School of Nursing Plans Complete; Provide Consolidated Offices

Wee-and-end retreat for faculty and administrative staff at Pine Springs Ranch in the San Bernardino Mountains closed October 1 with a Sabbath evening service of consecration.

Responding to an appeal by Dr. Munis, President Gollaher T. Anderson, PhD, the participants indicated their commitment to the Christian witness of the institution.

This witness was the theme of group discussion led by A. Graham Maxwell, PhD, director of the division of religion. Discussion included various aspects of the University's witness; in the San Bernardino conference and in the work of the clinic, and in the services of the chapel.

More than 500 persons registered for the event, according to Robert E. Cleveland, PhD, vice president for academic affairs, and chairman of the planning committee.

Enrollment Reaches Record High at LLU

Loma Linda University student enrollment stood at 1,296 on September 30, up 50 from the same period last year. This is the highest ever recorded at the University for the fall of the year for the school according to registrar Herbert A. Wall.

A five-year growth projection approved by university trustees last year anticipated an enrollment of 2,000 in 1974.

Faculty Responds To Challenge Of Witnessing

Friday, October 8, 1965

Faculty and administrative staff at Pine Springs Ranch in the San Bernardino Mountains closed October 1 with a Sabbath evening service of consecration.

The evening's purpose was to provide a retreat for the University's witness in the San Bernardino conference and in the work of the clinic, and in the services of the chapel.

More than 500 persons registered for the event, according to Robert E. Cleveland, PhD, vice president for academic affairs, and chairman of the planning committee.

Enrollment Reaches Record High at LLU

Loma Linda University student enrollment stood at 1,296 on September 30, up 50 from the same period last year. This is the highest ever recorded at the University for the fall of the year for the school according to registrar Herbert A. Wall.

A five-year growth projection approved by university trustees last year anticipated an enrollment of 2,000 in 1974.

Facility Responds To Challenge Of Witnessing

Faculty and administrative staff at Pine Springs Ranch in the San Bernardino Mountains closed October 1 with a Sabbath evening service of consecration.

The evening's purpose was to provide a retreat for the University's witness in the San Bernardino conference and in the work of the clinic, and in the services of the chapel.

More than 500 persons registered for the event, according to Robert E. Cleveland, PhD, vice president for academic affairs, and chairman of the planning committee.

Enrollment Reaches Record High at LLU

Loma Linda University student enrollment stood at 1,296 on September 30, up 50 from the same period last year. This is the highest ever recorded at the University for the fall of the year for the school according to registrar Herbert A. Wall.

A five-year growth projection approved by university trustees last year anticipated an enrollment of 2,000 in 1974.
The Priority of Education

Education costs?
Yes. Probably one of the largest investments made by the Seventh-day Adventist denomination is mirrored by the size and quality of the schools.

But we do not shrink from facing this fact of church life. Our pedagogical priorities have been established by divine direction. We accept the years. They have proven their worth.

An encouraging reminder has come from an unexpected source.

William J. Whalen, writing an article in the September issue of Christian Century, "Why the Seventh-day Adventists Are Succeeding," says, "The Adventists maintain the largest worldwide private school system next to that maintained by the Roman Catholic Church.

"In the United States only the Catholic Church and the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod provide more parochial schools. The Adventists cannot enroll a higher percentage of their young people in church schools than any other church. Right now the Adventists educate six out of ten of their school-age members in their own institutions.

"What we Catholics should bear in mind is that this extensive educational system is financed without the donated services of religious sisters, brothers, and priests. Adventists, who do not have teaching sisters, would not make a teacher rich here where the pay teaching sisters... .

"The lesson might be that our Adventist and Lutheran friends have built up the world's most extensive private school system.

In Memoriam

Just one year ago, add six days, Tor Lidar, also editor of SCOPE, and three friends died in a tragic airplane accident near Hermosillo, Mexico. Mr. Lidar's companions were Robert R. Doherty, DHS, a 1962 graduate of the School of Dentistry, Dallas R. White, a former University employee, and Bennett Esposito, a business friend.

