PLANS TO DEMOLISH the old Loma Linda Sanitarium and Hospital were announced last week by University officials. Opened for use on March 26, 1926, the structure was built at a cost of $200,000.

Heart Team Leaves Athens; Greeks Continue Program

The Loma Linda University heart team left Athens, Greece, for home last Friday after performing 30 open-heart surgeries and seeing more than 1,000 patients in clinical cardiac conferences.

Last Wednesday, 20 open-heart surgery patients were presented at a news conference. The patients were attended by various government, embassy, and hospital officials, heard Dr. Elsworth K. Warf, professor and co-chairman of the department of medicine and leader of the University's heart team, report on the progress of the operations performed on the servicemen in the last five weeks.

We are confident that the Greek physicians and surgeons at Evangelismos Hospital will ably carry on the open-heart surgery program," Dr. Warf said.

The seven team members were each presented with a medal in recognition of their service to the Greek people, and Loma Linda University was presented with the Evangelismos Hospital medallion for its contribution to the open-heart program at Athens' foremost medical center.

The team was invited to inaugurate the open-heart surgery program at the Athens hospital by its director Dr. Thomas A. Bill of Rights Day Celebrated By La Sierra Campus Students

La Sierra campus students are joining other southern California universities and colleges in celebrating a Bill of Rights Day today.

A special 10:30 a.m. convocation was arranged during which students and the community participated in commemoration of the Bill of Rights. Following the United States Air Force color guard's presentation of the flag, patriotic music was played by the University Band. Wilfred J. Airoy, PhD, professor of history, spoke on "What Is Happening in Our Freedom Today." A short skit, "George Masa," adapted by Gregory Lundquist, sophomore English major, and Monte C. Sahlin, sophomore thespian, was also performed.

Sponsoring the trip were a number of private citizens, mostly of Greek descent, who have been active in the past in bringing cardiac patients from Greece to this country for surgery.

Olympic Airways, contributed the trans-Atlantic flights for the team at the request of the Greek government.

Former LLU Trustees Chairman Dies After Extended Illness

Former chairman of the Loma Linda University Board of Trustees Walter F. Elliott died last month in his Redlands home after a long illness. He was 75.

During his nine-year tenure as trustee chairman, Loma Linda University established the School of Dentistry and Graduate School, and constructed the present White Memorial Medical Center, Los Angeles. Mr. Elliott served simultaneously as chairman of the trustees of Pacific Press Publishing Association, a Seventh-day Adventist publishing house located in Mountain View, California. During his 42 years as Seventh-day Adventist pastor-evangelist, he held positions as superintendent of the church's Haiti mission; president of its TLU-200 member Potomac Conference; and chairman of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, and general manager of the Review and Herald Publishing Association, which publishes the church's flagship publishing house owned and operated by the Adventist church.

A native of Chicago, he was educated at Beloit Academy, Arpint, Wisconsin, and Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan.

Mr. Elliott is survived by his wife, Alice Garson Elliott, and one daughter, Mrs. J. L. Dew, of Newport, Rhode Island.

Funeral services were held Friday at the Seventh-day Adventist Church, Loma Linda.

Old University Hospital Slated For Demolition

Loma Linda University officials announced plans last week to demolish two more landmark buildings on the Loma Linda campus. The original structure of the old Loma Linda Sanitarium and Hospital and the First floor of the East Market are scheduled for demolition in the near future. Last October, the Annex, the first of three University Hospitals, and Robert E. Cleveland, MD, vice president for academic affairs and chairman of the University's campus space committee, said that approximately 40 percent of the total hospital building would have to come down.

Present day construction standards do not permit occupying a four-story building of wood construction according to Dr. Cleveland. The center section of the old hospital has three stories and a basement which, according to size, is considered four stories.

Construction use of the vacated hospital building included offices for various staff members of public relations and development and for the School of Public Health and the School of Health Related Professions.

Now that the building has been condemned, only the School of Health Related Professions remains in the hospital building. A new building is being planned.

The School of Public Health also occupies the Episcopal Memorial Clinical Laboratory, which is a fairly recently constructed building.

According to Dr. Cleveland, the third and fourth floors of the old hospital building, a "portable" building constructed in 1932, has been assigned to the School of Public Health and will be moved at a later date.

Also scheduled for demolition is the old Tropical and Preventive Medicine building. The removal of the structures will be landscaped.

Each school participating in the Hill of Rights Day will write the events in booklet form and submit it to a committee for judging. The winning school will receive national recognition and a $1000 award. Judging will include such points as creativity, content, and student participation and attendance.

