Building Date Nears For New Structure

The book collection of the Sigma Delta Chi is a national journalistic society, of which Mr. Slotkin presented an estimated 60,000 new and used volumes to the library on a permanent loan basis. This compares to the 74,000 volumes acquired by the library in the past year.

Mr. Slotkin indicated in telephone conversations with Mr. Summers, acting director of libraries, and Alice E. Gregg, acquisitions librarian, that he was surprised to find the books ultimately to become part of the property of the library.

The Arrowhead United Fund Goal is $125,000. Most of the books in the collection were stored in the hospital's old X-ray building in Burbank. They were valued by appraisers at nearly $125,000.

The library staff now faces the job of checking through the 2,000 cartons to eliminate duplicates and unneeded titles, cataloging, and cross-indexing, and the newly acquired books once they are made available to library patrons.

Stack Space

Stack space for shelving the collection is not a problem, according to Mr. Summers. The books in the old X-ray building will be moved to the southwest stacks of the new library. They will be on the top floor of the new chemistry hall. The ground floor and basement, ultimately to be used by the Graduate School department of chemistry.

Mr. Slotkin was one of five directors at its annual meeting.

Faculty Retreat Begins Today

The annual faculty retreat in the San Bernardino Mountains last October was very successful. Some 300 persons, including full-time faculty and administrative staff members and their families, will be on hand for opening events this afternoon and tonight. Most will spend the night in cabins at the Southern California Conference youth camp, although some are expected to stay in private trailers or campers at one of the nearby public campgrounds. Nearly 300 other members of the faculty family are expected for the religiously-oriented programs during the day tomorrow. Reservations for the noon meal approved 500 when the deadline was passed, according to housing arrangements chairman John Parrish.

The organized weekend pro- grams end Saturday night after the evening assembly. Registration will have taken advantage of the opportunity to remain in the mountains a few more hours, delaying their departure until Sunday. Reservations are required for all meals and activities beginning this week.

Weeks Elected Society Director

The Inland Professional Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi elected University Vice President for Public Relations and Development Howard B. Weeks as director. The organization meeting September 22. Sigma Delta Chi is a national journalistic society, of which the newly formed chapter serves San Bernardino and Riverside counties. It will be chartered officially on October 24.
