The Human Services minor allows students to choose from a variety of core and elective social work courses. This track cannot be used for reduced credit entry into the MSW program. Although students could still be admitted into the Andrews University MSW program, they would be required to complete the full 56-credit requirement for the degree. Although core social work classes taken at the undergraduate level would not need to be repeated, another elective graduate course must be used to replace that course in the total credit load.

Minor Requirements

- SOWK 100 - Introduction to Social Work Credits: 3
- SOWK 320 - Introduction to Counseling Skills Credits: 3

Masters

Social Work MSW

The Master of Social Work (MSW) degree is a professional degree enabling the graduate to enter practice as an advanced-level practitioner. Graduates are prepared to work in a variety of clinical, administration, and development focus areas. The foundation curriculum for the MSW consists of 12 core competencies: (1) Professionalism, (2) Values and Ethics, (3) Critical Thinking, (4) Diversity and Differences, (5) Human Rights and Social Economic Justice, (6) Research, (7) Human Behavior and the Social Environment, (8) Social Welfare Policy and Services, (9) Contextualization, (10) Social Work Practice, (11) Global Worldview, and (12) Christian Perspective. Accreditation for the MSW degree has been granted through the Council on Social Work Education through 2019.

Degree Requirements

A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 in Social Work Program

No grade of D or F (or U) may count toward a graduate degree.

The maintenance at all times of professional conduct and behaviors appropriate for a social worker according to the National Association of Social Workers' Code of Ethics.

Defense of the professional degree portfolio. This portfolio is a demonstrative collection of professional competencies.

Other Andrews University degree requirements as presented in the Graduate Academic Information section of this bulletin

* Subject to change as necessary to improve the process and address accreditation issues.

Past experience strengthens all MSW student applications. However, following Council on Social Work Education requirements, no social work course credit can be given for life experience or previous work experience.

Curriculum

Core advanced interpersonal practice courses supplemented by optional areas of focus are offered. Students wishing to enroll in core graduate social work courses must be enrolled in the MSW program and/or have the instructor's permission. Students in the regular two-year program are required to take all foundation year courses. All students, both regular and advanced placement, must take all core advanced year courses, as well as those listed for any specific focus area they select and elective courses to complete the total credits required. Students who are accepted into the advanced one-year program must also take SOWK 515. Students may transfer up to 20% of the credits from one degree into the MSW program. All courses are subject to change based on accreditation needs.

Admission Requirements

English Language Requirements

For those applicants whose native language is not English, the following is required:

Demonstration of English proficiency by obtaining at least a minimum score on any one of the following exams. Exam must be taken within two years prior to enrollment.

TOEFL ITP (paper-based) - A minimum score of 550

TOEFL iBT (internet-based) - 80 with a minimum of 20 on each section

MELAB - 80 with a minimum of 80 on each section

IELTS (Academic version) - 6.5

PTE (Academic version) – 54

MSW program participates in the Bridge program which allows students who are close to the minimum scores to take 3-6 credits of MSW courses along with ESL courses. Requirements to participate in the Bridge program are below.

TOEFL ITP (paper-based) - A score of 500-549 (2-3 ESL courses and up to 3-6 credits of regular MSW course work)* OR

MELAB - Bridge 1 - 70-75 (3 ESL courses; up to 3 credits regular MSW course work)*

MELAB - Bridge 2 - 76-79 (2 ESL courses; up to 6 credits regular MSW course work)*

* with permission of the department.

Nelson Denny - score of 13 and

Personal interview with MSW program director or designee

Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after committee consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional course work in English may be required.

A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Graduate Record Examination (GRE)

Students who are applying for admission to the MSW program are not required to take the GRE. For those students who are seeking the GRE scholarship, the GRE must be taken. The amount of a potential scholarship is related to the score achieved on the GRE as follows:

GRE Score	Scholarship
320	50% tuition reduction
310	25% tuition reduction
300	10% tuition reduction

Areas of Focus

Students may choose to specialize in the following areas of Focus: Administration & Development, Mental Health, School Social Work, Marriage & Family, Christian Ministry, International Social Work, and Medical Social Work. Please refer to the Department of Social Work website for further information: www.andrews.edu/cas/socialwork/. Students are not required to choose a focus area.

Dual Degree Program Description

The MSW Dual Degree Programs allow the student to complete two degrees in one additional year, with a tuition reduction of 33% for the MSW credits. To facilitate this objective, the two programs will reduce the total number of required credits and will share a practicum and a limited number of elective courses. Specifically, the Social Work department will reduce the required number of credits by 9-10 credits by allowing students to take their required social work electives in the other graduate program. In addition, around sixteen credits will be shared between the two programs.

Additional Information

MSW Scholarship

Since the MSW program does not require the GRE, an equivalent graduate scholarship is offered in the department. The amount of potential scholarship is related to GPA and supporting documents. This applies to the last 3 semesters of the program. Please refer to the Department of Social Work website for further information:

<https://www.andrews.edu/cas/socialwork/scholarships/msw-scholarship-policy.pdf>

GPA	Scholarship
3.90 - 4.00	50% tuition reduction
3.50 - 3.89	25% tuition reduction
3.30 - 3.49	10% tuition reduction*

*available to Advanced standing 1 year students only, based on BSW GPA

Assistantships

Students have the opportunity to apply for graduate assistantships—teaching or research. These assistantships give students the opportunity to develop their expertise. Students interested in becoming social-work educators—especially those with years of clinical experience—may teach undergraduate courses. Research assistantships offer experiences in community consulting, grant writing, and/or conducting research.

Resources

MSW Student Handbook

The MSW Student Handbook has been designed as the social work student's aid in understanding the program requirements of the Social Work Department as well as relevant policies of Andrews University. Inside the handbook you will find information such as expectations of students, the MSW curriculum, departmental policies, and other relevant information.

Field Manual

The Field Manual has been designed as your aid in understanding field education requirements, your role as a student in a field agency, and relevant policies of Andrews University.

You are responsible for the information found in this handbook, so please take the time to familiarize yourself with the handbook and know where to find questions and answers if the need arises.

Master of Social Work/ Master of Divinity Dual Degree MSW/MDiv

General Information

Andrews University has formed a collaboration between the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Social Work in the College of Arts & Sciences to prepare students for service in occupations where social work and the pastoral mission of the church intersect.

The objectives of this program are to prepare students for various forms of ministry in which clinical and administrative skills in social work and theology are needed; to enable students to integrate both theological and social work knowledge, values and skills into a multifaceted approach to Christian service, thereby enhancing their usefulness as instruments of the Holy Spirit; and to sensitize students to nontraditional ministry opportunities by exposing them to theories and practice skills related to counseling approaches, person-in-environment, social and economic justice, human rights and global perspectives from a Christian worldview. The program is designed to give students an integrated approach to both theology and social work. Students can choose either a dual degree or an emphasis in either Social Work or Christian Ministry.

Since both the MSW and MDiv programs share certain cognate courses to achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be conferred simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree. In the event that one degree was completed prior to enrollment for the dual degree program, the cognate requirements for the other degree will be adjusted as shown below. A dual student cannot march in graduation or March-without-Completion if both halves of the dual degree are not completed.

MDiv: Graduation requirements consist of the satisfactory completion of 111 semester credits with an overall grade point average of 2.75 or better. 65 credits are MDiv credits, and 46 credits are social work credits.

- 11.5 credits of MSW core courses replace 9 credits of equivalent MDiv core courses. In addition the 6 credits of electives for each program are merged.
- SOWK 501 Foundations of Practice I (4 credits) replaces DSRE 503 Marriage, Family, and Interpersonal Relationships (2 credits)
 - SOWK 510/535 Generalist Field Experience/Seminar) 2.5 credits replaces CHMN 560 Theological Field Education (2 credits)
 - SOWK 601 Advanced Practice I (3 credits) replaces CHMN 555 Pastoral Counseling (2 credits)
 - SOWK 515 Christian Perspectives on Professional Ethics (2 credits) replaces THST 643 Christian Professional Ethics (3 credits)

MSW: MDiv students are required to complete 46 core credit hours of the two-year regular MSW program. Due to the strict requirements of the Council on Social Work Education's accrediting mandates, these core courses must all be taught or co-taught within the department by faculty holding an MSW degree. However, these courses could be co-taught with faculty from the seminary. Occasionally, a student who has already earned a BSW from an accredited program may apply to this program. In this case, the student would be placed in the Advanced Standing program, and take either 33 credits (Advanced Standing) or 39 credits (Advanced Standing Plus). Students with an undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or higher are eligible to complete the Advanced Standing Program while those with a lower GPA must complete the Advanced Standing Plus requirements.

Admissions Requirements

Master of Divinity

All MDiv applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission Requirements applicable to all graduate students and the general seminary requirements.

English Language Requirements

Students whose language of education is not English must submit one of the following tests and minimum scores:

- TOEFL Paper-based - 565
TOEFL Internet-based - 85
MELAB - 81
IELTS - 6.5
PTE - 58

- Hold a baccalaureate degree: A four-year degree from an accredited United States institution, or its equivalent from an institution outside the U.S.
Minimum of 2.5 Undergraduate GPA
Normally hold membership in the Seventh-day Adventist Church inasmuch as the MDiv program is specifically designed for Adventist ministers and is sponsored and financed by the Adventist church.
Represent high moral integrity with a character, lifestyle, and spiritual commitment reflective of the beliefs and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and show promise of usefulness for Adventist ministry through personal maturity and adequate experience in the Church. (Persons of other faiths who are willing to live in harmony with these standards are welcome to apply.)
Submit an autobiographical history and a 350+ word statement of purpose reflecting the applicant's family and spiritual development, sense of calling to ministry, experience in church work, and future goals in relationship to the MDiv program. A guideline is provided in the admissions package.
If married, the spouse of the applicant is also asked to complete a statement in regard to his or her feelings and relationship to the partner's aspirations for future ministry.
Background Check. Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to undergo a criminal background check and to make the results of the check available to the Seminary. The cost of the criminal background check is the responsibility of the applicant. Details about this requirement may be obtained from the MDiv office.
An interview with a representative of the MDiv program may be required, either by personal contact, telephone, or video.

Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.

Pre-admission Conduct Disclosure Statement - Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to complete and submit to the Seminary the "Pre-Admission Conduct Disclosure Statement."

Recommendations

Church board where the applicant is a member

Church administrator, pastor, or elder

General Recommendation from: College teacher or advisor, recent employer, or some other non-family member

Master of Social Work

Applicants for the MDiv/MSW dual degree program typically will have received a bachelor's degree (BA, BS, BSW) from a four-year college or university accredited by one of the nationally recognized accrediting agencies in the United States, or hold an equivalent educational credential from another country. Application must be made separately to both the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Social Work. Acceptance into one of the programs does not guarantee acceptance into the other. Applicants must meet the admissions requirements for each program, including all required prerequisites for each degree program.

MDiv:

Although MDiv students can transfer 11 electives into the MSW program, they can only receive a tuition reduction if they are simultaneously enrolled in the MDiv program. Students who have already completed an MDiv degree can receive the tuition reduction upon admission into the MSW program.

MSW:

1. Students must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 in social work program courses;
2. No grade of D or F (or U) may count toward the MSW degree.

English Language Requirement MDiv

For those applicants whose native language is not English, the following is required:

MELAB—score of 81 (must achieve passing score on each section) or TOEFL (paper based)—score of 565 or (iBT Internet based)-score of 85. Minimum score of 20 in each section (reading, listening, speaking, writing).

IELTS (Academic Version)—score of 6.5

PTE - (Academic Version)score of 58

Language proficiency must be met before enrolling full-time in regular coursework.

English Language Requirement - MSW

For those applicants whose native language is not English, the following is required:

1. Demonstration of English proficiency by obtaining at least a minimum score on any one of the following exams. Exam must be taken within two years prior to enrollment

TOEFL ITP (paper-based) - A Minimum score of 550

TOEFL iBT (internet-based) - 80 with a minimum of 20 on each section

MELAB - 80 with a minimum of 80 on each section

IELTS (Academic version) - 6.5

PTE (Academic version) - 54

2. Nelson Denny - score of 13 and

3. Personal interview with MSW program director or designee

Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after committee consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional course work in English may be required. A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Graduate Record Examination (GRE)

Students who are applying for admission to the MSW program have two options related to the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). For those students who are seeking a graduate scholarship, the GRE must be taken. The amount of a potential scholarship is related to the score achieved on the GRE as follows:

GRE ScoreScholarship

320	50% tuition reduction
310	25% tuition reduction
300	10% tuition reduction

For students who do not seek a graduate scholarship based on the GRE score, the GRE examination is not required.

MAYYAM/MSW Dual Degree

Andrews University has formed a collaborative between the Department of Discipleship and Religious Education in the Seminary and the Department of Social Work in the College of Arts & Sciences to prepare students for youth and young adult ministry and social work. Students choosing this program would receive both a master's in Youth and Young Adult Ministry and a master's in Social Work. The objectives of this program are to equip students for various forms of ministry in which clinical and administrative skills in social work and ministry are needed; to enable students to integrate both ministry and social work knowledge, values and skills into a multifaceted approach to Christian service, thereby enhancing their usefulness as instruments of the Holy Spirit; and to sensitize them to nontraditional ministry opportunities byexposing them to theories and practice skills related to counseling approaches, person-in-environment, social and economic justice, human rights and global perspectives from a Christian worldview. The program is designed to give students both master's degrees within three years. The details of the program are as follows:

- The dual degree will consist of 78 credits.
- The student will need to be accepted into both programs.
- There will be shared electives between the two programs:
 - Eight credits for the MA in Youth & Young Adult Ministry; and
 - Ten credits for the Master of Social Work.
- Fieldwork will also be a shared experience, being cross-listed as SOWK 535 - Generalist Field Experience and DSRE 660 - Field Practicum: Youth and Young Adult Ministry. Four credit hours will be required for a total of 400 clock hours of field during this course. A total of nine credit hours or 900 clock hours will be required for the program.
- One course will be cross-listed and be taken in the Department of Social Work:
 - SOWK 501 - Foundations of Practice I will fulfill the requirements for DSRE 503 - Marriage, Family, and Interpersonal Relationships.
- GSEM 525 - The Bible and Biblical History will be considered a prerequisite course. If the student passes the Biblical Literacy Exam, that will satisfy the prerequisite. If the student does not pass the exam, they will need to take the one-credit GSEM 525 in addition to the 78 credits for the dual degree.
- Since both, the MSW and MAYYAM programs, reduce the total credits in order to reduce costs and achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be received simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree.

- MAYYAM/MSW with Campus Chaplaincy Emphasis
For those pursuing the MAYYAM/MSW with an emphasis in Campus Chaplaincy, please note the following differences:
- The following course is not required for those pursuing the Campus Chaplaincy Emphasis:
 - DSRE 656 - Counseling Youth and Young Adults Credits: 2,3
 - The following courses are required for those pursuing the Campus Chaplaincy Emphasis:
 - DSRE 636 - Seminar in Youth Ministry Credits: 2,3
 - * In either DSRE564 or DSRE636, the student registers for a third credit requiring completion of a research/action research project
 - DSRE 664 - Advanced Campus Ministry Credits: 3
 - DSRE 669 - Reaching the Secular Mind Credits: 2,3

Master of Social Work/Master of Arts, Religious Education, Family Life Education Focus Dual Degree MSW/MA

Dual Degree Program Description

The Dual Degree Program in Family Life and Masters in Social Work allows the student to complete two degrees in 3 years, with a tuition reduction of 33% for the MSW credits. For seminary credits, the student may apply for the MA (Religious Education) tuition discount.

To facilitate this objective, the two programs will reduce the total number of required credits and will share a practicum and a limited number of elective courses. Specifically, the Social Work department will reduce the required number of credits from 56 to 46 by allowing students to take their required electives in the Seminary. Sixteen credits will be shared between the two programs.

The MA (Religious Education) is a 48 credit degree, but it will share 16 credits with the MSW program and accept 3 MSW credits as electives thereby reducing the MA (Religious Education) credits to 45.

Total Credits: 80

MSW Program Information

Admission Requirements

English Language Requirement

For those applicants whose native language is not English, the following is required:

1. Demonstration of English proficiency by obtaining at least a minimum score on any one of the following exams. Exam must be taken within two years prior to enrollment.

TOEFL ITP (paper-based) - A minimum score of 550

TOEFL iBT (internet-based) - 80 with a minimum of 20 on each section

MELAB - 80 with a minimum of 80 on each section

IELTS (Academic version) - 6.5

PTE (Academic version) - 54

2. Nelson Denny - score of 13 and

3. Personal interview with MSW program director or designee

Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after committee consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional course work in English may be required. A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Graduate Record Examination (GRE)

Students who are applying for admission to the MSW program have two options related to the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). For those students who are seeking a graduate scholarship, the GRE must be taken. The amount of a potential scholarship is related to the score achieved on the GRE as follows:

GRE Score	Scholarship
320	50% tuition reduction
310	25% tuition reduction
300	10% tuition reduction

For students who do not seek a graduate scholarship based on the GRE score, the GRE examination is not required.

Program Description

Andrews University has chosen to explore a collaboration between the School of Business Administration and the Department of Social Work in the College of Arts & Sciences to prepare students for service in occupations where social work and an MBA intersect. Social Workers, particularly those in the areas of Administration and Development Social Work, may have an interest in administrative work. In such situations, the MBA could equip them with a complementary skill set. Likewise, MBA students may find themselves in situations where social work skills in counseling and therapy would be useful, especially if they work in the not-for-profit sector. In addition, the MSW/MBA collaborative allows for a greater breadth of employment opportunities for students.

Since both the MSW and MBA programs reduce the total credits in order to reduce costs and achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be received simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree. In the event that a student decides to drop out of the dual degree program, the requirements for the single degree must be completed in their entirety. The MBA is a 33 credit degree, but it will share 5 credits with the MSW program, accepting 3 MSW credits as an elective (SOWK 630 or 660 which are taken under the MSW core), plus 2 MSW credits as part of the MBA ethics requirement (SOWK 515 from the MSW core). Likewise, the MSW is a 56 credit degree, but it will share 10 credits with the MBA program and accept 10 MBA credits as electives. This reduces the total credits for both degrees from 89 to 74.

 Social and Behavioral Science (sociology, anthropology, psychology, social psychology, diversity)—8 credits
 Humanities/History (philosophy, religion, arts, government, political science, economics, or literature)—14 credits
 Previous computer skills, either in course work (1 or more credits) or extensive hands-on experience evidenced by the Computer Skills Assessment Form.

Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT)

The GMAT admission requirements must be met for regular admission status. The student may not enroll for any graduate-level business credits (courses assigned as 515 or above) before the GMAT requirement is met. If the student chooses to waive the GMAT based on number 2 below, this must be done within the first semester of the MBA program.

Admission GMAT requirements can be obtained by ONE of the following:

Attain formula score of 1,000 points, calculated by taking the undergraduate cumulative GPA X 200 + GMAT score $\geq 1,000$.

OR

Five years of documented and approved related work experience and earned a grade of at least B- in statistics and a grade of at least B- in pre-calculus algebra.

OR

On-campus Andrews University undergraduate business students with a cumulative GPA ≥ 3.0 and earned a grade of at least B- in statistics and a grade of at least B- in pre-calculus algebra.

OR

GPA ≥ 3.25 from a U.S. accredited institution.

GPA Requirements

Applicants must satisfy one of the criteria below:

- Have an overall GPA of at least 2.75 in undergraduate courses.
- Have a GPA of at least 2.75 on last 50% of undergraduate courses.
- Have a graduate GPA of at least 3.5 on 8 semester credits or more earned in courses graded A-F.
- Hold a previous master's degree.

Professional Resume

All applicants must submit a separate, attached copy of their complete professional resume with their application. Completing the "Professional History" section within the application will not be considered sufficient for acceptance to School of Business Administration graduate programs.

English Language Requirements

In addition to the English language requirements under Graduate Academic Policies, note also the requirements listed below.

Nelson Denny - score of 13

Personal interview with MSW program director or designee

Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after committee consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional course work in English may be required.

A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Maintaining Academic Standing

All graduate students are expected to maintain a 3.00 GPA in all graduate courses that apply to the degree requirements.

No grade of D or F (or U) may be used to satisfy degree requirements; however, these grades are included when computing the cumulative GPA and, if they occur in courses normally meeting degree requirements, the degree GPA.

Students admitted under provisional status (due to lack of prerequisites, GMAT, etc.) must make regular progress toward achieving regular enrollment status and toward completion of their selected graduate degree. If insufficient progress is made, provisional status will be revoked after four enrolled semesters.

Regular admission status must be met no later than the semester before the last semester in which the student expects to enroll, prior to graduation

Program Accreditation

The Master of Business Administration is accredited by the International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education (IACBE), located in Lenexa, Kansas.

The Master of Social Work program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) located in Alexandria, Virginia.

Master of Social Work/Master of Science in Community and International Development Dual Degree MSW/MSCID

Dual Degree Program Description

Andrews University has chosen to explore a collaborative between the Community & International Development Program (CIDP) and the Department of Social Work in the College of Arts & Sciences to prepare students for service in occupations where social work and international development intersect. Social Workers, particularly those in the areas of Administration and Development and International Social Work, may have an interest in international work. In such situations, the MSCID could equip them with a complementary skill set. Likewise, development and relief workers often find themselves in situations where social work skills in counseling and therapy would be useful. In addition, the MSCID/MSW collaborative allows for a greater breadth of employment opportunities for students.

Since both the MSW and MSCID programs reduce the total credits in order to reduce costs and achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be received simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree. In the event that one degree was completed prior to enrollment for the dual degree program, the requirements for the second degree would be met through completion of the requirements shown below.

Collaborative Program Objectives

To prepare students for various forms of work in which clinical and administrative skills in development and social work are needed;
To enable students to integrate development and social work knowledge, values, and skills into a multifaceted approach to service, thereby enhancing their value in the world.

Distinctive Features of the Program

The program is designed to give students an integrated approach to both international development and social work. Students who take a social work emphasis in Administration and Development and International Social Work can choose a dual degree with CIDP.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the MSCID/MSW dual degree program typically will have received a bachelor's degree (BA, BS, BSW) from an accredited four-year college or university in the U.S., or hold an equivalent educational credential from another country. Application must be made separately to both the MSDIC and MSW programs. Acceptance into one program does not guarantee acceptance into the other. Applicants must meet the admissions requirements for each program, including all required prerequisites for each degree. Students in both programs must meet the following minimum requirements:

Students must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0;

No grade of D or F (or U) may count toward either degree.

Credits for Each Program

MSCID students are required to complete 39-40 credit hours for the two-year regular program, which includes 12 elective credits (minimum of 4 courses). Students with certain prerequisites may qualify for the 30-credit advanced standing program. The two-year regular MSW degree requires 46 core credit hours, plus 10 elective hours. Due to the strict requirements of the Council on Social Work Education's accrediting mandates, these core courses must all be taught or co-taught within the department by faculty holding an MSW degree. Occasionally, a student who has already earned a BSW from an accredited program may apply to this program. In this case, the student would be placed in the Advanced Standing program, and take either 33 credits (Advanced Standing) or 39 credits (Advanced Standing Plus). Students with an undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or higher are eligible to complete the Advanced Standing Program, while those with a lower GPA must complete the Advanced Standing Plus requirements.

These program models create a curriculum that allows for the integration of 21–24 Social Work and CIDP credits, giving students the advantage of being able to reduce their total credit load. Since both MSCID and MSW programs already share courses in order to reduce costs and achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, the course work for both degrees must be taken either simultaneously or within one academic year of completion of one of the degrees in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree.

Because of CSWE requirements, students in the MSCID/MSW SOCIAL WORK COURSES 215 dual degree program would register for social work core classes in lieu of certain CIDP courses and would take an emphasis in either Administration & Development or International Social Work. Students will take shared courses as outlined below.

MSW Requirements

Student Handbook

The MSW Student Handbook has been designed as the social work student's aid in understanding the program requirements, Social Work Department, and relevant policies of Andrews University. Inside the handbook you will find information such as expectations of students, the MSW curriculum, departmental policies, and other relevant information. Why an Undergraduate Leadership Program?

Society often encourages us to think of leadership as reserved for people with charismatic personalities or those in high-profile positions. Many would argue that effective leaders are born rather than made, and that those who lack the stereotyped traits associated with leadership must settle to be followers. Andrews University rejects the notion that leadership is only for the few. We define "leadership" as individualized, intentional influence, believing that a well-trained leader will be better able to affect meaningful change regardless of their career path.

The question is not whether Andrews students are leaders. They are. The question is whether or not they are maximizing their natural leadership potential. While leadership growth is a lifelong process—one that will obviously continue beyond the undergraduate college years—participation in the Leadership Program provides a vital grounding in leadership thinking and practice that places graduates ahead of their peers in terms of self-knowledge, creativity, positive change, interpersonal communication, teamwork, engaged citizenship and many other traits.

Program participants may pursue any of three tracks in approaching their leadership development, depending on what works best for the individual. Some may wish to take advantage of an individual course, created especially for those seeking a single game-changing elective. Those students who would like a more in-depth leadership experience can opt for the Undergraduate Leadership Certificate. The certificate embeds in their current academic program, allowing for maximum flexibility. Still others will want to pursue the most complete opportunity by accomplishing the Leadership Minor. Any Andrews' student should be able to take part in this program without adjusting the course of study for their major.

Undergraduate Leadership Courses

Fundamentals of Leadership is a class created with every student in mind. Whether a stand-alone, game-changing course or the entryway to a Leadership Certificate or Minor, this class is designed to bring immediate and long-term value to any undergraduate degree by exploring basic leadership concepts and why leadership applies to them, their individualized approach to leading, team dynamics, and unlocking their creativity.

Creative Problem Solving seeks to dive deeply into the creative and critical thinking process that should prepare students to address new and emerging issues in the world around them.

Theories of Leadership provides students with an understanding of the leadership points of view swirling around them. It will help decode the conversation and actions of others who may use similar language while intending different things. Finally, this course will facilitate the student's personalized construction of a practicable theory of leadership.

Introduction to Coaching gives the student theory and practice in impacting those around them to become a better version of themselves. Participants in this class will acquire the coveted skills allowing them to move into groups or teams and increase the performance and engagement of others.

Leadership Practicum (0 credits, required every semester a student is enrolled in the certificate/minor program) helps students learn how to navigate their college experience from a leadership perspective with the help of one-on-one coaching. They will engage with a mentor, expand their knowledge base of leadership, and develop a growth plan designed to help them lead self, others, and organizations.

Leadership Capstone is a course that helps students to develop and present their leadership portfolio, an experience that includes a reflection process describing personal growth and increasing theoretical understanding, as well as a focus on preparing students to present their skills to future employers.

Change Project allows students to identify needed change, create a plan, attempt the change and study the resulting relationships and processes required to become a change agent.

Diversity & Inclusion in Leadership will equip students with the tools to manage intercultural conflict, identify and utilize inclusive language, and explore the relationship among diversity, inclusion and the gospel. Emphasis will be given to learning the strategies needed for effective, inclusive leadership in diverse settings, giving special consideration to conversations around religion, gender, orientation, ability, and race/culture.

Undergraduate Minors

Leadership Minor

This world desperately needs engaged young leaders—those prepared to positively impact teams, organizations, and movements. The leadership minor signifies a bold claim of readiness to do just that. The leadership minor builds on the leadership certificate by diving deeper into the mechanics of leadership, learning to listen well and ask good questions, and creatively addressing complex problems within a team.

Total Credits: 20-21

The leadership minor can be completed in 20 to 21 credit hours. The minor adds three courses to the foundation of the leadership certificate. As in the certificate, LEAD 101 is offered for 2 or 3 credits to give students flexibility in their schedule, as well as allowing 3 credit students to take a deep dive into strengths identification, an integral component of the leadership program curriculum.

Requirements

2-3 Credits of LEAD 101 - Fundamentals of Leadership Credits: 2,3
Or 2-3 Credits of LEAD 301 - Leadership and Mentoring Credits: 2,3

LEAD 200 - Leadership Practicum Credits: 0 ***
LEAD 220 - Creative Problem Solving Credits: 3
LEAD 310 - Theories of Leadership Credits: 3
LEAD 320 - Introduction to Coaching Credits: 3

2 Credits of LEAD 498 - Leadership Change Project Credits: 1-3
6 credits of leadership electives (These electives may include Diversity & Inclusion in Leadership, Creative Problem Solving, Theories of Leadership, Introduction to Coaching or other chosen electives from a list of approved cognates. The student must provide justification for its inclusion in their leadership certificate/minor.)

*Note: LEAD 200 is required every semester in the program (after completion of LEAD 101 or LEAD 301).

Maintaining Academic Standing

The following standards are required for successful completion of the certificate program or minor.

Academic Standards:

Earn a minimum overall 2.25 GPA.

Earn a minimum 2.5 GPA in certificate or minor program coursework.

No course with a grade below C may count toward the certificate or minor program coursework.

Citizenship Standards:

Program participants placed on suspension or Student Life probation in either of the following categories may be removed from the program:

Citizenship Probation

Co-curricular Probation

Failure to meet these standards results in possible removal from the program. Students may reapply.

Awards and Ceremonies

Each recipient will be recognized in the following ways:

Mission

We, the Andrews University Department of Visual Art, Communication & Design, mentor students in a nurturing, spiritual environment to be Christ-centered, socially responsible individuals by developing their creative gifts for visual and verbal communication.

Department Goal

The goal of the department is to prepare students to become scholars, market-ready practitioners, graduate students and future professors who are able to effectively develop, shape, and deliver uplifting content through journalism, communication, art, film, photography and design. Our purpose is to mold students' minds and to increase their talents so they think critically, discern clearly, and communicate creatively and constructively, with a Christ-like mindset for service.

Communication, whether visual or verbal or nonverbal, is all about connection—shaping, sending, sharing, and receiving messages and meaning through a variety of channels—interpersonal, small group, public, or mediated. The mediums of communication may vary from producing a television show, designing a magazine, writing an editorial, photographing, or painting a portrait, but the goal is always to create human connection.

Lambda Pi Eta

Lambda Pi Eta is the National Communication Association (NCA) affiliated honor society.

Public Relations Student Society of America (PRSSA) Chapter

The Andrews University PRSSA chapter is affiliated with the Western Michigan Public Relations Society of America. At the national level students are eligible for PRSA's publications, scholarships, award programs, leadership training and a national conference.

Communication Club

We have an active Communication Club that you are encouraged to participate in. The club provides you with opportunities to gain meaningful extracurricular experience, engage in enjoyable and professional social activities, and have access to privileges (such as special tours or workshops, or opportunities) only granted to club members.

Computer Policy

The Department of Visual Art, Communication & Design regards the computer as a tool integral to the success of students in their professional development. It is required that all students purchase a laptop computer and software to meet the department guidelines. Because computer technology is continually changing, a revised policy is drafted each fall semester. A list of software is available in the department. Specific requirements change so it is important to make sure the software listed is compatible with the laptop you choose to purchase. Use of the computer in the curriculum varies by course.

Communication Degrees

A bachelor's degree in Communication is very useful for preparing you for a wide range of career options, including being a political aide, public relations manager, talk show host, sales representative, graphic designer, photojournalist, market researcher, camera operator, corporate communication manager, copy editor, producer, magazine editor, and marketing/advertising manager. A master's degree in Communication can position you as an expert in your chosen area of concentration, further expanding your career options, and opening higher-level opportunities for professional advancement—as well as preparing you to pursue a terminal degree.

The three undergraduate degrees in Communication have a variety of emphasis areas. We also offer a Master of Arts program with two degrees (an MA and an MDiv/MA dual degree), and a graduate certificate program. In addition, we facilitate the Bachelor of Science in Communication for the Adult Degree Completion program (see Distance Education for more information).

Internships

Students enrolled in the Communication Management emphasis or the Journalism and Communication Media programs must submit applications for required internships during their sophomore and/or junior years. Students must fulfill the required number of clock hours to meet the requirements for their degree. All majors are encouraged to participate in the internship program. Department approval must be obtained prior to the start of an internship.

Practicum

Practicum refers to the out-of-class opportunities on campus and in the immediate area for developing skills valuable to the communication professional. Students are encouraged to apply to the department for such opportunities. These experiences will be documented in a Portfolio as evidence of the student's involvement in the practical application of theory.

Visual Art & Design Degrees

Students can graduate with a double BFA major or a BFA with a BA in Art History. Credits cannot be duplicated within the 45-credit BFA emphasis. In the second BFA emphasis, 39 credits are required, and excludes ART 485 Thesis Project (3), ART 496 Portfolio Development (3), and ART 497 BFA Exhibition (1).

Associates

Photography AS

The Associate of Science in Photography degree offers students the opportunity to gain marketable skills for entry-level employment in the photographic industry. The AS in Photography answers the need for a professional degree where a broad photographic skill set can be learned in a short period of time, addressing time and/or financial constraints, while still preparing the student for a viable place in the photographic industry.

Bachelors

Art BA

The BA in Art is an academic liberal arts degree with a broad interdisciplinary program that is suited for those students anticipating graduate school either in their related emphasis field, or another area. The BA Art student's interest in art and other educational pursuits are equally as strong, making the degree appropriate for those who wish to integrate other educational pursuits with their visually creative work. The BA in Art lends itself easily to the combination of multiple majors, minors, and pre-professional programs such as Pre-Art Therapy, Pre-Med, or Pre-Dent. The degree requires 45 credits in art history and visual art courses, a minor in a secondary area, and the Andrews Core Experience requirements including a foreign language.

Documentary Film BFA

The Documentary Film program at Andrews University was designed for the student who embraces the role of the visual storyteller, and for students who feel compelled to inform and engage audiences with deeply affecting narratives on important issues. Students will start by taking a selection of core courses which provide a broad base of art and communication experiences in digital media, photography and art history. With this foundation, the curriculum moves to immerse students in the art and craft of directing, producing, writing, cinematography and post-production, while including important film history and theory courses to further their analytical and critical development.

Whether learning how to construct breathtaking scenes with state-of-the-art film technology, or editing sequences that rouse audiences to action, students will develop both a competence in the tools of the trade as well as the thoughtfulness to approach filmmaking with creative integrity. Upon the completion of their BFA in Documentary Film, majors will have finished several major projects to include in their portfolio, capped by a senior film project intended to be shared broadly with audiences.

Admission Procedures and Academic Standards

BFA Professional Degree in Design, Documentary Film, Illustration, Fine Art, and Photography

Students seeking to pursue the BFA Professional Degree with majors in Design, Documentary Film, Fine Art, Illustration, or Photography must first submit an Andrews University undergraduate application for acceptance to the University. Students admitted to the University on regular standing are eligible to begin the first two years of the BFA degree.

Upon completion of the first two Pre-Professional Years (typically at the end of the Sophomore Year) students must apply for acceptance into their respective BFA Professional Degree Programs which includes:

Completion of the Application. The application packet may be obtained from the Department Office and must be submitted directly to the Department Office by the application deadline. Minimum requirements to be considered for admission are outlined in the packet.

The BFA Review. All work created in Pre-professional Years One & Two should be available for review. The BFA review is a critique of the student's portfolio by the faculty of the Department of Visual Art & Design.

Minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75 in all coursework.

Transfer Students

Transfer students seeking advanced placement in a chosen BFA program must have a BFA Review. Students who have no previous coursework in art are not eligible to apply for advanced standing. Transfer coursework must be evaluated for content equivalency and students may be asked to provide course descriptions and syllabi.

Academic Standards

Students accepted to a BFA Professional Degree program is expected to in Design, Documentary Film, Fine Art, Illustration, and Photography are expected, by the end of the BFA degree program, to have a GPA of 3.0 or higher in all BFA major coursework. Students whose GPA falls below this minimum requirement are not allowed to graduate with the BFA. The completion of the BFA may include a senior project, senior exhibition, internship, and portfolio of the student's work.

Fine Art BFA

The Bachelor of Fine Art is recommended for students seeking to become professional artists, illustrators, craftsmen, or professors on the college level. The BFA is the required degree for acceptance into a Masters of Fine Arts program, which is the necessary degree for pursuing a university teaching position.

The Department of Visual Art, Communication, and Design offers concentrations in Drawing and Painting. The Fine Art major cultivates the individual voice and vision of the Fine Art student and prepares them to create a mature body of work which prepares them to work as a practicing artist.

Graphic Design BFA

The BFA in Graphic Design is recommended for those wishing to work as graphic design professionals. The degree program combines the study of art, communication, design, web development and technology as mediums for visual communication and/or personal artistic expression. Students join the BFA in Graphic Design because they possess the ability to think, speak, draw, write and design. Students graduate as design leaders, having learned to inform, guide, clarify, promote and empower through visual form. The Senior Project and BFA Exhibition, as well as internships, bring students face-to-face with the design community. At the same time, students acquire valuable experience in problem solving and the application of design principles, making them cultural catalysts and sought-after design professionals.

General Admission Requirements

Graduate Program admission requirements, academic information and graduation procedures are detailed in the School of Graduate Studies & Research section of this catalog.

Departmental Admission Requirements

- This is a summary of the procedures that a student planning to enroll in the MA should note:
- At the time of application for admission, students must:
 - have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent.
 - present a resume of current experience.
 - submit a Statement of Purpose which explains how the relevant disciplines will be integrated to meet his/her career and academic goals.
 - Upon acceptance and registration, the student in conjunction with the graduate advisor will develop a Plan of Study which is based on the student's Statement of Purpose.
 - Must have minimum GPA for entrance into Andrews University School of Graduate Studies.
 - No GRE is required if your undergraduate GPA is above 3. 0.
 - In addition to the admission requirements of the School of Graduate Studies & Research, the student applying to the Department of Visual Art, Communication & Design must meet the following requirements:

Progression

- All graduate students need to understand that
- The GRE must be completed in order to register for the second semester courses.
 - Must enroll in COMM 500 - Graduate Colloquium Credits: 3 every Fall and Spring semester.
 - A student on regular status must, in consultation with the graduate advisor, identify members to serve on a supervisory committee, prior to application to Candidacy. It determines individual requirements for completion with reference to a student's Plan of Study.
 - A 3.00 GPA per semester must be maintained.
 - The Advancement to Candidacy deadline is the semester prior to the student applying for graduation.
 - Students are responsible for completing all the required forms.
- All required forms are submitted to the coordinator of the Department Graduate Program. On approval, recommendations are made to the Records Office and to the Dean of Graduate Studies. See General Academic Policies for further details on graduation procedures and degree conferral.

Masters Dual Degrees

Note: Because each dual degree is listed in two schools you will find duplicates. The content is identical except for order of information.

Master of Arts, Communication/ Master of Divinity Dual Degree MA/MDiv

Andrews University has chosen to establish a collaborative program between the Master of Divinity Program of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Communication in the College of Arts and Sciences. Students can potentially complete the two degrees in less than 3½ years; 2 years in the Theological Seminary and 1 to 1½ years in the Department of Communication. It will also prepare MDiv students for service in occupations where Communication—and in particular, media-related Communication—intersects with the pastoral mission of the church. Pastors today are challenged to minister and serve in ever-widening fields and increasingly diverse audience groups, and being able to do so effectively through a variety of mediums is becoming more important than ever before. Likewise, there are benefits to understanding the how and why of communication and what it takes to be an effective communicator on all levels outside of the pulpit. Furthermore, this collaboration allows for widened employment opportunities including television and radio, public relations, corporate communications, advertising, management, healthcare communications, and more.

Furthermore, this collaboration allows for widened employment opportunities including television and radio, public relations, corporate communications, advertising, management, healthcare communications, and more.

Since both the MA Communications and MDiv programs share certain cognate courses to achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be conferred simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree. In the event that one degree was completed prior to enrollment for the dual degree program, the cognate requirements for the other degree will be adjusted as shown below. A dual student cannot march in graduation or March-without-Completion if both halves of the dual degree are not completed.

Total Credits: 100

Credits for Each Program

MDiv: Graduation requirements consist of the satisfactory completion of 100 semester credits with an overall grade point average of 2.75 or better. 67 credits are MDiv credits, and 33 credits are Communication credits.

Admission Requirements

Master of Divinity

All MDiv applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission Requirements applicable to all graduate students and the general seminary requirements.

- Hold a baccalaureate degree: A four-year degree from an accredited United States institution, or its equivalent from an institution outside the U.S.
- Minimum of 2.5 Undergraduate GPA
- Normally hold membership in the Seventh-day Adventist Church inasmuch as the MDiv program is specifically designed for Adventist ministers and is sponsored and financed by the Adventist church.
- Represent high moral integrity with a character, lifestyle, and spiritual commitment reflective of the beliefs and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and show promise of usefulness for Adventist ministry through personal maturity and adequate experience in the Church. (Persons of other faiths who are willing to live in harmony with these standards are welcome to apply.)
- Submit an autobiographical history and a 350+ word statement of purpose reflecting the applicant's family and spiritual development, sense of calling to ministry, experience in church work, and future goals in relationship to the MDiv program. A guideline is provided in the admissions package.
- If married, the spouse of the applicant is also asked to complete a statement in regard to his or her feelings and relationship to the partner's aspirations for future ministry.
- Background Check. Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to undergo a criminal background check and to make the results of the check available to the Seminary. The cost of the criminal background check is the responsibility of the applicant. Details about this requirement may be obtained from the MDiv office.
- An interview with a representative of the MDiv program may be required, either by personal contact, telephone, or video.
- Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.
- Pre-admission Conduct Disclosure Statement - Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to complete and submit to the Seminary the "Pre-Admission Conduct Disclosure Statement."

Program Outcomes

To enable students to integrate both theological and communication-savvy approaches to reaching expanded audiences with increased levels of effectiveness and efficiency, thereby enhancing their usefulness as instruments of the Holy Spirit.

To prepare students for various forms of ministry in which communication (in particular, media) skills/experience and theology are needed.

To sensitize students to nontraditional ministry opportunities by exposing them to theoretical knowledge and practical skills that will increase their options for spreading the gospel.

Pre-Professional

Pre-Professional Program in Art Therapy

"Art therapy is a mental health profession in which clients, facilitated by the art therapist, use art media, the creative process, and the resulting artwork to explore their feelings, reconcile emotional conflicts, foster self-awareness, manage behavior and addictions, develop social skills, improve reality orientation, reduce anxiety, and increase self-esteem. A goal in art therapy is to improve or restore a client's function and his or her sense of personal well-being. Art therapy practice requires knowledge of visual art (drawing, painting, sculpture, and other art forms) and the creative process, as well as of human development, psychological, and counseling theories and techniques."

- American Art Therapy Association 2013

A master's degree is required for entry level practice in art therapy from institutions of higher education recognized by regional accreditation bodies approved by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA). It is recommended however, that a student complete a PhD in art therapy in order to be fully integrated into the field. Entrance requirements to universities and colleges offering graduate programs in art therapy may vary; therefore it is imperative that students familiarize themselves with the requirements of the school of their choice. Information about the various schools in the USA, as well as Canada, offering a masters in art therapy can be found on the American Art Therapy Association (AATA) webpage: www.arttherapy.org

As long as the below minimum requirements are completed, any major may apply to a master's program in art therapy. The recommended majors for students are:

Film

FILM 105 - Intro to Filmmaking

Credits: 3

To the generation of digital natives, film has become one of the most dominant forms of visual media and personal expression. This studio course is a broad introduction to the collective elements of film production with a focus on nonfiction storytelling. This class explores both the art and craft of filmmaking, mixing aesthetic understanding with production techniques. Labs and instruction focus on storytelling, basic high-definition video production, and post-production. While designed to be an engaging introduction to filmmaking, students should be prepared to work toward the goal of the class--the creation of a non-fiction short film.

Mission

The faculty promote stewardship, rigorous scholarship and creative problem solving in their disciplines, and encourage students to:

Shape places that foster whole human health;

Explore time-honored and innovative solutions in their works;

Seek joy, beauty, and moderation in a lifelong pursuit of learning;

Serve mankind in accord with a professional and Christian vocation.

All this for the glory of God until the risen Christ comes again.

Academic Calendar 2018–2019

Resources

Architecture Resource Center (ARC). The ARC provides an extensive range of materials including over 25,000 books, 90 journals, and a growing media collection. An added dimension to resource materials are two special collections. The ARC maintains a relationship with the Environmental Design Research Association, and houses an internationally recognized collection of books and materials in the area of environmental psychology and design. In addition, the ARC holds the Senseman Rare Book Collection of over 800 rare and out-of-print books and photos.

Student Handbook. A handbook for School of Architecture & Interior Design students outlining policies, operational guidelines, and general information is available from the School office. Students are responsible for all policies outlined in the School of Architecture & Interior Design Student Handbook.

Program Accreditation

In the United States, most state registration boards require a degree from an accredited professional degree program as a prerequisite for licensure. The National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB), which is the sole agency authorized to accredit U.S. professional degree programs in architecture, recognizes three types of degrees: the Bachelor of Architecture, the Master of Architecture, and the Doctor of Architecture. A program may be granted a eight-year, four-year, or two-year term of accreditation, depending on the extent of its conformance with established educational standards.

Doctor of Architecture and Master of Architecture degree programs may require a pre-professional undergraduate degree for admission. However, the pre-professional degree is not, by itself, recognized as an accredited degree.

Andrews University School of Architecture & Interior Design offers the following NAAB-accredited programs:

MArch (pre-professional degree—138 undergraduate credits + 30 graduate credits)

MArch (non-pre-professional degree + 72 undergraduate prerequisite credits + 30 graduate credits)

Next accreditation visit for all programs: 2018

(The National Architectural Accrediting Board, Inc., 2014 Conditions for Accreditation)

SPECIAL NOTATION REGARDING BACHELOR OF INTERIOR DESIGN AND BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT

The Bachelor of Science in Construction Management program (BSCM) is a new program. The program will not be available unless a critical mass of students (minimum of 8) enter the program in Fall, 2018. The Bachelor of Interior Design will not accept new cohorts unless a critical mass of students (minimum of 6) enter the program in Fall, 2018. Please contact the School of Architecture, Art & Design at 269-471-6003 with questions.

Architecture Electives - 7

A minimum of 7 credits of architecture electives at the undergraduate level. Elective must be selected from ARCH, BSCM, and INT courses. Selection of electives outside of school offerings requires the approval of the school faculty.

Major: Additional Requirements

Analytical Summer Abroad

Each student is required to attend the Analytical Summer Abroad (ARCH330). This program is usually five weeks in duration. Students completing Professional Track Year One should make plans accordingly. For further information, consult the School of Architecture & Interior Design.

Andrews Core Experience

Students must take all courses designated in the Professional Degree Requirements of the Andrews Core Experience while noting the following approved course substitutions. If a student changes to another degree program, these course substitutions will no longer apply even if already completed.

Fine Arts and Humanities

Maintaining Academic Standing

Students are required to complete the BSA in a specific path sequence. Please see the attached chronological listing of courses by year with academic requirements.

Academic standards apply to the BS, BSA, BID and BSCM. A grade of C- or higher is required in order to continue in the design studio sequence. A grade of less than C- requires a student to repeat that studio before advancing in the studio sequence. Faculty approval is required for any studio course to be repeated. (This includes

ART 104, ARCH 126, ARCH 215, ARCH 247, ARCH 318, ARCH 320, ARCH 441, ARCH 442; INT 341, INT 342, INT 441, INT 442.)

Students accepted to the BSA Professional Degree Track are expected to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA requirement of 2.75 for acceptance into the Master of Architecture year (see Graduate-Year Enrollment requirements). Students whose cumulative GPA falls below this minimum requirement are not allowed to continue to the Master of Architecture Year (graduate-year) but may be eligible to receive the Bachelor of Science in Architecture (BSA), the pre-professional component of the professional Master of Architecture. The BSA alone is not an NAAB-accredited degree. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.25 is required to receive the BSA.

Admission Requirements

Application Process

BSA Professional Degree Track, BID or BSCM

Students seeking to pursue the *BSA Professional Degree Track, BID or BSCM must first submit an Andrews University undergraduate application for acceptance to the University. Students admitted to the University on regular standing are eligible to begin Pre-Professional Year One, which is a common first-year experience between these programs.

Upon completion of Pre-Professional Year One students must:

Declare their degree program choice (BSA Professional Degree Track, BID or BSCM) and

Have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5

Upon completion of Pre-Professional Year Two students must apply for acceptance to their respective programs. The application packet may be obtained from the School and must be submitted directly to the School by the application deadline. Minimum requirements to be considered for admission to these programs are outlined under each program curricula.

* Students taking the BSA Professional Degree Track who plan to pursue the Master of Architecture must meet the standards outlined under Graduate-Year Enrollment.

Transfer Students

Transfer applicants who have no previous work in architectural/ interior design must complete the foundation years (pre-professional years one and two) and then make formal application to their program choice.

Advanced Standing. Transfer students from another architecture program may apply for advanced standing (third or fourth year) in their program choice. Transfer students applying for advanced standing are required to submit both the university application and the School of Architecture & Interior Design application. Please contact the School for specific information.

Tentative placement into the design sequence is made after the Admissions Committee has evaluated the student's submissions. After one term, the student is given final placement in the design sequence and, on the basis of transfer-course evaluations, receives credit for previous academic work towards the Andrews University degree.

The School does not accept applications to the Master of Architecture year only.

Summer Studio. In some cases, completion of the Summer Studio program is best for transfer students. Prior to application, students must have a transcript analysis done by the School to determine eligibility for the program. It is expected that students pursuing the summer studio option will have completed the majority of Andrews Core Experience courses normally required in Pre-Professional Year One.

Application to the Summer Studio is made by filling out an Andrews University Undergraduate Application. Students applying to this program, in addition to applying to Andrews University, must also contact the School of Architecture & Interior Design directly to confirm their reservation for the class.

Additional Information

Graduate Year Admission

In addition to meeting the General Minimum Admission Requirements for graduate degree programs, the following School requirements apply to the graduate phase of this program.

Completion of a baccalaureate degree—BSA: Architecture.

Successful completion of all undergraduate coursework with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75.

Completion of the Graduate Record Exam (GRE). The GRE must be taken AND scores reported prior to beginning the M.Arch. year.

Construction Management BSCM

PLEASE BE ADVISED: The Bachelor of Science in Construction Management program (BSCM) is a new program. The program will not be available unless a critical mass of students (minimum of 8) enter the program in Fall, 2017. Please contact the School of Architecture & Interior Design at 269-471-6003 with questions.

NOTE: Southern Adventist University, another SDA institution of higher learning currently offers Construction Management.

Program Description

The construction management program is four years plus two summers in duration.

Architecture MArch (3 1/2 Year Track)

Program Description

The 3½-year professional degree program is designed for students who have previously earned an undergraduate degree in an unrelated area of study. Under this program, the student spends the first 2½ years completing undergraduate prerequisite architectural core courses. The final year is similar to the final year of the Master of Architecture 5½-year degree which results in the accredited professional degree. Please see the Academic Calendar [OLD] for application deadlines.

Elective must be selected from ARCH, BSCM and INT courses.

Maintaining Academic Standing

- No grade lower than C (2.00) in any course in the graduate portion of the program.
- A student whose cumulative graduate GPA falls below 3.0 in any given term is placed on academic probation. A student is normally disqualified if they do not increase their graduate GPA to 3.0 during the academic term of probation.
- A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 is required to receive the Master of Architecture degree.

Admission Requirements

Application must be made online to the School of Graduate Studies & Research. In addition to meeting the application requirements of the School of Graduate Studies & Research, applicants should:

- Hold an undergraduate degree;
- Have a minimum cumulative undergraduate GPA of 3.0;
- Submit an online application.
- Submit a portfolio of work (this work need not be architectural in nature, it may include writing samples, drawings, photography, etc.) Original work will not be accepted.

The following prerequisite courses may be required at the discretion of the Admissions Committee:

- ARCH 126 - Drawing and Graphics Studio
- ART 104 - Drawing I
- MATH 168 - Precalculus
- PHYS 141 - General Physics I

Upon acceptance, graduate standards of scholarship apply to all coursework.

Completion of a baccalaureate degree—BSA: Architecture.

Successful completion of all undergraduate coursework with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75.

Completion of the Graduate Record Exam (GRE). The GRE must be taken AND scores reported prior to beginning the M.Arch. year.

Architecture

Credits: 3

Introduction to freehand drawing and architectural drawing graphic conventions. Exercises include freehand and drafted drawings of building plans, sections, and elevations, and an introduction to three-dimensional representation.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring, Summer

College Code: SAID

ARCH 150 - Introduction to Architecture and Design

Credits: 3

Emphasis on design concepts, professional vocabulary, historical appreciation, contemporary issues, and values that are important to the mission of the School of Architecture & Interior Design. Open to all students.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: SAID

ARCH 201 - Construction I

Credits: 3

An overview of site work, foundation, and structural systems as well as an investigation into the structural and material properties, assembly methods and detailing primarily for wood and masonry construction systems.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: SAID

ARCH 202 - Construction II

Credits: 3

An investigation into the structural and material properties, assembly methods and detailing primarily for steel and concrete construction systems as well as an introduction to cost estimating.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): ARCH 201.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SAID

ARCH 205 - Structures I

Credits: 4

Structural theory: statics by analytical and graphical solutions. Determinations of loads, resolution of force systems, and equilibrium analysis. Structural properties of shape (centroids, moment of inertia) and materials (stress, stiffness, modulus of elasticity). Shear and bending moments, deflection, column theory, introductory awareness of structural system behavior. Analysis and design of wood structures (joists, girders, columns). Introduction to the structural design process.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 168 & PHYS 141.

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: SAID

ARCH 215 - Introduction to Design Studio

Credits: 5

Introduction to formal composition, architectural typology and principles of building context in the design of buildings and artifacts with simple program elements. Minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): ARCH 126.

Schedule Type: Studio

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: SAID

ARCH 247 - Architecture as Craft Studio

Credits: 5

Design projects focusing on the materiality of architecture and the logic of construction.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): ARCH 215

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SAID

ARCH 299 - Independent Study

Credits: 1–4

Study of special topics not currently offered by the School of Architecture, Art & Design. In consultation with a professor, the student researches a selected area, filing a copy of the completed project report in the School of Architecture, Art & Design office. A minimum of 30 hours of work required for each credit. May be repeated for a total of 6 credits.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SAID

ARCH 305 - Structures II

Credits: 4

Structural problems in steel analysis and principles of concrete and masonry, lateral loads due to wind and seismic forces.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): ARCH 205.

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SAID

ARCH 315 - History of Architecture I

Credits: 3

Chronological overview of the history of architecture from prehistory through the 14th century (Gothic). Emphasis is on the vocabulary and design of buildings, their symbolic relationships, and their meaning in a cultural and human context.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): ENGL 115.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: SAID

ARCH 316 - History of Architecture II

Credits: 3
Chronological overview of the history of architecture from the 15th century (Renaissance) to today. Emphasis is on the vocabulary and design of buildings, their symbolic relationships, and their meaning in a cultural and human context.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGL 115.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SAID

ARCH 318 - Background Building Studio

Credits: 5
Design of a commercial and/or residential building(s) of increased programmatic complexity, in the physical and cultural setting of a traditional small town or urban neighborhood.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 320.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SAID

ARCH 320 - Placemaking Studio

Credits: 5
The design of buildings as it relates to landscape and to human experience with increased complexity of program and form.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 247, admission to the Professional Degree Track.
Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SAID

ARCH 330 - Analytical Summer Abroad

Credits: 6
A course focusing upon study, analysis, and documentation of buildings, spaces, and/or gardens in another country. Venues may change from year to year.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 318.
Schedule Type: Blended Learning
Term Offering: Summer
College Code: SAID

ARCH 335 - Environmental Technology I

Credits: 4
Introduction to environmentally, energy-conscious design concepts with the primary focus on climate and site analysis. An overview of standard evaluation methods for thermal performance in both design development and qualitative building evaluations covers heat loss/gain, thermal and solar envelope, HVAC system selection and layout. Principles of water conservation, collection and supply, and the treatment and disposal of liquid and solid wastes.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SAID

ARCH 336 - Environmental Technology II

Credits: 4
Principles of design for fire safety and code compliance. Principles of electricity and a brief survey of electrical systems and wiring design. The design and location requirements of elevators and moving stairways and walks. A qualitative overview of lighting and acoustics and their integration into the design of buildings with introductory quantitative methods.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): PHYS 141.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SAID

ARCH 370 - Person-Environment Theory

Credits: 3
Studies in the relationship between people and the environment, including a consideration of towns, cities, gardens, buildings, and artifacts, as well as the cultural and natural landscape.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 320.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

ARCH 390 - Special Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4
Based on selected topics of current interest in architecture offered by the School of Architecture & Interior Design. May be repeated in different topic areas.
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

ARCH 395 - Community Project in Architecture

Credits: 1–6
"Hands-on" involvement in humanitarian and/ or service oriented projects in an on-site work environment. Work initiated by students requires prior approval of faculty.

Course Attribute: Service course

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Blended Learning, Independent
College Code: SAID

ARCH 424 - Islamic Architecture

Credits: 2,3
A focused view on the period of architectural history known as Islamic Architecture. Covers the beginnings of Islamic period from 600 CE to the present time, looking at Islamic buildings from all parts of the world.

Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SAID

ARCH 442 - Integrative Design Studio

Credits: 5
Comprehensive building design project: site design, building design, and development of architectural detail (including integration of materials and structural and environmental systems).

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): ARCH 469
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 441.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SAID

ARCH 445 - Furniture Design

Credits: 2
An exploratory course that prepares individuals to apply technical knowledge and skills to prepare and execute furniture design projects from assemblage to finish. Incorporates the safe use of a variety of hand and power tools and machinery. Projects vary according to the individual skill level of the student. May be repeated for up to 4 credits.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

ARCH 449 - Integrative Design I

Credits: 2
An introduction to the pre-design activities of programming and project budgeting; and an investigation into the design implications of building codes, accessibility standards, and zoning ordinances for a concurrent studio project.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): ARCH 435, ARCH 441
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 205
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SAID

ARCH 459 - Design Theory

Credits: 3
A survey and analysis of architectural thought, including readings from both historical and contemporary sources.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 315.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SAID

ARCH 469 - Integrative Design II

Credits: 2
The application of the principles of architectural detailing, building data evaluation, materials specifications, and comparative cost analysis for a concurrent studio project.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): ARCH 442
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 449
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SAID

ARCH 480 - Architectural Community Service

Credits: 1–3
Design of community service or architectural mission projects. May also include pre-construction management work associated with mission projects. Work initiated by students requires prior approval of faculty. May be repeated for up to 6 credits.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 247.
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

ARCH 485 - Special Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4
Based on selected topics of current interest in architecture offered by the School of Architecture & Interior Design. May be repeated in different topic areas.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning
College Code: SAID

ARCH 496 - Cooperative Work Experience

Credits: 1–6
Supervised work with an architecture or construction firm. 120 hours of work is required for each credit. May be repeated up to 6 credits.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Prerequisite(s): 3rd year standing and application one semester in advance of the planned work. Graded on S/U basis.
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: SAID

ARCH 499 - Independent Research

Credits: 1–4
Study of special topics not currently offered by the School of Architecture & Interior Design. In consultation with a professor, the student researches a selected area, filing a copy of the completed project report in the School of Architecture & Interior Design office. A minimum of 30 hours of work required for each credit. May be repeated for a total of 6 credits.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Blended Learning, Independent
College Code: SAID

ARCH 521 - Urban Design Studio

Credits: 6
Urban design proposal for a small town (or parts thereof), urban neighborhood, or college campus.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): Completion of BSA and Acceptance to Master of Architecture degree year.

Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SAID

ARCH 522 - Visiting Critic/Topic Studio

Credits: 6
Design project(s) to be determined by Visiting Critic and regular faculty. Topic of studio varies.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): Completion of BSA and Acceptance to Master of Architecture degree year.
Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SAID

ARCH 530 - Analytical Summer Abroad

Credits: 3–6
A course focusing upon study, analysis, and documentation of buildings, spaces, and/or gardens in another country. Venues may change from year to year.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 318.

Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 207 - Regulatory Issues

Credits: 2
Examination of the regulations in planning, building, advocacy and civil rights rules. Includes investigative techniques, jurisdictional responsibilities and inspection procedures.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 215 - Construction Equipment and Methods

Credits: 2
Construction equipment and selected construction methods including equipment application strategies, own/lease benefits and establishing operational costs for project estimating.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 301 - Cost Estimating I

Credits: 2
Introduction to the estimating function and review and applications of material quantity survey techniques used in estimating costs of construction projects. Includes types of approximate and precise methods of estimating and their uses, and computer applications.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 302 - Cost Estimating II

Credits: 3
Pricing and bidding of construction work including cost factors, labor and equipment, productivity factors, prices databases, job direct and indirect costs, methods of estimating time, materials, equipment, subcontractors' work, general expenses, and profit, bid preparations and submission, and computer applications.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): BSCM 301
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 325 - Structural Systems Design

Credits: 2
The study of typical construction materials as used in the design process. Concrete, wood, steel and composite structures and underlying mechanical and physical properties will be covered.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 168, PHYS 141
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 349 - Construction Documents

Credits: 3
This course examines construction documents for competitive bidding and execution of projects. Light and heavy construction types will be examined.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 365 - Site Construction and Surveying

Credits: 2
The study of critical aspects of site construction and surveying relating to on-site logistics.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 401 - Construction Management I

Credits: 3
Construction management concepts and practices, the management system, construction planning and programming, project control, environmental management, total quality management, and ethics in construction management.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 402 - Construction Management II

Credits: 3
A management course in contract documents, safety, planning, scheduling, production control, and law and labor. Topics include contracts, planning, cost and production peripheral documents, and cost and work analysis, scheduling, material handling, layout, payment scheduling, and inspections.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 410 - Project Planning & Scheduling

Credits: 2
Construction planning, scheduling, and communications required for project control, the practical and legal implications of each, as well as introduction to the use of scheduling software, and its benefits.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 420 - Construction Law

Credits: 2
Study of the United States legal system and contractual issues that are significant to construction managers, and addresses ethics in the construction industry. Legal issues arising from design and construction services, focusing on risk management and liability awareness.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 430 - Professional Practice

Credits: 3
Analyzes construction contracts, specifications, and practices with regard to business law and liability. Examines contractor, architect, and engineer responsibilities through case studies and class discussions.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 445 - Building Information Modeling - Cost Analysis

Credits: 3
Application of a Building Information Model that incorporates cost data, used for quantity takeoff and cost estimating.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 435
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 455 - Building Information Modeling

Credits: 3
Application of a Building Information Model used to visualize a construction schedule and sequence.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): BSCM 445
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

BSCM 465 - Collaborative Project Delivery

Credits: 3
Application of project delivery in conjunction with a concurrent project within the School of Architecture, Art & Design. Building Information Modeling will be used as a method of applying cost analysis and project planning and scheduling.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): BSCM 455
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: SAID

Interior Design

INT 200 - Color Theory

Credits: 3
This course introduces students to the aesthetic, historical, perceptual, scientific, and psychological aspects of color and light and the implication of color principles and theories to interior design. Students will explore color through experimentation, observation and evaluation. Relevant design projects will be analyzed for their use of color theory.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

INT 300 - Materials & Methods

Credits: 2
In this course students will examine non-textile based materials, available resources, and methods of production, construction and installation. Through a study of current product applications, they will learn how to select, specify and apply appropriate materials and finishes on the basis of aesthetics, material cost, environmental impact and performance.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

INT 315 - History and Theory of Interiors

Credits: 3

This course is a survey of interior design throughout history. Emphasis is given to the historical, theoretical and cultural influences that have affected the design of the interior environment from antiquity through present-day.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): HIST 117, HIST 118, ENGL 115.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

INT 341 - Interior Design Studio I

Credits: 5

Intermediate design studio building on previous design principles.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ARCH 247 & acceptance into Professional Degree Program.
Schedule Type: Studio
College Code: SAID

INT 342 - Interior Design Studio II

Credits: 5

Intermediate design studio building on previous design principles.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): INT 341.
Schedule Type: Studio
College Code: SAID

INT 420 - Textiles

Credits: 3

This course introduces students to the technical and aesthetic aspects of textiles and their use in interior design. Emphasis is placed on product knowledge, specifications, technology, safety, testing, and terminology. New textiles and fibers and their application and performance will be studied.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

INT 435 - Professional Practice

Credits: 3

This course explores standard business procedures commonly associated with the practice of interior design. Students will study various types of design practices, financial management and compensation, ethical practices, professional development, legal liability, and issues related to licensing and certification. The management of a typical interior design project will be studied, including writing proposals and contracts, specifications, bidding procedures, budgets, construction schedules, contractor negotiations and collaboration, and project administration.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SAID

INT 441 - Interior Design Studio I

Credits: 5

Advanced design studio building on previous design principles.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): INT 342
Schedule Type: Studio
College Code: SAID

INT 442 - Interior Design Studio II

Credits: 5

Advanced design studio building on previous design principles.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Mission

The School of Business Administration offers high quality education in business at the bachelor's and master's levels to all who qualify, both church members and others of goodwill. We emphasize excellence in teaching in our disciplines, challenging students to search for knowledge and for that wisdom illumined by Christian insight in preparation for service to the world.

History

The school traces its origin to 1908 with the establishment of the Commercial Department of Emmanuel Missionary College. In 1952 all business instruction was organized into the Department of Business Administration. MBA candidates were admitted to the graduate program in 1964.

In July 1980, the School of Business Administration was organized, becoming the third professional school of the university. The school is housed in Chan Shun Hall.

Business Ethics Oath

The School of Business Administration is committed to promoting a higher ethical standard for its graduating students. Ethics is learned in various business classes throughout the course of study, with a business ethics oath taken at the end of their program. This oath is available to graduating students wishing to participate in a higher ethical standard of business conduct.

Program Outcomes

Bachelor of Business Administration/Bachelor of Science

Students will be able to identify the major theory and concepts of business across business functional areas.

Students will be able to incorporate relevant quantitative and qualitative data in the analysis.

Students will be able to identify relevant business theories in analyzing business issues and apply appropriate theories in addressing business problems.

Students will be able to deliver oral presentations clearly, confidently, and in an organized format, and present their written thoughts in a coherent narrative to articulate complex ideas.

Students will be able to identify Christian perspectives when approaching business issues and understand the Judea-Christian foundation of personal and professional integrity, accountability, and experience positive spiritual growth.

Program Description

The Associate of Science degree prepares students for entry-level job opportunities in the business field. The degree is designed for the student who cannot stay in college for a four-year degree or who wishes to interrupt his/her program for a period of time and return to college to complete a four-year baccalaureate degree.

This AS degree can be completed on-campus or online. Program requirements are the same for both the main campus and online options.

Main Campus: All courses for this program are available on the main campus. Campus course formats include lectures, labs, and more interactive learning experiences.

Online: All course requirements can also be completed online, with no time required on the main campus. Online courses are offered in self-paced open learning and self-paced full-term formats, with a few also available in interactive online format (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Online Delivery Definitions).

Program Description

Mission

The mission of the Professional MBA program is to prepare students from many cultural backgrounds for responsible positions in domestic and international business, in government, and in not-for-profit organizations. The program emphasizes the integration of business principles with Christian principles and philosophy to prepare students for leadership roles which require clear and critical thinking, wise judgment, effective communication, integrity in all actions, and recognition of opportunities for service.

Professional MBA

With the appropriate business background, the Professional MBA at Andrews University can be completed in three semesters. However, the MBA is also designed for students with any bachelor's degree. Students who enter the program without prior coursework in business will take a two-year (5-semester) degree program, which will include prerequisites. Prerequisites in the common body of knowledge are required to bring the student up to the minimum expectations of our graduate faculty. These courses provide an introduction to the broad field of business administration.

The graduate courses in the MBA itself, which approximate three semesters of work, are divided into two groups, required and elective; 24 credits are in courses required of all students, and 9 credits are in elective courses. These advanced courses emphasize the understanding of administrative processes in resolving problems faced by business executives. These courses also help the student view the business enterprise as an integrated unit operating in a complex economic, political, and social system.

Only courses numbered above 500 may be used to meet MBA requirements. A maximum of 6 credits in approved courses may be taken off-campus or in another school of the university.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the general admission requirements under Graduate Academic Policies, note also the requirements listed below.

Prerequisite Courses

These prerequisite courses may be waived for students with appropriate undergraduate course work from an accredited institution. If the prerequisite courses are more than five years old or the grades earned are below C, students may be required to repeat these courses.

Such courses must be taken by the time the student has completed no more than 50% of his/her course work for the master's degree. The following six courses constitute the prerequisites for the MBA degree:

ACCT 505 Survey of Accounting for Decision Making and Control Credits: 2
(OR ACCT 205 Accounting for Decision Making and Control Credits: 3;
OR both ACCT 121 - Principles of Accounting I Credits: 3 AND ACCT 122 -

STAT 285 - Elementary Statistics Credits: 3
Competency in computers is assumed.

Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT)

The GMAT admission requirements must be met for regular admission status. The student may not enroll for any graduate-level business credits (courses assigned as 515 or above) before the GMAT requirement is met. If the student chooses to waive the GMAT based on number 2 below, this must be done within the first semester of the MBA program.

Admission GMAT requirements can be obtained by ONE of the following:

Attain formula score of 1,000 points, calculated by taking the undergraduate cumulative GPA X 200 + GMAT score \geq 1,000.

OR

Five years of documented and approved related work experience and earned a grade of at least B- in statistics and a grade of at least B- in pre-calculus algebra.

OR

On-campus Andrews University undergraduate business students with a cumulative GPA \geq 3.0 and earned a grade of at least a B- in statistics and a grade of at least B- in pre-calculus algebra.

OR

GPA \geq 3.25 from a U. S. accredited institution.

Professional Resume

All applicants must submit a separate, attached copy of their complete professional resume with their application. Completing the "Professional History" section within the application will not be considered sufficient for acceptance to School of Business Administration graduate programs.

Maintaining Academic Standing

All graduate students are expected to maintain a 3.00 GPA in all graduate courses that apply to the degree requirements.

No grade of D or F (or U) may be used to satisfy degree requirements; however, these grades are included when computing the cumulative GPA and, if they occur in courses normally meeting degree requirements, the degree GPA.

Students admitted under provisional status (due to lack of prerequisites, GMAT, etc.) must make regular progress toward achieving regular enrollment status and toward completion of their selected graduate degree. If insufficient progress is made, provisional status will be revoked after four enrolled semesters.

Regular admission status must be met no later than the semester before the last semester in which the student expects to enroll, prior to graduation.

Program Accreditation

The Master of Business Administration is accredited by the International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education (IACBE), located in Lenexa, Kansas.

Program Objectives

Program Outcomes

- Students will be able to demonstrate competence in each of the functional areas of business.
- Students will be able to integrate the core business concepts and the use of effective management skills.
- Students will be able to apply professional communication skills, both oral and written.
- Students will be able to demonstrate their technological, quantitative and computer skills in analyzing and resolving business problems.

Program Description

Andrews University has chosen to explore a collaboration between the School of Business Administration and the Department of Social Work in the College of Arts & Sciences to prepare students for service in occupations where social work and an MBA intersect. Social Workers, particularly those in the areas of Administration and Development Social Work, may have an interest in administrative work. In such situations, the MBA could equip them with a complementary skill set. Likewise, MBA students may find themselves in situations where social work skills in counseling and therapy would be useful, especially if they work in the not-for-profit sector. In addition, the MSW/MBA collaborative allows for a greater breadth of employment opportunities for students.

Since both the MSW and MBA programs reduce the total credits in order to reduce costs and achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be received simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree. In the event that a student decides to drop out of the dual degree program, the requirements for the single degree must be completed in their entirety.

The MBA is a 33 credit degree, but it will share 5 credits with the MSW program, accepting 3 MSW credits as an elective (SOWK 630 or 660 which are taken under the MSW core), plus 2 MSW credits as part of the MBA ethics requirement (SOWK 515 from the MSW core). Likewise, the MSW is a 56 credit degree, but it will share 10 credits with the MBA program and accept 10 MBA credits as electives. This reduces the total credits for both degrees from 89 to 74.

MSW

- Human Biology or Anatomy and Physiology—3 credits (or pass non-credit equivalency course)
- Communications/Language Skills (foreign languages, speech, grammar, linguistics, written communication, media)—6 credits
- Social and Behavioral Science (sociology, anthropology, psychology, social psychology, diversity)—8 credits
- Humanities/History (philosophy, religion, arts, government, political science, economics, or literature)—14 credits
- Previous computer skills, either in course work (1 or more credits) or extensive hands-on experience evidenced by the Computer Skills Assessment Form.

Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT)

The GMAT admission requirements must be met for regular admission status. The student may not enroll for any graduate-level business credits (courses assigned as 515 or above) before the GMAT requirement is met. If the student chooses to waive the GMAT based on number 2 below, this must be done within the first semester of the MBA program.

Admission GMAT requirements can be obtained by ONE of the following:

- Attain formula score of 1,000 points, calculated by taking the undergraduate cumulative GPA X 200 + GMAT score ≥ 1,000.

OR

- Five years of documented and approved related work experience and earned a grade of at least of B- in statistics and a grade of at least B- in pre-calculus algebra.

OR

- On-campus Andrews University undergraduate business students with a cumulative GPA ≥ 3.0 and earned a grade of at least a B- in statistics and a grade of at least B- in pre-calculus algebra.

OR

- GPA ≥ 3.25 from a U.S. accredited institution.

GPA Requirements

Applicants must satisfy one of the criteria below:

- Have an overall GPA of at least 2.75 in undergraduate courses.
- Have a GPA of at least 2.75 on last 50% of undergraduate courses.
- Have a graduate GPA of at least 3.5 on 8 semester credits or more earned in courses graded A-F.
- Hold a previous master's degree.

Professional Resume

All applicants must submit a separate, attached copy of their complete professional resume with their application. Completing the "Professional History" section within the application will not be considered sufficient for acceptance to School of Business Administration graduate programs.

English Language Requirements

In addition to the English language requirements under Graduate Academic Policies, note also the requirements listed below.

- Nelson Denny - score of 13

Personal interview with MSW program director or designee

Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after committee consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional course work in English may be required.

A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Maintaining Academic Standing

All graduate students are expected to maintain a 3.00 GPA in all graduate courses that apply to the degree requirements.

No grade of D or F (or U) may be used to satisfy degree requirements; however, these grades are included when computing the cumulative GPA and, if they occur in courses normally meeting degree requirements, the degree GPA.

Students admitted under provisional status (due to lack of prerequisites, GMAT, etc.) must make regular progress toward achieving regular enrollment status and toward completion of their selected graduate degree. If insufficient progress is made, provisional status will be revoked after four enrolled semesters.

Regular admission status must be met no later than the semester before the last semester in which the student expects to enroll, prior to graduation

Program Accreditation

The Master of Business Administration is accredited by the International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education (IACBE), located in Lenexa, Kansas.

The Master of Social Work program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) located in Alexandria, Virginia.

Mission

The Department of Accounting, Economics & Finance offers majors that are intellectually stimulating, professionally challenging, and rewarding. We endeavor to provide the best preparation possible for careers in business, government, academia, and the church.

The faculty seeks to provide students with training and education which will qualify them for employment in a multicultural and global environment. A Christian education encourages an awareness of moral and ethical responsibilities in one's personal and professional life. It is in this context that the department holds up Jesus Christ as the best model for personal responsibility and development and seeks to encourage its students to follow His example.

Bachelors

Accounting BBA

Accounting is concerned primarily with (1) measuring income, expenditures, and wealth generated by a business enterprise, and (2) communicating information about the financial condition of economic organizations and the results of their financial activities. Thus, accounting is the language of business—the backbone of the free enterprise system.

The accounting major is designed to meet the needs of students preparing for accounting careers in business, government, not-for-profit organizations, or public accounting, including those who desire to secure, through state examination, the status of Certified Public Accountant (CPA) or that of Certified Management Accountant (CMA).

Students planning to sit for the CPA exam should consult their state's Board of Public Accountancy before planning their accounting program. Each state has its own rules, regulations, and specific course requirements. Assistance may be obtained from the Accounting faculty. This program is designed to meet the educational requirements to take the CPA examination in Michigan. 150 credit hours are required for CPA certification.

Economics

ECON 208 - Principles of Economics

Credits: 3
This course is designed to offer non-economics major students a broad understanding of the world around them at both a microeconomic and a macroeconomic level. Firm decision-making tools and consumer choice mechanisms will be studied. More specifically, the role of the market and its structures will be analyzed through the theory of supply and demand, including price and quantity determination, price elasticity, and the role of government in regulating market size and in addressing market failures. Production function, profit maximization conditions, and the basics of firm behavior will help the student to understand some aspects of the firm decision-making process. At a macroeconomic level, several aggregate variables will be studied, including GDP, the consumer price index, the monetary system, and economic policies implementation. This course may not be used to satisfy requirements for an undergraduate business degree.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

ECON 225 - Principles of Macroeconomics

Mission

Andrews University's Department of Aviation develops aviation professionals, empowered to engage and lead in the adventure of the aviation industry and Christ's worldwide mission.

Programs

For the aviation professional, the most competitive aviation program emphasizes both flight and maintenance. Therefore, the Department of Aviation strongly recommends completing a degree with both Flight and Aviation Maintenance emphases. Students wishing to enter a non-flying aviation career, may limit their specialization to Aviation Maintenance. Two programs are available: A four-year Bachelor in Aviation, and a two-year Associate in Aviation. Students may select from available emphases for their area of study.

The Airpark is located about one mile from the central campus. Students should plan to arrange their own transportation to and from the airport.

Students are required to have an iPad (see Department of Aviation Charges). Credit by exam will only be approved for new students transferring in with previous FAA certificates subject to departmental approval.

In addition to tuition, flight lab fees apply to all flight training courses (see Department of Aviation Charges).

Admission into the flight program starts in the fall semester only.

Graduation Requirements

A Private Pilot Certificate, Instrument Rating, and a Commercial Pilot Certificate with Single and Multi-Engine Ratings are required for graduation.

Certificates

FAA Certification

FAA-Approved Instruction. The Department of Aviation operates a Flight School under 14CFR Part 61 and Part 141, as well as an Airframe and Powerplant Maintenance Technician School approved by the FAA under Title 14 CFR, Part 147.

FAA Flight Certification Programs. Qualifying students may take flight instruction for the following levels of certification:

- Private Pilot
- Instrument Rating
- Commercial Pilot
- Flight Instructor
- Multi-Engine Rating
- Multi-Engine Flight Instructor
- Instrument Flight Instructor
- Airline Transport Pilot

FAA Aviation Maintenance Certification Programs. Students may earn the following FAA approved certificates from the department's Part 147 Aviation Maintenance Technician School:

- Airframe
- Powerplant

Aviation Flight

AFLT 104 - Introduction to Aviation

Credits: 1–4
Acquaints students with the history and opportunities in aviation, such as mission flying, flight instruction, aircraft maintenance, avionics, sales, safety, and aerodynamics of flight.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 4 credits
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall, Spring
College Code: SBA

AFLT 110 - Basic Aircraft Systems

Credits: 3
The study of small aircraft systems, including: reciprocating engines, propellers and prop governors; fuel, electrical, hydraulic, pressurization, pneumatic and de-icing systems, flight controls, aircraft structures, weight and balance, and aircraft instrument systems. Also included will be pilot maintenance and a brief introduction of the FAA requirements for maintenance, inspections and recordkeeping.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SBA

AFLT 115 - Private Pilot Ground School

Credits: 4
Ground training to prepare students for the FAA private pilot airplane knowledge test. Topics include aerodynamics, weight and balance, Federal Aviation Regulations, navigation, meteorology, aircraft systems and performance.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SBA

AFLT 121 - Flight Training 1

Credits: 3
This course is the first part of the private pilot flight training and includes the flight training up through solo flight. Student MUST have a Pilot Medical Certificate/Student Pilot Certificate, obtained through an Aviation Medical Examiner, prior to registering for the course.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 1-hour lectures and three 2-hour flight blocks
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Corequisite(s): The student must be currently enrolled in AFLT 115 or have passed the private pilot knowledge test.
Schedule Type: Flight Training
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AFLT 122 - Flight Training 2

Credits: 3
This course is the last half of the flight training in preparation for taking the FAA Private Pilot Practical Exam. The FAA Medical and Student Pilot Certificate required in AFLT121 must be valid.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 1-hour lectures and two 2-hour flight blocks
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): AFLT 121 and have passed the FAA Private pilot knowledge test.
Schedule Type: Flight Training
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AFLT 215 - Instrument Pilot Ground School

Credits: 4
Ground training to prepare the student for the FAA instrument rating airplane knowledge test. Topics include Federal Aviation Regulations, meteorology, instrument flight charts, flight planning, instrument approaches, use of navigation equipment, and FAA publications relating to instrument flight.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Corequisite(s): AFLT 226
Prerequisite(s): AFLT 115
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AFLT 220 - Meteorology

Credits: 3
Meteorology provides students with a comprehensive study of the principles of meteorology while simultaneously providing classroom and laboratory applications focused on current weather situations. It provides real experiences demonstrating the value of computers and electronic access to time sensitive data and information.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AFLT 226 - Flight Training 3

Credits: 3
This course is the introduction to attitude instrument flight in preparation for taking the FAA Instrument Rating. Weekly: One 1-hour lecture and two 2-hour flight blocks. The FAA Medical is required.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: one 1-hour lecture and two 2-hour flight blocks
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Flight Training
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AFLT 227 - Flight Training 4

Credits: 3
This course completes the preparation for taking the FAA Instrument Pilot Rating Practical Exam. The FAA Medical is required. A valid instrument Airplane Written exam must be on file prior to starting this course.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 1-hour lectures and three 2-hour flight blocks
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): AFLT 226 and have passed the FAA Instrument knowledge test.
Schedule Type: Flight Training
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AFLT 230 - Aerodynamics

Credits: 3
The study of aerodynamic principles used in aircraft. Designed for a better understanding of basic design and devices used to improve aircraft performance.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SBA

AFLT 300 - Aviation Safety Management

Credits: 3
The study of physiological and psychological factors related to flight safety, emphasizing cause-and-effect of airplane accidents and their prevention. Includes a systems approach to safety program development and management.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): Private Pilots License
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AFLT 305 - Commercial Pilot Ground School

Credits: 4
Ground training to prepare the student for the FAA commercial-pilot airplane knowledge test. Topics include advanced navigation, FAR Parts 61, 91, and 135 for air taxi, complex aircraft systems, weight and balance, and performance charts.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Corequisite(s): AFLT 321
Prerequisite(s): AFLT 215 , AFLT 226
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SBA

AFLT 310 - Advanced Systems

Credits: 3
The study of transport category aircraft systems, including: turbine engines, APUs, fuel, electrical, hydraulic, pneumatic, environmental control, emergency oxygen, pressurization, de-icing systems, and advanced avionics systems. Particular emphasis will be placed on preparing for airline systems ground school.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): AFLT 305.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AFLT 321 - Flight Training 5

Credits: 3
This course is the introduction to commercial airplane flight introducing commercial pilot maneuvers, and building night and cross-country experience. The FAA Medical is required.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 1-hour lectures and three 2-hour flight blocks
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): AFLT 227
Schedule Type: Flight Training
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AFLT 322 - Flight Training 6

Credits: 3
This course continues the commercial pilot training covering, upset training, tail wheel and building additional night and cross-country experience with the emphasis on solo flight. The FAA Medical is required.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 1-hour lectures and three 2-hour flight blocks
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): AFLT 321 and have passed the FAA Single Engine Land Commercial knowledge test.
Schedule Type: Flight Training
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AFLT 323 - Flight Training 7

Credits: 3
This course continues the student for the Commercial Pilot Rating. Complex aircraft operations are introduced and additional experience in cross-country and commercial pilot maneuvers are included. The FAA Medical is required.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 1-hour lectures and three 2-hour flight blocks
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): AFLT 322 and have passed the FAA Single Engine Land Commercial knowledge test.
Schedule Type: Flight Training
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AFLT 324 - Flight Training 8

Credits: 3
This course completes the preparation for taking the FAA Commercial Airplane Land Pilot Rating Practical Exam and the Certified Flight Instructor Rating. Final refinement of commercial maneuvers, including right seat proficiency is included. The FAA Medical is required.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 1-hour lectures and three 2-hour flight blocks
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): AFLT 323 and have passed the FAA Single Engine Land Commercial knowledge test.
Schedule Type: Flight Training
Term Offering: Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AFLT 335 - Aerodynamics

Credits: 3

The study of aerodynamic principles used in aircraft. Designed for a better understanding of basic design and devices used to improve aircraft performance.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): AFLT 115

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SBA

AFLT 340 - Airspace and Air Traffic Control

Credits: 3

Examines how instrument flight operations function within the FAA air traffic control system. Study of air traffic controller roles, procedures, and regulatory requirements for instrument operations in the terminal and enroute air traffic environment.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite/Corequisite: AFLT 227, AFLT 321, AFLT 220 (may be taken concurrently)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SBA

AFLT 355 - Flight Instructor Ground School

Credits: 2

Ground training to prepare the student for the FAA flight instructor airplane knowledge test. Topics include techniques of teaching, analysis of maneuvers, and lesson planning.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 2-hour lab

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: SBA

AFLT 356 - Flight Instructor Flight Training

Credits: 1,2

Flight and ground training to prepare the student for the FAA flight instructor airplane practical test. Topics include the performance, teaching, and analysis of flight maneuvers required for the private and commercial airplane pilot (2 cr. for initial CFI; 1 cr. for CFI add-on).

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): AFLT 355 , FAA written tests passed: Fundamentals of Instruction, Flight Instructor-Airplane, FAA commercial pilots license with an instrument rating.

Schedule Type: Flight

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: SBA

AFLT 364 - Basic and Advanced Ground Instructor

Credits: 2

Prepares the student for the FAA basic and advanced ground instructor knowledge test. Topics include techniques of teaching aerodynamics, aircraft performance, aircraft systems, weight and balance, meteorology, navigation, and regulations.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: SBA

AFLT 365 - Instrument Flight Instructor Ground School

Credits: 2

Prepares the student for the FAA instrument flight instructor knowledge test. Topics include techniques of teaching instrument flight, analysis of instrument maneuvers, instrument approaches, enroute operations, regulations, and lesson planning.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 2-hour lab

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): AFLT 366

Prerequisite(s): AFLT 355

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: SBA

AFLT 366 - Instrument Flight Instructor Flight Training

Credits: 1,2

Flight and ground training to prepare the student for the FAA instrument flight instructor airplane practical test. Topics include the performance, teaching, and analysis of attitude instruments, instrument approaches, and enroute operations. (2 cr. for initial; 1 cr. for add-on.)

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): AFLT 356 , FAA written test passed - Flight Instructor - Instrument

Schedule Type: Flight

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: SBA

AFLT 410 - Aviation Law

Credits: 3

Legal principles governing the aviation industry, historical precedents, regulatory statutes, standards, contracts, liability and insurance. Current developments and court decisions.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): Commercial Pilot or Maintenance Certificates.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SBA

AFLT 415 - Basic Physiology for Pilots

Credits: 3

Flight Physiology Effects of high altitude flight on the human body, flying and health, first aid and survival. Attention will also be given to information processing and perception in flight.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): FAA Commercial Pilot or Maintenance Certificates

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SBA

AFLT 416 - Turbine Transition

Credits: 2

Ground and simulator training to prepare the student to work in a multiple crew aircraft operating under FAR Part 121 and 135. Topics include crew checklist usage and standard operating procedures (SOPs).

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Flight

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: SBA

AFLT 426 - Multiengine Flight Training

Credits: 1

Flight instruction in a multi-engine aircraft in preparation for the FAA multi-engine rating. The FAA Medical is required.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: one 1-hour lecture and two 2-hour flight blocks

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): FAA Single Engine Land Commercial

Schedule Type: Flight Training

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: SBA

AFLT 427 - Multiengine Flight

Credits: 1

30 hours of additional experience in multiengine aircraft with a focus on cross country and instrument experience. The FAA Medical is required.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 2-hour flight blocks

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): FAA Single Engine Land Commercial

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Flight Training

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: SBA

AFLT 430 - Crew Resource Management

Credits: 3

Study of the effective use of resources available to the crew to achieve safe and efficient flight operations. Areas include human factors, communication, conflict resolution, leadership, teamwork, and situational awareness as applied to flight operations.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): FAA Commercial Pilots Certificate and an Instrument Rating or by permission of the instructor.
Schedule Type: Flight
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AFLT 467 - Multi-Engine Flight Instructor

Credits: 1,2
Flight and ground training to prepare the student for the FAA multi-engine airplane flight instructor practical test. Topics include the performance, teaching, and analysis of maneuvers and procedures for the multi-engine airplane (2 cr. for initial CFI; 1 cr. for CFI add-on).

