The Official eNewsletter of the Society of Adventist Communicators

April 14, 2011

Hello Center for,

Plans are continuing to fall into place for the Society of Adventist Communicators convention in Lombard (Chicago), Illinois. Please set aside October 20-22 to attend this convention where we will explore “Integrated Communication: The Hub of Excellence.”

Our featured speakers include David Neff, Christianity Today editor-in-chief, John Bradshaw, It Is Written speaker/director, and a host of presenters on cutting edge communication.

Early bird online registration with special rates will begin in early May, and we’ll alert you when SAC 2011 registration is open. We know travel budgets are tight, so registering early will provide $50 in savings to you and your organization.

Additionally, as we prepare for our convention in October, we are still accepting applications for the 2011 SAC awards. The categories are: Lifetime Achievement, Award of Excellence, Young Professional and Student Award. View more details about these award categories at www.adventistcommunicator.org.

We are excited about this convention and look forward to seeing you in the Chicago area from October 20-22.

Sincerely,

Steve Vistaunet

David Neff, Christianity Today editor-in-chief

John Bradshaw, It Is Written speaker/director

Steve Vistaunet
Assistant to the President
North Pacific Union Conference
SAC President
Chicago, Illinois
October 20-22, 2011

"Integrated Communication: The Hub of Excellence"

Get ready for the Society of Adventist Communicators in Lombard (Chicago), Illinois, October 20-22, 2011. Join Seventh-day Adventist communication professionals from around the country for training, networking and spiritual renewal. Don’t miss this unique opportunity to network and learn from people who share a passion for all areas of communication.