LEAD648/748: Seminar in Leadership Development and Mentoring (1-2 credits) (EXPERIMENTAL) Coordinator: Erich Baumgartner

Have you ever wondered how (in)effective most leadership seminars really are? Inspiring? Perhaps. But actually effecting transformation? What is transformational learning? Are you interested in exploring more transforming ways to develop leaders and facilitate effective learning relationships (mentoring)? I am organizing a seminar for those of you wanting to develop your competency in Mentoring or Human Resource Development or some other competency related to leadership development and who would like to join a small group which will work together in a self-directed way for 10 weeks starting September 1. In the process we will be creating a cooperative website (wiki) where we will be sharing what we are learning. You decide how many credits you want to spend. If you are interested please contact Dr. Baumgartner at baumgart@andrews.edu
