JWL INTRODUCES REORGANIZED DEPARTMENTS

Commencing July 1, James White Library has five departments plus a new office, taking the place of eleven previous departments. The reorganization centralizes most of the "technical" functions of the library for reasons of efficiency and quality control.

To assist you in finding the "right" person for your library-related needs, here is a summary of the new departmental structure.

The Department of Information Services, on the main floor, absorbs most of the functions of the former Reference Department, as well as several Seminary Library functions. Staff members including telephone numbers are as follows:

6263 General Reference: .. Wolfhard Touchard
3639 .......................... Judy Nelson
6267 Seminary Reference: .. Warren Johns

The Department of Patron Services, located adjacent to the Circulation Desk on main floor, centralizes a variety of services to patrons including circulation, interlibrary loan, photocopy service, allocation of carrels, conference rooms, oversight of reading areas, and stack management. The Department of Technical Services brings together all functions related to acquisitions, cataloging, periodicals processing and claiming, and bookkeeping. DIRECTORY OF LIBRARY SERVICES

Adventist Heritage Center: Jim Ford .... 3274
Architecture Resource Center:
   Kathy Demsky .................. 2418
Bibliographic Instruction: Cynthia Helms 6260
The Department of Special Collections coordinates three separate physical units which deal with special collections:

- Architecture Resource Center: Kathy Demsky
  (Architecture Building)

- Music Materials Center: Linda Mack
  (Music Building)

- The Media Center: Jessie Oliver
  (Top floor of James White Library)

Finally, an Office for Resources Development has been established to manage and coordinate collection development, including both print and electronic resources. The office is under construction on the main floor, south side.

PHOTOCOPIER SERVICE ON ALL FLOORS

Public photocopy machines will soon be available on the main floor of the James White Library. Up to this time, photocopiers have been located only on top floor and in the Periodicals Department on ground floor.

It is planned to re-locate some machines so that there will be two public coin-operated photocopiers on each floor of the building. The two main floor machines will be placed in the general reference area and the Seminary reference area respectively. We hope that the new arrangement will better meet the needs of patrons.