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): Commercial Pilots Certificate with Multiengine Rating, CFI or CFII.
Schedule Type: Flight
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AFLT 469 - Instrument Ground Instructor

Credits: 2
Prepares the student for the FAA instrument ground instructor knowledge test. Topics include the techniques of teaching advanced weather theory, weather reports and forecasts, instrument procedures and regulations, approaches, and enroute operations.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): AFLT 355 , AFLT 364 or CFI
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AFLT 474 - Techniques of Mission Flying

Credits: 3
Develops special piloting skills required in remote undeveloped bush operations. Topics include pilotage, dead reckoning, GPS navigation, low-level operations, terrain flying, mountain passes and canyons, cargo drops, short fields, uphill and downhill operations on primitive airstrips, maximum performance techniques, and precision airplane control.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): Commercial Pilots Certificate
Schedule Type: Flight
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AFLT 485 - Airline Transport Pilot Ground School

Credits: 3
Prepares the student for the FAA airline transport pilot knowledge test. Topics include air-carrier or air-taxi regulations, high altitude weather, advanced weight and balance, and the performance and special problems in large airplane operations.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): Commercial Pilots Certificate
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AFLT 486 - Airline Transport Pilot Flight Training

Credits: 3
Flight and ground training to prepare the student for the FAA airline transport pilot airplane practical test. Topics include instrument procedures, in-flight maneuvers, take-offs, landings, advanced airplane systems, and emergency procedures.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): Commercial Pilots Certificate
Schedule Type: Flight
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: SBA

AVIA 140 - Welding Technology

Credits: 2
Oxyacetylene and electric welding processes including oxyacetylene welding, cutting, and brazing; basic shielded metal arc welding and basic gas metal arc welding. A limited amount of out-of-position welding will be stressed.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SBA

AVIA 200 - Aviation Forum

Credits: 0
A bi-weekly seminar giving instruction in Aviation Safety and Operational Control. Required of all aviation majors. Students must register for this class each semester in residence.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall, Spring
College Code: SBA

AVIA 250 - Machine Shop

Credits: 3,4
Basic set-up and operation of lathes, milling machines, grinders, drilling machines, and shapers; safety, machine maintenance, off-hand grinding, drill sharpening, layout, and inspection emphasized.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AVIA 275 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1-4
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SBA

AVIA 285 - Project Course

Credits: 1-4
Development of a skill in a given area of technology under the supervision of the instructor.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Prerequisite(s): Permission of instructor.
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 12 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
Term Offering: Fall, Spring
College Code: SBA

AVIA 294 - Cooperative Work Experience

Credits: 1-3
Work experience with an aviation organization or airline. A minimum of 120 hours of work required per credit.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Prerequisite(s): Permission of the department.
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: SBA

AVIA 296 - Independent Study

Credits: 1-3
Enables students to pursue topics in aviation not offered in other scheduled courses.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Prerequisite(s): Permission of the department.
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 4 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: SBA

AVIA 390 - Internship

Aviation

Credits: 1–4
On-the-job internship experience for those students seeking industrial experience which cannot be simulated in a classroom setting. A range of 120–150 clock hours of work are required for each credit. Selected in consultation with the student's advisor.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: SBA

AVIA 395 - Practicum

Credits: 1–4
Lab or on-the-job experience to build skills in a specific area of technology.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): Permission of department.
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: SBA

AVIA 460 - Program Continuation

Credits: 0
Aviation students may register for this title while clearing deferred grade (DG) and/or incomplete (I) classes, or working to complete practical tests in the flight and/or maintenance programs. This course qualifies for full-time status, requiring a minimum of 540 hours of work per semester of registration. .

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Course Attribute: Full-time status

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/o 'I' (S,U,W)
Prerequisite(s): Permission of advisor and department chair.
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: SBA

AVIA 470 - Project Course

Credits: 1–4
Development of a skill in a given area of technology under the supervision of the instructor.

Aviation Maintenance

AVMT 108 - Applied Science for Aerospace Technicians

Credits: 4
Applies the sciences of mathematics and physics to the aerodynamics of flight, maintenance, weight and balance and various maintenance problems that the aircraft maintenance technician could encounter. Includes the study and use of drawings and basic ground operations. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
330

Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SBA

AVMT 114 - Aircraft Basic Electricity

Credits: 2
A study of the fundamental basics of electricity and electronics; including electrical diagrams, calculations, sources of electrical power, direct and alternating current, aircraft storage batteries, capacitance and inductance, binary code and the basics of solid state logic. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SBA

AVMT 116 - Federal Regulations, Publications, Forms and Records

Credits: 2
Study of the federal regulations and manufacturer publications as they apply to aircraft design, maintenance, inspections, forms and records, and the certification and privileges/limitations of the aviation maintenance technicians. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SBA

AVMT 120 - Materials and Processes for Aircraft Structures

Credits: 4
Includes hand and power tool usage, aircraft hardware and materials, precision measurements, corrosion control, nondestructive testing, and fluid lines and fittings. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: SBA

AVMT 204 - Aircraft Electrical Systems

Credits: 2
Practical study of aircraft electrical systems, including installation practices, repair, troubleshooting, service, and inspections. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AVMT 206 - Powerplant Electrical Systems

Credits: 4
A study of engine ignition and engine electrical systems: starter, generators, alternators, auxiliary electrical power units and their control circuits, engine instruments, and engine fire protection suppression systems. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AVMT 210 - Aircraft Systems

Credits: 4
An in-depth study into the inspection, repair, checking, servicing and troubleshooting of the following aircraft systems; ice-and rain detection, cabin atmosphere (pressurization, heating, cooling, and oxygen), position warning systems, navigation and communication systems, and aircraft instruments and their use in trouble-shooting of aircraft systems. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: SBA

AVMT 220 - Aircraft Fuels and Fuel Systems

Credits: 2

A study of the various types and handling of fuels used in aircraft. Includes a study of aircraft fuel systems, fuel metering methods and the inspection, checking, servicing, troubleshooting, repair and overhaul of fuel systems and their components, and fire detection and protection. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Studio

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SBA

AVMT 226 - Engine Fuel Metering Systems

Credits: 2

A study of the engine side of the fuel systems (firewall forward). Includes an in-depth study of fuel-metering devices used on aircraft engines (carburetors, pressure carburetors, direct and continuous fuel-injection systems). Service, maintenance, repair and trouble-shooting of each different system type is covered in detail. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Studio

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SBA

AVMT 228 - Maintenance: General, Airframe, or Power Plant

Review

Credits: 1-3

A review of all subjects from a selected curriculum. A minimum of five examinations per curriculum area is required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): All applicable curriculum subjects must have been completed.

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 3 credits

Schedule Type: Studio

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: SBA

AVMT 237 - Aircraft Hydraulic, Pneumatic, and Landing Gear Systems

Credits: 4

Operation and maintenance of aircraft hydraulic systems, pneumatic systems, landing-gear systems, and the inspection, checking, servicing, trouble-shooting, and repair of these systems and system components. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Studio

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SBA

AVMT 304 - Aircraft Metal Structures

Credits: 4

A study and application of the processes used in the fabrication and repair of aircraft metal structures. Welding theory and practice with emphasis on weld-quality identification. Riveted, aircraft, aluminum, sheet-metal structures including the fabrication and repair of such structures. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Studio

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: SBA

AVMT 306 - Aircraft Non-metal Structures

Credits: 2

A study of wood and fabric as used in the construction of aircraft and a study of the methods, tooling, inspection, processes, and repair of composite aircraft structures. Includes the application, identification, and functions of aircraft protective finishes. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Studio

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SBA

AVMT 308 - Aircraft Assembly, Rigging and Inspections

Credits: 2

Study of the nomenclature and design features of both fixed-wing and rotor-wing aircraft and the assembly, alignment of aircraft structures, and rigging and balancing of control system. A detailed inspection of the entire aircraft or rotorcraft is covered as it applies to the airframe 100-hour and other required inspection. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Studio

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SBA

AVMT 310 - Gas Turbine Engines

Credits: 4

Principles and theory of jet-engine propulsion, design, types of, and associated systems. Maintenance, overhaul, installation-removal, repair, trimming, and troubleshooting of turbine engines. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Studio

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: SBA

AVMT 314 - Aircraft Propellers and Engine Inspections

Credits: 3

Theory and limited work on propellers, both wood and metal. Encompasses fixed, adjustable, controllable, feathering, reversible, and the control of the latter by mechanical, hydromatic, or electrical control systems. The inspection practice of performing the 100-hour inspection on aircraft engines and propellers. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Studio

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SBA

AVMT 316 - Reciprocating Engine Systems and Overhaul

Credits: 7

A study of reciprocating engine theory, overhaul methods, and practices and the installation of reciprocating engines. Also includes a study of the following engine systems: exhaust, cooling, induction, and lubrication. FAA 14CFR part 147 approved classes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Bachelors

Information Systems BBA

Information Systems (IS) combine computer hardware, software and telecommunication networks with people who use them. It is the link between the technical specialist and specialists in the field where the technology is applied. Communication skills and a good understanding of management, organizational behavior and business practices are critical in designing and maintaining a successful information systems.

The Information Systems major is designed to produce graduates equipped with the ability to integrate information systems into the business environment, to explore methods of leveraging business functions through information systems, and to function in entry-level, information systems positions with a basis for continued career growth. The curriculum reflects input from both industry and universities and responds to industry requests for increased emphasis in technical orientation and improved skills for managers in strategic uses of information systems.

Business Major Course/GPA Requirements

Students must complete the required and elective major courses (27 credits) with a minimum GPA of 2.33 (C+). The GPA is figured including all courses attempted—even those in which a D is received and which, therefore, do not apply towards the 27 credits of the major.

All information systems majors must obtain a C minimum grade in ACCT 122.

Cognates—3

STAT 285 - Elementary Statistics Credits: 3

General Electives—13

Sufficient credits to complete the 124 credits required for graduation.

Andrews Core Experience - 42

Students must take all courses designated in the Andrews Core Experience: Professional Degrees while noting the following approved course substitutions. Note: if a student changes to another degree program, these course substitutions will no longer apply even if already completed.

Religion

RELT 340 - Religion and Ethics in Modern Society Credits: 3
Or RELT 390 - Christian Business Ethics Credits: 3

Or SOCI 119 - Principles of Sociology Credits: 3

Additional Requirements

Transfer Credits

The School of Business Administration does not accept 100-200 level courses (i.e. lower division) as transfer work to replace 300-400 level courses (i.e. upper division).

Residence Requirement

Students must complete in residence in the School of Business Administration at Andrews University a minimum of 50% (33 credits) of the course work for the BBA degree (66 credits=39 credits in the BBA core + 27 credits in BBA required/elective major courses).

Program Objectives

Program Outcomes

- Students will be able to identify the major theory and concepts of business across business functional areas.
- Students will be able to incorporate relevant quantitative and qualitative data in the analysis.
- Students will be able to identify relevant business theories in analyzing business issues and apply appropriate theories in addressing business problems.

- Students will be able to identify Christian perspectives when approaching business issues and understand the Judea-Christian foundation of personal and professional integrity, accountability, and experience positive spiritual growth.

Major Outcomes

- Students will be able to demonstrate the major concepts, theory, and practice of their specific Concentration in Information Systems.
- Students will be able to demonstrate that the rigor and content of their Information Systems courses adequately prepared them for their careers in business.
- Students in Information Systems will be able to articulate that their understanding of Christian Principles and ethics related positively to their professional careers.

Management BBA

Program Description

Management is a broad-based discipline. The faculty offers courses for students who desire either a specific business emphasis within management or a general business degree. Most management graduates enter into an internship or training program where they can integrate their general business skills with specific job responsibilities.

Since management is a broad field, variation is allowed in academic programs. Management majors are urged to focus their course work in an area of concentration.

Marketing BBA

Organizations from every area of business are driven by marketing and its concepts. Marketing monitors and investigates the changing needs of businesses and non-profit organizations. Marketers then create a product/service designed to meet these needs including determining the price, distribution pattern and promotional plan. Marketing provides a well-rounded business education for those considering opening their own business or for careers in areas such as advertising and promotion, retail or marketing management, marketing research, sales, or international business. The marketing curriculum helps students attain general marketing skills as well as those needed for developing marketing strategies and policies.

Introduction

Mission Statement

The School of Distance Education and International Partnerships extends access to Adventist education beyond campus, community and national boundaries. We support our faculty and students around the world by promoting best practices in distance education and international partnerships, and by creating a virtual community designed to nurture learning.

The School of Distance Education and International Partnerships serves Andrews University by providing leadership, faculty and student support, and professional resources in the following areas: educational technology, distance education, compliance and off-campus programs. The School of Distance Education and International Partnerships also operates the Consortium of Adventist Colleges and Universities, Griggs University and Griggs International Academy.

Core Values

To accomplish our mission, the School of Distance Education and International Partnerships is committed to these core values:

Excellence: We view each student as a special creation, endowed by God with individual talents and abilities that we encourage them to develop by providing a quality, academically rigorous Seventh-day Adventist Christian education at all levels.

Respect: We believe that it is our responsibility to uplift one another by demonstrating respect and consideration for all parents, students, and educators through learning that is student-centered and redemptive, and customer service that is helpful and friendly.

Integrity: We recognize that mutual trust rests upon a foundation of honesty and transparency. We are honest and straightforward in our dealings, both business and academic, and expect no less from our parents, students, and faculty.

Community: We believe that a safe learning environment and an accepting community are important to effective learning, especially in distance education. We strive to create a learning community where all participants (parents, students, faculty, and administrators) feel valued and understand that they are part of a team by providing opportunities for constructive interaction, and sharing of experiences.

History

Griggs University/Griggs International Academy began its work in 1909, when the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists voted to offer correspondence courses to meet the needs of its members and workers who were unable to attend a traditional campus-based school or college. GU/GIA was originally called Fireside Correspondence School and was founded by Frederick Griggs, one of the pioneer educational leaders of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

In 2009, the Seventh-day Adventist Church leadership formed a Commission on Distance Education Models and Structure. The intent of the commission was to conduct an in-depth investigation of current best practices for distance education and make recommendations to the Church on the possibility to using distance education to meet the needs of the worldwide constituency.

In 2010, the Commission brought a recommendation to the General Council and to Niels-Erik Andreasen, president of Andrews University, that ownership of Griggs University be transferred to Andrews University. During the summer of 2010, Andrews University faculty and administration met and deliberated on the impact that ownership of Griggs would make upon the University structure.

At the October 26, 2010, meeting of the Andrews University Board, it was voted to accept the gift of Griggs University and Griggs International Academy. The School of Distance Education and International Partnerships is now located in Griggs Hall, which used to be the Lake Union Office.

Online Campus

The School of Distance Education and International Partnerships provides support and oversight for all online courses, degrees and programs offered by Andrews University.

Online Delivery Modes

Andrews University modes and definitions of distance education are based on the United States federal distance education definitions and the North Central Association Higher Learning Commission definitions of distance education.

Distance Education Programs are defined by the total package delivery of learning experiences included in the degree. Distance education includes any learning experiences that are not located at any Andrews campus, such as online courses, dissertations, independent studies, clinicals, etc. Distance programs have limited learning time on campus.

Distance Education Courses are defined by the NCA-HLC Definition: "Distance-delivered courses are those in which all or the vast majority (typically 75% or more) of the instruction and interaction occurs via electronic communication, correspondence, or equivalent mechanisms, with the faculty and students physically separated from each other."

Distance Degree Students are accepted into Distance programs. Distance guest students are admitted to register for courses for transfer or personal development. Andrews University offers three types of distance education course formats:

Self-paced courses are offered where instructional materials and examinations are provided by mail or electronic transmission to students who are separated from the instructor. Interaction between the instructor and the student is limited and is primarily initiated by the student. Self-paced courses may be delivered via paper; via electronic means such as email or a learning management system, or via DVDs, podcasts, streaming or similar one-way media transmission. Andrews offers two types of self-paced courses. (This definition aligns with the federal definition for correspondence courses.)

Self-paced open learning courses are open for registration at any time and must be completed within 180 days of the start date.

Self-paced full term courses follow registration rules for standard semester terms. Students must complete half of the class by the midpoint of the semester, and must complete the full course by the end of the semester. Self-paced full term courses are eligible for financial aid; while self-paced open learning courses are not.

Interactive online courses use the Internet to deliver instruction to students who are separate from the instructor. Interactive online courses use the Internet to support regular and substantive interaction between the students and the instructor. This regular substantive interaction includes a significant amount of interaction initiated by the instructor. Interactive online courses may use synchronous (real-time) meetings, or an asynchronous paced format. Technologies may include: The Internet, satellite or room-based videoconferencing, web-conferencing, audio-conferencing, or web-based videoconferencing. DVDs, podcasts, streaming and similar one way media may be used only if they are used in conjunction with another technology that facilitates regular and substantive interaction between students and the instructor. (This aligns with the federal definition for distance education.)

Blended learning courses include some time where the faculty and students are physically separated from each other and additional time where the faculty and students are in the same location. Blended learning scenarios include a face-to-face class that has reduced face-to-face time replaced with extended online assignments or a short intense face-to-face time supplemented with online learning activities. The blended learning course format uses the online activities to ensure that the course meets the credit hour definition requirements. The online portion of this type of course must meet the description of interactive online courses listed above. (This aligns with the federal definition for distance education.) Tours and intensives are also classified at Andrews University as a form of blended learning.

Online Degrees

Andrews University offers two types of online degrees: interactive online and self-paced. (See Definitions section above.) All online programs must be approved by the School of Distance Education and International Partnerships.

Interactive Online Degrees

These programs are comprised of courses offered via the interactive online format. Courses have specific start and end dates. Some programs include minimal on-campus components, while some programs are entirely online. See the individual degree pages for more details.

Online Financial Information

Fees and tuition for distance programs of study are listed in the Financial Information section.

Withdrawals and refunds for interactive and self-paced full term online courses follows on-campus policy. The self-paced open learning calendar includes all details for the alternate withdrawal and refund deadlines for this type of course only. All withdrawals after the last day to drop or add a course require a drop/add form submitted to the Office of Academic Records. Distance undergraduate students can email sderegister@andrews.edu to request assistance with this procedure. Graduate students may email graduate@andrews.edu.

Mixed Course Load

Course load rules are the same for students taking courses on-campus or online. Students taking a mixed load need to be aware of these financial considerations:

If paying without federal financial aid, students may register for any type of course.

Self-paced open learning courses are not eligible for federal financial aid. Financial aid from sources other than Andrews University may be applied toward the costs of self-paced open learning courses.

Andrews Partnership Scholarship/Andrews Gift cannot be used to pay for either self-paced full term or self-paced open learning courses.

Self-paced courses, both full term and open learning, are not included in the package plan. If an undergraduate student is taking 12 regularly priced on-campus credits and wants to add a self-paced course of either type, they will pay the package price for the 12 credits and $385 per credit for any self-paced classes added.

Federal Financial Aid

Federal financial aid may be available to Andrews University degree-seeking students if the following conditions are met:

A student must be admitted to a program that leads to an associate's, bachelor's or graduate degree. If the program leads to a certificate or credits are taken for transfer to another university degree, the student is not eligible for aid for that course.

The courses are registered by the drop/add date for the on-campus term.

A minimum of 6 credits are registered. Course load determines your Financial Aid eligibility.

The courses are completed within the semester they are registered.

Federal financial aid is not available to guest or non-degree students.

If you use Federal financial aid and need to repeat a course, review the Repeating Classes section of the General Academic Policies, then discuss this with your Student Financial Services advisor before re-registering.

Registration and Course Information

Online courses are offered in one or more of three formats: interactive, self-paced full term, and self-paced open learning. See the Online Courses listing above for a complete list of Andrews' online courses.

Interactive Online Courses

Interactive online courses have fixed start and end dates, assignment and exam due dates, and are eligible for federal financial aid. Instructors set assignment deadlines and create an interactive learning community. Interactive online courses are usually indicated in the course schedule with the section number of 999 (additional sections may end in 998, 997, etc.), with schedule attribute 'interactive online'. To view all courses of this type, filter the course schedule by Schedule Attribute interactive online in the Term selected. All main campus course registration policies and Academic Calendar [beta] deadlines relating to the term or part of term in which the course is offered apply to interactive online courses.

Self-Paced Full Term Online Courses

Self-paced full term courses have fixed start and end dates, flexible assignment schedules and fixed midterm and final exam due dates, and are eligible for federal financial aid. Students set assignment schedules for each half of the term; but must complete the first half by midterm; and the second half by the final exam. Self-paced full term courses are usually indicated in the course schedule with the 902 section number. To view all courses of this type, filter the course schedule by Schedule Attribute self-paced and Part of Term full term in the term selected. All main campus course registration policies and Academic Calendar [beta] deadlines relating to term or part of term in which the course is offered apply to self-paced full term online courses.

Self-Paced Open Learning Online Courses

Self-paced open learning courses can be started at any time, are student-paced, and are not eligible for federal financial aid. Self-paced open learning courses are usually indicated in the course schedule with the 901 section number. To view all courses of this type, filter the course schedule by Schedule Attribute self-paced and Part of Term open learning in the term selected. All main campus course registration policies apply to self-paced open learning courses other than those reflecting specific deadlines. Students have 180 days from the student-selected start date to complete undergraduate self-paced courses. Registration for self-paced courses follows the Self-Paced Calendar. Note that the start date selected by the student during the registration process determines the term (spring, summer, fall) in which the self-paced open learning course is recorded for transcript purposes.

Registration Holds

There are several types of holds on the registration process. Information about what to do to remove a hold is available when logged in to your personal iVue page.

Holds for health, insurance, bookstore, and residence halls do not apply to students registering in distance courses only.

Holds for international deposits and visas do not apply to international students who are only taking courses off-campus.

International graduate students coming to campus for one month or less do not pay the international deposit, but will require visas and insurance as listed in this bulletin for on-campus programs.

Student Responsibility and Contacts

It is always the student's responsibility to:

Consult the University bulletin and webpages to follow current policies and procedures

Check with their academic advisor that distance courses will fulfill degree requirements

Check with their financial advisor how the course type will impact their financial plan

Complete the disability accommodations form and provide documentation if study accommodations are desired

Contact information for academic and financial advisors is available on the student's prevue page. Questions about the registration process or holds are best answered by the following enrollment counselors.

Undergraduate distance courses: sderegister@andrews.edu, 269-471-6323

Graduate distance courses: graduate@andrews.edu, 269-471-6013

Questions about Seminary Online Learning Center courses are best answered by emailing solc@andrews.edu or calling 269-471-3962.

Online and Post-Traditional Student Support

Students studying at a distance can access many services using technology:

Learn how to apply, clear financially, register, request exams, and successfully complete studies online at www.andrews.edu/distance/students

The current Andrews University Bulletin at www.bulletin.andrews.edu communicates policies and procedures, and key contact information for all campus services.

The Andrews Agenda at www.andrews.edu/agenda provides weekly news, announcements and updates.

Follow Andrews University's facebook page, twitter feed and other social media for regular postings of life at Andrews.

The Andrews Directory at www.andrews.edu/directory includes contact information for all current faculty, staff and students.

Departmental updates are emailed to students registered in specific programs of study. Check your Andrews email regularly.

Pioneer Memorial Church services are streamed online, and podcasts can be accessed at any time.

Videos of chapels and vespers can be viewed at any time through the Andrews University Youtube Channel

The Student Association Youtube Channel includes many more videos of student events

Listen to Andrews University's classical radio online 24/7 at WAUS

All online students are encouraged to communicate with their assigned academic and financial advisors regularly in order to best utilize student success resources at a distance. Tutoring, career and mental health counseling, and disability accommodation can be arranged through the School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Student Services Director (learn more at www.andrews.edu/distance/students/).

An online grievance form provides students with tools to formally register a complaint about any aspect of the educational service provided by Andrews University. The procedure for lodging a complaint is outlined online.

Library Access

Registered students of Andrews University have full and free access to the resources and services of the James White Library via phone, fax, e-mail or the Internet. Such services include:

Access to the James White Library Catalog (JeWeL)

Access to the Library's Online Databases which include full-text articles from many thousands of periodicals

Online Instruction, Tutorials and Research Guides

Interlibrary Loan and Document Delivery Services

Reference and Consultation Services

Download software, such as Endnote, for research and writing
FAQs and Ask-a-Librarian—

www.andrews.edu/library/RefDesk/services/ask.html

Online access to these services is available through use of the Andrews University username and password supplied during the admission process. Off-campus program students, staff and faculty may apply for Andrews University username and password through the Off-Campus
Library Services Web page or by calling 269-471-3283.

Consortium of Adventist Colleges and Universities

The Andrews University's School of Distance Education and International Partnerships operates the Consortium of Adventist Colleges and Universities, which grew out of the Griggs University Consortium arrangements between Griggs University, Andrews University, Oakwood University, and Washington Adventist University. The Griggs University Consortium began in 1969 with Griggs University and Columbia Union College (now Washington Adventist University). The Consortium serves students around the world: students in partner colleges and universities within the North American Division, students in public universities wishing to take select courses from an Adventist perspective, and students at our partner institutions around the world. Courses are available for transfer credit from Washington Adventist University and Oakwood University. Information about all Consortium partner course offerings, tuition rates, fees, payment information, and procedures is available online at www.andrews.edu/distance/consortium. Printed catalogs can be requested from the School of Distance Education and International Partnerships.

Introduction

Andrews University has a long history of partnering with Seventh-day Adventist educational and church institutions through off-campus programs. The University delivers these programs in various domestic and international locations.

Partnerships

Many of the Andrews University schools have partnerships with educational institutions in North America and abroad, authorized by the Higher Learning Commission and other controlling organizations. The types of partnerships include academic monitoring of existing institutional programs, extension campuses, and examination centers for graduate and undergraduate education. The programs of study vary from individual courses in a variety of disciplines to full degree programs.

Accreditation

Many of the Andrews University schools have partnerships with educational institutions in North America and abroad, authorized by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and other controlling organizations. The types of partnerships include academic monitoring of existing institutional programs, extension campuses, and examination centers for graduate and undergraduate education. The programs of study vary from individual courses in a variety of disciplines to full degree programs.

Details of specific courses, approved curricula and programs are available from the Office of Off-Campus Programs. The Off-Campus Programs Committee authorizes and reviews all University policies related to such affiliations and extensions. Once accepted into an Andrews University program, students may transfer between home and extension campuses.

Off-Campus Program Definitions

Additional Location. A location distinct from the campus of Andrews University, at which students can complete an Andrews University degree, or 50% or more of courses leading to an Andrews University degree or certificate.

Course Location. A location distinct from the campus of Andrews University, at which students can complete credit bearing courses, which total less than 50% of an Andrews University degree or certificate. This does not include Study Abroad locations unless they provide 25–50% of an Andrews University degree or certificate program.

Other Classifications

In-State—The location is within the state of Michigan

Out-of-State—The location is outside of the state of Michigan

Out of USA—The location is outside of the 50 United States, and includes U.S. territories

Undergraduate Off-Campus Programs

Undergraduate programs are offered on the following Adventist college and university campuses:

Governance

All off-campus programs for Andrews University, Griggs University and Griggs International Academy are administered by the Office of Off-Campus Programs. The director of Off-Campus Programs reports to the dean of the School of Distance Education and International Partnerships. The director of Off-Campus Programs works with other academic deans and department chairs to maintain quality control of specific courses and to ensure that off-campus program requirements are equivalent to on-campus program requirements.

Periodic audits are conducted at each Off-Campus Program site. The length of time between audits is determined by the audit team. Each audit team reviews the programs, facilities, and various academic processes; interviews administrators, faculty, and students; and makes recommendations of improvements needed to enhance the quality of the off-campus programs.

Current Programs

Andrews University offers off-campus programs on five continents: Africa (Ghana, Kenya, Rwanda, South Africa); Asia (India, Japan, Lebanon); Europe (England, Italy, Romania, Russia); North America (Canada, Mexico, and all North American Division Union Conferences); Central America (Trinidad: in teach-out); South America (Brazil, Chile, Trinidad).

Griggs University (GU) & Griggs International Academy (GIA) offer off-campus programs on five continents: Asia (GIA: China, Korea, Taiwan, Vietnam; GU: Hong Kong, India, Korea, Lebanon, Taiwan, Thailand, Vietnam); North America (GIA: APLE schools, Cooperative arrangements with selective North American Division schools, Job Corps Centers; GU: Select independent Seventh-day Adventist institutions); Central America (GIA: Inter-America Division; GU: Inter-America Division); South America (GIA: Brazil).

Other International Educational Opportunities

Andrews University co-sponsors Adventist Colleges Abroad—a program in which qualified students study overseas while completing requirements for graduation at Andrews. This language and cultural immersion is available in ten locations: Argentina, Austria, Brazil, England, France, Greece, Italy, Singapore, Spain and Taiwan. Participation is not limited to language majors. Contact the chair of the Department of International Language Studies for further information.

Compliance

Ethan Jones, Director of Compliance

Brittany Huset, Assistant to the Director of Compliance

The Director of Compliance assists the School of Distance Education and International Partnerships to carry out its academic mission with integrity and in accordance with the policies of Andrews University and our accrediting bodies, and in compliance with federal, state and international regulations.

Proctored Examinations

Most online courses include examinations that are to be taken under supervision:

- Students studying at or near another university or college are requested to arrange with the institution's testing department to proctor their Andrews University exam.
- Students in the Armed Forces may take their examinations under the supervision of the education officer.
- Students living within 50 miles of Berrien Springs are required to take their exams in the School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Testing Center, Griggs Hall 124.
- If none of the above apply, students find an acceptable proctor. Proctors must have academic responsibility in a university, college, school, military or workplace continuing education setting, and be available to proctor at their place of work.

Students should make the necessary arrangements with the proctor before filling in the exam request form provided within the course space. Instructions will be communicated to the proctor, once approved, and the student notified via email when the exam has been issued. Email the Testing Coordinator at sdeexams@andrews.edu, call 269-471-6566 or use FAQs and tutorials online if help is needed.

Denise Shaver, Lead Curriculum and Instructional Design Specialist

Marsha Beal, Technology and Instructional Design Specialist

Mission

The Department of Digital Learning and Instructional Technology provides instructional technology leadership, support and resources to the faculty, staff, and students of Andrews University. DLiT serves main campus, online campus, and off-campus programs. DLiT also oversees the operations of the Consortium of Adventist Colleges and Universities.

Instructional Technology

The Department of Digital Learning and Instructional Technology researches and promotes new instructional technologies. DLiT provides technology support for enterprise level instructional technology tools such as LearningHub, the campus Moodle learning management system; student response systems (clickers); Panopto, our video streaming and recording service; and Zoom, our webinar and videoconferencing software. In addition, we offer workshops, training and one-on-one consultation for pedagogical use of technology. We work collaboratively with various entities across campus to provide excellent service through processes and procedures to support main campus, online campus, and off-campus students and faculty.

Online Course Production

The Department of Digital Learning and Instructional Technology provides coordination and review for online program and course development, as well as technical support, instructional design advice and training, and materials design and conversion for course development for main campus, online campus, and off-campus courses.

Credit for Prior Learning (CPL)

Students can estimate how previous course work may apply toward an Andrews distance degree by reviewing the requirements listed in this bulletin. Prospective students may request an evaluation of their transcripts using the online application process.

Credit for prior college level learning that is not documented through academic transcript may be earned through advanced placement, standardized and departmental challenge exams, validation and proficiency assessments. Students may apply for academic credit for prior college level learning through personal achievements and professional expertise. Assessment of portfolios are done on a course-by-course basis, either by Andrews University faculty evaluators or through the Council on Adult and Experience Learning.

The Director of Distance Student Services serves as the Prior Learning Coordinator for all Andrews University schools. Contact the Prior Learning Coordinator and your academic advisor to discuss college level prior learning that may meet requirements for a specific program of study. Learn more about the 5 ways to earn credit:

- Undergraduate Credit for Prior Learning policy
- Graduate Credit for Prior Learning policy
- Credit for Prior Learning procedures and resources

Challenge Exams

Permission to take a challenge exam may be requested of the department offering the course by students with prior college level learning. Prior learning through professional or personal experience must be closely aligned to the learning outcomes of an Andrews course. A student may complete the Credit by Departmental Exam & Validation Assessment Form with approval from their advisor and the department offering the course.

With NAD Union certification registrar approval, Adventist teachers may apply to take online challenge exam. The Consortium of Adventist Colleges and Universities currently offers Andrews University challenge exams for Adventist heritage and religion courses, and Washington Adventist University challenge exams for education courses. Taking the full course is advised when a teacher has not attended Adventist schools and/or completed teacher training at a non-Adventist college or university. Review the Teacher Challenge Exam Application for full policy, procedure and course information.

Services to Academy and High School Students

High school students who meet admission criteria can enrich their high school studies by taking Andrews University lower division undergraduate courses. Courses approved for high school registrations are available in three formats: on-campus face-to-face, interactive online, and concurrent enrollment.

Concurrent enrollment, a service available to Adventist Academies, is a two-step process. First, the Academy seeking to offer an Andrews course on their campus submits a school application to the Andrews Off-Campus Department. If this application is approved after review by the Andrews University department offering the requested course, student applications can be submitted to take the Andrews University course on the Academy campus, taught by the approved Academy teacher.

In all formats, it is the prerogative of the high school to decide whether to count the college credit towards high school diploma requirements. Tuition for up to two Andrews University courses per semester is discounted to the special high school rate plus the guest fee per semester for students prior to graduating from high school or taking the GED test. Note that the high school tuition rate does not apply to fees or surcharges on specific courses, individual music or flight lessons, independent study or reading courses, or international language courses which are prerequisites for advanced degrees and courses taken off-campus.

Special consideration is given to Andrews University schools. Up to two Andrews University courses per semester, when approved by Andrews Academy or Griggs International Academy are included in full Academy tuition.

The School of Distance Education and International Partnerships operates Griggs International Academy (GIA), which offers an accredited K-12 Adventist distance education program that serves students in North America and internationally. There are a variety of delivery styles offered through GIA: online courses, paper-based courses, school sites—adapting to the needs of individuals or supplementing a school program. The mission of GIA is to provide educationally sound, values-based, guided independent study and distance education programs that build a foundation for service to God, church and society. These programs and courses respond to learner needs in the context of a lifetime learning experience.

Accreditation

Griggs International Academy, operated by the School of Distance Education and International Partnerships, is accredited by:

History

The School of Education has its roots in the Normal Department of Battle Creek College, the progenitor of Andrews University established in 1874 in Battle Creek, Michigan.

In 1901, Battle Creek College moved to Berrien Springs and became Emmanuel Missionary College (EMC). The Department of Education at EMC took on formal structure in the early 1900s. The preparation of church-school teachers gained importance as the church placed greater emphasis on Christian elementary and secondary schools. During those years it was not unusual for onethird of the college graduates to complete programs qualifying them to teach elementary or secondary school.

In 1956, responding to the need for graduate education within the church, the Autumn Council of the Seventh-day Adventist General Conference authorized the organization of a universitytype educational institution. In 1958 the School of Graduate Studies and the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary merged with EMC in Berrien Springs to become Andrews University.

By 1960 the Education Department offered master's degree programs. Curriculum development was rapid with frequent changes in the course offerings and programs to keep up with the demands of students, society, and the church.

During the late 1960s, Andrews University began to consider application for National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) accreditation. The council considered and approved the university's request for accreditation of its elementary and secondary teacher-education programs at both the baccalaureate- and master's-degree levels beginning September 1, 1970. The North Central Association of Colleges and Schools approved the introduction of doctoral programs (1973) and granted accreditation to Andrews University as a doctoral-degreegranting institution in 1979.

In 1981, the department reorganized into three areas: Educational Leadership and Management, Educational and Psychological Services, and Teacher Education. The following year the PhD degree was introduced with approval of the North Central Association. In June 1983 the various undergraduate and graduate programs merged into a School of Education.

The School of Education currently consists of three academic departments:

- Graduate Psychology & Counseling (GPC)
- Leadership (LEAD)
- Teaching, Learning & Curriculum (TLC)

Accreditation

Andrews University is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools to confer degrees at the bachelor's, master's, specialist, and doctoral levels.

The teacher-preparation and school-service personnel programs, which include teacher education programs, MAT programs, the elementary and secondary principals' programs, and programs to prepare school psychologists, are accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and approved by the Michigan Board of Education and the North American Division Board of Education.

The Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), a specialized accrediting body recognized by the Council on Post-secondary Accreditation (COPA), has conferred accreditation to the following program areas in the Department of Graduate Psychology & Counseling at Andrews University: Clinical Mental Health Counseling (MA) and School Counseling (MA).

The National Association of School Psychologists (NASP) has approved the EdS program in School Psychology.

Faculty

The School of Education has selected a faculty based on diversity of experience and professional expertise. Equipped with advanced degrees, all have extensive experience in the areas in which they teach. They have authored books and published in professional journals. They are regularly sought as researchers, lecturers and consultants.

Conceptual Framework

Andrews University was founded as Battle Creek College in 1874. One of the founders, Ellen G. White, presented a compelling vision for education.

"True education means more than the pursual of a certain course of study. It means more than a preparation for the life that now is. It has to do with the whole being, and the whole period of existence possible to man. It is the harmonious development of the physical, mental, and spiritual powers. It prepares the student for the joy of service in this world and the higher joy of wider service in the world to come.

In the highest sense the work of education and the work of redemption are one." Ellen G. White (1903), Education, Mountain View, CA; Pacific Press 13, 30.

The Andrews University School of Education embraces this vision as the organizing theme for its conceptual framework and mission.

A conceptual framework is a way of looking at the world that affects our values, goals and practices. It influences our work and how we think about what we do.

The School of Education, as part of Andrews University, has developed its conceptual framework by considering the University's mission statement—Seek Knowledge. Affirm Faith. Change the World.—with respect to our specific task in training educational professionals.

Our conceptual framework helps us to clarify our purpose and mission—serving as a continual reminder of what we consider important and of how we approach our goals.

Dispositions

Dispositions are the personal characteristics our graduates will display, making them exceptional educators committed to fairness and learning for all students.

Elements

The six elements of our conceptual framework outline the principles driving our instruction and articulate particular dispositions and skills our graduates will take with them into the workplace. The elements are incorporated into all our courses and activities.

Element One: Worldview

We appreciate the perspectives of others and value the development of a personal philosophy from which action and service arise.

Our graduates will:

- Explain worldviews and trace their historical development
- Critique worldviews from a Christian perspective
- Integrate principles of a Christian worldview into their chosen fields of study

Disposition: We value fairness, service and diversity.

Element Two: Human Growth and Change

We want to see growth, development and learning used to effect positive change.

Our graduates will:

- Describe human development
- Apply current theories of learning

Disposition: We believe that all students can learn.

Element Three: Groups, Leadership and Change

We want to encourage principles of group behavior that effect positive change for individuals and organizations.

Our graduates will:

- Facilitate change in groups and orgnizations
- Relate effectively with various cultural, racial and special interest groups
- Identify political and legal issues
- Manage human, financial and material resources
- Demonstrate servant leadership

Disposition: We recognize personal leadership responsibility.

Element Four: Communication and Technology

We want to use technology to enhance communication, whether oral, written, intrapersonal or interpersonal.

Our graduates will:

- Communicate effectively in written, verbal, and non-verbal forms
- Use electronic tools effectively for professional communication, teaching and research

Disposition: We value respectful communication.

Element Five: Research and Evaluation

We both conduct and value disciplined inquiry for decisionmaking.

Our graduates will:

Read and evaluate research

Conduct research

Report research findings

Disposition: We are committed to inquiry.

Element Six: Personal and Professional Growth

We believe in holistic personal and professional growth.

Our graduates will:

Demonstrate continuing professional development

Demonstrate ethical behavior in all professional activities

Demonstrate balanced physical, mental, spiritual and social development

Disposition: We value personal and professional growth.

Mission Statement

To educate is to redeem

Educar Es Redimir

Philosophy

We believe that God is the ultimate reality and that He has chosen to reveal Himself through His created universe and through His Word. God created human beings in His image and for relationship with Him. When they rebelled against Him, they entered a state of brokenness that extends to every dimension of life. Through His love and mercy, God has provided in His son Jesus Christ the means to redeem human beings from their brokenness, to restore in them His image, and to reestablish their relationship with Him.

As Christian educators supporting the world mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, we conceptualize the task of education to be a partnership with God in His work of redemption and restoration. Our role in this partnership is to facilitate the spiritual, mental, physical, and social development of our students through modeling and exhortation.

Accordingly, we hold that:

God calls students to recognize Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord and through His Spirit to use principles of Scripture as a guide in their relationships with others.

God calls students to be worthy scholars in their chosen academic discipline and to contribute to that discipline as responsible practitioners and researchers.

God calls students to live by principles of good health as stewards of His gift of life.

God calls students to develop and maintain supportive personal and professional relationships and to use their talents in generous service to the church and society in a culturally diverse world. To these ends, we work for the glory of God.

Undergraduate Programs

The undergraduate programs offered by the School of Education are described under Teaching, Learning & Curriculum.

Graduate Programs

The School of Education offers master's, specialist, and doctoral degrees. A general description of each degree is provided below. Admission for any graduate degree offered in the School of Education is based on the total profile of the student and includes the analysis of admission documents as well as the professional judgment of the program faculty. Requirements for specific degrees offered in the three departments of the School of Education are described under the departmental headings.

MAT: Master of Arts in Teaching. The MAT program is an interdepartmental curriculum for teachers who desire a combination of professional preparation and subject-matter specialization in their graduate study. A teaching certificate is required for graduation. Degrees are offered in the Department of Teaching, Learning & Curriculum.

MA: Master of Arts. The MA program is a one- or two-year program beyond the bachelor's degree and is offered in all three departments of the School of Education.

MS: Master of Science. The MS program is a one- or two-year program beyond the baccalaureate degree for certified teachers who desire an endorsement in Special Education/Learning Disabilities. The degree is offered in the Department of Teaching, Learning & Curriculum.

EdS: Educational Specialist. The EdS program builds upon the master's degree in providing a more focused program of study, generally taking a minimum of one year beyond the master's level.

EdD: Doctor of Education and PhD: Doctor of Philosophy. The doctorate consists of course work and a dissertation, usually taking a minimum of two years of work beyond the master's level.

Admission

Time to Apply. While early applications are recommended, the deadlines for application to the School of Education are as follows:

Domestic and Internationals students are required to complete and submit all the application requirements before the deadlines listed below:

Spring (January - April): November 15

Summer (May - July): June 1

Fall (August - December): July 30

Application Procedure. In addition to meeting the general requirements for graduate admission (see Graduate Academic Policies), applicants to the School of Education should note the following GRE requirements.

Official scores from the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) General Test taken within the last five years must be submitted by EdS and PhD/EdD students before they are considered for any type of admission. MA, MS and MAT students are no longer required to submit GRE scores unless they want to apply for a graduate scholarship based on their GRE scores. Graduate Financial Assistance

Scholarships/Financial Aid

Named scholarships are allocated in the spring semester for the following school year. Students wishing to apply for scholarships should obtain an application form from the School of Education Dean's Office. The deadline for submitting applications is February 1. Application forms for regular grants are also available from the Dean's Office. Applications for graduate assistantships should be submitted to the Dean's Office. Applications for loans must be made through the Student Financial Services Office by April. See the Financial Information section for further information.

General Academic Information

Academic Advisement. A student's initial contact is with the department chair/program coordinator. The acceptance letter informs the student of the assigned advisor for their program. Normally, the assigned advisor is the program coordinator. The advisor's major tasks are to counsel with the student about academic requirements and expectations, and to help develop a course plan which meets these requirements.

Student Responsibilities. Students are expected to know the regulations governing academic matters. This bulletin covers general questions relating to academic policies. Although the policies in this bulletin have the weight of faculty action, practice, and precedent, special circumstances may occasionally warrant an exception. In such circumstances, students may use the petition process coordinated by the Graduate Programs Office, Room 151.

Procedures to follow in meeting the degree requirements are detailed in the handbooks which have been prepared for the master's, specialist, and doctoral programs.

Responsibility for meeting degree requirements and following the specified procedures rests with the student. Each student is expected to be aware of the various requirements and procedures as published in both the bulletin under which he/she proposes to graduate and the handbook for the program in which he/she is studying. A student may choose to meet the requirements of any bulletin in force while he/she is continuously enrolled as defined for each degree program.

Student Grievance Procedure. Andrews University has a grievance (appeal) procedure for students who may oppose or question any practice, decision, and/or policy. The details of this procedure are found in each of the School of Education graduate handbooks and in the undergraduate Student Handbook.

Continuous Registration-Active Status. (Educational Leadership and Leadership students, please see the Leadership section regarding continuous registration). Graduate students are expected to make continuous progress in their graduate program from admission through graduation. Continuous registration (except during the summer session) is required.

Continuous registration will be required beginning the first semester of taking classes following admission to the graduate program. Continuous registration allow students to remain active in the graduate program while physically absent from the campus.

Students must be continuously registered in at least one graduate credit applicable to the graduate program for every fall and spring semester until they complete all requirements for their degree or certificate. Students must also register for the summer session if they use university facilities or consult with faculty during the summer session. Students pursuing a degree during summer sessions only must be enrolled every summer in order to maintain active status in the program.

Leave of Absence. While graduate students are expected to make continuous progress toward completion of their graduate programs, there are instances where continuous registration is not possible. Students who need to temporarily suspend their studies must apply for a leave of absence through their advisor and committee chair. If the leave is approved, the student is placed on inactive status. Inactive status does not negate the policy which requires that all credits counted toward the degree or certificate, including transfer credits, be earned within appropriate period for a given degree prior to graduation. Students who fail to make continuous progress (see Continuous Registration above) or to obtain an approved leave of absence may be removed from active status.

Inactive Status. Graduate students who do not have continuous registration or an approved leave of absence will be placed on inactive status. Students who fail to request reactivation within the allowed time for program completion will be removed from a graduate program.

Doctoral students who do not make any progress on their dissertations for a period of 12 months may be asked to revise the composition of their dissertation committees. The dissertation chair and committee may reconsider their commitment to the student's dissertation.

After being inactivated, students must make a request for reinstatement to a graduate program through the department. (See Graduate Academic Policies--inactive status)

Reactivation Process. Graduate students who have been removed from active status for failing to meet academic standards may apply for reactivation to a graduate program. When re-applying to the School of Education graduate program, it is the student's responsibility to demonstrate his or her ability to succeed in the graduate program.

Graduate students who have been removed from active status for not making continuous progress (see Continuous Registration above) must re-apply to the department for reactivation into the graduate program and pay a reactivation fee of $628. Students must follow the bulletin in force upon reactivation. (See General Academic Policies) Students seeking reactivation must register for EDUC 560 - Degree Reactivation course for "0" credits.

Upon approval of department chair, registration, and payment of the reactivation fee, a graduate student is considered active for the current semester. Reactivated graduate students must reapply for candidacy and may or may not be required to meet the program requirements which are in effect at the time of reactivation. Doctoral students may be required to select a new dissertation committee and/or topic.

Standards of Scholarship

To remain in regular standing and to graduate, students must maintain the minimum GPA (on a 4.00 system) required below:

The MA/MAT/MS: a minimum GPA of 3.00 in all courses for the degree and in all courses applied to the major/emphasis.

The EdS: a minimum GPA of 3.20 in all post-master's courses for the degree and in all courses applied to the major/emphasis.

The EdD/PhD: a minimum GPA of 3.30 in all post-master's courses (or post-specialist courses if EdS was received before admission to the doctoral program) for the degree and in all courses applied to the major/emphasis.

Students whose cumulative GPA drops below the minimum in any given semester are placed on academic probation. Such students must work with their advisors to develop a schedule of courses that ensures raising the cumulative GPA above the required minimum in a timely manner (normally the following semester). The Graduate Programs Office must approve the plan. Students who fail to meet the terms of such a plan are asked to withdraw.

No grade of D or F or U may count toward a degree. Courses with a grade less than a B- do not count toward the major or emphasis.

If a student receives an unsatisfactory grade (normally a D or F), the course may be repeated once. The credits and quality points earned in the most recent course will be used to calculate the GPA. Course grades may be replaced only by grades for course work repeated on campus.

Any student who receives a grade below B- (including U) in more than four courses in an MA program and in more than three courses (in addition to the four from the MA) in an EdS/EdD/PhD program is asked to withdraw.

Students may not apply credits earned by examination toward a graduate degree.

Candidates for the MA/MS degree must pass comprehensive examinations and (if thesis option is chosen) formally defend a master's thesis.

Candidates for EdS degrees must pass comprehensive examinations.

Candidates for PhD/EdD degrees must pass comprehensive examinations and formally defend a dissertation.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP). See the section on SAP Policy for Graduate Students with Financial Aid, Financial Information.

Transfer Credits. General requirements for transfer credits are found in the Graduate Academic Policies section of the bulletin. In addition, graduate course work taken at any Seventh-day Adventist college in the United States offering an MA degree may transfer up to 50% of the minimum credits required. Graduate credits taken in the MDiv program may be transferred into MA and EdS programs in the School of Education. However, 1 Master of Divinity credit will be marked down to .75 School of Education credits. Transfer credits from other Seminary programs need to be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

Time Limits. A student must complete the requirements for a master's degree normally within six years, but no more than ten years from the beginning of the first semester of class work irrespective of admission classification. Leadership students please see Leadership program sections regarding program time limits. Course work taken more than six years but less than ten years prior to the graduation year must be updated in order to apply to the degree, if taken at Andrews University. Transfer courses for which advanced credit is requested must be taken within six years of the graduation year.

Master's Degrees (MA /MAT/MS)

The master's degrees (MA/MAT/MS) prepare personnel for leadership and specialized positions in education beyond the bachelor's degree. While additional specific departmental requirements are described under the different departments, some general requirements are indicated below. Students are responsible for reading the Academic Information section of this bulletin. Also, students should consult the Handbook for Master's Students or the Handbook for Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) Students and Faculty.

Admission to MA/MAT/MS Programs. See the General Admission Requirements and the Minimum Academic Standards for Admission to Graduate Programs sections of this bulletin, Graduate Academic Policies.

General Requirements (MA/MAT/MS)

Students are responsible to note the requirements in the Graduate Academic Policies section of this bulletin.

The candidate's undergraduate background for advanced study must be approved by the department in which enrollment is sought. An applicant who receives provisional admission while having undergraduate deficiencies must remove these deficiencies with approved undergraduate or graduate credits before completing 50% of his/her course work. These credits do not apply to the degree program. Students must satisfactorily complete a minimum of 30-60 credits (as determined by the program chosen).

MAT students must satisfactorily complete at least 12 credits in the area of emphasis required by their chosen program. 20% of the total program credits (32 credits) must be in courses numbered 500 or above.

General Requirements (MA/MS ONLY)

The program must include EDFN 500 and EDRM 505/506.

All MA students must pass a comprehensive examination after they are advanced to degree candidacy. The examination is scheduled on specific dates each semester (see the School of Education academic calendar). The exam schedule varies according to the student's program. An Application for Advancement to Candidacy form is filed upon completion of 50% of the student's course work.

All MA/MS students planning on taking comprehensive exams are registered for the EDUC 670 - Master's Comprehensive Exam course for 0 credits by the Graduate Service Coordinator. Students who fail the master's comprehensive exam will have only one more opportunity to retake the exam. Students who fail the exam on their second attempt may be removed from the program.

All MS students—If you want to add this endorsement to your Michigan Teaching Credential, you must successfully complete the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) subject area exam. In addition, you are required to pass a comprehensive examination after advancement to degree candidacy in order to obtain the Master of Science degree. The examination, which is scheduled on specific dates each semester (see the School of Education academic calendar above), consists of one 3-hour session and one 2-hour session.

Preparation and Presentation of a Thesis. To fulfill the thesis option for a master's degree, the student must write a thesis and successfully defend it in an oral examination at an officially designated time and place. See Handbook for Master's Students.

The format of the thesis must conform to the guidelines found in the Andrews University Standards for Written Work.

Students elect to take either a thesis or non-thesis option. Those who plan to take additional graduate study should elect to write a thesis. Students who do not plan to pursue a specialist degree or a doctoral degree may substitute 3 semester credits of course work in the major area of emphasis in place of the thesis.

Guidelines for Practicums. Students in the MAT program which requires certification endorsements must take a practicum in accordance with these guidelines:

Students should take the practicum experience toward the end of their program after completing all required prerequisites.

Students must submit an application to the Certification, Screening, and Petitions Committee before January 31 to be eligible to take the practicum experience the next academic year.

The director of student teaching makes all arrangements for placement in schools.

Students must make a pre-practicum visit to the school before placement is finalized.

Transfer From One Program to Another. Acceptance into an MA/MAT/MS program in the School of Education does not include the option of automatic transfer to another program at a subsequent time. A student in one of the programs may be permitted to reapply for the other degree program until the last day of the second semester. Upon application for transfer, advisors re-evaluate the student's current program and make adjustments for the new degree requirements. Following that re-evaluation, those courses which are relevant to the second degree may be transferred.

Progression Through the MA/MAT/MS Degree Programs

Academic Advisement. The department assigns an advisor to the student at the time of acceptance. Student is informed about the name of the assigned advisor in the acceptance letter. The assigned advisor most of the time is the program coordinator. The advisor's major tasks are to counsel with the student about academic requirements and expectations, and to help develop a course plan which meets these requirements.

Advancement to Degree Candidacy. For information regarding advancement to degree candidacy for master's degree students, see the General Academic Policies section of this bulletin.

Educational Specialist Degree (EdS)

The specialist degree prepares personnel for leadership and specialized positions in education. It builds upon the master's degree in providing a more focused program of study. In some cases the specialist program accommodates persons desiring career shifts and advancement in certification. Because the educational specialist program emphasizes practice rather than research, a dissertation and advanced research course work are not required.

The specialist degree should be considered a terminal program. However, doctoral students may elect to complete the specialist degree as a component of the doctoral program. Such an arrangement should be made in consultation with the student's advisor and approved by the Graduate Programs Office no later than the first semester of course work.

Students are responsible for reading the Graduate Programs and Academic Information portions of the Admissions and Academics section of this bulletin. Also, students should consult the Handbook for Educational Specialist Students.

Admission to the EdS Program. Admission to a specialist program is based on the total profile of the student. To qualify for regular admission, the student must

Have a master's degree or its equivalent from an accredited university (see Department of Graduate Psychology & Counseling for possible exceptions).

Give evidence of ability to pursue advanced study in graduatelevel work with a cumulative graduate GPA of 3.20 (4.00 system).

Meet all other admission standards listed in the Graduate Programs under the Admissions and Academic Information (Graduate Academic Policies) sections of this bulletin.

Transferring Specialist Degree Credits. Graduate credits received from institutions generally considered to be diploma/degree mills are not eligible to be transferred into a degree program.

General Requirements. General program requirements are indicated below. Additional program-specific requirements are described in the departmental sections which follow.

The program requires a minimum of 64 semester credits of post-baccalaureate study.

At least 24 semester credits must be completed within the EdS program at Andrews University. This course plan must include at least two-thirds of the required minimum of credits in course work numbered 500 and above.

Students entering the EdS School Psychology program are required to complete at least 80% of required credits at Andrews University. Fieldwork experiences are not transferable.

Major requirements for the completion of the program are determined by the individual department offering the degree.

A cognate in an appropriate supportive area may be required.

Two educational foundations courses:

EDFN 500 - Philosophical Foundations for Professionals —2-3
and one of the following:

Historical

EDFN 517 - History of Seventh-day Adventist Education —2

EDCI 686 - Curriculum Past & Present —3

Philosophical

EDFN 610 - History and Philosophy of Education —3

EDCI 547 - Foundations of Curriculum Studies —3

EDCI 747 - Survey of Curriculum Theory —3

Psychological

GDPC 514 - Psychology of Learning —3

GDPC 614 Human Development -3

GDPC 625 - Biopsychology —3

GDPC 626 - Cognitive and Affective Bases of Behavior —3

SPED 525 - Psychology and Education of Exceptional Children —3

Sociological

EDFN 689 - Seminar in Foundations: —2–3

Theological

EDFN 688 - Integration of Faith and Learning —1–2

The student must submit evidence of competence in understanding and conducting investigations in his/her field of study. Depending on the particular program, a student may fulfill this requirement by doing one or more of the following:

Course work in research and/or statistics.

An advanced project featuring the systematic development of a significant educational product.

A research study.

The minimum GPA required for completion of the program is 3.20 figured on all course work included as a part of the EdS program.

A minimum of two years work experience in the field of education or appropriate clinical experience is required before the degree is granted. The individual department determines the appropriateness of the experience.

Time Limits. A student must complete the requirements for a specialist degree within six calendar years from the beginning of the first semester of class work irrespective of admission classification.

Bulletin Requirements. A student may choose to meet the requirements of any bulletin in force after acceptance into the specialist program, as long as he/she maintains active status. If a break of enrollment occurs, the student must meet the requirements of a bulletin in effect after enrollment resumes.

Transfer of Degree Program

From One Specialist Program to Another. Acceptance into a specialist program in the School of Education does not include the option of automatic transfer to another specialist program at a subsequent time. A student in one of the specialist programs may be permitted to reapply for the other program up to the last day of the second semester. On such application for transfer, advisors reevaluate the current program of the student and make adjustments for the new requirements. Following that reevaluation, those courses which are relevant to the second degree may be transferred.

From Doctoral to Specialist Program. Students already accepted into a doctoral program who wish to transfer to the specialist degree program in the same department are transferred by a Change of Program Application which is approved by the department chair, school dean and the Graduate Enrollment Management. The student must follow the current bulletin and submit a new Statement of Purpose and may be required to submit new recommendations. After receiving the specialist degree, the student may return to the doctoral program by either of the following two options:

By Change of Program Application with all previous doctoral requirements (course plan, time limits, etc.) in effect

By online application to the Graduate Educational Programs Committee with all new requirements

Progression Through the EdS Degree Program

Course Plan. Normally, during the first semester the student and advisor work out a proposed course plan to complete degree requirements. This is submitted to the Graduate Programs office.

Advancement to Candidacy. Students must file an Application for Advancement to Degree Candidacy form which can be obtained from the Dean's office or the Graduate Programs office.

Students must make application for advancement to degree candidacy before registering for the last 16 credits of course work.

Before filing an Application for Advancement to Degree Candidacy form, the student must

Remove all deficiencies

Demonstrate English Language proficiency (where required)

Achieve regular admission status

Have a cumulative GPA of 3.20 or higher.

After being advanced to degree candidacy, students may request to take the comprehensive examinations.

Comprehensive Examination. A written comprehensive examination is scheduled for specific dates each semester as noted in the academic calendar. Normally the Application for the Comprehensive Examination form and the Application for Advancement to Degree Candidacy form are filed together during the semester prior to the comprehensive examination. Students are not permitted to sit for the examination until they have been advanced officially to degree candidacy. All course work and the comprehensive examination must be completed within six years of initial registration for Andrews University specialist course work. Students applying for comprehensive examination must register for EDUC770 - Specialist Comprehensive Exam. Students who fail the specialist comprehensive exam will have only one more opportunity to retake the exam. Students who fail the exam on their second attempt may be removed from the program.

Preparation and Presentation of a Project. A department may require a project. Students should consult the Handbook for Educational Specialist Students for further information regarding the preparation, scheduling, and presentation of a project.

Doctoral Degrees (EdD/PhD)

The doctoral degree prepares personnel for leadership and specialized positions in education beyond the master's or specialist degree. This program requires advanced research course work and the writing of a dissertation. While additional specific departmental requirements are described under the individual departments, some general requirements are indicated below. Students are responsible for reading the Graduate Programs and the Admissions and Academic Information sections of this bulletin Graduate Academic Policies. Also, students should consult the Handbook for Doctoral Students.

Admission to a Doctoral Program. Admission is based on the total profile of the student. To qualify for admission, the student must meet all the admissions standards listed in the Graduate Admissions section of this bulletin, including:

Earned master's degree or its equivalent from an accredited university with adequate preparation for the proposed doctoral specialization (see the Department of Graduate Psychology & Counseling and the Leadership program for possible exceptions).

Evidence of ability for doctoral-level work as demonstrated by superior undergraduate- and graduate-level work and an adequate score on a Graduate Record Examination (GRE) General Test taken within five years of admission.

Presenting a report that demonstrates adequate ability to undertake research. Students seeking admission to a doctoral program who cannot present evidence of research ability must register for appropriate course work which provides research experience as prescribed by the departments the students are entering.

Transferring Doctoral Degree Credits. Post-master's transfer credit, if appropriate to the student's program, may be accepted if (1) the credits were completed within the time limitations indicated in the appropriate section of this bulletin and (2) the transfer complies with the provisions in the School of Education. A petition for transfer of credit is considered only after an official transcript for the course is received. Credits received from institutions generally considered to be diploma/degree mills are not eligible to be transferred into a degree program.

Exceptions. Exceptions to course-transfer regulations must be approved by the dean of the School of Graduate Studies & Research on a standard petition form upon the recommendation of the dean/graduate program coordinator of the college/school. Any such exceptions will be considered individually in the light of the master's requirements. Exceptions for whole programs must be voted by the Graduate Council but thereafter do not need individual approval on petitions.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS:

Students pursuing doctoral programs in Leadership, Higher Education, Educational Leadership see the Leadership Department Section. Students in Counseling Psychology and Educational Psychology see doctoral program requirements in the Graduate Psychology and Counseling section. Students in Curriculum and Instruction see doctoral program requirements in the Teaching, Learning and Curriculum section.

ADDITIONAL GENERAL REQUIREMENTS:

The student must complete a minimum of 60+ post-master semester credits of which 32 credits in approved on-campus doctoral course work (not including the dissertation proposal (2) and dissertation credits (14) must be completed after acceptance into the doctoral program at Andrews University. (A minimum of 24 credits of coursework is required for candidates with an Ed.S. degree from another institution and a minimum of 16 credits for candidates with an AU Ed.S. degree). The courses (excluding dissertation) must include a minimum of 6 credits numbered 700 and above.

The student may be required to complete a cognate or equivalent which includes a planned sequence of courses outside the major (see individual departmental requirements).

Students must have a 3.30 cumulative GPA for all course work included in the degree program; a 3.30 GPA must be maintained in all post-master's course work (or post-specialist if a specialist degree was received before admission to the doctoral program) included in the degree program.

Students must take the following educational foundations courses as recommended by their individual program:
EDFN 500 - Philosophical Foundations for Professionals— 3 and one course from two of the following areas:

Historical

EDFN 517 - History of Seventh-day Adventist Education —2

EDCI 686 - Curriculum Past & Present —3

Philosophical

EDFN 610 - History and Philosophy of Education —3

EDCI 547 - Foundations of Curriculum Studies —3

EDCI 747 - Survey of Curriculum Theory —3

Psychological

GDPC 514 - Psychology of Learning —3

GDPC 614 Human Development -3

GDPC 625 - Biopsychology —3

GDPC 626 - Cognitive and Affective Bases of Behavior —3

SPED 525 - Psychology and Education of Exceptional Children —3

Sociological

EDFN 689 - Seminar in Foundations: —2-3

Theological

EDFN 688 - Integration of Faith and Learning —1-2

The area of research (see Research Requirements below) as required by their program.

Students must establish according to their program requirements.

Some programs may use the following requirements

1. PhD Residency. A sequence of two out of three consecutive semester at a full-time load. The PhD Counseling Psychology program has other residency requirements which are noted within the program description section.

2. EdD Residency. A sequence of any three out of seven consecutive terms (semester or summer) at a full-time load. This requirement may be met by enrolling for three consecutive summers.

Students must successfully pass the comprehensive examination.

Students are required to take a minimum of 16 dissertation credits a and write and defend a dissertation.

Students who have registered for the minimum of 16 dissertation credits and have not graduated and are still within the program time limit will register for dissertation continuation until graduation.

Students who registered for the total required minimum of 16 dissertation credits but have not graduated within the program time limit must register for one (1) dissertation credit each semester until graduation.

Time Limits

Time limits are determined by the specific program and the time length is counted from the first registration for AU doctoral course work.

Students in the Department of Teaching, Learning & Curriculum must complete all requirements, including dissertation, within 10 years.

Students in the Department of Graduate Psychology & Counseling must complete all requirements, including dissertation, within seven years. Students from the Department of Leadership must complete all requirements, including dissertation, within seven years.

All course work and the comprehensive examination must be completed within 5 years of first registration for AU doctoral course work.

The dissertation must be completed within 7 years of first registration for AU doctoral course work.

Full-time Status. For students who have completed all classes for the degree except dissertation and/or internship, full-time status requires the following:

Registering for one or more credits of dissertation, dissertation continuation, or internship every semester until graduation

Doing "full-time" work on the dissertation or internship as defined by at least 24 hours a week or 720 hours per year

Receiving confirmation by the dissertation chair or internship supervisor that full-time work is being done

For students who have not completed all classes for the degree, full-time status requires one of the following options:

Registering for 8 or more credits of course work and/or dissertation and/or internship

Registering for one or more credits of dissertation or internship; doing "full-time" work on the dissertation or internship as defined by at least 24 hours a week or 720 hours per year; and having approval by the dissertation chair or internship supervisor that full-time work is being done. Students may not take more than 16 credits during a semester.

Registering for LEAD600 allows a student to be considered a full-time student

Bulletin Requirements. A student may choose to meet the requirements of any bulletin in force after acceptance into the doctoral program, as long as he/she maintains active status. If a break of enrollment occurs and the student is placed on inactive status, he/she must meet the requirements of a bulletin in effect after enrollment resumes. Transferring from one doctoral program to another within a department. Transfers between EdD and PhD degrees within the same department shall by Change of Program petition and can be made at any time during the student's program. Original time limits are maintained.

Transfer of Degree Program

Students who wish to transfer between degree programs must submit a new application to the Graduate Enrollment Office.

Students can complete a Specialist degree en route to a doctoral degree by enrolling in a dual degree program. Also, Specialist students who want to continue their program into a PhD degree must submit a Dual Enrollment Application.

Progression Through the EdD/PhD Degree Program

Leadership students should see the Leadership Program section.

Course Plan. Normally within the first 16 credits, the student and advisor work out a proposed course plan to complete degree requirements. This must be approved by the department chair and the Graduate Programs office.

Research Requirements. Research requirements for the doctoral degrees include breadth, depth, and flexibility. Requirements are designed to enable doctoral students to critique journal articles that use common methodologies, statistics, and techniques; conduct research using appropriate methodologies; write research reports, including the dissertation; and continue scholarly research activity beyond the dissertation.

Comprehensive Examination. A written comprehensive examination is scheduled for specific dates each semester as noted in the academic calendar. Normally the Application for the Comprehensive Examination form and the Application for Advancement to Degree Candidacy form are filed together during the semester prior to the comprehensive examination. All course work and the comprehensive examination must be completed within six years of initial registration for Andrews University doctoral course work. Students applying for comprehensive examination must register for EDUC870 Doctoral Comprehensive Exam. Students who fail the doctoral comprehensive exam will have only one more opportunity to retake the exam. Students who fail the exam on their second attempt may be removed from the program.

Advancement to Degree Candidacy. An Application for Advancement to Degree Candidacy form is filed after the student

- Applies for the comprehensive examination
- Completes all course requirements or registers for them
- Removes all curriculum deficiencies
- Removes any language deficiency

The student is advanced to degree candidacy when the comprehensive examination is passed, coursework is completed and a dissertation proposal approved.

Preparation and Presentation of a Dissertation. Students should consult the Graduate Academic Policies section of this bulletin and the Handbook for Doctoral Students for information regarding the preparation, scheduling, and presentation of dissertations.

Partnership Courses

Courses have been designed especially for K–12 practicing teachers who are not on campus but who want to take a course for professional development, personal enrichment or continuing education credit. Students must have prior approval from a state regional teacher certification board or from the university which is providing their advanced degree or planned program to include these courses in their planned program.

New courses are added during the year. Please refer to our website for a complete list and partner contact information.

State of Michigan Teacher Certification

Admission to the Teacher Preparation/Student Teaching Program

An application for admission to the Teacher Preparation Program and Student Teaching must be completed during the semester EDTE 408 Principles of Teaching and Learning is being taken. This must be completed at least a year before a student plans to do Student Teaching. Applications will be considered at the end of each semester once all requirements have been completed.

To be admitted to the teacher education program, students must meet the criteria listed below:

Satisfactorily complete EDTE 165/630, EDTE 228/SPED 525, GDPC 302/514, and EDTE 408/508 (preferred order).

Choose appropriate teaching major and/or minor(s).

Satisfactorily complete the MTTC Professional Readiness Examination (PRE), or the ACT, or the SAT exam.

Have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.75.

Obtain a recommendation from three sources: a professor from an education course, and professors from your major and your minor.

Demonstrate police clearance regarding the potential for any felony and/or misdemeanor convictions as an adult.

Submit an acceptable plan for completing all required course work. All prerequisites for student teaching as stated in the University Bulletin must be met prior to the student-teaching semester.

Submit a plan for completing the required MTTC Michigan Subject Area Exam(s).

Applications will be processed as they are received and completed. It is the student's responsibility to see that all paperwork is in for the application to be processed in a timely manner.

Once admitted to the Teacher Education/Student Teaching Program students must:

Maintain good and regular status.

Maintain at least a 2.50 GPA in each of the following areas:

Major(s)*,

Minor(s)*,

Professional education courses*, and

Overall course work.

A course with a grade less than a C in a major, minor, or professional education class must be repeated. All courses taken at Andrews University or transferred to Andrews University are included in calculating the GPA.

Continue working on their professional teaching portfolio (begun in EDTE 165).

Demonstrate the professional disposition of an educator.

NOTE: Students cannot be admitted to the Teacher Preparation/Student Teaching Program, or remain in the program once admitted, if they fail two classes in their major, minor, courses for Professional Education, or Planned Program minor.

Licensure in Michigan

In addition to the requirements of our program, the State of Michigan has requirements with which you must comply in order to receive teacher certification. These requirements are applicable to all of the teacher certification programs within the state. These requirements include CPR (child and adult) and first aid training; and successful completion of the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification Professional Readiness Exam (PRE), or SAT and relevant subject-area tests.

CPR & First Aid Training

Michigan Public Act 18 of 2003 requires all teaching interns to be certified in CPR (child and adult) and first aid prior to being recommended for teacher certification. The legislation stipulates that this training must be completed through the American Red Cross or American Heart Association.

Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC)

The basic skills examination is required to demonstrate that a teacher candidate has basic skills in reading, writing, and mathematics. See the new standards listed below:

Professional Readiness Examination (PRE) and its Alternatives

The PRE is the Michigan Department of Education (MDE) teacher certification basic skills examination composed of reading, writing, and mathematics subtests. The PRE must be passed before student teaching in a Michigan K-12 school. The PRE is also required for out-of-state applicants seeking Michigan certification. To pass the PRE, a test-taker must pass each of the three subtests mentioned above.

The PRE provider, Evaluation Services Group of Pearson (ES), offers the PRE in a computer- or paperbased format as part of the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) program. Those seeking Michigan certification can learn about test schedules, locations, and registration by visiting the MTTC Web site.

In April 2014, the MDE accepted ACT and the Michigan Merit Examination (MME) as alternative examinations for the PRE. In February 2017, the updated SAT was added as an alternative. ACT, MME, and SAT minimum passing scores are below:

PRE Subtest	Required ACT Score ¹	Required MME Score ²	Required SAT Score ³
Reading	22	1108	480 ⁵
Writing	22 ⁴	1129
Mathematics	22	1116	530

¹ ACT scores are valid for tests taken from January 1989 to September 23, 2017
² MME scores are valid for tests taken from January 2007 through January 2015
³ SAT scores are valid for tests taken on or after March 5, 2016
⁴ ACT Writing score is determined from an ACT Combined English/Writing score
⁵ SAT Reading and English test results are reported as a single Evidence-Based Reading and Writing score

SAT test takers are not required to complete the SAT essay test. SAT essay performance is not in the SAT Evidence-Based Reading and Writing score.

The MDE also offers the option of passing the PRE with a passing score in two PRE subtests and a third PRE subtest alternative score, which is a score at or above a Statistical Error of Measurement (called-1 SEM). The-1 SEM target score may change with each test administration. An alternative scores table is published on the MTTC Web site.

Test-takers may combine alternative pass measures until October 1, 2025. For example, a test-taker can receive basic skills examination"passed"status with:
an ACT Mathematics score of 22, an MME Reading score of 1108, and an SAT Evidence-Based Reading and Writing score of 480.
an SAT Mathematics score of 530, an MME Reading score of 1108, and a PRE Writing score of 220.

An important caveat to the combination allowances:
The-1 SEM alternative pass measure is not allowed in any combination using an SAT score.

Thus, in the combination examples above, a test-taker may not use a -1 SEM PRE allowance in place of the ACT or the PRE score. Someone could, however, earn basic skills examination"passed" status with:
an ACT Mathematics score of 22, an MME Reading score of 1108, and a Writing PRE score at or above a -1 SEM score from the alternative score table.

As of September 23, 2017,
the PRE will no longer be offered. PRE score results from on or before September 23, 2017 will still be eligible to establish basic skills examination"passed" status without expiration.
the ACT may no longer be taken as a basic skills examination.
test-takers needing to pass the MDE basic skills examination must use the updated SAT from on or after March 5,2016.
alternative pass measures completed on or before September 23, 2017 may be used until October 1, 2025.Alternative pass measures include ACT, MME, and -1 SEM PRE score values.

State law requires a passing result in all 3 areas prior to student teaching. Andrews University requires a passing result prior to admission to the Teacher Preparation/Student Teaching program.

A passing score on the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification subject area test in major and minor is also required to earn teacher certification through Andrews University and in the state of Michigan.

Official exam results must be sent directly to Andrews University from the testing companies prior to a recommendation for certification.

Undergraduate Programs

Teacher Preparation Mission

The primary aim of Andrews University teacher preparation programs (BA, BS, MAT, & MA) is to prepare teachers who are competent, compassionate and committed to quality education. Upon completion of the professional education program, the preservice teacher demonstrates knowledge and skill in the following areas:

- Worldview
- Human growth and change
- Groups, leadership, and change
- Communication and technology
- Research and evaluation
- Personal and professional growth
- Content knowledge

Undergraduate Academic Programs

Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education (BSELED) - requires a content major or two minors (offered through the School of Education - for additional areas see the chart below in BS Elementary Education)

- Emphasis Areas:
- Integrated Science - 36 cr. major/29 cr. minor
 - Language Arts - 36 cr. major/24 minor
 - Social Studies - 44 cr. major
 - Reading (K-8) - 20 cr. minor

Bachelor of Science Degree in Secondary Education - for students with majors in the College of Arts and Sciences.
Majors:

- Biology
- Chemistry
- French K-12 Education
- History
- Integrated Science (Comprehensive)
- Political Science
- Social Studies (Comprehensive)

Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education (BSELED)

Students in the Elementary Education program must include the Planned Program minor and one subject content major or two minors. When two minors are chosen, they should be chosen from different groups and at least one should be a subject area commonly taught in elementary schools (indicated with a *).
The required courses for an approved major or minor in Integrated Science, Language Arts, Reading, and Social Studies are listed in the chart below. All other approved majors and minors are listed and described under the appropriate department in the College of Arts & Sciences, School of Architecture, Art & Design and School of Health Professions sections of this bulletin.

Andrews Core Experience Requirements

The School of Education philosophy of general education is to give the prospective teacher the balance, perspective, and understanding of a well-educated person—to help free him/her from bias, intolerance, and ignorance about humanity's world environment. Such education should acquaint the student with the basic knowledge and skills necessary for independent and reflective thought so essential for successful living in today's complex world.

Bachelor of Science (BS)—Individualized Program

This degree may be planned for students who have career goals and/or special interests in an area of education not requiring K–12 teaching credentials or for individuals planning on earning certification in a five-year program ending with an MAT degree.

The degree includes two main parts:

an appropriate general education component, and an interdepartmental area of concentration totaling at least 66 credits, 20 of which must be education course credits. Admission to the program or transfer from another program must be granted by program faculty before any education courses may be taken.

Secondary Certification with a BA or BS Degree

Students preparing for teaching in secondary schools (grades 6–12) may choose from either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree programs. These degrees are granted by the College of Arts & Sciences, School of Architecture & Interior Design, and School of Education. Students must have a subject major and a subject minor, which Andrews University has approved with the State of Michigan for certification purposes, in addition to their Professional Education courses. In order for Andrews University to recommend a student for certification the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) subject area exams must be passed in both the major and minor, and have current certification in First Aid & CPR. Descriptions of the Integrated Science and Social Studies majors are listed in the School of Education. All other approved majors and minors are described under their respective departments in other sections of this bulletin.

Special Requirements for School of Education Students

Applicants who do not qualify for regular or provisional admission to the School of Education due to low GPA may apply to the School of Education to take classes on a semester-by-semester basis.

Student Teaching Placement Process

Elementary and secondary student-teaching placements are available in private or public schools. Specific assignments are made after consultation with the Director of Student Teaching who makes all contacts and arrangements with the schools. The placement interview with prospective student teachers and admission to the student teaching program take place at least one semester before student teaching begins, though preferably in February of the preceding year. It is the student's responsibility to make contacts with the Director of Student Teaching and cooperate in the placement process during this placement semester. An official pre-student-teaching visit to the school is required before placement is finalized. If the school personnel do not accept the student, the Director of Student Teaching will make a maximum of two additional attempts to place the student at other schools. Student Teachers will be placed within a one-hour radius of Andrews University. Exceptions will be made on a case-by-case basis. Any additional cost for supervision, beyond the one-hour distance, will be borne by the student.

The First Days of School Experience is a concentrated, full-time laboratory program which begins prior to the beginning of the University's fall semester. First Days of School Experience is taken in August before Student Teaching. The experience focuses on the critical weeks preceding and following the first day of school. It provides specific answers to the pre-service teacher's question, "What do I actually do during the first days and weeks of school?" The program includes practical application of classroom-management theories. Emphasis is placed on the tasks teachers must perform in the weeks before school opens, organizing and conducting the all-important first day, and the tasks teachers encounter during the first weeks of school. These tasks include: Short- and long-range planning Constructing units of instruction Selecting materials and supplies Organizing and managing the classroom Establishing discipline procedures Record keeping (including the daily register)

Student Teaching Semester

The student-teaching semester consists of a minimum of 14 weeks of full-time observation, participation and teaching under supervision in an elementary or secondary school. If the beginning and ending dates do not coincide with the university semester calendar, the student-teaching calendar takes precedence over the university calendar. Orientation for student teaching is conducted before the students go to their assigned schools. The time and date of orientation are announced by the Director of Student Teaching. During orientation, each student receives a packet of materials containing information about student-teaching requirements and evaluation procedures. A weekly student-teaching seminar meets after school hours during the semester. The specific time is announced by the Director of Student Teaching. The student may not take other courses during the student teaching semester. Work for remuneration should be suspended. Full attention to teaching responsibilities helps ensure students' success, which in turn is vital to receiving a positive recommendation from the supervising teacher and university supervisor.

The exact number of credits for student teaching is determined by the Department of TLC. A minimum of 9 semester credits is required for graduate students and a minimum of 12 for undergraduate students.

Admission to the Teacher Preparation/Student Teaching Program

An application for admission to the Teacher Preparation Program and Student Teaching must be completed during the semester EDTE 408 - Principles of Teaching and Learning is being taken. This must be completed at least a year before a student plans to do Student Teaching. Applications will be considered at the end of each semester once all requirements have been completed.

To be admitted to the teacher education program, students must meet the criteria listed below:

- Satisfactorily complete EDTE 165, EDTE 228, GDPC 302, and EDTE 408 (preferred order).
- Choose appropriate teaching major and/or minor(s).
- Pass the MTTC Professional Readiness Examination (PRE), formally known as the Basic Skills Test.
- Have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.75.
- Obtain a recommendation from three sources: a professor from an education course, and professors from your major and your minor.
- Demonstrate police clearance regarding the potential for any felony and/or misdemeanor convictions as an adult.
- Submit an acceptable plan for completing all required course work. (You must notify the Director of Student Teaching and the Certification Registrar if this plan changes). All prerequisites for student teaching as stated in the University Bulletin must be met prior to the student-teaching semester.
- Submit a plan for completing the required MTTC Michigan Subject Area Exam(s).

Applications will be processed as they are received and completed. It is the student's responsibility to see that all paperwork is in for the application to be processed in a timely manner.

Once admitted to the Teacher Education/Student Teaching Program students must:

- Maintain good and regular status.
- Maintain at least a 2.50 GPA in each of the following areas:
 - Major(s)*,
 - Minor(s)*,
 - Professional education courses*, and
 - Overall course work.

*A course with a grade less than a C in a major, minor, or professional education class must be repeated. All courses taken at Andrews University or transferred to Andrews University are included in calculating the GPA.

Continue working on their professional teaching portfolio (begun in EDTE 165).

Demonstrate the professional disposition of an educator.

NOTE: Students cannot be admitted to the Teacher Preparation/Student Teaching Program, or remain in the program once admitted, if they fail two classes in their major, minor, courses for Professional Education, or Planned Program minor.

Undergraduate Graduation Requirements

In addition to meeting the general requirements for a baccalaureate degree, students who seek baccalaureate degrees with elementary or secondary certification must do the following:

Complete requirements for approved major, minor(s), and professional education courses as described under each specific degree. (Due to scheduling complexities, students seeking certification may take more than four years to complete a degree.)

Have a minimum GPA of 2.50 overall, and a 2.50 in the following:

major(s)*,
minor(s)*,
area of concentration*, and professional education courses*

(*The averages include all courses taken at Andrews University and those transferred from other institutions.)

Earn a 2.00 minimum GPA in all other credits at Andrews University
Complete the Senior Exit examination, and major field exam if required, which serves as the senior-level evaluation

Take a minimum of 30 of the final 36 semester credits in residence (permission must be given by the dean to take up to 10 credits anywhere other than Andrews University.)

Qualify for either Michigan Teacher Certification or an Adventist Basic Teaching Credential (This item applies to BS Elementary Education majors and BS Secondary Integrated Science and Social Studies majors.)

Submit a formal request for graduation, approved by the student's advisor, the Certification Registrar, and a designated records officer.

Verify that all official transcripts have been received by the Teacher Certification Registrar.

Apply for a MEIS Account with the Michigan Department of Education.

Certification Exemption Petition. Students planning to qualify for a teaching certificate at Andrews University are expected to meet both Seventh-day Adventist and State of Michigan certification requirements. Exceptions to this requirement are considered only after a student submits a formal petition to the Department of TLC Certification, Screening, and Petitions Committee.

Application for a Teaching Certificate. In their final year, while applying for graduation, students must also apply to the Department of Teaching, Learning and Curriculum for a teaching certificate, as well as apply on MOECS for a MEIS Account and their MI Teaching Certificate. The certificate is approved after graduation. The certification application is filed on forms available at the Teacher Certification Office located in the Department of TLC. Students are responsible to see that official transcripts are sent directly to the Certification Registrar in the Department of Teaching, Learning & Curriculum for all schools attended other than Andrews University. Andrews University approves recommendations of applicants who apply to the Michigan Department of Education and qualify for certification. Students qualifying for Seventh-day Adventist certification receive a Verification of Eligibility Certificate that is honored by the union (an Adventist jurisdiction) in which they first accept a teaching position.

For further information on teaching credentials, Adventist certification, State of Michigan certification, updating original certificates, and adding endorsements check the information below.

The Consortium for Outstanding Achievement in Teaching with Technology

Andrews University is a founding member of the Michigan-based Consortium for Outstanding Achievement in Teaching with Technology (COATT). This consortium of higher education institutions and supporting P-12 organizations exists to promote the use of technology in P-12 schools.

Note: It is the responsibility of all students seeking teacher certification to verify that they are meeting the current Andrews University requirements that have been submitted to the State of Michigan as well as all current State of Michigan requirements. This includes requirements for General Education, content major, minor, planned program minor and Professional Education. These requirements may differ from what is listed in the content department.

Mission

As companions in learning, faculty and students are committed to global Christian service through excellence in teaching, learning and research.

Program Description

The Curriculum & Instruction program is concerned with creating superior learning environments within learning organizations such as corporations, schools, colleges and universities. Curriculum & Instruction (C&I) degrees at Andrews University are interdisciplinary, involving a broad spectrum of content areas and educational levels. Graduates of the Andrews University Curriculum & Instruction program serve as classroom teachers, department heads, principals, superintendents, curriculum specialists, teacher educators, department chairs, researchers, academic vice presidents, and college presidents. Persons seeking initial teacher certification for K–12 schools at the master's level should pursue the MAT degree for elementary or secondary education (see p. 287). The Curriculum & Instruction program is designed to meet the needs of our students. The majority of students maintain their current employment while completing their degrees online. We also have students who choose a traditional, residential program and move to Berrien Springs for full-time study.

Specialized study is offered within Curriculum & Instruction for school-based personnel at elementary, secondary and tertiary levels. Curriculum & Instruction cooperates with selected departments in offering advanced cognates for persons preparing to teach at the university level.

While degrees in Curriculum & Instruction are designed for experienced educators, provision is made for individuals desiring a career change. Such persons may be required to earn more than the minimum number of credits.

Interactive Online Delivery of Graduate Programs

Designed for three–four summers (4–8 weeks) on Andrews University campus and online courses during two–three school years, for working professionals. The interactive online master's, specialist, and doctoral programs allow participants to meet program competencies within the context of their current career positions. This immediate application of learning strengthens authenticity, provides relevancy, and benefits the place of employment. Interactive online programs are offered through a combination of summer intensives, regional group sessions, and Internet study.

With two exceptions (see below), all required courses are delivered via the Internet using both synchronous and asynchronous techniques. This allows candidates to advance their education while maintaining their current employment and residence. Learning-while-working also provides candidates with the opportunity to immediately apply new knowledge and skills in their workplace.

Program Characteristics

Online Orientation.

In order to create a vibrant learning community from the beginning, all new C&I students participate in an online orientation session.

Admission Requirements

Admission decisions are based on an overall profile of each applicant. The applicant profile consists of information that indicates personal "fit" with the Curriculum and Instruction program and potential for success in the program. To ensure consideration for acceptance into the current year's summer cohort, completed applications must be on file at the Andrews University Office of Graduate Admissions by March 1.

In addition to application materials required of all graduate school applicants the following items are of particular importance:

- A 500-word statement of purpose explaining how your professional goals fit with the mission of the Curriculum and Instruction program.
- Recommendation forms and letters from professionals. Do not submit recommendations from relatives or current students.
- A completed Professional Experience form.
- A current resume or vita.
- Official transcripts from all schools where undergraduate or graduate courses were taken.
- Graduate Record Examination (GRE) general exam scores.

MA students are not required to take the GRE, but students are strongly encouraged to take it to be eligible for GRE-based scholarships as listed in the bulletin.

- Ed.S. and Ph.D. students are required to take the GRE for acceptance into a doctoral program.
- Documentation of English proficiency. See University Graduate Programs General Admission Requirements for details.
- Please consult the Graduate Programs Admission section of this bulletin for complete information regarding admissions requirements.

Teacher Certification

Seventh-day Adventist Certification - Information

State of Michigan Certification - Information and Procedures

Application for a Teaching Certificate. In their final year, while applying for graduation, students must also apply to the Department of Teaching, Learning and Curriculum for a teaching certificate, as well as apply on MOECS for a MEIS Account and their MI Teaching Certificate. The certificate is approved after graduation. The certification application is filed on forms available at the Teacher Certification Office located in the Department of TLC. Students are responsible to see that official transcripts are sent directly to the Certification Registrar in the Department of Teaching, Learning & Curriculum for all schools attended other than Andrews University. Andrews University approves recommendations of applicants who apply to the Michigan Department of Education and qualify for certification. Students qualifying for Seventh-day Adventist certification receive a Verification of Eligibility Certificate that is honored by the union (an Adventist jurisdiction) in which they first accept a teaching position.

Michigan Tests for Teacher Certification. All applicants for State of Michigan K–12 teaching credentials must pass the MTTC Subject Area Exams before a recommendation can be submitted to the Michigan Department of Education. For details on what the tests are and when they are offered, see the Department of TLC secretary.

Certification Exemption Petition. Students planning to qualify for a teaching certificate at Andrews University are expected to meet both Seventh-day Adventist and State of Michigan certification requirements. Exceptions to this requirement are considered only after a student submits a formal petition to the Department of TLC Certification, Screening, and Petitions Committee.

Residency Requirements for Certification. Non-Andrews University graduates must complete at least 9 credits in residence to qualify for a recommendation for a teaching certificate and/or endorsement.

Michigan Department of Education Definition of Program Completers

To qualify as a "Program Completer," students seeking their initial Teaching certificate must satisfactorily complete the following:
 Passing score on the MTTC Professional Readiness Examination (PRE) and a bachelor's degree

Elementary:

Professional education courses* Planned program minor* Approved subject content major or two minors* The MTTC Elementary Education Exam (subject area exams are optional)

Secondary

Professional education courses* Approved subject content teaching major* Approved subject content teaching minor* The MTTC Subject Area Exams for both major and minor.

- Current First Aid & CPR Certification from the American Red Cross or the American Heart Association
 - Recommendation for certification
- * EACH of these areas must have at least at least a 2.50 GPA with no grade of C- or below, in addition to a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75. Graduate students must maintain at least a 3.0 GPA at the graduate level.

Courses counted toward meeting the requirements for the planned program minor, the professional education courses, the subject content major, minors, area of concentration, or Adventist certification requirements must have a grade of C or above. Students are expected to meet all requirements for Seventh-day Adventist and State of Michigan certification before the degree can be granted. Degree candidates who are unable to qualify for Adventist certification may petition the dean of the School of Education to be exempted from meeting the requirements for one of the two types of certification.

Note: It is the responsibility of all students seeking teacher certification to verify that they are meeting the current Andrews University requirements that have been submitted to the State of Michigan as well as all current State requirements. This includes requirements for General Education, content major, minor, planned program minor and Professional Education. These requirements may differ from what is listed in the content department.

Bachelors

Elementary Education, Two Minors BSELED

Students in the Elementary Education program must include The Planned Program Minor and one subject content major or two minors. When two minors are chosen, they should be chosen from different groups and at least one should be a subject area commonly taught in elementary schools (indicated with a *). See course requirements above. For more information regarding approved majors and minors see the Teaching, Learning & Curriculum Department page.

The required courses for an approved major or minor in Integrated Science, Language Arts, Reading, and Social Studies are listed in the chart below. All other approved majors and minors are listed and described under the appropriate department in the College of Arts & Sciences and School of Health Professions sections of this bulletin.

Integrated Science for Secondary Education BS

Secondary Certification with a BA or BS Degree

Students preparing for teaching in secondary schools (grades 6–12) may choose from either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree programs. These degrees are granted by the College of Arts & Sciences, School of Architecture, Art & Design, School of Education and School of Health Professions. Students must have a subject major and a subject minor, which Andrews University has approved with the State of Michigan for certification purposes, in addition to their Professional Education courses. In order for Andrews University to recommend a student for certification the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) subject area exams must be passed in both the major and minor.

