Apply NOW to join the next cohort for Evangelism & Church Growth

"I'm loving the program so much, it's made such an impact in my life, I can't wait for the next module!" This note came to us in an email from Pastor Mike Cauley, a DMin program participant and pastor from Keller, Texas who began his DMin journey in 2006.

The cohort launching in January of 2008 will meet in sunny Florida at the Forest Lake Church near Orlando. You can be a part of the next cohort for the Evangelism concentration by sending your application before November 30. For more information: dmin@andrews.edu, ph. 1-800-717-6244.

(See the Evangelism and Church Growth concentration brochure for more information about the new cohort's curriculum and schedule.)

APA Style Guide Adopted for DMin Project Reports/Dissertations

Due to the practical nature of the Doctor of Ministry projects, after much discussion and consideration, the program administrators have determined that the project writing process would be better served by transitioning to the use of the American Psychological Association style guide. While this change is to be implemented now, participants who have already completed the DMin Project Proposal course but have not yet begun writing the project may choose whether to proceed with APA or continue with the Turabian Manual.
