SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY
2017-2022 STRATEGIC PLAN

AU Mission Statement: Seek Knowledge, Affirm Faith, Change the World

SDATS Mission Statement: To serve the Seventh-day Adventist Church by preparing effective leaders to proclaim the everlasting gospel.

SDATS Vision Statement: The Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary prepares spiritual leaders to impact the world for Christ. We are a culturally diverse learning and worshipping community that nurtures excellence, provides theological leadership, and shares our ministry and resources around the world.

Market Focus: Individuals with college degrees who are interested in improving their service/ministry to the church and the world in spiritual and theological areas

SDATS Strategic Plan for 2017-2022

Framed around Andrews University's four strategic thrusts/themes for this time period

Live Wholly

- Purposefully incorporate into the seminary experience, for all students and faculty, substantial balanced care for the spiritual, physical, emotional, mental, and social health of body, of mind, and of spirit
 - Continue to implement a regular system of sabbaticals for faculty
 - Seek to include advising, mentoring, and dissertation/thesis guidance in faculty load
 - Health ministry certification?
- Build into the seminary program an integral system of effective, sustainable mentoring for all students
- Seek further scholarship funding for students

Explore Intentionally

- Mentor students in Adventist scholarship
 - Set up a system of required PhD Colloquia on what it means to be an Adventist Scholar
 - Facilitate and encourage Student/Professor Joint Publications
- Continue to provide excellent publications and presentations that guide the church as a whole theologically and ministerially
- Implement ways to inspire students with the desire to think, explore, analyze deeply

Learn Deeply

- Complete creation and implementation of a new MDiv curriculum to meet church needs, including:
 - A shorter program that embeds the seven NAD Core Qualities into the personal repertoire of every graduate
 - Career-effective concentrations in place of emphases

- an increased focus on teaching future pastors, using coursework and field experience, the importance of Adventist Education and how to support it
- Creatively foster a deepened Adventist identity in all seminary programs grounded in balanced biblical-theological thinking
- Review and reconsider alignments, funding and delivery modes of seminary masters programs and their alignments in light of extension and distance education opportunities

Engage Globally

- Work with the Seminary Marketing Committee, Designer and Grad Assistant, and IMC to create a seminary-specific marketing plan and identity to reach the global market by means most effective for the 21st century
- Collaborate with global church entities and post-secondary schools to facilitate for the church the best in Adventist theological graduate education
 - Online MAR
 - Hybrid MDiv
 - Chaplaincy concentration online
 - Consortium for theological education with other leading Adventist seminaries around the world
- Explore provision of a degree/certification attractive to lay members (retirees, ...) wishing to growing their ministry and theology skills
- Empower the Racism, Ethnocentrism, & Social Justice Committee to guide the seminary into a role of leadership for the community in addressing issues identified by the committee

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY

2017–2022 Strategic Plan

The Next Chapter

2017–2022 THE NEXT CHAPTER

Andrews University Strategic Plan Outline

*In reviewing our past history, having traveled over every step of advance to our present standing,
I can say, Praise God!
As I see what the Lord has wrought, I am filled with astonishment, and with confidence in Christ as leader.
We have nothing to fear for the future, except as we shall forget the way the Lord has led us, and
His teaching in our past history.*

The Andrews University Story and Its Continuity

Welcome to the Andrews University story—a story that starts more than 140 years ago and one that continues today. It is this story that speaks of the rich heritage of the University and of the mission that has driven its decisions. It is that mission that remains the thematic thread through the years. It is our heritage as a Seventh-day Adventist community of scholars that reminds us of God’s leading in the past and provides us a framework of encouragement looking to the future. It is the decisions, the storyline (strategies and actions), that have kept the campus renewed and relevant within that framework. We learn from the past and we are confident of the future.

So it is that the values and priorities critical to Andrews University (Emmanuel Missionary College) from its inception remain core to the University today. Its story has always been one of engaging students in the pursuit of knowledge in the context of a Seventh-day Adventist and biblical worldview. And this education has always had a purpose beyond itself: to make a significant difference in the communities it serves, locally, nationally and internationally. As an institution identified with the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, the University’s scope of influence has always been large. Over the years it has grown depth and breadth, most recently with the founding of the School of Health Professions and merger of Griggs University.

Now Andrews University’s story includes being the second most diverse institution of higher education nationally and in the top ten for diversity internationally. It includes the richness of our diversity as evidenced by the breadth of our academic program offerings which includes the liberal arts, professional programs, natural sciences and humanities. We teach at bachelor's, master's and doctoral levels and we do so at the Berrien Springs campus, at multiple sites nationally and internationally and online. Our story is about recognition for program quality and/or the total student experience through our multiple professional accreditations as well as external rankings, such as the U.S. News & World Report and Scorecard. We graduate students who consistently confirm their commitment to Seventh-day Adventist faith, service and wellness and whose personal stories have been changed by being at this University.

As Andrews has embraced new opportunities and responded to the ever changing higher education environment, its story has become richer, more complex. Yet its mission, summarized in the motto—Seek Knowledge. Affirm Faith. Change the World.—remains constant: the overarching theme(s) of this story. As such, we remain strongly committed to faith development, to excellence in education and to graduating students who will engage as Christian professionals in the church and the world. All that changes are the lenses through which we may explore this central theme for the current time and the storyline (strategies and actions) that drive the mission into the future.

As we turn to our next chapter, we have chosen several lenses (core strengths) with which to approach and communicate our overarching theme (mission). The lens of Explore Intentionally identifies our commitment to finding new and relevant ways to live out our mission and to encourage students to do the same. Live Wholly portrays actively our historic commitment to holistic education (Body, Mind, Spirit) and our commitment to reinvigorating that in the lives of our current community whether through initiatives in physical, emotional or spiritual wellness. The lens of Learn Deeply is the lens of depth and quality: what we are known for and how we can continue high impact practices for our students. And our final lens of Engage Globally is part of our story DNA: it is the way of the past and the way of the future, albeit through adjusted storylines.

And so we move to those new storylines, strategies that we believe will both ensure the continuity of the rich Andrews story, as well as deepen and strengthen the story as it moves into the next chapter. Each storyline will be rooted in our overarching theme(s) and through our chosen lenses, but will in turn introduce new and engaging plots that will add color and texture to our future. These will be the central thrust of this chapter of the Andrews' story.

Andrews University Mission and the Theme(s) of Our Story

Andrews University, a distinctive Seventh-day Adventist institution, transforms its students by educating them to seek knowledge and affirm faith in order to change the world.

Core Strengths (Lenses to View our Theme/s)

Storylines for the Next Chapter

As Andrews University seeks to write a new chapter in its story that unites the campus and its constituencies in furthering its mission in 2017–22, it will seek to:

1. Transform the Campus Culture through focus on faith development, wellness, diversity and inclusion.

STORYLINE: To live, work or study at Andrews University will mean active engagement in a community that is passionate about being a caring, inclusive, healthy community of faith.

TO BE SUCCESSFUL THIS WILL MEAN:

- *Ensuring the campus culture intentionally embeds opportunities to nurture the faith development of all students within the Adventist worldview
- *Deepening the campus commitment to wellness of employees and students
- *Intentionally creating an environment of inclusion and value for all employees and students (welcoming customer service, personal invitations for engagement and voice)
- Embedding and embracing cultural intelligence within the campus community
- *Creating increased access pathways to an Andrews University education
- Embedding the philosophy of care for each other, our students and other constituents into the Andrews University culture through the emphasis of sharing your Andrews Heart

DESIRED OUTCOMES

- Administrative structural adjustment to provide unified focus on inclusion, diversity and access
- Improved metrics for campus wellness
- Above median responses for NSSE questions related to administrative services, staff/faculty relations and diversity
- Evidence from senior exit surveys of a campus known for its inclusion and valuing of all students
- Metrics indicating equally high retention and graduation rates for all racial/ethnic student categories
- Active spiritual master plan that includes metrics
- Best practice on inclusion of students with disabilities

- Creation of some new models to increase access to Andrews University of groups not currently accessing the University
- Increasing undergraduate and graduate yield rates by annually agreed targets
- The development of an accountability and reward system to recognize and celebrate the stories about Andrews

2. Define the Andrews University footprint beyond the Berrien Springs campus through collaboration with church, community and higher education institutions.

STORYLINE: Andrews University, the Seventh-day Adventist Church, partner institutions and the communities they serve will be richer because of the intentional engagement and influence of the University beyond its immediate campus.

TO BE SUCCESSFUL THIS WILL MEAN:

- Engaging with the local community through focus on civic responsibility and service
- *Proactively engaging with the Seventh-day Adventist church in North America and the world to further the church's educational mission (connections with K-12, online education, need and market-driven new programs, and collaborative partnerships)
- *Deepening global connections through service and partnerships to enhance the Andrews University learning experience wherever it occurs
- Increasing opportunities for Andrews University influence and engagement within both church and higher education (engagement in core church events, partnerships with GC institutions/seminaries, dissemination of research, expansion of Digital Commons)
- Increasing the engagement of external groups (alumni, businesses, church) with the campus to enrich the student experience and commitment to professions of service

DESIRED OUTCOMES

- An annual service day when the entire campus engages in service to the community
- Annual networking events with community leaders
- Increasing the numbers and breadth of partnerships to ensure a minimum of 60 students entering Andrews University annually under these arrangements

- Becoming the place of choice for Adventist high school students seeking an early college experience through online or face-to-face methods
- Increasing student internships and engagement in service locally and internationally
- Increasing donor support for University endowments and programs
- Increasing the numbers and breadth of international partnerships offered off-site through dual degrees of affiliated/extension relationships to service 1,000 students annually

3. Position the University as a leader in teaching and learning.

STORYLINE: In a competitive environment Andrews University must be able to provide a flexible, engaging, learning environment through faculty committed to the redemptive work of education. They will use both innovative and time-honored teaching methods, using the lens of “the teacher” in advancing research and engaging with service. The result will be a transformational education experience.

TO BE SUCCESSFUL THIS WILL MEAN:

- The development of a teaching and learning center that assists faculty in deepening their teaching capacity, increasing their knowledge of instructional design and expanding their use of innovative methods in teaching
- Enhancing focus on faculty research that impacts teaching, is integral to the teaching process (such as in undergraduate research), and seeks to advance Adventist thought and life
- Increasing funded research
- *Increasing focus on best practice use of technology in both teaching throughout the curriculum and the expansion of quality online courses
- *The prioritization of program offerings to align program mix with market and mission
- Enhancing the curriculum by including increased emphasis on diversity and internationalization
- Development of an online higher education teaching certificate with encouragement for all faculty to complete the course over the first two years of being hired (modules to include biblical foundations of teaching, use of technology, innovation and inclusion)
- Ensuring faculty nurture, mentoring and development remains an institutional priority through consistent opportunity for professional growth, sabbaticals, etc.
- Ensuring the total teaching and learning experience is fully integrated with the spiritual master plan

DESIRED OUTCOMES

- Satisfaction ratings on the National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE) and other surveys to consistently rate items related to teaching and learning above the median
- All students by graduation will report engagement in at least two high impact activities, such as an international experience, research with a faculty member, mission engagement, internship, leadership and service
- Growth in online course and program availability in each of the five years and evidence of targets in online learning being met through the plan of the School of Distance Education & International Partnerships (SDEIP), including quality measures
- Whole-person curriculum mapping by program that identifies embedding of institutional priorities, including diversity, internationalization, wellness, and spiritual maturity and commitment, into the curriculum/co-curriculum
- Annual review of the academic health of each program to include acceptable student-to-faculty ratio, reputation, the number of graduates and the percent entering careers or attaining graduate/professional school admission, and program specific performance indicators
- Further refinement of processes and policies related to faculty responsibilities and professional growth opportunities in line with the strategic plan priorities and institutional mission
- Funding the research office and its operations through overheads from external research grants
- Creation of a new plan for faculty development reporting/evaluation that links with rank and tenure promotion policies and institutional strategy
- Supporting a robust community of scholarship and inquiry that furthers the development of doctoral level research, writing and teaching and contributes to the body of knowledge both within the Adventist church and society at large

4. Increase the quality and depth of the student learning experience.

STORYLINE: As students have multiple options for their education, Andrews University must provide a student environment that makes the Andrews University choice irresistible.

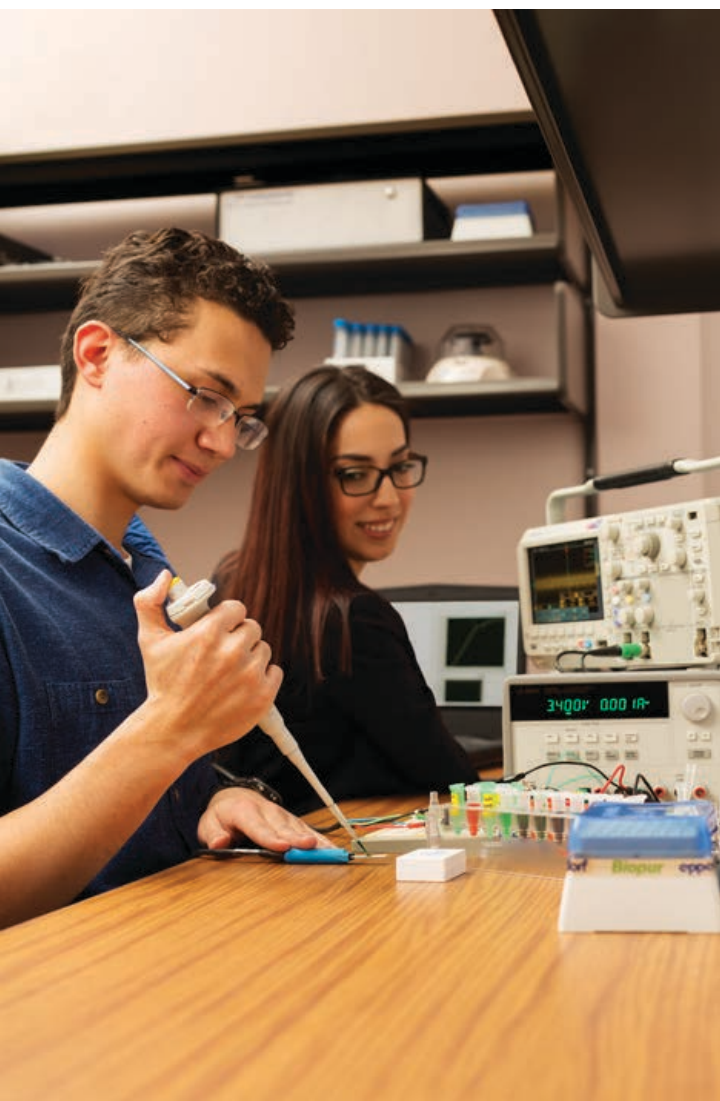

TO BE SUCCESSFUL THIS WILL MEAN:

- *The creation of the LIFE center (Leadership, Innovation, First Experience and Explore) to integrate student learning experiences from high school through to employment
- Creating a framework for student learning through the Unified Framework of Objectives (AUUFO)
- Intentional focus on the advising and mentoring experience of all students in all aspects of their Andrews University experience (including student employment)
- Reinvigorating the Andrews Core Experience (ACE) curriculum in coordination with the co-curriculum, the AUUFO and LIFE center
- *Deepening the graduate student experience through increased opportunities for dual and integrated degrees, and growth in professional programs
- Ensuring the spiritual master plan and the implementation of its identified activities and strategies infuse all learning experiences

DESIRED OUTCOMES

- Launch of the spiritual master plan expanded assessment plans by the fall of 2018
- The LIFE center and its integrated work will be launched in the fall of 2017
- Integration of the AUUFO into the ACE and program curriculum will be accomplished by fall of 2018
- Satisfaction ratings on NSSE and other surveys to consistently rate items related to advising and student learning experience above the median
- Increased undergraduate retention to a minimum of 85% annually

- 4-year and 6-year graduation rates to reach 45% and 65–70% by 2022
- An increase in the number of accelerated and other dual degree programs to meet market needs
- Professional program growth in accordance with the strategic plans of the schools
- Unduplicated headcount enrollment goals of 2,500 undergraduates, 2,500 graduates and 1,000 international affiliates to be reached by 2022
- Unified means of measuring success at institutional learning outcomes at all levels

5. Engage in campus renewal and development to meet expectations of a campus for 2025.

STORYLINE: Students and campus guests will experience an environmentally friendly campus that expresses its values through its physical campus spaces and provides state-of-the-art facilities for education, especially where professional spaces and equipment are required.

TO BE SUCCESSFUL THIS WILL MEAN:

- *Creating a constellation of learning spaces and opportunities to embed innovation, campus engagement and wellness as part of the fabric of the institution
- *Building/re-creation of academic spaces for health professions, architecture, music and STEM
- Continued development of student life/housing facilities
- Intentional development of technology and distance education infrastructure

DESIRED OUTCOMES

- Completion of the building of the wellness center
- Review of campus master plan to consider space utilization that will support the strategic embedding of wellness and innovation into University strategy
- Completed capital and development plan to meet the academic needs identified above and student life/housing
- Expansion of technology infrastructure according to ITS strategic plan

*NOTE: While all the actions identified above are important to the deepening and development of the Andrews University story in 2017–22, those identified with an asterisk are those that the University considers most likely to bring significant and critical shifts in ensuring the University's future.

Institutional Outcome Measurements

In addition to the specific outcome measurements related to the new storylines, the University will be responsible for meeting institutional outcome measurements and will adjust actions and strategies to ensure meeting these outcomes remains core to the campus operations and drives priority actions.

These are the institutional outcome measurements:

ACADEMIC INDICATORS

- First-year retention will be 85%
- Undergraduate degree completion rate (4 years) will be 45% and 6 years will be 65–70%
- Undergraduate student-faculty ratio will be 12:1
- Master's degree completion rate (4 years) will be 80%
- Professional doctoral completion rate (6 years) will be 65%
- PhD completion rate (10 years) will be 45%
- 80% of alumni will be accepted into graduate school or in employment in their field one year after graduation
- The first-time professional licensure pass rate in all disciplines will be at 85% or higher
- The ETS Senior Test cumulative score will be at or above the national norm for all institutions
- The ETS critical thinking score will be at or above the national norm for all institutions
- The average of number of graduates in an undergraduate or graduate program is 15, over three years

FAITH AND STUDENT DEVELOPMENT INDICATORS

- Percentage of bachelor's degree graduates stating personal commitment to an active life of faith will be 85%
- Percentage of master's & doctoral graduates stating personal commitment to an active life of faith will be 80%
- Percentage of annually surveyed alumni stating personal commitment to an active life of faith will be 75% five years after graduation
- Percentage of annually surveyed alumni stating active engagement in a church community will be 70% five years after graduation
- The NSSE Campus Environment score will be at or above the mean for similar institutions
- 75% of graduates will indicate active commitment to a healthy and balanced lifestyle
- Percentage of bachelor's degree graduates stating personal commitment to service will be 80%
- 80% of annually surveyed alumni will be actively engaged in service to the community, locally or internationally, five years after graduation

FINANCIAL INDICATORS

- Average undergraduate tuition discount will be no more than 45% of total tuition
- Faculty salaries will be at the target established by the compensation committee of the Board (goal: no less than 90% of the average salary for institutions of similar size and with similar budgets)
- 15% of U.S.-based alumni will give annually to the University
- 2,500 undergraduate students (unduplicated headcount) will study through the central Andrews University campus
- The undergraduate admission to enrollment yield rate will be 30%
- 2,500 graduate students (unduplicated headcount) will study through the central Andrews University campus
- The graduate admission to enrollment yield rate will be 40%
- Around 1,000 students will study at international locations
- Institutional academic overhead percentage will be at 42%
- Average lecture class size for undergraduates will be more than 25 for 100–200 level courses, 13 for 300–400 level; average lecture class size for graduate courses will be more than 16
- Debt ratio will be less than 20%, with annual debt reduction at a minimum of $1 million annually
- Annual operating gain will be a minimum of $2.5 million annually
- The annual cash reserve will be increased by a minimum of $2.5 million
- Days Cash on Hand will increase from 15 days during the term of this plan to 90 days from 2023, increase of 15 days per year
- Line of credit borrowing will decrease according to the following goals: 2017–19: $5,500,000; 2020: $2,000,000; 2021 on: $0
- Internal borrowing will decrease according to the following goals: 2017: $13,500,000; 2018: $10,000,000; 2019 and on: $6,500,000

Monitoring of institutional outcome measurements will be by the University Strategy and Policy Committee and the Board of Trustees. Board Committees will be responsible as follows:

Assessment Plan

SDATS Assessment Plan

The SDATS has in place a robust assortment of evaluation procedures for assessing educational effectiveness. Each program has established program learning outcomes (PLOs) tied to the program mission and evaluated by assessment instruments integrated into program courses or requirements (see syllabi in Documents Room). Indirect assessment of program effectiveness and other aspects of student services is accomplished online through course surveys at the end of every course and a Seminary Assessment Questionnaire administered every other year. At the time of graduation, a linked Seminary Exit Survey and a university First Destination Survey is completed by Seminary graduates. Results of assessments are compiled by the Seminary Assessment Director and distributed to the appropriate program and department leaders for analysis and to bring for consideration to the program committees and department faculty meetings. In addition, program effectiveness data, including completion rates and job placement rates, are compiled by the AU Office of Institutional Effectiveness in conjunction with the Seminary deans and program offices. Resulting action plans and adjustments created by these entities are brought together in the Annual Assessment Report required of programs and departments and contribute to discussion at our annual Seminary Assessment Retreat. Key aspects of this retreat are reported to and discussed at the Seminary Faculty Meeting. In collaboration with the university, a seven-year cycle of program reviews evaluates every university program in terms of both educational and financial effectiveness. Further descriptions of these processes can be found under Educational Standard 6 and under the individual Degree Program Standards.

The comprehensive evaluation process which gathers and coordinates input from various evaluation streams relating to institutional vitality and comprehensive institutional planning is overseen by the Seminary Assessment Committee (SAC). The committee is led by the Associate Dean, in consultation with the Dean, who is a member of the committee. As the secretary of this committee, a full-time Seminary Assessment Coordinator is the point-person in the implementation of this process.

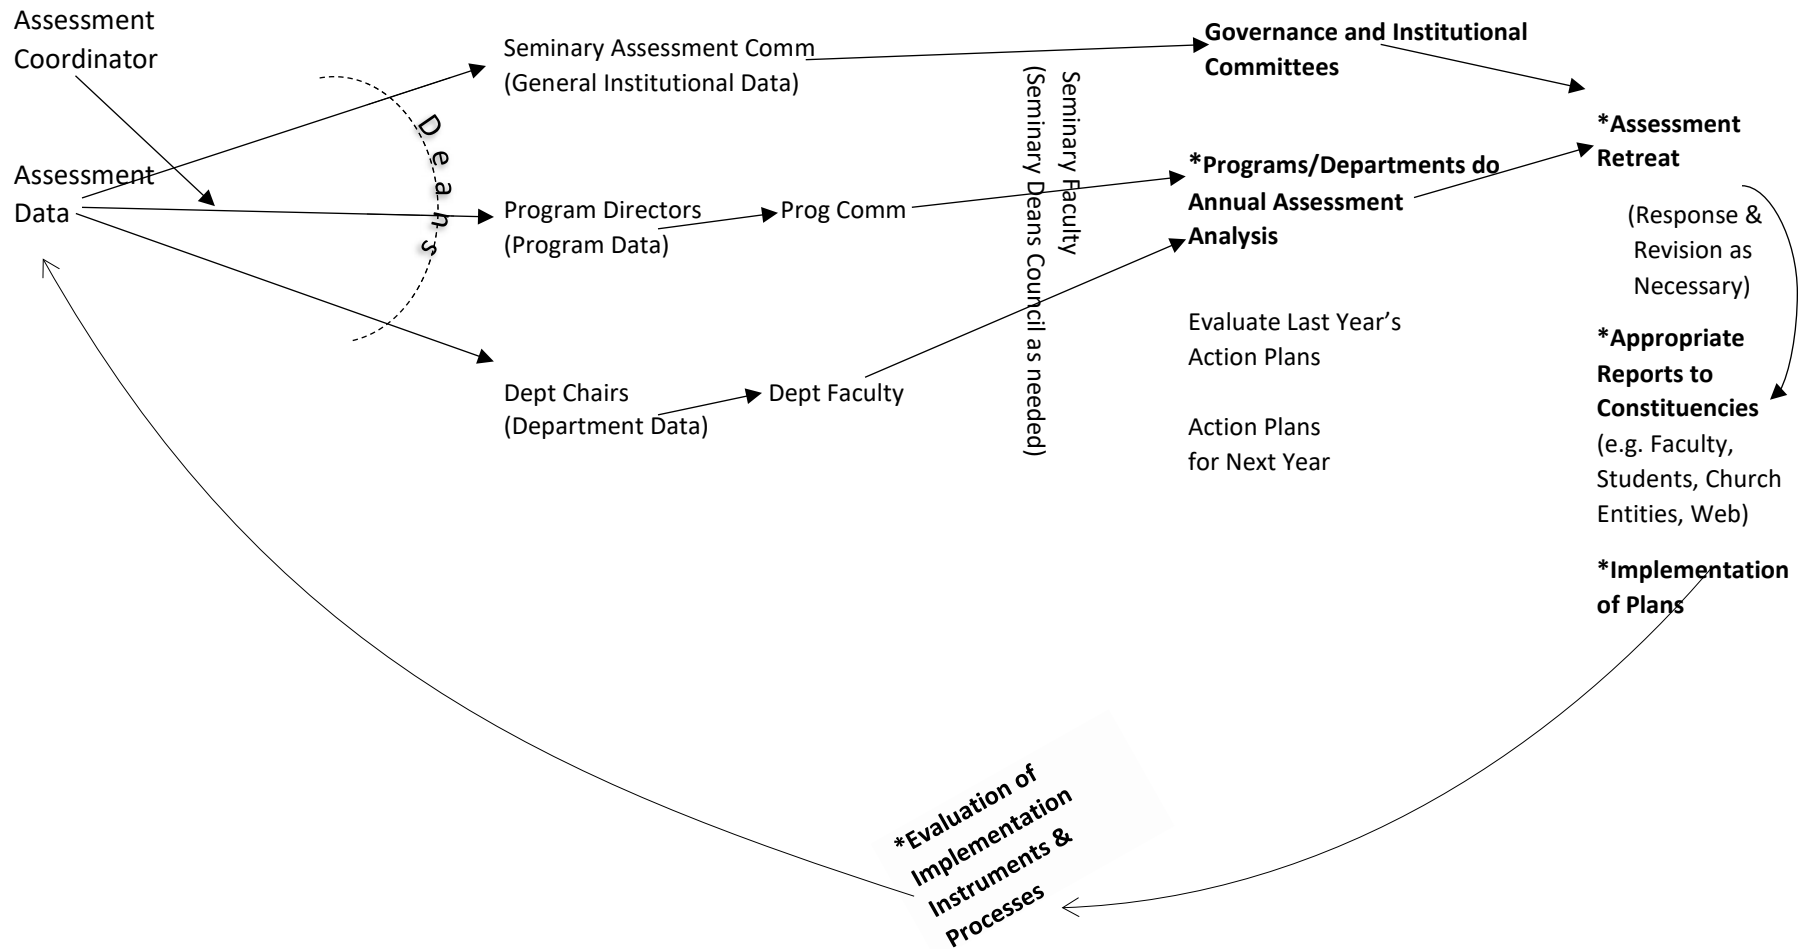

The primary task of the SAC is to maintain and review the Seminary's comprehensive evaluation process. As the committee has grown in its understanding and in its depth of analysis of its task, it has developed an increasingly comprehensive, yet doable, plan for: (1) the coordination and analysis of evaluation findings, and (2) for the identification, employment, and critique of ongoing plans for responding to what we have learned. (See ES.6 for further details.) The second task of the SAC is to ensure that the necessary evaluation procedures and instruments are in place to adequately measure the Seminary's identified goals for institutional vitality and educational effectiveness. A third task of the SAC is to ensure that incoming data is directed to the correct entity for analysis, planning, implementation, and review. Three streams have been identified through which this data is directed: (1) Governance and Institutional-Level Committees; (2) Program Committees; and (3) Department Faculty. Data pertaining to the particular interests of each of these three streams, is automatically directed by the Seminary Assessment Coordinator to the appropriate entities for further analysis and planning. Where an evaluation process brings in mixed data, involving Governance and Institutional-Level Planning groups in addition to the Program- and Department-focused data, the SAC does an initial analysis of that data and forwards significant findings and recommendations to the correct group.

The Seminary Assessment Committee also plans and organizes the annual Seminary Assessment Retreat, held in August of each year since 2011 and attended by deans, program directors, department chairs, and other key Seminary and AU leaders. The Retreat began as the main accountability and reporting mechanism for Seminary assessment. As our assessment work has broadened and deepened, this function has been partially shifted to Annual Assessment Reports required by the Andrews University provost in which programs and departments, analyze their assessment plan and findings for the past year, provide information and analysis regarding program demand and effectiveness, complete a profitability analysis, and then create a program summary and a strategic plan for the coming year. (See Documents Room) The Assessment Retreat is thus now able to focus more on reviewing chosen significant data points and analyses from the year and discussing how we can work together as a body to respond to what we are learning from our various assessments and adjust them to better meet our needs. Important assessment information from the Reports and the Retreat, as well as incoming data of particular general interest, are shared with faculty throughout the year during Assessment Spotlights at the monthly Seminary Faculty Meeting.

Reports on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Andrews University (University) and its subsidiaries, which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as of April 30, 2018 and 2017, the related consolidated statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We did not audit the financial statements of University Retirement Centers, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the University, which statements reflect total assets of $1,284,342 and $1,346,478 as of April 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively, and total revenues of $644,725 and $732,548 for the years then ended. Those statements were audited by other auditors, whose report has been furnished to us, and our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for University Retirement Centers, Inc., is based solely on the report of the other auditors. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement. The financial statements of University Retirement Centers, Inc., which are included in the University's financial statements, were not audited in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the University's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, based on our audit and the report of other auditors, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Andrews University and its subsidiaries as of April 30, 2018, and 2017, and the changes in their net assets and their cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Emphasis of Matter

As described in Note 2 of the financial statements, in 2018, the University adopted ASU 2016-14, Not-for-Profit Entities (Topic 958): Presentation of Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Entities. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

Supplementary Information

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards required by Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, as listed in the table of contents, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the consolidated financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated August 3, 2018, on our consideration of the University's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering Andrews University's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

April 30, 2018 and 2017

Note 1: Nature of Operations and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations

Andrews University (University), organized in 1874, is affiliated with the Seventh-day Adventist denomination. The University is a coeducational university fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The University is made up of seven schools and the University schools (K-12 grades). The University's revenue and other support are derived principally from tuition and fees, auxiliary activities and grants and contributions. The University also operates three wholly-owned subsidiaries: Andrews Broadcasting Corporation, University Retirement Centers, Inc. and The Center for Youth Evangelism.

- Andrews Broadcasting Corporation is a nonprofit corporation organized for the purpose of operating WAUS-FM, a radio station located on the campus of the University
- University Retirement Centers, Inc. is a nonprofit corporation formed for the purpose of constructing and maintaining housing facilities and services specifically designed to service elderly or handicapped persons
- The Center for Youth Evangelism (Center) has been established as a training and resource center for claiming, training and reclaiming youth and young adults for Jesus Christ. It is located on the campus of the University. It was incorporated in 2009 as an independent not-for-profit organization to help facilitate its vision and mission statement. The Center provides not only resources to anyone interested in youth ministry, but also serves as a think tank on how to effectively minister to youth and young adults. It does this by establishing formal and informal conversations throughout the Christian Community. Using its collaborative partnership with the Seminary, the Center helps provide both formal classroom education and a practical laboratory for youth professionals to develop and test out creative ministries for post-modern youth and young adults

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Andrews University and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, Andrews Broadcasting Corporation, University Retirement Centers, Inc. and The Center for Youth Evangelism. All material interorganizational accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of the revenue, expenses, gains, losses and other changes in net assets during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The University considers all liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents. At April 30, 2018 and 2017, cash equivalents consisted primarily of money market funds and repurchase agreements.

Cash and cash equivalents that are awaiting longer-term investing have been classified as investments.

At April 30, 2018, the University's cash accounts exceeded federally insured limits by approximately $5,476,000.

Investments and Investment Return

Investments in equity securities having a readily determinable fair value, nonexchange-traded equity and fixed income fund trusts and all debt securities and brokered certificates of deposit are carried at fair value. Other investments are valued at fair value. Investment return includes dividend, interest and other investment income and realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments carried at fair value.

Investment return that is initially restricted by donor stipulation and for which the restriction will be satisfied in the same year is included in with donor restrictions and reclassified to without donor restrictions net assets and reported in the consolidated statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Other investment return is reflected in the consolidated statements of activities as without donor restrictions or with donor restrictions based upon the existence and nature of any donor or legally imposed restrictions.

The University maintains pooled investment accounts for its endowments. Investment income and realized and unrealized gains and losses from securities in the pooled investment accounts are allocated annually to the individual endowments based on the relationship of the fair value of the interest of each endowment to the total fair value of the pooled investments accounts, as adjusted for additions to or deductions from those accounts.

Net Assets

Net assets, revenues, gains and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Net Assets Without Donor Restrictions – Net assets available for use in general operations and not subject to donor restrictions. The governing Board has designated, from net assets without donor restrictions, net assets for Board-designated endowment which totaled $8,651,668 and $8,148,285 at April 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively.

Net Assets With Donor Restrictions – Net assets subject to donor imposed restrictions. Some donor-imposed restrictions are temporary in nature, such as those that will be met by the passage of time or other events specified by the donor. Other donor-imposed restrictions are perpetual in nature, where the donor stipulates that resources be maintained in perpetuity.

Inventories

Inventories consist primarily of dairy cattle and feed, food service and plant service and various other supplies and are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value for 2018 and the lower of cost or market for 2017. Cost is determined on the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method.

Income Taxes

The University and its subsidiaries are exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code and a similar provision of state law. However, the University and its subsidiaries are subject to federal income tax on any unrelated business taxable income.

Promises to Give

Unconditional promises to give are recognized as revenue in the period received and as assets, decreases of liabilities or expenses depending on the form of the benefits received. Conditional promises to give are recognized as revenue when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met.

Student Accounts and Notes Receivable

Student accounts receivable are stated at the amount billed to the students less applied scholarships and loan proceeds. The University provides an allowance for doubtful accounts, which is based upon a review of outstanding receivables, historical collection information and existing economic conditions. Tuition is generally due at the beginning of the semester unless the student has signed a payment plan. Charges that are past due without payments for three consecutive months, have had no response to the due diligence process and are assigned to third-party collection agencies are considered delinquent. Delinquent receivables are written off based on individual credit evaluation and specific circumstances of the student.

Notes receivable consist of amounts due under the Federal Perkins Loan Program and institutional loan programs and are stated at their outstanding principal amount, net of an allowance for doubtful notes. Loans are made to students based on demonstrated financial need and satisfaction of federal eligibility and institutional requirements. Principal and interest payments on loans generally do not commence until after the borrower graduates or otherwise ceases enrollment. The University provides an allowance for doubtful notes, which is based upon a review of outstanding loans, historical collection information and existing economic conditions. Loans that are delinquent continue to accrue interest. Loans that are past due for at least one payment are considered delinquent. Delinquent loans are written off based on individual credit evaluation and specific circumstances of the student. The amount of loans delinquent greater than 90 days and accruing interest was approximately $686,000 and $663,000 at April 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively.

Property and Equipment

Expenditures for property and equipment and items which substantially increase the useful lives of existing assets are capitalized at cost. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. The University provides for depreciation on property and equipment on the straight-line method at rates designed to depreciate the costs of assets over their estimated useful lives. Assets under capital lease obligations are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term or their respective estimated useful lives.

Long-lived Asset Impairment

The University evaluates the recoverability of the carrying value of long-lived assets whenever events or circumstances indicate the carrying amount may not be recoverable. If a long-lived asset is tested for recoverability and the undiscounted estimated future cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset is less than the carrying amount of the asset, the asset cost is adjusted to fair value and an impairment loss is recognized as the amount by which the carrying amount of a long-lived asset exceeds its fair value.

No asset impairment was recognized during the years ended April 30, 2018 and 2017.

Deferred Revenue

Income from tuition and fees is deferred and recognized over the periods to which the tuition and fees relate.

Support and Revenue

The University reports gifts of cash and other assets as restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, with donor restrictions net assets are reclassified to without donor restrictions net assets and reported in the consolidated statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions. If a restriction is fulfilled in the same time period in which the contribution is received, the University reports the support as with donor restrictions and then releases from restriction.

Unconditional gifts expected to be collected within one year are reported at their net realized value. Unconditional gifts expected to be collected in future years are reported at the present value of estimated future cash flows. The resulting discount is amortized using the level-yield method and is reported as contribution revenue.

Andrews University

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Donated Property and Equipment

The University reports gifts of land, buildings and equipment as without donor restriction support unless explicit donor stipulations specify how the donated assets must be used. Gifts of long-lived assets with explicit restrictions that specify how the assets are to be used and gifts of cash or other assets that must be used to acquire long-lived assets are reported as restricted support. Absent explicit donor stipulations regarding how long those long-lived assets must be maintained, the University reports expirations of donor restrictions when the donated or acquired long-lived assets are placed in service, as instructed by the donor. The University reclassifies with donor restrictions net assets to without donor restriction net assets at that time.

Government Grants

Support funded by grants is recognized as the University performs the contracted services under grant agreements. Grant revenue is recognized as earned as the eligible expenses are incurred. Grant expenditures are subject to audit and acceptance by the granting agency and, as a result of such audit, adjustments could be required.

Auxiliary Activities

The University operates several auxiliary activities including dining facilities, student lodging and farm and dairy.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of supporting the various programs and other activities have been summarized on the functional basis in the consolidated statements of activities. Certain costs have been allocated among the program services, institutional support and administration and development categories based on the square footage of occupancy, estimates of time spent by University personnel and other methods.

Transfers Between Fair Value Hierarchy Levels

Transfers in and out of Level 1 (quoted market prices), Level 2 (other significant observable inputs) and Level 3 (significant unobservable inputs) are recognized on the period beginning date.

Note 2: Change in Accounting Principle

During 2018, the University adopted the provisions of ASU 2016-14, Not-for-Profit Entities (Topic 958): Presentation of Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Entities. This change had no impact on the 2017 change in net assets. A summary of the changes by financial statement area is as follows:

Statement of financial position:

- The statement of financial position distinguishes between two new classes of net assets — those with donor-imposed restrictions and those without. This is a change from the previously required three classes of net assets – unrestricted, temporarily restricted and permanently restricted.

Statement of activities:

- The standard requires the University to report expenses by both nature and function, either in the statement of activities, as a separate statement or within the notes.
- Investment income is shown net of external and direct internal investment expenses. There is no longer a requirement to include a disclosure of those netted expenses.

Notes to the financial statements:

- FASB requires enhanced quantitative and qualitative disclosures to provide additional information useful in assessing liquidity and cash flows, including a description of the time horizon used to manage its liquidity and near-term availability and demands for cash as of the reporting date.
- Provide disclosures on amounts and purposes of governing Board or self-imposed designations and appropriations as of the end of the period.

- (A) This category includes investments in private fund trusts that invest primarily in publicly traded U.S. Common stocks and bonds and international common stocks. The University does not have any unfunded commitments to fund these trusts and the investments can be redeemed at any time.

The amount of assets included in investments that are held for trusts are $7,370,231 and $3,340,927 at April 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively.

Note 4: Educational Land, Buildings and Equipment

The cost of educational land, buildings and equipment and depreciable lives are summarized as follows:

	2018	2017	Depreciable Life – Years
Land	$ 6,091,396	$ 6,076,396
Land improvements	11,935,618	11,895,502	20

Note 5: Commercial Land, Buildings and Equipment

Commercial land, buildings and equipment represents assets of University Retirement Centers, Inc. and the University's medical facilities. The cost of commercial land, buildings and equipment and depreciable lives are summarized as follows:

	2018	2017	Depreciable Life – Years
Land	$ 115,000	$ 115,000
Land improvements	309,423	309,423	15

Accumulated depreciation	(3,169,903)	(3,053,076)
	$ 2,117,972	$ 1,816,534

Depreciation expense on commercial properties was $132,289 and $129,716 for the years ended April 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively.

Note 6: Contributions Receivable From Charitable Remainder Trusts

The University has interests in charitable remainder trusts held at an outside trustee in the amount of $125,516 and $121,051 at April 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively. Contributions are recognized at the dates the agreements are established and are recorded at the present value of the estimated future benefits to be received when the assets are distributed to the University. The valuations of the agreements are calculated using an appropriate discount rate at the time of the gift and applicable mortality tables, when appropriate. The agreements are revalued annually and any resulting actuarial gains or losses are reflected in the consolidated statements of activities as a change in value of split-interest agreements.

Note 7: Beneficial Interest in Perpetual Trust

The University is the beneficiary under a perpetual trust administered by an outside party. Under the terms of the trust, the University has the irrevocable right to receive income earned on the trust assets in perpetuity, but never receives the assets held in trust. The estimated value of the expected future cash flows is $916,997 and $900,454, which represents the fair value of the trust assets at April 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively. The income from this trust for 2018 and 2017 was $46,532 and $43,489, respectively.

Note 8: Line of Credit

The University has a $10,000,000 revolving line of credit expiring on November 30, 2018. At April 30, 2018 and 2017, there was $0 borrowed against this line. Interest was a fluctuating rate equal to the bank's prime rate plus 0.25 percent with the rate not to be less than 4.00 percent (4.00 percent on April 30, 2018 and 2017), and was payable monthly.

Note 9: Derivative Financial Instruments

Variable-to-Fixed Interest Rate Swap

As a strategy to maintain acceptable levels of exposure to the risk of changes in future cash flows due to interest rate fluctuations, the University entered into an interest rate swap agreement for a portion of its floating rate debt. The agreement provides for the University to receive interest from the counterparty at one month LIBOR plus 1.55 percent and to pay interest to the counterparty at a fixed rate of 3.157 percent on notional amounts of $3,400,000 and $3,700,000 at April 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively. Under the agreement, the University pays or receives the net interest amount monthly, with the monthly settlements included in interest expense. The fair value of the swap agreement at April 30, 2018 and 2017, was immaterial.

Note 11: Annuities and Trusts Payable

The University has been the recipient of several gift annuities, which require future payments to the donor or their named beneficiaries. The assets received from the donor are recorded at fair value. The University has recorded a liability at April 30, 2018 and 2017, of $491,772 and $486,211, respectively, which represents the present value of the future annuity obligations. The liability has been determined using discount rates ranging from 1.4 percent to 10 percent.

The University administers various charitable remainder trusts. A charitable remainder trust provides for the payment of distributions to the grantor or other designated beneficiaries over the trust's term (usually the designated beneficiary's lifetime). At the end of the trust's term, the remaining assets are available for the University's use. The portion of the trust attributable to the future interest of the University is recorded in the consolidated statements of activities as with donor restrictions contributions in the period the trust is established. Assets held in the charitable remainder trusts are recorded at fair value in the University's consolidated statements of financial position. On an annual basis, the University revalues the liability to make distributions to the designated beneficiaries based on actuarial assumptions. The present value of the estimated future payments is calculated using discount rates ranging from 3.3 percent to 17.9 percent and applicable mortality tables.

Note 13: Endowment

The University's endowment consists of approximately 450 individual funds established for a variety of purposes. The endowment includes both donor-restricted endowment funds and funds designated by the governing body to function as endowments (Board-designated endowment funds). As required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP), net assets associated with endowment funds, including Board-designated endowment funds, are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

The University's governing body has interpreted the State of Michigan Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (Michigan UPMIFA) as requiring preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, the University classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of donor-restricted endowment funds is classified as temporarily restricted net assets until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the University in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by Michigan UPMIFA. In accordance with Michigan UPMIFA, the University considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

1. Duration and preservation of the fund
2. Purposes of the University and the fund
3. General economic conditions
4. Possible effect of inflation and deflation
5. Expected total return from investment income and appreciation or depreciation of investments
6. Other resources of the University
7. Investment policies of the University

April 30, 2018 and 2017

From time to time, the fair value of assets associated with individual donor-restricted endowment funds may fall below the level the University is required to retain as a fund of perpetual duration pursuant to donor stipulation or Michigan UPMIFA. In accordance with GAAP, deficiencies of this nature are reported in net assets with donor restrictions. There were no such deficiencies at April 30, 2018 and 2017.

The University has adopted investment and spending policies for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs and other items supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment. Endowment assets include those assets of donor-restricted endowment funds the University must hold in perpetuity or for donor-specified periods, as well as those of Board-designated endowment funds. Under the University's policies, endowment assets are invested in a manner that is intended to produce results in excess of inflation of 3 percent while assuming a moderate level of investment risk. The University expects its endowment funds to provide an average rate of return of approximately 6 percent annually over time. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amount.

To satisfy its long-term rate of return objectives, the University relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both current yield (investment income such as dividends and interest) and capital appreciation (both realized and unrealized). The University targets a diversified asset allocation that places a greater emphasis on equity-based investments to achieve its long-term return objectives within prudent risk constraints.

The University has a policy (the spending policy) of appropriating for expenditure each year up to 5 percent of its endowment fund's average fair value over the previous three years measured at fiscal year-end preceding the year in which expenditure is planned. In establishing this policy, the University considered the long-term expected return on its endowment. Accordingly, over the long term, the University expects the current spending policy to allow its endowment to grow at an average of 3 percent annually. This is consistent with the University's objective to maintain the purchasing power of endowment assets held in perpetuity or for a specified term, as well as to provide additional real growth through new gifts and investment return.

April 30, 2018 and 2017

Note 14: Liquidity and Availability

Financial assets available for general expenditure, that is, without donor or other restrictions limiting their use, within one year of April 30, 2018, comprise the following:

	2018
Cash and cash equivalents	$ (11,647,961)
Accounts receivable	11,123,023
Notes receivable	53,000
Other receivables	89,521
Inventory for resale	1,104,100
Investments	1,580,220
Appropriations from the endowment in accordance with the spending policy	1,402,995
Distributions from beneficial interests in perpetual trusts	45,000
Financial assets available to meet cash needs for general expenditures within one year	$ 3,749,898

The University's endowment funds consist of donor-restricted endowments and funds designated by the Board as endowments. Income from donor-restricted endowments is restricted for specific purposes, with the exception of the amounts available for general use. Donor-restricted endowment funds are not available for general expenditure.

The Board-designated endowment of $8,651,668 as of April 30, 2018, is subject to an annual spending rate of approximately 4 percent as described in Note 13. Although the University does not intend to spend from this Board-designated endowment (other than amounts appropriated for general expenditure as part of the Board's annual budget approval and appropriation), these amounts could be made available if necessary. To help manage unanticipated liquidity needs, the University has a committed line of credit in the amount of $10,000,000, which it could draw upon.

The University manages its liquidity and reserves following three guiding principles: operating within a prudent range of financial soundness and stability, maintaining adequate liquid assets to fund near-term operating needs and maintaining sufficient reserves to provide reasonable assurance that long-term obligations will be discharged. The University has a policy to target a year-end balance of reserves of unrestricted, undesignated net assets to meet 15 to 30 days of expected expenditures. To achieve these targets, the University forecasts its future cash flows and monitors its liquidity quarterly, and monitors its reserves annually. During the year ended April 30, 2018, the level of liquidity and reserves was managed within the policy requirements.

Note 15: Employee Benefit Plans

Prior to January 1, 2000, Andrews University participated in a multiemployer, noncontributory defined benefit retirement plan known as the "Seventh-day Adventist Retirement Plan for North America." In November 1999, the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists' North American Division Committee voted to freeze accumulated service credit under the defined benefit plan as of December 31, 1999, and approved a new defined contribution plan to be effective January 1, 2000.

Andrews University

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

April 30, 2018 and 2017

As of January 1, 2000, the University participates in a defined contribution retirement plan known as “The Adventist Retirement Plan.” The Adventist Retirement Plan covers substantially all nonstudent employees. The plan is administered by the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists in Silver Spring, Maryland and is exempt from the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) as a multiple-employer plan of a church-related agency. Contributions to the plan are based on a stated percentage of each employee’s earnings and a stated matching percentage of certain employee contributions. Contributions to the plan for the years ended April 30, 2018 and 2017, were $2,626,612 and $2,600,149, respectively. Investment management of the accumulated contributions designated for each employee is provided under an agreement between the General Conference and AIG Retirement.

The University will continue to make contributions (at a reduced rate) to the defined benefit plan and certain employees will continue to be eligible for future benefits under the old plan. The plan is administered by the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists in Silver Spring, Maryland, and is exempt from ERISA as a multiple-employer plan for a church-related agency. Contributions to the plan are based on a stipulated percentage of nonstudent employee payroll determined by the General Conference, effective January 1 of each year. Effective rates as of January 1 and amounts paid were as follows:

Effective rate	7.45%	7.45%
Total contributions	$ 2,674,220	$ 2,651,508

The plan meets the definition of a multiemployer plan as defined by the Financial Accounting Standards Board. As such, it is not required, nor is it possible, to determine the actuarial present value of accumulated benefits or plan net asset for employees of Andrews University.

Note 16: Commitments and Contingencies

Self Insurance

The University has elected to act as a self-insurer for certain costs related to employee health and accident benefit programs. The University has purchased insurance, which limits its exposure per person to $275,000. In addition, the University has purchased stop-loss insurance with a $265,000 aggregate deductible for all claims exceeding $275,000.

Contributions

Approximately 14 percent of the University’s private contribution revenue for the year ended April 30, 2018, was from one donor. Approximately 13 percent of the University’s private contribution revenue for the year ended April 30, 2017, was from one donor.

Note 17: Related Party Transactions

The University is affiliated with the Seventh-day Adventist denomination. Significant transactions occur between the University and various other Seventh-day Adventist organizations. Total revenue and other support received from these related parties amounted to approximately 13 percent and 15 percent of the University's total revenue in 2018 and 2017, respectively. Revenue and other support received from related parties for the year ended April 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively, are as follows:

	2018	2017
General Conference	$ 5,555,799	$ 5,551,789
North American Division	3,255,800	3,155,604
Lake Union Conference	3,188,954	3,117,673
Other conferences and organizations	781,065	796,333
Total	$ 12,781,618	$ 12,621,399

Included in accounts and notes receivable on the consolidated statements of financial position are the following amounts due from/(to) related parties at April 30, 2018 and 2017:

	2018	2017
Lake Union Conference	$ 260,490	$ 253,957
North American Division Conference	30,921	—
General Conference	(938,501)	(305,523)
Employees	644,120	745,293

During the year ended 2014, the University extended a promissory note to University Retirement Centers, Inc. The note had a balance of $2,215,921 and $2,262,839 at April 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively. Interest on the note is fixed at 4.7 percent with monthly principal and interest payments due through September 2041. The note is eliminated in consolidation.

The University invests in various equity and fixed income fund trusts of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. At April 30, 2018 and 2017, amounts invested were $44,644,555 and $40,974,679 in the equity fund trusts and $5,184,708 and $5,362,167 in the fixed income fund trusts, respectively.

Note 18: Risks and Uncertainties

The University invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the investment amounts reported in the consolidated statements of financial position.

General Litigation

The University is subject to claims and lawsuits that arise primarily in the ordinary course of business. It is the opinion of management that the disposition or ultimate resolution of such claims and lawsuits will not have a material adverse effect on the consolidated financial position, results of operations and cash flows of the University.

Note 19: Disclosures About Fair Value of Assets and Liabilities

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Fair value measurements maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. There is a hierarchy of three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

- Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies and inputs used for assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis and recognized in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position, as well as the general classification of such assets pursuant to the valuation hierarchy. There have been no significant changes in the valuation techniques during the year ended April 30, 2018. For assets classified within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy, the process used to develop fair value is described below. The University has no liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis. Additionally, the University has no assets or liabilities measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis.

Investments

Where quoted market prices are available in an active market, securities are classified within Level 1 of the valuation hierarchy. For investments other than nonexchange-traded fund trusts, if quoted market prices are not available, then fair values are estimated by using quoted prices of securities with similar characteristics or independent asset pricing services and pricing models, the inputs of which are market-based or independently sourced market parameters, including, but not limited to, yield curves, interest rates, volatilities, prepayments, defaults, cumulative loss projections and cash flows. Such securities are classified in Level 2 of the valuation hierarchy.

Andrews University

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

April 30, 2018 and 2017

For the nonexchange-traded fund trusts that have sufficient activity or liquidity within the fund, fair value is determined using the net asset value (or its equivalent) provided by the fund and are classified within Level 2 of the valuation hierarchy. In certain cases where Level 1 or Level 2 inputs are not available, securities are classified within Level 3 of the hierarchy and include primarily investments in real estate. These investments are valued based on an independent third-party appraisal. See table below for inputs and valuation techniques used for Level 3 securities.

Fair value determinations for Level 3 measurements of securities are the responsibility of the University. The University uses outside parties to obtain fair value estimates on a monthly or quarterly basis. The University challenges the reasonableness of the assumptions used and reviews the methodology to ensure the estimated fair value complies with accounting standards generally accepted in the United States.

Contributions Receivable From Remainder Trusts

Fair value is estimated at the present value of the future assets expected to be received from the trust upon dissolution. Due to the nature of the valuation inputs, the interest is classified within Level 3 of the hierarchy.

Beneficial Interest in Perpetual Trust

Fair value is estimated at the present value of the future distributions expected to be received over the term of the agreement. Due to the nature of the valuation inputs, the interest is classified within Level 3 of the hierarchy.

Fair value determinations for Level 3 measurements of interests in trusts are the responsibility of the University. The University obtains valuation from third parties as needed to generate fair value estimates. The University reviews the methodology to ensure the estimated fair value complies with accounting standards generally accepted in the United States.

Level 3 Reconciliation

The following is a reconciliation of the beginning and ending balances of recurring fair value measurements recognized in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position using significant unobservable (Level 3) inputs:

	Real Estate and Other	Contributions Receivable From Remainder Trusts	Beneficial Interest in Perpetual Trust
Balance, May 1, 2016	$ 4,510,292	$ 112,171	$ 853,356

Notes to Schedule

1. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards (Schedule) includes the federal award activity of Andrews University under programs of the federal government for the year ended April 30, 2018. The accompanying notes are an integral part of this Schedule. The information in this Schedule is presented in accordance with the requirements of Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance). Because the Schedule presents only a selected portion of the operations of Andrews University, it is not intended to and does not present the financial position, changes in net assets or cash flows of Andrews University.
2. Expenditures reported on the Schedule are reported on the accrual basis of accounting. Such expenditures are recognized following the cost principles contained in the Uniform Guidance, wherein certain types of expenditures are not allowable or are limited as to reimbursement. Andrews University has elected not to use the 10 percent de minimis indirect cost rate allowed under the Uniform Guidance.
3. The federal loan program listed subsequently is administered directly by Andrews University, and balances and transactions relating to this program are included in Andrews University's consolidated financial statements. Loans outstanding at the beginning of the year and loans made during the year are included in the federal expenditures presented in the Schedule. The balance of loans outstanding at April 30, 2018, consists of:

CFDA Number	Program Name	Outstanding Balance at April 30, 2018

Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance With Government Auditing Standards

Independent Auditor's Report

Board of Trustees
Andrews University
Berrien Springs, Michigan

We have audited, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the consolidated financial statements of Andrews University (University), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as of April 30, 2018, and the related consolidated statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated August 3, 2018. Our report includes a reference to other auditors who audited the financial statements of University Retirement Centers, Inc. Those financial statements, which are included in the University's consolidated financial statements, were not audited in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. Our report also includes an emphasis of matter paragraph regarding the adoption of a new accounting standard.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered the University's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the University's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the University's consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of This Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the University's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program and Report on Internal Control Over Compliance*Independent Auditor's Report

Board of Trustees
Andrews University
Berrien Springs, Michigan

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

We have audited Andrews University's (University) compliance with the types of compliance requirements described in the OMB Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on its major federal program for the year ended April 30, 2018. The University's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

Management's Responsibility

Management is responsible for compliance with federal statutes, regulations, and the terms and conditions of its federal awards applicable to its federal programs.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance for the University's major federal program based on our audit of the types of compliance requirements referred to above. We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and the audit requirements of Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance). Those standards and the Uniform Guidance require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the University's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion on compliance for the major federal program. However, our audit does not provide a legal determination of the University's compliance.

Opinion on Major Federal Program

In our opinion, Andrews University complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on its major federal programs for the year ended April 30, 2018.

Report on Internal Control over Compliance

Management of the University is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above. In planning and performing our audit of compliance, we considered the University's internal control over compliance with the types of requirements that could have a direct and material effect on the major federal program to determine the auditing procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing an opinion on compliance for the major federal program and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with the Uniform Guidance, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control over compliance.

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of the Uniform Guidance. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.

Andrews University
Board Policies Manual

Section 1.0—Introduction

The Board Policy Manual (the “Manual”) gives trustees an opportunity to define and understand the way the Board will operate in order to:

- provide good governance
- make fair and ethical decisions in the best interest of the institution
- ensure that its deliberations reflect the priorities of the internal and external constituencies of the institution
- delegate day-to-day management to the president (with faculty participation on academic matters)
- ensure that the institution, its faculty, staff and students seek knowledge honestly and apply it responsibly.

To facilitate these goals, the Manual contains all of the current, standing policies adopted by the Board and provides the executive parameters for decision-making in support of the mission of Andrews University. The trustees have established and approved the Manual to improve efficiency, promote accountability, provide trustees with easy access to board policies, and provide clear guidance to University administration. The Manual is expected to promote the University’s effective service to the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

1.1 Explanation of how the Manual relates to other governing documents

The Manual must be consistent with, and subservient to, applicable law and the University’s articles of incorporation and bylaws. The Manual supersedes all other University documents (including the Andrews University Working Policy) and any such documents must be consistent with, and subservient to, the Manual. The president is responsible for developing organizational and administrative policies which are consistent with the Manual.

If any policy adopted by trustees at a previous Board meeting appears to be in conflict with the Manual, the Manual shall supersede any such policy. Discrete documents referred to in the Manual should be kept in a board reference book.

1.2 Explanation of how the Manual will be changed/updated

The Manual is meant to be reviewed regularly and revised frequently. It can be revised at any time, but only by a majority vote of trustees.

Any Board action which would change the Manual must specify that the Manual would be changed as a result of the action.

Trustees may wish to refer suggested revisions to the Board's governance committee, but revisions are not required to first go through the committee. The Board's governance committee, whether or not receiving a reference from trustees, should review the Manual at least once each calendar year.

Section 2.0—University Essentials

2.1 Statement of University mission and vision

2.1.1 Mission Statement

Andrews University, a distinctive Seventh-day Adventist Christian institution, transforms its students by educating them to seek knowledge and affirm faith in order to change the world.

2.1.2 Vision Statement

Andrews University, a distinctive Seventh-day Adventist Christian institution, stands at the center of Adventist intellectual life as it demonstrates the transformative power of faith and learning, excellence through diversity, collaborative scholarship, leadership development, and generous service. As such, Andrews University aspires to be a great university, which will be the Seventh-day Adventist university of choice for students, parents and employees alike, as it educates men and women who will demonstrate their faith by utilizing scholarly competencies and leadership skills to transform local and global communities.

2.2 Statement of Board goals/priorities

Trustees seek to govern a financially sound university that fulfills its mission. The University should remain an internationally and domestically diverse institution, which complements and advances the mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Trustees are to reflect the institution's priorities in their deliberations and are to secure human and financial resources that enable the University's long-term stability and growth.

Section 3.0—Board Organization

3.1 Explanation of Board structure

The Board is comprised of up to 41 trustees. Up to 20 trustees are officials of the Seventh-day Adventist Church; and up to another 20 trustees are "lay" trustees ("not primarily employed by the Seventh-day Adventist Church and representing a wide range of professional and business interests relevant to the mission of the University"). The sole trustee who is an employee of the University is the University's president. Additional details of the structure of the Board of Trustees can be found in the university's bylaws.

3.2 Explanation of processes for Board meetings

The Board typically meets three times per year. The chair, vice chair(s), and secretary create the agenda. Any trustee who wishes to place a matter on the agenda should contact one of the Board officers. Materials for reading by the trustees will be sent at least 7 days before the relevant committee takes place. Minutes from the Board and its sub-committees will be published within 7 days of the completion of the relevant meeting.

3.3 Statement of Board's philosophy of governance

The Board shall emphasize forward-thinking vision and exercise strategic leadership. To accomplish this, the Board shall:

- 3.3.1 Enforce upon itself and its trustees discipline to govern with excellence. Discipline shall include: attendance, respect for clarified roles,¹ speaking with one voice, and self-policing any straying from the governance structure or processes adopted in this Manual;
- 3.3.2 Monitor and regularly discuss the Board's own processes and performance, including revisions to this Manual;
- 3.3.3 Encourage diversity of viewpoints;
- 3.3.4 Select, evaluate and, if necessary, terminate the president of Andrews University and determine the parameters within which the president is expected to lead;
- 3.3.5 Monitor the performance of Andrews University relative to the achievement of its mission and institutional strategic plan;
- 3.3.6 Ensure financial solvency and integrity through policies and behavior regarding budget review and approval and investment policies, among others;
- 3.3.7 Require periodic financial and other external audits to ensure compliance with the law and good practices; and
- 3.3.8 Engage in an annual self-assessment of board effectiveness.

3.4 Board leadership

- 3.4.1 The Board chair is elected by trustees at the first Board meeting following a quinquennial meeting of Members. Persons eligible to be elected as Board chair are the General Conference president, secretary and treasurer, and the trustees who are appointed by the General Conference executive officers. The Board chair manages the Board and maintains the integrity of the Board's processes. This includes communicating with sub-committee chairs to ensure the work of the Board is proceeding according to the expectations outlined in this manual.

3.4.2 The president of the Lake Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists shall serve as a Board vice chair. Trustees may elect one or more additional Board vice chairs at the first Board meeting following a quinquennial meeting of Members. Any trustee not already holding a Board office is eligible to be elected as a Board vice chair. A Board vice chair shall fill the role of the Board chair when the Board chair is not able to do so and shall otherwise consult with the Board chair and Board secretary on matters dealing with Board management.

3.4.3 The president of Andrews University shall serve as the Board secretary. The Board secretary shall issue notices, communicate with trustees, take minutes of meetings, and maintain Board documents and records, including this Manual.

3.5 Information on Board meetings

3.5.1 The Board typically meets three times a year (generally October, March and June). This schedule coincides with times when important time-sensitive plans, decisions and reviews occur. Although the Board may take up any matter at any meeting, the Board typically will focus: (a) in October, on audited financial statements for the previous fiscal year and budget assumptions for the following fiscal year; (b) in March, approving the budget and reviewing any proposed changes in the educational services and programs; and (c) in June, approving new faculty, staff and administration and reviewing unaudited financial reports.

3.5.2 Each Board meeting shall be evaluated. Typically, this is accomplished through an instrument furnished by the Board's governance committee. The governance committee has the responsibility of reviewing the evaluation instruments and making recommendations either to administration or to the Board leadership for more effective meetings.

3.6 Description of Board committees

3.6.1 Annual Board decisions, along with all matters coming before the Board, are prepared by a series of Board committees. These committees help the Board to be effective and efficient; they speak to the Board and not for the Board. Some Board committees are required in the University's bylaws whereas other committees are established by the Board for its convenience. Each Board committee is chaired (or co-chaired) by a trustee and the membership is composed of trustees and such other individuals from within or without the campus as appointed by the Board. A relevant

University administrator serves as secretary and staff support person to the Board committee.

- 3.6.2 The responsibility of the Board committees is to review matters on the Board agenda in detail before the agenda item comes to the Board for consideration and vote. While trustees may ask questions and engage in discussion of the agenda items, it will normally hold the Board committee responsible for detailed analysis and take seriously the recommendation of the committees and generally approve these recommendations with only brief summary review of the matter. The purpose of the committees is to expedite the work of the Board while making certain that each agenda item has received careful consideration by trustees assigned to do so.
- 3.6.3 The committees and their assignments are as follows. For current membership see Appendix A.
 - 3.6.3.1 Executive Committee. The Board's executive committee has the authority to act for the Board on all matters so long as the executive committee determines that it would be beneficial to act prior to the next Board meeting and so long as the Board has not reserved to itself the sole authority to act on a given issue. The executive committee shall report all its actions to the Board and the Board shall ratify, or undo, all executive committee actions. This committee is not currently constituted because there are now ways to accomplish emergency meetings by the full Board.
 - 3.6.3.2 University Operations & Finance Committee (Finance Committee). The Board's University operations and finance committee serves as a strategic budgetary and financial planning committee with authority to make recommendations to the Board in the development and implementation of financial policies and procedures for the University.
 - 3.6.3.3 Audit and Risk Management Committee. The Board's audit and risk management committee reviews audit, risk management and compliance issues involving the University and makes recommendations to the Board regarding policies and actions necessary to address any issues identified in an audit. The audit and risk management committee recommends to the Board which external auditor to retain.
 - 3.6.3.4 Governance Committee. The Board's governance committee provides leadership and oversight relative to governance issues facing the Board and University. Among other responsibilities, the committee shall: assist the relevant church executive officers and the Members' nominating committee in identifying and recruiting qualified persons to be appointed as trustees prior to the time of the quinquennial meeting and establish and implement annual performance standards and evaluation tools for the president, individual trustees, and the full Board of Trustees. For the current evaluation instruments in use, see Appendix B.

- 3.6.3.5 Strategic Planning Committee. The Board's strategic planning committee works in partnership with the University's strategic planning efforts to determine priorities and processes that ensures a strategic approach to the University's future.
- 3.6.3.6 Students, Leadership & Spirituality Committee. The Board's students, leadership & spirituality committee addresses issues surrounding the quality and quantity of students and the holistic student experience with emphasis on their faith development. The committee receives reports and engages in dialogue with key student leaders, student life administrators, and faculty and staff prior to developing recommendations for action to the Board.
- 3.6.3.7 Academic Programs & Educational Services Committee. The Board's academic programs & educational services committee develops and recommends to the Board those policies pertaining to personnel/faculty, academic programs and degrees, and learning outcome assessment.
- 3.6.3.8 Compensation Committee. The purpose of the Board compensation committee is to provide oversight, monitoring, an annual audit (to insure compliance with the General Conference alternative wage plan) and planning for compensation management at the University for the Board. The committee reviews management's compensation goals and plans and recommends to the University Board support of or changes to the compensation structure proposed by the University.
- 3.6.3.9 Seminary Executive Committee. The seminary executive committee recommends to the Board matters pertaining to personnel, programs and degrees, and the budget for the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary.
- 3.6.3.10 President's Council. The president's council is comprised of some trustees and committed University friends and donors. The council advises the Board, the president and other administrative and faculty leaders on strategies for the long-term development of Andrews as it relates to programs, facilities and finance.

3.7 Conduct of Trustees

- 3.7.1 The Board expects of itself, and each trustee, ethical and professional conduct. Trustees must understand, engage in, and support the mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.
- 3.7.2 Trustees are expected to prepare for Board meetings, to attend Board meetings and other Board-related obligations, and to champion the University in the fulfillment of its mission. Trustees must at all times be loyal to the interests of Andrews University.
- 3.7.3 Every trustee shall be a donor of record in each calendar year, giving in accordance with the trustee's means.
- 3.7.4 Trustees must avoid any conflict of interest with respect to their fiduciary responsibility and disclose conflicts as they arise. There must be no self-dealing or any conduct of private business or personal services between any trustee and Andrews University except as procedurally controlled to assure openness, competitive opportunity, and equal access to "inside" information. Each trustee must annually complete and sign a Conflict of Interest statement.

- 3.8 Any Board organizational item that is not addressed specifically in this Manual shall be left to the Board chair to determine.

Section 4.0—Board Relationships and Parameters

4.1 Explanation of how Board relates to the president

4.1.1 Role of president

- 4.1.1.1 The president is the chief executive officer. The president is tasked with leading the University so that it carries out the strategic vision of the Board. In general, the president supervises and controls the business and affairs of the University, including all its academic functions. The president accomplishes the will of the Board through implementation of Board-approved policies.
- 4.1.1.2 The president shall keep the Board informed about matters essential to carrying out trustees' duties. The President shall:
 - (a) Inform the Board of relevant trends, anticipated adverse media coverage, and material external and internal changes, particularly changes in the assumptions upon which any Board policy has previously been established;

- (b) Relate to the Board as a whole except when fulfilling reasonable individual requests for information or responding to Board officers or committees duly charged by the Board; and
- (c) Promptly report to the Board chair any actual or anticipated material noncompliance with a policy of the Board.

4.1.1.3 The president shall ensure that institutional strategic plans are developed and approved by the Board.

4.1.2 Evaluation of president

Evaluation of the president's leadership and performance is an ongoing responsibility of the Board. Annual reviews of the president's leadership and performance shall be conducted by the Board and initiated by the Board chair. More thorough "performance evaluations" of the president shall be conducted at least every three years. A part of the president's evaluation shall include consideration of the achievement of institutional goals and objectives.

4.1.3 Presidential succession/search

- 4.1.3.1 When a successor president is needed, the Board will establish a 13-person presidential search committee. The search committee will consist of: the Board chair, the president of the Lake Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, four additional trustees, one University student, one University alumni representative, one University staff member, and four University faculty members.
- 4.1.3.2 Although input and involvement from the University faculty and staff is helpful and desired in the selection of both search committee members and the president, the appointment of a search committee, and the selection of a president, is the Board's prerogative and responsibility.

4.1.4 Statement of how Board relates to/interacts with University staff

- 4.1.4.1 As a general principle the Board governs and the University administration and staff, working through the president, administer the institution on behalf of the Board. For example, the Board established the mission of the University, but hires a president, administration, faculty and staff to carry it out. Strategies designed to implement that vision are generally developed by the University administration working with faculty and staff. These strategies are reviewed and approved by the Board, which in turn asks administration to put them in operation.

- 4.1.4.2 The president of Andrews University is appointed by the Board at the first Board meeting following a quinquennial meeting of Members; at this meeting, upon the recommendation of the president, the Board also confirms the provost, treasurer, and secretary of the Corporation. These four officers serve at the pleasure of the Board. All University administrators, faculty, and staff are accountable to the president (often through other administrators/supervisors). Trustees do not direct the work of University employees other than the president.

Section 5.0—Executive Parameters and Policies

This section contains the policies which the trustees have provided to guide or limit the administrative authority of the president and the University staff.

5.1 General parameter. The president and the University staff shall do nothing immoral, illegal or imprudent.

5.2 Student Life policies

- 5.2.1 The president and University staff shall recruit, admit and guide students in a manner which maintains a campus lifestyle which meets the expectations of the Seventh-day Adventist Church
- 5.2.2 The University's student life program shall promote Adventist/Biblical values

5.3 Academic policies

- 5.3.1 The Board periodically shall review and approve the educational mission of the University with special attention to the biblical worldview and philosophy of Adventist education as it comes to expression through the variety and complexity of contemporary teaching and research in a comprehensive university.
- 5.3.2 The Board shall vote to add or close academic programs, majors and degrees. The decisions to approve new programs and close existing programs shall consider the University's mission and performance indicators of the programs in question.
- 5.3.3 The Board shall review and approve major changes to the academic administration and organization in the University, including establishment of new schools, departments and or services, as well as the appointment of academic deans of schools, directors of departments and divisions and the leaders of the academic support services, e.g. library, records.

- 5.3.4 The Board shall approve the appointments, as recommended through the offices of the deans and provost, of all faculties along with academic promotions and continuous appointment recommendations for the faculty.
- 5.3.5 The Board shall review, advise on and approve the academic strategic plan for the University dealing with teaching effectiveness and learning outcomes. The Board at regular intervals shall hear and become acquainted with reports on performance indicators responding to federal and regional regulations.
- 5.3.6 The Board shall become informed about regional and national accreditation standards and their impact on the University. It shall receive reports on the outcome of the University's application/re-application for accreditation, and trustees shall participate in the accreditation site visits as expected by the accrediting agencies (generally that means attending meetings with the campus accreditation visitors).
- 5.3.7 The Board may delegate any of the above noted obligations to the academic affairs committee, provided it hears and approves a report and recommendations from that committee.

5.4 Audit policies

- 5.4.1 Each year, the University's financial operations shall be audited by an external auditor.
- 5.4.2 The Board shall review and select, upon recommendation from the audit committee, the University's external auditor at least every five years.