Admission Requirements

An application for admission to the Teacher Preparation Program and Student Teaching must be completed during the semester EDTE 408 Principles of Teaching and Learning is being taken. This must be completed at least a year before a student plans to do Student Teaching. Applications will be considered at the end of each semester once all requirements have been completed.

To be admitted to the teacher education program, students must meet the criteria listed below:

Satisfactorily complete EDTE 165/630, EDTE 228/SPED 525, GDPC 302/514, and EDTE 408/508 (preferred order).

Choose appropriate teaching major and/or minor(s).

- Satisfactorily complete the MTTC Professional Readiness Examination (PRE), or the ACT, or the SAT exam.
- Have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.75.
- Obtain a recommendation from three sources: a professor from an education course, and professors from your major and your minor.
- Demonstrate police clearance regarding the potential for any felony and/or misdemeanor convictions as an adult.
- Submit an acceptable plan for completing all required course work. All prerequisites for student teaching as stated in the University Bulletin must be met prior to the student-teaching semester.
- Submit a plan for completing the required MTTC Michigan Subject Area Exam(s).
- Applications will be processed as they are received and completed. It is the student's responsibility to see that all paperwork is in for the application to be processed in a timely manner.

- Once admitted to the Teacher Education/Student Teaching Program students must:
- Maintain good and regular status.
 - Maintain at least a 2.50 GPA in each of the following areas:
 - Major(s)*,
 - Minor(s)*,
 - Professional education courses*, and
 - Overall course work.
 - A course with a grade less than a C in a major, minor, or professional education class must be repeated. All courses taken at Andrews University or transferred to Andrews University are included in calculating the GPA.
 - Continue working on their professional teaching portfolio (begun in EDTE 165).
 - Demonstrate the professional disposition of an educator.
- NOTE: Students cannot be admitted to the Teacher Preparation/Student Teaching Program, or remain in the program once admitted, if they fail two classes in their major, minor, courses for Professional Education, or Planned Program minor.

Professional Readiness Examination (PRE) and its Alternatives
 (Taken from the Michigan Department of Education Website)
 The PRE is the Michigan Department of Education (MDE) teacher certification basic skills examination composed of reading, writing, and mathematics subtests. The PRE must be passed before student teaching in a Michigan K-12 school. The PRE is also required for out-of-state applicants seeking Michigan certification. To pass the PRE, a test-taker must pass each of the three subtests mentioned above.

The PRE provider, Evaluation Services Group of Pearson (ES), offers the PRE in a computer- or paper-based format as part of the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) program. Those seeking Michigan certification can learn about test schedules, locations, and registration by visiting the MTTC Web site.

In April 2014, the MDE accepted ACT and the Michigan Merit Examination (MME) as alternative examinations for the PRE. In February 2017, the updated SAT was added as an alternative. ACT, MME, and SAT minimum passing scores are below:

PRE Subtest	Required ACT Score ¹	Required MME Score ²	Required SAT Score ³
Reading	22	1108	480 ⁵
Writing	22 ⁴	1129
Mathematics	22	1116	530

- ACT scores are valid for tests taken from January 1989 to September 23, 2017
- MME scores are valid for tests taken from January 2007 through January 2015
- SAT scores are valid for tests taken on or after March 5, 2016
- ACT Writing score is determined from an ACT Combined English/Writing score
- SAT Reading and English test results are reported as a single Evidence-Based Reading and Writing score
- SAT test takers are not required to complete the SAT essay test. SAT essay performance is not in the SAT Evidence-Based Reading and Writing score.

The MDE also offers the option of passing the PRE with a passing score in two PRE subtests and a third PRE subtest alternative score, which is a score at or above a Statistical Error of Measurement (called -1 SEM). The -1 SEM target score may change with each test administration. An alternative scores table is published on the MTTC Web site.

- Test-takers may combine alternative pass measures until October 1, 2025. For example, a test-taker can receive basic skills examination"passed"status with:
- an ACT Mathematics score of 22, an MME Reading score of 1108, and an SAT Evidence-Based Reading and Writing score of 480.
 - an SAT Mathematics score of 530, an MME Reading score of 1108, and a PRE Writing score of 220.

An important caveat to the combination allowances:

The -1 SEM alternative pass measure is not allowed in any combination using an SAT score.

- Thus, in the combination examples above, a test-taker may not use a -1 SEM PRE allowance in place of the ACT or the PRE score. Someone could, however, earn basic skills examination"passed" status with:
- an ACT Mathematics score of22, an MME Reading score of 1108, and a Writing PRE score at or above a -1 SEM score from the alternative score table.
- As of September 23, 2017,
- the PRE will no longer be offered. PRE score results from on or before September 23, 2017 will still be eligible to establish basic skills examination"passed" status without expiration.
 - the ACT may no longer be taken as a basic skills examination.
 - test-takers needing to pass the MDE basic skills examination must use the updated SAT from on or after March 5,2016.
 - alternative pass measures completed on or before September 23, 2017 may be used until October 1, 2025. Alternative pass measures include ACT, MME, and -1 SEM PRE score values.

State law requires a passing result in all 3 areas prior to student teaching. Andrews University requires a passing result prior to admission to the Teacher Preparation/Student Teaching program.

Graduation & Certification Requirements

In order to graduate with a BA or BS in the content area with a secondary major in Secondary Education, students will need to complete additional requirements for Michigan teacher certification. Students who do not fulfill the additional requirements will only receive the content area degree and major.

- CPR & First Aid Training
 Michigan Public Act 18 of 2003 requires all teaching interns to be certified in CPR (child and adult) and first aid prior to being recommended for teacher certification. The legislation stipulates that this training must be completed through the American Red Cross or American Heart Association.

- Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) Subject Area Tests
 A passing score on the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification subject area test in major and minor is also required to earn teacher certification through Andrews University and in the state of Michigan.

Official exam results must be sent directly to Andrews University from the testing companies prior to a recommendation for certification.

The subject area tests should not be taken before your final year in the program. We recommend that you wait until you have completed most or all of your major and minor university-based coursework before attempting the subject area tests.

Secondary and K-12 candidates: Before being recommended to the state for teacher certification, you must take and pass the subject area tests in your teaching major(s) and minor(s). As a secondary Teaching major you can expect to take at least two MTTC tests while in our program.

Social Studies for Secondary Education BS

Secondary Certification with a BA or BS Degree

Students preparing for teaching in secondary schools (grades 6–12) may choose from either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree programs. These degrees are granted by the College of Arts & Sciences, School of Education and School of Health Professions. Students must have a subject major and a subject minor, which Andrews University has approved with the State of Michigan for certification purposes, in addition to their Professional Education courses. In order for Andrews University to recommend a student for certification the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) subject area exams must be passed in both the major and minor.

Admission Requirements

English Language Requirements

Students whose first language is not English must provide evidence of English-language proficiency before they are accepted into any program in the Department of English. To qualify for admission, students must obtain at least a minimum composite score on one of the following exams, with component score(s) at or above those indicated:

- Paper-based TOEFL (ITP) composite score of 600 with no component score lower than 55. An additional written essay exam is required with a minimum score of 80, and an additional speaking evaluation with a score of not less than 3.

- Internet-based TOEFL (iBT) composite score of 100, with Reading and Listening component scores of at least 15, Writing component score of at least 17, and Speaking component score of at least 18.

- MELAB composite score of 84 with no component score lower than 80.

- IELTS composite score of 7, with Reading, Listening, and Speaking component scores of at least 6, and a Writing component score of at least 5.

The exam must be taken within two years prior to enrollment. Students who score below these levels may complete language requirements by enrolling in Intensive English Program courses (ENSL) on campus. Students with a score on the TOEFL ITP of 575-599 (or the equivalent on any of the four other exams) may be eligible for the Language Bridge Program which allows students to take a limited number of degree program courses while completing language proficiency requirements in Intensive English Program courses. Students in the Language Bridge Program must demonstrate language proficiency within two semesters in order to continue in the degree program. Exceptions to these requirements may be granted by the Department of Communications on an individual basis.

Teacher Education Bachelors/Masters Dual Degrees

The dual degree programs are designed to give students knowledge and skills in content areas and education. The programs prepare educators who have a clear understanding of their content area and educational skills and strategies that will be implemented in their classrooms. Educators will also gain understanding of diversity, classroom management, and assessment. Graduates of the programs are currently working in a wide variety of positions in education such as classroom teachers, administrators and consultants.

The dual degree program usually takes five years to complete, earning a Bachelors and Masters in Elementary Education or Secondary Education. Students will be required to meet the criteria of the dual degree. Students must complete all requirements for certification prior to graduation.

Majors and Minors

Majors and Minors for Elementary Education Certification

Students in the Elementary Education program must include the Planned Program minor and one subject content major or two minors. When two minors are chosen, they should be chosen from different groups and at least one should be a subject area commonly taught in elementary schools (indicated with a *).

The required courses for an approved major or minor in Integrated Science, Language Arts, Reading, and Social Studies are listed in the chart below. All other approved majors and minors are listed and described under the appropriate department in the College of Arts & Sciences, School of Architecture, Art & Design and School of Health Professions sections of this bulletin.

Majors and Minors for Secondary Education Certification

Students preparing for teaching in secondary schools (grades 6–12) may choose from either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree programs. These degrees are granted by the College of Arts & Sciences, School of Architecture & Interior Design, and School of Education. Students must have a subject major and a subject minor, which Andrews University has approved with the State of Michigan for certification purposes, in addition to their Professional Education courses. In order for Andrews University to recommend a student for certification the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) subject area exams must be passed in both the major and minor, and have current certification in First Aid & CPR.

Descriptions of the Integrated Science and Social Studies majors are listed in the School of Education. All other approved majors and minors are described under their respective departments in other sections of this bulletin.

Masters

Curriculum and Instruction MA

Program Description

Mission

As companions in learning, faculty and students are committed to global Christian service through excellence in teaching, learning, and research.

Program Description

The Curriculum & Instruction program is concerned with creating superior learning environments within learning organizations such as schools, colleges, universities, and corporations. Curriculum & Instruction (C&I) degrees at Andrews University are offered in traditional classrooms, completely online, or in a combination of the two. However, you must select one program and apply for admission to it. The programs are interdisciplinary, involving a broad spectrum of content areas and educational levels. Graduates of the Andrews University Curriculum & Instruction program serve as classroom teachers, department heads, principals, superintendents, curriculum specialists, teacher educators, department chairs, researchers, academic vice presidents, and university presidents. [Note: Persons seeking master's level initial teacher certification for K–12 schools should pursue the MAT degree for elementary or secondary education.

Specialized study in the form of concentrations is offered in several areas. Students in all graduate C&I programs may choose to include a concentration to help reach their personal goals for advanced study. The chart below lists currently approved concentrations for MA, EdS, EdD, and PhD degrees in Curriculum & Instruction. Please note that all concentrations are available on-campus and several of the concentrations also are available online. If you are interested in one of the online concentrations, please check the chart below carefully to be sure that concentration is currently available online. While graduate degrees in Curriculum and Instruction are designed for experienced educators, provision is made for individuals desiring a career change. Such persons may be required to earn more than the minimum number of credits.

Two Program Delivery Options – You Choose Which Meets Your Needs

We offer both a synchronous, online degree pathway and a traditional, face-to-face (f2f) residential path to degree completion. Some students combine the two options, taking some courses f2f and others online. The Higher Learning Commission (HLC) and NCATE have accredited both program delivery options. We have a rolling admissions policy and it is possible to begin your program during any semester. Courses are offered year-round in three semesters: Fall, Spring, and Summer. Courses offered during the Summer Semester may be subdivided into shorter more intensive sessions of 2, 3, 4, or 8 weeks.

Traditional Face-to-Face, Residential Program

We have students from all over the United States and the world who come to southwestern Michigan to complete their graduate degrees in a classroom setting. The residential program is appropriate for international students who want a degree from a United States university, but whose national governments do not recognize online degrees. Some countries such as Brazil, for example, require their citizens to complete degrees on a residential campus. Additionally, international students living in the United States are limited in the number of online courses they can take each semester.

Synchronous, Interactive Online Program.

For those learners pursuing their degree online, we offer every EDCI class and many others online. From your program orientation to presentation of your capstone project and portfolio, you will be immersed in a richly interactive online environment. The interactive online C&I program allows participants to meet program competencies within the context of their current career positions. This immediate application of learning strengthens authenticity, provides relevancy, and benefits the place of employment. Our interactive online program is offered through synchronous online or blended learning courses. All online courses are delivered via the Internet. Online learners interact with their peers in the traditional classroom during synchronous class sessions. This allows the ongoing construction of a learning community and supports learners as they advance their understanding and develop expertise in their selected area. Please note: Not all concentrations are available via online delivery. Online doctoral students are required to travel to the Berrien Springs campus for their dissertation defense.

Potential students interested in one of our online degree programs should first check with the School of Distance Education's Compliance Officer to see if Andrews University is approved to deliver online education in your state or area. As this list changes from time to time, it is important to check when you are first considering Andrews University as an option for your graduate work and then check again before you submit your application. Some states allow delivery of online courses but not completion of practicums, internships, and field placements. These regulations are important to review with your advisor when a degree candidate is working on their project class – EDCI 696, 799, or 899

Master of Arts

The Master of Arts (M.A.) degree is designed for individuals seeking to further develop and deepen their skills as educators, as well as for those future leaders in education who plan to go on to do further work and research in education. The M.A. is the starting point for those who may wish to later pursue an Educational Specialist (EdS) degree, a Doctor of Education (EdD) degree, or a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree. This program requires 32 semester hours of post-Bachelor's work, preparation of a Master's Portfolio, a project or thesis, and a written comprehensive examination. Students who are choosing one of the four special Master's concentrations must focus their project or thesis on a topic in the concentration area.

Program Delivery

This program is offered on campus and as a synchronous, interactive online program (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships definitions). The online courses are not self-paced, but have regular semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other, their traditional classroom peers, and the instructor throughout all courses. Online students are encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Admission Requirements

Admission decisions are based on the overall profile of each applicant. The applicant profile consists of information that indicates personal "fit" with the Curriculum and Instruction program and potential for success in the program. The C&I Program accepts applications on a rolling basis, with students being able to begin their course of study during any semester. In addition to application materials required of all graduate school applicants, the following items are of particular importance:

- Indicate whether you are applying for the on-campus or the online interactive program
- A 500-word statement of purpose explaining how your professional goals fit with the mission of the Curriculum and Instruction program. Identify the concentration you plan to complete.
- Recommendation forms and letters from professionals. Do not submit recommendations from relatives or current students.
- A completed Professional Experience form.
- A current resumé or curriculum vita (CV).
- Official transcripts from all schools where undergraduate or graduate courses were taken.
- Graduate Record Examination (GRE) general exam scores.
- Documentation of English proficiency (see University Graduate Programs General Admission Requirements for details).

Please consult the Graduate Programs Admission section of this bulletin for complete information regarding admissions requirements.

Curriculum and Instruction MA Degree Requirements

Prerequisites:
Prerequisites
Nine (9) semester credits of education courses, including an undergraduate (or graduate equivalent) in educational psychology. GDPS 514 Psychology of Learning (3 credits) will be required for those who do not meet the above prerequisite. Persons who seek admission to the MA without the prerequisites may be required to include additional courses, such as EDTE 408 Principles of Teaching and Learning, in their course plan. These prerequisites add to the total number of credits needed to complete the degree

Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT)

This flexible, professional degree program is designed to meet the needs of a wide range of individuals. Typical MAT students belong to one of the following categories:

Persons who have earned a bachelor's degree and are now seeking teacher certification at the elementary or secondary level

Persons who hold teacher certification at either the elementary or secondary level and seek certification at the other level.

Persons who hold a teaching certificate and want to strengthen or add a specific subject area endorsement.

Candidates for the MAT degree must hold or qualify for a Seventh-day Adventist or State of Michigan teaching certificate or its equivalent before the degree can be granted. The 32 credits listed for the completion of this degree represent the minimum number of hours required for the MAT. Persons who enter the MAT program without a teaching certificate should expect to complete more than 32 credits. The Certification Registrar evaluates transcripts and identifies specific certification requirements for each student needing certification.

Three specialization options are available in the MAT program:

An elementary education emphasis

A secondary education emphasis

A specific content area emphasis - (permission of the TLC department required)

MAT Prerequisites

An undergraduate degree with a major and/or a minor(s) in teaching area(s).

MAT students are required to meet the same requirements for a content major/minor as undergraduate students. If these requirements have not been met, they will need to be completed as soon as possible. Graduate level education courses may be taken concurrently; however any undergraduate requirements will need to be met before student teaching can be done.

MAT Program Procedures

Graduate Record Examination (GRE) general exam scores. Note: MAT students may receive provisional acceptance without GRE scores, but will need to complete the exam within four months of course enrollment.

Apply for admission to the Andrews University School of Education

Request evaluation of transcripts by the Certification Registrar

Develop a course plan in collaboration with advisor

Take initial classes during the first semester

Maintain a 3.0 GPA

Take the Professional Readiness Examination (PRE) section of the MTTC during first semester

Students transferring in a major and/or minor must pass the relevant MTTC

Subject Exams during their first semester of enrollment

Apply for admission to the teacher preparation program and student teaching candidacy during EDTE 408 (see here)*

Continue course work

Take the Subject Area section(s) of the MTTC

Complete course work, including EDTE 588 & EDCI 696.

Apply for teaching certificate.

Students should apply for Advancement to Candidacy at the time they begin

First Days of School Experience or the summer prior to Student Teaching.

Field Work and Comprehensive Examinations. Field work and comprehensive examinations may be required at the discretion of the subject specialization advisor and/or the professional education advisor.

Notes:

*Course requirements for persons seeking their first teaching certificate vary slightly from those who already have a teaching certificate.

A minimum of 12 credits must be 500-level or higher. Students who enter the MAT program without a teaching certificate typically must complete more than 32 to qualify for a teaching certificate.

On the graduate level GDPC 525 replaces EDTE 228.

An undergraduate degree with a major and/or a minor(s) in teaching area(s).

MAT students are required to meet the same requirements for a content major/minor as undergraduate students. If these requirements have not been met, they will need to be completed as soon as possible. Graduate level education courses may be taken concurrently; however any undergraduate requirements will need to be met before student teaching can be done.

MAT Program Procedures

Graduate Record Examination (GRE) general exam scores. Note: MAT students may receive provisional acceptance without GRE scores, but will need to complete the exam within four months of course enrollment.

- Apply for admission to the Andrews University School of Education
- Request evaluation of transcripts by the Certification Registrar
- Develop a course plan in collaboration with advisor

Take initial classes during the first semester

Maintain a 3.0 GPA

Take the Professional Readiness Examination (PRE) section of the MTTC during first semester

Students transferring in a major and/or minor must pass the relevant MTTC Subject Exams during their first semester of enrollment

Apply for admission to the teacher preparation program and student teaching candidacy during EDTE 408 (see here)*

Continue course work

Take the Subject Area section(s) of the MTTC

Complete course work, including EDTE 588 & EDCI 696.

Apply for teaching certificate.

Students should apply for Advancement to Candidacy at the time they begin First Days of School Experience or the summer prior to Student Teaching.

Field Work and Comprehensive Examinations. Field work and comprehensive examinations may be required at the discretion of the subject specialization advisor and/or the professional education advisor.

Notes:

*Course requirements for persons seeking their first teaching certificate vary slightly from those who already have a teaching certificate.

A minimum of 12 credits must be 500-level or higher. Students who enter the MAT program without a teaching certificate typically must complete more than 32 to qualify for a teaching certificate.

On the graduate level GDPC 525 replaces EDTE 228.

Special Education, Adventist Specialty Endorsement

Special Education (Adventist Specialty Endorsement)

This endorsement, created especially for Seventh-day Adventist teachers already having denominational certification, emphasizes teaching strategies for students with disabilities in special education and/or inclusive education (special needs in the regular classroom). Program courses may include fieldwork. At the completion of these 12 credit hours the candidate will receive a Special Education Specialty certificate from Andrews University.

Total Credits: 12

- SPED 618 - Legal and Ethical Issues in Schools Credits: 3
- SPED 645 - Reading and Writing Assessment & Intervention Credits: 3
- SPED 630 - Education of Students with Math Disabilities Credits: 3
- SPED 525 - Psychology and Education of Exceptional Children Credits: 3

Note:

Persons completing certificate requirements who currently hold a standard Adventist teaching credential will be recommended for an Adventist specialty endorsement in special education.

Special Education, Learning Disabilities K-12 Endorsement MS

Special Education (Learning Disabilities K-12 Endorsement) Completion of required course work leads to a Michigan State Teaching Endorsement in Special Education in the area of Learning Disabilities and a Master of Science in Special Education. Students who have been accepted into the MAT program, or those without current certification, can petition to be concurrently accepted into the MAT/MS program.

The State of Michigan requires students to possess a valid State of Michigan Elementary or Secondary Education Teaching Certification prior to the submission of an application for a Special Education/Learning Disabilities Endorsement.

Completion of the portfolio requirements and a "pass" grade on the MTTC Subject Area (Learning Disabilities) Exam is required. All students seeking this degree will be expected to meet the requirements in effect as set forth by the State of Michigan at the time of graduation.

This program is also available online. Teachers from outside of the state of Michigan are not eligible for a Michigan State Teaching Endorsement in Special Education, and will need to check with their own state requirements.

Post-Masters

Curriculum and Instruction EdD

Doctor of Education (EdD)

As the more professionally-oriented degree, the Doctor of Education (EdD) is designed for educational leaders who contribute to the field of education through their work in the field, developing curricula, supervising, and leading out in instructional improvement and school change. Dissertation research for the EdD is typically practitioner-focused and addresses a topic of practical concern within the concentration area. The program requires 61 post-MA semester credits.

Program Delivery

The Doctor of Education in Curriculum and Instruction is offered in a synchronous, interactive online program (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships definitions) and a face-to-face on-campus program. Online courses are not self-paced, but have regular semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other, their traditional classroom peers, and the instructor throughout all courses. Online students are required to come to campus for defense of their dissertations. Online students are encouraged to come to campus for graduation

Curriculum and Instruction EdS

Educational Specialist

The Educational Specialist (EdS) degree is designed for individuals seeking advanced positions in K-12 schools and other learning organizations. The EdS is a field-focused degree that equips educators as expert practitioners to lead the field by developing curricula, supervising instruction, and leading out in instructional improvement and educational change. This program requires a research-based empirical project (EDCI 799) and requires 32 semester hours post-MA. Students may choose to complete the EdS en route to a doctoral degree.

Program Description

Mission

As companions in learning, faculty and students are committed to global Christian service through excellence in teaching, learning, and research.

Program Description

The Curriculum & Instruction program is concerned with creating superior learning environments within learning organizations such as schools, colleges, universities, and corporations. Curriculum & Instruction (C&I) degrees at Andrews University are offered in traditional classrooms, completely online, or in a combination of the two. However, you must select one program and apply for admission to it. The programs are interdisciplinary, involving a broad spectrum of content areas and educational levels. Graduates of the Andrews University Curriculum & Instruction program serve as classroom teachers, department heads, principals, superintendents, curriculum specialists, teacher educators, department chairs, researchers, academic vice presidents, and university presidents. [Note: Persons seeking master's level initial teacher certification for K–12 schools should pursue the MAT degree for elementary or secondary education.

Specialized study in the form of concentrations is offered in several areas. Students in all graduate C&I programs may choose to include a concentration to help reach their personal goals for advanced study. The chart below lists currently approved concentrations for MA, EdS, EdD, and PhD degrees in Curriculum & Instruction. Please note that all concentrations are available on-campus and several of the concentrations also are available online. If you are interested in one of the online concentrations, please check the chart below carefully to be sure that concentration is currently available online. While graduate degrees in Curriculum and Instruction are designed for experienced educators, provision is made for individuals desiring a career change. Such persons may be required to earn more than the minimum number of credits.

Two Program Delivery Options – You Choose Which Meets Your Needs

We offer both a synchronous, online degree pathway and a traditional, face-to-face (f2f) residential path to degree completion. Some students combine the two options, taking some courses f2f and others online. The Higher Learning Commission (HLC) and NCATE have accredited both program delivery options. We have a rolling admissions policy and it is possible to begin your program during any semester. Courses are offered year-round in three semesters: Fall, Spring, and Summer. Courses offered during the Summer Semester may be subdivided into shorter more intensive sessions of 2, 3, 4, or 8 weeks.

Traditional Face-to-Face, Residential Program

We have students from all over the United States and the world who come to southwestern Michigan to complete their graduate degrees in a classroom setting. The residential program is appropriate for international students who want a degree from a United States university, but whose national governments do not recognize online degrees. Some countries such as Brazil, for example, require their citizens to complete degrees on a residential campus. Additionally, international students living in the United States are limited in the number of online courses they can take each semester.

Synchronous, Interactive Online Program.

For those learners pursuing their degree online, we offer every EDCI class and many others online. From your program orientation to presentation of your capstone project and portfolio, you will be immersed in a richly interactive online environment. The interactive online C&I program allows participants to meet program competencies within the context of their current career positions. This immediate application of learning strengthens authenticity, provides relevancy, and benefits the place of employment. Our interactive online program is offered through synchronous online or blended learning courses. All online courses are delivered via the Internet. Online learners interact with their peers in the traditional classroom during synchronous class sessions. This allows the ongoing construction of a learning community and supports learners as they advance their understanding and develop expertise in their selected area. Please note: Not all concentrations are available via online delivery. Online doctoral students are required to travel to the Berrien Springs campus for their dissertation defense.

Potential students interested in one of our online degree programs should first check with the School of Distance Education's Compliance Officer to see if Andrews University is approved to deliver online education in your state or area. As this list changes from time to time, it is important to check when you are first considering Andrews University as an option for your graduate work and then check again before you submit your application. Some states allow delivery of online courses but not completion of practicums, internships, and field placements. These regulations are important to review with your advisor when a degree candidate is working on their project class – EDCI 696, 799, or 899

The Master of Arts (M.A.) degree is designed for individuals seeking to further develop and deepen their skills as educators, as well as for those future leaders in education who plan to go on to do further work and research in education. The M.A. is the starting point for those who may wish to later pursue an Educational Specialist (EdS) degree, a Doctor of Education (EdD) degree, or a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree. This program requires 32 semester hours of post-Bachelor's work, preparation of a Master's Portfolio, a project or thesis, and a written comprehensive examination. Students who are choosing one of the four special Master's concentrations must focus their project or thesis on a topic in the concentration area.

Program Delivery

This program is offered on campus and as a synchronous, interactive online program (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships definitions). The online courses are not self-paced, but have regular semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other, their traditional classroom peers, and the instructor throughout all courses. Online students are encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Admission Requirements

Admission decisions are based on the overall profile of each applicant. The applicant profile consists of information that indicates personal "fit" with the Curriculum and Instruction program and potential for success in the program. The C&I Program accepts applications on a rolling basis, with students being able to begin their course of study during any semester. In addition to application materials required of all graduate school applicants, the following items are of particular importance:

- Indicate whether you are applying for the on-campus or the online interactive program
- A 500-word statement of purpose explaining how your professional goals fit with the mission of the Curriculum and Instruction program. Identify the concentration you plan to complete.
- Recommendation forms and letters from professionals. Do not submit recommendations from relatives or current students.
- A completed Professional Experience form.
- A current resumé or curriculum vita (CV).
- Official transcripts from all schools where undergraduate or graduate courses were taken.
- Graduate Record Examination (GRE) general exam scores.
- Documentation of English proficiency (see University Graduate Programs General Admission Requirements for details).

Please consult the Graduate Programs Admission section of this bulletin for complete information regarding admissions requirements.

Curriculum and Instruction PhD

Program Description

Mission

As companions in learning, faculty and students are committed to global Christian service through excellence in teaching, learning, and research.

Program Description

The Curriculum & Instruction program is concerned with creating superior learning environments within learning organizations such as schools, colleges, universities, and corporations. Curriculum & Instruction (C&I) degrees at Andrews University are offered in traditional classrooms, completely online, or in a combination of the two. However, you must select one program and apply for admission to it. The programs are interdisciplinary, involving a broad spectrum of content areas and educational levels. Admission Requirements

Admission decisions are based on the overall profile of each applicant. The applicant profile consists of information that indicates personal "fit" with the Curriculum and Instruction program and potential for success in the program. The C&I Program accepts applications on a rolling basis, with students being able to begin their course of study during any semester. In addition to application materials required of all graduate school applicants, the following items are of particular importance:

- Indicate whether you are applying for the on-campus or the online interactive program
- A 500-word statement of purpose explaining how your professional goals fit with the mission of the Curriculum and Instruction program. Identify the concentration you plan to complete.
- Recommendation forms and letters from professionals. Do not submit recommendations from relatives or current students.
- A completed Professional Experience form.
- A current resumé or curriculum vita (CV).
- Official transcripts from all schools where undergraduate or graduate courses were taken.
- Graduate Record Examination (GRE) general exam scores.
- Documentation of English proficiency (see University Graduate Programs General Admission Requirements for details).

Please consult the Graduate Programs Admission section of this bulletin for complete information regarding admissions requirements.

Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)

As the research-oriented degree, the PhD is designed for individuals who wish to be educational leaders. Our learners are transformed through in-dept exploration of the field and original, theoretical, and conceptual research. Individuals taking this degree typically enter higher educaiton, government, and/or advanced positions in K-12 education. Program requirements for this degree include an additional research course. The program requires 61 post-MA semester credits.

Certificates

College and University Teaching Certificate

The certificate will provide professional development for college teachers who have no specific training in the craft of teaching. It will also provide students in graduate programs the opportunity to be trained in teaching at the university level if they desire to seek a position as a faculty member in institutions of higher education.

A student taking one course per semester will take two years to complete the program.

Program Delivery

This program is offered on campus and as an interactive online program (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses via Zoom video conferencing technology.

Approved Majors and Minors for Secondary Certification

Seventh-day Adventist and State of Michigan secondary certification require a major and minor teaching area. Seventh-day Adventist certification also recognizes additional majors and minors. See content majors and minors for secondary education.

Teacher Certification

Teacher Certification

(SDA Certification & State of Michigan Certification)

Teacher Certification Information

All courses needed for Adventist certification or State of Michigan certification require a grade of C or above.

Seventh-day Adventist Teaching Credential Levels and Requirements

Seventh-day Adventist K–12 teacher credentialing is organized into three levels of certificates: Basic, Standard and Professional. The following section describes each level, points out specific requirements, and tells how they are met at Andrews University.

Adventist Basic Certificate. The Basic Teaching Certificate may be issued to the candidates presenting a "Verification of Eligibility" form from Andrews University. The certificate is issued by the union conference where the candidate takes his/her first teaching position.

Religion Requirements. A minimum of 12 semester hours in religion, taken at a Seventh-day Adventist college/university or through Consortium of Adventist Colleges and Universities, to include the following areas:

Doctrines of the Seventh-day Adventist Church

- RELT225 - Doctrines of Adventist Faith
- Biblical Studies. Courses such as: Jesus in His Time and Ours, Law & Writings of the New & Old Testament, Acts & Epistles, Prophets of Israel
- Spirit of Prophecy. A study of the gift of prophecy revealed in the Bible and the writings of Ellen G. White.
- RELH 400 - SDA History and Prophetic HeritageSeventh day Adventist Church History.
- (RELH 400 covers both Gift of Prophecy and Seventh-day Adventist Church History)
- Seventh-day Adventist Church History.
- RELH 400 - SDA History and Prophetic Heritage
- Health Principles. A course in health based on the Bible and the writings of Ellen G. White.
- HLED 120 - Fit for Life

Adventist School Experience. All candidates for Adventist certification must have significant structured experiences in a Seventh-day Adventist school. To fulfill this certification requirement at Andrews University, any one of the following experiences are considered appropriate.

Full-semester student teaching in an approved Seventh-day Adventist school. A lab experience for EDTE 165 in a recognized Seventh-day Adventist school. Three weeks of pre- or post-student teaching experience in a recognized Seventh-day Adventist school. Other verified experiences may fulfill this requirement. Requests to have these considered must be made on a petition form available at the Department of Teaching, Learning & Curriculum office. Such petitions should be submitted at least one semester before student teaching begins.

Multi-grade/Multi-age Teaching Experience (Elementary only).

For the Elementary Teaching endorsement, multi-grade teaching experience is required. The unique curriculum, instructional strategies, and scheduling which characterize the multi-grade classroom are the focus of the course program and its 50-hour fieldwork experience. Arrangements to take EDTE 425 - Multi-grade/Multi-age Education should be made with the Director of Student Teaching immediately following admission to the teacher preparation program.

Renewal of Adventist Basic Certificate.

The Basic Teaching Certificate is valid for any three-year period (commencing when it is activated) during the first five years after it is issued. It can be re-validated by completing additional approved professional education/activities. See Manual for SDA Certification Requirements K-12 for specifics.

Adventist Standard Certificate

The Standard Teaching Certificate may be issued to an applicant who meets initial General Eligibility Requirements. Meets the requirements for a Basic Teaching Certificate, Completes a minimum of three years of full-time teaching or equivalent. Completes 6 credits of professional education or courses in area(s) of endorsements beyond the requirement of the Basic Teaching Credential.

Renewal of Adventist Standard Certificate.

The Standard Teaching Certificate is valid for five years. It can be renewed by completing 9 semester credits of advanced/graduate professional education or approved subject-area courses. See Manual for SDA Certification Requirements K-12 for specifics.

Adventist Professional Certificate. Seventh-day Adventist teachers desiring Professional Certification must meet the following criteria:

Meet initial general eligibility requirements. Qualify for the Standard Teaching Certificate Meet one of the following: Hold a master's degree. Complete a prescribed fifth-year program for teachers. Earn 40 semester hours of graduate/post-baccalaureate upper-division credit. Have 30 semester credits in professional education courses and/or in no more than two areas of certification endorsement. Earn graduate/post-baccalaureate upper-division credit in at least two of the areas listed below: Curriculum Improvement of instruction Learning theory/style Education of the exceptional child Trends and issues in education Multi-cultural education

Renewal of Adventist Professional Certificate.

The Professional Teaching Certificate is valid for five years. Renewal of the certificate requires 6 additional semester credits. See Manual for SDA Certification Requirements for specific details.

State of Michigan Certification

ATTENTION Beginning September 1, 2013, the administrative rules for teacher certification will be changing. This will affect all levels of certification. The Michigan Department of Education (MDE) plans to have the changes solidified by March 2012. Please be aware that the reading diagnostic course will still be required to go from a Provisional Certificate to a Professional Certificate. At Andrews University the course required is EDCI645 Advanced Diagnosis & Educational Therapy in Reading. If your certificate is expiring BEFORE September 1, 2013, you will be renewing or applying for your certificate under the current rules (prior to 9/1/13).

Michigan currently issues the following certificates:

Provisional Certificate, Two-Year Extended Provisional Certificate, Professional Education Certificate, Interim Occupational Certificate, Occupational Education Certificate, Preliminary School Psychologist, Certificate School Psychologist Certificate, Temporary Teacher Employment Authorization, Interim Teaching Certificate, School Guidance Counselor License, Temporary School Counselor Authorization, Preliminary School Counselor Authorization, Administrator Certificate

Michigan no longer issues the following certificates; however, they are still valid for those who hold them:

18-Hour and 30-Hour Continuing Certificate Permanent Certificate Full Vocational Authorization

For further information regarding the certificates mentioned above please check the Michigan Department of Education website at:

http://www.michigan.gov/mde/0,4615,7-140-6530_5683_14795---,00.html and choose "Certification Frequently Asked Questions".

Provisional Certificate

(Initial teaching license/credential; valid for up to six years)

The initial teaching certificate (Provisional Certificate) is issued upon successful completion of a state approved teacher preparation program and a passing score on the appropriate Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) exams, including the Professional Readiness Exam (PRE).

Note: After January 1, 2013, the BST became known as the Professional Readiness Examination (PRE) and this terminology will be phased in within the year.

The following link provides information on Michigan approved EPO and programs: <http://www.mttc.nesinc.com/>

Programs completed through colleges/universities outside of Michigan must be approved for the certification of teachers by another state. Contact that state's education department for information. Upon completion of the out-of-state program, candidates must apply for a Michigan teacher certification, and their credentials must be evaluated by the OPPTS.

Alternate routes to certification completed in another state will require the completion of three years of teaching experience within the validity of the out-of-state regular standard teaching certificate.

Administrative Rule Changes Effective after September 1, 2013)

Provisional Certificate Renewal (after September 1, 2013) (Each renewal is valid for up to three years)

First renewal requires completion of ONE OF THE FOLLOWING:

- 6 semester hours in a planned course of study* since the issue date of the initial Provisional Certificate at an approved EPI AND within the three years preceding application;
- 180 State Continuing Education Clock Hours (SCECHs) appropriate to the grade level and content endorsement(s) of the certificate held since the issue date of the initial Provisional Certificate AND within the three years preceding application;
- Combination of semester credit hours and SCECHs (30 SCECHs equate to 1 semester credit hour) since the issue date of the initial Provisional Certificate AND within the three years preceding application;

Second renewal requires completion of ONE OF THE FOLLOWING:

- 6 semester hours in a planned course of study* since the issue date of the FIRST Provisional Certificate renewal at an approved EPI AND within the three years preceding application;
- 180 State Continuing Education Clock Hours (SCECHs) appropriate to the grade level and content endorsement(s) of the certificate held since the issue date of the FIRST Provisional Certificate renewal AND within the three years preceding application; or
- Combination of semester credit hours and SCECHs (30 SCECHs equate to 1 semester credit hour) since the issue date of the FIRST Provisional Certificate renewal AND within the three years preceding application or

Third renewal requires sponsorship by the local school district or private school, completion of all academic requirements for the Professional Education Certificate, and approval of the MDE. This renewal will not be issued to individuals who meet all the requirements for the Professional Education Certificate.

An individual who holds an expired Provisional, Temporary Vocational Authorization, or Interim Occupational Certificate, and who has not met the credit requirements for a first or second renewal may qualify for a three-year renewal of the certificate if he/she:

Holds a valid certificate from another state; AND

Has taught in that state within the grade level and subject area endorsement or endorsements to the validity of the certificate for least one year in the preceding five year period.

Two-Year Extended Provisional Certificate (after September 1, 2013)

Individuals with expired Provisional Certificates who do not meet the requirement for a provisional renewal may be eligible for a Two-Year Extended Provisional Certificate if the following conditions are met:

The individual's initial Provisional Certificate expired less than ten years ago;
 The individual has at least one year of satisfactory teaching experience within the validity of his/her teaching certificate;
 The individual is currently enrolled* in a planned program at an approved college/university;
 A Michigan public or private school is employing and sponsoring the individual for the Two-Year Extended Provisional Certificate.
 The sponsoring school agrees to monitor the teacher's progress towards the completion of the Professional Education Certificate requirements.

The Two-Year Extended Provisional Certificate is valid for two calendar years and is nonrenewable. Individuals who fail to complete all requirements for the professional education certificate during the two-year validity period of the Two-Year Extended Provisional Certificate will not be granted additional renewals or extensions of their Provisional Certificates.

Professional Education Certificate (after September 1, 2013)
 (Initial advanced teaching license/credential; valid for up to five years)

Requirements:

Three years of successful teaching experience* since the issue date, and within the validity and grade level, of the Provisional Certificate;
 The appropriate reading credit as described in the "Additional Requirements" below;

And one or the combination of the following:

(Within the five year period preceeding the date of application and since the issue date of the Provisional Certificate or Provisional Renewal)

6 semester hours in a planned program at an approved EPI or 6 semester credit hours of academic credit appropriate to the grade level and content endorsement(s) of the certificate at any approved college or university.

180 State Continuing Education Clock Hours (SCECHs) appropriate to the grade level and content endorsement(s) of the certificate held.

150 annual District Provided Professional Development (DPPD) hours in accordance with Michigan School Code Sections 380.1527 completed through professional development programs that are appropriate to the grade level and content endorsement(s) of the certificate.

NOTE: The DPPD forms if available in the Michigan Online Educator Certification System www.michigan.gov/moecs. You are required to complete the DPPD form (one per school year) and have them signed by the Principal or Designee of the school district. Once signed by the Principal or Designee of the school district, you may then enter the DPPD hours into MOECS. Make sure you retain the signed DPPD form(s) for auditing purposes by the OPPS, and DPPD form(s) would be requested to be submitted to us at that time

Note: SECHs (30 SCECHs equate to 1 semester credit hour), and/or DPPD hours (30 clock hours of DPPD equates to 1 semester credit hour or 30 SCECHs) since the issue date of the Provisional Certificate.

Additional Requirements:

In-state applicant

(Program completed through a Michigan University)

Must also meet the basic reading requirements (6 semester hours of teaching of reading or reading methods for elementary or 3 semester hours for secondary); AND

Beginning July 1, 2009, all teachers advancing to the Professional Education Certificate must have completed 3 semester credits in reading diagnostics and remediation, which includes a field experience in accordance with Michigan Revised School Code MCL380.1531(4); The following link provides a list of approved Michigan courses that meet the requirement under the Specialty Programs heading at the bottom of the page: <http://www.michigan.gov/teachercert>.

Out-of-state applicant (Initial Michigan Certification)

(Program completed through a state other than Michigan)

Must also meet the basic reading requirements (6 semester hours of teaching of reading or reading methods for elementary and 3 semester hours for secondary);

Candidates from other states who hold a regular, valid teaching certificate from another state and meet all of the requirements of the Professional Education Certificate at the time of application are not required to take the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) for initial Michigan Certification.

* Teaching experience acquired in a licensed, private, "Child Care Center" may apply towards the experience requirements for an elementary Professional Education Certificate. The Michigan institution which plans a person's 18-semester hour planned program shall determine that the experience is under appropriate supervision and is successful for in-state candidates based on the report of the employing district(s)

 Credit completed outside the State of Michigan must be in an approved master's Degree program (minimum 20 semester credit hours to obtain endorsement) at a state approved EPI.

 Applicants who complete the reading diagnosis course out-of-state must have the Reading Diagnosis Course Certification form completed and signed by the out-of-state university.

How to Apply for a Michigan Educator Certificate

All Michigan educator certificates and renewals must be applied for through the Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS). The following steps need to be taken to obtain access to MOECS and apply for your certificate, renewal or additional endorsement:

Go to www.michigan.gov/moecs

Click on "Click Here to go to the MOECS Login Page" Logo

Click on the "Create new Login Name/Password" link (if you are NEW to the system)

Follow the instructions and provide the required information to create your login name and password.

Print the confirmation page that contains your login name, password, and Michigan Education Information Systems (MEIS) account number.

Click on the link to return to MOECS.

Log into MOECS using the login name and password that you created.

After logging in, select "Educator" from the dropdown list.

Click on "Continue."

Follow the instructions and provide the required information to selfregister in MOECS.

Once you have successfully self-registered in MOECS, you will be sent an e-mail that contains a link to activate your account.

Click on that link and the MOECS login screen will appear.

Log into MOECS again, using the login name and password that you previously created.

Update and save your demographic information.

After you update and save your demographic information, the left navigation menus will appear on the screen.

Select "Apply for Educator Certificate or Renewal" from the left navigation menus.

Select the type of educator certificate that you are applying for or renewing from the dropdown list.*

Follow the instructions and answer all the questions.

Once you have completed the application process, a summary of your application will appear on the screen.

Review the summary and make sure that all the information and answers that you provided are correct.

After you have determined that the information on the application is correct, click on "continue."

Read the advisory and check the boxes to verify that you have read and understood the advisory and that the information on the application is correct and true.

Enter your electronic signature and submit the application.

Once your application has been successfully submitted, you will receive a confirmation message.

If you completed your program or renewal credits through a college or university outside the State of Michigan, the confirmation message will list the documents that you need to submit to the Michigan Department of Education and provide an address where the documents must be sent. Evaluation of your credits or program for the purpose of Provisional certification, Provisional renewal or advancement to the Professional certificate will not occur until payment is made.

If you completed your program or renewal credits through a Michigan college/university, that college/university will contact you if they need you to provide additional documentation.

Adding Endorsements to Adventist and Michigan Credentials.

This section outlines criteria and procedures for adding an elementary or secondary endorsement at Andrews University. Other endorsements are also available. Procedures for Adding Another Level of Certification— Elementary or Secondary

Michigan no longer issues the following certificates; however, they are still valid for those who hold them and no additional professional learning requirements apply:

- 18-Hour and 30-Hour Continuing Certificate
- Permanent Certificate
- Full Vocational Authorization

Current Validity Levels (Teaching Certificates)

Elementary: An elementary certificate issued after September 1, 1988, is valid for teaching all disciplines grades K-5, all disciplines grades K-8 in a self-contained classroom, and the discipline area endorsement(s) as listed on the certificate, in grades K-8.

Secondary: A secondary certificate issued after September 1, 1988, is valid for teaching discipline area endorsements, as listed on the certificate, in grades 6-12.

Note: Prior to 1988, validity levels included "K-8 All Subjects" and "7-8 All Subjects" designations. These are still valid designations for individuals who hold these certificates.

Additional information regarding appropriate placement of teachers can be found in the Quick Reference: Courses That Can Be Taught and the Proper Placement Considerations documents.

• Standard Certificate Renewal

Standard Teaching Certificate Renewal

The Standard Teaching Certificate* is a five-year teaching certificate with unlimited renewals. Each renewal adds five years to the certificate's validity. A renewal can be requested any time after January 1 of the expiration year.

Requirements: (One of the following)

- 150 hours of education-related professional learning.
- An education-related masters or higher degree earned at any time from a regionally accredited college or university (may be used one time to renew the Standard Teaching Certificate).
- A valid out-of-state teaching certificate (may be used one time to renew the Standard Teaching Certificate).

Education-Related Professional Learning Options:

One of the following education-related professional learning options must be earned since the issue date of the most recent Standard Teaching Certificate or renewal, and they must be entered into Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS) prior to applying for the renewal for the system to recognize your eligibility:

- 6 semester credit hours appropriate to the content and grade level of the certificate and endorsement from a regionally accredited college or university; or
- 6 semester hours in a planned course of study from a regionally accredited college or university; or
- 150 Michigan State Continuing Education Clock Hours (SCECHs) appropriate to the content and grade level of the certificate and endorsement; or
- 150 hours of Michigan District Provided Professional Development (DPPD) appropriate to the content and grade level of the certificate and endorsement.
- Any combination of the above.

Education-Related Professional Learning Hour Conversion:

- College credit: 1 semester credit = 25 professional learning hours
- SCECH Hours: 1 SCECH hour = 1 professional learning hour
- DPPD Hours: 1 DPPD hour = 1 professional learning hour

*The Standard Teaching Certificate replaces the Provisional Teaching Certificate pursuant to Administrative Rule 390.1101.

Credits in a planned course of study may include credits taken as part of an education-related master's or higher degree or credits in a program that leads to an endorsement.*

• Professional Certificate Renewal

Professional Teaching Certificate Renewal

The Professional Teaching Certificate* is a five-year teaching certificate with unlimited renewals. Each renewal adds five years to the certificate's validity. A renewal can be requested any time after January 1 of the expiration year.

Credits in a planned course of study may include credits taken as part of an education-related master's or higher degree or credits in a program that leads to an endorsement.*

• Progressing to Professional Certificate

Progressing to the Professional Teaching Certificate before July 1, 2018

The Professional Teaching Certificate* is valid for up to 5 years and may be applied for any time requirements are met.

Requirements:

1. 3 years of successful teaching since the issue date of the initial Standard Teaching Certificate, within the content areas and grade level of the Standard Teaching Certificate; and
2. 6 semester credit hours of reading methods course work for elementary teachers and 3 semester credit hours for secondary certified teachers. If you completed your teacher preparation program in Michigan since 1985, you have met this requirement; and
3. 3 semester credit hours of reading diagnostics and remediation, which includes a field experience. This credit can be applied toward the professional learning requirement listed below assuming the credit was earned after the issue date of the most recent certificate or renewal; and
4. Education-related professional learning totaling 150 hours; or An education-related master's or higher degree earned at any time (even if previously utilized to renew the Standard Teaching Certificate) from a regionally accredited college or university.

Education-Related Professional Learning Options:

One of the following education-related professional learning options must be earned since the issue date of the most recent Standard Teaching Certificate or renewal, and they must be entered into Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS) prior to applying for the renewal for the system to recognize your eligibility:

• Advanced Professional Education Certificate

Advanced Professional Teaching Certificate

Facts-At-A-Glance:

- The Advanced Professional Teaching Certificate became available starting January 1, 2017
- Valid for up to 5 years and recognizes completion of an approved Teacher Leader program or achieving National Board certification through the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards
- Recognizes highly effective annual evaluation ratings*
- Intended to be an indication of an educator's advanced skills and training in master teaching and/or teacher leadership
- Can be applied for at any time after receiving the Professional Teaching Certificate (or even after the Professional Certificate's expiration), as long as the requirements have been met
- Educated-related professional learning is not required for the initial Advanced Professional Teaching Certificate, but are required for all subsequent renewals
- School districts approach assignments and benefits associated with the certificate differently; therefore, we encourage you to talk with your school and district leaders about your district's approach

Requirements:

1. A Professional Teaching Certificate
2. Completion of an approved Michigan Teacher Leader program or certification through the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards
3. Teacher Leader or National Board designation must be noted on the certificate prior to submitting application for an Advanced Professional Teaching Certificate
4. Highly effective ratings for 3 out of the 5 most recent end-of-school-year annual evaluations under MCL 380.1249*
5. No ineffective ratings within the 5 most recent end-of-school-year annual evaluations under MCL 380.1249*

*For additional information on educator evaluations and ratings, please visit the educator evaluations website or email questions to MDE-EdEvals@michigan.gov.

Application for Advanced Professional Certificate

- It is also important to verify that the appropriate effectiveness ratings were imported from the Registry of Education Personnel, database the schools use to report educator effectiveness ratings
- Questions regarding the ratings that are viewable (or not viewable) in an individual's Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS) account should be directed to the employing school or school district
- Once the requirements for the Advanced Professional Teaching Certificate have been met, application is made through the MOECS.

Additional Information

Costs associated with obtaining an Advanced Professional Teaching Certificate

The National Board Teaching Certificate Programs and Teacher Leader programs are fee-based programs. Additionally, the certificate has a state-issued application fee and five-year renewal fees of $210.

Permanent, Life or Continuing Certificate Holders

Holders of these certificates types may select to obtain the Advanced Professional Teaching Certificate. However, unlike the Permanent, Life or Continuing certificates, this certificate requires criteria for renewal every five years. Obtaining this certificate will put the holder on the renewal track requiring professional learning hours every five years.

Preschool or Nonpublic School Teacher Evaluations

The Michigan Department of Education, in coordination with nonpublic and early childhood stakeholders, are working out the details of how this affects Professional certificate holders who are not working in K-12 public schools and wish to progress to an Advanced Professional Teaching Certificate. We hope to provide additional information soon.

Multiple Ratings in a Single Year

The legal language for progressing to an Advanced Professional Certificate states that (in addition to other criteria) an individual must be "...ated as highly effective ...or 3 out of the 5 most recent school years [and]...as not been rated ineffective ...ithin the 5 most recent school years." An educator will not be able to progress to the Advanced Professional Certificate if he/she has an ineffective rating. Put simply, the ratings defaults to the lower rating.

National Board Certification

Additional information regarding National Board Certification and how it is recognized in Michigan is available in this guidance document.

• Out of State Applicants

Out-of-State Applicants

Michigan has signed an Interstate Compact Agreement (ICA) with every state agreeing to accept out-of-state teacher preparation programs and teaching certificates on a reciprocal basis for initial certification. However, the terms of the agreement address both traditional teacher preparation programs and alternative route teacher certification programs and each certificate and/or program must be evaluated under the terms of this agreement.

Out-of-state certification programs and credentials may differ from Michigan programs and credentials; however, under the ICA, the Department attempts to match out-of-state certificates, grade levels and content endorsements, as closely as possible.

To determine reciprocity under the ICA, an evaluation must be completed. For this to happen, an application must be submitted using the Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS). MOECS will determine the certificate type (provisional or professional) being applied for based on answers to the application questions. Accurate responses and supporting documentation are required. Reciprocity notwithstanding, Michigan certification is not guaranteed and ancillary state requirements exist in Michigan law (e.g., testing).

STANDARD CERTIFICATE

The Standard Teaching Certificate and the Standard CTE Certificate are the initial certificate issued to teachers who have completed an approved out-of-state teacher preparation program.

Program and Certificate Requirement:

An applicant who has completed a state-approved teacher preparation program including student teaching in another state can submit an application to be evaluated for certification.

OR

An applicant who has completed an alternative route teacher certification program in another state and holds a valid, standard teaching certificate issued based on completion of that program can submit an application to be evaluated for certification. This is not applicable to applicants who have temporary, preliminary, or interim teaching certificates from other states.

First Aid and CPR Requirement:

The applicant must also have current training in first aid and child and adult CPR from an approved source such as the American Red Cross or the American Heart Association.

Source: Section 1531d of Public Act 451 (1976) as amended, MCL 380.1531d

Testing Requirement:

After an evaluation of application documents, the applicant will be notified per a MOECS evaluation letter as to what appropriate subject area tests are to be taken via the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) in addition to the basic skills exam.

Beginning October 1, 2017, candidates seeking initial teacher certification through the Michigan Department of Education (MDE) must take the SAT as the basic skills exam unless the candidate meets the alternate testing requirement outlined in the testing guidance document.

Source: Section 1531(3) of Public Act 451 (1976) as amended, MCL 380.1531(3)

Temporary Teacher Employment Authorization:

If the applicant holds a valid, standard teaching certificate from another state, the applicant can be issued a nonrenewable Standard Temporary Teacher Employment Authorization (T2EA) that authorizes his/her employment in a Michigan school for one year. The applicant can be employed as a teacher for a year while working to pass the required tests. Additional time for testing is allowable, but without T2EA validity.

Please note that once the T2EA has been issued, the law requires the passage of the tests and reciprocal evaluation for the Professional Teaching Certificate as the initial Michigan certificate can no longer be provided.

PROFESSIONAL CERTIFICATE

If an applicant who has completed an out-of-state approved teacher preparation program and holds a valid, standard teaching certificate from that state and meets all the requirements for the Professional Teaching Certificate or a Professional CTE Certificate listed below, he/she can be evaluated for the Professional certificate as his/her initial Michigan teaching certificate.

An applicant who qualifies for the Professional certificate as his/her initial Michigan certificate is not required to test.

Planned Program/Degree Requirement:

The applicant must have at least eighteen (18) semester hours in a planned program completed since the issuance of his/her initial, standard teaching certificate or have earned at any time an approved Master's or higher degree.

Teaching Experience Requirement:

The applicant must have three (3) years of successful teaching experience matching the validity of his/her standard teaching certificate from another state since it was initially issued.

Valid Certificate Requirement:

The applicant must hold a valid standard certificate from another state in the subject area(s) and grade levels for which he/she is seeking Michigan certification.

Reading Methods Requirement:

The applicant must have six (6) semester credit hours of reading methods if elementary certified or three (3) semester credit hours of reading methods if secondary certified.

Source: Section 1531(6) of Public Act 451 (1976) as amended, MCL 380.1531(6)

ADMINISTRATOR CERTIFICATE

An applicant who has completed an out-of-state approved administrator certification program can use the program to submit an application to be evaluated for certification. The application must be submitted to the Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS). Accurate responses and supporting documentation are required to be evaluated.

• Out of Country Applicants

Application Guide for Teachers from Outside the United States

If you are a teacher from another country who has completed a teacher preparation program including student teaching outside the United States (U.S.) you may use that program to apply for a Michigan teaching certificate. You do not need to be a U.S. citizen or a Michigan resident to qualify for Michigan teacher certification.

To apply for a Michigan teaching certificate you must use the Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS). On the MOECS homepage under the heading "Educator Applicants" you will find instructions on how to create a login and password to gain initial access MOECS.

If you do not have a U.S. social security number, you will need an identification number to apply. An identification number can be obtained by calling this office at 517-373-3310.

Michigan issues several types of certificates. You will be applying for either the Standard Teaching Certificate or the Professional Teaching Certificate, an advanced level certificate. For similar guidance on obtaining certification in Michigan can be found in the out-of-state applicant guide. MOECS will determine which certificate you are applying for based on your answers to the application questions.

Once you have submitted your application, MOECS will send you an email that explains how to pay the $210.00 application evaluation fee online using a debit or credit card. MOECS will also tell you how to print an application cover letter. The MOECS generated cover letter will have a checklist of the documents you will need to provide and instructions on how to mail the documents to this office.

As a teacher prepared in another country, one of the documents you will have to provide is an original course-by-course evaluation report from a recognized evaluation service (unless you completed a teacher preparation program in Canada and hold a teaching certificate from Ontario, Newfoundland, Quebec or Saskatchewan). The course-by-course evaluation report converts your course work and degree(s) into U.S. standards.

We accept transcripts from three international credential evaluation services. We are not accepting application for additional service providers at this time. Our requirement for all these service providers are as follows:

- non-profit organization;
- members in good standing with National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES).

Once your credentials have been evaluated and it has been determined you meet requirements for a Michigan teaching certificate you will be emailed either an evaluation report that indicates the tests you need to pass from the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification in order for your Standard Teaching Certificate to be issued or a notice that your Professional Teaching Certificate has been issued.

The status of your application can be viewed at any time using the MOECS. MOECS also allows educators to utilize other convenient features relating to their certification, including printing your certificate.

Please note that if you experience difficulty accessing the MOECS from a location outside of the U.S., additional support can be obtained by contacting MOECSSupport@michigan.gov.

• Alternate Routes to Certification and Endorsements

Alternative Route to Michigan Certification or Endorsement

In Michigan, teacher preparation is guided by law, state administrative rules, and teacher preparation program standards. Michigan law and rules require that all individuals complete an approved preparation program (e.g., math, elementary, English) to obtain initial certification or add endorsements to a certificate.

The alternative route to teacher certification is a non-traditional preparation program designed for individuals who hold a minimum of a bachelor's degree and are seeking to complete an expedited teacher preparation program while employed as a teacher under an Interim Teaching Certificate (ITC). Accordingly, employment in teaching the content area is a pre-requisite to issuing additional certification or endorsement. Individuals may complete this pathway regardless of whether they are seeking initial certification in Michigan or are already certificated and wish to add an additional endorsement. Please note that under law, career and technical education Classifications of Instructional Programs (CIPs), early childhood and special education endorsements are not available through this pathway.

Program Description and Candidate Eligibility

As specified in law (MCL: 380.1531i), alternative route programs approved by the Michigan Department of Education (MDE) and the Michigan Superintendent of Public Instruction (SPI) must include the equivalent of at least 12 semester credit hours and training in the following areas:

- child development or child psychology;
- family and community relationships;
- diverse learners;
- instructional strategies; and
- a form of field-based experience in a classroom setting.

Candidates are eligible for enrollment in an alternative route program if they meet the following legislated selectivity criteria:

1. minimum of bachelor's degree;
2. 3.0 GPA on 4.0 scale;
3. passage of the Michigan basic skills examination;
4. passage of the appropriate discipline area Michigan Test(s) for Teacher Certification;
5. CPR/First Aid certification (MCL 380.1531d); and
6. Federal Background Check (R 390.1201).

All state-approved alternative route programs can be found using the MDE approved program database. Please contact providers directly for additional information about program coursework, requirements and application procedures.

Interim Teaching Certificate (ITC)

The ITC is a Michigan-issued teaching certificate that entitles the holder to teach full-time in a Michigan school as the teacher of record. The ITC is a 5-year certificate; validity begins the month of issuance and expires on June 30 of the expiration year. This certificate can only be issued once, and under no circumstances be renewed. Additionally, once the certificate is issued no additional endorsements may be added to it.

In order to maintain the ITC, an individual must continue to be enrolled in the alternative route preparation program. If an individual withdraws from an alternative route, an alternative route preparation program must notify the MDE. In addition, the alternative route preparation program must notify the K-12 school in which the individual is teaching to inform them that the individual may no longer be placed in a K-12 teaching assignment under the ITC. Should the K-12 school wish to retain the individual as a teacher, the school administrator must apply to the MDE for a substitute permit.

To progress the ITC to a Standard Teaching Certificate or to add the endorsements from an ITC to an existing certificate, an individual must:

1. have successfully completed the entire alternative route program, successfully completing all key assessments;
2. have taught successfully for three years, within the validity of their endorsement areas (a minimum of 12 weeks per endorsement area);
3. make application for certification within the Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS); and
4. be recommended by the alternative route provider.

Additional Information

Ideally, an alternative route to teacher certification is a collaborative effort between the teacher candidate, preparation provider, and K-12 school district. All three should work together to support the candidate in learning to teach, while ensuring K-12 learners' growth and development.

There are two paths that may lead an individual to the alternative route program and ITC:

- 1) the individual has a job opportunity and is seeking certification/endorsement in that area; or
- 2) the individual seeks certification or an additional endorsement to increase employment opportunities.

An individual who does not hold appropriate certification or endorsement for an assignment for which they would like to be employed should work with the employer to fully understand the options for obtaining certification/endorsement. Individuals without an employment opportunity should work with an approved alternative route program provider to investigate regional job markets and needed content areas and to secure employment.

• School Counselor License

In-State Applicants:

Applicants who are enrolled in a school counselor program at an approved Educator Preparation Institution will be evaluated for eligibility of a School Counselor License (SCL) by the in-state university certification officer. An evaluation for a school counselor credential may lead to an applicant initially being recommended for a Preliminary Employment Authorization to Work as a School Counselor and subsequently a SCL. The SCL is valid for 5 years and is issued to candidates who have fulfilled all Michigan institutional and academic requirements, including the following:

- Completion of at least 30 graduate level semester hours in an approved schoolcounselor education program; and
- All program requirements including an internship of not less than 600 clock hoursbased on an approved school counselor program in a school district under thesupervision of a credentialed school counselor or a school counselor educator. Atleast 300 of the 600 clock hours shall be in a school setting; and
- Passage of the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) School Counselorexamination.

Out-of-State Applicants:

Applicants who complete all requirements of an approved, out-of-state school counselor education program and/or fulfilled other requirements are evaluated for a School Counselor License (SCL) by the Michigan Department of Education (MDE), Office of Professional Preparation Services.

This license is valid for 5 years and is issued to candidates who have fulfilled all out-of-state institutional and academic requirements applicable to being evaluated by MDE for a Michigan SCL, including:

- Applicant completed a Master's degree or higher in a school counselor educator program including internship in a school setting at an out-of-state university or its equivalency OR
- Applicant has earned a Bachelor's degree AND has successfully worked out-of-state as a school counselor 5 out of the immediately preceding 7 years, plus holdsa valid school counselor certificate/license issued by another state.
- Passage of the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) School Counselorexamination is required.

Additional information on SCL renewals is also available.

• Out of State Temporary School Counselor Authorization

School Counselor: Out-of-State Temporary School Counselor Authorization

The Temporary School Counselor Authorization (TSCA) is an interim credential for applicants who have completed all requirements of an out-of-state, approved school counselor educator program or its equivalency, including an internship in a school setting. Applicants who receive this authorization are seeking an initial Michigan School Counselor License (SCL).

Upon issuance of the TSCA applicants are eligible to be hired to work as a school counselor within a K-12 school while completing Michigan testing required for issuance of the SCL.

The TSCA is valid for one year and is non-renewable.

Criteria:

Those who complete an advanced degree program including an internship in a school setting via an approved school counselor education program may be evaluated for a TSCA. Applicants who earn a Bachelor degree and have 5 years of successful experience out of the immediate preceding 7 years, serving as a school counselor and who hold a valid out of state school counselor certificate may be eligible for the TSCA.

Applicants who receive the TSCA authorization are evaluated for certification by the Office of Professional Preparation Services of the Michigan Department of Education (MDE) but have yet to take and pass the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) School Counselor examination.

Application Process:

Applicants submit an application for a School Counselor License by accessing the Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS). MDE will evaluate individuals for eligibility of the TSCA after an application is submitted online, the application processing fee has been paid and all supporting application documents have been received by the Office of Professional Preparation Services.

Note:

In MOECS applicants will need to select they are submitting an application for a SCL. As part of the application process a series of questions will need to be answered. The answers provided by the applicant are used in the evaluation process to determine an applicant's eligibility to be issued the TSCA.

• Preliminary School Counselor

Preliminary Employment Authorization to Work as a School Counselor

This Authorization is an interim credential for applicants exclusively enrolled in an in-state approved Educator Preparation Institution (EPI) completing a school counselor endorsement program, a School Counselor License (SCL) or both. In-state university applicants are to seek the consultation of their university advisor for questions regarding eligibility of the Preliminary Employment Authorization to Work as a School Counselor.

Upon issuance of this credential, individuals are eligible to be hired by a Michigan school district to serve as a school counselor.

The Preliminary Employment Authorization to Work as a School Counselor is valid for 3 years and is non-renewable.

Criteria:

Applicants who complete a minimum of 30 semester credit hours in an in-state counselor education program and who pass the School Counselor examination on the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) may be recommended for a Preliminary Employment Authorization to Work as a School Counselor by a Michigan EPI that has approval to prepare individuals to work in the field of school counseling.

Individuals are expected to complete the remainder of any coursework, including practicum or internship in order to be recommended for a school counselor endorsement on a Michigan teaching certificate, a SCL or both, during the validity of this authorization.

Application Process:

All applicants submit an application on the Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS). In-state university enrollee applications will electronically be sent to the (EPI) to assess eligibility for approval of the Preliminary Employment Authorization to Work as A School Counselor.

Note:

On the Michigan Online Educator System (MOECS) applicants will need to select they are applying for an endorsement or the School Counselor License. If seeking both credential types in-state applicants will need to submit two different application fees and apply for each credential separately.

• School Psychologist Certification

School Psychologist Certification

A person employed as a school psychologist in a Michigan school is required to hold a valid Michigan School Psychologist Certificate or a Preliminary School Psychologist Certificate.

An application for a School Psychologist Certificate or Preliminary School Psychologist Certificate is created through the Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS).

Preliminary School Psychologist Certificate (R 380.204 & 380.205) Valid for 3 years and available to individuals who meet the following requirements:

1. Complete a graduate degree in an approved school psychology certification program (no less than 45 semester credit hours); and
2. Complete a 600 clock-hour, supervised practicum in school psychology; and
3. Possess a valid out-of-state school psychologist certificate or license if the school psychologist program was completed in another state.

Preliminary School Psychologist Renewal (R 380.204 & 380.205) A one-time, 3-year renewal may be granted upon application and verification of one of the following:

- Six (6) semester credit hours in an approved school psychologist program from an Educator Preparation Institution. The credit must be completed since the issue date of the preliminary psychology certificate; or
- A valid, out-of-state school psychologist certificate.

School Psychologist Certificate (R 380.206) Valid for 5 years and available to individuals who meet the following requirements:

1. Possess a current or expired Preliminary School Psychologist Certificate; and
2. Complete a state-approved specialist-level degree or the equivalent (no less than 60 semester credit hours) in school psychology with a 1200 clock-hour internship from an Educator Preparation Institution (EPI).

An out-of-state applicant may qualify for a School Psychologist Certificate (R 380.206), valid for 5 years, as an initial certificate if the individual meets the following requirements:

1. Complete a specialist-level degree or the equivalent (no less than 60 semester credit hours) in school psychology with a 1200 clock-hour internship from an out-of-state Educator Preparation Institution; and
2. Possess a valid Nationally Certified School Psychologist (NCSP) credential issued by the National Association of School Psychologists, (NASP) or a valid, standard school psychologist certificate from the state where the program was completed.

School Psychologist Renewal (R 380.206) Valid for 5 years and renewable using one of the following options:

Option A: One of the following Education-related professional learning options completed since the issue date of the most recent school psychology certificate or renewal and logged into MOECS:

- 6 semester credit hours appropriate for performing the roles of a school psychologist from a regionally accredited college or university; or
- 150 Michigan State Continuing Education Clock Hours (SCECHs) appropriate for performing the roles of a school psychologist; or
- 150 hours of Michigan District Provided Professional Development (DPPD) appropriate for performing the roles of a school psychologist.
- Any combination of the above equaling 150 hours.

Option B: A valid Michigan Professional Teaching Certificate.

Option C: A valid Nationally Certified School Psychologist (NCSP) credential.

Option D: A valid out-of-state school psychologist certificate (within five years preceding the application for renewal). Option D is for a one-time renewal only.

Education-Related Professional Learning Hour Conversion:

- College credit: 1 semester credit = 25 professional learning hours
- SCECH Hours: 1 SCECH hour = 1 professional learning hour
- DPPD Hours: 1 DPPD hour = 1 professional learning hour

All applications for initial certification and renewal are submitted through MOECS. Here are instructions for creating an initial MOECS account and checking your application status in MOECS after an application has been created. If you use District Provided Professional Development to renew your school psychologist certificate, you will need to have the DPPD form completed by your employing district.

• Administrator Certificate Requirements

School Administrator Certificates

School administrators whose primary responsibility is administering instructional programs must hold a valid School Administrator Certificate. This includes the following positions:

- Superintendent
- Principal
- Assistant Principal
- Chief Business Official

Requirements for standard School Administrator Certification:

Building Level Administrator:

- Completion of an approved master's degree or higher in educational leadership or administration earned at any regionally accredited college or university.

Central Office Administrator:

- Possession of a master's or higher degree.

- Completion of at least 21 semester credit hours at the post-master's degree level earned at any regionally accredited college or university. The program must include advanced studies in K-12 school administration.

Michigan approved School Administrator Certificate preparation programs can be found within the Michigan Department of Education's searchable program database.

Experience-Based School Administrator Certification:

An individual hired as a school administrator on or before January 4, 2010, is not required to hold the Administrator Certificate for their current position at this time. They must, however, meet and maintain the education-related professional learning requirements described in the School Administrator Certificate Renewal guidance document.

Beginning September 1, 2018 school administrators authorized and employed under the experience-based provision in Michigan Compiled Law (MCL) 380.1246(1)(a) will be required to hold the new Experience-Based School Administrator Certificate or obtain the School Administrator Permit.

Under MCL 380.1246(3) a non-certified person who was not hired as an administrator on/or before January 4, 2010 and does not hold the standard School Administrator Certificate, may be hired to fill a school administrator position if the following requirements are met:

- The individual must, within 6 months of their hire date, enroll in a program leading to certification as a school administrator. Enrollment must be verified by the provider and include evidence of payment of enrollment fees.
- The program must be completed and certification must be issued within 3 years.

Beginning September 1, 2018 administrators hired and employed without certification must obtain the School Administrator Permit while they meet the requirements MCL 380.1246(3).

Note: No extensions are available or provided for in law.

• Administrator Certificate Renewal Requirements

School Administrator Certificate Renewal

The School Administrator Certificate is a five-year certificate with unlimited renewals. Each renewal adds five years to the certificate's validity. A renewal can be requested any time after January 1 of the expiration year.

Requirements: (One of the following)

- Education-related professional learning totaling 150 hours.
- A valid out-of-state certificate, appropriate for K-12 administration may be used one time.

Education-Related Professional Learning Options:

One of the following education-related professional learning options must be earned since the issue date of the most recent School Administrator Certificate or renewal, and they must be entered into Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS) prior to applying for the renewal for the system to recognize your eligibility:

- 6 semester credit hours appropriate to the content and grade level of the certificate and endorsement from a regionally accredited college or university; or
- 6 semester hours in a planned course of study from a regionally accredited college or university; or
- 150 Michigan State Continuing Education Clock Hours (SCECHs) appropriate to the content and grade level of the certificate and endorsement; or
- 150 hours of Michigan District Provided Professional Development (DPPD) appropriate to the content and grade level of the certificate and endorsement.
- Any combination of the above.

Education-Related Professional Learning Hour Conversion:

- College credit: 1 semester credit = 25 professional learning hours
- SCECH Hours: 1 SCECH hour = 1 professional learning hour
- DPPD Hours: 1 DPPD hour = 1 professional learning hour

NOTE: A school administrator who holds a valid Michigan Professional Education Certificate shall be considered as meeting the professional learning requirement upon evaluation.

Credits in a planned course of study may include credits taken as part of an education-related master's or higher degree or credits in a program that leads to an endorsement.*

• Initial MOECS instructions

MOECS Login and Access

The Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS) is available to educators who hold a valid or expired Michigan certificate or who wish to apply for a Michigan certificate.

To create an account go to: <https://www.michigan.gov/moezs>.

1. On that page, click on the big blue box that says "Click here to go to the MOECS login page."
 2. Click on "Login Assistance."
 3. Enter your first and last name and the last 4 digits of your social security number. MOECS will determine you do not have an account and you will be redirected to create one.
 4. PRINT YOUR CONFIRMATION PAGE TO RETAIN VITAL LOG-IN INFORMATION!
 5. Return to the MOECS access page.
 6. Click on the big blue box that says "Click here to go to the MOECS login page.". If you are having trouble logging into MOECS please keep in mind that your password is case sensitive, is at least 8 characters, and contains at least one uppercase letter and either one number or one special character.
 7. Once logged in you must register. Answer the first question: "Would you like to register as:"
 8. Choose the appropriate option: e.g. Educator.
 9. Complete the first part of the registration and save.
 10. Log out and log back in.
 11. Answer the security question.
 12. Complete the second part of the registration and save.
- Congratulations! You now have access to MOECS. Blue navigation buttons will appear in the left menu providing you with many convenient features. Detailed instructions are also available here.

• Logging DPPD

DPPD: Logging it into MOECS

District Provided Professional Development (DPPD) is the professional development offered by a Local Education Agency (LEA) in order to fulfill the requirements of Michigan Compiled Law (MCL) Section 380.1527. This legislation requires LEAs to offer five (5) days of teacher professional development annually. Public or non-public schools, public school academies, or intermediate school districts can offer DPPD.

DPPD is logged into the Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS) as part of the application process for certificate renewal or progression to the Professional Teaching Certificate. To enter your DPPD and apply for certification, complete the following steps:

1. Log into your MOECS account.
2. Click on the "View Professional Learning" navigation button on the left side of the screen and then the "District Provided PD" tab.
3. Enter each DPPD activity and complete all required information. Before you enter the DPPD ensure that each item meets ALL of the following criteria: A category for the DPPD must be selected; pick the one that seems most applicable.

The title of the DPPD MUST be specific. DPPD that is identified as "PD," "Professional Learning," or a similar generic term will be disqualified.

DPPD must have been earned within the prior 5 years of the application and after the issue date on the most recently issued certificate.

DPPD must be appropriate for the endorsements and grade levels of the certificate.

If you are employed by a nonpublic school, and that school is not in the drop-down school selection field, it means the private school has NOT agreed to allow education-related professional learning to be used as DPPD. Educators should contact the school/district for additional information.

4. Click the "Totals" tab to verify the professional learning (college credits, State Continuing Education Clock Hours [SCECHs], and/or DPPD) in the system meets the 150 hour requirement.
5. Print the log of DPPD hours you entered in MOECS using your computer's print screen function.
6. Complete your section of the District Provided Professional Development form. This is the only form that may be used to verify DPPD. This form is available in MOECS.
7. Attach the DPPD form for the appropriate school year to the DPPD log(s) printed from MOECS in Step 5.
8. Delete any DPPD that the district will not verify with a signature/initials. Ensure that the total still reaches 150.
9. Submit the DPPD form with the DPPD log(s) to your Principal/School Designee for the required verification and signature. It is your responsibility to consult with your school district on the appropriate person to sign the DPPD form and initial the DPPD log(s). A private/non-public school that has not agreed in writing to have their DPPD audited CANNOT sign off on your form. You will be asked to submit the signed DPPD form and initialed DPPD log(s) to the Office of Professional Preparation Services during the application process if you are progressing to the Professional Teaching or the Professional CTE certificate. If you are renewing a Professional Teaching, Professional CTE, School Counselor, School Psychologist Certificate, or School Administrator Certificate, you will retain the DPPD form and DPPD log(s) in case of audit.
10. You may not apply to progress/renew your certificate until the DPPD form has been signed and the DPPD log(s) have been initialed by your school district. The application for progressing/renewing a certificate is found by clicking on the navigation button on the left entitled "Apply or Renew" in MOECS. Then, click on the drop-down and select "Teacher Certificate or Renewal of Teaching Certificate" and continue completing the application. Print the applicant cover sheet as directed and submit the required documentation for educators progressing to a Professional/CTE certificate.

11. Once the application has been submitted, you will receive an email with a link to pay for your certificate with a credit/debit card. You can monitor the status of your certificate using MOECS.

12. Individuals progressing to a Professional Teaching or Professional CTE certificate, will be placed in line to be evaluated after paying and submitting the required documentation. When the evaluation is completed, an email notification requesting additional documentation OR approving the application will be sent. Once approved, the certificate can be printed in MOECS by clicking on the navigation button entitled "Print Certificate."

12. Individuals renewing a Professional Teaching, Professional CTE, School Counselor, School Psychologist Certificate, or School Administrator Certificate, can print the certificate in MOECS immediately after submission by clicking on the navigation button entitled "Print Certificate". Please retain your professional learning records for audit purposes.

All certificates must be signed and notarized by a Notary Public before they become valid.

• Criteria for Accurate Teacher Application Documentation

District Provided Professional Development Documentation

District Provided Professional Development (DPPD) obtained through a Michigan public school/school district or public school academy may be used to renew all Michigan certificate types.

Educators employed in non-public schools wishing to use DPPD must contact their employer directly to discuss their options. Non-public school employees may use DPPD if the non-public school agrees to meet the criteria outlined in the February 24, 2015 memorandum and also agrees to auditing and documentation requirements using the Non-public District Provided Professional Development OPT-In/Out form.

All DPPD hours must be verified and approved by an educator's Principal/School Designee before the hours can be used for certificate renewal. Educator's must obtain the District Provided Professional Development Form and follow the instructions carefully for accurate submission.

Please note: Forms are updated regularly as requirements change. It is important to use the most up-to-date form. This can be accomplished by retrieving the form each time you renew directly from your MOECS account.

Work Experience Documentation

Teaching experience is required when progressing to the next level teaching certificate and must be documented on the "Teaching - Work Experience" form. This form is located in your MOECS account under the "Forms" bar in the left navigation menu.

The "Teaching - Work Experience" form must be filled out completely, with the appropriate signatures, by the employing school. The educator service rating at the bottom of the form must also be completed. Third party substitute agencies may not complete this form.

Please note that the status of your application can be viewed at any time using the MOECS. MOECS also allows educators to utilize other convenient features relating to certification, including the printing of a certificate.

• Checking For Application Status

Status of My Application

Once you have applied for an initial Michigan certificate/license, renewal of a Michigan certificate/license, or an additional endorsement, you can check the status of your application by logging into your account within the Michigan Online Educator Certification System at: www.michigan.gov/moeCS.

1) Login to MOECS

If you are unable to gain access your account, please click Login Assistance.

2) Once you have confirmed and/or updated your demographics, you will be directed to your Home Page.

3) Your Home Page will include all your pending certificate applications and the status of each.

4) You will see one of the following status indications:

*Please note that January, as well as May through August, are our busiest times of year. Additional time for processing may be required during these busy months.

• Reading Course Requirements

Reading Coursework Requirements for Michigan Teacher Certification

Michigan's Teacher Certification Code contains two distinct requirements in the teaching of reading that all teachers must complete, one of which must be completed prior to earning an initial standard teaching certificate, and the other of which must be completed prior to advancing to a professional teaching certificate.

Reading Methods Requirements for Standard Teaching Certification

In order to be recommended for an initial elementary provisional teaching certificate, teacher candidates must complete six (6) credit hours in the teaching of reading. In order to be recommended for an initial secondary provisional teaching certificate, teacher candidates must complete three (3) credit hours in reading instruction as appropriate to the content area in which they are seeking an endorsement. These requirements are set forward in R390.1123(2) of the Teacher Certification Code. Standards for the elementary and secondary coursework are available on the Michigan Department of Education website. Teacher candidates who complete an approved alternative route program to teacher certification have satisfied this requirement.

Reading Diagnosis/Remediation Requirements for Professional Teaching Certification

In order to advance to a Professional Teaching Certificate, teachers must satisfactorily (grade of C or better or the equivalent) complete an additional three (3) credit approved course of study in the diagnosis and remediation of reading disabilities and differentiated instruction. This requirement is set forward in R390.1132(4) of the Teacher Certification Code, and Michigan Compiled Law 380.1531(4) provides additional details on the content that this course of study must cover. The Office of Professional Preparation Services (OPPS) maintains a list of approved courses offered by Michigan colleges and universities to satisfy this requirement. While it is possible to complete this requirement through an out-of-state institution, the OPPS only approves and maintains a directory of courses from Michigan educator preparation providers. The OPPS does not approve courses from out-of-state institutions, but rather requires teachers who complete a course of study offered by an out-of-state provider to submit a verification form signed by an appropriate authority at the provider attesting that particular courses completed by candidates for a professional certificate meet Michigan's requirements for this course of study.

• Locating Your PIC

Locating Your Personal Identification CODE (PIC)

If you have a Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS) account and you need your PIC.

1) Login to MOECS

2) Using the Navigation Menu "Manage Demographics" on the left side of the screen, move to the "Personal Information" screen. If you have a PIC it will be located adjacent to the PIC Field.

If "Not Available" populates your PIC value, MOECS does not have a PIC for this account. You will need to contact MOECSsupport@Michigan.gov.

• Adding An Endorsement to a Valid Certificate

Adding an Endorsement to a Michigan Teaching Certificate

An endorsement can be added to a Michigan teaching certificate by way of one of the following paths:

1) Complete a state-approved endorsement program with at least 20 semester credit hours of coursework through a state-approved Educator Preparation Program (EPP). The program can be completed through a Michigan institution, an Michigan approved alternative route program, or an institution located in another state.

2) Complete another state's approved endorsement program with less than 20 semester credit hours of coursework and hold the endorsement on a valid, standard out-of-state teaching certificate.

3) Successfully teach in another state within the endorsement area for a minimum of three years since adding the endorsement to the out-of-state certificate. Note: The out-of-state teaching certificate must be valid during the three years of successful teaching experience, but does not have to be valid at the time of application.

An application to add an endorsement to a valid Michigan teaching certificate is created through the Michigan Online Educator Certification System (MOECS).

Teachers who have completed endorsement programs at Michigan institutions must work directly with their certification officer to ensure the application is processed correctly.

Teachers who have completed out-of-state endorsement programs will be evaluated by the Office of Professional Preparation Services (OPPS). Applicants must satisfy all the requirements for the endorsement and pass the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) endorsement test before the endorsement can be added to the Michigan teaching certificate. Teachers are not encouraged to take the MTTC until the OPPS evaluation is completed and an evaluation report is issued indicating the test that must be passed. The cost of an evaluation is $50 and does not guarantee the endorsement will be approved.

Michigan teachers may work in subject area(s) or grade levels outside of what are listed on their certificate only under the system of permits available to the school that employs them.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST TEACHING CREDENTIAL LEVELS AND REQUIREMENTS

Denominational certification is official recognition of the achievement of an acceptable level of personal, academic, and professional qualifications to practice the profession of instructing children and youth in a Seventh-day Adventist school setting.

Qualifying for the appropriate certificate and maintaining it through continued professional preparation and growth is the responsibility of each professional educator.

Adventist Basic Certificate

The Basic Teaching Certificate may be issued to the candidates presenting a "Verification of Eligibility" form from Andrews University. The certificate is issued by the union conference where the candidate takes his/her first teaching position.

Religion Requirements

A minimum of 12 semester hours in religion, taken at a Seventh-day Adventist college/university or through Consortium of Adventist Colleges and Universities, to include the following areas:

Doctrines of the Seventh-day Adventist Church:

RELH 225 Doctrines of the Adventist Faith

Biblical Studies. Courses such as: Jesus in His Time and Ours, Law & Writings of the New & Old Testament, Acts & Epistles, Prophets of Israel

Spirit of Prophecy. A study of the gift of prophecy revealed in the Bible and the writings of Ellen G. White.

RELH 400 SDA History and Prophetic Heritage

(RELH 400 covers both Gift of Prophecy and Seventh-day Adventist Church History)
Seventh-day Adventist Church History.

RELH 400 SDA History and Prophetic Heritage

Health Principles

A course in health based on the Bible and the writings of Ellen G. White.

HLED 120 Fit for Life

Adventist School Experience

All candidates for Adventist certification must have significant structured experiences in a Seventh-day Adventist school. To fulfill this certification requirement at Andrews University, any one of the following experiences are considered appropriate.

Full-semester student teaching in an approved Seventh-day Adventist school. A lab experience for EDTE 165 in a recognized Seventh-day Adventist school. Three weeks of pre- or post-student teaching experience in a recognized Seventh-day Adventist school. Other verified experiences may fulfill this requirement. Requests to have these considered must be made on a petition form available at the Department of Teaching, Learning & Curriculum office. Such petitions should be submitted at least one semester before student teaching begins.

Multi-grade/Multi-age Teaching Experience (Elementary only)

For the Elementary Teaching endorsement, multi-grade teaching experience is required. The unique curriculum, instructional strategies, and scheduling which characterize the multi-grade classroom are the focus of the course program and its 50-hour fieldwork experience. Arrangements to take EDTE 425 Multi-grade/Multi-age Education should be made with the Director of Student Teaching immediately following admission to the teacher preparation program.

Renewal of Adventist Basic Certificate

The Basic Teaching Certificate is valid for any three-year period (commencing when it is activated) during the first five years after it is issued. It can be re-validated by completing additional approved professional education/activities. See Manual for SDA Certification Requirements K–12 for specifics.

Adventist Standard Certificate

The Standard Teaching Certificate may be issued to an applicant who meets initial General Eligibility Requirements. Meets the requirements for a Basic Teaching Certificate, Completes a minimum of three years of full-time teaching or equivalent. Completes 6 credits of professional education or courses in area(s) of endorsements beyond the requirement of the Basic Teaching Credential.

Renewal of Adventist Standard Certificate

The Standard Teaching Certificate is valid for five years. It can be renewed by completing 9 semester credits of advanced/graduate professional education or approved subject-area courses. See Manual for SDA Certification Requirements K–12 for specifics.

Adventist Professional Certificate. Seventh-day Adventist teachers desiring Professional Certification must meet the following criteria:

Meet initial general eligibility requirements. Qualify for the Standard Teaching Certificate Meet one of the following: Hold a master's degree. Complete a prescribed fifth-year program for teachers. Earn 40 semester hours of graduate/post-baccalaureate upper-division credit. Have 30 semester credits in professional education courses and/or in no more than two areas of certification endorsement. Earn graduate/post-baccalaureate upper-division credit in at least two of the areas listed below: Curriculum Improvement of instruction Learning theory/style Education of the exceptional child Trends and issues in education Multi-cultural education

Renewal of Adventist Professional Certificate

The Professional Teaching Certificate is valid for five years. Renewal of the certificate requires 6 additional semester credits. See Manual for SDA Certification Requirements for specific details.

Mission

The mission of the Department of Graduate Psychology & Counseling is to:

Prepare professional psychologists, counselors, and learning specialists who are committed to excellence and world-wide service

Provide training based on a Christian world view and philosophy that promotes the balanced development of the mental, physical, social, and spiritual nature of persons

Respect human diversity and the uniqueness of each person as one created by God

Uphold the principles of Scripture as a guide for interpersonal relations.

Accreditation

Andrews University is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission and a Member of the North Central Association. It is also accredited by The Accrediting Association of Seventh-day Adventist Schools, Colleges and Universities.

The School of Education, as a unit, is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). NCATE has approved two programs within this department: School Psychology and School Counseling.

The Michigan State Department of Education has approved the following programs: School Psychology and School Counseling.

The National Association of School Psychologists (NASP) has approved the Ed.S. program in School Psychology.

The Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), a specialized accrediting body recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA), has approved the two M.A. degrees in counseling: the M.A. in Clinical Mental Health Counseling and the M.A. in School Counseling. The accreditation for both programs runs through October 31, 2020.

The American Psychological Association (APA) has approved the Ph.D. program in Counseling Psychology.

Fieldwork

All students must obtain a background check before they can participate in any course that requires fieldwork, including practicum and internship. Some programs require additional paperwork, e.g. Conviction Clearance forms.

Admission Requirements

General admission requirements for degrees in the School of Education are stated in the Graduate Programs portion of the Admissions and Academics section of this bulletin. Additional requirements are listed under the separate program descriptions which follow. Admission for any graduate degree offered in the School of Education is based on the total profile of the student and includes the analysis of admission documents, interviews, as well as the professional judgment of the program faculty.

*Programs offered in this Department are listed below.

Masters

Clinical Mental Health Counseling MA

The Clinical Mental Health Counseling program is designed to prepare students to function as professional clinical mental health counselors in community agency and mental health settings, such as: (a) mental health centers; (b) family counseling centers, and (c) solo or group private practice.

Note(s):

Due to the sequential nature of the Clinical Mental Health Counseling program, students must begin full-time study in the fall semester if they are to complete in two academic years.

Students are required to attend a minimum of eight weekly personal counseling sessions during the first semester of enrollment. These sessions may be arranged with the University's Counseling & Testing Center or in the public sector by a licensed therapist. A letter verifying the completion of these eight sessions is required by the end of the first semester.

Continuation in the Clinical Mental Health Counseling program is based upon a periodic review, by the department, of the student's academic performance and personal qualifications as a counselor.

