Who's Who in America Lists New Head of Chemistry Dept.

The School of Physical Therapy has announced acceptance of 37 students to enter as upperclassmen during the coming school year. Among the 597 Californians born in Chico, California, 8,000.

The choir will be under the direction of Patrick H. Hicks, director of the School of Physical Therapy, Sigma Xi and Phi Lambda Upsilon, both national scholastic honor societies.

School of Physical Therapy Accepts 37 New Students

Student's Award Goes to Five Students for Devoted Study and Life

Among the 597 Californians born in Chico, California, 8,000.

The recipient of the President's Award in the Graduate School was Dale Clayton, (r.) Master's degree candidate in biology. With him are Thomas A. Little, PhD, (l.) dean of the Graduate School, and President Anderson.

RECIPIENT of the President's Award in the Graduate School was Dale Clayton, (r.) Master's degree candidate in biology. With him are Thomas A. Little, PhD, (l.) dean of the Graduate School, and President Anderson.

One student from each of the five major schools of the University received a President's Award at this week's meeting in recognition of high scholastic attainment, participation in campus affairs, and Christian commitment.

Harold W. Huser, (l.) editor in chief, and John E. Peterson, assistant dean of the School of Medicine, were initiated into Alpha Omicron Alpha at a special initiation dinner of the Epsilon chapter of the University of California in Los Angeles.

Dr. Mathisen became a chemistry professor in 1947 at Pacific Union College and was named academic dean in 1956, which position he held until 1959. For the past year he has been a visiting professor at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena.

The choir will continue to be under the direction of Patrick H. Hicks, director of the School of Physical Therapy, Sigma Xi and Phi Lambda Upsilon, both national scholastic honor societies.

The recipient of the President's Award in the Graduate School was Dale Clayton, (r.) Master's degree candidate in biology. With him are Thomas A. Little, PhD, (l.) dean of the Graduate School, and President Anderson.

One student from each of the five major schools of the University received a President's Award at this week's meeting in recognition of high scholastic attainment, participation in campus affairs, and Christian commitment.

Harold W. Huser, (l.) editor in chief, and John E. Peterson, assistant dean of the School of Medicine, were initiated into Alpha Omicron Alpha at a special initiation dinner of the Epsilon chapter of the University of California in Los Angeles.

Dr. Mathisen became a chemistry professor in 1947 at Pacific Union College and was named academic dean in 1956, which position he held until 1959. For the past year he has been a visiting professor at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena.

The choir will continue to be under the direction of Patrick H. Hicks, director of the School of Physical Therapy, Sigma Xi and Phi Lambda Upsilon, both national scholastic honor societies.
President's Award to Five

Continued from page 1

Kalidina Club, Kate Lindsay Hall organization, Ronald A. Hershey, educational director of the School of Physical Therapy, presented Miss Eiseeman for the award.

Born in Michigan, Dale Clayton, recipient of the President's Award for the Graduate School attended Adelphian Academy there. He was graduated from Atlantic Union College, Lancaster, Massachusetts, with major in biology. Mr. Clayton recently completed requirements for a Master of Arts degree in biology here at the University, according to Thomas A. Little, PhD, dean of the Graduate School.

The five students were selected for the awards by the deans of their respective schools in consultation with the faculty. The President's Awards were established in 1960. Students from the School of Medicine and the School of Dentistry each year are eligible.

Before making the awards at the convocation, President Anderson spoke briefly on "ThegetApplication. He pointed out that the diligence of the five students in their study had brought the awards as an unexpected product. The awards, he said, are presented as a tribute to and in recognition of all who are deserving.

Himself a member of Alpha Omega Alpha, Dr. Bostick is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, undergraduate honor society, and Epilson Alpha, dental honor society.

Physical Medicine Professor Speaks At County Meeting

Ewan C. Christiansen, PhD, associate professor of physical medicine, recently addressed the staff of the Public Health Nursing Division of the San Bernardino County Health Department.

His topic, "Current Philosophy and Trends in the Rehabilitation Process," was followed by a brief panel discussion of the Elta program for cerebral palsy in the county.

The monthly program was attended by public health nurses, clinic nurses and physicians from the department and representatives of other agencies and independent school districts throughout the county.

Program chairman was Betty Koeing, public health nurse.

'Soph Meds' Upset All-Stars; Finish Undefeated in League

The sophomore medicine team with timely hitting upset the all-stars, 4-1; May 19 in the final softball game of the intramural schedule.

