Updates and Reminders

Alumni Weekend at Andrews! There will be a zillion programs to enjoy this weekend. Not to be missed this Friday are the homecoming parade at 5 pm and the international flag raising ceremony at 6:30. And Sabbath afternoon you are invited to join us for the Damazo Hall Dedication service at 3. Then support the Cardinals vs Alumni basketball Saturday night at 9. Check your Andrews Agenda for a list of all Homecoming programming.

By the way, after the Damazo dedication program, enjoy refreshments (can you say chocolate fountain?) and classical guitar music, as we take a look at some Damazo living quarters. And remember, ladies, the more of you who participate, the more fun it will be for all of our guests.

Whether or not you’ll have your room open for the Open House, some words of counsel: sometimes it’s easiest to assess our homes when company is coming. Would someone walking into your room know you were a Christian or would they be confused by the decorations and items they see? We’re all affected by what we surround ourselves with every day: And now, dear brothers and sisters, one final thing. Fix your thoughts on what is true, and honorable, and right, and pure, and lovely, and admirable. Think about things that are excellent and worthy of praise. Phil 4:8.

Burman Hall’s 30th Anniversary is Next Month!

Not leaving you out, guys. This marks the 30th year since Burman Hall was built: you’ve were the newest residence hall on campus till this year. So we’ll be celebrating you too, and looking towards making Burman Hall better and better too! More info to follow.

Shy? Not everybody is comfortable with small talk. And some don’t even like it anyway. But if you are trying to get to know other people, and aren’t naturally outgoing, learn this lesson from those who are: ask questions! Don’t try to dominate conversation. Listen carefully and responsively, and ask questions beyond the norm. Everyone asks for name and major. But there’s so much MORE to talk about if you ask someone a question that requires more than a one word answer, such as how they ended up at Andrews, or what their first weekend here was like, etc. Most people will answer, you might encourage someone by your caring, and you could be on your way to a new friendship too.

Have a Wonderful & Blessed Weekend! Be kind this weekend to someone who looks lonely. Even if you’re lonely too.

Words to Live By

Proverbs 3:6

in all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make your paths straight.

Why worry, when you can pray?