The shock and sorrow of that event have not been forgotten by the students at Loma Linda University. In remembrance, the surviving families of these men may be assured of the continuing interest and faithful prayers of their friends and associates in the University family.

PT Outing Planned At Azure Hills

Physical therapy juniors and seniors are planning a picnic October 19 at the Azure Hills Seventh-day Adventist Church residence in order to welcome Dean John H. Thiele, president of the school.

Organized activities will begin with the departure from the San Bernardino, croquet, swimming, and other intercollegiate events are planned for the afternoon.

SD-MF to Have Varied Activities

School of Medicine freshman sophomore picnic will be held October 21 on the Loma Linda University campus, announced C. G. Catton, chairman of the class's executive committee. The picnic will feature entertainment by the Theta Chi fraternity, which will be in charge of supper at Linda Hall.

Special Test Days at Graduate School Students

By special arrangement, Graduated School students who desire to take the Graduate Record Examinations usually given by the Educational Testing Service on Saturdays, may do so on October 31, 1965, at Loma Linda University. Registration closes October 25, 1965. Applicants who have not yet taken the Graduate Record Examinations may arrange to do so at the conveniently arranged time. Room 225 in Griggs Hall.

The Miller Analogies Test and the Deeppi Test of Mathematical Reasoning may be substituted for the Graduate Record Examination. These tests may be taken at the applicant's convenience.

A new service by the Educational Testing Service is open to foreign language examinations and the TOEFL Exam. All foreign students entering the University who require these tests in lieu of their own language examinations for graduation may obtain the Master's and Doctor's degrees.

Applicants will be given test results at Linda Hall on October 30, 1965.

For further details contact the office of John M. Rice, room 225 in Griggs Hall.

The book, entitled Today's Image, by E. Grant White, PhD, tells what happened in The Image, or What Happened to the American Dream. Published by Loma Linda University, an educational institution, not a profit-making concern, it is intended to be reported in the media. By special arrangement, graduates of the College of Medicine and of the College of Pharmacy may do so at the student's expense. Travel has become tourism because we expect too much of foreign lands. We are all likely to see these not in the proper perspective.
One Day With A Student Nurse

CAP AND UNIFORM are necessary mornings and whenever students work in the hospital.

Patricia L. Ensminger, SN66, comes from Lodi, California, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Ensminger. She is president of her class and a dedicated student. Travel interests her. The call to mission service beckons her upon graduation.

As that day comes closer, her spare time shrinks, and her responsibilities grow. Important decisions still must be made before the coveted "BS" and "RN" are placed after her name, but she has confidence in her God. He has shown his guidance all along the pathway and has led her, she feels, into one of the greatest callings open to womankind—the profession of nursing.

Here is represented one day in her life as a senior student in the School of Nursing, Loma Linda University.

Staff photos

ANNABELLE MILLS, associate professor of nursing, School of Nursing, listens as Patricia asks questions about duties of the morning.

PATRICIA CHECKS BLOOD PRESSURE of an elderly patient in the emergency ward.

IN THE RUSH of the day, there may be a few moments for private meditation in some quiet room.

MAIL CALL after lunch is the happiest especially when there’s a letter from home! Anita C. Padilla, SN66, center, and Erle J. Wood, SN66, look on.

THE DINING HALL makes good food available at mealtime.

A QUICK VISIT is made to Karlene Friedman in the pediatrics unit where Patricia trained part of her junior year.

Volney M. Walker, electronics technician in the University Hospital cardiac diagnostic laboratory, explains operation of the Electronics for Medicine machine providing eight channels of information during heart surgery.

TENNIS AND HIKING are sports the girls like, but during the week there’s not much time.

IN THE RUSH of the day, there may be a few moments for private meditation in some quiet room.

MAIL CALL after lunch is the happiest especially when there’s a letter from home! Anita C. Padilla, SN66, center, and Erle J. Wood, SN66, look on.

