Medical researcher closes in on persistent kissing bugs

SPH initiates new fitness program

With a new truck equipped with physical fitness testing equipment, the School of Public Health is taking a program of healthful living to California communities.

"Our program is to promote health and educate people," says Charles S. Thomas, PhD, associate professor of health and physical education.

For instance, two species of bed bugs belong to the order Hemiptera, meaning "bloodfeeding" species, belong to the family Cimicidae, which include over 200 parasitic insects. Some of the kissing bugs carry diseases of the brain, heart, and lungs. People didn't bother to record these signs, and kissing bugs has been as studied as a research area, with kissing bugs being a potential danger.

Endurance, the ability to perform a certain level of work over an extended period of time, is a component of physical fitness, adds Dr. Thomas. "Endurance is the key element in physical fitness that we are trying to improve with this new program." The cost of the initial, individual evaluation fee is $10 plus $10 for monthly fitness programs in Nichol Hall. Facilities equipment and swimming pool are open Sunday through Thursday from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

The largest collection of literature on kissing bugs, his major interest, is a serious medical problem, and parts of this country, where the potential danger exists, is not yet known. People who are interested in kissing bugs should contact Dr. Thomas. "Within six weeks on a supervised exercise program, they feel like a different person."
It's happened again!!

Guess what? That's right. It's happened again. Last week, for the second time in one week, we had a car accident in the parking lot in front of the Loma Linda University Supply and the Loma Linda Post Office. The pedestrian era continues.

At the point of being repetitive, this is the fourth time in the last seven issues that we have had an editorial on safety in Loma Linda. We have run numerous public service announcements, reminders and articles about the need for increased safety measures in Loma Linda.

We have run numerous public service advertisements on safety. We have run numerous public service announcements, reminders and articles about the need for increased safety measures in Loma Linda.

In the last issue of the University SCOPE, we mentioned that the Loma Linda Chamber of Commerce was going to meet to discuss needs for increased safety measures in Loma Linda. This recommendation has now been placed before the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors.

Unfortunately, to use a cliche, the wheels of government turn slowly. We urge our readers to write to the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors asking them to act on the recommendation submitted by the Loma Linda Chamber of Commerce.

In addition, we would like to see crosswalks placed along Barton Road between Anderson Street and Bryn Mawr Road. Barton Road is located along that one and a half mile stretch of road.

Students support four volume University yearbook proposal

Students who returned their questionnaires concerning the future of the 1970-71 Loma Linda campus yearbook overwhelmingly supported the four volume book idea which will be distributed at various times during the school year.

Planning has already begun on the first volume of the new yearbook which will be published shortly after the beginning of the fall semester next September.

The 1970-71 yearbook will consists of four hard bound 80-page volumes divided into the following sections:

Volume one: Introduction—a pictorial and factual coverage of the environment of Loma Linda University and an introduction to Loma Linda University as it is today.

Volume two: Facts—coverage of each school with an attempt to portray personalities in the school that year.

Volume three: Faces—portraits combined with specific candid of students similar to the portrait section in the yearbook.

Volume four: Feelings—coverage of the school year with Rejection car a square graft of skin previously inoculated in an immunosuppressive drug because, with survival of this type of skin, they are already too susceptible to infection. Therefore, until Dr. Jolley's method was developed, skin grafts were quickly rejected and usually had to be replaced several times with fresh skin.

One patient who benefited from Dr. Jolley's pre-treatment technique was a woman caught in a fire in 1964 who had burns over half her body. She received skin grafts of untreated skin prepared for 30 minutes in RNA. The pre-treatment was so effective that today the grafts she received over half her body six years ago are still viable.

The technique of pre-treating a skin graft with RNA was first suggested in 1961 by Dr. Rupert A. Billingham, of the University of Pennsylvania, when he used cell lines used for the purpose of a long-term experiment with four rabbits.

Emphasis on student activities, disciplinary exams and curricula changes were also questions of student concern. Student representatives requested that the university adopt a university yearbook rather than a student edition.

The University yearbook office is offering any or all volumes for sale. Advanced orders for the first volume must be placed by July 15. Cost for a single volume is $12.50. A set of five volumes will cost $50 for handling and shipping costs (if any).

University officers and department may order by requisition. Orders should be sent to the Public Information Office, Room 226, Griggs Hall, Loma Linda University, Loma Linda, Calif. 92354.

His finding was forgotten until Dr. Jolley, in 1961, developed a method of preserving skin grafts in a solution of RNA (ribonucleic acid), part of the genetic material of all living cells.