Old Sanitarium
The old Loma Linda Sanitarium and Hospital, built between 1924 and 1929, was officially opened for use on March 20, 1929. The total cost for the structure was $200,000.

Additions to the main structure were made in 1949 with the completion of the surgical unit, in 1953 with the building of the surgical-maternity wing, in 1952 with the construction of the clinical laboratory, and in 1967 when the X-ray department was added.

The Sears-Roebuck Foundation gave Loma Linda University $1,000 recently.

The check, part of the foundation’s $1-million annual contribution to privately supported colleges and universities was presented by Joseph Sadacca, manager of the Inland Center Sears store and local representative of the foundation. The gift was accepted by David J. Bieber, president of the University.

In announcing the distribution of the 1967 gifts, Mr. Sadacca reported that 42 participating colleges and universities in California will share in grants totaling $68,400. Purpose of the program is to systematically help institutions of higher learning meet their financial needs, he said.

Altogether more than 600 colleges and universities from coast to coast will receive Sears Foundation grants this year.

KSDA Purchases New Transmitter

A 1,000 watt transmitter has been purchased from the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, by KSDA, the University’s FM radio station, located on the La Sierra campus. With the transmitter, KSDA hopes to have better coverage of the marginal reception area, according to Donald D. Dietz, PhD, associate professor of speech and general manager of KSDA.

Students from the KSDA staff dismantled the transmitter to get it out a window of the building in which it was located at USC. The transmitter was first used in 1950 during the San Francisco World’s Fair.

KSDA is working on “Operation Think Big” to rebroadcast the transmitter so coverage will reach Los Angeles as well as La Sierra and Loma Linda.

Rams Football Star Tackles DSA Meet

The monthly Dental Student Association meeting this Thursday night will feature National Football League star Edby Maxson, according to Thomas W. Audschenberg, SDMY, DSA vice president.

Mr. Maxson, defensive back for the Los Angeles Rams, will speak by FM radio, courtesy of “The Road Back,” depicting highlights from the 1967 Los Angeles Rams football season. No admission is charged for this 7:30 p.m. Burton Hall program.

Are you dreading the end of the year and the 1967 TAX BITE? Making your gift to Loma Linda University before December 31 can help you save TAX DOLLARS. The University offers a valuable service to its alumni and friends through Estate Planning. Study the tax shelters described below to find one which fits your situation.

SHORT-TERM TRUST

A short-term trust provides for a temporary transfer of income-producing assets to a charitable or organization such as Loma Linda University with these benefits:

1. The donor's current income is reduced. He is also eligible for a tax deduction for the first $1,500 of income.
2. With such income assigned to the University, the donor can retain all income over allowance may be the wisest kind of approach to tax savings and philanthropic support.

FAMILY SECURITY GROWTH PLAN

Provides a desirable retirement plan and offers present savings program which can reduce taxes, give security to your family members, and help build Loma Linda University while benefiting from a steady growth factor.

OUTRIGHT GIFT

During heavy income years an outright gift to Loma Linda University with the one year definition of income can result in a tax carry-over allowance may be the wisest kind of approach to tax savings and philanthropic support.

BARGAIN SALE

An individual can realize a greater profit in many situations if he enters into a bargain sale arrangement with a charitable institution rather than disposing of the appreciated property on the open market. Here the property is sold to the charitable organization at the owner's original cost. The owner is thus enabled to claim a charitable deduction for the difference between his selling price and the market value of the property transferred. For example, if you own stock worth $10,000 at the owner's original cost, the owner sells the stock for $2,000 (your cost), you get a charitable contribution deduction of $8,000 ($10,000 value less $2,000 received). The higher your tax bracket, the more you benefit.

George A. DeLong, administrator of the Redlands hospital, requested that the ministerial association start a program of careful and dependable coverage of the spiritual needs of the hospital patients, according to Chaplin Teel. The pastors will minister to the needs of the patients, like the chaplains, can use the hospital as an evangelistic base to "steel members."

The course ran for 30 weeks, meeting for three hours one day a week. During the last five weeks the morning supervisors of the hospital were invited to the meetings to participate in the discussions and to become acquainted with the ministers.

The final meeting was held at the University Hospital at the invitation of Mr. Vicky Way, hospital administrator. The ministers, nurses, and nursing supervisors toured the hospital and observed the chaplains' program in operation. Chaplin Teel has been asked to make available a refresher course for those ministers who will not be able to attend the full program, Mr. DeLong stated that only those ministers completing the chaplain's course will be able to participate in the new program at the Redlands Community Hospital.

