Dear friend of Jesus,

Believe it or not, when my associate Larren Cole's little boy Jackson was two-years-old he had "no pulse, no breath, my son was dead." Then miraculously, God raised him to life. The thrilling story is told inside the book, Jackson: A Modern Day Resurrection, which not only describes what happened to Larren's son, but also clearly reveals what the Bible really teaches about death, burial, and resurrection, in contrast to modern myths.
You can receive Jackson: A Modern Day Resurrection when you make a donation of any amount to White Horse Media during the month of August. To donate and receive the book:

This Saturday, August 16, you can watch Larren Cole's stirring interview with 3ABN founder Danny Shelton where Larren tells how God called him out of darkness into His marvelous light, about the resurrection of his son, about his joining White Horse Media to help spread the three angel's messages worldwide (see Revelation 14:6-12), and about his current project to film a documentary called, "Seventh-day Beavers," about a clan of eager beavers near Larren's home who energetically construct their dam on a river every day of the week—except on Sabbaths!

Larren's 3ABN Today interview, "Pleading Guilty," will air this Saturday, August 16, at 6am, 6pm, and 9pm (Pacific Time). If you don't receive 3ABN, you can watch it on 3ABN's website here.

All donations help White Horse Media advance God's truth. Receive the book, Jackson: A Modern Day Resurrection, when you give!