5.5 Financial policies

- 5.5.1 The university fiscal year shall be from May 1 to April 30.
- 5.5.2 Accurate financial reports, actual to budget, shall be made at each Board meeting.
- 5.5.3 The budget process shall include the following: the president works with campus administrators to prepare a budget that has an appropriate gain, sets appropriate tuition and fee levels, provides for adequate remuneration and working capital, manages debt, and capital funds needed to keep the campus, its facilities and equipment in good order; the president, through the vice president for financial administration, presents the budget to the finance and operations committee for approval; the finance and operations committee recommends the budget to the Board for approval.
- 5.5.4 The president and University staff shall manage the annual University operations within the approved budget.
- 5.5.5 Capital expenditures from $100,000 to $250,000 are to be approved by the finance committee; capital expenditures exceeding $250,000 are to be approved by the Board.
- 5.5.6 The president shall establish and recommend financial goals to the Board through the vice president for financial administration. The currently-established annual goals include: increase net assets by a minimum of $2.5 million, increase cash by $2.5 million, spend any net increase in net assets for capital expenditures, reduce debt by a minimum of $1 million, and move toward achieving faculty and staff remuneration levels at the 40th percentile of comparable universities. The annual University budget shall provide for an operational gain of a minimum of $2.5 million and should be based on no more than 98% of current enrollment.

5.6 Investment policies

- 5.6.1 Eighty-five percent of investment funds shall be invested in equities; 15 percent shall be invested in bonds/fixed investments.
- 5.6.2 No more than 5 percent of the investments in equities shall be in REITs and hedge funds.
- 5.6.3 Distribution of endowment fund proceeds is limited to a maximum of 5 percent of endowment fund principal calculated on a 3-year average.
- 5.6.4 Investment objective is to obtain investment returns of 9 percent for a 20-year period (2008–2027).

5.7 Development policies

- 5.7.1 Any proposed development project, facility, equipment or program for which funding is proposed by donors must further the University's mission.
- 5.7.2 The minimum amount necessary to activate a new endowment shall be $15,000.
- 5.7.3 The first $25,000 of an unrestricted cash bequest shall be committed to the unrestricted fund. The remainder of an unrestricted bequest, provided that the bequest is less than $250,000, shall be allocated by the President in consultation with senior administration. It is expected that most, if not all, presidential allocations will be to endowed funds or named recognition on campus. All allocations by the President shall be reported to the Andrews University Board of Trustees on an annual basis. The allocation of any bequest of $250,000 or more shall be voted by the Andrews University Board of Trustees upon the recommendation of the Board's committee on University Finance and Operations.
- 5.7.4 The Board and the president reserve the right to accept (or, in some cases, to decline) any commitment offered to them. The president reserves the right to determine how any commitment will be credited and/or how such commitments will be recognized.
- 5.7.5 All gifts that will, or may, require expenditure of funds (other than de minimus funds) either at the time of the gift or at some future date (e.g., non-performing assets gifted to fund a charitable trust or charitable gift annuity, bargain sales, or outright gifts such as real estate that may impose obligations on the University) shall require the approval of both the president and the Board.

5.8 Miscellaneous policies

- 5.8.1 Litigation, or threatened litigation, which has the potential of substantially-affecting the University's finances, shall be reported to the Board in executive session.

Introduction

"In His infinite love God chose to make us co-workers with Himself, with Christ and the angels, that we might share the blessing, the joy, the spiritual uplifting, which results from this unselfish ministry." (Steps to Christ, p. 79)

Andrews University is a Michigan non-profit educational corporation located in Berrien Springs, Michigan. The employment practices of the church reflect religious preferences in harmony with the United States Constitution and controlling laws. Andrews University does not discriminate with regard to race, national origin, gender, color, age, marital status, veteran status or disability that does not prohibit performances of essential job functions with or without reasonable accommodation. This is reflected in Andrews University practices and policies regarding hiring, layoff, discharge, training, promotions, rates of pay, and other forms of compensation.

In harmony with the above statement, Andrews University complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act. This act gives civil rights protection and equal opportunity to qualified individuals with disabilities in all employment practices, including job application procedures, hiring, advancement, compensation, training, termination and other terms, conditions, and privileges of employment. An individual is considered to have a disability if the individual has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities, has a record of such an impairment, or is regarded as having such an impairment.

This staff handbook is intended to acquaint non-faculty salaried and hourly rated employees with the requirements of employment and the benefits to which they are eligible. Employees are advised that not all the benefits described in this Handbook are available to all employee classifications. This handbook does not constitute a contract between the employee and Andrews University. The Andrews administration reserves the right to institute such changes as it deems necessary without prior notice.

The employer recognizes the right of any employee to terminate employment at any time and for any reason, and the employer retains a similar right. No oral or verbal statements, promises or representations may alter your right and that of the employer to terminate your employment at any time and for any reason or for no reason.

The University retains the right to reassign employees or to change job duties without prior notice. A failure on the part of an employee to accept such a change will be considered a resignation.

This edition of the Employee Handbook supersedes all previous Handbooks.

Questions regarding University employment policy should be directed to Human Resources.

The Organization of Andrews University

Andrews University consists of eight schools. The two undergraduate schools are the College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Technology. The graduate and professional schools include the School of Graduate Studies, the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, the School of Business, and the School of Education. The last two of these operate at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The University also operates Andrews Academy and Ruth Murdoch Elementary School.

Andrews University dates back to 1874 when the Seventh-day Adventist denomination founded Battle Creek College in Michigan. In 1901, the institution was moved to Berrien Springs and given the name of Emmanuel Missionary College. The Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary was organized in 1934 as the Advanced Bible School on the campus of Pacific Union College in Angwin, California; it operated in summer sessions only. Two years later, the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists voted to locate the Advanced Bible School on a more permanent basis in Washington, D.C., and named it the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary. In 1957, the seminary board of trustees enlarged the scope of the institution's operations by establishing a school of graduate studies. A new and larger site was sought to facilitate the strengthening and growth of the expanded programs.

The problems encountered in providing an adequate site for the enlarged institution resulted in a move, in 1958, to the campus of Emmanuel Missionary College at Berrien Springs, Michigan. In 1960 the College, the Seminary and the School of Graduate Studies were united under one charter bearing the name of Andrews University. In 1974, the College was reorganized into the College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Technology. The School of Business was organized in 1980 and the School of Education in 1983.

Ruth Murdoch Elementary School consists of a pre-kindergarten through eighth grade. Andrews Academy is a senior high school. These schools had their origin in Battle Creek, Michigan in 1874, and moved with the College to Berrien Springs, Michigan in 1901.

Today the combined enrollments of Andrews University schools are over 3,800 students, representing over one hundred countries.

Mission Statement for Andrews University

Andrews University was established by the Seventh-day Adventist Church to prepare church leaders, laity, and other responsible citizens to fulfill the Gospel Commission, and is committed to providing high-quality Christian education in the context of the Adventist faith. It welcomes students from all nations and other faiths who meet the qualifications established by the institution and who subscribe to the ideals of the University.

Andrews University offers a variety of programs leading to vocational certificates and associate, baccalaureate, masters, and doctoral degrees. These programs are initiated and maintained, particularly at the graduate level, according to the needs of the church. Along with emphasizing excellence in teaching, the University encourages research in order to enrich the learning process and to benefit the Church and society at large.

Because of its commitment to service, the University and its personnel are involved in local, national, and international programs insofar as expertise and resources allow. The first priority in the allocation of institutional resources, however, is meeting the needs of on campus students and programs.

While the scope of the institution has changed since its founding, the distinguishing marks of identity envisioned by the founders still guide the University. Paramount among these are:

1. An educational program that is balanced in the development of the spiritual, mental, physical and social life of the student.
2. A hospitable climate wherein faculty and students may pursue excellence, truth, and continuing relevance.
3. Programs which encourage Christ-centered service to humanity.
4. A campus environment supportive of Christian character development, social maturation, and the dignity of labor. The University strives to achieve its goal under Divine guidance, regarding that only in this way can the maximum potential of its academic community be realized.

General Information

EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK 4:1-100

The purpose of the Employee Handbook is to clarify working relationships, and provide information regarding policies and procedures with reference to employment at Andrews University. If questions arise they should be discussed with the supervisor, department director, and/or Human Resources (HR).

CURRENT EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK 4:1-105

This edition of the Employee Handbook supersedes all previous editions and shall be adhered to except as it shall be amended by subsequent actions of HR.

CHANGES IN EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK 4:1-110

Andrews University retains authority to modify, add or delete any provisions in the Employee Handbook. Andrews University reserves the right to change policies and procedures at any time. The most current policies will be available at HR and you may ask to see them at any time. Updates of changes will be posted on the employee bulletin board in the Administration Building.

EXCEPTIONS TO POLICIES 4:1-115

Any exceptions to policies, regulations, and procedures are authorized by HR under the advisement of the administration.

HUMAN RESOURCES ADVISORY COUNCIL 4:1-120

A Human Resource Advisory Council (HRAC) is annually appointed by HR. The members are as follows: HR Director as Chair, Associate HR Director as Secretary; one member from each of the Schools, and one member each from Advancement, Student Services, Financial Administration, Enrollment Services and Information Services. The Advisory Council meets monthly for the purpose of discussing HR issues.

RECORDS 4:1-125

The HR office maintains a file of the employment records of each employee. These records are property of Andrews University and may include pre and/or post hiring documentation, service records, written reports of periodic performance reviews and other documents, all of which are assembled to form an accurate account of employment experience with Andrews University. To keep personal records current, the supervisor and the HR office should be notified of any change in name, marital status, address, telephone number, dependents, or other pertinent information. A Record or your years of service is kept at the HR office. This is used in calculating retirement benefits. You are encouraged to periodically request a copy of your service record to verify its accuracy.

SUGGESTIONS 4:1-130

Suggestions to improve office operations, reduce expenses and improve policy are welcomed and appreciated. Please pass along any suggestions to the HR Director.

Your Employment

HIRING AND SELECTION 4:2-100

Andrews University is an educational institution which holds the philosophy that students benefit from combining work with a study program. Because many students need to earn part of the funds required to pay for their education the University endeavors to utilize student labor wherever possible.

Many students are married and their continuance in school is based on the employment of their spouses. In jobs that require more continuity, greater skills, or more supervisory demands than students are able to give, the University attempts to utilize student spouses.

The University has many jobs which are highly skilled and require the continuity of employment. For these jobs employees are hired who plan to make their home in this community.

Within these priorities the selection of employees is based on the applicant's experience, education, training, skills, and physical fitness as they relate to the requirements of the job for which he/she has applied. The selection is made in a non-biased way through interviews, references, and pertinent tests.

In selection, promotion, training, wages, benefits, termination and any other aspect of employment there will be fair treatment of all employees without regard to age, sex, race, ethnic background, color, handicap, height, weight or marital status. The University will employ only those who are legally employable in the United States.

CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT 4:2-105

Andrews University strives to maintain a highly qualified staff. Selection and continued employment is based on the following qualifications: character, church membership status, aptitude, education, training, ability, integrity, adaptability and ability to perform job functions (with or without reasonable accommodation). Minimal qualifications are:

1. Church Membership - Membership in the Seventh-day Adventist Church, through baptism or by profession of faith, commitment to its objectives, and a personal relationship with Christ.
2. Church Teachings - Careful adherence to Bible based teachings and standards of the church by exemplifying standards of personal conduct which would preclude:
 - A. Chemical/substance abuse such as:
 - use of alcoholic beverages and tobacco
 - illegal possession and/or misuse of drugs
 - B. Use of profanity
 - C. Immoral conduct including but not limited to sexual relations outside of a monogamous heterosexual marriage
2. Lifestyle - Personal conduct demonstrated in a lifestyle which is characteristic of Seventh-day Adventists and by thoughtful attention to personal example and influence in grooming, dress and the avoidance of extremes.

3. Work Performance - Ability to successfully perform the work and tasks to which one is assigned.
4. Professional Standards - Careful adherence to the highest professional and ethical standards in integrity and confidentiality.
5. Loyalty - Willing and consistent loyalty and cooperation.
6. Stewardship - Exemplary witness in faithful stewardship, as Biblically defined, in personal finance, tithe, time and talents.
7. Commitment - Unreserved commitment and fidelity to Christian service for all employees and to ordination vows for ministers.
8. Conflicting Interests - Avoidance of conflicting interests and enterprises.
9. Prescribed Procedures - Compliance with prescribed procedures for resolving conflicts, disputes, complaints and grievances.
10. Employee Handbook - Compliance with the regulations of Andrews University as set forth in the Employee Handbook and policies of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE AND WORK 4:2-106

Andrews University as an entity of the Seventh-day Adventist Church values the importance of a Sabbath day of rest. According to the SDA Church's official website, "the Sabbath is God's gift to us, a time of rest and restoration of our connection to God and others. It reminds us of God's creation and Jesus' grace." The Seventh-day Adventist church honors the Sabbath from sundown Friday evening to sundown Saturday evening. These hours are considered to be holy hours and should be treated as such.

As Seventh-day Adventists we value the fourth commandment and the importance it has in setting apart a special day each week to commune with our Creator (Genesis 2:1-3, Exodus 20: 8-11, Deuteronomy 5:12-15, Isaiah 58:13,14, Matthew 12:1-12, Hebrews 4:1-11). Setting apart a day of rest and worship allows individuals to re-focus and reconnect, while not needing to concentrate on their daily responsibilities and work. Recent studies have found physical benefits for individuals that regularly practice a day of rest consistent with the biblical principles that are accepted by the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

While the University respects each individual's personal journey, the standard for Sabbath keeping remains consistent with the doctrine of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The way in which each individual honors the Sabbath will be in accordance with their personal relationship with God. Andrews University values this individuality. Consequently, we are able to grow stronger collectively in a better understanding of God's will. At the same time, we learn to respect differences within our colleagues in the way that they celebrate this important day of rest.

Andrews University is a full-time operation hosting students, employees, and visitors on its campus year around, including the Sabbath hours. Some students are also dependent on housing and meals throughout the year. This requires a support staff that is available 24/7 to assist in sustenance, health and safety, emergencies, and other operational functions. Some areas that regularly (or frequently?) require Sabbath work include food services, transportation, plant services, custodial, campus safety, and others. It is the expectation of the University that all efforts are made to assist in an employee's ability to celebrate the Sabbath day of rest. To accomplish this, the University recommends that events that impact the Sabbath hours be kept to a minimum, whenever possible. All affected departments must explicitly identify the potential of Sabbath work in the applicable job description and should include discussion about potential Sabbath work in the interview process to clarify what type of work or expectations are held in the given area. Other suggestions towards minimizing Sabbath work is that departments that need to provide weekend coverage, rotate their staff to ensure that the same staff are not on duty every weekend. In addition, departments should limit their work to what is absolutely necessary to be completed on the Sabbath day, such as essential food preparation and clean up, Life Safety, imminent loss of infrastructure, or other actions as may be needed to prevent injury or damage to persons or property. Departments can also deliberately limit the work that needs to be done on Sabbath by fulfilling certain tasks prior to the Sabbath hours (i.e., cooking for Sabbath meals on a previous day, setting up for a Sabbath evening concert prior to the Sabbath hours). Other tasks may be left to be accomplished after the Sabbath hours.

In the event that an employee feels that their Sabbath convictions have been compromised, they should work with their supervisor, or the director of their area to resolve the issue. If no solution can be found, the employee is encouraged to visit the Office of Human Resources, and as a final option one of our campus ombudspersons.

OUTSTANDING BALANCE 4:2-110

A potential employee with an outstanding balance at Andrews University may be hired only after a payment plan for that account has been agreed upon. Documentation of the plan should be filed with the HR office prior to employment. Employees may request that payment be taken as an automatic deduction from their pay check. In the event that there has been default on a previously agreed payment plan made with the University, a lump payment may be required prior to employment. Under no circumstances will additional charges to the balance at time of hire be acceptable. This would exclude applicable finance charges. Any employee account that is over 180 days in arrears will be charged 1% interest per month.

HANDICAPPED ACCOMMODATION 4:2-115

State and Federal laws require employers to make reasonable accommodations to employees with disabilities/handicaps where the accommodation does not impose an undue hardship on the employer.

If you have any physical, medical or mental impairment or disability which would interfere with your ability to do the job to which you have been assigned, the University will attempt to reasonably accommodate your disability. The accommodation may be a modification to your current working environment or transfer to another job within your capabilities and may be either permanent or temporary, depending on the situation.

The University must be notified in writing of the needs to provide an accommodation as soon as possible but not later than within 182 days from the date you knew, or should have known, that an accommodation is needed.

EMPLOYMENT PROCEDURE 4:2-120

1. Application - All prospective employees desiring Andrews University employment must complete a formal application for employment. Andrews University reserves the right to request a post-offer physical examination as allowed by the law; and if it does so, is responsible for the expense. Applicants may be required to take an office skills test. Applications are accepted by HR based on current job postings and are retained on file.

2. New Employee Orientation - A general orientation program for employees is conducted by HR to give new employees an introduction to Andrews University and its procedures. Departmental orientation is the responsibility of the hiring department director and/or supervisor.
3. Orientation Period - There is a 90-day review period for the new employee. This period is established to benefit both the employee and Andrews University. It is a period of adjustment and adaptation, both personally and in terms of learning the job requirements and work rules. If, during this period, the employee is unable to adapt successfully to the requirements of the position, the department, or the organization as a whole, employment may be terminated immediately. Advance notice may be given but is not required. The employee is free to resign at any time during this orientation period just as Andrews University is free to terminate employment at any time during the same period.

At the end of your 90-day review period one of the following will take place:

- A. Your employment will be continued.
- B. Your review period may be extended. (Should you not agree to the extended review period, your employment will be terminated immediately.)
- C. You or your supervisor will decide to terminate your employment immediately.

Your review period referred to above could be extended at the discretion of your department head if it is felt an additional period of time is needed to determine your suitability for the job to which you have been assigned. At the close of the extended review period your future employment with the University will be reviewed with you by your supervisor.

At the end of the review period, if the employee's over-all work record has been satisfactory, employment will be continued, however there is not any guarantee of future employment for any specific time period. Should the work performance, aptitude, attendance or conduct not meet the requirements of the position, employment may be terminated. Employees terminating during this period will be paid for all hours worked and accrued paid leave time.

BASIS FOR PROBATION 4:2-125

Probation - Probation is assigned to an employee for inadequate performance or improper behavior at any time during employment. The employee may be placed on probation for a designated period to correct recognized performance shortcomings. After having successfully completed a probationary period, the employee will continue to be subject to the conditions of employment and performance requirements discussed elsewhere in the handbook. The employee can be discharged during the probationary period if it appears the employee is unable or unwilling to correct a problem or if continued employment would be contrary to the best interest of Andrews University or the welfare and safety of other employees. An employee cannot be put on disciplinary probation for more than a rolling three calendar year period for the same or similar disciplinary reason. An employee will be terminated if subject to more than two probation periods.

Discipline, Termination and Appeal Procedures - A probationary employee may be terminated at any time for any reason and shall not be entitled to the protections concerning discipline, termination, and appeal procedures contained in this Employee Handbook. See the policies under Section VII for further information on this subject.

PROMOTIONS 4:2-130

Andrews University desires to make your period of employment challenging and satisfying, and wishes to make the best possible use of the skills and potential of employees. Whenever possible, promotions to positions of greater responsibility are made from among our employees. The basis for such a promotion is that an employee demonstrates the ability and possesses the qualifications necessary.

1. Evaluation Criteria - Promotions and/or transfers will be based on performance evaluation, education, prior experience, applicable job skills, test results (if applicable) and/or recommendations. Seniority may be given special consideration where ability and other principal factors are comparatively equal.
2. Review Provision - All promotions and/or transfers will be subject to a review at the end of three months at which time the employee's performance will be evaluated based on the job description. A reasonable effort will be made to make the new assignment a success. If for some reason the new assignment is unsuccessful, efforts will be made to search for another available position.

TRANSFERS 4:2-135

The happiest and most productive employee is that employee experiencing a high level of personal job satisfaction. It is the policy as far as possible, that employees be assigned positions where this high level of personal job satisfaction can be realized, in keeping with ability, knowledge, and experience. Therefore, as a general guideline, an employee may request a transfer to another position after one year of employment with the University. For information regarding eligibility requirements, procedure, and qualifications necessary for the job transfer, contact Human Resources.

While the University will seek to take employees wishes into account, the University does retain the right to reassign employees or to change job duties without prior notice at any time. The University will seek to find a position that accommodates an individual's job skills. The University will give an employee a minimum of two weeks' notice of a transfer. A failure on the part of an employee to accept such a change will be considered a resignation.

1. HR Role - Employees are encouraged to contact the HR Director or the Associate Director if they would like to change jobs. The HR Director may contact such employees when there is another offer. HR or the employee will inform the Department Head or immediate Supervisor of possible changes.
2. Supervisor's Role - Supervisors are urged to be considerate of the job desires of their employees and to facilitate transfer if they are offered other jobs that they are interested in accepting.

NEPOTISM 4:2-140

It is the policy of Andrews University that not more than one member of a family be employed in the same department or in an employment situation where there are not at least two supervisors between relatives. Broadly this means that relatives do not work with or for one another or in a relationship where one might have direct authority over the other in matters of remuneration, promotion, etc.

For the purpose of this policy "family" includes: spouse, child (natural, adopted, step), grandchild, parent, grandparent, uncle, aunt, niece, nephew, or siblings.

For the purpose of this policy "department" refers to the divisions of activities within the University which are shown as entities on the organizational structure or chart of the University, the chart of accounts in the University accounting system, or is an activity which is distinguished by the area of responsibility assigned to a recognized department head. A department may be academic, support, or service.

Exceptions to this policy may be considered for good reason if presented in writing and addressed to Human Resources.

If by marriage a violation of this nepotism policy occurs, employees will be given 30 days to develop an alternative to their current position.

VERIFICATION OF EMPLOYMENT - CURRENT AND FORMER EMPLOYEES 4:2-145

Andrews University employees, including staff, supervisors and department administrators, frequently are requested by current and former employees to share a work reference with prospective employers. All such requests are to be referred to HR for appropriate follow up and response.

Additionally, HR also receives requests from lending and other credit institutions to provide employee - related information. Despite any employment information that Andrews University sends to a lender, Andrews University does not make, and is not making, any promise, prediction or guarantee of future employment for any period of time. Employment is terminable at will at any time, for any reason, by either the employee or the organization.

In response to requests for information, HR will confirm dates of employment, positions held and re-employment eligibility. No information is provided regarding performance of employees. A signed waiver and release from liability is required from current and former employees prior to the release of any information. In the event telephone calls are received for employment verification, the employee will be called and asked to sign an authorization to release information if one is not provided by the caller. If it is not possible to contact the employee immediately, there may be a delay in verifying information to the caller.

AVAILABILITY OF PERSONNEL FILES 4:2-150

You have the right to review your personnel files upon written request and 48 hours' notice. A copy of your file will be made available to you upon your request. You may enter a written response to any record with which you take issue. For more information regarding the contents of the Personnel File contact the Human Resources Office.

ORIENTATION 4:2-155

Human Resources conducts an orientation program that you will be required to attend when you begin employment at the University. This orientation will acquaint you with the philosophy of operation and the objectives of the University.

CLASSIFICATION 4:2-160

Your job is classified as one of the following:

- HF Class - Full time regular hour time staff. Working at least 35 hours per week in a regular job. By this definition, the hours of employment are at least 1820 for the year. "Regular" is defined as a job, which is regularly provided for in the University's budget and shows prospects of indefinite employment.

- HP Class - Part time regular hour time staff. Working at least 30 hours but less than 35 hours per week in a regular job. By this definition, the hours of employment are at least 1560 for the year. "Regular" is defined as a job, which is regularly provided for in the University's budget and shows prospects of indefinite employment.
- HH Class - Part time regular hour time staff. Working at least 20 hours but less than 30 hours per week in a regular job. By this definition, the hours of employment are at least 1040 for the year. "Regular" is defined as a job, which is regularly provided for in the University's budget and shows prospects of indefinite employment.
- HU Class - Part time regular hour time staff. Working less than 20 hours per week in a regular job. By this definition, the hours of employment are less than 1040 for the year. "Regular" is defined as a job, which is regularly provided for in the University's budget and shows prospects of indefinite employment.
- SF Class - Full time staff and administrative assistants. Working at least 40 hours per week in a regular exempt job. "Regular" is defined as a job, which is regularly provided for in the University's budget and shows prospects of indefinite employment.
- SP Class - Half time staff and administrative assistants. Working at least halftime in a regular exempt job. "Regular" is defined as a job, which is regularly provided for in the University's budget and shows prospects of indefinite employment.
- SC Class - Part time staff contract. No benefits.
- AF Class - Full time administrators and associates. Working at least 40 hours per week in a regular exempt job. "Regular" is defined as a job, which is regularly provided for in the University's budget and shows prospects of indefinite employment.
- AP Class - Half time administrators and associates. Working at least halftime in a regular exempt job. "Regular" is defined as a job, which is regularly provided for in the University's budget and shows prospects of indefinite employment.

JOB DESCRIPTIONS 4:2-165

There is a job description for each salaried and hourly rated job. A copy of your job description will be given to you at the time of employment. The range of pay for each job is determined by the requirements of the job.

WORK WEEK- SALARIED EMPLOYEES 4:2-170

As an exempt salaried employee you are paid to carry on the duties of your job description which may exceed the hours of a normal work week.

The recording of the time you work is not required, however you may be asked to keep a record and report the time for which you have been paid when you did not work. An example of this would be vacations, holidays and sick leave.

WORK WEEK - HOURLY EMPLOYEES 4:2-175

Your daily work schedule depends upon your particular job assignment or position. Various departments require different work weeks and different work days. Your supervisor will inform you of your particular schedule.

The work week starts at 12:01 a.m. on Sunday and ends at 12:00 midnight Saturday. Any shift that begins one day and carries over to the next is considered as a shift for the day in which it begins.

RECORDING TIME - HOURLY EMPLOYEES 4:2-180

In those departments that use time clocks or other mechanical or electronic time devices to record work time, all time must be clocked in and out by the employee. No one is permitted to punch time for another employee under any circumstances.

In departments that do not use clocks or other mechanical or electronic time devices the employee will be responsible for recording his/her time worked each day on a time card and reporting their time to their time manager each week. Any false, misleading or misrepresented entries on a time card will result in discipline. All overtime must be authorized by your department director, or someone to whom he/she might delegate responsibility, before the overtime is incurred.

All of the hours you work in a week must be reported during that week. Federal and State laws prohibit the banking of hours (i.e. not reporting hours worked in one week with the intention of reporting the hours in a later week) or volunteering some of the hours you actually worked. (There are limited circumstances under which employees can volunteer their services, but it must be outside of the type of work they are normally employed to do. If an employee wants to volunteer his/her services to the University, he/she should call the Human Resources office for instructions before beginning the volunteer service.)

BALANCED LIFESTYLE 4:2-185

Each employee is encouraged to plan his/her daily program to include a balance between work, time for the family, and spiritual and physical refreshment.

MOONLIGHTING 4:2-190

Full-time employees are expected to consider their employment with Andrews University as being primary. If you have other employment, or are self-employed, it must not infringe on the time and efficiency of the work to which you have been assigned. Other work should not compete or conflict with that of Andrews University.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST 4:2-195

1. Statement of Policy - All employees of Andrews University have a duty to be free from the influence of any conflict of interest when they represent the University in negotiations or make representations with respect to dealings with third parties.
2. Definition of Conflict - A conflict of interest arises when an employee has such a substantial personal interest in a transaction or is a party to a transaction that reasonably might affect the judgement the employee exercises on behalf of the University. The employee is to consider only the interests of the University, always avoid questionable practices, and faithfully follow the established policies of the organization.
3. Conditions Constituting Conflict - Although it is not feasible in a policy statement to describe all the circumstances and conditions that might be considered conflicts of interest, the following situations are some examples which may bring conflict and therefore are to be avoided. The following is not a complete list, other examples may constitute a conflict.
 - A. Engaging in outside business or employment that encroaches on Andrews University's call for the full services of its employees even though there may be no conflict.
 - B. Engaging in business or employment that is in any way competitive or in conflict with any transaction, activity, policy, or objective of the University.
 - C. Engaging in any business with or employment by an employer who is a supplier of goods or services to Andrews University.

- D. Making use of the fact of employment by Andrews University to further outside business or employment, association the University or its prestige with an outside business or employment, or using one's connection to the denomination to further personal or partisan political interests.
 - E. Owning or leasing any property with knowledge that the University has an active or potential interest therein.
 - F. Lending money to or borrowing money from any third party, excluding financial institutions, who is a supplier of goods or services or lending to/borrowing from a trustor or anyone who is in any fiduciary relationship to Andrews University or is otherwise regularly involved in business transactions with the University.
 - G. Accepting or offering of any gratuity, favor, benefit, gift or of any commission or payment, monetary or non-monetary, of greater than usual and customary, in connection with work for Andrews University other than the compensation agreed upon between the University and/ or the employer and the employee.
 - H. Making use of or disseminating, including by electronic means, any confidential information acquired through employment by the University for personal profit or advantage, directly or indirectly.
 - I. Using Andrews University personnel, property, equipment, supplies, or goodwill for other than approved activities, programs, and purposes.
 - J. Expending unreasonable time, during normal business hours, for personal affairs or for other organizations, to the detriment of work performance for the University.
 - K. Using one's connections within Andrews University to secure favors for one's family or relatives.
4. Statement of Acceptance -
- A. By Employees – At the time of initial employment an employee shall sign a statement indicating acceptance of the conditions of employment as outlined in the organization's employee handbook. This acceptance shall constitute the employee's declaration of compliance and resolve to remain in compliance with the conflict of interest policy
 - B. By Administrators, Department Directors and Trustees – The concerned organizational designee shall receive annually a statement of acceptance and compliance with the policy on conflict of interest and/or commitment from each administrator, department director, member of the board/executive committee, and any other person authorized to handle resources of the organization.

DRESS REQUIREMENTS 4:2-200

1. The Andrews University Image

Whatever is associated with Andrews University contributes to the institution's image. Appearance is a basic element of image. For that reason, the personal appearance of Andrews staff makes a significant statement about the University itself.

Andrews University, a Seventh-day Adventist institution, reflects the conservative values of the church in matters of dress and appearance. Its regulations concerning dress are based on the principles of neatness, modesty, and appropriateness. Specific interpretations of these principles must be made within the cultural context of the University and in harmony with its mission.

2. Neatness

In keeping with their occupational status and Christian identity, Andrews University staff will be well-groomed and neatly dressed.

Examples of a failure to maintain an appropriate standard of neatness and grooming are unkempt clothing, clothing designed to appear sloppy, and careless personal hygiene and hairstyles.

3. Modesty

Attire which accentuates the sexual characteristics or which is designed to draw attention to oneself by bizarre or ostentatious style violates the principle of modesty. It would be inconsistent with Andrews' philosophy of staff role modeling if less were expected of staff than is expected of students.

4. Appropriateness

Time, place and the occasion determine appropriateness.

While sweatshirts, jeans and shorts may be appropriate for sports, recreational activities, and certain work environments, they would be inappropriate for campus offices.

Jewelry should be chosen in harmony with the Christian principles of simplicity, modesty, and economy. Some forms of adornment, such as necklaces, earrings, bracelets and rings (except wedding bands) are not considered appropriate.

Some departments of the University may have particular requirements for dress, such as professional attire, uniforms, or safety equipment that may be expected of its workers. Those requirements are explained by the Supervisor at the time you are hired.

5. Personal Appearance Policy Implementation

It is the responsibility of the individual department/service director as well as the HR Director to implement the Personal Appearance Policy. Should it be determined that within a department/service an individual is not in compliance with the policy, the following steps will be taken:

- A. The department/service director and/or the HR Director shall consult with the immediate supervisor urging implementation.
- B. A memo documenting the verbal counsel shall be directed to the employee by the department/service director/supervisor.
- C. The department/service director shall inform the HR Director if an employee refuses to comply with the personal appearance requirements. The HR Director and department/service director shall then meet jointly with the employee in order to resolve the situation. A second memo shall be directed to the employee by the HR Director requiring a written response as to the employee's intentions with respect to the personal appearance requirements.
- D. If the employee still refuses to comply with the personal appearance requirements after being counseled by the HR Director and department/service director, the matter shall be referred to HR for disciplinary action.

1. Guidelines - While the telephone is a very convenient and economical method of communication, it is also a major expense for Andrews University. Employees are encouraged to make business calls brief.
2. Personal Calls - Personal telephone calls should be kept to a minimum and of limited time duration; calls should be made during an employee's lunch hour and/or morning/afternoon break time. All toll calls made during working hours should be processed using the employee's personal PAC code or charged to the employee's home telephone or credit card.
3. Personal Business - Employees shall not publish Andrews University telephone numbers in connection with secondary jobs or non-related activities.
4. Charges - Telephone calls are charged to the expense of the department. All monthly department telephone bills are subject to review at any time; this review may result in a request for employee reimbursement relating to personal charges.
5. Overseas Calls - Officers and departmental directors are authorized to make overseas phone calls. Such phone calls by associate departmental directors are to be authorized by the director or designee.
6. Limitations - Overseas phone calls should be kept to a minimum and be limited to situations where FAX or e-mail is inadequate.
7. Conference Calls - Operator assisted conference calls should be authorized by the department director.
8. Telephone Courtesy

Care and courtesy in using the telephone not only creates a good impression for Andrews University but also makes the contact more pleasant for those who are calling. In using the telephone:

- A. Answer promptly and pleasantly
- B. Identify yourself by name
- C. Give accurate and careful answers
- D. Display a helpful attitude
- E. Maintain a pleasant tone of voice
- F. Take careful notes and pass on information to persons concerned
- G. Transfer calls tactfully
- H. Hang up gently
- I. Be sure to arrange for telephone coverage or call forwarding when away from work station
- J. Ensure that your voice mail message is regularly updated and shares pertinent information to the caller
- K. Respond to voice mail messages within a reasonable length of time
- L. Voice mail is for University business and should not be used for personal business: i.e. - selling, campaigning

RELATIONSHIP TO STUDENTS 4:2-210

As we work with our students, our Christian witness to them can have a life-long influence, which in some cases may be even greater than the influence carried from the classroom.

The University encourages you to befriend its students--particularly those living in the residence halls--in every way possible. Please recognize residence hall protocols when involving residence hall students.

SOLICITATION AND VENDING 4:2-215

Solicitation of Andrews University employees by co-workers and non-employees is distracting and may be annoying or embarrassing for the employees who are approached. For this reason Andrews University maintains a solicitation and vending policy as outlined below.

1. Solicitation by Employees - Employees of Andrews University are expected to maintain a proper professional image and to avoid business activities for personal benefit during office hours. Therefore, employees shall not engage in any solicitation of other employees during working time. Solicitation permitted by law must be conducted on authorized non-working time, e.g., meal breaks.
2. Solicitation/Vending by Non-Employees - Non-employees shall not engage in any solicitation of or vending to employees during working hours. Advertising/promotional material, brochures, etc., may be placed in the building with the approval of HR. Material of this nature is not permitted for display on the employee bulletin board in the Administration Building.
3. Andrews University Sponsored Collections - Permission for collections/solicitations pertaining to specific authorized projects may be granted by HR, upon request.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION 4:2-220

Many times within the University setting there are strictly confidential disclosures of a personal or organizational nature. Employees will protect themselves and the organization by not allowing the dissemination of such information to family, friends, or strangers unless authorized to do so by the appropriate individual.

CHILDREN AT THE WORK PLACE 4:2-225

Children visiting their parents during working hours can be a disruption to the normal work activity of both the parent and others in the work environment. They may also be exposed to dangerous equipment or materials. For that reason children should be cared for away from the work place and in such a way as to not interfere with the activities of the University. This includes after school hours as well as vacations and holidays. In the event the arrangements for the care of your child(ren) should fail, you should notify your supervisor so that you can be released from your duties to care for their needs.

JOB POSTING AND HIRING PROCEDURE 4:2-230

1. Procedure - Non-administrative, non-faculty positions that become available at Andrews University will be posted for a period of five working days (72 hrs) in order to alert interested employees of available jobs. This posting will be placed on the bulletin board at the entrance to the Administration Building and in the HR web page. Job openings that are to be filled by intra-department transfers or by individuals that HR need to relocate or place may be excluded from this posting plan.
2. Service Requirement - Employees with at least one year of service in the same position at Andrews University will be given preference for the posted jobs.
3. Job Information - Notices for available jobs will give the following information: The job title; a brief description of the job; education, experience and skills required; the remuneration level; time of posting and expiration date. Additional information regarding job openings may be obtained from HR.

4. Eligible Candidates - Adequately qualified employees who apply for posted jobs will be considered. If the available position is not filled by a current qualified Andrews University employee, the position will be made available to other SDA applicants.

DRUG-FREE WORK PLACE 4:2-235

The University is committed to an environment of learning that supports the fullest possible human development. To achieve this goal, the University holds that a drug-free lifestyle is essential and thus maintains policies that seek an alcohol, tobacco, and drug-free campus environment. This is consistent with the teachings of the Church.

The University intends to maintain a drug-free workplace in harmony with the laws of the land. The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing or use of controlled substances, or illegal drugs by its employees, whether faculty, staff, or students, is prohibited. The University so certifies as an institution to the federal government in its external funding contracts and grants. Further, the University expects any person employed by the University who receives federal or state funding as an individual to certify that he or she will not engage in the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use of a controlled substance while associated with the University.

The University believes it also has a responsibility to offer and provide assistance to employees who are chemically addicted and wish to live a drug-free life. To discharge its responsibility it has instituted an Employee Assistance Program which provides a substance abuse counselor qualified to do assessments, individual counseling, and to make referrals for more in-depth therapy and rehabilitation on an outpatient or inpatient basis to approved/licensed programs. The University also encourages or provides access to support networks which can assist the employee in maintaining sobriety following therapy.

An employee who believes he or she is having a problem with tobacco, alcohol or the illegal use of drugs is encouraged to voluntarily seek the available assistance. Appointments with a counselor may be arranged individually. Employees who show evidence of the use of tobacco, alcohol or illegal drugs, may be referred for counseling as a condition of continued employment.

Each employee is provided the full text of the University's Drug-Free Workplace Policy and Procedures, which is incorporated by reference as a part of this Employee Handbook. Additional copies are available from Human Resources.

COURTESY 4:2-240

In the parking lot, in the office, on the street and wherever people meet, the employee should be recognized for refined, courteous conduct. This standard will be reflected in telephone conversations, correspondence, business dealings and relationships with fellow employees. The employee is responsible for maintaining high professional standards of conduct in harmony with the Golden Rule. It is inappropriate to defame the character of co-workers by spreading malicious gossip or to act in a discourteous manner.

SAFETY 4:2-245

Andrews University seeks to provide a safe environment for its employees, students and guests. As an employee, your role in maintaining this safe environment is critical. You must follow all safety practices required by OSHA and by the University. You must:

1. Follow all safety procedures that are outlined in this handbook, and those procedures that are brought to your attention by your supervisor or by the University administration.
2. Notify Loss Control or HR if there are any unsafe conditions or practices that come to your attention. A Safety Suggestion Box is located in HR for this purpose.
3. Immediately remedy any unsafe situation you may encounter, if it is safe and appropriate for you to do so.
4. Response to the fire alarm. When the fire alarm sounds:
 - A. Evacuate the building completely using the nearest clear exit. Remember, going through smoke is dangerous. Avoid it if you can.
 - B. Call Campus Safety at 3321.
 - C. If fire and/or smoke is evident, call 911.
 - D. Remain clear of the building until notified by Campus Safety that it is safe to reenter.
5. Travel Safety. The US State Department's recommendations will be followed for all University-sponsored trips outside the United States. These recommendations may be accessed on the world-wide web at <http://www.travel.state.gov>. Any University sponsored trips that involve students must receive risk management approval at least 30 days before departure. Risk management approval may be obtained from the Loss Control Office in Human Resources.
6. Personal property on University premises. If you should choose to bring your personal property to the campus, you must do so at your own risk. In general, the University seeks to provide the tools necessary for the performance of your job. If, however, there is personal property that is mandatory to fulfill your job responsibilities, you may file an insurance application with the Treasurer's Office.
7. Keys. When you begin working at the University, you will be issued any keys you may need to fulfill your job responsibilities. If your duties should change such that you no longer need those keys, please return them to the Plant Administration Office immediately. At the conclusion of your employment, please return all University keys to the Key Office.

WEATHER CLOSURE 4:2-250

1. Essential Workers

Essential workers are certain employees who have been notified by their department head that they are required to work during a weather closure involving the entire campus. This could be any worker, but most frequently would be from the Plant Services, the Library, Public Safety, Dining Services, and/or residence halls. If you were not informed that you need to remain at work and you choose to continue working during a weather closure, you are not considered an essential worker. Under certain circumstances the University may provide transportation, if needed, to essential workers. Essential workers who work during a weather closure will be paid for hours worked and will be given paid leave time equivalent to time worked during a weather closure.

2. Remuneration

Hourly rated employees may be paid for up to two days during the period of an announced closure.

- A. The first day will be from the announced time through the remainder of the day, or until the closure is ended on that day. (A closure may begin and end on the same day.)

- B. The second day will be from the announced time until the closure is ended or to the end of the employee's workday.
- C. In the case of a Friday closure, employees will report one-half day or only the hours the employee would normally have worked.

Employees should report only the hours they would have worked during the closure period. Those hours should be recorded on the clock, or by such other manner as may be used in the employee's department.

If a closure is extended beyond two days, subsequent hours may be reported as paid leave, up to the accrued hours in the employee's paid leave bank.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY AND SECURITY 4:2-255

1. Personal Computers

Personal computers (desktop or portable) are provided by the University for many employees as a part of their work environment. The following guidelines for the care and use of these computers should be observed by all employees:

- A. All possible measures should be taken to preserve the physical security of personal computers, for example maintaining a physical locking device and locking access doors (where applicable). Portable computers should always be under personal supervision, in a locked space, or secured with a locking device -- especially when traveling.
- B. Hardware and software maintenance for personal computers is generally provided by Information Technology Services personnel and is charged to the user's department. Information Technology Services sets standards for computer and communications equipment on the campus and policies for service of equipment that does or does not meet these standards.
- C. Connections to the campus data network should be made and changed only by personnel from Information Technology Services.
- D. Each user is responsible for the security of data on their personal computer. Where sensitive information is stored on a personal computer, access to internal storage should be limited by a password. Centralized backup may be implemented for some personal computers; for all other machines, the user should carry out regular backups by means of some removable storage medium such as disks or tapes. Storage media containing sensitive information (backup or otherwise) should be kept in a locked space. A personal computer connected to sensitive information (local or through the network) should not be left unattended.
- E. University-owned personal computers are to be used for University business. Limited personal use is permitted outside of work hours for communications such as email and Web browsing. Permission of a supervisor should be obtained for other personal uses. Use of University computers for personal commercial activities is prohibited.
- F. Personal computers must not be used to store or transmit any illegal documents, such as copyrighted documents without permission. This includes pornography and sexually explicit material.
- G. Employees' use of games on University-owned personal computers is prohibited during work hours, except for special cases where there is a clear academic or administrative objective.

- H. University work should generally be done on computer or communications equipment provided by the University. Where personally-owned equipment is used for University business, the University assumes no liability for the maintenance or replacement of this equipment unless arrangements are made in advance.

2. Software

Licenses are to be purchased for all copies of software on University computers and users are responsible for observing license and copyright restrictions of all software and documentation. Usually this means that commercial software may not be copied to other machines and documentation should not be copied. "Site licenses" will be purchased by the University for some widely used programs. Information Technology Services personnel must install these programs and users should not copy or move them to other machines. Other copyrighted programs may be installed on personal computers by users provided that an appropriate license has been purchased.

Information Technology Services (ITS) sets campus standards for widely used software such as operating systems, word processing, etc. ITS also sets policies for the installation and maintenance of standard and non-standard software packages on University computers.

3. Administrative Computing System

Academic and other information about students and employees is stored in a central administrative computer system. The following policies apply to this system:

- A. Employees who need access to some or all of this information as part of their job responsibilities are given a password for access. This password should be carefully guarded, changed frequently, and treated as a signature, i.e. not shared with anyone else including fellow employees or family members. It is a responsibility of the employee to help preserve the confidentiality of personal information in the system mandated by law.
- B. Unauthorized access to data and improper use of data in the administrative system is strictly prohibited and may result in termination.
- C. The administrative computing system is not to be used for personal purposes (the one exception being employees who receive email or access the Internet through accounts on this system).

4. Data Communications

The University provides a data network connection for virtually all personal computers giving access to other computers and services both within and outside the campus. Every employee and student is also given an account on at least one central computer to permit access to email, the World Wide Web, and other local and national/international services. The following policies apply to such accounts and communications services:

The contents of electronic messages, documents and graphic images must conform to University ethical and business standards. Employees are not permitted to use the University's electronic systems for activities such as stating political views, communicating inappropriate, sexually explicit or offensive comments, soliciting employees, communicating destructive (virus) programs or conducting personal business. The use of profanity, derogatory epithets, innuendos or sexual, threatening or abusive language on the University's electronic systems is also prohibited.

If employees receive an inappropriate or offensive electronic communications via the University's electronic systems, they should immediately notify their supervisor or the Human Resources Department.

- A. The access password should be carefully guarded, changed frequently, and treated as a signature, i.e. not shared with anyone else including fellow employees or family members.
- B. The following are prohibited and some may constitute criminal activity:
 - 1. Unauthorized access to other users' accounts, system software, University data, or remote computer systems.
 - 2. Unauthorized decryption of coded information such as passwords.
 - 3. Attempts to "crash" computers or network services.
 - 4. Storage or transmission of copyrighted materials without permission.
 - 5. Willful introduction of viruses or other disruptive/destructive programs.
 - 6. Attempts to evade or bypass resource quotas.
 - 7. Forgery or attempted forgery of documents or email.
 - 8. Excessive use of resources, such as network bandwidth or disk storage.
 - 9. Unsolicited "broadcasting" of email (electronic junk mail).
 - 10. Harassment or intimidation of other users.
- C. Unauthorized access to other users' accounts, system software, University data, or remote computer systems.
- D. Widely accepted etiquette for the Internet should always be observed. For example, email should not be sent to users, lists, or news groups where the subject is not appropriate, where the user is not welcome, or the document size is excessive. Language should always be appropriate and representative of a Christian.
- E. University employees and students may set up a home page on the World Wide Web containing personal as well as University information. Such pages must follow guidelines established by the Web Page Committee.
- F. All electronic information systems and data (including e-mail, computer data, tele faxes and voice mail) are considered University property and records. Electronic communications should not be considered private communications.
- G. A limited number of telephone connections is provided by the University for employees to access campus information resources from their homes or while traveling on University business. All information technology policies apply to these connections as well as to computers on campus.
- H. Limited personal use of University data communication facilities is permitted outside of work hours, for example for email or Web browsing. The available resources may sometimes restrict such personal use.

Philosophy of Remuneration

YOUR WAGES 4:3-100

1. Objectives - The Seventh-day Adventist Church has accepted the commission given by Jesus Christ to His disciples to proclaim the gospel to all the world. The church employs many agencies to accomplish its spiritual task, but all of its organizations (conferences, schools, health care institutions, food factories, publishing houses, radio and television ministries, Adventist Book Centers, etc.) have one central objective - the salvation of humanity. Because of this, every denominational employee has a responsibility to participate in the mission of the church.
2. Philosophy - To provide a basis for the remuneration of various classifications of employees, a denominational remuneration scale has been adopted. The philosophy of this remuneration scale is predicated upon the fact that a spirit of sacrifice and dedication should mark God's workers irrespective of the position they hold or of the department they represent. The work of the church, including every denominational organization, is a mission to which lives are dedicated rather than a business or commercial venture. The church remuneration scale does not always compensate its dedicated employees in monetary units commensurate with their talents, accomplishments and contributions, but does provide employees with a modest living income, which gives recognition of responsibilities borne, preparation undertaken, professional attainment, previous experience and years of service. In addition to basic remuneration, the church has also made provision for various types of fringe benefits.
3. Spirit of Sacrifice - The church believes that modesty and good taste with reasonable comfort will govern the lives of Christian workers. It recognizes that some areas of its work are more directly affected by economic factors outside of the church organization than are others, and by local economic conditions prevailing in different geographical areas. The spirit of sacrifice on the part of Adventist employees will be manifest not only by the level of their financial remuneration, but also by the dedication of time, talents and energy to the cause of God and humanity. Men and women called to labor in the cause of the Adventist Church are to be workers of single purpose and allegiance. With Paul, the great missionary of the early Christian Church, they say, "This one thing I do."
4. Commitment - The Church's philosophy of remuneration was developed on the scriptural and spiritual imperative, "Give us this day our daily bread." It is a plan which provides a salary covering the needs of individuals who believe that God blesses the spirit of selfless service and who believe that the Seventh-day Adventist Church has a worldwide mission. This philosophy, from its inception, has anticipated that, in addition to the contribution of time and talent, Seventh-day Adventist employees will also, from their modest remuneration, return a faithful tithe and make voluntary gifts to accelerate the proclamation of the gospel, and thus exhibit a further demonstration of faith and commitment. Because of this philosophy, all denominational employees in the Seventh day Adventist Church are regarded as church workers and are called to commitment and sacrifice.
5. Non-Discrimination - When considered in the light of the previous principles, the remuneration scale of the University reflects the spirit of non-discrimination, and equal pay, as well as being in conformity with the teachings and beliefs of the church.

WAGES-HOURLY EMPLOYEES 4:3-105

It is the goal of Andrews University to employ and retain the most qualified personnel in harmony with its priorities of hiring as stated under the section entitled Hiring and Selection. The University has endeavored to establish a wage and salary system that will be consistent with this goal.

Every non-student hour time position in the University has been assigned a wage range determined by an analysis of the responsibilities, knowledge, judgment, working conditions of the job, and several other factors. Each wage range is structured with a minimum and maximum rate, and all employee rates of pay will be within the range for each job.

The University is primarily concerned with equity in rates of pay relative to jobs at Andrews University. However, in order to be equitable the University endeavors to be aware of community rates and rates of other comparable institutions.

REMUNERATION SCALES 4:3-110

1. Specifications - A remuneration scale based on such considerations as education, experience, and responsibility, provides minimums and maximums expressed in percentages of the remuneration factor. It incorporates basic income rates for various categories of services, with recognition of the responsibility inherent in each position or category.
2. Categories - A spread between minimum and maximum rates in the various categories from fifteen to forty percent has been incorporated in the remuneration scale. In setting rates within this spread, Human Resources may take into consideration the following factors in setting rates within the spread with respect to each employee:
 - A. Education and training
 - B. Previous experience and achievement
 - C. Skills and abilities
 - D. Years of service

PERFORMANCE AND EVALUATIONS 4:3-115

All employees will participate in annual performance reviews. New hourly employees of Andrews University will be evaluated at the end of a 90-day period. Benefits will be activated if the 90-day evaluation meets job expectations. Performance evaluation reports are filed with employee records in HR.

ANNUAL INCREMENTS 4:3-120

An employee may receive a remuneration increment if the maximum for the remuneration category has not been reached. Increases are set by the administration and are also based in part on performance evaluations. Annual increases are implemented in July.

COST OF LIVING INCREASES 4:3-125

There is no cost of living percentage increase.

OVERTIME PAY-HOURLY EMPLOYEES 4:3-130

Overtime pay is computed for hours actually worked by non-exempt employees over forty hours in one week. The rate over time pay is 1.5 times the normal hourly wage. Any overtime worked must have advance approval by your supervisor. Overtime pay is required by law only on time actually worked (exclusive of sick time, vacations, holidays, etc.).

In no situation are you to work without reporting the time, even if the time is in excess of 40 hours in one week. Working "off the clock" (i.e., working without reporting the time) is not legal and must not be done.

PAY DAYS 4:3-135

Employees are paid on a biweekly basis every other Friday. The payroll check is for the two-week period ending on the Saturday prior to the Friday that the check is issued.

A schedule of paydays and payroll periods are posted at the HR website.

YOUR PAYCHECK 4:3-140

Paychecks normally include the following items (wherever applicable):

EARNINGS	DEDUCTIONS
a Salary or hourly wages	a Applicable taxes
b Special Adjustments	b Health insurance, accidental death insurance, voluntary donations, tax sheltered annuities, etc.
c Other forms of compensation	c Other deductions

PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS 4:3-145

Federal and state laws require the withholding of income tax as well as Social Security and Medicare (FICA) tax. All deductions, including personal deductions are listed on the paycheck stub. Voluntary deductions to employee account, church, or University contributions are subject to authorization by you.

Any questions regarding deductions should be directed to the payroll office.

Any changes in the tax exemptions you claim, or employee status, must be made through the payroll office.

DIRECT DEPOSIT 4:3-150

Direct deposit is the automatic deposit of your paycheck into the financial institution of your choice. Your paycheck is your earnings (less deductions) which may be applied to your checking, savings, or loan accounts according to your arrangements with the financial institution.

Once you have established an account at the financial institution, please complete the online direct deposit authorization.

Employees are strongly encouraged to have direct deposit set up for their paycheck to avoid missing checks and the inconvenience of manually depositing the paycheck in person.

Your Benefits: Time Off Work

PAID LEAVE PLAN-HOURLY EMPLOYEES 4:4-100

1. Purpose - The Andrews University Paid Leave Plan is available to workers who are of an HH, HP, or HF classification.

The purpose of the plan is to provide a continuity of income during specific periods of absence which includes vacation, personal time, holidays and short-term sick leave and medical/vision/dental appointments.

2. Accrual Rate - Time begins to accrue on the first day of employment at the following rate, as determined by total denominational employment: (The leave bank illustration is based on a 40-hour workweek.)

LEAVE BANK ILLUSTRATION

	Total Hours	Equivalent Days	Maximum Annual Accrual	Hourly Rate of Accrual
One through four years	0 - 7,488	25	200 hours	0.0961538
Five through nine years	7,489 to 16,848	30	240 hours	0.1153846
Starting tenth year	Begin 16,849	35	280 hours	0.1346153

3. For the purpose of determining the hourly rate of accrual the first 1,820 hours in a calendar year will constitute one year. Less than full-time will be prorated, providing the service was at least 1,000 hours for the year. For denominational employment prior to Andrews University, the years of employment will be determined from the Employee Service Record. The appropriate hours will be added to the Paid Leave Bank after the Record is received.

Except for holidays and sick leave, the Paid Leave Bank may be used at the discretion of the employee upon prior arrangement with the department head.

Time in the Paid Leave Bank may be paid only when the employee is off duty during his/her normal working hours, except at the time of termination or retirement.

Time in the Paid Leave Bank accrues only on the first 80 hours of paid time in a two-week pay period.

4. Holiday Time - The University designates holidays when its normal activities are halted. Please see policy # 4:4-125 for a list of holidays. Employees will be expected to take their holidays at those times. Employees required to work on holidays may take equivalent time off at another time acceptable to their department head.
5. Short-Term Sick Leave - The first three work days of any illness are paid from the Paid Leave Bank. Sick time for any illness of the employee which exceeds three work days may be charged to available time in the Long-Term Sick Leave Time Bank. Sick Leave will be paid only if notification of the illness is given at the beginning of the workday on the first day of absence.

6. Time Limitations - Time may not be charged to the Paid Leave Bank in excess of its balance. For that reason, employees are advised to maintain a reserve for emergencies. Not more than four of the standard or average (whichever is less) workweeks may be charged to this bank at any one time.

The maximum paid leave that can be accumulated during the fiscal year is 320 hours or eight standard or personal average workweeks, whichever is less. When the maximum hours are reached no further hours may be added to the bank.

At the beginning of the fiscal year (July 1) any hours in the Paid Leave Bank which exceed 280 hours or seven of your standard or average workweeks, whichever is less, will be transferred to the Long-Term Sick Time Bank, but the hours in that bank may not exceed the maximum permissible. Time which cannot be transferred to this Long-Term Sick Bank will be lost.

The net amount of accrued time in both the Paid Leave and Long-Term Sick Leave Banks will appear on the check stub of qualified employees. No more leave time may be claimed than appeared on the most recent past check stub.

LONG-TERM SICK LEAVE-HOURLY WORKERS 4:4-105

The Long-term Sick Leave Bank provides paid time off for employees who experience an extended illness, are hospitalized/have out-patient surgery requiring a period of recovery. This bank accrues at the rate of .0153846 hours for each hour worked up to 80 hours per pay period, which is four of the regular or average workdays, whichever is less, per year. The maximum that may be accrued in this bank is 26 average workweeks, but in no case more than 1,040 hours.

This bank may be used as follows:

1. Starting with the fourth day of an illness (requires three consecutive workdays of absence due to the illness, to be claimed as short-term sick hours from the paid leave bank; in the absence of sufficient paid leave hours, some or all of the three days may be unpaid), or
2. Starting with the first day of hospitalization or out-patient surgery (where a period of recovery beyond three days is necessary).

To qualify for Long-Term Sick Leave the first "Application for Long-Term Sick Leave" for each absence must be accompanied by a physician's statement which indicates the nature of the illness, disability or incapacity and should indicate the anticipated period of absence from work. Subsequent applications within that period will not require the physician's statement.

Employees are expected to return to work as soon as they can resume their duties. In some instances this may require reasonable accommodation on the part of the University to a temporary incapacity of the employee. This will be arranged, where possible, by department heads. The date of return to work may be set on the advice of the attending physician whose counsel may be sought at any time with consent of the employee while the Long-Term Sick Leave Bank is being used. Time may not be charged to this bank after the physician has given approval to return to work.

Long-Term Sick Leave may not be used when incarceration is the cause for absence from work.

Payments may not be made out of the Long-Term Sick Leave Bank after the date of termination of work nor may the credit remaining in the bank be paid in cash at any time. Time in the Long-Term Sick Leave Bank may not be transferred to the Paid Leave Bank under any circumstances.

LONG TERM SICK LEAVE-SALARIED EMPLOYEES 4:4-110

Purpose

To provide paid leave for its regular half-time and above salaried staff and faculty who become ill while employed by the University. This policy provides definition and application for the administration of this policy.

Definition

Short-term Sick Leave: occasional short-term illness of less than a week; this time is not monitored or counted against the extended sick leave time.

Extended Sick Leave: a 90-day period of paid sick leave time available when the employee is unable to work due to illness for an extended period of time of more than one week. Frequent intermittent time away from the office due to illness should be reviewed by the supervisor and the Office of Human Resources to determine if it falls under this extended sick leave policy.

Extended sick leave could turn into long-term disability depending on the nature of the illness. This 90-day extended sick leave period may also constitute as the elimination period for long-term disability, where the employee must experience a loss of function or salary reduction before the long-term disability benefits would be available.

Long-term Disability Period: a medical event which lasts for more than 90 days. Partial salary may be provided by an external commercial policy, the University, or some combination of these two, as applicable.

Application

An employee is eligible to access the extended sick leave provision of the benefit policy as needed for up to 90 days. No notification is required other than to the chair or supervisor for the first five days. If the event goes beyond five days, the employee must provide medical certification and complete an FMLA form (which will include doctor's certification of the medical event) with the Office of Human Resources. It will then be considered a formal family medical leave and will be tracked accordingly.

After 60 days of extended sick leave, the employee will be required to complete a long-term disability application in anticipation of the medical event extending beyond 90 days, qualifying it for long-term disability coverage.

During the extended sick leave, days 1-90, the employee will be paid 100% of their salary. Should the medical event continue, the employee will receive 80% of their bi-weekly salary for days 91-180, paid by the University until the point where the long-term disability application is approved. Once the application is approved, 66 2/3% of bi-weekly salary is paid by the long-term disability provider with the University supplementing the remaining 13 1/3%, thus 80% of salary is continued through day 180. After 180 days, the University will no longer supplement 13 1/3% of bi-weekly salary; the employee will only receive the 66 2/3% payment from long-term disability.

GIFT OF TIME 4:4-111

Andrews University recognizes that from time to time employees may have a medical event or be affected by a major disaster, resulting in a need for additional time off in excess of their available applicable leave time. To address this need, eligible employees will be allowed to gift accrued paid leave/vacation time from their unused balance to their eligible co-workers in need of additional paid time off, in accordance with the policy outlined below. This program is strictly voluntary.

Eligibility to Participate

Individuals must be employed by Andrews University in an employee class eligible to accrue leave, in order to be able to gift or receive time. Faculty are not eligible to participate in this program (gift or receive) as their vacation time is not tracked per policy. Salaried staff, while eligible to gift time, will not be eligible to receive gifted time for medical events; FMLA events will be fully covered by the extended sick leave policy. In addition, as salaried staff by policy are allowed to overdraw their vacation time by 10 days, gifted time may only be used for major disasters necessitating a negative vacation balance in excess of 10 days.

Eligible Events

Employees who would like to receive gifted leave time from their co-workers must have a situation that meets the following criteria:

- Medical event (FMLA), defined as a medical condition covered by the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), whereby the employee or an immediate family member requires a prolonged/extended absence of the employee from work and will result in a substantial loss of income to the employee due to the exhaustion of all leave time available. An immediate family member is defined as a spouse, child or parent.
- Major disaster, defined as a disaster that has otherwise not created a medical event, whereby an employee is considered to be adversely affected by the severe hardship to the employee or to an immediate family member of the employee that requires the employee to be absent from work and will result in a substantial loss of income to the employee due to the exhaustion of all paid leave/vacation time available.

Gifting Time Guidelines (Donor)

- Gifted time will be withdrawn from the paid leave/vacation bank and not from the long-term sick leave bank.
- The gifting and receipt of paid time off is on an hourly basis, converted by taking into account the differences in pay. (For example, one employee earns $20 an hour and gifts one hour of time to an employee that earns $10 an hour. The receiving employee would receive two hours of gifted time.)
- The maximum time that an employee may gift in a benefit year (July – June) is 40 hours in total (prorated for less than full-time/100% appointment employees)
- At the time that the gift is processed, the withdrawal may not cause the paid-leave/vacation bank to fall below 56 hours.
- Employees cannot borrow against future or the accrual on the current pay period's paid leave/vacation time to gift time.
- Employees who are currently on an approved leave of absence cannot gift time.
- All prior months' leave reports, for salaried employees, must be approved.
- Gifts of time are received on a first come, first give basis. Gifts will be declined when the receiving employee reaches the lower of the total time necessary to cover the unpaid portion of their time off for the eligible event, or their maximum receipt amount for the benefit year (see below).

- Gifted time is not considered charitable contributions for income tax purposes.

Receiving Gifted Time Guidelines (Recipient)

- Gifted time will go into a separate leave bank that may not be used until all other appropriate leave banks are exhausted.
- Gifted time may only be used for time off related to the approved request and its usage will not accrue additional leave time.
- The maximum time that an employee may receive in a benefit year (July – June) is 80 hours in total (prorated for less than full-time/100% appointment employees).
- Gifted time can be used either on a continuous or an intermittent basis, as long as it is for the same approved event.
- Gifted time cannot be cashed out or converted to other types of leave.
- Employees covered by or eligible for long-term disability or worker's compensation are not eligible to receive gifted time.
- Nothing in this policy will be construed to limit or extend the maximum allowable absence under the Family and Medical Leave Act.

REPORTING OF TIME 4:4-115

Payments for any time to be charged to the Long-Term Sick Leave Bank must be reported on the appropriate forms at the end of the week in which the time is taken.

VACATION 4:4-120

Your vacation is a time intended for rest and relaxation; for this reason you may not receive pay in lieu of vacation. Unused vacation time, with the approval of your supervisor may be carried over to the following year, but not more than six weeks may be taken in any one calendar year or upon termination. Exceptions may be made if your superior has been unable to grant you vacation at the time you reached your maximum. You are encouraged to take the vacation at one or two times per year.

The number of weeks of vacation you are entitled to is determined by your years of denominational employment as shown on your Employee Service Record.

On the basis of your years of denominational employment, as reflected on your service record, you are entitled to the following weeks of vacation each year:

First four years - 2 weeks

Next five years - 3 weeks

After nine years - 4 weeks

HOLIDAYS 4:4-125

The University recognizes eight holidays, two of which are a day-and-a-half for a total of nine days annually. The holidays are:

- New Year's Day
- Martin Luther King's Birthday
- Presidents' Day
- Memorial Day - when it does not fall within exam week
- Independence Day
- Labor Day
- Thanksgiving (1.5)
- Christmas (1.5)

Employees will be expected to take their holidays at those times. Employees required to work on holidays may take equivalent time off at another time acceptable to their department head.

HOLIDAYS THAT FALL DURING THE ORIENTATION PERIOD 4:4-130

Time off may not be charged to the Paid Leave Bank during the orientation period. For holidays that fall during the orientation period the employee has the option of reporting the time when he/she is placed on a regular classification providing he/she did not work on the holiday.

An employee wishing to be paid for the holidays which occurred before the completion of the orientation period may report the holiday time on the Application for Paid Leave form. A separate form must be turned in for each holiday. Each form must show the week-ending date for the week in which the holiday fell. The forms should not be turned in until the employee is placed on a regular classification.

Time in excess of that which has been accrued may not be reported for pay. Time not charged to the bank may be used at a later date. This exception does not apply to absences from work during the orientation period for any reason other than holidays. Work absences other than holidays that occur during the orientation period may not be charged to the paid leave bank.

PERSONAL LEAVE 4:4-135

Leaves of absence are to be considered as an exception. A personal leave of absence is authorized time off without pay or salary. After you have worked as a regular full-time employee for at least one year, a request for a personal leave of absence may be granted upon the recommendation of the department head and the appropriate vice president.

Personal leaves of absence of up to one month for a staff member may be granted by the department head or supervisor, and the appropriate vice president. Leaves of absence in excess of one month must be approved by the above and HR.

You must complete a leave of absence application and submit it to the Human Resource Director.

The Human Resource Director will determine your eligibility prior to approval, and administer the leave of absence once it has been approved. You should plan to request a personal leave of absence only under very unusual circumstances, and, when possible, four months before the leave is to begin.

University policies regarding a personal leave of absence are as follows:

1. Wages are not paid during the employee's absence.
2. Vacation and sick time will not accrue.
3. No other benefits or subsidies will be paid, nor will service credit accrue.

4. Hospital insurance may be continued at the employee's cost for a maximum of one year if arrangements are made with Human Resources in advance and payments are made before the employee's leave of absence begins.
5. The staff employee may be reinstated to his/her former position if it is available at the time of the reinstatement request. If the employee's department is not able to keep the position available, effort will be made to place the employee in a similar position. The University cannot guarantee the same duties or rate of pay. If no such position is available, or if the employee declines the alternate position or is not selected as the most qualified candidate, then the employee will be subject to dismissal of employment.
6. Accrued vacation time must be used before a leave of absence begins.
7. Extensions of a leave of absence must be approved in writing prior to the end of the employee's original leave. These will be granted in the same manner as the original leave. Failure to return after the expiration of the leave of absence will be treated as a resignation.

FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT (FLMA) 4:4-140

Employees are eligible for FMLA if they have worked for at least 12 months and at least 1,250 hours during that 12-month period. Under the Act, the leave period will be up to 12 weeks per year or up to 26 weeks for Military Caregiver. The Act may entitle you to take the leave for the following reasons:

1. The birth and care of your child;
2. The placement of a child with you for adoption or foster care;
3. The care of your spouse, child, or parent suffering from a "serious health condition";
4. Your inability to perform the functions of your job duties because of your serious health condition.
5. For qualifying exigencies arising out of the fact that the employee's spouse, son, daughter, or parent is on active duty or call to active duty status as a member of the National Guard or Reserves in support of a contingency operation.

Your Family Medical Leave will be unpaid. Employees may request accrued paid leave or long term sick leave under the policies of the University during their family medical leave. The use of paid benefits will not extend the duration of family medical leave.

Under condition 4 above you may use your accrued paid leave time and your long term sick time during your Family Medical Leave. Please see policy on use of long term sick bank.

Where both spouses are employed by the University the leave will be a total of 12 weeks for both spouses, unless the leave is for the serious illness of the employee or a child.

The request for planned medical treatment must be made at least 30 days before it is to begin, unless circumstances would not permit, in which case the request must be made as soon as it is practical--usually 1-2 business days. No advance notice is required when the reason for the leave is unforeseen.

The employee requesting leave is required to submit a timely, complete, and sufficient medical certification to support a request for FMLA leave due to their own serious health condition. The employee's response is required to obtain or retain the benefit of FMLA protections. Failure to provide a complete and sufficient medical certification within 15 calendar days may result in a denial of your FMLA request.

Leaves that are taken on an intermittent basis should be planned so as to result in the least possible disruption to your work schedule.

During the term of your leave you will be entitled to your regular benefits, except service credit which will not accrue during the unpaid portion. You will be required to pay the contribution to your health care assistance that falls due during your absence.

Upon your return to work following the leave you will be reinstated to your job, or if that is not possible, to an equivalent job.

The full policy under the Family and Medical Leave Act is available to all employees and by reference is a part of this policy. That policy and application for the leave is available in Human Resources and at the website(s) listed below.

BEREAVEMENT LEAVE 4:4-145

Andrews believes in the value of family and the importance of taking time to grieve together. Under this policy, benefit eligible employees will be allowed to take time off due to the death of a family member. In addition to bereavement leave, an employee may, with his/her supervisors' approval, use any available paid leave/vacation time for supplementary time off. Hourly rated employees should request bereavement (funeral) leave on the timeclock.

Paid bereavement leave will be granted as follows:

- Three days in the event of the death of your spouse, (step)child, (step)parent, (step)brother/sister, mother/father-in-law, son/daughter-in-law, or grandchild.
- One and a half day in the event of the death of your brother/sister-in-law, niece, nephew, aunt, uncle, or grandparent.

VOTING 4:4-150

All eligible voters are urged to vote on Election Day. Voting after working hours is suggested in order to have minimal impact on your work area and job duties.

JURY DUTY 4:4-155

You will be paid for the hours lost during your regular work-week while you serve on jury duty or during jury selection. For hourly employees such time should be reported on the Time Manager's Website.

Your Benefits: Medical, Disability and Retirement

HEALTH CARE EXPENSE ASSISTANCE PLAN 4:5-100

The University provides a comprehensive health care assistance program for eligible regular employees. A policy summary briefly outlining the benefits available under this Plan is available from Human Resources. Your certificate of coverage will be mailed to you directly from the insurance companies following enrollment. Those documents, by reference, are a part of this Handbook.

LONG TERM DISABILITY INSURANCE COVERAGE 4:5-105

The University provides an insurance policy to replace a portion of wages lost by a full-time employee due to a long-term disability. For this purpose full-time is defined as an average of at least 35 hours per week. This policy is secondary to Worker's Compensation and coordinates with any other employer-provided wage replacement program.

If you become disabled while employed by the University, information about the policy and the application is available from the University's Human Resources.

RETIREMENT PROGRAM 4:5-110

The University participates in the Seventh-day Adventist retirement plan. Minimum benefits are available to workers who have ten full years of denominational service credit.

Since January 1, 1981, service credit may accrue on employment which averages at least 20 hours per week and amounts to at least 1000 hours a calendar year if followed by a year of full-time employment.

Service credit accrues to a total of 40 years. There are specified conditions which must be met to receive benefits. The program is non-contributory, which means you do not pay any premiums. You will receive a brochure at the time you are hired. A copy of the complete retirement plan is available for your inspection in Human Resources.

The Service Record on which your employment with the denomination is recorded is kept in Human Resources. Should you later obtain employment with another denominational organization your record will be sent there. Otherwise it will be held by the University until you apply for retirement. You will be provided a copy of your service record every two years. You may request a copy of your Service Record at any time.

SOCIAL SECURITY 4:5-115

The University participates in the Social Security program of the United States Government and is required by law to deduct the prescribed taxes from eligible employees' paychecks. This is a government program entitling you and your family to benefits upon retirement or disability.

WORKER'S COMPENSATION 4:5-120

1. If you are injured. Any injuries or illnesses sustained on the job, no matter how minor, must be reported immediately to your supervisor. If the injury or illness is job related and creates temporary or permanent disability, you may qualify for workers' compensation and allowable medical expenses may be paid by the University. Lost time from work for a covered disability may also qualify you for benefits from workers' compensation. The compensation you receive will be determined under State law. To establish benefits from worker's compensation, contact Human Resources.
2. Physicians to use. Michigan workers' compensation provides that the employer may designate a physician to treat work-related injuries or illnesses. Andrews University has designated University Medical Specialties for this purpose. Employees who sustain work related injuries or illnesses may not be treated by any provider except University Medical Specialties or providers they designate. The law provides two exceptions to this rule:
 - A. Emergency medical treatment where a hospital emergency room is required.
 - B. Ten days or more after the injury or illness was reported, an employee may seek treatment from the medical provider of his or her choice. This request for exception must be submitted in writing to the HR director prior to obtaining the desired treatment.
3. Health care assistance. Your University health care assistance will be continued up to three months while you are not working because of a work-related injury sustained by you in the course of the performance of your employment at Andrews University. The University may, at its discretion, continue your medical coverage beyond the three-month period, taking into consideration your physician's diagnosis and any agreement it may reach with you concerning your employment status. Neither paid leave nor long term sick-time will accrue while you are on workers' compensation leave. Earned sick pay may be used to supplement your income to equal regular pay when lost time occurs because of a work-related injury.
4. Your recovery and return to work. Your speedy recovery and return to work are of paramount importance. To facilitate this, the University may guide your medical treatment within the scope permitted by law. If you are released to work with medical restrictions, your supervisor will attempt to make accommodations for you to continue your regular job. If that is not possible, you may be given other responsibilities within your department or elsewhere in the University.