THE DINING HALL makes good food available at mealtime.

Roommate Virginia L. Fowler, SN66, and Patricia practice giving a solution intravenously to each other. Patricia was successful the first try.
LL Rezonng Plan Deferred by SB County Planners
San Bernardino County planning commissioners deferred action on a proposal to remove a 13-acre residential section of Loma Linda for commercial development at a public hearing held September 16.

The densely populated area is southeast of the present busiest section of the community and is bounded by Prospect Avenue on the north, Hillcrest Street on the east, Barton Road on the south, and Andersen Street on the west.

The proposal called for a zone change from R4 to R3, and to divide the area into a multifamily-development cluster, with 130-family units.

Robert E. Cleveland, PhD, vice president for academic affairs—

Total payroll expense of hospitals in the United States in 1963 reached $7.3 billion.

Anchored with safety!

Open your account and start earning more—With the safety of insured savings where your account is protected to $50,000. You earn more, too, because your dividends are compounded quarterly—

DEPOSITS MADE BY MONDAY, OCTOBER 11 EARN FROM OCTOBER 1

First Federal
Savings & Loan Association of San Bernardino
San Bernardino 333 E. Main 909-840-860
Loma Linda 24532 Central Pk. 796-4023
Barstow 521 E. Main Cl. 340-677

FORDS AND CHEVROLETS AT FLEET PRICES
CALENDAR OF FUTURE EVENTS

Friday, October 8

LINDA HALL. Academy  7:45, presented by academic deans. "The Day the Flanges Begun to Leak."  8:00.

BURDENS HALL. University  M. Paul Watson, MD, medical director of medical staff, Loma Linda University Hospital. "Life in Thailand."  7:45.

Saturday, October 9

HILL CHURCH. Hour of worship. Pastor William E. Chapman. "Take More Than a Label!"  9:00 and Beck Kennedy Barnes.  7:00.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH. Hour of worship. Dr. G. and Robert D. Lang, SM '69. "At Ease in Zion."  8:15 and 10:45.

WHITE MEMORIAL CHURCH. Hour of prayer. Pastor Donald Reynolds. "Before Honor — Humility."  7:00.

Sunday, October 10

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY FACULTY LOUNGE. School of Dentistry Alumni Association meeting.  1:00 p.m.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH. School of Nursing capstone service. W. S. Friday, October 15 meeting: 7 p.m.  4:30 a.m.

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY. School of Dentistry Alumni Association meeting.  1:00 p.m.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH. Week of Devotion, Joseph N. Barnes, PhD. "The Length — Love Forever": 8:00 p.m. and "The Height — Love for God": 8:00 p.m.

LINDA HALL. Lecture Series, University Talents. "The Day the Plagues Began to Visit Us" play presented by academy students.  11:00 a.m.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12

OLIVET CHAPEL, LOS ANGELES. "A Time for Worship," Joseph N. Barnes, PhD. "For the Guilt-Ridden": 8:00 p.m. and "The Day the Plagues Began to Visit Us" play presented by academy students.  11:00 a.m.

RADIO BROADCASTS

- Air Conditioning, FM Music
- University Forum, FM Music
- KEMR-FM
- University Hospital, Loma Linda,radio station: 88.3
- Your Radio Doctor
- Inspirational Interlude
- Voice of Prophecy
- Masterworks From Pacific Union

INCOME PROPERTY

Fourplex with furnished two-bedroom units. Laundry and storage room. Full occupancy. $95,650. Four-bedroom house located one lot. One-year-old, F.H.A. financed. Taxes and insurance included in one monthly payment. A really good buy at $25,800.

FOUR-AND-FIVE BEDROOM HOUSES TO CHOOSE FROM. View lots. Priced from $19,825 to $60,000.

ELIZABETH V. BOULDEN. Blind dark-room technician at Loma Linda University Hospital, was cited this week by hospital administrators for proficiency in the kind of performance that makes it just plain good business for employers to hire talented people despite apparent handicaps.