Program Outcomes

The Clinical Mental Health Counseling program is designed to meet the criteria established by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). This program requires instruction in nine common-core areas as well as clinical instruction. The CACREP Core Program Objectives are met in various courses throughout the program. These Core Program Objectives include the following:

Professional Counseling Identity. Our graduates will develop understanding of the history of professional counseling, knowledge of the philosophical foundations of the profession, knowledge of the roles and functions of counselors, professional pride/professional engagement and knowledge and understanding of professional ethics.

Ethical Practice. Our graduates will commit to and follow professional ethics consistent with the American Counseling Association ethical guidelines. They seek supervision/consultation to resolve ethical dilemmas and take personal responsibility in the event an ethical error is committed. Students also develop a strong awareness of their own values and worldviews, recognize their own competencies and limitations, maintain openness to supervision and recognize/acknowledge/remediate personal issues that may impact client care. They express a clear understanding of personal needs, values, strengths, weaknesses, feelings and motivations that may impinge upon effectiveness as a counselor. They understand the need for themselves to maintain good mental and physical health.

Social and Cultural Diversity. Our graduates will develop awareness of power, privilege and difference and their own cultural attitudes, beliefs and effects of social location and learn strategies for working with diverse populations, gender, sexual orientation, ethnic and other non-dominant groups. Students develop an ability to recognize the injustices that affect physical, academic, career, economic and mental wellbeing of individuals and learn skill sets to act to alleviate such injustices in the society. Students develop the ability to be empowering agents and advocates in service as change agents on the systemic level to better serve under-represented, marginalized and oppressed individuals and groups. Our students will also model the desire to give back to one's community, church or society either by advocating for an identified issue of social justice or by engaging in service to their church and/or community.

Human Growth and Development. Our graduates will learn to interpret and apply core theory and research of the nature and needs of individuals at all developmental levels and in multicultural contexts.

Career Development. Our graduates will develop understanding on how to apply core theory and research of career development, the psychology of work and related factors. Students learn which assessment instruments and techniques are relevant to career planning and decision making.

Helping Relationships. Our graduates will develop therapeutic communications skills, emphasize the client-counselor relationship and facilitate and manage the counseling process with individuals and groups. Students develop an understanding of a range of counseling theories consistent with their own theoretical orientation, a critical evaluation of the literature, client mental health needs and goals in counseling, diagnosis and best practices in the profession.

Group Work. Our graduates will develop an understanding of the theoretical and experiential foundations of group purpose, development and dynamics and understand how to apply group counseling methods and skills in group settings.

Assessment. Our graduates will understand principles of testing and measurement and learn how to apply both individual and group methods of assessment and evaluation.

Research and Program Evaluation. Our graduates will understand methods and roles of research, statistical analysis, needs assessment and program evaluation.

Upon completion of the master's degree in Clinical Mental Health Counseling, students will be able to:

Understand, respond to and advocate for the needs of diverse client populations in a multicultural and pluralistic society, including issues regarding race, culture, religion, spirituality, sexual orientation, age, ability, gender, socioeconomic status, educational levels and multi-racial identities.

Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the major theories of counseling and develop a personal theory of counseling.

Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the major theories of career development and how to provide career/lifestyle counseling to clients.

Demonstrate understanding and knowledge of human development across the life span and how this relates to counseling interventions and assessment of clients.

Selects appropriate comprehensive assessment interventions to assist in diagnosis and treatment planning, with an awareness of cultural bias in the implementation and interpretation of assessment protocols.

Demonstrate the ability to use current technology for presentations, supervision, assessment, and professional record keeping.

Develops measurable outcomes for clinical mental health counseling programs, interventions and treatments, and then analyzes and uses data to increase the effectiveness of clinical mental health counseling interventions and programs.

Model legal and ethical standards of clinical mental health counseling in accordance with state and federal law and the standards of the American Counseling Association.

Apply basic counseling and facilitative communication skills in individual and small group settings.

Demonstrate a commitment to professional development by joining and becoming active members in the American Counseling Association (ACA) or the American Mental Health Counselors Association (AMHCA).

Model the desire to give back to one's community, church or society either by advocating for an identified issue of social justice or by engaging in service to their church and/or community.

Counseling Psychology MS

Program Description

The Master's in Counseling Psychology is available only to students already accepted into the PhD Counseling Psychology program. This embedded degree trains students to work as counselors and therapists at the master's level. It also provides the foundation for pursuit of state licensure for persons interested in working as master's level psychologists in a variety of settings. Graduation requirements at the MS level require students to complete all required coursework, comprehensive exams, and 150 supervised hours of practicum. Once 500 hours of clinical experience have been accumulated (150 from program plus 350 additional), graduates of the MS may choose to apply for licensure through the State of Michigan.

Educational Psychology, Instructional Psychology Concentration MA

This concentration is specifically designed for teachers who wish to expand their understanding of the teaching and learning process. It is also recommended for those students who plan to continue in the EdS in School Psychology program or obtain qualification as psychological associates. The courses are designed to assist the teacher and others who wish to broaden their understanding of the learner and learning environments. This emphasis is of interest to teachers who wish to renew their certification or move up on the salary scale and at the same time improve their understanding of children and how they learn.

School Counseling MA

The School Counseling curriculum prepares students for counseling in elementary and secondary schools.

The program includes the course work and experiences required for endorsement as a school counselor. Students working toward certification as K–12 school counselors should consult with the coordinator of the School Counseling program about the requirements of the state where they plan to work. Some states require teacher certification in order to obtain school counselor endorsement.

Students enrolled in the MA in School Counseling program must sign a Conviction Clearance form, certifying they have not been convicted of (or pleaded no contest to) a misdemeanor or felony. This form must be signed at three points in their program: prior to registering for their first class, prior to registering for GDPC 655 Internship in Counseling and beginning their internship, and prior to applying for certification as a school counselor through the Office of Teacher Certification at Andrews University. Having a prior conviction may make it impossible to complete the program.

Note(s):

Due to the sequential nature of the School Counseling program, students must begin full-time study in the fall semester if they are to complete in two academic years.

Students are required to attend a minimum of eight weekly personal counseling sessions during the first semester of enrollment. These sessions may be arranged with the University's Counseling & Testing Center or in the public sector by a licensed therapist. A letter verifying the completion of these eight sessions is required by the end of the first semester.

Continuation in the School Counseling program is based upon a periodic review, by the department, of the student's academic performance and personal qualifications as a school counselor.

A student who already possesses a master's degree and wishes to qualify for certification as a school counselor should consult with the Coordinator of the MA in School Counseling program.

Program Outcomes

The School Counseling program is designed to meet the criteria established by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). This program require instruction in nine common-core areas as well as clinical instruction. The CACREP Core Program Objectives are met in various courses throughout the program. These Core Program Objectives include the following:

Professional Counseling Identity. Our graduates will develop understanding of the history of professional counseling, knowledge of the philosophical foundations of the profession, knowledge of the roles and functions of counselors, professional pride/professional engagement and knowledge and understanding of professional ethics.

Ethical Practice. Our graduates will commit to and follow professional ethics consistent with the American Counseling Association ethical guidelines. They seek supervision/consultation to resolve ethical dilemmas and take personal responsibility in the event an ethical error is committed. Students also develop a strong awareness of their own values and worldviews, recognize their own competencies and limitations, maintain openness to supervision and recognize/acknowledge/remediate personal issues that may impact client care. They express a clear understanding of personal needs, values, strengths, weaknesses, feelings and motivations that may impinge upon effectiveness as a counselor. They understand the need for themselves to maintain good mental and physical health.

Social and Cultural Diversity. Our graduates will develop awareness of power, privilege and difference and their own cultural attitudes, beliefs and effects of social location and learn strategies for working with diverse populations, gender, sexual orientation, ethnic and other non-dominant groups. Students develop an ability to recognize the injustices that affect physical, academic, career, economic and mental wellbeing of individuals and learn skill sets to act to alleviate such injustices in the society. Students develop the ability to be empowering agents and advocates in service as change agents on the systemic level to better serve under-represented, marginalized and oppressed individuals and groups. Our students will also model the desire to give back to one's community, church or society either by advocating for an identified issue of social justice or by engaging in service to their church and/or community.

Human Growth and Development. Our graduates will learn to interpret and apply core theory and research of the nature and needs of individuals at all developmental levels and in multicultural contexts.

Career Development. Our graduates will develop understanding on how to apply core theory and research of career development, the psychology of work and related factors. Students learn which assessment instruments and techniques are relevant to career planning and decision making.

Helping Relationships. Our graduates will develop therapeutic communications skills, emphasize the client-counselor relationship and facilitate and manage the counseling process with individuals and groups. Students develop an understanding of a range of counseling theories consistent with their own theoretical orientation, a critical evaluation of the literature, client mental health needs and goals in counseling, diagnosis and best practices in the profession.

Group Work. Our graduates will develop an understanding of the theoretical and experiential foundations of group purpose, development and dynamics and understand how to apply group counseling methods and skills in group settings.

Assessment. Our graduates will understand principles of testing and measurement and learn how to apply both individual and group methods of assessment and evaluation.

Research and Program Evaluation. Our graduates will understand methods and roles of research, statistical analysis, needs assessment and program evaluation.

After completion of the M.A. in School Counseling, the students will be able to:

- Understand, respond to and advocate for the guidance needs of diverse student populations in a multicultural and pluralistic society, including issues regarding race, culture, religion, spirituality, sexual orientation, age, ability, gender, socioeconomic status, educational levels and multi-racial identities.
- Communicate and collaborate with school age students, their families, school staff and community agency representatives to promote a safe, healthy and effective learning environment.
- Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of systems theories, models and processes of consultation in school system settings and develop a personal theory of counseling.
- Apply knowledge of career development theory and practice to facilitate development student career and transition skills.
- Demonstrate understanding of the psychosocial foundations of human development across the life span.
- Applies relevant research findings to inform the practice of school counseling. Utilize student and institutional data to improve programs and recommend change.
- Develop, organize administer and conduct programs to enhance student academic development.
- Apply basic counseling and facilitative communication skills in individual and small group settings.

- Apply the knowledge of current technology for purposes of presentations, supervision, assessment, and professional record keeping.
- Apply psycho-educational theory and concepts in relation to individual assessment of aptitude, interest and achievement.
- Model legal and ethical standards of school counseling in accordance with state and federal law and the standards of the American School Counselor Association and the American Counseling Association.
- Demonstrate a commitment to professional development by joining and becoming active members in the American Counseling Association (ACA) or the American School Counselor Association.
- Model the desire to give back to one's community, church or society either by advocating for an identified issue of social justice or by engaging in service to their church and/or community.

Post-Masters

Counseling Psychology, Adult Emphasis Ph.D.

Ph.D.: Counseling Psychology

The Ph.D. in Counseling Psychology prepares students for the multi-faceted role of the professional psychologist, which allows them to work in a variety of settings including: academia, clinical settings, consultation, churches, businesses, and private settings. It is also the intent of the program to prepare graduates for licensure as professional psychologists in the U.S. and with eligibility to practice internationally. Students should consult with the appropriate authorities regarding requirements in the states or countries in which they wish to engage in clinical practice. Counseling psychology students must specialize in one of the listed areas of emphases: Adult, Child/Family, Cultural Diversity, and Health Psychology. Specialty emphases should be developed within a student's course plan in close consultation with their advisor to coincide with the student's dissertation topic. Additionally, each emphasis requires students to complete specified coursework, Advanced Emphasis practicum, and a dissertation topic related to chosen emphasis.

Admissions. Students entering the Ph.D. program in Counseling Psychology should have a master's degree in counseling or a related field.

In order for an applicant without a master's degree to be eligible for consideration of admissions, they must have the following: undergraduate major in psychology or related field; outstanding academic record with satisfactory GPA; and satisfactory scores on both the GRE General Test and Advanced Test in Psychology. A master's degree may be received en route to the doctoral degree, however, all master's degree requirements must be met.

The Ph.D. course requirements assume a prior master's degree that includes graduate courses in the following areas. If courses in these areas have not been taken prior to admission, the indicated Andrews University course must be taken as part of the degree, in addition to Ph.D. courses listed below:

- EDFN 500 - Philosophical Foundations for Professionals
- GDPC 514 - Psychology of Learning
- GDPC 635 - Theories and Techniques of Counseling
- GDPC 638 - Group Processes
- GDPC 640 - Multicultural Issues for Counselors and Psychologists
- GDPC 650 - Practicum in Counseling
- GDPC 676 - Theories of Personality
- EDRM 505 - Research Methods Or EDRM 506 - Research and Evaluation for Counselors
- EDRM 611 - Applied Statistical Methods I

Students accepted into the PhD in Counseling Psychology, without a prior master's degree in that field, are eligible to apply for the MS in Counseling Psychology and complete it en-route to their PhD. Completion of this degree along with additional supervised practicum hours allow students to apply for State of Michigan psychology licensure at the master's level.

Andrews University Doctoral Transfer Requirements: The Ph.D. Counseling Psychology program requires a minimum of 32 course credits be taken in residence at Andrews University.

- Completion of all required practicum (in this case 3 consecutive semesters - 9 credits)

- Completion of internship (one calendar year 40 hr per week APA approved internship - 3 credits)
- Dissertation credit to complete your dissertation – 16 credits minimum (14 dissertation, 2 EDRM880)
- Doctoral Comprehensive Examination

Residency Requirements: The Counseling Psychology program requires students to complete a minimum of 3 full-time academic years of graduate study, with at least 2 of those years at Andrews University. At least 1 year must be in full-time residence (3-consecutive full-time semesters) at Andrews University.

Preference is given to American Psychological Association (APA)–approved internships. The internship is usually completed on a full-time basis (40 hours per week) for one year. Continuation in the Counseling Psychology program is based upon an annual review by the department faculty of the student's academic performance, professional development and personal qualifications as a counseling psychologist.

Beginning the semester after registering for EDM880, candidates must register for at least 1 dissertation credit during each semester until their dissertation is successfully defended.

Program Outcomes

Consistent with the scientist-practitioner model and our training philosophy, the Counseling Psychology doctoral program integrates theory, research and practice by training counseling psychologists who (1) have the requisite knowledge base and therapeutic skills for entry into the practice of professional psychology, (2) have the necessary knowledge and skills for competent practice and research within a multicultural and spiritually diverse society, and (3) will contribute to and apply the scientific knowledge base of psychology using skills in qualitative and quantitative research methods. Each of these goals, objectives, and competencies are detailed below.

Goal #1: To train counseling psychologists who have the requisite knowledge base and therapeutic skills for entry into the practice of professional psychology

Objective 1.1: Students acquire a knowledge base of psychology as a scientific discipline, and of counseling psychology as an area of professional specialization

Understand the current body of knowledge of scientific psychology in biological, cognitive, affective, and social aspects of behavior, the history /systems of psychology, learning theory, multi-cultural issues, psychopathology, personality, spiritual/religious psychology, psychological measurement, research methods, and techniques of data analysis.

Understand the scientific, methodological, and theoretical foundations of practice in counseling psychology including individual differences in behavior, human development, psychopathology, and professional standards and ethical responsibilities, including applications to a multicultural and religiously diverse society.

Objective 1.2: Students acquire a knowledge base and skills necessary to diagnose or define problems through psychological assessment and measurement, and formulate and implement intervention strategies (including empirically supported procedures).

Understand the theories and methods of assessment and diagnosis, effective intervention, consultation and supervision, and evaluating the efficacy of interventions, including applications to a multicultural diverse and religiously diverse society.

Demonstrate knowledge and skills in empirically supported procedures.

Objective 1.3: Students acquire an awareness and understanding of professional issues to practice psychology in an ethical and professional manner

Understand ethical/legal standards in professional practice and research.

Demonstrate the capacity to make reasoned judgments about ethical practice related to emerging issues using codes, literature in professional ethics, and consultation with colleagues.

Goal #2: To train counseling psychologists who have the necessary knowledge and skills for competent practice and research within a multicultural and religiously diverse society

Objective 2.1: Students acquire self-awareness and comprehensive knowledge and skills to be a multiculturally competent psychologist

Demonstrate the self-awareness necessary to be a multiculturally competent psychologist.

Understand the concepts, theory, and research related to culturally competent practice and research as a professional psychologist in diverse settings.

Understand the concepts, theory, and research related to spiritual and religious aspects of psychology.

Demonstrate the ability to integrate a spiritual perspective into counseling and psychotherapy practice.

Objective 2.2: Students acquire a comprehensive understanding of the theories and applications of theories related to psychology, career development/vocational psychology, and education in multicultural and religiously diverse settings.

Understand multicultural and issues as they impact psychological and educational practice and research.

Demonstrate diagnostic and assessment work, and plan and implement interventions that are culturally responsive to diverse populations.

Understand spiritual and religious issues as they impact psychological and educational practice and research.

Demonstrate diagnostic and assessment work, and plan and implement interventions that are spiritually and religiously responsive to diverse populations.

Objective 2.3: Students acquire the knowledge and skills necessary for life-long learning, professional problem-solving and scholarly inquiry as a professional psychologist in the context of an evolving body of scientific and professional knowledge.

Engage in professional development to maintain effective clinical practice and research.

Demonstrate knowledge and skills in program development and evaluation.

Demonstrate professional service and leadership.

Goal #3: To train counseling psychologists who will contribute to and apply the scientific knowledge base of psychology using skills in qualitative and quantitative research methods

Objective 3.1: Students acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to engage in qualitative and quantitative scholarly research

Demonstrate methodological and quantitative/qualitative analytic skills necessary to read and understand psychological research.

Demonstrate the ability to initiate, plan, and execute original research and/or theoretical inquiry in counseling psychology.

Objective 3.2: Students acquire the knowledge and skills to integrate psychological research and practice consistent with a scientist practitioner model

Understand research in counseling process and outcome and its application to practice.

Demonstrate the skills to apply theoretical and empirical literature to professional practice.

Demonstrate the skills to design original research to address clinical and/or theoretical questions.

Consistent with the scientist-practitioner model and our training philosophy, the Counseling Psychology doctoral program integrates theory, research and practice by training counseling psychologists who (1) have the requisite knowledge base and therapeutic skills for entry into the practice of professional psychology, (2) have the necessary knowledge and skills for competent practice and research within a multicultural and spiritually diverse society, and (3) will contribute to and apply the scientific knowledge base of psychology using skills in qualitative and quantitative research methods. Each of these goals, objectives, and competencies are detailed below.

Goal #1: To train counseling psychologists who have the requisite knowledge base and therapeutic skills for entry into the practice of professional psychology

Objective 1.1: Students acquire a knowledge base of psychology as a scientific discipline, and of counseling psychology as an area of professional specialization

Understand the current body of knowledge of scientific psychology in biological, cognitive, affective, and social aspects of behavior, the history /systems of psychology, learning theory, multi-cultural issues, psychopathology, personality, spiritual/religious psychology, psychological measurement, research methods, and techniques of data analysis.

Understand the scientific, methodological, and theoretical foundations of practice in counseling psychology including individual differences in behavior, human development, psychopathology, and professional standards and ethical responsibilities, including applications to a multicultural and religiously diverse society.

Objective 1.2: Students acquire a knowledge base and skills necessary to diagnose or define problems through psychological assessment and measurement, and formulate and implement intervention strategies (including empirically supported procedures).

Understand the theories and methods of assessment and diagnosis, effective intervention, consultation and supervision, and evaluating the efficacy of interventions, including applications to a multicultural diverse and religiously diverse society.

Demonstrate knowledge and skills in empirically supported procedures.

Objective 1.3: Students acquire an awareness and understanding of professional issues to practice psychology in an ethical and professional manner

Understand ethical/legal standards in professional practice and research.

Demonstrate the capacity to make reasoned judgments about ethical practice related to emerging issues using codes, literature in professional ethics, and consultation with colleagues.

Goal #2: To train counseling psychologists who have the necessary knowledge and skills for competent practice and research within a multicultural and religiously diverse society

Objective 2.1: Students acquire self-awareness and comprehensive knowledge and skills to be a multiculturally competent psychologist

Demonstrate the self-awareness necessary to be a multiculturally competent psychologist.

Understand the concepts, theory, and research related to culturally competent practice and research as a professional psychologist in diverse settings.

Understand the concepts, theory, and research related to spiritual and religious aspects of psychology.

Demonstrate the ability to integrate a spiritual perspective into counseling and psychotherapy practice.

Objective 2.2: Students acquire a comprehensive understanding of the theories and applications of theories related to psychology, career development/vocational psychology, and education in multicultural and religiously diverse settings.

Understand multicultural and issues as they impact psychological and educational practice and research.

Demonstrate diagnostic and assessment work, and plan and implement interventions that are culturally responsive to diverse populations.

Understand spiritual and religious issues as they impact psychological and educational practice and research.

Demonstrate diagnostic and assessment work, and plan and implement interventions that are spiritually and religiously responsive to diverse populations.

Objective 2.3: Students acquire the knowledge and skills necessary for life-long learning, professional problem-solving and scholarly inquiry as a professional psychologist in the context of an evolving body of scientific and professional knowledge.

Engage in professional development to maintain effective clinical practice and research.

Demonstrate knowledge and skills in program development and evaluation.

Demonstrate professional service and leadership.

Goal #3: To train counseling psychologists who will contribute to and apply the scientific knowledge base of psychology using skills in qualitative and quantitative research methods

Objective 3.1: Students acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to engage in qualitative and quantitative scholarly research

Demonstrate methodological and quantitative/qualitative analytic skills necessary to read and understand psychological research.

Demonstrate the ability to initiate, plan, and execute original research and/or theoretical inquiry in counseling psychology.

Objective 3.2: Students acquire the knowledge and skills to integrate psychological research and practice consistent with a scientist practitioner model

Understand research in counseling process and outcome and its application to practice.

Demonstrate the skills to apply theoretical and empirical literature to professional practice.

Demonstrate the skills to design original research to address clinical and/or theoretical questions.

Counseling Psychology, Cultural Diversity Emphasis Ph.D.

Ph.D.: Counseling Psychology

The Ph.D. in Counseling Psychology prepares students for the multi-faceted role of the professional psychologist, which allows them to work in a variety of settings including: academia, clinical settings, consultation, churches, businesses, and private settings. It is also the intent of the program to prepare graduates for licensure as professional psychologists in the U.S. and with eligibility to practice internationally. Students should consult with the appropriate authorities regarding requirements in the states or countries in which they wish to engage in clinical practice. Counseling psychology students must specialize in one of the listed areas of emphases: Adult, Child/Family, Cultural Diversity, and Health Psychology. Specialty emphases should be developed within a student's course plan in close consultation with their advisor to coincide with the student's dissertation topic. Additionally, each emphasis requires students to complete specified coursework, Advanced Emphasis practicum, and a dissertation topic related to chosen emphasis.

Admissions. Students entering the Ph.D. program in Counseling Psychology should have a master's degree in counseling or a related field.

In order for an applicant without a master's degree to be eligible for consideration of admissions, they must have the following: undergraduate major in psychology or related field; outstanding academic record with satisfactory GPA; and satisfactory scores on both the GRE General Test and Advanced Test in Psychology. A master's degree may be received en route to the doctoral degree, however, all master's degree requirements must be met.

The Ph.D. course requirements assume a prior master's degree that includes graduate courses in the following areas. If courses in these areas have not been taken prior to admission, the indicated Andrews University course must be taken as part of the degree, in addition to Ph.D. courses listed below:

EDFN 500 - Philosophical Foundations for Professionals

GDPC 514 - Psychology of Learning

GDPC 635 - Theories and Techniques of Counseling

GDPC 638 - Group Processes

GDPC 640 - Multicultural Issues for Counselors and Psychologists

GDPC 650 - Practicum in Counseling

GDPC 676 - Theories of Personality

EDRM 505 - Research Methods Or EDRM 506 - Research and Evaluation for Counselors

EDRM 611 - Applied Statistical Methods I

Students accepted into the PhD in Counseling Psychology, without a prior master's degree in that field, are eligible to apply for the MS in Counseling Psychology and complete it en-route to their PhD. Completion of this degree along with additional supervised practicum hours allow students to apply for State of Michigan psychology licensure at the master's level.

Andrews University Doctoral Transfer Requirements: The Ph.D. Counseling Psychology program requires a minimum of 32 course credits be taken in residence at Andrews University.

Completion of all required practicum (in this case 3 consecutive semesters - 9 credits)

Completion of internship (one calendar year 40 hr per week APA approved internship - 3 credits)

Dissertation credit to complete your dissertation – 16 credits minimum (14 dissertation, 2 EDRM880)

Doctoral Comprehensive Examination

Residency Requirements: The Counseling Psychology program requires students to complete a minimum of 3 full-time academic years of graduate study, with at least 2 of those years at Andrews University. At least 1 year must be in full-time residence (3-consecutive full-time semesters) at Andrews University.

School Psychology EdS

The Ed.S. in School Psychology provides training for a professional career as a certified or licensed school psychologist. Ed.S.-level school psychologists work primarily in public and private school systems, preschool settings, and child-development centers. Typical responsibilities are assessment, diagnosis, consultation, program planning, and intervention services to preschool and school-age children with educational, emotional and behavioral problems.

Admission. Students may apply for the Ed.S. School Psychology program if they have an undergraduate degree in psychology, or a related field with at least 20 psychology credits. Also required is an undergraduate GPA of at least 3.00; introductory courses in the following areas: statistics, learning theories or educational psychology, and human development; and current satisfactory scores on the GRE General Test. Applicants must also meet the general requirements listed in the Graduate Programs and Academic Information portions of the Admissions and Academics section of this bulletin.

All students entering the EdS program with or without a prior master's degree in psychology, education, or a related field, must complete all courses for the MA Educational Psychology - Instructional Concentration, or transfer in equivalent courses that meet the EdS requirements. All coursework for the MA Educational Psychology, including comprehensive exams, must be completed prior to the beginning of a student's school psychology internship.

Prior to graduation, students are required to pass the ETS School Psychology (Praxis II) exam and submit a satisfactory portfolio in addition to the requirements below.

Prior to clinical experiences or classes with child contact, students will be required to complete a clearance form indicating whether they have been convicted of a felony. Having a prior conviction may make it impossible to complete the program.

Transfer Credits for Ed.S. in School Psychology. Students entering the EdS School Psychology program are required to complete at least 80% of required credits at Andrews University. Fieldwork experiences are not transferable.

Continuation in the School Psychology program is based upon a periodic review by the department faculty of the student's academic performance and personal qualifications necessary to be a successful school psychologist.

Program Outcomes

The following outcomes guide the training and preparation of our School Psychology degree students.

Standard II: Data-Based Decision-Making and Accountability

School psychologists have knowledge of varied methods of assessment and data collection methods for identifying strengths and needs, developing effective services and programs, and measuring progress and outcomes. As part of a systematic and comprehensive process of effective decision making and problems solving that permeates all aspects of service delivery, school psychologists demonstrate skills to use psychological and educational assessment, data collection strategies, and technology resources and apply results to design, implement, and evaluate response to services and programs.

Standard III: Consultation and Collaboration

School psychologists have knowledge of varied models of consultation, collaboration, and communication applicable to individuals, families, groups, and systems and used to promote effective implementation of services. As part of a systematic and comprehensive process of effective decision making and problem solving that permeates all aspects of service delivery, school psychologists demonstrate skills to consult, collaborate, and communicate with others during design, implementation, and evaluation of services and programs.

Standard IV, Element 4.1: Interventions and Instructional Support to Develop Academic Skills

School psychologists have knowledge of biological, cultural, and social influences on academic skills; human learning, cognitive, and developmental processes; and evidence-based curriculum and instructional strategies. School psychologists in collaboration with others, demonstrate skills to use assessment and data-collection methods and to implement and evaluate services that support cognitive and academic skills.

Standard IV, Element 4.2: Interventions and Mental Health Services to Develop Social and Life Skills

School psychologists have knowledge of human developmental processes, techniques to assess these processes, and direct and indirect services applicable to the development of behavioral, affective, adaptive, and social skills. School psychologists, in collaboration with others, develop appropriate behavioral, affective, adaptive, and social goals for students of varying abilities, disabilities, strengths, and needs; implement interventions to achieve those goals; and evaluate the effectiveness of interventions. Such interventions include, but are not limited to, consultation, behavioral assessment/intervention, and counseling.

Standard V, Element 5.1 School-wide Practices to Promote Learning

School psychologists have knowledge of school and systems structure, organization, and theory; general and special education; technology resources; and evidence-based school practices that promote academic outcomes, learning, social development and mental health. School psychologists in collaboration with others, demonstrate skills to develop and implement practices and strategies to create and maintain effective and supportive learning environments for children and their families.

Standard V, Element 5.2: Preventive and Responsive Services

School psychologists have knowledge of principles and research related to resilience and risk factors in learning and mental health, services in schools and communities to support multi-tiered prevention, and evidence-based strategies for effective crisis response. School psychologists, in collaboration with others, demonstrate skills to promote services that enhance learning, mental health, safety, and physical wellbeing through protective and adaptive factors and to implement effective crisis preparation, response, and recovery.

Standard VI: Family-School Collaboration Services

School psychologists have knowledge of principles and research related to family systems, strengths, needs, and culture; evidence based strategies to support family influences on children's learning, socialization, and mental health; and methods to develop collaboration between families and schools. School psychologists, in collaboration with others, demonstrate skills to design, implement, and evaluate services that respond to culture and context and facilitate family and school partnership/interactions with community agencies for enhancement of academic and social-behavioral outcomes for children.

Standard VII: Diversity in Development and Learning

School psychologists have knowledge of individual differences, abilities, and disabilities, and other diverse characteristics, principles and research related to diversity factors for children, families, and schools, including factors related to culture, context, and individual and role differences; and evidence-based strategies to enhance services and address potential influences related to diversity. School psychologists demonstrate skills to provide professional services that promote effective functioning for individuals, families, and schools with diverse characteristics, cultures, and backgrounds and across multiple contexts, with recognition that an understanding and respect for diversity in development and learning and advocacy for social justice are foundations of all aspects of service delivery.

Standard VIII, Element 8.1: Research and Program Evaluations

School Psychologists have knowledge of research design, statistics, measurement, varied data collection and analysis techniques and program evaluation methods sufficient for understanding research and interpreting data in applied settings. School psychologists demonstrate skills to evaluate and apply research as a foundation for service delivery and, in collaboration with others, use various techniques and technology resources for data collection, measurement, analysis, and program evaluation to support effective practices at the individual, group, and/or system levels.

Standard VIII, Element 8.2: Legal, Ethical, and Professional Practice

School psychologists have knowledge of the history and foundations of school psychology; multiple service models and methods; ethical, legal, and professional standards; and other factors related to professional identity and effective practice as school psychologists. School psychologists demonstrate skills to provide services consistent with ethical, legal, and professional standards; engage in responsive ethical and professional standards; engage in responsive ethical and professional decision-making; collaborate with other professionals; and apply professional work characteristics needed for effective practice as school psychologists, including respect for human diversity and social justices, communication skills, effective interpersonal; of various service models and methods; of public policy development applicable to services to children and families; and of ethical, professional, and legal standards. School psychologists practice in ways that are consistent with applicable standards, are involved in their profession, and have the knowledge and skills needed to acquire career-long professional development.

School Psychology PhD

The Ph.D. in School Psychology builds on the NASP approved Ed.S. in School Psychology. School psychologists work in public and private school systems, colleges and universities, preschool and child-development centers, and private practice. Typical responsibilities include assessment, diagnosis, consultation, program planning and intervention services to preschool and school-age children with educational, emotional and behavioral problems. This degree extends the school psychologist's skills in the area of supervision or more in-depth understanding of school psychological practice, and research methodology. Since the EdS School Psychology degree is part of the PhD School Psychology, students entering must have either graduated with the EdS, or be concurrently enrolled. Licensure/certification as a school psychologist is necessary for practice in that field, so graduates of the EdS may be certified to practice in Michigan and may apply for a Nationally Certified School Psychology certificate from the National School Psychologists Association.

Track 1: Total Credits 41+

Prerequisites

To be eligible for the 41-credit PhD in School Psychology, you must already have an EdS in School Psychology from a NASP and state accredited university. Additionally, a graduate level course in cognitive and biological psychology, research methods, as well as EDFN 500 Philosophical Foundations for Professionals, must have been previously completed. If not, these courses will be added to the doctoral level curriculum.

Certificates

Couple and Family Therapy Certificate

This post-master's Graduate Certificate in Couple and Family Therapy enables master's level practitioners to obtain the additional competencies and licensure requisite for the practice of couple and family therapy.

Prerequisite Training: Applicants wishing to receive this additional training must have completed the Clinical Mental Health Counseling degree or similar master's degree with equivalent training as approved by the Program Coordinator. The requirements of this certificate will help graduates meet licensure requirements in the State of Michigan as a Limited License Marriage and Family Therapist. Additional coursework required for licensure, that is not included in the curriculum, can be completed within the Graduate Psychology & Counseling Department.

Applicants are encouraged to review the licensing requirements of Michigan to determine whether additional coursework will be necessary. Any classes not a part of the certificate program, but needed for the L.M.F.T. can be taken in this department while accepted into the Couple and Family Therapy Certificate.

Minimum Cohort Size: Each school year, the Couple and Family Therapy Certificate requires a minimum cohort of 7 new students. By July 31st, applicants who wish to begin that upcoming fall semester will be notified whether the minimum cohort size has been met. Individuals wishing to enroll in this certificate program are encouraged to complete their application prior to July 31st.

Transfer Credits: Per University policy, credits taken outside of Andrews University may not be transferred in to a Graduate Certificate program. A maximum of 20% (4 credits) of coursework taken at Andrews University may overlap with this certificate.

Educational Research Methods

EDRM 499 - Independent Study

Credits: 1–3
Topic to be selected by advisement. Permission of advisor and instructor required. A contract must be developed between the student and the instructor.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: SED

EDRM 505 - Research Methods

Credits: 3
A survey of quantitative and qualitative research designs for conducting basic and applied research in education and psychology. The primary focus will be on the research process including defining variables, formulating and stating the problem, planning and designing the research, conducting the literature review, instrumentation, data collection procedures, basic data analysis, and researcher ethical and legal responsibilities. Students are expected to develop a research proposal.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning, Interactive Online
College Code: SED

EDRM 506 - Research and Evaluation for Counselors

Credits: 3
This course seeks to prepare mental health and school counselors to be informed consumers of research and evaluation. It focuses primarily on research designs (quantitative, qualitative, mixed methods), program evaluation models and procedures and data analysis within the counseling field. Ethical and multicultural issues relevant to research in counseling will also be addressed. Critical analyses of the literature and development of a research proposal relevant to counseling will be required. This course is for clinical mental health and school counseling students only.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SED

EDRM 604 - Design and Analysis of Educational and Psychological Surveys

Credits: 3
Development of questionnaires, scale construction, and administration of survey instruments. Topics include item generation, survey development, establishment of reliability and validity. Analysis of survey data using SPSS will be a major part of this course. Students are expected to submit and present a research paper at the end of the course. (Master's-level only)

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Program Description

The K-12 Educational Leadership master's program is an online program designed for post-baccalaureate participants who desire to obtain a degree in educational administration. Those seeking to use this degree for North American Division certification purposes, students need to have an NAD professional teaching certificate which requires graduate work in two of the following areas: learning theory/style, curriculum, improvement of instruction, education of the exceptional student, trends and issues in education, and multicultural education. As such, those completing this master's degree and wanting NAD administrative endorsement will also need to take additional course work from the areas listed if they have not done so already.

Those specifically served by this degree are the following:

- Teachers interested in transitioning into educational administration
- Principals of K-8, K-10, K-12 and 9-12 schools
- Aspiring educational leaders

Once accepted into this master's program, students must complete LEAD 630 - Introduction to Leadership where they will be introduced to the philosophy of educational leadership and review the standards that will guide their educational plan. The curriculum consists of a minimum of 34 credits beyond the baccalaureate degree. Many courses are offered as variable credits; therefore, candidates should consider their credit needs when planning their course work and when registering for these courses. The portfolio serves as a component of the master's comprehensive examination. There is no thesis requirement for the master's degree program.

This program is offered online. The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. The program requires summer on-campus attendance in the first year. Students are also encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Graduate Record Examination (GRE)

Students who are applying for admission to the Educational Leadership MA program are not required to take the GRE. For those students who are seeking the GRE scholarship, the GRE must be taken. The amount of a potential scholarship is related to the score achieved on the GRE as follows:

GRE Score	Scholarship
320	50% tuition reduction
310	25% tuition reduction
300	10% tuition reduction

Total Credits: 34

Degree Core

Additional Requirements

Internship Experience

Internship does not apply to certificates

All degree programs require an internship experience. This provides significant learning opportunities to synthesize and apply the knowledge and practice and to develop the skills identified in the standards. It requires substantial, sustained, standards-based work in a real setting, planned and guided cooperatively by the institution and school district personnel for graduate credit.

Certification

Licenses

Private/Public School Administration Certification or Licensure

Certification and licensure requirements for private/public school administrators vary by state. Andrews University School of Education is also accredited by NCATE to offer educational programs. NCATE is the leading accrediting body for K-12 educational preparation programs. The program was approved by the Higher Learning Commission in 2007, to be delivered on-line. It is the responsibility of prospective students to check with their own state or local authorities to determine what coursework meets the requirements for private/public school certification in their state.

Program Objectives

Ten Guiding Standards

VISION: Collaboratively facilitating the development, articulation, implementation, and stewardship of a shared school vision of learning through the collection and use of data to identify school goals, assess organizational effectiveness, and implement school plans to achieve school goals; promotion of continual and sustainable school improvement; and evaluation of school progress and revision of school plans supported by school-based stakeholders.

CULTURE/PROGRAM: Sustaining a school culture and instructional program conducive to student learning through collaboration, trust, and a personalized learning environment with high expectations for students; creating and evaluating a comprehensive, rigorous and coherent curricular and instructional school program; developing and supervising the instructional and leadership capacity of school staff; and promoting the most effective and appropriate.

MANAGEMENT & ADMINISTRATION: Ensuring the management of the school organization, operation, and resources through monitoring and evaluating the school management and operational systems; efficiently using human, fiscal, and technological resources in a school environment; promoting and protecting the welfare and safety of school students and staff developing school capacity for distributed leadership; and ensuring that teacher and organizational time is focused to support high-quality instruction and student learning.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS: Collaborating with faculty and community members, responding to diverse community interests and needs, and mobilizing community resources on behalf of the school by collecting and analyzing information pertinent to improvement of the school's educational environment; promoting an understanding, appreciation, and use of the diverse cultural, social, and intellectual resources within the school community; building and sustaining positive school relationships with families and caregivers; and cultivating productive school relationships with community partners.

ETHICS: Acting with integrity, fairness, and in an ethical manner to ensure a school system of accountability for every student's academic and social success by modeling school principles of self-awareness, reflective practice, transparency, and ethical behavior as related to their roles within the school; safeguarding the values of democracy, equity, and diversity within the school; evaluating the potential moral and legal consequences of decision making in the school; and promoting social justice within the school to ensure that individual student needs inform all aspects of schooling.

LAW & SOCIETY: Understanding, responding to, and influencing the larger political, social, economic, legal, and cultural context through advocating for school students, families, and caregivers; acting to influence local, district, state, and national decisions affecting student learning in a school environment; and anticipating and assessing emerging trends and initiatives in order to adapt school-based leadership strategies.

INTERNSHIP: Participating in a substantial and sustained educational leadership internship experience that has school-based field experiences and clinical internship practice within a school setting and is monitored by a qualified, on-site mentor.

TECHNOLOGY: Understanding and comprehensively applying technology to advance student achievement.

WORLDVIEW: Appreciating the perspectives of others and developing a personal philosophy from which action and service emerge.

RESEARCH: Understanding and comprehensively applying research and evaluation for effective decision making.

Higher Education Administration MA

Delivery: This program is offered in an interactive online format (see School of Distance Education Definitions). The interactive online degree does not require any on-campus time. Participants interact with each other and with instructors throughout all courses via an electronic management platform. The online program requires summer on-campus attendance in the first year. Students are also encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Program Description

The Higher Education Administration program seeks to empower diverse scholars-practitioners for service in national and international colleges and universities, committed to Christian values and high professional standards.

Higher Education is one of the fastest growing areas of education in the world today. Graduates at the master level typically work in administrative and executive positions in student services such as enrollment, admissions, financial services, athletics and residence halls. At the doctoral level, the program serves those who wish to pursue careers and academic positions in teaching and research in colleges and universities, as well as corporate training or policy making positions at the private and state level. The curriculum has an international focus that includes visiting international universities to interact with faculty and students of institutions in different countries around the world.

The MA program in Higher Education prepares students for entry-level and mid-management level positions at public and private colleges or universities and community colleges in different areas of student affairs, such as:

- Admissions and enrollment
- Financial services management
- Residence halls administration
- Religious and social activities coordination
- Athletic and recreation administration
- Health services
- International student services
- Other related areas

Additional Requirements

Portfolio

The degree programs require the completion of a portfolio that documents the participant's work. These portfolios require documentation that evidences a level of mastery appropriate to each degree and can be presented in person or via electronic media. The portfolio must be assessed and approved by a faculty committee. More details on portfolio requirements are provided in the introductory course, LEAD 630, required in all programs.

Registration

Participants comply with registration guidelines by enrolling in a course at least one semester out of three consecutive semesters until their program is complete. If participants want to remain active and not register for regular course work they will need to register for EDAL 650 Program Continuation at least every third semester. This course has no credit but allows access to faculty advising and access to the Andrews University library. As an alternative to the above, a participant may request to go Inactive. When Active Status is desired, the participant may request reactivation and, if approved, pay the current Reactivation Fee.

Time Limits

Participants must complete the requirements for the MA within four years; EdS, EdD, and PhD degrees within seven years from the beginning of the first semester of class work after acceptance into the doctoral program, irrespective of admission classification.

Program Electives

As needed, in consultation with your advisor.

Guiding Principles

The Higher Education program of Andrews University is committed to the fundamental guiding principles of the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education (CAS), a consortium of 35 professional associations concerned with the development and promulgation of professional standards and guidelines for student learning and personal development support programs and services in institutions of higher learning.

According to the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education, the five guiding principles for Higher Education can be summarized as follows:

- 1. Students and Their Institutions (the student must be considered as a whole person)
Each student is a unique person and must be treated as such.
The student's total environment is educational and must be used to achieve full development.

Students seek higher education in responsible ways and will, when encouraged to do so, access appropriate educational resources when they are provided, made known, and relevant to students' felt educational and developmental needs.

Institutions of higher learning are purposeful and function as social and cultural resources to provide opportunities for students to learn and develop in holistic ways.

The primary responsibility for learning and development rests with the student.

Institutions of higher learning reflect the diversity of the societies and cultures in which they exist.

Institutions are responsible for creating learning environments that provide a choice of educational opportunities and challenge students to learn and develop while providing support to nurture their development.

2. Diversity and Multiculturalism

Institutions embrace diversity and eliminate barriers that impede student learning.

Justice and respect for differences bond individuals to community.

Education for multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences is essential to the development and maintenance of a health-engendering society.

All students must have access to the educational and co-curricular resources available to the academic community at large; no student, for any reason, should be denied access to them.

3. Organization, Educational Administration, and Human Resources

Capable, credible, knowledgeable, and experienced educational administration is essential for institutional success.

Organizational units are most successful when their missions and outcome expectations are effectively documented and understood by all concerned.

Effective programs and services require well-qualified staff members who understand and support the student learning and development outcomes the programs are intended to provide.

Leaders and staff members alike must possess effective managerial skills, be properly titled, and be well-qualified by both education and experience.

4. Health-Engendering Environments

Educational programs and services prosper in benevolent environments that provide students with appropriate levels of challenge and support.

The primary purpose of education has always been to promote change, both in individuals and in society. College and university student support programs are first and foremost educational enterprises.

5. Ethical Considerations

Ethical standards are essential to guide the behavior of staff members in ways that enhance the program's overall integrity.

Because special mentoring relationships develop between students and those who facilitate their learning and development, support service providers must exemplify impeccable ethical behavior in both their professional relationships and personal lives.

International Focus

Higher education is becoming an increasingly global phenomenon characterized by international trade in educational services. For this reason, the Higher Education program is structured with an international focus. As an international Adventist institution, Andrews University is uniquely positioned to offer the following opportunities:

International Study Tour. A seminar in International Higher Education in the format of a summer tour to visit systems of higher education that have influenced post-secondary education in different parts of the world, such as Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America. The tour includes campus visits and interaction with faculty and students of public, private, and Adventist international institutions of higher education, and meets the requirements of master's and doctoral programs. Travel expenses are mostly covered by tuition credits.

International Internships. The Higher Education program works with international Seventh-day Adventist colleges and universities to develop an internship program that integrates theory and research with the practice of higher education in international settings. The extent and format of these programs vary and are negotiated on a personal basis between the participant and the institution.

Intercultural Seminar. This is a seminar in intercultural communication that explores the role of culture and diversity in today's organizations in order to develop cross-cultural competence and sensitivity. Explores issues such as effective communication across group barriers, leadership and culture, and the impact of cultural differences on relationships, decision making, motivation, conflict management, human resource development, and other leadership issues.

For further information, students may contact the coordinator of the Higher Education program.

Program Outcomes

Competencies of the Program

Higher Education requires theoretical knowledge and practical application in the following core competencies:

1. Self-Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies focuses on the self awareness, intellectual growth, and the personal and professional identity required for inspiring and supporting the development of college students.

Philosophical foundations—Higher Education functions within the context of multiple perspectives and a personal belief system and worldview that influence their practice.

Ethics, values, and spirituality—Higher Education functions from a set of principles and personal values that guide their work, promote healthy behavior, and influence decision making and their relationships with others.

Human development and career choice—Higher Education is committed to continuous learning and personal development, articulating career choices based on assessment of interests, values, skills and abilities resulting from formal education, work experience, community service and volunteer experiences.

2. Interpersonal Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies focuses on the interpersonal aspects of Higher Education that promote growth and development of others and challenge students to learn and develop in holistic ways.

Effective communication and mentoring—Higher Education fosters effective communication in all internal and external interactions, to establish and maintain cooperative relationships that are trust-centered, providing empowerment that results in personal and performance improvement toward satisfying mutual objectives.

Appreciating diversity—Higher Education values one's own identity and culture and articulates the advantages and challenges of a diverse society, promoting multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences.

Social responsibility—Higher Education is accountable to others and endeavors to see that family, community, and environmental needs are met in local and in global ways, as appropriate.

3. Leadership and Organizational Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies addresses the organizational aspects of Higher Education, focusing on the achievement of goals and programs that make colleges and universities an educational enterprise.

Resource development; human and financial—Higher Education appropriately develops, allocates and manages human and financial resources for promoting change and fostering healthy and strategic outcomes.

Legal and policy issues—Higher Education applies and understands the scope of a legal and policy structure appropriate for their field.

Organizational behavior, change, and culture—Higher Education understands personal, group, and inter-group behaviors, and how they impact the organizational culture and shape the vision and strategy for facilitating the change process.

4. Research Development Competency: Research skills are necessary for engaging in organizational development, assessment and evaluation, and other Higher Education projects.

Conducting, evaluating and reporting research—Higher Education understands the logic and processes of scientific inquiry, explains major research methodologies, formulates empirically-driven research problems, selects appropriate research designs, conducts basic data collection and analysis and adequately communicates research findings and implements the findings in the workplace.

Program Description

The 36-credit Masters of Arts in Leadership helps individuals develop a leadership mindset and the complex skill-sets needed for leaders in communities and high-performance organizations engaged in today's fast-changing contexts of change. Designed around a distance-delivery model, this MA can be taken by on-campus participants as well as participants at a distance. It is intended to integrate well with other leadership programs in the department or university, and serves as a bridge to both the undergraduate leadership program and the doctoral leadership program.

The participants's program can be adapted to varying personal, organizational, or regional contexts. Recent college graduates transitioning into employment who want to further their leadership development as well as experienced employees who want to target specific areas of leadership for development will find the design of this program flexible to meet their leadership needs.

The overall goal of the MA Leadership program is to develop leaders with a strong sense of personal mission, the ability to work in teams, and experience in leading change that can provide better services and professional solutions in varied local, regional and global situations.

Participants work with their advisors to develop a personalized Leadership & Learning Plan (LLP) integrated with a schedule of courses. They have two options: the job-embedded design or the "core + concentration" design.

The job-embedded design is created with an official Andrews University partner organization to attract a cohort of professionals who want to work together to develop competencies useful for their organization or region. Competencies are developed and documented in a digital or hardcopy portfolio, and presented to a faculty panel.

The "core + concentration" design allows individuals to work at their own pace to develop a specific set of competencies that are aligned with their area of concentration and specific areas of leadership development. Both designs require 36 credits and the completion of a portfolio and research work.

Program Delivery

The MA in Leadership is typically an interactive online program (see School of Distance Education Definitions) unless it is offered as a cohort-based program. The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. All participants interact with each other and the instructor throughout all courses. They are also part of a learning group which meets regularly for mutual support and accountability, and to engage in significant sharing and evaluation of learning related to competency development. The online program requires two-week on-campus attendance in the first year; and at least one-week on-campus attendance in subsequent years for the annual Leadership Conference and Roundtable and other planned learning events designed to support participants in specific areas of their program (e.g.: research boot camps). These support events are often organized in connection with the Annual Conference. Students are also encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Graduate Record Examination (GRE)

Students who are applying for admission to the Leadership MA program are not required to take the GRE. For those students who are seeking the GRE scholarship, the GRE must be taken. The amount of a potential scholarship is related to the score achieved on the GRE as follows:

GRE Score	Scholarship
320	50% tuition reduction
310	25% tuition reduction
300	10% tuition reduction

LEAD 699 - Thesis Credits: 3
LEAD 680 - Internship Credits: 1–12
LEAD 696 - Leadership Capstone Experience Credits: 1

Concentration - 18

Participants work with advisors to develop a course plan in one of six 18-credit concentrations:

Leadership MA, Creativity & Innovation Concentration
Leadership MA, Higher Education Concentration
Leadership MA, K12 School Leadership Concentration

Portfolio Requirement

The MA in Leadership program requires the development, presentation and successful approval of a portfolio that documents leadership proficiency in a minimum of 5 competencies.

Students must select competencies required in their concentration that align with the Leadership Program competencies. To facilitate portfolio development participants must register for one or more of the following courses: EDAL/LEAD 680, LEAD675, or LEAD696.

Leadership MA, Creativity & Innovation Concentration

The 36-credit Masters of Arts in Leadership helps individuals develop a leadership mindset and the complex skill-sets needed for leaders in communities and high-performance organizations engaged in today's fast-changing contexts of change. Designed around a distance-delivery model, this MA can be taken by on-campus participants as well as participants at a distance. It is intended to integrate well with other leadership programs in the department or university, and serves as a bridge to both the undergraduate leadership program and the doctoral leadership program.

The participants's program can be adapted to varying personal, organizational, or regional contexts. Recent college graduates transitioning into employment who want to further their leadership development as well as experienced employees who want to target specific areas of leadership for development will find the design of this program flexible to meet their leadership needs.

The overall goal of the MA Leadership program is to develop leaders with a strong sense of personal mission, the ability to work in teams, and experience in leading change that can provide better services and professional solutions in varied local, regional and global situations.

Participants work with their advisors to develop a personalized Leadership & Learning Plan (LLP) integrated with a schedule of courses. They have two options: the job-embedded design or the "core + concentration" design.

- The "core + concentration" design allows individuals to work at their own pace to develop a specific set of competencies that are aligned with their area of concentration and specific areas of leadership development. Both designs require 36 credits and the completion of a portfolio and research work.

Concentration Requirements - 18

This concentration helps existing or future leaders in and of organizations to develop their own creativity through real-life experiences in innovation in a real-life context. Participants register for the following courses:

- LEAD 647 - Creative Critical Thinking and Problem Solving Credits: 3
- 3 credits of LEAD 680 - Internship Credits: 1–12
- LEAD 640 - Creativity and Innovation Laboratory Credits: 6

In addition, participants select six credits from the following:

- LEAD 644 - Leadership and Organizational Dynamics Credits: 3
- LEAD 675 - Portfolio Development: (Topic)_____ Credits: 0–3
- Other courses appropriate for the participant's innovation project.

Innovation Project

Each participant is part of a learning community and works with an innovation coach and a leadership advisor to develop an innovation project in alignment with their LLP. A complete and well-documented innovation project may provide sufficient evidence of the development of a competency within the participant's portfolio.

Competencies of the Leadership Program

Leadership and the Self

This cluster of competencies focuses on self-awareness and the personal and professional identity required when practicing leadership.

- Philosophical foundations—Leadership functions within the context of multiple perspectives and understands how their own worldview and mindsets influences their practice.
- Ethics, values, and spirituality—Leadership functions from a set of principles and standards that guides their work and all their relationships with others.
- Learning and human development—Leadership understands the principles of learning and is committed to and practices continuous personal, interpersonal and organizational learning.

Leadership With Others

This cluster of competencies focuses on the interpersonal aspects of leadership. Growth and development of others is an essential function of leadership.

- Effective communication—Leadership fosters effective communication in all internal and external interactions, to establish and maintain cooperative relationships.
- Mentor/coach—Leadership promotes relationships that are trust-centered, providing the kind of empowerment that results in personal and performance improvement toward satisfying mutual objectives.
- Social responsibilities—Leadership understands social systems and is accountable to others and endeavors to see that family, community, and environmental needs are met in local and, as appropriate, in global ways.

Leadership Through Organizations

This cluster of competencies focuses on the organizational aspects of leadership. Leadership sets direction in ways that facilitate achievement of organizational goals.

- Resource development, human and financial—Leadership appropriately allocates and manages human and financial resources for healthy and strategic outcomes.
- Legal and policy issues—Leadership applies and understands the scope of legal and policy structures appropriate for their field.
- Organizational behavior, development, and culture—Leadership understands personal, group, and inter-group behaviors, and how they impact organizational history, needs, and goals.
- Implementing change—Leadership involves working with others in order to collaboratively shape the vision and strategy for change, as well as being capable of facilitating the change process.
- Evaluation and assessment—Leadership uses appropriate evaluation and assessment tools to make decisions about programs and plans.

Leadership and Research

This cluster of competencies focuses on the need to use data to communicate, persuade, and make decisions, and to contribute to the knowledge base for leadership. Competence in research needs to include both qualitative and quantitative methods. Research skills are often necessary while engaging in organizational development, assessment and evaluation, and other leadership projects.

- Reading and evaluating research—Leadership critiques the adequacy of research reports, conducts literature reviews using electronic hardcopy sources, and relates research to the body of knowledge in their professional field.
- Conducting research—Leadership understands the logic and processes of scientific inquiry, explains major research methodologies, formulates empirically driven research problems, selects appropriate research designs, explains standards for data collection, and conducts basic data collection and analysis.
- Reporting and publishing research—Leadership adequately communicates research findings and implements the findings in the workplace.

Individually Chosen Options

- PhD/EDD/EdS participants have to choose at least one optional competency.
- MA participants may select an optional competency as part of their required eight competencies.

Both designs require 36 credits and the completion of a portfolio and research work.

Concentration Requirements - 18

This concentration allows the MA in Leadership participant to focus on leadership development in a K12 school setting. This 18-credit concentration matches the Principalship Certificate (see the Educational Leadership section). The LLP is signed off by two faculty members and requires participants to show a plan to fulfill eight of the 10 standards of the educational leadership program. Those in this program experience a learning community through online courses and the required participation in at least 7 online principalship webinars a year. Note: This concentration is compatible with the requirements of the North American Division Seventh-day Adventist K12 Principal Certification. However, individuals should work with the union credential specialist to determine a plan that will best fulfill this certification. If approval by the Educational Leadership Consortium Council (ELCC) or the Michigan Department of Education is desired please contact the director of the Educational Leadership programs for guidance: Dr. Janet Ledesma, jledesma@andrews.edu.

Those taking this concentration should select the Internship option in the core as their way to complete their research and portfolio options.

Leadership MA (Job Embedded Design)

Program Description

The 36-credit Masters of Arts in Leadership helps individuals develop a leadership mindset and the complex skill-sets needed for leaders in communities and high-performance organizations engaged in today's fast-changing contexts of change. Designed around a distance-delivery model, this MA can be taken by on-campus participants as well as participants at a distance. It is intended to integrate well with other leadership programs in the department or university, and serves as a bridge to both the undergraduate leadership program and the doctoral leadership program.

The participants's program can be adapted to varying personal, organizational, or regional contexts. Recent college graduates transitioning into employment who want to further their leadership development as well as experienced employees who want to target specific areas of leadership for development will find the design of this program flexible to meet their leadership needs.

The overall goal of the MA Leadership program is to develop leaders with a strong sense of personal mission, the ability to work in teams, and experience in leading change that can provide better services and professional solutions in varied local, regional and global situations.

Participants work with their advisors to develop a personalized Leadership & Learning Plan (LLP) integrated with a schedule of courses. They have two options: the job-embedded design or the "core + concentration" design.

The job-embedded design is created with an official Andrews University partner organization to attract a cohort of professionals who want to work together to develop competencies useful for their organization or region. Competencies are developed and documented in a digital or hardcopy portfolio, and presented to a faculty panel.

The "core + concentration" design allows individuals to work at their own pace to develop a specific set of competencies that are aligned with their area of concentration and specific areas of leadership development. Both designs require 36 credits and the completion of a portfolio and research work.

Program Delivery

The MA in Leadership is typically an interactive online program (see School of Distance Education Definitions) unless it is offered as a cohort-based program. The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. All participants interact with each other and the instructor throughout all courses. They are also part of a learning group which meets regularly for mutual support and accountability, and to engage in significant sharing and evaluation of learning related to competency development. The online program requires two-week on-campus attendance in the first year; and at least one-week on-campus attendance in subsequent years for the annual Leadership Conference and Roundtable and other planned learning events designed to support participants in specific areas of their program (e.g.: research boot camps). These support events are often organized in connection with the Annual Conference. Students are also encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Job-Embedded Design

Participants in the job-embedded option usually work in a cohort model with face-to-face or online learning sessions. They work to develop and demonstrate 8-10 leadership competencies. They are required to:

- Create a Leadership and Learning Plan (LLP)
- Attend all the required program modules
- Participate regularly and actively in a Leadership and Learning Group (LLG)
- Maintain employment throughout the program
- Complete the development and presentation of a portfolio based on the participant's LLP, documenting satisfactory completion of the required competencies.

Graduate Record Examination (GRE)

Students who are applying for admission to the Leadership MA program are not required to take the GRE. For those students who are seeking the GRE scholarship, the GRE must be taken. The amount of a potential scholarship is related to the score achieved on the GRE as follows:

GRE Score	Scholarship
320	50% tuition reduction
310	25% tuition reduction
300	10% tuition reduction

MA Course Requirements: Total Credits - 36

Portfolio Requirement

The MA in Leadership program requires the development, presentation and successful approval of a portfolio that documents leadership proficiency in the programs' competencies.

Leadership MA, Organizational Leadership Concentration

This concentration allows MA in Leadership participants to gain expertise in organizational leadership and leadership development organizations. Those in this concentration participate in the dynamic learning environment of the Leadership program which focuses on organizational change leadership. It offers the participant a community of learning designed to foster authentic leadership. MA participants join and fully participate in a Leadership and Learning Group (LLG) which may consist of leaders from different organizational and even international settings. They attend the Annual Leadership Conference each year they are in the program. Those taking this concentration must select 8 of the 15 competencies of the Leadership Program, complete them at a satisfactory level (Level 3), and document them in a portfolio.

Post-Masters

Educational Leadership EdD

Program Description

The doctoral programs in Educational Leadership prepare participants for professional careers in education as superintendents or elementary and secondary-school administrators. These programs also prepare leaders for service in many types of agencies and organizations. Both the Doctor of Education (EdD) and the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) programs require a minimum of 90 credits and the submission of a research based article to a peer-reviewed publication. However, the PhD degree is more research-oriented and requires more courses in advanced research methodologies. Those specifically served by this degree are the following:

Teachers with master's degrees interested in transitioning into educational administration and securing an additional degree while completing their NAD administration certification and endorsement.

Principals of K–8, K–10, K–12, and 9–12 schools

Supervisors of instruction
 Superintendents of schools
 Those interested in teaching Educational Administration at the higher education level

Candidates must complete LEAD 630 - Introduction to Leadership as an introduction to the philosophy of leadership and review of the standards that will guide their educational plan. The curriculum consists of a minimum of 90 semester credits beyond the baccalaureate degree and requires the completion of a portfolio and a dissertation. Many courses are offered as variable credits; therefore, candidates should consider their credit needs when planning their course work and registering for courses. The portfolio serves as a component of the doctoral comprehensive examination. Both doctorates require the successful completion of a dissertation. Beginning the semester after registering for LEAD 880 - Dissertation Proposal Development, candidates must register for at least 1 dissertation credit during each semester until their dissertation is successfully defended.

This program is offered online. The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. The online program requires summer on-campus attendance in the first year. Students are also encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

As needed, in consultation with your advisor.

Advanced Standing

Advanced Standing

Advanced standing for doctoral degrees from the Department of Leadership may be granted when those accepted into a program have post-masters and/or doctoral education and leadership experiences that allow them to fulfill a portion of the required coursework and/or competency/standard/outcome requirements. Previous doctoral degree(s), post-masters' academic work, especially research courses, documented competencies, and leadership skills and knowledge advantage these applicants in fulfilling program objectives that may be used to reduce the MA+60 credit requirements. Credit reductions are granted on a case-by-case basis.

Program Description

The Educational Leadership Educational Specialist degree program prepares candidates to serve as principals, supervisors, or superintendents in elementary and/or secondary systems. Those specifically served by this degree are the following:

- Teachers with master's degrees interested in transitioning into educational administration and securing an additional degree while completing their NAD administration certification or endorsement
- Principals of K-8, K-10, K-12, and 9-12 schools
- Supervisors of instruction
- Superintendents of schools

At least 24 semester credits must be completed after admission to the EdS program. Candidates must complete LEAD 630 - Introduction to Leadership which is an introduction to the philosophy of leadership and review of the standards that will guide their educational plan. The curriculum consists of a minimum of 64 credits beyond the baccalaureate degree and requires the completion of both an internship and a portfolio. Many courses are offered as variable credits; therefore, candidates should consider their credit needs when planning their course work and registering for courses. The portfolio serves as a component of the EdS comprehensive examination. There is no thesis requirement for the EdS degree program.

This program is offered online (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. The online program requires summer on-campus attendance in the first year. Students are also encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Educational Leadership PhD

Delivery: This program is offered in an interactive online format.

Program Description

The doctoral programs in Educational Leadership prepare participants for professional careers in education as superintendents or elementary and secondary-school administrators. These programs also prepare leaders for service in many types of agencies and organizations. Both the Doctor of Education (EdD) and the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) programs require a minimum of 90 credits and the submission of a research based article to a peer-reviewed publication documented by the decision letter from the editor of the peer review journal. However, the PhD degree is more research-oriented and requires more courses in advanced research methodologies. Those specifically served by this degree are the following:

- Teachers with master's degrees interested in transitioning into educational administration and securing an additional degree while completing their NAD administration certification and endorsement.
- Principals of K–8, K–10, K–12, and 9–12 schools
- Supervisors of instruction
- Superintendents of schools
- Those interested in teaching Educational Administration at the higher education level

Candidates must complete LEAD 630 - Introduction to Leadership as an introduction to the philosophy of leadership and review of the standards that will guide their educational plan. The curriculum consists of a minimum of 90 semester credits beyond the baccalaureate degree and requires the completion of a portfolio and a dissertation. Many courses are offered as variable credits; therefore, candidates should consider their credit needs when planning their course work and registering for courses. The portfolio serves as a component of the doctoral comprehensive examination. Both doctorates require the successful completion of a dissertation. Beginning the semester after registering for LEAD 880 - Dissertation Proposal Development, candidates must register for at least 1 dissertation credit during each semester until their dissertation is successfully defended.

This program is offered online. The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. The online program requires summer on-campus attendance in the first year. Students are also encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Advanced Standing

Advanced Standing

Advanced standing for doctoral degrees from the Department of Leadership may be granted when those accepted into a program have post-masters and/or doctoral education and leadership experiences that allow them to fulfill a portion of the required coursework and/or competency/standard/outcome requirements. Previous doctoral degree(s), post-masters' academic work, especially research courses, documented competencies, and leadership skills and knowledge advantage these applicants in fulfilling program objectives that may be used to reduce the MA+60 credit requirements. Credit reductions are granted on a case-by-case basis.

Higher Education Administration EdD

Program Description

The Higher Education Administration program seeks to empower diverse scholar-practitioners for service in national and international colleges and universities, committed to Christian values and high professional standards.

Higher Education is one of the fastest growing areas of education in the world today. Graduates at the master level typically work in administrative and executive positions in student services such as enrollment, admissions, financial services, athletics and residence halls. At the doctoral level, the program serves those who wish to pursue careers and academic positions in teaching and research in colleges and universities, as well as corporate training or policy making positions at the private and state level. The curriculum has an international focus that includes visiting international universities to interact with faculty and students of institutions in different countries around the world.

The doctoral program in Higher Education is designed to prepare experienced practitioners for senior administrative and policy-making positions. The PhD degree is more research oriented and requires more courses in advanced research methodologies. The EdD program primarily serves those seeking administrative and executive positions, while the PhD program serves those who wish to pursue careers in research and teaching. Both degrees require the submission of a research-based article to a peer-reviewed publication. Graduates typically work in the following professional areas:

Research
Teaching
Policy leadership
College administration at all levels
Community college leadership and management
Student personnel administration
Corporate and post-secondary policy analysis

Additional Requirements

Portfolio

The degree programs require the completion of a portfolio that documents the participant's work. These portfolios require documentation that evidences a level of mastery appropriate to each degree and can be presented in person or via electronic media. The portfolio must be assessed and approved by a faculty committee. More details on portfolio requirements are provided in the introductory course, LEAD 630, required in all programs.

Registration

Participants comply with registration guidelines by enrolling in a course at least one semester out of three consecutive semesters until their program is complete. If participants want to remain active and not register for regular course work they will need to register for EDAL 650 Program Continuation at least every third semester. This course has no credit but allows access to faculty advising and access to the Andrews University library. As an alternative to the above, a participant may request to go Inactive. When Active Status is desired, the participant may request reactivation and, if approved, pay the current Reactivation Fee.

Time Limits

Participants must complete the requirements for the MA within four years; EdS, EdD, and PhD degrees within seven years from the beginning of the first semester of class work after acceptance into the doctoral program, irrespective of admission classification.

Program Objectives

Guiding Principles

The Higher Education program of Andrews University is committed to the fundamental guiding principles of the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education (CAS), a consortium of 35 professional associations concerned with the development and promulgation of professional standards and guidelines for student learning and personal development support programs and services in institutions of higher learning.

According to the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education, the five guiding principles for Higher Education can be summarized as follows:

1. Students and Their Institutions (the student must be considered as a whole person)

Each student is a unique person and must be treated as such.

The student's total environment is educational and must be used to achieve full development.

Students seek higher education in responsible ways and will, when encouraged to do so, access appropriate educational resources when they are provided, made known, and relevant to students' felt educational and developmental needs.

Institutions of higher learning are purposeful and function as social and cultural resources to provide opportunities for students to learn and develop in holistic ways.

The primary responsibility for learning and development rests with the student.

Institutions of higher learning reflect the diversity of the societies and cultures in which they exist.

Institutions are responsible for creating learning environments that provide a choice of educational opportunities and challenge students to learn and develop while providing support to nurture their development.

2. Diversity and Multiculturalism

Institutions embrace diversity and eliminate barriers that impede student learning.

Justice and respect for differences bond individuals to community.

Education for multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences is essential to the development and maintenance of a health-engendering society.

All students must have access to the educational and co-curricular resources available to the academic community at large; no student, for any reason, should be denied access to them.

3. Organization, Educational Administration, and Human Resources

Capable, credible, knowledgeable, and experienced educational administration is essential for institutional success.

Organizational units are most successful when their missions and outcome expectations are effectively documented and understood by all concerned.

Effective programs and services require well-qualified staff members who understand and support the student learning and development outcomes the programs are intended to provide.

Leaders and staff members alike must possess effective managerial skills, be properly titled, and be well-qualified by both education and experience.

4. Health-Engendering Environments

Educational programs and services prosper in benevolent environments that provide students with appropriate levels of challenge and support.

The primary purpose of education has always been to promote change, both in individuals and in society. College and university student support programs are first and foremost educational enterprises.

5. Ethical Considerations

Ethical standards are essential to guide the behavior of staff members in ways that enhance the program's overall integrity.

Because special mentoring relationships develop between students and those who facilitate their learning and development, support service providers must exemplify impeccable ethical behavior in both their professional relationships and personal lives.

International Focus

Higher education is becoming an increasingly global phenomenon characterized by international trade in educational services. For this reason, the Higher Education program is structured with an international focus. As an international Adventist institution, Andrews University is uniquely positioned to offer the following opportunities:

International Study Tour. A seminar in International Higher Education in the format of a summer tour to visit systems of higher education that have influenced post-secondary education in different parts of the world, such as Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America. The tour includes campus visits and interaction with faculty and students of public, private, and Adventist international institutions of higher education, and meets the requirements of master's and doctoral programs. Travel expenses are mostly covered by tuition credits.

International Internships. The Higher Education program works with international Seventh-day Adventist colleges and universities to develop an internship program that integrates theory and research with the practice of higher education in international settings. The extent and format of these programs vary and are negotiated on a personal basis between the participant and the institution.

Intercultural Seminar. This is a seminar in intercultural communication that explores the role of culture and diversity in today's organizations in order to develop cross-cultural competence and sensitivity. Explores issues such as effective communication across group barriers, leadership and culture, and the impact of cultural differences on relationships, decision making, motivation, conflict management, human resource development, and other leadership issues.

For further information, students may contact the coordinator of the Higher Education program.

Program Outcomes

Competencies of the Program

Higher Education requires theoretical knowledge and practical application in the following core competencies:

1. Self-Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies focuses on the self awareness, intellectual growth, and the personal and professional identity required for inspiring and supporting the development of college students.

Philosophical foundations—Higher Education functions within the context of multiple perspectives and a personal belief system and worldview that influence their practice.

Ethics, values, and spirituality—Higher Education functions from a set of principles and personal values that guide their work, promote healthy behavior, and influence decision making and their relationships with others.

Human development and career choice—Higher Education is committed to continuous learning and personal development, articulating career choices based on assessment of interests, values, skills and abilities resulting from formal education, work experience, community service and volunteer experiences.

2. Interpersonal Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies focuses on the interpersonal aspects of Higher Education that promote growth and development of others and challenge students to learn and develop in holistic ways.

Effective communication and mentoring—Higher Education fosters effective communication in all internal and external interactions, to establish and maintain cooperative relationships that are trust-centered, providing empowerment that results in personal and performance improvement toward satisfying mutual objectives.

Appreciating diversity—Higher Education values one's own identity and culture and articulates the advantages and challenges of a diverse society, promoting multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences.

Social responsibility—Higher Education is accountable to others and endeavors to see that family, community, and environmental needs are met in local and in global ways, as appropriate.

3. Leadership and Organizational Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies addresses the organizational aspects of Higher Education, focusing on the achievement of goals and programs that make colleges and universities an educational enterprise.

Resource development; human and financial—Higher Education appropriately develops, allocates and manages human and financial resources for promoting change and fostering healthy and strategic outcomes.

Legal and policy issues—Higher Education applies and understands the scope of a legal and policy structure appropriate for their field.

Organizational behavior, change, and culture—Higher Education understands personal, group, and inter-group behaviors, and how they impact the organizational culture and shape the vision and strategy for facilitating the change process.

4. Research Development Competency: Research skills are necessary for engaging in organizational development, assessment and evaluation, and other Higher Education projects.

Conducting, evaluating and reporting research—Higher Education understands the logic and processes of scientific inquiry, explains major research methodologies, formulates empirically-driven research problems, selects appropriate research designs, conducts basic data collection and analysis and adequately communicates research findings and implements the findings in the workplace.

Effective communication and mentoring—Higher Education fosters effective communication in all internal and external interactions, to establish and maintain cooperative relationships that are trust-centered, providing empowerment that results in personal and performance improvement toward satisfying mutual objectives.

Appreciating diversity—Higher Education values one's own identity and culture and articulates the advantages and challenges of a diverse society, promoting multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences.

Social responsibility—Higher Education is accountable to others and endeavors to see that family, community, and environmental needs are met in local and in global ways, as appropriate.

3. Leadership and Organizational Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies addresses the organizational aspects of Higher Education, focusing on the achievement of goals and programs that make colleges and universities an educational enterprise.

Resource development; human and financial—Higher Education appropriately develops, allocates and manages human and financial resources for promoting change and fostering healthy and strategic outcomes.

Legal and policy issues—Higher Education applies and understands the scope of a legal and policy structure appropriate for their field.

Organizational behavior, change, and culture—Higher Education understands personal, group, and inter-group behaviors, and how they impact the organizational culture and shape the vision and strategy for facilitating the change process.

4. Research Development Competency: Research skills are necessary for engaging in organizational development, assessment and evaluation, and other Higher Education projects.

Conducting, evaluating and reporting research—Higher Education understands the logic and processes of scientific inquiry, explains major research methodologies, formulates empirically-driven research problems, selects appropriate research designs, conducts basic data collection and analysis and adequately communicates research findings and implements the findings in the workplace.

Advanced Standing

Advanced Standing

Advanced standing for doctoral degrees from the Department of Leadership may be granted when those accepted into a program have post-masters and/or doctoral education and leadership experiences that allow them to fulfill a portion of the required coursework and/or competency/standard/outcome requirements. Previous doctoral degree(s), post-masters' academic work, especially research courses, documented competencies, and leadership skills and knowledge advantage these applicants in fulfilling program objectives that may be used to reduce the MA+60 credit requirements. Credit reductions are granted on a case-by-case basis.

Higher Education Administration EdS

Program Description

The Higher Education Administration program seeks to empower diverse scholars-practitioners for service in national and international colleges and universities, committed to Christian values and high professional standards.

Higher Education is one of the fastest growing areas of education in the world today. Graduates at the master level typically work in administrative and executive positions in student services such as enrollment, admissions, financial services, athletics and residence halls. At the doctoral level, the program serves those who wish to pursue careers and academic positions in teaching and research in colleges and universities, as well as corporate training or policy making positions at the private and state level. The curriculum has an international focus that includes visiting international universities to interact with faculty and students of institutions in different countries around the world.

The Educational Specialist program in Higher Education provides advanced graduate education and training of high quality midlevel administrators for postsecondary institutions. It prepares professionals seeking administrative advancement and service to local institutions of higher education. This degree is appropriate for positions such as:

Deans and assistant deans
Assistant to the president
Director and in-service directors
Department chairperson in selected areas
Program manager

Additional Requirements

Portfolio

The degree programs require the completion of a portfolio that documents the participant's work. These portfolios require documentation that evidences a level of mastery appropriate to each degree and can be presented in person or via electronic media. The portfolio must be assessed and approved by a faculty committee. More details on portfolio requirements are provided in the introductory course, LEAD 630, required in all programs.

Registration

Participants comply with registration guidelines by enrolling in a course at least one semester out of three consecutive semesters until their program is complete. If participants want to remain active and not register for regular course work they will need to register for EDAL 650 Program Continuation at least every third semester. This course has no credit but allows access to faculty advising and access to the Andrews University library. As an alternative to the above, a participant may request to go Inactive. When Active Status is desired, the participant may request reactivation and, if approved, pay the current Reactivation Fee.

Time Limits

Participants must complete the requirements for the MA within four years; EdS, EdD, and PhD degrees within seven years from the beginning of the first semester of class work after acceptance into the doctoral program, irrespective of admission classification.

Program Electives

As needed, in consultation with your advisor.

Admission Requirements

Application Process

Applicants must meet School of Education admission requirements for doctoral programs. If they have not previously taken the courses, candidates must complete LEAD 630 - Introduction to Leadership and LEAD 600 - Annual Conference as an introduction to the philosophy of leadership and review of the standards that will guide their educational plan. The curriculum consists of a minimum of 90 semester credits beyond the baccalaureate degree and requires the completion of a portfolio and a dissertation. Many courses are offered as variable credits; therefore, candidates should consider their credit needs when planning their course work and registering for courses. The portfolio serves as a component of the doctoral comprehensive examination. Both doctorates require the successful completion of a dissertation.

Beginning the semester after registering for LEAD 880, candidates must register for at least 1 dissertation credit during each semester until their dissertation is successfully defended.

Program Objectives

Guiding Principles

The Higher Education program of Andrews University is committed to the fundamental guiding principles of the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education (CAS), a consortium of 35 professional associations concerned with the development and promulgation of professional standards and guidelines for student learning and personal development support programs and services in institutions of higher learning.

According to the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education, the five guiding principles for Higher Education can be summarized as follows:

- 1. Students and Their Institutions (the student must be considered as a whole person)
 - Each student is a unique person and must be treated as such.
 - The student's total environment is educational and must be used to achieve full development.
 - Students seek higher education in responsible ways and will, when encouraged to do so, access appropriate educational resources when they are provided, made known, and relevant to students' felt educational and developmental needs.
 - Institutions of higher learning are purposeful and function as social and cultural resources to provide opportunities for students to learn and develop in holistic ways.
 - The primary responsibility for learning and development rests with the student.
 - Institutions of higher learning reflect the diversity of the societies and cultures in which they exist.

Institutions are responsible for creating learning environments that provide a choice of educational opportunities and challenge students to learn and develop while providing support to nurture their development.

2. Diversity and Multiculturalism

- Institutions embrace diversity and eliminate barriers that impede student learning.
- Justice and respect for differences bond individuals to community.
- Education for multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences is essential to the development and maintenance of a health-engendering society.
- All students must have access to the educational and co-curricular resources available to the academic community at large; no student, for any reason, should be denied access to them.
- 3. Organization, Educational Administration, and Human Resources
 - Capable, credible, knowledgeable, and experienced educational administration is essential for institutional success.
 - Organizational units are most successful when their missions and outcome expectations are effectively documented and understood by all concerned.
 - Effective programs and services require well-qualified staff members who understand and support the student learning and development outcomes the programs are intended to provide.
 - Leaders and staff members alike must possess effective managerial skills, be properly titled, and be well-qualified by both education and experience.

4. Health-Engendering Environments

- Educational programs and services prosper in benevolent environments that provide students with appropriate levels of challenge and support.
- The primary purpose of education has always been to promote change, both in individuals and in society. College and university student support programs are first and foremost educational enterprises.

5. Ethical Considerations

- Ethical standards are essential to guide the behavior of staff members in ways that enhance the program's overall integrity.
- Because special mentoring relationships develop between students and those who facilitate their learning and development, support service providers must exemplify impeccable ethical behavior in both their professional relationships and personal lives.

International Focus

Higher education is becoming an increasingly global phenomenon characterized by international trade in educational services. For this reason, the Higher Education program is structured with an international focus. As an international Adventist institution, Andrews University is uniquely positioned to offer the following opportunities:

International Study Tour. A seminar in International Higher Education in the format of a summer tour to visit systems of higher education that have influenced post-secondary education in different parts of the world, such as Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America. The tour includes campus visits and interaction with faculty and students of public, private, and Adventist international institutions of higher education, and meets the requirements of master's and doctoral programs. Travel expenses are mostly covered by tuition credits.

International Internships. The Higher Education program works with international Seventh-day Adventist colleges and universities to develop an internship program that integrates theory and research with the practice of higher education in international settings. The extent and format of these programs vary and are negotiated on a personal basis between the participant and the institution.

Intercultural Seminar. This is a seminar in intercultural communication that explores the role of culture and diversity in today's organizations in order to develop cross-cultural competence and sensitivity. Explores issues such as effective communication across group barriers, leadership and culture, and the impact of cultural differences on relationships, decision making, motivation, conflict management, human resource development, and other leadership issues. For further information, students may contact the coordinator of the Higher Education program.

Program Outcomes

Competencies of the Program

Higher Education requires theoretical knowledge and practical application in the following core competencies:

1. Self-Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies focuses on the self awareness, intellectual growth, and the personal and professional identity required for inspiring and supporting the development of college students.

Philosophical foundations—Higher Education functions within the context of multiple perspectives and a personal belief system and worldview that influence their practice.

Ethics, values, and spirituality—Higher Education functions from a set of principles and personal values that guide their work, promote healthy behavior, and influence decision making and their relationships with others.

Human development and career choice—Higher Education is committed to continuous learning and personal development, articulating career choices based on assessment of interests, values, skills and abilities resulting from formal education, work experience, community service and volunteer experiences.

2. Interpersonal Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies focuses on the interpersonal aspects of Higher Education that promote growth and development of others and challenge students to learn and develop in holistic ways.

Effective communication and mentoring—Higher Education fosters effective communication in all internal and external interactions, to establish and maintain cooperative relationships that are trust-centered, providing empowerment that results in personal and performance improvement toward satisfying mutual objectives.

Appreciating diversity—Higher Education values one's own identity and culture and articulates the advantages and challenges of a diverse society, promoting multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences.

Social responsibility—Higher Education is accountable to others and endeavors to see that family, community, and environmental needs are met in local and in global ways, as appropriate.

3. Leadership and Organizational Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies addresses the organizational aspects of Higher Education, focusing on the achievement of goals and programs that make colleges and universities an educational enterprise.

Resource development; human and financial—Higher Education appropriately develops, allocates and manages human and financial resources for promoting change and fostering healthy and strategic outcomes.

Legal and policy issues—Higher Education applies and understands the scope of a legal and policy structure appropriate for their field.

Organizational behavior, change, and culture—Higher Education understands personal, group, and inter-group behaviors, and how they impact the organizational culture and shape the vision and strategy for facilitating the change process.

4. Research Development Competency: Research skills are necessary for engaging in organizational development, assessment and evaluation, and other Higher Education projects.

Conducting, evaluating and reporting research—Higher Education understands the logic and processes of scientific inquiry, explains major research methodologies, formulates empirically-driven research problems, selects appropriate research designs, conducts basic data collection and analysis and adequately communicates research findings and implements the findings in the workplace.

Advanced Standing

Advanced Standing

Advanced standing for doctoral degrees from the Department of Leadership may be granted when those accepted into a program have post-masters and/or doctoral education and leadership experiences that allow them to fulfill a portion of the required coursework and/or competency/standard/outcome requirements. Previous doctoral degree(s), post-masters' academic work, especially research courses, documented competencies, and leadership skills and knowledge advantage these applicants in fulfilling program objectives that may be used to reduce the MA+60 credit requirements. Credit reductions are granted on a case-by-case basis.

Additional Requirements

Portfolio

The degree programs require the completion of a portfolio that documents the participant's work. These portfolios require documentation that evidences a level of mastery appropriate to each degree and can be presented in person or via electronic media. The portfolio must be assessed and approved by a faculty committee. More details on portfolio requirements are provided in the introductory course, LEAD 630, required in all programs.

Registration

Participants comply with registration guidelines by enrolling in a course at least one semester out of three consecutive semesters until their program is complete. If participants want to remain active and not register for regular course work they will need to register for EDAL 650 Program Continuation at least every third semester. This course has no credit but allows access to faculty advising and access to the Andrews University library. As an alternative to the above, a participant may request to go inactive. When Active Status is desired, the participant may request reactivation and, if approved, pay the current Reactivation Fee.

Time Limits

Participants must complete the requirements for the MA within four years; EdS, EdD, and PhD degrees within seven years from the beginning of the first semester of class work after acceptance into the doctoral program, irrespective of admission classification.

Program Electives

As needed, in consultation with your advisor.

Admission Requirements

Application Process

Applicants must meet School of Education admission requirements for doctoral programs. If they have not previously taken the courses, candidates must complete LEAD 630 - Introduction to Leadership and LEAD 600 - Annual Conference as an introduction to the philosophy of leadership and review of the standards that will guide their educational plan. The curriculum consists of a minimum of 90 semester credits beyond the baccalaureate degree and requires the completion of a portfolio and a dissertation. Many courses are offered as variable credits; therefore, candidates should consider their credit needs when planning their course work and registering for courses. The portfolio serves as a component of the doctoral comprehensive examination. Both doctorates require the successful completion of a dissertation.

Beginning the semester after registering for LEAD 880, candidates must register for at least 1 dissertation credit during each semester until their dissertation is successfully defended.

Program Objectives

Guiding Principles

The Higher Education program of Andrews University is committed to the fundamental guiding principles of the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education (CAS), a consortium of 35 professional associations concerned with the development and promulgation of professional standards and guidelines for student learning and personal development support programs and services in institutions of higher learning.

According to the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education, the five guiding principles for Higher Education can be summarized as follows:

1. Students and Their Institutions (the student must be considered as a whole person)

Each student is a unique person and must be treated as such.

The student's total environment is educational and must be used to achieve full development.

Students seek higher education in responsible ways and will, when encouraged to do so, access appropriate educational resources when they are provided, made known, and relevant to students' felt educational and developmental needs.

Institutions of higher learning are purposeful and function as social and cultural resources to provide opportunities for students to learn and develop in holistic ways.

The primary responsibility for learning and development rests with the student.

Institutions of higher learning reflect the diversity of the societies and cultures in which they exist.

Institutions are responsible for creating learning environments that provide a choice of educational opportunities and challenge students to learn and develop while providing support to nurture their development.

2. Diversity and Multiculturalism

Institutions embrace diversity and eliminate barriers that impede student learning.

Justice and respect for differences bond individuals to community.

Education for multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences is essential to the development and maintenance of a health-engendering society.

All students must have access to the educational and co-curricular resources available to the academic community at large; no student, for any reason, should be denied access to them.

3. Organization, Educational Administration, and Human Resources

Capable, credible, knowledgeable, and experienced educational administration is essential for institutional success.

Organizational units are most successful when their missions and outcome expectations are effectively documented and understood by all concerned.

Effective programs and services require well-qualified staff members who understand and support the student learning and development outcomes the programs are intended to provide.

Leaders and staff members alike must possess effective managerial skills, be properly titled, and be well-qualified by both education and experience.

4. Health-Engendering Environments

Educational programs and services prosper in benevolent environments that provide students with appropriate levels of challenge and support.

The primary purpose of education has always been to promote change, both in individuals and in society. College and university student support programs are first and foremost educational enterprises.

5. Ethical Considerations

Ethical standards are essential to guide the behavior of staff members in ways that enhance the program's overall integrity.

Because special mentoring relationships develop between students and those who facilitate their learning and development, support service providers must exemplify impeccable ethical behavior in both their professional relationships and personal lives.

International Focus

Higher education is becoming an increasingly global phenomenon characterized by international trade in educational services. For this reason, the Higher Education program is structured with an international focus. As an international Adventist institution, Andrews University is uniquely positioned to offer the following opportunities:

International Study Tour. A seminar in International Higher Education in the format of a summer tour to visit systems of higher education that have influenced post-secondary education in different parts of the world, such as Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America. The tour includes campus visits and interaction with faculty and students of public, private, and Adventist international institutions of higher education, and meets the requirements of master's and doctoral programs. Travel expenses are mostly covered by tuition credits.

International Internships. The Higher Education program works with international Seventh-day Adventist colleges and universities to develop an internship program that integrates theory and research with the practice of higher education in international settings. The extent and format of these programs vary and are negotiated on a personal basis between the participant and the institution.

Intercultural Seminar. This is a seminar in intercultural communication that explores the role of culture and diversity in today's organizations in order to develop cross-cultural competence and sensitivity. Explores issues such as effective communication across group barriers, leadership and culture, and the impact of cultural differences on relationships, decision making, motivation, conflict management, human resource development, and other leadership issues.

For further information, students may contact the coordinator of the Higher Education program.

Program Outcomes

Competencies of the Program

Higher Education requires theoretical knowledge and practical application in the following core competencies:

1. Self-Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies focuses on the self awareness, intellectual growth, and the personal and professional identity required for inspiring and supporting the development of college students.

Philosophical foundations—Higher Education functions within the context of multiple perspectives and a personal belief system and worldview that influence their practice.

Ethics, values, and spirituality—Higher Education functions from a set of principles and personal values that guide their work, promote healthy behavior, and influence decision making and their relationships with others.

Human development and career choice—Higher Education is committed to continuous learning and personal development, articulating career choices based on assessment of interests, values, skills and abilities resulting from formal education, work experience, community service and volunteer experiences.

2. Interpersonal Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies focuses on the interpersonal aspects of Higher Education that promote growth and development of others and challenge students to learn and develop in holistic ways.

Effective communication and mentoring—Higher Education fosters effective communication in all internal and external interactions, to establish and maintain cooperative relationships that are trust-centered, providing empowerment that results in personal and performance improvement toward satisfying mutual objectives.

Appreciating diversity—Higher Education values one's own identity and culture and articulates the advantages and challenges of a diverse society, promoting multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences.

Social responsibility—Higher Education is accountable to others and endeavors to see that family, community, and environmental needs are met in local and in global ways, as appropriate.

3. Leadership and Organizational Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies addresses the organizational aspects of Higher Education, focusing on the achievement of goals and programs that make colleges and universities an educational enterprise.

Resource development; human and financial—Higher Education appropriately develops, allocates and manages human and financial resources for promoting change and fostering healthy and strategic outcomes.

Legal and policy issues—Higher Education applies and understands the scope of a legal and policy structure appropriate for their field.

Organizational behavior, change, and culture—Higher Education understands personal, group, and inter-group behaviors, and how they impact the organizational culture and shape the vision and strategy for facilitating the change process.

4. Research Development Competency: Research skills are necessary for engaging in organizational development, assessment and evaluation, and other Higher Education projects.

Conducting, evaluating and reporting research—Higher Education understands the logic and processes of scientific inquiry, explains major research methodologies, formulates empirically-driven research problems, selects appropriate research designs, conducts basic data collection and analysis and adequately communicates research findings and implements the findings in the workplace.