TAX ANNUITY PROGRAM 4:5-125

As an employee of the University, you may take advantage of the tax sheltered annuity program. Briefly, this plan allows you to authorize the University to withhold an amount you specify from your paycheck and deposit it in an Individual Retirement Account (IRA). You will not be taxed on the amount of the deposit until such time as you may withdraw it. Full information regarding the program is available at the payroll office.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION INSURANCE 4:5-130

As an employee of the University you may be eligible for unemployment compensation should you become unemployed for certain specified reasons. Your eligibility would be determined by the Michigan Employment Security Commission. The University reimburses the State of Michigan for actual claims paid and there is never any cost to you. The amount and duration of payment during periods of unemployment is determined by state law.

An exception is that student spouses who are hired by the University are not eligible for Unemployment Compensation benefits. Employment is provided for student spouses as a part of the financial assistance to the student and will not be covered by a program of unemployment compensation based on such employment. This exclusion is provided for in the Michigan Employment Security Act C.P.A. 1936, Ex. Sess., No. 1, Sec. 43, as amended; MCLA 421.43.

Your Benefits: Tuition Assistance

The University encourages you to develop your work abilities in a skill or profession. Through on-the-job instruction and part-time schooling, you may achieve real personal and/or professional growth while employed at Andrews University.

EMPLOYEE & SPOUSE 4:6-100

EMPLOYEES

A full-time regular employee may apply for admission to a school within the University. If you qualify for this benefit and wish to take a class, you will need both the approval of your supervisor and acceptance into the school of your choice. You may then take one class for up four credits each semester without tuition cost to you. This does not include private lessons or individual instruction with labs (online classes may be included if they meet the other criteria for the class). You will be admitted to a class with limited enrollment only after tuition-paying students have been accommodated. A course will not be offered unless there are enough tuition-paying students to justify it.

You will be expected to pay the application, late registration, general, or any other applicable fees. Continuing education courses offered by the University's lifelong learning program may be taken in lieu of courses in one of the colleges. You will be responsible for course fees that are in excess of normal tuition charges in order to provide special materials and trips.

You must apply for the tuition assistance each semester for the course(s) you are taking. Your free class(es) should be taken outside of regular scheduled work hours. Exceptions may be made with the approval of the department head, when it can be accommodated without disruption of the work routine, particularly where the class work taken is directly applicable to the work of the department. Normally, an hourly rated worker will not be paid for the time spent in class.

Benefits under this policy are concurrent with your employment. The entitlement from semesters when no class work was taken does not accrue for future semesters. The tuition for class work begun before or continued after you are entitled to this benefit will be prorated from or to the date of entitlement. This program is a waiver of tuition and has no cash value.

To accommodate summer class schedules, the tuition waiver under the free class policy will be determined by the employee's hire or termination date in relation to the official class schedule (begin and end date). Tuition waiver will be applied fully to classes that are scheduled within the employment period of the employee, and prorated for classes that fall outside of the employment period. Class schedule is based on the official class dates and not completion of the coursework.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) considers employer-provided graduate tuition assistance as part of your wage package and the assistance is subject to tax withholding. In 2007, the University elected to apply IRS code section 127 which excludes from taxation graduate-level courses to employees (excludes free tuition to spouses) up to a maximum of $5,250 per calendar year.

This tuition assistance policy does not apply when financial assistance is received for payment of the tuition costs from sources outside the University. You are encouraged to avail yourself of financial assistance for which you may qualify.

SPOUSE

A regular full-time faculty/salaried employee's spouse may apply for admission to a school within the University for non-doctoral study. A spouse who qualifies for admission is eligible for up to 4 (four) credits free plus 50% discount for the remainder of credits taken each semester (except some discounted classes, private lessons, individual instructions, and doctoral work). He/she may be admitted to a course to which enrollment is limited only if there is room after tuition paying students have been first accommodated. A course shall not be offered for an employees' spouse when the number of tuition-paying students does not justify offering the course. Spouses admitted to courses on this basis shall pay the regular application fee, general, or late registration fee.

The tuition waiver is a forgiveness of tuition that is available to qualified employee's spouses who occupy available positions in a regularly scheduled class and thus does not include independent study, directed reading, private music lessons, practicums, clinical experiences, or any instruction outside of the normal classroom setting. (Online classes may be included if they meet the other criteria for the class)

All graduate level tuition assistance for employee's spouses provided by the University must be included as taxable income by the employee, as required by the IRS.

DEPENDENT CHILDREN 4:6-105

If you are a full-time regular employee and have unmarried, dependent children who are less than twenty-four years of age attending school, educational scholarship assistance in the form of tuition grants is available upon application. (Exceptions may be made to the age requirement if education has been interrupted due to compulsory military service, volunteer service for the church, or a documented medical condition). Dependent children enrolled in the Adventist Colleges Abroad are eligible for tuition assistance benefit. Employees eligible for dependent tuition assistance whose spouse is denominationally employed and also eligible for tuition benefits will receive half of the computed benefits.

Scholarship Grants are computed as follows:

1. For hourly employees: 35% of basic tuition costs for the child(ren) attending a Lake Union Conference SDA elementary or day academy, or in an undergraduate program of Andrews University as a day/village student.
2. For approved salaried employees: 35% of basic tuition costs for the child(ren) attending a Lake Union Conference SDA elementary or day academy, or in an undergraduate program of Andrews University as a day student, or in an undergraduate program at other North American Division SDA schools.
3. For all employees: 60% of basic tuition costs for child(ren) enrolled as boarding student(s) at a Lake Union Conference SDA academy or in an undergraduate program at Andrews University.
4. Tuition assistance shall be provided for credits that are earned through the College Level Examination Program (CLEP). The assistance is 35% whether or not the student is residing in a school dormitory.
5. The amount of the grant will be based on the actual tuition costs and general fees when charged separately, and does not include charges for special music lessons. Fees for required music lessons may be included for music majors or minors.
6. Assistance may continue for a maximum of ten semesters of undergraduate or graduate study; graduate study must occur at Andrews University in order to be eligible. The number of semesters eligible for assistance is prorated, based on prior university enrollment, when eligibility begins. Enrollment in summer semesters count against the ten semester total.

7. Assistance may be available for the child(ren) who enters a professional program in medicine or dentistry prior to completing undergraduate degree requirements. The assistance will not be available for a period longer than that which would have been required to complete the undergraduate degree nor for more dollars than would have been allowed as a full-time undergraduate student at Andrews University.
8. Grants shall be available for the child(ren) of the employee who is employed at the beginning of the child(rens') school year and scholarships will be prorated if the individual is employed after the beginning of the school year. It is understood that the child(ren) must be in school at the time for which the scholarship is paid. The scholarship shall be credited to the student's account each semester when bills are presented.
9. The payment of the scholarship will be made directly to the school involved.

Your Benefits: Other Personal Benefits

ADOPTION EXPENSE 4:7-100

Should you, as a full-time, full time hourly and salaried employee (Class HF, SF), adopt a child, the University will assist you with up to 75 percent of the medical and legal expenses associated with the adoption. The maximum expenses on which assistance is granted is the equivalent of up to three times the current monthly remuneration factor. Please see Human Resources for details of this benefit. This is in lieu of any other assistance associated with the adoption.

EMPLOYEE SURVIVOR BENEFIT PLAN 4:7-105

This plan will provide a benefit which will be paid to your survivor(s), beneficiary or estate in the event of your death, providing you have been a full-time regular employee. This benefit will be paid to the survivors of your spouse or dependent should he/she also die.

This benefit is also available during the first year you receive retirement benefits provided you go directly into the retirement plan from active denominational service.

The purpose of this benefit is to provide for financial assistance in meeting a share of the expenses of the final illness and funeral, as well as the temporary needs of the survivors. The benefit will be paid to the survivor(s) by the General Conference upon proper certification by the University. The benefits under the plan are as follows:

1. To the surviving spouse/dependent of the employee or to the employee whose spouse is deceased:

Age under 30	27500.00
Age 30 - 34	25000.00
Age 35 - 39	22500.00
Age 40 - 44	20000.00
Age 45 - 49	17500.00
Age 50 - 54	15000.00
Age 55 - 59	12500.00
Age 60 - 64	10000.00
Age over 64	7500.00

2. To the named beneficiary or estate of the employee without surviving spouse/dependent:

Flat Amount	$7,500.00
-------------	------------

3. To the employee whose dependent has deceased:

Stillborn	$750.00
Others	$5,000.00

This benefit is fully paid for by the University and all eligible employees are covered.

Employees who discontinue employment as a result of illness or injury but who do not have enough years of denominational service to qualify for retirement benefits, and who are not otherwise employed, shall be eligible for the benefit for a period of six months after they go off the payroll. Spouses of such employees, as well as their eligible dependents, are also covered under this plan during the six-month period.

If more than one family member is denominationally employed, only one benefit per death will be paid.

Additional amounts may be purchased on a voluntary basis for a small charge and will become effective when approved by Adventist Risk Management Services at the General Conference. You may apply for these additional benefits in HR.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH AND DISMEMBERMENT 4:7-110

An optional personal accident insurance plan is available to full-time employees. Coverage under this insurance program may include the employee and his/her family. The premium is deducted from the paycheck monthly. If you wish to take advantage of this program, a descriptive brochure is available from Human Resources.

DINING SERVICE 4:7-115

Cafeteria Meals

With your faculty/staff ID card you are entitled to a 25% discount on cafeteria meals. If you have arranged for charge privileges, you may use your ID card to charge at the cafeteria and the amount will be automatically deducted from your paycheck. There is no discount at the Gazebo snack shop.

You may arrange with the food service secretary for special rooms and facilities.

PARKING PERMITS 4:7-120

Parking decals for staff vehicles must be obtained from the Office of Campus Safety located at the end of Garland Avenue. There is no charge for the decal.

PERSONAL PURCHASING 4:7-125

The University will issue a courtesy purchase order to an employee for selected items that we have available provided this is not abused by indiscriminate use. Please check with the purchasing office to see what types of goods are available and procedures to follow. Any purchase made for personal use is subject to the appropriate tax, which will be added to that purchase.

All paper work for any purchase should be presented to the purchasing office for processing. Purchases made under this plan are to be paid in full when the paper work is submitted.

TRAVEL ADVANCES 4:7-130

When you are asked to travel on University business, you may request an advance from the Treasurer's Office against your personal expense account. The expense report, which is submitted to that office upon your return, should offset the advance.

UNIVERSITY HOUSING 4:7-135

The University has very limited housing available for its employees. You may obtain information about the available housing through the office of University Housing.

Your Termination & Appeal Procedures

We hope your employment with Andrews University will be enjoyable and rewarding. If you find it necessary to consider resignation or retirement, we ask that you discuss your plans with your supervisor as early as possible.

PERIOD OF EMPLOYMENT 4:8-100

The University recognizes the right of any employee to terminate employment at any time and for any reason, and the employer retains a similar right. No oral or verbal statements, promises or representations made at any time before, during or after the publication of this handbook may alter your right and that of the employer to terminate your employment at any time and for any reason with or without cause.

RESIGNATION 4:8-105

If you terminate, you are requested to give a two-week written notice with the date of termination to your Department Head. This time is necessary to find and train a replacement for the position. You must follow the termination procedure (see Terminal Interview) and be cleared of all financial obligations to the University. Your accrued vacation time will be included in your final check. Your termination date is the end of any vacation time accrued. Your final paycheck will be sent to you at your forwarding address after the next regular payday.

RETIREMENT 4:8-110

The recommended age for retirement is 65, but this is not a mandatory retirement age.

LAYOFF, REDUCTION IN FORCE AND TERMINATION 4:8-115

The University's Board of Trustees has delegated to the University Administration the authority for hiring, promotion, demotion or removal of all employees covered by this handbook. Class SC, SP, SF, HF, HP employees are hired at will. That means you have the right to terminate your employment at any time and for any reason, or for no reason, and the employer has a similar right.

It is sometimes necessary to discontinue a job for economic reasons, because of reorganization, technological developments or for any other reason. When that is done, the affected employee will be given the courtesy of as much notice as possible. In no case will a salaried Class SF or SP worker be given less than four weeks' notice or four weeks' pay in lieu of notice or a combination of notice and pay to total four weeks. Hourly employees will be given two weeks' notice or two weeks' pay in lieu of notice or a combination of notice and pay to total two weeks.

Human Resources will attempt to place a laid off employee in another available job for which he/she is qualified. To accomplish this, the University retains the right to reassign an employee or change job duties. An effort will be made to match an employee's skill with a position. Failure on the part of an employee to accept the reassignment or change in duties will be considered a resignation.

TERMINATIONS 4:8-120

Andrews University wants to affirm the value of each individual by providing opportunities for growth and development of employees. As an employer, Andrews University seeks to develop the talents and abilities of employees through in-service and on-the-job training. It is the goal of the institution to develop the people who are part of the organization through positive employee/employer interaction.

Michigan is an "At Will Employment" state and therefore the employee recognizes that an employment at will relationship exists and the employee may terminate employment at any time for any reason subject to the notice requested in the Resignation Policy #4:8-105. The employer has the same rights as the employee for terminating the employment of the employee. The provisions of the Employee Handbook do not constitute a contract of employment nor are they covenants.

The following are broad guidelines that may be applied to circumstances where the termination of employment or discipline of an employee appears necessary.

1. The following are among the reasons for legitimate, impartial and nondiscriminatory termination:
 - A. Misconduct - may include but is not limited to - gross misconduct, stealing, rape, insubordination, dishonesty, unethical or dangerous behavior.
 - B. Job Elimination - reduction in force, economic conditions, retrenchment, merger, shutdown.
 - C. Poor Performance - incompetence, missing key goals, causing problems that have negative influences on total performance of the unit or University. Failure to meet any condition of the Conditions of Employment Policy #4:2-105.
2. The following is the procedure for terminations:
 - A. Opportunity to Resign - If disciplinary or corrective measures have failed to remedy the situation and if termination seems to be necessary, the employee may be given the opportunity to initiate resignation.
 - B. Termination
 1. If the employee feels that written conditions of employment or published regulations, policies, or procedures have been inequitably applied in the impending dismissal, the employee may use the established grievance procedure. If the employee wishes to use this procedure, intent must be stated in writing to HR within five working days of receipt of written notice of dismissal. HR will examine the request and then determine whether a grievance procedure is appropriate. Notice of this decision shall be delivered in person or by registered mail with return receipt requested.
 2. Gross Misconduct - In the case of a serious violation of conditions of employment or major infraction of policies and regulations, such as gross misconduct, the action to terminate the employee's services is final. In such cases an employee may not be given an opportunity to resign. Prior notice and warnings need not be given. Gross misconduct includes, but is not necessarily limited to, the following acts:
 - a. Vandalism
 - b. Act of immorality or indiscretion
 - c. Disorderly conduct and profanity
 - d. Gross neglect of duty
 - e. Dishonesty
 - f. Use, possession, or distribution of tobacco, alcohol, unprescribed drugs, or controlled substances.
 - g. Permitting or requiring hourly employees to work without clocking or otherwise recording all hours worked. (Applies to supervisory employees and requires a written warning before termination.)
 3. Other violations which may result in termination include, but are not limited to:
 - a. Falsification of personnel and/or other records, including the application for employment
 - b. Excessive absences and/or irregular work habits, regardless of the reason
 - c. Insubordination
 - d. Theft of or unauthorized possession or use of property belonging to the University or its employees, students, customers or guests, or willful destruction of same
 - e. Neglect of duty or the care and use of University property
 - f. Disregard of safety regulations

- g. Disorderly or unprofessional conduct, or physical assault upon or harassment of fellow employee, student or guest of the University
 - h. Act of immorality or sexual indiscretion
 - i. Soliciting or accepting gratuity or accepting kickbacks of any kind
 - j. Unauthorized release of confidential information
 - k. Language or conduct unbecoming to a Christian
 - l. Undermining the objectives of the University and/or the Seventh-day Adventist Church.
 - m. Three consecutive absences from work without proper notification or four non-consecutive absences without notification in a rolling 12 month period.
- C. Final Remuneration - Andrews University, at its own discretion, may pay the dismissed employee in lieu of notice. An employee who is dismissed will receive the full remuneration that he or she has earned up to the time of discharge.

Employees who have concerns regarding the termination process may address those concerns through the appeal procedure in section 4:8-140.

TERMINATION INTERVIEW 4:8-125

Upon terminating for any reason, you may arrange for a termination interview with Human Resources. That interview should be on your last day of employment. Prior to the interview you will need to obtain a Termination Procedure form from your department head and follow the steps outlined. Your stop at Human Resources will be the last of those steps. At that time you will need to return your University identification card, telephone credit card, your employee handbook, and keys. During the interview, reasons for terminating and other matters of mutual interest will be discussed. We also want to make certain that any accrued benefits to which you are entitled are provided to you.

REEMPLOYMENT 4:8-130

Consideration for reemployment will be given if you left Andrews University in good standing. If there is no immediate position, you may apply to be considered for openings for which you may be qualified.

OMBUDSPERSON 4:8-135

The ombudsperson is an intervention agent and impartial person available to help students, staff, and faculty resolve any complex problems which remain unsolved after the student, staff or faculty member has followed normal channels for handling such matters or has encountered an obstacle.

The ombudsperson will advise the student, staff or faculty member on further steps to take, negotiate a solution, or find out the reasons why the problem is insoluble and help the concerned individual to understand and relate better. No student, staff or faculty member shall suffer any penalty because of seeking assistance from the ombudsperson. All information presented to him/her by persons seeking assistance shall be considered confidential. The ombudsperson is not intended to participate in the employee appeal process.

The ombudsperson is alert to the causes for students and staff and faculty concerns and is expected to make recommendations, consistent with the fundamental purposes of the University, to the president for elimination of these causes.

The basic working principles of the University ombudsperson are independence, impartiality and confidentiality. Ombudspersons are appointed by the President and reports to the Human Resources Director and the President.

EMPLOYEE'S APPEAL PROCEDURE 4:8-140

In any work situation employee complaints and grievances may occur. Employee-supervisor problems can arise in any work environment and grievances that cannot be solved at that level do not automatically cast reflection on the ability of the supervisor. By providing a system for the resolution of grievances, the efficiency and morale of the employee and the success of the organization will be enhanced. Appeals must be filed within 30 days of the incident which is being appealed.

Procedure to Follow

Step 1:

- A. You should discuss the complaint or problem with your immediate supervisor.
- B. If you are not satisfied with the resolution of the issue and wish to appeal further, you should request that your supervisor arrange for an appointment with the department head or supervisor, within three working days, unless due to absence or unusual circumstances requiring additional time.

The supervisor has the responsibility to carry out your request, normally, within twenty-four hours. If you are not satisfied with the resolution of the issue and wish to appeal further, you should request that your supervisor arrange for an appointment with the department head or supervisor, within three working days, unless absence or unusual circumstances requires additional time. Within three working days from the time the department head receives the request he/she should meet with you.

- C. If you are not satisfied with that resolution, you should request that the department head arrange for a convenient time to go to Human Resources as outlined in Step 2.

Step 2:

- As soon as possible, normally within twenty-four hours, if you are not satisfied with the resolution of the issue and wish to appeal further, you should request that your supervisor arrange for an appointment with the department head or supervisor, within three working days, unless absence or unusual circumstances requires additional time. The arrangements should be made for you to contact the Human Resources Director or Associate. The Human Resource Director or Associate will assist you in putting the problem in writing. The written form will be sent to your supervisor, with copies to the department head. The supervisor's answer will be referred to the department head.
- Generally, Step Two should be completed within three working days. If you are not satisfied with the answer received, Human Resources should be informed by the department head and the problem will then be referred to the appropriate vice president.

Step 3:

- Within three working days, unless due to absence or unusual circumstances requiring additional time, the appropriate vice president will call a meeting of those concerned to discuss the problem. You will be present at the meeting with your supervisor along with the Human Resource Director or Associate and the department head. You may also bring one other employee to this meeting to help explain the problem.

Step 4:

- If you still have not received a satisfactory resolution to the problem, you may so notify the Human Resource Director or Associate who will then confer with the President for an appropriate resolution. The decision made by HR and administration in this step will be final.

Naturally, there will be variations in the number of supervisory levels involved in the above procedure. The four steps involved will cover most cases. The procedure will be modified, when necessary, to fit specific situations.

The purpose of the University's appeal procedure is to provide an established method of bringing to the attention of management such injustices as may exist and to allow a prompt redress of grievances. The University will make every effort to comply with the above time frames within reasonable working limits.

DISCRIMINATION AND HARASSMENT 4:8-145

Andrews University is committed to providing a harassment free workplace for its employees. Sexual harassment and harassment on account of age, race, ethnicity or disability are prohibited.

Definitions

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual harassment by the employer, supervisors, co-workers and, in some instances, non-employees includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal, visual or physical conduct of a sexual nature which affects an individual's employment status or the terms, conditions or benefits of his or her employment. Such conduct constitutes sexual harassment when:
 - A. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment; or
 - B. Submission or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting an individual; or
 - C. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment; or
 - D. Where threats or suggestions are made that an individual's employment, future promotions, wages, etc., depend on whether or not the individual submits to sexual demands or tolerates harassment.
2. Unwelcome sexually oriented statements (e.g., kidding, teasing, jokes, degrading or offensive sexual comments, sexual tricks, etc.);
3. Requests or pressure for sexual activity;
4. Unnecessary or inappropriate touching of a sexual or abusive nature (e.g., patting, pinching, hugging, repeated brushing against another person's body, etc.);
5. Inappropriate visual conduct which creates embarrassment or suggests an interest in sexual activity; or
6. Suggestions, threats or demands for sexual favors.

OTHER HARASSMENT

Harassment on account of age, race, ethnicity or disability includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Subjecting employees to derogatory remarks, insults, slurs, jokes or tricks based on age, race ethnicity or disability;
2. Denying employees' opportunities for promotion, transfer or advancement on account of age, race, ethnicity or disability;
3. Limiting opportunities for promotion, transfer or advancement on account of age, race, ethnicity or disability;
4. Requiring employees to perform physically more difficult tasks or less desirable work assignments in order to force them to retire or resign from employment.

WORKING ENVIRONMENT

Andrews University strives to maintain a working environment free from harassment. It endeavors to achieve this environment through educating employees that harassment violates the law and Christian values upheld by the University, and is expressly prohibited. Andrews endeavors to prevent such harassment by adopting a strong policy against harassment, communicating the policy to all employees, including, but not limited to informing all employees of their right to complain of such harassment, and training the appropriate parties in the proper procedures to follow for handling incidents of harassment, and enforcing the policy through appropriate sanctions for misconduct.

To maintain a work environment free of harassment and to help prevent inappropriate workplace conduct, Andrews University's Harassment Policy includes the following actions:

1. Each employee shall receive a copy of this harassment policy and complaint procedure.
2. Each employee shall acknowledge receipt of this policy and complaint procedure, and the acknowledgment will be maintained in the employee's personnel file.
3. Andrews University has designated the HR Director and Associate HR Director, as well as the Sexual Harassment Compliance Officer (see Working Policy), as the persons to whom complaints of sexual harassment, and other forms of harassment may be made, in addition to supervisory staff.
4. Employees who complain of harassment will not be subjected to retaliation by supervisors or co-workers.
5. Human Resources shall conduct periodic training sessions for employees who are in a supervisory position in order to ensure that the policy against unlawful harassment is implemented.

REPORTING INCIDENTS

Andrews University will not tolerate any kind of unlawful harassment. Employees who believe that they have been harassed by supervisors, fellow employees, clients, or non-employees should immediately take the following steps:

1. Make it clear to the one harassing that such conduct is offensive and should be stopped immediately;

2. Report the incident to one of the following: a) the immediate department director, b) the HR Director, c) Associate Director, d) the sexual harassment officer or e) other supervisory staff. The initial report shall be followed by a written statement describing the incident and identifying potential witnesses.
3. The employee filing a complaint should not discuss the incident and should maintain the harassment complaint in confidence. The person to whom the complaint is made shall keep information received in confidence, except as necessary to investigate or rectify the matter.
4. Any supervisory staff member upon receiving a complaint alleging unlawful harassment shall contact HR immediately.

THIRD-PARTY REPORTS

Employees who are aware of incidents of potential sexual harassment are to report such incidents to their department director or to the HR Director or Associate Director immediately for investigation.

INVESTIGATION

Complaints of any kind of harassment based on gender, age, race, ethnicity or disability should be investigated promptly. The investigation should be a genuine attempt to identify and remedy the problem. The HR Director or Associate Director (or designee) should direct the investigation of all harassment complaints. The investigation conducted by HR should include, at a minimum, confidential interviews with all involved persons and procurement, if possible, of written statements regarding the incident(s). The investigation and results should be documented in writing.

The determination of whether or not a particular action constitutes sexual harassment, or another form of unlawful harassment, shall be made from the facts on a case-by-case basis. In determining whether alleged conduct constitutes unlawful harassment, the investigating body should look at the record as a whole and the totality of the circumstances, including the nature of the conduct and the context in which it occurred. The HR Director or Associate Director should review the results of the investigation with the employee making the complaint and the accused employee and explain any corrective action taken or to be taken. Individuals involved should be cautioned to maintain the investigation results in confidence.

CORRECTIVE ACTION

If the investigation indicates that harassment has not occurred, the complainant and accused employee should be notified of the results and cautioned regarding future compliance with Andrews University's Harassment Policy.

If the investigation indicates that harassment has occurred, Andrews University should take prompt corrective action. Depending on the severity of the conduct, the corrective action may range from a written warning which will be placed in the accused employee's personnel file to immediate dismissal.

NO RETALIATION

Andrews University prohibits supervisors and co-workers from retaliating, intimidating, or harassing employees complaining of any form of unlawful harassment.

REPORTING OF VIOLATIONS OF LAW (WHISTLE BLOWING) 4:8-150

As an employee you have the right, which is protected by state and federal laws, to report a violation or suspected violation of state, local or federal laws to an appropriate authority. You will not be discharged, threatened, or otherwise discriminated against regarding your compensation, terms, conditions, location, or privileges of employment. This protection also extends to you if you participate in a hearing, investigation, legislative inquiry or court action or if someone acts on your behalf in any of the above activities. This protection does not extend to you if you know the charges being made are false.

Appendix

HIRING PROCEDURES UNDER THE AFFIRMATIVE ACTION PROGRAM

Andrews University, by policy, does not discriminate in hiring, placement, promotion, remuneration or benefits on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, physical handicap, age, sex, height, weight, marital status, or prior military service. The University, as a church owned and operated institution, reserves the right to select for the filling of its positions from among candidates who are members in good standing of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Andrews University has entered into a voluntary Affirmative Action Program whereby it will use whatever means are available to recruit and hire qualified women, minorities and handicapped.

These procedures are designed to accomplish that goal.

JOB OPENING NOTIFICATION

Job openings will be processed through the following office for approval:

Salaried, Non-Faculty--the appropriate vice-president. Approval to fill vacancies will be reported to Human Resources for the maintaining of job logs, posting of job notices and assisting the department head in advertising the job opening.

JOB POSTING AND ADVERTISING

Upon receipt of the approval to fill the vacancy, Human Resources will post the job opening on the designated bulletin board in the Administration Building. Positions will be advertised for a minimum of 5 days before the job is filled. During this period current employees will be encouraged to apply.

When appropriate, Human Resources will assist in selecting the advertising media, writing the copy, and placing the advertisement. To the extent possible, a record will be kept for a reasonable time of the advertisements placed. Special attention will be given to the placement of advertisements in publications that will attract applicants from among women, minorities and the handicapped.

APPLICANT RECORD-HOURLY EMPLOYEES

Applications for hourly-rated jobs will be directed to Human Resources.

Pertinent information regarding each applicant will be forwarded to Human Resources so that applicant logs may be maintained. At a minimum, the information will include the name of the applicant and whether the applicant is a woman, minority or handicapped.

The purpose of the logs is to give evidence of the effectiveness of the job posting and advertising practices, to demonstrate compliance with this policy, and to allow objective reporting of the compliance.

SELECTION PROCESS

Without illegally discriminating, preference will be given to qualified candidates who are the spouses of students, faculty of staff members.

The names of successful candidates will be given to Human Resources along with the date the job offer was made and the date employment is to begin.

QUESTIONS REGARDING POLICY AND PROCEDURES

Questions regarding the University's Affirmative Action Policy and its implementation procedures should be directed to Human Resources. The full policy is available from that office.

Dear Students:

On behalf of dedicated administrators, faculty and staff, it is my pleasure to welcome you to Andrews University. As an amazing child of God, you will greatly enrich our campus community.

By selecting Andrews you have chosen to be part of a campus culture that is shaped by the Christian faith and values of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Whether or not you share our particular faith perspective, we invite you to live within the values that make Andrews a welcoming and supportive environment for all who seek a faith-based education.

Andrews University is more than brick and mortar—it's a community. Whether you are a graduate student or an undergraduate student, we want Andrews University to feel like home. As a residential university, many students live on campus, housed in one of our residence halls or University apartments.

Students learn not only in the classroom but through a wide variety of out-of-class faith and learning opportunities—on campus, in the community and around the world. Andrews University offers a transformative educational experience designed to motivate you to reach your God-given potential in all aspects of your life—body, mind and spirit—and to inspire you to serve others.

In this “Handbook,” you will find the Community Values and Code of Student Conduct to which each student agrees. I also personally call you to embrace four great cares. (1) Care for yourself as a unique creation of God. (2) Care for each other, for all are precious in His sight. (3) Care for the University—its mission, values and property. (4) And, most importantly, care for your Creator, in whom we live and have our being.

We are steadfast in our support of you and your journey at Andrews University as together we “Seek Knowledge, Affirm Faith and Change the World.”

Sincerely,

Frances Faehner, PhD
Vice President for Campus & Student Life

The Four Hallmarks of Campus & Student Life

Andrews University is a Christian community where Christ is celebrated and reflected in the academic, social, physical and spiritual experiences of its members. As a Seventh-day Adventist institution, we seek to integrate faith, learning and living, while each of us matures in our relationships with God and each other.

By enrolling in classes on the main campus of Andrews University, students choose to be part of this uniquely Christian atmosphere, set apart by four hallmarks.

- 1. A Faith-Based University. Andrews is a Seventh-day Adventist university with a unique, global perspective. We welcome students of all faiths and backgrounds, inviting them into a life of hope and wholeness. See A Faith-Based University.
- 2. A Healthy Lifestyle. Faculty, staff and students agree to uphold the community's shared commitment to a healthy lifestyle guided by the principles of honesty, modesty, sexual purity, respect for others, healthful living and safety. See A Healthy Lifestyle.
- 3. A Residential Campus. Graduate and undergraduate students benefit from living and learning together on campus, either in one of our residence halls or the University apartments. Undergraduates under the age of 22 (unless married or staying with an approved family member or Andrews employee) agree to live in a residence hall and participate in a meal plan at the University's vegetarian cafeteria. See A Residential Campus.
- 4. A Whole-Person Approach. Students engage in faith and learning outside the classroom as part of a comprehensive educational experience, developing skills and dispositions that complement their academic degrees. Undergraduate students and Seminary students agree (and all graduate students are encouraged) to participate in a minimum number of co-curricular experiences each semester. See A Whole-Person Approach.

A Faith-Based University

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST FAITH AND VALUES

Students attending Andrews University soon learn that our Seventh-day Adventist faith and values set us apart. Our distinctive Christian perspective, guided by our understanding of Scripture, informs our faith as well as our practice.

Relationship with God

We understand God is present and desires to have a relationship with His creation. Students are encouraged to grow in their relationship with God by communing with Him in daily prayer, meditating on His word, singing His praises and gathering together for worship.

Salvation through Jesus Christ

We believe Jesus Christ is the Son of God, the Savior of all who place their faith in Him. In His life we are offered a holy example, in His death the forgiveness of sin and in His resurrection the hope of a new beginning. In times of temptation, trial and failure students are directed to the grace of Christ as a source of strength, healing and restoration.

The Sabbath: A Day of Rest and Worship

The Bible describes the seventh day as the one day God set aside for focused fellowship with His people. The seventh-day Sabbath (from Friday sunset to Saturday sunset) is a special part of the relationship between God and His creation. To foster this focused fellowship with God, non-essential business operations and activities at Andrews are closed. Students are encouraged to welcome and delight in the Sabbath as a day of special rest, worship and communion with God, ministry to others, and celebration of God's creative and redemptive acts.

Sabbath Observance

As a distinctly Seventh-day Adventist Christian institution, Andrews University promotes the observance of the seventh-day Sabbath, Friday evening at sundown to Saturday evening at sundown. As God rested and made the Sabbath a holy day, the Sabbath is observed as a memorial of creation to the Creator. We withdraw from work and play that can be created during the regular six days of the week. The Sabbath is a time to be in communion with the Creator, away from the activities, music and reading that are not focused on worshipping the Lord. Andrews University requests that all on our campus—faculty, staff, students and visitors—respect the sacred observance of this day. Our community includes diverse perspectives on Sabbath observance. However, no personal or unregistered group activity should detract from the sacred Sabbath observance for others in the community. This means all our communal spaces, including residence hall lounges and other common areas in our facilities, are reserved for the observance of Sabbath, including worship, meditation and God-centered fellowship. Any faculty, staff or student staff member may request that activities that detract from Sabbath observance cease or be modified to accommodate the right for any member of our community to observe Sabbath freely and without malice. One of the “Andrews Advantages” is for students to study and rest in a Sabbath-affirming environment.

Present and Future Hope in Jesus Christ

Seventh-day Adventists look forward to the imminent second coming of Christ. Until then we are God's stewards, entrusted by Him to use our time, gifts, abilities, resources and opportunities to serve Him and our fellowmen.

Wholesome Lifestyle

Seventh-day Adventists are encouraged to engage in whatever fosters the optimum development of the body, mind and spirit. This includes a healthful diet along with adequate exercise and rest.

Life Purpose

Every human being, created in the image of God, is endowed with a God-given purpose for their life. At the core of an educational journey at Andrews University is our desire to help each student discover their life's calling.

Concern for Others

As Christians, we are called to follow after Christ. In response to witnessing His grace and mercy in our own lives, we are compelled to likewise give ourselves in loving service, locally and globally.

CAMPUS MINISTRIES

Located in the Campus Center, the Office of Campus Ministries is the hub for faith development of graduate and undergraduate students and offers additional support for faculty and staff. We exist to enrich the spiritual and intellectual life of the campus by providing a variety of ministries appropriate to a spiritually, culturally and socially diverse student and professional body and to collaborate with other faith development leaders of the University community. We wish to ignite the passion of those who have been transformed by or are considering a relationship with Jesus Christ from the unique perspective of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The essential connection for us is embraced in the transformative verse of James 4:8, “Draw near to God and He will draw near to you,” NKJV.

It is from this call to “draw near to God” that Campus Ministries receives its vision. God desires to be close to us and asks us to draw close to Him. Our PROXIMITY to God matters to Him and is life-changing for us! We believe and see evidenced in the Word of God that an ever-increasing proximity to our Creator results in clarity received, closeness perceived and cleanliness achieved. As our proximity to God grows our proximity to man also grows, and we experience increased community within the body of Christ.

Campus Ministries seeks to encourage close proximity with God through the following means:

Bible Study & Discipleship—Come by CM and visit with any of the chaplains or student chaplains. We also have trained peer Bible counselors who provide Bible studies.

TRIADS—Groups of three growing deeper with God, closer with each other and further than ourselves.

Chapel—Each Thursday the campus gathers at PMC to explore the values that inform an Adventist education—the harmonious development of body, mind and spirit for service to the world.

Sabbath Worship Services—Andrews University collaborates with our campus church, Pioneer Memorial Church led by Pastor Dwight Nelson, and our two campus fellowships, New Life and One Place, to offer vibrant Sabbath worship services and Sabbath Schools.

University Vespers—Once a week on Friday night we gather as a community to welcome Sabbath and seek to worship God and draw close to Him.

Weeks of Prayer—Weeks of Prayer are the perfect way to start a new semester and actively seek the will of God in our lives.

Training and Teaching—We support a holistic approach to following Jesus and periodically offer workshops and retreats throughout the year. Come by Campus Ministries for more information.

Outreach—Are you ready to let the love of God flow through you to a world in need? We have identified needs which are waiting for you to reach out and fill.

Missions—Whether you want to serve for ten days or ten months we have many options for you to consider. Come by the Campus Ministries office and explore your options.

Prayer Ministry—A ministry that focuses on the power of intercessory prayer. This ministry orchestrates prayer groups across campus; seeks God's protection, direction and revelation prior to all worship services; and organizes prayer initiatives that draw our campus close to God.

Visitation—You are important. We would be honored to intersect with your life story. So come by or set an appointment time for us to come and visit you. Let's increase our PROXIMITY to the King together.

So Much More...

In addition, there are countless departments and clubs on campus that offer multiple worship and training opportunities throughout the year. You will find deans, faculty and staff who are eager to share their own walk with Jesus and are actively engaged in seeking close proximity to God. Stay connected. Let's walk together in pursuing Him.

A Healthy Lifestyle

CORE CHRISTIAN VALUES

When choosing to attend Andrews University, students agree to adopt a healthy lifestyle and to maintain high standards of conduct. These standards are part of the unique mission and spiritual heritage of Andrews University and reflect core values that are grounded in biblical principles. These values include honesty, modesty, sexual purity, respect for others, and healthful living and safety.

Admission to the University is not a right. It is a privilege that entails acceptance of individual responsibility and exercising self-discipline to uphold our academic standards and community values. The University can ask any student to leave whose conduct is in violation of the mission and function of the institution or who persistently violates the University's core values and the Code of Student Conduct.

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

The Code of Student Conduct is detailed in this "Student Handbook" (see Code of Student Conduct) and provides examples of violations that may result in serious consequences. Any expectation adopted and published by the administration in more informal written communication or online requires the same respect and compliance as expectations printed in official publications.

Students may obtain a copy of the "Handbook" at the Student Life office or online at andrews.edu/life.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

University learning thrives on the rigor of individual investigation, the authentic exchange of ideas, and a corporate commitment to integrity and mutual respect. It requires all members of the academic community to behave honestly—speaking truthfully to colleagues, co-learners and teachers and completing all homework, tests, papers and projects with integrity. Andrews University anchors its practices in the teachings of the Bible as well as in widely-established and honorable academic traditions. Much as the apostle Paul calls us to authenticity in our Christian walk, so the educational institution demands of its participant's true and accurate self-representation. In Ephesians, Paul invites believers "to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to clothe yourselves with the new self, created according to the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness" (Ephesians 4:23–24, NRSV). As scholars and as Christ's servants, we build His living body through our honesty in all things, both small and great. To that end, Andrews University's students pledge to learn and grow together, committing to the following standards and affirming honesty as a core component of an Andrews University education.

Integrity Standards

Students promise to:

1. Present assignments, lab reports and research findings that are not falsified in any way
2. Respect copyrighted and/or licensed material (whether it be directly quoted or paraphrased) by citing print or electronic sources as appropriate
3. Follow the source citation guidelines outlined by the course professor
4. Submit work that is solely created by the person to whom it is assigned
5. Contribute equitably when participating in group work
6. Prepare for quizzes and examinations by study and review without stealing, accepting or using unauthorized quizzes or examination materials
7. Follow the professor's instructions regarding allowable aids during a quiz or examination
8. Complete quizzes and tests without seeking answers from or sharing answers with other students or unauthorized sources
9. Encourage others to high standards of integrity by refusing to assist in acts of academic dishonesty

Integrity Pledge

Because academic honesty is central to who we are and what we do at Andrews University, the following pledge is required of every student scholar that agrees to join this community:

I promise on my honor as a member of the learning community at Andrews University that I will faithfully adhere to these Integrity Standards in the completion of all coursework requirements and scholarly projects.

Academic Integrity Policy

The following is a synopsis of the University's Academic Integrity Policy for all students. This synopsis is not exhaustive, and students are referred to "Academic Integrity" online at andrews.edu/academics/academic_integrity.html to view the policy in its entirety.

Andrews University has adopted a policy that aims to create an environment in which academic integrity is considered by all members of the community to be the expected norm. Two councils have been established to administrate and lead in this area.

Student Academic Integrity Council (SAIC)

This council consists of 11 students chosen from undergraduate and graduate schools in the spring to be representatives for the following year. Students interested in serving on the SAIC should apply to the chairs of their departments by March 15 to be chosen for the following year.

Among the council's responsibilities are the following:

1. Educating the Andrews campus regarding the Academic Integrity Policy through activities such as:
 1. Educating new students at orientation and new faculty at faculty orientation
 2. Working with ITS to provide web-based resources aimed at enriching academic integrity on campus
 3. Organizing and initiating a yearly chapel focused on academic integrity
2. Provide members to serve on Integrity Panels as required
 1. The panels consist of three students, two faculty and one non-voting faculty moderator
 2. These panels meet to determine whether a student is to be considered responsible for a breach of the Integrity Policy and to determine the appropriate consequence of any breach when:
 1. A student accumulates multiple violations

2. A student disputes a charge of having violated the Integrity Policy
3. Consider requests from students to have records cleared of violations of the Academic Integrity Policy
4. Give annual reports to the University community on all actions taken by the SAIC that year
5. Give an annual report to the provost of the University on any recommended changes to the Integrity Policy they feel are needed

Faculty Academic Integrity Council (FAIC)

This council also consists of 11 members chosen from programs across the University.

Among the council's responsibilities are the following:

1. Provide two members to act as advisors to the SAIC
2. Provide members to serve on Integrity Panels as required
 1. The panels consist of three students, two faculty and one non-voting faculty moderator

While the intent of the policy is to educate the campus in ways to avoid breaches of integrity and to bring us together in a community of honest academic effort, the consequences of intentionally breaking a pledge to the University community are also spelled out and should be considered carefully.

What happens when a student is accused of violating the Academic Integrity Policy?

- A faculty member that believes a student is responsible for violating the Academic Integrity Policy will:
 - » Discuss the matter with the student, asking for a response
 - » Should the faculty member believe there has been a violation, they will determine the level of violation committed and assign a sanction
 - There are five levels of violation described in the Integrity Policy
 - » The faculty member will file a report of the violation electronically
 - The student will have the opportunity to respond to this report, either accepting or rejecting the allegation
 - The student has FIVE DAYS to return the completed document
 - If the student does not return the document in the five-day period, it will be assumed that the student has accepted both the charge and the sanction and they will be applied to the student's record

- The only persons with access to this electronic record are the student, the student's advisor and the chair of the student's department
- An overall record of all a student's reported violations across campus is maintained
- In most situations where the student agrees that they are responsible for the violation and accepts the recommended sanction, no further action is taken
- In cases where the student denies the charges, disputes the recommended sanction, or where the record alerts the SAIC that multiple violations have occurred, an Integrity Panel is formed
 - » The number of violations that will trigger the formation of an Integrity Panel depends on the level of the violations
 - Three level 1 violations (or two level 1 and one level 2)
 - Two level 2 violations
 - A level 3 violation and any violation at any other level
 - One level 4 violation
 - Level 0 violations are considered to be those committed without any intent on the part of the student and are not considered toward the formation of an Integrity Panel
- Integrity Panels consist of three students, two faculty and one non-voting faculty member acting as a moderator
 - » Integrity Panels are responsible for
 - Determining whether a student is responsible for committing a violation
 - And, when responsibility is assigned to the student, determining the appropriate sanction

The "XF" Grade

In cases where an Integrity Panel has determined that a student is responsible for violating the Integrity Policy, they will then determine the sanction to be applied. The Integrity Panel has the authority to apply the sanction recommended by the faculty member or to render a different sanction in cases where the majority feels the original sanction was too harsh or too lenient. Any sanction, from minor ones through expulsion from the University, which is considered appropriate by the Integrity Panel may be applied.

One possible sanction is the application of the "XF" grade to the student's record for the class in question. The "XF" indicates that the student received an "F" in the class for violation of academic integrity policies and is recorded on the student's transcript with the notation "failure due to academic dishonesty."

The following applies to the "XF" grade:

- It is treated in the same way as an "F" for the purposes of grade point average, course repeatability and determination of academic standing
- No student with an "XF" notation on his or her transcript shall be permitted to represent the University in any extracurricular activity or to run for or hold office in any student organization that is allowed to use University facilities or receives University funds

A student may apply to the SAIC to have the "X" portion of the "XF" removed if

- 12 months have passed since the violation was imposed
- The student has not been found in violation of any other academic integrity policies in that 12-month period
- The SAIC makes all decisions regarding removal of the "X." For breaches of integrity committed with significant planning and intent, the "X" will not typically be removed.

A Last Word on Integrity

The SAIC and the FAIC encourage all students to become acquainted with the University Academic Integrity website when it becomes available. There you will find information on the policy itself, ways to avoid plagiarism, correct methods of utilizing media from outside sources, etc.

STUDENT LEADERSHIP

Andrews University values student leaders and is committed to developing the leadership abilities of all students. Holding a formal student leadership position, however, is a responsibility and privilege granted to students who meet minimum qualifications. Formal student leadership positions include officers of the AUGSA, AUSA, presidents of student clubs, and resident advisors.

Candidates for formal student leadership positions must:

- Have a current semester and cumulative grade point average of at least 2.25 (3.00 for AUSA and AUGSA officers). Students who have been on academic probation in the past or current semester to an election or appointment are not eligible to hold leadership positions.

- Have a satisfactory citizenship or student conduct record. Serious citizenship concerns, regardless of when or where they occurred, may impact a student's leadership eligibility. Students who have been suspended and/or are on citizenship probation in the current semester to an election or appointment are not eligible to hold leadership positions. Formal leadership candidates who are part of a current student conduct inquiry may lose their eligibility as well.
- Have a demonstrated commitment to the values and mission of Andrews University.

A formal student leader who is suspended or placed on citizenship probation, or academic probation, or whose current or cumulative grade point average falls below 2.25 (3.00 for AUSA and AUGSA officers) will be required to resign his/her position.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

The Right to Associate

Students have the right to organize and join registered student organizations to promote their common interests consistent with the values, mission and policies of the University and the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The University reserves the right to determine which pursuits are suited to student-led organizations and which may be carried out only within the context of an institutional department or program.

Student organizations should exist:

- To encourage students to engage in activities which complement classroom instruction
- To broaden and strengthen students' abilities and interests
- To enrich the campus culture and promote an ethic of service
- To offer students opportunities to develop leadership skills

Recognition of Student Organizations

All student groups must be recognized by the University in order to function on- or off-campus or online. Affiliation with an external organization will not of itself guarantee the recognition of a student organization. Recognition is granted solely by the University. In order to be recognized, student organizations must:

- Register annually with the Office of Student Activities & Involvement
- Be overseen by an approved faculty or staff advisor/sponsor

- Have a minimum of ten currently enrolled students as members, including three who serve as officers
- Have a constitution on file in the Office of Student Activities & Involvement
- Be open to all Andrews University students
- Be in conformity with University policies and values
- Send an advisor/sponsor and at least one officer to a student organization orientation session or its equivalent

The failure of a registered student organization to meet the policies and expectations of the University could result in the revoking of University approval.

Unauthorized Student Organizations

Student groups that do not meet the criteria above are not permitted to function, recruit or otherwise have an influence on the Andrews University campus. Students belonging to organizations that exist without the approval of the University will be found in violation of the Code of Student Conduct and will jeopardize their student status. Unauthorized organizations that have attempted to recruit University students in the past include Raw Dogs, Rubies, Fam One and O.M.E.G.A. Students who are uncertain of an organization's legitimacy should call the Office of Student Activities & Involvement for more information.

Protection of Individual Student Rights

The right to associate must be practiced with respect to the individual rights of students who are either a part of the organization or seeking membership within it, as well as those outside of the organization. These rights include, but may not be limited to, the right to learn; the right to be free from discrimination and harassment; the right to discuss, inquire, express and petition; and the right to appeal/grievance. On this basis:

- Admission to organizations must be open to all students without respect to race, color, sex (except residence hall clubs), national origin, religion, age, disability or any protected characteristic.
- Organizations may establish membership requirements as long as these are made public and do not (1) discriminate against any protected characteristic, (2) deny a student's rights as outlined in this "Handbook," or (3) place an undue hardship on a student's ability to maintain academic success and progress.
- Membership is the right of any student who meets an organization's membership requirements and may not be determined by organizational vote or come solely at the invitation of an organization. Officers, however, may be elected by an organization, as outlined in an organization's constitution and bylaws.

- Membership is to be granted only to currently enrolled students. Former students and alumni may maintain a connection to a student organization (as they would to the University) but may not participate as members or hold voting privileges.
- Students have the right to full disclosure of an organization's existence, purpose, policies and procedures so as to make an informed choice for or against membership. Likewise, organizations must conduct their business and activities in a transparent fashion, with the full knowledge and participation of their advisor/sponsor.
- Students seeking to resolve differences within a student organization should do so through the established channels of the organization. However, a student always has the right to seek assistance from University personnel, especially in cases of misconduct, threatening or harassing behavior, etc. (see Right to Appeal/Grievance).
- Commitment to membership in a student organization is voluntary in nature and may be withdrawn by a student at any time without consequence. Refunds of paid organizational dues, however, are at the discretion of the charging organization.

Advisors/Sponsors

All student organizations are required to have a University-approved faculty or staff advisor/sponsor. Each organization is free to recruit and present a faculty or staff nominee to the Office of Student Activities & Involvement for approval. Large organizations or those with multiple functions may be required to select a second advisor/sponsor.

Members of the Andrews faculty and staff perform an important educational role when they accept the responsibility to advise student organizations. They will guide the student officers and units, but they will not arbitrarily seek to control the policies and decisions of the student organizations.

The advisor/sponsor or the vice president for Campus & Student Life may exercise the right to suspend or reverse a decision by the student officers or organization when that decision is found to be contrary to the values or operational processes of the University. An advisor's/sponsor's decision to suspend or reverse a decision may be appealed to the assistant director of Student Activities & Involvement and eventually to the assistant vice president for Campus & Student Life.

Activity Approval

All student activities must be sponsored by a University department, registered student organization, or student association (AUSA, AUGSA) and be approved by the Office of Student Activities & Involvement. On rare occasions the Office of Student Activities & Involvement may deem it necessary to deny activities when the activities are not in harmony with University values and objectives. All activities and trips must be supervised by the presence of a full-time faculty or staff member for the full duration of the activity or trip, or part-time staff/adjunct faculty as approved by Student Life. Activity Approval Forms are available in the Office of Student Activities & Involvement.

1. On- or Off-Campus Day Activities. Student activities held on- or off-campus without an overnight stay must be approved by the Office of Student Activities & Involvement at least two weeks prior to the activity.
2. Overnight Off-Campus Trips. Student trips to off-campus locations involving at least one overnight stay must be approved by the Office of Student Activities & Involvement and require completion of the Tour Application and Risk Management Approval Process.
3. Fund-raising. Individuals may not solicit funds or fund-raise on-campus. Student organizations may engage in certain fund-raising activities with the approval of the Office of Student Activities & Involvement based on the following stipulations:
 1. Fund-raising promotional materials must clearly identify the recipient(s) of the funds and the purpose for which they will be used.
 2. All funds must be deposited into the student organization's account.
 3. Funds may be disbursed to non-profit organizations holding 501c3 status and whose mission, values and practices do not conflict with those of the University.
 4. Loose cash collections may be taken up on behalf of charities; however, donors wishing to receive a tax deduction must donate directly to the benefiting organization.
 5. Donations made to University student organizations will not be tax deductible.
 6. Student organizations may disburse cash payments to individuals or families in need but only after a disbursement plan has been approved by the Office of Student Activities & Involvement.

7. Student organizations are prohibited from soliciting funds from University departments or entities. University departments are also prohibited from using University funds to support student organizations.

Financial Accountability

The University requires financial accountability of student organization officers, including statements of an organization's income, income sources and expenses.

Dues. Each organization is responsible for the collection and management of its own dues. Club dues may be charged to students' accounts within the first monthly billing cycle of the semester with the submission of the proper charge forms. Yearly dues may not exceed $50.

Deposits. All student organization funds must be deposited with the University cashier into an organizational account to reduce the loss from misappropriation or the lack of proper custodianship when there is an officer turnover.

Use of funds. Dues or funds collected from the membership may not be used by the executive officers for gifts or activities that are restricted to the executive officers or any other select group within the club.

All club and organization expenditures over $100 must have prior approval of the advisor/sponsor. Expenditures that do not receive authorization may not be reimbursed by the club/organization. In addition, all contracts/agreements with outside vendors shall only be signed (authorized) for the club by the advisor/sponsor.

Accounts. The advisor/sponsor is responsible for the proper auditing of club accounts. Notices will be sent to the advisor/sponsor or assistant director for Student Activities & Involvement when an organizational account has reached a minimum balance and is in danger of being overspent. Major charges made to an organization's account by a University department may require a balance verification before business can be transacted.

Tax status. The University's tax-exempt status does not extend to student organizations, and therefore purchases made by organizations are not tax-exempt.

STUDENT ASSOCIATIONS

Andrews University Student Association (AUSA)

The AUSA is the hub of undergraduate campus activity. All undergraduate students taking at least five credits are automatically members of the Andrews University Student Association.

The purposes of the AUSA are to:

- Serve the University community and contribute to the fuller unfolding of the Adventist program of education
- Serve as a channel for organizing student activities
- Provide a vehicle for the expression of student opinion
- Provide opportunity for leadership experience and the development of skills in organization and administration

The AUSA source of authority is provided through the policies voted by the University faculty and the Board of Trustees as interpreted by the president through the vice president for Campus & Student Life and the AUSA advisors.

The AUSA may vote its own constitution, bylaws and working policies, and elect officers. The constitution, bylaws and working policies shall be consistent with the University policies. The AUSA constitution and bylaws shall provide that all legislation be processed through standing committees, comprised of Student Senate members with the right to vote.

AUSA Elections

Candidates for Student Association offices, appointees for offices and editors of the Student Association communications media shall be approved by the vice president for Campus & Student Life. This is done after consultation with the Student Life Council, taking into consideration the standards published in the "Student Handbook" and the qualifications included in the Student Association constitution, bylaws and working policies.

The Student Life Council may elect to advise the vice president by secret ballot. The vice president's decisions are final and reasons will not be made public. Candidate names will not be announced publicly nor will the candidates campaign until they have been approved by the vice president for Campus & Student Life.

- Candidates for AUSA elections will be members of the AUSA.
- Candidates must meet the formal student leadership requirements with the increased expectation that in order to be eligible to run for AUSA office, candidates must have a current semester and cumulative grade point average of at least 3.00. A 3.00 current or cumulative grade point average must be maintained in order for an AUSA officer to continue holding office. Students who have been on academic probation in the 12 months prior to an election or appointment are not eligible to hold leadership positions.

- Candidates must have a demonstrated commitment to the values and mission of Andrews University and a respect for the beliefs of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.
- Candidates must have a satisfactory citizenship record. Serious citizenship concerns, regardless of when or where they occurred, may impact a student's leadership eligibility. Students who have been suspended and/or on citizenship probation in the current semester to an election or appointment are not eligible to hold leadership positions. Formal leadership candidates who are part of a current citizenship inquiry may lose their eligibility as well.
- Those who wish to run for office should submit an application to the Office of Student Activities & Involvement.
- Candidates will have presented a platform to the vice president for Campus & Student Life for approval. Platforms will be in harmony with the standards and objectives of the University.
- All posters for campaigns will conform to the regular University policy regarding posters. In the Campus Center during elections, exceptions to the policy may be authorized by the vice president for Campus & Student Life.

A student who is suspended or placed on citizenship probation, or academic probation or whose current or cumulative grade point average falls below 3.00 will be required to resign his/her office.

Andrews University Graduate Student Association (AUGSA)

All graduate students registered in regular or provisional status in all the schools and colleges of the Berrien Springs campus of the University shall be voting members of the AUGSA.

The purposes of the AUGSA are:

1. To work together more diligently for the common good within the University's working policies
2. To maintain and uphold the objectives and purposes of the University and its sponsoring denomination
3. To promote awareness of the skills, capabilities and services available to graduate students in all disciplines
4. To maintain academic integrity, research, responsibility and privileges
5. To promote a clear understanding of the peculiar needs, challenges and responsibilities of graduate students
6. To provide a means of training for leadership and service to God and humanity

The AUGSA source of authority is provided through the policies voted by the University faculty and the Board of Trustees as interpreted by the president through the vice president for Campus & Student Life and the AUGSA advisors.

The AUGSA may vote its own constitution, bylaws and working policies. The constitution, bylaws and working policies shall be consistent with the University policies. The AUGSA constitution and bylaws shall provide that all legislation be processed through standing committees and processes including membership votes.

AUGSA Officer Selection

All AUGSA candidates must maintain a 3.00 cumulative GPA to be eligible for and to hold office. Candidates must exemplify good citizenship and receive endorsement from a faculty advisor and the dean of the school they represent.

- Candidates must have a demonstrated commitment to the values and mission of Andrews University and a respect for the beliefs of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.
- Candidates must have a satisfactory citizenship record. Serious citizenship concerns, regardless of when or where they occurred, may impact a student's leadership eligibility. Students who have been on citizenship probation or suspended in the 12 months prior to an election or appointment are not eligible to hold leadership positions. Leadership candidates who are part of a current citizenship inquiry may lose their eligibility as well.
- Those who wish to nominate themselves as a candidate for office should submit an application to the AUGSA within the time period announced each spring semester.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES & INVOLVEMENT

The Office of Student Activities & Involvement exists to create and maintain a Christian environment of social and recreational activities that foster healthy and rewarding relationships within a diverse student body.

Student Activities coordinates social events such as Almost Anything Goes, Splash for Cash and the Dodgeball Tournament. Student Activities often plans events in collaboration with the Andrews University Student Association (AUSA), Andrews University Graduate Student Association (AUGSA) and other clubs and organizations. In addition, Student Activities facilitates the creation and renewal of campus clubs and organizations.

Campus Center

The Campus Center is a gathering place where students can both socialize and study. In order to provide a welcoming environment for all students, please adhere to the following guidelines:

- Each student is responsible for throwing away his/her trash in the receptacles provided.
- Furnishings should be left clean and in order. Tables and chairs, if moved, must be returned to their proper place.
- Use of personal equipment for playing music or for viewing videos, etc., is permitted only with the use of headphones. Material viewed must be in harmony with Christian values.
- Appropriate decorum is expected and should not include public displays of affection such as kissing, sitting on laps, etc. Please also be aware that stairwells and stairs are unoccupied areas—students found in these areas will be asked to vacate.
- Groups wishing to rehearse or practice must first reserve space with the Student Life office.
- Meat and caffeinated beverages may not be served or sold on campus.

Students wishing to set up a booth in the Campus Center hallway should reserve a table with the Student Life office manager. The Student Life & Leadership Lab may be reserved through the Student Life office.

William Mutch Recreation Center

The William Mutch Recreation Center, located on the lower level of the Campus Center, is a meeting place for students to socialize, study and gather. Various games and recreation equipment are available to check out and use. Student workers are on duty to facilitate and help to maintain the facilities. The recreation center is open during evenings and weekends and for special events.

ATHLETICS

The Office of Athletics supports the Cardinal athletic program that consists of men's and women's soccer teams, men's and women's basketball teams, and a club ice hockey team. The Cardinal athletic program (soccer and basketball) is a Division II member of the United States Collegiate Athletic Association.

The Gymnastics program is also part of the Office of Athletics. The Gymnastics, a dynamic acrosport gymnastics team, share positive lifestyle messages as they showcase their skills.

Students participating as active members of intercollegiate teams must meet eligibility expectations for the USCAA. Additionally, to be eligible for participation intercollegiate and gymnastic athletes cannot be on academic probation or citizenship probation.

In addition, the Office of Athletics offers a wide variety of intramural sports and open recreation activities. For more information or to register online, visit andrews.edu/intramurals.

PHILOSOPHY AND PRINCIPLES OF DRESS

Andrews University's philosophy of dress is grounded in biblical ideals and the professional standards expected of a university. As members of a Christian community, we aspire to glorify our Creator and to show respect for self and others in our dress.

The specifics of the "Andrews Look" illustrate the fundamental principles of modesty, simplicity and appropriateness.

- Modesty—Appropriately covering the body, avoiding styles that are revealing or suggestive.
- Simplicity—Accentuating God-given grace and natural beauty rather than the ostentation encouraged by the fashion industry.
- Appropriateness—Wearing clothing that is clean, neat and suitable to occasion, activity and place.

As a Seventh-day Adventist university, we interpret these principles in accordance with our faith tradition. While respecting individuals who may view them differently, we ask all who study, work or play on our campus to abide by our dress code while here.

Specifics of the Andrews Look:

- Men's Attire—Pants or jeans with shirts or sweaters are the most appropriate dress for everyday campus wear. Examples of inappropriate attire are tank tops, bare midriffs and unbuttoned shirts. Modest shorts are acceptable; however, athletic shorts are appropriate only for sporting activities.
- Women's Attire—Dresses, skirts, pants or jeans with shirts, blouses, sweaters and/or jackets are appropriate for most occasions. Examples of inappropriate attire are sheer blouses, tube tops, low necklines, bare midriffs, spaghetti straps or no straps, tank tops, short skirts and two-piece bathing suits. Modest shorts are acceptable; however, athletic shorts are appropriate only for sporting activities.
- Accessories—These should be minimal and carefully chosen after considering the principle of simplicity above. Examples of jewelry and accessories that are not appropriate at Andrews University are ornamental rings and bracelets, necklaces and chains, earrings and piercings of all kinds. Modest symbols of a marital commitment, such as wedding and engagement rings, are acceptable.

Students not conforming to these standards of dress should anticipate being asked to come into compliance. This is especially true in the workplace, in leadership positions and when taking a role in activities representing Andrews University.

ROMANTIC AND MARRIAGE RELATIONSHIPS

As a Christian institution of higher learning, Andrews University believes that healthy romantic, marriage and sexual relationships must be built on biblical principles. Therefore, we expect students to refrain from all premarital and extramarital sexual relationships and inappropriate displays of affection.

While relationships and appropriate demonstrations of intimacy are an important part of college student development, couples should respect the rights and interests of their companions and others by limiting displays of affection in public. In the interest of safety and propriety, couples should avoid lingering in parked vehicles, vacant rooms and secluded campus locations. Likewise, unmarried or unrelated students of the opposite sex or students who are in a romantic relationship may not live or stay overnight in the same shared dwelling.

For a detailed statement on the University's position, policies and protections regarding differences in sexual orientation, please refer to Appendix 1 (see Appendix 1: A Seventh-day Adventist Framework for Relating to Sexual Orientation Differences on the Campus of Andrews University).

SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Andrews University is committed to providing a drug-free environment for learning and working. Such a commitment led the University to establish a Drug-Free Policy, which outlines clearly the University's zero-tolerance position and strives to educate the student body on the advantages of a drug-free lifestyle. The University also helps chemically dependent students find resources to aid in their recovery.

Students are expected to remain drug-free. Drug-free means abstaining from the use of alcohol, tobacco and other mind-altering drugs. It also means refraining from the misuse and/or abuse of prescription drugs. The University also upholds all laws which prohibit the possession, use, manufacturing or distribution of controlled substances. The possession of drug paraphernalia and use of “look alike” or designer drugs including any or all parts of e-cigarettes, hookahs, vapor and hookah pens, etc., regardless of the substance delivered, are also prohibited and considered an offense of the Drug-Free Policy.

A K-9 handler team is authorized by the University to conduct searches of campus facilities (see Campus Safety Services and Information). Prohibited substances, materials and equipment will be confiscated.

Students who have reportedly used alcohol, tobacco or illegal substances or who were found to be in close proximity to alcohol, tobacco or illegal substances or drug paraphernalia may be required to participate in random, on-demand alcohol, tobacco and drug screenings as well as to engage in an educational course. In cases where there is not confirmed usage, costs related to tests required for students will be covered by the University if the results are negative and will be the responsibility of the student if the results are positive.

Voluntary Referral

All students can choose to voluntarily seek assistance in remaining drug- and alcohol-free. Faculty members, Counseling & Testing or Student Life professionals are available for consultations. No disciplinary action will typically be taken if the student initiates (without the information being already reported to or known by a University or law enforcement official) a voluntary effort to seek assistance. To be considered as a voluntary referral, the student must provide, from the Counseling & Testing Center or a healthcare provider, current documentation of having taken the voluntary initiative as well as evidence of faithfully following the established plan for attendance, treatment, removal of triggers and personal growth.

Substance use/abuse counseling is available from the Counseling & Testing Center. Limited services include the following:

- Professional substance abuse assessment
- Individual counseling
- Support groups for chemical dependency

Mandatory Referral

If students are found in violation of the policy, the University will activate the following response.

Non-illegal Substance Violations

A first violation for a non-illegal substance use or possession will result in a suspension from the University. To be eligible to regain and/or continue student status, the student must fulfill the following protocol:

1. Review and reaffirm commitment to a re-entry contract with a Student Life professional
2. Sign a release of information consent form with a Student Life professional
3. Serve an on-campus suspension, (a) a two-week, in-class (required class attendance) or (b) an out-of-class suspension from classes and work for a minimum of three class days as determined by the Student Life Deans Council that includes:
 - » Remaining in current residence
 - » Suspension from all organized campus activities
 - » Supervised academic success or voluntary service (15 hours)
 - » Citizenship Probation (15 weeks)
 - » Mentoring with a Student Life dean for a minimum of six weekly sessions
 - » Other restorative and educational interventions
 - » Making an appointment with the Counseling & Testing Center within three days to obtain a Substance Abuse Assessment
 - » Accept responsibility for a minimum $100 fee
 - » Requesting that the Counseling & Testing counselor submit to referring entity a verification of compliance with assessment appointments and a summary report of the assessment with recommendations for ongoing care
 - » A psychoeducational course which includes attendance of six sessions and related assignments and an exit interview as outlined with the course counselor
 - » Requesting that the Counseling & Testing counselor submit verification to referring entity of the completion of the six psychoeducational sessions

Illegal Substances and Other Serious Substance-Related Violations

Violations that will result in a more major suspension of a minimum of one semester include conduct related to:

- Use of illegal substances
- Possession of illegal substances and paraphernalia in campus residence halls
- Planning and/or hosting events where alcohol and/or illegal substances are served and/or consumed
- Selling or supplying alcohol or illegal substances
- Attempting to solicit or facilitate the purchase or presence of alcohol or illegal substances
- Underage use of alcohol or providing alcohol and/or illegal substances to underage individuals

A report will be made to the appropriate legal authorities if the student has violated laws regarding illegal drugs and controlled substances.

To be eligible to regain and/or continue student status the student must:

- Serve an off-campus suspension which will be a minimum of one semester, during which time the student will be separated from the campus (under the terms of a campus ban) and all campus activities and services.

Prior to returning to classes the student must:

- Obtain an assessment with a licensed community Substance Abuse Counselor
- Sign a release of information consent form with the community Substance Abuse Counselor
- Request that the Substance Abuse Counselor submit a summary report of the assessment, with recommendations for ongoing care, to the vice president for Campus & Student Life
- Submit documentation of the completion of other restorative and educational interventions or voluntary service

Upon returning and registering for a future semester the student must:

- Review and reaffirm commitment to a re-entry contract with a Student Life professional
- Sign a release of information consent form with a Student Life professional
- Complete a psychoeducational course with the Counseling & Testing Center which includes attendance of six sessions, related assignments and an exit interview as outlined with the course counselor
- Participate in random, on-demand drug testing and accept responsibility for related fees (regardless of positive or negative results)
- Serve a minimum 15-week Citizenship Probation that includes the removal of privileges (see Student Conduct Intervention (Disciplinary) Processes)

A second substance use or possession offense will result in, at minimum, a suspension from the University for the current semester and the ensuing semester during which time the student will be separated from the campus and all campus activities. A request for reinstatement will first require reapplication to the University.

Health Risks and Resources

There are many health risks associated with the use of alcohol and drugs—many of these risks are noted in the following comprehensive overview. For a comprehensive list of health risks, please see bulletin.andrews.edu.> Student Handbook > Substance Abuse.

Legal Ramifications

Violations of local, state and federal laws related to alcohol abuse or to the illegal use, possession, manufacture or delivery of controlled substances may result in misdemeanor or felony convictions accompanied by the legal imposition of sanctions. For details, please see bulletin.andrews.edu.> Student Handbook > Substance Abuse.

Medical Marijuana

Michigan state law permits the use of medical marijuana, i.e., use by persons possessing lawfully issued medical marijuana cards. However, marijuana use, possession and/or cultivation is prohibited at educational institutions, which are recipients of federal funds and must be compliant with federal laws (including the Controlled Substances Act and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act). The use, possession or cultivation of marijuana for medical purposes is therefore not allowed on the property of Andrews University nor is it allowed at any University-sponsored event or activity off-campus.

Community Resources

For a comprehensive list of community resources, please see bulletin.andrews.edu.> Student Handbook > Substance Abuse.

HEALTH, WELLNESS AND SAFETY

At Andrews University the health and wellbeing of students and of our campus community is of primary importance. The University remains committed to assuring that all students have the opportunity to achieve optimal success and receive the best and most appropriate care. The University Student Intervention Team (USIT) has been established to evaluate concerns and to intervene as deemed necessary to help protect the educational environment or the health and safety of the campus.

Observations of behaviors and reports of activities or conduct that appear to disrupt, jeopardize or threaten the educational environment or the health or safety of a student or others should be shared via the online Andrews University CARE Report form. Reports may also be shared with the vice president for Campus & Student Life and/or members of USIT. If there is a direct or imminent threat the observation should be directed immediately to Emergency Services (911) and to the Office of Campus Safety (269-471-3321).

Such observations may include disruptive, erratic or dysfunctional behaviors, a suicidal ideation or gesture, self-injurious actions, aberrant actions, threatening statements or behaviors, or other symptoms or conduct that may compromise the educational environment or the health and safety of the student or others.

General Processes

The University will facilitate standard due processes, in which the student will have the opportunity to explore with a member of the USIT or a Student Life dean the nature of the reported concern, the Health, Wellness and Safety policy, as well as engage in an appeal process. When deemed necessary, the University may take interim measures or initiate a plan to provide protective care for the student and/or take steps to ensure the safety of the campus community until an evaluation can take place. University Medical Specialties and/or the Counseling & Testing Center may be consulted. (In some cases, students may be transported by ambulance directly to a local emergency facility following a 911 call.)

Evaluation and/or Investigative Processes

To facilitate the success of the student as well as to assess the level of risk or disruption to the campus or educational environment, a comprehensive investigation may be activated.

- The student may be asked to obtain a comprehensive individualized medical and/or psychological assessment from a licensed physician or psychologist and sign a release of information (ROI) to the vice president for Campus & Student Life and the USIT. Information requested may include a written report of the findings of the assessment and recommended intervention plan.
- The student may be asked by the licensed physician or psychologist to provide pertinent reports and corroborative information from former educational entities or healthcare professionals.
- In cases of potential harm to self, residence hall students may not be able to reside in the residence hall during the assessment and stabilization processes due to the potential disruption to other students and the inability of residence hall staff to provide monitored care. Parents of the student may be asked to provide a plan of monitored care until the assessment process determines that the student is able to function in an independent living environment.
- In the case of threats or potential harm to others, an investigation will be conducted that may include a background check and the student may be asked to provide additional information.
- In the case of serious threats of harm self or others Parents, legal guardians, spouse or family designee (as reflected in the student's emergency contact records) generally are notified and encouraged to share relevant information.
- The student is responsible for all fees related to medical or psychological assessment.
- The vice president for Campus & Student Life and/or the USIT will review all corroborative information, professional assessments and recommendations to determine the appropriate University response.

Following the evaluation and investigative processes, the USIT or vice president for Campus & Student Life may request the student to engage in an intervention plan that may include a change in residential setting, a voluntary medical leave, or an involuntary leave.