Paul H. Sheehy, SM'66, with a single and a homerun, William R. Ford, SM'66, with a scoring single, and Gayle H. Nelson, PhD, associate professor of anatomy, with a two-run single and a double led the winners at the plate.

For the losing all-stars, Richard W. Ladders, SM'66, collected two doubles in four trips to the plate. He was denied a third hit when the battered ball hit a baserunner for an automatic out.

The sophomore team clinched the intramural softball league title with a 10-0 win over the freshman-sophomore dental team in a previous game. The win left the sophomore team without a score against it in its four league games leading up to the all-star game.

In other games deciding the league title, the sophomores swept by the junior-senior dental team, 1-0, which previously had outscored the freshman medicine team in an eight-run downpour, 11-3. The junior-senior physical therapy team also defeated the sophomore team, 4-3.

School of Dentistry Student W. Eugene Rathbun, SD'65, was chosen to receive the President's Award for that school. At left is Charles T. Smith, DDS, dean of the School of Dentistry.

Presenting Award to Marjoe J. Horning, SM'64, is President Anderson. Rathbun was introduced by Maxine Attetberry, dean of the School of Nursing.

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY STUDENT W. Eugene Rathbun, SD'65, was chosen to receive the President's Award for that school. At left is Charles T. Smith, DDS, dean of the School of Dentistry.
GRADUATE STUDENTS IN NURSING share a thrilling moment with Mary Alice W. Harper (extreme right) as she presents the awards. Other students are Lois V. C. Heppenstall, Edith Lorraine Gillham, Norma Evelyn Eldridge, Delphia Jeanne Ladner and Bonnie Boyts Wilkens.

Make your reservations for graduation now 1 block from University and medical center. Telephone: 796-0261.

Church Calendar

Friday, May 22
LINDA HALL — MV meeting: 7:30 p.m.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH — MV meeting, W. Ethyl, South- eastern California Conference Committee secretary, "A Sense of Direction in Administration of Master Guides": 7:45 p.m.

WHITE MEMORIAL CHURCH — Campus Fellowship, The La Sierra College Choir I and II and the Chamber Singers under the direction of Rocio A. Chalmers: 7:45 p.m.

Saturday, May 23
HILL CHURCH — Hour of worship, Pastor William E. Chapman, "The Soldier Art of Self Defense": 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. "The Christ in the Midst of a World of Darkness": 8:30 a.m. "I Can Be All Things": 4 p.m. — Senior Choir to perform at Ventura Estates, Southern California Conference retirement home near Hemlock Park, California: Bus to leave at 7:30 a.m., from flag pole at Andrew Street.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH — Hour of worship, Pastor Charles W. Wetz, "The Privilege of Choosing Geography": 8:15 and 10:30 a.m.

WHITE MEMORIAL CHURCH — Hour of worship, Pastor William E. Chapman, "The Soldier Art of Self Defense": 8:30 a.m. "The Christ in the Midst of a World of Darkness": 8:30 a.m. "I Can Be All Things": 4 p.m. — Senior Choir to perform at Ventura Estates, Southern California Conference retirement home near Hemlock Park, California: Bus to leave at 7:30 a.m., from flag pole at Andrew Street.

Loma Linda Motel

1 block from University and medical center.
Refrigeration air conditioned — Free TV — Room telephones.
Free Continental Breakfast
Make your reservations for graduation now
Telephone: 796-2601

Petio Picnic — taste tempting goodness!

Loma Linda barbinds are perfect for toasting or roasting — whether you get it on the patio, at parties, or vacation camping.
All you need is a battery operated grill and the ribbons you like, and you'll have a sandwich that can't be beat! Of course they're tasty too, but taste tempting goodness!

Youngsters enter the world of movies and books the books the books. 7 p.m.

WHITE MEMORIAL CHURCH — Shabbat service, Rabbi G. J. Kohn: "Feast Upon the Word": 8 p.m. "The Creation of Man": 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, May 19
LINDA HALL — MV meeting: 7:30 p.m.

CAREER GUIDANCE CAMP for academic students in this area was organized for last weekend by Sigma Delta Alpha Chi Alpha of the University Church. The meetings at Camp Cedar Falls featured academic and professional instructors from the University and La Sierra College. Planning the activities were members of the exec- utive committee (left): Jere Chapman, Donna Trumbull, Jim Redfield. — Photo by the University Audioservis Service.

