DOCTOR OF MINISTRY

June, 2011

Celebrating Graduation!

The Doctor of Ministry program had a strong representation in the spring commencement ceremonies on the Andrews campus! In addition to the degrees conferred for the 26 members of the South Africa-Indian Ocean Division cohort, over 20 persons participated in the on-campus celebrations or graduated in absentia.

Meet Some of the Graduates

Terry and Linda Tsui, from Hong Kong, took the DMin journey together as a husband-wife ministry team. They chose to join an in-ministry cohort for the Evangelism and Church Growth concentration, traveling to the United States each year to participate in intensives with their cohort. Terry serves in several capacities with the Chinese Union Mission, while Linda is a pastor in the Hong Kong/Macau Conference.

Immediately following graduation, both took advantage of the benefit offered to DMin alumni by participating as guests in a Spiritual & Theological Foundations intensive. They plan to return in July for another intensive with a Preaching cohort. They find this guest participation helps to polish their knowledge and skills for their work responsibilities.

Before his arrival at the Andrews campus, Lalmuansanga Chawngthu was an evangelist for the Mizoram Conference in northeast India. As a youth, it was his dream to have a career in business and computer science, but during his undergraduate work at Spicer Memorial College, he felt compelled to change his major to theology.

Pastor Chawngthu comes from the Mizo tribe, who even into the late 1800's were head-hunters and spirit-worshippers. Now, Mizoram is one of the fastest-growing mission fields in the Southern Asia Division. Pastor Chawngthu is the first to earn a doctoral degree from among Mizo Adventists.

Ministry Magazine Writing Contest

Ministry Magazine is hosting a writing contest for ministerial students, including prizes from $750 to $300. Your work can impact Adventist pastors around the world, as well as 62,000 pastors of other Christian churches. Submission deadline June 30, 2011.