Involuntary Leave Process

In extraordinary circumstances the vice president for Campus & Student Life may ask a student to take an involuntary leave from the University for reasons of personal or community safety that include:

- Medical circumstances: (a) The student may pose a direct threat to the health or safety of the student or others or has seriously disrupted others in the student's residential community or academic environment; and (b) the student's behavior or threatening state is determined to be the result of a medical condition, or the student refuses to cooperate with efforts deemed necessary by the University Student Intervention Team to obtain an individualized assessment to evaluate the cause of the student's behavior or threatening state. In some circumstances, the level of care and accommodation may exceed the resources or appropriate staffing capabilities of a residential campus or may be beyond the standard of care that campus health care and support services can be expected to provide or monitor, in which case continued enrollment may constitute a serious disruption of the residential community or the academic environment, justifying an involuntary leave of absence. Placement on involuntary leave of absence for these situations is not disciplinary, and a student who wishes to take a voluntary leave of absence will ordinarily be allowed to do so.
- Alleged criminal behavior or risk to the community: The student has been arrested on allegations or charged with serious criminal behavior or has allegedly violated the Code of Student Conduct and may pose a significant risk to the safety or educational environment of the community. Incidents such as these that initially give rise to an involuntary leave may subsequently result in a disciplinary action.

Voluntary Leave Policy

In certain life circumstances, it may be necessary or desirable for a student to take a leave of absence. Requests for leave are handled in accordance with the Voluntary Leave Policy. A leave of absence may occur within a semester while remaining enrolled in classes (in-semester leave) or it may entail withdrawing from all classes and leaving for the remainder of the semester or longer (semester leave). Leaves may be granted for family, military, medical or personal reasons, as specified below.

Alternatives to a Leave

Before taking a semester leave, students are advised to consult with their professors, academic advisors or the Student Success office about any accommodations that might be made. In some cases, it may be best for students to remain enrolled under a revised academic plan. Such a plan could include reduced coursework, extended deadlines or incompletes with a plan for completion. A revised academic plan will vary depending upon course load, course requirements and current academic standing within courses.

In-Semester Leaves

An in-semester leave involves a short absence from all classes. The student will remain enrolled and be responsible for working with professors, academic advisors or the Student Success office on a plan to make up missed coursework. While emergencies may take a student away from campus without warning, in all other situations students are required to notify professors and the Student Success or Student Life office before taking an in-semester leave. Such leaves may total no more than two weeks in a given semester, and students who exceed this limit must consult with the Student Success office about taking a semester leave.

Semester Leaves—Benefits

Semester leaves are designed to temporarily withdraw students from enrollment in all classes, without a loss of general admission status, in order to help them meet significant life challenges or important obligations. Related reinstatement processes ensure that students return fully equipped for the rigors of campus and academic life. An approved semester leave, in certain circumstances, may help students:

- To protect their academic record
- To maintain their visa status (if applicable)
- To avoid adverse effects to their student loans, grants and scholarships

Types of Leave

The University offers in-semester and semester leaves for the following reasons:

- A family semester leave may be granted for cases in which a student or student's spouse has given birth or adopted a child or in which a student is caring for a spouse, son, daughter or parent who has a serious health condition. A letter of request should be submitted as documentation.

- A military semester leave will be granted to a student who must interrupt study temporarily to fulfill a compulsory military obligation. The student must provide written documentation from the appropriate military authorities, including dates of the period of obligation.
- A medical semester leave may be granted for documented physical or psychological health reasons. Documentation must be obtained from a licensed physician or psychologist.
- A personal semester leave may be granted to a student who must interrupt study temporarily for reasons other than those described above. Reasons may include, but are not limited to, financial status, bereavement or changes in one's outside employment. A letter of request should be submitted as documentation.

Requesting a Semester Leave

- To initiate a semester leave, students must submit a Student Exit Procedure Form along with appropriate supporting documentation to the vice president for Campus & Student Life or the Student Success office.
- Students should expect that the established tuition adjustment schedule will be followed based on the number of calendar days they have been enrolled. Additional considerations may be made based on each student's request, in consultation with their academic dean and the Student Financial Services office.
- Before taking a semester leave, students are strongly encouraged to consult with their academic advisor and student financial advisor. International students should seek counsel from the Office of International Student Services & Programs to insure compliance with visa regulations.

While on a Semester Leave

While on a semester leave of absence, students have limited access to University services:

- Students on leave may not be allowed to register for main campus or distance degree courses or to participate in academic tours.
- The ID cards of students on leave will be deactivated and will not function on campus (at the Andrews University Bookstore, Dining Services, James White Library, residence halls, etc.). However, access to a student's personal Andrews email account will remain.
- Students on leave who have purchased health insurance coverage through the University's student insurance provider will remain covered for the remainder of their policy term.
- Counseling & Testing Center services will not be available while a student is on leave.
- Residential students who plan to live in the local community during their leave may wish to re-register their vehicles with the Office of Campus Safety (for a minimal fee) in order to receive community parking privileges.
- Students who work on-campus should not expect to retain their student employment during the period of their leave.
- Students on leave may not live in the residence halls. Since leases in student housing are contingent upon enrollment, students on leave will not be allowed to remain in University apartments or houses beyond the end of the semester in which they take a leave. However, students with an approved leave may break their lease without penalty.

Duration and Number of Semester Leaves

The duration of a semester leave depends upon the type of leave taken. Military leaves are determined by the length of compulsory service specified by military authorities. Family, personal and medical leaves may be anywhere from the remainder of a semester to no more than one additional semester in length. Students on an approved medical leave may request a second additional semester of leave when appropriate documentation is obtained from a healthcare professional.

Some degree programs have annual academic sequences that may require students to re-enter their program at a particular point in the academic year. In such cases, a longer leave may be necessary and will be considered.

Reinstatement from Leaves

Reinstatement from military, family, medical and personal semester or involuntary leaves requires that students complete one or more of the following:

- Contact the Student Life office to have the medical leave hold removed
- Notify their academic and financial advisors before the end of a leave of their intention to return
- Take the appropriate steps to academically and financially register for the following semester

In addition, reinstatement from a semester medically-related leave addresses the University's need to be confident, in consultation with the student and healthcare providers, that the student can function safely and independently in an unsupervised environment. The vice president for Campus & Student Life and/or the USIT may require current documentation from a licensed physician or psychologist regarding the following:

- A student's readiness to return to the rigor inherent in academic and campus life expectations
- A student's ability to adequately monitor his or her health
- Any recommendations for follow-up or after-care intervention and support

Failure to return in the semester following the end of a leave will result in a student having to re-apply to the University.

Participation in academic tours immediately following a semester medical leave must be supported by a statement from a student's medical or psychological provider that he/she is prepared to participate in the demands of that particular tour and can be in circumstances where there may be limited access to medical services.

A Residential Campus

RESIDENTIAL LIVING POLICY

Policy

Andrews University is operated as a residential college on the undergraduate level. This means that the residential environment plays a significant role in the mission of the University and its efforts to foster the holistic development of each student.

Therefore, all single undergraduate students under 22 years of age who are (1) pursuing an on-campus degree and taking seven or more credits (including distance learning courses) or (2) enrolled in full-time language study must live in one of the University residence halls and participate in a meal plan at the University's cafeteria. Single undergraduate students must be 22 years of age by the first day of a semester in order to be approved to live in the community for that semester.

Special consideration may be granted for those who turn 22 by September 30 (for fall) and January 31 (for spring).*

Special consideration may be granted for those who are fifth-year seniors (attended four full years—eight fall/spring semesters—at a college/university and have 120+ earned academic credit hours). Students who have served one or two registered semesters as a student missionary or taskforce worker through Andrews University or another Adventist institution may be granted equivalent academic semesters toward fifth-year senior status (with 15 hours of earned academic credit hours per semester) pending recommendation letters from the site Campus Ministries office as well as the site supervisor.*

Costs associated with residence hall living are part of the investment in an Andrews University education, thus the Student Life office does not make exceptions to the Residential Living Policy on the basis of financial need.

The ONLY alternatives to residence hall living are as follows and are at the discretion of the Student Life office:

1. Students may live full-time within the household of a parent, grandparent, aunt/uncle or sibling age 22+ within a 45-mile radius of the University under the terms of an approved Community Residential Application.
2. Students may live full-time with a current, full-time Andrews University faculty or staff member (generally a Seventh-day Adventist in good and regular standing) within a 45-mile radius of the University under the terms of an approved Community Residential Application.

A Community Residential Application may be obtained online or in the Student Life office (Campus Center, main floor). The parent, grandparent, aunt/uncle, sibling age 22+ or current, full-time faculty/staff member must sign the application in person in the Student Life office and is required to present their current Michigan or Indiana driver's license to be photocopied as proof of local residency.

If applying to live with an aunt/uncle, a student must submit written documentation from a parent to verify that the aunt/uncle is the biological sister/brother of the parent.*

Returning residential students under age 22 who meet the criteria for community living must submit applications to the Student Life office for approval prior to the semester of their expected move. Submitting an application before the deadline does not mean it is approved. The assistant to the vice president for Campus & Student Life will respond to all applications within two weeks of submission or according to the designated timeline (see below).

Semester expected to move	Application deadline	Response by
Spring 2019	November 1	November 15
Fall 2019	June 1	June 15

Please note the additional conditions of this policy:

1. A "parent" is a student's biological parent or legal step-parent. A "grandparent" is a biological parent of a student's parent. An "aunt" or "uncle" is a biological sister or brother

- of a student's parent. While the University understands the custom of addressing a close family friend as "aunt," "uncle," etc., the University, as it relates to the Residential Living Policy, only honors biological family relationships.
2. In keeping with the older student community environment, a student under age 22 will not be approved to live with their age 22+ sibling in University Towers.
 3. To be eligible for community housing, students must be in good and regular standing and evidence a willingness to abide by the expectations of Andrews University at the time of application.
 4. Students living in the community or University Apartments are expected to abide by the standards and codes of conduct outlined in the "Student Handbook."
 5. Under the terms of the Community Residential Application, the parent, grandparent, aunt/uncle, sibling age 22+ or faculty/staff member must agree to live on a daily basis in the same household as the student (students must not live in a separate apartment or basement apartment with a different entrance) and to notify Student Life of any changes of address, conduct concerns, irregularities or any concern that impacts the welfare of the student.
 6. A parent, grandparent, aunt/uncle, sibling age 22+ or faculty/staff member who owns or rents more than one residence may not divide their time between residences during the school year.
 7. Application for living in the community must be made each academic year.
 8. Students are strongly advised not to make contractual agreements or financial commitments in the community before receiving full approval from Student Life for community living. Student Life is not responsible for these choices or consequences.
 9. Students who make false statements to the University on a Community Residential Application jeopardize their student status and ability to reside in the community—additional consequences and/or fines may apply.
 10. Students who wish to request alternate housing arrangements due to a disability or to a chronic health condition should contact the disability services coordinator, Carletta Witzel, at Student Success (269-471-3227). All requests for housing accommodations should be made no later than July 1 (for fall semester), November 15 (for spring semester), and March 15 (for summer semester). After these dates, housing accommodations will be granted as space allows or for a future semester. Andrews University will make every attempt to provide reasonable accommodations within on-campus housing facilities for students with documented disabilities or chronic health conditions.

Residence Halls

The University maintains three residence halls: Lamson Hall (for undergraduate women), Meier Hall (for undergraduate men), and University Towers. University Towers (for single, undergraduate age 22+ and graduate students. Double-occupancy rooms are standard. Single occupancy is permitted by special request, if space allows, for an additional fee. Residents are not permitted to sublet their rooms to other individuals.

The University reserves the right of residence hall deans, authorized representatives or an administrative officer of the University to enter and inspect a student's room whenever deemed necessary. This includes, but is not limited to, the right to inspect the contents of any locked containers and inspection for illegal substances, firearms, alcohol, tobacco, fire and safety hazards, cleanliness and orderliness. The student, by accepting a room in one of the residence halls, acknowledges and authorizes this procedure. Materials and decorations, such as pictures or posters not in harmony with the ethical and moral standards of the University, may result in the student being asked to remove them from the campus or may ultimately be moved by University personnel.

University Apartments (and Houses)

The University owns approximately 300 apartments and 30 houses. The apartments are available to married students, students with children, and single undergraduate age 22+ and graduate students. Accommodations are available only to those who have been officially accepted as University students. Since apartments are limited, applicants are advised to apply six to nine months before their first semester of studies.

Most apartments are furnished. Tenants must supply their own linen, draperies and kitchen utensils. Unfurnished apartments have a stove and refrigerator. Heavy furniture and pianos on the second or third floor may be placed in the apartments only by prior arrangement with the University Apartments director. Pets are not allowed in University apartments or houses. The apartment descriptions, rental rates and application forms are available upon request.

Full-time students living with children and/or spouse, single graduate students or undergraduate students (22 years of age and older) may qualify for a University apartment. Apartments offered are as follows:

- Beechwood: 1-, 2- and (limited) 3-bedroom furnished or unfurnished; and a very limited number of 4-bedroom unfurnished
- Garland: 1-, 2- or (limited) 3-bedroom furnished or unfurnished; and efficiency furnished apartments for singles
- Maplewood: 1-, 2- or (limited) 3-bedroom furnished with air conditioning; 2-bedroom unfurnished with or without air conditioning; and a limited number of 3-bedroom unfurnished with air conditioning
- A limited number of houses

For floor plans and more information, please visit andrews.edu/apartments.

Other Accommodations

There are other accommodations in the area. You may obtain a list of area landlords at the Office of University Apartments or request a copy via email to universityapartments@andrews.edu.

COMMUNITY HOUSING

Non-Residence Hall Housing

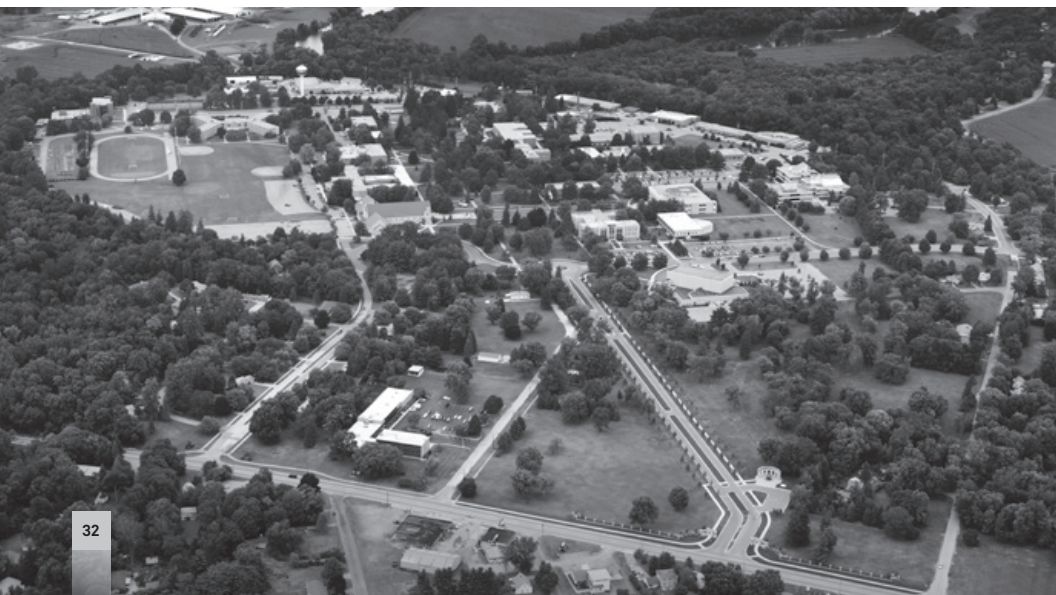

Students 22 or older may choose to live in University apartments or in non-University housing in the community. All students in non-University housing are advised to obtain a valid lease or contract from their landlords.

Students living in non-residence hall housing must abide by the Code of Student Conduct and the Residential Living Policy. All students living off-campus must maintain high moral standards in their choice of guests and entertainment; otherwise, they could be subject to discipline. Unmarried or unrelated students of the opposite sex or students who are in a romantic relationship may not live or visit overnight in the same shared dwelling.

CAMPUS CURFEW AND BUILDING CLOSURES

The University roadways are closed to general access from off-campus starting at 11 p.m. every night except for Saturday which begins at midnight. Residence hall students are expected to abide by the curfew established for their student status. Vehicles entering or departing the campus while the campus is closed are required to enter through the Campus Safety Gatehouse located on J.N. Andrews Blvd. At that time the operator of the vehicle will be required to present either their Andrews University Identification Card or a valid driver's license. Campus Safety reserves the right to refuse entry to the campus due to safety-related concerns.

University buildings and facilities are also closed to general access at various times. For more information regarding building schedules and closures, please contact Campus Safety at 269-471-3321 or visit andrews.edu/safety.

A Whole-Person Approach

FAITH AND LEARNING OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM

As part of earning an Andrews University degree, graduate and undergraduate students have many opportunities to engage in faith and learning opportunities outside the classroom. These complement academic courses and allow students to document valuable skills and dispositions desired by employers. Undergraduate students and Seminary students agree to participate in a minimum number of co-curricular opportunities each semester as part of their educational experience. However, we encourage all students to be involved in out-of-class learning experiences offered by the University—on campus, in the community and around the world.

SEMINARY WORSHIP POLICY

Seminary students are required to attend a minimum number of Seminary worship and assembly programs each semester. Full details can be found in the “Seminary Worship Attendance Policy” at andrews.edu/sem/resources/pdf/worship-attendance-policy-03-15-16.pdf.

UNDERGRADUATE CO-CURRICULAR POLICY

Learning Outcomes. Co-curricular education targets learning outcomes in four areas.

- A Healthy U focuses on physical fitness, balanced nutrition and personal wellbeing.
- A Successful U focuses on academic skills, creative capacities and career readiness.
- A Committed U focuses on faith development, spiritual support and life purpose.
- A Better U focuses on cultural competence, service orientation and leadership development.

Together with the academic curriculum, these programs deliver the whole-person education at the heart of Andrews University’s mission.

Co-Curricular Programs Offered. Four types of co-curricular programs are offered:

1. Chapels and Forums meet every Thursday from 11:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. in the Pioneer Memorial Church or the Howard Performing Arts Center. These programs allow students to interact with a wide range of inspiring pastors, community leaders, authors, faculty, students and alumni.
2. Co-Curricular Short Courses take place in five-week blocks on every Tuesdays from 11:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. in a variety of locations. These series are focused on personal, academic and professional development. Interspersed between the blocks are Academic Assemblies, which meet three times per semester in various academic departments.
3. Living Learning Programs occur throughout the week in the residence halls. These programs are designed to promote life-wide learning within the context of Christian community.
4. Service Learning Forms offer co-curricular credit to students who document and reflect on their involvement in voluntary service in a campus, church or community context. . One credit is given for every two hours of service, up to a maximum of 10 credits per semester.

Other opportunities to receive co-curricular credit include Friday vespers; student concerts and recitals; student gallery openings; and approved educational programs planned by student organizations and campus departments.

Co-Curricular Fee. A co-curricular fee is assessed at the end of each semester. This fee accumulates based on nonattendance. There will be a fee of $25 for the first credit short of the required number and $15 for every credit short thereafter. A maximum of $460 may be charged to traditional students and $160 to non-traditional students per semester. Most importantly, as an incentive for participation, this fee can be minimized or completely eliminated by fulfilling the requirement.

Attendance Requirement. Engaging in out-of-class learning is part of earning an Andrews degree. Co-curricular appointments should be treated just like classes when planning work schedules and overall academic load.

1. Traditional Undergraduates. Undergraduates under the age of 25 years who do not have a child in their care are identified as traditional. All traditional undergraduates are required to attend 30 co-curricular programs a semester, meeting one or two minimums (below) as part of the total requirement.
 - » Thursday minimum. Traditional undergraduates must attend a minimum of 12 programs offered on Thursdays during the 11:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. co-curricular period.
 - » Living Learning minimum. Traditional undergraduates living in residence hall (Lamson, Meier, or University Towers) must attend a minimum of 6 living learning programs offered in the residence hall system.
 - » The remaining credits can be invested in ways that best support your life and career goals. A maximum of 10 credits may be earned through the service learning forum.
2. Non-Traditional Undergraduates. Undergraduates 25 years and older or who are parents with a child in their care are identified as non-traditional. Non-traditional undergraduates are required to accrue 10 credits a semester, drawn from any of the available programs. They also have the option of viewing programs online and submitting a report in lieu of physical attendance. Parents under the age of 25 must present a copy of their child's birth certificate to the Student Life office in order to receive non-traditional status.
3. Exempted Undergraduates. Marital status or work conflicts do not exempt students from attendance. However, if an undergraduate student is registered for 7 or fewer credits, pursuing a second bachelor's degree or has 120 earned academic credit hours or more by the beginning of the semester, the student is welcome but not required to attend programs. Earned credit hours can be viewed using the University Academic Record link on the iVue page. Do not use the CAPP program to figure earned credit hours.

Pass/Fail and Co-Curricular Probation. Traditional undergraduates must complete at least 75 percent of the co-curricular requirement (23 out of 30 credits) in order to pass for the semester. Students who fall below of the pass level will be placed on co-curricular probation.

Absences. Absences due to occasional field trips, medical appointments, occasional illness or family emergencies will not be excused. Students should plan to offset these conflicts with attendance at other programs. Those who miss a Thursday Chapel program for one of these reasons may have the option to view a missed program online for credit (if it has been recorded). Please contact the Student Life office within one week after your absence.

Attendance Monitoring. Students are responsible for keeping track of their attendance throughout the semester. To access your attendance record, go to the Andrews Vault and click on "The Co-Curriculum." If programs you have attended do not show up on your record, please report the program within 21 days using the "Missing Programs" link in your record.

Co-Curricular Information. Information about upcoming co-curricular programs and the co-curricular requirement can be found by clicking on the "Co-Curricular Education" link under the "My Courses" tab in the Learning Hub.

Co-Curricular Requirement At-a-Glance

	Traditional Residence Hall Students	Traditional Community Students	Non-Traditional Students

ADMISSION SERVICES

Admission to Andrews University is available to any student who meets the academic and character requirements of the University and who expresses willingness to cooperate with its policies. Because Andrews University is operated by the Seventh-day Adventist Church, the majority of its students are Seventh-day Adventists. However, no particular religious commitment is required for admission. Any qualified student who would be comfortable within its faith, social and cultural atmosphere may be admitted. The University does not discriminate on the grounds of race, color, ethnicity, national origin, citizenship, sex, religion, age, disability, veteran status, or any other legally protected characteristic.

Admission to one of the schools of Andrews University does not guarantee admission to a specific department or program within a given school. Transfers from one school to another may be made when the student meets the admission requirements for that school and has the consent of the deans involved.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION AND STUDENT SUCCESS CENTER

Andrews University degree programs are offered through the following academic units:

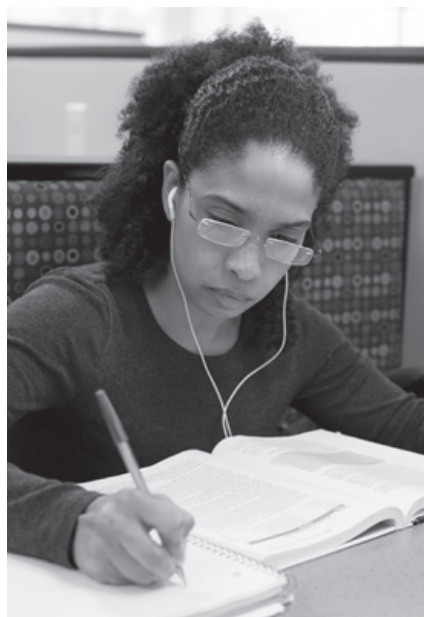

- College of Arts & Sciences
- School of Architecture & Interior Design
- School of Business Administration
- School of Distance Education & International Partnerships
- School of Education
- School of Health Professions
- Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary

Additionally, the School of Graduate Studies operates as the unit responsible for quality assurance of graduate degrees offered by the University in its various academic units.

Course Load

The course load is expressed in semester credits. One semester credit represents one 50-minute class per week or its equivalent for one semester. For a complete and detailed Credit Hour Definition at Andrews University, please see the “Andrews University Bulletin” at bulletin.andrews.edu.

For undergraduate students the normal class load is 12 to 16 credits per semester. The normal course load for graduate students is 8 to 12 credits per semester. International undergraduate students must take a minimum of 12 credits per semester to maintain their visa. International graduate students must take a minimum of 8 credits per semester, and international MDiv students must take a minimum of 9 credits per semester to maintain their visa. Undergraduate students must maintain a minimum of 6 credits to be eligible for federal financial aid. Graduate students must maintain a minimum of 4 credits, and MDiv students must maintain a minimum of 4.5 credits for federal financial aid.

Class Status	Full-time (Credit Hours)	Financial Aid Status (Credit Hours)	Maintain Visa Status (Credit Hours)
Undergraduate (Non-International)	12–16	6	n/a
Undergraduate (International)	12–16	n/a	12
Graduate (Non-International)	8–12	4	n/a
Graduate (International)	8–12	n/a	8
MDiv (Non-International)	9–16	4.5	n/a
MDiv (International)	9–16	n/a	9

Class Standing

At the beginning of the fall semester each year, undergraduate students are classified according to the number of semester credits earned.

Freshman	0–24 credits
Sophomore	25–56 credits
Junior	57–86 credits
Senior	87 or more credits
Graduate	Completion of baccalaureate degree

Exit Procedure

For a complete withdrawal from all current classes, students must follow a specified course of action. Andrews University Student Exit Procedure forms may be obtained from the Student Life office located in the Campus Center, the Office of Academic Records in the Administration Building or the office of the appropriate academic dean.

Various checkpoints have been designated in an effort to provide the student with an opportunity for counsel. To complete the exit process, the student must obtain several signatures in order to ensure that the necessary information has been given both to the student and to the departments listed on the form.

In order to qualify to receive a “W” for classes rather than the grades earned, the withdrawal form must be completed by the date established in the University calendar as the last day to withdraw from a class with a W. (To review the tuition refund policy, see the “Andrews University Bulletin” at bulletin.andrews.edu).

In addition, students occupying University housing, apartments and residence halls must check out of those facilities according to established procedures.

Academic Probation (Undergraduate)

A student is classified on Academic Probation/ At-Risk status when he/she has a cumulative Andrews University GPA lower than 2.00 and/or a semester GPA of 1.75 or below, or a combination, in a semester, of three or more Withdrawals (W), Incompletes (I) or grades lower than a C.

Students on academic probation are removed from probation when they successfully complete the requirements of their academic probation plan as prescribed by their dean.

Students on academic probation:

1. Are restricted to taking no more than 12 credits per semester
2. Are expected to limit extracurricular activities and part-time employment
3. Are not eligible to apply or participate in formal leadership positions, intercollegiate or gymnastic teams
4. May be required to take special courses
5. May be required to attend sessions for academic support or personal counseling

This program ensures students will have ample time to concentrate on their courses and develop personal habits for greater success in future terms. Students on academic probation for two consecutive, or three total, semesters may be at risk for academic dismissal.

Academic Policies and Procedures

Student Success Center

Nethery Hall, Room 210

Phone: 269-471-6096

Hours: Monday–Thursday, 9 a.m.–12 p.m. and 1–5 p.m.; Friday, 9 a.m.–12 p.m.

Student Success adds to classroom instruction by providing academic guidance, support and developmental instruction. The Student Success Center serves as a learning center for all students in all schools of the University.

Individual peer tutoring services are available for undergraduate students through the class GNST091—Academic Tutorial Support. Resources on aspects of student success such as note taking, time management, memory techniques, and test preparation are also available by appointment. These general academic support services are complemented by the Mathematics and Writing Centers.

Student Success also offers:

- Advisor assignment for new students (for undergraduate students)
- Advisor/Major/Minor changes (for undergraduate students)
- Disabilities accommodation (for graduate and undergraduate students)
- Academic intervention (for graduate and undergraduate students)

Questions/concerns: email success@andrews.edu.

Services for Students with Disabilities

Andrews University accepts and appreciates diversity in its students inclusive of those with disabilities and will provide reasonable accommodations on an individualized basis to the greatest extent possible without compromising the integrity of the student's degree. It is the responsibility of the student with a disability to seek assistance from the disability support officer in the Student Success Center and to provide detailed documentation of the disability from an appropriate, licensed official to certify the student as having a disability. The cost of obtaining documentation must be borne by the student. Students should request accommodations as early as possible. Although efforts will be made to provide accommodations quickly, Andrews University cannot guarantee certain accommodations (i.e. alternate texts or interpreters) earlier than six weeks after the receipt of acceptable documentation. For more information please contact the Student Success Center at 269-471-3227 or email disabilities@andrews.edu.

Students who wish to request alternate housing arrangements due to a disability or to a chronic health condition should contact the disability services coordinator, Carletta Witzel, at the Student Success Center (269-471-3227). Andrews University will make every attempt to provide reasonable accommodations within on-campus housing facilities for students with documented disabilities or chronic health conditions.

Mathematics Center

Haughey Hall (Science Complex), Room 112

Hours: Monday–Thursday, 4–7 p.m. (or as posted); closed during the summer and holidays

The Mathematics Center provides free assistance with no need for an appointment for students enrolled in Andrews University mathematics courses. The Center is equipped with eight computers that can be used for ALEKS and other Web-based math assignments. For more information and the current schedule, see the Math Department website or call 269-471-3423.

CAMPUS SAFETY SERVICES AND INFORMATION

Office of Campus Safety

4355 International Ct

Berrien Springs MI 49104-0940

24-Hour Dispatch: 269-471-3321

Business Hours: Monday–Friday, 7 a.m.–3 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, CLOSED

The Office of Campus Safety is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, including holidays, to ensure the safety of the campus community and carry out security-related duties on University properties. Campus Safety is located in the one-story red brick building on International Court between Garland Avenue and Grove Street. If you have a life-threatening situation, please remember to call 911 directly, and Campus Safety will respond as well.

Campus Safety is also responsible for the enforcement of University policies adopted by the Risk Management Committee. These policies address a range of items, including the operation of vehicles on campus, fire safety, and the access of animals to University property and facilities. To view these and other adopted policies, please visit the “University Safety Policies” page of the Campus Safety website.

Parking Permit Required

Every vehicle on Andrews University property must have a valid parking permit. Whether it is your vehicle or you are borrowing a vehicle for the day, a week, or the school year, stop by the Office of Campus Safety and get your parking permit before you park. A fee of $10 per vehicle will be charged for each new annual registration.

Registering Your Vehicle

To register your vehicle you must visit the Office of Campus Safety and present the following required registration documents: valid driver's license, current proof of insurance, and state registration.

Precautionary Measures

All persons leaving or entering University property may be checked. Any person on University property may be required to show identification to a Campus Safety officer or a University official. Lack of cooperation with a Campus Safety officer or University official, at any time, will result in disciplinary action. Contact Campus Safety for information concerning Vehicle Codes.

Campus Safety provides the following services:

- Medical assistance
- Training opportunities
- Protection of property
- Opening locked vehicles
- Security escort service (during the hours of darkness)
- Assistance in contacting the local police, if needed
- Assistance in answering questions on University rules and regulations
- Fire safety

Safety Tips

Security policies are created out of concern for your welfare. Security is, however, everyone's responsibility. You can help maintain your own safety by following all campus safety guidelines and by using common sense safety practices. Advance planning can help keep you and your belongings secure.

Safety at night:

- Walk or ride with someone
- Stay away from isolated areas
- Try to stay/walk/park near street lights
- Hold your purse tightly, close to your body
- Respect campus curfew (Sunday–Friday, 11 p.m.; Saturday, 12 a.m.)

If you are being followed:

- Cross the street, change directions or seek a busier street
- Keep looking back so the person knows you cannot be surprised
- Go to a well-lit area, such as a store, restaurant, house, residence hall, classroom—anywhere there are people
- Notice as much as possible about the person so you can later give a description

If you are held up:

- Do not resist—no amount of money is worth risking your life
- Notify the police immediately
- Give a description that includes approximate height, weight and details on hair, clothing, jewelry, scars or tattoos—anything that is noticeable

Wherever you live:

- Keep track of your keys
- Do not let strangers in

- Do not leave doors unlocked, even for short periods
- Keep blinds/shades pulled at night
- Do not identify yourself on your answering machine

Protect personal and University property:

- Lock the door if you are the last person out of a room
- Engrave valuables
- Never leave belongings unattended
- Lock bikes securely on the bike rack
- Do not keep large amounts of money
- Keep personal papers and valuables locked in a security drawer
- Do not leave money or wallets out in plain sight

In a car:

- Keep doors locked while driving
- Do not hitchhike or pick up hitchhikers
- Lock valuables in the trunk
- If your car is disabled, remain in the locked car and open the door only for the police
- Park in well-lit areas
- Before vacations, do not pack your car until you are ready to go
- Always lock your car and take the keys
- Have your keys in hand as you approach the car/parking lot
- Notice the area around (and in) the car before you get in
- If you are with someone who is not treating you with respect, you do not have to put up with it—find a phone and call for help
- Never go out without a credit card/cash and a means to make an emergency call

Crime/Accident Reporting

In caring communities, members keep an eye out for each other. If you notice vandalism, something suspicious or a potential safety hazard or have been the victim of any kind of crime, bring it to the immediate attention of Campus Safety (269-471-3321), a residence hall dean, Student Life or 911. For more information, visit andrews.edu/safety. If you would like to submit an anonymous report, visit Campus Safety's anonymous email tip website at andrews.edu/safety or call the Anonymous Tip Line at 269-471-3338.

Advocate

In order to foster a collaborative approach to a safe environment at Andrews University, Campus Safety, in conjunction with Campus & Student Life, Counseling & Testing, and Student Success, utilizes an online reporting tool called Advocate. Any student who has a safety concern can submit a report online which will be reviewed and assigned to the appropriate office. Safety concerns can include any incidents that create concern, arouse suspicion or violate University policies (Incident Report) or any concern for the wellbeing of others (CARE Report). To submit an online report (either Incident or CARE), please go to andrews.edu/students/resources/public-reporting.html. Please note that to report a safety concern requiring an immediate response, contact Campus Safety directly via phone. If you are reporting a concern that may require assistance from law enforcement, emergency medical services, or the fire department, please call 911.

AU Alert

In order to ensure multiple means of emergency communication for our campus, Andrews University uses a third party company, Rave Mobile Safety, to send emergency notification alerts to the campus. During emergencies, this system will send text messages, emails and voice calls to registered recipients. The system will also post alerts or emergency information to the Andrews University Facebook account and/or the Andrews University Twitter accounts. AU Alert notices are intended only for situations involving imminent danger to health or human safety. These may include severe weather alerts, winter weather class cancellations, hostile threats, utility failure, major road closings or fire, among others. To sign up for AU Alert, log in with your Andrews username and password at <https://www.getrave.com/login/andrews>.

Reporting a Missing Person

Any individual who has information that a campus residential student may be a "missing person" (having been missing for a minimum of 24 hours) must notify the Office of Campus Safety (269-471-3321) as soon as possible.

Andrews University Crime Stoppers Program

Campus Safety, in partnership with Student Life, is now operating an Andrews University Crime Stoppers Program. Students can call in anonymously to Campus Safety at 269-471-3338 to report crimes committed on campus. The operator will take your tip and give you a tip identification number.

1. Your tip will be investigated by Campus Safety.

2. If your tip leads to the capture of a suspect wanted for crimes committed on our campus, a posting will be made about the case on the Campus Safety website at andrews.edu/safety.
3. When you see the posting, call Campus Safety back to make a claim. Provide your tip number and a telephone number where you can be reached.
4. Once your information is validated, you will be contacted and given instructions to receive your reward. Valid tips will be eligible for rewards of up to $250 in cash.

Non-Criminal Trespassing

Andrews University desires to foster an environment where all members of our community are welcome to utilize all that the campus has to offer. There are times, however, when our facilities or recreational areas may be closed. Once a building or recreational area has been either closed or locked, or the outdoor area is posted as closed or off limits, no one should re-enter this area. Students who are found in these areas may be subject to a fine, and they can be referred to the Student Life Deans Council for a violation of the Code of Student Conduct.

Narcotics K-9

The University intends to maintain a drug-free campus in harmony with the laws of the State of Michigan. The unlawful manufacture, possession, distribution or use of controlled substances is prohibited.

At times Campus Safety coordinates with local law enforcement to bring a narcotics K-9 dog and handler team to conduct searches of residential areas, residence halls, buildings, classrooms, facilities, parking lots and/or any other location on the property of Andrews University. All discovered illegal narcotics will be turned over to local law enforcement agencies.

Video and Photo Enforcement of Speed Limits and Parking Violations

The Office of Campus Safety has been authorized by Andrews University to conduct enforcement activities for both speeding and parking violations on-campus. Violations will be documented and records kept for review by the Citation Appeals Committee. Videos, photographs and radar readings are available for review only by the Citation Appeals Committee.

Tampering with, circumventing, accessing without authority or for reasons other than intended is defined as any process, steps or action taken to limit, reduce and/or remove a level of security provided by the presence of the security device, or when someone without authorization accesses an area or security system; which includes video files, access control systems, or any other security-related information or equipment for a purpose other than intended or by persons without specific authority. Anyone violating this policy is subject to fines of up to $500 per violation and disciplinary action by Student Life for violations of the Code of Student Conduct.

Off-Road Driving or Four-Wheeling is Prohibited.

COUNSELING & TESTING SERVICES

Bell Hall, Suite 123

Phone: 269-471-3470

Office Hours: Monday–Friday, 8:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.; Monday–Thursday, 1:30–5 p.m.

The Counseling & Testing Center (CTC) is designed to assist students and spouses in reaching their maximum potential when confronted by social, intellectual or emotional challenges. Psychologists, professional counselors and graduate clinical interns in counseling are available by appointment or immediately if necessary. The CTC uses a brief model of treatment and offers up to eight (8) counseling sessions per semester as part of the student's General Fee. Additional counseling sessions are considered on an individualized basis. The Center also provides referrals to community psychiatrists and other mental health professionals. There are fees associated with various assessments and testing processes.

The Center maintains strict confidentiality to protect each client's records. The Counseling & Testing Center is accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services. Following are examples of services rendered for registered students or students (and spouses) who are in good and regular standing:

- Career counseling—involving the discovery of one's interests, needs, values, aptitudes, abilities and goals; relating these to the world of work; and exploring appropriate major subjects and career fields. Specific, selected tests may also be given to aid in decision-making. There is a small fee for testing which covers the materials only
- Limited career development services beyond career counseling, including resume building, mock interviewing, professional etiquette skills building, job/internship search skills, and networking skills building

- Personal/emotional counseling—dealing with feelings of loneliness, inadequacy, guilt, anxiety and depression; interpersonal relationships with family, dating partners and roommates; and personality development, identity, self-image and self-esteem
- Educational counseling—relating to educational goals, motivation, attitudes, abilities and study skills
- Personality testing—to aid in the discovery of personal strengths and personality traits. Tests include the MBTI, 16PF, TJTA and Strengths Finder
- Psychological evaluations—to aid in treatment planning for mental health issues/challenges
- Marital/premarital counseling—marriage is a major life change. The decision to marry requires time, planning and deep commitment
- Psychoeducational classes, including Anger Management and Effective Decision Making
- Substance abuse—limited services include:
 - » Professional substance abuse assessment
 - » Individual counseling
 - » Support groups for substance use
 - » Psychoeducational insight group
- Prevention Programming—promoting wellness through social connectedness and resilience building activities including presentations, workshops, awareness-raising events such as National mental health awareness events, health fairs, peer group support, assessment and screening, partnership with internal and external resources, and consultation
- Consultation and outreach—the CTC staff is available for consultation regarding psychological issues that impact students. The Center offers a variety of workshops on-campus and in the community. Call the Center for workshop information.
- National standardized testing—including the ACT, SAT, GRE Subject, LSAT, PRAXIS, MELAB, TOEFL, CLEP and other academic tests needed at both the undergraduate and graduate levels

Residence Hall Meal Plan Information

All undergraduate students under age 22 who reside in the residence halls are required to participate in the Declining Balance Meal Plan. Students that receive residence hall-rate tuition assistance from Andrews University must be on a meal plan regardless of age. The cost of the residence hall meal plan is $1,800 per semester, which will provide approximately two meals and one snack per day for most students.

Meal plan participants may use their ID cards for purchasing meals at the Terrace Café, Gazebo and vending machines in the residence halls and other locations on campus.

If a student's meal plan balance runs low during the semester, funds may be added to the meal plan by request at the Office of Dining Services. For those students who withdraw from school during the academic term, the Declining Balance Meal Plan refund is pro-rated per day.

Café Accounts

Community students, residence hall students age 22+, and graduate students may open a Café account at

Registration Central or by coming to the Office of Dining Services. Individuals who choose to open a Café account may take advantage of a cash bonus; if the initial balance purchased is greater than $400, there will be a five percent non-refundable bonus added to the account. In addition, the Café account plan comes with a loyalty program that rewards the user with a free meal after the purchase of 10 meals. Pick up your loyalty card at the Dining Services office after you open your account.

Transfer of Fund Balances

Students who need to transfer funds between the bookstore, ITS store and Café account need to come to the Office of Dining Services. Changes are posted to the student's statement at the end of each week.

HEALTH SERVICES

Health is a student's most precious possession. Good health means self-awareness and self-control, self-satisfaction, loving relationships and a stable sense of wellbeing even in the most trying times.

A healthy and successful college student will:

- Have daily personal devotions
- Get a minimum of seven hours sleep nightly
- Exercise regularly
- Eat well-balanced meals at regular times
- Avoid foods and beverages high in sugar
- Drink 6–8 glasses of water daily between meals
- Dress appropriately for Michigan weather
- Be helpful

Student Health Services

Students may direct their health needs to University Medical Specialties, located next to the Apple Valley Plaza. Phone 269-473-2222 during regular office hours (Monday–Thursday, 8 a.m.–5 p.m., and Friday, 8 a.m.–12 p.m.) to schedule appointments.

The University expects all students to have personal medical insurance that is valid and billable. Residence hall students may be eligible for limited health care with University Medical Specialties as part of their residence hall package (see the “Andrews University Bulletin” at bulletin.andrews.edu).

Physician or nurse practitioner appointments and most short-term medications are available to residence hall students. These services are included in the residence hall rent/health plan (for Lamson, Meier and University Towers) and are not charged separately to the student unless the student's personal insurance plan is not able to be billed (such as out-of-state Medicaid, international insurance plans, etc.). Additional charges are made for lab work, X-rays and accident cases involving third-party liability. University Medical Specialties (UMS) charges the insurance company for any coverage applicable to the services provided to residence hall students, thus students should take their insurance information with them when utilizing UMS services. When the student has personal insurance which can be billed, UMS waives any copay or deductible (for the student/family) for the limited health-care provided. Students who do not have personal insurance that can be billed will be charged at 80% of the costs of general office visits.

Non-residence hall students living in the apartments or off-campus housing may also use University Medical Specialties for established fees.

If an emergency arises outside of regularly scheduled office hours, students may contact a physician by calling the answering service at University Medical Specialties at 269-473-2222.

The University's Response to AIDS

The primary response of the University to AIDS is education. University personnel will seek ways to provide detailed information on how the virus is transmitted and how to prevent it. The primary educational objective is to discourage sexual activity except within a mutually monogamous, heterosexual marriage relationship.

So that the University can balance the rights of individuals with AIDS or a positive HIV test with the public health needs of those they contact, the following guidelines have been established:

1. In general, HIV antibody testing will not be a prerequisite to acceptance or registration.
2. In general, the student with AIDS or laboratory evidence of HIV infection will not be denied acceptance, registration, class attendance or housing.
3. It is the responsibility of the student known to have AIDS, or a positive HIV test, to:
 - I. Seek regular medical treatment as required by a personal physician
 - II. Abstain from or prevent any action that may potentially transmit the AIDS virus to another individual

Confidentiality concerning a student's health will be maintained unless it is determined that others must be informed because of their risk of exposure to the AIDS virus. If such notification is deemed necessary, the student in question will be notified in writing of that decision. Specific problems related to the interpretation and/or application of these health guidelines will be decided on a case-by-case basis.

Emotional Health

The heavy study/work/social program at a university sometimes causes excessive emotional stress. Students who need help in coping with stress or stressful situations should contact the Counseling & Testing Center at 269-471-3470, a residence hall dean, or Student Life at 269-471-3215, or seek a referral for an off-campus health care provider.

HOWARD PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

The Howard Performing Arts Center is a world-class concert hall designed for the performance of music and is Southwest Michigan's home for AN EXCEPTIONAL CONCERT EXPERIENCE. The Howard Center is beginning its 14th season! For over a decade, the Howard Center has hosted several prominent performers from the international classical circuit, such as the Soweto Gospel Choir from South Africa, jazz vocalist Sophie Milman, David Benoit, Canadian Brass, Bobby McFerrin and the Vienna Boys Choir. An annual Christian Artists Series has featured guests including Laura Story, Israel Houghton and New Breed, Gungor, Sandi Patty, Brandon Heath, Avalon, Francesca Battistelli, Take 6 and many more. The 2018–2019 season will feature Charlie Albright, Joyous String Ensemble, Callisto Quartet, Presidio Brass, Chi Yong Yun, Jasmine Murray, David Phelps and many more. Visit howard.andrews.edu for more information.

The Howard Center was made possible by John and Dede Howard, originally of St. Joseph, Michigan. The Howards are a model of philanthropy at work and have given generously to the community, including a municipal band shell, a paved recreation path along Lake Michigan, an addition to the St. Joseph Public Library, and a covered ice rink. The Howards envisioned a world-class performing arts center for fine arts presentations, a state-of-the-art resource devoted to music, and a cultural center to be shared and enjoyed by the entire community.

The Howard Center is the performance home for the Andrews University Department of Music ensembles: the Symphony Orchestra, Wind Symphony, University Singers and University Chorale. The Howard Center also hosts a monthly chamber music series—the Sunday Music Series, hosted by the Andrews University Department of Music.

The spacious, well-lit foyer is available for wedding receptions, award ceremonies and other special occasions.

Don't miss your chance to experience the ambiance of a Howard Center event—your home for AN EXCEPTIONAL CONCERT EXPERIENCE!

Campus Communication

1. Bulletin Boards, Posters and Other Promotional Pieces: Posters, table cards, signs and flyers must be approved at the Office of Student Activities & Involvement, located in Student Life, before posting or distributing on-campus. All pieces, except those advertising upcoming academic courses or tours, will be given a maximum of 30 days approval. Each piece must have an original stamp from the Office of Student Activities & Involvement. Photocopies of stamped pieces will be removed by building custodians as will any materials without a stamp. Some buildings require additional approval. Promotional materials to be distributed in the residence halls must have the approval of the residence hall deans.

Designs for promotional pieces should be approved before printing. This can be done by bringing a sample in person or by emailing your design to slife@andrews.edu (using .pdf or .jpg format). All posters submitted for approval will require a 24-hour processing period. Posters submitted before 5 p.m. may be picked up for posting at noon the following day. Printing can be done on-campus by LithoTech (269-471-6027).

In order to receive approval, promotional materials:

- » Must be no more than 11 x 17 inches in size
- » Must include the name of the event and sponsoring campus organization or department (Student Activities & Involvement approval is required before posting)
- » Must conform to all “Student Handbook” standards with regard to dress code, condoned activities, acceptable language, etc.
- » Must include your first and last name and contact information if you are selling, renting or offering your personal services

Also note that:

- » Due to limited display space, classified ads for individuals with items for rent or for sale may be approved for posting, but advertisements for businesses or business opportunities will not be approved for posting
- » Materials using the Andrews University name or logo must first receive approval from the Office of University Communication
- » In the interest of full disclosure, external materials will be affixed with a label identifying the event or organization as not associated with the University
- » Handwritten pieces are discouraged

The Office of Student Activities & Involvement reserves the right to refuse posting rights to any person, group or activity when it deems it wise to do so.

Bulletin boards are located in many University buildings. Posters must be placed in these designated areas only and within the numeric limits set by each building manager. Please do not attach posters to any painted or glass surfaces or post on top of, or in the place of, other posters. Tent cards placed in the Dining Center require the additional approval of Dining Services. Flyers must be handed personally to students and may not be placed on cars. Your courtesy is appreciated.

2. Websites and Social Media: The University provides each student organization with a page that includes the organization's officers, advisor and a list of past and current activities, as well as a link to the organization's website (if provided). Student organizations that use the Internet or social media to promote their organization or events are held responsible in written and visual work for upholding University standards with regard to dress code, condoned activities, acceptable language, etc.
3. "Student Movement": Those interested in advertising in the student newspaper should contact the "Student Movement" editor at smeditor@andrews.edu for options and pricing.
4. Andrews Agenda: The Andrews Agenda is a campus-wide electronic newsletter produced by the Office of University Communication (UC). Twice a week during the academic year, a reminder email with links to the newest campus news and announcements is sent to all students, faculty, staff and a list of off-campus subscribers. The Agenda web page, andrews.edu/agenda, is updated daily. Sections include: Campus News, Calendar of Events, Campus Announcements, Community Announcements, Andrews in the News, Classifieds, Life Stories, and Week in Pictures. All students, staff and faculty are invited to contribute content to the Agenda. Note: All submissions go through an approval process.
5. Online Events Calendar: Post your own events! Visit andrews.edu/agenda and use your Andrews login and password to submit your event to the events calendar in the Andrews Agenda. (See #4 above for details about Agenda.) Any and all Andrews University related/sponsored events are welcome. Upcoming events will be promoted in the twice-weekly Agenda reminder email and via the Andrews University homepage, andrews.edu. Note: All submissions go through an approval process.

6. External Media Announcements: The Office of University Communication submits press releases to both local and church media on a regular basis. In general, a press release is 300–500 words in length and is written by a UC staff or student writer. However, if you would prefer to write your own release, you may do so and submit it to UC (pr@andrews.edu) for distribution. Please note that UC reserves the right to edit press releases as they see fit before releasing to the media. All news tips should be submitted to pr@andrews.edu.
7. Church Bulletins: UC is responsible for regularly notifying area church bulletin editors of upcoming events at Andrews University. Email your information to pr@andrews.edu.
8. Campus-wide Email: Campus-wide, or broadcast, emails are not used for routine event announcements or promotions. Broadcast emails are reserved for campus-wide emergencies, campus-wide scheduling changes and death announcements of current Andrews University faculty, staff and students only.
9. Campus-wide Voicemail: Voicemail announcements are for administrative and emergency purposes only, such as from the offices of the president, provost, vice presidents and treasurer.

RESEARCH RESOURCES

Library

The James White Library houses books, bound periodicals and multimedia materials totaling more than 1.6 million items. Access to other libraries' resources is provided through MeLCat and the Interlibrary Loan Service. The Library's 100,000-plus periodical titles provide articles in print and electronic format. Over 150 databases can be accessed on-campus or off-campus by Andrews students, faculty and staff.

The Information Commons provides more than 60 computers within the main library and the two branch libraries for searching the library catalog and databases, accessing the Internet, reading and sending email, and doing applications such as word processing, spreadsheets, PowerPoint presentations, statistics, citation management, etc. Printing and photocopying are available on each floor of the main library in color or black and white. Scanning is available on the main floor and in the Media Center. All machines use cash only.

The Seminary Library, the Center for Adventist Research, and the Mary Jane Mitchell Multimedia Center are located in the main library. The Architecture Resource Center and the Music Materials Center are located in their respective buildings on campus. Service to the worldwide church is available through the Digital Commons @ Andrews where PDF copies of Andrews dissertations and other resources are freely available.

Center for Adventist Research

The Center for Adventist Research (CAR) is a leading documentary collection for the study of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, its predecessors, and related groups, from the Millerite movement of the mid-nineteenth century to the present. The Center houses more than 50,000 books; 40,000 non-book print items; over 3,000 Seventh-day Adventist periodical titles, often from the first issue published to the current issue; over 12,000 audiovisual titles; 30,000 photographs; and more than 300 distinct manuscript collections, along with artifacts and other historical materials. Functioning also as a branch office of the White Estate, the Center has a complete collection of Ellen G. White's letters and manuscripts, many of which come from the original typing; some contain White's own handwritten corrections and additions. The Center also has thousands of "document file" materials covering a wide range of topics related to Ellen G. White and the history of the Church, a question and answer file, a variety of indexes, hundreds of books by and about Ellen G. White, and a nearly complete set of books replicating her personal library. The Center for Adventist Research boasts the largest collection of non-English Seventh-day Adventist periodicals anywhere in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The Center combines the resources of the Adventist Heritage Center, the Ellen G. White Estate branch office, the Andrews University Archives, the James White Library Rare Materials Collection, and the Seventh-day Adventist Periodical Index. The Center seeks to promote an understanding and appreciation of the heritage and mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church through educational events such as symposiums, conferences and tours; through publications; and by participating in the academic program of Andrews University through teaching particularly at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary.

Museums

The Natural History Museum, located in the Science Complex, houses the most complete mammoth skeleton ever discovered in Michigan and an extensive collection of shells, insects, birds and mammals.

The Siegfried H. Horn Archaeological Museum is located at 9047 Old U.S. 31. The museum features Palestinian, Trans-Jordanian, Mesopotamian and Egyptian exhibits that are open to the public. One of several exhibits features artistic murals depicting biblical scenes from the history of Abraham to the early Christian era making the Bible come alive. The Museum has a collection of more than 8,500 artifacts from the Bible lands. A significant number of these were obtained in archaeological excavations sponsored by Andrews University. In addition, the museum houses some 3,000 cuneiform tablets, placing it among the top 10 cuneiform collections in the country.

STUDENT INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY USAGE POLICY

Andrews University provides various information technology services to its students including email, personal Web space, Internet access, computer labs, wireless networking and network connections in the residence halls and apartments.

At Andrews University, information technology resources must only be used in ways that support the mission of Andrews University. The opportunity to use the resources is a privilege which may be removed if the resources are misused.

ITS is responsible for maintaining these systems and assisting students in utilizing the resources. For assistance, please contact the ITS help desk at 269-471-6016 or via email at help-desk@andrews.edu.

Requirements to Utilize Information Technology Resources

Personal devices, such as computers, smartphones, tablets, etc, must have the following in place:

- The operating system must be up-to-date with all critical patches released by the vendor installed
- Personal computers must have an anti-malware product installed, that is current and up-to-date

Computers connected to the network must be registered to a person who will be responsible for any activity on or from that computer. A computer found to contain viruses or other software causing damage to any other computer network or system or excessively using resources will be immediately disconnected from the network until the problem is remedied.

User Accounts and Passwords

All students must have an Andrews University account with a username and password.

Passwords for Andrews University accounts must be carefully guarded, changed frequently, treated as a signature and never shared with anyone else including friends or family members. Great care must be taken to avoid providing University usernames and passwords to any websites or servers that are not University systems, or in response to telephone or email requests.

The password chosen for use with the Andrews University account must be different from passwords used for other websites or organizations. Using the same password presents a significant security risk as there are frequent instances of security breaches where usernames and passwords are stolen.

Compromised user accounts will be disabled immediately. Attempts will be made to notify the individual responsible for the account. To reactivate the account, the password must be changed to a new password.

Andrews Email Used for Official Communication

Official Andrews University communication will come to the student's Andrews University email address, and students are responsible for having read the content of these messages. Students may forward their email to another email address but will remain responsible for what was sent to the Andrews University-provided email address.

Prohibited Activities

Prohibited activities on Andrews University computers and networks, some of which may constitute criminal activity, include but are not limited to the following:

1. Unauthorized access to or use of other users' accounts or data, system software, university data, network equipment, or other computer systems
2. Disclosing an individual's password to another person or allowing another person access through one's user account (logging in and allowing another person to use your access)
3. Unauthorized decryption of coded information such as passwords

4. Participation in a denial of service attack against any computers or networks
5. Retrieval, storage or transmission of copyrighted materials without the owner's permission (for more information on peer-to-peer file sharing see <https://www.andrews.edu/services/its/peer-to-peer-file-sharing-policy.html>)
6. Intentional introduction of malware or hardware or software used for unapproved collection of information
7. Attempts to evade or bypass system administration policies, such as resource quotas, firewall and web filtering
8. Forgery or attempted forgery of documents or email
9. Excessive use of resources, such as network bandwidth or disk storage
10. Unauthorized and/or unsolicited broadcasting of email
11. Harassment or intimidation of other users, including sexual harassment
12. Accessing, transmitting or storing documents, images or video that fail to meet content standards
13. Installation of servers, routers, switches or wireless access points (unless approved by the CIO) or in any location that disrupt ITS provided services
14. Using University resources for personal gain or to support a personal business

Content Standards

Information transmitted over the network or made available to others (e.g. through Web applications, email, or other methods) shall be representative of a Christian university and must not include: profanity or obscene language; defamation of any individual or group; materials promoting hatred of cultural, ethnic, or religious groups; advocacy of lifestyles contrary to University policy; pornography and other sexually-oriented material. Illegal materials such as child pornography should not be accessed by or stored on any computer while connected with the University, whether personal or University owned.

Andrews University provides content filtering to minimize the exposure to inappropriate material on University computers and networks, however it is not possible to completely prevent it.

Privacy and Confidentiality

ITS staff will make reasonable attempts to maintain the confidentiality and security of email and other documents stored on ITS managed and controlled servers. However, Andrews University cannot guarantee the confidentiality or privacy of email messages and other documents stored on ITS managed and controlled servers, and the university makes no promises regarding their security. The following items relate to confidentiality:

1. Andrews University reserves the right to conduct routine maintenance, track problems, and maintain the integrity of its systems. As is the case with all data kept on university managed systems, the content of email and other documents may be revealed by such activities.
2. ITS staff do not routinely monitor the contents of email or other documents. However, such monitoring may be conducted when required to protect the integrity of the systems or to comply with legal obligations. Additionally, automated systems may filter emails, documents and web sites for the purpose of protection from malware and inappropriate content.
3. Andrews University reserves the right to inspect the contents of email and all documents in the course of an investigation into alleged impropriety or as necessary to locate substantive information not readily available by other means.
4. Authorization to investigate the contents of user files must be given by the CIO on the basis of instructions from the university's cabinet level administration.

Resource Limits

A number of specific networking protocols which cause security risks, enable illegal activity, allow access to objectionable material or utilize excessive resources are restricted on university networks and computer systems. The current specific limit set on disk storage space for websites is 90 MB per person (subject to change as needed).

Results of Non-Compliance with this Policy

In the event that a student fails to comply with this policy, restrictions will immediately be placed on their access to information technology resources. Generally, this will occur by restricting or disabling the person's ability to connect to the network by either limiting network access to the quarantine zone or deactivating their username/password. When access has been limited to the quarantine zone, any attempt to access Web resources will be directed to a quarantine zone page. This page contains information regarding why the student's access has been restricted and suggested changes to correct the problem. After making the necessary corrections, a release button may be selected to be released from the quarantine zone. If the problem continues to persist, the student's access will again be limited to the quarantine zone. Up to three attempts in five days are allowed to clear up the problem and be released from the quarantine zone. If these steps do not resolve the access problem or if your username/password has been deactivated, contact the ITS help desk (269-471-6016) to check your account status or for troubleshooting assistance.

In the case of more serious policy violations (such as actions that cause others to lose IT services and/or illegal activities), ITS staff will discuss the problem with the student, assist in correcting the cause of the problem and reinstate the access once the cooperation and understanding of the student is gained (generally as quickly as possible). In cases of reoccurring issues, or lack of cooperation from the student, the deactivation may continue for a longer period of time. In the case of actions that violate policies regarding student behavior, including accessing inappropriate content, the case will be referred to Student Life. Some policy violations may involve legal issues and be required to be transferred to Campus Safety or the appropriate legal agencies such as Berrien Springs-Oronoko Police Department, Michigan State Police or the Federal Bureau of Investigation. These situations may result in the impounding of computer equipment, fines or imprisonment depending on the issues involved.

Appeal Process

Appeals related to decisions made regarding this policy or to restrictions placed on a student's access to resources may be made through the appropriate managerial levels in ITS up through the Chief Information Officer.

For information on appeals in matters relating to Student Life issues, refer to the Student Handbook section titled "Right to Appeal/Grievance" on page 74.

Safety Tips for Using Information Technology Resources

The online environment made possible by the Internet provides many advantages but also brings a number of serious risks. It is essential that each person be aware of these risks to make sure that their online actions do not result in damage or loss.

- Identity theft is a very real risk when doing business online. You are responsible for any use of your Andrews University username and password. Beware of anyone asking for usernames and passwords, social security numbers, credit card or bank account numbers. This includes email messages that appear to be from a bank, the administrator of a computer system or other organizations that do business online. These organizations (including Andrews University) never request you to verify this type of information via an email message. Some messages that refer to a webpage that looks authentic may be set up to collect your information. Once a person obtains these pieces of information, they can transfer funds out of your bank account, get credit in your name, ruin your credit rating and participate in other unfortunate activities that may cause serious disruption to you and may require several months of effort for you to get resolved. Even in face-to-face or telephone conversations, it is not advisable to share your username and password as the bearer of that information can subsequently "be you" online.

- Spyware (software that is installed on your computer automatically as a result of going to a website—often without a person's knowledge) can run on a computer and collect and send back personal information used for identity theft.
- Web filtering systems are in effect at Andrews to attempt to minimize the exposure to inappropriate material. Specifically, websites that are known to contain pornographic material are blocked. While Andrews strives to prevent contact to this type of material, it is not possible to do this completely. If you observe that University systems allow access to inappropriate material found on the web, please report it by sending email to filteradmin@andrews.edu.
- Viruses transmitted through email attachments are screened via systems that attempt to remove email attachments that contain viruses. This blocks the vast majority of email-borne viruses, but some virus attachments may get through. It is very important that you not click on an attachment unless the person sending it is known to you, the attachment is mentioned in the body of the message and the combination matches your experience (for example, looking at beach pictures of you and someone with whom you have never been to the beach would be very risky).
- Viruses transmitted directly between computers can occur in spite of filtering at the system firewalls. Keeping operating systems and antivirus software up-to-date are essential to protect your computer. In addition, a personal firewall is recommended.

- Social networking sites such as Instagram or Facebook, while popular for sharing among friends, are also available to the general public. You should use caution in determining what information you post on any public website as this information can be used by predators, as well as potential employers. In addition, you will be held accountable for content that violates the Code of Student Conduct.

Information Technology Services will continue to work to reduce these risks but will not be able to completely eliminate them. It is the responsibility of each student to be alert and vigilant in their actions in the online environment in order to avoid these hazards.

Television Services

ITS/Telecommunications provides basic TV service (which includes the local off-the-air channels) to every room or apartment in University Towers, Lamson Hall, Meier Hall, and the Garland, Maplewood and Beechwood apartments for no additional fee. Contact Telecommunications for more information: 269-471-3455, telecom@andrews.edu, andrews.edu/go/telecom.

Telecommunications

Telecommunications provides basic phone service to every residence hall room and apartment for no additional fee. Basic service includes campus calls, unlimited local calls and CallerID. You are responsible for supplying the telephone. Long distance calls may be made by using a calling card. Contact Telecommunications for more information: 471-3455, telecom@andrews.edu, www.andrews.edu/go/telecom.

Computer Labs

ITS provides one general-purpose computing laboratory on campus available for use by all students, faculty and staff. This lab contains Windows-based computers with a variety of software. Laser printing is available for a fee.

- Bell Hall 182—Schedule posted at lab entrance

Additional computer labs exist in various schools or departments and residence halls including:

- Chan Shun Hall 225/226—269-471-3422
- Harrigan Hall 205—269-471-6148 (Mac Lab)
- Haughey Hall 316—269-471-6554
- Library Lab—269-471-3283

SEVERE WINTER WEATHER PROCEDURES

Because Andrews University is a residential campus, the University does not close essential operations due to severe winter weather. However, the Office of Campus Safety keeps informed about severe weather conditions and advises the University Administration about area road conditions and campus conditions, which could interrupt campus activities.

Where to Get Information when Classes are Cancelled

Normal class schedules will be maintained during a weather alert unless otherwise directed. Please do NOT call the Office of Campus Safety for information—their lines need to be open for emergencies. If weather conditions cause an interruption to class schedules or office hours, the campus will be informed via:

- Text alerts
- Broadcast email
- The University's weather hotline—269-471-7660
- Posts on the University's website
- Local TV and radio stations

To receive text alerts, it is the personal responsibility of all Andrews University employees and students to visit andrews.edu/safety, click the "AU Alert" icon, and configure their AU Alert personal notification information.

The safety of our employees and students is of foremost concern. Because this is a residential campus, many essential workers may feel compelled to come in to campus. Winter weather conditions can change quickly and road conditions can be dangerous. Please take personal responsibility for your safety during winter weather conditions. Use sound judgment and extreme caution. For more information, the following website may be helpful: andrews.edu/services/safety/procedures/winter-procedures.

AU ALERT EMERGENCY NOTIFICATION

AU Alert

To ensure multiple means of emergency communication for our campus, Andrews University uses a third party company, Rave Mobile Safety, to send emergency notification alerts to the campus.

During emergencies this system will send text messages, emails and voice calls to registered recipients. The system will also post alerts to the Andrews University Facebook account and/or the Andrews University Twitter account with the emergency information.

To receive emergency alert text messages, emails or voice calls, register with AU Alert by visiting andrews.edu/safety and clicking on the "AU Alert" icon.

On the Rave Mobile Safety website enter your Andrews University username and password to sign in and update your contact information.

Alert Messages

While AU Alert can be used to send out any emergency alert, some alerts are pre-defined and require a specific response from campus. These alerts are listed and defined on the Campus Safety AU Alert webpage, andrews.edu/services/safety/aualert/.

In addition to English, all pre-defined alert messages are currently available in the following languages: Chinese (simplified), Chinese (traditional), French, Korean, Portuguese and Spanish. Language preferences are available under the user profile on the Rave Mobile Safety website.

Financial Aid

Financial aid is processed and posted through the Office of Student Financial Services (SFS) located on the first floor of the Administration Building. Student Financial Services also advises students and parents as to the financing options available to them. Our financial advisors can help explain the application process and set up payment plans.

The aid process can be broken down into three easy steps and three important financial aid deadlines:

STEP 1: By March 1: Have turned in all necessary financial aid documents and filed your FAFSA online. Please go to our website to review the changes for the FAFSA this year. If you have questions in filing your FAFSA do not hesitate to contact your financial advisor.

STEP 2: Starting week of July 1: First register for classes, then click through the Financial Plan step at Registration Central and finalize your payment plan. You must register for your classes first in order to see what amount is due in the financial plan section.

STEP 3: By August 15: Have made your first payment and confirm that your Financial Plan box is checked off; otherwise classes reserved will be dropped on August 20. Financial clearance is required to move into the residence halls and to activate your ID cards for Bookstore and Dining Services usage.

The biggest piece of advice we can give you is to know what is going on with your account. Read all the information that is sent to you from our office and the federal government. It is all very important, whether it is an email from the Office of Student Financial Services, a statement of accounts from the University or a loan disclosure statement from the government. Our website has all the information you will need. Visit us at andrews.edu/sfs, then click on self-serve for helpful links, online forms and financial aid information. FinVue is a financial tool at Andrews University. Log on to VAULT at vault.andrews.edu and it is all there on one convenient page: see your financial aid requirements, review your financial aid award and link to our online forms. At finVue you can also pay online, view messages from Student Financial Services, check out your account balance, report inaccurate information and access Registration Central directly. We can also be reached by phone at 269-471-3334, by email at sfs@andrews.edu or by fax at 269-471-3228. Financial advisors are seen by appointment. We also take walk-ins.

International Student Financial Application: Please address any financial questions related to the I-20 to the International Student Financial Services Specialist (phone: 269-471-6380, email: ISFS@andrews.edu). Make your payments through FlyWire —the website is flywire.com/pay/andrews. Once international students are enrolled, any financial questions will be answered by the assigned financial advisor as listed above.

EMPLOYEE SERVICES

Administration Building, Second Floor

Phone: 269-471-3570

Employee Services, a section of the Office of Human Resources, assists students in meeting some of their expenses through employment on campus. They also provide an orderly process through which students are hired on campus, while promoting a positive correlation between learning and work.

Working encourages students to manage time and resources effectively. It also provides opportunities to develop competence, workplace skills and a solid work ethic and to test possible career choices.

Employee Services posts open job positions, administers office tests and assists in the completion of employment forms. Students may find work opportunities more readily if they are available to work 2–3 hour blocks of time each day. The number of hours recommended is 10–12 hours per week. Students working on campus need to limit the number of hours to 20 or less when school is in session. To be eligible for work, undergraduates must register for and maintain at least 12 credits of classwork; graduates must enroll in at least 8 credits; and MDiv students must enroll in at least 9 credits.

For additional information see the employment handbook online at andrews.edu/hr.

Work Expectations

Students should be responsible in their study as well as at work. Punctuality, dependability and honesty are essential lessons often learned at work. Any discipline connected with a student's assigned work or labor shall be dealt with by the work supervisor in counsel with the Employment/Benefits Manager. Work supervisors should report to the vice president for Campus & Student Life and the coordinator of Student Labor on any violation of University regulations, moral principles or any serious breach of contract. The student may receive a disciplinary letter from the work supervisor or coordinator of Student Labor and the Student Life Deans Council.

VETERANS SERVICES

Veterans' Education Benefits & Services. The University is approved for certification of students eligible to receive educational assistance from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA). The DVA determines eligibility for Veterans (VA) educational assistance. Their regional office is located in St. Louis, Missouri. University services for students who receive educational assistance through the DVA are located in the Administration Building, first floor, in the Office of Student Financial Services. Information concerning VA educational assistance may be obtained by phone 269-471-3286, email veterans@andrews.edu or a visit to the Office of Veterans Services. VA forms used for making application for educational assistance are available at the GI Bill webpage: VETS.gov; a printed copy of an approved application submitted online to the VA will be required by the University's Office of Veterans Services.

It is the responsibility of the student to complete a Veterans Registration form every term to continue receiving educational benefits. The form is available in the Office of Veterans Services. Each term the required Certification of Enrollment (VA Form 22-1999) will be electronically submitted by the University's Veterans School Certifying Official (SCO) to the VA Regional Processing Office after the last day to add or drop a course. An earlier date for certification may be requested if the veteran feels certain his/her schedule will not be changed.

Students receiving benefits are expected to attend all classes and to progress satisfactorily toward their objective. Any change of degree program, change with class registration or withdrawal from school must be reported immediately to the SCO in the Office of Veterans Services. Failure to comply with VA regulations may result in loss of benefits and/or legal action on the part of the DVA. If the student does not make satisfactory academic progress and is academically dismissed from the University, the DVA is notified and all veterans' benefits are ended by the DVA. If a veteran is academically dismissed from the University but is later readmitted, the VA benefits cannot be resumed until the veteran has met the University requirements for reinstatement

If the veteran requires academic accommodations due to a disability, he/she should contact the Student Success Center in Nethery Hall to coordinate the University's accommodations. Student Success can be contacted at 100 Nethery Hall, success@andrews.edu or 269-471-6096.

Vocational Rehabilitation & Employment. The University is approved for enrollment certification of veterans with service-connected disabilities who are eligible to receive Chapter 31, Title 38, U.S.C. educational assistance from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs. University services for veterans are coordinated through the Veterans Certifying Official in the Office of Veterans Services which is located in the Administration Building, first floor, in the Office of Student Financial Services. Information concerning educational assistance and campus procedures may be obtained by phone 269-471-3286, email veterans@andrews.edu, website andrews.edu/sf or by visiting the Office of Veterans Services.

The veteran should make contact with the Vocational Rehabilitation & Employment Office (28), Detroit Regional Office at 313-471-3800. Veterans use VA Form 28-1900 to apply for the Chapter 31 benefit. The form is available online at VETS.gov. Information and instructions are included on the reverse side of the application form. Following receipt of the application in the regional office, VA will make a determination of eligibility. If the veteran is eligible, VA will schedule an appointment with a Counseling Psychologist (CP) or Rehabilitation Counselor (RC) for an initial evaluation to establish the veteran's entitlement to vocational rehabilitation. Contractors may be utilized to assist in working with the veteran to gather information needed for the CP or RC to make an entitlement determination. The VRE case manager will provide VA Form 28-1905 Authorization and Certification of Entrance or Reentrance into Rehabilitation and Certification of Status. This form is required for certification of enrollment which will be submitted to the VRE by the University Veterans Certifying Official in the Office of Veterans Services.

If the veteran requires academic accommodations due to a disability, he/she should contact the Student Success Center in Nethery Hall to coordinate the University's accommodations with those provided by the Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment Office. Student Success can be contacted at 100 Nethery Hall, success@andrews.edu or 269-471-6096.

TO PROTECT: Student Rights

RIGHT TO LEARN

As members of the academic community, Andrews University students are granted certain rights within the learning environment and process. These include the right to be informed of the professor's expectations for learners, the grading procedure and the schedule by which the course will be conducted. Students also have the right to reasonable assistance from the professor or course tutor under specified conditions of availability. Within the limitations of the academic freedom afforded to professors, students should expect that they will not be unreasonably penalized by changes in course expectations or grading policy from the course syllabus.

