Two Lessons from Herman Cain

As I ponder GOP presidential contender Herman Cain's current struggle with multiple reports of sexual misconduct, two lessons come to mind:

1) If Mr. Cain is guilty: "Be sure that your sins will find you out" (Numbers 32:23).

2) If Mr. Cain is innocent: One sign of "the last days" is the proliferation of "false accusers" (2 Timothy 3:1,3). We must expect this.

Let's take both of these lessons to heart.

Steve Wohlberg
Speaker/Director, White Horse Media
www.whitehorsemusic.com
Featured Articles

- Christ our Righteousness Bible Study (Part 1)
- A Closer Look at Romans 11:1
- Israel and Armageddon: Facts vs. Fiction
Not spam
Forget previous vote