San Gabriel
Seniors Study Freshman English

Ten seniors from San Gabriel Academy, San Gabriel, are discovering what freshman English is all about a year before they go to college.

Instruction, offered at the academy campus, is under the direction of Loma Linda University's La Sierra campus English department. Six hours of credit will be given for the college work.

Only seniors whose verbal score was in the 50th percentile or higher on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test or a similar test are qualified to take the course.

University President Speaks At Loma Linda Convocation

Editor's note: The following article is an edited version of the speech delivered by University President David A. Buehrer at President's Convocation held in the Loma Linda University Church November 19.

When dealing with children, adults are accustomed to limit their speech to words that are simple, direct, and easy to understand. However, when speaking to children, adults often find themselves using language that is too complex or contains unnecessary jargon. It is important to remember that children have a limited vocabulary and may struggle to understand abstract concepts. Therefore, it is essential to use age-appropriate language and examples that are relevant to their experiences.

For example, when explaining a medical procedure, it is better to use simple language and avoid technical terms. Instead of saying, "We are going to perform a surgery," it is more appropriate to say, "We are going to fix something that is not working right." This allows the child to understand the procedure without feeling overwhelmed by the complexity of medical terminology.

In conclusion, when communicating with children, it is important to use language that is simple, direct, and relevant to their level of understanding. By using age-appropriate language, we can help children feel more comfortable and less anxious during medical appointments and procedures.

President's Speech

Continued from Page 12 for a transition year and con- sidering a total annual combined operating budget of $21,279,000. Tuition and other expenses have obviously been rising with the spiraling economy of the country. Yet for the undergraduate student it requires fewer working hours to earn tuition today than forty years ago. In 1927 it took 1,760 hours to earn tuition and expenses at the rate of $2.35 per hour, while today at the rate of $3.40 per hour, 1,440 hours are required. In the School of Arts and Sciences, students pay approximately 50 per cent of the operating costs and the balance is provided from operating subsidies from the parent organizations and other gifts.

The net worth of the University currently stands at slightly over $28,000,000. Approximately one third of this represents the La Sierra campus holdings. Student Affairs

With the merger of the two campuses a new office, that of vice president for student affairs, was created. This became extremely important at a time when student unrest on all university campuses. Appropriate action is extremely important at a time when significant figures have been and are being received to provide financial security for the University. The Foundation

Current on the campus is the La Sierra Foundation representing the investment arms of the University and the holding company of the organizational structure of the University as an institution. It is a function of the University as a corporation and the vice president for the corporation and manager of the Foundation report directly to the president of the corporation who is also chairman of the Board. The office has a well qualified staff to manage properties and investments.

Current plans under study, if implemented, would place this office and function under the president of the University compañía missions and other activities and programs.

Capital Improvements

Remarkable progress has been made in the past few years in the replacement of obsolete and worn-out buildings, or in providing additional buildings and facilities on both campuses. On the Loma Linda campus the outstanding project is obviously the new University Hospital complex. The addition to Lindsay Hall, the graduate and professional library space, a new auditorium, the경영, and facilities on both campuses. The addition to Lindsay Hall, the graduate and professional service and student center at the La Sierra campus, the new food service and student center at the Loma Linda campus, the new mail, the new eight-story, high-rise student residence, the new physical plant center, and now the newly completed home economics building moderate the appearance of the Campus., The combined projects represent costs approximating $26,000,000.

General Conference Placement

So you’re a man! You’re looking for a different, challenging place? Well, perhaps you would consider one of the places from which calls come for the service of those who are prepared to give. In war-torn Saigon, or in Ethiopia, Liberia, Nigeria, Ghana, Kenya, Orange Free State, or Uganda, a chance may be made. As a position in a hospital, or as director of nursing service, or as an instructor—these are the offerings made in these areas.

To physiologists also, many of the calls are requested and some are urgent. For general practitioners: these countries are needing you; Okinawa, Taiwan, Trinidad, British Honduras, Nigeria, Ethiopia, India, Nepal, Cameroons, Rwanda, Kenya, Nigeria, Trinidad, and others are in full. To surgeons there are eight requests, two for Thailand, six (a relief and one for August 1968); one for Japan, two in Laos (a relief and a board surgeon); one in Nigeria; two in India, in medical director—surgeon and board surgeon if possible. An anesthetist is needed in India; and two internists, one in Taiwan, and a relief for May 1968 in Libya.

We place the call for a pharmacist for Nigeria. We appeal to the physically fit, the dedicated, the volunteers who have been impressed to offer themselves to the needs of their fellow men. There is no greater work than to help those who would not receive aid if this help is not given. Your reward, the satisfaction of service rendered and the gratitude received in return.