A student should be evaluated academically on the basis of scholastic performance and other criteria relevant to the course being taught. Bias, or conduct in matters unrelated to the academic standards of the course, must not play a role in a professor's academic evaluation. Certain programs, of course, do require evaluations of a student's personality, character and conduct. Unless clearly indicated by a professor, however, these matters should not influence grades in individual courses.

Because professors are responsible for creating an environment in which each student has an opportunity to learn, a professor may suspend—temporarily or long-term—a student who fails to meet reasonable class expectations, disrupts the classroom or otherwise interferes with the educational environment. The professor should report any such class suspension to the relevant department chair, dean, vice president for Campus & Student Life and/or the University Student Intervention Team.

RIGHT TO BE FREE FROM BIAS, DISCRIMINATION OR HARASSMENT

Andrews University affirms that every human being is valuable in the sight of God and seeks to be an inclusive community that welcomes all people.

Members of the University community are expected to treat each other and the wider community with respect and dignity. Acts of bias, discrimination or harassment are an affront to the core values of the University and will be appropriately addressed. All students have the right to supportive academic, work and residential settings that are free from conduct that could create a hostile, intimidating, offensive or unfair environment. Students and employees should report discriminatory, harassing, inappropriate, threatening or violent behavior, no matter how mild or severe, that may jeopardize the rights, health or safety of an individual or group or that disrupts the mission and/or normal processes of the University.

Bias and Bias Incidents

In social terms, a bias is an inclination or preference—either for or against an individual or group—that interferes with impartial judgment. Social biases are often based on one or more actual or perceived personal characteristics such as race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, gender, sexual orientation, religion, age or disability.

Such biases can be sorted into three categories: stereotypes (mental bias), prejudices (emotional bias) and discrimination or harassment (behavioral bias).

- Stereotypes are standardized beliefs and mental associations about the characteristics of social groups. They rely on oversimplified opinion and uncritical judgment and can distort reality.
- Prejudices are unjustifiable negative attitudes toward another social group or its members. Prejudice can take the form of disliking, anger, fear, disgust, discomfort, and even hatred.
- These biased ways of thinking and feeling are problematic because they can lead to discrimination or harassment (see definitions below), which are unjustifiable negative behaviors toward individuals based on their actual or perceived membership in a particular group.

Some biases are conscious and blatant, explicitly disparaging an outside group while favoring one's own group. Other biases are unconscious and subtle, occurring at an implicit—though no less powerful—level. These more complex forms of bias are often mixed or masked with good intentions, making them more difficult to identify and acknowledge.

As a human condition, bias cannot be completely eradicated; nonetheless it must be engaged thoughtfully, honestly and respectfully. We are all shaped by our distinct experiences, and come to perceive ourselves and others in relation to those experiences. Bias is often unintentional and may not be perceived as aggressive or disrespectful by the responsible party. Yet when bias is not conscientiously named and addressed, it can compound to create negative environments for those affected and/or can escalate into overt acts of discrimination or harassment and even criminal behaviors (see “hate crime” below).

A bias incident occurs when conduct, speech, images or expression is motivated, in whole or in part, by conscious or unconscious bias, which targets and/or negatively impacts individuals or groups based on one or more of the actual or perceived characteristics listed above.

Not all bias incidents involve conduct that violates law or policy. Some incidents, however, may involve conduct that violates federal, state, or local laws or University policies, and these will be subject to applicable student conduct, human resources and/or legal processes.

If an act of bias involves criminal behavior, it may be considered a hate crime. In the State of Michigan, a hate crime is a criminal offense committed against a person or property (such as arson, invasion of privacy, vandalism, etc.) which is motivated in whole or in part, by the offender's bias against a race or national origin, religion, sexual orientation, mental/physical disability or ethnicity. It is important to understand that while all hate crimes are bias incidents, not all bias incidents are hate crimes.

Please note: the above definitions of bias and bias incident, as well as the following definitions of discrimination and harassment, should not be construed to infringe on the right of faculty, staff and students to discuss, inquire, express and petition within the limits described in this Handbook (see Right to Discuss, Inquire, Express and Petition).

Discrimination

Andrews University prohibits unlawful discrimination against any member of its community on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, national origin, citizenship, sex, religion, age, disability, veteran status, or any other legally protected characteristic in matters of admissions, employment, housing or any aspect of its educational programs and activities.

Discrimination occurs when a person unfairly deprives another of a right, benefit or privilege and/or unfairly treats another differently because of one of the actual or perceived characteristics outlined above.

As a religious institution, the University retains its constitutional and statutory rights to make employment, admission and educational decisions in a manner that is consistent with the University's Code of Student Conduct (see Code of Student Conduct, “Working Policy,” “Employee Handbook”) and with the tenets of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Such rights are conferred upon religious institutions by various laws, including but not limited to 42 U.S.C. 2000e-1, 2000e-2; 6-15 of Federal Executive Order 11246; 41 CFR 60-1.5(5); 34 CFR 86.21, 86.31, 86.40, and 86.57, 106.12(a)(b); 20 U.S.C. § 1681(a)(3); and Porth v. Roman Catholic Diocese of Kalamazoo, 209 Mich. App. 630 (1995). The University further claims the right to disregard the provisions of Title IX set forth in 34 CFR Sections 86.21, 86.31, 86.40, and 86.57(b) insofar as they conflict with the teachings and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Sexual orientation is regarded by the University in a manner consistent with the position of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, which makes a distinction between orientation and behavior. On the basis of sexual orientation, in itself, the University does not discriminate in academic, work, residential or other campus environment matters except as the University may deem it appropriate in response to housing and residential concerns. All faculty and staff are required to comply with the University's “Working Policy” and “Employee Handbook,” as applicable. All students are required to comply with the University's Code of Student Conduct, which prohibits certain behaviors that are inconsistent with the University's commitment to moral propriety as understood by the Seventh-day Adventist Church. For a detailed statement on the University's position, policies and protections regarding differences in sexual orientation, please refer to Appendix 1 (see Appendix 1: A Seventh-day Adventist Framework for Relating to Sexual Orientation Differences on the Campus of Andrews University).

This non-discrimination policy is in compliance with Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Acts of 1964 (as amended), Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (45 CFR 86 et seq., Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, Section 402 of the Veterans Era Veterans Adjustment Act of 1974 and the Elliott-Larsen Civil Rights Act.

Harassment

Andrews University prohibits harassment of any kind whether it takes place on-campus, off-campus or in online communications.

Harassment is often based upon an intolerance or disparagement of perceived or actual personal characteristics such as race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, gender, sexual orientation, religion, age, disability or any legally protected characteristic.

Harassment occurs when a person or group engages in unwelcome speech or conduct that is so objectively offensive and sufficiently severe, or persistent or pervasive, that

1. it unreasonably interferes with or limits an individual's ability to participate in or benefit from academics, work or other services and activities or
2. it creates an environment (academic, work, or residential) that a reasonable person would find hostile, offensive or intimidating (an isolated incident, unless sufficiently severe, may not amount to hostile environment harassment).

When harassment is not directed at a specific individual, harassment may still occur.

Harassing behaviors prohibited by this policy include, but are not limited to, the following: sufficiently severe, persistent or pervasive use of derogatory words, jokes, slurs, epithets, statements or gestures; stereotyping activities; use of graffiti or other forms of pictorial or written messages of intimidation; threats about unwelcome physical contact; unwelcome physical contact; stalking; and bullying (repeated and/or aggressive behavior likely to intimidate or intentionally hurt, control or diminish another person).

What to do about Acts of Bias, Discrimination or Harassment

Discrimination and harassment can flourish in a culture of silence. Therefore, every member of the community is asked to be an active participant in creating a culture of civility and respect for all persons.

If you witness or experience misconduct based on sex or gender, which includes non-consensual sexual penetration, non-consensual sexual contact, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, relationship violence (which includes domestic violence and dating violence), stalking, or discrimination based on sex, please refer to the Sexual Misconduct, Relationship violence, Stalking, and Discrimination Based on Sex/Gender policy outlined below.

If you witness or experience acts of bias, discrimination or harassment based on any other of the protected characteristics outlined above you should do something about it. You are encouraged to consider taking the following informal or formal steps.

Informal Steps:

- If you feel able, assertively tell the person(s) involved that such conduct is offensive and unwelcome and should be stopped immediately.
- Seek an informal consultation to consider what type of University responses are available by sharing the concern with one or more of the following: academic advisor, department chair, or academic dean; director of Human Resources, vice president for Diversity and Inclusion, Student Life dean or vice president for Campus & Student Life.
- Consider an informal resolution process which is generally a mutually agreed upon plan that may provide a variety of supportive, educational, restorative, protective or corrective measures to address the concern.

Formal Steps:

Andrews University takes seriously all good faith reports it receives of bias, discrimination or harassment in any form and will seek to provide a prompt and careful investigation and response plan. In cases where a student has a concern regarding alleged discriminatory harassment by another student, the concerned student is encouraged to make a formal report in order to allow the University to address the behavioral concerns in a timely and specific manner. The response plan generally includes the following steps:

- The reporting student will prepare a written statement of the incident that includes relevant details, date, time and location, identification of the other person(s) and witness involved, a description of the incident, etc., Submit the written report to one or more of following: the Student Life office (associate dean for Student Life or the vice president for Campus & Student Life) and the vice president for Diversity & Inclusion.
- Student reports regarding bias, discrimination or harassment by another student will be reviewed by a centralized campus response team including representation from the offices of Student Life and Diversity & Inclusion.

- The centralized campus response team will determine next steps which may include designating a Student Life dean to meet with the reporting party to review their formal statement as well as to identify and provide appropriate support systems, interim measures or accommodations.
- An investigative process will be activated that includes meeting with all relevant persons and providing each with the opportunity to give their own account of events and to determine the facts of the case..
- A summary of the investigative report will be provided to the Student Life Deans Council which will make a determination of responsibility, if there is a “preponderance of evidence” that discrimination or harassment occurred.
- The Council reserves the right to assign what type of educational and/or disciplinary response is appropriate for the level of violation as well as to broaden or lessen the response relative to the severity, persistence or pervasiveness of the behavior.
- Report to Student Life or to Human Resources (if work or classroom-related) any alleged retaliation. Retaliation is any adverse action taken against a person participating in an investigation of discrimination or harassment. Adverse actions may include name-calling, taunting or other intimidating behavior. Retaliation against an individual for alleging bias, discrimination or harassment, supporting a party bringing a complaint, or assisting in providing information relevant to a claim of discrimination or harassment is a serious violation of University policy and will be treated as another possible instance of discrimination or harassment. Any student, faculty or staff member who makes, in good faith, a report of bias, discrimination or harassment will suffer no adverse action from the University because of that complaint/report.

In cases where a student has a concern regarding alleged discriminatory harassment by a faculty or staff member, the concerned student is encouraged to make a formal report to one or more of the following: academic dean, vice president for Campus & Student Life, vice president for Diversity & Inclusion, director of Human Resources or the provost.

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT, RELATIONSHIP VIOLENCE, STALKING, AND DISCRIMINATION BASED ON SEX/GENDER

Introduction

Andrews University is committed to maintaining a respectful learning and living environment that is free from sexual misconduct, relationship violence, stalking, and discrimination based on sex (collectively, “Misconduct”). Misconduct in any form, regardless of the length of the relationship or gender of the individuals, is inconsistent with this commitment, strictly prohibited and intolerable in the Andrews community. All members of the Andrews University community share a responsibility for upholding this policy.

Any student who is found responsible for committing Misconduct is in violation of the Code of Student Conduct. Any faculty or staff who is found responsible for committing Misconduct is in violation of the University’s “Working Policy” and Employee Handbook,” as applicable.

This policy complies with Andrews University’s responsibilities regarding Title IX and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013: Sec 304. Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 prohibits discrimination from educational programs and activities on the basis of sex (gender) in educational programs and activities that receive federal assistance. The Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act expects that universities have procedures in place to respond to matters of sexual misconduct, relationship violence, and stalking.

Jurisdiction

This policy governs Misconduct directed at a student, faculty or staff by another University student, faculty or staff; non-employee client; vendor; or visitor, regardless of whether the alleged Misconduct occurred on- or off-campus or in online communications. The University will generally respond to Misconduct involving faculty and/or staff according to these processes, understanding that cases involving only faculty and/or staff also fall under Title VII and, as such, are handled primarily by the Office of Human Resources.

On-Campus: All on-campus violations are deemed to pose a disruption or threat to the educational environment. The campus includes the geographic confines of the University, including its land, roads, buildings, Andrews Academy, Ruth Murdoch Elementary School and University housing.

Off-Campus: Off-campus violations may pose a disruption or threat to the educational environment. Examples of Misconduct that may fall within the University's clear and distinct interest include conduct that:

- Occurs in a private home or location
- Occurs during a University-sponsored event (e.g., field trips, social or educational functions, University-related travel, student recruitment activities, internships and service learning experiences)
- Occurs during a Study Abroad Program
- Involves students enrolled in the University's School of Distance Education & International Partnerships or other off-campus educational programs.

Online: Misconduct on the Internet can occur in a variety of forums. Some of these mediums include, but are not limited to, chat rooms, forums/message boards, social networking sites, instant messaging, email, avatars, advertising, redirected/automatic linking, spam and pop-ups.

In instances where Misconduct is found to have occurred, the Title IX Coordinator, Deputy Coordinator(s) and other University personnel will take appropriate action, up to and including separation from the University with the goal to end such Misconduct, prevent its recurrence and remedy its effects. Third parties who engage in Misconduct may have their relationship with the University terminated and/or their privileges of being on University premises withdrawn.

Descriptions of Misconduct

Sexual Misconduct

Sexual misconduct is any sexual penetration, sexual contact, sexual exploitation or sexual harassment that occurs without the effective consent of all individuals involved.

Non-Consensual Sexual Penetration

Non-consensual sexual penetration is any sexual penetration (vaginal, anal or oral), however slight, with any object or part of the body, with another person without that person's effective consent.

Non-Consensual Sexual Contact

Non-consensual sexual contact is any intentional sexually related touching, however slight, with any object or part of the body, with another person without that person's effective consent. (This can include unwanted kissing or frontal hugging that is sexual in nature).

Sexual Exploitation

Sexual exploitation is taking advantage of another person without effective consent. It includes, but is not limited to, the following: causing the prostitution of another person; electronically recording, photographing or transmitting intimate or sexual utterances, acts, sounds or images of another person; allowing third parties to observe sexual acts; engaging in voyeurism; distributing intimate or sexual information about another person; conduct that intentionally exposes a person's private body parts to others; or knowingly having a sexually transmitted infection (including HIV) and failing to inform a sexual partner prior to engaging in sexual activity.

Sexual or Gender-based Harassment

Sexual or gender-based harassment is harassment based on sex, gender or sexual orientation expressed in the form of acts of aggression, intimidation or hostility, whether verbal or nonverbal, graphic, physical or otherwise. Gender-based harassment may occur even if the acts or words do not involve conduct of a sexual nature when the considerations outlined in 1 or 2 below exist.

Unlawful harassment may take one of three forms: (1) quid pro quo harassment, (2) hostile environment harassment or (3) retaliatory harassment.

Quid pro quo harassment typically involves an exchange of sexual favors for some benefit, and it most often occurs where there is a power differential (e.g., professor and student or boss and employee).

Hostile environment harassment can occur when conduct is so objectively offensive and sufficiently severe, or persistent or pervasive, that it unreasonably interferes with or limits an individual's ability to participate in or benefit from the educational environment. An isolated incident, unless sufficiently severe, may not amount to hostile environment harassment.

Retaliatory harassment is any adverse action taken against a person participating in an investigation of Misconduct. Adverse actions may include name-calling, taunting or other threatening behavior. Retaliation against an individual for alleging Misconduct, supporting a party bringing a complaint, or assisting in providing information relevant to a claim of Misconduct is a serious violation of University policy and will be treated as a serious separate instance of Misconduct.

The following is a non-exhaustive set of behaviors which may constitute sexual harassment:

- Unwelcome sexual advances, propositions or requests for sexual favors
- Unwelcome or inappropriate exposure, display, touching or physical contact
- Showing/displaying sexually suggestive, demeaning or objectifying objects, pictures, words or gestures
- Unwelcome or inappropriate comments, questions or sexually suggestive jokes

Other unwanted verbal, written, visual, online or physical contact of a sexual nature may constitute sexual harassment when:

- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly as a term or condition of an individual's education or employment progress, development or performance
- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's ability to carry out his or her responsibilities in the University environment

Stalking

Stalking is engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person(s) that is unwelcome and would cause a reasonable person to

- (a) fear for his or her safety or the safety of others or
- (b) suffer substantial emotional distress.

Stalking behaviors include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Non-consensual or unwelcomed communication, including face-to-face, phone calls, voice messages, electronic mail, online communication, written letters, etc.
- Excessive calling or texting
- Threatening, intrusive, frightening or obscene gestures
- Following or pursuing
- Surveillance or other types of observation
- Trespassing
- Vandalism or destruction of victim's property
- Unwelcomed gifts, flowers, etc.

Stalking is an insidious form of harassment that may initially be dismissed as harmless yet can dramatically impact the life of the person stalked and pose both physical and psychological risks.

All concerns about stalking should be taken seriously, whether or not there appears to be a level of threat and whether or not the stalker is known by the victim.

Relationship Violence

Relationship violence is a pattern of unwelcomed, abusive, coercive behaviors used to exert power and control over a current or former partner. These behaviors often increase in severity and frequency over time and may be cyclical. For the purposes of this policy, relationship violence includes domestic violence and dating violence.

Domestic Violence

Violence or abusive acts committed by a current or former spouse or intimate partner to the victim by a person with whom the victim shares a child in common, by a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner, or by a person similarly situated to the victim as defined by the laws of Michigan.

Dating Violence

Violence or abusive acts committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim. The existence of such a relationship may be based on a consideration of the length of the relationship, the type of the relationship and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship.

Domestic or dating violence includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Physical abuse
- Pushing, shoving, slapping, punching, kicking or strangling
- Restraining, holding, tying down
- Leaving the victim in a dangerous place
- Emotional/psychological abuse
- Threats of harm and/or intimidation
- Physical or social isolation
- Sexual abuse or Misconduct

Definitions

Reporting Party

A reporting party is anyone who is alleged to be the victim of Misconduct as defined by this policy. (Anyone who shares a report about alleged Misconduct impacting another person is considered a third-party reporter).

Respondent

The respondent is anyone who is reported and alleged to have engaged in Misconduct covered by this policy.

Effective Consent

It is important not to make assumptions about whether a potential partner is consenting. The burden to obtain effective mutually-understood consent is on the initiator of the sexual act.

Effective consent is informed, voluntary, and freely and actively given.

- Effective consent cannot be obtained from force, threat, intimidation, coercion or incapacitation.
- Effective consent cannot be given by minors, mentally disabled individuals, or individuals who are mentally or physically incapacitated (such as by alcohol or other drug use, etc.)—see below.
- Consent can be communicated by word or action and must be mutually understandable.
- Consent to one form of sexual activity does not imply consent to other forms of sexual activity.
- Consent at one time does not imply consent to another time.
- Silence or passivity alone, does not imply consent
- Consent can be withdrawn at any time.

Incapacitation

When incapacitated, an individual lacks the physical and/or mental ability to make informed, rational judgments (e.g., to understand the “who, what, when, where, why or how” of their sexual interactions) and thus cannot give effective consent to sexual activity. Incapacitation may be temporary or permanent and result from mental disability as well as states including, but not limited to, sleep, unconsciousness, black-outs resulting in memory loss, etc. Incapacitation may also occur in persons who, as a result of alcohol or drug use, appear to be functional or coherent but still may not be able to make a rational decision or give effective consent. Individuals who consent to sex must be able to understand what they are doing. Keep in mind that under this policy, “no” always means “no,” but “yes” may not always mean “yes.”

The impact of consuming alcohol or drugs will vary from person to person. Evaluating incapacitation due to the use of substances requires an assessment of each individual. Warning signs that a person may be approaching incapacitation may include slurred speech, vomiting, unsteady gait, odor of alcohol, combativeness, emotional volatility, etc.

Because incapacitation may be difficult to discern, especially where alcohol and drugs are involved, persons are strongly encouraged to err on the side of caution; when in doubt, assume the other person is incapacitated and therefore unable to give effective consent. Being intoxicated or impaired by drugs or alcohol is not a defense to a violation of Misconduct.

In evaluating effective consent in cases of alleged incapacitation, the University asks two questions: (1) did the respondent know that the other party was incapacitated? and (2) if not, would a sober, reasonable person in the same situation have known that the other party was incapacitated? If the answer to either of these questions is “YES,” effective consent was absent and the conduct by the respondent is likely a violation of this policy.

Reminders and Resources

Preservation of Evidence and Medical Assistance

A person reporting sexual misconduct is reminded of the importance of taking every precaution to preserve all evidence and to abstain from tampering with any items at the scene, changing clothes or washing any area of their body. Under some circumstances, the reporting party should seek immediate medical attention before washing themselves or clothing. If clothes have been removed, place each item separately in paper bags. The reporting party should preserve all phone call logs, emails, text messages, online communication and other evidence that is relevant to the specific complaint.

Medical assistance can be sought from any emergency room, such as the one located at Lakeland Medical Center, St. Joseph, Michigan. Financial assistance for hospital exam costs may be available—contact Michigan Crime Victim Services Commission for more information (517-333-SAFE).

In addition to the collection of evidence, hospital staff is able to check for other potential injuries and respond to the potential of pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases.

Confidentiality, Counseling and Support

The University will seek to be sensitive, supportive and respectful to all involved individuals. The University will also seek to take reasonable steps to maintain appropriate levels of confidentiality and will refrain from including in public available records the identity of the reporting party.

Although the University will attempt to limit the number of individuals who may learn about an allegation of Misconduct, the University cannot guarantee confidentiality in all matters. The University will attempt to balance the reporting party's request with the moral responsibility and federal guidelines to create a safe and nondiscriminatory environment. Ultimately, and especially in cases that involve pattern, predation, threats or violence, the University reserves the right to proceed in whatever manner it deems appropriate.

To comply with certain federal laws, the University is required to report statistics regarding Misconduct on its campus. Recordkeeping for this statistical report will be accomplished without the inclusion of identifying information about the reporting party or witnesses to the extent permissible by law.

Counselors and chaplains (hired or appointed by the University for a specific job description to provide counseling and pastoral care) have confidentiality obligations that prohibit them from reporting and activating established University processes. Therefore, while these individuals are able to provide confidentiality and important support, they are not the designated individuals to whom formal or informal reports should be given (see below).

A person reporting sexual misconduct, relationship violence, stalking, and discrimination based on sex are encouraged to seek the assistance of trained professional support systems.

On-campus services for students (at no charge) include:

- Andrews University's Counseling & Testing Center (located in Bell Hall, 269-471-3470)

The University's Processes and Response to Misconduct

- The University will take seriously all good faith reports of alleged Misconduct. University proceedings will seek to provide a prompt, fair and impartial consultation, investigation and response by officials who receive annual training.
- Because the University recognizes that such Misconduct includes an attack on an individual's dignity and self-determination rights, the University will attempt to let reporting parties select the process for addressing their allegations.
- In general, there are two main paths for addressing sexual misconduct:
 - (1) an informal resolution process pertaining to possible Misconduct and
 - (2) a formal report process of alleged Misconduct.
- Ultimately, and especially in cases that involve pattern, predation, threats or violence, the University reserves the right to proceed in whatever manner it deems appropriate.

Initiating a Report

The University encourages a reporting party and witnesses to report any violations of this policy to an appropriate University official. Reports are what give the University the opportunity to investigate and address any violations; they also provide the University with an opportunity to ensure that appropriate care and resources are provided for both the reporting party and the respondent. At the same time, before a reporting party reveals information (name of the respondent, details, etc.), they should understand that only professional counselors, pastors and chaplains (hired or appointed by the University for a specific job description to provide counseling and pastoral care) are able to retain confidentiality.

Mandatory Reporters

Except as described above, all other faculty and staff are required to notify a designated University official below of all allegations or reports of Misconduct (which includes non-consensual sexual penetration, non-consensual sexual contact, sexual exploitation, sexual or gender-based harassment), relationship violence (which includes domestic violence and dating violence), stalking, or discrimination based on sex.

Designated University Officials

Title IX Compliance Officer
Title IX Coordinator, Frances Faehner , vice president for Campus & Student Life (269-471-2679), frances@andrews.edu, Campus Center, Student Life office

Inquiries and complaints regarding sexual misconduct (which includes non-consensual sexual penetration, non-consensual sexual contact, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment), relationship violence (which includes domestic violence and dating violence), stalking, or discrimination based on sex should be referred to designated University officials as in the table below:

Concerns about the University’s application of Title IX or VAWA may be addressed to the Title IX Coordinator; the United States Department of Education, Office Civil Rights at OCR@ed.gov or 800-421-3481.

Local Law Enforcement

Misconduct, relationship violence, and stalking may also be criminal. In keeping with the goal to stop the harassment, prevent its re-occurrence and remedy its effects, the University encourages the reporting party to seriously consider reporting the Misconduct to local law enforcement. Upon a request from the reporting party,

Reporter	Reporting	Should Report To
Student, faculty or staff	Alleged misconduct by a student toward a faculty or staff member	Title IX Senior Deputy Coordinator and Deputy Coordinator for Students, Alyssa Palmer , associate dean for Student Life, 269-471-6684, alyssap@andrews.edu, Campus Center, Student Life
Student, faculty or staff	Alleged misconduct by a faculty or staff member toward a student	Title IX Senior Deputy Coordinator and Deputy Coordinator for Students, Alyssa Palmer , associate dean for Student Life, 269-471-6684, alyssap@andrews.edu, Campus Center, Student Life or Title IX Deputy Coordinator, Darcy de Leon , Human Resources director, 269-471-3302, darcy@andrews.edu, Administration Building, Room 215
Student, faculty or staff	Alleged misconduct by a faculty or staff toward another faculty or staff	Title IX Deputy Coordinator, Darcy de Leon , Human Resources director, 269-471-3302, darcy@andrews.edu, Administration Building, Room 215
Student, faculty or staff	Alleged misconduct by a student, faculty or staff toward a student, faculty or staff	Title IX Investigator, Ben Panigot , director of Campus Safety, 269-471-3321, panigot@andrews.edu, Office of Campus Safety

the University will assist in making the connection between a reporting party and an appropriate law enforcement agency. In Berrien Springs, the local police department can be reached at 269-471-2813. In an emergency, call 911. The reporting party also has the right to decline to make a formal report to law enforcement and campus authorities.

Informal Processes and Resolutions

- If the reporting party desires an informal consultation, he/she should consult with one the appropriate designated Title IX Deputy Coordinators listed above for the purpose of exploring whether or not to submit a formal complaint.
- The reporting party may be reluctant to identify the respondent; however, this will limit the University's ability to investigate and respond.
- Both parties may be given the opportunity to reach a mutually agreed-upon informal resolution that may include acknowledgements and commitments to remedy the situation.
- Informal resolutions are not typically recorded in a respondent's record as a conduct violation. However, the University reserves the right to record such resolutions in a student's conduct record depending on the nature and severity of the conduct involved.
- An informal resolution agreement that is signed by both parties is final.
- The appropriate Title IX Deputy Coordinator will identify potential support systems for both parties.
- The reporting party may request the University to address the situation through various interim measures, informal meetings or resolutions for the purpose of providing information or support or to create separation of proximity, etc.
- The University will seriously consider requests such as confidentiality but reserves the right to proceed in whatever way it deems necessary.

Formal Report Process

- If a reporting party desires to make a formal report of alleged Misconduct, the report should be submitted to the appropriate designated University official as listed above.
- The formal complaint should contain, at a minimum, a concise written statement of the alleged violation and a detailed statement of the facts supporting the allegation as well as the names of any witnesses. In general, witnesses must have observed the conduct in question or have information relevant to the incident and will not be interviewed solely to speak about an individual's character.

- The Title IX Coordinator and Title IX Deputy Coordinator will review the report to assess whether the allegation(s), if true, would rise to the level of Misconduct triggering a formal Title IX investigation.
- If it is determined that a Title IX investigation is not warranted both parties will be notified. Even when a Title IX investigation is not warranted the Title IX Coordinator may, nevertheless, refer the case directly to the Student Life Deans Council to be reviewed for a general violation of the Code of Student Conduct. In cases where the respondent is a faculty or staff the case may be referred to Human Resources for a general violation of the working policy.
- If a Title IX investigation is warranted, the appropriate Title IX Deputy Coordinator will meet separately with the reporting party and the respondent to provide a notice of charges, and review University policy and processes utilizing the Title IX Case Awareness Form.
- The appropriate Title IX Deputy Coordinator will obtain the formal statements and the names of any witnesses from both parties.
- The appropriate Title IX Deputy Coordinator will identify potential support systems for both parties.

Investigation and Review

- The director of Campus Safety is generally appointed to lead the investigation and is usually assisted by the appropriate Title IX Deputy Coordinator for students (if the respondent is a student) or the Title IX Deputy Coordinator for faculty/staff (if the respondent is a faculty or staff).
- According to established practices, the investigation is a neutral fact-gathering process and will follow the trail of evidence to determine if there is a "preponderance of evidence" that the alleged Misconduct (more likely than not) occurred.
- The investigator(s) will meet in separate settings with the reporting party and the respondent, as well as with other witnesses, and review texts, emails, communications and other documentary evidence to gather facts.
- Both the reporting party and the respondent have the right to the same opportunities to present their account of events and to identify witnesses who may have relevant information.
- An investigative summary will be provided both to the reporting party and to the respondent.

- Both parties will have the opportunity to review the summary and to provide a written response including questions they would like to be addressed to the other party before a final determination is made. The parties will not be simultaneously present in any proceeding and thus any such questions would be posed by a third party.
- The investigative report is provided to the Title IX Coordinator who will review the report and direct the report to the appropriate Conduct Panel.
- If the respondent accepts responsibility for the specific charges, he/she may provide the conduct panel body with a written acceptance of the facts of the allegation. In such cases the Title IX Coordinator may direct the conduct panel to convene solely to determine appropriate sanctions.
- A determination by the conduct panel that the respondent is “not responsible” does not necessarily mean the alleged Misconduct did not happen. Rather, it may mean that there was insufficient evidence to reach a determination of responsibility.
- If and after there has been a determination of responsibility and before imposing disciplinary action the conduct panel may consider any impact statement submitted by the reporting party and mitigation statement submitted by the respondent.
- Any student, faculty, or staff member who is found responsible for Misconduct defined in this policy will be subject to disciplinary action that includes, but is not limited to, verbal counsel, written warning, probation, suspension, dismissal, mandatory education and other remedies the University deems appropriate.
- The conduct panel reserves the right to determine what type of disciplinary response is appropriate for the level of Misconduct as well as to broaden or lessen the responses relative to the severity, persistence or pervasiveness of the behavior. Mitigating or aggravating circumstances, if they exist, may be considered, such as any previous Misconduct or other violations of the Code of Student Conduct, “Working Policy” or Employee Handbook.”
- The general range of recommended responses for students is as follows:

University Determination and Outcomes

- The appropriate conduct panel convenes to review the evidence developed during the investigation and to meet with the investigators as needed.
- The Student Life Deans Council handles the deliberative processes for students facing allegations. Title IX Misconduct cases are chaired by the assistant vice president for Campus & Student Life.
- A Title IX administrative panel handles the processes for faculty or staff facing Title IX Misconduct allegations. The Panel is chaired by the director of Human Resources. The panel includes the University provost, one senior administrator, a tenured faculty and a staff member with a minimum of 10 years of experience. Both the reporting party and the respondent will have the same opportunity to have formal and separate hearings as part of the investigative process and/or before the conduct panel. Note: Although neither party is required to appear for a hearing, to ensure fundamental fairness parties are expected to respond to questions posed by the other party.
- The conduct panel will deliberate using the “preponderance of evidence” standard of proof to determine by majority vote whether “more likely than not” the respondent is responsible or not responsible for committing Misconduct as outlined in this policy. Note: This is a lesser standard of proof than the “beyond a reasonable doubt” standard used in the criminal justice system.

Non-Consensual Sexual Penetration

The disciplinary response will likely range from suspension to dismissal depending on the severity of the incident.

Non-Consensual Sexual Contact

The disciplinary response will likely range from probation to dismissal, depending on the severity of the incident.

Sexual Exploitation or Harassment

The disciplinary response will likely range from warning to dismissal, depending on the severity of the incident.

Domestic Violence, Dating Violence or Stalking

The disciplinary response will likely range from warning to dismissal, depending on the severity of the incident.

- The conduct panel chair will issue a written outcome letter to both parties and arrange that both parties receive the outcome in a simultaneous manner.

Release of Documents

Under federal privacy laws the investigative summary, written statements from both parties, and any documents prepared by the University, constitute education records which may not be disclosed outside of University processes except as may be authorized by law. As such, both parties are instructed not to re-disclose written documents they receive from the University. However, the University does not impose any restrictions on the parties regarding verbal re-disclosure of the incident, their participation, or the final outcome letter.

Appeal Process

Both the reporting party and the respondent have the same opportunity to request consideration to appeal the outcome or findings of the allegation of Misconduct and of any disciplinary actions. The limited grounds on which the University will consider granting a request for an appeal are one or more of the following:

- New Information of a Substantive Nature: New and relevant information that was unknown or unavailable at the time the decision was made that could have significantly impacted the original findings or the outcome. A summary of such new information should be included in the request.
- Substantive Procedure Error: The original processes had a significant or relevant procedural error that may have impacted fundamental fairness
- Substantive Disproportionate Response: The University response was clearly disproportionate to the established range of consequences for the violation

A formal request for an appeal should be directed to the Title IX Coordinator within three business days of receiving notice of the decision. The request for an appeal must consist of a concise written statement outlining the grounds for the appeal as described above. The Title IX Coordinator will review the request and will notify the person of the University response to the request as well as provide information regarding the appeal process if the appeal process is granted. The University typically implements the original University response or sanction during the appeal process.

Student requests for an appeal will generally be directed to a sub-committee of the Conduct

Appeals Committee, which will be comprised of faculty/staff. The assistant vice president for Campus & Student Life serves as the ex-officio secretary and non-voting member.

Faculty or staff requests for an appeal will generally be directed to a subcommittee of the Conduct Appeals Committee, which will be comprised of faculty and staff. The director Human Resources serves as the ex-officio secretary and non-voting member.

Given that in most cases the respondent has already had a face-to-face hearing with the investigative processes and/or the judicial body, the appeal process does not provide a second opportunity for a face-to-face hearing nor does it provide a rehearing of the facts or a repeat of the investigative processes. The appeal is generally limited to review of a written appeal or other relevant documents.

The scope of the authority of the Conduct Appeals Committee is to determine (1) if the Conduct Panel determinations were reasonable in light of the evidence, (2) if the procedures afforded fundamental fairness, and (3) if the disciplinary response was within the established range and consistent with University protocols. The role of the Appeals Committee is not to substitute judgment for the original decision—the Committee will remain focused on the specified grounds for the appeal.

In cases where there is new or relevant information of a substantive nature, the appeal request may be returned to the original Conduct Panel for review.

The Conduct Appeals Committee can uphold the original decision, alter the original decision, and/or alter the University response.

The decision of the Conduct Appeals Committee will be final (except that, in cases of (a) dismissal or (b) termination, the respondent may request an additional review with the Office of the Provost and the responding faculty or staff may request an additional review with the Office of the President).

Amnesty, Bystander Engagement and Good Faith Reports

The welfare of every member of our community is of paramount importance. The University wants to facilitate a safe and caring campus climate for all good faith reports of sexual misconduct, relationship violence, stalking, and discrimination based on sex. The University believes that bystanders (others nearby) can play a key role in the prevention of Misconduct. Thus, the University encourages members of our community to offer help to others in need.

In an effort to remove fears and obstacles to reporting, the University does not apply disciplinary action to student victims or student witnesses of Misconduct who, in the process of making a good-faith report, voluntarily report their own violation(s) of the Code of Student Conduct (such as alcohol consumption, curfew violations, etc.) related to the specific reported incident. To foster healing and growth, the reporting party and any witnesses making good faith reports may be asked to engage in educational opportunities.

False Complaints

The University also prohibits members of the community from knowingly filing a false complaint or making misrepresentations of sexual misconduct, relationship violence, stalking, and discrimination based on sex. However, a complaint made in good faith is not considered false merely because the evidence does not ultimately support the allegation of Misconduct. Acts of knowingly filing false complaints are, by themselves, cause for disciplinary action.

Additional Information

- Account of Events—Both the reporting party and the respondent have the right to the same opportunities to present their account of events.
- If the reporting party or alleged victim is deceased as a result of such offense, the next of kin of such victim shall be treated as the accuser or alleged victim to receive information regarding the outcome or disciplinary disposition.
- Resources—Both the reporting party and the respondent have the right to be notified of available resources.
- Professional Counseling and Support Resources—Students are encouraged to seek professional support from on-campus resources that include Campus Ministries chaplains and counselors at the Counseling & Testing Center in Bell Hall or from a community provider listed above. Faculty and staff are encouraged to seek professional support from a community provider listed above. Note: see section on “Confidentiality, Counseling and Support.”
- Accommodations—A reporting party who reports allegations of Misconduct may request accommodations in academic or work settings, changes in living situations, “No Contact” orders or other responses and support systems designed to help the reporting party cope with the situation and meet their responsibilities. Requests are not “guaranteed,” but the University will consider carefully any such requests.

- Interim Measures—After considering all available information, the University may also consider other appropriate interim protective measures including, but not limited to, academic, class, work, committee, or housing reassignments; “No Contact” orders; restrictions on academic or co-curricular activities; campus bans; etc., to facilitate the emotional and physical wellbeing of the parties involved, the broader community and/or the integrity of the investigative and resolution process. Interim measures are for a provisional period of time pending the outcome of an investigation or until a specified condition is met. Interim actions do not assume the respondent has been found responsible for the alleged Misconduct.
- “No Contact” Order—Once a “No Contact” order has been granted and issued, neither party should attempt in any way to contact or send any type of message, directly or via a third party to the other party.
- Support Person—Both the reporting party and the respondent have the right to have a single designated support person of their choice to support them and be present with them throughout the process. Support persons may accompany the reporting party or the respondent to any University proceedings. Support persons are not permitted to speak, direct questions, or otherwise participate in any University proceedings. Due to the potential conflict of interest, witnesses participating in the investigation will not be permitted to serve as support persons.
- Notification of Outcome—Both the reporting party and the respondent have the right to be informed of the outcome, in writing, without undue delay between the notifications to the parties and usually within two business days of the end of the process.
- Educational Resources—The Counseling & Testing Center and the Division of Campus & Student Life provide educational materials and information as well as prevention and risk reduction programs dealing with sexual misconduct, relationship violence, stalking and discrimination based on sex. On an annual basis education is provided to new students and employees, and ongoing programs are provided periodically for the wider body of students and University employees.

Duration of University Processes

- If a criminal complaint has been lodged with local law enforcement by the reporting party, the University's investigation may be delayed temporarily, as requested by the criminal investigators. The University, however, may not wait on the outcome of the criminal processes and has a responsibility to begin its own investigation in a timely manner and to take any necessary interim protective measures.
- A typical investigation and response from the University usually takes up to 60 calendar days after the University has received formal notice of the Misconduct. The timeframe may take longer and be extended for good cause such as the complexities of a case, the scope of the investigation, to account for University breaks, or to accommodate the availability of participants or witnesses, etc.

Registered Sex Offender Policy Statement

In accordance with the Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act of 2000, information regarding registered sex offenders is provided by the State of Michigan to the public as well as the campus community. All sex offenders are required to register in the state of Michigan and to provide notice to each institution of higher education in Michigan at which the person is employed, carries a vocation, or is a student. The Michigan Public Sexual Offender Registry can be reviewed at http://www.michigan.gov/msp/0,4643,7-123-1878_24961---,00.html.

All sex offenders are required to deliver written notice of their status as a sex offender to Andrews University no later than sixty (60) calendar days prior to their enrollment in, employment with, volunteering at, attending public programs at, or residence at Andrews University.

RIGHT TO DISCUSS, INQUIRE, EXPRESS AND PETITION

Students are free to express their views, individually or collectively, on matters of significance to them within the parameters described in this section. They may exchange views privately with others or publicly in classrooms, discussion groups and meetings. They may also use established campus channels of printed, online or audio-visual communication. Unsolicited broadcasting of email ("spamming") is not allowed.

In the Classroom

In class as well as online, students' questions and commentary should be respectful of the professor and fellow students and not detract from the professor's course objectives or teaching methods. Students are expected to express themselves with civility by refraining from personal attacks or ad hominem argumentation, listening respectfully to others, and taking care not to monopolize discussion. When appropriate, students may ask questions or express views that are at variance with the beliefs and values of the University or other class members. However, dissenting remarks ought to offer an alternative point of view, rather than attack, disparage or demean views held by others or the University. In return, each student has the right to be treated respectfully by the professor and his or her classmates. Students with concerns related to inappropriate communication in the classroom should follow the procedures outlined in the section titled "Right to Appeal/Grievance" (see Right to Appeal/Grievance).

With University Officers

Students have the right to engage in constructive dialogue about the policies and procedures of the University. Students or student groups who have concerns or points of view they wish to share, or who desire to achieve constructive changes within the University, may present their thoughts directly to University officers. They may also circulate and submit to University officers' petitions for action. Furthermore, the undergraduate and graduate student associations (AUSA and AUGSA) are good vehicles for addressing student-related matters with the University administration. Students seeking to resolve personal or group differences with the University are encouraged to make use of the University's appeal and grievance procedures. Those who turn to public forums (such as social media, media outlets, etc.) to air their concerns rather than working with the University's established means of resolution will not be acting in good faith with the University and may be subject to disciplinary action.

By Means of Assembly

Students have a constitutional right to assemble and publicly express their views on matters of local, national or global importance. Peaceful, law-abiding demonstrations, such as rallies, marches and vigils, may be organized by students on campus or in the community, provided that these events are in harmony with the values of the University and the Seventh-day Adventist Church. As with other events, organizers must submit a request for administrative approval to the Student Life office, allowing up to a week for approval. Event organizers will be guided by established University protocols with the oversight of a faculty or staff sponsor. On-campus events may not impair University functions or deprive other students of their rights and should honor campus policies. Demonstrations held in the community are to comply with local, state and federal laws and be done with the prior knowledge of local law enforcement officials. As the safety of students is of paramount concern to the University, every reasonable precaution must be taken by organizers to ensure the wellbeing and lawful behavior of students. The tenor of all public demonstrations should reflect a spirit of justice, compassion and wisdom.

Through Student Communication Media

Student communication media such as the “Student Movement,” “Cardinal,” AUTV, etc., are aids in establishing and maintaining an atmosphere of responsible discussion and intellectual exploration on the Andrews campus. They communicate the activities and interests of Andrews’ students, as well as help form student opinion. The vice president for Campus & Student Life and the Student Association general sponsors, through the Student Associations, delegate editorial responsibility to the editor under the guidance of the faculty advisor and/or the Student Communications Board. Since the University administration has the ultimate responsibility for the content of student communications issued on the campus, they reserve the right—in rare circumstances—to override editorial decisions.

ACCESS AND PRIVACY OF STUDENT EDUCATIONAL RECORDS (FERPA)

In compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), the federal law that governs release of and access to student education records, Andrews University grants the rights outlined within the Act to our students.

A student has the right to inspect and review his/her educational records. A request to review these records should be made, in writing, to the appropriate University office (see table below). The student’s request will be granted within 45 days from the time the request is made. If a student believes that there is inaccurate or misleading information contained in one or more of his/her records, he/she has the right to request that the record be amended. If the record is not amended, the student has a right to submit a written response or explanation which will then become a permanent part of the record. The student may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the University to comply with the FERPA requirements.

A student has the right to consent to disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in his/her education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with “legitimate educational interests.” A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the information from your education record is necessary in order to fulfill his or her official responsibilities. A student’s parent does not have a right to access the student’s educational records unless the student is a “dependent” of the parent for income tax purposes.

A student may, of course, provide authorization for the release of records—for example, it is common to do this for parents. Student can provide authorization through their iVue by selecting “Manage FERPA Contacts” and adding them as a “New Contact.” Whenever third-party access is granted, a record should be kept in the file that shows which persons have reviewed the records, except in the cases where students grant third-party direct access to electronic files.

Andrews University has the right to disclose “directory information” without the written consent of the student, unless the student has informed the University Registrar in writing of his/her refusal to permit the dissemination of directory information. A “Request for Non-disclosure” may be obtained at the Office of Academic Records. The University has designated the following information as “directory information”: name, local address, local telephone number, Andrews University email address, gender, marital status, hometown, date and place of birth, school, academic program (degree, major and minor), enrollment status, class standing/classification (i.e., freshman, sophomore, junior, senior or graduate), participation in officially recognized activities, dates of attendance, degree(s) received, honors and awards and photographs. Even where directory information may be released, Andrews University reserves the right to withhold such information from third parties.

In addition, Andrews University may forward education records (which include student conduct records), without the student’s consent, to school officials of other institutions of postsecondary education at which the student seeks or intends to enroll, or where he/she has already enrolled, so long as the disclosure is requested for purposes related to the student's enrollment or transfer.

The student may be asked to care for the reproduction costs of copies of records requested by the student. The University is not obligated to keep and maintain all educational records and thus some student records are destroyed.

For more information, please visit the University FERPA website at andrews.edu/go/ferpa.

RIGHT TO APPEAL/GRIEVANCE

The University seeks to provide an opportunity for the redress of student grievances, consistent with biblical guidance and sound practices. If a student feels his/her rights may have been violated, or that there may be something unique about the circumstances surrounding a matter, there is a grievance process or suggested courses of action which will be appropriate in most circumstances. The student should attempt to utilize the grievance process in the most appropriate and reasonable way (e.g., on a few occasions, it may be appropriate to “skip” a step).

Academic Grievances

If a student feels that his/her academic rights have been violated, the student should speak directly with that professor. If the student is unsatisfied with the professor's response, the student may appeal to the department chair. Following a decision by the department chair, the student (or professor) may appeal to the appropriate academic dean, followed by an appeal to the Office of the Provost.

Housing and Residence Hall Grievances

If a student has a complaint concerning an issue in a University-operated housing facility, he/she should first deal directly with the individual(s) responsible for the behavior/action that is the subject of the complaint. If the student is not satisfied with the response, he/she should go to their respective director of University Apartments (and Houses), University Towers, Lamson Hall or Meier Hall. If he/she is still not satisfied with the decision, he/she may appeal to the director of residence life (for residence hall concerns), then to the vice president for Campus & Student Life and then to the provost.

Work Grievances

If a student has a work-related concern, he/she should deal directly with the related individual, followed in order by the direct supervisor or the department director. If the student is not satisfied with the decision, he/she may appeal to the Employee Services coordinator followed by the director of Human Resources and then to the provost or president.

Student Conduct Intervention (Disciplinary) Grievances

Please see Student Conduct Intervention (Disciplinary) Processes.

Sexual Misconduct, Relationship Violence, Stalking, and Discrimination Based on Sex/Gender Grievances

Please see Sexual Misconduct, Relationship Violence, Stalking, and Discrimination Based on Sex/Gender.

Academic Integrity Grievances

Please see Academic Integrity.

Discrimination and Harassment Grievances

Please also see Right to be Free from Discrimination and Harassment.

Other Grievances

If a student has a grievance that is not addressed in one of the categories described above, he/she should seek counsel from a trusted member of the University faculty or staff. Typically, the appropriate course of action is to communicate directly with the individual(s) whose decision/action is the source of the complaint. If the student is unsatisfied with that individual's response, the student may appeal along a similar path described in the other sections. If the student is unsure of the best way to proceed, he/she may start by consulting with the vice president for Campus & Student Life.

General Hints for Solving Problems

In the heavy study/work/social program at a university, students will inevitably encounter stress and problems for which assistance would be helpful. Personnel in Student Life (269-471-3215), the Student Success Center (269-471-6096) or the Counseling & Testing Center (269-471-3470) are available for counsel. Problems may be solved in consultation with the personnel listed below in the order given (where appropriate).

In rare cases when the student has exhausted normal University procedures for resolving issues and the difficulty is still unresolved, the student is advised to contact an ombudsperson.

OMBUDSPERSONS (OMBUDSMAN)

Purpose of the University Ombudspersons

The University ombudspersons facilitate understanding, communication and resolution of conflict among students, faculty and staff. The office serves as an impartial and confidential means of facilitating dialogue between parties on campus and as a means, apart from formal grievance procedures, of resolving differences. The office was established as part of the University's Christian commitment to foster a courteous and considerate climate conducive to productivity and wellbeing for the University community.

The ombudspersons work independently from University administrative offices. Discussing a matter with an ombudsperson is confidential to the extent allowed by law and does not constitute notice to the University.

What an Ombudsperson May Do

- Help resolve problems and conflicts, especially those not being adequately addressed through other channels
- Provide informal services outside the usual review and/or appeal procedures
- Take a nonaligned role when hearing about a problem, remaining independent and impartial
- Recommend changes in University policies or procedures

How an Ombudsperson Can Help You

- By listening carefully to your concerns

- By helping analyze the situation
- By identifying and explaining relevant University policies, procedures and problem-solving channels
- By helping you to explore options
- By looking into a concern, including talking with involved parties with your permission
- By identifying other University programs and resources that might be helpful
- By providing a safe and confidential setting where individuals feel respected and where they can be candid and forthright

When to Contact an Ombudsperson

In most cases, the ombudsperson should be contacted after you have exhausted normal University procedures for resolving issues and:

- You want to discuss a sensitive issue in confidence
- You want help and are unsure of where or what options are open to you
- You have a situation requiring help with communication or negotiation

- You are unsure which policies, procedures or regulations apply in your situation
- You believe a policy, procedure or regulation has been applied unfairly or erroneously to you

When an Ombudsperson Does Not Get Involved

- You want legal advice or legal representation
- You have a non-University related disagreement or problem
- You want to file a grievance or make a formal complaint
- You want someone to represent you in formal University procedures

For information or to schedule a private appointment, contact the ombudspersons:

To Hold Accountable: Student Responsibilities

“To restore in man the image of his Maker, to bring him back to the perfection in which he was created, to promote the development of body, mind, and soul, that the divine purpose in his creation might be realized—this was to be the work of redemption. This is the object of education, the great object of life” (Ellen G. White, Education, pages 15–16).

SELF-DISCIPLINE AND INSTITUTIONAL INTERVENTION (DISCIPLINE)

The goal of the student conduct intervention (discipline) processes at Andrews University is to shape and maintain a culture that fosters personal growth and accountability to the values of the institution. The University’s approach is first restorative as well as educational as it seeks to transform students for this life and for eternity.

Students are encouraged to take personal responsibility for all avenues of their spiritual, mental and physical growth as they model the Andrews community values. These values are designed for the wellbeing of both the individual student and the community as a whole. A voluntary commitment to the values requires personal integrity and self-discipline which generally dispenses with the need for institutional discipline.

Inevitably, there will be occasions when students fail to exercise self-discipline and do not fulfill their commitment to the values and the Code of Student Conduct. On such occasions students place themselves in a situation in which it becomes necessary for the University to intervene and hold students accountable for their behavior.

The Student Conduct Intervention Process focuses on student’s taking responsibility for the consequences of their choices. As in the classroom, the Student Conduct Intervention Process seeks to foster the student’s learning and the development of decision making and critical thinking skills, as well as taking responsibility for the consequence of one’s choices. As such the process it is not intended to include direct participation by parents or external parties. In seeking to reflect a balance of mercy and justice, the University will strive to give students consistent and equitable processes and responses to reports of misconduct in a manner which is considerate of each individual.

As a religious institution, Andrews University claims constitutional guarantees that permit it to have expectations for students and employees regarding their duty to uphold biblical principles of morality, deportment and appearance as interpreted by the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

The University takes seriously any failure of a student to abide by his/her commitment to the Community Values Agreement and the Code of Student Conduct. The University understands that all human beings are prone to make mistakes and that every situation is unique. Nevertheless, a student should expect to receive consequences, up to and including dismissal from the University, if he/she engages in any activity, behavior or communication described in the following list, whether it takes place on-campus, off-campus or online. Violations motivated by bias related to protected characteristics may be subject to additional considerations as a bias incident. The list that follows is not comprehensive but does provide examples of violations of the Code of Student Conduct:

1. Promotion or instigation of student behaviors not consistent with this Code of Student Conduct
2. Willful undermining of the religious ideals of the University and the Seventh-day Adventist Church
3. Profane, obscene, indecent or otherwise inappropriate conduct or expression which violates accepted standards of Christian conduct
4. Disorderly or disruptive conduct (regardless of intent), or other types of obstructive or dysfunctional behaviors that compromise the educational, residential, or work environment or the health, wellbeing and safety of others
5. Failure to comply with directives of University officials or law enforcement officers acting in

- performance of their duties. This includes, but is not limited to the failure to identify oneself to one of these officials when requested to do so, failure to comply or complete a disciplinary actions prescribed by conduct process.
6. All forms or acts of dishonesty or deception including, but not limited to, the following:
 - » Larceny (theft) or the unauthorized taking or using of property or possession of another person or organization.
 - » Fraudulent actions such as timecard and payroll fraud.
 - » Cheating, plagiarism or other forms of academic dishonesty
 - » Furnishing false or misleading information to any University office, official, faculty or staff
 - » Forgery, alteration or misuse of any University document, record or instrument of identification
 - » A pattern of spreading unsubstantiated rumors
 - » Tampering with the election of leaders of any recognized student organization
 7. Discrimination or harassment based on perceived or actual personal characteristics as outlined in the section "Right to be Free from Bias, Discrimination or Harassment"
 8. Hazing, defined as an intentional or reckless act that the person knew or should have known endangers the physical or emotional well-being of an individual and that is traditionally done for the purpose of being initiated into or affiliating with an established group or organization
 9. Physical aggression or physical assault- Includes acts of hitting, pushing, kicking, pulling hair, etc.
 10. Relationship violence or abuse which includes domestic violence, dating violence and stalking
 11. Sexual misconduct including, but not limited to, sexual harassment, sexual exploitation, non-consensual sexual contact and non-consensual sexual penetration
 12. Cohabitation of unmarried members of the opposite sex or hosting overnight visitors of the opposite sex (including sharing a hotel or guest room); entering the residence hall room of a member of the opposite sex (with the exception of a formal open house program or permission from a residence hall dean)
 13. Premarital and extramarital sexual activity or sexually related behavior that includes but is not limited to inappropriate displays of affection; accessing, possessing or displaying pornographic or other sexually explicit materials; and sexting or other virtual forms of sexual activity
 14. Romantic behaviors between individuals of the same sex, understanding that not all displays of affection are romantic in nature
 15. Verbal, written and other forms of disrespectful, intimidating, harassing, bullying (degrading, humiliating, malicious or defamatory) or stalking behavior which compromises the health, wellbeing or safety of any person; includes, but is not limited to, phone calls, emails, texts and all forms of online or social network communications
 16. Threats or threatening statements or conduct which directly expresses or implies a threat or dangerous intention to a specific or general target.
 17. On- or off-campus use, possession (in one's residence, vehicle, belongings or on person), purchase, sale, manufacture, distribution or attempts to solicit or facilitate the purchase or presence of the following:
 - » Tobacco in any form
 - » Alcoholic beverages (or empty alcohol containers) in any form
 - » Illegal drugs or drug-related paraphernalia
 - » Other paraphernalia including roach clips, bongs, hookahs, e-cigarettes, vapor and hookah pens, papers, scales or any material or apparatus containing drug residue etc.,
 - » Misuse of prescription drugs (for more information, see Substance Abuse)
 18. Proximity to alcohol, illegal drugs or drug paraphernalia, such as parties where alcohol or illegal drugs, etc., are present and served by another host
 19. Hosting/planning events in one's own residence or elsewhere where alcohol is served or consumed and/or illegal drugs or drug paraphernalia are present
 20. Engaging in entertainment or activities that do not meet the high standards of Christian conduct such as sexually suggestive or explicit dancing, gambling in any form, etc.
 21. Participation in organizations that have not been registered with the Student Life office or in organizational activities that have not been approved by the organization's faculty/staff sponsor and the Student Life office
 22. Unauthorized use of Andrews University's name or facilities for purposes that are not consistent with the Code of Student Conduct and the values of Andrews University

23. Firearms, explosives, flammable substances and other weapons of any kind are not allowed on University property. This includes, but is not limited to, rifles, shotguns, pistols, paintball guns, BB guns, pellet guns, bow and arrows, stun guns, Tazers, "air-soft" guns, look-alike firearms, knives with blades longer than three inches (excluding culinary knives) and martial arts weapons. The manufacturing of any part of a firearm or explosive, or the possession of any firearm or other weapon or storage of ammunition on University property is cause for corrective and immediate action up to and including dismissal. For further explanation, please see andrews.edu/safety
24. Attempted or actual vandalism, arson, or damage to individual, institutional or community property. Removal of institutional property from its designated place
25. Deliberate misuse of a fire alarm system or other emergency equipment (Civil Code may bring up to one year in prison and up to a $500 fine) or other violations of established safety protocols
26. Unauthorized entry or exit of campus buildings by any means other than the designated entrances, use of an exit for non-emergency purposes during timeframes when usage is established for emergency purposes only, or unauthorized presence (non-criminal trespassing) in University buildings after regular or established operational hours.
27. Unauthorized possession, duplication or use of University key(s) or other access devices to any University premise
28. Violation of any aspect of the Andrews University's Student Information Technology Usage Policy (see Student Information Technology Usage Policy)
29. Violation of institutional policy or code published in hard copy or available electronically on the University website such as a Campus Safety policy, etc.
30. A legal conviction for or confirmation of violations of federal, state or local law which indicate that a student is not in good standing with the community
31. Conduct which has an adverse effect on the student's responsibility to model good citizenship in the University community or in any other community

Any additional policies voted and published by the Student Life Deans Council, Student Life Council, Campus Safety/Risk Management Committee or other appropriate University bodies, current and future, are valid and enforceable.

STUDENT CONDUCT INTERVENTION (DISCIPLINARY) PROCESSES

The student conduct intervention (disciplinary) processes at Andrews University are designed to provide fair and fundamental processes to the accused student. The president is responsible for the enforcement of the policies and regulations of the University.

- The president delegates authority to the provost for the application of the academic and non-academic (student conduct) policies.
- The provost along with the academic deans applies academic policies.
- The provost delegates to the vice president for Campus & Student Life the application of non-academic policies relative to student conduct.
- The vice president for Campus & Student Life may delegate to Student Life personnel or other designee the processes and application of consequences for violations of the Code of Student Conduct.

Reporting Violations of the Code of Student Conduct

Students and staff are encouraged to share reports of violations of the Code of Student Conduct directly with a Student Life administrator, Student Life dean or residence hall dean and trust that careful consideration, discretion and investigative processes will be taken to determine the best course of action. Anonymous reporting is discouraged, as it will seriously limit the University's capacity to investigate the report.

Student Conduct Processes

When a report is made regarding a violation of the Code of Student Conduct, the Student Life dean or designee of the vice president for Campus & Student Life initiates conference with the student and an investigation process. The Student Life designee meets with the student to

- (a) provide notice and a summary report of the alleged violation
- (b) provide an opportunity for the student to respond to the report and give their own account of the events, verbally as well as in writing, and to offer additional perspectives, suggestions of witnesses and/or avenues of investigation.
- (c) seek additional relevant information in order to establish a factual pattern
- (d) determine if the student accepts responsibility for the allegation of misconduct

- (e) review relevant policies and student conduct intervention processes
- (f) offer care and insight to foster a restorative outcome

Student Conduct Determination of Responsibility and Disciplinary Intervention Responses

Minor allegations of misconduct may be assessed informally, and when a student accepts responsibility established protocols may be applied by a designee acting by the authority of the vice president for Campus & Student Life.

If it is determined that there has been a serious violation of a University regulation, or a student does not accept responsibility for the allegation, the case is referred to the Student Life Deans Council. The Student Life Deans Council serves as the conduct panel that deliberates to determine responsibility for serious violations of the Code of Student Conduct as well as any subsequent disciplinary actions, including warnings, citizenship probation, suspension and dismissal.

In determining an appropriate response to a violation, consideration will be given to the nature of the incident, the results of the hearing and investigation, and the student's conduct record and influence on campus, as well as to established University protocols and responses.

The vice president for Campus & Student Life will be consulted before all major student conduct suspensions of one semester or more are finalized. The vice president for Campus & Student Life will consult with the provost before a dismissal is finalized.

Students facing an off-campus suspension or dismissal are given the opportunity to select a support person. Support persons for general conduct violations will be individuals from within the University's faculty or staff, as long as they are not a relative of the parties involved. Support persons may accompany the student to a hearing with the Student Life Deans Council, however they may not direct questions to or otherwise address the Council.

University processes are not legal criminal judicial proceedings. Criminal courts make a determination of guilt or innocence of an accused. The student conduct processes at Andrews University make a determination of responsibility. Some students may elect to seek counsel from an attorney at their own expense. However, attorneys are not permitted to be present or speak or otherwise participate in formal University proceedings for general conduct cases.

Standard of Proof

A standard of proof is the measure of how convinced a decision-maker must be about the facts of a case to reach a decision. If there is lack of clarity or confirmation regarding the alleged report, University personnel will further investigate the situation, making reasonable efforts to gather all relevant evidence.

While criminal courts use a "beyond a reasonable doubt" standard of proof, University student conduct processes use a lower "preponderance of evidence" standard. This means that it is on the basis of "more likely than not" that a determination is made that a student is responsible for a violation of the Code of Student Conduct. Therefore a student may be found responsible for violating a University policy and there be insufficient evidence to be prosecuted in the criminal justice system.

Notifications

Outcomes to student conduct processes are generally not disclosed to the public except as may be permitted by FERPA, such as in times of violence. Andrews University may inform the academic dean and an undergraduate student's parent/guardian of more serious violations of the Code of Student Conduct and the resulting consequences. Every effort is made to first encourage students to inform their parents as well as their teachers, advisor and academic dean.

Professional Program Standards

In addition to a response from the Student Life Intervention process regarding their status as a student-at-large, students may receive an additional response to a violation of the Code of Student Conduct according to the professional program standards of their academic department.

Types of Responses

Depending on the severity of the situation, the University's response may include, but is not limited to, any of the following list:

- Conversation with the student and appropriate staff, faculty or administrators to clarify issues and provide an opportunity for learning to take place
- Counsel, written or oral
- Warnings, written or oral
- Citizenship probation (see below)
- Suspension (see below)
- Dismissal (see below)
- Participation in an educational experience such as attending educational classes and writing a reflective or research paper

- Participation in a professional assessment and/or counseling session(s) through the University's Counseling & Testing Center
- Participation in a support or counseling component (examples that may be selected by the student could include the Counseling & Testing Center, a pastor, a chaplain or a faculty or staff member, as deemed appropriate)
- Participation in a student success plan or voluntary service, on- or off-campus
- "No contact" order
- Fines
- Restitution
- Separation from all classes and organized campus activities
- Separation from the campus property under the terms of a campus ban (violation of a campus ban may include legal consequences)
- Additional academic consequences, up to and including dismissal from an academic program

Citizenship Probation

A student may be placed on citizenship probation for a violation of the Code of Student Conduct for a designated period of time that generally spans 15 weeks. The probation may also be a part of a response that also includes suspension. As part of a probationary status, privileges such as formal student leadership offices and/or participation in campus activities are usually removed. Honor, curfew and overnight leave privileges may also be removed for residence hall students. In general, a student on citizenship probation should expect that any further disregard of the Code of Student Conduct will result in a more serious response including suspension, withdrawal and dismissal.

Suspension

At the discretion of the University or the Student Life Deans Council, there are several types of suspensions and timeframes involving separation from classes, activities and the University.

Timeframes. The suspension timeframe may be as follows:

1. Definite
2. Indefinite
3. Interim, pending the outcome of an investigation or until a specified condition is met. In special circumstances, such as to facilitate the safety or wellbeing of members of the University community, an interim leave or suspension may be activated without a determination of responsibility
4. A deferred suspension may be for a definite period of time that is served at a later period of time

Locations and restrictions. The terms of suspension may be as follows:

1. Off-campus Suspension Components

- » Longer-term (ranges from one week to two or more years)
- » Suspension is served at student's off-campus home or off-campus location
- » Suspension from attending classes, campus activities and work; may include a campus ban
- » If a suspension for the remainder of the semester occurs prior to the last scheduled date to withdraw from classes, the student may complete the formal exit/withdrawal process to receive "W"s for their classes. Receiving grades, incompletes or deferred grades is not an option. Partial tuition refunds are potentially available only early in the semester as established in the "Andrews University Bulletin."
- » Citizenship Probation
- » Other restorative and educational interventions

2. On-campus Suspension Components

a. Out-of-Class Suspension

- » Shorter-term (ranges from 3–5 days within a semester)
- » Suspension is served while student remains at their current residence
- » Suspension or separation from attending classes, campus activities, work, etc.
- » Citizenship Probation
- » Voluntary service
- » Other restorative and educational interventions

b. In-Class Suspension

- » Shorter-term (two weeks within a semester)
- » Suspension is served while student remains at their current residence
- » Student is required to attend classes, but a portion of their time and activities is suspended to facilitate a student success and intervention plan
- » Voluntary service or supervised academic success program (and related fees)
- » Citizenship Probation
- » Mentoring with a Student Life dean for a minimum of six weekly sessions
- » Other restorative and educational interventions

Further disregard of University expectations could result in a student being dismissed.

Dismissal

A student who is dismissed for student conduct violations is generally permanently separated from the University as well as from the academic program in which they are enrolled. This means that the student would not be eligible for readmission to any academic program and may also be issued a ban from visiting the campus for any purpose.

Appeal Processes for Student Conduct Intervention (Disciplinary) Responses

An appeal is not granted in response to general dissatisfaction with the outcome of a disciplinary case. The limited grounds on which the University will consider granting a request for an appeal are one or more of the following:

1. New Information of a Substantive Nature: new and relevant information that was unknown or unavailable at the time the decision was made that could have substantially impacted the findings or outcome. A summary of such new information should be included in the request.
2. Substantive Procedure Error: The original processes had a significant or relevant procedural error that may have impacted fundamental fairness
3. Substantive Disproportionate Response: The University response was clearly disproportionate to the established range of consequences for the violation

Responses to violations of the Code of Student Conduct that are at the level of probation or below are not eligible for the formal appeal process.

Request for an Appeal

The formal request for an appeal to student conduct intervention responses should be directed to the vice president for Campus & Student Life within three business days of receiving notice of the decision. The request for an appeal must consist of a concise written statement outlining the grounds for the appeal as described above. The vice president will review the request in consultation with University administration. The student will be notified by the vice president if the request for an appeal has been denied based on insufficient grounds. The University typically implements the original University response during the appeal process.

The Appeal Process

If the appeal process is granted, the vice president for Campus & Student Life will facilitate and coordinate the process. The vice president for Campus & Student Life will generally direct appeals regarding serious disciplinary action to the Citizenship Appeals Committee—which is a broadly representative group comprised of faculty/staff. The vice president serves as the ex-officio secretary and non-voting member and appoints one of the faculty/staff members as chairperson. In cases of sexual misconduct, the assistant vice president for Campus & Student Life serves as the ex-officio secretary.

Given that the student in most cases has already had a face-to-face hearing with a Student Life dean and/or the Student Life Deans Council, the appeal process does not provide a second opportunity for a face-to-face hearing nor does it provide a rehearing of the facts or a repeat of the investigative processes. An appeal is generally limited to review of a student's written appeal request, University record and/or summary reports.

The scope of the authority of the Conduct Appeals Committee is to determine (1) if the Student Life Deans Council or Conduct Panel determinations were reasonable in light of the evidence, (2) if the procedures afforded fundamental fairness, and (3) if the disciplinary response was within the established range and consistent with University protocols. The role of the members of the Citizenship Appeals Committee is not to substitute judgement for the original decision and will remain focused on the specified grounds for the appeal.

The appeal process may be returned to the Student Life Deans Council, especially in cases where there is new and relevant information of a substantive nature.

The Citizenship Appeals Committee can uphold the original decision, alter the original decision, and/or alter the University (disciplinary) response. The decision of the Citizenship Appeals Committee will be final.

University Authority and Civil Penalties

The University will cooperate fully with law enforcement and other agencies in the enforcement of the law and the conditions imposed by the courts. When a student is charged by federal, state or local authorities with a violation of a law, the University will not request or agree to special consideration for that individual because of his or her status or former status as a student. If the offense is also subject to a sanction for a violation of the Code of Student Conduct, the University may elect to advise off-campus authorities of the existence of the Code of Student Conduct and how such matters are generally handled internally within the University community. Individual students, faculty and staff members, acting in their personal capacities, remain free to interact with governmental representatives as they deem appropriate.

A student who is charged with violating the law may also incur sanctions prescribed by the University in addition to those prescribed by the civil authorities when the Code of Student Conduct has been violated. Depending on the circumstances, the University may proceed with, or postpone, its inquiries or investigations while a criminal investigation is underway. The University reserves the right to proceed in a manner which best protects its students or its interests.

If a residence hall student is accused or arrested for violating a federal, state or local law, when requested by the student's parents and legally permissible, after consultation with the vice president for Campus & Student Life, a short-term loan of up to $500 may be acquired in consultation with Student Financial Services for a bond.

THANK YOU FOR CHOOSING ANDREWS

By choosing Andrews, you choose to be part of something unique. Our Seventh-day Adventist Christian faith and values set us apart. Whether or not you share our particular faith perspective, we invite you to live within the values that make Andrews a welcoming and supportive environment for all who seek a faith-based education.

Appendix 1: A Seventh-day Adventist Framework for Relating to Sexual Orientation Differences on the Campus of Andrews University

Toward a Faithful and Compassionate Response

Andrews University is a Seventh-day Adventist institution of higher learning and an integral expression of the church's mission. The University holds and is accountable to the church's biblical position on human sexuality and marriage detailed in the official statements and guidelines of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists and its North American Division.¹ The following statement seeks to provide a framework from which the University can faithfully and compassionately implement the Scriptural teachings of the Adventist church within the specific context of Adventist higher education.²

Andrews University strives to be a community where students can flourish in a growing knowledge of God's Word and His personal plan for their lives. This community includes students who are oriented to the same or more than one sex, who are transgender,³ or who question their sexual orientation or gender identity (commonly referred to with the acronym LGBT).⁴ The University is committed to creating a safe and caring climate where such diverse groups are treated with dignity and respect, in keeping with their value as persons created in the image of God.

Belonging and Participation. Many same-sex oriented individuals consider themselves to have a meaningful, personal commitment to Christ.⁵ Sadly, many of these have been mistreated or have felt rejected by the church and sometimes by their own families. While this is not the experience of all, the fear of being hurt or marginalized may still be present. This can cause deep wounds and conflicts about God, religious identity, belonging and self-worth. It also places students at greater risk for depression and self-harm.⁶ The University believes that God's family is comprised of all who seek to follow Him.⁷ All students who live in harmony with the values of the University and the biblical standards of the Adventist church—no matter their sexual orientation—are welcome to participate and lead as members of our community.⁸

Campus Climate. In order to create a safe and caring campus climate, the University prohibits all harassment, including that based upon perceived or actual sexual orientation. No one should publicly disclose or speculate on the sexual orientation of another person without their permission, as this can result in harm. Even as biblical teachings will be shared and upheld on campus, those who speak about sexuality are expected to do so in a considerate manner, avoiding the perpetuation of hurtful stereotypes. On the basis of sexual orientation, in itself, students are not to be treated differently in academic, work, residential or other campus environments, except as the University may deem it appropriate in response to housing and residential concerns. All students, irrespective of sexual orientation, are afforded equal protection in situations of alleged sexual misconduct. Students who experience or observe any mistreatment or oversight related to sexual orientation should report it immediately to the Student Life office, where it will be handled in a timely and confidential manner.

Romantic Relationships and Marriage. The University upholds the Bible understanding of the Adventist church that sexual intimacy belongs only within marriage, defined as “a lifelong union between a man and a woman.”⁹ Likewise, we believe that romantic relationships are appropriate only between a man and a woman. Thus, while we support the development of meaningful friendships, we require students to refrain from sexual relations outside of marriage and from romantic behaviors between individuals of the same sex, understanding that not all displays of affection are romantic in nature.

