Seminary Library Resources Development Policy

PURPOSE

This This Resources DevelopThis Resources Development This Resources Development Policy statement pprocedures procedures for the selection of materials for the Seminary Library. It is intended that tproces statement statement will enhance efficiency and effectiveness in the selection pstatement will enhance efficiency and the Seminary with vehicle for communication between the Library and the Seminary with vehicle for communication between the Library and the Seminary with vehicle for communication between the Library and the Seminary with to evaluate of materials; and will purposely purposely left general purposely left general to allow for flexibility in the facepurposely left general opportunities. This policy also serves to explain to our clientele, opportunities. This policy also the role of the Seminary Library collection.

This This policy statement is a legal document that serves to protect James White LibThis policy statem Seventh-daySeventh-day Adventist ThSeventh-day Adventist Theological policypolicy protection is policy protection is requipolicy protection is required. Revision of this policy addressed once it is finalized. For this reason, the specaddressed once it is finalized. For collection development profiles are included in a separate document because they may need to be reviewed and adjusted regularly.

1. MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Seminary Library is to The mission of the Seminary Library is to encourage and facilita areasareas related to religion. It primarily reflects a commitment to the Seventh-day Adveareas related worldworld church as tworld church as the leadingworld church as the leading theological library in the curriculum curriculum of the Seventh-day Advent ist Theological Seminary and curriculum of the Seventh-day Seminary students and faculty. The Seminary Library also serves as a resource center for the wider scholarly community.

2. RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT GOALS

- 2.1 ToTo provide information sources that will support the worldwide miTo provide information Seventh-daySeventh-day Adventist Church, provide guidancSeventh-day Adventist Church, provide information sources that will support the worldwide miTo provide information Seventh-day Adventist Church, provide guidancSeventh-day Adventist Chur
- 2.2 ToTo provide information sources in all fTo provide information sources in all formats tTo p Seventh-daySeventh-day Advent ist Theological Seminary, as well as research and Seventh-day Advent to the curriculum.
- 2.3 To To provide access to To provide access to other collections and worldwide resources covering the religious studies using the latest technology.

- 2.42.4 To develop a special strength in those areas that supportTo develop a special strength in those areas practice of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.
- 2.5 ToTo develop aTo develop a special strength in the areas of Archaeology/Antiquities/Cr Biblical Studies, and 19th Century American Religion.

3. DEFINITIONS

3.1 Clientele

The primary clientele are the students and faculty of the SeveThe primary clientele are the Theological Seminary. HowTheological Seminary. However, the Theological Seminary theological library in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The Atheological library in community as well as the wider scholarly, community as well as the wider scholarly, have access to the collection.

3.2 Collection levels:

- 3.21 BasicBasic level A highly selective collection which seBasic level A highly select definedefine a subject area. May include refedefine a subject area. May include bibliographies.bibliographies. Used for subject arbibliographies. Used for subject area SeminarySeminary Library collection goals, but which are a meaningful area inreligious and theological studies.
- 3.22 ComprehensiveComprehensive A cComprehensive A collectioComprehensive materials materials required for graduate level, materials required for graduate level, research. research. Used for subject areas collection goals.
- 3.25 ExhaustiveExhaustive level Exhaustive level A colleExhaustive level A collection reasonably reasonably possible, to include all reasonably possible, to include all significant volumed Used for a limited Used for a limited number of subject areas identity identity and mission of the Seventhed Theological Seminary.

4. POLICIES

4.1 Location of Seminary Library Materials

MaterialsMaterials purchased for the Seminary LMaterials purchased for the Seminary Library JamesJames White Library according to thJames White Library according to the James White Library accordi

Heritage Center, the Reference Collection, or Heritage Center, the Reference Collection, or the Muthe type of the material and in consultation with the requestor.

- 4.2 Responsibility for Resources Development
 - 4.21 SelectionSelection of resources is the responsibility of the Seminary Librarian who consults consults with the faculty of consults with the faculty of the Seventh-day Adventist Th
 - 4.22 The The Seminary Librarian will meet with each of the departments iThe Seminary I SeminarySeminary to develop a collection profile that wiSeminary to develop a collection guideguide for shaping the Seminary collection as well as a measuring guide to evaluate current collecting. This profile is informed by:
 - 1. Current holdings
 - 2. Usage and circulation statistics
 - 3. Curriculum
 - 4. Departmental goals and objectives
 - 5. Research needs of faculty and students
 - 6. Current trends in the discipline

This This guide This guide is to This guide is to be reviewed and updated periodically when the inin curriculum and/or fin curriculum and/or faculty, or when evaluation tool suggests that there may be a need.

- 4.23 The The faculty and students are actively encouraged to make suggestions fo The fa purchases, purchases, purchases, and their advice may be solicited on sources and purchases religious religious studies. (See the current Selection and Ordering Guidelines for Faculty.)
- 4.3 Nature and Level of Programs

The The Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary offers graduate degrees The Seventh-day A.M.A., M.Div., D.Min., and the Ph.D. ToM.A., M.Div., D.Min., and the Ph.D. To meet this n toto make available to users an extensive collection make available to users an extensive collection religious religious studies. This includes professional matreligious studies. This includes professional matreligious studies.

4.4 Formats Collected.

Mono graphs Serials Audio visual and multimedia

Seminary Library Policy Page 4

Microforms

Electronic resources

4.5 Electronic Access

Electronic access is provided to indexes and Electronic access is provided to indexes and databases interests of the Seminary Library.

4.6 Donations

GiftGift materials are treated in accordance with the James White Gift materials are treated in donateddonated materials. Do nors will be donated materials. Do nors will be informed that duplicate not not be kept, and maynot be kept, and may be transferred to the not be kept, and may be transfer further evaluation and disposition.

5. SELECTION

5.1 Languages

EnglishEnglish is the primary language of acquisition, but because of the doctorEnglish is the programs, materials in other languages may be acquired.

5.2 Geographical, Cultural

Diversity Diversity of geographical and cultural materials is encouraged due to the global Diversity of gofof the Seventh-dof the Seventh-day Adof the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and the internat University.

5.3 Recency

All time periods are of interest.

5.4 Periodicals

The The main criteria for selection aThe main criteria for selection are (1) The main criteria indexes, indexes, and (2) relevance to the Seminary Library curriculum. indexes, and (2) relevance provide a good measure of value relative to the collection.

5.5 Indexes

Indexes will be considered if they relate to the study of religion, and are recognized by the field as making a significant contribution.

5.6 Standing orders

SomeSome continuation series are significant and important in the field of religious studies. StandingStanding orders will be reviewed periodStanding orders will be reviewed periodicaSta departmental profiles.

5.7 Blanket orders

Blanket orders will be applied to Blanket orders will be applied to selected denominationally support Adventist publishers.

6. DE-SELECTION

BecBecauBecauseBecause of the nature of religious and theological study and the resources that support most print materials do not become obsolete. De-selection will apply mainly levellevel materials in areas where we have level materials in areas where we have adequately materials no longer required based on usage studies.

7. MATERIALS REVIEW POLICY

James James WhiJames White Library has a materials review procedure if there is objection to material.

REVISION

This This Resource Development Policy shall be revised only This Resource Development Policy shall Library Library Resource Development Committee upon the recommendation o Library Resource Developmen Committee.

Voted: January 14, 1999 by the Seminary Library Committee

Voted: February 10, 1999 by the James White Library Resource Development Committee