Skin grafts are used chiefly for patients who have been seriously burned and do not have enough of their own skin left for repair. Prior to Dr. Jolley's technique, grafts were not tested or killed by a substance known as RNA. This was done to prevent the rejection of the grafts after the placement of the skin. Therefore, until Dr. Jolley's method was developed, skin grafts were quickly rejected and usually had to be replaced several times with fresh skin.

As part of their study, Drs. Klaus and Jolley compared the effectiveness of pre-treating grafts, of 10 different steroid compounds—endocrine and more recently developed steroids—which can be used to suppress the body's rejection mechanism. They found that one drug, triamcinolone, it proved to be considerably less effective.

USC initiates new graduate program
The University of Southern California, Los Angeles, School of Public Administration and Library Science are jointly initiating a graduate program during the fall semester titled "Management of Health Information Systems."

The goal of the program will be to train individuals to manage complex library and health information storage and retrieval systems in both the public and private sector.

Applications are now being invited from prospective students who wish to enter the program. The curriculum will give special emphasis to the planning, development, management, and administration of medical and health information systems.

The two-year, 60-unit course of study leads to a master's degree in either public administration of library science with a minor in the alternate field.

A limited number of public administration and library science qualified applicants are available.

Persons interested in obtaining additional information may write Alexander Cloner, PhD, School of Public Administration, University of Southern California, Los Angeles, California 90007.

One of America's two great stereo systems
Maria de los Angeles, William, and Carol Deacon, friends of Maria's parents, had a little house party at their new home in San Diego. Maria's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Deacon, had just returned from a trip to Europe and brought back a beautiful tape recorder as a gift for the occasion. Maria and her friends were very excited about the new gift and immediately began to筹划 some plans for using the tape recorder.

They decided to record some of their favorite songs and stories from their own family archives. Maria's mother, a passionate collector of local folklore, had recorded many of the traditional tales and songs of the region. The Deacons eagerly shared these recordings with their guests, who were captivated by the way the music transported them to different times and places.

As the evening wore on, Maria's friends began to showcase their own musical talents. They played a variety of instruments and sang in different languages. The atmosphere was lively and filled with laughter and joy. The Deacons were thrilled to see their daughter and her friends enjoying themselves so heartily.

As the night came to a close, Maria and her friends reflected on the joy of sharing music and stories with one another. They vowed to continue these gatherings and explore more aspects of their cultural heritage.

The party ended with a hearty toast to Maria's parents and their generous gift. The Deacons were humbled by the warmth and hospitality shown by their daughter and her friends, and they knew that this would be a treasured memory for all involved.

School of Medicine hosts

cardiology refresher course

More than 60 physicians, mostly from the west coast, attended an all-day refresher course in cardiology last week at Loma Linda University Hospital.

Spurred jointly by the American College of Cardiologist, headquartered in Bethesda, Maryland, and the School of Medicine, the recourse lecture was taught by members of the medical school faculty.

Subjects of the lectures ranged from heart murmur analysis and cardiac diagnosis through heart sounds to the evaluation of chest pain and proper use of the electrocardiogram.

The one-day course was part of the continuing medical education program offered by the American College of Cardiologist, and Loma Linda University.

Purpose of the continuing education classes is to familiarize physicians with new methods of procedure to aid them in keeping up-to-date in their medical practice.

Our heritage

In 1905, some thought that Ellen G. White was intemperate in suggesting that Seventh-day Adventists establish a third di-stination in southern California. She replied that Loma Linda would be different. "Some day Loma Linda will become a great medical educational center," she said.

EVIDENCE for demonstrating

Genuine Christian concern

rests on the shoulders of each worker. The success of our total program depends on individual efforts. One individual act of goodness can spell our corporate effectiveness.

Certainly, if we demonstrate the generosity and compassion of God in our work and lives at Loma Linda University, we can feel confident that our time and efforts will be considered worthwhile.

Therefore, individual effort is the nucleus of the total contribution to good patient relations.

Curiously, we are not the only ones who are concerned about the goals of our founders. If we fail, it is because we are not doing all that we can. The success of our total contribution to humanity.

PRINCESS BARS 42¢
June 24 - June 30

---

Since our regular source of vegetable shortening crackers have been discontinued, we have been forced to negotiate with another company to insure our customers of pure vegetable shortening crackers. We would like you to note however, this is a special batch baked for our Adventist Markets and will be marked accordingly. You can be sure when you buy at our market we have eliminated the necessity of reading labels to insure you that they do not contain objectionable ingredients, such as lard, animal gelatins, etc. in all our products.