Sightless Radiology Technician

"In the supermarket I pick up a can, shake it, and by listening, tell what’s inside," claims Elizabeth V. Boulden.

Mrs. Boulden has been blind since the age of two. She does all her own shopping, usually at a nearby market where she is familiar with the way. The only thing she can’t do for herself is to read the labels. "Someone has to help me find the right one," she says. She cooks all the meals for herself and her husband, who also sees and, when she cooks, inks and does all her own housekeeping. She can thread a needle without difficulty and sews all her own clothes.

Mrs. Boulden was cited this week for her proficiency in working outside the home. Richard G. Udeshik, assistant director of personnel and administration at Loma Linda University Hospital, Loma Linda, called her record as a hospital employee "a symbol — the kind of performance that makes it just plain good business for employers to hire talented people despite apparent handicaps."

She has worked full-time as a dark-room technician in the hospital’s radiology service since 1957, and greatly enjoys her work. Photo by Rich
LA Devotional Dates Changed; Speakers and Topics Listed

The full week of devotion will be held on the Los Angeles campus of Loma Linda University October 18-22, in Olivet Chapel, which is a week later than previously announced.

The speaker will be Fred H. Osbourn, assistant professor of applied theology, Loma Linda University.

Mr. Osbourn is a graduate of Pacific Union College and Andrews University. He was pastor-evangelistic work for 10 years before accepting his present post at Loma Linda University.

Key thought for the week will be "Folk Who Are Different." Evening programs Monday through Thursday will start at 6:30. The opening topic has been titled, "A Letter." succeeding subjects are "Food For the Fed-Up," "For the Guilt-Sick," and "The Road to Certainty."

The 8:00 p.m. Friday night service will conclude the series on the main theme, "Folk Who Are Different."

For the Loma Linda campus, the dates are October 11-15. The speaker will be Joseph N. Barnes, PhD, assistant professor of religion, Walla Walla College, Walla Walla, Washington.

Dr. Barnes is currently serving there as director of the Human Dynamics Research Institute, and is also president of the Walla Walla County Mental Health Association.

His general theme for the week will be, "The Mind-Body Relationship and Its Significance to Religion and Education."

The 8:00 a.m. services at the University Seventh-day Adventist Church Monday through Saturday will take as their theme the design of Christian love, its height, breadth, length, and fullness. The evening meetings to be held Monday through Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Burden Chapel, which is a week later than previously announced.

Eighteen subjects are "Food For the Fed-Up," "For the Guilt-Sick," and "The Road to Certainty."

The 8:00 a.m. services at the University Seventh-day Adventist Church Monday through Saturday will take as their theme the design of Christian love, its height, breadth, length, and fullness. The evening meetings to be held Monday through Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Burden Chapel, which is a week later than previously announced.

The 8:00 a.m. services at the University Seventh-day Adventist Church Monday through Saturday will take as their theme the design of Christian love, its height, breadth, length, and fullness. The evening meetings to be held Monday through Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Burden Chapel, which is a week later than previously announced.

The 8:00 a.m. services at the University Seventh-day Adventist Church Monday through Saturday will take as their theme the design of Christian love, its height, breadth, length, and fullness. The evening meetings to be held Monday through Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Burden Chapel, which is a week later than previously announced.

The 8:00 a.m. services at the University Seventh-day Adventist Church Monday through Saturday will take as their theme the design of Christian love, its height, breadth, length, and fullness. The evening meetings to be held Monday through Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Burden Chapel, which is a week later than previously announced.

Launch your pad.

Get off to the right start with a Security Bank checking account. Aside from the convenience and extra service, you'll be entering a financial partnership that can be important to you now and in years ahead. Choose your bank carefully...choose Security Bank. And establish your connection now.