University Staffers Counsel Youth in Choice of Careers

White Man Turns Colored, Crosses Borders of Emotions

By JERRY WILEY

"As I walked down Mobile Street, a car full of white men and boys sped past. They yelled obscenities at me. A satanista (white woman) got out of her car and broke against a building. The street was loud and raw, and I felt thin as a reed. I felt the intense terror of it."

BLACK LIKE ME (Houghton Mifflin Company, 1962) is a work by John Henrik Clarke, a black man who, with the aid of his father's不多me, darkened his skin color and crossed the line into a country he didn't know. — the country of the American Negro in the South.

BLACK LIKE ME grew out of a comprehensive study of the Negro in the South, with careful, complete collection of data. But what the author did was to edit the data and graph the data and produce a journal of his "own experience living as a Negro." It is a journal it is raw and intense in its portrayal of personal experience. For as anyone who has kept a daily record of impressions of a major event, trip or emotional experience will tell you, the 365-day recor- ding is more detailed and less philosophical.

This detailing of his own experience — the frustration of finding his own experience — is echoed over and over again from the time he first geared up to the reaction of his project, to the reaction of his home community as the story becomes public.

The book loses its intensity as the author nears the end of the time he spent living as a Negro. Knowing he can be white again, he finds life less exciting.

The author's own unpre- paredness for what he finds and feels is echoed over and over again from the time he first passed, through his need to tell new Negro friends of his project, to the reaction of his home community as the story becomes public.

The book loses its intensity as the author nears the end of the time he spent living as a Negro. Knowing he can be white again, he finds life less exciting.

A CAREER GUIDANCE CAMP for academic students in this area was organized last weekend by Sigma Delta Alpha Chi Alpha of the University Church. The meetings at Camp Cedar Falls featured academic and professional instructors from the University and La Sierra College. Planning the activities were members of the exec- utive committee (left): Jere Chapman, Donna Trumbull, Jim Redfield. — Photo by the University Audioservis Service.

University Staffers Counsel Youth in Choice of Careers

White Man Turns Colored, Crosses Borders of Emotions

By JERRY WILEY

"As I walked down Mobile Street, a car full of white men and boys sped past. They yelled obscenities at me. A satanista (white woman) got out of her car and broke against a building. The street was loud and raw, and I felt thin as a reed. I felt the intense terror of it."

BLACK LIKE ME (Houghton Mifflin Company, 1962) is a work by John Henrik Clarke, a black man who, with the aid of his father's不多me, darkened his skin color and crossed the line into a country he didn't know. — the country of the American Negro in the South.

BLACK LIKE ME grew out of a comprehensive study of the Negro in the South, with careful, complete collection of data. But what the author did was to edit the data and graph the data and produce a journal of his "own experience living as a Negro." It is a journal it is raw and intense in its portrayal of personal experience. For as anyone who has kept a daily record of impressions of a major event, trip or emotional experience will tell you, the 365-day recor- ding is more detailed and less philosophical.

This detailing of his own experience — the frustration of finding his own experience — is echoed over and over again from the time he first geared up to the reaction of his project, to the reaction of his home community as the story becomes public.

The book loses its intensity as the author nears the end of the time he spent living as a Negro. Knowing he can be white again, he finds life less exciting.

The author's own unpre- paredness for what he finds and feels is echoed over and over again from the time he first passed, through his need to tell new Negro friends of his project, to the reaction of his home community as the story becomes public.

The book loses its intensity as the author nears the end of the time he spent living as a Negro. Knowing he can be white again, he finds life less exciting.
Mother of 3 LLU Students Named 'Massachusetts Mother of Year'

The mother of three Loma Linda University students has been honored as 'Massachusetts Mother of the Year.' Mrs. Philip S. Chen of Lancaster, a native of Massachusetts, received the award at a ceremony.

Mrs. Chen, whose husband is currently a student at Loma Linda University School of Medicine, said she was surprised and honored to receive the award. She said she feels privileged to be able to support her children's education and upbringing.

The Massachusetts Mother of the Year award is given to mothers who have made significant contributions to their community and have demonstrated extraordinary dedication to their children. Mrs. Chen, who has three children attending Loma Linda University, was recognized for her commitment to her family and her community.

In addition to her children, Mrs. Chen is also involved in various community organizations and activities. She is an active member of the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce and the Lancaster Education Foundation. She also volunteers at local hospitals and schools.

The award was presented to Mrs. Chen at a special ceremony held at the University of Massachusetts. She was accompanied by her husband and children, who were also honored at the event.

Mrs. Chen expressed her gratitude to her family and friends for their support and encouragement. She said she looks forward to continuing her work in the community and supporting her children's education.