Advanced Standing

Advanced Standing

Advanced standing for doctoral degrees from the Department of Leadership may be granted when those accepted into a program have post-masters and/or doctoral education and leadership experiences that allow them to fulfill a portion of the required coursework and/or competency/standard/outcome requirements. Previous doctoral degree(s), post-masters' academic work, especially research courses, documented competencies, and leadership skills and knowledge advantage these applicants in fulfilling program objectives that may be used to reduce the MA+60 credit requirements. Credit reductions are granted on a case-by-case basis.

Program Description

The Leadership program represents a new concept in graduate education. It is offered by the School of Education as an international and interdisciplinary collaborative graduate program. It is designed to meet the needs of mid-career leaders and to provide an innovative and highly flexible program allowing self-motivated learners the opportunity to pursue an EdS, EdD or PhD degree in the context of a learning community, without requiring a move of their families or a break in their careers. All work has to be completed within 7 years.

The Leadership Program

Is established on the idea of developing expertise and demonstrating competency in several key areas.

Gives each participant the opportunity to design and carry out a Leadership and Learning Plan (LLP) in order to fulfill competency requirements.

Allows participants to demonstrate competence through the oral presentation of a portfolio, which includes a written synthesis paper.

Fosters collaboration and cooperation among its participants.

Characteristics of the Program

The program allows the self-directed learner to participate in a dynamic-action agenda devoted to service. The program's strengths are evident in several ways:

The Leadership Program is learner-driven. The participant works with an advisor and develops a plan of study with course work and directed activities to fit his/her needs. An extraordinary amount of personal ownership by the participant is critical for satisfactory completion of the program.

The Leadership Program is life-embedded. Participants are encouraged to use their work and life experience as the basic context to demonstrate the Leadership competencies.

The Leadership Program is competency-based. Although not listing a prescribed set of courses, the program is designed around a set of competencies, including both skill and knowledge-based areas necessary to demonstrate competence.

The Leadership Program builds a learning community. The participants collaborate in study groups and learn through various media.

The Leadership Program is flexible. The flexibility allows the educational needs, career goals, and past experience of the participant to play an important part in the development of an individualized plan of study and development.

The Leadership Program builds important bonds among its participants. The participants become partners in learning, both with faculty members and other participants. This process is enhanced by involvement in orientation activities, seminars, learning groups, and through continued contact and discussion via the Internet, and other forms of telecommunication.

The Leadership Program evaluates achievement.

From year one participants start the development of a portfolio documenting the development of significant learning in the competency areas.

Throughout the course of study, participants share their learning and professional accomplishments related to the development of their competencies during the monthly meetings of their Leadership and Learning Group.

Participants engage in peer-evaluation of individual achievement is on the basis of demonstrated competence in the Leadership and Learning Groups.

Throughout the course of study, individual achievement is progressively evaluated by faculty on the basis of demonstrated competencies.

The program is completed when the participant has demonstrated achievement of at least 15 competencies. (see list of competencies below).

Demonstration of achievements is documented in a portfolio that is assembled throughout the program and presented for validation to a faculty team at the end of the program.

The portfolio includes a completed doctoral dissertation that has been defended, and approved and proof of submission of a publishable research-based manuscript to a peer-reviewed scholarly journal.

Program Delivery

This program is offered only as an interactive online program (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. They are also part of a learning group which meets regularly for mutual support and accountability, and to engage in significant sharing and evaluation of learning related to competency development. The program requires two week on-campus attendance in the first year; and three day on-campus attendance in subsequent years for the annual Leadership Conference and Roundtable and other planned learning events designed to support participants in specific areas of their program (e.g.: research boot camps) organized in connection with the Annual Conference. Students are also encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Total: 60

EdD Degree Course Requirements: Total Credits - 60

Core Requirements

- 2 or 3 Credits of LEAD 535 - Principles of Academic Writing Credits: 1–3
- 2 Credits of LEAD 630 - Introduction to Leadership Credits: 2
- 4 Credits of LEAD 635 - Leadership and Learning Plan Credits: 2–4
- 3 Credits of LEAD 636 - Issues in Leadership Foundations Credits: 2,3
- 3 Credits of LEAD 638 - Issues in Leadership Theory Credits: 2,3

Research & Publication

EdD participants demonstrate proficiency in qualitative and quantitative social science research methods through the research competencies which includes a EdD dissertation. Depending on previous documentable research experience and in consultation with their advisor participants must include the appropriate research method courses in their course plan.

Throughout the program EdD participants engage in appropriate collaborative scholarly activities leading to presentations of research at scholarly conferences and the submission of an article manuscript to a peer-reviewed journal.

- EDRM 505 - Research Methods Credits: 3 - Required
- LEAD 637 - Issues in Research Credits: 2,3 - Required
- LEAD 885 - Leadership Research Credits: 1–8 - Required
- LEAD 889 - Doctoral Seminar Credits: 1–3 - Required

As needed to fulfill the research requirements.

- EDRM 605 - Qualitative Research Methods in Education and Psychology Credits: 3
- EDRM 611 - Applied Statistical Methods I Credits: 3
- 2 Credits of LEAD 625 - Research Writing Seminar Credits: 1,2

- EDRM 704 - Design and Analysis of Educational and Psychological Surveys Credits: 3
- EDRM 712 - Applied Statistical Methods II Credits: 3
- EDRM 713 - Applied Statistical Methods III Credits: 3

Portfolio Requirement

The EdD in Leadership is earned through the development of at least 15 competencies which are developed by the participant in the context of his or her work and life and documented in a professional portfolio. Participants develop their portfolio throughout the course of their program. When the portfolio has been signed off by their Leadership & Learning Group the participant registers for LEAD890, writes a synthesis paper, and present the portfolio in a formal presentation to a faculty panel.

Dissertation - 16

- LEAD 880 - Dissertation Proposal Development Credits: 2
- LEAD 899 - Doctoral Dissertation Credits: 1–14

Additional Program Requirements

Participate in the on-campus program orientation.

Register for LEAD 600 : every summer and participate in the on-campus conference and roundtable

Register for LEAD 605: LLP Group, every semester and meet regularly with a Leadership and Learning Group for the primary purpose of sharing evidence of ongoing learning in connection with competency development and signing off competencies.

Maintain employment throughout the program.

Complete the development and presentation of a portfolio based on the participant's LLP. The portfolio must document the satisfactory completion of the required competencies.

PhD/EdD participants submit a research-based article to a peer-reviewed publication in collaboration with their faculty committee.

Maintaining Active Status

To maintain active status in the Leadership program the participant must:

Make appropriate progress in fulfilling the LLP.

Maintain contact with the advisor.

Register every semester.

Complete all credits within the seven years of your regular program time.

Attend the annual Leadership Conference.

Meet financial obligations to the university.

Maintain employment throughout the program.

EdD/PhD participants must maintain active status a minimum of six years of their allocated seven.

Show evidence of progress through regular competency evaluations by self, LLG and faculty.

Admission Requirements

Applicants should read the Graduate Admissions Requirements section of this bulletin.

Additional recommendations and interviews may be requested prior to formal admission to the program. Only a limited number of participants are admitted each year, so applicants should apply early.

Specific Admission Requirements:

Normally a completed master's degree.

A sample of your best writing (e.g.: a research paper or a published article).

A successful interview with one or more members of the Leadership faculty.

A minimum of five years of professional work experience in a leadership setting for the doctorate or three years for the MA.

Full-time in a leadership position in which competencies can be demonstrated. This environment, which is the participant's place of employment, provides the "laboratory" for developing and demonstrating expertise in the competency areas and for preparing the portfolio.

Applicants must commit to participate in:

The initial Leadership Orientation.

Regularly scheduled Leadership and Learning Group meetings, typically on a monthly basis but at least seven times a year.

The Annual Leadership Conference.

Regular online communication. The participant is responsible for keeping abreast of announcements and program updates presented by faculty and staff via e-mail and the Leadership website.

Program Outcomes

Initially, the participant prepares a Leadership and Learning Plan (LLP) which becomes his/her course of study. During the course of study participants develop a portfolio to document mastery in at least 15 competencies, including three research competencies which include the writing and defending of a doctoral dissertation. Completion is achieved after the successful completion of the portfolio. This course of study translates into at least 60 semester credits.

The Competencies of the Program

Leadership requires theoretical knowledge and practical application in the following core competencies:

Leadership and the Self: This cluster of competencies focuses on the self-awareness and the personal and professional identity required when practicing leadership.

Philosophical foundations—Leaders function within the context of multiple perspectives and understands how their own worldview influences their practice.

Ethics, values, and spirituality—Leaders function from a set of principles and standards that guides their work and all their relationships with others.

Learning and human development—Leaders understand the principles of learning and are committed to and practices continuous personal, interpersonal and organizational learning.

Leadership with Others: This cluster of competencies focuses on the interpersonal aspects of leadership. Growth and development of others is an essential function of leadership.

Effective communication—Leaders foster effective communication in all internal and external interactions, to establish and maintain cooperative relationships.

Mentor/coach—Leaders promote relationships that are trust-centered, providing the kind of empowerment that results in personal and performance improvement toward satisfying mutual objectives.

Social responsibility—Leaders understand social systems and are accountable to others and endeavor to see that family, community, and environmental needs are met in local and, as appropriate, in global ways.

Leadership through Organizations: This cluster of competencies focuses on the organizational aspects of leadership. Leaders sets direction in ways that facilitate achievement of organizational goals.

Resource development, human and financial—Leaders appropriately allocate and manage human and financial resources for healthy and strategic outcomes.

Legal and policy issues—Leaders apply and understand the scope of legal and policy structures appropriate for their field.

Organizational behavior, development, and culture—Leaders understand personal, group, and inter-group behaviors, and how they impact organizational history, needs, and goals.

Implementing change—Leaders work with others in order to collaboratively shape the vision and strategy for change, and are capable of facilitating the change process.

Evaluation and assessment—Leaders use appropriate evaluation and assessment tools to make decisions about programs and plans.

Leadership and Research: This cluster of competencies focuses on the need to use data to communicate, persuade, and make decisions, and to contribute to the knowledge base for leadership. Competence in research needs to include qualitative and quantitative methods. Research skills are often necessary while engaging in organizational development, assessment, and evaluation, and other leadership projects. A research paper for publication in a peer-reviewed journal is required as part of the research competencies, documented by the decision letter from the editor of the journal.

Reading and evaluating research—Leaders critique the adequacy of research reports, conducts literature reviews using electronic sources, and relate research to the body of knowledge in their professional field.

Conducting research—Leaders understand the logic and processes of scientific inquiry, explain major research methodologies, formulate empirically driven research problems, select appropriate research designs, explain standards for data collection, and conduct basic data collection and analysis.

Reporting and publishing research—Leaders adequately communicate research findings and implement the findings in the workplace.

Individually Chosen Options: One required. Additional options may be chosen, if needed.

Is established on the idea of developing expertise and demonstrating competency in several key areas.

Gives each participant the opportunity to design and carry out a Leadership and Learning Plan (LLP) in order to fulfill competency requirements.

Allows participants to demonstrate competence through the oral presentation of a portfolio, which includes a written synthesis paper.

Fosters collaboration and cooperation among its participants.

Characteristics of the Program

The program allows the self-directed learner to participate in a dynamic-action agenda devoted to service. The program's strengths are evident in several ways:

The Leadership Program is learner-driven. The participant works with an advisor and develops a plan of study with course work and directed activities to fit his/her needs. An extraordinary amount of personal ownership by the participant is critical for satisfactory completion of the program.

The Leadership Program is life-embedded. Participants are encouraged to use their work and life experience as the basic context to demonstrate the Leadership competencies.

The Leadership Program is competency-based. Although not listing a prescribed set of courses, the program is designed around a set of competencies, including both skill and knowledge-based areas necessary to demonstrate competence.

The Leadership Program builds a learning community. The participants collaborate in study groups and learn through various media.

The Leadership Program is flexible. The flexibility allows the educational needs, career goals, and past experience of the participant to play an important part in the development of an individualized plan of study and development.

The Leadership Program builds important bonds among its participants. The participants become partners in learning, both with faculty members and other participants. This process is enhanced by involvement in orientation activities, seminars, learning groups, and through continued contact and discussion via the Internet, and other forms of telecommunication.

The Leadership Program evaluates achievement.

From year one participants start the development of a portfolio documenting the development of significant learning in the competency areas.

Throughout the course of study, participants share their learning and professional accomplishments related to the development of their competencies during the monthly meetings of their Leadership and Learning Group.

Participants engage in peer-evaluation of individual achievement is on the basis of demonstrated competence in the Leadership and Learning Groups.

Throughout the course of study, individual achievement is progressively evaluated by faculty on the basis of demonstrated competencies.

The program is completed when the participant has demonstrated achievement of at least 15 competencies. (see list of competencies below).

Demonstration of achievements is documented in a portfolio that is assembled throughout the program and presented for validation to a faculty team at the end of the program.

The portfolio includes a completed doctoral dissertation that has been defended, and approved and proof of submission of a publishable research-based manuscript to a peer-reviewed scholarly journal.

The Competencies

Program Delivery

This program is offered only as an interactive online program (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. They are also part of a learning group which meets regularly for mutual support and accountability, and to engage in significant sharing and evaluation of learning related to competency development. The program requires two week on-campus attendance in the first year; and three day on-campus attendance in subsequent years for the annual Leadership Conference and Roundtable and other planned learning events designed to support participants in specific areas of their program (e.g.: research boot camps) organized in connection with the Annual Conference. Students are also encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Portfolio Requirement

The PhD in Leadership is earned through the development of at least 15 competencies which are developed by the participant in the context of his or her work and life and documented in a professional portfolio. Participants develop their portfolio throughout the course of their program. When the portfolio has been signed off by their Leadership & Learning Group the participant registers for LEAD890, writes a synthesis paper, and presents the portfolio in a formal presentation to a faculty panel.

- LEAD 895 - Doctoral Portfolio Credits: 2

Dissertation - 16

- LEAD 880 - Dissertation Proposal Development Credits: 2
- LEAD 899 - Doctoral Dissertation Credits: 1–14

Individualized Concentration - 12

Participants seeking to develop a concentration in their doctoral leadership program can do so under the guidance of a qualified faculty advisor with appropriate academic or professional expertise to guide and assess the specialized coursework and the competencies in the area of the desired concentration. Participants need to fulfill the following requirements within their course of study in the Leadership Program:

- A minimum of 12 course credits in the area of the concentration
- Three competencies in the area of the concentration
- A dissertation study and/or publication in the area of the concentration

Concentrations (such as creativity and innovation or health-care leadership) will be noted in the transcript of the participant.

Additional Program Requirements

- Participate in the on-campus program orientation.
- Register for LEAD 600 : every summer and participate in the on-campus conference and roundtable
- Register for LEAD 605: LLP Group, every semester and meet regularly with a Leadership and Learning Group for the primary purpose of sharing evidence of ongoing learning in connection with competency development and signing off competencies.
- Maintain employment throughout the program.
- Complete the development and presentation of a portfolio based on the participant's LLP. The portfolio must document the satisfactory completion of the required competencies.
- PhD/EdD participants submit a research-based article to a peer-reviewed publication in collaboration with their faculty committee.

Maintaining Active Status

- To maintain active status in the Leadership program the participant must:
 - Make appropriate progress in fulfilling the LLP.
 - Maintain contact with the advisor.
 - Register every semester.
 - Complete all credits within the seven years of your regular program time.
 - Attend the annual Leadership Conference.
 - Meet financial obligations to the university.
 - Maintain employment throughout the program.
- EdD/PhD participants must maintain active status a minimum of six years of their allocated seven.
- Show evidence of progress through regular competency evaluations by self, LLG and faculty.

Admission Requirements

Applicants should read the Graduate Admissions Requirements section of this bulletin.

Additional recommendations and interviews may be requested prior to formal admission to the program. Only a limited number of participants are admitted each year, so applicants should apply early.

Specific Admission Requirements:

- Normally a completed master's degree.
- A sample of your best writing (e.g.: a research paper or a published article).
- A successful interview with one or more members of the Leadership faculty.
- A minimum of five years of professional work experience in a leadership setting for the doctorate or three years for the MA.
- Full-time in a leadership position in which competencies can be demonstrated. This environment, which is the participant's place of employment, provides the "laboratory" for developing and demonstrating expertise in the competency areas and for preparing the portfolio.

Applicants must commit to participate in:

- The initial Leadership Orientation.
- Regularly scheduled Leadership and Learning Group meetings, typically on a monthly basis but at least seven times a year.
- The Annual Leadership Conference.
- Regular online communication. The participant is responsible for keeping abreast of announcements and program updates presented by faculty and staff via e-mail and the Leadership website.

Advanced Standing

Advanced Standing

Advanced standing for doctoral degrees from the Department of Leadership may be granted when those accepted into a program have post-masters and/or doctoral education and leadership experiences that allow them to fulfill a portion of the required coursework and/or competency/standard/outcome requirements. Previous doctoral degree(s), post-masters' academic work, especially research courses, documented competencies, and leadership skills and knowledge advantage these applicants in fulfilling program objectives that may be used to reduce the MA+60 credit requirements. Credit reductions are granted on a case-by-case basis.

Program Outcomes

Initially, the participant prepares a Leadership and Learning Plan (LLP) which becomes his/her course of study. During the course of study participants develop a portfolio to document mastery in at least 15 competencies, including three research competencies which include the writing and defending of a doctoral dissertation. Completion is achieved after the successful completion of the portfolio. This course of study translates into at least 60 semester credits.

The Competencies of the Program

Leadership requires theoretical knowledge and practical application in the following core competencies:

Leadership and the Self: This cluster of competencies focuses on the self-awareness and the personal and professional identity required when practicing leadership.

Philosophical foundations—Leaders function within the context of multiple perspectives and understands how their own worldview influences their practice.

Ethics, values, and spirituality—Leaders function from a set of principles and standards that guides their work and all their relationships with others.

Learning and human development—Leaders understand the principles of learning and are committed to and practices continuous personal, interpersonal and organizational learning.

Leadership with Others: This cluster of competencies focuses on the interpersonal aspects of leadership. Growth and development of others is an essential function of leadership.

Effective communication—Leaders foster effective communication in all internal and external interactions, to establish and maintain cooperative relationships.

Mentor/coach—Leaders promote relationships that are trust-centered, providing the kind of empowerment that results in personal and performance improvement toward satisfying mutual objectives.

Social responsibility—Leaders understand social systems and are accountable to others and endeavor to see that family, community, and environmental needs are met in local and, as appropriate, in global ways.

Leadership through Organizations: This cluster of competencies focuses on the organizational aspects of leadership. Leaders sets direction in ways that facilitate achievement of organizational goals.

Resource development, human and financial—Leaders appropriately allocate and manage human and financial resources for healthy and strategic outcomes.

Legal and policy issues—Leaders apply and understand the scope of legal and policy structures appropriate for their field.

Organizational behavior, development, and culture—Leaders understand personal, group, and inter-group behaviors, and how they impact organizational history, needs, and goals.

Implementing change—Leaders work with others in order to collaboratively shape the vision and strategy for change, and are capable of facilitating the change process.

Evaluation and assessment—Leaders use appropriate evaluation and assessment tools to make decisions about programs and plans.

Leadership and Research: This cluster of competencies focuses on the need to use data to communicate, persuade, and make decisions, and to contribute to the knowledge base for leadership. Competence in research needs to include qualitative and quantitative methods. Research skills are often necessary while engaging in organizational development, assessment, and evaluation, and other leadership projects. A research paper for publication in a peer-reviewed journal is required as part of the research competencies, documented by the decision letter from the editor of the journal.

Reading and evaluating research—Leaders critique the adequacy of research reports, conducts literature reviews using electronic sources, and relate research to the body of knowledge in their professional field.

Conducting research—Leaders understand the logic and processes of scientific inquiry, explain major research methodologies, formulate empirically driven research problems, select appropriate research designs, explain standards for data collection, and conduct basic data collection and analysis.

Reporting and publishing research—Leaders adequately communicate research findings and implement the findings in the workplace.

Individually Chosen Options: One required. Additional options may be chosen, if needed.

Certificates

Leadership Graduate Certificate

The Graduate Leadership Certificate provides an opportunity for professionals from different fields and disciplines to develop and demonstrate competency in the following areas: leadership and the self, leadership with others, leadership in organizations and leadership in the global environment.

Delivery: This program is offered both on campus and online (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). The on campus program uses face to face interactions in class and on campus experiences to help the post-doc develop leadership skills and knowledge. The online program uses online course work to help students improve leadership in their existing place of employment or prepare for a new leadership opportunity. The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. The online program does not require any on campus participation.

Total Credits - 12

Course requirements for the certificate include LEAD 615 - Leadership Certificate Plan (1 credit) and LEAD 696 - Leadership Capstone Experience (1 credit). The remaining 10 required credits are arranged in conversation with the advisor. Certificate credits may be applicable toward other graduate degrees.

Leadership Postdoctoral Certificate

Postdoctoral certificate studies are arranged by a person who has completed his or her doctoral studies. Individual requests may be granted by the Department of Leadership for scholarly pursuits in research, teaching, administration and/or practicums. Pursuit of specific areas of interest is determined on the basis of availability of senior faculty members. The total number of credits taken will be determined on an individual basis and will be reflected on the certificate transcript in the form of self-directed studies, independent study, or formal courses.

Postdoctoral scholars can attend selected courses in the department of leadership either for academic credit or on audit basis. The postdoctoral certificate experience at Andrews is typically funded entirely by the student and his or her sponsoring organization.

Delivery: This program is offered both on campus and online (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). The on campus program uses face to face interactions in class and on campus experiences to help the post-doc develop leadership skills and knowledge. The online program uses online course work to help students improve leadership in their existing place of employment or prepare for a new leadership opportunity. The online courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. Mission

To provide excellence in education for healthcare professionals that fosters collaboration, research, and service within a Christ-centered environment.

Pre-Professional Health Care Programs

The undergraduate programs in the School of Health Professions provide an excellent preparation for and bridge into medical school, dental school, and other graduate healthcare and research graduate programs. The knowledge acquired and patient-centered experience of each of our health care professional programs establishes a solid foundation for future professional growth and pursuit of career goals.

Entrance requirements for colleges of chiropractic vary. Students are advised to consult the admissions advisor at the chiropractic school to familiarize themselves with the requirements of the school of their choice. The admission requirements of chiropractic schools range from 60 credits to a baccalaureate degree and a minimum GPA of 2.50. For a list of the various schools contact the chiropractic coordinator. For information about the profession and publications check out the website: www.amerchiro.org.

The courses listed below at a minimum grade level of C with a cumulative GPA of at least 2.5 and 90 semester or 135 quarter credits satisfy the requirements for Palmer College of Chiropractic.

Pre-chiropractic Curriculum (semester hours)

Biology (BIOL 165 & BIOL 166 recommended)—8–10
General Chemistry—3
Chemistry Elective—3
Organic and/or Bio Chemistry—6
General Physics—6
English Composition and/or Communication Skills — 6
Introduction to Psychology — 3
Social Sciences/Humanities — 15

Pre-Professional Program in Cytotechnology

Pre-Professional Programs

The School of Health Professions offers certain pre-professional curricula for students who plan to enter professional schools. For medical and paramedical curricula, Andrews University maintains a special relationship with Loma Linda University.

Cytotechnology

Karen Reiner, Coordinator
269-471-3622
Halenz Hall (Science Complex)

Cytotechnology is a specialty within a broad field of clinical laboratory science. Cytotechnologists aid in the early detection of disease by differentiating normal, atypical, and malignant cells. In recognizing microscopic abnormalities of cells and cellular patterns from the various body sites, the cytotechnologist assists the pathologist in detecting cancer at its earliest and potentially most curable stage. Medical applications of cytologic techniques are constantly expanding, particularly in the diagnosis and management of the cancer patient.

Students pursuing a career in cytotechnology should complete the first two or three years (according to their selection of school for technical education) and then complete the professional courses offered at Loma Linda University or another school. For more information: www.ascp.org.

Pre-Professional Program in Dentistry (Health Professions)

Karen Reiner, 269-471-3622 (Science Complex)
Sherine Brown-Fraser, 269-471-3351 (Marsh Hall)

Preference is given to applicants who have a broad academic background with a baccalaureate degree. The minimum entrance requirement is 96 semester credits with a 2.70 GPA (C=2.00) in both science and non-science courses, although it is recommended that students should maintain an A/B average in science as well as overall. The Dental Aptitude Test (DAT) must be taken not later than October of the year preceding admission. Minimum entrance requirements for most dental schools follow. For more information, contact the American Dental Education Association: www.adea.org/ and the American Dental Association www.ada.org.

Pre-Professional Programs

The School of Health Professions offers certain pre-professional curricula for students who plan to enter professional schools. For medical and paramedical curricula, Andrews University maintains a special relationship with Loma Linda University.

Required courses for applicants to Loma Linda University:

English Composition—6
Foundations of Biology—10
General Chemistry—8
Organic Chemistry—8
General Physics—8
Biochemistry—4

Recommended:

Human anatomy, biochemistry, histology, computer science, systems physiology, management and organization, fundamentals of accounting, a survey of calculus, machine shop, and religion.

Total pre-dental credits: 96

Pre-Professional Program in Health Information Management

Pre-Professional Programs

The School of Health Professions offers certain pre-professional curricula for students who plan to enter professional schools. For medical and paramedical curricula, Andrews University maintains a special relationship with Loma Linda University.

Health Information Management

Health Information Administrator
Karen Reiner, Coordinator
269-471-3622
Halenz Hall (Science Complex)

Health information management includes the development of information systems to provide optimal user access to medical records and other vital patient data. The health information administrator also manages or consults in maintenance of quality and legal standards for data used in administrative planning, research, health care quality evaluation, and financial reimbursement. For more information: www.ahima.org.

Pre-Professional Program in Medicine (Health Professions)

Students from Departments within The School of Health Professions
Karen Reiner, 269-471-3622, (Science Complex)
Sherine Brown-Fraser, 269-471-3351, (Marsh Hall)

Although allopathic (MD) and osteopathic (DO) medicine represent different philosophies of patient care, a physician in either branch of medicine is required to pass the same national board examination to practice.

Students seeking admission to medical schools are encouraged to plan a baccalaureate degree that includes courses which meet the stated entrance requirements of the medical school of their choice as listed in Medical School Admissions Requirements or the websites of the Association of American Medical Colleges: www.aamc.org and the American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine: www.aacom.org. The pre-medical student may choose any major or minor and is encouraged to become acquainted with the main bodies of knowledge as represented by the various academic disciplines.

In light of adequate preparation for the Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT) and changes in medical school requirements, students should incorporate classwork in the following areas into their curriculum:

- Biochemistry
- Sociology
- Psychology
- Statistics

Pre-Professional Program in Occupational Therapy (Health Professions)

Students from Departments within the School of Health Professions
Jillian Panigot, 269-471-6490, (Physical Therapy Building)

The occupational therapist helps people cope with psychological or physiological dysfunction.

Pre-Professional Programs

The School of Health Professions offers certain pre-professional curricula for students who plan to enter professional schools. For medical and paramedical curricula, Andrews University maintains a special relationship with Loma Linda University.

Prerequisites for Loma Linda University Admission

The prerequisites for admission to the MOT program are listed below. Prerequisites must be taken from regionally accredited colleges or universities, and must be completed no later than December prior to our June start date.

Prerequisites:

Proof of completion of B.A. or B.S. degree in another field from a regionally accredited college or university, with a minimum GPA of 3.00.
Human Anatomy with lab (Courses taken older than five years will not be accepted)
Human Physiology, with lab (Courses taken older than five years will not be accepted)
Statistics (Courses taken older than five years will not be accepted)
Human Lifespan Development (Must cover life cycle from birth to death)
Medical Terminology (We will accept some on-line CE courses; please check with your department first for approval)

Observation/Volunteer Service

40 hours of observation in occupational therapy settings. Documentation of observation must be submitted prior to admission consideration. The observation evaluation form can be found at this link: <http://www.llu.edu/assets/alliedhealth/documents/ot/motobforms.pdf>

Note:

A minimum grade of C is required for transfer credit. C- and D grades are not transferable.

Pre-Professional Program in Physical Therapy

Pre-Professional Programs

The School of Health Professions offers certain pre-professional curricula for students who plan to enter professional schools. For medical and paramedical curricula, Andrews University maintains a special relationship with Loma Linda University.

Physical Therapy

Jillian Panigot, Advisor
269-471-6490
Physical Therapy Building

Andrews University offers all of the prerequisite courses necessary for admission into the Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) program. Students take three years (92 semester credits) of the prerequisite courses at Andrews, or any accredited U.S. college, followed by three years in the DPT program. Please see the physical therapy section of this bulletin for specific course requirements.

Pre-Professional Program in Physician Assistant (Health Professions)

Students from Departments within The School of Health Professions

Karen Reiner, 269-471-3622 (Haughey Hall 217)

Physician assistants (PAs), members of a health-care team, practice medicine with supervision of licensed physicians. PAs perform a wide range of medical duties from basic primary care to high-technology specialty procedures. Professional PA education offered at any one of more than 100 accredited schools is an intensive 2–3 year program. Most PA programs are moving toward requiring a bachelors degree including courses in biology, chemistry, English, humanities/social science, mathematics, and psychology. The level of the science courses varies from program to program; consequently, each school should be consulted about its prerequisite requirements. Acceptance to a professional program typically requires an extensive health-care experience such as nurse assistant, medical/X-ray lab technician, respiratory therapist, paramedic, hospital aide, and emergency medical technician.

The National Directory of PA Programs may be ordered from APAP at 950 N. Washington St., Alexandria, VA 22314 or phone: 800- 708-7581. PA programs and education can be accessed via the web: www.aapa.org.

Mission

The mission of the Department of Medical Laboratory Sciences, in harmony with Andrews University and the Seventh-day Adventist Church, is to prepare students for Christian service as medical laboratory scientists.

The MLS department encourages faculty in professional, educational and spiritual growth.

The MLS faculty educates students to develop excellence in the professional skills necessary for a life work of service in quality health care and dedication to improving the human condition.

MLS graduates will minister to the needs of others by practicing and promoting standards of excellence as medical laboratory science professionals.

BHSC 220 - An Interdisciplinary Approach to Contemporary Social Issues

Or BHSC 235 - Culture, Place and Interdependence

Admission Requirements

It is open only to individuals holding an associate degree or a two-year certificate in an allied-health professional area with earned certification where applicable in such areas as diagnostic ultrasound, nuclear medicine, physician assistant, radiation therapy, radiologic technology, respiratory therapy, and special procedures in radiologic technology. Admission to the program is by permission of the Department of Medical Laboratory Sciences chair.

Medical Laboratory Science BSMLS

The degree program includes three years of undergraduate (BS pre-clinicals) studies plus one year (3 semesters) of clinical (BSMLS) education.

Pre-clinical Program

The first three years of undergraduate study include Andrews Core Experience, cognate science, and preclinical degree requirements. Program options feature directed elective course work selected in consultation with the faculty advisor according to the student's career goals and interests.

Clinical (Professional) Program

The year of clinical studies is comprised of lectures and student laboratories on the Berrien Springs campus and clinical practica at an affiliated hospital or clinical laboratory site.

Refer to the Department of Medical Laboratory Sciences web site for the MLS Program Year Calendar.

Practicum Clinical Experience

Students work side-by-side with practicing professionals in patient health care during the final portion of the clinical year. Andrews University maintains a number of affiliations with clinical institutions across the country. Student preferences for clinical site assignments are solicited and granted when possible. Final site assignments are made at the discretion of the faculty and in consultation with clinical affiliates. Each student is responsible for providing his/her own transportation for the clinical practica. Independent transportation is a condition for clinical placement; therefore, it is strongly advised that each student has his/her own car for clinicals.

Students may select courses in consultation with and by the consent of their advisors in a planned program to enhance professional preparation. Pre-medical/pre-dental students must include the following courses:

Choose one of the following course sequence:
 PHYS 141 - General Physics I Credits: 4
 PHYS 142 - General Physics II Credits: 4
Or
 PHYS 241 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers I Credits: 4
 PHYS 242 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers II Credits: 4
 PHYS 271 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers Laboratory I Credits: 1
 PHYS 272 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers Laboratory II Credits: 1

Maintaining Academic Standing

Student Progression in Clinical Year

The clinical year is highly structured and sequential. Enrolled students may not drop a class, audit a class, or earn a grade lower than C- in any class. Students may enter clinical practica only upon satisfactory completion of on-campus course work. Satisfactory completion is defined as a senior-year minimum cumulative GPA of 2.50 and the recommendation of the faculty. A student receiving a cumulative GPA of less than 2.50 may be allowed to advance if the program faculty identifies exceptional circumstances and recommends that the student continue in the program.

Student continuance in the clinical practica is conditional upon acceptable ethical and professional deportment as well as exemplary patient-care practices. The clinical affiliate supervisors and program faculty are final arbiters in determining student continuance.

Admission Requirements

Application Process Clinical Year Admission Requirements

An independent admissions process is required for all students who wish to enter clinical studies. The application form may be obtained from the Department of Medical Laboratory Sciences (MLS) office or downloaded from the resources section in the department's website (<https://www.andrews.edu/shp/mls/resources/>). Students must complete the application and return it to the departmental office by January 31 prior to their anticipated clinical-study year. Guest, transfer, and post-bac students must also apply to Andrews University.

Applicants' previous course work must include 16 semester credits of biological sciences, 16 semester credits of chemistry, and one college-level course in mathematics.

Admission requires an overall GPA of 2.50. In the admissions process, the GPAs for the cognate sciences, mathematics, and medical laboratory science content courses are computed together. This combined GPA must also be a minimum of 2.50. Preference is given to students with the higher GPAs. Students may only repeat the fundamentals courses once to be eligible for admission consideration for the program.

Applicants must be able to meet the program's published Essential Functions, a copy of which is attached to the application, and express a willingness to comply with the principles, rules, regulations, and policies of both the university and the program as they relate to the ideals and values of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and the medical laboratory science profession.

Prerequisite Courses
 All prerequisite course work, including Andrews Core Experience, cognate science, and pre-clinical courses, must be completed prior to entry into the clinical year. A personal interview may be required at the discretion of the Admissions Committee.

In exceptional circumstances, the Admissions Committee may accept students outside the stated policy.

Andrews Core Experience

Students must take all course requirements designated in the Professional Degree Program of the Andrews Core Experience (ACE) while noting the following course substitutions.
Life/Physical Sciences

Fulfilled through cognate sciences
Mathematics

Statistics preferred. MATH 145 Mathematics for the (Mis)Information Age will not fulfill the math requirement. Students transferring into clinical program—any college-level course.
Service

Fulfilled through clinical practica.

Accreditation

The Andrews University Program for Medical Laboratory Sciences holds accreditation from the National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Sciences (NAACLS), 5600 N River Rd, Suite 720, Rosemont, IL 60018, (773) 714-8880 fax (773) 714-8886, e-mail at info@naacsls.org, or the Web at www.naacls.org.

Masters

Medical Laboratory Science MSMLS

The Department of Medical Laboratory Sciences offers a graduate program leading to the Master of Science in Medical Laboratory Science. In response to the diversity of skills required by the medical laboratory scientist, the degree features a variety of program emphases, including laboratory sciences, laboratory leadership and administration, education, and laboratory mission and development.

Maintaining Academic Standing

No grade lower than C is acceptable.

Maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 for the graduate portion of the program.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the general requirements for admission to a graduate program listed in the graduate admission section of this bulletin, the following are departmental requirements:

Applicants' previous course work must include 16 semester (24 quarter) credits of biological sciences, 16 semester (24 quarter) credits of chemistry, and one college-level course in mathematics. Deficiencies must be removed prior to admission to the graduate program.

Applicants must have an overall GPA of at least 3.0 in undergraduate courses and at least 3.0 in the undergraduate cognate science (chemistry, biology, math and medical laboratory science) courses.

Applicants must hold professional certification and/or licensure in medical laboratory science acceptable to the admissions committee. Certification may be either general or in one of the recognized areas of specialization. Acceptable certification is typically defined as the Board of Certification sponsored by the ASCP (American Society for Clinical Pathology). Individuals lacking professional certification may request to be admitted on a provisional basis while they pursue the MLS National Certification Eligibility Requirements. These clinical courses and their prerequisites require a minimum of four academic semesters. Students must receive professional certification before completing more than 9 graduate credits, and must meet the GPA requirements as stated above.

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is not required for admission but is required for GRE Scholarship consideration.

Graduation Requirements

In addition to meeting the general requirements for graduate degree programs, students must meet the following departmental requirements:

Complete a minimum of 38 semester credits including the core of 22 semester credits and 16 semester credits selected from the chosen concentration.

Have the graduate program director approve course selections and course sequencing. Students may substitute alternate courses listed in this Bulletin with the consent of the graduate program director and the approval of the dean of the School of Health Professions.

ALHE 440 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): permission of program director.

Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

ALHE 480 - Practicum in _____

Credits: 4

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): permission of program director.

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 12 credits

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

Medical Laboratory Science

MLSC 105 - Introduction to Medical Laboratory Science

Credits: 1

Lectures and/or demonstrations presented by each of the departmental faculty members covering the major disciplines in clinical laboratory science.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

MLSC 110 - Medical Terminology

Credits: 1

An in-depth study of medical terms and abbreviations relating to diseases, disorders and drugs.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Self-Paced

College Code: SHP

MLSC 210 - Fundamentals of Hematology and Hemostasis

Credits: 2

Introduces the production, maturation, function of normal blood cells and hemostasis. Selected routine manual hematology and hemostasis procedures are performed.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and 1 lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite/Corequisite: BIOL 165

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lecture/Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 230 - Fundamentals of Clinical Microbiology

Credits: 3

Orientation to clinical microbiology; specimen selection, collection, and transport; microscopic evaluation; stains and sterilization techniques; media and incubation selections; identification of routine and non-routine microorganisms; susceptibility testing; automation and quality assurance.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and 2 labs

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 165

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lecture/Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 240 - Fundamentals of Immunohematology

Credits: 1

Introduces blood group systems, antibody screening, antibody identification, and compatibility testing. Selected routine procedures are performed.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and 1 lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite/Corequisite: MLSC 320 strongly recommended, or concurrent enrollment, or permission of instructor

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 320 - Fundamentals of Immunology

Credits: 3

Innate and acquired immune systems of the human organism; immunoglobulin production, structure, function, and diversity; antigen characteristics, variety, and specific red cell groups; tolerance and memory; complement structure and function; cell mediated immunity function and regulation; autoimmune disorders; transplantation and tumor immunology; immunodeficiency disorders; principles and procedures of techniques used in modern immunology lab. Note: Non-pre-med/pre-dent students transferring into the clinical program may apply this course toward biology credits.

Lecture/Lab: Fall: Weekly 3 lectures; Summer: Blended Learning

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 165

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning

Term Offering: Fall, Summer

College Code: SHP

MLSC 350 - Fundamentals of Clinical Chemistry

Credits: 3

Clinical lab procedures, safety, application of statistical procedures in quality control, and principles of clinical laboratory instrumentation. Topics include carbohydrates, lipids, electrolytes, and hepatic function with selected pathologies.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and 1 lab

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 132 or permission of instructor

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 380 - Pathophysiology for Health Professions

Credits: 3

Study of physiological changes and processes that occur during chronic and acute illnesses. Application of essential concepts of disease processes, such as inflammation, healing, and corresponding markers for disease detection, clinical intervention, monitoring, and prognosis.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): One of the following BIOL 100, BIOL 221, BIOL 222, BIOL 165, BIOL 166, and permission of the instructor.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SHP

MLSC 400 - Specimen Procurement and Processing

Credits: 1

Review of anatomy and physiology of circulatory system pertaining to specimen collection. Clinical specimen collection and processing; point-of-care testing, professional ethics; phlebotomy practicum.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of the program director

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lecture/Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 401 - Clinical Year Seminar and Research Methodology

Credits: 1

Introduction to educational methodology, multicultural communication, professionalism, medical laboratory sciences literature review, research design and practice. Attendance to all sessions is required. A pass/fail grade is assigned.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of program director

Schedule Type: Seminar

College Code: SHP

MLSC 405 - Clinical Year Seminar and Research Project

Credits: 1

Introduction to team building, service outreach and professional development. Research in medical laboratory science under the direction of a departmental faculty member. Preparation and delivery of a written report and oral presentation on the research project. Attendance to all sessions is required.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of program director

Schedule Type: Seminar

College Code: SHP

MLSC 411 - Hematology

Credits: 3

Cellular elements of the blood, their maturation, functions, and morphologies; abnormal and disease state hematologies; principles and procedures of routine and special hematology assay methodologies; correlation of patient conditions with results of hematology assay results.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 210 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 412 - Hemostasis

Credits: 1

Hemostasis systems, their function, interaction, and monitoring; correlation of hemostasis assay results with various disorders; thrombosis and anticoagulant therapy; principles and procedures of routine and special hemostasis assays.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 411 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

MLSC 413 - Clinical Hematology & Hemostasis Practicum

Credits: 4

Professional health-care laboratory practicum; emphasis in patient-care application of hematology and hemostasis procedures.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 411, MLSC 412 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

MLSC 421 - Clinical Immunology, Virology and Molecular Diagnostics

Credits: 2

Theory and application of immunologic/serologic and basic molecular techniques including detection, analyses and epidemiology. Emphasis on correlation of patient conditions with test results for viral and bacterial diseases and cancers.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 320 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 423 - Clinical Immunology, Virology, and Molecular Diagnostics Practicum

Credits: 1

Professional health-care laboratory practicum: emphasizes patient-care applications of immunology, serology, virology and molecular techniques.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 421 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

MLSC 431 - Clinical Bacteriology

Credits: 4

Emphasis on specimen collection, culture, identification and clinical significance of bacterial pathogens. Simulated clinical practice for the separation of normal flora from pathogenic microorganisms encountered in various body sites including the study of antimicrobial susceptibility testing.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 230 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 432 - Specialized Clinical Microbiology

Credits: 2

Study of mycobacteria, fungi and parasites associated in human infections. Emphasis on specimen collection and preservation, acid-fast testing, culture and identification procedures.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 431 and permission of program director

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SHP

MLSC 433 - Clinical Microbiology Practicum

Credits: 4

Professional health-care laboratory practicum; emphasis in patient-care applications of bacteriology, mycology and parasitology.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 431, MLSC 432 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

MLSC 441 - Immunohematology

Credits: 3

Blood grouping and typing; blood group systems; compatibility testing; antibody identification; quality control and quality assurance; donor recruitment and selection; component preparation; blood-banking records; grouping and compatibility problem solving; patient clinical state correlations.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 240 , MLSC 320 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 442 - Transfusion Medicine

Credits: 2

In-depth study of immunohematology testing results, clinical patient manifestations, blood component therapy and blood product requirements.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 441 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 443 - Clinical Immunohematology Practicum

Credits: 4

Professional health-care laboratory practicum; emphasis in patient-care applications of immunohematology.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 441, MLSC 442 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

MLSC 451 - Clinical Chemistry I

Credits: 3

Theories, principles, and laboratory applications of Clinical Chemistry, with correlations with normal physiology, selected pathophysiological conditions. Analysis of relevant blood and body fluid constituents.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 350 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 452 - Clinical Chemistry II

Credits: 3

A continuation of MLSC 451 Clinical Chemistry I. Correlations with normal physiology, pathophysiological conditions of organs and systems, and special Clinical Chemistry topics. Analysis of relevant blood and body fluid constituents.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 451 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 453 - Clinical Chemistry Practicum

Credits: 3

Professional health-care laboratory practicum. Emphasis on patient-care applications in clinical chemistry.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 451, MLSC 452 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

MLSC 461 - Body Fluids

Credits: 1

Analysis of various body fluids such as serous fluids, synovial fluids, amniotic fluid, and urine. Correlations with normal physiology and selected pathological conditions.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 451 and permission of the program director

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 463 - Body Fluids Practicum

Credits: 1

Professional health-care laboratory practicum. Emphasis in patient-care applications of body fluids.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): MLSC 461 and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

MLSC 475 - Laboratory Operations

Credits: 2

Medical laboratory operations with emphasis on financial, operations, personnel, and quality management. Discussion of select topics such as quality assessment and problem solving, safety, laboratory mathematics, instrumentation, education and communication, laboratory information systems, and regulatory processes.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of the program director

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

MLSC 478 - Medical Laboratory Science Study Tour

Credits: 0

Travel to destinations relevant to individual programs of study. Classes will be selected from department(s) offerings. Fee may be required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Noncredit (NC,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Blended Learning

Special Approval: Instructor permission required.

College Code: SHP

MLSC 483 - Comprehensive Review and Written Examination

Credits: 1

A comprehensive review of medical laboratory science concepts and written examination practice to enhance readiness for the Board of Certification examination by the American Society for Clinical Pathology.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of Program Director

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

MLSC 490 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4

An in-depth study of selected topics in the medical laboratory sciences.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of program director

Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

MLSC 495 - Independent Project

Credits: 1–4

Topics may be from areas relevant to clinical laboratory practice and must be approved by the Program director.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of program director

Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

MLSC 496 - Extended Clinical Practicum

Credits: 1

A twelve-week professional health-care laboratory practicum. Emphasis in patient-care applications. Subject areas are to be coordinated with the Clinical Site Education Coordinator and the program director.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Prerequisite(s): Successful completion of the 20-week clinical practica of the clinical-year program and permission of program director

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

MLSC 500 - Foundations for Graduate Study in Medical Laboratory Science

Credits: 1

Orientation designed for students to refine the skills needed for successful graduate work. Focus on academic and professional proficiencies such as critical thinking, principles of research, and scholarly writing. Written and oral presentation required.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): permission of graduate program coordinator.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

MLSC 501 - Seminar in Medical Laboratory Science

Credits: 1

Literature review of current laboratory science topics. A service-based activity addressing a relevant issue in laboratory science required.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): permission of graduate program coordinator.

Schedule Type: Seminar

College Code: SHP

MLSC 561 - Laboratory Management: Issues and Strategies

Credits: 3

An overview of issues and strategies relevant to managing a medical laboratory. Topics include historic perspective of management; organizational structure; management responsibilities and functions; personnel resources; performance improvement; training and evaluation; safety regulations and health compliance; financial matters such as cost/benefit analysis, budgeting, and reimbursement; record keeping and data management; information systems; marketing; and ethics.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): permission of graduate program coordinator.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

MLSC 562 - Issues in Laboratory Regulations and Practice

Credits: 3

Clinical laboratories are increasingly regulated by state, federal and other agencies. Applicable regulations will be examined and their impact on laboratory operations evaluated. A selected number of laboratory quality assurance procedures, as specified by CLIA '88 regulations, will be performed in the laboratory.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Statistics and permission of graduate program coordinator.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

MLSC 585 - Applied Studies in Medical Laboratory Science

Credits: 5

Designed in consultation with and coordinated by the area specialty advisor. A proposal, cumulative report, presentation and defense required. Clinical placement depends on clinical site availability.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): Certification and/or licensure as a medical laboratory scientist and permission of graduate program coordinator.

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 595 - Independent Study/Readings/Research Project

Credits: 1-4

Topics may be from immunology, immunohematology, clinical chemistry, hematology, microbiology and other areas of patient-care science, clinical laboratory science education, management, or applications specially relevant to clinical laboratories.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Prerequisite(s): permission of graduate program coordinator.

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 4 credits with different topics

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

MLSC 611 - Molecular Diagnostics in Health and Disease I

Credits: 3

Biomolecular foundations for clinical applications in molecular pathology, with emphasis on disorders of genetic origin, protein structure, and function.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of Graduate Program Coordinator.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: SHP

MLSC 612 - Molecular Diagnostics in Health and Disease II

Credits: 3

Clinical applications in molecular pathology with focus on disorders associated with the cell membrane structures, receptors, signaling, and origin of malignancies.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of Graduate Program Coordinator.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

MLSC 621 - Laboratory Applications of Molecular Pathology

Credits: 2

Operation of molecular laboratory equipment; extraction, hybridization, and quantification (or quantitation) of nucleic acids. Clinical applications of electrophoresis, nucleic acid amplification, sequencing, and detection techniques.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of Graduate Program Coordinator.

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: SHP

MLSC 646 - Integration of Spirituality in Health Care

Credits: 2-3

A discussion of spiritual values from a Christian perspective, how faith and Spirituality facilitates the healing process, and how they can be incorporated into patient care. Attention will be given to discerning and addressing the Spiritual needs of patients/clients, family members, and ancillary medical staff in a professional environment.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

MLSC 650 - Project Continuation

Credits: 0

Students may register for this course while clearing deferred grade (DG) and/or incomplete (I) courses with approval only. Registration for this course indicates full-time status.

Mission

The Andrews University Department of Nursing, a program based on Seventh-day Adventist precepts and Restoration to the Image of God, provides transformational nursing education which equips students to function as professional nurses in direct care, advanced practice, research, and education. Through the following activities, the Department of Nursing encourages students to seek knowledge, affirm faith, and provide changes that impact the world of healthcare:

Seek Knowledge

- Prepare nurses that provide culturally competent, high quality, evidence-based patient-centered care.
- Prepare nurses for first-time licensing and certification success.
- Encourage lifelong learning.

Affirm Faith

- Prepare nurses to practice within the Christian context of "Restoration to the Image of God."
- Promote personal spiritual growth.
- Teach theoretical underpinning of wellness, illness, and disease within the context of the Great Controversy.

Change the World

- Teach with service/mission focus, medical evangelism.
- Teach current whole-person nursing care across the life span which addresses wellness and illness.
- Prepare nurse leaders with a mind set for professional and ethical practice which incorporates communication (all venues), teamwork and collaboration.

Vision

To prepare professional nurses to reflect Christian spirituality, caring attitudes, clinical excellence, and cultural competence for service and practice in concert with the four main initiatives from the Institute of Medicine and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation's report on the Future of Nursing (October 5, 2010):

- Nurses should practice to the full extent of their education and training.
- Nurses should achieve higher levels of education and training through an improved education system that promotes seamless academic progression.
- Nurses should be full partners, with physicians and other health care professionals, in redesigning health care in the United States.
- Effective workforce planning and policy making require better data collection and information infrastructure.

Program Accreditation

The Andrews University Nursing program is approved by the Michigan Board of Nursing and holds accreditation from the Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing* (ACEN).

Bachelors

Nursing BSN (Pre-licensure)

Students enter the university as declared nursing majors (pre-nursing), this eight-semester nursing program covers four academic years. The curriculum focuses on the provision of care and the promotion of health for individuals and families. Students gain proficiency through both class (theory) and laboratory (practicum/clinical) experiences in a variety of settings.

The first year includes general education courses, cognate courses, and NRSG 215 - Introduction to Professional Nursing Concepts. Transfer students will take NRSG 215 - Introduction to Professional Nursing Concepts in the Spring Semester of their Sophomore year.

An independent admissions process by the Department of Nursing is required for students who wish to enter the pre-licensure program (see admission requirements). The program is comprised of on-campus courses and clinical practica. Students will be charged a professional fee each semester.

Students are encouraged to apply for entrance into the professional nursing program prior to completion of the spring semester of their freshman year. Nursing application needs to be submitted by May 15, of the admission year.

Total Credits: 125

Major: Core Requirements— 65

- NRSG 211 - Nursing Pharmacology I Credits: 2
- NRSG 212 - Nursing Pharmacology II Credits: 3
- NRSG 215 - Introduction to Professional Nursing Concepts Credits: 1
- NRSG 216 - Fundamentals of Nursing Theory and Practice Credits: 5
- NRSG 240 - Psychiatric-Mental Health Nursing Credits: 4
- NRSG 305 - Health Assessment Credits: 3
- NRSG 315 - Pathophysiology Credits: 3
- NRSG 331 - Medical-Surgical I Credits: 5
- NRSG 332 - Medical-Surgical II Credits: 6
- NRSG 366 - Complementary Wellness and Restoration I Credits: 1
- NRSG 408 - Families in Stress and Crisis Credits: 2
- NRSG 414 - Critical Care Nursing Credits: 3,4
- NRSG 416 - Comprehensive Overview Credits: 2
- NRSG 418 - Leadership in Nursing Credits: 3
- NRSG 430 - The Childbearing Family Credits: 4
- NRSG 438 - Intercultural Mission Service in Nursing Credits: 2
- NRSG 440 - The Developing Child Credits: 4
- NRSG 445 - Nursing Research Credits: 3,4 (3 credits required for program)
- NRSG 450 - Community Nursing Credits: 4
- NRSG 466 - Complementary Wellness and Restoration II Credits: 2,3 (2 credits required for program)
- NRSG 480 - Senior Nursing Internship Credits: 3

Major: Additional Requirements

Practicum

Undergraduate nursing practicum: In nursing classes with a practicum, a ratio of four clock hours will be required for each semester of clinical credit. For example, a 1-credit clinical course meets for 60 clock hours, a 2-credit clinical course meets for 120 clock hours.

Undergraduate nursing laboratory: In nursing classes with laboratory hours, a ratio of two laboratory clock hours will be required for each semester of laboratory credit. For example, a 1-credit laboratory meets for 30 clock hours in the semester. Clinical hours are indicated in the bulletin in the course description.

Experience

Program Completion

Students who enter as Freshman, are expected to complete the BSN Pre-Licensure program within 6 years (maximum).

Students who enter as Sophomores, are expected to complete the BSN Pre-Licensure program within 4.5 years (maximum), beginning with NRSG 216 - Fundamentals of Nursing Theory and Practice.

Cognates—28

BIOL 221 - Anatomy and Physiology I Credits: 4
BIOL 222 - Anatomy and Physiology II Credits: 4
BIOL 260 - General Microbiology Credits: 4
CHEM 110 - Introduction to Inorganic Chemistry Credits: 4
FDNT 230 - Nutrition Credits: 3
PSYC 101 - Introduction to Psychology Credits: 3
PSYC 301 - Human Development Credits: 3
STAT 285 - Elementary Statistics Credits: 3

NOTE: *Please note that if any cognates (Anatomy & Physiology, Human Development, Microbiology, Nutrition, Psychology, Statistics) are older than five years they will not be accepted as credit and will need to be retaken as a class for credit or the student may take a standardized challenge exam, such as the CLEP exam as approved by the Department of Nursing. A grade of "C" or above is required for cognate courses.

Andrews Core Experience—32

Students must take all courses designated in the Andrews Core Experience: Professional Degrees while noting the following approved course substitutions.

Religion

PBHL 440 - Fundamentals of Spirituality & Ethics in Healthcare Credits: 3 (take in Junior or Senior year)

Life and Physical Sciences

FDNT 230 - Nutrition Credits: 3 (Fulfilled through Cognates)

Mathematics

MATH 145 - Mathematics for the (Mis)information Age Credits: 3

Service

Field service credit requirements are met in these classes.

NRSG 438 - Intercultural Mission Service in Nursing Credits: 2

NRSG 450 - Community Nursing Credits: 4

Social Sciences

PSYC 101 - Introduction to Psychology Credits: 3

Early Admission Requirements

The Early Admission track is available to incoming freshman students that have not attended college or university as a full-time student who meet the criteria below and complete the additional Department of Nursing requirements for acceptance into this track (medical requirements, background check & drug screen). This track ensures direct admission into the professional nursing program when progression criteria are met. Students must maintain cognate and overall GPA > 3.00 to continue in the program.

High School Cumulative GPA: 3.5

ACT Math, Science, and English & Reading Score: Individual scores of 22 or higher in each subject

Regular Admission Requirements

Application for admission may require a minimum of six weeks for processing evaluation. The deadline for applications for May 15 to be considered for entry into the nursing program in the Fall Semester.

Minimal overall GPA of 3.00

BIOL 221, 222, PSYC 301, FDNT 230, PSYC 101, CHEM 110

Minimal combined GPA for cognates of 3.00. A grade of C or higher is acceptable for any cognate course.

A math placement score of P2 or above; or successful completion of College Algebra MATH 145 or a higher level math class with a grade of C or better; or SAT 540/ACT 20 or above in math scores.

If you are a transfer student, evidence of taking a college algebra class with a C grade or higher will satisfy the nursing program admission requirements. Whether a Math Placement Exam is needed or not needed is determined by the Department of Mathematics.

Nelson Denny Reading Test score of 15 or SAT 540/ACT 20 or greater in Reading & English score.

An acceptable criminal background check from company recommended by Department of Nursing— <https://portal.castlebranch.com/NS39>.

A urine drug screen is required before admission and yearly after. Some clinical sites may require different drug screen times. Drug screens are completed by <https://portal.castlebranch.com/NS39>.

Physical examination report that must include:

- Tuberculin skin test (if positive a chest x-ray is required, will be evaluated individually) and yearly evaluation thereafter
- Proof of immunization or serum immunity for MMR1 and MMR2 (Measles, Mumps and Rubella), T-dap (Tetanus, Diphtheria, Pertussis), and Hepatitis B
- Proof of immunization or serum immunity for varicella-zoster
- Annual flu shots taken October–December

All students are required to have BLS Healthcare Provider Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) certification from the American Heart Association (AHA).

Depending upon the situation, a student may be required to have an interview

Meeting the minimal requirements does not guarantee admission.

All nursing students must be accepted into the nursing program by the Andrews University Department of Nursing Admissions, Progressions, Retention and Grievance (APRG) Committee before entering into any nursing class. Students must apply for admission to the nursing program by May 15. Typically this process is begun while taking NRSG 215: Introduction to Professional Nursing Concepts. Early admission students meeting progression requirements will automatically progress to sophomore year of the nursing program without additional application process

All students must complete the following cognate courses prior to entering the nursing program:

BIOL 221 - Anatomy and Physiology I Credits: 4
BIOL 222 - Anatomy and Physiology II Credits: 4
PSYC 301 - Human Development Credits: 3
FDNT 230 - Nutrition Credits: 3
PSYC 101 - Introduction to Psychology Credits: 3
CHEM 110 - Introduction to Inorganic Chemistry Credits: 4

NRSG 215 - Introduction to Professional Nursing Concepts —needs to be completed during the freshman year at Andrews University or during the first year of residency as a transfer, LPN, or 2nd degree student.

Cognates (Anatomy & Physiology, Microbiology, Chemistry, Human Development, Nutrition, Psychology and Statistics) older than five (5) years will not be accepted as credit and will need to be retaken as a class for credit or take a standardized challenge exam, such as the CLEP as approved by the Department of Nursing.

ADA Accommodations: Andrews University accepts and appreciates diversity in its students, including students with learning and other disabilities.

If you feel that you have a learning, psychological, emotional disability it is mandatory that it be formally documented by the Andrews University Counseling & Testing Center, Berrien Regional Education Service Agency or other source recommended by the above two agencies. This document is required for accommodation to be granted. Less obvious physical disability requires documentation by University Medical Specialties.

If you qualify for accommodations under the American Disabilities Act, please see your instructor and advisor as soon as possible for referral and assistance in arranging such accommodations.

NOTE: Students have the right to reapply to the program one time.

Progression

A GPA of at least 3.00 overall must be maintained throughout the nursing program.

- Should the GPA fall below 3.00, the student will be placed on departmental academic probationary status and may not be allowed to progress based upon a decision by the Andrews University Department of Nursing Admissions, Progressions, Retention and Grievance (APRG) Committee.
- If probationary status is granted by the committee, student will continue to progress, but the probationary status is valid for only one academic year and not renewable.
- Students not meeting the 3.00 GPA requirement after the one-year probationary status will be dismissed.

d. Probationary status will not be granted for students going into the senior year.

Before progressing to senior year, all courses on the curriculum guide through junior year must be completed. Only senior level general education courses per nursing curriculum can be completed in the senior year

Only a grade of C and higher is accepted in cognate courses and a grade of B- or higher in nursing courses. Students may be allowed only one C+ grade in nursing courses before dismissal.

To better enable all nursing students in the continual pursuit of excellence in nursing, all students must: a. Pass each nursing class with a grade of 80%, equivalent to a "B-" or higher, and b. Have a test grade average of 80% or higher. The test average of 80% is applicable to all nursing classes, except NRS 215 Introduction to Professional Nursing Concepts and NRS 445 Nursing Research. nursing_handbook_20170815_2.indd 14 8/21/17 8:56 AM 15 The grading system for each class will be: 100–93 A 90–92 A- 83–86 B 80–82 B- 77–79 C+ 75–76 C 70–74 C- 60–69 D Below 60 F Nursing courses with a practicum component will require the student to successfully pass both the theory and practicum sections in order to receive a passing grade for the course.

When a student fails the clinical portion of a course, the student has failed the entire course. If a student withdraws from a nursing course, or changes from credit to audit due to potential failure, the student must understand that withdrawal is considered failure of the course.

Repeating courses:

a. Required cognates may be repeated only once

b. Nursing courses:

i. Only one (1) C+ grade in nursing courses is permitted in the program. This policy does not apply to courses with clinical failure. The second C+ grade or below will result in dismissal from the program. Students have the option to reapply one (1) time to the program. Reapplication does not guarantee readmission.

ii. Readmission is considered on an individual basis only by the APRG Committee. The application should be accompanied by a letter from the applicant showing evidence of professional growth achieved during the time out of the program (i.e. Nurse tech/CNA, mission work, improving cognate, remedial study skills with student success) and employment.

iii. The student may be interviewed by the APRG Committee before a final decision is made. If a student is readmitted and he/she fails one more nursing course or voluntarily withdraws from any nursing course they will be dismissed from the program.

iv. May be repeated only once if the student is readmitted to the program.

A medication dosage calculation test is required at the beginning of each clinical course beginning with NRS 216 Fundamentals of Nursing Theory and Practice. All medication calculation and remedial tests must be completed within the first three weeks of course start date. The passing score is 90%. Students are not permitted to attend clinicals until a test is passed. Students will have three opportunities to pass a medication dosage calculation test. If two failures occur, the student must demonstrate evidence of remedial training before attempting a third test. Failure to pass the test after the third try will result in clinical failure, which translates to course failure. (See course syllabus.) Students then have the option to withdraw from the course.

For NCLEX success the recommended "time frame" for completing the undergraduate nursing degree is 3–4 years, beginning with the sophomore year. To this end students are provided a curriculum guide to follow as advised.

Any student returning to the program that has been absent for one year must show competency theoretically and/or clinically with a standardized test passing score as determined by the nursing department in order to progress in the program. The primary nursing instructor for each class will make an evaluation and recommendation to the Admissions, Progressions, Retention and Grievance (APRG) Committee, who will then make the final decision. Please be aware of the following:

- This will require a minimum of at least six weeks processing time.
- If a student does not pass the evaluation, they are required to retake the class(es) before progressing in the program.

c. Competency may be evaluated only once.

d. Students will be responsible for the testing fees.

Any student that is transferring from another accredited bachelor's degree nursing program into the Andrews University bachelor's degree nursing program, may have their Fundamentals, Pathophysiology and/or Health Assessment transferred. However, they must first undergo an evaluation of this class work to determine if the requested transfer of credits is adequate and/or appropriate. The primary nursing instructor for each class will make an evaluation of theoretical and clinical knowledge of the transfer course(s) and make a recommendation to the Admissions, Progressions, Retention and Grievance (APRG) Committee that will then make the final decision.

Methods of evaluation may include:

- NLN, Kaplan or other valid and reliable standardized tests
- Final grade for the nursing class (minimum score of 80% required)
- Course syllabus
- Clinical skill assessment (if determined by course content)

Petitions may be submitted to the Admissions, Progressions, Retention and Grievance (APRG) Committee.

- A student may petition credit transfer to the APRG Committee through their advisor.
- Petitions are normally submitted for the purpose of accepting comparable credits earned previously or at another location.
- Petitions for exemption from prerequisites and specific departmental policies are not normally considered.
- Students should petition for unusual or uncontrollable circumstances, upon the advice and with the consent of their advisor.
- Petitions must include the student's signature and their advisor's signature, then be submitted to the chairperson of the APRG Committee. Petitions are placed in the student's permanent file following the final decision.

Students are allowed to pre-register for nursing courses pending admission into the program. Adding or dropping courses on time is the student's responsibility.

In order to progress in clinical courses, students must renew the following requirements:

- Tuberculin skin test (if positive a chest x-ray is required, will be evaluated individually) yearly
- Annual flu shots taken October–December
- Annual background check and drug screen
- American Heart Association Healthcare Provider CPR Certification (every two years)

Be expected to complete the BS Pre-licensure program within 3–4.5 years, beginning with NRS 216— Fundamentals of Nursing Theory and Practice.

A successful completion of the nursing exit examination is required in NRS 416 (Comprehensive Overview) before graduation.

Maintaining Academic Standing

Nursing courses must be taken in the required sequence.

A percentage as stated in the Department of Nursing Handbook is required to pass each nursing course.

A test average as stated in the Department of Nursing Handbook is required for identified nursing courses.

No grade lower than a B- is accepted in any undergraduate nursing course.

A minimum GPA of 3.00 is required for cumulative cognate GPA (with no grade lower than a C in any cognate) and cumulative overall GPA.

Independent study courses cannot replace required nursing courses.

Maintaining a current certification of the American Heart Association Health Care Provider CPR course.

There is an annual review of required health care competencies. (Please see the Department of Nursing Handbook for specifics.)

Class attendance is required: The Department of Nursing will uphold University Policy.

Clinical attendance is required: Please see the Department of Nursing Handbook.

Student will be asked to withdraw from the nursing program if one or more nursing courses are failed at any time.

Student will be required to show competence via a standardized external exam and remediation before progressing to certain classes.

Academic performance alone does not ensure completion of the nursing preparation. Students must also continuously meet acceptable professional ethics, disposition and safety standards as determined by the admissions and progressions committee.

A urine drug screen must be completed 20-30 days prior to the start of the first clinical rotation and at the beginning of each academic year.

Annual flu shots are required.

Annual criminal background check is required.

Nursing BSN (RN to BSN, Online)

For information, contact: nursing@andrews.edu, 269-471-3311

RN-BSN Online program provides the RN with an associate degree an opportunity to complete their Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree. The curriculum focuses on the professional and leadership roles of the BSN-prepared nurse. Normally students complete in two years (4 semesters and 2 summers). The program requirements will involve clinical activities that may not be carried out in the student's work unit.

Andrews University recognizes the associate degree as a whole package, leaving a minimum of 32 credit hours to be completed at the university for the bachelor's degree.

Applicants from countries other than U. S. will need to have equivalent transcripts evaluated by Andrews University.

Some general education courses (Andrews Core Experience) may have been fulfilled within the associate degree package. See Andrews Core Experience: Professional Degrees.

Additional general education courses needed to complete the BSN requirement can be taken online through School of Distance Education& International Partnerships.

Delivery: This program is offered in an interactive online format (see School of Distance Education Definitions). In the interactive online format, courses have specific start and end dates. The interactive online program does not require any time on campus. Students in the interactive online program are encouraged to come to campus for graduation. Tuition for the interactive online degree is 50% of regular tuition. The Andrews Core Experience courses are offered year-round in a self-paced format and some ACE courses are available in the summer in an interactive online format.

Admission Requirements

Admission requirements are as follows:

1. All registered nurses must meet Andrews University entrance requirements and be accepted for admission to the University before being admitted to the nursing program.
2. Application for admission may require a minimum of six weeks for processing evaluation.

3. A current United States RN license or equivalent nursing license in country of residence.
4. Minimal overall GPA of 2.50
5. An acceptable criminal background check from company recommended by Department of Nursing—<https://portal.castlebranch.com/NS39>
6. A urine drug screen is required before admission and yearly after. Some clinical sites may require different drug screen times. Drug screens are completed by <https://portal.castlebranch.com/NS39>

Progression

RN-BSN nursing students in the online program need to understand that:

The Department of Nursing requires a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 to graduate.

Requirements for various clinical sites may vary and student must abide by the stated requirements.

Students must finish within 3 years of starting the program.

Class and clinical attendance are required: The Department of Nursing will uphold University Policy.

No course with a grade below C- may count towards the degree.

Students should refer to the Department of Nursing RN-BSN Student Handbook for further guidance on progression policies.

Post-Masters

Advanced Practice Registered Nurse DNP (Distance Education)

The DNP program is designed for nurses seeking a terminal degree in nursing practice and offers an alternative to research-focused doctoral programs. DNP-prepared nurses are well-equipped to fully implement the science developed by nurse researchers prepared in PhD, DNSc, and other research-focused nursing doctorates.

This DNP program offers three tracks:

BSN to DNP (65 Credits)
 MSN to DNP (56 Credits)
 APRN to DNP (40 Credits)

Interactive Online Programs

This is a fully interactive online program only (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). The courses follow fixed enrollment with semester start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. Most of the degree is done through online methods, but students should refer to the DNP Student Handbook for any expected on-campus time, especially in regards to comprehensive exams.

Information/Application Process

Students must apply first to the University's School of Graduate Studies and Research at: andrews.edu/apply. Then they must complete criminal background checks, health forms, and drug screen information to be sent to the Department of Nursing at: Marsh Hall, Room 200, 8475 University Boulevard, Berrien Springs, MI 49104 or e-mail to gradnursing@andrews.edu. For questions regarding the DNP Program, please call 269-471-3312.

Degree Core

All three options take the following core classes: 26 Credits

- NRS 616 - Biostatistics for Clinical Data Management Credits: 3
- NRS 644 - Research Methods for Evaluation and Outcomes of Advanced Clinical Practice Credits: 3
- NRS 685 - DNP Advanced Practice Role Credits: 2
- NRS 700 - Theoretical Foundations for Scholarship in Advanced Practice Nursing Credits: 2
- NRS 705 - Christian Ethics and Advanced Practice Nursing Credits: 2
- NRS 710 - Principles of Epidemiology Credits: 3
- NRS 715 - Organizational Leadership in Health Care Systems Credits: 2
- NRS 720 - Information Systems and Patient Care Technology for Health Care Credits: 2
- NRS 730 - Health Care Policy for Advanced Practice Nursing Credits: 2
- NRS 801 - Scholarly Project I Credits: 2
- NRS 802 - Scholarly Project II Credits: 3

Option 1: BSN to DNP - 65

Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP) focus. This track offers nurses with a BSN degree the opportunity to complete a terminal degree in nursing practice, without needing to achieve the MSN degree first.

Bridge Courses: 4 credits

- NRS 726 - Interpersonal Dynamics and Cultural Issues in Advanced Practice Nursing Credits: 2
- NRS 727 - Clinical Health Promotion and Disease Prevention of Populations Credits: 2
- FNP Nurse Practitioner Concentration: 35 Credits
- NRS 741 - Primary Care Management of Infants, Children and Adolescents Credits: 2
- NRS 742 - Primary Care Management of Infants, Children and Adolescents Practicum Credits: 2
- NRS 748 - Advanced Pathophysiology Across the Lifespan Credits: 3
- NRS 751 - Primary Care Management of Women's Health Credits: 2
- NRS 752 - Primary Care Management of Women's Health Practicum Credits: 2
- NRS 755 - Advanced Health Assessment Across the Lifespan Credits: 3
- NRS 756 - Advanced Health Assessment Practicum Credits: 2
- NRS 760 - Advanced Pharmacology Across the Lifespan Credits: 3
- NRS 763 - Primary Care Management of Adults Credits: 3
- NRS 764 - Primary Care Management of Adults Practicum Credits: 2
- NRS 767 - Evidence-based Family Nurse Practitioner Primary Care Management Credits: 3
- NRS 768 - Evidence-based Family Nurse Practitioner Primary Care Management Practicum Credits: 3
- NRS 770 - Teaching Strategies Credits: 3
- NRS 775 - Learning Theories and Health Teaching Credits: 2

Option 2: MSN to DNP - 56

Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP) focus. This track offers nurses with an MSN degree, that is not advanced practice focused, the opportunity to complete a terminal degree in nursing practice.

FNP Nurse Practitioner Concentration: 30 Credits

- NRS 741 - Primary Care Management of Infants, Children and Adolescents Credits: 2
- NRS 742 - Primary Care Management of Infants, Children and Adolescents Practicum Credits: 2
- NRS 748 - Advanced Pathophysiology Across the Lifespan Credits: 3
- NRS 751 - Primary Care Management of Women's Health Credits: 2
- NRS 752 - Primary Care Management of Women's Health Practicum Credits: 2
- NRS 755 - Advanced Health Assessment Across the Lifespan Credits: 3
- NRS 756 - Advanced Health Assessment Practicum Credits: 2
- NRS 760 - Advanced Pharmacology Across the Lifespan Credits: 3
- NRS 763 - Primary Care Management of Adults Credits: 3
- NRS 764 - Primary Care Management of Adults Practicum Credits: 2
- NRS 767 - Evidence-based Family Nurse Practitioner Primary Care Management Credits: 3
- NRS 768 - Evidence-based Family Nurse Practitioner Primary Care Management Practicum Credits: 3

Option 3: APRN to DNP - 42

Advanced Practice Registered Nurse (APRN) focus. This track offers nurses who already have advanced practice certification and are already functioning as either a: 1) nurse practitioner, 2) nurse anesthetist, or 3) clinical nurse specialist in a particular practice area, the opportunity to complete a terminal degree in nursing practice.

Terminal Degree Concentration: 14 Credits

- NRS 770 - Teaching Strategies Credits: 3
- NRS 775 - Learning Theories and Health Teaching Credits: 2
- NRS 780 - Nursing Education Outcomes Credits: 3
- NRS 785 - Curricular Development Credits: 2
- NRS 790 - Nursing Education Practicum Credits: 4

Admission Requirements

Must meet standard admission requirements for graduate admission at Andrews University.

No Graduate Record Examination (GRE) Required: Students who are applying for admission to the DNP program are not required to take the GRE.

GPA: 3.25 at admission; with matriculation to 3.5 GPA at graduation.

Experience:

Students with no clinical experience must work while in school to gain clinical experience in their first year of school

Letters of Recommendation (Three required):

Supervisor from current employment setting, who can address clinical competence;

Doctorally prepared faculty member, who can address academic competence and scholarly potential;

Professional colleague who holds at least a masters degree in nursing

Resume/CV

Three-page essay—on how they have promoted or advanced the profession of nursing in the past, and goals and objectives for the future, utilizing their advanced education

A statement—regarding the type of Capstone scholarly project they would be interested in conducting

Language: Must be able to speak English and present work in English.

Nursing Degrees: Must have degrees that are from schools accredited by ACEN or CCNE in the U.S. or whatever accrediting organization that exists within their country

Pre-requisites for BSN to DNP: Must have undergraduate statistics, research, health assessment and pathophysiology

Pre-requisites for MS to DNP: Must have graduate level statistics and research

Credentials: Must have RN License and APRN-DNP applicants must have Certifications of Advanced Practice (if applicable)

Criminal background check: Must have national background check.

Health Status: Immunization and physical exam health records required.

Drug Screen: Must submit drug screen for admission, and repeat before beginning clinical practicum.

CPR Certification: Required

Faculty reserve the right to require an interview of applicants based on reasons they identify.

Graduation Requirements

Number of Credits

The total number of credits required for the degree of BSN-DNP is 65.

Twenty-six (26) credits are DNP Nursing Core courses and 35 credits are DNP/FNP degree specific. Of those 35, 11 credits are practicum or internship courses. Five credits are a special focus in education. There is no dissertation, but there is a scholarly project that students will complete.

For those students who are not already FNPs and will be completing the MS to DNP curriculum, the total number of credits required for the degree is 56. Twenty-six (26) credits are DNP core courses and 30 credits are DNP/FNP-specific. Of those 30, 11 credits are practicum or internship courses. There is no dissertation, but there is a scholarly project that students will complete.

For those students who are already FNPs and wish to complete their DNP degree, the total number of credits required for the degree is 40. Twenty-six (26) credits are DNP core courses and 14 credits are DNP education specialty courses. Of those 14, four credits are for practicum. There is no dissertation, but there is a scholarly project that students will complete.

Grade Point Average: In order to graduate, students must have a Grade Point Average (GPA) not lower than 3.5. During the program, students are allowed to receive a B- in one course only, but the GPA must be at least 3.0 when this occurs. Two courses below 3.0 will cause termination of the degree process

Progress towards Degree: Students will be enrolled in a cohort as part-time students per semester taking 5–10 credits per semester for a total of seven to ten semesters, depending on the degree option and course they are enrolled in. Cohorts with differing degree options have anticipated completion at differing times within three to five years. Any student dropping out of a cohort may resume with a subsequent cohort but must complete the degree in no more than seven years.

Program Completion Events

- Successful completion of Comprehensive Exam
- Satisfactory completion of the Capstone Scholarly Project
- Satisfactory completion of supervised Clinical/Practicums
- Satisfactory completion of Certification Preparation/Review course

Andrews Core Experience

Students must take all courses designated in the Professional Degree Requirements of the Andrews Core Experience while noting the following specific requirements.

Religion

BPHL 440 - Fundamentals of Spirituality & Ethics in Healthcare Credits: 3

Admission Requirements

Prospective exercise science students are accepted into the Wellness (Fitness Emphasis) BHS (Non-Professional Program). To transition into the professional program, students need to apply to the Director of the Fitness and Exercise Science Program in their sophomore year for acceptance into the BS Exercise Science by May 1 for the following fall semester. Successful completion of all prerequisites courses listed below with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0, and a minimum overall GPA of 2.5 in the sciences and FTES courses, is required for entry into BS Exercise Science. Upon acceptance into the professional program, the student's major will be changed to BS Exercise Science.

Graduation Requirements

The American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM) Certified Personal Trainer (CPT) Certification is required to be taken by the summer of the junior year (entering the senior year) for all Exercise Science majors.

At the end of the senior year, Exercise Science majors are required to sit for the ACSM certified Exercise Physiologist (EP-C) examination which will serve as an exit exam for all Exercise Science majors.

To graduate with a degree in Exercise Science students MUST have taken both exams at least once.

A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 is required for junior acceptance. Students are expected to complete a professional development portfolio during the BS Exercise Science program outlining their goals and accomplishments, including required hours of professional experience (based on class standing and previous experience). Successful completion of the portfolio is required for graduation.

Nutrition Science & Dietetics, Dietetics Concentration BS

The Nutrition Science and Dietetics with Dietetics Concentration is recommended for students wishing to become a Registered Dietitian (RD)/Registered Dietitian Nutritionist (RDN), or pursue a career in public health and/or graduate school. This BS also prepares students for dietetics registration eligibility.

Professional Development Portfolio

Students are expected to complete a professional development portfolio during the DP program outlining their goals and accomplishments, including 200 hours of professional dietetic experience (125 hours for students transferring into Andrews University in the junior or senior year). A verification form for completion of the DP program will not be issued until the professional development portfolio has been satisfactorily completed by the student.

Comprehensive Review Exam

Graduates are provided with a Didactic Program in Nutrition Science and Dietetics Verification Statement, testifying to the fact that they have successfully completed the requirements for a BS degree in Nutrition Science and Dietetics. Students must successfully pass a comprehensive review exam in their senior year before they are eligible to receive a DP verification form.

Registration Examination Eligibility

Andrews University offers two programs to prepare the student for the registration examination given by the Commission on Dietetic Registration of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (AND).

The DPD program, which meets the academic requirements for registration eligibility.

The Dietetic Internship, a post-baccalaureate program, designed to meet the supervised practice requirements for registration eligibility.

Dietetic Internship

After completion of the BS course work for the Nutrition Science & Dietetics BS, students are eligible to apply for the an eight month accredited Dietetic Internship that must be completed by a dietetic student for registration eligibility. A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 and DP (Didactic program in Nutrition Science and Dietetics) GPA of 3.2 is recommended for admission into the program.

This supervised practice provides experiences in three main areas of dietetics—community nutrition, clinical nutrition, and food-service management. The Internship Program is available at several hospitals affiliated with Andrews University. Successful completion of this intensive eight-month supervised practice permits a student to write the national registration exam in dietetics. Students who successfully complete the internship will be issued an Internship Program verification statement.

Upon passing the registry exam, graduates receive formal recognition as Registered Dietitians (RD). This status is maintained by participating in continuing professional education activities approved by AND. With advanced study or experience, the dietitian may qualify as a specialist in clinical dietetics, food service management, nutrition education, or research.

Admission Requirements

Nutrition Science & Dietetics Program (Step 1)

Prospective students enter the Nutrition Science & Dietetics program upon acceptance to Andrews University. Students must apply to the professional program* at the end of their sophomore year. The Dietetics Emphasis is recommended for students wishing to become a Registered Dietitian/Registered Dietitian Nutritionist, or pursue a career in public health and/or graduate school.

Pre-requisite Courses: two years of the following:

introductory professional (e.g. Food Science and Nutrition) sciences (e.g. Intro to Chemistry, Biochemistry, Anatomy & Physiology, and Microbiology) social sciences (e.g. Sociology and Psychology) math (e.g. MATH 145 or higher)
Andrews Core Experience (ACE)

These courses may be obtained at Andrews University or another accredited college or university, or equivalent institution for international students.

Professional Program in Nutrition Science & Dietetics (Step 2)

Applying to the Program*

To transition into the professional program, students need to apply to the director of the Didactic Program in Nutrition Science & Dietetics (DP) at the end of their sophomore year. Students must apply to the program in order to register for FDNT 351 Food Service Management, a required course for the major.

Courses

The professional program includes two years of study including courses in:

medical nutrition therapy food-service management nutrition and metabolism
community nutrition

These courses are to be obtained on the Andrews University campus.

Application Deadline

For acceptance to the program applications need to be submitted, to the program director, by the last Friday in March, September, or November for the following semester.

Acceptance

Full acceptance into the BS Nutrition Science & Dietetics Program requires successful completion of all prerequisite courses and a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0, and a minimum overall GPA of 2.5 in the sciences and FDNT courses.

Students who are not fully accepted into the program by their senior year will be unable to register for FDNT 441 Medical Nutrition Therapy which is required for the completion of the program.

Public Health, Environmental Health Concentration BSPH

Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) program with Environmental Health concentration is designed for students pursuing a professional degree in the field of Environmental Public Health. This program prepares students for certification as a Registered Environmental Health Specialists (REHS) that qualifies for entry-level positions in the field of environmental health.

The BSPH program in Environmental Health is the first of its kind at the undergraduate level in the Adventist Health School System. It is a rigorous yet flexible science-based applied program that prepares students for careers in public health as well as environmental health fields. This program is recommended for pre-medical, pre-dental students wishing to secure a job while preparing for medical, dental, or physical therapy, physician's assistant and pharmacy schools. This degree provides an excellent foundation for pursuing the online Master of Public Health public (MPH) degree at Andrews University or any MPH degree in general. Employment of environmental scientists and specialists is projected to grow 11 percent from 2014 to 2024 faster than the average for all occupations.

Environmental Health is the science and practice of preventing human injury and illness while promoting well-being by a) identifying and evaluating environmental sources and hazardous agents and b) limiting exposures to hazardous physical, chemical, and biological agents in air, water, food and other environmental media or settings that may adversely affect human health.

BSPH Program Mission

To prepare public health professionals who can plan, manage, evaluate and solve public health problems in the public and private sector. This mission will improve the health and well-being of individuals, communities, and populations, while preparing students to become Christ-centered scholars and global leaders in public health.

Major: Additional Requirements

Students are expected to complete a professional development portfolio during the BSPH program outlining their goals and accomplishments, including experiential activities conducted at both public and private public health agencies and organizations.

Experiential Activity

All students are required to complete a cumulative, integrative and scholarly (or applied) experience that serves as a capstone to the educational experience. This can also be an inquiry project. These experiences may include, but are not limited to, internships, service learning projects, senior seminars, portfolio projects, research papers or honors thesis. Exposure to local-level public health professionals and/or agencies that engage in public health practice is encouraged.

REHS Credential

A Professional Credential from National Environmental Health Association (NEHA)
Students in the BSPH program in environmental health are eligible to take the Registered Environmental Health Specialist certification exam. The REHS is the most prevalent NEHA credential and professionals demonstrate competency in an impressive range of environmental health issues, directing and training personnel to respond to routine or emergency environmental situations, as well as educating community members about environmental health concerns. In addition, REHS credential holders are key members in ensuring that communities are in compliance with local, state and federal environmental health regulations. Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) (Step 1)

Prospective students enter the Bachelor of Science in Public Health program upon acceptance to Andrews University. Students must apply to the professional program* at the end of their sophomore year. The Environmental Health concentration is recommended for pre-medical, pre-dental students wishing to secure a job while preparing for medical, dental, or physical therapy, physician's assistant and pharmacy schools. This degree provides an excellent foundation for pursuing the online Master of Public Health (MPH) degree at Andrews University or any MPH degree in general.

Pre-requisite Courses: two years of the following:

CHEM 131 General Chemistry I 4
CHEM 132 General Chemistry II 4
PHYS 141 General Physics I 4
PHYS 142 General Physics II 4
BIOL 165 Foundations of Biology 4,5
BIOL 166 Foundations of Biology 4,5
CHEM 231 Organic Chemistry I 3
CHEM 232 Organic Chemistry II 3
CHEM 241 Organic Chemistry Laboratory I 1
CHEM 242 Organic Chemistry Laboratory II 1
BIOL 260 General Microbiology 4
Andrews Core Experience: BA & BS Degrees

These courses may be obtained at Andrews University or another accredited college or university, or equivalent institution for international students.

Professional Program - Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) (Step 2)

Applying to the Program*

To transition into the professional program, students need to apply to the director of the BSPH at the end of their sophomore year. Students must apply to the program in order to register for PBHL 308 - Environmental Health, a required course for the major.

Courses

The professional program includes two years of study including courses in (but not limited to) the following:

Environmental health
Environmental Sampling and Analysis
Environmental Toxicology
Water & Air Quality
Research Methods
Experiential Activities
Environmental Risk & Policy

These courses are encouraged to be obtained on the Andrews University campus.

Application Deadline

To transition into the professional program, students need to apply to the Director of BSPH in their sophomore year for acceptance by May 1 for the following Fall semester. Successful completion of all pre- requisites and cognate courses as listed above, with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 and a cognate GPA of 2.75 is required for acceptance into the professional program BSPH

Masters

Public Health, Nutrition and Wellness Concentration MPH

The mission of the Master of Public Health (MPH) Program is to prepare highly competent public health professionals to prevent disease and restore health in local, national and global communities. This mission is accomplished through excellence in graduate teaching, and through public health research to develop or implement evidence-based lifestyle solutions to improve health while addressing public health problems from a holistic perspective. We offer a distinctive program with a concentration in Nutrition & Wellness providing a unique emphasis in vegetarian nutrition. See the Department of Public Health Nutrition and Wellness Website for the statement of value and goals of the program.

Delivery: This program is offered in an interactive online format (see School of Distance Education Definitions). The interactive online degree does not require any on-campus time.

Admission Requirements

To be eligible for admission to the MPH program, you must have completed a bachelor's degree or equivalent with a grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 or better (on a 4.0 scale). A limited number of students whose background and experience show potential for success but whose GPAs are less than 3.0 may be admitted on a provisional basis. A candidate who has a bachelor degree but without the prerequisites below may also be admitted on a provisional basis.

For details on applying to the program and admission requirements, go to the School of Graduate Studies website.

Corequisites

The candidate is required to have completed the courses listed below at the undergraduate level:

- Biology or Physiology or Anatomy and Physiology
- Two courses in nutrition: One introductory nutrition course similar to FDNT 230 Nutrition or equivalent and one intermediate level nutrition course similar to FDNT 310 Nutrition in the Life Cycle or equivalent.

Masters Dual Degrees

Master of Public Health/ Master of Divinity Dual Degree MPH/MDiv

Andrews University has established a collaborative program between the Master of Divinity Program of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Public Health, Nutrition, & Wellness in the School of Health Professions. Students are able to complete two degrees in 4 years; 2 years in the Theological Seminary and 2 years in the Department of Public Health, Nutrition & Wellness. The MDiv is available on campus while the MPH courses are in an online format. Completion of the dual degree requires strict adherence to course sequence and curriculum design as students will travel as a cohort through each program.

If in the United States, International Students need to take courses concurrently with MDiv courses to maintain their Student Visa status.

General Information

Andrews University has formed a collaborative program between the Master of Divinity Program of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Public Health, Nutrition and Wellness in the School of Health Professions. Students can potentially complete the two degrees (MDiv/MPH) in 4 years or less; 2 years in the Theological Seminary and 2 years in the Department of Public Health, Nutrition and Wellness .

This dual degree is designed to prepare students for various forms of ministry in which public health skills and theology are needed. Likewise, it will also enable students to integrate both theological and public health knowledge, values and skills into a multifaceted approach to Christian service, thereby enhancing their usefulness as instruments of the Holy Spirit. Furthermore, it will sensitize students to nontraditional ministry opportunities by exposing them to theories and practice skills related to prevention, nutrition, wellness, environmental health, and health behaviors.

Since the MDiv and MPH programs share certain cognate courses to achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, The MDiv degree must be conferred simultaneously with the MPH in order to fulfill the requirements of both degrees. In the event that the MPH was completed prior to enrollment in the MDiv, the cognate requirements for the MDiv will be adjusted as shown below. A dual student cannot march in graduation or March-without-Completion if both halves of the dual degree are not completed.

Total Credits: 113

Graduation requirements consist of the satisfactory completion of 113 semester credits with an overall grade point average of 2.75 or better in the MDiv and 3.0 or better in the MPH. 71 credits are MDiv credits, and 42 credits are Master of Public Health credits. 7 of those credits are shared between the MDiv and the MPH programs:

- FDNT 520 Vegetarian Nutrition and Disease Prevention (3 Cr) replaces CHMN 567 Health Ministry (1 Cr)
- 6 credits of MDiv electives are 6 MPH concentration credits

Certification

The curriculum for the MPH is designed to help prepare students to take the Certified Health Education Specialist Exam (CHES) administered by the National Commission for Health Education Credentialing (NCHEC).

Studentes will be expected to meet the Seven Areas of Responsibility of a Health Education Specialist.

