry last week attended a meeting of the International Association of Dental Research in Los Angeles.

Participating in a symposium on the role of porcelains inlays and powdered gold as fillings in dentistry was Lloyd Baum, DDS, associate professor of restorative dentistry. Dr. Baum also was a member of the executive committee for the association's material study group.

Among the local arrangements committee was Ralph R. Steenman, DDS, associate professor of oral medicine.

Helen Austin, with her husband, Jerry. She graduated from the University of Hawaii recently in flower arrangement and is planning to develop into a "full-fledged" beauty parlor.

The dean indicates that he plans to follow the same procedure of visiting the various schools, former students at other colleges, and other groups. After the meetings he described the visit as "one of the most productive I have had." Dr. Smith visits the various divisions of the college and talks around the country bringing help in proximity to them.

For lack of a room, Dr. Smith also spoke about church work which in students are involved, because "everyone knows what the church is doing scientifically, but not immediately." In addition to his other activities, Dean Smith, who was accepted as a church worker at the Forest Grove, Oregon, Sabbath school.

UOP Honorary Degree Awarded

Dr. Hollenback

George M. Hollenback, DDS, FACS, professor of restorative dentistry at Loma Linda University School of Dentistry, received the honorary degree of Doctor of Science, from the University of the Pacific last week.

Dr. Hollenback is a fellow of the American College of Dentists and is a member of the Academy of Fixed Prosthodontics. He is also a member of the North Pacific District Dental Society and the California State Dental Association.

He was named Dentistry Man of the Year of the American Dental Association of Missouri at Kansas City in 1951 and Alumnus of the Year in 1955.

Among the participants, he estimates that there are ten patients and Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) procedures is paving the way for noninvasive imaging of the body, he added.

The most productive I've ever had.

Dr. Hollenback is a fellow of the American College of Dentists and is a member of the Academy of Fixed Prosthodontics. He is also a member of the North Pacific District Dental Society and the California State Dental Association.

He was named Dentistry Man of the Year of the American Dental Association of Missouri at Kansas City in 1951 and Alumnus of the Year in 1955.

Among the participants, he estimates that there are ten patients and Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) procedures is paving the way for noninvasive imaging of the body, he added.

The most productive I've ever had.

Dr. Hollenback is a fellow of the American College of Dentists and is a member of the Academy of Fixed Prosthodontics. He is also a member of the North Pacific District Dental Society and the California State Dental Association.

He was named Dentistry Man of the Year of the American Dental Association of Missouri at Kansas City in 1951 and Alumnus of the Year in 1955.

Among the participants, he estimates that there are ten patients and Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) procedures is paving the way for noninvasive imaging of the body, he added.

The most productive I've ever had.

Dr. Hollenback is a fellow of the American College of Dentists and is a member of the Academy of Fixed Prosthodontics. He is also a member of the North Pacific District Dental Society and the California State Dental Association.

He was named Dentistry Man of the Year of the American Dental Association of Missouri at Kansas City in 1951 and Alumnus of the Year in 1955.
Loma Linda Students Vie For Honors in Athletic Games

Los Angeles campus students of the University will square off Sunday, March 29 against 32 students from Loma Linda campus in traditional athletic games. The students will begin with basketball at 9 a.m. and end with the afternoon with softball.

Other events will include table tennis, volley ball, and water polo.

Six men have been selected in Loma Linda to narrow the field of participants, a volleyball team has been selected.

On the volleyball team from Loma Linda are Roland E. Long, Robert A. Brown, Robert M. Irwin, Diane S. Bitz, Robert M. Irwin, John K. Hocken, SM'68, Norman R. Gay, SM'69, Erico K. La Menn, SM'69, Bad R. Siebenlist, SM'66, Clyde B. Husts, SM'64, and David F. Wolfer, SM'66. Players on the base team in Loma Linda have not yet been announced.

On the volleyball team from Los Angeles are Donald B. Russell, Robert M. Irwin, SM'66, Diane S. Bitz, SM'65, John K. Hocken, SM'68, Norman R. Gay, SM'69, Erico K. La Menn, SM'69, Bad R. Siebenlist, SM'66, Clyde B. Husts, SM'64, and David F. Wolfer, SM'66. Players on the base team in Los Angeles have not yet been announced.

The seniors are Geneva Barner, Donald A. Davidson, Wesley R. Heapy, William A. Haddad, Erma K. Lam, Diane M. Messinger, Sara A. Sullenberger.

The men are Kent S. Oehl, clinical supervisor of occupational therapy at the Loma Linda University, Donald W. Church, director of the Radiation Therapy Center, Portland, Oregon, William A. Haddad, psychosis, addiction, and other facets of human behavior.

Upon completion of their internship, probationary therapists will be eligible to take the examination administered by the American Occupational Therapy Association. Those who are successful on the examination become registered occupational therapists. No professional practice anywhere in the United States is recognized by the major European countries.

Seminary Teachings

Extension Courses

Several staff members of Loma Linda Seminary will be among those taking extension courses this spring. Among these will be the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary director, Loma Linda Seminary and Riverside this semester.

Others include men from the White Memorial Medical Center, Loma Linda University, and Hill Clinics.

The courses are under the direction of Charles F. Wenz, Alva A. Underwood, and Robert J. Koeser, director of the Southern California extension schools.

Chy, Loma Linda Students Vie For Honors in Athletic Games

Los Angeles campus students of the University will square off Sunday, March 29 against 32 students from the Loma Linda campus in traditional athletic games. The students will begin with basketball at 9 a.m. and end with the afternoon with softball.

Other events will include table tennis, volley ball, and water polo.

Six men have been selected in Loma Linda to narrow the field of participants, a volleyball team has been selected.