How grateful the recipients are for the many who have made themselves available and have gone or are preparing to go to positions in lands afar.

ers as do a large majority of institutions of higher learning in this country.

The church has traditionally believed that it is unwise to seek and accept government funds. Two reasons have often been advanced in connection with the separation of church and state, and the control of the general public over the government. The principle upon which we have built a wall of separation between church and state is actually based on two erroneous concepts, the American Condition, which has been amended and changed. As a church we strongly feel that we could not interef in the realm of one of church and state. Indeed, this avenue of additional finance, it is thought, would go a long way in solving the financial problems of our agency. But, if the church was to consider this approach, it would need to give greater support to our government. We appeal to you to consider this course; if you do, the church might possibly be interested in it. Neither of the two courses described here will be well in our interest.

Mounting Pressures

It is inevitable that we will have to adhere to our traditional Christ-and-state principles. The church has no room for the separation of church and state. If, indeed, such a division should be a right to expect us to adhere to our objectives except as it is necessary to fulfill our objectives. The general public has no right to demand that we change our objectives. There is no accrediting board, as far as we know, which permits the change of objectives. It is our duty to devote our objective to the fulfillment of a great religious and moral work, the establishment of the Seventh-day Adventist University. We vow our content support and progress.

Gyn-Ob Professor Qualizes Colleagues

Douglas A. Ritel, SB, who has the distinction of being the first Seventh-day Adventist Medical College to complete the Japanese dental curriculum, recently opened a new dental clinic at the Tokyo Dental College in Japan, the first Seventh-day Adventist dental clinic in the hospital complex provides two dental clinics, a dental laboratory, and full laboratory facilities.

La Sierra Students Give Toys To Korean Orphans

Approximately 350 orphans at the Orphanage in Pusan, Korea, received 422 pounds of toys from the Korean Action Program sponsored by the La Sierra campus College Christian League and the National Safety Council.

The Seventh-day Adventist Welfare Service and the Korean Action Program joined forces for the past four years to make a difference for the orphans of Korea. The Seventh-day Adventist Welfare Service has been making available clothing and some United States government's surplus food. Funds also come from the Fos- ter Parents Plan of New York City.

Homemaking Course Begins January 9

A homemaking course, 4b, is being offered at Loma Linda University Church for women only. The course will begin at 7 p.m. beginning January 9. The course is open to women of all ages. A certificate will be awarded for those who will serve as homemakers. However, it will be open to anyone who wishes to enroll. Registration will be held on the night of the opening.

Included in the course will be basic homemaking topics such as budgeting, home organization, clothing and family management, relationships of church and state. Indeed, this avenue of additional finance, it is thought, would go a long way in solving the financial problems of our agency. But, if the church was to consider this approach, it would need to give greater support to our government. We appeal to you to consider this course; if you do, the church might possibly be interested in it. Neither of the two courses described here will be well in our interest.

Mounting Pressures

It is inevitable that we will have to adhere to our traditional Christ-and-state principles. The church has no room for the separation of church and state. If, indeed, such a division should be a right to expect us to adhere to our objectives except as it is necessary to fulfill our objectives. The general public has no right to demand that we change our objectives. There is no accrediting board, as far as we know, which permits the change of objectives. It is our duty to devote our objective to the fulfillment of a great religious and moral work, the establishment of the Seventh-day Adventist University. We vow our content support and progress.

and marketing. Beautiful back yard. Radiant heat. $18,300.

Basement workshop with plumbing. Covered patio, for sale and for use as August 1968; one for Japan, two in Laos (a relief and a board surgeon); one in Nigeria; two in India, in medical director—surgeon and board surgeon if possible. An anesthetist is needed in India; and two internists, one in Taiwan, and a relief for May 1968 in Libya.

We place the call for a pharmacist for Nigeria. We appeal to the physically fit, the dedicated, the volunteers who have been impressed to offer themselves to the needs of their fellow men. There is no greater work than to help those who would not receive aid if this help is not given. Your reward, the satisfaction of service rendered and the gratitude received in return.

How grateful the recipients are for the many who have made themselves available and have gone or are preparing to go to positions in lands afar.

University Offers Extension Courses

Extension courses carrying college credit will be offered by Loma Linda University at various points throughout southern California next semester, according to Vernon H. Koening, EdD, assistant professor of education and director of the extension program.

Scheduled courses include introduction to electronics, principles of dynamic speech, and current issues in theology, studies in Ephebus, archea diving, wilderness living and survival, the culturally disadvantaged child, speech, history of religious thought and practice, and fundamentals of public relations.