- Assessing individual and community needs for health education.
- Planning effective health education programs.
- Implementing health education programs.
- Evaluating effectiveness of health education programs.
- Coordinating provision for health education services.
- Acting as a resource person in health education.
- Communicating health and education needs, concerns and resources.

Admissions Requirements

Master of Divinity

All MDiv applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission Requirements applicable to all graduate students and the general seminary requirements.

Hold a baccalaureate degree: A four-year degree from an accredited United States institution, or its equivalent from an institution outside the U.S.

Minimum of 2.5 Undergraduate GPA

Normally hold membership in the Seventh-day Adventist Church inasmuch as the MDiv program is specifically designed for Adventist ministers and is sponsored and financed by the Adventist church.

Represent high moral integrity with a character, lifestyle, and spiritual commitment reflective of the beliefs and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and show promise of usefulness for Adventist ministry through personal maturity and adequate experience in the Church. (Persons of other faiths who are willing to live in harmony with these standards are welcome to apply.)

Submit an autobiographical history and a 350+ word statement of purpose reflecting the applicant's family and spiritual development, sense of calling to ministry, experience in church work, and future goals in relationship to the MDiv program. A guideline is provided in the admissions package.

If married, the spouse of the applicant is also asked to complete a statement in regard to his or her feelings and relationship to the partner's aspirations for future ministry.

Background Check. Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to undergo a criminal background check and to make the results of the check available to the Seminary. The cost of the criminal background check is the responsibility of the applicant. Details about this requirement may be obtained from the MDiv office.

An interview with a representative of the MDiv program may be required, either by personal contact, telephone, or video.

Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.

Pre-admission Conduct Disclosure Statement - Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to complete and submit to the Seminary the "Pre-Admission Conduct Disclosure Statement."

Program Objectives

To prepare students for various forms of ministry in which public health skills and theology are needed.

To enable students to integrate both theological and public health knowledge, values and skills into a multifaceted approach to Christian service, thereby enhancing their usefulness as instruments of the Holy Spirit.

To sensitize students to nontraditional ministry opportunities by exposing them to theories and practice skills related to nutrition, prevention, wellness, environmental health, and health behaviors.

Certificates

Nutrition & Dietetics Graduate Certificate (Dietetic Internship)

Program Description

The Andrews University Internship Program of Nutrition and Dietetics is a post-baccalaureate, supervised practice program that qualifies graduates to take the examination to become a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist. Dietetic Interns enroll in a full-time program requiring 40 hours of participation per week for 32 weeks. The program goals reflect the major points of our philosophy: quality instruction with broad-based training concurrent with ongoing supervision, feedback, and evaluation.

Certificate Requirements - 12

The program is comprised of a three-day orientation at Andrews University as well as, 5 months of clinical nutrition, 2 months of foodservice management, and 1 month of community nutrition at the internship site. Each rotation contains a series of competencies, objectives, activities, and assignments that must be completed in order to receive credit for the hours completed. Formal evaluations will be received by each intern at the end of each rotation, and will indicate whether or not the intern has successfully completed the competencies and objectives for that particular rotation. All interns will complete at least 1200 supervised practice hours during the 32-week period. Weekly reports completed by interns are sent to the program director to monitor intern progress and compliance with all policies. Intern progress will be evaluated by the preceptors following each rotation and there will be a formal evaluation between the intern and site coordinator at midterm and again at the end of the program.

FDNT 595 - Graduate Certificate Internship I Credits: 6

FDNT 596 - Graduate Certificate Internship II Credits: 6

Registration Examination Eligibility

At the successful completion of all program requirements, interns are eligible for a verification statement and allowed to sit for the Registration Examination for Dietitians.

Admission Requirements

Students who have successfully completed a B.S. degree in Nutrition and Dietetics can apply to a supervised practice, hands-on experience in the Internship program. The internship enables the student to be eligible to take the Registration Exam for Dietitians to become a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist. The internship is an 8-month supervised practice program that is conducted at an affiliated hospital. Students must apply to the internship online through DICAS (Dietetic Internship Centralized Application System) and register for internship matching with D&D Digital (www.dnddigital.com)

Additional Information

Accreditation

The Internship Program at Andrews University is currently accredited by the Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND) of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, 120 South Riverside Plaza, Suite 2000, Chicago, IL 60606-6995, 312/899-5400.

Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PBHL 345 - Health Behavior & Chronic Diseases

Credits: 3
Examines the behavioral factors that influence health, with particular emphasis on chronic disease outcomes and lifestyle interventions. Discusses behavioral science theories & models along with principles of health research that determine health behavior.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PBHL 415 - Bio-terrorism and Preparedness

Credits: 3
Examines critical public health considerations and environmental health issues of concern in an emergency, or disaster. Describes public health responsibilities of assessment of water, food, shelter, sanitation in an emergency situation and prevention of communicable diseases. Utilizes case studies to provide practical application of the principles of bioterrorism and emergency preparedness during natural disasters.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PBHL 425 - Environmental Risk & Policy

Credits: 2
Describe principles and methods of risk assessment associated with human exposure to toxic chemicals and other environmental hazards. Quantitate risk-assessment methodologies and approaches. Define major environmental health policy challenges facing United States. Apply risk assessment and risk management concepts to develop effective guidelines and policies to mitigate and manage environmental and occupational hazards and improve health outcomes.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PBHL 440 - Fundamentals of Spirituality & Ethics in Healthcare

Credits: 3
Addresses religious and spiritual issues of significance for healthcare. Includes a discussion of views of the relationship between health and spirituality from different religious perspectives. Provides an overview of the philosophical and historical background for ethical systems and their significance for current ethical challenges in healthcare. Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall, Spring
College Code: SHP

PBHL 445 - Environmental Sampling & Analysis

Credits: 2
Practical laboratory experience serves as an introduction to techniques used in measurement and evaluation of environmental health problems. Techniques pertinent to air, water, and food sanitation will be explored. Quantitates occupational stressors and radiological health.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PBHL 475 - Experiential Activities

Credits: 2
Students are required to complete a cumulative, integrative and scholarly (or applied) experience that serves as a capstone to the educational experience. Capstone can also be or inquiry project. These experiences may include, but are not limited to: internships, service learning projects, senior seminars, portfolio projects, and research papers or honors thesis. Program should encourage exposure to local-level public health professionals and/or agencies that engage in public health practice.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PBHL 480 - Seminar in Current Environmental Health Topics

Credits: 1,2
Departmental seminar series devoted to topics in current environmental health research as presented by students, faculty, and guest speakers.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Seminar
College Code: SHP

PBHL 500 - Introduction to Public Health

Credits: 2
Provides student with an overview of the field of public health. Major topics include: public health competencies, careers in public health, health disparities, cultural competence, and public health ethics.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online
College Code: SHP

PBHL 511 - Biostatistics

Credits: 3
Introduces statistical concepts and analytical methods as applied to data encountered in biomedical sciences. It emphasizes the basic concepts of experimental design, quantitative analysis of data, and statistical inferences.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 165, STAT 285
Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online
College Code: SHP

PBHL 521 - Principles of Epidemiology

Credits: 3
Introduces the basic principles and applications of epidemiology. Epidemiology is one of the pillars of public health. Describes the distribution and determinants of disease in human populations. Introduces students to the theory, methods, and body of knowledge of epidemiology.

PBHL 535 - Principles of Health Administration

Credits: 3
Describes the application of administrative theory to health delivery, policy, and planning. Examines structures and functions of management and their application in public health.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online
College Code: SHP

PBHL 540 - Grant Writing

Credits: 2
Overview of the basic principles and practice of effective health education and health promotion grant writing. Provides guidance for identifying potential funding sources and writing a grant proposal that is ready for submission.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online
College Code: SHP

PBHL 545 - Program Planning and Evaluation

Credits: 3
*May assist students in achieving competencies needed for preparation to complete the Certified Health Education Specialist (CHES) exam. Introduces principles of program development and evaluation. Develop a health promotion and education program with an evaluation component for community groups. Major topics includes: community needs and assets assessment; program planning, implementation and evaluation of a program.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online
College Code: SHP

PBHL 546 - Adventist Health and Healing

Credits: 3
Overview of the history the Adventist health message. Discussion of key features of the Adventist health message and application to health evangelism.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PBHL 550 - Addictions Prevention and Treatment

Credits: 3
Discuss addictions theory, treatment and prevention programs.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online
College Code: SHP

PBHL 555 - Health Promotion and Education Seminar

Credits: 2
Develop capstone research project

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PBHL 575 - Integrated Public Health Capstone

Credits: 3

The Integrated Public Health Capstone project is a requirement for graduation for students in the MPH program. It is an opportunity for students to work on public health practice projects that is of interest to them. The goal is for students to synthesize, integrate and apply the skills and competencies they have acquired to a public health problem that approximates a professional practice experience. Completion of the capstone project requires both written and oral components. The capstone is typically completed in the last two terms of the program. The project is done under the direction of a capstone advisor.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online
College Code: SHP

PBHL 580 - Field Practicum

Credits: 2

*May assist students in achieving competencies needed for preparation to complete the Certified Health Education Specialist (CHES) exam. A minimum of 180 hours required per credit

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: SHP

PBHL 646 - Integration of Spirituality in Health Care

Credits: 2

A discussion of spiritual values from a Christian perspective, how faith and Spirituality facilitates the healing process, and how they can be incorporated into patient care. Attention will be given to discerning and addressing the Spiritual needs of patients/clients, family members, and ancillary medical staff in a professional environment. Mission

PT Mission - To empower students who dream of becoming excellent physical therapists.

PT Core Values - The core values of family-spirit, servant heart and inquisitive mind shape the culture of the department and the way in which we empower our students to become excellent physical therapists.

The Department of Physical Therapy provides a quality physical therapist education within a cooperative learning environment that promotes Christian values. The physical therapy department provides resources and encourages faculty to continue their educational, professional, and spiritual growth. The physical therapy faculty delivers, within a Christ-centered environment, the knowledge base and clinical skills that will prepare students for contemporary physical therapy practice. Physical therapy graduates will serve Christ as evidenced by their ministering to the needs of others through the delivery of effective professional healthcare. The physical therapy department faculty and graduates comprise a Christian network that is balanced in the development of the spiritual, mental, physical, and social life of its members.

Physical therapy is a health profession dedicated to evaluating, treating, and preventing physical injury and disease. Physical therapists design and implement the necessary therapeutic interventions to promote fitness, health and improve the quality of life in patients. They also become active in consultation, education and research.

Physical therapists work closely with their client's family, physician, and other members of the medical team to help their client return to their home environment and resume activities and relationships of normal daily living.

Academic Calendar. Contact the Department of Physical Therapy for academic dates.

Bachelors

Physical Therapy BHS (Interim Degree)

Students successfully completing the appropriate prerequisites, and PT-1 and PT-2 of the professional program (36 credits) qualify for the Bachelor of Health Science Degree. Successful completion of the BHS is defined as:

An earned minimum grade of "C+" (2.33) or "S" (in a "S/U" course) in each DPT program course. The BHS program courses include PTH 501, PTH 505, PTH 510, PTH 515, PTH 516, PTH 518, PTH 520, PTH 525, PTH 526, PTH 528, PTH 530, PTH 535, PTH 562, PTH 565, PTH 575, and PTH 580.

No more than a cumulative total of five points earned on the grade-point scale throughout the physical therapy program (see DPT Student Handbook).

Students must be able to perform skills listed in the Technical Standards of Performance and demonstrate professional behaviors as outlined in the DPT Student Handbook.

Maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or greater in all credits used to meet the BHS degree requirements.

Undergraduate DPT students entering the graduate phase of the program (PT-3) must have completed all requirements for their bachelor's degree and have their degree conferred.

Post-Masters

Physical Therapy DPT

This three-year program begins after a student completes 92 semester credits of specific college prerequisites. Students taking the appropriate prerequisites will earn a Bachelor of Health Science (BHS) after the first two semesters in the professional program and the DPT degree upon successful completion of the program. A previous bachelor's degree is not required, however applicants holding a bachelor's degree are eligible to apply as well. All core prerequisites must be completed within ten years prior to application.

Program Accreditation

The DPT program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education (CAPTE), 1111 North Fairfax, Alexandria, VA 22314. After receiving the DPT degree graduates may apply to take the physical therapy licensure exam in the state of their choice.

Information/Application Process

Please call 1-800-827-2878, e-mail pt-info@andrews.edu or visit <http://www.andrews.edu/shp/pt> for application instructions and admission requirements. Information is available by June of each year. Successful completion of prerequisite courses does not guarantee acceptance into the DPT program.

All applicants applying for admission to the DPT professional entry program must apply via the Physical Therapy Centralized Application Service at www.PTCAS.org. The soft due date for priority application processing is November 11, with the firm or final due date being January 15.

Admission Requirements

GPA: A minimum GPA of 3.20 is required in all core PT prerequisite courses. A grade of "C" or better is required for all other courses.

Graduate Record Exam (GRE): Submit scores from the General Test, taken less than 5 years prior to enrollment in the program. Required minimum scores are: Verbal and Quantitative scores of 142 each, and a Written score of 3.0.

Clinical Observation: Students must complete a minimum of 80 observation hours supervised by a licensed physical therapist in at least 3 different settings; at least 20 hours must be in an inpatient acute care or hospital setting. Please note that sub-acute, rehab, skilled nursing home or extended care facilities do not qualify as a hospital or acute care setting. See PTCAS for a copy of an Observation Hours Verification form.

Personal Interview: Applicants who meet eligibility requirements are invited for a personal interview. Phone interviews may be acceptable, though not preferred.

English Proficiency: Applicants who have been given any part of their education outside the U.S. or Canada or whose first language is not English must demonstrate English proficiency by providing evidence through one of the following methods. Exceptions may be granted by the Department of Physical Therapy on an individual basis. Test must be taken within one year prior to application. TOEFL internet-based test (iBT) is preferred. Official TOEFL scores must be sent directly to PTCAS from Educational Testing Service (ETS). The PTCAS ETS code is 531.

Minimum Requirements
TOEFL Internet-based test (iBT)(preferred)	111 (minimum of 15 in Reading, 15 in Listening, 18 in Speaking and 17 in Writing)
TOEFL Paper-based test	640 (minimum of 56 in each section)
IELTS Academic Version	8.0
MELAB	92 (minimum of 80 in each section)

Prerequisite courses including general education requirements for students WITHOUT an earned bachelor's degree

Requires a minimum of 92 semester credits, with at least 15 credits being upper-division, including 9 in one content area or a minor. Applicants are considered when a minimum of 5 or more prerequisite science courses have been completed.

General Education Requirements
See professional program requirements and note the following specific requirements:

Religion:
one religion course per academic year of attendance at Andrews University.
Required course:
PBHL 440 - Fundamentals of Spirituality & Ethics in Healthcare Credits: 3

Language/Communication:
professional degree requirements

History:
professional degree requirements

Fine Arts/Humanities:
professional degree requirements

Life/Physical Sciences:

Life Science:
A full sequence of Anatomy and Physiology with labs, and
Two additional human biology courses, one must be 3-semester credit upper division course, with lab.

Physical Science:
A full sequence of General Physics with labs, as required for pre-med students
A full sequence of General Chemistry with labs, as required for pre-med students

Mathematics:
A basic statistics or research methods course

Service:
fulfilled through professional components of the program

Social Sciences:

Psychology
An introductory psychology course.

Fitness Education:
Recommend Andrews freshmen take HLED 120 and one additional course from personal fitness, outdoor skills or team activity. Non-Andrews students take two from the three categories above.

Human Development:
A course which covers human development throughout the lifespan.

Medical Terminology:
A course in basic medical terminology. May be taken by distance learning.

Electives:
To fulfill the 92 total semester credits, some elective course suggestions include business, ethics, culture and diversity, arts and humanities, nutrition and physical activity courses.

Prerequisite courses for students WITH an earned bachelor's degree:

Life/Physical Sciences

Life Science:
A full sequence of Anatomy and Physiology with labs, and
Two additional human biology courses, one must be 3-semester credit upper division course, with lab.

Physical Science:
A full sequence of General Physics with labs, as required for pre-med students

Social Sciences

Psychology
An introductory psychology course.

Human Development
A course which covers human development throughout the lifespan.

Medical Terminology:
A course in basic medical terminology. May be taken by distance learning.

DPT: Doctor of Physical Therapy

Upon successful completion of the professional phase of the program (116 credits) students earn the Doctor of Physical Therapy degree. All coursework scheduled for each semester must be successfully completed prior to advancing to the next semester. Successful completion of the DPT program is defined as:
Completion of a bachelor's degree (BHS or other).

An earned minimum grade of "C+" (2.33) or "S" in each DPT program course.
DPT program courses include: PTH 501, PTH 505, PTH 510, PTH 515, PTH 516, PTH 518, PTH 520, PTH 525, PTH 526, PTH 528, PTH 530, PTH 535, PTH 540, PTH 562, PTH 565, PTH 575, PTH 580, PTH 601, PTH 602, PTH 610, PTH 611, PTH 612, PTH 616, PTH 617, PTH 620, PTH 622, PTH 625, PTH 627, PTH 632, PTH 635, PTH 637, PTH 640, PTH 645, PTH 646, PTH 647, PTH 650, PTH 651, PTH 652, PTH 661, PTH 662, PTH 680, PTH 711, PTH 712, PTH 721, PTH 722, PTH 726, PTH 736, PTH 743, PTH 765, PTH 768, PTH 770, PTH 799, PTH 870, PTH 880, PTH 881, PTH 882, PTH 883, PTH 884.

Maintain a cumulative DPT program GPA of 3.00.
No more than a cumulative total of five points earned on the grade-point scale throughout the physical therapy program (see DPT Student Handbook).

Students must be able to perform skills listed in the Technical Standards of Performance and demonstrate professional behaviors as outlined in the DPT Student Handbook.

Satisfactory completion of the practical and written comprehensive exams:
PTH 770, PTH 870.

Satisfactory completion of a capstone project and presentation.
Satisfactory completion of five clinical education experiences and the associated "Clinical Performance Instrument."
Satisfactory completion of the Graduate Exit Survey.

Continued Enrollment Requirements
Progressive enrollment in the physical therapist education program requires successful completion of all Physical Therapy program course work including clinical education listed for the previous academic term.
A student whose cumulative GPA falls below 3.00 in any given academic term is placed on academic probation. Students who do not increase their cumulative GPA to 3.00 during the academic term of probation are normally asked to withdraw.
Students who receive less than a "C+" (2.33) or a "U" on a "S/U" course or clinical will be given "grade points" equal to the semester credit for the course. A student who accumulates six or more points will academically disqualify him/herself from continuing in the program.

Physical Therapy DPT (Transitional, Distance Education)

Interactive Online Delivery

This program is delivered mostly online, but has 11 days of required on-campus attendance (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). There are two on campus sessions within the first year of the program, one in August for 5 days and the second in December for 6 days. All of the courses follow fixed enrollment with specific start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. Students are encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

 PTH 840 - Advanced Topics in Clinical Research Credits: 3
 PTH 860 - Applications in Clinical Research Credits: 2
 4 credits of PTH 799 - Research Project (topic) Credits: 1–4

Admission Requirements

Students must have graduated from an approved school of physical therapy and be licensed to practice physical therapy in their country of origin or county in which they live.

Students must have the equivalent of a four-year U.S. bachelor's degree. Students with a bachelor's degree must have two years of experience working in an orthopedic setting as a physical therapist prior to applying.

Students must submit graduate application.

Students must submit an original copy of all academic transcripts from any institution where classes were taken. In addition, if the transcripts are not written in English, a copy in the original language as well as the English translation are required.

Students must submit a copy of physical therapy license. If license is not in English a translated copy must be submitted as well.

Students must submit a minimum of three satisfactory recommendations: one from a currently practicing physical therapist, one from a medical doctor or supervisor, and one from another person familiar with the candidate.

Foreign trained physical therapists must complete the Foreign Credentialing Commission on Physical Therapy (FCCPT) application and fully satisfy course content, credit and requirements. Candidates must also submit PTET scores if requested.

For U.S. and Canadian trained candidates holding only a Bachelors degree in physical therapy, completion and submission of the APTA Physical Therapy Evaluation Tool (PTET) proving competency towards an entry-level master's degree in physical therapy is required.

English Proficiency - Students whose language of education is not English must submit a minimum TOEFL or MELAB score of 80.

Graduation Requirements

A minimum of 70% of credits must be taken at regular tuition for degree conferral.

No grade lower than "C" (2.00) in any course.

A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00.

Successful completion of the capstone project. Completed by registering for 4 credits of PTH 799 Research Project (topic)

Satisfactory completion of the program exit interview.

Physical Therapy DPT (Transitional, On-campus)

The transitional Doctor of Physical Therapy (t-DPT) is designed to provide advanced learning for practicing physical therapists. The t-DPT student will enhance their skills in medical screening, differential diagnosis, clinical leadership and administration, imaging and laboratory science, therapeutic exercise prescription, education and research.

This degree transitions the clinician to the academic standard of the entry-level DPT graduate and truly trains the clinician to become a direct access practitioner.

Physical Therapy, Orthopedic Manual Therapy Concentration DScPT (Distance Education)

Interactive Online Delivery

This program is delivered mostly in an interactive online format, but has nine sessions of required on-campus attendance (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). All of the the courses follow fixed enrollment with specific start and end dates. Participants interact with each other and with instructor throughout all courses. Students are encouraged to come to campus for graduation.

Program Description

This degree is designed to prepare the clinical specialist in orthopedic manual therapy and incorporates courses from the North American Institute of Orthopedic Manual Therapy.

Option 1: Total Credits - 64

This Distance Learning option is for students with a BS or Masters degree.

Core Requirements - 20

PTH 700 - Doctoral Colloquium Credits: 2
PTH 741 - Physiological Basis for Exercise Prescription: Level I Credits: 3
PTH 744 - Principles of Contemporary Leadership Credits: 3

Physical Therapy, Orthopedic Manual Therapy Concentration DScPT (On-Campus)

The Doctor of Science in Physical Therapy (DScPT) degree represents the highest clinical specialty doctorate in the world. It is an advanced degree for bachelors, masters, and doctoral trained physical therapists.

It is a unique degree designed to not only train the clinician to become a direct access provider and a competent researcher, but will also train the clinician to become a specialist in orthopedic manual therapy.

Andrews University partners with the North American Institute of Orthopedic Manual Therapy (NAIOMT), an APTA accredited fellowship program, to provide the clinician with the skills needed to become a certified manipulative therapist.

This degree will further enhance key areas such as medical screening, differential diagnosis, education, research, therapeutic exercise prescription, imaging and laboratory science, along with clinical leadership.

This degree truly allows the clinician to become a master clinician, a teacher and a researcher. Many of our graduates are faculty members at Universities within the United States and Canada attesting to the terminal nature of this degree.

Program Description

This degree is designed to prepare the clinical specialist in orthopedic manual therapy and incorporates courses from the North American Institute of Orthopedic Manual Therapy.

Certificates

Orthopedic Clinical Residency Program

This program is designed for the licensed physical therapist seeking to become a board certified orthopedic clinical specialist and is a jointly sponsored program between Andrews University and the North American Institute of Orthopedic Manual Therapy. Following successful completion of this program, students will receive a certificate of completion.

Certificate Requirements

The following certificate requirements apply to students successfully completing the orthopedic clinical residency program.

Satisfactory completion of the following courses - 17 credits:

PTH 734 - NAIOMT Level II: Intermediate Upper Quadrant

PTH 738 - NAIOMT Level II: Intermediate Lower Quadrant

PTH 746 - NAIOMT: Thoracic Spine

PTH 608 - Post Operative Management of Common Orthopedic Surgeries

PTH 609 - Evidenced Based Orthopedic Clinical Practice: A Research Review

PTH 830 - Medical Diagnostics

Successful completion of the oral/practical live patient examinations given through NAIOMT.

Successful completion of the NAIOMT supervised clinical hour requirement at an approved clinical mentorship site.

An earned minimum grade of "C" (2.00) or "S" (in a "S/U" course) in each program course.

A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00.

Admission Requirements

The following admissions requirements apply.

Graduate of an accredited physical therapy program.

Hold or be in the process of obtaining licensure as a physical therapist in the U.S. or Canada.

Submit residency program application.

Submit a portfolio following program guidelines.

Submit a minimum of three satisfactory recommendations: one from the ACCE of the physical therapy program applicant attended; one from a faculty member of the physical therapy program applicant attended; one from a clinical supervisor the applicant interned with during physical therapy school. In the case of applicants who have been out of school longer than 3–5 years, the letters of recommendation may follow the same standards as the DScPT applicants.

Submission of a mission statement and reasons for applying to this program.

Physical Therapy-Professional & Post-Professional

PTH 416 - Pathokinesiology

Credits: 3

The study of human movement including an introduction to the basic concepts of biomechanics with an emphasis on human joint/muscle structures and function, advancing to analysis of body mechanics, normal gait analysis, and pathological movement analysis. Joint abnormalities will be identified using radiographs, related to the resultant movement dysfunction.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 400 , PTH 410 and PTH 426 .

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 445 - Neuroscience

Credits: 2

Basic anatomy and functions of the central and peripheral nervous systems and their related structures. Pathways of the central and peripheral nervous system are examined along with a detailed study of each of the 12 pairs of cranial nerves.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 455 .

Prerequisite(s): PTH 400 and PTH 410 .

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 450 - Neurology of Motor Control

Credits: 1

An introduction to the function and interaction of the primary areas of the nervous system involved in controlling human movement, including the cortex, spinal cord, peripheral receptor system, basal ganglia, cerebellum, and the vestibular systems. Students are introduced to terminology and concepts associated with both normal function and pathology in these areas.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 457 - Orthopedic Medicine

Credits: 1

Medical lectures covering selected topics in orthopedics, including common orthopedic diseases and the use of diagnostic testing and imaging in the orthopedic field.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 495 - Independent Study/Readings/Research/Projects

Credits: 1–4

Permission of department chair required prior to registration for all independent work.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 8 credits

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

PTH 507 - Applied Clinical Anatomy & Kinesiology

Credits: 3

Lecture/lab course studying regional anatomy and biomechanics as they relate to normal movement and the potential development of movement dysfunctions. Correlations between pathomechanics, clinical presentation of pathology and decision making for therapeutic interventions will be drawn.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 540 - Pathophysiology II

Credits: 2

Sequence studying disease processes affecting major body systems and the resulting anatomical and pathophysiological changes. Clinical presentations and pharmacological treatment of patients with those disease processes considered, as well as diagnostic tests and laboratory values used to identify pathological conditions.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PTH 440 .

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 542 - Physiological Basis for Exercise Prescription: Level II

Credits: 2

Expanding on the knowledge presented in Level I, this course will go into more complex scenarios of patient impairments and more in depth spinal rehabilitation including advanced computer software training.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 545 - Advanced Clinical Physiology

Credits: 3

The review of human physiological function of the major body systems with clinical application to musculoskeletal, cardiovascular and pulmonary conditions. Detailed information on exercise physiology will be discussed along with clinical applications among patients with compromised health.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 580 - Introduction to Orthopedic Physical Therapy

Credits: 1

Medical lectures covering selected topics in orthopedics, including common orthopedic diseases and the use of diagnostic testing and imaging in the orthopedic field.

Swing course—Approved 500–599 courses qualify for undergraduate-level credit

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 589 - Professional Seminar

Credits: 1,2

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Seminar

College Code: SHP

PTH 601 - Orthopedics I

Credits: 2

Presentation of fundamental physical therapy knowledge in the assessment and intervention of a patient with both acute and chronic conditions of the extremities. Screening of the cervical and lumbar spine prior to tests is covered, progressing to complete assessment and treatment of extremity joint pathologies. Diagnostic tests and results pertinent to the orthopedic patient are related to a physical therapy differential diagnosis.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 611.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 602 - Orthopedics II

Credits: 2

A continuation of the presentation of information regarding orthopedic pathology of the spine with emphasis on treatment techniques for the different pathologies from a physician and physical therapist's perspective. A decision making model focusing on a differential diagnosis is incorporated throughout the course.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 612.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PTH 610 - Principles of Therapeutic Exercise

Credits: 2
Examines the systemic responses to exercise as related to both an acute nature and in response to training. Specific pathological conditions are discussed in relation to exercise testing and prescription, and a clinical decision making process is presented for working with additional pathological conditions.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 620.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PTH 611 - Orthopedics I Laboratory

Credits: 2
Clinical application and practice in the special techniques to assess and treat acute and chronic orthopedic pathologies of the extremities and spine.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 601
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: SHP

PTH 612 - Orthopedics II Laboratory

Credits: 2
Designed for practice of the special techniques required in the assessment of intervention of acute and chronic orthopedic pathologies of the cervical, thoracic, and lumbar spine.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 602.
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: SHP

PTH 616 - Scholarly Inquiry and Dissemination I

Credits: 1
Introduction to the principles and practice of research including: research and null hypothesis, research questions, research design, research ethics and IRB protocol, sampling, validity and reliability, methodology, hypothesis testing and critical evaluation of physical therapy literature. Knowledge of the concepts needed for writing a graduate research proposal is interwoven throughout this course to prepare students for the Capstone Project.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PTH 617 - Scholarly Inquiry and Dissemination II

Credits: 1
Application of the principles and practice of research, including designs, IRB, ethics, hypothesis testing and critical evaluation of clinical literature as they relate to preparation of the Capstone Research Project. Preparation and development of a graduate research proposal is interwoven throughout this course.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PTH 620 - Principles of Therapeutic Exercise Laboratory

Credits: 2
Practical demonstration and experience with responses to exercise, testing procedures, and exercise prescription, focusing on activities appropriate for clinical situations. Tests and interventions noted in the Physical Therapy Guide to Practice are highlighted.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 610.
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: SHP

PTH 622 - Research Statistics

Credits: 1
Fundamental procedures in collecting, summarizing, presenting, analyzing, and interpreting statistical data. Statistical tests applied to medical specialties.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 632.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PTH 625 - Cardiopulmonary

Credits: 2
Lectures covering selected topics in cardiopulmonary medicine, focusing on clinical presentation, diagnostic tests, and medical and physical therapy interventions.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 635.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PTH 627 - Orthotics and Prosthetics

Credits: 1
Prosthetic management of amputees, management of patients with disabilities requiring orthotic intervention, and application/management of traction and orthotic devices.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 637.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PTH 632 - Research Statistics Laboratory

Credits: 1
Practice in the computation of statistical data using appropriate formulas. Practical applications of techniques in research and statistical computations including probability, normal distribution, Chi Square, correlations, and linear regressions.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 622.
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: SHP

PTH 635 - Cardiopulmonary Laboratory

Credits: 1
Emphasis on physical therapy assessment and intervention with cardiac and pulmonary patients. Practice of relevant techniques, such as stress testing, percussion, pulmonary function tests and breathing techniques, as well as other techniques identified in the Physical Therapy Guide to Practice.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 625.
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: SHP

PTH 637 - Orthotics and Prosthetics Laboratory

Credits: 1
Practice of the physical therapy techniques required in the application of orthotic and prosthetic devices. Special attention given to gait and function. Selected topics such as wheelchair modifications, miscellaneous ortho-rehab apparatus, and other assistive/adaptive devices included.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 627.
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: SHP

PTH 640 - Pediatrics

Credits: 2
An overview of embryologic development, followed by normal infant/child development to 5 years of age with an emphasis on motor development. Identification of assessment techniques for infants and children with normal and abnormal development. Description of various pediatric pathologies encountered in physical therapy with appropriate corresponding assessment and treatment approaches.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 650.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PTH 645 - PT Administration

Credits: 3
A study of the organizational structures, operations, and financing of healthcare delivery institutions and an examination of the organization and interrelationship of their professional and support elements. Application of current health care management strategies and theory are related to the acute-care facility and independent practice.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 646 - Integration of Spirituality in Health Care

Credits: 2,3

A discussion of spiritual values from a Christian perspective, how faith and spirituality facilitate the healing process, and how these can be incorporated into patient care. Attention will be given to discerning and addressing the spiritual needs of patients/clients, family members, and ancillary medical staff in a professional environment.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning, Interactive Online

College Code: SHP

PTH 647 - Differential Diagnosis

Credits: 2,3

Analysis of the decision-making process, with special focus on clinical guidelines, Physical Therapy Guide to Practice, and differential diagnosis. Differential diagnosis is addressed through comparison of systemic signs and symptoms, as well as appropriate diagnostic tests which may indicate involvement of a problem outside of the scope of PT practice. For students in the DScPT program, additional collaborative learning experiences include case study presentations and compilations of additional resources for use in the clinic.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 650 - Pediatrics Laboratory

Credits: 2

Practice of physical therapy assessment of the infant/child that addresses different developmental domains. Practice in the special techniques required in assessment and treatment of pediatric patients diagnosed with selected pathologies. Introduces current treatment approaches, such as Neurodevelopmental Treatment (NDT), with their effects on treatment goals.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 640.

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: SHP

PTH 651 - Neurology I

Credits: 2

Review of basic neurophysiological mechanisms specific to nervous system dysfunction, related to clinical concepts in treatment of conditions affecting the nervous system, such as spinal cord injury, head injury, stroke, and selected peripheral pathologies. Emphasis on comparing and contrasting facilitation techniques.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 661.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 652 - Neurology II

Credits: 2

Continuation of PTH 651 - Neurology I, focusing on assessment and intervention with selected neurologic conditions. Common treatment techniques are compared with rationale for use of each.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 662.

Prerequisite(s): PTH 651.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 655 - Program Continuation

Credits: 0

Students may register for this non-credit continuation course while clearing deferred grade (DG) and/or incomplete (I) courses. This course qualifies for full-time status, requiring a minimum of 480 hours of work per semester of registration. Requires program approval.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/o 'I' (S,U,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

PTH 661 - Neurology I Laboratory

Credits: 2

Clinical application, rehabilitation practice, and techniques applied to nervous system dysfunction. Intervention techniques for conditions affecting the nervous system, such as spinal cord injury, head injury, stroke, and selected peripheral pathologies.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 651.

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: SHP

PTH 662 - Neurology II Laboratory

Credits: 2

Clinical application, rehabilitation practice, and techniques applied to basic physiological and neurophysiological mechanisms specific to nervous system dysfunction. Focus on techniques appropriate for use with neurologic patients and evaluation of patient response to treatment.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 652.

Prerequisite(s): PTH 661.

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: SHP

PTH 680 - Clinical Practicum

Credits: 2

Practice of the knowledge and skills developed in the classroom and laboratory in a patient-care setting. This practicum consists of 4 weeks full-time physical therapy experience in clinical facilities affiliated with the university.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

PTH 697 - Independent Learning Contract

Credits: 2

The student, working with their advisor and following degree/course guidelines, will develop an independent 40-hour learning contract with a qualified clinical specialist to facilitate intensive focused clinical training in a field of study of their choosing.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

PTH 700 - Doctoral Colloquium

Credits: 2

A degree orientation course, which includes introduction to the degree(s), utilization of services at Andrews University; introduction to the Guide to Physical Therapy Practice; development of the degree contract and portfolio.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 708 - Post Operative Management of Common Orthopedic Surgeries

Credits: 2

This course covers the surgical techniques, guidelines for acute postoperative management and principles needed to safely design a rehabilitation program which will enable the patient to return to their previous level of function.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Interactive online

Term Offering: fall

College Code: SHP

PTH 709 - Evidence Based Orthopedic Clinical Practice: A

Research Review

Credits: 2

This course covers an up-to-date understanding of evidence supporting the evaluation and treatment of orthopedic pathologies. Keys to a working knowledge of contemporary research methodology and design along with the ability to analyze results of published studies from the perspective of statistical analysis will be presented.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Interactive Online

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: SHP

PTH 711 - Musculoskeletal Clinical Reasoning

Credits: 1

A course intended to enhance the skills associated with clinical reasoning within the Physical Therapy setting. It will address the thought process that enters into every aspect of patient care in the practice of physical therapy, from the history to the physical exam; the differential diagnosis to the development of the prognosis; the plan of intervention to the eventual discharge.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): Corerequisite: PTH 721.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 712 - Neuromuscular Clinical Reasoning

Credits: 1

A continuation of PTH 711 Musculoskeletal Clinical Reasoning.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 722.

Prerequisite(s): PTH 711.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 716 - Clinical Pharmacology

Credits: 2

Develops a non-prescriptive knowledge of specific medications including indications, contraindications, precautions, adverse reactions, and dosage, especially as related to physiological effects of physical therapy interventions.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Interactive Online

College Code: SHP

PTH 721 - Musculoskeletal Clinical Reasoning Laboratory

Credits: 1

A continuation of PTH 711. Labs are designed to reinforce specific skills (evaluative or therapeutic) applicable to each lecture topic.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 711.

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: SHP

PTH 722 - Neuromuscular Clinical Reasoning Laboratory

Credits: 1

A continuation of PTH 721 Neuromuscular Clinical Reasoning Laboratory.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 712.

Prerequisite(s): PTH 721.

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: SHP

PTH 726 - Geriatrics

Credits: 2

Study of the unique characteristics of the geriatric patient, especially the physiological, psychological and social aspects, related to special needs in the physical therapy assessment, plan of care, and intervention.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 732 - Clinical Research

524

Credits: 2

This course provides an introduction to clinical research methods. Course content includes: formulating a research question, defining variables, designing the study, instrumentation, validity and reliability of measurement and design, data collection procedures, basic data analysis, and ethical and legal responsibilities of the researcher.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Blended Learning, Interactive Online

College Code: SHP

PTH 733 - NAIOMT Level I: Introduction to Fundamentals of Orthopedic

Credits: 3

Manual Therapy & Differential Diagnosis Appropriate skills in basic and objective selective tissue examination necessary for generating a provisional differential diagnosis of spinal dysfunction. Signs, symptoms, pathology, and management of common spinal pathologies are reviewed. Selective tissue tensioning techniques for the peripheral joints are introduced. Cyriax's principles are presented.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 734 - NAIOMT Level II: Intermediate Upper Quadrant

Credits: 3

A comprehensive biomechanical and anatomical review of the upper thoracic, upper and lower cervical spine, shoulder, elbow, wrist, and hand. Specific biomechanical assessment of each area is taught along with appropriate and effective treatment techniques for common injuries and mechanical dysfunctions.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 736 - Psychosocial Issues in Healthcare

Credits: 3

An introduction to psychosocial responses to illness and disability, especially the interpersonal relationships between the therapist, the family and the patient. Common psychiatric disorders are discussed along with their clinical diagnosis, treatment regimes, projected outcomes and methods for handling these responses in clinical situations.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 738 - NAIOMT Level II: Intermediate Lower Quadrant

Credits: 3

A comprehensive biomechanical and anatomical review of the lower thoracic and lumbar spines, the hip, knee, ankle, and foot. Specific biomechanical assessment of each area is taught along with appropriate and effective treatment techniques for common injuries and dysfunctions.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 741 - Physiological Basis for Exercise Prescription: Level I

Credits: 3

Using the system of Medical Exercise Therapy founded by Odvar Holten, this course covers the physiological basis for exercise prescription specifically related to the healing process. Testing strategies, formulas for exercise dosing and equipment conducive to this approach will be presented along with computer software developed to assist dosage and patient tracking.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 742 - Level II Practical Exam

Credits: 0

This oral practical examination allows the student to demonstrate proficiency in the Level I and Level II NAIOMT coursework.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

PTH 743 - Health Promotion and Wellness

Credits: 3

An exploration of the role of the physical therapist in teaching, learning and leadership in the classroom, clinical setting and community. Examination and application of education theory and skills. Analysis and application of prevention, health promotion, wellness and fitness for individuals, groups and communities. Identification of personal strengths and preferred leadership styles, and applications of personal and interpersonal principles of leadership. Synthesis of the role of Physical Therapist's in teaching, learning and leadership through design and integration of a community assessment and prevention of disability service project.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 744 - Principles of Contemporary Leadership

Credits: 3

Theory and application of complexity sciences to organizational management; exploration of key leadership roles and changing paradigms; presentation of methods to maximize personal and professional life.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online

College Code: SHP

PTH 746 - NAIOMT: Thoracic Spine

Credits: 2

Lecture/lab course studying the thoracic spine as a source of spinal dysfunction. Emphasis is placed on a biomechanical model for detailed examination and treatment of the thoracic spine and costovertebral dysfunction.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 748 - Educational Techniques for Health Care Professionals

Credits: 1,2

Examines and applies educational theory to skills utilized by the physical therapist in the classroom, community, and clinical facility. Topics include the educational role of the physical therapist, the taxonomies of learning, learning styles, multiple intelligence, and educational technology.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Blended Learning, Interactive Online

College Code: SHP

PTH 750 - Professional Communication & Consulting

Credits: 2

An introduction to the integration of the physical therapist as consultant. Discussion will include applying physical therapy consultation services to individuals, business, schools, government agencies and/or other organizations.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Interactive Online

College Code: SHP

PTH 752 - NAIOMT Level III: Advanced Lower Quadrant

Credits: 3

Builds on the techniques learned in Level II and helps the student understand the kinetic chain interrelationships in the lower quadrant. Presents advanced biomechanical tests and treatment and includes the sacroiliac and pubic joints. Discusses the integration of examination and treatment techniques.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): PTH 738

Schedule Type: Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 757 - NAIOMT Level III: Advanced Upper Quadrant

Credits: 3

Builds on the techniques learned in Level II and helps the student understand the kinetic chain interrelationships of the upper quadrant. Integrates information generated in the assessment to understand how remote dysfunctions can be casual or contributory. Advanced techniques are demonstrated along with new material on temporo-mandibular-joint material and peripheral manipulation skills.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): PTH 734

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 762 - NAIOMT Advanced Clinical Reasoning

Credits: 2

This course helps the student integrate the clinical reasoning from the Level I through Level III series of NAIOMT courses. Using case based instruction, data from the subjective examination and selective tissue tensioning exam will be analyzed to arrive at a reasonable differential diagnosis. Clinical reasoning of treatment selection will also be integrated into this class.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: SHP

PTH 765 - Ethical & Legal Issues in Healthcare

Credits: 1

Contemporary ethical issues are explored, including the relationships among peers, superiors, subordinates, institutions, clients, and patients. Illustrations include actual cases related to Christian biblical principles.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 768 - Professional Compendium

Credits: 1

Summarization of previous or added learning experiences relative to contemporary issues in physical therapy. An overview of the new graduate's role and responsibility to his/her patients and their families, employer, and community in the expanding physical therapy profession.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

PTH 790 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1-12

Selected topics in physical therapy.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Specific prerequisites may be required for some subject areas.

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Lecture, Independent, Interactive Online

College Code: SHP

PTH 799 - Research Project (topic)

Credits: 1-4

Provides students with guidelines and supervision for data collection, analysis, capstone project preparation and oral presentation.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 4 credits

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

PTH 818 - Clinical Screening & Differential Diagnosis

Credits: 3

Knowledge and clinical skills designed for screening patients for medical conditions. Differential diagnosis is addressed through comparison of systematic signs and symptoms. Appropriate diagnostic tests which may indicate involvement of a problem outside the scope of PT practice are addressed. Enhances professional communication with other healthcare practitioners included in the referral process.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 830 - Medical Diagnostics

Credits: 2

Addresses imaging, body chemistry values and data derived from musculoskeletal, neurologic, vascular, cardiac and pulmonary testing with the purpose of understanding the disease process. Application of knowledge will determine differential diagnoses.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Blended Learning, Interactive Online

College Code: SHP

PTH 840 - Advanced Topics in Clinical Research

Credits: 3

This course is designed to prepare students to match research questions with study design, perform the appropriate statistical analysis, and report results. Students use SPSS to run descriptive and inferential statistics including measures of central tendency and variability of a frequency distribution as well as tests of difference or relationship: t-tests, ANOVAs, correlations, regression analysis, Chi-square and non-parametric equivalents.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 845 - COMT Practical Comprehensive Examination

Credits: 0

The scope of the COMT examination includes the depth and breadth of the NAIOMT core-course curricula. The COMT examination will focus on clinical reasoning and the quadrant inter-relationships. Testing content will include mobilization/ manipulation (thrust) to joint and soft tissue techniques to all parts of appendicular/extremity and axial/spinal skeleton, in addition to shoulder and pelvic girdles and temporomandibular joint.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Prior to registering for the COMT Practical Comprehensive Examination, students must successfully complete NAIOMT Levels I-IV and the CMPT exam.

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

PTH 846 - Integration of Spirituality in Health Care

Credits: 2,3

This course provides a discussion of personal spiritual values including how faith and spirituality facilitate the healing process and how these values can be incorporated into patient care. Attention will be given to discerning and addressing the spiritual needs of the patients/clients, family members, and ancillary medical staff in a professional environment. Information is presented from a Christian perspective with the intent to understand worldviews.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning, Interactive Online

College Code: SHP

PTH 848 - NAIOMT Level IV: High Velocity Manipulation

Credits: 3

Instructs the student on the indications and contra-indications, as well as the safe and effective application of spinal, pelvic, and costal manipulation techniques.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): PTH 757 and PTH 752

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning

College Code: SHP

PTH 850 - NAIOMT Supervised Clinical Practice

Credits: 1–4

Using a 3-to1 model, students will be required to do a minimum of 60 supervised clinical hours applying hands-on techniques with patients under the supervision of a certified NAIOMT clinical instructor, FAAOMPT, or other approved instructors. These hours can be split up into two 30-hour blocks, or other increments as agreed upon by the student and CI. No less than 15 hours can be registered for at any given time.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 4 credits

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

PTH 860 - Applications in Clinical Research

Credits: 2

This course provides an in-depth review of study designs and serves to develop researchers' skills in evaluating both quantitative and qualitative research. Information is presented on grant writing and IRB application as well as disseminating completed research projects through manuscript, poster, and oral presentation.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Blended Learning, Interactive Online

PTH 880 - PT Seminar

Credits: 1

Preparation of a personal portfolio, assessment of the clinical experiences and preparation for professional licensure.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Schedule Type: Seminar

College Code: SHP

PTH 890 - Independent Study

Credits: 1–4

Individualized study and/or research in a specialized area under the guidance of an instructor. Permission from the department chair required prior to registration.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 8 credits

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

PTH 898 - Dissertation Project

Credits: 1–10

Serves as an essential outcome component to augment the professional development and new learning that occurs in didactic course work of the post-professional doctoral degree and demonstrates the ability of the DPT/DScPT to make significant contributions to the profession and/or serve as a change agent in the field of physical therapy.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Physical Therapy

PHTH 120 - Introduction to Physical Therapy

Credits: 2

An introduction to the profession of physical therapy with an overview of duties and responsibilities physical therapists perform. Partially fulfills the clinical observation prerequisites for admission to the professional program. Students must have their own transportation for the clinical observation.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PHTH 417 - Human Anatomy

Credits: 3

Comprehensive study of human anatomy covering all systems of head, neck, trunk, and extremities. A solid morphological basis for a synthesis of anatomy, physiology, and clinical sciences provided. Dissection and identification of structures in the cadaver, and the study of charts, models, and prosected materials.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PHTH 427

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 221, BIOL 222 or BIOL 165, BIOL 166 or equivalent. See instructor for additional requirements.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PHTH 427 - Human Anatomy Laboratory

Credits: 1

Study of the prosected extremity, head and neck anatomy, and dissection of the abdominal and thoracic organ systems.

PHTH 480 - Physical Therapy Clinical Experience

Credits: 0–5

A course which provides hands-on, patient contact experiences in a variety of settings. The clinical experiences are coordinated to correspond to the requirements of the physical therapy program. As a facilitator, the clinical instructor will assist in developing the student's clinical thinking skills. The student is expected to become independent with the evaluation and treatment of noncomplex patients within that practice setting. This course qualifies for full-time status, requiring a minimum of 480 hours of work per semester of registration.

Swing course—Approved 400–499 courses qualify for graduate-level credit for graduate students

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 5 credits

Schedule Type: Practicum

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 505

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: SHP

PTH 516 - Pathokinesiology

Credits: 3

The study of human movement including an introduction to the basic concepts of biomechanics with an emphasis on human joint/muscle structures and function, advancing to analysis of body mechanics, normal gait analysis, and pathological movement analysis. Joint abnormalities will be identified using radiographs, related to the resultant movement dysfunction. Prerequisites: PTH400 and 410. Co requisite: PTH426.

Swing course—Approved 500–599 courses qualify for undergraduate-level credit

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 505, PTH 515

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 518 - General Medicine

Credits: 2

Clinical techniques applied to the examination, evaluation, treatment, and discharge planning of patients in general medical and acute-care. Emphasis on physical therapy intervention with relevant factors, management of pain and physical complications during medical treatment, and examination and treatment of special populations including wound and burn care.

Swing course—Approved 500–599 courses qualify for undergraduate-level credit

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 528

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

PTH 520 - PT Assessment Skills Laboratory

Credits: 3

Basic examination skills including surface palpation of specific underlying muscle and bone structures, joint motion (goniometry), manual procedures for testing muscle strength, sensation, vital signs, limb girth and volumetric measurement will be practiced. Clinical application in basic physical therapy care procedures will be introduced. Co requisite: PTH415.

Swing course—Approved 500–599 courses qualify for undergraduate-level credit

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PTH 510

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: SHP

PTH 525 - Therapeutic Interventions

Credits: 3

Basic principles, physiologic effects, indications and contraindications, application and usage of equipment, and intervention rationale for hydrotherapy, thermal agents, wound care, massage, electrotherapy and mechanotherapy (traction) and other therapeutic interventions.

Swing course—Approved 500–599 courses qualify for undergraduate-level credit

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 535
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PTH 526 - Pathokinesiology Laboratory

Credits: 2
Biomechanical and observational analysis of normal and abnormal human movement. Integration of basic examination skills with gait and movement analysis.

Swing course—Approved 500–599 courses qualify for undergraduate-level credit

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 505, PTH 515
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: SHP

PTH 528 - General Medicine Laboroatry

Credits: 1
Practice in assessment modified for the acute-care environment. Applications include home- and work-place evaluation for architectural barriers, functional evaluation tools, casting, and modification of treatment for acute care including goal setting and professional note writing.

Swing course—Approved 500–599 courses qualify for undergraduate-level credit

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 518
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: SHP

PTH 530 - Pathophysiology I

Credits: 3
Sequence studying disease processes affecting major body systems and the resulting anatomical and pathophysiological changes. Clinical presentations and pharmacological treatment of patients with those disease processes are presented, as well as diagnostic tests and laboratory values used to identify pathological conditions.

Swing course—Approved 500–599 courses qualify for undergraduate-level credit

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): PTH 505 and PTH 515
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

PTH 535 - Therapeutic Interventions Laboratory

Credits: 2
Supervised practicum includes patient positioning and application of the therapy to obtain desired physiological response. Techniques of hydrotherapy, thermal agents, wound care, and massage, as well as specific electrotherapy and mechanotherapy treatments and assessment of physiological responses to those treatments.

Swing course—Approved 500–599 courses qualify for undergraduate-level credit

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PTH 525
Schedule Type: Lab

Mission

The Andrews University Department of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology (SPLAD) provides faith-affirming Christian education. The sequence of experiences focuses on the knowledge and practices for a career in the discipline. Students will:

- Become knowledgeable about human communication and potential disorders
- Uphold the ethical and Christian principles regardless of age, gender or ethnicity
- Be prepared to provide high quality, effective clinical service.

Bachelors

Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology BS

Program Description

This degree can be completed in four years of undergraduate study. The first two years are spent earning Andrews Core Experience credits and completing prerequisite courses in the major, the third and fourth years of study are spent completing the core requirements and electives. 124 credits are needed for graduation from Andrews University. Remaining credits may be earned in a minor area of study or elective courses.

Speech-Language Pathology BS/MS (5 Year Track)

Program Description

This track allows eligible students to obtain a Bachelor of Science in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology and a Master of Science degree in Speech-Language Pathology in 5 years. Students must begin this track fall semester of the undergraduate freshmen year at Andrews University.

Program Requirements

Students eligible to begin as the 5 year track student must meet the following criteria:

- High School GPA of 3.5 or higher upon admission to the undergraduate program.
- Math placement score of P3 (ACT of 22-23 / SAT of 510 - 530).
- Students in this program must maintain a 3.3 GPA overall and 3.5 in core courses, those with SPPA Acronym, during the first three undergraduate years.
- Students will begin the program as a BHS student and must apply to the BS program during their sophomore year.
- At the end of the 4th year (senior year) students will graduate with a BS in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology.
- Students must complete an application process to the MS program during their senior undergraduate year.
- During the Senior year students will complete the initial courses toward the MS degree.

Additional Requirements

Placement sites for Practicum may require vaccine records, drug screening, and fingerprinting separate from the program requirements, the cost of this is the students' responsibility.

Clinical Requirements

The applicant for certification in speech-language pathology must complete a minimum of 400 clock hours of supervised clinical experience in the practice of speech-language pathology. Twenty-five (25) hours must be spent in clinical observation, and 375 hours must be spent in direct client/patient contact. The clinical observation must be completed prior to beginning any practicum experiences.

At least 325 of the 400 clock hours must be completed while the applicant is engaged in graduate study in a program accredited in speech-language pathology by the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology. Clinical clock hours will be tracked by the student, advisor, clinic director and administrative assistant to insure that the student has had a diverse clinical experience and for accuracy. This program prepares the student for certification.

MS Graduation Requirements

MS PROGRAM IN SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Complete prerequisite course requirements in: statistics, biological science, physics/chemistry and behavioral science.

Successfully complete all academic and clinical courses that meet all 2014 American Speech and Hearing knowledge standards and outcomes for the Certificate of Clinical competence.

Complete 400 clock hours of clinical practice with at least 325 hours at the graduate level and 50 clock hours in each of the three types of clinical settings.

Pass Praxis examination aka ASHA examination.

If thesis option is chosen, student must defend and submit thesis for final approval at least 15 days prior to graduation.

Resources

The Master of Science program in speech-language pathology at Andrews University is a Candidate for Accreditation by the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology (CAA) of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. This is a "pre-accreditation" status with the CAA, awarded to developing or emerging programs for a maximum period of five years.

Student Handbook

Please visit the Department of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology website for the most up-to-date version of the department's Graduate Student Handbook.

CONCERNS REGARDING ACCREDITATION BY THE COUNCIL ON ACADEMIC ACCREDITATION (CAA)

Students concerns regarding the Master's program may relate to accreditation standards of the Council on Academic Accreditation (CAA). This accreditation is an assurance that the program is abiding by all required standards for academic content and following approved procedures in the delivery of this content. In the event of a serious concern, students may contact the CAA directly for information. According to the CAA, complaints about programs must:

Be against an accredited education program or program in candidacy status in speech-language pathology and/or audiology;

Relate to the standards for accreditation of education programs in audiology and speech-language pathology;
Include verification, if the complaint is from a student or faculty/instructional staff member, that the complaint exhausted all institutional grievance and review mechanisms before submitting a complaint to the CAA.

Admission to BS Program

The GPA requirement for the BS program is 3.0 or above.

Bachelors Dual Degrees

Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology/Spanish BS/BA

No grade lower than a C will count toward the major or cognates.

Program Description

This program integrates the study of the Spanish language and culture with preparation in the field of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology. The main goal of this degree is to prepare students to serve in both a medical as well as in an educational setting. Students will participate in clinical practicum/internships in which they will have the opportunity to apply the knowledge acquired in classes. Students are required to attend one of the ACA programs for a full year and should work closely with their AU Spanish advisor prior to studying abroad.

Students who pursue the BA/BS Joint Degree need to complete General Education requirements for BA/BS Degrees and Professional Degrees, and upon completion receive 2 diplomas; BS in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology, and BA in Spanish Studies.

Speech-Language Pathology MS (Transitional 3 Year Track)

Program Description

This program is designed for students who wish to obtain a master's degree in speech-language pathology, but hold a bachelor's degree in another major area. See below for admission requirements.

Total Credits - 60

Degree Core

Core Requirements

SPPA 500 - Orientation for MS in Speech-Language Pathology Credits: 0
SPPA 502 - Child Language Disorders: Preschool Credits: 3
SPPA 503 - Child Language Disorders: School Age Credits: 3
SPPA 515 - Aphasia Credits: 3
SPPA 520 - Diagnostics in Speech-Language Pathology Credits: 2
SPPA 521 - Practicum I: Onsite Credits: 2
SPPA 522 - Practicum II: Onsite Credits: 2
SPPA 544 - Articulation and Phonological Disorders Credits: 3
SPPA 550 - Praxis Preparatory Class Credits: 1
SPPA 574 - Research Methods in Speech-Language Pathology Credits: 3
SPPA 583 - Voice and Velopharyngeal Disorders Credits: 3
SPPA 596 - Neurocognitive Disorders Credits: 3
SPPA 608 - Practicum III: Onsite Credits: 3
SPPA 613 - Dysphagia Credits: 3
SPPA 624 - Practicum I: Offsite Credits: 3
SPPA 631 - Motor Speech Disorders Credits: 3
SPPA 646 - Integration of Spirituality in Health Care Credits: 2
SPPA 647 - Fluency Credits: 3
SPPA 663 - Augmentative and Alternative Communication Credits: 2
SPPA 670 - Comprehensive Examination Credits: 0
SPPA 682 - Practicum II: Offsite Credits: 4
SPPA 683 - Practicum III: Offsite Credits: 4

Program Options

Standard Option

SPPA 510 - Counseling for Speech-Language Pathology (Standard Option) Credits: 2
SPPA 551 - Educational Audiology (Standard Option) Credits: 2

Thesis Option

SPPA 536 - Thesis Option I Credits: 2
SPPA 636 - Thesis Option II Credits: 1
SPPA 637 - Thesis Option III Credits: 1

Additional Requirements

Practicum

Clinical Requirements

The applicant for certification in speech-language pathology must complete a minimum of 400 clock hours of supervised clinical experience in the practice of speech-language pathology. Twenty-five (25) hours must be spent in clinical observation, and 375 hours must be spent in direct client/patient contact. The clinical observation must be completed prior to beginning any practicum experiences.

At least 325 of the 400 clock hours must be completed while the applicant is engaged in graduate study in a program accredited in speech-language pathology by the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology. Clinical clock hours will be tracked by the student, advisor, clinic director and administrative assistant to insure that the student has had a diverse clinical experience and for accuracy. This program prepares the student for certification.

Placement sites for Practicum may require vaccine records, drug screening, and fingerprinting separate from the program requirements, the cost of this is the students' responsibility.

Program Electives

SPPA 678 - Study Tour Credits: 1–6

SPPA 680 - Topics in: Credits: 1–6

SPPA 695 - Independent study Credits: 1–4

Maintaining Academic Standing

All students admitted to the Master's program must maintain a 3.0 grade point average.

Student will be permitted to earn one "C" while in the program. If a second "C" is earned or the student's grade point average falls below a 3.0, the student will be placed on a remediation plan. Student may also be required to retake the course.

Students must meet all essential functions of the Department of Speech-Language Pathology.

Students are required to meet with their advisor at least once per semester to discuss course plan and program progress.

Students will meet all academic and clinical requirements for certification with the American Speech and Hearing Association.

Students who elect to write a thesis must be in good academic and clinical standing prior to securing approval for the thesis topic and before the oral examination.

Admission Requirements

Prerequisite Courses

Upon admission students will complete one year of undergraduate prerequisite coursework in speech-language pathology. Students must maintain a 3.5 GPA during the prerequisite course completion (with no grade below a B). Prerequisites must be complete within one academic year. After successful completion, students will enter the Master's degree program. The minimum GPA requirement for the MS program is 3.0. Students may be required to complete additional courses in order to meet the standards for certification by the American Speech and Hearing Association. Students must complete courses in statistics, physics, or chemistry and a behavioral science for regular admission to the MS program.

The following courses must be completed during the prerequisite year.

SPPA 234 - Introduction to Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Credits: 3

SPPA 270 - Preclinical Observation Credits: 1

SPPA 280 - Anatomy and Physiology of Speech and Hearing Credits: 4

SPPA 285 - Applied Phonetics Credits: 3

SPPA 310 - Speech Science Credits: 3

SPPA 321 - Normal Language Development Credits: 3

SPPA 322 - Child Language Disorders Credits: 3

SPPA 331 - Basic Audiology Credits: 3

SPPA 340 - Neuroscience of Communication Credits: 3

SPPA 374 - Articulation and Phonology: Development and Disorders Credits: 3

SPPA 448 - Disorders of Voice, Fluency and Swallowing Credits: 3

Choose one of the following courses:

STAT 285 - Elementary Statistics Credits: 3

Physics

Chemistry

Behavioral Science

Graduation Requirements

MS PROGRAM IN SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Complete prerequisite course requirements in: statistics, biological science, physics/chemistry and behavioral science.

Successfully complete all academic and clinical courses that meet all 2014 American Speech and Hearing knowledge standards and outcomes for the Certificate of Clinical competence.

Complete 400 clock hours of clinical practice with at least 325 hours at the graduate level and 50 clock hours in each of the three types of clinical settings.

Submit Application of graduation at the beginning of the second to last semester of study.

Complete and pass Comprehensive examination.

Pass Praxis examination aka ASHA examination

If thesis option is chosen, student must defend and submit thesis for final approval at least 15 days prior to graduation.

Additional Information

Accreditation

CONCERNS REGARDING ACCREDITATION BY THE COUNCIL ON ACADEMIC ACCREDITATION (CAA)

Students concerns regarding the Master's program may relate to accreditation standards of the Council on Academic Accreditation (CAA). This accreditation is an assurance that the program is abiding by all required standards for academic content and following approved procedures in the delivery of this content. In the event of a serious concern, students may contact the CAA directly for information. According to the CAA, complaints about programs must:

Be against an accredited education program or program in candidacy status in speech-language pathology and/or audiology;

Relate to the standards for accreditation of education programs in audiology and speech-language pathology;

Include verification, if the complaint is from a student or faculty/instructional staff member, that the complaint exhausted all institutional grievance and review mechanisms before submitting a complaint to the CAA.

Speech-Language Pathology & Audiology

SPPA 091 - Speech Support

Credits: 1

Andrews University students may register for speech and language evaluation and services. The evaluation and services will be provided by clinical supervisors and student clinicians to address diagnosed speech and language disabilities. Credits are not applicable to degree completion.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

SPPA 092 - Auditory Support

Credits: 1–2

Andrews University students may register for audiological evaluation and/or intervention. The evaluation and intervention will be provided by clinical supervisors and student clinicians to completion of audiological assessments. Credits are not applicable to degree completion.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

SPPA 234 - Introduction to Speech-Language Pathology and

Audiology

Credits: 3

An introduction to the professions of speech-language pathology and audiology, this course surveys the possible etiologies and characteristics of various communication problems encountered by clinicians. Language and communication differences in a multicultural society are also examined.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 250 - Fieldwork

Credits: 2

Students participate in experiences in the community related to the professions of speech-language pathology and audiology. Open to majors who have applied one semester in advance. Meets the general education fieldwork requirement. Does not apply to major or minor.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

SPPA 270 - Preclinical Observation

Credits: 1

Students observe and write reports on a total of 25 hours of therapy and/or diagnostic sessions in the areas of speech-language pathology and audiology. They also participate in discussions of procedures used by the professionals during therapeutic interventions.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 280 - Anatomy and Physiology of Speech and Hearing

Credits: 4

The study of the anatomy and physiology of respiration, hearing, phonation, articulation, and the central nervous system. Students participate in a gross-anatomy human cadaver lab.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 2-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

College Code: SHP

SPPA 285 - Applied Phonetics

Credits: 3

A study of the International Phonetic Alphabet and its application to speech and hearing sciences. Includes an introduction to acoustic theory and spectrographic analysis of speech. Skill is developed in transcription of both normal and disordered speech in children and adults.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 310 - Speech Science

Credits: 3

An exploration of the theoretical information regarding speech perception and hearing, using concepts of physics, anatomy, and physiology. Clinical applications and management strategies for specific speech and hearing disorders will also be addressed.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): SPPA 280 , SPPA 285 or departmental permission

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 321 - Normal Language Development

Credits: 3

A comprehensive look at the normal development of speech and language in the child; includes the areas of language prerequisite skills, phonology, morphology, semantics, syntax and pragmatics.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite/Corequisite: SPPA 234

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 322 - Child Language Disorders

Credits: 3

A study of the factors contributing to the development of disordered speech and language. Includes traditional and more recent classification systems and a survey of characteristic disorders. Introduction to methods of evaluation and therapy.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): SPPA 321

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 331 - Basic Audiology

Credits: 3

Survey of the normal auditory system and the pathologies that affect its functioning. Includes the physics of sound, standard reference levels, and auditory perception. Methods of administering and interpreting pure tone, speech threshold, and speech recognition tests are presented in classroom and lab settings.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite/Corequisite: SPPA 234

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 332 - Audiological Procedures

Credits: 3

Continued study of auditory testing with an overview of differential diagnostic tests in the identification of auditory pathologies. Includes clinical masking and acoustic immittance measures. Techniques are presented for evaluating special populations including infants and young children, industrial, and the pseudo-hypacusis.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): SPPA 331

Prerequisite/Corequisite: SPPA 280

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 340 - Neuroscience of Communication

Credits: 3

An overview of the anatomy and physiology of the central nervous system, particularly the components that control communicative functions. Discussion of the brain's role in human communication will prepare students for advanced study of neurogenic speech and language disorders in children and adults.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): SPPA 234 , SPPA 280

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 374 - Articulation and Phonology: Development and Disorders

Credits: 3

A survey of phonological development, and characteristics of articulation and phonology disorders. Discussion of etiologies, assessment, and management of these disorders is included.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): SPPA 285

Prerequisite/Corequisite: SPPA 234

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 415 - Seminar in Communication Disorders:_____

Credits: 3

Advanced study into professional and/or clinical aspects of speech-language pathology and/or audiology.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Seminar
College Code: SHP

SPPA 425 - Clinical Principles and Practices

Credits: 3
Discussion of principles underlying clinician/client relationships and interventions for communication disorders. Instruction in clinical management for speech-language pathology, including developing instructional programs, obtaining target behaviors, record keeping, and report writing.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): SPPA 322
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 435 - Communication Development and Disorders for Classroom Teachers

Credits: 3
An overview of normal language acquisition and development, including a survey of typical communication disorders and their impact on students' academic success. Issues such as public laws and policies affecting the communicatively handicapped, language and communication differences in multicultural populations, and collaborative management models are also addressed.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years (even)
College Code: SHP

SPPA 440 - Fundamentals of Spirituality & Ethics in Healthcare

Credits: 3
Addresses religious and spiritual issues of significance for healthcare. Includes a discussion of views of the relationship between health and spirituality from different religious perspectives. Provides an overview of the philosophical and historical background for ethical systems and their significance for current ethical challenges in healthcare. Required course for all majors in the School of Health Professions with the exception of students transferring to AU in their senior year. PBHL 440

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 446 - Integration of Spirituality in Health Care

Credits: 3
A discussion of spiritual values from a Christian perspective, how faith and spirituality facilitates the healing process, and how they can be incorporated into patient care. Attention will be given to discerning and addressing the spiritual needs of patients/clients, family members, and ancillary medical staff in a professional environment.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 447 - Disorders of Voice and Fluency

Credits: 3
A study of the anatomy and physiology of the vocal mechanism; with emphasis on normal and abnormal processes of voice and fluency. Assessment and treatment principles of functional, organic and neurological voice pathologies will be addressed, as well as basic principles of stuttering diagnosis and therapy.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): SPPA 234, SPPA 280, SPPA 310.
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
College Code: SHP

SPPA 448 - Disorders of Voice, Fluency and Swallowing

Credits: 3
A study of the anatomy and physiology associated with the vocal mechanism and swallowing function, with emphasis on normal and abnormal processes of voice, fluency and swallowing. An overview of assessment and treatment principles of functional, organic and neurological voice pathologies, and dysphagia will be addressed, as well as basic principles of stuttering diagnosis and therapy.

Prerequisites: SPPA 234 , SPPA 280 , Co-requisite: SPPA 310

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite/Corequisite: SPPA 310
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 455 - Adult Neurogenic Disorders

Credits: 3
A study of neuroanatomy, as well as the interaction of language and cognition, and hemispheric specialization. This course also covers the classification, etiology, and assessment of individuals with speech, cognitive-linguistic, and swallowing disorders associated with central nervous system damage. Therapeutic principles are introduced.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): SPPA 234, SPPA 280, SPPA 321.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 458 - Aural Rehabilitation

Credits: 3
A conceptual approach to the rehabilitation of the hearing-impaired. Methods of management which optimize the use of residual hearing with amplification or other assistive devices are considered for patients from birth to geriatric.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): SPPA 332
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 471 - Clinical Practicum in Speech-Language Pathology

Credits: 2
Supervised practice in clinical management of persons with communication disorders, including administration of tests and implementation of therapy programs. A content course in practicum area; 25 hours of observation in speech-language pathology and audiology.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): SPPA 332 , SPPA 374
Prerequisite/Corequisite: SPPA 425
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: SHP

SPPA 472 - Clinical Practicum in Audiology

Credits: 2
Supervised practice in test administration, report writing, and clinical management of persons with communication disorders related to audiology.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Prerequisite(s): SPPA 332
Prerequisite/Corequisite: SPPA 458
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: SHP

SPPA 478 - Study Tour:

Credits: 0
Travel to destinations relevant to individual programs of study. Classes will be selected from department(s) offerings. Fee may be required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Noncredit (NC,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Blended Learning
College Code: SHP

SPPA 480 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1,2
Selected topics in audiology and speech-language pathology. Consult current class schedule for topics offered each year.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning
College Code: SHP

SPPA 481 - Clinical Application in Speech-Language Pathology

Credits: 2,3

Students will apply practical clinical skills of previously studied theories in the assessment, intervention, and documentation of speech-language pathology. Students will conduct direct and simulated patient evaluation and intervention. Direct patient contact hours will be obtained in this course and can be applied toward ASHA certification.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Corequisite(s): SPPA 425

Prerequisite(s): SPPA 332 , SPPA 374

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

SPPA 482 - Clinical Application in Audiology

Credits: 2,3

Students will apply practical clinical skills of previously studied theories in the assessment, intervention, and documentation of audiology. Students will conduct direct and simulated patient evaluation and intervention. Direct patient contact hours will be obtained in this course and can be applied toward ASHA certification.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Corequisite(s): SPPA 458

Prerequisite(s): SPPA 332

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

SPPA 495 - Independent Research/Project

Credits: 1–4

Arranged on a contract basis with a faculty member.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

SPPA 498 - Research Project in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology

Credits: 1–3

An independent research project in speech-language pathology and audiology, typically supervised by a faculty member and resulting in a technical report summarizing findings or a submission to a professional conference. Students may repeat or take any combination of departmental independent study or research project courses up to 6 credits with no more than 3 credits per semester. Consult staff before registering.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

SPPA 500 - Orientation for MS in Speech-Language Pathology

Credits: 0

Survey of essential principles and practices underlying the Curriculum and Instruction of MS Program in Speech-Language Pathology. Mandatory for all incoming MS students.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 502 - Child Language Disorders: Preschool

Credits: 3

Anatomical, physiological, psychological, neurological, and environmental factors related to delayed or disordered language. An exploration of language skills and methods of promoting their development or compensation for inadequacies.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 503 - Child Language Disorders: School Age

Credits: 3

Anatomical, physiological, psychological, neurological, and environmental factors related to delayed or disordered language of the school aged child. An exploration of language skills and methods of promoting their development or compensation for inadequacies.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 510 - Counseling for Speech-Language Pathology (Standard Option)

Credits: 2

A course addressing the speech-language pathologist's role in counseling patients, students, family members and caregivers. Competencies in effective clinical diagnostics, treatment, information sharing and social/multicultural adjustments, as well as issues specific to swallowing, communication and cognitive disorders are specifically addressed.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 515 - Aphasia

Credits: 3

Study of the neurologic basis for speech and language behavior, etiology, symptomatology, assessment, and management of aphasia.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 520 - Diagnostics in Speech-Language Pathology

Credits: 2

Principles and practices involved in performing in-depth diagnostic evaluations with individuals exhibiting speech and/or language dysfunction. Students will gain experience in taking case histories, formulating an assessment battery, evaluating patients, writing the diagnostic reports and interpreting the data to parents and/or involved disciplines.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 521 - Practicum I: Onsite

Credits: 2

Supervised practicum experience in evaluation and treatment of individuals exhibiting speech and/or language dysfunction. Students will gain experience in taking case histories, talking with patients, and writing reports.

Swing course—Approved 500–599 courses qualify for undergraduate-level credit

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SHP

SPPA 522 - Practicum II: Onsite

Credits: 2

Supervised practicum experience in evaluation and treatment of individuals exhibiting speech and/or language dysfunction. Students will gain experience in taking case histories, talking with patients, and writing reports.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: SHP

SPPA 534 - Research Project I

Credits: 2

Prepares students for research and experimental design, critical review of current literature, and analysis of research data in preparation for oral and written research presentation in speech-language pathology.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: SHP

SPPA 536 - Thesis Option I

Credits: 2

Research techniques and experimental design schemes, critical reviewing of current literature, oral technical reporting and writing technical supports.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: SHP

SPPA 544 - Articulation and Phonological Disorders

Credits: 3
An advanced study of speech and sound production in children. Discussion will include normal aspects of articulation, phonology and development, identification of articulation disorders, phonological delays and disorders, childhood apraxia of speech, as well as treatment approaches, theory and facilitative strategies.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 550 - Praxis Preparatory Class

Credits: 1
Preparatory course designed to establish readiness for the Praxis exam in the areas of audiology, basic human communication processes, clinical management, neurogenic disorders, phonological and language disorders, professional issues, and childhood apraxia of speech, as well as treatment approaches, theory and facilitative strategies.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 551 - Educational Audiology (Standard Option)

Credits: 2
Methods of intervention in communication disorders related to loss of hearing and auditory deprivation for school-aged children.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 574 - Research Methods in Speech-Language Pathology

Credits: 3
Research techniques and experimental design schemes, critical reviewing of current literature, oral technical reporting and writing technical supports. The process used in integrating research principles into evidence-based practice.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 583 - Voice and Velopharyngeal Disorders

Credits: 3
Theory, diagnosis and treatment underlying the articulation, resonance, and phonatory problems associated with voice, velopharyngeal disorders and craniofacial anomalies. Includes discussion of etiologies, technology, and multicultural issues affecting appropriate assessment, diagnosis, and treatment.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 596 - Neurocognitive Disorders

Credits: 3
An exploration of neurocognitive deficits of speech and language, with emphasis in dementia, traumatic brain injury, and right hemisphere damage. Principles of neuroanatomy and physiology, language implications, executive functioning concerns, and multicultural impacts will be investigated.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 608 - Practicum III: Onsite

Credits: 3
Supervised practicum experience in evaluation and treatment of individuals exhibiting speech and/or language dysfunction. Students will gain experience in taking case histories, talking with patients, and writing reports.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: SHP

SPPA 613 - Dysphagia

Credits: 3
An exploration of the Speech-Language Pathologist's role in assessment, diagnosis and rehabilitation of various swallowing disorders in children and adults. Includes discussion of ethical and cultural issues, analysis of current literature, and clinical application.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 624 - Practicum I: Offsite

Credits: 3
Offsite supervised practicum experience in evaluation and treatment of individuals exhibiting speech, language, cognitive and/or swallowing dysfunction. Students will gain experience in case histories, report writing, and collaboration in a school and /or healthcare environment.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: SHP

SPPA 631 - Motor Speech Disorders

Credits: 3
A study of the nature, etiology, and clinical management of motor speech disorders, with primary emphasis on apraxia and the dysarthrias.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

SPPA 634 - Research Project II

Credits: 1
Prepares students for research and experimental design, critical review of current literature, and analysis of research data in preparation for oral and written research presentations in speech-language pathology.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: SHP

SPPA 635 - Research Project III

Credits: 1
Prepares students for research and experimental design, critical review of current literature, and analysis of research data in preparation for oral and written research presentations in speech-language pathology.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: SHP

SPPA 636 - Thesis Option II

Credits: 1
Research techniques and experimental design schemes, critical reviewing of current literature, oral technical reporting and writing technical supports.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: SHP

SPPA 637 - Thesis Option III

Credits: 1
The thesis option is intended to provide depth of study in a focused area of the field of Speech-Language pathology. Student will be required to compose a thesis dealing with a particular, relevant area of interest.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: SHP

SPPA 646 - Integration of Spirituality in Health Care

Credits: 2
A discussion of spiritual values from a Christian perspective, how faith and spirituality facilitates the healing process, and how they can be incorporated into patient care. Attention will be given to discerning and addressing the spiritual needs of patients/clients, family members, and ancillary medical staff in a professional environment. PBHL 646

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: SHP

SPPA 647 - Fluency

Credits: 3

An exploration of etiologies, methods of examination, diagnosis, treatment, and research of fluency disorders. The ethical, cultural and professional issues associated with fluency disorders are also addressed.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online
College Code: SHP

SPPA 663 - Augmentative and Alternative Communication

Credits: 2

Principles of assessment and intervention for individuals requiring augmentative or alternative methods of communication. Discussion will include low and high technology aids and adaptations, symbol systems, vocabulary selection, and procuring funding.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: SHP

Seminary Mission Statement

We serve the Seventh-day Adventist Church by preparing effective leaders to proclaim the everlasting gospel and make disciples of all people in anticipation of Christ's soon return.

Seminary Vision Statement

The Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary Prepares spiritual leaders to impact the world for Christ. We are a culturally diverse learning and worshiping community that nurtures excellence, provides theological leadership, and shares our ministry and resources around the world.

Core Values

Faithfulness with expectation

- Being faithful in our relationship to Christ as Savior and Lord
- Being faithful to God and his revelation as expressed in his Word
- Being faithful in our quest for truth and beauty through a teachable and steadfast spirit
- Being faithful to the Seventh-day Adventist Church and God's prophetic leading in our story.

Christ-likeness with humility

- Cultivating a Christ-like integrity which reflects the character of God
- Submitting our whole selves, mind, body and spirit to God
- Living a passionate and authentic life of obedience and service.

Respect with justice

- Being Christians who are global in vision, sensitive to diversity, and competent in inter-cultural relationships
- Respecting all persons by exhibiting love, compassion and caring, and recognizing everyone's unique giftedness and creative potential
- Working for fairness, and advocating for justice for those without power or voice.

Community with joy

- Worshiping with joy and keeping the Sabbath holy
- Nurturing a community of healing, grace, restoration and renewal
- Developing a sense of collegiality and friendship in our work as brothers and sisters in Christ.

Discipleship with wholeness

- Embracing the ongoing transformation by the Spirit in our own life of faith and learning
- Seeking to see in one another the Spirit's work of restoring the image of our Maker
- Mentoring others in knowing and following their call and vocation.

Service with passion

- Leading with a servant's heart to equip others for service
- Striving with passion to reach the lost, serve the poor, and grow the church
- Valuing creation and our call to be stewards in all areas of life.

Accreditation and Authorization

All seminary degree programs are accredited by The Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada.

Objectives

Each program of the Seminary is committed to the following general objectives:
540

- to furnish the Seventh-day Adventist Church with competent, highly motivated and consecrated pastors and church workers for service in the worldwide mission of the church
- to equip men and women for the various phases of ministry with sound methods, principles, and procedures of biblical interpretation and scholarship
- to provide a firm basis for an intellectual and spiritual understanding of religion, morality, and ethics as set forth in the Bible (accepted as the propositional word of God) and as understood in Christianity in general and the Adventist Church in particular
- to transmit a belief in the relevance of biblical faith and teaching to modern men and women and to their preparation for the future kingdom
- to develop skills required for effectively proclaiming biblical faith through preaching, teaching, writing, and leadership in corporate worship and all phases of church life
- to teach methods and procedures for leading a congregation or group to accomplish its own task of disseminating the faith by word and deed
- to encourage the development of professional and pastoral skills necessary to create an atmosphere of mutual care within the Christian community in order that harmony and unity may be maintained, the common good fostered, and Christian commitment deepened
- to encourage appreciation for other cultures, sympathetic understanding of customs different from one's own, and responsiveness to change
- to promote personal involvement in the spiritual life of the Seminary community, to aid in the formation of a strong devotional life, to inspire a profound deepening of the student's vocation and commitment to serve God and humanity in harmony with the teachings set forth in Scripture as understood by the Adventist church
- to foster, within the Adventist framework, a stimulating academic and professional environment; to provide the necessary tools required for learning; to emphasize sound method, sharp critical thought, and an eager approach to discovering ultimate truth, thus forming an adequate foundation for lifelong competence and integrity
- to lay the foundations for lasting friendships, productive of mutual assistance and confidence, and to promote professional collegiality that creates a willingness to transcend personal bias and accept counsel from one's peers.

Human Relations

The Seminary affirms that all persons have equal worth as beings created in the image of God. A wide diversity of individuals gives opportunity for every student, staff member, and faculty member to practice Christian love and acceptance. In practical terms, this means that we encourage one another to be respectful of and sensitive to people of every age, gender, or disability; people of every racial, ethnic, cultural, geographical, political, religious, or economic background; and people who are single or married. In classrooms, chapels, and casual conversations, and in our writing, we recognize women and men equally and avoid assumptions or judgments based on group stereotypes. Neither sexual harassment nor racial disparagement is tolerated. Frank discourse not withstanding, we seek to listen, learn, and be enriched as we come to understand and appreciate each other more fully. We affirm our diversity even as we pursue unity.

Faculty

The faculty of the Seminary combine high academic and professional qualifications with a commitment to Jesus Christ and a concern for the proclamation of the gospel. A majority of the faculty have lived and/or worked overseas, served as pastors, and earned advanced degrees in the field of their specialization. The Seminary seeks to be responsive to cultural, ethnic, and national differences in its choice of faculty and staff.

The faculty is involved in research and writing for denominational periodicals and professional/theological journals. Articles authored by faculty appear in the SDA Bible Commentary; SDA Bible Dictionary; SDA Encyclopedia; Theological Dictionary of the Old Testament; The Interpreter's Dictionary of the Bible, Supplementary Volume; Harper's Dictionary of the Bible, rev. ed.; the New International Standard Bible Encyclopedia; and other reference works.

Scholarly Journal

In 1963 the Seminary began publishing a scholarly journal— Andrews University Seminary Studies. This biannual periodical presents the results of research in the fields of biblical archaeology and history of antiquity; Hebrew Bible; New Testament; church history of all periods; historical, biblical, and systematic theology; ethics; history of religions; and missions. Selected research articles on ministry and Christian education may also be included.

Outreach

Extension Programs. The Seminary conducts short-term extension schools in many parts of the world. Two degree programs are offered largely in off-campus settings: (1) the Master of Arts in Pastoral Ministry program, begun in North America in 1984 for experienced pastors in the field who have not earned a previous seminary degree, and (2) the Doctor of Ministry program for experienced pastors who have previously earned an MDiv degree or its equivalent.

Andrews University is authorized by the Washington Student Achievement Council and meets the requirements and minimum educational standards established for degree-granting institutions under the Degree-Granting Institutions Act. This authorization is subject to periodic review and authorizes Andrews University to offer specific degree programs. The Council may be contacted for a list of currently authorized programs. Authorization by the Council does not carry with it an endorsement by the Council of the institution or its programs. Any person desiring information about the requirements of the act or the applicability of those requirements to the institution may contact the Council at P.O. Box 43430, Olympia, WA 98504-3430.

The Seminary Online Learning Center offers a variety of distance education courses at the graduate level. All distance courses are on-line.

Course Offerings. For a list of current offerings, see the Center website: www.andrews.edu/sem/solc/.

Registration Procedure. To register for a course, please go to the Registration Central, and add an online class just like any other on-campus course. For more information, please contact us at the Seminary Online Learning Center.

Other Enrichment Programs

Guided Tours. Under the auspices of the Seminary, the university offers guided tours for course credit. These courses include CHIS 504, GSEM 678, and CHIS 685.

MDiv Study Tour. The MDiv program organizes an annual Study Tour with the idea of enhancing the evangelistic, witnessing, and church growth skills and preparing participants for mission and ministry around the world, during the Spring break.

Archaeological Field Work. In 1968 under the direction of Siegfried H. Horn, the university initiated an archaeological excavation at the site of Hisban (Heshbon) in the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan. Excavation continued for five seasons, the last in 1976. In 1984 the Institute of Archaeology expanded its work to a larger region, renaming its consortium the Madaba Plains Project. The project now sponsors excavations at Tall al-'Umayri, Tall Jalul, and other hinterland sites, and conducts an extensive archaeological survey of the entire region.

Mediterranean Study Tour. In the spring the Seminary offers students the opportunity for an extended eight-week study tour during which they will be immersed in the environment and cultures of Biblical lands. From a central base students will take seminary courses while also travelling to visit many of the sites spoken of in Scripture. Many Spring Semester courses will be offered in a half-semester format to allow for easy transition between the study tour and on-campus coursework. Students may contact the Old Testament Department or the New Testament Department for further information.

ASOR Study Center Opportunities. Andrews University is a corporation member of the American Schools of Oriental Research. Seminary and post-graduate students may attend the organization's affiliated institutes—the W. F. Albright Institute of Archaeological Research in Jerusalem and the American Center for Oriental Research in Amman, Jordan. Students also may compete for financial aid and fellowships offered annually by these institutes.

Admission and Evaluation Policies

All applicants must hold a minimum of a baccalaureate degree or its equivalent from an accredited college or university and are subject to the general admission requirements in the Graduate Programs Admission section of this bulletin (see Graduate Academic Policies). Students in MA, PhD, and ThD programs are also subject to the Academic Standards requirements in Graduate Academic Policies. International students should note the Special Admission Requirements on Graduate Academic Policies.

Admission Policy. Admission to the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary is granted irrespective of race, color, national or ethnic origin, gender, or disability. The Seminary is owned and financed by the Seventh-day Adventist Church. It is a community of committed Christians who collectively confess the Christian faith and seek to experience its meaning in worship and practical life. Most of its students are members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church; however, no declaration of confessional allegiance is required for admission. Students who meet academic requirements, whose lifestyle and character are in harmony with the purposes of the Seminary, and who express willingness to cooperate with general university policies may be admitted. Criteria for approving or declining admission to applicants are described in application materials. Admission to the university is a privilege rather than a right and may be withheld or withdrawn by the university at its discretion.

Students are expected to maintain the religious, social, and cultural atmosphere of the Seminary and to order their lives in harmony with its mission and purposes. The seminary community endeavors to maintain an atmosphere of mutual support and acceptance which is congenial to personal adjustment and social development. In the course of their preparation for the ministry, students are called upon to participate in the lives and worship of the surrounding churches. Because of this role, students are expected to be sensitive to the values of others and exemplary in appearance and actions.

Character Statement and Student Pledge. As part of the admission process, all prospective Seminary students are required to sign and return a character statement form. In addition, Seminary students subscribe to the following declaration of purpose:

I declare it to be my serious intention to devote my life to the Christian ministry or some other form of Christian service, and to this end I pledge myself to rely on divine guidance, to live according to the standards and ideals set forth in the Holy Scriptures, to apply myself faithfully and diligently to the instruction of the Seminary, and to abide by all its requirements.

Psychological Evaluation. Applicants to Seminary programs are required to complete the Seminary's program of psychological evaluation during their first fall semester of residency, or as designated by their programs. All graduating students must comply with the graduation requirements of their respective programs, including exit testing. The cost of the evaluation is the responsibility of the applicant.

Criminal Background Check. Applicants to all Seminary programs in North America are required to undergo a criminal background check as specified in the online application process. The criminal background check must be completed within six months of beginning coursework and be redone every three years while in attendance at the seminary. The basic cost of the background check is paid as part of the application process. Applicants are responsible for any additional fees that may be charged by municipalities in which they have resided, and for the costs of subsequent background checks.

Pre-admission Conduct Disclosure Statement. Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to complete and submit to the Seminary the "Pre-Admission Conduct Disclosure Statement."

Student Lifestyle. Continuance in a seminary program is based not only on academic achievement but also on an ongoing lifestyle reflecting Seventh-day Adventist principles in character and conduct.

English Language Requirements. All students whose first language is not English must demonstrate adequate proficiency in English to succeed in the academic setting. Language proficiency must be met before enrolling full-time in regular course work. Please contact your respective departments director for specific TOEFL, MELAB and IELTS scores.

Time to Apply. Applications to the MDiv program require 4-6 months for processing.

PhD and ThD applicants for autumn semester must submit application materials by January 15. A limited number of students may be admitted for the summer term, in which case they would need to submit all application materials by November 30 of the previous year.

Minimum GPA for Admission. The minimum GPAs required for admission to seminary programs are listed below. Transfer credits are not counted in the GPA.
2.50 MDiv, MA in PMin, MA in YYAMin
2.75 MA (Religious Education)
3.00 MA (Religion)
3.25 DMin
3.50 PhD, ThD

Recommendation Forms and Statement of Purpose. Applicants to all seminary programs need to have three recommendation forms sent directly to the Office of Graduate Admissions. The forms should be completed by persons well acquainted with the applicant's abilities and recent experience. The length of the statement of purpose and the kind of recommendations needed are listed on this page.

Balanced Financial Plan. All students applying for admission to the on-campus programs of the Seminary must submit a balanced financial plan detailing how their expenses will be covered. Listed below is the length of plan required for Seminary degree programs:
MA: Religion 2 years
MA: Religious Education 2 years
MA: Youth & Young Adult Ministry 2 years
Master of Divinity 3 years
Doctor of Ministry
PhD/ThD programs 3 years*
*or letter of sponsorship required

Graduate Record Examinations. Students applying to the professional ministerial degree programs (Master of Divinity, Master of Arts in Pastoral Ministry, Master of Arts in Youth & Young Adult Ministry, and Doctor of Ministry) should provide transcripts of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) General Test only when requested. Applicants to seminary academic graduate programs must request that a transcript of the GRE examination (taken within the past five years) be sent directly to the Office of Graduate Admissions.