On the volleyball team from Loma Linda are Roland E. Long, Robert A. Brown, Robert M. Irwin, Diane S. Bitz, Robert M. Irwin, John K. Hocken, SM'68, Norman R. Gay, SM'69, Erico K. La Menn, SM'69, Bad R. Siebenlist, SM'66, Clyde B. Husts, SM'64, and David F. Wolfer, SM'66. Players on the base team in Loma Linda have not yet been announced.

On the volleyball team from Los Angeles are Donald B. Russell, Robert M. Irwin, SM'66, Diane S. Bitz, SM'65, John K. Hocken, SM'68, Norman R. Gay, SM'69, Erico K. La Menn, SM'69, Bad R. Siebenlist, SM'66, Clyde B. Husts, SM'64, and David F. Wolfer, SM'66. Players on the base team in Los Angeles have not yet been announced.

The seniors are Geneva Barner, Donald A. Davidson, Wesley R. Heapy, William A. Haddad, Erma K. Lam, Diane M. Messinger, Sara A. Sullenberger.

The men are Kent S. Oehl, clinical supervisor of occupational therapy at the Loma Linda University, Donald W. Church, director of the Radiation Therapy Center, Portland, Oregon, William A. Haddad, psychosis, addiction, and other facets of human behavior.

Upon completion of their internship, probationary therapists will be eligible to take the examination administered by the American Occupational Therapy Association. Those who are successful on the examination become registered occupational therapists. No professional practice anywhere in the United States is recognized by the major European countries.

Seminary Teachings

Extension Courses

Several staff members of Loma Linda Seminary will be among those taking extension courses this spring. Among these will be the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary director, Loma Linda Seminary and Riverside this semester.

Others include men from the White Memorial Medical Center, Loma Linda University, and Hill Clinics.

The courses are under the direction of Charles F. Wenz, Alva A. Underwood, and Robert J. Koeser, director of the Southern California extension schools.

Chy, Loma Linda Students Vie For Honors in Athletic Games

Los Angeles campus students of the University will square off Sunday, March 29 against 32 students from the Loma Linda campus in traditional athletic games. The students will begin with basketball at 9 a.m. and end with the afternoon with softball.

Other events will include table tennis, volley ball, and water polo.

Six men have been selected in Loma Linda to narrow the field of participants, a volleyball team has been selected.

On the volleyball team from Loma Linda are Roland E. Long, Robert A. Brown, Robert M. Irwin, Diane S. Bitz, Robert M. Irwin, John K. Hocken, SM'68, Norman R. Gay, SM'69, Erico K. La Menn, SM'69, Bad R. Siebenlist, SM'66, Clyde B. Husts, SM'64, and David F. Wolfer, SM'66. Players on the base team in Loma Linda have not yet been announced.

On the volleyball team from Los Angeles are Donald B. Russell, Robert M. Irwin, SM'66, Diane S. Bitz, SM'65, John K. Hocken, SM'68, Norman R. Gay, SM'69, Erico K. La Menn, SM'69, Bad R. Siebenlist, SM'66, Clyde B. Husts, SM'64, and David F. Wolfer, SM'66. Players on the base team in Los Angeles have not yet been announced.

The seniors are Geneva Barner, Donald A. Davidson, Wesley R. Heapy, William A. Haddad, Erma K. Lam, Diane M. Messinger, Sara A. Sullenberger.

The men are Kent S. Oehl, clinical supervisor of occupational therapy at the Loma Linda University, Donald W. Church, director of the Radiation Therapy Center, Portland, Oregon, William A. Haddad, psychosis, addiction, and other facets of human behavior.

Upon completion of their internship, probationary therapists will be eligible to take the examination administered by the American Occupational Therapy Association. Those who are successful on the examination become registered occupational therapists. No professional practice anywhere in the United States is recognized by the major European countries.
Loma Linda Residents Urged To Register for '64 Primary

Students and faculty members were urged this week to join Loma Linda University in an accumulating communities in registering for the "64 primary." Registration will enable them to cast their votes in the presidential election, according to Loma Linda Voter Registration.

Deputy registrars now are ready to assist citizens who have established residency in California and are 21 years of age to obtain state status as voters. The registrars are located at the New Mission Justice Court headquarters in the auxiliary shopping center on Anderson Street, across from the University Stores. They are also at the Loma Linda Market and at offices located in the community center at the Justice Court are open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Loma Linda Post Office, 5:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., and at Kate Lindsay Hall in the evening-ing hours.

Deadline for registration is April 5 stated committee members this week.

New Employees to Hear Orientation Program, Speecches

The University personnel development committee will present a new employee orientation program to an employee gathering at Kate Lindsay Hall for all employees beginning in the fall. Attendance is required for all new employees except faculty members, according to Clarence A. Miller, hospital and campus business administrator and Personnel Development committee. Department heads have been notified.

The orientation program will begin with the viewing of pictures and a presentation of the history of the University. Also on the program is a talk on "Love, the Spring of Christian inspiration" by Dr. w. J. well, director of the Di. v. of Religion.

Guest speaker is Charles E. Withner, PhD, administrator of registration and registration schools of the Seven-day Adventist Church.

Dorothy F. Beltz, director of volunteer services at Loma Linda University Hospital, will conduct a panel discussion on "Your Best Foot Forward." The program will conclude with a talk on "Concepts of Harmony and Integrity" by Walter B. Clark, dean of students.

Members of the personnel development committee are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Clark, Mrs.

H. Ford, Mrs. Patrick B. Lawrence, Mrs. John R. Madsen, Mrs. G. Dirne Campbell, Mrs. Melita D. Burdick, Mrs. Fred J. Long. Children of the members, Jody (left) and Jill, are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Clark.——Photo by Eugene Hodge