The courses will be taught in Glendora, La Sierra, Loma Linda, Garden Grove, San Diego, San Gabriel, and Los Angeles.

A brochure giving complete details of these courses may be obtained from Dr. Vernon H. Koening, Loma Linda University, or from Mr. Wallis.

Traditional Carol Sing Is Tonight

The sixteenth annual La Sierra campus Carol Sing will take place Wednesday, December 20, on front steps of the mall. Every class participating and all students in attendance will prepare two songs to present themselves, and the general audience will be invited to join in singing for judging.

Three judges will select the winner from each of the five dorms, the campus students, and faculty. A group of representatives of the Student Council will select a bronze plaque that is hung in the student center trophy case.

LAU Service League Fall Dinner Held

Mrs. Billie Thompson, volunteer coordinator at Orthopaedic Hospital, Las Vegas, was the guest speaker for the Fall Dinner of the Loma Linda University Hospital Volunteer Service League, held in the campus cafeteria Monday, October 29. Mrs. Bernard D. Briggs, league president, presided.

Mrs. Harold D. Walton, treasurer, reported that gifts valued at $13,751.78 have been donated to the hospital by the volunteer organization since 1960. The latest of these include the pictures for the new as well as the old hospital, the television sets, and hospital refrigerators. Almost $1,000 was spent in moving and refurnishing the large wall plaque in the main lobby of the hospital. Another $1,000 was spent in furnishing one private room, plus $2,000 in providing furniture for other private rooms. The television sets were donated to the department of surgery. Other areas helped include pediatrics, dietary service, and the gift shop remodeling.

Walls. According to Mr. Kenneth E. Stevenson, Box 325, Angwin, California.

The new bill raises payments to veterans with one dependent, $125 to veterans with two dependent, and $155 to veterans with three dependents. All American makes, except for increasing the amount of funds totaling $19,200 purchased for textbooks and other professional chairs in key departments.

Three judges will select the winner from each of the five dorms, the campus students, and faculty. A group of representatives of the Student Council will select a bronze plaque that is hung in the student center trophy case.

Each group is judged on its musical quality of its production, how its members look and present themselves, and the general appearance of the group. One traditional car and one semi-popular Christmas carol is sung by each group.

Student leaders are Jallenne Raga, junior, and Angela Hall; Beverly J. Vaughn, freshman, for Glendale; M. Munsie, freshman, for South Hall; Elinne Melsenbrand, senior, for the village; Rock- sler, L. Twymann, sophomore, for Culver; M. Melsenbrand, sophomore, for Sierra Towers.

Funds are used exclusively for aid to the undergraduate teaching function within the School of Medicine. Specific expenditures are the supplementing of salaries for family members, the purchase of equipment to aid teaching, and the establishment of professional chairs in key departments.

In 1960 the first professorship was established in the School of Medicine department of biochemistry in honor of Dr. Fred A. Rice, professor of biochemistry. The present professorship is funded on an endowment basis for Loma Linda University, and is to receive $30,000 annually from the Loma Linda University Foundation.

The disbursement of funds from the Society is controlled by a nine-man board of directors comprised of elected officers, faculty members, and other alumni.

Officers of the Society are: Raymond B. Crawford, MD, associate professor of medicine; William R. H e r r e r a , MD, assistant professor of medicine, vice-president; and Gene- ral Produce Treasurer, Anthony D. DeNigris, Produce Treasurer. Alumni Association representatives are Charles L. Anderson, BM '41; Jacob Jan- den, NM '41; and Gordon W. Thompson, BM '48. Loma Linda University representatives are Louis L. Smith, MD, associate professor of surgery and Varner J. Johns, MD. Professor of medicine. Dr. Walter E. MacPherson is a life member of the society.
Gobbledegook is another way of saying even turkeys are happy with Worthington Foods' latest offering — Holiday Roast — the world's first known meatless turkey roast. All we know is that Holiday Roast thus far is taxing our production facilities. So if your store is temporarily out of Holiday Roast (or, worse, hasn't been able to stock any), please forgive us. It's our fault. We should have known better. We knew we had a good product. We knew it featured wonderful economies plus convenience. But we never dreamed we would have so much difficulty in coping with the demand.

P. S. For those who like wishbones, a plastic wishbone like the one above comes with each package of Holiday Roast. And if you don't get yours, we want you to complain by post card to Wishbone Dept., Worthington Foods, Inc., Worthington, Ohio 43065, so that we can send you one right away.