Orientation. All new students are required to attend and register for the fall orientation program. Students who begin in the summer have a short orientation on the day before summer school begins. The main orientation session takes place the week before autumn semester classes begin. New students starting either in the summer or autumn terms are required to attend this main session. See the Seminary calendar, for specific dates for these orientation events.

Psychological Evaluation. Students from all Seminary programs are required to complete the Seminary's program of psychological evaluation during their first fall semester of residency, or as designated by their programs. All graduating students must comply with the graduation requirements of their respective programs, including exit testing.

Academic Policies Applying to All Programs

Class Loads and Enrollment Status. The number of credits required for full- and part-time enrollment status in seminary programs is listed below.

Program	Full-time	Part-time
MDiv	9–16	6–8
MA in PMin, MA, MA in YYAMin, DMin, PhD, ThD	8–12	4–7

Students may take more credits than indicated above only with approval from the dean. Students who have completed all course work in a master's or doctoral program but have not met all requirements for graduation must register for GSEM 688, GSEM 788, or GSEM 888 and maintain full-time status. Students who are registered for thesis or PhD, ThD, or DMin dissertation credits also maintain full-time status. Doctor of Ministry students registered for GSEM 789 DMin Program Continuation are considered by the university as half-time students.

Minimum GPA for Graduation. The minimum GPAs required for graduation from seminary programs are listed below. Transfer credits are not counted in the GPA.
2.75 MDiv
2.50 MA in PMin, MA in YYAMin
3.00 MA, DMin, PhD, ThD

Students accepted on a provisional basis must achieve the minimum GPA required for their program during the first semester they are enrolled. A student who fails to maintain the minimum GPA required for his/her degree program is placed on academic probation.

Graduating Student Questionnaire. Completion of the graduating student questionnaire (GSQ) is a part of the graduation requirements.

Satisfactory Academic Progress. To qualify for satisfactory academic progress, students must earn the minimum GPA (as above) required for their degree program and meet other standards as listed in the Tuition, Fees, and Other Financial Information section of this bulletin. See Financial Information.

Dual Enrollment. Undergraduate religion/theology students at Andrews University, who at the beginning of a given semester are within 15 credits of graduation and who otherwise meet admission requirements of the Theological Seminary, may apply for permission to take seminary work while completing requirements for the baccalaureate degree. Dual registration is limited to one semester. An undergraduate student may accumulate not more than 12 credits in the Seminary on the basis of dual registration.

Students should request a Dual Enrollment Application at the Academic Records Office and have their credits verified there. The form is then taken to the dean of the Theological Seminary for approval. The signed form is returned to the Academic Records Office and exchanged for a Registration Card on which the actual courses desired are listed. The Registration Card must be signed by the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, the student's adviser, and the dean of the Theological Seminary. Students dually enrolled may not carry more than 15 credits per term, and seminary credit thus earned may not be used to meet undergraduate requirements.

See Dual Enrollment in Graduate Academic Policies for pursuing two graduate degrees simultaneously, or a second undergraduate degree while doing a graduate program.

Student Spouse Discount. Academically qualified spouses of full-time on-campus seminary students may request a discount on tuition of Seminary master's-level courses taken to fulfill the requirements of a Seminary master's degree. The individual requesting the discount must be accepted into a Seminary master's program and must apply for the discount each semester in which his/her spouse is enrolled full-time in the Seminary. (Details are available at the Deans' office.) Discount requests are due by the drop/add date each semester.

Seminary Spouse Class Attendance. Seminary students and spouses of Seminary students may request to informally audit any 500- or 600-level Seminary courses (except seminars) regardless of academic qualifications and without charge, subject to written permission from the instructor, Seminary dean, and available space.

Classes Taken in Other Schools. With the exception of students in Religious Education, students registered in the Seminary who plan to take courses in another school on campus must first obtain permission from the Seminary dean or appropriate program director, as well as the dean of the school where the course will be taken. Religious Education students will follow course plans arranged in consultation with their advisors. MDiv students are charged regular tuition for courses taken outside the Seminary (except see notation under Master of Divinity Program in the Financial information section of the bulletin for information on how to request a 50% tuition reduction for graduate-level courses in the College of Arts & Sciences).

Informal Auditing. Students with a full-time load and a GPA of 3.00 or above may sit in on a Seminary class without registration or a tuition charge on a space-available basis. The appropriate form must be completed. Certain courses are not available for auditing on any basis. For audited courses to be recorded on the transcript, see the University policy on Audited Classes

Independent Study Courses. Normally, only on-campus students with a GPA of 3.00 or above may register for independent study courses. Because the faculty are not obliged to guide students for Independent Studies, students must first obtain their concurrence. Independent study courses are advanced studies in a particular field and should be taken only after completing basic courses. At registration, students need to submit a copy of the Independent Study Contract Form with the course number from the department and a brief subject added to the course title to appear on the transcript. Requirements for independent study are determined by the guiding faculty member and may include readings, research, writing, and other learning experiences. A maximum of 8 credits may be approved for Independent Study in a degree program, and Independent Study courses normally are graded satisfactory or unsatisfactory. Additional guidelines are found on the contract form.

Directed Reading. Courses designated Directed Reading are for doctoral students. Students must arrange individually with a professor to take courses on this basis. These courses may be graded S/U.

Grade Changes. Grade changes are permitted only in case of computational error and must be made no later than the semester following the one in which the course was taken. A form must be completed by the teacher and signed by the dean before being taken to the Office of Academic Records.

Worship Attendance. Regular and punctual attendance is required at seminary worship and assemblies for faculty, staff and students in residence, except students registered for 7 credits or fewer, and faculty who have assignments off-campus or are on an approved research term. Student requests to be excused from this requirement should be addressed to the deans' office in writing. Regular worship attendance is a graduation requirement for students in residence. For further details, please refer to the "Seminary Worship Attendance Policy" under Student Life at the Seminary website, www.andrews.edu/sem.

Final Exams. The times and dates for final examinations are set by the University and the Seminary at the beginning of every term. Students are expected to adhere to those dates and to integrate them into their planning calendar. The only exceptions to the prescribed dates are illness or dire emergency. Such exceptions must be approved in writing by the Seminary Associate Dean's office. Personal plans, family events, church activities, and the like do not qualify for a change of date.

Residency Requirements. Residency requirements for seminary programs appear in the respective program descriptions.

Time Limits on Degrees. For time limits applying to seminary degree programs, see the respective program descriptions below. Students who violate the respective time limits must petition the dean for an extension of time, giving reasons for the request and submitting plans for completion of the work. Petitions may be granted by the dean and may require additional qualifying or other examinations, additional course work, or both.

Transfer Credit. For limits on credits that may be transferred into the respective seminary programs, see each program description below. Certain seminary programs are discounted to prepare students for specific ministries. If a student enrolls and takes classes in a discounted or reduced fee program (less than the published doctoral or Masters rate) and then wishes to apply those credits earned to a higher priced program, the student will pay the difference to transfer or apply the discounted credits to the higher priced program at the time of transfer.

Programs

The Master of Divinity degree program provides basic postgraduate professional preparation for ministry with a broad exposure to all fields of theological study. The program applies biblical, historical, educational, linguistic, theological, philosophical, ethical, missiological, pastoral, and evangelistic instruction to the practical work of the church. Practical field experience is a vital part of this program.

The Master of Arts in Pastoral Ministry degree program offers professional training to mature pastors experienced in ministry. Normally such persons are unable to leave their parish and come to the Seminary campus for extended periods of time. The Seminary provides the major part of this professional training at off-campus centers in North America and various international sites.

The Master of Arts in Youth and Young Adult Ministry degree is a professional program designed to equip men and women with competencies for effective ministry to youth and young adults in local church and para-church settings. The program is focused on discipling, teaching, counseling and evangelizing youth and young adults.

The Master of Arts in Religion provides an opportunity for one year of specialized study beyond the baccalaureate degree. It is offered with these orientations: (1) the research orientation designed for students who plan further graduate work, and (2) the general academic orientation giving students a strong background in a specific area of religious studies.

The Master of Arts: Religious Education is an academic degree designed to develop theory and practice for the discipling and teaching ministry of the church in the home, church, or Christian school setting. The degree also provides a foundation for the PhD in Religious Education.

The Doctor of Ministry is a professional, post-MDiv degree for individuals qualified to pursue advanced study. This degree provides experienced pastors with additional expertise in the areas of pastoral ministry, evangelism and church growth, chaplaincy, and organizational leadership.

The Doctor of Philosophy in Biblical and Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology is an advanced academic degree that prepares teacher-scholars in the fields of Biblical Archaeology and Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology and Anthropology for church-operated colleges, seminaries and universities around the world.

The Doctor of Philosophy in Religion, based on the Master of Arts in Religion, prepares teacher-scholars in the fields of New Testament Studies, Old Testament Studies, Theological Studies, Adventist Studies, and Mission and Ministry Studies for colleges and seminaries operated by the Seventh-day Adventist Church around the world.

The PhD in Religious Education prepares men and women to be scholars and researchers in specialized teaching and discipling ministries of the home, the church, or the Christian college or university.

The Doctor of Theology degree, based on the Master of Divinity degree, trains teacher-scholars in the fields of biblical studies and theology for service in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Completion of a seminary program does not guarantee employment.

Masters

Divinity MDiv

The Master of Divinity is a 78 credit program recommended as the basic training for Adventist ministry by the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists and the North American Division. It is a two year professional program (including summers) for full time students. Additional semesters may be required for students lacking prerequisites.

Pastoral Ministry MAPM (English Track)

MA in Pastoral Ministry

Esther R. Knott, English Track Director

Ricardo Norton, Hispanic Track Director

The Master of Arts in Pastoral Ministry is intended for experienced pastors over the age of 35 whose ministerial functions and employment responsibilities make it impossible to engage in an extended study program at the Seminary. The goals of our program are to deepen the understanding, reflection, and skills of the pastors in the core qualities of character, evangelism/ discipleship, leadership, management, relationship, scholarship, and worship. While admission to the program is similar for all groups of applicants, the curriculum reflects emphases for English or Hispanic ministry tracks (for details, see below).

This program is offered at designated locations within each Union of the North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists. For more information visit the following sites.

MA in Pastoral Ministry (English) <http://www.andrews.edu/sem/inministry/>.

MA in Pastoral Ministry (Hispanic) <http://ihmandrews.com/>.

The MAPM is not designed to prepare students for advanced degrees. If a student later wishes to pursue an advanced degree in the seminary, they will need to do additional coursework on the masters level. (See the admission requirements under the advanced degrees.)

Admission Requirements

Admission to the MA in Pastoral Ministry is based on the following requirements in addition to the general admission requirements for all graduate students and the general Seminary admission requirements:

Hold a BA degree or equivalent from an accredited institution with a minimum GPA of 2.5.

Provide evidence of successful pastoral leadership during the past five years.

Be recommended by the local conference administration, a pastoral colleague and a local church leader/elder.

Be over the age of 35. (Exceptions by petition only.)

Applicants must also complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.

The MDiv is now available through a combination of online, intensive and main campus courses. See [link to the MDiv website].

Program Outcomes

Deliver effective biblically-based sermons.

Demonstrate proper biblical interpretation skills.

Understand the historical-theological development of the Adventist Church.

Capable of training church members for evangelism.

Demonstrate an understanding of how to empower church members for leadership.

Capable of reaching specific social groups.

Program Requirements

The MA in Pastoral Ministry degree is awarded upon completion of a minimum of 48 credits of formal course work.

Course work in North America is offered off campus twice annually in one- and two-week intensives, normally at Adventist educational institutions. Students should expect pre- and post-class assignments as part of the total academic requirements of each course. The intensives generate the equivalent of 6–12 credits annually.

All students must participate in supervised ministerial experience as part of their degree requirements.

Attendance of at least 6 credits on the Andrews University campus (or approved complete degree site) during the first year of the program is required. This residency requirement is offered as an approved exception to the Association of Theological Schools larger residency expectation stated in Degree Program Standard B, section B.3.1.3.

Students failing to maintain a minimum GPA of 2.50 are placed on probation.

Any student remaining on probation for the equivalent of two years (maximum of 18 credits) must withdraw from the program.

Only grades of a C- or above will count towards the 48-credit requirement.

Following an absence of two years or more, a student's previous admission status will have lapsed and the student must reapply to the program.

Course work should be completed within six years of beginning the program. Credits older than ten years will not be applied toward the degree.

Transferred and Earned Term Credit Limits

All course credits applied towards degree requirements should be earned within 10 years of the awarding of the degree.

Upon approval by the dean, a maximum of 24 graduate credits may be transferred from approved seminaries or universities, including Andrews University.

A maximum of 8 credits may be transferred from another conferred degree upon approval by the dean.

Reapplying to the MA in Pastoral Ministry Program

Following an absence of two years or more, a student's previous admission status will have lapsed and the student will need to reapply to the program and pay all the admission fees. Students will be accepted under the current bulletin.

All classes in the MA in Pastoral Ministry program are to be taken for 3 credits.

Note for Washington State citizens:

Andrews University is authorized by the Washington Student Achievement Council and meets the requirements and minimum educational standards established for degree-granting institutions under the Degree-Granting Institutions Act. This authorization is subject to periodic review and authorizes Andrews University to offer specific degree programs. The Council may be contacted for a list of currently authorized programs. Authorization by the Council does not carry with it an endorsement by the Council of the institution or its programs. Any person desiring information about the requirements of the act or the applicability of those to the institution may contact the Council at P.O. Box 43430, Olympia, WA 98504-3430 or by email at degreeauthorization@wsac.wa.gov.

The transferability of credits earned at Andrews University is at the discretion of the receiving college, university, or other educational institution. Students considering transferring to any institution should not assume that credits earned in any program of study at Andrews University will be accepted by the receiving institution. Similarly, the ability of a degree, certificate, diploma, or other academic credential earned at Andrews University to satisfy an admission requirement of another institution is at the discretion of the receiving institution. Accreditation does not guarantee credentials or credits earned at Andrews University will be accepted by or transferred to another institution. To minimize the risk of having to repeat coursework, students should contact the receiving institution in advance for evaluation and determination of transferability of credits and/or acceptability of degrees, diplomas, or certificates earned.

Note for Washington State citizens:

Andrews University is authorized by the Washington Student Achievement Council and meets the requirements and minimum educational standards established for degree-granting institutions under the Degree-Granting Institutions Act. This authorization is subject to periodic review and authorizes Andrews University to offer specific degree programs. The Council may be contacted for a list of currently authorized programs. Authorization by the Council does not carry with it an endorsement by the Council of the institution or its programs. Any person desiring information about the requirements of the act or the applicability of those to the institution may contact the Council at P.O. Box 43430, Olympia, WA 98504-3430 or by email at degreeauthorization@wsac.wa.gov.

The transferability of credits earned at Andrews University is at the discretion of the receiving college, university, or other educational institution. Students considering transferring to any institution should not assume that credits earned in any program of study at Andrews University will be accepted by the receiving institution. Similarly, the ability of a degree, certificate, diploma, or other academic credential earned at Andrews University to satisfy an admission requirement of another institution is at the discretion of the receiving institution. Accreditation does not guarantee credentials or credits earned at Andrews University will be accepted by or transferred to another institution. To minimize the risk of having to repeat coursework, students should contact the receiving institution in advance for evaluation and determination of transferability of credits and/or acceptability of degrees, diplomas, or certificates earned.

Pastoral Ministry MAPM (Non-North American Division)

MA in Pastoral Ministry

Esther R. Knott, English Track Director

Ricardo Norton, Hispanic Track Director

The Master of Arts in Pastoral Ministry is for experienced pastors whose ministerial functions and employment responsibilities make it impossible to engage in an extended study program at the Seminary. The goals of our program are to deepen the understanding, reflection, and skills of the pastors in the core qualities of character, evangelism/discipleship, leadership, management, relationship, scholarship and worship. While admission to the program is similar for all groups of applicants, the curriculum reflects emphases for English or Hispanic ministry tracks (for details, see below).

This program is offered at designated locations within each Union of the North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists. For more information visit the following sites.

MA in Pastoral Ministry (English) <http://www.andrews.edu/sem/inministry/>.

MA in Pastoral Ministry (Hispanic) <http://ihmandrews.com/>.

The MAPM is not designed to prepare students for advanced degrees. If a student later wishes to pursue an advanced degree they may need to do additional coursework on the masters level. (See the admission requirements under the advanced degrees.)

Admission Requirements

Admission to the MA in Pastoral Ministry is based on the following requirements in addition to the general admission requirements for all graduate students and the general Seminary admission requirements. Applicants must also complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.

Non NAD Ministerial Applicants

Hold a BA degree or equivalent from an accredited institution with a minimum GPA of 2.5.

Provide evidence of successful pastoral leadership during the past five years.

Be Recommended by their local conference administration, a pastoral colleague and local church leader/elder.

Program Outcomes

Deliver effective biblically-based sermons.

Demonstrate proper biblical interpretation skills.

Understand the historical-theological development of the Adventist Church.

Capable of training church members for evangelism.

Demonstrate an understanding of how to empower church members for leadership.

Capable of reaching specific social groups.

Program Requirements

The MA in Pastoral Ministry degree is awarded upon completion of a minimum of 48 credits of formal course work.

Course work in North America is offered off campus twice annually in one- and two-week intensives, normally at Adventist educational institutions. Students should expect pre- and post-class assignments as part of the total academic requirements of each course. The intensives generate the equivalent of 6–12 credits annually.

All students must participate in supervised ministerial experience as part of their degree requirements.

Attendance of at least 6 credits on the Andrews University campus (or approved complete degree site) during the first year of the program is required. In addition 12 credits are to be completed at Andrews University (or approved complete degree site) during the remainder of the program.

Students failing to maintain a minimum GPA of 2.50 are placed on probation.

Any student remaining on probation for the equivalent of two years (maximum of 18 credits) must withdraw from the program.

Only grades of a C- or above will count towards the 48-credit requirement.

Following an absence of two years or more, a student's previous admission status will have lapsed and the student must reapply to the program.

Course work should be completed within six years of beginning the program. Credits older than ten years will not be applied toward the degree.

Transferred and Earned Term Credit Limits

All course credits applied towards degree requirements should be earned within 10 years of the awarding of the degree.

Upon approval by the dean, a maximum of 24 graduate credits may be transferred from approved seminaries or universities, including Andrews University.

A maximum of 8 credits may be transferred from another conferred degree upon approval by the dean.

Reapplying to the MA in Pastoral Ministry Program

Religion MA

Program Description

Felix Cortez, Director

The Master of Arts (Religion) is an academic program usually involving two or three years of study beyond the baccalaureate degree. The purpose of the program is to prepare students to act as teachers and church workers in the areas of biblical studies, theology, and religious tradition beyond the bachelor's degree. The program requires 38 credits of course work. Only 500- and 600-level courses are accepted and requires a thesis.

Program Outcomes

Specialized Track

- (Offered on the Andrews main campus only)
- Conduct effective research that communicates competence in a specialized field of study.
 - Practice a biblically grounded approach to scholarly inquiry.
 - Articulate theology and research in terms of Seventh-day Adventist, history, beliefs and practice.
 - Demonstrate understanding of the content and central issues of the specialized field of study.

Interdisciplinary Track

- (offered at international extension sites and online)
- Conduct effective research for teaching and ministry.
 - Practice a biblically grounded approach to scholarly inquiry.
 - Articulate theology and research in terms of Seventh-day Adventist history, beliefs and practice.
 - Demonstrate a broad understanding of biblical studies, theology, and religious history within the Seventh-day Adventist church.

MA (Religion) Specialized Track

Admission Requirements

Admission to the MA (Religion) program is based on the general admission requirements for all graduate students and the general Seminary admission requirements. Applicants must hold a baccalaureate degree or its equivalent, preferably with a major in religion or theology with a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.00 or above.

In addition to the General and Seminary Admission requirements specified above, applicants must meet the following:

Prerequisites. Applicants must provide a transcript showing that they have taken the following courses at the undergraduate level with a GPA of 3.00 or better (on a 4.00 system). Prerequisites do not count as part of the 38 credits required for the MA (Religion) degree.

Prerequisites may be taken at any accredited educational institution. Students needing to take prerequisite courses, after applying to the MA Religion program, may submit courses by providing an official transcript showing that the course(s) taken meet the Transfer Credit Policy (see below) and the MA Religion prerequisite requirements to fulfill the course or language prerequisites.

- Church History - 2 credits
- New Testament Studies - 2 credits
- Old Testament Studies - 2 credits
- Theological Studies - 2 credits
- E.G. White Writings - 2 credits
- Adventist Studies - 2 credits

Total prerequisite credits - 12

Language Requirements:

The applicant must demonstrate proficiency, in languages other than English, or show a plan for acquiring language proficiency as determined by the selected area of concentration. Proficiency is defined as the reading knowledge of a language at the intermediate level. Examinations are generally required to demonstrate proficiency. Language proficiency courses do not apply toward the 38 credits of the MA degree requirements.

Applicant must demonstrate Biblical Greek and Hebrew proficiency at the intermediate level. Students who have already taken Greek or Hebrew at the undergrad level must take the placement exam and show that they have an intermediate level of competency in both languages. If the appropriate score(s) are not earned, the student will have to retake the language courses at Andrews. Biblical language proficiency must be demonstrated before registration of exegesis courses.

Registering Greek and Hebrew Placement Exams:

If a student passes the Hebrew or Greek placement exam, they must register for the zero credit section of the course in order that their academic transcript to show a grade of "P" for passing, which is the designation for Challenge by Examination. No entry shall be made on the transcript if the student fails the examination. However, the student will be required to take the prerequisite course for credit, if they fail the examination. Placement exams must be taken the first year of starting your program and can only be taken once.

Students will register for placement exam(s) as follow:

NTST 551 - Beginner Greek Placement Exam, 0 credits, must receive a score of 45% or higher to pass.

NTST 552 - Intermediate Greek Placement Exam, 0 credits, must receive a score of 60% or higher to pass.

OTST 551 - Beginner Hebrew Placement Exam, 0 credits, must receive a score of 45% or higher to pass.

OTST 552 - Intermediate Hebrew Placement Exam, 0 credits, must receive a score of 65% or higher to pass.

Students who choose to demonstrate proficiency in Hebrew and/or Greek by taking the courses at Andrews, may use the credits to fulfill course Prerequisite Elective requirements.

A modern language of French or German must generally be completed by examination and/or course work (FREN 505, GRMN 505). Exceptions to this rule are listed below under Areas of Concentration. This is in addition to the minimum 38 program credits. Other modern research languages may be considered by the program director if the language is relevant to the topic of the thesis/project. Modern language deficiencies must be completed before registering for the MA thesis/project.

Sixteen Personality Factor (16PF) Questionnaire must be completed and submitted as directed on the online application.

Transfer Credits. A maximum of 6 masters level semester hours of coursework, with a B (3.00) or above, may be transferred from an approved seminary or university if applicable to the student's program. Transfer courses must have been completed within the six-year time limit.

Time Limits. A student must complete the requirements for the MA (Religion) degree and graduate within six years of first enrolling in the program regardless of admission classification.

Degree Requirements

In addition to the scholarship standards in the Graduate Programs Academic Information section of this bulletin, students must fulfill the following requirements:

38 semester credits with a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or above. [Only 3 credit courses may be used to meet these requirements.]

Core classes (15 credits):

GSEM 620 - Research Methods (3 credits); to be taken the first time the course is offered after enrolling in the program.

Religious Education MA

The MA (Religious Education) offers the following focus areas

- Family Life Education,
- Campus Spiritual Leadership, and
- Customized options for students in consultation with an advisor.

MA (Religious Education)

John V. G. Matthews, Director

The Master of Arts (Religious Education) is an interdisciplinary academic program that prepares individuals for leadership roles as scholars and specialists in discipleship in settings where religious, moral and spiritual nurture and growth are primary concerns. The curriculum is designed with core courses, electives and a selected area of emphasis. The master's program generally requires attendance during the regular academic year, but many classes are taught over the summers as intensives with post-campus academic and fieldwork assignments.

Program Outcomes

1. As a Christian Apologist - Articulates a philosophy of religious education.
2. As a Pastor-Teacher - Uses appropriate methodologies to disciple.
3. As a Servant-Leader - Applies the principles of servant leadership.
4. As an Evaluator/Researcher - Understands basic terminology, potential contributions, and limitations of scholarly research in the evaluation and implementation of discipleship initiatives.
5. As a Maturing Christian - Engages consistently with Scripture in biblical and spiritual disciplines to be open to the transforming work of the Holy Spirit in his or her life.
6. As a Lifelong Learner - Pursues personal and professional development.
7. As an Area Expert - Demonstrates the ability to apply all relevant core competencies to the area of emphasis.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the MA (Religious Education) program is based on the student's meeting the general admission requirements for all graduate students as outlined in the School of Graduate Studies & Research, and the general Seminary admission requirements Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary. In addition, students must have earned a baccalaureate degree or equivalent and have a minimum GPA of 2.75. Official scores from the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) General Test taken within the last five years should be submitted to the Office of Graduate Enrollment Management. Applicants must also complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.

English Language Requirement

- For those applicants whose native language is not English, the following is required:
- MELAB - score of 81 (must achieve a passing score on each section: written, verbal and comprehension) or
 - TOEFL - score of 565 (paper based) or score of 85 (computer based with a minimum of 20 on each section: written, verbal and comprehension) and

A personal interview with the program director or designee

Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after departmental consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional coursework in English may be required. A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Advanced Standing

Advanced standing may be obtained for up to 10 credits of religion and up to 5 credits of education or religious education for a combined maximum total of 12 credits. These credits are dependent upon a background of advanced theological or educational study or prior extensive undergraduate studies in religion, religious education, or education as well as the particular MA (Religious Education) emphasis area chosen. Advanced standing is calculated at the time of admission as follows:

- 15 or more credits of undergraduate religion or theology credit may qualify for advanced standing of up to 10 credits in appropriate areas of the course plan. Advanced standing based on less than 15 credits of prior undergraduate studies is prorated at a two-thirds ratio.
- 8 or more credits of undergraduate education or religious education may qualify for advanced standing of up to 5 credits in appropriate areas of the course plan. Advanced standing based on less than 8 credits of prior undergraduate studies is prorated at a two-thirds ratio.
- Prior graduate study in religion, theology, education, or religious education appropriate to the chosen emphasis area may be applied as advanced standing without proration.

Degree Requirements

The MA (Religious Education) is an academic degree awarded upon successful completion of 48 credits of interdisciplinary study in the Seminary and School of Education. Candidates with advanced theological or educational study or with prior extensive undergraduate studies in religion, religious education, or education may submit a petition requesting advanced standing for a combined total of up to 12 credits. Advanced standing is determined at the time of admission. Evaluation of advanced standing is dependent upon the particular MA (Religious Education) emphasis area chosen, and the level and appropriateness of prior learning to the chosen emphasis.

Transfer credits for graduate studies other than through advanced standing are permitted under the regular graduate transfer policies based on a 48-credit curriculum, but only to the extent that the combined credits for advanced standing and graduate transfers do not exceed 16 credits. A minimum of 32 credits must be from Andrews University Religious Education degree program courses.

To remain in regular standing, students must maintain a minimum GPA of 3.00. Courses with a grade below B- do not count toward the degree.

Advancement to Candidacy. In the semester that students will complete 50 percent of their course work, they must apply for advancement to candidacy. See p. 60 of the Graduate Programs Academic Information section of this bulletin.

Degree Completion. Candidates for the MA degree may exercise one of the following two options to complete their degree:

Comprehensive Examinations: Must pass comprehensive examinations given at the published times. The one-day exams entail a three-hour morning session and a two-hour afternoon session.

Thesis: Do a thesis (minimum 3 credits). A two-member faculty committee guides the student in developing the project and evaluates the defense. Students who complete a thesis are exempt from writing comprehensive examinations but are required to make a portfolio presentation.

Time Limits. A student must complete the requirements for the MA (Religious Education) and graduate within six years of first enrolling in the program regardless of admission classification.

Family Life Education Focus - 48 credits

This focus will allow the student to obtain the NCFR certification. If student is not seeking NCFR certification, more credits toward the degree can be from Advanced Standing when applicable (up to a maximum of 12 cr only, as specified in the degree requirements section)

Students planning to enter the PhD (Religious Education) should also take EDRM 611 Applied Statistical Methods I (3). Depending on how the distributed courses are configured, taking EDRM 611 may increase the total credits required for the MA degree.

Additional Information on Certification

Denominational Certification for Teaching Religion/Bible on the Secondary Level SDA Basic Certificate

The Basic Teaching Certificate for denominational certification may be issued to the candidate presenting a Verification of Eligibility form from Andrews University. The certificate is issued by the union conference where the candidate takes his/her first teaching position. Requirements for this certificate may be completed by taking additional courses along with the MA in Religious Education. More information about preparing to teach religion in Adventist schools is available from the University Certification Registrar in the School of Education.

Certification on Family Life Education

While completion of the MA (Religious Education) with an emphasis in Family Life Education does not, of itself, qualify an individual as a Certified Family Life Educator (CFLE) through NCFR, the courses offered meet all of the requirements to apply for the CFLE. Application must be made directly to NCFR, documenting that approved courses have been successfully completed in each of the 10 NCFR content areas, and that a practicum has also been completed. The NCFR content areas, and corresponding program course acronyms are:

DSRE 680 - Field Practicum: _____ (3 credits)

Youth and Young Adult Ministry MAYYAM

MA in Youth & Young Adult Ministry offers the following concentration:
Campus Chaplaincy (See concentration requirements below)

MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry

David Sedlacek, Director

The MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry (MAYYAM) provides study in theology, church history, world mission, and the specialized field of youth and young adult ministry. The graduate of the MAYYAM will be competent to serve in a variety of vocations such as youth pastor, university/college/academy chaplain, dormitory dean, local church youth leader, conference youth director, and guidance counselor.

Program Outcomes

- Christian Apologist - Articulates effectively a theology and philosophy of youth ministry.
- Pastor-Teacher - Uses appropriate methodologies to disciple youth and young adults.
- Servant Leader - Understands youth and young adult culture relevant to its application in the biblical discipleship process.
- Maturing Christian - Engages consistently in biblical devotional habits to be open to the transforming work of the Holy Spirit in his or her life.
- Youth and Young Adult Specialist:
 - Develops youth ministry for the broader church.
 - Advocates for youth and young adults and for effective ministry to them.

Students who seek to serve in general pastoral or church leadership positions should consider, as an alternative, the Master of Divinity program as stipulated by North American Division policy (L 05 05 and L 05 15).

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry program should read the general admission requirements of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary. Applicants to the MAYYAM program must also meet the qualifications listed below:

- Hold a baccalaureate degree
- Have a minimum GPA of 2.5
- Represent high moral integrity with a character, lifestyle, and spiritual commitment reflective of the beliefs and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and show promise of usefulness for ministry through personal maturity and adequate experience in the Church. (Persons of other faiths who are willing to live in harmony with these standards are welcome to apply.)
- Submit an autobiographical history and statement of purpose reflecting the applicant's family, religious development, sense of calling to ministry, experience in church work, and future goals in relationship to the MAYYAM program.
- Interview with a representative of the MAYYAM program, if required, either by personal contact, telephone, or e-mail.
- Pass the Biblical Literacy Entrance Test with a score of 80% or take the course GSEM 525 and pass with a grade of C+ or better.
- Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.

Graduates of the MAYYAM program receive calls for ministry. However, completion of the program does not guarantee employment in Adventist ministry or any other church employment.

English Language Requirement

For those applicants whose native language is not English, the following is required:

- MELAB - score of 81 (must achieve a passing score on each section: written, verbal and comprehension) or
- TOEFL - score of 565 (paper based) or score of 85 (computer based with a minimum of 20 on each section: written, verbal and comprehension) and
- A personal interview with the program director or designee

Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after departmental consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional coursework in English may be required. A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Degree Requirements

The MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry degree is awarded upon successful completion of a minimum of 48 semester credits with a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or better. A minimum of 24 semester credits are to be taken at the Theological Seminary or at an authorized extension center. The course work for the MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry normally should be completed within seven years.

Additional Information

CPE Unit

In addition to completing the 48-credit professional MA YYAM with an emphasis in Campus Chaplaincy, an individual wishing to be employed as a campus chaplain should complete 1 unit of Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) - Community Based Option (8 months). In international settings where CPE units are not available, supervised internship in campus ministry must be arranged in accordance with established curricula guidelines and with qualified mentoring.

Elective Courses

Students in the MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry program can utilize their elective credits to tailor a program to their specific ministry needs. They can take up to 6 credits in DSRE 690 - Independent Study: _____.

Credit Through Learning in Professional Experience

In place of DSRE 660 - Field Practicum: Youth and Young Adult Ministry, some students may be eligible to receive up to six credits for professional experience when approved by the dean, using the following criteria:

Applicants must have completed at least 18 credits toward the MA degree with a minimum GPA of 2.50.

The applicant must submit a Professional Experience Portfolio, including (1) an up-to-date curriculum vita, (2) a description of ministerial experiences, (3) a reflection-learning paper in which the applicant analyzes his/her professional skills and ministries and demonstrates how learning based on the reflection-reaction process occurred, and (4) supporting letters from administrative and pastoral supervisors which identify and document a variety of professional experiences.

The applicant must submit the completed Professional Experience Portfolio to the program director and the Department of Discipleship and Religious Education no later than the semester prior to graduation. For details, contact the director of the MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry program.

Denominational Certification for Teaching Religion/Bible on the Secondary Level SDA Basic Certificate

The Basic Teaching Certificate for denominational certification may be issued to the candidate presenting a Verification of Eligibility form from Andrews University. The certificate is issued by the union conference where the candidate takes his/her first teaching position.

Requirements for this certificate may be completed by taking additional courses along with the MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry. More information about preparing to teach religion in Adventist schools is available from the University Certification Registrar in the School of Education.

MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry Intensive Curriculum Option

The MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry offers an intensive format for those who are unable to study in residence. It is completed over three years by attending five weeks of intensives on campus each year. The course is completed through distance learning and a field practicum.

Masters Dual Degrees

Master of Arts, Religious Education, Family Life Education Focus/Master of Social Work Dual Degree MA/MSW

Dual Degree Program Description

The Dual Degree Program in Family Life and Masters in Social Work allows the student to complete two degrees in 3 years, with a tuition reduction of 33% for the MSW credits. For seminary credits, the student may apply for the MA (Religious Education) tuition discount.

To facilitate this objective, the two programs will reduce the total number of required credits and will share a practicum and a limited number of elective courses. Specifically, the Social Work department will reduce the required number of credits from 56 to 46 by allowing students to take their required electives in the Seminary. Sixteen credits will be shared between the two programs.

The MA (Religious Education) is a 48 credit degree, but it will share 16 credits with the MSW program and accept 3 MSW credits as electives thereby reducing the MA (Religious Education) credits to 45.

Total Credits: 80

MSW Program Information

Admission Requirements

English Language Requirement

- For those applicants whose native language is not English, the following is required:
- Demonstration of English proficiency by obtaining at least a minimum score on any one of the following exams. Exam must be taken within two years prior to enrollment.
 - TOEFL ITP (paper-based) - A minimum score of 550
 - TOEFL iBT (internet-based) - 80 with a minimum of 20 on each section
 - MELAB - 80 with a minimum of 80 on each section
 - IELTS (Academic version) - 6.5
 - PTE (Academic version) - 54
 - Nelson Denny - score of 13 and
 - Personal interview with MSW program director or designee

Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after committee consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional course work in English may be required. A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Graduate Record Examination (GRE)

Students who are applying for admission to the MSW program have two options related to the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). For those students who are seeking a graduate scholarship, the GRE must be taken. The amount of a potential scholarship is related to the score achieved on the GRE as follows:

GRE Score	Scholarship
320	50% tuition reduction
310	25% tuition reduction
300	10% tuition reduction

For students who do not seek a graduate scholarship based on the GRE score, the GRE examination is not required.

Master of Divinity/Master of Arts, Communication Dual Degree MDiv/MA

Andrews University has chosen to establish a collaborative program between the Master of Divinity Program of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Communication in the College of Arts and Sciences. Students can potentially complete the two degrees in less than 3½ years; 2 years in the Theological Seminary and 1 to 1½ years in the Department of Communication. It will also prepare MDiv students for service in occupations where Communication—and in particular, media-related Communication—intersects with the pastoral mission of the church. Pastors today are challenged to minister and serve in ever-widening fields and increasingly diverse audience groups, and being able to do so effectively through a variety of mediums is becoming more important than ever before. Likewise, there are benefits to understanding the how and why of communication and what it takes to be an effective communicator on all levels outside of the pulpit. Furthermore, this collaboration allows for widened employment opportunities including television and radio, public relations, corporate communications, advertising, management, healthcare communications, and more.

General Information

Andrews University has formed a collaborative program between the Master of Divinity Program of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Visual Arts, Communication and Design in the College of Arts and Sciences. Students can potentially complete the two degrees in less than 3½ years; 2 years in the Theological Seminary and 1 to 1½ years in the Communication Program.

This dual degree program will also prepare students for service in occupations where Communication—and in particular, media-related Communication—intersects with the pastoral mission of the church. Pastors today are challenged to minister and serve in ever-widening fields and increasingly diverse audience groups, and being able to do so effectively through a variety of mediums is becoming more important than ever before. Likewise, there are benefits to understanding the how and why of communication and what it takes to be an effective communicator on all levels outside of the pulpit. Furthermore, this collaboration allows for widened employment opportunities including television and radio, public relations, corporate communications, advertising, management, healthcare communications, and more.

Since both the MA Communications and MDiv programs share certain cognate courses to achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be conferred simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree. In the event that one degree was completed prior to enrollment for the dual degree program, the cognate requirements for the other degree will be adjusted as shown below. A dual student cannot march in graduation or March-without-Completion if both halves of the dual degree are not completed.

Total Credits: 100

Credits for Each Program

MDiv: Graduation requirements consist of the satisfactory completion of 100 semester credits with an overall grade point average of 2.75 or better. 67 credits are MDiv credits, and 33 credits are Communication credits.

11 of these credits are shared between the MDiv and Communication programs:

CHMN 543 Christian Leadership in a Changing World (2 Cr) is used as a Communications core course

THST 605 Principles of Christian Ethics (3 Cr) is used as a Communications core course

6 MDiv elective credits are used for the Communications Interdisciplinary Concentration

- TOEFL Paper-based - 565
- TOEFL Internet-based - 85
- MELAB - 81
- IELTS - 6.5
- PTE - 58

Exceptions to these requirements may be granted by the Department of Visual Art, Communication and Design on an individual basis.

Program Outcomes

- To enable students to integrate both theological and communication-savvy approaches to reaching expanded audiences with increased levels of effectiveness and efficiency, thereby enhancing their usefulness as instruments of the Holy Spirit.
- To prepare students for various forms of ministry in which communication (in particular, media) skills/experience and theology are needed.
- To sensitize students to nontraditional ministry opportunities by exposing them to theoretical knowledge and practical skills that will increase their options for spreading the gospel.

Master of Divinity/Master of Science in Community and International Development MDiv/MSCID

To provide a Dual degree option for seminary students who are interested in pursuing a career in providing humanitarian or development services either as missionaries or as development practitioners.

Distinctive Features:

- Students will receive practical training in:
 - Finding Innovative approaches to improving quality of life of church and community members
 - Addressing Urban Issues that affect the church: poverty, economic crisis, unemployment, etc.
 - Assessing the needs of the community they will serve
 - Fundraising and Grant writing
 - Program Management
 - Managing Humanitarian Crisis and Programs
 - Program Design, Monitoring & Evaluations
 - Analyze, evaluate and design and execute Policy that affect constituents and local community.
 - Advocacy
 - Research (design, analysis and recommendations)

Students will receive 6 months of Field experience. This increases their job readiness and marketability. CID/Seminary based Dual degree students will have two options:

- A six-month supervised internship abroad or in a local community full time. Utilizing knowledge and skills from both degrees. This is the regular standard for the HDS degree.
- Work 6 months in the church and community selected for TFE assignment. Students will be expected to identify humanitarian needs and issues in their churches and surrounding community and provide a feasible solution.

The knowledge and skills provided will allow students to more confidently address issues in their church and community. Student will be able to use both biblical and research/professional based answers to respond to social and economic issues in their community. An understanding of the humanitarian field and its expectations will increase the legitimacy of programs they implement and chances of receiving funding.

A CID degree will allow students to be more marketable to other fields outside of the church and improve their chances for employment. CID degree holders have a wide range of potential career paths in which the spiritual and physical contributions could be greatly beneficial. These roles generally fall into the following categories (not including exclusively pastoral roles):

Practitioner: project management and implementation in the field

Policy/Advisory: research, evaluation, lessons learned and developing policy recommendations to use within the organization and to advocate outside of the organization

Advocacy & Outreach: ministry, campaigning, lobbying, fundraising, media, communications

Support: human resources, finance, logistics, IT, etc.

General Information

Andrews University has formed a collaborative program between the Master of Divinity Program of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Community and International Development Program in the College of Arts & Sciences. Students can potentially complete the two degrees in 3 years; 2 years in the Theological Seminary and 1 year in the Community and International Development Program.

The objectives of this program are to prepare students to better follow Christ's model for ministry by Equipping Pastors, Evangelists and missionaries with important tools, skills and knowledge in order to address the socio and economic needs of their churches and community.

Students who receive this degree will have a more holistic view of the Church's mission and their community. They will receive practical training in:

Finding Innovative approaches to improving quality of life of church and community members

Addressing Urban Issues that affect the church: poverty, economic crisis, unemployment, etc.

Assessing the needs of the community they will serve

Fundraising and Grant writing, Program Management

Managing Humanitarian Crisis and Programs

Program Design, Monitoring & Evaluations

Analyze, evaluate and design and execute Policy that affect constituents and local community.

Advocacy

Research (design, analysis and recommendations)

Since both the MSCID and MDiv programs share certain cognate courses to achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be conferred simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of each degree. In the event that one degree was completed prior to enrollment for the dual degree program, the cognate requirements for the other degree will be adjusted as shown below. A dual student cannot march in graduation or March-without-Completion if both halves of the dual degree are not completed.

Total Credits: 95

Graduation requirements consist of the satisfactory completion of 95 semester credits with an overall grade point average of 3.0 GPA for the MA CIDS program. and 2.75 or higher for the MDiv program. 65 credits are MDiv credits, and 30 credits are Master of Community and International Development credits.

General Information

Andrews University has formed a collaboration between the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Social Work in the College of Arts & Sciences to prepare students for service in occupations where social work and the pastoral mission of the church intersect.

The objectives of this program are to prepare students for various forms of ministry in which clinical and administrative skills in social work and theology are needed; to enable students to integrate both theological and social work knowledge, values and skills into a multifaceted approach to Christian service, thereby enhancing their usefulness as instruments of the Holy Spirit; and to sensitize students to nontraditional ministry opportunities by exposing them to theories and practice skills related to counseling approaches, person-in-environment, social and economic justice, human rights and global perspectives from a Christian worldview. The program is designed to give students an integrated approach to both theology and social work. Students can choose either a dual degree or an emphasis in either Social Work or Christian Ministry.

Since both the MSW and MDiv programs share certain cognate courses to achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be conferred simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree. In the event that one degree was completed prior to enrollment for the dual degree program, the cognate requirements for the other degree will be adjusted as shown below. A dual student cannot march in graduation or March-without-Completion if both halves of the dual degree are not completed.

Total Credits: 111

MDiv: Graduation requirements consist of the satisfactory completion of 111 semester credits with an overall grade point average of 2.75 or better. 65 credits are MDiv credits, and 46 credits are social work credits.

11.5 credits of MSW core courses replace 9 credits of equivalent MDiv core courses. In addition the 6 credits of electives for each program are merged.

- SOWK 501 Foundations of Practice I (4 credits) replaces DSRE 503 Marriage, Family, and Interpersonal Relationships (2 credits)
- SOWK 510/535 Generalist Field Experience/Seminar) 2.5 credits replaces CHMN 560 Theological Field Education (2 credits)
- SOWK 601 Advanced Practice I (3 credits) replaces CHMN 555 Pastoral Counseling (2 credits)
- SOWK 515 Christian Perspectives on Professional Ethics (2 credits) replaces THST 643 Christian Professional Ethics (3 credits)

MSW: MDiv students are required to complete 46 core credit hours of the two-year regular MSW program. Due to the strict requirements of the Council on Social Work Education's accrediting mandates, these core courses must all be taught or co-taught within the department by faculty holding an MSW degree. However, these courses could be co-taught with faculty from the seminary. Occasionally, a student who has already earned a BSW from an accredited program may apply to this program. In this case, the student would be placed in the Advanced Standing program, and take either 33 credits (Advanced Standing) or 39 credits (Advanced Standing Plus). Students with an undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or higher are eligible to complete the Advanced Standing Program while those with a lower GPA must complete the Advanced Standing Plus requirements.

MDiv Degree Prerequisites

- 1 Credit of GSEM 525 - The Bible and Biblical History Credits: 0,1
- OR Biblical Literacy Exam 80% - August

Represent high moral integrity with a character, lifestyle, and spiritual commitment reflective of the beliefs and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and show promise of usefulness for Adventist ministry through personal maturity and adequate experience in the Church. (Persons of other faiths who are willing to live in harmony with these standards are welcome to apply.)

Submit an autobiographical history and a 350+ word statement of purpose reflecting the applicant's family and spiritual development, sense of calling to ministry, experience in church work, and future goals in relationship to the MDiv program. A guideline is provided in the admissions package.

If married, the spouse of the applicant is also asked to complete a statement in regard to his or her feelings and relationship to the partner's aspirations for future ministry.

Background Check. Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to undergo a criminal background check and to make the results of the check available to the Seminary. The cost of the criminal background check is the responsibility of the applicant. Details about this requirement may be obtained from the MDiv office.

An interview with a representative of the MDiv program may be required, either by personal contact, telephone, or video.

Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.

Pre-admission Conduct Disclosure Statement - Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to complete and submit to the Seminary the "Pre-Admission Conduct Disclosure Statement."

Recommendations

- Church board where the applicant is a member
- Church administrator, pastor, or elder
- General Recommendation from: College teacher or advisor, recent employer, or some other non-family member

English Language Requirements

- TOEFL Paper-based - 565
- TOEFL Internet-based - 85
- MELAB - 81
- IELTS - 6.5
- PTE - 58

Application Deadline

Given that applying and obtaining pertinent documents for admission can be a long endeavor, the student must start the application process at least 4-6 months before the the desired starting semester. See University deadlines for individual semesters here.

Master of Science in Community and International Development

Applicants to the Dual degree program must meet the following criteria, in addition to other general admission requirements of the Andrews University School of Graduate Studies & Research:

- A bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university;
- An overall undergraduate GPA of 3.00 or 3.50 in 8 or more credits of previously taken graduate courses graded A–F. Students may be admitted provisionally with a GPA of 2.6 or higher. Such students must maintain a GPA of 3.0 or higher during their first 12 graduate credits to continue in the program;
- Completed Graduate Application packet.
- Completed coursework in Accounting, Statistics and Research II. Provisional acceptance may be granted without these courses, and the student would be expected to take them during the first year of enrollment. Credits for prerequisites do not apply toward the MSCID.

The director of the program may request a personal interview or a third reference and/or other information.

Students who apply for admission to the MSCID program have two options related to the Graduate Record Exam (GRE). For those students who are seeking a graduate scholarship, the GRE must be taken. Scholarship amounts are based on the score achieved on the exam. For students who do not seek a graduate scholarship based on the GRE score, the GRE is not required.

Admissions Requirements

Master of Divinity

All MDiv applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission Requirements applicable to all graduate students and the general seminary requirements.

English Language Requirements

Students whose language of education is not English must submit one of the following tests and minimum scores:

TOEFL Paper-based - 565
 TOEFL Internet-based - 85
 MELAB - 81
 IELTS - 6.5
 PTE - 58

Hold a baccalaureate degree: A four-year degree from an accredited United States institution, or its equivalent from an institution outside the U.S. Minimum of 2.5 Undergraduate GPA

Normally hold membership in the Seventh-day Adventist Church inasmuch as the MDiv program is specifically designed for Adventist ministers and is sponsored and financed by the Adventist church.

Represent high moral integrity with a character, lifestyle, and spiritual commitment reflective of the beliefs and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and show promise of usefulness for Adventist ministry through personal maturity and adequate experience in the Church. (Persons of other faiths who are willing to live in harmony with these standards are welcome to apply.)

Submit an autobiographical history and a 350+ word statement of purpose reflecting the applicant's family and spiritual development, sense of calling to ministry, experience in church work, and future goals in relationship to the MDiv program. A guideline is provided in the admissions package.

If married, the spouse of the applicant is also asked to complete a statement in regard to his or her feelings and relationship to the partner's aspirations for future ministry.

Background Check. Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to undergo a criminal background check and to make the results of the check available to the Seminary. The cost of the criminal background check is the responsibility of the applicant. Details about this requirement may be obtained from the MDiv office.

An interview with a representative of the MDiv program may be required, either by personal contact, telephone, or video.

Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.

Pre-admission Conduct Disclosure Statement - Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to complete and submit to the Seminary the "Pre-Admission Conduct Disclosure Statement."

Recommendations

- Church board where the applicant is a member
- Church administrator, pastor, or elder
- General Recommendation from: College teacher or advisor, recent employer, or some other non-family member

Master of Social Work

Applicants for the MDiv/MSW dual degree program typically will have received a bachelor's degree (BA, BS, BSW) from a four-year college or university accredited by one of the nationally recognized accrediting agencies in the United States, or hold an equivalent educational credential from another country. Application must be made separately to both the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Social Work. Acceptance into one of the programs does not guarantee acceptance into the other. Applicants must meet the admissions requirements for each program, including all required prerequisites for each degree program.

MDiv:

Although MDiv students can transfer 11 electives into the MSW program, they can only receive a tuition reduction if they are simultaneously enrolled in the MDiv program. Students who have already completed an MDiv degree can receive the tuition reduction upon admission into the MSW program.

MSW:

1. Students must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 in social work program courses;
2. No grade of D or F (or U) may count toward the MSW degree.

English Language Requirement MDiv

For those applicants whose native language is not English, the following is required:

MELAB—score of 81 (must achieve passing score on each section) or TOEFL (paper based)—score of 565 or (iBT Internet based)—score of 85. Minimum score of 20 in each section (reading, listening, speaking, writing).
 IELTS (Academic Version)—score of 6.5
 PTE - (Academic Version)score of 58

Language proficiency must be met before enrolling full-time in regular coursework.

English Language Requirement - MSW

For those applicants whose native language is not English, the following is required:

1. Demonstration of English proficiency by obtaining at least a minimum score on any one of the following exams. Exam must be taken within two years prior to enrollment
 - TOEFL ITP (paper-based) - A Minimum score of 550
 - TOEFL iBT (internet-based) - 80 with a minimum of 20 on each section
 - MELAB - 80 with a minimum of 80 on each section
 - IELTS (Academic version) - 6.5
 - PTE (Academic version) - 54
 2. Nelson Denny - score of 13 and
 3. Personal interview with MSW program director or designee
- Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after committee consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional course work in English may be required. A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Graduate Record Examination (GRE)

Students who are applying for admission to the MSW program have two options related to the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). For those students who are seeking a graduate scholarship, the GRE must be taken. The amount of a potential scholarship is related to the score achieved on the GRE as follows:

GRE ScoreScholarship

320	50% tuition reduction
310	25% tuition reduction
300	10% tuition reduction

For students who do not seek a graduate scholarship based on the GRE score, the GRE examination is not required.

Student Handbook

The MSW Student Handbook has been designed as the social work student's aid in understanding the program requirements, Social Work Department, and relevant policies of Andrews University. Inside the handbook you will find information such as expectations of students, the MSW curriculum, departmental policies, and other relevant information.

Master of Divinty/ Master of Public Health Dual Degree MDiv/MPH

Andrews University has established a collaborative program between the Master of Divinity Program of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Public Health, Nutrition, & Wellness in the School of Health Professions. Students are able to complete two degrees in 4 years; 2 years in the Theological Seminary and 2 years in the Department of Public Health, Nutrition & Wellness. The MDiv is available on campus while the MPH courses are in an online format.

Completion of the dual degree requires strict adherence to course sequence and curriculum design as students will travel as a cohort through each program.

If in the United States, International Students need to take courses concurrently with MDiv courses to maintain their Student Visa status.

General Information

Andrews University has formed a collaborative program between the Master of Divinity Program of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Department of Public Health, Nutrition and Wellness in the School of Health Professions. Students can potentially complete the two degrees (MDiv/MPH) in 4 years or less; 2 years in the Theological Seminary and 2 years in the Department of Public Health, Nutrition and Wellness .

This dual degree is designed to prepare students for various forms of ministry in which public health skills and theology are needed. Likewise, it will also enable students to integrate both theological and public health knowledge, values and skills into a multifaceted approach to Christian service, thereby enhancing their usefulness as instruments of the Holy Spirit. Furthermore, it will sensitize students to nontraditional ministry opportunities by exposing them to theories and practice skills related to prevention, nutrition, wellness, environmental health, and health behaviors.

Since the MDiv and MPH programs share certain cognate courses to achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, The MDiv degree must be conferred simultaneously with the MPH in order to fulfill the requirements of both degrees. In the event that the MPH was completed prior to enrollment in the MDiv, the cognate requirements for the MDiv will be adjusted as shown below. A dual student cannot march in graduation or March-without-Completion if both halves of the dual degree are not completed.

Total Credits: 113

Graduation requirements consist of the satisfactory completion of 113 semester credits with an overall grade point average of 2.75 or better in the MDiv and 3.0 or better in the MPH. 71 credits are MDiv credits, and 42 credits are Master of Public Health credits. 7 of those credits are shared between the MDiv and the MPH programs:

- FDNT 520 Vegetarian Nutrition and Disease Prevention (3 Cr) replaces CHMN 567 Health Ministry (1 Cr)
- 6 credits of MDiv electives are 6 MPH concentration credits

The curriculum for the MPH is designed to help prepare students to take the Certified Health Education Specialist Exam (CHES) administered by the National Commission for Health Education Credentialing (NCHEC).

Studentes will be expected to meet the Seven Areas of Responsibility of a Health Education Specialist.

Assessing individual and community needs for health education.

Planning effective health education programs.

Implementing health education programs.

Evaluating effectiveness of health education programs.

Coordinating provision for health education services.

Acting as a resource person in health education.

Communicating health and education needs, concerns and resources.

Admissions Requirements

Master of Divinity

All MDiv applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission Requirements applicable to all graduate students and the general seminary requirements.

Hold a baccalaureate degree: A four-year degree from an accredited United States institution, or its equivalent from an institution outside the U.S.

Minimum of 2.5 Undergraduate GPA

Normally hold membership in the Seventh-day Adventist Church inasmuch as the MDiv program is specifically designed for Adventist ministers and is sponsored and financed by the Adventist church.

Represent high moral integrity with a character, lifestyle, and spiritual commitment reflective of the beliefs and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and show promise of usefulness for Adventist ministry through personal maturity and adequate experience in the

Church. (Persons of other faiths who are willing to live in harmony with these standards are welcome to apply.)

Submit an autobiographical history and a 350+ word statement of purpose reflecting the applicant's family and spiritual development, sense of calling to ministry, experience in church work, and future goals in relationship to the MDiv program. A guideline is provided in the admissions package.

If married, the spouse of the applicant is also asked to complete a statement in regard to his or her feelings and relationship to the partner's aspirations for future ministry.

Background Check. Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to undergo a criminal background check and to make the results of the check available to the Seminary. The cost of the criminal background check is the responsibility of the applicant. Details about this requirement may be obtained from the MDiv office.

An interview with a representative of the MDiv program may be required, either by personal contact, telephone, or video.

Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.

Pre-admission Conduct Disclosure Statement - Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to complete and submit to the Seminary the "Pre-Admission Conduct Disclosure Statement."

Students choosing this program would receive both a master's in Youth and Young Adult Ministry and a master's in Social Work. The objectives of this program are to equip students for various forms of ministry in which clinical and administrative skills in social work and ministry are needed; to enable students to integrate both ministry and social work knowledge, values and skills into a multifaceted approach to Christian service, thereby enhancing their usefulness as instruments of the Holy Spirit; and to sensitize them to nontraditional ministry opportunities by exposing them to theories and practice skills related to counseling approaches, person-in-environment, social and economic justice, human rights and global perspectives from a Christian worldview. The program is designed to give students both master's degrees within three years. The details of the program are as follows:

- The dual degree will consist of 78 credits.
- The student will need to be accepted into both programs.
- There will be shared electives between the two programs:
 - Eight credits for the MA in Youth & Young Adult Ministry; and
 - Ten credits for the Master of Social Work.
- Fieldwork will also be a shared experience, being cross-listed as SOWK 535 - Generalist Field Experience and DSRE 660 - Field Practicum: Youth and Young Adult Ministry. Four credit hours will be required for a total of 400 clock hours of field during this course. A total of nine credit hours or 900 clock hours will be required for the program.
- One course will be cross-listed and be taken in the Department of Social Work:
 - SOWK 501 - Foundations of Practice I will fulfill the requirements for DSRE 503 - Marriage, Family, and Interpersonal Relationships.
- GSEM 525 - The Bible and Biblical History will be considered a prerequisite course. If the student passes the Biblical Literacy Exam, that will satisfy the prerequisite. If the student does not pass the exam, they will need to take the one-credit GSEM 525 in addition to the 78 credits for the dual degree.
- Since both, the MSW and MAYYAM programs, reduce the total credits in order to reduce costs and achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be received simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree.

MAYYAM/MSW with Campus Chaplaincy Emphasis
For those pursuing the MAYYAM/MSW with an emphasis in Campus Chaplaincy, please note the following differences:

- The following course is not required for those pursuing the Campus Chaplaincy Emphasis:
 - DSRE 656 - Counseling Youth and Young Adults Credits: 2,3
- The following courses are required for those pursuing the Campus Chaplaincy Emphasis:
 - DSRE 636 - Seminar in Youth Ministry Credits: 2,3
 - * In either DSRE564 or DSRE636, the student registers for a third credit requiring completion of a research/action research project
 - DSRE 664 - Advanced Campus Ministry Credits: 3
 - DSRE 669 - Reaching the Secular Mind Credits: 2,3

Master of Youth & Young Adult Ministry/Masters of Science in Community & International Development Dual Degree MAYYAM/MSCID

Dual Degree Program Description

The Dual Degree Program in Community and International Development (CIDP) and Youth and Young Adult Ministry (MAYYAM) allows students to complete two degrees in three years. To facilitate this objective, the two programs will reduce the total number of required credits and will share a practicum and a limited number of elective courses. This amounts to a total of 69 credits to fulfill the Dual Degree.

The MAYYAM program is a 48-credit degree but it will share (use) six elective credits with the CIDP program thereby reducing MAYYAM credits to 42. The CIDP program will reduce the required number of credits from 39 to 30 by removing the concentration requirement. In addition, up to two CIDP elective credits can be fulfilled through MAYYAM courses reducing the CIDP credits to 28. Finally, CIDP's 1-credit Practicum requirement will be fulfilled through MAYYAM's required practicum. Reducing the CIDP credits to 27.

Since both the CIDP and MAYYAM programs reduce the total credits in order to reduce costs and achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be received simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree.

MAYYAM Denominational Certification

The Basic Teaching Certificate for denominational certification may be issued to the candidate presenting a Verification of Eligibility form from Andrews University. The certificate is issued by the union conference where the candidate takes his/her first teaching position.

Requirements for this certificate may be completed by taking additional courses along with the MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry. More information about preparing to teach religion in Adventist schools is available from the University Certification Registrar in the School of Education.

MAYYAM Graduation Requirements

The MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry degree is awarded upon successful completion of a minimum of 48 semester credits with a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or better. A minimum of 24 semester credits are to be taken at the Theological Seminary or at an authorized extension center. The course work for the MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry normally should be completed within seven years.

MAYYAM Additional Information

Transfer Credits

A maximum of 24 transfer graduate credits, when applicable, may be accepted from approved seminaries or universities upon approval of the dean. Credits approved under the Credit Through Learning in Professional Experience provision (see below) are considered part of the maximum of 24 transfer credits.

CIDP Admission Requirements

Acceptance Criteria

Applicants to the regular two-year standing program must meet the following criteria, in addition to other general admission requirements of the Andrews University School of Graduate Studies & Research.

A bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university.

- An overall undergraduate GPA of 3.00 or 3.50 in 8 or more credits of previously taken graduate courses graded A-F. Students may be admitted provisionally with a GPA of 2.6 or higher. Such students must maintain a GPA of 3.0 or higher during their first 12 graduate credits to continue in the program;
- Completed Graduate Application packet.
- Completed coursework in Accounting, Statistics and Research II. Provisional acceptance may be granted without these courses, and the student would be expected to take them during the first year of enrollment.
- Credits for prerequisites do not apply toward the MSCID.

The director of the program may request a personal interview or a third reference and/or other information.

GRE

Students who apply for admission to the MSCID program have two options related to the Graduate Record Exam (GRE). For those students who are seeking a graduate scholarship, the GRE must be taken. Scholarship amounts are based on the score achieved on the exam. For students who do not seek a graduate scholarship based on the GRE score, the GRE is not required.

Language Requirements

A reading knowledge of a foreign language is strongly recommended for those planning on graduate work.

CIDP Additional Information

Assistantships

Students have the opportunity to apply for graduate assistantships - administrative, teaching or research.

Post-Masters

Biblical and Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology PhD

Randall W. Younker, Director

The Doctor of Philosophy in Biblical and Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology is an academic program that prepares students for teaching positions and/or research in institutions of higher education.

Program Outcomes

- Knows the history, methods and theories of archaeology.
- Knows the material culture and history of the Biblical and ancient Near Eastern and Mediterranean world.
- Applies knowledge of the material remains to an understanding of Biblical and ancient Near Eastern contexts.
- Demonstrates the skills to conduct all phases of field work, including follow-up analyses and presentation and publication of findings.

Areas of Concentration

When students apply to this PhD program they may select one of two areas of concentration: Biblical Archaeology or Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology. The areas of specialized study for these concentrations are listed below:

Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology

- ANE History
- ANE Archaeology
- ANE Languages
- Fieldwork, Method and Theory

Biblical Archaeology

- Biblical History
- Biblical Archaeology
- ANE Languages
- Fieldwork, Method and Theory

Each area of study is to be supplemented with one of the cognate areas listed below.

- Old Testament

New Testament
Church History
Theology and Christian Philosophy
World Mission
Biblical Archaeology (if the major concentration is Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology)
Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology (if the major concentration is Biblical Archaeology)
Ancient Near Eastern Languages

Admission Requirements

All applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission requirements. Admission to the PhD in Biblical and Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology program is granted to applicants who

- Hold an MA (or its equivalent) from an accredited institution in an appropriate field (Ancient Near Eastern history and/or archaeology, biblical history, anthropology).
- Show high promise of future usefulness to church and/or society.
- Read proficiently required ancient and modern languages as noted in the Language Requirements below.
- Minimum GRE score of 288.
- Demonstrate the ability to handle doctoral-level work in English according to the following guidelines:

Applicants for whom English is not a primary language of communication are required to take the TOEFL exam and must achieve the entry level score of 90 for iBT TOEFL exam (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL exam score of 575) for regular admission to the PhD program.

Applicants who have received a bachelor's or higher degree in the past 5 years from an institution where English is the medium of instruction are exempt from the requirement to take the TOEFL exam.

All international students applying to the PhD programs are required to have a language evaluation interview with the program director whether or not they are required to take the TOEFL exam. The content of this interview may include reading and listening comprehension components and writing and speaking components. The interview can be in person or via Skype if the applicant is not in the Berrien Springs area. A proctor will be involved in any reading and writing components of the interview.

Based on the results of the language evaluation interview the applicant may be required to take ESL courses to enhance their English language ability in one or more of the areas covered in the interview (reading, listening, speaking, writing).

For an iBT TOEFL score between 80 and 89 (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL score between 550 and 574), the applicant is eligible to enter the Seminary ESL Bridge program in which the student takes two courses with ESL and one 3 credit course in the PhD program. This is counted as full time student status.

For iBT TOEFL scores below 80 (550 for ITP TOEFL) the applicant is ineligible for the Seminary ESL Bridge program.

For further details regarding the Bridge program and its policies see the ESL website.

- Have 15 prerequisite credits in the chosen area of concentration.
- Have a graduate course in Research Methods (e.g. ANEA 640 - Research, Method and Theory in Archaeology)

Admission to Advanced Standing. Advanced standing for the PhD in Biblical and Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology program may be granted for students who have post-MA or post-MDiv work in an approved institution if the work is appropriate to the program, carries grades of B or above, and was taken within six years of each student's first enrollment in the program. Credits earned towards the MA and MDiv degrees are not considered for advanced standing. The director of the program determines the appropriateness and relevance of the work considered for advanced standing and authorizes such standing. The minimum residence requirement cannot be reduced.

Time to Apply. Students who desire to enter the program in the fall semester (the normal entry point) must submit all application materials to the Office of Graduate Admissions, usually by January 15. Some students may be allowed to enter the program in the summer, in which case the application materials must be at the Office of Graduate Admissions by November 30. The number of students who may enter the program in any given year is limited. Rarely is one accepted who applies late. Students whose applications are late may request consideration for admission in the following year.

Items to Submit. In addition to submitting the items required of all graduate students, applicants to the program must also submit
A 600-word personal statement including their philosophical perspective and the relationship of their values to their responsibilities as a teacher-scholar and leader; an indication of what they hope to accomplish professionally in the future, and a topic for the dissertation if one has already been selected.

A significant research paper (term paper or thesis). This paper should show the applicant's ability to carry out research and to present the results and conclusions of such work with correct English and acceptable style. The topic of this paper should coincide with the area of concentration.

Core Language Requirements. Applicants must demonstrate proficiency in specified ancient and modern foreign languages either by passing language proficiency examinations or by taking specified graduate-level language courses and earning a grade of B or above. The foreign language requirements are listed below.

Biblical Archaeology. An ancient language appropriate to the student's research goals—typically Biblical Hebrew, Greek, or Latin at the Intermediate Level. Two modern languages relevant to research goals such as French, German, Italian, modern Hebrew, modern Arabic, modern Greek.

Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology. An ancient language appropriate to the student's research goals - typically Biblical Hebrew, Greek, or Latin at the Intermediate Level. Two modern languages relevant to research goals such as French, German, Italian, modern Hebrew, modern Arabic, modern Greek, or computer database skills.

Upon approval by the program committee, the Program Director may require additional ancient languages as required by the area of emphasis students choose.

Schedule of Meeting Language Proficiency Requirements. All language prerequisites should be completed before entrance. If that is not possible, students may be required to take a reduced load in order to meet these prerequisites.

Language prerequisites should be met by the end of the third consecutive semester (including summer). Students who fail to meet this schedule cannot take any further regular courses until all the language prerequisites are met.

Because of the amount of study and the length of time usually required in developing prerequisite-level skill in languages, the program committee may require applicants to clear all the language prerequisites prior to admission.

Residence and Course Requirements

In order to fulfill the requirements for the PhD degree, students must

- Complete 64 credits; at least 48 credits of formal course work in lecture, seminars, directed-study and reading courses, and 16 credits for the dissertation:

Area of Concentration 33

Biblical Archaeology Concentration-12 Credits

- Choose 4 of the Following 6 Courses (minimum of 3 credits per course)
- OTST 605 - Seminar in Old Testament History Credits: 2,3
- ANEA 613 - Paleo-Christian Archaeology Credits: 2–3
- OTST 614 - Archaeology of Palestine Credits: 2,3
- OTST 690 - Independent Study Credits: 1–3 in a Biblical Archaeology Topic
- OTST 695 - Directed Studies Credits: 3 in a Biblical Archaeology Topic
- OTST 890 - Directed Reading in History and Archaeology Studies Credits: 1–6 in Biblical Archaeology

Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology Concentration-12 Credits

- Choose 4 of the Following 6 Courses (minimum of 3 credits per course)
- ANEA 604 - History of the Ancient Near East Credits: 2,3
- ANEA 612 - Ancient Near Eastern Languages Credits: 3
- ANEA 690 - Independent Study Credits: 1–3 in an ANE Archaeology Topic
- ANEA 695 - Directed Studies Credits: 3 in an ANE Archaeology Topic
- ANEA 810 - Near Eastern Archaeology Credits: 3
- ANEA 890 - Directed Reading in History and Archaeology Studies Credits: 1–6 in an ANE Archaeology Topic

Required for Both Concentrations-12 Credits of Fieldwork

- ANEA 630 - Archaeological Field Work Credits: 1–8

Additional Courses-9 Credits

Choose 9 credits appropriate to the archaeological concentration selected in consultation with your advisor

Area of Cognate 9

Choose 9 credits from your cognate area in consultation with your advisor and/or the relevant department.

Additional Required Courses 6

GSEM 854 - PhD-ThD Dissertation Proposal Seminar Credits: 3

DSRE 860 - Teaching Religion in College Credits: 3

(Students with recognized teaching experience at the college/graduate level may substitute a course in either the emphasis or cognate area for DSRE 860 - Teaching Religion in College.)

Dissertation 16

GSEM 995 - PhD-ThD Dissertation Credits: 1–12 (must take 16 credits)

Additional Information:

Take all course work at the Seminary on the 600-, 800-, and 900-levels; some non-seminary graduate courses may be approved by the student's doctoral committee in consultation with the director of the program.

Take a minimum of 24 credits on the 800- and 900-levels.

Take at least two semesters of formal full-time study consecutively and in residence, registering each semester for no fewer than 8 credits. At least 33 credits (of the minimum 48) must be taken in residence (residence includes field work if taken from Andrews University).

Attend doctoral colloquia, Horn Archaeology Lecture Series, worships and assemblies.

Achieve grades of B (3.00) or better and/or S. Only such grades are counted toward the degree requirements. No more than 15 credits in courses with an S grade may be applied to the program requirements. If students fall below this minimum GPA, they are placed on probation and can regain regular standing only after having again reached the B (3.00) level. The matriculation of students with grades below B may be terminated after review by the program committee. Students who accumulate more than three grades of C or below (2.00 or below) are not allowed to continue in the doctoral program.

Full Course Load. The full-time load for regular course work is 8 to 12 credits per semester. Students with full-sponsorship are expected to take a full load of 12 credits per semester. On-campus students who are registered for GSEM 880, GSEM 888 (non-credit courses) are counted as full-time students. Students who register for GSEM 995 are also counted as full-time students if the work is done on campus and they register for 16 credits in a maximum of six semesters.

Time Limits. Students are required to finish all regular course work and take the comprehensive exams within five years of the initial registration in the program, and to complete all degree requirements within ten years of initial registration. Also, students must complete the dissertation including a formal defense and subsequent revisions in five years or less from the time the comprehensive examinations are passed. The two five-year time limits apply independently, so that shortening one does not lengthen the other.

Dissertation Advisory Committee

By the time that students register for GSEM 854 - PhD-ThD Dissertation Proposal Seminar, they, in consultation with the program director, should select a tentative dissertation topic and a dissertation advisory committee. The program director appoints as the chair of each student dissertation advisory committee, a faculty member in agreement with the tentative topic. During the same semester, students and their committee chairs should select two additional faculty members to complete the student dissertation advisory committee, so that, where possible, all three members may contribute to the development of the dissertation proposal. All three members of each student dissertation advisory committee must approve the proposal before it is presented to the program committee.

At least six weeks before the time of the dissertation defense, the program director, in consultation with the dean of the Seminary, appoints two additional members to the dissertation committee. One of these persons, the external examiner, is normally a scholar from another graduate institution.

Comprehensive Examinations

Students are required to pass four comprehensive examinations within a three-week period scheduled by the program office. Three of these examinations are set in the principal area of study and one in the cognate area. At least two of these examinations must be in the regular written format, each lasting between four and six hours, up to two of the four examinations may be given in the oral and/or take-home formats at the discretion of the examiner.

The course requirements of 48 credits must be completed before students can take comprehensive examinations.

The comprehensive examinations determine students' proficiencies in the major area of emphasis and in the cognate area of study, familiarity with pertinent literature, and skills in criticism and analysis.

Students' applications to take the comprehensive examinations are also an application for advancement to candidacy, which is granted subject to passing all comprehensive examinations.

Dissertation Proposal

The student may prepare his/her dissertation proposal by taking GSEM 854 or by taking up to 3 dissertation credits during the coursework phase. In the case of the first option, the 3 credits of GSEM 854 count toward dissertation credits. The proposal must contain a basic survey of pertinent literature, a clear statement of the problem, a succinct purpose statement, a description of the methodology to be employed, a list of tentative chapter and subsection titles, and a preliminary bibliography.

If the dissertation proposal has not been approved by the PhD/ThD Committee by the time comprehensive examinations have been passed the student registers for GSEM 844 (non-credit) until the proposal is approved.

Dissertation

After the dissertation proposal is approved and the student has passed the comprehensive examinations, he/she registers for GSEM 995 for 1–16 dissertation credits (1-13 credits if GSEM 854 is taken) for up to six semesters. If the dissertation is not completed after all 16 dissertation credits have been taken, the candidate must register for GSEM 888 every semester, and pay a continuation fee until the dissertation is completed and the defense held, or until the time limit has expired.

The dissertation prepared by the PhD candidate must

- Make an original contribution to scholarship,
- Demonstrate the candidate's competence to do independent research,
- Reveal the candidate's familiarity with and proficiency in handling the pertinent literature, and
- Present a logically organized, methodologically sound, and readable account of the investigation, findings, conclusions and implications of the study.

The chair of each student dissertation advisory committee guides students in the research in consultation with other members of the committee. As a rule, a calendar year or more is needed for dissertation preparation.

The dissertation is normally written in BASOR style and is typically between 250 and 300 pages in length.

Once the dissertation is completed and approved by each student dissertation advisory committee, a date is set for an oral defense.

Consult the doctoral student handbook for more details regarding the various steps to be taken by students during this program.

Ministry DMin

Kleber Gonçalves, Director

Purpose

Prompted by the promise of Christ's soon return, the Doctor of Ministry program at Andrews University is designed to develop spiritually mature and responsible professionals in ministry for worldwide church leadership.

Program Description

The Doctor of Ministry program offers a professional doctoral degree for people who seek advanced competencies in ministry. The program enables people to grow in these areas within the framework of a biblical model of leadership. The program is normally offered to professionals who are in active ministry.

Course modules include intensives at various North American and international sites. Concentrations are offered in Chaplaincy, Discipleship (English/Spanish), Family Ministry, Global Mission Leadership, Intergenerational Church, Leadership (English/Spanish), Leading Growth and Church Multiplication, Millennial Church, Missional Church, Multiethnic/Multicultural Mission and Ministry, Organizational Leadership, Preaching, and Urban Ministry.

Doctor of Ministry modules, including the intensive sessions, are taught by faculty teams of seminary professors with appropriate academic expertise and professionals from the field with experience in evangelism, ministry, and mission. Teaching methodology combines appropriate methods and technology with collegial dialogue to encourage a creative learning environment. Faculty aim to facilitate balanced spiritual, professional, and theological formation that affects the individual, the family, and the ministry group. Participants develop a deeper personal experience, which leads to a strengthening of their family life as well as a greater commitment to ministry. They learn to evaluate ministerial practices through theological reflection, which helps them establish a biblical model of servant leadership. Graduates from the program will be able to use appropriate tools to analyze the needs of their churches and communities and develop and implement appropriate and effective ministries.

Program Learning Outcomes and Educational Objectives

The Doctor of Ministry program seeks to develop the person, knowledge, and practice of its students. While the program is structured around certain areas of concentration, there are learning outcomes and educational objectives we expect for all students.

DMin Program Learning Outcomes

- Critically reflect on, articulate, and apply biblically based principles and values for excellence in mission and ministry.
- Conduct research and implement an intervention in response to ministry challenges and trends in a global context, related to the primary field of service.
- Integrate knowledge and skills acquired into an effective ministry practice and evaluate the resultant impact on one's personal experience and ministry.

Primary Educational Objectives

Being

- Seek deeper Christ-like biblical spirituality.
- Experience enrichment of personal and family life.
- Intensify commitment to ministry.
- Develop an Adventist perspective of discipleship, evangelism, mission, and ministry.

Knowing

- Acquire exceptional theoretical knowledge that contributes to advanced ministry.
- Foster a holistic view of society and its needs.
- Articulate theological and theoretical understandings that advance global ministry.
- Understand the biblical model of servant leadership.

Doing

- Enhance the ability to evaluate ministerial practices through theological reflection.
- Use appropriate tools to analyze the needs of churches and communities.
- Refine skills that facilitate more effective ministry.
- Reinforce habits of study that contribute to lifelong learning.

Admission Requirements

To be considered for admission to the Doctor of Ministry program, applicants must meet the following requirements:

- Hold the Master of Divinity degree or its equivalent.
- Have a GPA of at least 3.25.
- Demonstrate high professional and personal potential for the gospel ministry.
- Have an equivalent of at least three years of experience in ministry subsequent to the first graduate theological degree.
- Supply satisfactory recommendations.
- Submit a 1500–2500 word double-spaced paper that discusses their personal spiritual journey and sets forth their purpose for seeking the Doctor of Ministry degree. The paper should manifest theological reflection and a familiarity with current literature in pastoral ministry.

Applicants from other faiths may be accepted into the program, provided they meet admission requirements and represent high moral integrity with a character, lifestyle, and spiritual commitment reflective of the ideals of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Admission Procedure. Applicants must submit those items specified in the Graduate Academic Policies and in the Admission and Evaluation Policies for Seminary admission requirements.

Degree Requirements

In addition to the requirements listed in Academic Policies Applying to all Programs, students must fulfill the following requirements for the DMin degree:

Total Credits: 32

General Requirements - 18 Credits

- 6 Credits of GSEM 796 - DMin Project Credits: 2–6
- 8 Credits of GSEM 706 - Spiritual and Theological Foundations for Ministry Credits: 6–8
- GSEM 788 - DMin Project Continuation Credits: 0
- GSEM 789 - DMin Program Continuation Credits: 0
- GSEM 790 - DMin Project Seminar Credits: 4

Other modules - 14 Credits

- In one of the following Concentrations.
- Chaplaincy
 - Discipleship (English/Spanish)
 - Family Ministry
 - Global Mission Leadership
 - Intergenerational Church
 - Leadership (English/Spanish)
 - Leading for Growth & Church Multiplication
 - Millennial Church
 - Missional Church
 - Multiethnic/Multicultural Mission and Ministry
 - Organizational Leadership
 - Preaching
 - Urban Ministry

Additional Information:

Financial Plans

Financial plans are available to assist NAD employees, international students, cohort groups, and others. See the DMin website (<http://www.andrews.edu/sem/dmin/about/costs/>) or contact the DMin office for further information.

Modes of Delivery

In order to make the program accessible to ministry professionals, the professor contact portions of course modules are offered as intensives on-campus and at off-campus locations. For information on where courses are offered, see the Program Planner. Cohorts with less than 12 course credits delivered in residency are offered as an approved exception to the Association of Theological Schools' larger residency expectation stated in Standard E, section E.3.1.1.

Project Requirements

Students take GSEM 790 in preparation for their project. A statement explaining the philosophy of a Doctor of Ministry project, including guidelines for its development and preparation, is provided when GSEM 790 is taken. A project proposal must be submitted and accepted.

The project, which should address a problem or issue directly relevant to the ministry context of the participant, is developed and implemented in an in-ministry situation. The approach of the project is normally developmental with formative evaluation. The project should be developed in consultation with the student's adviser. Regulations governing the style and format of project documents are found in the Doctor of Ministry Writing Manual, https://www.andrews.edu/sem/dmin/project/writing_assistance/writing-manual.pdf

During the third and fourth years of the curricular program, students must register for GSEM 796. If the project is still in progress after this time, the student must register for GSEM 788 DMin Project Continuation (0 cr).

When students are unable to demonstrate adequate writing abilities they will be required to hire an editor at their expense.

Students must pass an oral project assessment designed to test the candidate's ability to integrate learning and the practice of ministry. The project assessment must be successfully completed no later than four weeks prior to graduation.

Time Limits. DMin students must complete all courses and modules and pass an oral assessment of the project within six years from the time they begin course work. In special circumstances and upon written request, an extension may be granted for one year. There is a minimum threshold of project work that must be completed before a request for an extension will be considered. A higher tuition amount will be charged per semester in an extension year; see <http://www.andrews.edu/sem/dmin/about/costs/#fees> for the current rates.

Transferred and Earned Credit Term Limits: All course credits applied towards degree requirements should be earned within 10 years of the awarding of the degree.

Project Process. For a detailed outline of the DMin project process, students should see the Guidelines for the DMin Project published on the Doctor of Ministry website, <http://www.andrews.edu/sem/dmin/project/>.

Academic Supervision. The director of the DMin program acts as curriculum supervisor. The project adviser and a second reader are chosen by the student in consultation with the project coach. Students should work closely with these persons and the DMin project coach to complete the project.

Missiology DMiss

Program Description

Bruce L. Bauer, Director

The Doctor of Missiology (DMiss) program equips practitioners, leaders, and trainers who minister in cross-cultural mission situations through focused study and research in theological and social-science fields of study. For more detailed guidelines and program structures see the DMiss Handbook. A copy may be accessed online at: www.andrews.edu/sem/dmiss/handbook

Program Design

The DMiss degree is pursued while engaged in ministry. The curriculum is cohort-based and designed to be completed in four modules. Modules will include 1) pre-session reading, field research, application activities, and online discussions with the cohort group, 2) a residential period of at least 4 weeks on the campus of Andrews University, or one of its off-campus locations, and 3) post-session projects and/or paper. Cohorts will have emphases such as world religions, urban mission, cross-cultural leadership, ministry in animistic settings, and relief, development, and social issues. All credits given will adhere strictly to the minimum total study time of 60 hours (in class and out of class) for each credit as outlined in Andrews academic policies.

Total Credits - 48

Program Requirements

Core Requirements

The DMiss program is cohort-based. Each cohort will consist of a specific course schedule during 4 annual modules. All cohort members will take the 42 credits of those specific modules and its listed courses. A dissertation of 6 credits will also be completed. Evidence of ability to read and speak in a language other than English may be required for certain concentrations or research topics.

MSSN 840 - Research Methods in Mission and Ministry Credits: 2,3

MSSN 854 - Research Design in Mission Credits: 3

MSSN 795 - Topics in _____ (Emphasis) Credits: 1–4

MSSN 805 - Current Issues in Mission Credits: 3,4

MSSN 810 - Seminar in _____ (Emphasis) Credits: 1–6

Dissertation

Dissertation Proposal

Proposals for the dissertation will be accepted following the completion of the second module. Under the guidance of the Program Director and the student's dissertation advisor, the student will write a proposal. The final proposal must be approved by the student's committee and the DMiss Program Committee.

The proposal must contain a basic survey of pertinent literature, a clear statement of the problem, a succinct purpose statement, a description of the methodology to be employed, a list of tentative chapters and subsection titles, and a preliminary bibliography. This will be submitted with the completed form found at: www.andrews.edu/sem/dmiss/dissertationmanual

Following the fourth module and the proposal approval, the student registers in MSSN 899 DMiss Dissertation for 3 credits for each of the following two semesters. If the dissertation is not completed after one year, the candidate must register for MSSN 888 (DMiss Dissertation Continuation) every semester, and pay a continuation fee until the dissertation is completed and the defense held, or until the time limit has expired.

Dissertation Preparation

The dissertation prepared by the DMiss candidate must:

- Demonstrate the candidate's competence to do independent research.

- Reveal the candidate's familiarity with and proficiency in handling the pertinent literature.

- Present a logically organized, methodologically sound, and readable account of the investigation, findings, conclusions, and implications of the study.

Oral Defense of the DMiss Dissertation

The date is set and advertised by the director of the DMiss program.

The oral defense is conducted by the dissertation defense committee and is held no later than four weeks before the degree is conferred.

To pass the oral defense, candidates must receive a vote of approval from at least three of the four examiners. The committee votes in one of the following ways:

1. Acceptance of the dissertation as presented.
2. Acceptance of the dissertation subject to minor revisions.
3. Acceptance of the dissertation subject to major revisions.
4. Rejection of the dissertation.

Normally, rejection of a dissertation terminates the student's doctoral candidacy, but the DMiss Program Committee may consider whether to allow him/her to prepare and submit another dissertation and what specific requirements would apply, including possible further course work.

After the defense

After the defense:

- The student makes all corrections.
- The deadline for dissertations to be submitted to the Dissertation Secretary with the signed approval page is no later than Wednesday, 10 days before graduation. Strict adherence to this deadline is essential or graduation is postponed. For more detailed guidelines and scheduling see the DMiss Handbook. A copy may be accessed online at: www.andrews.edu/sem/dmiss/handbook

Possible Emphases

- Ministry in Animistic Settings

- Mission Leadership

- Relief, Development, and Social Issues

- Urban Mission

- World Religions

Maintaining Academic Standing

Time Limits

Since the program is cohort-based, the student is expected to finish all modules as scheduled for the cohort. All degree requirements, including the dissertation must be finished within ten years of initial registration.

Admission Requirements

All applicants must meet the general admission requirements listed in the Graduate Programs Admission and in the Seminary Admission Requirements

(<http://bulletin.andrews.edu>). Admission to the DMiss program is granted by the DMiss Committee to applicants who:

- Hold the MDiv degree or its educational equivalent, or other advanced master's-level degrees in the related cognate discipline with a GPA of at least 3.3 on a 4-point scale.
- Have a minimum of 15 semester credits of mission-related course work.
- Pass the TOEFL test for English proficiency with a minimum TOEFL score of 85 (iBT) or 565 (paper based) if Secondary and Undergraduate schooling was not in English or if requested by the DMiss Program Committee.
- Have significant work experience (typically three years or more) in a cross-cultural ministry context.
- Show high promise of future usefulness in the mission of the church.
- Have completed GSEM620 Research Methods or equivalent.
- Have recommendations, which include at least one church leader from a cross-cultural/mission setting.

Application Process

Application for the DMiss program should be submitted at least 9 months before the start date for Module 1 of the cohort being applied for.

In addition to submitting the items required of all graduate students, applicants to the DMiss program must also submit:

- A 1000-word personal statement which includes:
 - The applicant's philosophy of mission—including religious, cultural, and ethical considerations in doing mission.
 - Personal aspirations for future ministry and how this degree program will contribute to that mission.
- A significant research paper (term paper or thesis), normally written during MA or MDiv studies. This paper should show the applicant's ability to carry out research and to present the results and conclusions of such work with correct English and acceptable style. The topic of this paper should be in an area related to mission if possible.
- Detailed description of applicant's cross-cultural ministry work experience.

Advanced Standing

The DMiss program is cohort-based. Therefore, it is expected that all students will complete all activities as a cohort. Only in cases where a student has completed extensive mission studies beyond a master's degree would an exception be considered.

Program Objectives

Purpose

The purpose of the DMiss program is to advance theologically competent mission leadership for the global church. Although graduates may be asked to teach missions, this degree is not primarily a teaching degree but a professional one. The emphasis of the degree is on knowledge, skills, and mission research, which result in practical applications for effective mission. This degree is not earned by the mere accumulation of credits. It is conferred on those who demonstrate advanced knowledge in missiological themes and the ability to integrate theology and social science research into actual mission leadership and ministry.

Program Outcomes

Graduates will (1) grow in spiritual disciplines; (2) develop theological and biblical foundations for their ministries and mission practice; (3) conduct research on mission challenges of the church which results in recommended solutions; (4) implement mission strategies which are biblically faithful and culturally appropriate; and (5) demonstrate ability to train others for cross-cultural ministry.

Religion, Adventist Studies Concentration PhD

Thomas Shepherd, Director

The Doctor of Philosophy (PhD): Religion program prepares teacher-scholars in focused theological fields of study, primarily for the Seventh-day Adventist Church in its institutions of higher learning around the world.

Areas of Specialization

- Development of Adventist lifestyle
- Development of Adventist theology
- General Adventist history

Each area of study is to be supplemented with one of the cognate areas listed below. The cognate should be taken in a department other than the one which offers the major area of study.

- Biblical Archaeology and History of Antiquity
- Christian Ministry
- Church History
- Mission
- New Testament
- Old Testament
- Religious Education
- Theology
- Area selected from approved graduate-level studies

PhD: Religion

The PhD: Religion program builds on expertise and training developed in approved master's programs. It provides individuals equipped with skills and methods appropriate to genuine scholarship to do original and responsible research, and it promotes the proficient application of sound and valid principles of biblical interpretation and historical research. It acquaints students with the Judeo-Christian heritage and the findings of various branches of biblical scholarship and communicates the religious and ethical values of that heritage as found in Scripture and as understood by conservative Christians, in general, and the Seventh-day Adventist Church, in particular.

This degree is not earned by the mere accumulation of credits. It is conferred on those who demonstrate clearly and capably, in written and oral form, mature and independent research marked by discriminating analysis, careful evaluation of evidence and theories, and sound interpretation of available data. The PhD in Religion is granted only to those who give evidence that they have attained a distinctly superior level of expertise in their principal area of study and the supplementary cognate area. One who holds a PhD in Religion will possess the following competencies:

- Faithfulness to God and Scripture within the church and the community of scholars
- Mastery of content relevant to the chosen discipline
- Advanced research and writing capability in the chosen discipline
- Ability to produce scholarly presentations and publications
- Expertise in teaching and other forms of communication

Total Credits - 64

In order to fulfill the requirements for the PhD degree, students must Register for 64 credits by completing 48 or more credits of formal course work in lecture, seminars, directed-study and reading courses, and 16 credits for the dissertation

Concentration - 33

CHIS 628 - Historical Research and Historiography Credits: 3
30 other credits in Adventist Studies

Area of Cognate - 9

Dissertation Proposal:

The student may prepare his/her dissertation proposal by taking GSEM 854 or by taking up to 3 dissertation credits during the coursework phase. In the case of the first option, the 3 credits of GSEM 854 count toward dissertation credits.