Make your financial partner SECURITY FIRST NATIONAL BANK

LA Devotional Dates Changed; Speakers and Topics Listed

The full week of devotion will be held on the Los Angeles campus of Loma Linda University October 18-22, in Olivet Chapel, which is a week later than previously announced.

The speaker will be Fred H. Osbourn, assistant professor of applied theology, Loma Linda University.

Mr. Osbourn is a graduate of Pacific Union College and Andrews University. He was pastor-evangelistic work for 10 years before accepting his present post at Loma Linda University.

Key thought for the week will be "Folk Who Are Different." Evening programs Monday through Thursday will start at 6:30. The opening topic has been titled, "A Letter." succeeding subjects are "Food For the Fed-Up," "For the Guilt-Sick," and "The Road to Certainty."

The 8:00 p.m. Friday night service will conclude the series on the main theme, "Folk Who Are Different."

For the Loma Linda campus, the dates are October 11-15. The speaker will be Joseph N. Barnes, PhD, assistant professor of religion, Walla Walla College, Walla Walla, Washington.

Dr. Barnes is currently serving there as director of the Human Dynamics Research Institute, and is also president of the Walla Walla County Mental Health Association.

His general theme for the week will be, "The Mind-Body Relationship and Its Significance to Religion and Education."

The 8:00 a.m. services at the University Seventh-day Adventist Church Monday through Saturday will take as their theme the design of Christian love, its height, breadth, length, and fullness. The evening meetings to be held Monday through Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Burden Chapel, which is a week later than previously announced.

LA Devotional Dates Changed; Speakers and Topics Listed

The full week of devotion will be held on the Los Angeles campus of Loma Linda University October 18-22, in Olivet Chapel, which is a week later than previously announced.

The speaker will be Fred H. Osbourn, assistant professor of applied theology, Loma Linda University.

Mr. Osbourn is a graduate of Pacific Union College and Andrews University. He was pastor-evangelistic work for 10 years before accepting his present post at Loma Linda University.

Key thought for the week will be "Folk Who Are Different." Evening programs Monday through Thursday will start at 6:30. The opening topic has been titled, "A Letter." succeeding subjects are "Food For the Fed-Up," "For the Guilt-Sick," and "The Road to Certainty."

The 8:00 p.m. Friday night service will conclude the series on the main theme, "Folk Who Are Different."

For the Loma Linda campus, the dates are October 11-15. The speaker will be Joseph N. Barnes, PhD, assistant professor of religion, Walla Walla College, Walla Walla, Washington.

Dr. Barnes is currently serving there as director of the Human Dynamics Research Institute, and is also president of the Walla Walla County Mental Health Association.

His general theme for the week will be, "The Mind-Body Relationship and Its Significance to Religion and Education."

The 8:00 a.m. services at the University Seventh-day Adventist Church Monday through Saturday will take as their theme the design of Christian love, its height, breadth, length, and fullness. The evening meetings to be held Monday through Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Burden Chapel, which is a week later than previously announced.

SPECIALIST OR GP

Excellent Opportunity for specialist or general practitioner to go in association with LLA group in San Fernando Valley. Practice already established in beautiful new medical-dental suite. Asociate's mission service has left opening.

Contact Dr. V. W. Foster 213-347-1100

Students Ordeiinded As Church Elders

Four Loma Linda University students were ordained as local elders at the University Seventh-day Adventist Church, September 25.

They are: Norman L. Borts, SM 66; Calvin R. Devnich, SD 66; Gerald H. Ellison, SM 66; George E. Quitmeyer, SD 66.

Other students currently serving in the same capacity are: Franklin E. Baughman, SD 67; Clark Braman, SM 67; David K. Cromwell, SM 67; and Helgi Heidar, SM 67.

Hall, will emphasize the practical application of Christian love with discussions of how to find meaning in life, to tap the boundless power of love, to build lasting friendships, to discover one's real self, and to feel eternally secure.

MRS. ROBERT B. CLEVELAND (left) and Mrs. Godfrey T. Anderson serve refreshments to L. Burton Parker, SM 49, newly appointed medical director for the School of Physical Therapy and the Occupational Therapy Curriculum, and Mrs. Parker.