Singleness, Friendship and Community. The position of the church and the University means that, while all students are called to sexual abstinence before and outside of marriage, those who are same-sex oriented face the prospect of living without spousal companionship. In a cultural context where same-sex marriage is legal and widely celebrated, this may be especially difficult. It is our responsibility to support and include those who are single by creating an environment where they can find genuine friendships and a loving church family, whether they are single by preference, out of circumstance or as a result of their biblical convictions.¹⁰

Dialogue and Discernment. As University educators, we are committed to leading the conversation on human sexuality, teaching students to discern and develop a sexual ethic grounded in an Adventist understanding of Bible truth. This dialogue may take place in designated small group or classroom settings and is critical to helping students assess a number of other widely available cultural and theological viewpoints. Administration will seek to assure that public discussions are facilitated with a commitment to clarifying and upholding the church's biblical position on sexuality, while respecting the contributions, confidentiality and views of every student.

Choice and Conduct. While the Bible forbids sexual activity between members of the same sex, it does not address sexual orientation.¹¹ Although there is no consensus on what leads to same-sex orientation, it is usually understood to involve the complex interaction between nature and nurture. In reality, individuals may “experience little or no sense of choice about their sexual orientation.”¹² The University understands that identifying with a particular orientation is not, in itself, an indicator of behavior. Thus, as we administer our Code of Student Conduct, we draw a clear distinction between sexual orientation, which is an enduring pattern of attraction to one or both sexes, and behavioral choices, for which one is held accountable.

Wisdom and Grace. Sexual identity development can be a complex process. Some students may have sexual attractions or sexual experiences that do not become an enduring part of their sexual orientation. Such shifts may or may not occur as part of coming to understand one's sexual identity. Reorientation efforts typically attempt to reverse sexual orientation. Some participating in these efforts report decreases in same-sex attraction and even gains in opposite-sex attraction.¹³ Others report no change in same-sex attraction and, at times, harmful effects.¹⁴ The University cannot know how God, in His wisdom, may choose to interact with each person. What we do know is that through God's saving and enabling grace we can all live victoriously through Christ.¹⁵

Identity and Self-disclosure. We believe that Christ is the primary source of a person's identity¹⁶ and that other aspects of the self, such as sexuality, are secondary. We encourage students to develop a wholistic identity, grounded in a loving relationship with Christ, the teachings of His Word and a place of belonging in His church. Self-disclosure of sexual orientation may or may not be appropriate or in a student's best interest.¹⁷ Those who self-disclose may identify with a sexual identity label (e.g. lesbian, gay), or they may avoid such designations.¹⁸ These personal decisions require careful consideration and may be best made with the support and counsel of a trusted helping professional.

Advocacy. Certain sexual identity terms and concepts may be associated with highly politicized social conversations. In personal and classroom discussions, students are free to express their views on sexual orientation issues. However, in public settings, including campus activities and University media outlets, students should not advocate or instigate views or behaviors that are inconsistent with the biblical teachings of the Adventist church. In all settings, students are encouraged to communicate respectfully and to work for the wellbeing of others.

Support and Education. The University recognizes that issues related to sexual orientation can present unique challenges for students, who must navigate the challenging terrain of sexual identity in a Christian environment. Those desiring confidential support will find assistance in the offices of Student Life and Residence Hall deans, the Campus Ministries office, and the Counseling & Testing Center. As a nationally and internationally diverse campus, the University understands that students come to us from cultures and backgrounds with differing attitudes toward sexual orientation.¹⁹ Therefore, we provide culturally-sensitive and biblically-based education that encourages faculty, staff and students to respond in a thoughtful and compassionate manner to all individuals, including those whose orientation differs from their own.

Housing. Students who find themselves in a rooming arrangement with which they are not comfortable due to sexual orientation concerns are encouraged to contact a Residence Hall dean, the director of the University Apartments, or their trip or tour director. Residential and trip or tour staff will work confidentially and respectfully with students to find appropriate solutions to their housing needs, whether on-campus or traveling off-campus.

Summary. Andrews University endeavors to provide all students with an environment where they are safe and can belong. We believe that all persons—regardless of their sexual orientation—when drawn into a close relationship with God and a caring faith community, can flourish within the Bible's teaching on sexuality.

Notes

1. This includes the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists' (GCSDA) statement of fundamental belief on "Marriage and the Family" (2015), its official statements on Homosexuality (2012), Marriage (1996) and Same-Sex Unions (2012), its guidelines on "Responding to Changing Cultural Attitudes Regarding Homosexual and Other Alternative Sexual Practices" (2014), and the "North American Division Statement on Human Sexuality" (2015).
2. "Jesus affirmed the dignity of all human beings and reached out compassionately to persons and families suffering the consequences of sin. He offered caring ministry and words of solace to struggling people, while differentiating His love for sinners from His clear teaching about sinful practices. As His disciples, Seventh-day Adventists endeavor to follow the Lord's instruction and example, living a life of Christ-like compassion and faithfulness." GCSDA official statement on Homosexuality (2010).
3. This document does not specifically address the experience or needs of transgender students. Issues related to gender dysphoria and gender identity, while often merged with a discussion of sexual orientation, are distinct enough to merit thoughtful, independent consideration. For that reason the University, along with the Seventh-day Adventist Church, is currently giving study to transgender processes in order to shape future practices and policies in this area.
4. Some of the designations used by those who identify on a spectrum of differences related to sexuality and gender identity include, but are not limited to, the following. Lesbian (L) and gay (G) refer to those who are romantically and sexually attracted to individuals of the same sex, while bisexual (B) refers to those who are attracted to more than one sex. According to the American Psychological Association (APA), "While these categories continue to be widely used, research has suggested that sexual orientation does not always appear in such definable categories and instead occurs on a continuum." APA (2011), Definition of terms: Sex, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation. Transgender (T) refers to those whose gender identity (one's innermost sense of being male, female, both, or neither) does not correspond to their biological sex at birth. This mismatch causes a deep and enduring distress known as gender dysphoria. Intersex (I) refers to those whose sexual anatomy, reproductive organs, and/or chromosomal patterns do not fit the typical definitions of male or female. Asexual (A) refers to those who experience little or no sexual attraction to any gender.
5. Reflecting on a 2009 random, nationwide study of 9,232 adults done by the Barna Group, George Barna states: "A substantial majority of gays cite their faith as a central facet of their life, consider themselves to be Christian, and claim to have some type of meaningful personal commitment to Jesus Christ active in their life today." See "Spiritual Profile of Homosexual Adults Provides Surprising Insights."
6. According to a 2009 study of LGBT adolescents and their families conducted by the Family Acceptance Project, "Highly rejected young people were more than eight times as likely to have attempted suicide [and] nearly six times as likely to report high levels of depression" (page 5).
7. See Matt 12:46-50; Mark 3:31-34; Luke 8:19-21.
8. The North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists offers this guideline on religious leadership within congregations: "In the Seventh-day Adventist Church, only members in regular standing are to fill leadership roles such as teaching and preaching. Leaders are held to a high standard of care as representatives and role models carrying out a sacred trust on behalf of Christ and His church." North American Division statement on human sexuality (2015), page 3. While students are not required to be church members in order to fill many leadership positions on campus, all student leaders must be in good and regular standing with the University and are expected to abide by our Code of Student Conduct, which reflects the biblical values and standards of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.
9. "Marriage was divinely established in Eden and affirmed by Jesus to be a lifelong union between a man and a woman in loving companionship." GCSDA (2015), Fundamental Beliefs of the Seventh-day Adventists, "Marriage and the Family." See Gen 2:18-25; Matt 19:4-6; Eph 5:21-33. See also the official statement of the GCSDA on Homosexuality. "Seventh-day Adventists believe that sexual intimacy belongs only within the marital relationship of a man and a woman. This was the design established by God at creation.... Throughout Scripture this heterosexual pattern is affirmed. The Bible makes no accommodation for homosexual activity or relationships. Sexual acts outside the circle of a heterosexual marriage are forbidden (Lev 18:5-23, 26; Lev 20:7 21; Rom 1:24 27; 1 Cor 6:9 11)."
10. Scripture is consistent in its support of those who are single. God is named as the defender of widows (Ps 68:5; Deut 10:18), and his people are called to this work, as well (Ex 22:22-23; Deut 27:19; Isa 1:17; Jer 22:3-4). God promises to include eunuchs in his family (Isa 56:4, 5) and fulfills that promise with the first Christian convert, who was a eunuch (Acts 8:26-39). Jesus was single and benefited from the close friendship of others (Luke 10:38; John 11:3), just as he showed regard for those who were alone and in need of care (Mark 12:43-44; Luke 7:12-15; John 19:26-27). Jesus also acknowledged eunuchs and those who "live like eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom" (Matt 19:12). The early church cared for widows (Acts 9:36-39; 1 Tim 5:3-16), and Paul—who was single—gave an important place to the unmarried in the mission of the church (1 Cor 7:8, 32-35).
11. See Lev 18:5-23, 26; Lev 20:7 21; Rom 1:24 27; 1 Cor 6:9 11; 1 Tim 1:10.
12. The American Psychological Association (2008), Answers to your questions for a better understanding of sexual orientation and homosexuality: "Although much research has examined the possible...influences on sexual orientation, no findings have emerged that permit scientists to

- conclude that sexual orientation is determined by any particular factor or factors. Many think that nature and nurture both play complex roles; most people experience little or no sense of choice about their sexual orientation” (page 2). The “North American Division Statement on Human Sexuality” (2015) states: “Given the complexities of the fallen human condition (Rom 3:23), we recognize that individuals may experience same-sex orientation through no choice of their own....In view of the fact that scientists and other experts have not reached a consensus concerning the factors leading to sexual orientation—usually understood to involve the complex roles of ‘nature’ and ‘nurture’—the Adventist Church does not presume to have settled the scientific and social questions regarding the cause of non-heterosexual orientation.” See also Yarhouse (2010), A Christian perspective on sexual identity: “People do not choose to experience same-sex attraction or to have a homosexual orientation as such. They find themselves with attractions toward the same sex. It is unclear why some people experience same-sex attractions or have a homosexual orientation....There are probably many factors that contribute in one way or another, and these factors probably vary from person to person.... Whether an impulse comes ‘from within’ or is the result of one’s environment or, more likely, if an impulse is the result of some combination, Christianity teaches that believers evaluate their impulses in light of God’s revealed will for behavior” (page 7). And also the American Psychological Association (2008), Answers to your questions for a better understanding of sexual orientation and homosexuality: “Although much research has examined the possible... influences on sexual orientation, no findings have emerged that permit scientists to conclude that sexual orientation is determined by any particular factor or factors. Many think that nature and nurture both play complex roles; most people experience little or no sense of choice about their sexual orientation” (page 2).
13. The research of psychologists Mark Yarhouse and Stanton Jones revealed that some who participated in religiously mediated change efforts experienced substantial decreases in same-sex attraction and significant increases in heterosexual attraction and functioning. Other participants found that their same-sex attraction diminished to the extent that they could live a chaste life in keeping with their faith commitments. Yarhouse qualifies these results as follows: “As important as these findings are for those considering a change attempt, most people do not experience change of sexual orientation; the reported changes are best thought of as gains along a continuum of attraction rather than changes from homosexual to heterosexual. Indeed, most people who report a heterosexual outcome would acknowledge some experiences of attraction to the same sex.” Yarhouse (2010), A Christian perspective on sexual identity, page 10. See also Adventist Review (March 19, 2014), In God’s image: Summit on human sexuality—Panel members tell moving stories of brokenness, change.
 14. Some have raised concerns about sexual orientation change efforts (SOCE). “All major national mental health organizations have officially expressed concerns about therapies promoted to modify sexual orientation. To date, there has been no scientifically adequate research to show that therapy aimed at changing sexual orientation (sometimes called reparative or conversion therapy) is safe or effective.” American Psychological Association (2008), Answers to your questions for a better understanding of sexual orientation and homosexuality, page 3. See also American Psychological Association (2009), Appropriate therapeutic responses to sexual orientation: “We cannot conclude how likely it is that harm will occur from SOCE. However, studies...indicate that attempts to change sexual orientation may cause or exacerbate distress and poor mental health in some individuals, including depression and suicidal thoughts. The lack of rigorous research on the safety of SOCE represents a serious concern, as do studies that report perceptions of harm” (page 42). These reports about potential harm from change efforts should be considered with the results of the Yarhouse and Jones study, which found that religious attempts to change sexual orientation “did not appear to be harmful on average.” Yarhouse and Jones, “A Longitudinal Study of Attempted Religiously Mediated Sexual Orientation Change,” Journal of Sex & Marital Therapy, 37:404–427, 2011, page 424.
 15. See Rom 5:17; 1 Cor 15:57; 2 Cor 2:14; 2 Cor 12:9-10; Phil 4:13; Jude 1:24-25.
 16. See John 1:12; Rom 6:6; 1 Cor 6:19-20; 1 Cor 12:27; 2 Cor 5:17; Gal 3:27; Eph 1:5; Col 2:9-10; Col 3:1-3; 1 Pet 2:9; 1 John 3:1-2.
 17. Legate, N., Ryan, R. M., & Weinstein, N. (2012). Is coming out always a “good thing?” Exploring the relations of autonomy support, outness and wellness for lesbian, gay and bisexual individuals. Social Psychological & Personality Science, 3, 145–152. This research “suggests that people experience greater wellness when they come out in certain contexts, but certainly not all contexts” (page 150). Identity disclosure in controlling social environments may not be beneficial, and individuals should be able to self-determine when and where it is safe for them to identify.
 18. Some Christians merge their faith identity with a sexual minority identity (e.g. “gay Christian”). Other Christians, while they may acknowledge their same-sex orientation, choose not to use sexuality differences to define or label themselves (known as dis-identifying) and may choose an alternate designation, such as “in Christ.”
 19. A study by the Pew Research Center in 2013 found a global divide on views of homosexuality, with greater acceptance in more secular and affluent countries. Attitudes varied widely, from rejection rates as high as 98% in some countries to acceptance rates as high as 88% in others. While these rates have remained fairly stable in recent years, the greatest changes have taken place in the United States and South Korea, where acceptance rates have grown by at least ten percentage points since 2007. Admission to Andrews University is available to any student who meets the academic and character requirements of the university and who expresses willingness to cooperate with its policies. Because Andrews University is operated by the Seventh-day Adventist Church, the majority of its students are Seventh-day Adventists. However, no particular religious commitment is required for admission; any qualified student who will be comfortable within its religious, social, and cultural atmosphere may be admitted. The university does not discriminate on the grounds of race, color, creed, disability, national or ethnic origin, sex, marital status, or handicap. On request it makes available to the public its annual financial report. To obtain a copy, contact the Office of the Vice President for Financial Administration at the address below

Every effort has been made to assure the accuracy of information in this bulletin. Students are advised, however, that bulletin provisions do not constitute a contract between a student and Andrews University and that attendance at Andrews University is a privilege and not a right. The university faculty and administration reserve the right to make and give public notice of such changes as deemed necessary during the period for which this bulletin is in effect.

Please contact the appropriate personnel for information pertaining to schools, departments, programs, and courses. For all other bulletin inquiries you may contact the Assistant Registrar for Publications & Communication in the Office of Academic Records by email at bulletin@andrews.edu or by phone at (269) 471–3233.

Andrews University Mission Statement

Andrews University, a distinctive Seventh-day Adventist Christian institution, transforms its students by educating them to seek knowledge and affirm faith in order to change the world.

Andrews University students will:

Seek Knowledge as they

- Engage in intellectual discovery and inquiry
- Demonstrate the ability to think clearly and critically
- Communicate effectively
- Understand life, learning, and civic responsibility from a Christian point of view
- Demonstrate competence in their chosen disciplines and professions

Affirm Faith as they

- Develop a personal relationship with Jesus Christ
- Deepen their faith commitment and practice
- Demonstrate personal and moral integrity
- Embrace a balanced lifestyle, including time for intellectual, social, spiritual, and physical development
- Apply understanding of cultural differences in diverse environments

Change the World as they go forth to

- Engage in creative problem-solving and innovation
- Engage in generous service to meet human needs
- Apply collaborative leadership to foster growth and promote change
- Engage in activities consistent with the worldwide mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church

The University

Andrews University was established over a century ago, in 1874, as Battle Creek College in Battle Creek, Michigan—a collegiate program that offered literature, languages, science and mathematics, training for teachers, and theology. Its founders, the visionaries of the young Seventh-day Adventist denomination, believed they should use every avenue to spread the gospel and serve the world, including higher education.

On the brink of a new century, seeking room for expansion and a fresh start, the school moved in 1901 to a beautiful site near the banks of the St. Joseph River in Berrien Springs and was renamed Emmanuel Missionary College. From woods and farmland on which faculty and students built three wooden frame buildings to hold their new school, the campus has grown to a property of 1,600 acres and a complex of academic buildings, residence halls and apartments, and service buildings.

The vision blossomed still further when, in 1959, the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and a school of graduate studies, together known as Potomac University and located in Washington, D.C., were moved to the campus of Emmanuel Missionary College. The following year the three entities united under one charter bearing the name Andrews University—with an integrated board of trustees, administration and faculty. The name honors John Nevins Andrews (1829–83), pioneer Adventist theologian and intellectual and the denomination's first official missionary to serve outside North America.

In 1974, the undergraduate division of Andrews was organized into two colleges—the College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Technology. The School of Business Administration, which evolved from the Department of Business Administration, was established in 1980. In a similar move, the Department of Education became the School of Education in 1983. The present organizational structure of the School of Graduate Studies was adopted in 1987. In 1993, the Department of Architecture became the Division of Architecture, and in 2012 became a school. It is now the School of Architecture & Interior Design. In 2011, the School of Distance Education was formed to support distance education and educational programs offered at locations across North America and the world. Because of the many international partnerships, the school has been renamed as the School of Distance Education & International Partnerships. Also in 2012, five departments housed in the College of Arts and Sciences together became the School of Health Professions. All of the colleges and schools offer both undergraduate and graduate degrees, except for the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, which maintains graduate and professional programs only. The only Seventh-day Adventist doctoral research university, Andrews University is also a comprehensive institution of higher learning integrating an exemplary liberal arts and sciences core with six prestigious professional schools and a number of excellent graduate programs.

Rooted in a tradition of visionaries who saw what was possible and enriched by an international and diverse faculty and student body, Andrews University now offers a wealth of choices in degree and certificate programs to prepare its graduates for life in a complex, fast-changing world. The goal of this distinguished institution, however, remains the same—to provide excellent academic programs in an environment of faith and generous service to God and humankind.

Accreditation

Recognizing that students benefit from studying at an accredited institution, Andrews University is accredited by the The Higher Learning Commission¹ for programs through the doctoral level, as well as by the Adventist Accrediting Association of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. Professional organizations have accredited specific degree programs of the University and other programs are moving toward accreditation. (Please see the complete listing of university accreditations, approvals, and memberships.)

Quality Academic Programs

The high quality of the educational experience at Andrews University is evidenced by its listing in U.S. News and World Report's annual report on "Best Colleges." Andrews University is also listed among the "30 Great Small Colleges for STEM Degrees." A strong undergraduate honors program attracts such outstanding students as National Merit Finalists, secondary-school valedictorians and others with outstanding secondary-school achievement.

Andrews provides a carefully designed advising program to help students make sound career choices. Undecided students can fulfill General Education requirements and learn practical skills through a variety of courses while they explore career options.

Students also develop skills for post-graduation employment. They develop those skills through practice teaching, career practica, cooperative work-study programs with businesses and corporations, or clinical rotations in health-care settings.

Students wishing to increase their academic success will benefit from comprehensive assessment of academic learning styles and skills, courses in reading, writing, and math and tutoring services (see Student Success and UCRLA)

International Opportunities

Each year, students from 80–100 different countries enroll at Andrews University. More than 20% of the students come from other countries. This places the university among the national universities in U.S. News and World Report's annual report with most international students. One experiences the reality of a global village while attending college.

International students who wish to immerse themselves fully in American culture may enroll in the Action America program on the Andrews campus. International education opportunities include study abroad, study tours and short-term service learning opportunities abroad.

Academic Resources

Andrews International Center for Educational Research Bell Hall, Room 269-471-6080

Andrews International Center for Educational Research (AICER) is the research and international service center for the School of Education. Its mission is to promote and disseminate faculty research on regional and global education, with a special focus on Adventist education. AICER seeks to promote research which develops the empirical knowledge-base and best-practices related to education through the development of a network of international researchers that provide technical research and evaluation services to international educational organizations. AICER's researchers focus their agendas on learning, teaching, spiritual and ethical development, educational leadership, and evaluations of programs. AICER promotes research in elementary, secondary and tertiary educational organizations as well as community groups engaged in educational services.

Architecture Resource Center
Architecture Building
269-471-2417

The Architecture Resource Center (ARC), a branch of the James White Library, provides the School of Architecture with a premier collection of resources for the study and research of architecture. The collection is of a broad scope with an academic focus in architecture and design. The ARC currently holds a collection of over 28,500 books and 106 periodical titles. The ARC stays current through its acquisitions by continually updating the collection with new titles in: books, monographs, periodicals, reference books, CDs and videos. It also supports other campus disciplines such as facility planning, educational and church architecture, environmental psychology, and behavioral science.

The ARC is the official repository of a special and growing collection of materials on environmental design research. This collection is made available as a result of our affiliation with the international group known as the Environmental Design Research Association (EDRA). The purpose of this collection is to advance the art and science of environmental design, to improve understanding of the interrelationships between people and the built environment and to create environments responsive to human needs. The interdisciplinary collection holds books, trade journals, EDRA proceedings, documents, technical papers, and multimedia materials supporting research in the discipline of environment and behavior. The collection has been developed over the past 30 years and continues to expand, existing as the most comprehensive collection in the world.

The ARC is fortunate to have two rare book collections. One was donated by Ronald Senseman, FAIA, an architect who practiced in his own firm for over 30 years in the Washington, D.C. area. This exceptional collection includes classic rare books and photographs of architecture dating from the 19th century to the present. Vernon Watson, a Chicago Prairie Style Architect, donated his valuable and rare book collection to the ARC. Mr. Watson designed Griggs Hall, which was the original campus library, as well as several Prairie Style homes in Berrien County. In addition the ARC is now the official repository for the EDRA archive collection. This means professors, scholars and researchers, if they choose, will donate their private and personal collections to the collected works in the ARC.

Center for College Faith

The Center for College Faith, which is open to all members of the Andrews University faculty, seeks to help faculty better understand and foster the faith development of college undergraduates. The stated mission of the Center is twofold. Specifically it acquires and disseminates knowledge about how college students develop in their Christian beliefs, values, and lifelong commitment to God, especially in relation to direct academic experience; and promotes the growth of a distinctly Christian undergraduate "culture of learning" informed by careful scholarship on the Andrews University campus.

Center for Adventist Research
James White Library, Lower Level car@andrews.edu
269-471-3209

The Center for Adventist Research (CAR) contains historical materials and resources on Seventh-day Adventist history and Ellen G. White, a key founder of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination. Comprised of the Adventist Heritage Center, the Ellen G. White Estate Branch Office, and AU Archives, the Center holds the largest collection of research materials on Seventh-day Adventism in the world. The CAR was formed in the fall of 2003 to better serve the campus community as well as the world community of Seventh-day Adventists by providing research support services as well as a significant outreach component. The Center and the Seminary Library cooperate to support theological education.

Adventist Heritage Center

Located within the Center for Adventist Research, the Adventist Heritage Center contains material on the history and development of the Millerite Movement and the Seventh-day Adventist Church since the 1840s to the present. Among the materials preserved at the Center are over 51,000 books and pamphlets, 24,000 periodical volumes, 12,500 microforms, 12,000 sound recordings and 3,000 video tapes. A sizeable number of the periodicals are non-English and represent the finest collection of its kind in the world including many one-of-a-kind titles. The Center holds nearly 300 collections (1,200 linear feet) of personal papers of notable church figures such as pioneers, administrators, teachers, ministers and missionaries. These collections provide a wide range of primary source documents. The center's archives contain 30,000 photographs of denominational and campus interest, an obituary file of nearly 200,000 names, and the records of early Adventist congregations. The SDA Periodical Index is edited at the Center.

Special collections of the Heritage Center include the Advent Source and the Conditional Immortality Source Collections which document the origins of Seventh-day Adventists, the development of prophetic interpretation and the history of the doctrine of conditional immortality. The George B. Suhrie Bible Collection features an extensive collection of Bibles. Rare materials include books dating as early as the 15th century and several original editions of Martin Luther and other Reformers' pamphlets. In 2005, the Review and Herald Publishing Association donated their rare book library (approximately 2,500 volumes) to the Center. The Voice of Prophecy and Faith for Today historical archives also are located at the Center.

Ellen G. White Estate Branch Office

Located within the Center for Adventist Research, the Ellen G. White Estate Branch Office contains a complete set of the letters and manuscripts of Ellen G. White (1827–1915). It also has copies of her books and articles, and thousands of pages of other documents related to the history and development of the Adventist Church.

The Branch Office houses numerous resources for students interested in research. The most important of these are (1) the Letter and Manuscript File of 60,000 pages with topical index; (2) the Ellen G. White published writings on compact disc (CD-ROM), making possible full-text computer searches of Ellen White's writings; (3) a Biographical Index covering the span of Ellen White's life and documenting her travels and activities; (4) 1,600 Manuscript Releases (with indexes); (5) an extensive Document File covering many aspects of the writings of Ellen White and of the history of the Seventh-day Adventist Church; and (6) a Question and Answer File with index.

Department of Digital Learning & Instructional Technology
Griggs Hall, Room 123
dlit@andrews.edu
269-471-3960

The Department of Digital Learning and Instructional Technology (DLIT) provides instructional technology leadership, support and resources to the faculty, staff, and students of Andrews University. DLIT serves main campus, online campus, and off campus programs. DLIT also oversees the operations of the Consortium of Adventist Colleges and Universities. DLIT provides technology support for enterprise level instructional technology tools such as LearningHub, the campus Moodle learning management system; student response systems (clickers); Panopto, our video streaming and recording service; and Zoom, our webinar and videoconferencing software. The Department of Digital Learning and Instructional Technology provides coordination and review for online program and course development, as well as technical support, instructional design advice and training, and materials design and conversion for course development for main campus, online campus, and off campus courses. For more information, visit DLIT in the School of Distance Education.

Center for Statistical Services
Bell Hall (Education), Room 212
269-471-6214
269-471-3478F

The Center for Statistical Services provides help with all aspects of empirical research. Services include: 1) research design, 2) development of questionnaires and measurement instruments, 3) data entry, 4) statistical analysis and 5) interpretation and reporting of results.

Center for Teaching and Learning Excellence
Mary Jane Mitchell Multimedia Center
James White Library, Top Level
269-471-3272

The Center for Teaching and Learning Excellence advances the ongoing professional growth of Andrews University faculty members related to their primary campus duty—teaching. By helping faculty members focus on student learning through various lenses—scholarship of teaching and learning, faith-learning integration, diversity, assessment and service, among others—the Center for Teaching and Learning Excellence promotes pedagogies of engagement that enrich the learning environment and lead to transformational teaching.

Center of Continuing Education for Ministry
Seminary Hall, Room N206
inministry@andrews.edu
269-471-3514

The Center of Continuing Education for Ministry (CCEM), housed in the InMinistry Center, primarily serves ministers in the North American Division. CCEM provides continuing education for ministry employees of the church. It identifies, develops, and promotes continuing education courses and events and issues CEU certificates. More info: <https://www.andrews.edu/sem/inministry/> or inministry@andrews.edu.

Greek Manuscript Research Center
269-471-3313

The Greek Manuscript Research Center (GMRC) is part of the Department of New Testament of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary. Its primary goal is to help develop a more complete understanding and appreciation of Christianity's primary documents—the original, handwritten Greek manuscripts of the New Testament copied over a 1,200-year period. The GMRC is a participant in the International Greek New Testament Project, an ongoing venture of American and European scholars seeking to create an exhaustive multi-volume reference tool that documents every variant in all known, surviving Greek manuscripts of the New Testament. The GMRC holds one of the largest collections of microfilmed Greek manuscripts in North America.

Horn Archaeological Museum
9047 Old US 31
(Open Saturdays 3–5 pm)
hornmuseum@andrews.edu
269-471-3273

An archaeological museum named for its founder and first curator, Siegfried H. Horn (1908-1993), the Horn Archaeological Museum houses over 8,500 ancient Near-Eastern artifacts including coins, pottery, sculptures, tools, weapons, figurines, jewelry, seals and glass vessels. Nearly half of these objects came from university-sponsored archaeological excavations at Tel Gezer, Israel; and Tall Hisban, Tall al-Umayri and Tall Jalul, Jordan.

The museum building, which is shared with the Institute of Archaeology (see Institute of Archaeology), contains offices, work rooms, the Siegfried Horn Archaeological Library, and the collection display area. Eleven oil-painted murals by Nathan Greene help visitors understand the cultures of Bible times. A special viewing room contains the Andrews University Cuneiform Texts (formerly the Hartford Cuneiform Tablet Collection). This collection has 3,000 ancient clay tablets dating from the Sumerian period to Neo-Babylonian times. The museum sponsors a regular lecture series, occasional field trips and a quarterly subscription newsletter.

InMinistry Center Seminary Hall, Room N206
269-471-3514

A ministry of the North American Division, the InMinistry Center specializes in providing off-campus seminary education. The Center facilitates masters-level learning events at most NAD unions for the MA in Pastoral Ministry degree, and the first part of the Master of Divinity. It also houses the Center of Continuing Education for Ministry For more info: <https://www.andrews.edu/sem/inministry/> or inministry@andrews.edu.

Institute for Prevention of Addictions
Adjacent to the Sutherland House ipa@andrews.edu
269-471-3558

The Institute for Prevention of Addictions (IPA) conducts research focused on the extent and causes of the use and abuse of alcohol and drugs as well as other addictions and risk behaviors. Based on this research it fosters prevention education programs and policies designed to reduce youth risk behaviors. The IPA provides specialized resource services and consultation to Church, government and private agencies on policy and program initiatives designed to prevent youth risk behavior. The IPA is supported by Andrews University and General Conference Presidential, as well as projects sponsored by assorted foundations, governmental and private agencies. The IPA is affiliated with the Department of Health Ministries of the General Conference of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and the International Commission for the Prevention of Alcoholism & Drug Dependency (ICPA). It works through program centers for prevention, policy, education, and research and evaluation. The Institute associates with organizations whose goals harmonize with its philosophy and objectives.

Institute of Archaeology
9047 Old US 31
hornmuseum@andrews.edu
269-471-3273

The Andrews University Institute of Archaeology coordinates the archaeological programs and activities of the university. It fosters archaeological research, publication, and education at Andrews University, the communities of Michiana, and all entities of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The institute 1) offers courses through the seminary which directly or significantly relate to the study of archaeology, 2) sponsors regular visits by distinguished archaeologists for the purpose of lecturing and consulting, 3) organizes public tours, 4) presents archaeological programs for churches and schools, 5) provides opportunity for field and laboratory training through its excavations and surveys in the Middle East and Michiana and the subsequent analysis of these activities, 6) supports the work of the Horn Archaeological Museum in collecting and interpreting artifacts and 7) publishes results of excavations and research in annuals, monographs and occasional papers.

Institute of Church Ministry
Seminary Hall
269-471-3407

The Institute of Church Ministry (ICM), an entity of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, shares the expertise and resources of Andrews University with the Seventh-day Adventist Church in North America, thus aiding denominational leaders in the accomplishment of its goals. The ICM serves as a North American Division Strategic Resource Center but also works for the General Conference, local conferences, local churches and Adventist journals. ICM also represents the North American Division in the Cooperative Congregational Studies Partnership (CCSP) of various faith groups under the direction of the Hartford Institute for Religion Studies.

The work of ICM springs from the belief that the tools of social science can join with biblical and theological insights to advance the objectives of the Church. Its mission is conducted through field-based research concerning Adventist youth, lay-member involvement, congregational studies, training for ministry, church growth, church-giving patterns, Adventist women in leadership, Adventist Hispanics. and the attitudes of Adventist members on various issues.

Institute of Hispanic Ministry
Seminary Hall, Room N210
hispanicministry@andrews.edu
269-471-6170

The Institute of Hispanic Ministry (IHM) of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary responds to the growing needs of Hispanic congregations in North America and beyond.

The tasks of the IHM include providing graduate-level study for Hispanic pastors both on and off campus and assisting in various ways a continuing education for Hispanic ministers. It coordinates the Hispanic MA in Pastoral Ministry and supports Hispanic courses in the MDiv and DMin programs. The IHM also provides support systems for Hispanic ministry and churches that are in transition culturally and linguistically. It encourages research and the dissemination of its findings for the Seventh-day Adventist Church at large.

Institute of Jewish-Christian Studies
269-471-3349

Jews and Seventh-day Adventists share much of the same spiritual heritage and the same ideals of hope and lifestyle. Moreover, since the events of Auschwitz during World War II, Jewish-Christian issues have become a relevant part of theological concern. Therefore, the Institute of Jewish-Christian Studies organizes meetings with world renowned experts, provides a wide range of educational material and supplements the graduate programs of the Seminary with concentrations in Jewish-Christian studies. These include courses in Jewish History, rabbinics and languages. In all its work, the Institute seeks to train lay persons and ministers to foster constructive relations with Jews in their communities and to develop a global consciousness in all outreach and service.

Institutional Effectiveness
Bell Hall, Room 206
269-471-3308

The Office of Institutional Effectiveness coordinates three major aspects of University support: assessment, accreditation, and institutional research. The office assists faculty in the development and measurement of student learning outcomes, and oversees assessment of outcomes related to the University's mission as well as general education. Assessment and institutional research data are used to enhance the quality of Andrews University's programs and services, and to inform institutional planning.

Center for Intensive English Programs (CIEP)
269-471-2260

The Center for Intensive English Language Programs (CIEP) offers a courtesy placement test for incoming students to assess language proficiency. Classes in the English for Academic Purposes (EAP) Program are offered in grammar, reading & writing, listening & speaking, pronunciation, reading & discussion, conversation skills, public speaking skills, and academic writing for students whose first language is not English and who do not meet English proficiency requirements as listed in the Bulletin. The EAP is offered in Fall semester, Spring semester, and in a June/July Summer semester. A short-term intensive study session, combined with cultural and professional experiences and travel, is offered through the Andrews English Experience Program (formerly called Action America) in July. The CIEP also participates in the Language Bridge Program, providing the ESL classes that students take to meet the requirements of the Language Bridge Program. Tutorial services can be arranged for a fee on a case-by-case basis, and certain specialized English classes, such as a TOEFL preparation class, are offered for a fee and are open to the community.

International Religious Liberty Institute
269-471-3500

The purpose of the International Religious Liberty Institute is to foster the study of the principles of religious liberty and church-state relations upon sound methods of biblical, historical, legal and philosophical scholarship and to spread these principles through publications, lectureships, conferences, symposiums and the support of public advocacy.

James White Library
269-471-3275

The James White Library and its two branches hold print books, bound periodical volumes and multimedia materials totaling more than 1.6 million items. The 100,000 square-foot main library provides study and research facilities and the library faculty provide reference and consultation and a library instruction program, a library liaison program for collection development, and interlibrary loan services.

The strongest collections are in religion, education, architecture and Adventist publications and resources. The library's automated catalog, JeWeL, can be accessed through the campus computer network as well as globally through the Internet. Through the library website 155 major electronic databases can be accessed through the Internet and from any of the 70 public computer stations located in the main library and its branches. Linking software provides links from the database search results to the library's over 44,000 print and electronic periodical titles.

Through the Michigan Library Consortium, the library provides access to MeLCat, a statewide union catalog, patron-initiated interlibrary loan service and book delivery system. Students, faculty and staff can access over 7.8 million unique books and other materials through MeLCat.

The library also has access to the OCLC Online Computer Library Center for cataloging and interlibrary loan information based on data from 69,000 libraries in 112 countries representing over 470 languages and dialects.

The Seminary Library, the Center for Adventist Research and the Mary Jane Mitchell Multimedia Center are housed in the main library. The Architecture Resource Center and the Music Materials Center are located in their respective departmental buildings on campus.

North American Division Evangelism Institute
Seminary Hall, Room S303
269-471-8303

The North American Division Evangelism Institute (NADEI) provides field-related training to seminarians that includes public evangelism, church growth, small groups, evangelistic preaching, lay ministry empowerment, Bible studies, and other outreach ministries. In addition, NADEI sponsors SEEDS (church planting), ChurchWorks, Ministry Coaching, Equipping University, and H.O.P.E. University seminars and conferences on behalf of church entities throughout the NAD for the continuing development of lay and full-time ministry. NADEI is operated by the North American Division as a separate entity, but it works with the seminary in administering and developing its program.

Marine Biological Field Station
Anacortes, Washington Department of Biology
360-293-2326
269-471-3243

Andrews University is affiliated with Walla Walla University (College Place, Wash.) in the operation of a marine biological field station located at Rosario Beach in Washington State's Puget Sound. The station provides facilities for undergraduate and graduate study and research. The site is near a biological spectrum from sea bottom to Alpine tundra that provides unique opportunities for instruction and investigation.

Mary Jane Mitchell Multimedia Center
269-471-3272

The Multimedia Center is the primary library location for microforms, audiovisual materials (cassettes, videotapes, etc.), multimedia and pamphlets and serves the entire university. It also includes a textbook collection for the School of Education, houses small collections of children's and young adult literature and a small computer lab for general patron use. A computer workstation is dedicated to serve disabled students. The Clear View magnifying reading machine and the Kurtzweil 3000 program are available.

Music Materials Center
Hamel Hall
269-471-6217

The Music Materials Center (MMC) is a branch library of the James White Library, located in Hamel Hall. Services and materials provided include: specialized music reference service, recordings and listening facilities, scores, reference materials to support the study of music, and assistance in the use of electronic materials. Primary areas of study supported include performance, music history and literature, music theory and composition, church music, music education and music studied as part of the general education curriculum.

The MMC contains over 8,000 sound recordings, 12,000 musical scores, 2,000 reference books, and current issues of 30 print periodicals. The major portion of the James White Library's collection of books, bound print periodicals and visual materials are housed in the main library.

Additional materials for the study of music are found in the main library's Information Services Department and in JWL's electronic collection.

Mathematics Center
269-471-6662

The Mathematics Tutoring Center provides free assistance for students enrolled in University mathematics courses. Faculty and staff are also invited to visit the Center for help. The Center is equipped with eight computers that can be used for ALEKS and other web-based math assignments. An appointment is not necessary. For more information and the most current schedule, see the posted schedule or call the Department of Mathematics at 471-3423.

Museum of Natural History
Price Hall (Science Complex) Lower Level
269-471-3243

The Museum of Natural History is a display used by students and visited by hundreds of people annually. The most complete skeleton of a woolly mammoth ever found in Michigan is displayed in the museum.

Donors have contributed collections of over 30,000 marine shells, 1,600 birds, and 1,400 mammals as well as hundreds of butterflies and other insects. The museum also includes over 5,000 botanical specimens in the herbarium section. A collection of antique microscopes is also displayed.

Seminary Library
James White Library, Main Level
269-471-3269

The Seminary Library is an integral part of the James White Library and the Theological Seminary. It provides collections and services that support the Seminary students and faculty. Seminary Library resources include approximately 150,000 books, 500 periodical subscriptions and 18,000 volumes of bound periodicals.

Biblical studies and practical theology are the major strengths of its holdings. Subject areas of special interest to Seventh-day Adventists are especially strong, including the biblical books of Daniel and Revelation, creationism, the Sabbath, and the second advent. Together with the Center for Adventist Research, the Seminary Library provides the most complete research collection for Adventist studies anywhere. Graduate level collections on systematic theology, missions, church history and biblical archaeology are also featured.

Seminary Online Learning Center
S144 Seminary Building
solc@andrews.edu
269-471-3962

The Seminary Online Learning Center (SOLC) offers a variety of distance education courses at the graduate level. These online courses not only serve students who are enrolled in different Seminary programs on campus and off campus, but support faculty and students who are working at their local churches throughout the states, and around the world, by promoting partnership and creating community to nurture Adventist education. The Seminary partners with the Department of Digital Learning and Instructional Technology (DLIT) which helps in the development, technical support and design of the online courses.

Student Success Center
Nethery Hall, Room 100
success@andrews.edu
269-471-6096

The Student Success Center (SSC) exists for the sole purpose of helping students succeed. This center supplements the educational process by providing academic guidance, support and developmental instruction. The SSC collaborates to identify students' needs; to facilitate their physical, emotional, social, intellectual and spiritual development through support and leadership; and to provide resources for faculty, staff, and parents who share their concerns for student success. The Student Success Center serves as a resource for all students—from freshmen to doctoral candidates—in all schools of the University. The SSC also networks with all other campus support centers and functions as a referral base for students and advisors.

The Student Success Center

- facilitates academic advising for undergraduates
- maintains on-campus referral and academic support information for all students
- effects major and advisor changes for undergraduate students
- manages a peer-to-peer tutoring class for undergraduate students
- facilitates accommodations for any student with documented disabilities
- provides guidance for students who need to have a disability documented
- coordinates student interventions, providing follow-up as needed

- serves as a central referral service to forward placement opportunities to academic advisors

University Center for Reading, Learning & Assessment

Bell Hall, Suite 200
269-471-3480

The University Center for Reading, Learning and Assessment addresses learning and reading-skill needs through classes and tutoring. It helps students to strengthen their God-given abilities and natural gifts. Academic assessment and tutoring services of the center are available to Andrews students, faculty, staff and community for a fee. Students with learning problems are nurtured towards the goal of successful course work. The Center also offers Orton-Gillingham based, multisensory intervention for those who have dyslexia.

Reading skills developed in the center include speed-reading, study reading, vocabulary, word recognition or decoding skills, spelling and handwriting. Students, faculty and staff may use equipment and materials for personal reading improvement on a self-help basis for a fee. Average to excellent readers as well as those having difficulty with reading are served.

The center offers a class that covers memory, learning styles, time management, temperament, mind style and emotional condition. A follow-up class includes coordination with advisors, teachers and staff to help the student and provide individualized and small-group support.

Writing Center

Nethery Hall, Room 101
writery@andrews.edu
269-471-3358

The Writing Center provides students with individualized instruction by fellow students on basic writing skills and strategies. Services of the center include computer-assisted tutorial sessions, drop-in help and a library of rhetoric and usage texts. The Writing Center also offers occasional review sessions on general writing problems.

Christian Leadership Center

269-471-8332

The Christian Leadership Center is an interdisciplinary organization of Andrews University providing inspiration, ongoing leadership development, coaching, consultation and research for a network of church and community leadership throughout the world. The Center's office is located in the Theological Seminary. The Center's vision is a network of Christian leaders who provide outstanding leadership for church, business and educational organizations throughout the local community and the world.

The Center provides a place for academicians and field practitioners to link in a process of theological reflection that shapes the Seventh-day Adventist Church's understanding of leadership and clarifies transformational leadership development across cultures. The biblically-based model of servant leadership promoted by the Christian Leadership Center grows from that reflection. The Center focuses on transformation of the person, development of essential leadership patterns and formation of administrative skills through various programs offered to community and church organizations. Visit the Center online at www.andrews.edu/clc/.

Employment

Administration Building, Main Floor

Box Office 471-3560

Fax 471-3565

The Howard Center is the performance home for the Andrews University music ensembles: the Symphony Orchestra, Wind Symphony, University Singers, University Chorale, Men's Chorus and Santa Bella. The Howard Center also hosts Howard Center Presents... a concert series with a blend of musical genres. It has hosted classical artists such as Canadian Brass, Vienna Boys Choir and King's Singers, as well as Christian artists such as Sandi Patty, Point of Grace, SELAH and Take 6. The on-campus radio station, WAUS FM 90.7, which is also located in the Howard Center, sponsors a chamber music series, Second Sunday Concert Series.

In addition, during the school year the Howard Center is home to the monthly Friday evening vesper service Fusion, which merges together all Friday night worship services, creating a dynamic and diverse worship experience. Students studying music at Andrews University also present their junior and senior recitals as a part of their requirements for graduation in the Howard Center.

The Howard Center was funded in part by a significant gift from John and Dede Howard, longtime members of the St. Joseph community, who now reside in Holland, Michigan.

The Howard Center is an important center of activity on campus. The concert hall offers a variety of concerts and other performances throughout the school year. Visit www.howard.andrews.edu/events for a complete listing of events.

Information Technology Services

Information Services Building

269-471-6016

Information Technology Services (ITS) provides a variety of services for students, faculty and staff. These services include support of administrative records systems, networking infrastructure, telecommunications and support for students, faculty and staff computer use.

Internet access is available on campus for all students, faculty and staff. A wireless network is available in many locations on campus, allowing students, faculty and staff to connect to the Internet with an 802.11 abgn wireless enabled device. Campus residence halls have Ethernet network connections in each room allowing students to connect to the Internet. High speed Internet access is available in the Beechwood, Garland and Maplewood apartments.

The ITS Computer Store provides certain hardware and software resources at educational pricing. The Microsoft Office Suite and latest Microsoft operating system are available through a Microsoft Campus License Agreement for the cost of the media. Anti-virus software for Windows-based computers is also available for students, faculty and staff personal use for the cost of the media. ITS also maintains a limited phone assistance service for hardware or software questions. Telecommunications services provided by ITS in residence hall or apartment packages include local phone service with unlimited local calling, caller ID, call waiting and basic CATV service. Premium CATV service is provided for an additional fee. (For more information call 471-3455).

Our Values, Your Choice

Andrews University is a Christian community where Christ is celebrated and reflected in the academic, social, physical and spiritual experiences of its members. As a Seventh-day Adventist institution, we seek to integrate faith, learning and living, while each of us matures in our relationships with God and each other.

By deciding to attend Andrews University, students choose to be part of this uniquely Christian atmosphere. Every enrolled undergraduate student pursuing an on-campus degree signs a "Community Values Agreement" in which they affirm their decision:

1. To attend a faith-based university by respecting Andrews University's Seventh-day Adventist Christian perspective and values. See the section "A Faith-Based University."
2. To adopt a healthy lifestyle guided on and off campus by the core values of the Andrews University community. See the section "A Healthy Lifestyle."
3. To live on a residential campus in a University residence hall while a single undergraduate student under the age of 22 (unless living with an approved family member or Andrews faculty or staff member) and,

while an undergraduate resident, to participate in a meal plan at the University's vegetarian cafeteria. See the section "A Residential Campus."

4. To engage a whole-person approach to education and, while an undergraduate or Seminary student, to attend required co-curricular programs. See the section "A Whole Person Approach."

Distance degree and PTC (Permission to Take Classes for non-degree purposes) students complete a "Community Values Agreement" in which they note their understanding and respect of the Andrews University commitment to embrace core Seventh-day Adventist Christian values. Distance degree and PTC students are invited to consider these values as they strive to remain in good standing with their local communities and to optimize the benefits of the University's whole-person educational philosophy.

A Faith-Based University

Seventh-day Adventist Faith and Values

Students attending Andrews University soon learn that our Seventh-day Adventist faith and values set us apart. Our distinctive Christian perspective, guided by our understanding of Scripture, informs our faith as well as our practice. This becomes evident as students encounter a seventh-day Sabbath of rest and worship, wholesome recreational and entertainment choices, an emphasis on healthful living, concern for others through local and global service, the care of dedicated staff and professors, and a hopeful view of the present and future as found in Jesus Christ.

Campus Ministries

The Office of Campus Ministries promotes faith development through pastoral care, resources and services to the University campus. The University chaplain and associate chaplains function to enrich the faith and intellectual life of the campus through incarnational ministry and the provision of a variety of opportunities appropriate to a spiritual, cultural and socially diverse student and professional population. The chaplains operate at a level that ignites the passion of those who have been transformed by or are considering a relationship with Jesus Christ.

The essential question for the existence for AUCM is embraced in the transformative prayer of Jesus in the Gospel of John chapter 17. Here Jesus' heart for a close and life-changing relationship with man is revealed. Campus Ministries exists to promote close proximity with God. In this PROXIMITY our goals are to:

- Be Clear on who God is: "And this is eternal life that they may know you, the only true God and Jesus Christ whom you have sent." John 17:3
- Be Close to God: "The glory which you gave me I have given them, that they may be one just as we are one....Father I desire that they whom You gave me be with me where I am." John 17:23-24
- Be Clean by God: "Sanctify them by your truth. Your word is truth." John 17:17
"I give myself as a holy sacrifice for them so they can be made holy by your truth." John 17:19
- Be Confident in God's Calling: "As you sent me into the world, I have sent them into the world." John 17:18

A Whole Person Approach

Students engage in faith and learning outside the classroom as part of a comprehensive educational experience, developing skills and dispositions that complement their academic degrees. Undergraduate students and Seminary students agree to participate in a minimum number of co-curricular experiences each semester.

Co-curricular learning targets individual and campus community outcomes in four areas.

- A Healthy U focuses on building physical fitness, maintaining a balanced diet and achieving personal wellbeing.
- A Successful U focuses on sharpening academic skills, boosting creative capacities and ensuring career readiness.
- A Committed U focuses on engaging in faith development, seeking spiritual support and pursuing a life purpose.
- A Better U focuses on gaining cultural competence, practicing service to others and developing leadership ability.

Together with the academic curriculum, co-curricular education delivers the whole-person education at the heart of Andrews University's mission.

To learn more about the undergraduate co-curricular requirement, including program structure, costs and expectations, please refer to bulletin.andrews.edu > Student Handbook > A Whole Person Approach.

A Residential Campus

Residential Living Policy

Andrews University is operated as a residential college on the undergraduate level. The University also offers residential options for graduate students. This means that the residential environment plays a significant role in the mission of the University and its efforts to foster the holistic development of each student.

Therefore, in accordance with the University's Residential Living Policy, all single undergraduate students under 22 years of age who are (1) pursuing an on-campus degree and taking seven or more credits (including distance learning courses) or (2) enrolled in full-time language study must live in one of the University residence halls and participate in a meal plan at the University's cafeteria. Single undergraduate students must be 22 years of age by the first day of a semester in order to be approved to live in the community for that semester.

Costs associated with residence hall living are part of the investment in an Andrews University education, thus the Student Life office does not make exceptions to the Residential Living Policy on the basis of financial need.

To review the complete Residential Living Policy, please refer to andrews.edu/sl and to the "Student Handbook" at bulletin.andrews.edu > Student Handbook > Residential Living Policy.

Residence Halls

The University maintains three residence halls: Lamson Hall (for women), Meier Hall (for men), and University Towers. University Towers is a residence hall designed for single, older students—Damazo is for undergraduate age 22+ and graduate females, while Burman is for undergraduate age 21+ and graduate males. Double-occupancy rooms are standard. Single occupancy is permitted by special request, if space allows, for an additional fee.

Apartments and Houses for Rent

The University owns 304 apartments and 36 houses. The apartments are available to married students, students with children, and single undergraduate age 22+ and graduate students. Accommodations are available only to those who have been officially accepted as university students. Since apartments are limited, applicants are advised to apply six to nine months before their first semester of studies.

Most apartments are furnished. Tenants must supply their own linen and kitchen utensils. Unfurnished apartments have a stove and refrigerator. Pianos may be placed in the apartments only by prior arrangement with the University Apartments director. Pets are not allowed in University apartments or houses.

Further information on University housing may be obtained through the "University Apartments Handbook" online. Please visit andrews.edu/apartments for applications and further information.

If internet access is desired in the apartments, a modem must be obtained from the Office of University Apartments. There is a $100 refundable deposit required for this.

Non-Residence Hall Housing

Students living in non-residence hall housing must abide by the expectations outlined in the "Student Handbook" and the non-residence hall housing policy. All students living off-campus must maintain high moral standards in their choice of guests and entertainment; otherwise, they could be subject to discipline. Unmarried, unrelated students must not live in the same shared dwelling with members of the opposite sex.

A Healthy Lifestyle

Core Christian Values

Students who choose to attend Andrews University agree to adopt a healthy lifestyle and to maintain high standards of conduct. These standards are part of the spiritual mission and heritage of the University. They reflect biblically grounded values such as honesty, modesty, sexual purity, respect for others and their safety, and healthful living.

Code of Student Conduct

The Code of Student Conduct is detailed in the "Student Handbook" and provides examples of violations that may result in serious consequences. Students may obtain a copy of the "Handbook" at the Student Life office (or online at andrews.edu/sl). Any regulation adopted and published by the administration in more informal written communication or online has the same force as regulations printed in official publications.

Code violations include, but are not limited to, the use or possession of tobacco, alcoholic beverages, illegal drugs or dishonestly acquired or misused prescription drugs; dishonesty; sexual immorality; physical abuse or assault as well as domestic/relationship violence; sexual misconduct including but not limited to nonconsensual sexual contact, nonconsensual penetration, sexual exploitation and sexual harassment; theft; vandalism; lingering in proximity to alcohol, illegal drugs or drug paraphernalia, such as in events or parties where alcohol or illegal drugs, etc., are present and served by another host; hosting/planning events in one's own residence or elsewhere where alcohol is served or consumed and/or illegal drugs or drug paraphernalia are present; patronizing places of questionable entertainment or activities such as sexually suggestive or explicit dancing; profanity or vulgarity; possessing lewd or obscene materials; on-campus possession of weapons, firearms or look-alike firearms; engaging in improper associations—participating in organizations that have not been registered with and approved by the Student Life office; insubordination of a University official; disrespect or slander; and threatening and harassing behavior.

Accountability

Admission to the University is not a right. It is a privilege that entails acceptance of individual responsibility for honor, integrity and self-discipline. The University understands that all human beings are flawed and seeks to work with each student in a redemptive manner. However, students should expect to receive consequences up to and including dismissal from the University if they engage in activities or behaviors that violate the University's core values or if their presence damages the mission and function of the institution. This includes activities and behaviors outlined in the Code of Student Conduct, whether these activities and behaviors take place on-campus, off-campus or in cyber communities.

Community Values Agreement

Undergraduates are required to sign a "Community Values Agreement" as part of their registration each academic year. By signing this document, students agree to support a healthy lifestyle and to respect the faith-based values of the University. They also agree to abide by the University's residential policy and to participate in required co-curricular programs.

Student Activities and Organizations

The University encourages students to participate in as many co-curricular activities and organizations as their study-work loads permit. Experience gained in working with others to achieve common goals provides invaluable training. Some of the more prominent campus organizations and activities are described below. A complete list of campus organizations is available from the Office of Student Activities & Involvement via OrgSync.

Andrews University Student Association (AUSA) and Publications

The Student Association serves all undergraduate students enrolled at Andrews University for 6 or more credits. AUSA sponsors recreational and educational activities for the undergraduate student body. It responds to student needs and serves as a collective voice for student concerns. Additionally, it coordinates activities that include the publishing of the "Cast" (pictorial student directory), the "Cardinal" (University yearbook), and the "Student Movement" (University student paper). The editors and managers of these publications are approved by the Student Association Senate and elected by the members of AUSA. The Senate, composed of about 30 student leaders, exercises legislative and management powers given to it by the constitution of the Association.

Details about AUSA and its sub-organizations appear in the "Andrews University Student Association Constitution and Bylaws."

Andrews University Graduate Student Association

All graduate students enrolled with regular or provisional status in a degree program in all schools and colleges at the Berrien Springs campus of Andrews University are automatically members of the Andrews University Graduate Student Association (AUGSA). The AUGSA assembly includes all AUGSA members and is governed by representative officers who meet regularly and report to the assembly.

The AUGSA sponsors social, spiritual and scholarly activities during the school year. It may also be involved in University policy development that affects graduate students. Details about AUGSA are found in the Constitution of the Andrews University Graduate Student Association.

Student Clubs and Organizations

Numerous campus organizations serve the social, spiritual, academic and leisure interests of students. Clubs for international and cultural groups, as well as those for commonly held pursuits and causes, provide for the diverse interests of students. Student organizations must be overseen by a full-time staff or faculty sponsor, led by at least three student officers, and guided by an official constitution. Organizations must register in the Andrews OrgSync portal each year with the Office of Student Activities & Involvement in order to function on campus. Students are not allowed to participate in unregistered organizations, and those who do jeopardize their student status. A list of registered organizations can be found on the Andrews OrgSync portal.

Student Records

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), gives students certain rights relating to educational records that are created and maintained by the University. The University is not obligated to maintain educational records and thus some educational records are destroyed. Students may inspect and review their educational records and may, if they believe the records are incorrect, seek to have records corrected through appropriate review procedures. The full policy that governs student records and access to them is available in the "Student Handbook." Students who wish to review their academic records should make a request through the Office of Academic Records; students who wish to review their Student Life records should make a request through the Student Life office. The student may be asked to care for the reproduction costs of copies of records requested by the student.

Information Released to Third Parties

In accordance with FERPA, Andrews University does not disclose personally identifiable information from educational records without a student's consent except in limited circumstances. FERPA does permit institutions to define classes of information as "directory information." FERPA permits the disclosure of directory information without the consent of the student, unless the student has informed the University Registrar, in writing, of her/his refusal to permit the dissemination of directory information. A form for opting out of the disclosure of directory information, which must be filled out and submitted each semester, is available in the Office of Registrar. The University has designated the following information as "directory information": name, local address, local telephone number, email address, gender, marital status, hometown, date and place of birth, school, academic program (degree, major and minor), enrollment status, class standing/classification (i.e., freshman, sophomore, junior, senior or graduate), participation in officially recognized activities, dates of attendance, degree(s) received, honors and awards, and photographs. Even where directory information may be released, Andrews University reserves the right to withhold such information from third parties.

Safety Regulations

Andrews University expects students to develop safe working habits. Students who participate in classes, laboratories or activities involving situations considered hazardous, as specified by the state or national standards, must provide and wear any such required personal safety equipment. If you are unsure of the required safety procedures, please contact Campus Safety at 269-471-3321.

Motor Vehicles

Andrews requires all vehicles on campus to register with the Office of Campus Safety. Drivers must follow posted speed limits and parking designations.

Vehicle Registration

You must show a valid state registration, current proof of insurance and driver's license. Upon registering you will receive a decal which must be affixed to your vehicle's window as intended. Failure to register your vehicle may result in a fine.

Auto Licensing

All vehicles on campus must maintain current home state license plates.

Auto Insurance

All vehicles must be covered with liability insurance while driven on campus. Expiration or cancellation of insurance automatically revokes motor-vehicle registration and driving privileges. All vehicles must be maintained in legal operating condition while on property.

AU Alert

To ensure multiple means of emergency communication for our campus, Andrews University uses a third party company, Rave Mobile Safety, to send emergency notification alerts to the campus via AU Alert.

AU Alert sends out text messages, emails, and voice calls to registered recipients. The system will also post alerts to University Facebook accounts or Twitter accounts with the emergency information. AU Alert notices are intended only for situations involving imminent danger to health or human safety. These may include severe weather alerts, winter weather class cancellations, hostile threats, utility failure, major road closings or fire, among others.

To receive emergency alert text messages, emails, or voice calls, please visit getrave.com/login/andrews/ and login with your Andrews University username and password.

Rave Alert does not charge subscribers to send or receive SMS messages. Standard or other messaging charges apply depending upon your wireless carrier plan and subscription details. Once registered, you can opt out of SMS messages at any time by texting STOP to 67283 or 226787.

Dining Services

Dedicated to providing our guests the finest in Vegetarian and Vegan dining options, Bon Appetit at Andrews University Dining Services is committed to creating food that is alive with flavor and nutrition and prepared from scratch using authentic ingredients. We do this in a socially responsible manner for the wellbeing of our guests, communities and the environment.

Our main office is located on the first floor of the Campus Center with convenient weekday hours to assist students with their residence hall meal plans or Cafe Accounts. Guests with questions or concerns are welcome to stop in anytime during office hours. Guests with special dietary needs are invited to meet with the General Manager and the Executive Chef to discuss how those needs can be met--please contact jonathan.daniels@cafebonappetit.com for more information. For guests choosing to dine with us on Sabbath, please come in during the week to set up a Cafe Account that can be used to purchase your Sabbath meal.

We have several dining options from which to choose--all accept your residence hall meal plan, cafe account, cash and credit/debit cards.

The Terrace Cafe is located on the second floor and features an all-you-care-to-eat format with several dining options from which to choose. Andrews Classics features favorite dishes from around the world and Classics Too offers healthy dining alternatives with a focus on special dietary needs. Our Grill features a variety of Latin foods that are self-serve for your convenience. The Salad Bar and Deli area has a wide variety of fresh ingredients and delicious breads to make your own salad, sandwich or panini. The World Market features scratch-made pizzas and a variety of delicious stir-fry options with scratch-made sauces. Our Breakfast Zone offers waffles, cereal, an assortment of beverages and yogurt. Be sure to visit the Bakery for a delicious selection of sweet treats.

The beautiful Dining Room is equipped with booth seating as well as table seating next to the large stone fireplace. Several smaller conference rooms can accommodate your private group needs. Our Front of House team will be happy to assist you with seasonal and creative fresh food ideas and personal service. Guests wishing to dine in our event rooms utilizing the Terrace Cafe meal option should contact ds@andrews.edu to book that event.

The Gazebo is located downstairs across from the Office of Dining Services. The Gazebo features a large selection of scratch-made smoothies, salads, burrito wraps, sub sandwiches and hot grilled dishes. You can also choose from a wide variety of locally baked pastries, grab-and-go sandwiches, salads and parfait cups. There is a retail area that sells convenience items and snacks.

Vending Services are available in various buildings across campus and provide quick snacks and drinks for our guests.

Catering Services are available for guests wishing to customize a meal and create a special event. Guests wishing to book a catering event should contact catering@andrews.edu for assistance. We offer catering services to any on-campus venue and a variety of off-campus locations.

Additional information and menus are available on the Dining Services website at <http://andrews-university.cafebonappetit.com/>. For daily menu alerts, upcoming special events and more information about Dining Services, be sure to follow us on Facebook at Andrews University Dining Services.

Medical Services

Required Medical Records

Michigan State Law requires all first-time students to supply certain medical records to the school of their choice before registration can be completed. The required records are those for (1) Tuberculosis Screening and (2) Measles, Mumps, and Rubella (German Measles) Immunization (MMR). See the admission section of this "Bulletin" for detailed requirements.

Available Medical Care

For health needs, students may contact University Medical Specialties, located next to the Apple Valley Plaza. Phone 269-473-2222 during office hours (8 a.m.–5 p.m., Monday–Thursday, and 8 a.m.–12 noon, Friday) to schedule appointments.

Physician appointments and nurse visits, as well as most short-term medications, are available to residence hall students. These basic services are included in the rent/health plan and are not charged separately to the residence hall student. However, charges are made for lab work, X-rays and accident cases involving third-party liability. University Medical Specialties (UMS) charges the insurance company for any coverage applicable to the services provided to residence hall students, thus students should take their insurance information with them when utilizing UMS services. UMS waives any copay or deductible (for the student/family) for the limited health care provided.

Non-residence-hall students living in the apartments or off-campus housing may use University Medical Specialties according to established fees.

For emergencies outside of regularly scheduled office hours, students may reach a physician at 269-473-2222.

Insurance—Injury/Sickness

Every international student in "student status" and every other student with a minimum of part-time enrollment status is required to be covered by an Injury and Sickness insurance plan--please visit the website for exceptions. The student will be able to select coverage by completing the student insurance section in Registration Central. The payment for this coverage is charged to the student's account the same as tuition and is non-refundable. Students who have proof of alternative insurance that is equal to or exceeds the minimum coverage and provisions offered by the AU plan may waive the University plan by completing a waiver in the student insurance portion of Registration Central and presenting their insurance card to the Student Insurance Office. Please visit the website for more details regarding requirements that must be met in order to waive AU Student Insurance and for additional information. Coverage for a student's spouse and dependent children is also available for an additional fee. All students from outside of the United States must cover dependents who accompany the student to the States. A brochure describing the insurance coverage is available at the Student Insurance Office in the Administration Building or online at andrews.edu/services/hr/students/insurance/.

Counseling & Testing Center

The Counseling & Testing Center (CTC) is the primary mental health care facility for the University and serves as a supportive medium aimed at enhancing the positive and learning University environment as it provides timely and comprehensive short-term counseling to University students and their spouses. The Center is staffed by licensed psychologists, counselors, and intern clinicians committed to utilizing all available resources in the delivery of services. These include personal, group, premarital and marital counseling; career development; outreach and consultation; academic and psychological assessments; teaching and research; and training and supervision. Workshops, wellness screenings, and other prevention programming are also coordinated by the CTC throughout the academic year. The CTC also offers self-help educational information through the CTC webpage and virtual pamphlets. The CTC uses a brief model of treatment and offers up to eight (8) counseling sessions per semester at no charge. Additional counseling sessions are considered on an individualized basis. The Center also provides referrals to community psychiatrists and other mental health professionals.

The Counseling & Testing Center endorses a whole-person approach in working with students by facilitating the integration of the emotional, spiritual, physical and social dimensions of the individual. The Center is fully accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services (IACS) and serves as a training facility for graduate counseling and social work interns. Psychological testing, career assessment and other testing services are offered for a nominal fee.

National standardized testing--including the ACT, SAT, GRE subject, LSAT, MPRE, MELAB, TOEFL, CLEP and other academic tests needed at both the undergraduate and graduate levels--is offered at the Counseling & Testing Center. To contact the Center call 269-471-3470 or email the staff at ctcenter@andrews.edu. You may also find us on Facebook at facebook.com/AUUTC.

Student Employment

Eligibility Pre-Employment I-9 Form

Before working on campus, all students (both U.S. citizens and others) must personally have a validation interview with an Employment Officer (Administration Building) at which time the officer and the student will make a joint sworn statement on the appropriate I-9 legal declaration form.

Employment Eligibility Certification

The Immigration Reform and Control Act charges all employers to examine and verify certain documents that establish the employment eligibility of all new employees. New and returning students who have not completed an I-9 for Andrews University work in the past and who plan to seek any employment on the Andrews University campus must supply documents of identity and employability.

Some documents serve for both purposes (List A), but if not available, two documents may be presented (one each from List B and List C). The acceptable documents are listed below; however, as the list may be subject to change, please refer to the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) website for the most updated information.

List A

Documents That Establish Both Identity and Employment Eligibility:

- U.S. Passport or U.S. Passport Card
- Permanent Resident Card or Alien Registration Receipt Card (Form I-551)
- Foreign passport that contains a temporary I-551 stamp or temporary I-551 printed notation on a machine-readable immigrant visa
- Employment Authorization Document that contains a photograph (Form I-766)
- In the case of a nonimmigrant alien authorized to work for a specific employer incident to status, a foreign passport with Form I-94 or Form I-94A bearing the same name as the passport and containing an endorsement of the alien's nonimmigrant status, as long as the period of endorsement has not yet expired and the proposed employment is not in conflict with any restrictions or limitations identified on the form
- Passport from the Federated States of Micronesia (FSM) or the Republic of the Marshall Islands (RMI) with Form I-94 or Form I-94A indicating nonimmigrant admission under the Compact of Free Association Between the United States and the FSM or RMI

List B

Documents That Establish Identity:

- Driver's license or ID card issued by a state or outlying possession of the United States if it contains a photograph or information such as name, date of birth, gender, height, eye color and address
- ID card issued by federal, state or local government agencies or entities provided it contains a photograph or information such as name, date of birth, gender, height, eye color and address
- School ID card with a photograph
- Voter's registration card
- U.S. Military card or draft record
- Military dependent's ID card
- U.S. Coast Guard Merchant Mariner Card
- Native American tribal document
- Driver's license issued by a Canadian government authority

For persons under age 18 who are unable to present an identity document listed above (for List B):

- School report or report card
- Clinic, doctor or hospital record
- Day-care or nursery school record

List C

Documents That Establish Employment Eligibility:

- A Social Security Account Number card, unless the card includes one of the following restrictions: (1) NOT VALID FOR EMPLOYMENT, (2) VALID FOR WORK ONLY WITH INS AUTHORIZATION, (3) VALID FOR WORK ONLY WITH DHS AUTHORIZATION
- Certification of Birth Abroad issued by the Department of State (Form FS-545 or Form DS-1350)
- Original or certified copy of a birth certificate issued by a state, county, municipal authority or territory of the United States bearing an official seal
- Native American tribal document
- Identification Card for Use of Resident Citizen of the United States (Form I-179)
- Unexpired employment authorization document issued by the Department of Homeland Security

All documents presented must be original.

A parent or legal guardian may sign the I-9 form, attesting that the applicant is under age 18. However, such an applicant must present an employment eligibility item from the above list if a document proving both identity and employment eligibility is not available.

The Office of Employment

The Office of Employment, which is part of Human Resources, assists students in their on-campus employment needs. The Office provides information regarding employment opportunities and assistance with necessary paperwork, administers employment tests and is responsible for updating employment files. The Office is located in the Administration Building, Second Floor.

Office of Employment

Telephone: 269-471-3570
Fax: 269-471-6293
Email: employment@andrews.edu
Website: www.andrews.edu/hr

Students desiring part-time employment must be enrolled full-time (12 undergraduate credits, eight graduate credits or nine Master of Divinity credits) and they must complete the necessary paperwork at the Office of Employment.

The University allows students to work, as work is available, up to 20 hours per week during the academic year. To maximize work opportunities, the student should schedule their classes so that large portions of the mornings or afternoons are free. Professional performance and conduct is expected in all on-campus employment.

Employment (International Students)

An international student on a nonimmigrant F-1 visa is permitted to work on-campus a maximum of 20 hours per week during the school year and full-time during school breaks and vacations. Dependents with F-2 visa status cannot work on- or off-campus under any circumstances.

Exchange Visitor students on a nonimmigrant J-1 visa are allowed to work on-campus a maximum of 20 hours per week during the school year and full-time during school breaks and vacations. Dependents with J-2 visa status are allowed to study full-time and to work after they receive a work permit called the Employment Authorization Document (EAD) from the USCIS. J-1 students are allowed to work off-campus on a severe economic hardship basis.

Other Campus Services

Other campus services include a barber shop, a beauty shop and the University-branch post office.

Immigration Information for International Students

International students on F-1 or J-1 visas who come to study at Andrews University (AU) should be informed about the immigration laws and regulations in matters related to their visa status. It is the responsibility of the international student to maintain his/her student I-20 (for F-1) and DS-2019 (for J-1) status at all times. Failure to follow immigration regulations, whether intentional or unintentional, is a violation of the student visa status. Consequently, the status of the international student would be terminated and he/she must apply to the USCIS to be reinstated back into the legal student visa status or depart the US and re-enter with F1 or J1 status again to be legally admitted to study.

The personnel at the Office of International Student Services and programs (OISSP) consists of the director, called the Principle Designated School Official (PDSO), and the Designated School Official (DSO). They are appointed by Andrews University and authorized by United States Citizen and Immigration Services (USCIS) to issue I-20s and sign legal students' documents. The Office of International Student services' director is also the RO (Responsible Officer), and therefore, is now authorized to issue its own DS 2019 documents for it J1 (student/researcher/exchange visitor) and J2 (dependent of J1) applicants. This office also has an ARO (Alternate Responsible Office) for assisting in the preparation of the DS2019 document. The PDSO, RO, ARO and DSO are also required to advise international students in areas related to student life on campus such as study, work and travel, etc

The Office of International Student Services communicates information to the international students in matters related to the government laws and immigration by several methods. First, the orientation for new international students is required upon arrival at Andrews University at the start of each of the 3 semesters (fall, spring and summer). Failure to attend the orientation program may result in student not having relevant information to live in accordance to the requirements to live by the student visa status they arrived upon and to failure to maintain legal status during the duration of the time spent on campus. Please visit the Office of International student services as soon as possible to receive the non-immigrant guidelines. Other means of communication include the Andrews "Bulletin," the International Student Services website, the Andrews Agenda and email. All international students are required to immediately update the Office of International Student Services of any changes in their student visa status, address, change of major or change of academic level.

F2 visa status holders are dependents of F1. F2 visa holder who is a spouse, is not permitted to study nor work during the entire duration of their stay in the US. F2 dependent children are permitted to go to school but not work. However, when the F2 dependent completed high school, F2 dependent should change his/her visa status to F1 is s/he would like to continue with their education at a college/university.*

General requirements for maintaining status as international students:

- 1. Have a valid passport at all times.
- 2. Continue to carry a full course of study.
- 3. Leave the United States once the courses for the academic program are completed, unless the student applies for a work permit (for F-1: OPT, for J-1: Academic Training).
- 4. Apply through the Office of International Student Services for a new I-20 if it is desired to change programs, to continue for another academic level within the same school or to transfer out to another institution of higher learning within the US.
- 5. Extend the current I-20 if additional time is required to complete student's program of study. Extend request process begins with the Office of International Student services.
- 6. Keep the I-20 (F-1) or DS-2019 (J-1) updated at all times. The most recent signature by the PDSO or DSO on one of these documents should be within 12 months from the time of signature. If it has exceeded, another signature must be obtained prior to travel outside of the U.S.
- 7. Maintain a legal work permit (on- or off-campus according to USCIS regulations).

Tuberculosis Testing: All international students must submit a negative (clear) TB test prior to admission.

