DOCTOR OF MINISTRY CONFERENCE

Church, Conference, and Seminary:

Partnering to Change the World

September 26-27, 2011

Dining Services (Lincoln Room)

The Doctor of Ministry program at Andrews University has proven itself as a global leader in developing spiritually mature and responsible leaders for the Seventh-day Adventist Church and the communities we serve. Our annual Doctor of Ministry Conference aims to help us continue an excellent program that serves the needs of our participants. Come and be inspired to achieve.

Doctor of Ministry "Changing The People Who Change the World"

Monday, September 26 and Tuesday, September 27 are the dates for this year's DMin conference, meeting in the Lincoln Room of Dining Services on the Andrews campus. The theme is "Church, Conference, and Seminary: Partnering Together to Change the World!" Seminary faculty, concentration coordinators, lead faculty for DMin modules, and DMin Committee members are invited. Roger Dudley will report the results of recently completed research on attitudes and expectations from North America for Doctor of Ministry education. Willie Oliver will moderate a panel discussing field perspectives on Doctor of Ministry education that involves administrators and pastors from across the North American Division of the church. Invitees are asked to RSVP by September 21 to kelly@andrews.edu.

New Cohort for Spanish-speaking Ministry Professionals

A new cohort is forming now for the Pastoral Ministry (Spanish) concentration; the first intensive will be in September of 2012. This is open to Spanish-speaking ministry professionals in the North American Division. Ministry professionals from other divisions may also participate in this cohort if they remain in full-time ministry in their home fields and travel to the United States once each year to attend intensives as scheduled with their cohort.

For more information or to reserve a place in the cohort, send email to dmin@andrews.edu.
