COLLEGE OF EDUCATION & INTERNATIONAL SERVICES
MA LEARNING TECHNOLOGIES
(Online Degree)
Learning Technologies—MA

This Master of Arts in Learning Technologies prepares digital educators to design and facilitate inclusive online and blended learning environments for K–12 students, adult learners and lifelong learning in a variety of contexts. Educators interested in meeting these needs will gain the digital-age skills and pedagogical strategies in order to be successful in the many roles they play as teachers and learners.

Graduates of the Andrews University Learning Technologies program may serve as:

- classroom teachers
- curriculum specialists
- teacher educators
- educational technology specialists
- directors of digital learning
- instructional technology consultants
- researchers

POINTS OF DISTINCTION

- Christian philosophy of learning and teaching
- Extend your professional expertise, impact education and share your passion
- Online courses to accommodate working individuals
- Courses with synchronous requirements are scheduled in the evenings (U.S. Eastern time)

PROGRAM LENGTH

MA—This 30-credit program is typically completed in two to three years by part-time participants.

ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS

- Baccalaureate degree from an accredited United States institution (or non-U.S. equivalent)
- Minimum undergraduate GPA of 2.60
- Prerequisites: 9 semester credits of education courses; 6 semester credits of educational technology courses taken prior to the start of the program

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

- Official transcripts
- Two recommendation letters
- Resume describing employment, research or special projects
- A 600-word statement of purpose explaining how your professional goals fit with the mission of the Learning Technologies program. Identify whether you will focus on K–12 students or other educational technology contexts (i.e. corporate training, digital outreach, higher education). Describe your skill level with technology and include links to your digital footprint.
- A completed Professional Experience form
- TOEFL, IELTS or PTE (academic): Students whose language of education is not English must submit English proficiency test scores.