GoV. O. NELSON, director of University publications, (right) and Mrs. Nelson welcome Donald L. Peters, SM 61, recently appointed instructor in oral medicine, School of Dentistry, and Mrs. Peters at faculty reception.

ENGAGED IN CONVERSATION after refreshments at the president's reception are recent appointees Lloyd A. Days, SM 69, instructor in neurosurgery, School of Medicine, and Mrs. Days.

TURNER MOVING & STORAGE

The moving company with 18 years of service to conferences, institutions and church members.

Phone WO 3-2701

Box 226, St. Helena

Box 201, Loma Linda

Phone PY 6-0228

University SCOPE, Page 7

Friday, October 8, 1965

A. GRAHAM MAXWELL, PhD, director of the Division of Religion, (left) offers congratulations to Ivor C. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward upon his appointment as dean of the newly-created School of Health-Related Professions of Loma Linda University (see story, page 1). — Photo by Edward N. Hamilton

Faculty Reception Hosts Newcomers

University President Godfrey T. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson served as host and hostess at a faculty reception in the University Dining Hall Sunday evening, September 26.

The reception is held annual to welcome new faculty members to the University staff and introduce them to the other faculty members with whom they will be working.

Twenty-six new members have joined full-time faculty ranks in the various schools, divisions, and curriculums for the 1965-66 school year.

Students Ordeiinded As Church Elders

Four Loma Linda University students were ordained as local elders at the University Seventh-day Adventist Church, September 25.

They are: Franklin E. Baughman, SM'66; Calvin R. Devnich, SD'66; Gerald H. Ellison, SM'66; George E. Quitmeyer, SD'66.

Other students currently serving in the same capacity are: Franklin E. Baughman, SD'67; Clark Braman, SM'67; David K. Cromwell, SM'67; and Helgi Heidar, SM'67.

Hall, will emphasize the practical application of Christian love with discussions of how to find meaning in life, to tap the boundless power of love, to build lasting friendships, to discover one's real self, and to feel eternally secure.

MRS. ROBERT B. CLEVELAND (left) and Mrs. Godfrey T. Anderson serve refreshments to L. Burton Parker, SM 49, newly appointed medical director for the School of Physical Therapy and the Occupational Therapy Curriculum, and Mrs. Parker.
University Expands Cerebral Palsy Care

The Handicapped Children's Clinic, operated by the University under a grant from the United Cerebral Palsy Association, expanded its service in June to include full-day care Monday through Friday in addition to out-patient care.

Blind Technician

Continued from page 1
work and the independence it brings.

"I can do the job easier than a sighted person can," she says. "because I don't mind staying in the dark long for periods of time. Also, my sense of touch is more highly developed than that of a sighted person normally."

After her application for the job developing x-ray films was approved, Mrs. Boulden spent a week training at the Glendale Sanatorium and Hospital, Glendale, with a darkroom technician who is also blind.

She brought back to Loma Linda special methods for handling patients' cards, and has devised methods of her own to sort the special needs of the Loma Linda darkroom.

Blind people must develop the ability to picture and read Braille. "I can't read the Braille with my eyes," she continues. "I can tell which of the office personnel are blind by their voices."

"Pay raises are given according to a regular pay scale," the director said, "yet they are only given with the recommendation and approval of the supervisor." To the employer of employee communications "suggestion boxes" are being considered.

Frank S. Robinson, former personnel director, will continue to serve in the department, giving special attention to details of the Fair Employment Practice Act of the State of California and the "Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964."

Weldon J. Smith, who has been serving as personnel director for the Los Angeles campus, has been asked to join the personnel staff here.

Graduate School Has Campus Reception

A get-acquainted reception for Loma Linda University Graduate School students that may faculty members was held October 3 in the Grinch Hall patio.

Nearly 110 million people are patients in hospitals on any given day.