Attendance at Another School

International students that come to study with an Andrews University I-20 or the DS-2019 should always maintain a full course of study at Andrews University. With an Andrews University I-20, international students may take additional classes from other schools if approved by the academic advisor and the Office of International Student Services.

The Department of Homeland Security system to track all international students who are admitted to study in the United States is called the Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS). It is administered by the Student and Exchange Visitor Program (SEVP), a division of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE). This is a web-based system for maintaining information on international students and exchange visitors in the United States.

Transfer to Another School in the U.S.

J-1 students who want to change schools or their academic program must first check with their sponsoring organizations. If an F-1 student intends to change schools for any reason during the program, or after receiving a degree, he/she must initiate a transfer and obtain a new I-20 from the new school. Also, the Office of International Student Services at Andrews University will require you to submit a letter of admission from the school you will be transferring to. The transfer instructions that need to be followed are normally given by the new school. Once the receiving school is ready to issue the new I-20, the student should inform the ISS office so that the student's current legal file can be transferred electronically to the new school.

Full Course of Study

USCIS requires every student on an F-1 or DS-2019 student visa to enroll full-time every semester at the school they are authorized to attend beginning immediately after the report date on the I-20 or DS-2019. Full-time class enrollment is as follows:

Undergraduate	12 credits (minimum)
Graduate	9 credits (minimum)
MDiv	9 credits (minimum)
Center for Intensive English Programs (CIEP)	12 clock hours (minimum)
Academy
Fall Qtr	2.0 units (minimum)
Winter/Spring Qtr	1.5 units (minimum)

International Students cannot AUDIT courses at anytime or Withdraw ("W") if it would put the student below the minimum credits required

Summer semester is the vacation semester for those who start a regular school year (fall semester). International students do not have to enroll for a lesser course load during summer except if the initial attendance reporting date on the I-20 or DS-2019 is dated for the spring or summer semesters. If so, the student must enroll for a full study load during the summer. Additional information is available in the Office of International Student Services.

1. International students with medical problems must provide a document from a physician recommending an interruption to take the semester off or reduction in study load.
2. Graduate international students who have completed formal course work and are engaged in comprehensive exam preparation, project, thesis or dissertation are required to register for such. Thereupon they are considered to be pursuing a full course of study provided the "Bulletin" states the course registered for is considered to be full-time.
3. An international student who registers in his/her last semester for less than the minimum credits required must present a RCL (Reduced course load) from his/her academic advisor verifying that these are the only credits that the student needs to fulfill all course requirements.
4. An F-1 student engaged in post-completion Optional Practical Training maintains his/her full visa status. A student in F-1 status doing full-time Curricular Practical Training is also considered to be pursuing a full course of study. But if an international student is engaged in part-time Curricular Practical Training or part-time Optional Practical Training, he/she is required to enroll in classes concurrently.
5. International students on an F-1 visa are not permitted to be in a program of study that is offered solely or entirely online. There may be exceptions for students on an F-1 visa—please contact the International Student Services office for clarification.

Students On Exchange Visitor Visas (J1/J2) and the Two-year Home Country Physical Presence Requirement

The two-year home country physical presence requirement is one of the most important characteristics of the Exchange Visitor J-1 status. If the international student is bound by this regulation, it will be stated on the J-1 visa and on the bottom left corner of the DS-2019. Exchange Visitors, including their dependents, can apply for a waiver of the requirement to return home for two years upon completion of their studies. Without the waiver, such students are not eligible to change their status in the U.S. to another category. Neither can such students become eligible for any change of status until they have been physically present in their country of nationality or the country of last legal permanent residence for a minimum of two years following departure from the U.S.A.

Employment For J-1 and F-1 Students

Immigration laws are very strict about employment. International students desiring to work must be sure to comply with these laws. UNAUTHORIZED OFF-CAMPUS EMPLOYMENT CAN LEAD TO TERMINATION OF STUDENT VISA STATUS AND DEPORTATION.

J-1 students may engage in two kinds of employment:

1. Academic training related to the course of study or
2. Work on-campus or off-campus (on severe economic hardship basis) for a maximum of 20 hours per week while school is in session and full-time during vacation.

J-1 students must obtain a letter from the RO or AROs authorizing employment before beginning work.

F-1 students may work on-campus up to 20 hours per week while school is in session and full-time during vacations (upto 29 hours during their first 12 months of stay in the US and then upto 40 during the following year for the semester of break and holidays).

Academic Training

Employment which is directly related to the course of study is permitted by the Department of State (DOS) while the J-1 student is enrolled in school or approved for Academic Training no later than 30 days after completion of the program. The General Conference is the organization that authorizes the Academic Training once the student provides the required documents.

Curricular Practical Training (CPT)

Employment authorization for Curricular Practical Training is given to students whose degree programs require off-campus work experience. International students may NOT begin working until the I-20 has been issued for employment authorization by the DSO. CPT is limited to twenty hours per week if the student is required to take classes during the practicum. If the CPT work is full-time, then the

I-20 must be issued for full-time. For more information, contact the Office of International Student Services.

Clinicals, Practicums or Internships

International students who are paid for clinicals, practicums or internships as part of a degree program MUST apply for Curricular Practical Training (CPT) and be issued a new I-20 accordingly with the CPT notation. The CPT notation has to be made prior to start of employment. Failure to do so will consider their work illegal.

Optional Practical Training (OPT)

Optional Practical Training is an optional work benefit for F-1 students, intended for practical work experience in their major field of study. Upon USCIS approval, a student receives work authorization to do OPT anywhere in the United States for a total of 12 months. International students may apply for the post-completion OPT during a five-month window, three months prior to the completion of the degree or 60 days after the completion of the degree.

Accepting Public Benefits is Illegal

Often hospital or medical clinic personnel encourage international students to accept Medicaid or other government benefits. DO NOT ACCEPT PUBLIC BENEFITS. Doing so is considered by USCIS to be a violation of your nonimmigrant status. Such students may be required to pay back the money received and may risk deportation.

The $200 SEVIS I-901 Fee

International students are required to pay $200 for the SEVIS I-901 fee. The Office of International Student Services will send along with the I-20 the instructions concerning the different ways of paying this fee. Upon paying the SEVIS fee, the system will automatically generate a receipt which is essential for the students to present at the American Consulate in order for them to obtain the student visa. Canadians must present the SEVIS receipt at the port of entry. For additional and complete information, please visit fmjfee.com/.

General Academic Policies

General Academic Information

Students are expected to know the rules that govern academic matters. This bulletin presents answers to general questions regarding academic policies. Students with special problems and circumstances should consult the dean or program coordinator of the school that interests them. Responsibility for meeting degree requirements rests upon the student. Each student is expected to be aware of all relevant requirements published in the bulletin under which he/she plans to graduate. The bulletin in force when one first registers is the binding document between the student and the university. However, a student may request permission to meet the requirements of another bulletin in force during his/her years at the university. The student's freedom to choose the bulletin under which he/she will graduate is limited. Undergraduates should see the section "Student's Governing Bulletin". Graduate students should see "Residency Requirements and Time Limits".

Attendance at the University

The admission of candidates, their remaining as students, their status, the awarding of academic credits, and the granting of degrees are all subject to the ordinary regulatory powers of the university. It reserves the right to cancel, at its discretion, any of these privileges for reasons considered sufficient by the administration.

School deans reserve the right to review their students' grades periodically. Together with the faculty, they may also recommend that students performing unsatisfactorily should discontinue their degree programs.

The disciplinary authority of the university president is absolute. The vice presidents, deans, and other officers are responsible for specific cases and in restricted areas.

Changes in Bulletin Requirements

The provisions of this bulletin are not to be regarded as an irrevocable contract between the student and the university. The university reserves the right to change any provision or requirement at any time within the student's term of residence. All regulations adopted and published by the Board of Trustees or the faculty after publication of this bulletin have the same force as those published here.

Registration

Students should plan to register during the days assigned to registration on the official academic calendar. Registration is not official until all parts of the registration process have been completed, including financial arrangements.

Matriculation of First-year Students. Documentation of readiness to matriculate is required before admitted students will be allowed to register: official high school transcript or GED certificate, ACT or SAT scores, and for international students, minimum TOEFL scores.

Late Registration. Students who fail to register during the regular registration period must pay a late-registration fee. Students may not register after the last official day to enter classes.

Changes in Registration. A course may be dropped or added by means of a Change of Registration form or via the web during the drop/add period. This Drop/Add form is obtained from the Office of Academic Records. After completing the form, the student must get all needed signatures and return the form to the Office of Academic Records. The official academic calendar lists the deadline each semester for dropping or adding classes without an entry on the permanent academic record. It also notes the deadline to withdraw from a class with a "W" (Withdrawal) on the permanent record.

Credit Hour Definition

One semester credit hour at Andrews University is earned through academic work during a period of fifteen weeks; averaging three hours per week in undergraduate courses and four hours per week in graduate courses. Academic work contributes to established intentional learning outcomes and is verified by evidence of student achievement. Academic work includes:

1. A minimum of 50 minutes per week of direct faculty-student contact; and
2. Out-of-class student work during the remaining time.

For intensives or other classes that do not meet for fifteen weeks, an equivalent amount of direct faculty-student contact and out-of-class student work is required.

An equivalent total amount of academic work is also required in activities such as laboratory, independent study, practicum, studio, distance, distributed, tours and other learning modalities. More time may be expected for co-op work, internships and similar applied learning experiences where learning may take longer to be achieved.

Grading System and Grade-point Averages

Grades and Quality Points. The right to assign grades rests with the teacher of the course. Quality points (on a 4.00 scale) are given to each letter grade (A–F) for use in figuring a student's grade-point average (GPA). The GPA is the average number of quality points earned per credit hour in all courses which are assigned grades A–F.

A	4.00	C+	2.33
A-	3.67	C	2.00
B+	3.33	C-	1.67
B	3.00	D	1.00
B-	2.67	F	0.00

How to Compute Your GPA. You may calculate your semester GPA by following these steps:

- Multiply the number of credit hours by the number of quality points given to the letter grade earned in each class. (Do the same for each class graded A–F.)
- Add the number of quality points earned in all classes for the semester.
- Divide the total number of quality points by the total number of credit hours attempted.

Other Grade Report Entries

Additional grades that may appear on a student's academic record are defined below.

AU—Audited Classes (including HN, UA and UH). A grade of AU is given for an audited course if the student has met the obligations of the audit agreement. It is possible to audit any class except private music lessons and independent study courses provided (1) there is room in the class, (2) the student has an appropriate background, and (3) the instructor gives permission to attend. The term audit refers to registration for attendance only. All auditors, including honors auditors (HN), are expected to attend all class appointments as agreed upon when the instructor granted auditing privileges.

Auditors must attend at least 80% of the class periods. Those who fail to do so are given a grade of UA (Unsatisfactory Audit); honors auditors a UH.

A student may change from "credit" to "audit" registration and vice versa within the published time limits. To make this change the student must present the Office of Academic Records with a Change of Registration form with the required signatures.

The tuition charge for an audited course is the same as a course taken for credit. Full-time honors students may audit one course per semester free of charge.

DG—Deferred Grade. A DG may be given in certain courses recognized to be of such a nature that all the requirements are not likely to be completed within one semester. It may be given for tours, field/clinical experiences, internships, projects, intensives, comprehensive exams, independent study courses, courses requiring research such as theses and dissertations, and undergraduate upper division courses where mastery learning is required. The Office of Academic Records records a DG for the above listed courses previously recommended by a department and approved by the dean of the appropriate school and/or graduate program committee.

An instructor may designate a time limit for a given course or a specific situation for the DG to be changed to a letter grade. All DGs are required to be cleared before a student can graduate, unless they are DGs earned in another currently enrolled degree. An instructor may change the DG to a letter grade (A–F), S/U or DN (Deferred and Not Completable) as appropriate.

DN—Deferred and Not completable. A DN indicates the course has not been completed and no longer can be completed because time has run out.

I—Incomplete. An Incomplete (I) indicates that the student's work is incomplete because of illness or unavoidable circumstances and not because of negligence or inferior performance. Students will be charged an incomplete fee for each incomplete grade issued.

An I may be given when the instructor and the student agree to terms stated in an Incomplete Contract. The I is given to a student when the major portion of the work for the course has been completed. The contract states (1) the remaining work to be completed, (2) a plan with timelines for completion of the work, (3) the time limit, and (4) the grade the student will receive if the work is not completed by the agreed-upon time.

Ordinarily, an I shall be removed during the following semester. However, an I contracted in the spring semester may be extended to the autumn semester. Any request for an extension of time beyond the contracted time shall be made in writing before the end of the contracted date and approved by the dean of the college/school in which the course is offered. The number of I's on a student's record affects the student's class and workload.

Undergraduate restrictions: Students with 8 credits of Incompletes may not register for more than 12 credits of new courses; for those with 12 or more credits of Incompletes the number of new credits is limited by the dean of the respective college/school. Incompletes must be removed before graduation.

NC — No Credit.

R—Reregistered. Assigned only for designated remedial courses. Students who obtain this grade are required to reregister for the course in question.

S/U—Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory. The grading pattern for lecture and lecture/laboratory courses is A–F. Certain designated courses, such as independent/individual study/readings, independent research, research projects, workshops, seminars, field/clinical experiences and practica may be graded with either an S/U or A–F pattern as the college/school decides. When more than one grading pattern is possible, the determination of which pattern shall be used for a given class shall be made at the beginning of the class. Completed theses/dissertations (except for undergraduate theses) are always graded on an S/U basis. Grading patterns may not be mixed within a given course for any grading period except for independent study courses, as in next paragraph. An S means, for an undergraduate, that a C (2.00) or higher has been earned; for a graduate, a B (3.00) or higher. The letter grade U signifies unsatisfactory performance. Credit is earned only if an S is received. No quality points are assigned S/U courses and an S/U notation does not affect the GPA.

By definition, independent/individual study/reading/research courses imply potentially a different set of purposes, goals, objectives, activities and outcomes for each student. They are not intended to serve as a substitute for a required class or for canceled classes, and they must have an evaluation plan. All students taking one of these courses with the same acronym, course number and section number under the same instructor are typically listed on the same grade sheet, and therefore mixing grading patterns for these courses in a given term is permitted.

W—Withdrawal. Withdrawal is recorded when a student withdraws within the date limitations indicated by the academic calendar. Under certain circumstances the institution may initiate the withdrawal.

Repeating Classes. Students may repeat a course in which they receive an unsatisfactory grade. In such a case, the record of the first attempt is not erased. However, in the case of undergraduate students only, the credits and quality points earned in the course with the higher grade are used to calculate the GPA. In the case of graduate students the course may be repeated once. The credits and quality points earned in the most recent course will be used to calculate the GPA. Course grades may be replaced only by grades for course work repeated on campus. When a course with a laboratory is repeated, the laboratory part also must be repeated.

In sequence-type courses (course numbers ending in 1, 2, or 3) a student who earns an F for one semester automatically must repeat that course before being permitted to enroll or remain enrolled in courses that follow in that sequence. A student who earns a D in such a course should counsel with the teacher as to the wisdom of continuing the course.

Factors Influencing Grades

Several factors are used to compute the final grade in a particular course. These include such items as scores in oral or written examinations, quizzes, practical and written projects, papers, reports, laboratory experience, skill demonstration, clinical performance and class attendance/ participation. The teacher selects the grading components for a given course according to the nature of that course. The course outline (syllabus) clearly outlines how the students' final grades shall be figured.

Grade Reports

No hard copies of grades are mailed to students because they can view and print their grades via the web. Students who want a parent or organization to receive a printed grade report may request this via the web or at the Office of Academic Records.

Resolution of Grade Disputes

Students who dispute the grade received for a course are encouraged to seek a resolution through the steps delineated below. Succeeding steps should be taken only if the previous step fails.

Step 1: Informal resolution in person. The student must first seek a resolution in person with the instructor. Should such attempt fail, the student may seek a resolution through the instructor's immediate supervisor, the department chair or, in the absence of the chair, the dean of the school. The chair or dean may arrange a joint discussion between the student and the instructor.

Step 2: Written grade complaint. The student may file a written grade complaint with the instructor's immediate supervisor, requesting an investigation of the grade. The request must include the reasons for the student's belief that the grade was assigned as a result of carelessness, arbitrariness, or capriciousness. If the chair is also the instructor in question, the chair should direct the grade complaint to the next highest officer for processing. The written grade complaint must be filed within the semester (not counting the summer terms) after the grade was given. Complaints filed after a full semester has elapsed since a grade was given, or a written grade complaint that does not detail the evidence called for above, shall not be investigated. A department chair or the instructor's immediate supervisor can recommend or make a grade adjustment only if his/her findings reveal clear evidence of carelessness, arbitrariness, or capriciousness on the part of the instructor. The department chair or the instructor's immediate supervisor is to render a written report on his/her findings within a week (if school is in session; if not, within the first week after school reconvenes). If the student does not receive a report or remains dissatisfied, he/she may proceed with Step 3.

Step 3: Grade Grievance. A student may file a written grade grievance with a dean of a relevant school to resolve a grade problem. The grade grievance must be filed within three weeks of receiving a response to the original filing of the written grade complaint. The written grade grievance shall provide evidence for the claim that the grade was assigned as a result of arbitrariness, capriciousness, or carelessness. Should the dean be the instructor in question, the dean shall direct the grade grievance to the provost. A written grade grievance that does not detail the evidence called for above, or that is filed more than three weeks after the response to the original filing of the complaint, will not be investigated.

Providing the student has met the conditions for filing a grade grievance, the relevant dean or the provost shall appoint a Grade Review Committee of three (3) faculty members with authority to investigate the matter further and to recommend a resolution.

The dean or provost shall issue a written verdict in response to a specific Grade Review Committee within one week after having received the written recommendations of the Committee. This shall be final and binding on both student and faculty member. The verdict may necessitate a grade change.

Transcripts

The Office of Academic Records issues transcripts of the student's academic record upon written request by the student. Requests should reach the Office of Academic Records at least ten days before the transcripts are needed. (For restrictions, costs and exceptions, see the Financial section of this bulletin.)

Student Responsibilities

Examinations. Credit is not granted in courses unless the required examinations are completed by the student. Students are expected to follow the published examination schedule. In cases where the schedule requires a student to complete four exams in one day, arrangements may be made with the dean to complete one of the examinations at another time.

Class Attendance. Regular attendance at all classes, laboratories and other academic appointments is required of each student. Faculty members are expected to keep regular attendance records. The syllabus notifies students of the attendance requirements.

Teacher Tardiness. Teachers have the responsibility of getting to class on time. If a teacher is detained and will be late, the teacher must send a message to the class with directions. If after 10 minutes no message has been received, students may leave without penalty. If teacher tardiness persists, students have the right to notify the department chair, or if the teacher is the department chair, to notify the dean.

Class Absences. Whenever the number of absences exceeds 20% (10% for graduate classes) of the total course appointments, the teacher may give a failing grade. Merely being absent from campus does not exempt the student from this policy. Absences recorded because of late registration, suspension, and early/late vacation leaves are not excused. The class work missed may be made up only if the teacher allows. Three tardies are equal to one absence.

Registered students are considered class members until they file a Change of Registration form in the Office of Academic Records.

Excused Absences. Excuses for absences due to illness are granted by the teacher. Proof of illness is required. Residence hall students are required to see a nurse on the first day of any illness which interferes with class attendance. Non-residence hall students should show written verification of illness obtained from their own physician. Excuses for absences not due to illness are issued directly from the dean's office.

Excused absences do not remove the student's responsibility to complete all requirements of a course. Class work is made up by permission of the teacher.

Performance in Related Non-academic Areas. Professional programs sometimes require certain personality traits, lifestyles, clinical aptitudes, or other special competencies. For programs in which such items are specified, students are evaluated in terms of these requirements. These requirements are described in departmental handbooks or in course syllabi.

Academic Integrity. In harmony with the mission statement, Andrews University expects that students will demonstrate the ability to think clearly for themselves and exhibit personal and moral integrity in every sphere of life. Thus, students are expected to display honesty in all academic matters.

Academic dishonesty includes (but is not limited to) the following acts:

- Falsifying official documents;
- Plagiarizing, which includes copying others' published work, and/ or failing to give credit properly to other authors and creators;
- Misusing copyrighted material and/or violating licensing agreements (actions that may result in legal action in addition to disciplinary action taken by the University);
- Using media from any source or medium, including the Internet (e.g., print, visual images, music) with the intent to mislead, deceive or defraud;
- Presenting another's work as one's own (e.g., placement exams, homework assignments);
- Using materials during a quiz or examination other than those specifically allowed by the teacher or program;
- Stealing, accepting, or studying from stolen quizzes or examination materials;
- Copying from another student during a regular or take-home test or quiz;
- Assisting another in acts of academic dishonesty (e.g., falsifying attendance records, providing unauthorized course materials).

Andrews University takes seriously all acts of academic dishonesty. Such acts as described above are subject to incremental discipline for multiple offenses and severe penalties for some offenses. A record of academic integrity violations is maintained by the Faculty Academic Integrity Council. Repeated and/or flagrant offenses will be referred to an Academic Integrity Panel for recommendations on further penalties. Consequences may include denial of admission, revocation of admission, warning from a teacher with or without formal documentation, warning from a chair or academic dean with formal documentation, receipt of a reduced or failing grade, suspension or dismissal from the course, suspension or dismissal from the program, expulsion from the university, or degree cancellation. Disciplinary action may be retroactive if academic dishonesty becomes apparent after the student leaves the course, program or university.

Departments and faculty members may publish additional, perhaps more stringent, penalties for academic dishonesty in specific programs or courses.

For a synopsis of the current policy on academic integrity, please see the Student Handbook.

Peer-to-Peer File Sharing. Please see university policy.

Human Subjects Research. All students, faculty and staff conducting any research involving human subjects must apply for approval from the Institutional Review Board (IRB). A full description of the planned research along with the required supporting documents must be submitted by completing and emailing an IRB Review form directly to irb@andrews.edu. Additional information is available from 22

IRB at the Office of Research and Creative Scholarship, Administration Bldg. Room 322. Tel. (269) 471-6361.

Graduation Procedures and Degree Conferral

Degrees are awarded three times a year at Andrews University—May, August, and December to candidates who have successfully completed all degree requirements. The responsibility for meeting all program requirements rests with the student. Participation in graduation ceremonies is for students who have completed all degree requirements and for those who meet the minimum requirements to participate without completion (see Participation in Graduation Ceremonies below).

Participation without completion applies only to students on the Andrews University main campus. Candidates from off-campus sites must complete all degree requirements and obtain clearance through the Office of Off-Campus Programs to participate in main campus graduation ceremonies. Candidates must meet the following Applications and Final Clearances guidelines for graduation or participation:

Applications and Final Clearances

- Students must file an Application for Graduation/Marching form. Undergraduate graduation/marching forms are available at and must be returned to the Office of Undergraduate Records. The Graduate Graduation Application is available online. The following are the Graduation/Marching Application deadlines:

	December Conferral	May Graduation	August Graduation
Undergraduate Students	3 rd Thursday of September	3 rd Thursday of September	3 rd Thursday of May
Graduate Students	3 rd Thursday of September	3 rd Thursday of January	3 rd Thursday of May

- Transcripts for transfer credit must reach the Office of Academic Records a minimum of 15 days before graduation/ degree conferral.
- All Incompletes and Deferred Grades in classes needed to complete degree requirements must be changed to a satisfactory grade in the Office of Academic Records a minimum of 15 days before graduation/degree conferral.
- Students must receive financial clearance from the Student Financial Services Office to participate in graduation ceremonies or to receive a diploma.
- Diplomas will be ready for distribution beginning two weeks after commencement/degree conferral.

Commencement Services. On-campus commencement services occur in May and August. Students who receive December conferral of their degrees have the option of participating in the May commencement services only.

Graduation in Absentia. At the time of application for graduation/marching, students must indicate whether or not they plan to participate in the ceremony. Those who complete all degree requirements and choose to graduate in absentia forfeit their right to participate in a later graduation ceremony. Those who participate in a graduation ceremony before completing all degree requirements under the terms specified below may not participate for a second time when they complete their requirements.

Participation In Graduation Ceremonies

Graduation ceremonies are intended to recognize students who have completed all degree requirements and to celebrate their achievements. Students who are nearly completed with their degree requirements are also permitted to march and participate in the celebration within guidelines designed to maintain integrity of the degree-awarding process.

Upon submission of their Application for Graduation/Marching by the published deadline, students are authorized academically to participate in graduation ceremonies when they meet one of the following criteria:

Following registration for the term culminating in a spring or summer graduation ceremony, they fall within one of the following categories:

Undergraduate Criteria

Undergraduate students who lack no more than 6 semester credits for degree completion and meet both overall and major GPA requirements. Credits lacking include I's, DG's and unregistered work.

OR

Undergraduate students who lack only completion of an unregistered practicum or internship or student teaching requirement which could be expected to be completed before the next graduation event.

Graduate Criteria

1. General Criteria

Graduate students who lack only completion of an unregistered practicum or internship or student teaching requirement which could be expected to be completed before the next graduation event.

OR

Master of Divinity students who lack no more than 6 semester credits for degree completion, including practical field work courses. Credits lacking include I's, DG's and unregistered work.

2. Master or Specialist students without a thesis or project option who have been advanced to degree candidacy, lack no more than 4 semester credits for completion and by the official deadlines have met all other graduate degree requirements, including passing comprehensive exams (if required in the program). Credits lacking include I's, DG's and unregistered work.
3. Master or Specialist students with a thesis or project option who have completed all coursework, passed comprehensive exams (if required), and obtained approval of their thesis/ project by the appropriate graduate committee, but have yet to file the thesis/project, as required. Notification of thesis/project approval must reach the Office of Academic Records no later than 10 days before graduation.
4. Doctoral students who have completed all coursework, have met all graduate degree requirements, including passing comprehensive exams, and no later than four weeks before the graduation ceremony obtain approval of the appropriate graduate committee following successful defense of their dissertation/project (if required in the program), with one of the following results: "Accept the dissertation/project as defended" or "Accept the dissertation/project with minor revisions." For candidates whose result is "Accept the dissertation/project with major revisions," written notification from their committee that they have made satisfactory revisions as required must reach the Office of Academic Records no later than 10 days before graduation. For graduation procedures applying to the PhD in Religion and ThD programs see bulletin section on PhD program requirements, "Oral Defense of Dissertation: After the Defense," and the PhD Program Handbook.
5. Doctor of Physical Therapy students who have completed all coursework, have met all degree requirements including passing comprehensive exams, and who either lack completion of the
 1. last two internships, and/or
 2. capstone project

which is expected to be completed before the next graduation event.

The graduation program does not distinguish between those students who have actually completed all requirements and those who have not. All students authorized to participate will receive diploma covers, and all doctoral candidates will be hooded. However, for those who march without completion, diplomas will be issued and dated on the next official graduation or degree conferral date following completion of all degree requirements.

A list of graduates who have completed all requirements and received degrees for each commencement will be made public through a posting on the Andrews University website.

Undergraduate Academic Policies

Admission

Admission to Andrews University is available to any student who meets the academic and character requirements of the university and who expresses willingness to cooperate with its policies. Because Andrews University is operated by the Seventh-day Adventist Church, the majority of its students are Seventh-day Adventists. However, no particular religious commitment is required for admission. Any qualified student who would be comfortable within its religious, social, and cultural atmosphere may be admitted. The university does not discriminate on the grounds of race, color, creed, disability, national or ethnic origin, sex, marital status or handicap.

Admissions to Andrews University does not guarantee admissions to a specific department or program within a given school. Transfers from one school to another may be made when the student meets the admission requirements for that school and has the consent of the deans involved.

Application Process for All Undergraduate Students

Andrews University strongly encourages all interested individuals to apply online and submit the $30, nonrefundable fee. The online application for undergraduate admissions is available at andrews.edu/apply and must be submitted by a:

- First time applicant to an Andrews University baccalaureate degree program
- Continuing AU student who has not been enrolled during at least one academic term
- Andrews University graduate applying for a second baccalaureate degree

Apply Early

Applications for admissions, the non-refundable $30 fee, and all required documents should be submitted by the following priority deadlines:

Fall Semester	Spring Semester	Summer Session 1	Summer Session 2	Summer Session 3
July 15	November 15	March 15	April 15	May 15

Applicants may request changes to the entry term of a submitted application for up to one semester. If changes to the entry term is for two or more semesters, a new application and fee will need to be submitted.

Freshman Admission Requirements

Students who will attend college after high school graduation are encouraged to apply before their final high school transcript is available. A preliminary 6-semester transcript (through the 11th grade) with a cumulative GPA and ACT or SAT test scores are reviewed by the Undergraduate Admissions Committee for a decision. All students are required to submit a final official high school transcript and ACT or SAT scores before they can attend classes.

Freshman Admission Required Documents

Transcript must be signed by the learning coach, or • GED certificate with minimum scores of 145 on each section of the test, or • Official academic credential from an equivalent overseas secondary school or Ministry of Education (if high school completed outside of the United States) College Readiness Test Scores <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PSAT • ACT • SAT
Freshman Admissions Standards

PSAT-Based Admissions

- A minimum overall high school GPA of 3.25
- PSAT scores at the 75th percentile. Currently, this is a composite score of 1100

Regular Admissions

- A minimum high school cumulative GPA of 2.50
- ACT or SAT Test Scores at the 50th percentile. Currently, these scores are ACT composite score of 20 and SAT composite score of 1020

Students who do not fully meet minimum requirements, but have unique circumstances may be considered for admissions after review of other appropriate evidence of ability to successfully complete academic work at AU. The Undergraduate Admissions Committee reviews and makes a final decision on students who do not fully meet minimum requirements no later than July 15 for fall semester enrollment and November 15 for spring semester enrollment.

Students who have earned college credit while still in high school are required to have transcripts sent directly to Andrews University Undergraduate Admissions.

Although Andrews University has minimum freshman admission requirements, meeting these minimum standards does not guarantee admissions. The individual admissions status of each applicant is subject to the review and final decision of the Undergraduate Admissions Committee.

Note to Home Schooled Students. Andrews University School of Distance Education operates Griggs International Academy (GIA), an accredited online secondary education program. GIA will work with home school students who take a minimum of their last six high school courses through Griggs International Academy to obtain a fully accredited high school diploma. Contact GIA at 800-782-4769 or enrollgia@andrews.edu.

Transfer Student Admission Requirements

Students who have attended any type of institution of higher learning after high school graduation are considered Transfer Students. All transfer students are required to submit a final official high school transcript and official college transcripts before they can attend classes.

Transfer of Credits

Students who have attended any college or university classes are required to have transcripts sent directly to Andrews University Undergraduate Admissions. Official transcripts must be requested at the time of admissions in order to ensure a timely evaluation of the credits.

In order for college-level courses to be accepted at Andrews University, they must have been taken at an accredited institution and have received a grade of C- or higher.

Transfer credits will not appear on an official Andrews University transcript.

Documents Needed for Transcript Evaluation

- Complete college official transcripts from each institution attended.
- If a student attended an international school, an official WES evaluation is required. (This does not apply to students who have completed at least one semester abroad as part of their studies at a US Institution or for those who have attended an accredited Seventh-day Adventist Institution.)
- Additional student documents may be needed for international transfer.

Limit on Number of Transfer Credits.

- The university allows up to 70 semester hours to be transferred from two-year institutions and applied to a baccalaureate degree. More may be approved by the dean as part of a major course of study.
- Remedial/precollege courses are not acceptable for transfer.
- ESL/EFL/ELL courses are not acceptable for transfer.

Transfer of Credits from an Unaccredited School. Students who have attended an unaccredited post-secondary institution are admitted based on regular admission criteria for Freshman students. Transfer credits may be accepted as elective credits based on an evaluation of the institution issuing the credits. The credits may then be applied to a program of study when approved by the department chair/program director and/or ACE director as appropriate. On occasion, Andrews University may create an articulation agreement with an unaccredited institution based on prior history with the success of students from the institution.

Review of Credit for Prior Learning Granted by Other Institutions. Credit for Prior Learning (CPL) credits on transcripts are not transferable. Students may present the original documentation (transcripts, certifications, portfolios) to the Prior Learning Coordinator for evaluation in accordance with Andrews University CPL policies and procedures.

International Student Admission Requirements

International Student Admission Required Documents
Academic Records First Time In Any College (Freshman) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • International Students applying as First-time In Any College or University (freshman) must submit official documentation of completion of upper secondary high school. To know which document is required for the country in which high school studies was completed, see the International High School US Equivalency Document. (International students studying outside the U.S. will be required to take the ACT/SAT if offered at their secondary schools.)
Transfer Student <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students that have completed college or university course work at an international institution must submit an official WES ICAP evaluation. (This policy does not apply to students who have completed at least one semester abroad as part of their studies at a US Institution or for those who have attended an accredited Seventh-day Adventist Institution.)
English Proficiency Students who did not complete all years of upper secondary high school or two years of college or university level courses at an English-medium institution must demonstrate adequate English proficiency to be admitted into a degree program.
International Students Admission Standards

- International freshman students must meet the minimum required cumulative GPA of 2.5 on a complete high school transcript or meet the minimum passing marks with a 2.5 or higher GPA based on AACRAO on the secondary school certificate required for the country in which high school studies was completed.
- Transfer students must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.50. Transfer students who have earned 25 or more semester credits before applying to Andrews are evaluated on the basis of their cumulative GPA.
- Students who have attended a post-secondary institution since graduating from high school, but have completed less than 25 college or university level credits are admitted based on the same admission standards required of freshman students. ACT/SAT scores are recommended, but not required.

Students who do not fully meet minimum requirements, but have unique circumstances may be considered for admissions after review of other appropriate evidence of ability to successfully complete academic work at AU. The Undergraduate Admissions Committee reviews and makes a final decision on students who do not fully meet minimum requirements no later than July 15 for fall semester enrollment and November 15 for spring semester enrollment.

English Proficiency Requirement. The table below shows the minimum requirements for the different English Proficiency Exams accepted, including the requirements for the minimum components. Exams must be taken within two years prior to enrollment on any campus.

* Paper-based TOEFL is only accepted when administered by our Center of Intensive English Program or through a partner institution that holds an official agreement with Andrews University.

Concordance Table: Minimum Composite Score
AU Admissions	MELAB	TOEFL iBT	TOEFL ITP*	IELTS [Academic]	PTE [Academic]
	80	80	550	6.5	54

Concordance Table: Minimum Component Scores

MELAB	TOEFL iBT		TOEFL ITP*		IELTS		PTE
80	Reading	15	all components (except Writing and Speaking)	55	Reading	6	48
	Listening	15			Listening	6
	Writing	17	Writing	80	Writing	5
	Speaking	18	Speaking	3	Speaking	6

Two applicants with the same total score may have very different abilities. Minimum component scores help to ensure that admitted students have the profile of language abilities necessary to be successful in their department. For more information, contact the CIEP at 269.471.2260.

Language proficiency must be met before enrolling full-time in regular course work. Students who score below these levels may complete language requirements by enrolling in Intensive English Program courses (ENSL) on campus and passing the Exit Exam for English as a Second/Foreign Language. Degree programs with higher admissions requirements may also have higher English proficiency requirements.

Students with a score lower than the required minimum may be eligible for the Language Bridge Program which allows students to take a limited number of degree program courses while completing language proficiency requirements in Center for Intensive English Program courses. Students in the Language Bridge Program must demonstrate language proficiency within three semesters in order to continue in the degree program. Not all degree programs allow students to participate in the Language Bridge program. Please contact the Center for Intensive English Programs (CIEP) for additional information at 269.471.2260 or ciep@andrews.edu.

Concordance Table: Minimum Composite Score
	MELAB	TOEFL iBT	TOEFL ITP*	IELTS [Academic]	PTE [Academic]
Language Bridge	69-79	61-79	500-549	5.5-6.0	43-53
ESL Only	68 or below	60 or below	499 or below	5.0 or below	42 or below

The ENSL course work for a student is formulated on the basis of the results of MELAB (Michigan English Language Assessment Battery), TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language), IELTS (International English Language Testing System), or PTE Academic (Pearson Test of English) and placement test results, and the student's course load is adjusted accordingly. Students are required to take English language studies until English language skills are at an acceptable level. Students who need to take ENSL courses will need to budget for additional costs.

The Counseling & Testing Center in Bell Hall offers the Internet-based TOEFL and MELAB by appointment. The Center for Intensive English Programs (CIEP) in the College of Arts & Sciences offers the Institutional paper-based TOEFL (ITP).

Certificate of Eligibility for Nonimmigrant Student Status (I-20). International students who will be living in the US while studying online or on the main campus must provide all required admissions documents and receive admissions to Andrews University in order to begin the process of obtaining an I-20. The following information is required in order to have an I-20 processed:

1. Academic acceptance into a degree program
2. Balanced estimated budget sheet
3. Support for all personal funds and/or sponsorship (bank statement or letter of sponsorship)
4. Current bank documentation (last three months)
5. One-time, non-refundable International Student Fee of $100.
6. Advance deposit of $3,000 (Citizens of Bahamas, Bermuda, Canada & Mexico are exempt from paying the international deposit)
7. Copy of Passport
8. Mailing Address (No P.O. Box Addresses) and telephone number

International students who reside in the US and have a current I-20 and wish to enroll in online or main campus classes for more than one semester must provide Andrews University with copy of the F1 or J1 visa, copy of valid passport and copy of current I-20 or DS-2019.

Required Medical Records

In accordance with recommendations from the Centers for Disease Control, the Michigan Health Department and the American College Health Association, all first-time students attending the Main Campus must supply certain medical records to the school they plan to enter before registration can be completed.

Tuberculosis Screening. All students must submit proof of a negative TB skin test taken any time within six months prior to registration. Students with a previous positive TB skin test must submit a report of a chest X-ray taken anytime within 12 months before registration.

Measles, Mumps, and Rubella (German Measles) (MMR) Immunization. Any student born after December 31, 1956, must show proof of immunity to the diseases by one of the following means:

- Two MMR vaccines received after 12 months of age
- One MMR vaccine received within the two years before registration
- A blood test proving immunity to the diseases.

Dual Enrollment Status

Dual enrollment status is available to advanced undergraduate students who wish to begin work on a graduate program. However, taking graduate courses does not guarantee or imply future admission to a degree program. Dual enrollment will affect your financial aid package. Be sure to speak to a financial aid advisor prior to a dual enrollment semester.

Requirements for Undergraduate Students Dual Enrollment. To be eligible for dual enrollment status the student must satisfy all of these requirements:

- Be an undergraduate student at Andrews University
- Be within 12 credits of finishing an undergraduate degree
- Be in the process for admission to a graduate program and meet all other regular admission standards for a graduate program
- Be enrolled in no more than 12 credits (combined graduate and undergraduate) each semester.

- Be sure to see your Financial Aid advisor, this may affect your award eligibility.

Limitation on Graduate Credits. The limitations on graduate credits taken while a student has dual enrollment status are the following:

- Credits may not be used to satisfy undergraduate requirements.
- A maximum of 16 credits of graduate courses may be reserved and applied to a subsequent graduate degree at Andrews University.

Guest Student Status

Guest Student is a temporary enrollment status, not an admission category. Enrollment as a guest student is no guarantee of admission as an undergraduate degree seeking student. Guest Student enrollment status is valid for one semester and students must submit an enrollment form for each semester they want to attend.

International students who reside in the US and have a current I-20 and wish to enroll in online or main campus classes for more than one semester must provide Andrews University with copy of the F1 or J1 visa, copy of valid passport and copy of current I-20 or DS-2019.

Qualifications for Guest Student Status. Guest Student status is assigned to any of the following:

- Current regular students at another school but wanting to take courses at Andrews without seeking to earn a degree.
- Individuals who need certain courses to qualify for certification or admissions to an undergraduate program of study.

High School Students Taking College Classes. High School students are eligible to take Courses Approved for High School Registrations if they meet the following criteria:

- Students are enrolled in Grade 10, 11 or 12 or equivalent education levels.
- Students have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 from an accredited high school. If a transcript from an accredited high school cannot be submitted, standardized test scores are required.
- Students must also maintain a 3.0 GPA in their Andrews University courses.
- Students whose first language is not English or who have not completed the last four years in schools where English is the language of instruction must provide evidence of English proficiency.
- Signed approval is required from a parent and the school registrar (unless home schooled).

Financial limitations apply:

- To qualify for the high school tuition rate, a student must register for and start the course(s) prior to graduating from high school or taking the GED or equivalent high school completion test.
- A maximum of two courses per semester will be approved at the high school tuition rate. Students must meet any prerequisites.

Students will be responsible:

- As each school makes its own decision about whether university courses fulfill high school diploma requirements, the student is responsible for clarifying credit status with their school counselor before registering.
- High school students taking Andrews University courses are held to the same academic policies, procedures and deadlines as university students. These students will be personally motivated and responsible for their college level studies, requesting support as needed.

Delivery of courses. Andrews University college courses are available to eligible high school students in the following formats:

- On-campus courses taken by an individual student or by groups of students through the Berrien RESA or area high schools, taught by Andrews University faculty or adjunct faculty.
- Interactive online courses taken by individual students or by groups of students through Adventist Academies or Griggs International Academy affiliate schools, taught by Andrews University faculty or adjunct faculty.

- Concurrent enrollment courses taken by groups of students attending an Adventist Academy, taught by approved academy teachers who serve as Andrews University adjunct faculty.

More information for high school students, parents and advisors, as well as schools interested in concurrent enrollment, is available through www.andrews.edu/precollege

Limitation of Credits Taken on Guest Student Status. Students who eventually apply and receive regular admission, may ask that up to 30 of the Andrews undergraduate credits taken as a Guest Student be applied towards the proposed degree. A minimum grade of C must be received in each course to be accepted for degree credit.

Students Accepted with Prescribed Intervention

Some freshmen who do not meet regular admissions standards but whose high school performance or test scores indicate a possibility of success may be accepted. They are advised through the Student Success Center. They will receive skills assessments and will be placed in classes selectively to enhance their academic success. Many will be required to take skills building classes. Our goal for students accepted with intervention is to have them improve skills deficits and achieve satisfactory academic performance to progress in their academic program.

Refusal or Annulment of Admission

Applicants may be refused admission

- when they do not meet the admission standards
- when they submit transcripts or records found to be fraudulent. Admission status may be canceled or annulled
- when students do not meet the conditions specified for continuing enrollment
- when the admission status was based on documents later found to be fraudulent.
- when information that differs from the expectation of integrity agreed to in the Andrews University application is disclosed.

Undergraduate Academic Information

Planning Programs

Advisors. Students are assigned academic advisors based on the major chosen. Advisors function as academic guidance counselors to help students to schedule their courses, to learn how to follow academic rules and regulations, and to make decisions regarding their future. Although advisors assist students, the responsibility for meeting degree requirements and knowing the rules which govern academic matters always rests with the individual student.

Required Placement Tests. Before registration, all new students must take two placement tests for use in academic advising:

- ACT or SAT
The ACT or SAT is required for admission and should be taken before arriving on campus. (International students studying outside the U.S. will be required to take the ACT/SAT if offered at their secondary schools.)
- TOEFL, MELAB, IELTS, or PTE International students that have not had four years of secondary school that was taught in English are required to take the TOEFL, MELAB, IELTS, or PTE.
- Mathematics Placement Test
The Mathematics Placement Test is given on campus.

Direct questions concerning advising, tutoring and student success to the Student Success Center. (phone 269-471-6096, e-mail: success@andrews.edu).

Declaration of Major. Students are encouraged to declare their major field of study by the start of their sophomore year. Special advisors are assigned to students yet undecided. Assistance in exploring majors/careers is given through the Student Success Center and the Counseling & Testing Center.

How to be Well-Prepared Academically

If you want to be well prepared for your university studies at Andrews University, we recommend that you take the following courses during your high school/academy/secondary home school years (or the equivalent of grades 9 through 12 in the U.S. educational system):

- Three years of math, including algebra I and II;

- Three years of lab sciences courses, with biology, chemistry and/or physics recommended;
- Four years of English courses, including ones that emphasize writing and vocabulary;
- Two years of a foreign language if your plans include a Bachelor of Arts degree at Andrews;
- One year-long computer course, including development of skills in database, web page development and other advanced skills; and
- Two years of social studies courses, including world or U.S. history (or history for your country of residence) and geography.

If it's available at your school, also plan to take a Bible/religion course each year. Music/fine arts, physical education and practical arts also help build a well-rounded secondary education.

To find out more on how to take the right academic steps to succeed when you attend Andrews University (as well as other information on attending Andrews), please consult www.andrews.edu/future/.

Class Standing

At the beginning of the autumn semester, undergraduate students are classified according to the number of semester credits earned.

Freshman	0–24	Sophomore	25–56
Junior	57–86	Senior	87+

Areas of Study

Specific requirements for majors, minors, and professional-degree programs are listed under each department section. Courses in other departments which are needed for a degree program also may be required as related cognate requirements.

All courses used to meet major requirements must be selected in consultation with the major professor or advisor.

Honor Lists

Dean's List. Students with a minimum semester GPA of 3.50 are eligible to be on the Andrews University Dean's List. They must carry a load of at least 12 letter-graded credits, have no letter grades below a B (3.00), and have no incompletes. Receipt of a DG does not affect eligibility for the Dean's List as long as letter grades are earned in at least 12 credits, excluding those with a DG. Each semester this list may be published or posted.

Study-Work Loads

Course Load. The course load is expressed in semester credits. Each semester credit represents one fifty-minute class period or equivalent per week for one semester. Preparation time of approximately two hours for each class period is assumed. Thus a 4-credit class meets four times a week. A laboratory or practicum experience of 3 hours is considered equal to one regular class period unless otherwise noted in the course syllabus.

The normal undergraduate class load is 15 to 16 credits per semester. Those wishing to register for more than 17 credits must secure permission from their dean. If good scholarship has been demonstrated by the student, the dean may permit a freshman to register for a maximum load of 17 credits; sophomores, juniors, and seniors for 18 credits. Adding to the course load by receiving private instruction, by correspondence work, or by registering in another university or college while being currently registered at Andrews University is not allowed. Exceptions must have permission from the dean of the school in which the student is enrolled. If permission is granted, the total study load per semester must not be greater than the maximum load permitted in residence. A student is not permitted to earn more than 20 credits during one semester.

Work Load. The course load of students who engage in part-time employment must be adjusted to provide a reasonable balance of work and study. In determining the proper balance, the student's intellectual capacity and previous academic record are considered. Students taking 12 to 16 credit hours are recommended a maximum work load of 20 hours per week.

Students should consult with their advisors in planning a proper balance of study and work. Exceptions to the above guidelines require approval by the dean of the school in which the student is enrolled and the Employment Office before the work is undertaken. On-campus employment is limited as specified in the financial section of this bulletin.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Students are expected to maintain the following minimum academic performance standards:

- Successfully complete at least 66% of all courses attempted following initial enrollment.
- Maintain an overall GPA of at least 2.00 (average grade of C).

If a student fails to maintain an overall GPA of 2.00 (on a 4.00 system), his/her enrollment category is changed to probationary.

Academic Probation Procedures

Academic Probation. A student is classified as on Academic Probation when one or more of the following three conditions apply:

1. the cumulative AU GPA falls below 2.00,
 2. the semester GPA is 1.75 or below,
 3. a combination in a semester of three or more of Withdrawals (W), Incompletes (I), or grades lower than a C.
- Students on academic probation are removed from probation when their academic status changes to good academic standing.
 - Part-time employment should be no greater than 12 hours per week and extra-curricular activities should be limited:
 - Students on academic probation status shall not be allowed to:
 - Be a member of Andrews Gymnics or Cardinals sports teams
 - Be a member of any performing group that requires frequent absences from campus
 - Hold an officer position in AUSA or any departmental club.

UG Academic Dismissal. Students are subject to academic dismissal from the University in one of the following ways:

- Earning during a given semester a GPA of 1.25 or less
- Two consecutive or three total semesters on academic probation
- Violations of the Academic Integrity Code as outlined in the Andrews University Academic Integrity Policy

Students may also be dismissed from a department or program if the specific requirements for a degree are not met by that individual.

Dismissal in December.

Students may be dismissed in December if they:

- Were admitted on academic probation as a transfer student from another institution, and were listed on academic probation at Andrews based on Fall Semester grades
- Were dismissed at the end of their most recent semester at Andrews and had their dismissal revoked on appeal, but failed to achieve Good Academic Standing based on Fall Semester grades
- Were readmitted for Fall Semester after an academic dismissal but failed to achieve Good Academic Standing based on Fall Semester grades

Dismissal in May.

Students may be dismissed in May if they:

- Have had two consecutive semesters, or three total semesters, on academic probation status and failed to achieve Good Academic Standing based on Spring Semester grades
- Were dismissed at the end of their most recent semester at Andrews and had their dismissal revoked on appeal, but failed to achieve Good Academic Standing based on Spring Semester grades
- Were readmitted for Spring Semester after an academic dismissal but failed to achieve Good Academic Standing based on Spring Semester grades
- Received notice in December that their academic probation status would result in dismissal at the end of Spring Semester unless their GPA improved significantly based on Spring Semester grades (Deferred Dismissal)

Appeal Process:

- A dismissal that follows Andrews University policy will not normally be eligible for an appeal. Students who feel there are extenuating circumstances that override policy may appeal a dismissal decision to their Academic Dean. Consultation with the Director of the Student Success Center, departments, and/or academic advisors may be necessary before appeal decisions are made.
- Academic Deans will communicate decisions on appeals to students and copy these decisions to Student Success.

International Collegiate Programs

The following apply to transfer credit from institutions outside of the United States.

Evaluation of Transfer Credit

Transfer credits from institutions outside of the United States must be evaluated by the World Education Services International Credential Advantage Package (WES ICAP). Students are required to submit official transcripts in the original language accompanied by an authorized translation to the World Education Service for WES ICAP evaluation.

This does not apply to students who have completed at least one semester abroad as part of their studies at a US Institution or for those who have attended an accredited Seventh-day Adventist Institution.

Advanced Credit

Students who have attended schools in systems of education extending beyond the equivalent of 12 years of elementary and secondary school in the United States may be awarded advanced credit.

A-Level Passes. Students with A-level passes may be awarded up to 10 credits for each A-level pass. These credits may be used as applicable toward graduation requirements, including major, concentration, minor, Andrews Core Experience and general electives.

European Advanced Standing. Andrews University may grant varying amounts of advanced standing credits (0 to 32 semester credits) in general education only, to students graduating from countries with high school completion standards at the level of select European gymnasiums. Students are required to submit official transcripts in the original language accompanied by an authorized translation to the World Education Service for WES ICAP evaluation.

Cambridge Pre-U

Credit is awarded for Pre-U grades of M3 or higher.

International Baccalaureate Exam

A score of 4 (Higher Level) or better will be accepted for general education credits. A score of 5 (Higher Level) or better will be considered by departments for credit towards major requirements.

Credit For Prior Learning

Andrews University approves credit for prior college-level learning earned through recognized advanced standing, standardized and department exams, validation and portfolio assessments. Other options are reviewed by the Articulation Council. For information about evaluation of transfer credits, see Bulletin Undergraduate Academic Policy: Transfer of Credits.

No form of credit for prior learning will be approved to replace grades earned through Andrews University.

In order for credit to be assessed and articulated:

1. The student must have matriculated and be in good and regular standing at the time prior learning credit is requested.
2. Prior learning credits must be evaluated prior to registration in the last 12 credits required for program completion.
3. The total of all credit awarded for prior learning, excluding credits transferred from accredited institutions must not exceed 30% of the total credits required for program completion.

Before first registration, students should discuss all prior college-level learning (documented and undocumented) with their academic advisor and the Prior Learning Coordinator. Assessed prior learning is assigned a pass or fail grade. Only passing grades are recorded as prior learning credit.

Advanced Placement Exams. Credits for advanced high school learning may be applied toward major, concentration, minor, core experience and elective requirements. The following options are currently recognized:

Cambridge Pre-U

See International Collegiate Programs policy.

College Board (AP)

Credit awarded for Math, Science and English scores of 4 or 5; credit awarded for scores of 3 or higher for all other subject exams.

International Baccalaureate (IB)

See International Collegiate Programs policy.

High School Advanced Standing

See International Collegiate Programs policy.

Standardized Exams. Recognition for prior learning may be achieved through credit by exams taken through standardized examining bodies such as College Level Exam Program (CLEP), DANTES Subject Standardized Test (DSST), and Excelsior College (UEXcel).

CLEP – College Level Exam Program

Transfer credit awarded for scores of 62 or higher in Science and Language subject exam; and scores of 50 or higher in all other subject exams.

DSST – DANTES Subject Standardized Test

Transfer credit awarded for scores of 434 or higher in science and language subject exams; and scores of 400 or higher in all other subjects.

UEXCEL – Excelsior College

Transfer credits awarded for scores of B or higher on listed Language and Science exams; scores of C or higher will be accepted on all other approved subject exams.

Scores meeting departmentally established minima will be articulated as transfer credit with a passing grade.

Students may take standardized exams at any approved testing center, including the Andrews University Counseling and Testing Center.

Departmentally Administered Assessments. In some programs, challenge or performance exams can be arranged to waive requirements, place into courses (meet prerequisites), or earn credits meeting program requirements. Departmentally-constructed tests may be written, oral or skill assessments, or external exams administered by the department for internal evaluation.

Validation of Non-Traditional Learning. Professional certifications or performance exams may be evaluated for alignment to Andrews University course outcomes. Credit awarded does not meet residency requirement. Andrews University recognizes college-level learning validated through entities such as the American Council on Education (ACE), the National College Credit Recommendation Service (NCCRS), and Joint Services Transcripts (JST). Some transfer credits from unaccredited entities not recognized by American Council on Education may be approved by the Chair of the Department and the respective Dean.

Portfolio Assessment. When none of the above methods apply, prior learning may be validated and credit granted through review of a portfolio of evidence demonstrating achievement of a specific course's learning outcomes. Students begin the prescribed portfolio process by contacting the Prior Learning Coordinator and their academic advisor.

Students must complete at least 12 credits in their current program prior to applying for Andrews University portfolio assessment. Portfolios may be assessed through the Council of Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL). Credit that may be awarded does not meet residency requirement.

Credit for Off-Campus Study/Experience - After Admission to AU

In keeping with the Andrews mission statement, many opportunities are available for students to engage in changing the world during their degree program. Academic credit is available for some of these experiential learning commitments.

Adventist Colleges Abroad Studies. Andrews University co-sponsors Adventist Colleges Abroad, a program in which qualified students study overseas while completing requirements for graduation at Andrews. This language and cultural immersion is available in eight locations: Argentina, Austria, Brazil, England, France, Italy, Singapore, and Spain.

Andrews degree-seeking students earn Andrews University credit for courses listed in the current Andrews bulletin which are available on ACA campuses. Working with both Andrews and ACA advisors, students may be able to transfer additional credits offered by the ACA college which are not listed in the Andrews bulletin. More information is available at <http://www.aca-noborders.com/> or <http://www.andrews.edu/cas/inls/programs/aca.html>

Educational Tours. Tours enrich required classes.

Internships/Practicum/Externships/OPT. Work opportunities may be offered for professional programs that require an internship for degree completion. They contribute to preparation to obtain a license. Externships may be arranged through departmental connections for new graduates. No grade is assigned.

Student missions. Students may volunteer to serve in another culture or state, breaking their full-time study for one or more semesters. In addition to co-curricular mission-preparation, students may arrange to complete one or more courses through distance learning or independent study at special tuition rates. Students may wish to discuss options with their academic advisor to maximize the global learning during this mission experience.

Transient credit. Students may take and transfer credit from another college or university after being admitted to an Andrews degree program. A transient form should be completed prior to taking courses elsewhere to ensure credits meet degree requirements.

Transferring Correspondence Courses from Another Institution. A maximum of 16 semester credits by correspondence, other than credits taken through Andrews School of Distance Education, is accepted toward a baccalaureate degree. However, correspondence credit may be applied on a major or a minor only with the approval of the department chair. Normally, students do not take correspondence courses while in residence. They may be allowed to do so because of a schedule conflict. Permission must be obtained in writing from the dean of the school in which the credit is to be accepted. Correspondence work is counted as part of the regular college load. Courses should be completed within six months from the time of enrollment.

Only 6 transfer credits, including correspondence credits, may be applied toward the last 36 semester credits of a baccalaureate degree. Correspondence courses cannot be used to replace failures or other low grades earned in residence. All transcripts for correspondence work must be in the Office of Academic Records at least 15 days prior to commencement weekend.

Baccalaureate Degree Requirements

The general requirements are the minimum required to receive a baccalaureate degree. Departments often have higher standards and additional requirements. The minimum, general standards are listed below.

Credit Requirement

- A minimum of 124 semester credits must be earned and applied toward the degree.

Course Requirements

- Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degrees. Students must complete required courses including the following: General Education requirements plus the requirements for a major, a minor (if required), and specified cognates (or related courses).
- Professional baccalaureate degrees. Students must complete all required courses including the following: General Education requirements plus the specific requirements for a degree as outlined in the appropriate section of this bulletin, including core, major, emphasis, and cognate requirements.
- All baccalaureate degrees. Students must complete a minimum of 30 semester credits from courses numbered 300 or above.

Residence Requirements

- A minimum of 30 of the last 36 semester credits applied to a baccalaureate degree must be earned on campus OR a minimum of 50% (62 credits) of undergraduate credit requirement. Before a student takes non-Andrews University courses for any part of the other 6 semester credits, the dean of the college/school in which the student is enrolled must approve.
- A minimum of one-third of the credits required for a major, and 3 credits required for a minor must be earned on campus and in courses numbered 300 or above.
- School of Business Administration students seeking a BBA must complete at least 50% of the core and major (33 of the total 66 credits) in residence.

Grade Requirements

- Overall GPA: A GPA of at least 2.00 (C) is required in all credits, and in credits earned at Andrews University. (Individual schools or departments may have higher minimum GPA requirements.)
- Major GPA: A GPA of at least 2.25 is required in all transfer credits, and in all credits earned at Andrews University that are counted for a major. (Individual schools or departments may have higher minimum GPA requirements.)
- Minor GPA: A GPA of at least 2.00 is required in all transfer credits, and in all credits earned at Andrews University that are counted for a minor. (Individual schools or departments may have higher minimum GPA requirements.)
- No course with a grade below C- may count toward a major or minor.

One Degree with Multiple Majors. Students may earn more than one major for a single degree. When more than one major is chosen, all the requirements for each major must be met to include all cognates for each major. If the majors represent more than one degree the student must specify which degree he/she wishes to receive (i.e., BA, BS or Professional degree) and complete the General Education requirements for that degree. A course may be used to fulfill the requirements for more than one major or minor if at least 75% of the major/minor credits are not also counted for another major/minor. A course may not be used to fulfill the requirements of more than one major or minor used for teacher certification. Any courses that fulfill cognate requirements for one major/minor may also be counted for another major/minor. One diploma will be issued for the single degree even if there are multiple majors.

Multiple Degrees. Students who earn more than one major and the majors are in different degrees may wish to earn a degree for each major (i.e., BA, BS or Professional degree). If more than one degree is chosen the General Education requirements for each degree must be completed. A General Education course may be used to fulfill the General Education requirements for multiple degrees. All the requirements for each major must be met to include all cognates for each major. A course may be used to fulfill the requirements for more than one major or minor if at least 75% of the major/minor credits are not also counted for another major/minor. A course may not be used to fulfill the requirements of more than one major or minor used for teacher certification. Any courses that fulfill cognate requirements for one major/minor may also be counted for another major/minor. One diploma will be issued for each degree earned.

Assessment (Evaluation) Requirements. Baccalaureate-degree candidates must complete general and departmental assessment examinations administered by the Counseling and Testing Center. These senior exit testing experiences include nationally normed standardized tests for all first-baccalaureate candidates and major field exams for selected departments and majors. In addition to the senior exit tests required for graduation, some departments may ask students to participate in additional assessment activities. Results from assessment experiences are reviewed by departments, the General Education Committee, and the Committee for University Assessment as part of the university's commitment to continuous improvement of student learning.

Request for Graduation. Degree candidates must file an Undergraduate Graduation Application with approval of the advisor and Office of Academic Records.

Second Baccalaureate Degree Requirements

If a student wishes to earn a second baccalaureate degree, he/she must

- complete, in residence, 30 credits beyond those required for the first baccalaureate degree.
- meet all of the published requirements of the second degree major/professional component, including prerequisites, cognates, degree core, and General Education requirements specific to the program of study for the second degree.
- complete a minimum of 3 credits in religion if the first degree did not include a comparable General Education component in religion.

Associate Degree Requirements

Credit Requirement. A total of 62 semester credits must be earned and applied toward the degree.

Course Requirements. Students must complete the General Education requirements plus the specific requirements for the degree as specified in the appropriate section of this bulletin, including core, major, emphasis, and cognates as required.

Residence Requirements.

- A minimum of 15 of the last 21 semester credits applied to a degree must be earned in residence. Before a student takes non-Andrews courses for any part of the final 6 credits, the dean of the college/school in which the student is enrolled must approve.
- A minimum of 9 credits of the major must be taken in residence.

Grade Requirements. The grade requirements for an associate degree are the same as for a baccalaureate degree.

- Overall GPA: A GPA of at least 2.00 (C) is required in all transfer credits and in credits earned at Andrews University. (Individual schools or departments may have higher minimum GPA requirements.)
- Major GPA: A GPA of at least 2.25 is required in all transfer credits and in all credits earned at Andrews University that are counted for a major. (Individual schools or departments may have higher minimum GPA requirements.)

Request for Graduation. A degree candidate must file a request for graduation with approval by the student's advisor and a designated records officer.

Student's Governing Bulletin

Students may graduate under the bulletin for any school year they attend Andrews as long as that bulletin was published no more than ten years before the planned date of graduation. If students leave the university after earning at least 8 semester credits and then try to transfer more than 12 semester credits earned in the interim from another college, they are governed by the bulletin for the school year in which they return. The dean of the college in which the student is enrolled may permit exceptions.

The university reserves the right to require students (1) to take another course when a course required under an earlier bulletin is no longer offered, and (2) to graduate under a recent bulletin if they are working for certification by a governmental or professional agency.

Philosophy of the Andrews Core Experience Program

The rapid expansion of knowledge in a global community requires those who would be truly educated citizens to adopt a philosophy of lifelong learning. One must engage the mind in the study of many fields, from the fine arts and humanities to the empirical, quantitative, and social sciences. This broad encounter with the varied perspectives of the liberal arts tradition forms the domain of General Education, one of the two pillars of American higher education. By contrast, the other pillar is one's chosen major, usually a focused study of a specific discipline and the development of required skills. The university will provide a cohesive Andrews Core Experience Program, supported by faculty committed to an effective core curriculum.

The Andrews Core Experience Program aims to develop students notable for their culture, civility, integrity, and intellect within a Christian milieu.

Thus, the faculty seeks to prepare graduates who possess knowledge, the ethical values, interests, abilities, communication competence, quantitative skills, and analytical thinking for both leadership and service, so that they may contribute effectively to their homes, work places, communities, and churches. Transmitting this foundational heritage—along with an appropriate level of knowledge and skills—forms the essential purpose of the Andrews Core Experience Program at Andrews University. As a result, the Andrews Core Experience Program strives to foster an atmosphere in which each student is encouraged to meet the learning outcomes for the Andrews Core Experience Program.

The Program provides a first-year curriculum that establishes initial expectations and basic academic skills foundational to the undergraduate experience. Anchored in four 100-level Andrews Core courses, the First-year Experience at Andrews University provides first-year 'native' students with an introduction to academia and a balanced university life, further development of basic academic skills, and a sense of belonging to the Andrews University community.

Andrews Core Experience Learning Outcomes

Seek Knowledge

- Strengthen the ability to communicate effectively. Oral and Written.
- Develop the ability to think critically, observe accurately, analyze quantitatively, draw reasonable inferences, perceive relationships, and show the ability to discriminate among alternatives and design creative strategies to solve problems.
- Enjoy the cultural achievements of humanity and foster participation in creative and aesthetic activity.
- Master content knowledge across the academic disciplines identified in the General Education tables. By specifying courses to that end, Andrews University recognizes the learning outcomes foundational to developing thoughtful citizens of the world.

Affirm Faith

- Construct a thoughtfully conceived worldview that recognizes the roles of Scripture, nature, and human discovery as sources of truth.
- Consciously make Christian convictions explicit and apply them ethically, as well as articulate individual values from the viewpoint of one's chosen profession.
- Understand the heritage and mission of Andrews University in furthering the teachings of Christ within the context of Seventh-day Adventist faith and practice with a view to the heritage and mission of Andrews University.
- Exhibit compassionate behavior towards other individuals and show respect for the dignity of all people, affirming the Biblical view of all persons being created in the image of God who in Christ wants all human beings to be one, independent of gender or ethnic background.

Change the World

- Enjoy camaraderie with many individuals and form enduring friendships within the diverse campus community.
- Evaluate one's interpersonal effectiveness, including the ability to work in groups while maintaining the ability to think for oneself, and strive to enlarge the scope of all personal abilities.
- Understand one's role and responsibilities as a citizen in a secular society and as a member of a religious community; and then, beyond understanding, to respond with thoughts, with emotion, and with action to the needs of one's wider community.

Honors General Education (SAGES)

The Andrews Honors Program offers a series of interdisciplinary courses which apply to the General Education requirement. See Scholars Alternative General Education Studies (SAGES).

Multiculturalism/Diversity in the Andrews Core Experience Curriculum
The Andrews Core Experience Program at Andrews University includes an explicit emphasis on multiculturalism and diversity. This emphasis recognizes the historical development of various cultures and groups in the United States, the global nature and mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and the diverse student body and faculty of the university with more than ninety countries from around the world represented on campus. The focus on multiculturalism and diversity includes specific emphasis in the following courses: COMM 104 - Communication Skills, BHSC 100 - Philosophy of Service and Civic Engagement, ENGL 115 - College Writing I, RELT 100 - God and Human Life, and HIST 117 - Civilizations and Ideas I & HIST 118 - Civilizations and Ideas II.

Andrews Core Experience Mathematics

The Andrews Core Experience mathematics requirement consists of a skill requirement, which should be met first, and a reasoning requirement, which should be fulfilled no later than the second year of college.

The skill requirement, competence in arithmetic and high school algebra, is met by an official Mathematics Placement Exam (MPE) score of at least P2, which may be obtained through testing or by completing the skills course material in MATH 091 and MATH 092.

The skill requirement (MPE score) by testing.

The MPE score provides information essential to planning the college career; thus, almost all students (see exceptions below) must obtain an official MPE score during the first semester of residence. Students with ACT or SAT scores will have an official MPE score assigned, based on their performance on the math portion of the test. All incoming students, new and transfer (see exceptions below), should check their record for an MPE score. If they do not have a score or believe that the placement is inaccurate, then they can obtain an official MPE score by taking a proctored assessment. For details go to the department Web site at <https://www.andrews.edu/cas/math/mathematicsplacement/>

The skill requirement (MPE score) by skill course.

The skill course sequence, MATH 091 and MATH 092 Arithmetic and Algebra Review is offered for students with MPE scores of E0, E1, M0, M1, P0, P1. Students with these scores should usually enroll in MATH 091 Arithmetic and Algebra Review during their first semester. Many students should plan to enroll first in MATH 091 and then MATH 092 (for two successive semesters) to bring their skills up to the required level. Completion of the MATH 091/MATH 092 sequence with a passing grade in both courses fulfills the skill requirement and awards a P2 score. An R grade in MATH 092 indicates that the student is making reasonable progress but needs to re-register for MATH 092 to complete the material. For more information on MATH 091 and 092, go to the Department of Mathematics Web site.

The reasoning requirement.

MATH 145 Reasoning with Functions is the course which most non-science students will find appropriate for meeting the reasoning requirement. MATH 165, MATH 166, MATH 168, MATH 191, and MATH 195 also meet the reasoning requirement.

Transfer policy.

Courses transferred to meet the reasoning requirement must be broadly equivalent, both in content and level, to those offered at Andrews to meet the requirement. Andrews students who wish to take a course elsewhere to meet the reasoning requirement must first meet the skill requirement and must have the proposed course accepted by petition before enrolling in it. Courses titled Intermediate Algebra, Elementary Algebra, Basic Algebra, Pre-algebra, College Arithmetic, or Business Mathematics may prepare the student for the MPE but do not normally meet the reasoning or the skill requirement or apply toward graduation.

Exceptions

- Students who at admission transfer College Algebra, College Algebra with Trigonometry, Precalculus, Precalculus Algebra, Precalculus Trigonometry, Calculus, a Cambridge "A Level" pass in Mathematics, or AP Calculus fulfill both the mathematics reasoning and skill requirements.
- Some courses other than those listed in 1 above may be accepted for the reasoning requirement, provided they are presented at admission and the skill requirement is separately fulfilled. Current criteria will be applied case by case. Students wishing to have a course evaluated should email the Andrews University Department of Mathematics a link to the course description found on the Web site of the institution offering that course.
- Students enrolled in the Center for Intensive English Programs are not required to obtain an official MPE score until the first semester of enrollment in regular college-level courses.

Transfer Policy for Andrews Core Experience Credits

Transfer Students. To qualify as a transfer student, one must have earned credits prior to entering Andrews University from another college/university.

Transient Students. Students who begin at Andrews University and wish to take and transfer credit from another college/university are, by definition, transient students. The below guidelines do not apply for these students; they are required to fill out a petition form prior to attending the other institution.

Andrews University views the general education curriculum in two distinct ways when working with transfer students.

Mathematics and English Composition II should be recognized as core foundation skills needed for all degrees, thus these two disciplines should continue to carry extra weight and should be at least equal to Andrews University course expectations.

All other General Education transfer courses should be treated generously upon credit articulation. The following guidelines will be used when reviewing transfer student courses.

Transfer Student Credit Articulation Guidelines for BA/BS Andrews Core

Religion—Independent of transferring from a Seventh-day Adventist or non-Seventh-day Adventist college/university.

Fitness Education—2 coursesMichigan Transfer Agreement

The Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) is designed to ease the transition from a Community College to a Michigan baccalaureate institution. The MTA satisfies a portion, but not all of the Andrews Core Experience (ACE) Requirements for general education. Transfer students from sending institutions who are accepted into Andrews University and have satisfied the MTA will have their courses evaluated to determine how the transferring courses meet ACE Requirements (See Table below). The MTA does not satisfy major, minor, or cognate course requirements. Students are responsible for requesting official transcripts from the awarding institution.

Service-Learning Requirements

Service to others is a central emphasis of the Andrews University Mission Statement. The Andrews Core Experience Program, therefore, includes an emphasis on service so that all graduates will understand the importance and rewards of service activities.

The service-learning component consists of two requirements: (1) BHSC 100 - Philosophy of Service and Civic Engagement, and (2) Fieldwork (0–2 credits). * The fieldwork requirement can be met in three ways: by registering for BHSC 300 - Philosophy of Service Fieldwork, by taking an "S" course (service-learning course) in the student's major or minor (such courses are marked with the symbol "S" in the Bulletin), or by waiving the requirement based on the steps outlined in the "Service Learning Packet," available in the Behavioral Science Department. Larry Ulery supervises the waiver process for the fieldwork requirement.

A student in a degree program which includes Service/ Fieldwork who does not complete the program will need to complete the Service/Fieldwork requirement as specified.

* Transfer students with two years of course work elsewhere choose to take either BHSC 100 or Fieldwork.

School of Graduate Studies

The School of Graduate Studies, is an administrative unit that coordinates university-wide academic and research quality on behalf of the graduate faculty, monitors decisions regarding admission, academic progress, and eligibility for graduation of students in most programs. Departments and programs may have additional requirements for admission. Consult the appropriate portions of this bulletin for such requirements.

The Dean of the School of Graduate Studies office is located in the Administration Building, AD310, graduateschool@andrews.edu.

Graduate Enrollment & Admission Policies

The Admission Process

The graduate programs at Andrews University are characterized by academic quality, attention to research, close individual student/professor interaction, and an emphasis on the spiritual dimensions of the various content fields. The university welcomes students in harmony with these ideals to apply for admission to its graduate programs.

1. Applications for graduate programs should be submitted online at www.andrews.edu/apply along with the appropriate requirements. Once the application is complete and ready for review, the appropriate Academic Program and School will make an admission decision on the application. Graduate Enrollment Management processes the Admission Decision and communicates it to the applicant.
2. Applicants for the DPT Program must apply through the Physical Therapy Centralized Application Service (PTCAS). For more information, see the Physical Therapy section of this bulletin.
3. Applicants for the SPLAD Program must apply through the CSDCAS Application Service. For more information, see the Speech-Language Pathology & Audiology section of this bulletin.

How to Apply

The graduate application is to be submitted online along with the nonrefundable application fee. Online and paper application fee is $60. During the application process, you may pause and then reopen your online application file through a link that will be sent to the email address you provide. Your information is saved for up to 90 days.