The proposal must contain a basic survey of pertinent literature, a clear statement of the problem, a succinct purpose statement, a description of the methodology to be employed, a list of tentative chapter and subsection titles, and a preliminary bibliography.

If the dissertation proposal has not been approved by the PhD/ThD Committee by the time comprehensive examinations have been passed the student registers for GSEM 888 every semester, and pay a continuation fee until the dissertation proposal is completed and the review is held.

- The student's dissertation committee is formed by a collaborative process involving the student, the department chair, the professors to serve on the committee, and the PhD director as described in the PhD/ThD student handbook.
- At the conclusion of the collaborate process the PhD/ThD committee appoints the student's dissertation committee.

Comprehensive Examinations

The comprehensive examinations determine a students proficiency in the major area of emphasis and in the cognate area of study, familiarity with pertinent literature, and skills in criticism and analysis. Students are expected to demonstrate greater proficiency in the major area of emphasis than in the cognate area. Students are required to pass five comprehensive examinations within a four week period scheduled by the PhD/ThD office. Four of these examinations are set in the principal area of study and one in the cognate area.

- All 48 credits of coursework must be completed a minimum of 6 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.
- The student's comprehensive exam schedule and all comprehensive exam contracts must be approved a minimum of 6 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.
- The student must clear all DG grades a minimum of 3 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.
- The comprehensive exams will be offered three times per year (Fall, Spring and Summer semesters).
- When the comprehensive exams have been successfully completed and the dissertation proposal has been approved by the PhD/ThD committee, the student is formally advanced to candidacy by the PhD/ThD committee.
- During semesters of preparation for comprehensive exams the student registers for:
- GSEM 880 - Preparation for PhD-ThD Comprehensive Examinations Credits: 0
- During the semester in which the student takes the Comprehensive exams the student registers for:
- GSEM 885 - PhD-ThD Comprehensive Exams

Below is a table that indicates what months the student has to accomplish the above requirements in order to take the exams at the appointed time. The PhD/ThD office will abide by these deadlines.

Table of Dates for Comprehensive Exams
	Fall Comps	Spring Comps	Summer Comps.
Complete Coursework	April	July	December
Turn in Schedule & Contracts	April	July	December
Clear DG's	June	September	March
Take Exams	October/November	January/February	July/August

*Comprehensive exams are scheduled by the PhD/ThD office. Check with the office for the starting dates for the exams.

Dissertation - 16

After the dissertation proposal is approved and the student has passed the comprehensive examinations, he/she registers for GSEM 995 for 1-16 dissertation credits (1-13 credits if GSEM 854 is taken) for up to six semesters. If the dissertation is not completed after all 16 dissertation credits have been taken, the candidate must register for GSEM 888 every semester, and pay a continuation fee until the dissertation is completed and the defense held, or until time has expired. The dissertation prepared by the student must:

- Make an original contribution to scholarship.
- Demonstrate the candidate's competence to do independent research.
- Reveal the candidate's familiarity with and proficiency in handling the pertinent literature.
- Present a logically organized, methodologically sound, and readable account of the investigation, findings, conclusions, and implications of the study.
- Not exceed 100,000 words in content and footnotes, excluding bibliography.

Oral Defense of Dissertation

The oral defense of the dissertation normally cannot be made earlier than 12 months after passing the comprehensive examinations. The date is set and advertised by the director of the PhD/ThD programs.

At least six weeks before the time of the defense, the program director, in consultation with the dean of the Seminary, appoints two additional members to the doctoral committee. One of those persons, the "external examiner", is normally a scholar from another graduate institution.

The oral defense is conducted by the dissertation defense committee and is held no later than four weeks before the degree is conferred.

- To pass the oral defense, the candidate must receive a vote of approval from at least four of the five examiners. The committee votes in one of the following ways:
- Acceptance of the dissertation as presented
 - Acceptance of the dissertation subject to minor revisions
 - Acceptance of the dissertation subject to major revisions
 - Rejection of the dissertation

Normally, rejection of a dissertation terminates the student's doctoral candidacy, but the PhD-ThD Committee may consider whether to allow him/her to prepare and submit another dissertation and what specific requirements would apply (including possible further course work and additional comprehensive examinations).

- After the defense:
- The student makes all corrections
 - The deadline for dissertations to be submitted to the Dissertation Secretary with the signed approved page is no later than Wednesday, 10 days before graduation.
- Strict adherence to this deadline is essential or graduation is postponed.

For more detailed guidelines and scheduling see the PhD/ThD student handbook. A copy by be accessed on-line at: <http://www.andrews.edu/sem/programs-degrees/phd/phd-handbook.pdf>

Maintaining Academic Standing

- Residency:
- Take at least two semesters of formal full-time study consecutively and in residence, registering each semester for no fewer than 6 credits. At least 33 credits (of the minimum 48 course work credits) must be taken in residence.
- Coursework Levels:
- Take all course work at the Seminary on the 800, & 900 levels; some non-seminary graduate courses may be approved by the student's doctoral committee in consultation with the director of the PhD/ThD program.
 - Up to 9 Transfer credits at the 600 level may be approved if the work is done at the doctoral level, the credits do not apply to another degree, and a grade of B minimum is achieved.

- Seminary Worship:
- Attend seminary worships.

- Grade Point Average:
- Achieve grades of B (3.00) or better and/or S. Only such grades are credited toward the degree requirements. No more than 15 credits in courses with an S grade may be applied to the program requirements. If the student falls below the minimum GPA of 3.0, he/she is placed on probation and can regain regular standing only after having again reached the B (3.00) level. The matriculation of a student with grades below B may be terminated after review by the PhD/ThD Committee. A student who accumulates more than three grades of C or below (2.00 or below) is not allowed to continue in the doctoral program.

- Full Course Load:
- The full-time load for regular course work is 6 to 12 credits per semester.
 - International students must take a minimum of 8 credits per semester for two semesters per year in order to be considered full time.
 - Students with full-sponsorship are expected to take a full load of 12 credits per semester. On-campus students who are registered for GSEM 880, GSEM 844, GSEM 888, GSEM 885 (non-credit courses) are counted as full-time students. Students who register for GSEM

995 are also counted as full-time students if the work is done on campus and they register for 16 credits in a maximum of six semesters.

Transfer of Credits:

Transfer of credits may be considered for students having done post-MA or post-MDiv work in an approved institution if the work is appropriate to the program, carries grades of B or above, and was taken within six years of the students' first enrollment in the PhD/ThD program. Credits earned toward the MA and MDiv degrees are not considered for transfer. The director of the PhD/ThD program determines the appropriateness, relevance, and currency of the work considered for the transfer of credits and authorizes such transfers. In no case is the minimum residence requirement reduced.

Time Limits:

The maximum time limit for completion of the PhD/ThD is ten years from first enrollment. Regular course work and the comprehensive exams must be completed within five years of first enrollment. The dissertation must be completed within five years of passing the comprehensive exams

Admission Requirements

All applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission requirements, and the Seminary Admission Requirements. Admission to the PhD: Religion program is granted by the PhD-ThD Committee to applicants who

Hold either an MDiv degree (or its equivalent), or an MA in Religion (or its equivalent) from an approved seminary or university. The applicant's transcript(s) will be reviewed by the PhD/ThD office for applicability to the program's prerequisites. Additional coursework may be required to make up deficiencies.

Show high promise of future usefulness to church and society.

Read proficiently in ancient and/or modern languages as noted in the Language Requirements.

Minimum GRE score of 288

Demonstrate the ability to handle doctoral-level work in English according to the following guidelines:

Applicants for whom English is not a primary language of communication are required to take the TOEFL exam and must achieve the entry level score of 90 for iBT TOEFL exam (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL exam score of 575) for regular admission to the PhD program.

Applicants who have received a bachelor's or higher degree in the past 5 years from an institution where English is the medium of instruction are exempt from the requirement to take the TOEFL exam.

All international students applying to the PhD programs are required to have a language evaluation interview with the program director whether or not they are required to take the TOEFL exam. The content of this interview may include reading and listening comprehension components and writing and speaking components. The interview can be in person or via Skype if the applicant is not in the Berrien Springs area. A proctor will be involved in any reading and writing components of the interview.

Based on the results of the language evaluation interview the applicant may be required to take ESL courses to enhance their English language ability in one or more of the areas covered in the interview (reading, listening, speaking, writing).

For an iBT TOEFL score between 80 and 89 (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL score between 550 and 574), the applicant is eligible to enter the Seminary ESL Bridge program in which the student takes two courses with ESL and one 3 credit course in the PhD program. This is counted as full time student status.

For iBT TOEFL scores below 80 (550 for ITP TOEFL) the applicant is ineligible for the Seminary ESL Bridge program.

For further details regarding the Bridge program and its policies see the ESL website.

Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire.

Have 15 prerequisite credits in the chosen area of concentration.

Depending upon the applicant's academic background, the PhD-ThD Committee may also require proficiency examination(s) before granting admission to the doctoral program.

Have completed GSEM 620 - Research Methods.

Time to Apply. Students who desire to enter the program in the autumn semester (the normal entry point), or, summer semester must submit all application materials to the Office of Graduate Admissions by December 15 of the preceding year. Students may also enter the program in the spring semester, in which case the application materials must all reach the Office of Graduate Admissions by June 15 of the preceding year.

The number of students who may enter the program in any given year is limited. Rarely is one accepted who applies late. Students whose applications are late may request consideration for admission in the following year.

Items to Submit. In addition to submitting the items required of all graduate students, applicants to the PhD-ThD programs must also submit

A 300-word personal statement including their philosophical perspective, the relationship of their religious concerns and ethical values to their responsibilities as a teacher-scholar and leader in the church; an indication of what they hope to accomplish professionally in the future, and a topic for the dissertation if one has already been selected.

A significant research paper (30-40 pages in length), normally written during MA or MDiv studies. The topic of this paper should coincide with the area of concentration. This paper should have the following characteristics:

A problem in the area of research is described that analyzes primary sources and engages the debate in the secondary literature

A clear thesis is stated

The case for the thesis is argued succinctly and logically, taking into account the discussion in the current secondary literature

Conclusions are presented clearly and convincingly

The paper is in good English prose without grammatical, syntactical or spelling errors.

Dual Enrollment. Dual enrollment in undergraduate or other graduate degree programs is not allowed in the PhD in Religion Program.

Language Requirements. Applicants must demonstrate proficiency in specified foreign languages either by passing language proficiency examinations or by taking specified graduate level language courses at Andrews University and earning a grade of B or above. Languages listed as Prerequisite must be passed by examination or course work before the student is accepted into Regular Status. Languages listed as Required are taken as part of the area of concentration. The language requirements are listed below.

Prerequisite: Intermediate OT Hebrew, Intermediate NT Greek, and a relevant modern language other than English (approved by the student's advisor and by the director of the PhD program).

Schedule of Meeting Language Proficiency Requirements. All language prerequisites should be completed before entrance. If that is not possible, a student may be required to take a reduced load in order to meet these prerequisites. Language prerequisites must be met by the end of the third consecutive semester in the program (including summer). Students who fail to meet this schedule take no further regular course work until all the language prerequisites are met. Because of the amount of study and the length of time usually required in developing prerequisite-level skill in languages, the PhD-ThD Committee may require applicants to clear all the language prerequisites prior to admission.

In addition to these prerequisite language requirements, students in any of the six areas may be asked to study other languages. When warranted by the student's program, a language substitution may be made with the approval of the student's advisor and the director of the PhD Program.

Program Outcomes

Articulate an integrated theology and philosophy of faithfulness to God and Scripture, objectivity in research, and integrity in relationships.

Provide evidence of a broad understanding of the content area of the chosen major discipline and competency within the area of the minor discipline.

Demonstrate ability to propose a delimited topic of original research, carry out the investigation under faculty mentorship, and produce a logical and coherent written report of the study.

Write scholarly research, make a professional presentation and submit for publication.
Display teaching ability appropriate for college and university settings.

The student's dissertation committee is formed by a collaborative process involving the student, the department chair, the professors to serve on the committee, and the PhD director as described in the PhD/ThD student handbook.

At the conclusion of the collaborate process the PhD/ThD committee appoints the student's dissertation committee.

Comprehensive Examinations

The comprehensive examinations determine a students proficiency in the major area of emphasis and in the cognate area of study, familiarity with pertinent literature, and skills in criticism and analysis. Students are expected to demonstrate greater proficiency in the major area of emphasis than in the cognate area. Students are required to pass five comprehensive examinations within a four week period scheduled by the PhD/ThD office. Four of these examinations are set in the principal area of study and one in the cognate area.

All 48 credits of coursework must be completed a minimum of 6 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.

The student's comprehensive exam schedule and all comprehensive exam contracts must be approved a minimum of 6 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.

The student must clear all DG grades a minimum of 3 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.

The comprehensive exams will be offered three times per year (Fall, Spring and Summer semesters).

When the comprehensive exams have been successfully completed and the dissertation proposal has been approved by the PhD/ThD committee, the student is formally advanced to candidacy by the PhD/ThD committee.

During semesters of preparation for comprehensive exams the student registers for:

GSEM 880 - Preparation for PhD-ThD Comprehensive Examinations Credits: 0
During the semester in which the student takes the Comprehensive exams the student registers for:

GSEM 885 - PhD-ThD Comprehensive Exams
Below is a table that indicates what months the student has to accomplish the above requirements in order to take the exams at the appointed time. The PhD/ThD office will abide by these deadlines.

Table of Dates for Comprehensive Exams
	Fall Comps	Spring Comps	Summer Comps.
Complete Coursework	April	July	December
Turn in Schedule & Contracts	April	July	December
Clear DG's	June	September	March
Take Exams	October/November	January/February	July/August

*Comprehensive exams are scheduled by the PhD/ThD office. Check with the office for the starting dates for the exams.

Dissertation - 16

After the dissertation proposal is approved and the student has passed the comprehensive examinations, he/she registers for GSEM 995 for 1-16 dissertation credits (1-13 credits if GSEM 854 is taken) for up to six semesters. If the dissertation is not completed after all 16 dissertation credits have been taken, the candidate must register for GSEM 888 every semester, and pay a continuation fee until the dissertation is completed and the defense held, or until time has expired.

The dissertation prepared by the student must:

Make an original contribution to scholarship.

Demonstrate the candidate's competence to do independent research.

Reveal the candidate's familiarity with and proficiency in handling the pertinent literature.

Present a logically organized, methodologically sound, and readable account of the investigation, findings, conclusions, and implications of the study.

Not exceed 100,000 words in content and footnotes, excluding bibliography.

Oral Defense of Dissertation

The oral defense of the dissertation normally cannot be made earlier than 12 months after passing the comprehensive examinations. The date is set and advertised by the director of the PhD/ThD programs.

At least six weeks before the time of the defense, the program director, in consultation with the dean of the Seminary, appoints two additional members to the doctoral committee. One of those persons, the "external examiner", is normally a scholar from another graduate institution.

The oral defense is conducted by the dissertation defense committee and is held no later than four weeks before the degree is conferred.

To pass the oral defense, the candidate must receive a vote of approval from at least four of the five examiners. The committee votes in one of the following ways:

Acceptance of the dissertation as presented

Acceptance of the dissertation subject to minor revisions

Acceptance of the dissertation subject to major revisions

Rejection of the dissertation

Normally, rejection of a dissertation terminates the student's doctoral candidacy, but the PhD-ThD Committee may consider whether to allow him/her to prepare and submit another dissertation and what specific requirements would apply (including possible further course work and additional comprehensive examinations).

After the defense:

The student makes all corrections

The deadline for dissertations to be submitted to the Dissertation Secretary with the signed approved page is no later than Wednesday, 10 days before graduation.

Strict adherence to this deadline is essential or graduation is postponed.

For more detailed guidelines and scheduling see the PhD/ThD student handbook. A copy by be accessed on-line at: <http://www.andrews.edu/sem/programs-degrees/phd/phd-handbook.pdf>

Maintaining Academic Standing

Residency:

Take at least two semesters of formal full-time study consecutively and in residence, registering each semester for no fewer than 6 credits. At least 33 credits (of the minimum 48 course work credits) must be taken in residence.

Coursework Levels:

Take all course work at the Seminary on the 800, & 900 levels; some non-seminary graduate courses may be approved by the student's doctoral committee in consultation with the director of the PhD/ThD program.

Up to 9 Transfer credits at the 600 level may be approved if the work is done at the doctoral level, the credits do not apply to another degree, and a grade of B minimum is achieved.

Seminary Worship:

Attend seminary worships.

Grade Point Average:

Achieve grades of B (3.00) or better and/or S. Only such grades are credited toward the degree requirements. No more than 15 credits in courses with an S grade may be applied to the program requirements. If the student falls below the minimum GPA of 3.0, he/she is placed on probation and can regain regular standing only after having again reached the B (3.00) level. The matriculation of a student with grades below B may be terminated after review by the PhD/ThD Committee. A student who accumulates more than three grades of C or below (2.00 or below) is not allowed to continue in the doctoral program.

Full Course Load:

The full-time load for regular course work is 6 to 12 credits per semester.

International students must take a minimum of 8 credits per semester for two semesters per year in order to be considered full time.

Students with full-sponsorship are expected to take a full load of 12 credits per semester. On-campus students who are registered for GSEM 880, GSEM 844, GSEM 888, GSEM 885 (non-credit courses) are counted as full-time students. Students who register for GSEM 995 are also counted as full-time students if the work is done on campus and they register for 16 credits in a maximum of six semesters.

Transfer of Credits:

Transfer of credits may be considered for students having done post-MA or post-MDiv work in an approved institution if the work is appropriate to the program, carries grades of B or above, and was taken within six years of the students' first enrollment in the PhD/ThD program. Credits earned toward the MA and MDiv degrees are not considered for transfer. The director of the PhD/ThD program determines the appropriateness, relevance, and currency of the work considered for the transfer of credits and authorizes such transfers. In no case is the minimum residence requirement reduced.

Time Limits:

The maximum time limit for completion of the PhD/ThD is ten years from first enrollment. Regular course work and the comprehensive exams must be completed within five years of first enrollment. The dissertation must be completed within five years of passing the comprehensive exams

Admission Requirements

All applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission requirements, and the Seminary Admission Requirements. Admission to the PhD: Religion program is granted by the PhD-ThD Committee to applicants who

Hold either an MDiv degree (or its equivalent), or an MA in Religion (or its equivalent) from an approved seminary or university. The applicant's transcript(s) will be reviewed by the PhD/ThD office for applicability to the program's prerequisites. Additional coursework may be required to make up deficiencies.

Show high promise of future usefulness to church and society.

Read proficiently in ancient and/or modern languages as noted in the Language Requirements.

Minimum GRE score of 288.

Demonstrate the ability to handle doctoral-level work in English, according to the following guidelines:

Applicants for whom English is not a primary language of communication are required to take the TOEFL exam and must achieve the entry level score of 90 for iBT TOEFL exam (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL exam score of 575) for regular admission to the PhD program.

Applicants who have received a bachelor's or higher degree in the past 5 years from an institution where English is the medium of instruction are exempt from the requirement to take the TOEFL exam.

All international students applying to the PhD programs are required to have a language evaluation interview with the program director whether or not they are required to take the TOEFL exam. The content of this interview may include reading and listening comprehension components and writing and speaking components. The interview can be in person or via Skype if the applicant is not in the Berrien Springs area. A proctor will be involved in any reading and writing components of the interview.

Based on the results of the language evaluation interview the applicant may be required to take ESL courses to enhance their English language ability in one or more of the areas covered in the interview (reading, listening, speaking, writing).

For an iBT TOEFL score between 80 and 89 (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL score between 550 and 574), the applicant is eligible to enter the Seminary ESL Bridge program in which the student takes two courses with ESL and one 3 credit course in the PhD program. This is counted as full time student status.

For iBT TOEFL scores below 80 (550 for ITP TOEFL) the applicant is ineligible for the Seminary ESL Bridge program.

For further details regarding the Bridge program and its policies see the ESL website.

Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire.

Have 15 prerequisite credits in the chosen area of concentration.

Depending upon the applicant's academic background, the PhD-ThD Committee may also require proficiency examination(s) before granting admission to the doctoral program.

Have completed GSEM 620 - Research Methods.

Time to Apply. Students who desire to enter the program in the autumn semester (the normal entry point), or, summer semester must submit all application materials to the Office of Graduate Admissions by December 15 of the preceding year. Students may also enter the program in the spring semester, in which case the application materials must all reach the Office of Graduate Admissions by June 15 of the preceding year.

The number of students who may enter the program in any given year is limited. Rarely is one accepted who applies late. Students whose applications are late may request consideration for admission in the following year.

Items to Submit. In addition to submitting the items required of all graduate students, applicants to the PhD-ThD programs must also submit

A 300-word personal statement including their philosophical perspective, the relationship of their religious concerns and ethical values to their responsibilities as a teacher-scholar and leader in the church; an indication of what they hope to accomplish professionally in the future, and a topic for the dissertation if one has already been selected.

A significant research paper (30-40 pages in length), normally written during MA or MDiv studies. The topic of this paper should coincide with the area of concentration. This paper should have the following characteristics:

A problem in the area of research is described that analyzes primary sources and engages the debate in the secondary literature

A clear thesis is stated

The case for the thesis is argued succinctly and logically, taking into account the discussion in the current secondary literature

Conclusions are presented clearly and convincingly

The paper is in good English prose without grammatical, syntactical or spelling errors

Dual Enrollment. Dual enrollment in undergraduate or other graduate degree programs is not allowed in the PhD in Religion Program.

Language Requirements. Applicants must demonstrate proficiency in specified foreign languages either by passing language proficiency examinations or by taking specified graduate level language courses at Andrews University and earning a grade of B or above. Languages listed as Prerequisite must be passed by examination or course work before the student is accepted into Regular Status. Prerequisite: Intermediate NT Greek, French and German.

Schedule of Meeting Language Proficiency Requirements. All language prerequisites should be completed before entrance. If that is not possible, a student may be required to take a reduced load in order to meet these prerequisites. Language prerequisites must be met by the end of the third consecutive semester in the program (including summer). Students who fail to meet this schedule take no further regular course work until all the language prerequisites are met. Because of the amount of study and the length of time usually required in developing prerequisite-level skill in languages, the PhD-ThD Committee may require applicants to clear all the language prerequisites prior to admission.

In addition to these prerequisite language requirements, students in any of the six areas may be asked to study other languages. When warranted by the student's program, a language substitution may be made with the approval of the student's advisor and the director of the PhD Program.

Program Outcomes

Articulate an integrated theology and philosophy of faithfulness to God and Scripture, objectivity in research, and integrity in relationships.

Provide evidence of a broad understanding of the content area of the chosen major discipline and competency within the area of the minor discipline.

Demonstrate ability to propose a delimited topic of original research, carry out the investigation under faculty mentorship, and produce a logical and coherent written report of the study.

Write scholarly research, make a professional presentation and submit for publication.

Display teaching ability appropriate for college and university settings.

Religion, Mission and Ministry Concentration PhD

Thomas Shepherd, Director

The Doctor of Philosophy (PhD): Religion program prepares teacher-scholars in focused theological fields of study, primarily for the Seventh-day Adventist Church in its institutions of higher learning around the world.

Areas of Specialization

PhD: Religion

The PhD: Religion program builds on expertise and training developed in approved master's programs. It provides individuals equipped with skills and methods appropriate to genuine scholarship to do original and responsible research, and it promotes the proficient application of sound and valid principles of biblical interpretation and historical research. It acquaints students with the Judeo-Christian heritage and the findings of various branches of biblical scholarship and communicates the religious and ethical values of that heritage as found in Scripture and as understood by conservative Christians, in general, and the Seventh-day Adventist Church, in particular.

This degree is not earned by the mere accumulation of credits. It is conferred on those who demonstrate clearly and capably, in written and oral form, mature and independent research marked by discriminating analysis, careful evaluation of evidence and theories, and sound interpretation of available data. The PhD in Religion is granted only to those who give evidence that they have attained a distinctly superior level of expertise in their principal area of study and the supplementary cognate area. One who holds a PhD in Religion will possess the following competencies:

- Faithfulness to God and Scripture within the church and the community of scholars
- Mastery of content relevant to the chosen discipline
- Advanced research and writing capability in the chosen discipline
- Ability to produce scholarly presentations and publications
- Expertise in teaching and other forms of communication

If the dissertation proposal has not been approved by the PhD/ThD Committee by the time comprehensive examinations have been passed the student registers for GSEM 888 every semester, and pay a continuation fee until the dissertation proposal is completed and the review is held.

- The student's dissertation committee is formed by a collaborative process involving the student, the department chair, the professors to serve on the committee, and the PhD director as described in the PhD/ThD student handbook.
- At the conclusion of the collaborate process the PhD/ThD committee appoints the student's dissertation committee.

Comprehensive Examinations

- The comprehensive examinations determine a students proficiency in the major area of emphasis and in the cognate area of study, familiarity with pertinent literature, and skills in criticism and analysis. Students are expected to demonstrate greater proficiency in the major area of emphasis than in the cognate area. Students are required to pass five comprehensive examinations within a four week period scheduled by the PhD/ThD office. Four of these examinations are set in the principal area of study and one in the cognate area.
- All 48 credits of coursework must be completed a minimum of 6 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.
 - The student's comprehensive exam schedule and all comprehensive exam contracts must be approved a minimum of 6 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.
 - The student must clear all DG grades a minimum of 3 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.
 - The comprehensive exams will be offered three times per year (Fall, Spring and Summer semesters).
 - When the comprehensive exams have been successfully completed and the dissertation proposal has been approved by the PhD/ThD committee, the student is formally advanced to candidacy by the PhD/ThD committee.
 - During semesters of preparation for comprehensive exams the student registers for:
 - GSEM 880 - Preparation for PhD-ThD Comprehensive Examinations Credits: 0
During the semester in which the student takes the Comprehensive exams the student registers for:
 - GSEM 885 - PhD-ThD Comprehensive Exams
Below is a table that indicates what months the student has to accomplish the above requirements in order to take the exams at the appointed time. The PhD/ThD office will abide by these deadlines.

Table of Dates for Comrehensive Exams
	Fall Comps	Spring Comps	Summer Comps.
Complete Coursework	April	July	December
Turn in Schedule & Contracts	April	July	December
Clear DG's	June	September	March
Take Exams	October/November	January/February	July/August

*Comprehensive exams are scheduled by the PhD/ThD office. Check with the office for the starting dates for the exams.

Dissertation - 16

After the dissertation proposal is approved and the student has passed the comprehensive examinations, he/she registers for GSEM 995 for 1-16 dissertation credits (1-13 credits if GSEM 854 is taken) for up to six semesters. If the dissertation is not completed after all 16 dissertation credits have been taken, the candidate must register for GSEM 888 every semester, and pay a continuation fee until the dissertation is completed and the defense held, or until time has expired.

- The dissertation prepared by the student must:
- Make an original contribution to scholarship.
 - Demonstrate the candidate's competence to do independent research.
 - Reveal the candidate's familiarity with and proficiency in handling the pertinent literature.
 - Present a logically organized, methodologically sound, and readable account of the investigation, findings, conclusions, and implications of the study.
 - Not exceed 100,000 words in content and footnotes, excluding bibliography.

Oral Defense of Dissertation

The oral defense of the dissertation normally cannot be made earlier than 12 months after passing the comprehensive examinations. The date is set and advertised by the director of the PhD/ThD programs.

At least six weeks before the time of the defense, the program director, in consultation with the dean of the Seminary, appoints two additional members to the doctoral committee. One of those persons, the "external examiner", is normally a scholar from another graduate institution.

The oral defense is conducted by the dissertation defense committee and is held no later than four weeks before the degree is conferred.

- To pass the oral defense, the candidate must receive a vote of approval from at least four of the five examiners. The committee votes in one of the following ways:
- Acceptance of the dissertation as presented
 - Acceptance of the dissertation subject to minor revisions
 - Acceptance of the dissertation subject to major revisions
 - Rejection of the dissertation

Normally, rejection of a dissertation terminates the student's doctoral candidacy, but the PhD-ThD Committee may consider whether to allow him/her to prepare and submit another dissertation and what specific requirements would apply (including possible further course work and additional comprehensive examinations).

- After the defense:
- The student makes all corrections
 - The deadline for dissertations to be submitted to the Dissertation Secretary with the signed approved page is no later than Wednesday, 10 days before graduation.

Strict adherence to this deadline is essential or graduation is postponed. For more detailed guidelines and scheduling see the PhD/ThD student handbook. A copy by be accessed on-line at: <http://www.andrews.edu/sem/programs-degrees/phd/phd-handbook.pdf>

Maintaining Academic Standing

- Residency:
- Take at least two semesters of formal full-time study consecutively and in residence, registering each semester for no fewer than 6 credits. At least 33 credits (of the minimum 48 course work credits) must be taken in residence.

- Coursework Levels:
- Take all course work at the Seminary on the 800, & 900 levels; some non-seminary graduate courses may be approved by the student's doctoral committee in consultation with the director of the PhD/ThD program.
 - Up to 9 Transfer credits at the 600 level may be approved if the work is done at the doctoral level, the credits do not apply to another degree, and a grade of B minimum is achieved.

- Seminary Worship:
- Attend seminary worship.

- Grade Point Average:
- Achieve grades of B (3.00) or better and/or S. Only such grades are credited toward the degree requirements. No more than 15 credits in courses with an S grade may be applied to the program requirements. If the student falls below the minimum GPA of 3.0, he/she is placed on probation and can regain regular standing only after having again reached the B (3.00) level. The matriculation of a student with grades below B may be terminated after review by the PhD/ThD Committee. A student who accumulates more than three grades of C or below (2.00 or below) is not allowed to continue in the doctoral program.

- Full Course Load:
- The full-time load for regular course work is 6 to 12 credits per semester.
 - International students must take a minimum of 8 credits per semester for two semesters per year in order to be considered full time.
 - Students with full-sponsorship are expected to take a full load of 12 credits per semester. On-campus students who are registered for GSEM 880, GSEM 844, GSEM 888, GSEM 885 (non-credit courses) are counted as full-time students. Students who register for GSEM 995 are also counted as full-time students if the work is done on campus and they register for 16 credits in a maximum of six semesters.

Transfer of Credits:

Transfer of credits may be considered for students having done post-MA or post-MDiv work in an approved institution if the work is appropriate to the program, carries grades of B or above, and was taken within six years of the students' first enrollment in the PhD/ThD program. Credits earned toward the MA and MDiv degrees are not considered for transfer. The director of the PhD/ThD program determines the appropriateness, relevance, and currency of the work considered for the transfer of credits and authorizes such transfers. In no case is the minimum residence requirement reduced.

Time Limits:

The maximum time limit for completion of the PhD/ThD is ten years from first enrollment. Regular course work and the comprehensive exams must be completed within five years of first enrollment. The dissertation must be completed within five years of passing the comprehensive exams

Admission Requirements

All applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission requirements, and the Seminary Admission requirements. Admission to the PhD/ThD program is granted by the PhD/ThD Committee to applicants who:

Hold either an MDiv degree (or its equivalent), or an MA in Religion (or its equivalent) from an approved seminary or university. The applicant's transcript(s) will be reviewed by the PhD/ThD office for applicability to the program's prerequisites. Additional coursework may be required to make up for deficiencies.

Show high promise of future usefulness to church and society.

Read proficiently in ancient and/or modern languages as noted in the Language Requirements.

Minimum GRE score of 288

Demonstrate the ability to handle doctoral-level work in English according to the following guidelines:

Applicants for whom English is not a primary language of communication are required to take the TOEFL exam and must achieve the entry level score of 90 for iBT TOEFL exam (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL exam score of 575) for regular admission to the PhD/ThD program.

Applicants who have received a bachelor's or higher degree in the past 5 years from an institution where English is the medium of instruction are exempt from the requirement to take the TOEFL exam.

All international students applying to the PhD/ThD programs are required to have a language evaluation interview with the program director whether or not they are required to take the TOEFL exam. The content of this interview may include reading and listening comprehension components and writing and speaking components. The interview can be in person or via Skype if the applicant is not in the Berrien Springs area. A proctor will be involved in any reading and writing components of the interview.

Based on the results of the language evaluation interview the applicant may be required to take ESL courses to enhance their English language ability in one or more of the areas covered in the interview (reading, listening, speaking, and/or writing).

For an iBT TOEFL score between 80 and 89 (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL score between 550 and 574), the applicant is eligible to enter the Seminary ESL Bridge program in which the student takes two courses with ESL and one 3 credit courses with ESL and one or two 3 credit courses in the PhD program. This is counted as full time student status.

For iBT TOEFL scores below 80 (550 for ITP TOEFL) the applicant is ineligible for the Seminary ESL Bridge program.

For further details regarding the Bridge program and its policies see the ESL website.

Complete and return the sixteen personality factor questionnaire.

Have 15 prerequisite credits in the chosen area of concentration.

Depending upon the applicant's academic background, the PhD/ThD committee may also require proficiency examination(s) before granting admission to the doctoral program.

Have completed GSEM 620 - Research Methods.

Time to Apply: Students who desire to enter the program in the autumn semester (the normal entry point), or Summer semester must submit all application materials to the Office of Graduate Admissions by December 15 of the proceeding year. Students may also enter the program in the spring semester, in which case the application materials must all reach the Office of Graduate Admissions by June 15 of the proceeding year.

The number of students who may enter the program in any given year is limited. Rarely is one accepted who applies late. Students whose applications are late may request consideration for admission in the following year.

Items to Submit: In addition to submitting the items required of all graduate students, applicants to the PhD/ThD programs must also submit the following:

A 300 word personal statement including their philosophical perspective, the relationship of their religious concerns and ethical values to their responsibilities as a teacher-scholar and leader in the church; an indication of what they hope to accomplish professionally in the future, and a topic for the dissertation if one has already been selected.

A significant research paper (30-40 pages in length), normally written during MA or MDiv studies. The topic of this paper should coincide with the area of concentration. This paper should have the following characteristics:

A problem in the area of research is described that analyzes primary sources and engages the debate in the secondary literature

A clear thesis is stated

The case for the thesis is argued succinctly and logically, taking into account the discussion in the current secondary literature

Conclusions are presented clearly and convincingly

The paper is in good English prose without grammatical, syntactical or spelling errors.

Dual Enrollment: Dual enrollment in undergraduate or other graduate degree programs is not allowed in the PhD/ThD Program.

Language Requirements: Applicants must demonstrate proficiency in specified foreign languages either by passing language proficiency examinations or by taking specified graduate level language courses at Andrews University and earning a grade of B or above. Languages listed as Prerequisites must be passed by examination or course work before the student is accepted into Regular Status.

Prerequisite Language Requirements include the following: Intermediate Hebrew, Intermediate New Testament Greek, German and French

Schedule of Meeting Language Proficiency Requirements: All language prerequisites should be completed before entrance. If that is not possible, a student may be required to take a reduced load in order to meet these prerequisites. Language prerequisites must be met by the end of the third consecutive semester in the program (including summer). Students who fail to meet this schedule take no further regular course work until all the language prerequisites are met. Because of the amount of study and the length of time usually required in developing prerequisite-level skill in languages, the PhD/ThD Committee may require applicants to clear all the language prerequisites prior to admission.

In addition to these prerequisite language requirements, students in any of the six areas may be asked to study other languages. When warranted by the student's program, a language substitution may be made with the approval of the student's advisor and the director of the PhD/ThD Program.

Program Outcomes

Articulate an integrated theology and philosophy of faithfulness to God and Scripture, objectivity in research, and integrity in relationships.

Provide evidence of a broad understanding of the content area of the chosen major discipline and competency within the area of the minor discipline.

Demonstrate ability to propose a delimited topic of original research, carry out the investigation under faculty mentorship, and produce a logical and coherent written report of the study.

Write scholarly research, make a professional presentation and submit for publication.

Display teaching ability appropriate for college and university settings.

Religion, Old Testament Concentration PhD

PhD: Religion

The PhD: Religion program builds on expertise and training developed in approved master's programs. It provides individuals equipped with skills and methods appropriate to genuine scholarship to do original and responsible research, and it promotes the proficient application of sound and valid principles of biblical interpretation and historical research. It acquaints students with the Judeo-Christian heritage and the findings of various branches of biblical scholarship and communicates the religious and ethical values of that heritage as found in Scripture and as understood by conservative Christians, in general, and the Seventh-day Adventist Church, in particular.

This degree is not earned by the mere accumulation of credits. It is conferred on those who demonstrate clearly and capably, in written and oral form, mature and independent research marked by discriminating analysis, careful evaluation of evidence and theories, and sound interpretation of available data. The PhD in Religion is granted only to those who give evidence that they have attained a distinctly superior level of expertise in their principal area of study and the supplementary cognate area. One who holds a PhD in Religion will possess the following competencies:

- Faithfulness to God and Scripture within the church and the community of scholars
- Mastery of content relevant to the chosen discipline
- Advanced research and writing capability in the chosen discipline
- Ability to produce scholarly presentations and publications
- Expertise in teaching and other forms of communication

Research - 3

Dissertation Proposal:

The student may prepare his/her dissertation proposal by taking GSEM 854 or by taking up to 3 dissertation credits during the coursework phase. In the case of the first option, the 3 credits of GSEM 854 count toward dissertation credits.

The proposal must contain a basic survey of pertinent literature, a clear statement of the problem, a succinct purpose statement, a description of the methodology to be employed, a list of tentative chapter and subsection titles, and a preliminary bibliography.

If the dissertation proposal has not been approved by the PhD/ThD Committee by the time comprehensive examinations have been passed the student registers for GSEM 888 every semester, and pay a continuation fee until the dissertation proposal is completed and the review is held.

The student's dissertation committee is formed by a collaborative process involving the student, the department chair, the professors to serve on the committee, and the PhD director as described in the PhD/ThD student handbook.

At the conclusion of the collaborate process the PhD/ThD committee appoints the student's dissertation committee.

Comprehensive Examinations

The comprehensive examinations determine a students proficiency in the major area of emphasis and in the cognate area of study, familiarity with pertinent literature, and skills in criticism and analysis. Students are expected to demonstrate greater proficiency in the major area of emphasis than in the cognate area. Students are required to pass five comprehensive examinations within a four week period scheduled by the PhD/ThD office. Four of these examinations are set in the principal area of study and one in the cognate area.

All 48 credits of coursework must be completed a minimum of 6 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.

The student's comprehensive exam schedule and all comprehensive exam contracts must be approved a minimum of 6 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.

The student must clear all DG grades a minimum of 3 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.

The comprehensive exams will be offered three times per year (Fall, Spring and Summer semesters).

When the comprehensive exams have been successfully completed and the dissertation proposal has been approved by the PhD/ThD committee, the student is formally advanced to candidacy by the PhD/ThD committee.

During semesters of preparation for comprehensive exams the student registers for:

GSEM 880 - Preparation for PhD-ThD Comprehensive Examinations Credits: 0

During the semester in which the student takes the Comprehensive exams the student registers for:

GSEM 885 - PhD-ThD Comprehensive Exams

Below is a table that indicates what months the student has to accomplish the above requirements in order to take the exams at the appointed time. The PhD/ThD office will abide by these deadlines.

Table of Dates for Comprehensive Exams
	Fall Comps	Spring Comps	Summer Comps.
Complete Coursework	April	July	December
Turn in Schedule & Contracts	April	July	December
Clear DG's	June	September	March
Take Exams	October/November	January/February	July/August

*Comprehensive exams are scheduled by the PhD/ThD office. Check with the office for the starting dates for the exams.

Dissertation - 16

After the dissertation proposal is approved and the student has passed the comprehensive examinations, he/she registers for GSEM 995 for 1-16 dissertation credits (1-13 credits if GSEM 854 is taken) for up to six semesters. If the dissertation is not completed after all 16 dissertation credits have been taken, the candidate must register for GSEM 888 every semester, and pay a continuation fee until the dissertation is completed and the defense held, or until time has expired.

The dissertation prepared by the student must:

- Make an original contribution to scholarship.
- Demonstrate the candidate's competence to do independent research.
- Reveal the candidate's familiarity with and proficiency in handling the pertinent literature.
- Present a logically organized, methodologically sound, and readable account of the investigation, findings, conclusions, and implications of the study.
- Not exceed 100,000 words in content and footnotes, excluding bibliography.

Oral Defense of Dissertation

The oral defense of the dissertation normally cannot be made earlier than 12 months after passing the comprehensive examinations. The date is set and advertised by the director of the PhD/ThD programs.

At least six weeks before the time of the defense, the program director, in consultation with the dean of the Seminary, appoints two additional members to the doctoral committee. One of those persons, the "external examiner", is normally a scholar from another graduate institution.

The oral defense is conducted by the dissertation defense committee and is held no later than four weeks before the degree is conferred.

To pass the oral defense, the candidate must receive a vote of approval from at least four of the five examiners. The committee votes in one of the following ways:

- Acceptance of the dissertation as presented
- Acceptance of the dissertation subject to minor revisions
- Acceptance of the dissertation subject to major revisions
- Rejection of the dissertation

Normally, rejection of a dissertation terminates the student's doctoral candidacy, but the PhD-ThD Committee may consider whether to allow him/her to prepare and submit another dissertation and what specific requirements would apply (including possible further course work and additional comprehensive examinations).

After the defense:

The student makes all corrections

The deadline for dissertations to be submitted to the Dissertation Secretary with the signed approved page is no later than Wednesday, 10 days before graduation.

Strict adherence to this deadline is essential or graduation is postponed.

For more detailed guidelines and scheduling see the PhD/ThD student handbook. A copy by be accessed on-line at: <http://www.andrews.edu/sem/programs-degrees/phd/phd-handbook.pdf>

Maintaining Academic Standing

Residency:

Take at least two semesters of formal full-time study consecutively and in residence, registering each semester for no fewer than 6 credits. At least 33 credits (of the minimum 48 course work credits) must be taken in residence.

Coursework Levels:

Take all course work at the Seminary on the 800, & 900 levels; some non-seminary graduate courses may be approved by the student's doctoral committee in consultation with the director of the PhD/ThD program.

Up to 9 Transfer credits at the 600 level may be approved if the work is done at the doctoral level, the credits do not apply to another degree, and a grade of B minimum is achieved.

Seminary Worship:

Attend seminary worships.

Grade Point Average:

Achieve grades of B (3.00) or better and/or S. Only such grades are credited toward the degree requirements. No more than 15 credits in courses with an S grade may be applied to the program requirements. If the student falls below the minimum GPA of 3.0, he/she is placed on probation and can regain regular standing only after having again reached the B (3.00) level. The matriculation of a student with grades below B may be terminated after review by the PhD/ThD Committee. A student who accumulates more than three grades of C or below (2.00 or below) is not allowed to continue in the doctoral program.

Full Course Load:

The full-time load for regular course work is 6 to 12 credits per semester. International students must take a minimum of 8 credits per semester for two semesters per year in order to be considered full time. Students with full-sponsorship are expected to take a full load of 12 credits per semester. On-campus students who are registered for GSEM 880, GSEM 844, GSEM 888, GSEM 885 (non-credit courses) are counted as full-time students. Students who register for GSEM 995 are also counted as full-time students if the work is done on campus and they register for 16 credits in a maximum of six semesters.

Transfer of Credits:

Transfer of credits may be considered for students having done post-MA or post-MDiv work in an approved institution if the work is appropriate to the program, carries grades of B or above, and was taken within six years of the students' first enrollment in the PhD/ThD program. Credits earned toward the MA and MDiv degrees are not considered for transfer. The director of the PhD/ThD program determines the appropriateness, relevance, and currency of the work considered for the transfer of credits and authorizes such transfers. In no case is the minimum residence requirement reduced.

Time Limits:

The maximum time limit for completion of the PhD/ThD is ten years from first enrollment. Regular course work and the comprehensive exams must be completed within five years of first enrollment. The dissertation must be completed within five years of passing the comprehensive exams

Admission Requirements

All applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission requirements, and the Seminary Admission requirements. Admission to the PhD/ThD program is granted by the PhD/ThD Committee to applicants who:

Hold either an MDiv degree (or its equivalent), or an MA in Religion (or its equivalent) from an approved seminary or university. The applicant's transcript(s) will be reviewed by the PhD/ThD office for applicability to the program's prerequisites. Additional coursework may be required to make up for deficiencies.

Show high promise of future usefulness to church and society.

Read proficiently in ancient and/or modern languages as noted in the Language Requirements.

Minimum GRE score of 288

Demonstrate the ability to handle doctoral-level work in English according to the following guidelines:

Applicants for whom English is not a primary language of communication are required to take the TOEFL exam and must achieve the entry level score of 90 for iBT TOEFL exam (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL exam score of 575) for regular admission to the PhD/ThD program.

Applicants who have received a bachelor's or higher degree in the past 5 years from an institution where English is the medium of instruction are exempt from the requirement to take the TOEFL exam.

All international students applying to the PhD/ThD programs are required to have a language evaluation interview with the program director whether or not they are required to take the TOEFL exam. The content of this interview may include reading and listening comprehension components and writing and speaking components. The interview can be in person or via Skype if the applicant is not in the Berrien Springs area. A proctor will be involved in any reading and writing components of the interview.

Based on the results of the language evaluation interview the applicant may be required to take ESL courses to enhance their English language ability in one or more of the areas covered in the interview (reading, listening, speaking, and/or writing).

For an iBT TOEFL score between 80 and 89 (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL score between 550 and 574), the applicant is eligible to enter the Seminary ESL Bridge program in which the student takes two courses with ESL and one 3 credit courses with ESL and one or two 3 credit courses in the PhD program. This is counted as full time student status.

For iBT TOEFL scores below 80 (550 for ITP TOEFL) the applicant is ineligible for the Seminary ESL Bridge program.

For further details regarding the Bridge program and its policies see the ESL website.

Complete and return the sixteen personality factor questionnaire.

Have 15 prerequisite credits in the chosen area of concentration.

Depending upon the applicant's academic background, the PhD/ThD committee may also require proficiency examination(s) before granting admission to the doctoral program.

Have completed GSEM 620 - Research Methods.

Time to Apply: Students who desire to enter the program in the autumn semester (the normal entry point), or Summer semester must submit all application materials to the Office of Graduate Admissions by December 15 of the proceeding year. Students may also enter the program in the spring semester, in which case the application materials must all reach the Office of Graduate Admissions by June 15 of the proceeding year.

The number of students who may enter the program in any given year is limited. Rarely is one accepted who applies late. Students whose applications are late may request consideration for admission in the following year.

Items to Submit: In addition to submitting the items required of all graduate students, applicants to the PhD/ThD programs must also submit the following:

A 300 word personal statement including their philosophical perspective, the relationship of their religious concerns and ethical values to their responsibilities as a teacher-scholar and leader in the church; an indication of what they hope to accomplish professionally in the future, and a topic for the dissertation if one has already been selected.

A significant research paper (30-40 pages in length), normally written during MA or MDiv studies. The topic of this paper should coincide with the area of concentration. This paper should have the following characteristics:

A problem in the area of research is described that analyzes primary sources and engages the debate in the secondary literature

A clear thesis is stated

The case for the thesis is argued succinctly and logically, taking into account the discussion in the current secondary literature

Conclusions are presented clearly and convincingly
The paper is in good English prose without grammatical, syntactical or spelling errors.

Dual Enrollment: Dual enrollment in undergraduate or other graduate degree programs is not allowed in the PhD/ThD Program.

Language Requirements: Applicants must demonstrate proficiency in specified foreign languages either by passing language proficiency examinations or by taking specified graduate level language courses at Andrews University and earning a grade of B or above. Languages listed as Prerequisites must be passed by examination or course work before the student is accepted into Regular Status.

Prerequisite Language Requirements include the following: Intermediate Hebrew, Intermediate New Testament Greek, German and French

Schedule of Meeting Language Proficiency Requirements: All language prerequisites should be completed before entrance. If that is not possible, a student may be required to take a reduced load in order to meet these prerequisites. Language prerequisites must be met by the end of the third consecutive semester in the program (including summer). Students who fail to meet this schedule take no further regular course work until all the language prerequisites are met. Because of the amount of study and the length of time usually required in developing prerequisite-level skill in languages, the PhD/ThD Committee may require applicants to clear all the language prerequisites prior to admission.

In addition to these prerequisite language requirements, students in any of the six areas may be asked to study other languages. When warranted by the student's program, a language substitution may be made with the approval of the student's advisor and the director of the PhD/ThD Program.

Program Outcomes

- Articulate an integrated theology and philosophy of faithfulness to God and Scripture, objectivity in research, and integrity in relationships.
- Provide evidence of a broad understanding of the content area of the chosen major discipline and competency within the area of the minor discipline.
- Demonstrate ability to propose a delimited topic of original research, carry out the investigation under faculty mentorship, and produce a logical and coherent written report of the study.
- Write scholarly research, make a professional presentation and submit for publication.
- Display teaching ability appropriate for college and university settings.

Religious Education PhD

The PhD (Religious Education) offers the following focus areas:

- Christian Formation and Discipleship
- Theological Curriculum and Instruction
- Customized

Religious Education, PhD

John V. G. Matthews, Director

The PhD (Religious Education) prepares men and women to be scholars and researchers in specialized teaching and discipling ministries of the home, the church, or the Christian college or university. All candidates further develop the core competencies of a religious educator and select an area of specialization for intense study and research, generally using research methodologies of the social sciences.

Graduates with a PhD (Religious Education) are prepared to serve in teaching and leadership of ministries focused on the family, the church, or the school/university, and to investigate contemporary religious education issues, using social sciences research methodologies.

They demonstrate competency in six major roles and a focus area:

Religious Educator Roles

A Christian Apologist who develops and articulates effectively a philosophy of religious education.

- A Pastor-Teacher* who uses and teaches appropriate methodologies for discipling across the lifespan.
- A Servant-Leader* who models the principles of servant leadership in the church, school, and broader community.
- An Evaluator/Researcher* who conducts research, and analyzes and reports findings.
- A Maturing Christian* who exhibits a growing maturity in understanding and portraying the love of Christ.
- A Lifelong Learner* who demonstrates personal and professional development.
- An Area Expert* who applies all relevant core competencies to the focus area and teaches others to do likewise.

Focus Areas

- Christian Formation and Discipleship
- Theological Curriculum and Instruction
- Customized: See Curricula Requirements for focus below

Admission Requirements are listed following the curriculum and dissertation sections.

Total Credits: 64

Degree Core - 28

Core Requirements - 28

Christian Apologist - 6 credits

- DSRE 850 - Theological Foundations of Christian Teaching Credits: 3
- GSEM 915 - Biblical and Theological Hermeneutics Credits: 3

Pastor-Teacher - 6 credits

- Electives in psychology, curriculum and instruction

Servant Leader - 3 credits

- Elective in administration or leadership

Researcher-Evaluator - 7 credits

- 1 Credit of DSRE 887 - Applied Research Credits: 1-3
- EDRM 605 - Qualitative Research Methods in Education and Psychology Credits: 3
- EDRM 712 - Applied Statistical Methods II Credits: 3

Note:

At the time of their topic approval, students must show competency in the proposed research methodologies of their dissertation research. The research project from the course DSRE 887 - Applied Research is an appropriate way to demonstrate this competency.

Other research methodologies are available to be taken within the focus area.

- EDRM 636 - Program Evaluation Credits: 3
- EDRM 704 - Design and Analysis of Educational and Psychological Surveys Credits: 3
- EDRM 713 - Applied Statistical Methods III Credits: 3
- HIST 650 - Historical Method and Research Credits: 3

Maturing Christian - 3 credits

- DSRE 830 - Advanced Fostering Spiritual Growth Credits: 3

Lifelong Scholar - 3 credits

- DSRE 878 - Advanced Scholarly and Professional Development Credits: 0
- DSRE 950 - Synthesis in Religious Education Credits: 3

Focus - 20

Focus Requirements - 20

Courses for the focus areas, and in one case, language prerequisites for a focus, are listed below:

Christian Formation and Discipleship - 20 credits

- CHIS 940 - Seminar: Credits: 3
- GDPG 616 - Psychology of Religious Experience Credits: 3
- MSSN 830 - Seminar in Strategies and Development in Mission Credits: 3

- DSRE 930 - Seminar: _____ Credits: 3 (Seminar in New Testament Spirituality)
- OTST 620 - Seminar in Old Testament Theology Credits: 2,3 (2 cr req)
- THST 814 - Seminar in Philosophy, Theology and Ethics: _____ Credits: 3
- 3 Credits of an elective (advisor consultation required)

Theological Curriculum & Instruction - 20 credits

Language Prerequisite: If the area of study requires a language, complete the course NTST 552 Intermediate Greek, OTST 552 Biblical Hebrew II or pass a qualifying examination at the intermediate level in Greek or Hebrew.

- 9 credits from one of the following areas:
 - Biblical Archeology & History of Antiquity
 - Christian Ministry
 - Church History
 - Mission
 - New Testament
 - Old Testament
 - Theology
 - Christian Philosophy
- 5 credits from Curriculum & Instruction
- 6 credits from Christian Formation & Discipleship Focus

Customized - 20 credits

Students may design an individualized course of study if three conditions are met.

- Academic area must be appropriate to Religious Education
- Graduate courses on the topic must be available at Andrews University
- Andrews University faculty with expertise in the topic must be available for advising
- 6 credits need to be taken from Christian Formation & Discipleship Focus

Options for the customized course of study may include such areas as family life education, campus spiritual leadership, education history, church music and worship, spiritual nurture of children, or spiritual nurture of youth and young adults.

Dissertation Sequence

Course Plan. Upon acceptance into the program, the student is assigned an advisor by the director of the program. Normally within the first 16 credits of study the student and advisor prepare a course plan for completing the degree requirements. This course plan must be approved by the Religious Education Office.

Comprehensive Examination. Early in their program, students should obtain a copy of the Comprehensive Examination Guidelines from the Religious Education office.

All prerequisites and regular course requirements of 48 credits or more must be completed before the student sits for the comprehensive examination. The comprehensive examination consists of five sections, one of which may be given in a takehome format, one of which is a portfolio presentation, and three of which must be written in a supervised environment. Examination dates are arranged through the administrative assistant for the Discipleship and Religious Education Department.

Formal application to take the comprehensive examination should be made by the beginning of the semester preceding the semester the student intends to take the examination.

For more detailed information regarding the comprehensive examination, see the Religious Education Doctoral Handbook.

Advancement to Candidacy. Students should apply for advancement to degree candidacy when they apply to take comprehensive examinations and after they have

- completed all prerequisites;
- removed any English language deficiency;
- completed all course requirements or are registered for them;
- removed all deferred grades, except in DSRE 878 - Advanced Scholarly and Professional Development and DSRE 950 - Synthesis in Religious Education and credits related to the dissertation sequence.

The student is advanced to degree candidacy after passing the comprehensive examination.

Dissertation Committee. Before the student registers for EDRM 880 - Dissertation Proposal Development or GSEM 854 - PhD-ThD Dissertation Proposal Seminar, the student in consultation with his/her advisor selects a tentative dissertation topic.

The program director, in consultation with the student and advisor then appoints a faculty member knowledgeable about the tentative topic to chair the student's dissertation committee. The student, the program director, and the doctoral committee chair collaborate in the selection of two other members to complete the student's dissertation committee. All three members of this dissertation committee must approve the proposal before it is presented to the Proposal Review Committee and the PhD/ThD committee. The appointment of the dissertation committee is subject to approval by the PhD/ThD committee, as are any changes to the committee.

At least six weeks before the dissertation defense, the director, in consultation with the dean of the Seminary, appoints an external examiner.

Dissertation Proposal. No later than the last semester of course work, students must submit to the PhD/ThD Committee a final proposal that is approved by their dissertation committee. Students defend their proposal before the Religious Education Doctoral Committee.

- Two types of proposals are acceptable:
 - A 10–15 page overview of the major elements of the dissertation.
 - The first three chapters in tentative form.

Either format must include a clear statement of the problem, the research question/s, a preliminary survey of relevant literature, and the research methodology.

Dissertation Preparation. The dissertation prepared by the PhD candidate must

- Make an original contribution to scholarship
- Demonstrate the candidate's competence for independent research
- Reveal the candidate's familiarity with and proficiency in handling the relevant literature
- Present a logically organized, methodologically sound, and readable account of the investigation, findings, conclusions, and implications of the study.

See the Religious Education Doctoral Handbook for more information on dissertation preparation.

Oral Defense of the Dissertation. The candidate must orally defend his/her dissertation. The defense date is set and announced by the director of the Religious Education Program at least two weeks before the defense. No defenses are scheduled during the final two weeks of a term or during the interim between semesters.

- See the Religious Education Doctoral Handbook for more information on the oral defense of the dissertation.
 - GSEM 854 - PhD-ThD Dissertation Proposal Seminar Credits: 3
 - Or
 - EDRM 880 - Dissertation Proposal Development Credits: 2
 - 13-14 Credits of: DSRE 995 - Doctoral Dissertation Credits: 1–14

Admission Requirements

In addition to meeting the general admission requirements listed in the Graduate Programs Admission section and in the Seminary Admission Requirements, applicants must:

- Hold an MA (Religious Education); an MDiv; an MA (Religion); or an MA degree in education or related area plus have 28 credits in religion (16 of which may be on the undergraduate level).
- Have 16 undergraduate or graduate credits in education or religious education.
- Prerequisites will be evaluated for a coverage and balance of different areas of theology and education.
- Show promise of future usefulness to church and society.
- Demonstrate the ability to handle doctoral-level work in English. A TOEFL score of 90 is required of all PhD (Religion) program applicants whose native language is other than English, and who have not completed a bachelors or masters degree in an English based program.

Time to Apply. While early applications are recommended, the deadlines for application to the PhD (Religious Education) program are as follows:

- For North American students: three months prior to the anticipated starting date.
- For non-North American students: six months prior to the anticipated starting date.

Items to Submit. In addition to submitting the items required of all graduate students, applicants to the PhD (Religious Education) must also submit

- A 600-word statement of purpose, which includes their mission statement, a description of the journey that created a desire to pursue doctoral studies, and a vision of the professional accomplishments they foresee.
- A 200-300 word description of their area of interest for dissertation research and an explanation of this choice.
- A significant research paper (term paper, thesis, or research report), normally written during the master's level studies. This paper should give evidence of the applicant's ability to carry out research and to present the results and conclusions of such work in standard English and in an acceptable style.

General Requirements

- All course work taken at the Seminary should be at the 600-, 800-, or 900-levels; course work taken at the School of Education should be appropriate for doctoral level study.
- At least 51% of the student's course work should be designed specifically for doctoral students.
- A minimum of 32 credits in approved on-campus doctoral course work (not including the dissertation) must be completed after acceptance into the doctoral program at Andrews University.
- Students must earn a 3.00 cumulative GPA for all course work in the degree program.
- Students must establish residency by taking a full-time load (8 credits) for two of three consecutive terms (semester or summer).
- Students must pass the comprehensive examination.
- Students must write and defend a dissertation.

Time Limits. All degree requirements must be completed within ten years of first registration for Andrews University doctoral course work. All course work and the comprehensive examination must be completed within six years of first registration. The dissertation must be completed within five years after passing the comprehensive examination. (The student who takes six years to complete course work and pass the comprehensive exam will be allowed four years to complete the dissertation.)

Full-time Status. For students who have not completed all courses for the degree, full-time status requires one of the following options:

- Registering for 8 or more credits of course work and/or internship.
- Registering for 1 or more credits of dissertation.

For students who have completed all requirements for the degree except the dissertation, full-time status requires all of the following:

- Registering for one or more credits of dissertation or dissertation continuation;
- Doing "full-time" work on the dissertation or internship as defined by at least 24 hours a week or 720 hours per year and confirmation of same by the dissertation chair.

All course work is campus-based and supported by online resources.

Bulletin Requirements. A student may choose to meet the requirements of any bulletin in force after acceptance into the doctoral program, as long as he/she maintains active status. If a break of enrollment occurs and the student is placed on inactive status, he/she must meet the requirements of a bulletin in effect after enrollment resumes.

Prerequisites. Students entering the PhD (Religious Education) program should have a foundation in research methods of education and psychology and in basic statistics as evidenced by EDRM 505 - Research Methods and EDRM 611 - Applied Statistical Methods I or their equivalents. As part of the conceptual framework for the religious education program, EDFN 500 - Philosophical Foundations for Professionals; DSRE 605 - Contemporary Topics in Religious Education and Discippling; and DSRE 541 - Foundations of Biblical Spirituality are required.

Theology ThD

Program Description

Thomas Shepherd, Director

The Doctor of Theology (ThD) program prepares teacher-scholars in interdisciplinary theological fields, primarily for the Seventh-day Adventist Church in its institutions of higher learning around the world.

The ThD program builds on expertise and training developed in approved master's programs. It provides individuals equipped with skills and methods appropriate to genuine scholarship to do original and responsible research, and it promotes the proficient application of sound and valid principles of biblical interpretation and historical research. It seeks to acquaint students with the Judeo-Christian heritage and the findings of various branches of biblical scholarship and communicates the religious and ethical values of that heritage as found in Scripture and as understood by conservative Christians, in general, and the Seventh-day Adventist Church, in particular.

This degree is not earned by the mere accumulation of credits. It is conferred on those who demonstrate clearly and capably, in written and oral form, mature and independent research marked by discriminating analysis, careful evaluation of evidence and theories, and sound interpretation of available data. The ThD is granted only to those who give evidence that they have attained a distinctly superior level of expertise in their principal area of study and the supplementary cognate area.

Degree Concentrations:

There are seven degree concentrations which include:

- Biblical Studies
- Historical/Biblical Studies
- Historical/Missiological Studies
- Missiological/Biblical Studies
- Missiological/Theological Studies
- Theological/Biblical Studies
- Theological/Historical Studies

Each field of study is to be supplemented with one of the cognate areas listed below:

- Biblical Archaeology and History of Antiquity
- Christian Ministry
- Church History
- World Mission
- New Testament
- Old Testament
- Religious Education
- Theology and Christian Philosophy
- Area selected from approved graduate-level studies

The cognate must be taken in a department other than the two departments bridged in the field of study. If the field of study does not include New Testament, Old Testament, or Theology and Christian Philosophy then the cognate must come from one of these departments.

Total Credits: 64

In order to fulfill the requirements for the ThD degree, students must: Register for 64 credits by completing 48 or more credits of formal course work in lecture, seminar, directed-study, and reading courses, and 16 credits for the dissertation.

Degree Core

Field of Study: 33

A field of study links two departments in the Seminary. Coursework is divided between the two departments with a minimum of 12 hours in any one of the two. Certain fields of study include additional languages as part of the coursework requirements set by the two departments jointly. Students who include the area of Church History in their field of study must take CHIS 628 - Historical Research and Historiography.

- GSEM 860 - Teaching Religion in College Credits: 3
- GSEM 915 - Biblical and Theological Hermeneutics Credits: 3

Concentration

There are seven unique concentrations within the Doctor of Theology degree, including;

Biblical Studies:

In this concentration you will focus on one of these areas of specialization;

- Archaeology and History

Dissertation Committee and Defense

The student's dissertation committee is formed by a collaborative process involving the student, the department chair, the professors to serve on the committee, and the PhD director as described in the PhD/ThD Student Handbook.

At the conclusion of the collaborative process the PhD/ThD committee appoints the student's dissertation committee.

Dissertation Proposal:

The student may prepare his/her dissertation proposal by taking GSEM854 PhD-ThD Dissertation Proposal Seminar or by taking up to 3 dissertation credits during the coursework phase. In the case of the first option, the 3 credits of GSEM854 count toward dissertation credits.

The proposal must contain a basic survey of pertinent literature, a clear statement of the problem, a succinct purpose statement, a description of the methodology to be employed, a list of tentative chapter and subsection titles, and a preliminary bibliography.

If the dissertation proposal has not been approved by the PhD-ThD Committee by the time comprehensive examinations have been passed the student registers for GSEM 844 - PhD-ThD Dissertation Proposal Preparation (non-credit) until the proposal is approved.

After the dissertation proposal is approved and the student has passed the comprehensive examinations, he/she registers for GSEM 995 - PhD-ThD Dissertation for 1–16 dissertation credits (1-13 credits if GSEM854 is taken) for up to six semesters. If the dissertation is not completed after all 16 dissertation credits have been taken, the candidate must register for GSEM 888 - PhD-ThD Dissertation Continuation every semester, and pay a continuation fee until the dissertation is completed and the defense held, or until the time limit has expired.

Dissertation Preparation:

The dissertation prepared by the ThD candidate must

Make an original contribution to scholarship.

Demonstrate the candidate's competence to do independent research.

Reveal the candidate's familiarity with and proficiency in handling the pertinent literature.

Present a logically organized, methodologically sound, and readable account of the investigation, findings, conclusions, and implications of the study.

Not exceed 100,000 words in content and footnotes, excluding bibliography.

Oral Defense of Dissertation:

The oral defense of the dissertation normally cannot be made earlier than 12 months after passing the comprehensive examinations. The date is set and advertised by the director of the ThD program.

At least six weeks before the time of the dissertation defense, the program director, in consultation with the dean of the Seminary, appoints two additional members to the doctoral committee. One of these persons, the "external examiner", is normally a scholar from another graduate institution.

The oral defense is conducted by the dissertation defense committee and is held no later than four weeks before the degree is conferred.

To pass the oral defense, the candidates must receive a vote of approval from at least four of the five examiners. The committee votes in one of the following ways:

Acceptance of the dissertation as presented

Acceptance of the dissertation subject to minor revisions

Acceptance of the dissertation subject to major revisions

Rejection of the dissertation.

Normally, rejection of a dissertation terminates the student's doctoral candidacy, but the PhD-ThD Committee may consider whether to allow him/her to prepare and submit another dissertation and what specific requirements would apply (including possible further course work and additional comprehensive examinations).

After the Defense:

The student makes all corrections.

The deadline for dissertations to be submitted to the Dissertation Secretary with the signed approval page is no later than Wednesday, 10 days before graduation. Strict adherence to this deadline is essential or graduation is postponed.

For more detailed guidelines and scheduling see the PhD/ThD Student Handbook. A copy may be accessed online at: www.andrews.edu/sem/programs-degrees/phd/phd-handbook.pdf.

GSEM 995 - PhD-ThD Dissertation Credits: 1–12

Additional Requirements

Coursework Levels

Take all course work at the Seminary on the 600-, 800-, and 900-levels; some non-seminary graduate courses may be approved by the student's doctoral committee in consultation with the director of the ThD Program.

Take a minimum of 24 credits on the 800- and 900-levels.

Colloquia and Seminary Worship

Attend doctoral colloquia and Seminary worships.

Residency

Take at least two semesters of formal full-time study consecutively and in residence, registering each semester for no fewer than 8 credits. At least 33 credits (of the minimum 48 coursework credits) must be taken in residence.

Comprehensive Examination

The comprehensive examinations determine a student's proficiency in the major area of emphasis and in the cognate area of study, familiarity with pertinent literature, and skills in criticism and analysis. Students are expected to demonstrate greater proficiency in the major area of emphasis than in the cognate area. Students are required to pass five comprehensive examinations within a four week period scheduled by the PhD/ThD office. Four of these examinations are set in the principal area of study and one in the cognate area.

All 48 credits of coursework must be completed a minimum of 6 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.

The student's comprehensive exam schedule and all comprehensive exam contracts must be approved a minimum of 6 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.

The student must clear all DG grades a minimum of 3 months prior to taking the comprehensive exams.

the comprehensive exams will be offered three times a year (Fall, Spring, and Summer semesters).

When the comprehensive exams have been successfully completed and the dissertation proposal has been approved by the PhD/ThD committee, the student is formally advanced to candidacy by the PhD/ThD committee.

During semesters of preparation for comprehensive exams and the semester of the exams the student registers for:

GSEM 880 - Preparation for PhD-ThD Comprehensive Examinations Credits: 0

Below is a table that indicates what months the student has to accomplish the above requirements in order to take the exams at the appointed time. The PhD/ThD office will abide by these deadlines.

Table of Dates for Comprehensive Exams
	Fall Comps.	Spring Comps.	Summer Comps.
Complete Coursework	April	July	December
Turn in Schedule & Contracts	April	July	December
Clear DG's	June	September	March
Take Exams	October/November	January/February	July/August

*Comprehensive exams are scheduled by the PhD/ThD office. Check with the office for the starting dates for the exams.

Additional Information

Full Course Load. The full-time load for regular course work is 8 to 12 credits per semester. Students with full-sponsorship are expected to take a full load of 12 credits per semester. On-campus students who are registered for GSEM 880, GSEM 844, GSEM 888 (non-credit courses) are counted as full-time students. Students who register for GSEM 995 are also counted as full-time students if the work is done on campus and they register for 16 credits in a maximum of six semesters.

Advanced Standing. Advanced standing may be considered for students having done post-MDiv work in an approved institution if the work is appropriate to the program, carries grades of B or above, and was taken within six years of the students' first enrollment in the ThD Program. Credits earned towards the MDiv degree are not considered for advanced standing. The director of the ThD Program determines the appropriateness, relevance, and currency of the work considered for advanced standing and authorizes such standing. In no case is the minimum residence requirement reduced.

Time Limits. The maximum time limit for completion of the ThD is ten years from first enrollment. Regular course work and the comprehensive exams must be completed within five years of first enrollment. The dissertation must be completed within five years of passing the comprehensive exams.

Maintaining Academic Standing

Achieve grades of B (3.00) or better and/or S. Only such grades are credited toward the degree requirements. No more than 15 credits in courses with an S grade may be applied to the program requirements. If the student falls below the minimum GPA of 3.00, he/she is placed on probation and can regain regular standing only after having again reached the B (3.00) level. The matriculation of a student with grades below B may be terminated after review by the PhD-ThD Committee. A student who accumulates more than three grades of C or below (2.00 or below) is not allowed to continue in the doctoral program.

Admission Requirements

All applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission requirements, and the Seminary Admission Requirements. Admission to the ThD program is granted by the PhD-ThD Committee to applicants who Hold an MDiv degree (or its equivalent), from an approved seminary or university. The applicant's transcript(s) will be reviewed by the PhD/ThD office for applicability to the program's prerequisites.

Additional coursework may be required to make up deficiencies.

Show high promise of future usefulness to church and society.

Read proficiently in ancient and/or modern languages as noted in the Language Requirements.

Minimum GRE score of 288

Demonstrate the ability to handle doctoral-level work in English according to the following guidelines:

Applicants for whom English is not a primary language of communication are required to take the TOEFL exam and must achieve the entry level score of 90 for iBT TOEFL exam (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL exam score of 575) for regular admission to the ThD program.

Applicants who have received a bachelor's or higher degree in the past 5 years from an institution where English is the medium of instruction are exempt from the requirement to take the TOEFL exam.

All international students applying to the ThD programs are required to have a language evaluation interview with the program director whether or not they are required to take the TOEFL exam. The content of this interview may include reading and listening comprehension components and writing and speaking components. The interview can be in person or via Skype if the applicant is not in the Berrien Springs area. A proctor will be involved in any reading and writing components of the interview.

Based on the results of the language evaluation interview the applicant may be required to take ESL courses to enhance their English language ability in one or more of the areas covered in the interview (reading, listening, speaking, writing).

For an iBT TOEFL score between 80 and 89 (equivalent to a paper based ITP TOEFL score between 550 and 574), the applicant is eligible to enter the Seminary ESL Bridge program in which the student takes two courses with ESL and one or two 3 credit courses in the ThD program. This is counted as full time student status.

For iBT TOEFL scores below 80 (550 for ITP TOEFL) the applicant is ineligible for the Seminary ESL Bridge program.

For further details regarding the Bridge program and its policies see the ESL website.

Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire.

Depending upon the applicant's academic background, the PhD-ThD Committee may also require proficiency examination(s) before granting admission to the doctoral program.

Have completed GSEM 620 - Research Methods.

Time to Apply. Students who desire to enter the program in the autumn semester (the normal entry point), or, summer semester must submit all application materials to the Office of Graduate Admissions by December 15 of the preceding year. Students may also enter the program in the spring semester, in which case the application materials must all reach the Office of Graduate Admissions by June 15 of the preceding year.

The number of students who may enter the program in any given year is limited. Rarely is one accepted who applies late. Students whose applications are late may request consideration for admission in the following year.

Items to Submit. In addition to submitting the items required of all graduate students, applicants to the PhD-ThD programs must also submit

A 300-word personal statement including their philosophical perspective, the relationship of their religious concerns and ethical values to their responsibilities as a teacher-scholar and leader in the church; an indication of what they hope to accomplish professionally in the future, and a topic for the dissertation if one has already been selected.

A significant research paper (30-40 pages in length), normally written during MDiv studies. The topic of this paper should coincide with the area of concentration. This paper should have the following characteristics:

A problem in the area of research is described that engages the debate in the secondary literature

A clear thesis is stated

The case for the thesis is argued succinctly and logically, taking into account the discussion in the secondary literature

Conclusions are presented clearly and convincingly

The paper is in good English prose without grammatical, syntactical or spelling errors

Dual Enrollment. Dual enrollment in undergraduate or other graduate degree programs is not allowed in the ThD program.

Language Requirements. Applicants must demonstrate proficiency in specified foreign languages either by passing language proficiency examinations or by taking specified graduate level language courses at Andrews University and earning a grade of B or above. The language requirements for the ThD degree are advanced Hebrew and advanced Greek and reading knowledge of French and German.

When warranted by the student's program, language substitutions may be made with the approval of the student's advisor and the director of the ThD program. Some departments allow up to 6 hours of language requirements to count toward the field of study.

Schedule of Meeting Language Requirements. All language requirements should be completed before entrance. If that is not possible, a student may be required to take a reduced load in order to meet these requirements. Language requirements must be met by the end of the third consecutive semester in the program (including summer). Students who fail to meet this schedule take no further regular course work until all the language requirements are met. Because of the amount of study and the length of time usually required in developing skill in languages, the PhD-ThD Committee may require applicants to clear all the language requirements prior to admission.

Program Objectives

Competencies

One who holds a ThD in Religion should possess the following competencies:

Faithfulness to God and Scripture

Mastery of content relevant to the chosen discipline

Advanced research and writing capability in the chosen discipline

Expertise in teaching and other forms of communication

Outcomes

Articulate an integrated theology and philosophy of faithfulness to God and Scripture, objectivity in research, and integrity in relationships.

Provide evidence of an integrated understanding of two major content areas and competency within the area of the minor discipline.

Demonstrate ability to propose a delimited topic of original research that integrates the knowledge base of two major content areas, carry out the investigation under faculty mentorship, and produce a logical and coherent written report of the study.

Write scholarly research, make a professional presentation and submit for publication.

Display teaching ability appropriate for college and university settings.

Certificates

Fellowship Post-Doctoral Certificate

Program Description

Wagner Kuhn, Director

The postdoctoral studies will be research based.

The fellowship will last one to two years. If needed, an extension for one additional year may be granted with the approval of the faculty of the mentoring Department, the Program Director, and the Seminary Dean.

Each postdoctoral fellow will be assigned his/her mentor who will be appointed by the Program Director, Department Chair, and Seminary Dean.

Each semester the postdoctoral fellow is in residence, he/she must register and participate in GSEM 990 Postdoctoral Seminar (3 credits) and GSEM 898 Postdoctoral Research Project (noncredit research class).

At the end of the fellowship, the postdoctoral fellow will be required to present a publishable study in the form of article(s), monograph, or book approved by the faculty of the mentoring Department, Program Director and Seminary Dean.

The postdoctoral fellow may be invited to participate in faculty meetings or doctoral club activities.

The fellow will be encouraged to audit classes in their field of expertise. Each department will be limited to mentoring two fellow participants at a time.

The mentor must agree to the additional mentoring load.

Purpose of Fellowship

This fellowship is available to individuals who have completed their Ph.D. or Th.D. degree or their equivalent. It is especially offered for those who would like to experience participating in a Seventh-day Adventist academic community based on Seventh-day Adventist educational values.

Application to the Program

An application to the Postdoctoral Fellowship Program must contain the following items:

- Official transcript of doctoral studies.
- Copy of the diploma granted (if the doctorate is not finished at the time of application, it must be submitted before the fellowship will start).
- Current curriculum vitae.
- Description of the area of concentration with a proposed research project.
- Three letters of recommendation: (a) one from the members of the fellow's doctoral committee, (b) one from his/her teachers, and (c) one from the sponsoring organization.
- The applicant may also include a signed statement from a SDA Theological Seminary faculty member indicating his/her willingness to mentor the fellow and guide his/her research project.

Acceptance into the Program

- The fellowship appointment will begin in either January or August of each academic year.
- The fellow will be accepted into the program after the approval of the application by the faculty of the mentoring Department, the Program Director, and the Seminary Dean.
- Upon acceptance into the program, the fellow will receive an Andrews University identification card and will have full access to the James White Library.

Financial Responsibilities

- A mentoring fee of $1,000 per semester will be charged.
- The fellow will be charged doctoral-rate tuition for the doctoral seminar credits taken each semester.
- The SDA Theological Seminary has no financial obligations toward the postdoctoral fellow and appointment does not imply any actual employment or working relationship.
- The postdoctoral fellow must be able to pay for his/her expenses or have a sponsoring organization (Division, Union, University, or College) to cover his/her costs.
- The fellow will be required to either purchase Andrews University health insurance or provide evidence of health insurance coverage viable within the United States.

Certification of Completion

A valid Andrews University certificate will be issued upon the successful completion of the postdoctoral program.

Targeted Issues Checklist

The Association of Theological Schools
The Commission on Accrediting

Targeted Issues Checklist for Schools and Evaluation Committees

SCHOOL NAME: The Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary

VISIT DATES: September 23-26, 2019

Chapter Five of the Self-Study Handbook describes various types of text found in the standards, including the following statement (p. 4):

[Another type] consists of mandatory requirements that reflect regulatory or ethical expectations . . . [They reflect] regulatory requirements of authorities outside the member schools, such as governmental agencies, or normative ethical guidelines that are true for any organization related to the Christian or Jewish traditions, like being honest and treating persons fairly . . . [These] requirements usually require a single, discrete institutional behavior or policy . . . This type of text leads to a simple evaluative task: determining whether the school does or does not [meet] the requirement. The Standards [and Procedures] have relatively few of these mandatory requirements. In self-studies, schools should audit their institutional policies and behaviors to affirm their compliance. In accreditation evaluations, committees should confirm the school's compliance.

This checklist assists evaluation committees in confirming that a school meets these various requirements ("targeted issues"). This checklist is not a substitute for addressing these issues in the self-study report or in the committee's narrative report of the evaluation visit, but serves as assurance that the school and the committee have addressed specific issues that are required by the Board of Commissioners or entities that certify accreditation by the Commission on Accrediting.

These targeted issues are listed below in two parts: Part 1 describes issues (from both Standards and Procedures) for which all schools are held accountable, and Part 2 describes issues for which only schools participating in Title IV programs (for USDE federal financial aid) are held accountable. Please note that one other key issue, Standard 1, section 1.2.2.2, on "ongoing evaluation procedures for educational effectiveness," is covered by a separate document titled "Checklist for Effective Assessment."

This Targeted Issues Checklist has two sections for each item: one for schools to complete and one for evaluation committees to complete. Schools must address items on this checklist in four ways: (1) by inserting the requested information for each item, (2) by placing copies of the requested materials in the document room in a “Targeted Issues File” organized by each numbered item below, (3) by appending a completed copy of this checklist to the self-study report, and (4) by providing the evaluation committee a separate electronic file of the completed checklist at the beginning of the evaluation visit. The committee will then complete its part of the school’s completed checklist and attach it to the committee report.

Part 1. Requirements for All ATS Accredited Schools

Commission on Accrediting Standards

2.2 With regard to state, provincial, and federal authorities, schools shall conduct their operations in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations.

The school must provide a copy of all necessary legal documents verifying that the school has appropriate authority to operate its main campus and any extension sites. If the school enrolls any out-of-state online students, it must document how it determines whether those students trigger any state regulations and, if so, how those regulations are met. Please list here where these legal and other documents may be found (e.g., a copy of the school charter is in TIC File 2.2 in Document Room or found online at ...).

SCHOOL RESPONSE

Documents for Andrews University and the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary to operate on the campus in Berrien Springs, MI

- School Charter: Document in TIC File 2.2 in Documents Room
 - Other Legal Documents in TIC File 2.2 in Documents Room
- Documents showing legal operation of all extension sites: Legal document in TIC File 2.2 in Documents Room
- Process for assuring all out-of-state online students meet legal state and country regulations: The Seminary Online Learning Center webpage clearly tells students that online courses can only be taken by those where local laws permit it and links them to the Compliance Office website for particulars. Also see process documentation in TIC File 2.2 in Documents Room.

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

2.3 The school shall ensure that all published materials, electronic and print, including catalogs, academic calendars, and promotional literature, accurately represent the institution to its various constituencies and publics, including students and prospective students. All charges and fees, including refund policies, should be fully disclosed. Schools should exercise care in advertising to portray the institution fairly and honestly to the public. Wherever appropriate, published institutional documents shall employ gender-inclusive language.

The school must provide a copy of or reference to the document(s) that list the school's charges and its refund policy, as well as provide representative samples of published materials listed above. Please list here where these published materials may be found (e.g., TIC File 2.3 or online at ...).

SCHOOL RESPONSE

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

6.3.4 Schools shall maintain adequate student records regarding admission materials, course work attempted and completed, and in other areas as determined by the school's policy. Appropriate backup files should be maintained and updated on a regular basis. The institution shall ensure the security of files from physical destruction or loss and from unauthorized access.

The school must describe how it maintains and protects student records. The evaluation committee must investigate that student records are adequately maintained and appropriately protected.

SCHOOL RESPONSE

1. Student data is stored in our secure student software system - Banner
2. Backup of our software system is maintained by Informational Technology Services (ITS)
3. Hard copy student records are scanned and stored in (virtual) vault which is maintained by ITS
4. Then, the hard copy records are kept in folders in our secured vaults, or in locked cabinets. Access to the vaults is by Academic Records personnel only
5. We have a retention policy for hard copy student records that is in compliance with the recommendations from AACRAO (American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers). The AU policies, procedures, and schedules for all retentions are found online here. The specific schedule for Student records is in the TIC File 6.3.4 in the Document Room.

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

6.3.5 Institutions shall demonstrate that program requirements, tuition, and fees are appropriate for the degree programs they offer.

The school must list below and provide a copy of or reference to degree program requirements and published tuition and fees. The committee must confirm this through interviews and document reviews.

SCHOOL RESPONSE

- Program requirements: See this section in the Academic Bulletin, and TIC File 6.3.5 in Document Room.
- Published tuition and fees: Academic Bulletin description of all charges

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

6.3.6 Institutions shall publish all requirements for degree programs, including courses, noncredit requirements, and grading and other academic policies.

The school must document where it provides its degree program requirements and other policies listed here.

SCHOOL RESPONSE • Program requirements: On the web in Academic Bulletin, (found also in Appendix 7 and TIC File 6.3.6 in Document Room)

- Other degree policies: Seminary Syllabi Template: TIC File 6.3.6 in Document Room;
- Graduate academic policies: Section in the Academic Bulletin online and in Appendix 7
- Also see Degree Program Standards information for each degree with specific links to program websites and handbooks

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

6.3.8 The institution shall have a process for responding to complaints raised by students in areas related to the accrediting standards of the Commission and schools shall maintain a record of such formal student complaints for review by the Board.

The school must document its complaint process, provide copies of any written complaints, and share its response(s).

SCHOOL RESPONSE

Student complaint policies: In Student Handbook on the web at Student Rights, and also in Appendix 6.4. TIC File 6.4.8 in Documents Room

Copies of written complaints: TIC File 6.3.8 in Documents Room

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

ES 6.4.4 The institution shall, on a regular basis, make available to the public a summary evaluation of the educational effectiveness of its approved degree programs. The school shall determine the frequency and manner of this information.

The school must provide a link to and copy of its published educational effectiveness statement, which should include evidence of effectiveness for each degree program, such as completion and placement rates and/or other appropriate measures (see section 1.4.2 of each Degree Program Standard).

SCHOOL RESPONSE

- Published educational effectiveness statement and reports: Office of Seminary Assessment webpage here.

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

ATS Commission Policies and Procedures (applicable to all schools)

VII.A.4 In preparation for an evaluation visit, a school shall advertise to its constituencies at least 60 days prior to the visit that it is receiving an evaluation committee and invite comments in writing to the school and/or to the Commission concerning the institution's qualifications for accreditation. These comments will be available to the evaluation committee. The evaluation committee may also include an open hearing scheduled during the course of the visit.

The school must document how it advertised this evaluation visit, along with any formal comments received.

- SCHOOL RESPONSE
- Public advertisement of accreditation visit: Available on the web, and announcements in denominational publications, see TIC A.4 in the Documents Room
 - All formal comments by public: TIC File A.4 in Documents Room

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

X.A.2 Accredited members shall disclose . . . in their printed and/or electronic bulletin, calendar, or catalog the status of their accreditation (using language from COA Procedures X.A.2).

The school must provide a copy of and reference to how it discloses its accredited status.

- SCHOOL RESPONSE
- Disclosure of accreditation information: A Seminary statement online, and in the Academic Bulletin here and Appendix 7

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

VI.D.4 Schools conducting distance education must have a process by which the institution establishes by use of secure login and pass code . . . or other means that are effective in verifying student identity and protecting student privacy . . . In addition, the school must notify students of any projected additional student charges associated with [this requirement at] registration.

The school must document its policies and practices regarding student identification, privacy, and fees.

SCHOOL RESPONSE

- Documentation of policies and practices for online security:
 - Online documentation of IT security and privacy policy here.
 - Two-Factor Authentication (2FA) for all Faculty, Staff, and Student Employees who are authorized to enter secure sites: Online explanation here
 - Financial details: DLIT web page outlining all costs is here

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ does not conduct distance education.
- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

Part 2. Requirements Only for Schools Participating in Title IV Programs

2.7 Institutions participating in US federal student financial assistance programs shall comply with prevailing governmental guidelines regulating these programs. Default rates on student loans above the federal threshold, or failure to comply with federal guidelines, is cause for review of an institution's overall conformity to the Standards of Accreditation of the Commission. Schools shall demonstrate that they have resolved effectively all areas of deficiency identified in audits, program reviews, and any other information provided by the [USDE] to the Commission.

The school must document its response to each of the following questions as instructed below.

1. Does the school list the ATS Commission as its recognized accreditor for Title IV funds? YES
2. What is the school's most recent cohort default rate for student federal loans? 4.6%
Please place in the Documents Room a copy of the school's most recent official cohort default rate letter from the USDE. (Documents Room TIC 2.7)
3. Does the school have a clean audit (Circular A-133) for federal financial aid? YES (Documents Room 2.7)

If NO, school must provide explanation here, including what steps it has taken.
School inserts explanation here if answered NO.

- Has the USDE required the school to submit a Financial Responsibility letter since the last comprehensive evaluation? NO
If YES, the school must provide an explanation here, including its current status.
School inserts explanation here if answered YES.
- Does the school have an appropriate Satisfactory Academic Progress policy? YES
SAP Policy for Graduate Students with Financial Aid
- How does the school verify student participation in instruction (i.e., what prevents students from receiving financial aid for classes they enrolled in but never attended)?
We run a drop report once a month that verifies withdrawn students. In the middle of each semester, Records Office sends an email to all faculty asking for a report on any discrepancies between the current class roster and student attendance. Then we follow the Title IV regulations for withdrawals.
- Does the school have an appropriate policy and practice for awarding credit that aligns with commonly accepted practices and with the federal definition of a credit hour? (See page 5 of USDE Guidance Regarding a Credit Hour.) The evaluation committee will review random samples of various course syllabi (in different programs and in different delivery methods) to ensure that the school's practices conform to its policies.
Credit policies are found on our website here.
- Please indicate below where the evaluation committee can find the most recent copy of the school's Campus Security (Clery) Report.
The "Clery" report is locate on our website here.
- Does the school offer at least 25 percent of any educational program through contractual or consortial arrangement(s) with one or more entities not certified to participate in the Title IV programs? If yes, please list the entity(ies) involved, and explain the nature and extent of the contractual or consortial arrangement(s). NO

COMMITTEE RESPONSE TO ALL ITEMS IN 2.7

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.

6.4.1 Senior administrators and financial aid officers shall review student educational debt and develop institutional strategies regarding students' borrowing for theological education. (NOTE: Section 6.4.2 of Standard 6 addresses schools' provision of financial counseling to students; that may also be reviewed during the evaluation, though it is only a "should" statement.)

The school must document its process for reviewing student debt and cite here where that may be found. The committee must review this evidence, as well as interview appropriate staff and students, to determine if the school has appropriate strategies to keep student educational debt loads reasonable.

SCHOOL RESPONSE

- Student indebtedness is reviewed annually with issues brought to administration. Educational debt was thoroughly reviewed by faculty and the Seminary Executive Committee in 2014 and several measures put in place including an orientation presentation, advisory letter, assemblies, and colloquia. This faculty and governance review and response will be continued on a five-year cycle. See Documents Room for documentation.

COMMITTEE RESPONSE

The committee has reviewed the evidence and determined that the school

- ☐ meets this requirement with no further comment or action needed.
- ☐ meets this requirement and a comment appears in the committee report.
- ☐ does not meet this requirement, so a recommendation appears in the committee report.
