Dear Lexie,

"United We Stand"

Now that the elections are finally history and our country has decided who will lead our nation for the next four years, there is a great deal of talk between the two political parties around the issue of unity. And it's not just between the two opposing parties; it's an issue that's weighing heavily on the minds of many Americans as well. Now that the debates are over and the attack ads are done, will the differences that caused so much separation during the campaign prevent us from moving forward together as a nation?

Now that the elections are finally history and our country has decided who will lead our nation for the next four years, there is a great deal of talk between the two political parties around the issue of unity. And it’s not just between the two opposing parties; it’s an issue that’s weighing heavily on the minds of many Americans as well. Now that the debates are over and the attack ads are done, will the differences that caused so much separation during the campaign prevent us from moving forward together as a nation?

There is an old familiar phrase that says, “United we stand, divided we fall.” The meaning behind this well known phrase is pretty simple: Unless the people are united, then they can easily be defeated. This is a lesson that anyone who has ever played a team sport, I’m sure, learned very quickly. I remember hearing the story of how Michael Jordan’s high school basketball coach had to remind him that there is no “I” in the word TEAM. To which Michael retorted, “There may not be an “I” in team, but there is in WIN!” Although that may be true, when it comes to working together as a team, the key to success is each member being willing to put aside personal goals and aspirations for the sake of the team.

In the third chapter of the gospel of Mark, Jesus encounters a man who many believe is possessed by demons. One of the explanations that is given for his unusual behavior is that Beelzebub, the chief of demons, is driving other demons out of this man. To which Jesus responds by saying, “How can Satan drive out Satan?” If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. If a house is divided against itself, that house cannot stand (Mark 3:23-25).

As we continue to make plans here at Sligo to “raise the roof,” let us be sure that our efforts will fail miserably unless each of us is willing to lay aside our desire for personal preference and individual achievement and make plans to move forward together toward a “bigger” prize; bringing people to Jesus by any means necessary.

FESTIVAL OF PRAISE
By author On November 8, 2012 • Add Comment • In Events

JOIN SLIGO CHURCH FAMILY ON NOVEMBER 17 FOR THE 2012 Festival of praise. This special worship service will feature special music by the Sligo Sanctuary Choir, Sligo Children’s Choir, Sligo Youth Choir, Handbells and Brass.

This celebration will be followed by an evening concert by Evelyn Simpson-Curenton and friends, including the Sligo Sanctuary Choir, at 6 p.m. in the Sligo Church Sanctuary.

Sligo church also makes use of this occasion to serve our community during the Holiday season. Below are some ways in which you can Celebrate God's provision and care.

BE A BLESSING TO OTHERS IN OUR COMMUNITY, AND BRING:

- Non-perishable food in a brown paper bag or box to supply Thanksgiving baskets which will be distributed by Adventist Community Services;
- Monetary gifts so that Adventist Community Services can purchase more items for the value of a dollar from food banks to augment our food gifts;
- Cleaning supplies, toiletries and toilet paper;
- Personal notes of encouragement and thanks to fellow members and/or persons in the Takoma Park community for their service to the city;
- Your Sligo Mission spirit to help the Youth and Pathfinders sort the canned and packaged goods, load the van, and deliver the food to ACS.
- Please pray and plan in the days ahead as to how you and your family can serve others this holiday season

For more information or donation questions, please contact the Sligo Church office on 301.270.6777.

Having the students be able to vote gave them insight about the big Presidential Election. A month later the day came and as student arrived to school on November 6, 2012, the knew this was the day their vote would count. From K-8th, the students took their voters registration card hand that were pre-made by the teachers and recieving their ballot to vote. Faculty and staff participated in this historical event as well.

"Having the kids vote was great for them because they always had insight as how their parent’s voted”, said Larry Rich, Principal of Sligo Elementary.