Application Deadlines for Domestic and International Students

Domestic and International students are required to complete and submit all the application requirements before the deadlines listed below:

- Spring (January - April): November 15
- Summer (May - July): June 1
- Fall (August - December): July 30

Some departments may have different deadlines. Please click here to search for your program deadlines.

Eligibility Requirements

These are the eligibility requirements as stated by the School of Graduate Studies

Graduate Certificate Programs

To qualify for regular admission to a Graduate Certificate program, students must meet the minimum eligibility requirements as stated in the Master's degree section below, in addition to fulfilling the general admission requirements.

Master's Degree Programs

MA, MArch, MAT, MBA, MMus, MS, MSA, MSMLS, MSW, MSCID, MIDA, MPH

To qualify for regular admission to the master's-degree programs governed by the School of Graduate Studies as listed above, students must meet the following minimum academic standards in addition to the appropriate admission requirements.

- Hold a four-year baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited American university or senior college, or its equivalent from a comparably recognized institution outside the U.S. Accreditation must be from an accrediting body recognized by the US Department of Education or schools outside of the US must have government recognition in the country of origin or by the Adventist Accrediting Association. Degrees or work received from institutions generally considered to be diploma/degree mills are not evidence of prior academic work.

- Demonstrate adequate undergraduate preparation in the proposed field of graduate study and in general education. This will be evaluated by the respective schools and departments that designate subject-matter preparation. Consult the specific school and departmental requirements.
- Indicate ability to handle master's-level work in the language of instruction. See English Proficiency Requirement section for more information.
- Show evidence of ability to carry advanced study as listed below. Some specific programs require a higher GPA for admission—consult department/program requirements in other sections of this bulletin.
- Satisfy one of the criteria below:
 - Have an overall GPA of at least 2.60 in undergraduate courses.
 - Have a GPA of at least 2.75 on last 50% of undergraduate courses.
 - Have a graduate GPA of at least 3.00 on 8 semester credits or more earned in courses graded A–F.
 - Hold a previous master's degree.

Doctoral and Advanced Degrees

Educational Specialist (EdS), Doctor of Education (EdD), Doctor of Philosophy (PhD), Doctor of Theology (ThD), Doctor of Missiology (DMiss), Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP)

To qualify for regular admission to a specialist or doctoral program, students must meet the following minimum academic standards in addition to fulfilling the general admission requirements.

- Hold a baccalaureate degree or master's degree in an area appropriate to the major emphasis of the specialist or doctoral program from a regionally accredited American university or senior college, or its equivalent from a comparably, recognized institution outside the U.S. Accreditation must be from an accrediting body recognized by the U.S. Department of Education, or schools outside of the U.S. must have government recognition in the country of origin or by the Adventist Accrediting Association. Degrees or work received from institutions generally considered to be diploma/degree mills are not evidence of prior academic work.
- Evidence of adequate preparation for doctoral-level graduate work. Applicants who have completed at least 16 semester credits of graduate work must have a least a graduate GPA of 3.0. Applicants to the School Psychology program may see the program admission requirements.
- Provide evidence of adequate preparation in the proposed field of graduate study and in general education. This will be evaluated by the respective schools and departments that designate subject-matter preparation.
- Show evidence of the ability to handle specialist- or doctoral-level work in the language of instruction. See English Proficiency Requirement section for more information.

Physical Therapy Degrees and Programs

Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT), Transitional Doctor of Physical Therapy (t-DPT), Doctor of Science in Physical Therapy (DSCT), Orthopedic Clinical Residency Program Professional degrees in the Department of Physical Therapy operate under the supervision of the Physical Therapy Professional Degree Council. This council has delegated authority to act as the Courses and Curriculum Committee for all Physical Therapy programs. The Physical Therapy Professional Degree Council formulates and approves general education requirements after consultation with the General Education Committee and develops academic, department, financial and other policies of its programs. See the Physical Therapy section of this bulletin for academic standards for these degrees and programs.

Theological Seminary Professional Ministerial Degrees

Master of Arts in Pastoral Ministry(MAPM), Master of Arts in Youth and Young Adult Ministry(MAYYAM), Master of Divinity(MDiv), Doctoral of Ministry(DMin)

Professional degrees in the Theological Seminary are not under the supervision of the School of Graduate Studies. See the Theological Seminary section for academic standards for these degrees

Admission Requirements

Degree Requirements for Admissions into Graduate Programs

An earned degree is one of the requirements for admissions into a graduate program. Following is the degree requirement for admissions into Andrews University graduate programs:

1. Programs may admit students into doctoral programs on the basis of a bachelor's degree. An applicant with a discipline specific bachelor's degree may be admitted into a corresponding doctoral program. Students in these programs may earn an advanced degree en route to the doctoral program. (For example, currently, applicants with a bachelor's in psychology may be admitted into the PhD in Counseling Psychology). Normally, a student admitted into a doctoral program with a bachelor's degree needs a minimum of 90 graduate credits for the doctoral degree.

2. Programs may admit students into doctoral programs on the basis of a master's degree. Applicants with a masters may be admitted into a doctoral program; however, the credits from the master's program shall not be transferred into the doctoral program. Only credits that do not apply to the master's degree are applicable to the doctoral degree requirements and normally, a student needs a minimum of 60 post-masters credits for the doctoral degree.*

3. Programs may admit students into master's programs on the basis of a bachelor's degree or another master's degree. Normally, a student needs a minimum of 30 graduate credits for the degree.

*professional doctorates, such as, the DMISS, DNP, DPT, DScPT, and T-DPT may require fewer post master's credits.

These are the minimum admission requirements based on each degree level; however, note that each graduate program may have unique admission requirements. Also, international students will need to submit additional requirements:

1. Graduate Certificate Requirements (Communication, Leadership, Religious Education, Educational Leadership, Campus Spiritual Leadership)
 - Statement of Purpose - At least 500 words.
 - Professional History or Resume - Information about your employment, research, or special projects.
 - Recommendations - Two professional or academic recommendations are required.
 - Official Transcripts - From institutions where all post-secondary coursework was taken. Official transcripts must be sent directly from your school to The Office of Graduate Enrollment Management at Andrews University. These documents may also be delivered in a sealed envelope with the issuing school's seal.
2. Master Level requirements (MA, MArch, MAT, MBA, MMus, MPH, MS, MSA, MSMLS, MSW, MSCID, MIDA)
 - Statement of Purpose - At least 500 words.
 - Professional History or Resume - Information about your employment, research, or special projects.
 - Recommendations - Two professional or academic recommendations are required.
 - Official Transcripts - From institutions where all post-secondary coursework was taken. Official transcripts must be sent directly from your school to The Office of Graduate Enrollment Management at Andrews University. These documents may also be delivered in a sealed envelope with the issuing school's seal.
 - Standardized Test - Most programs require the GRE (Graduate Records Exam) or GMAT (Graduate Management Aptitude Test) exam. This exam must be taken within five years prior to admission. Visit this link to see a full list of the programs that require these tests.

3. Professional Master level requirements (MDiv, MAPM, MAYYAM)
 - Statement of Purpose - At least 500 words for MAPM and MAYYAM. The MDiv program requires additional questions.
 - Professional History or Resume - Information about your employment, research, or special projects only required for MAPM and MAYYAM.
 - Recommendations - Three specific recommendations are required. Visit the appropriate program for more details.
 - Official Transcripts - From institutions where all post-secondary coursework was taken. Official transcripts must be sent directly from your school to The Office of Graduate Enrollment Management at Andrews University. These documents may also be delivered in a sealed envelope with the issuing school's seal.
 - 16 PF test - Complete the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed. Students in the MAPM Spanish track, do not need to complete this test.
4. Doctoral Level requirements (EdS, EdD, PhD, ThD, t-DPT, DScPT, DMin, DMIss, DNP, DPT)
 - Statement of Purpose - At least 500 words. Each program may require specific questions. Visit the appropriate program for more details.
 - Professional History or Resume - Information about your employment, research, or special projects.
 - Recommendations - Three professional or academic recommendations are required. Visit the appropriate program for more details.
 - Official Transcripts - From institutions where all post-secondary coursework was taken. Official transcripts must be sent directly from your school to The Office of Graduate Enrollment Management at Andrews University. These documents may also be delivered in a sealed envelope with the issuing school's seal.
 - Research Paper - Most programs require submission of a research paper that showcases your best writing work.
 - GRE (Graduate Records Exam) exam - Most programs require this test. It must be taken within five years prior to admission. Visit this link to see a full list of the programs that require this test.
 - Applicants for the DPT Program must apply through the Physical Therapy Centralized Application Service (PTCAS). For more information, see the Physical Therapy section of this bulletin.
5. Post-Doctoral Certificate requirements (Leadership)
 - Statement of Purpose - At least 500 words.
 - Professional History or Resume - Information about your employment, research, or special projects.
 - Recommendations - Two professional or academic recommendations are required.
 - GRE (Graduate Records Exam) exam - This exam must be taken within five years prior to admission.

International Students

In addition to fulfilling the regular admission requirements, international students need to submit additional documents in order to complete their graduate application.

Additional Admission Requirements

- Transcripts:
- Domestic and International prospective students who graduated from an educational institution in the U.S. must upload unofficial transcripts directly in the Graduate Application system during the application process. Official final transcripts will be required only after admission decision.
- Domestic and International prospective students who graduated from an educational institution outside the U.S. and are applying to an on campus or online program must provide a WES International Credential Advantage Package (WES ICAP) which includes verified copies of official transcripts. An unofficial copy of the WES ICAP may be uploaded in the Graduate Application system during the application process. The official document will be required after admission decision.

- Domestic and International prospective students who graduated from an educational institution outside the U.S. and are applying to an overseas or U.S extension program must upload unofficial original language and literal English translation of the transcripts in the Graduate Application system during the application process. A copy of a diploma may be also required. Official final transcripts will be required only after admission decision.
- English Proficiency: International students must demonstrate their proficiency in English. See English Proficiency Requirement section for more information.
- Bachelor's degree diploma: A copy of the literal English translation of the diploma, along with the original-language document may be sent by email. The copy of the diploma is not needed if the transcripts come through an approved credential evaluation agency (WES, AACRAO, ECE) listing the graduation date.
- Secondary documents: A copy of these secondary documents may be required where applicable:
 - Baccalaureate for the French System
 - Abitur Diploma for the German System
 - A-level results for the British system

Special Requirements

International students who wish to become full time students (F1 visa) must obtain an I-20 form before applying for a visa. The requirements for obtaining and I-20 form are:

- Academic acceptance
- Payment of $3,000 advance deposit (not required for Mexico or Canada)
- Submit the Estimated Budget Sheet form
- Notarized affidavit of support for all personal funds and/or sponsorships
- Bank documentation for the previous 12 months
- A full semester payment in advance is required for citizens of Kenya and Ethiopia
- A full semester payment in advance is required for students in the Master's of Divinity program

Please visit the Office of International Student Services for more information.

Full-Time Status

International students must retain their status as full-time students as required by the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS). They must enroll for a minimum of 8 credits each semester (MDiv minimum is 9 semester credits) while in the U.S. They may also work on a part-time basis only on campus and if satisfactory academic performance is maintained and such work is allowed by the INS. School of Education students should visit Full-time Status.

English Proficiency Requirements

English is the language of communication and instruction for all programs on the Michigan campus and at most sites across the United States or Canada. All students whose first language is not English must demonstrate proficiency in English to succeed in this academic setting.

Minimum scores required

Internet-based TOEFL (iBT)	80
Paper-based TOEFL (ITP)	550
MELAB	80
IELTS(Academic)	6.5
PTE(Academic)	54

The following programs require a higher English test score. Please visit the appropriate links in order to learn more:

- MA Communication
- MA English
- Seminary Programs
- MA TESOL
- DPT Physical Therapy

Guidelines

- These tests must be taken within two years prior to enrollment.

- Applicants may not be required to fulfill the English language requirement if one of the following takes place from an educational institution where English is the language of communication and instruction:
 - Completion of education from at least the ninth through the twelfth grade and a high school diploma or equivalent.
 - Completion of a bachelor's degree (BA or BS) and diploma from an undergraduate college or university.
 - Completion of a graduate degree.
- Students who score below these levels may complete the language requirements by enrolling in Intensive English Program courses (ENSL) on the Andrews University campus and passing the Exit Exam for English as a Second/Foreign Language.
 - The ENSL course work for a student program is formulated on the basis of the results of MELAB (Michigan English Language Assessment Battery), TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language), IELTS (International English Language Testing System), or PTE Academic (Pearson Test of English) and placement test results, and the student's course load is adjusted accordingly. Some students may be required to take English language studies until English language skills are at an acceptable level. Students who need to take ENSL courses will need to budget for additional costs.
 - Students with a score on the TOEFL ITP (paper-based) of 500-549 (or the equivalent on any of the four other exams) may be eligible for the Language Bridge Program which allows students to take a limited number of degree program courses while completing language proficiency requirements in Intensive English Program courses. Students in the Language Bridge Program must demonstrate language proficiency within three semesters in order to continue in the degree program. Not all degree programs allow students to participate in the Language Bridge program. Please contact the Center for Intensive English Programs (CIEP) for additional information. Degree programs with higher admissions requirements will also have higher requirements for participation in the Language Bridge Programs.

The Counseling & Testing Center in Bell Hall offers the Internet-based TOEFL and MELAB by appointment. The Center for Intensive English in the College of Arts & Sciences offers the Institutional paper-based TOEFL (ITP).

Required Tests

GRE and GMAT

Students are expected to take the GRE General Test or GMAT exam prior to admission. To learn if your program required the GRE or GMAT, please review the admission requirements of your program of interest.

Minimum GRE Scores

Applicants are expected to meet the GRE requirement before admission into the program. The Table below provides a breakdown of the proposed minimum scores – programs may establish higher minimum scores. Students who meet the minimum required scores may be admitted on regular status. Students who do not meet the minimum required scores may be admitted provisionally with explicit documentation (such as identified courses, GRE class, etc.) of how the provisions shall be met.

DEGREE	Verbal Reasoning	Quantitative Reasoning	Analytical Writing
Doctoral	142	142	3.0
Masters	140	140	3.0

The GRE is not required for all programs. To learn if you program required the GRE, please review the admission requirements of your program of interest.

Guidelines

- Exams are to be taken no more than five years before the date of admission.
- The Andrews University code of 1030 must be used when requesting GRE scores form Educational Testing Services www.ets.org/gre
- The Andrews University code of VVG-G6-19 must be used when requesting GMAT, scores from www.mba.com.
- The Prueba de Admision a Estudios de Postgrado (PAEP) may be substituted for the GRE as an entrance requirement for any cohort taught in Spanish.
- The GRE scores may be waived for master's applicants who have graduated with a previous United States master's degree from a regionally accredited institution, or a United States master's degree equivalency from an accredited or government recognized institution outside of the U.S.
- Most Masters, EdD, PhD, ThD programs and the EdS School Psychology require general GRE test scores prior to admission. In cases of extreme hardship students applying to the EdS School Psychology program may contact the Department of Graduate Psychology & Counseling for an exception to this policy.
- Admission GMAT requirements can be obtained by one of the following:

1. Attain formula score of 1,000 points, calculated by taking the undergraduate cumulative GPA X 200+GMAT score \geq 1,000
OR
2. Five years of documented and approved work experience and earned a grade of at least of B- in statistics and a grade of at least B- in pre-calculus algebra,
OR
3. On-campus Andrews University undergraduate business students with a cumulative GPA = or > 3.0 and earned a grade of at least a B- in statistics and a grade of at least B- in pre-calculus algebra.
 - See Andrews Graduate Scholarship to learn about the GRE or GMAT Scholarship.

Andrews Graduate Scholarship

The Graduate Scholarship is a tuition reduction percentage, based on the GRE or GMAT scores and admission GPA. Please visit Financial Information section and the program page for more information.

Refusal or Annulment of Admission

Applicants may be refused admission

- When they do not meet the admission standards
- When they submit documents found to be falsified

Admission status may be cancelled or annulled

- When students do not meet the conditions specified for continuing enrollment
- When the admission status was based on documents later found to be falsified.

Admission Enrollment Categories

Students are admitted and enrolled under one of the following categories:

Regular Status. Students are admitted on a regular basis when they meet the:

- General admission requirements
- Minimum academic standards for graduate programs at Andrews University
- Specific admission requirements of the departments/programs in which they plan to enroll.

Provisional Status. Students who fail to meet one or more of the requirements for regular admission may be admitted on provisional status. This can be done if the appropriate dean, department chair, or graduate program coordinator believes the student has the ability to be successful in the desired program.

At the time the provisional admission is granted, the student's deficiency is noted. A plan and a deadline to remove the deficiency is made clear. Deficiencies must be met and the regular status must be granted by the time the student completes 50% of the total requirements for graduate certificate and master's programs or 16 credits for EdS and doctoral programs. Students who fail to meet these requirements are dropped from the program in which they had provisional admission.

Students enrolled on provisional status may not:

- register for thesis or independent study
- request advancement to degree candidacy
- take comprehensive examinations.

Guest Student

Guest student is for students holding a U.S. bachelor's degree from an institution accredited by a validated accreditation body or its equivalent outside the U.S. The Guest Student status is especially designed to allow the enrollment of qualified students in special classes including workshops and guest students from other universities. Guest Student is a temporary enrollment designation, not an admission category.

Guest Student Status is for:

- Applicants who have no intention of earning a graduate degree from Andrews University.
- Graduate students who are not enrolled at Andrews University and who wish to take classes as guest students.
- Students who have applied for admission to a graduate program but, for some reason, the application has not yet been completely processed. In such cases, Guest Student status is available for one semester only.

Guidelines

- Enrollment on Guest Student status does not guarantee or imply future admission to a degree program.
- Normally, transcripts are not required for Guest Student enrollment.
- Guest Student enrollment must be requested each semester that the student wishes to enroll in a course.
- Courses taken on Guest Student status generally do not count toward a graduate degree. However, after the student has been accepted into a graduate program: up to 8 credits, 15 credits in some Theological Seminary programs, and up to 50% of the graduate certificate programs may be applied by petition.
- Petition requests should be filed during the first semester the student is enrolled in the graduate program. Petitions are evaluated on an individual basis and they are not automatically approved.
- Students registered on Guest Student status cannot have dual enrollment. If the student applies simultaneously for a graduate program, the department and school will notify the student in writing of their admission decision.

Dual Enrollment/Dual Degree Statuses

Dual Enrollment is associated with a student concurrently enrolled in classes at two different levels (for example undergraduate/graduate or high school/college).

Dual Enrollment is available to Undergraduate students who want to earn graduate credits while finishing their undergraduate degree and/or high-school students who want to earn college credits while completing the high school diploma. See the undergraduate and graduate dual degree enrollment sections of the Bulletin to learn more.

A. Undergraduate and Graduate Dual Enrollment

In order to qualify for graduate and undergraduate dual-enrollment status the student must work with their financial aid advisor because their dual enrollment status may affect their financial aid package. Undergraduate credits earned toward the baccalaureate degree may not be used towards the graduate program. The GPA on undergraduate credits does not count toward the graduate GPA.

Additionally, they must satisfy or abide by the following requirements:

- The student must be within 12 credits of completing an Andrews University undergraduate degree
- The student must complete the dual enrollment form
- The student may normally take no more than 16 credits combined graduate and undergraduate each semester

B. Professional Undergraduate/Graduate Accelerated Degrees

Departments may establish undergraduate/graduate dual degree programs (3+2 or 4+1) in order to facilitate completion of both the bachelor's degree and the master's degree in 5 years. These dual degree programs may require sequential conferral of the bachelor's degree first, followed by the master's degree (called sequential conferral), or they may require concurrent conferral of the bachelor's and master's degree at the same time (called concurrent conferral).

1. Students apply for the dual-degree program through the department.

- Department establishes minimum standards for acceptance.
 - A minimum of 3.0 undergraduate GPA is required (department may establish higher standards).
 - Upon acceptance, students may take 500-level courses which have a "swing" course designation, upon reaching senior status.
2. Students remain with undergraduate status, and receive undergraduate financial aid for all coursework, until conferral of the bachelor's degree (if sequential conferral), or until a minimum of 124 credits applying towards the program have been completed (if concurrent conferral).
 - The 500-level courses taken as an undergraduate student may apply towards both the undergraduate degree and the graduate degree.
 - A minimum of 50% of the graduate program credits must be taken after achieving graduate status.
 - Students who withdraw from a concurrent degree program subsequent to being advanced to graduate status will be returned to undergraduate status until the undergraduate degree requirements are met.
 3. In order to complete both degrees, students must complete a total of 154 semester credits, of which a minimum of 30 credits must be 500-level or above (programs may set higher credit standards).
 4. Upon conferral of the graduate degree, a statement will appear on the student's completed transcript to the effect that "500 level courses taken as an undergraduate have been applied to the graduate degree."

C. Dual Degree Programs

The Dual Degree Status is a formal arrangement between Andrews University and another institution(s) and/or between two Andrews University departments or programs that allow credit from certain courses to be applied to both degrees. This arrangement provides a range of benefits to the institution and to participating students, including:

- Enhancing the educational and research opportunities within the university's undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs;
- Attracting to the university high-achieving and highly motivated students interested in interdisciplinary perspectives;
- Allowing students to complete two degrees in less time than it would normally take to complete each degree separately, thus saving money;
- Providing students with complementary preparation that makes them marketable for a variety of career opportunities;
- Facilitating programmatic and interdisciplinary interaction across programs, departments, schools, and other institutions.

The limitations on the credits taken are the following:

The student must satisfy the GPA requirements and program expectations of both programs. The dual degree agreement will determine how many credits will be shared between the two degrees. Students must meet the minimum requirements for total credits taken at Andrews University for each degree. The same provisions for normal course loads at the graduate level apply, as for all graduate programs.

Requirements:

Andrews University accelerated graduate/graduate dual degree program permits graduate students to pursue two graduate degrees based on an established Andrews University dual degree agreement. Both degrees are to be awarded at the same graduation ceremony. In cases where a student decides not to continue with the dual degree the curriculum for the individual degree they are pursuing will apply. In order to qualify for the dual graduate degree status the student must satisfy or abide by the following:

- Be accepted on regular or provisional status into the two appropriate graduate programs
- Students who have been accepted into the M.Div. program, but who do not qualify for admission into a Master's degree program because of a non-accredited degree and/or insufficient college GPA may be able to pursue one of the M.Div./Master's dual degree programs under the following circumstances.
 - The student must satisfactorily complete the first year of the M.Div. program with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0.

- The student must receive a recommendation from the M.Div. advisor indicating their suitability for pursuing the dual degree program.
 - The student must apply for and receive acceptance into the master's degree program subsequent to completion of the first year in the M.Div. program.
- As part of the articulation agreement, the graduate programs shall limit the number of credits that overlap between the two degrees and establish the number of credits that are unique to each degree.
 - Current examples include MSW/M.Div., M.Div./MPH, M.Div./MSCID, MSCID/MYYAM, etc. Students in Graduate Dual Degree Programs shall be admitted concurrently in each degree program. Dual degrees shall therefore be awarded at the same time.

Special Types of Admission

Enrollment of Guest Students. Students who are enrolled in a graduate school of another college or university may enroll for courses in the graduate programs of Andrews University under the Guest Student status.

Application forms for Guest Student admission are available at the Office of Graduate Enrollment Management.

Admission to a second Graduate Degree Program. Students who have completed one graduate degree may apply to be accepted into another graduate degree program at the same level if they meet all department requirements for admission to such a degree program. The proposed course of study may not be within the same major field and may not be similar to a degree previously completed. The usual regulations and limits with respect to transfer credit apply when taking a second graduate degree. (See Transfer Credits).

Admission - Resident Scholars. Scholars who have attained doctoral status or the equivalent from a recognized university, and other recognized scholars who wish to continue study and research in special fields, may use the library facilities as guests of the university. Applications must be made to the appropriate dean or graduate program coordinator. Such privileges are granted upon recommendation of the department in which the work will be done. Formal courses may be attended with permission of the instructor. No official record is made of the work done. If credit is desired, regular enrollment is required.

Readmission of Students After Cancellation. Students whose previous admission to a graduate degree program at Andrews University was canceled because of academic and/or conduct reasons may reapply for admission after a reasonable period of time has passed. Under no circumstances are such students readmitted into a graduate program before at least one academic year has passed.

The reasons for the cancellation of the student's admission status, a statement of intent, a report of subsequent rehabilitation, and a record of improved scholarship and/or conduct at another institution are all factors that are taken into account when the student reapplies for admission. The decision to approve such a reapplication for admission, as well as the status of such a student, is made by a special admissions committee composed of appropriate administrative and faculty representatives.

Graduate Academic Information

Academic Credit and Course Loads

The course load is expressed in semester credits. A semester credit represents a class with one 50-minute class period or equivalent each week for one semester. Thus, a 3-credit class ordinarily meets three periods (150 minutes) each week and requires additional appropriate time for class preparation.

Course Loads. The normal full-time graduate course load is 8–12 credits each semester (9–16 credits for MDiv students). Loads in excess of a full load must be approved by the advisor and the appropriate dean/graduate program coordinator before completing registration. Students may not take more than 16 credits during a regular semester or 16 credits during any combination of sessions offered during a single summer. Students engaged in part-time employment must talk with their advisors and adjust their course loads accordingly.

Credits for Workshops and Independent Study. Normally, master's-degree students may accumulate up to 6 appropriate workshop/tour credits and up to 6 independent study credits toward a degree with a maximum of 9 credits combined. If workshops are taken during the semester breaks, the credits are counted as part of the class load for either the semester before the break or the semester following the break. Specialist or doctoral students in the School of Education or the SDA Theological Seminary should read the section in this bulletin that applies or the appropriate specialist or doctoral handbook for information about limits on workshops or independent study.

Residency Requirements

All PhD and ThD students must establish doctoral residency by enrolling in full-time doctoral course work at Andrews University three out of any four consecutive semesters. EdD students establish residency by enrolling full-time for any three out of nine consecutive semesters.

Students enrolled in the professional ministerial or religious education programs of the Theological Seminary or in the School of Education leadership program should read the appropriate section of this bulletin concerning residency requirements and time limitations.

Active Status. Before advancement to candidacy, master's degree students are considered to be on active status in a program if they enroll, for credit, for at least one semester during each academic year (summer-spring terms). After advancement to candidacy a master's degree student must maintain active status by being registered continuously for credit courses or non-credit continuation status.

- Non-credit continuation status includes research or program continuation.
- Non-credit research continuation includes project/thesis continuation, recital continuations, and/or comprehensive exam preparation.

When not enrolled in the above, non-credit program continuation is used to maintain access to University services, e.g.: library services (including online database), ITS resources (including e-mail), faculty advising, and research supervision for graduate students taking their programs on the main campus (Berrien Springs). Program continuation carries a fee (See Continuation Fee in Financial Information).

Specialist and doctoral students who have completed their coursework and have registered for all their dissertation credit must maintain active status. Active status may be achieved by registering for non-credit continuation courses such as Program Continuation, Comprehensive Exam Preparation, Project Preparation and Dissertation Continuation.

The special needs of graduate students in extension and affiliation programs will be addressed in the agreements and procedures established for each site and/or degree program.

Governing Bulletin

Normally, students meet the requirements of the bulletin in force when they begin their graduate program. As long as they remain on active status, students may elect to meet the requirements of any bulletin in force during their graduate program. The graduate program begins at the beginning of the term in which the student first registers for classes after he/she has been admitted.

When active status is broken, the student must follow the bulletin in force when active status is reestablished.

Time Limits on Graduate Degrees

Time Limits on Graduate Certificate Programs. Each program will specify a time limit for completion of the certificate. However, this may not exceed five (5) years from the first registration.

Time Limits on the Master's Degree. Normally, a student must complete the requirements for a master's degree within six calendar years from the beginning of the first semester of class work regardless of admission classification.

- No course taken earlier than six calendar years before a student's graduation year may normally be applied to the degree without appropriate updating.
- A petition for a one-year extension of time may be granted by the dean of the School of Graduate Studies upon the recommendation of the student's advisor and the dean/graduate program coordinator of the school/college.
- If the semester in which the student originally expects to graduate is delayed past the time limit and no extension is granted, the courses taken prior to the six-year limit no longer apply to the degree or qualify to be updated. The student may be required to take additional courses.
- Grades from all graduate courses taken at Andrews University, including those more than six years old, and those taken on a PTC basis, are used in computing the final GPA.

- School of Education students should visit Time Limits, in Doctoral Degrees (EdD/PhD) section for more information.

Time Limits on the Specialist Degree. A student must complete the requirements for a specialist degree within six calendar years from the beginning of the first semester of class work regardless of admission classification.

Time Limits on Doctoral Degrees. Whereas the doctoral degree is the highest academic degree possible and therefore requires stellar academic preparation and integrity; and whereas the program faculty are the gatekeepers of academic integrity, this policy on Time Limits on Doctoral Degrees provides program faculty with a framework for ensuring academic integrity.

All doctoral course work and the comprehensive examinations must be completed within six years from the initial registration after acceptance into the doctoral program. The student must complete the dissertation within a period of five years after passing the comprehensive examinations. Further, all requirements must be met within a total of ten years (seven years for the Department of Graduate Psychology & Counseling and the Department of Leadership). A petition for an extension of time may be granted by the School of Graduate Studies upon the recommendation of the dean, and after action by the appropriate school/college committee.

Ordinarily, a student may be granted a maximum of two one-year extensions. Failure to successfully complete the degree by the end of the extensions granted shall result in dismissal from the University. The following will be considered when reviewing a request for a one-year extension:

- The student's documenting the extenuating circumstances that merit a time extension,
- Continuous enrollment in dissertation credits or zero-credit dissertation continuation,
- A petition with the appropriate signatures explicitly describing the amount of work left to be done for the degree and the month and year the student plans to defend the dissertation.

The documents in support of the petition shall include:

1. a copy of the student's updated course of study, with projected graduation date, documenting which courses will fall outside the time limit based on the projected graduation date;
2. a letter demonstrating how the student has remained current in the specified content area (i.e., publications, seminars, conferences, independent readings, professional development courses, tutorials, coursework from other institutions, college level teaching assignments, additional job responsibilities, etc.);
3. any additional documentation or support for the student's request.

Inactive Status. Throughout the doctoral program, the student is expected to make progress and to keep in contact with the department. If one year passes without progress and without approval from the student's advisor, the student is put on inactive status and must apply to be reactivated. Students in the Department of Graduate Psychology & Counseling and the Department of Leadership should visit Time Limits, in Doctoral Degrees (EdD/PhD) section for more information.

Students must comply with the Bulletin in effect when the reactivation is approved. Course work taken previously may apply by petition, subject to the normal time limits and GPA standards. The cumulative GPA from all courses taken, including any that may not apply to the new program, is used to compute the GPA requirements for satisfactory progress and completion of the degree.

Updating Courses

Updating Master's Degree Courses. Students working towards a master's degree may update some outdated course work. However, graduate classes in the School of Business Administration and computer courses in the College of Technology may not be updated. Those courses that may be updated are subject to the following policies:

- No more than 25% of the total program credits from courses 6–10 years old may be updated. No work over 10 calendar years old, calculated from the graduation year, may be updated.
- Not all courses between 6 and 10 years old may be updated. Each course must be approved by the department.
- No course work with a grade below a B (3.00) may be updated.
- Outdated work done elsewhere cannot be updated at Andrews University.
- Independent study, workshops, and directed readings cannot be updated.

- The requirements for updating are specified by the department on a course-by-course basis.
- Written evidence of the updating must be approved by the department chair and the appropriate dean or graduate program coordinator.
- Updating a course does not change the grade in the course used in computing the GPA.
- The updating fee is 20% of regular graduate tuition.

Academic Standards

Students enrolled in graduate programs governed by the School of Graduate Studies should note the following standards of scholarship. Students enrolled in Physical Therapy, the Theological Seminary professional ministerial programs or in the School of Education EdS, EdD, and PhD programs should read the requirements for their specific programs in the appropriate sections of this bulletin.

Minimum Standards of Scholarship. Candidates for graduate degrees must satisfactorily fulfill the course of study for the degree program they select subject to these standards:

- A minimum GPA of 3.00 (4.00 system) is required in those courses that apply to the degree.
- No course with a grade of D or F (or U) may count toward a graduate degree. Some departments may require a higher satisfactory grade in certain courses.
- If a student receives an unsatisfactory grade as defined above, the course may be repeated once. The credits and quality points earned in the most recent course will be used to calculate the GPA.
- Credit by examination is not accepted toward a graduate degree.
- Candidates for a master's degree must pass comprehensive examinations and/or formally defend a master's thesis or an acceptable alternative for a particular program as approved by the Graduate Council. Candidates for specialist and doctoral degrees must pass comprehensive examinations. Doctoral degree candidates must complete and formally defend a dissertation. Clinical doctoral degrees must complete a capstone project.

DG—Deferred Grade. A DG may be given in certain courses recognized to be of such a nature that all the requirements are not likely to be completed within one semester. It may be given for tours, field/clinical experiences, internships, projects, intensives, comprehensive exams, independent study courses, courses requiring research such as theses and dissertations, and undergraduate upper division courses where mastery learning is required. The Office of Academic Records records a DG for the above listed courses previously recommended by a department and approved by the dean of the appropriate school and/or graduate program committee.

An instructor may designate a time limit for a given course or a specific situation for the DG to be changed to a letter grade. All DGs are required to be cleared before a student can graduate, unless they are DGs earned in another currently enrolled degree. An instructor may change the DG to a letter grade (A-F), S/U or DN as appropriate.

Standards for Progression. In addition to the following standards, master's, specialist, and doctoral students should consult the appropriate section of this bulletin and their respective handbook.

- The cumulative GPA must be at least 3.00 calculated using all graduate work taken at Andrews University including courses taken for other degrees, courses taken prior to the time limits for degrees, and courses taken PTC. Exceptions to this standard must be recommended by the dean/graduate program coordinator and approved by the dean of the School of Graduate Studies.
- A student whose cumulative GPA drops below 3.00 in any given semester is placed on academic probation. Such a student must work with the advisor to develop a schedule of courses that ensures the student will raise his/her cumulative GPA above the required 3.00 in a timely manner—normally, the following semester. The dean/graduate program coordinator of the school/college must approve such a plan. A student who does not meet such a plan may not continue except by the recommendation of the dean/graduate program coordinator and approval by the dean of the School of Graduate Studies.
- Normally, students who accumulate more than 12 semester credits below B- (including U) are not allowed to continue. Petitions for exceptions must include a plan to maintain the required GPA for the degree and be approved by the appropriate dean/graduate program coordinator of the college/school and the dean of the School of Graduate Studies.

- Students who have been accepted provisionally to a degree program must meet the planned schedule for removing any deficiencies or earning a minimum GPA.
 - English-language deficiencies must be met by the time the student has completed no more than 50% of his/her course work for a master's or specialist degree or 25% of his/her course work for a doctoral degree.
 - Undergraduate deficiencies should be met by the time the master's degree student has completed no more than 50% of his/her course work. Doctoral students should take care of background deficiencies before starting on required doctoral course work.
 - A minimum GPA equal to the GPA requirements for graduation from the program must be met by the time the student has completed 9 graduate credits.
 - A student who does not meet this schedule is not allowed to continue except by the recommendation of the dean/graduate program coordinator and approval by the dean of the School of Graduate Studies.
- Students on academic probation or provisional status may not:
 - Register for thesis, dissertation, or independent study (or workshop credit for doctoral students)
 - Register for project credit except by permission from the dean/graduate program coordinator of the college/school
 - Advance to degree candidacy or take comprehensive examinations.

Awarding Degrees for Graduate Programs

General Minimum Requirements for a Master's Degree

(MA, MAT, MBA, MMus, MS, MSA, MSMLS, MSW, MIDA, MSCID)

While additional specific departmental requirements are described under each degree in later sections of this bulletin, the general minimum requirements for awarding master's degrees include the following:

- A student must satisfactorily fulfill a schedule of studies approved by the student's advisor and the graduate program coordinator or dean of the appropriate school.
 - The number of credits to be completed depends on the minimum requirements for the degree.
 - The student's schedule of studies must include at least one-half of the required minimum credits in course work numbered 500 and above. Exceptions are made where a course of study specifically outlined in this bulletin makes provision for an adjustment to the required number of credits numbered 500 and above.
- The student must submit evidence of competence in conducting investigation in his/her field of study. A student may fulfill his requirement by one of the following, depending on the particular degree program:
 - A thesis
 - Written reports of one or two research projects
 - Research methods or other appropriate course work.
- Where required, and only after a student has been advanced to degree candidacy, he/she must successfully complete general written and/or oral comprehensive examination(s) as prescribed by the student's major department. Usually this is done within the last semester of a student's program.
- In general, no foreign language is required. In cases where an individual student's program requires a reading knowledge of a foreign language, the student must demonstrate competence in the language, normally by examination, before receiving advancement-to-degree candidacy. The department prescribes the appropriate method of demonstrating competence. A student's advisor or supervising committee informs the student regarding the foreign language required for his/her course of study.

General Minimum Requirements for the Educational Specialist Degree (EdS)

Consult "Educational Specialist Degree," of this bulletin and the School of Education Handbook for Educational Specialist Students for information on degree procedures.

General Minimum Requirements for the Clinical Doctorate Degrees (DPT, t-DPT, DScPT)

Consult Physical Therapy section of this bulletin and the Physical Therapy Student Handbook for information on degree requirements. Students must comply with all degree requirements listed in the bulletin and applicable handbook.

General Minimum Requirements for Doctoral Degrees (EdD, PhD, ThD)

Doctoral programs include a master's degree or equivalent as a prerequisite. The Leadership and Counseling Psychology programs in the School of Education allow selected students to be admitted with a bachelor's degree.

- Each program shall include post-master's doctoral course work approved by the school and the student's advisor.
 1. A minimum of two years of doctoral study is required.
 2. At least two-thirds of the required doctoral course work must be in courses graded with an A–F grading scheme.
 3. A minimum of 32 credits of the doctoral course work must be taken in residence at Andrews University. A portion of an EdS that is completed elsewhere may apply to this minimum residence requirement as defined by the school.
 4. The minimum number of dissertation credits required is 16.
- Written and/or oral comprehensive examinations are required of all doctoral students, normally after all course work has been completed.
- The doctoral student must demonstrate competence in conducting research in his/her field of study by completing an approved dissertation.

General Minimum Requirements for Theological Seminary Professional Ministerial Degrees.

The requirements for ministerial degrees may be found in the Theological Seminary section of this bulletin.

Transfer Credits

Credit for prior learning (CPL) credits on transcripts are not articulated. Students may present the original documentation (transcripts, certifications, portfolios, etc.) to their academic or program advisor and the Prior Learning Coordinator for evaluation in accordance with Andrews University CPL policies and procedures.

Transferring Credits from Another Institution into the Graduate Certificate Program.

Credits from other institutions will not transfer into a graduate certificate program.

Transferring Master's Degree Credits from Another Graduate School.

Graduate credits taken at another accredited/recognized institution less than six calendar years before the expected graduation year may be transferred and applied toward a master's degree at Andrews University subject to the following conditions:

- The grade earned in each course accepted for transfer is at least a B (3.00).
- The courses can be applied toward a comparable degree at the institution where the credit was earned.
- The courses meet similar requirements or electives within the master's program at Andrews University.
- The Andrews University credits taken toward the master's degree constitute at least 80% of the requirements for the degree.
- Grades earned in transfer courses are not included in the computation of the GPA. Courses to be taken at another university and transferred to Andrews after a student is enrolled in an Andrews' graduate program must be approved by petition before being taken.
- Such transfer courses are identified and approved by the dean/graduate program coordinator within the first semester of the student's residence.
- An official transcript listing transfer credits is on file in the Office of Academic Records. Credits received from institutions generally considered to be diploma/degree mills are not eligible to be transferred into a degree program.

Seminary professional degree programs have transfer limitations unique to each program. See the appropriate section of this bulletin for details.

Transferring Credit from an Andrews Graduate Certificate Program to Another Program.

All credits in an Andrews University graduate certificate program are eligible for transfer into a graduate degree program subject to approval by the program faculty and the school dean if taken within the established time limits for the degree.

Transferring Master's Degree Credits from Another Andrews Program. Graduate courses taken at Andrews University as part of another graduate degree may be transferred subject to the following conditions:

- The grade earned in each course is at least a B (3.00) and the overall GPA at Andrews University is at least 3.00.
- The courses meet similar requirements or electives within the new master's program.
- A minimum of 80% of the requirements for the master's degree must be taken as Andrews University credits that are not applied towards any other Andrews University master's degree.
- The grades earned in courses transferred from another master's program at Andrews University are included in the computation of the GPA. Both the overall GPA and the GPA of the remaining courses taken for the master's degree must meet the minimum required (3.00) for graduation.
- The credits to be transferred were taken fewer than six calendar years before the expected graduation year of the master's program.

Seminary professional ministerial degree programs have special transfer limitations. See the appropriate section of this bulletin for details.

Transferring Specialist Degree Credits. Read the Educational Specialist section of this bulletin or the School of Education Handbook for Educational Specialist Students.

Transferring Doctoral Degree Credits. Post-master's transfer credit, if appropriate to the student's program, may be accepted if (1) the credits were completed within the time limitations indicated in the appropriate section of this bulletin and (2) the transfer complies with the provisions in the School of Education and the Seminary Handbooks for doctoral students. A petition for transfer of credit is considered only after an official transcript for the course is received. Credits received from institutions generally considered to be diploma/degree mills are not eligible to be transferred into a degree program.

Exceptions. Exceptions to course-transfer regulations must be approved by the dean of the School of Graduate Studies on a standard petition form upon the recommendation of the dean/graduate program coordinator of the college/school. Any such exceptions will be considered individually in the light of the master's requirements. Exceptions for whole programs must be voted by the Graduate Council but thereafter do not need individual approval on petitions.

Credit for Prior Learning (CPL)

In addition to acceptance of transfer credits from accredited colleges and universities (see Transfer Credit section), some graduate programs approve credit for prior graduate-level learning earned through departmental placement and challenge exams, competency and portfolio assessments. As needed, other options may be reviewed by the Graduate Admissions and Academic Policy Committee.

In order for credit to be assessed and articulated:

1. The student has matriculated and is in good and regular standing at the time CPL is requested.
2. The total of credits awarded for prior learning, excluding credits transferred from accredited institutions, and practicum and ex/internships recognized by the program, will not exceed 6 graduate credits.
3. The total of all credit awarded for prior learning and transfer credits will not exceed 20% of the credits required for the graduate program to which the student is admitted.
4. No form of CPL will be approved to replace grades earned through Andrews University.

Students should discuss any prior graduate-level learning independent of transfer credits with their academic or program advisor and the Prior Learning Coordinator in their first semester. All forms of credit for prior learning are evaluated on a pass/fail scale, with transcript record of passing grades only.

Advanced Placement. Graduate credits earned through undergraduate dual enrollment opportunities will be subject to the policies outline in the Transfer and Dual Enrollment/Dual Degree Status sections of this bulletin.

Departmental Placement and Challenge Exams. In some programs, challenge or performance exams can be arranged to waive requirements, place into courses (meet prerequisites), or earn credits meeting program requirements. Departmentally-constructed tests may be written, oral or skill assessments, or external exams administered by the department for internal evaluation.

Validation of Non-traditional Learning. Professional certifications or performance exams may be evaluated for alignment to graduate course outcomes. Some transfer credits from unaccredited entities not recognized by ACE may be approved upon review by the department offering similar courses.

Portfolio Assessment. In some graduate programs, CPL may be validated and granted through the Andrews graduate portfolio process, with pre-approval from the student's program director and the Prior Learning Coordinator. Students must complete at least one semester in an Andrews graduate program before portfolio submission will be approved. Visit the Portfolio Assessment webpages for procedural information.

NOTE: Any competency-based graduate programs using portfolios to document both prior and current learning are subject to program-specific portfolio guidelines. See program requirements for details.

Visit the Credit for Prior Learning webpage for more information.

Student Supervisory Committees

Master's Degree Committees. A student's project supervisory committee normally consists of a minimum of two members nominated by the department chair/program director/area coordinator in consultation with the student and appointed by the appropriate dean or graduate program coordinator. For a master's thesis, the committee consists of the thesis advisor and normally two other members. Exception: For an interdisciplinary master's degree, a committee is appointed before initial registration. All other master's-degree student committees are appointed after some course work has been completed and before registration for thesis credits. Only rarely may a student's committee be changed while study or research is still in progress. This may be done only in consultation with the appropriate dean or graduate program coordinator. The chair of the supervisory committee is the student's chief advisor. The function of the committee is to guide the student in his/her research and writing of the project/thesis.

A student's supervisory committee may be augmented with additional members for the oral defense of the thesis. These additional committee members have full voting rights.

The term of service of a student's committee is deemed to have expired when a student has graduated or when registration has been terminated.

Doctoral Degree Committees. The dissertation committee shall consist of a minimum of three members, including the chair. Two of the three members, including the chair, shall be selected from among the current full time Andrews graduate faculty at the appropriate category with at least one member being from the school in which the student is enrolled. The third member may be from the Andrews graduate faculty at the appropriate category or a person outside the University whose record of scholarship is equivalent to that required of a member of the Andrews graduate faculty at the appropriate category. Additional persons may be added either from the Andrews graduate faculty or from outside the University where specialized expertise is needed with the approval of the School of Graduate Studies.

Comprehensive Examinations

Most master's- and all specialist- and doctoral-degree candidates are required to take prescribed written and/or oral comprehensive examinations as required by the department.

Master's-degree students are not permitted to sit for these examinations until they have been officially advanced to degree candidacy. EdS and doctoral students normally sit for comprehensive examinations after all course work is completed and after applying for degree candidacy. Candidacy is not granted to doctoral students until the comprehensive examinations have been passed.

See the appropriate sections of this bulletin and the School of Education Handbook for Doctoral Students, the School of Education Handbook for Educational Specialist Students; the Doctor of Physical Therapy Student Handbook, t-DPT/DScPT Student Handbook; or the Graduate Programs Manual for details about examinations for master's, specialist, or doctoral students.

Advancement To Degree Candidacy

Master's Degree. During the semester before graduation, a student must apply for advancement to degree candidacy. Forms are available at the office of the appropriate dean or graduate program coordinator. The forms should be completed by the student, approved by the advisor and the department chair, and returned to the office of the dean or graduate program coordinator.

- At the time a student files an application for advancement to degree candidacy, he/she must have:
 - Received regular admission status
 - Applied for graduation

- Completed all curriculum and English-language deficiencies that may have existed
- Demonstrated foreign-language proficiency where required.

- A student who has not completed the Advancement to Degree Candidacy form during the semester before graduation is not allowed to register for further course work until the advancement to degree candidacy forms have been filed with the appropriate dean or graduate program coordinator.
- After a student has been advanced to degree candidacy, he/she may then request to take the comprehensive examinations.
- An application form for the comprehensive examinations is sent to the student at the time of notification of advancement to degree candidacy.

Educational Specialist Degree. Read Educational Specialist section of this bulletin and the School of Education Handbook for Educational Specialist Students for information on degree procedures.

Doctoral Degree. The Application for Admission to Doctoral Candidacy form must be filed at least one month prior to the scheduled date of the comprehensive examination.

Approval for degree candidacy is granted when the student has

- Received regular admission status
- Completed all curriculum and English-language deficiencies that may have existed
- Demonstrated research tool proficiency, including foreign language when required
- Passed all comprehensive examinations
- Completed all other degree requirements except the dissertation.

Projects, Theses and Dissertations

Projects. The student who elects to complete a research project or projects as part of fulfilling the research requirement for the master's degree or clinical doctorate reports it/them in conformity to the Andrews University Standards for Written Work. One copy of each report is submitted to the instructor under whose supervision it was prepared. It becomes the property of the department. Completed and signed approval forms for the project(s) must be filed in the Office of Academic Records no later than noon on Friday, one week before graduation, unless an earlier time is specified by the department. Some departments require approval of the project(s) before writing the comprehensive examinations. If students need time for project preparation beyond the semester(s) when regular project credits are accumulated, they may register for project continuation. Project continuation is a non-credit enrollment status that requires a small fee for each semester of registration.

Master's Thesis. To fulfill the thesis option for the master's degree, a student is required to write a thesis and successfully defend it in an oral examination at an officially designated time and place.

Doctoral Dissertation. For doctoral programs requiring a dissertation, the student is required to write and successfully defend a dissertation in an oral examination at an officially designated time and place.

Registration for Thesis Credits—Committee Guidance. When a master's student is required or elects to write a thesis, he/she should register for it initially no later than one semester before the anticipated graduation date. The student may register for 2–6 thesis credits per semester with a maximum of 9 total credits for the thesis. The student is guided from the beginning of thesis preparation by a committee, normally consisting of two to three members, appointed before registering for thesis credits. The committee chair serves as thesis advisor.

Dissertation Credits—Committee Guidance. Doctoral students are required to register for a minimum of 16 dissertation credits. Students in the School of Education should consult the general requirements under Doctoral Degrees and the Handbook for Doctoral Students for information regarding dissertation credits. Students in the Seminary should read the Academic Policies in the Theological Seminary section of this bulletin. The doctoral committee is appointed following the guidelines of the appropriate section of this bulletin and the appropriate handbook for doctoral students.

Standards for Writing—Dissertation Office. The Dissertation Office contact information is: phone: 269-471-3276, e-mail: dissertationoffice@andrews.edu. The master's thesis and doctoral dissertation must demonstrate the candidate's capacity for original and independent work, include a critical evaluation of previous research, and emphasize new conclusions. The format of the thesis/dissertation also must conform to the guidelines found in the Andrews University Standards for Written Work.

When, in the opinion of the student and his/her full committee, the thesis/dissertation has been completed satisfactorily and a final draft has been submitted, the committee, by official action, declares it to be ready for the oral defense. Before a defense can take place, however, the candidate must submit the committee-approved thesis/dissertation to the Dissertation Office who checks it for conformity to the Andrews University Standards for Written Work. After it is approved, a date for the defense may be set in consultation with the chair of the department or the program director.

Defense of Thesis/Dissertation. The oral defense must be completed no later than four weeks before a candidate plans to graduate. A thesis/dissertation is approved if no more than one negative vote is given. An abstention is recorded as a negative vote. The department chair or program director is responsible for notifying the appropriate dean or graduate program coordinator of the outcome of the defense.

The decision of a student's examining committee is recorded and signed on the appropriate form and submitted to the appropriate dean or graduate program coordinator. A copy is sent to the Office of Academic Records.

A committee chair usually assists a student by way of a check sheet to ensure the prescribed deadlines are met. The thesis/dissertation may be handed in at any time during the year, but the deadlines listed here determine the date of graduation.

After the defense. After the defense

- The student makes all corrections.
- As soon as possible, but no later than two weeks before graduation, the student submits a complete corrected copy of the thesis/dissertation to the School of Graduate Studies via the Dissertation Office for approval to duplicate. At that time any changes made after the defense should be pointed out.
- After the Dissertation Office gives approval to duplicate, the student has two options:
 - Option 1. The Dissertation Office arranges for duplicating with Andrews University LithoTech, and the student's account is billed for duplicating the copies that stay with the University. The School of Education requires four copies (two for the Library and two for its own use). The Seminary requires five copies (two for the Library and three for its own use). These copies do include one copy for the student's dissertation chair. Master's students are billed for only three copies: two for the Library and one for the School involved.
 - Option 2. The student personally arranges for duplicating the required number of copies of the thesis or dissertation. These are delivered to the Dissertation Office.
- Doctoral students must submit a digital PDF file of their dissertation to (1) ProQuest/UMI and (2) the Dissertation Office (for inclusion in the James White Library catalog). Contact the Dissertation Office for assistance and forms.
- Master's students must submit a digital PDF file of their thesis to the Dissertation Office for inclusion in the James White Library catalog. Contact the Dissertation Office for assistance and forms.
- At this point, the Dissertation Office submits the Notification of Thesis/Dissertation Completion form to the Office of Academic Records, and the thesis/dissertation process is complete.
- Strict adherence to the deadline of 10 days before graduation is essential or graduation is postponed.

Ordering Extra Copies. Students wanting to purchase additional bound copies identical to those kept at Andrews University must fill out mailing labels and customs declaration forms (when applicable). These are available from the Dissertation Office. Students are billed for photocopying and binding.

Grades for Thesis/Dissertation. The grade for a thesis/dissertation is S or U. A deferred grade (DG) is given while a thesis/dissertation is still being written or corrected.

Financial Information

Andrews Partnership Scholarship

Andrews University is pleased to offer its full-time undergraduate students the Andrews Partnership Scholarship in recognition of their academic achievement. This scholarship affirms the university's commitment to partnering with families and students to achieve an educational dream in a Christian environment at Andrews University. Scholarships range from $24,000 to $48,000 to complete a four-year degree for incoming freshmen who have never attended college. Andrews University also has an Andrews Partnership Scholarship to honor its continuing, transferring, Canadian and international students.

Fees

Distance fee, per semester, for all distance degree students $130
Guest fee, per semester, for all non-degree or guest students $60
 These fees support library and technology services available to all students. Students admitted to on-campus programs pay a general fee in place of the distance or guest fee each semester they register.

Additional fees apply to both main campus and distance students for specific services elected, or related to specific course registrations.

See the Financial Information section of this bulletin for full details.

Withdrawals and refunds for interactive and self-paced full-term online courses follows on-campus policy. The Self-Paced Calendar for open learning includes all details for the alternate withdrawal and refund deadlines for this type of course only. All withdrawals after the last day to drop or add a course require a drop/add form submitted to the Office of Academic Records. Distance students can email sderegister@andrews.edu to request assistance with this procedure.

International Students must provide the following information

International Students

- Balanced Estimated Budget Sheet
- Letter of financial support
- Bank documentation
- Copy of Passport
- Mailing Address for I-20
- $3,100 advance deposit includes $100 non-refundable New Student International Fee (Except Citizens of Bahamas, Bermuda, Canada and Mexico)
- MDiv Students need to pay full semester in advance

Refer to International Students for details.

Insurance

Rates

Single student premium (approximately)	$1,575
Each additional dependent coverage for one year	$1,650

*Rates reflect 2017-2018 school year and are subject to change each school year.

Accident/Sickness. Every international student in "student status" and every other student registered for 6 or more credit hours is to be covered by at least an Accident and Sickness Plan. This may be purchased through the university by signing up online in Registration Central at registration time. International students are required to include all dependents that are here in the U.S. and there is an additional fee for adding dependents. Payment for this coverage can be charged to the student's account. The insurance is non-refundable after the drop/add date.

International students and their accompanying dependents are required to have health insurance irrespective of their class load.

Waivers. Students who have comparable coverage from elsewhere may waive the student health insurance plan by entering their health insurance information in Registration Central at the time of registration. Proof of health insurance must be taken to the Office of Student Insurance in the Administration Building before the drop/add date for verification of coverage each semester.

Brochures. Information describing the health insurance coverage can be viewed at www.andrews.edu/hr/stu_insurance.html

The health insurance premium is charged to the student's account via information entered in Registration Central. A waiver will prevent this charge from occurring (see Waivers above).

Medicaid. Michigan Medicaid is considered proof of insurance for U.S. citizens and Permanent Residents and should be entered into the waiver section of Registration Central at the time of registration. The only difference is that the student will be required to bring their current Medicaid card to the Student Insurance office in the Administration Building before drop/add date for verification of current coverage. This must be done for each registration period that the student is enrolled in school. If proof of current Medicaid is not provided, the student will be charged for the student insurance and the charge will be non-refundable.

Note: Medicaid from any other state will not be accepted as a valid waiver.

Student Employment

Students desiring part-time employment must be enrolled fulltime (12 undergraduate credits, 8 graduate credits, or 9 Master of Divinity credits) and they must complete the necessary paperwork at the Office of Employment. To be employed, students must show the Office of Employment original documents (no photocopies) that establish their identity and employment eligibility, such as a U.S. passport, birth certificate, or social security card.

The University allows students to work, as work is available, up to 20 hours per week during the academic year. To maximize work opportunities, the student should schedule their classes so that large portions of the mornings or afternoons are free. Professional performance and conduct is expected in all on-campus employment.

Payroll Schedule. Andrews University follows a biweekly payroll schedule. Student employees are responsible for having their time submitted to their department supervisors each Monday morning. The university does not issue payroll advances for time turned in late.

Dictionary of Miscellaneous Money Matters & General Fees

Students have two types of expenses while attending the university—educational (tuition, books, insurance and fees) and living (housing and meals).

The University makes every effort to maintain the costs published in this bulletin. The University reserves the right to make changes as necessitated by unexpected increases in costs. Such changes are announced in advance of the semester in which they become effective.

Additional Costs. The online registration process, Financial Plan, assesses the two types of costs mentioned in the preceding section. However, students may incur additional expenses that are not estimated at the time of pre-registration. These billed expenses may include, but are not limited to, class fees, trips and tours, club fees, printing charges, and expenses related to a major such as photo store charges. Many of these expenses are described in more detail in the following pages. Fees are non-refundable.

Alternative Loans. Student Financial Services considers all awarded grants, scholarships and loans for a student's cost of attendance as resources when certifying an eligible amount of private educational loan funds. See Cost of Attendance Limitations for a list of these resources.

Auditing a Class. The cost of auditing a class is the same as the cost of enrolling for credit.

Carrying Charge of 1% is charged on all unpaid account balances including those in a payment plan monthly.

Cash Withdrawal. Andrews University is unable to serve as a bank for students. Sometimes students have a credit balance on their student account they need to withdraw. Students may request a cash withdrawal at the front desk in Student Financial Services. A maximum of three cash withdrawals not exceeding $300 may be requested during an academic term. Cash withdrawals are not available if payment was made by credit card. Cash withdrawals may not be paid on monies anticipated in a future term. The student must present a current AU student ID or valid driver's license for release of funds.

Change of Registration $35

Dropping/adding a course, changing from credit to audit, or from audit to credit after the "last day to enter any class" as published in the academic calendar, will be assessed a fee.

Club Dues. Clubs approved by Student Activities may recommend a maximum of three club dues to student accounts only during September and January. Appropriate forms with required information are turned in to Student Financial Services by September 25 and January 25. Student accounts cannot be used for fund-raising. Each club can only charge maximum annual dues of $50.

Course/Lab Fees listed in online class schedule

Credit Balances on student accounts may be withdrawn by or at the direction of the person responsible for the student's account after the final statement is issued—usually thirty days after the last day of attendance.

Credit Card Payments will be accepted to pay account balances, but cannot be accepted for a student to make a cash withdrawal from his/her student account. Secure payment can be made via the Andrews web page at www.andrews.edu/sf. We use a 3rd party provider, "TouchNet" to process credit card payments. This requires a login and password through TouchNet. There is a convenience fee of 2.75%. The following information is required:

Non-Current Student Accounts

on which no payments are being made, may be turned over for third party collection. Students whose accounts are non-current must pay the account in full, including collection costs, before they may register for any additional coursework.

By enrollment, students agree to the following responsibility statement:

I in consideration for any and all credit extended to me at any time in the past, present or future, I agree to give Andrews University a security interest in my student records. I understand that, in giving the University such an interest, I may not obtain a diploma or transcript of my record at any time for any reason unless my account is paid in full. The security interest I grant to the University is intended to cover any and all current indebtedness as well as any and all future advances of credit which the University may grant me at any time. I also understand that a 1% per month carrying charge will be added on my unpaid balance and I agree to pay this carrying charge in addition to any other debt. I recognize that the above figures displayed in Registration Central are estimates and I accept the responsibility for the payment of actual charges incurred. I explicitly agree to be responsible for those collection expenses in addition to the unpaid debt. I understand that Andrews University will be adding additional collection and attorneys' fees (within a range of 33.333% to 40%) if an account goes into default. I understand that sundry charges not listed in the above estimate are due the month in which they appear on the statement.

I also acknowledge that, should I choose a monthly payment plan, my monthly amount is required in full by the 25th of each month.

I give authorization for my Title IV aid after current term institutional costs are covered to: 1) pay non-institutional charges such as my living expenses while attending Andrews University, 2) apply to prior year balances, if any. I authorize Andrews University to hold my Title IV credit balances on my account unless requested by me through University procedure.

I have read and accepted the responsibility statement as presented.

Payment Plans

1. Cash Rebate Plans

1. 3% Rebate Plan—Full time regular students with at least 12 undergraduate credits or at least 8 graduate credits may choose to pay their estimated Out-of- Pocket Expenses (charges less financial aid resources) for the full year by August 15 to receive a 3% rebate. After making payment, e-mail sfs@andrews.edu by the first day of class to request the 3% rebate. The student's minimum Out-of- Pocket Expenses as calculated online in TouchNet must be at least $100 to qualify for a payment plan. The rebate is unavailable for payment made after the first day of class. Cash withdrawals and refunds are unavailable until the end of spring semester. All approved rebates will be applied to the student account during the fall semester.
2. 1% Rebate Plan—Full-time regular students with at least 12 undergraduate credits or at least 8 graduate credits may choose to pay their estimated Out-of- Pocket Expenses (charges less financial aid resources) in full for the semester to receive a 1% rebate per semester. The student's minimum Out-of-Pocket Expenses as calculated online in TouchNet must be at least $100 to qualify for a payment plan. Each payment must be receipted by August 15 for fall semester and December 15 for spring semester. After making payment, e-mail sfs@andrews.edu by the first day of class to request the 1% rebate. The rebate is unavailable for payment made after the first day of class. Cash withdrawals and refunds are unavailable until the end of that semester. All approved rebates will be applied to the student account during that semester.
3. Monthly Payment Plan—Arrange to make monthly payments toward estimated Out-of-Pocket Expenses for the semester and any previous balance.
 1. All previous account balances (including monthly payment plan balances) must be paid in full.
 2. The plan is not to exceed more than 50% of the estimated Out-of-Pocket Expenses for the semester.
 3. Payments are to zero the account by the end of the semester to which the plan applies.
 4. Late payments will incur a late payment fee of $25.
 5. A 1% carrying charge will be posted to an unpaid balance at the end of the month.
 6. Minimum balance for monthly payment plan is $100 or above.

Permission to Take Class Fee $30

Post-Dated Checks are not accepted.

Prior Accounts. Students may register only when accounts with other schools have been paid or arrangements made with them.

Portfolio Assessment and Recording Fee

non-refundable, per credit $160

Refund Check Policy

- Refund checks resulting from credit on the student's account will not be available to the student until approximately five days after the semester drop/add date. The checks will be mailed to the address the student wrote on the request form or for pickup at the office of Student Financial Services front desk.
- Refund checks will only be issued from credit on the account at the time the check is requested. Students should monitor their account balances carefully since funds from a future semester are unavailable until the appropriate time.
- Student Financial Services is unable to serve students as a bank. A maximum of three credit refund checks may be requested during a semester.
- Students receiving federal loans are encouraged to carefully read their Disclosure Statements so they know the loan disbursement schedule.
- Funds from future semesters are unavailable until the funds reach the University's bank. Students should plan their budgets accordingly.
- Half-time enrollment is required for student loans to disburse to the account. A class does not count toward the half-time enrollment status until within ten (10) days of its start date.
- To pick up a refund check in Student Financial Services, the student must show current Andrews University ID or valid driver's license.

- For anyone other than the student to pick up the refund check, the student must sign a letter giving permission for that person to pick up their check. Without the appropriate documentation, the refund check will not be released.
- Federal regulations require that credit from Parent (PLUS) loans be returned to the parents. Written authorization from the parents is required before these funds can be released to the student.
- If you have received or are planning to receive Federal student loans, please be aware that you have the right to cancel all or a portion of your loan disbursements. However, you must act within 30 days of your loan disbursement. Contact your financial advisor if you need more information.
- Credit refund checks not picked up will be mailed to your statement mailing address.

Mission Preparedness Assessment Fee	$50
Student Missions Application Fee	$30
Student Missions Background Check Fee	Up to $40
International Student Missionary Service	$4500
Domestic Student Missionary Service	$3000

Student Status. Student status is achieved only after a student is both academically and financially cleared. Only then may students attend classes, take examinations, participate in graduation exercises, and live in university housing.

Textbooks

$550

The estimated semester cost of textbooks is $550. Students are charged the estimated amount of their bookstore purchases based on their selection.

Thesis/Dissertation Fees

Binding (each volume) for AU copies	$20
Binding (each volume) for personal copies	$30
Fees for copyediting of theses/dissertations are on a sliding scale basis, starting at $140 for 50 pages, plus $5 for each additional 10-page increment.

Transcript and Diploma. Students may not receive a transcript or diploma under the following circumstances:

- Owing on a student or housing account, including payment plans not yet due
- Being in default on a government loan
- Needing to complete loan exit counseling

Transcript Exception. Students may request that a transcript be sent to the following:

- An organization for scholarship or licensure purposes (AMCAS, AADS, or PTCAS)

Academic Transcript Exception Policy for Student Loan Borrowers in Default

University policy prevents the Office of Academic Records from releasing academic transcripts for borrowers who are not paying on their Federal Stafford (Subsidized/Unsubsidized), GSL or Federal Supplemental Loan for Students (SLS). Every request is handled on an individual basis; however, if the borrower complies with the appropriate guidelines below, the academic transcript requested directly from the Office of Academic Records may be issued for the following two limited purposes:

For Educational Purposes

1. The transcript is to be sent directly to the academic institution.

- The borrower must have made six consecutive monthly payments as scheduled prior to release of the transcripts.
- The provisions and conditions in #2 above are certified in writing by the lending institution or the guaranty agency handling the loan.
- A copy of the letter described in #3 above confirming satisfactory status is sent to Student Financial Services. The confirmation letter is valid for the purposes of this policy for six months from its date, and future requests may be denied if the satisfactory status is not maintained.

For Employment Purposes

- The transcript is released for employment purposes only and is so stamped.
- The transcript is sent directly to the prospective employer and may not be shared with any other party.
- The borrower in default must contact the guaranty agency (or agencies) in writing to acknowledge the student loan debt and make an acceptable repayment commitment of a specified monthly amount.
- A copy of the letter written to the borrower's lender or guaranty agency, as stated in item #3 above, must be sent to Student Financial Services.
- Future requests for academic transcripts may be denied should a borrower not fulfill his/her promise as stated in the letter to the guaranty agency.

Updating Course Work Fee—20% of graduate tuition per credit

Wiring Funds

International wire fee	$55
Domestic wire fee	$30

International Students

Advance Deposit. Applicants attending the main campus from outside the United States (except Bahamas, Bermuda, Canada and Mexico) must make an advance deposit of $3,100 (includes $100 non-refundable new international student fee) before an I-20 will be issued. No university scholarships may be applied to pay the deposit. All international students (except Bahamas, Bermuda, Canada and Mexico) who apply for the MDiv program in the SDA Theological Seminary must pay for the first semester (tuition, general fee and health insurance) before an I-20 will be issued. Returning students must pay their balance in full before an updated I-20 will be issued. Exceptions to the deposit requirement are made if a student is staying on campus for less than a month. Under these circumstances, no deposit is required.

All students requiring an I-20 must be officially accepted into their chosen academic program. Students must also submit the following: an Estimated Budget for Students Attending on a Visa form, International deposit of $3100.00 (includes a $100 non-refundable new student international fee), financial statements showing that they can cover their first year expenses (see Resource Verification for more information), a copy of their passport, the mailing address and telephone number of the address where the I-20 is to be mailed. Please contact isfs@andrews.edu for the budget sheet and additional information.

All students are encouraged to pay the $200 SEVIS I-901 fee (subject to change) online at www.fmjfee.com or at the Western Union Quick Pay services or to contact Andrews University International Recruiter in case of unavailability of the Western Union services in their countries. This fee is required by the U.S. Immigration and Customs of all students seeking an F-1 or J-1 visa from an embassy or consulate as well as students applying for admission at a U.S. port-of-entry (such as Canadians) to begin initial attendance at U.S. schools.

SEVIS Fee. International students coming to the United States for the first time must pay a $200 SEVIS fee (subject to change), as mentioned previously, and the cost of the visa at the American Consulate of his/her home country. International students and exchange visitors are subject to the $200 SEVIS fee. To make this payment online or to find out more about the SEVIS fee please visit www.fmjfee.com. Please be sure to bring your original SEVIS payment receipt with you to the U.S. port of entry.

Unclaimed International Deposits Policy. International student deposits that have not been refunded within three years after the student reaches non-current status shall be transferred from the student's international student deposit account to a quasi endowment account.

Student Financial Services will monitor the international student deposit account on an annual basis to determine the appropriate transfer of funds to the International Graduate Assistance Fund Account. At the discretion of Student Financial Services, these funds will be available as payment on account to assist graduate international students in their financial clearance process.

The initial funds shall be established as a quasi endowment from which 80% will be invested and 20% will be available annually. Any subsequent requests will be claimable after identifying that the person is the one who paid the deposit to the account.

International Deposit Allocation. This deposit is not available to cover registration expenses; the deposit earns interest during the time the student is enrolled with full-time tuition. The deposit plus interest is refunded when the student's degree is completed or enrollment is terminated; alternatively, it can be used as partial payment for the final semester of registration. If the student doesn't complete the educational program during the term the deposit is used to meet expenses, the deposit must be reinstated for financial clearance.

Resource Verification. Bank documentation as well as other forms of financial documentation are required to prove ability to support one's educational expenses. Returning students needing an updated I-20 will also need to supply bank documentation.

I-20 Form. Once the deposit and resource verification are received and accepted, the university authorizes the Office of International Student Services to issue the I-20 Form for the purpose of securing a United States student visa. There is an individual I-20 shipment charge that will be billed to your account. This shipment charge varies according to the country of destination.

Arrival to Andrews University Campus. All international students who enter the U.S. on an Andrews University I-20 Form are considered Andrews University students and must report immediately to the Office of International Student Services.

Exchange Visitor General Conference Sponsorships. The General Conference of the Seventh-day Adventist Church is the sponsoring organization of the Exchange Visitor program and is authorized by the Department of State to issue the DS2019 document. The exchange visitor is required to present the DS2019 and a copy of the $200 SEVIS Fee Receipt at the American Consulate in order to obtain a J-1 visa. This visa (J-1) enables the exchange visitor to pursue his/her study or to do other options as indicated on the DS2019.

Class Loads and Financial Aid

Aid is awarded for an entire academic year (two semesters) and is based on full-time enrollment. The summer session usually is not part of the regular academic year. Students do not receive aid during non-enrollment periods. Most aid programs require students to be enrolled at least half-time. Students who enroll with a half-time class load may receive a maximum of 50% of the full-time award. Three fourths time enrollment permits students to receive a maximum of 75% of the full-time award. Students who change their course load during a given semester should read the Financial Aid Refund policy, see Undergraduate Financial Assistance.

Tuition Adjustment Policies

Tuition adjustments are given to students who withdraw from school or drop individual courses during the academic term. These tuition adjustments are based on the date when all the appropriate drop forms with all the required signatures are completed and filed with the Office of Academic Records.

Fall and spring semester adjustments
100% 1st–10th calendar day
70% 11th–17th calendar day
40% 18th–24th calendar day
0% 25th–last day of semester

Summer session adjustments will differ based on the summer session you are enrolled in.

Courses with Special Schedules. When courses are scheduled for irregular periods of time, adjustments are based on the ratio of the length of the course to the length of the academic period for that course. See also: Withdrawals and Refunds for Self-paced Courses.

Fees. All fees are non-refundable.

Financial Assistance Adjustments after withdrawal. Federal and State regulations require the university to return a portion of program funds when a student withdraws completely from school after receiving financial assistance under any Federal Title IV program (other than Federal Work Study). Refer to Undergraduate Financial Assistance for Financial Aid Refund Policy.

Gifts and Bequests

Each year the university has increased needs for scholarship funds to aid students. The Trustees of Andrews University invite alumni, friends, and members of the university family to join them in providing an increased opportunity for training youth in the traditions of a Christian university. The following supplies contact information for making a gift, either unrestricted or designated for a specific purpose, to Andrews University:

Current Gifts

Individuals interested in making a current donation to Andrews University of either cash or non-cash assets should contact:

Office of Development
Andrews University

Charges

Residence Hall Charges

Residence hall occupancy is based on two persons per room, for the duration of an entire term. All single undergraduates under 22 years of age should plan on living in the residence hall, unless living full-time with their parents.

Before the room assignment process is initiated, receipt of both the residence hall application and the room deposit are required. Prior to moving in, students must have been accepted for the session in question and be financially cleared.

Residence Hall Package Plans*

For fall and spring semesters

Double Occupancy (Lamson, Meier, Burman)	$2,389
Double Occupancy (Damazo)	$2,639
Single Occupancy (Lamson, Meier, Burman)	$3,584
Single Occupancy (Damazo)	$5,278
(if available space in Lamson, Meier, Burman, Damazo)
Double Daily Rate (Lamson, Meier, Burman)	$20
Single Daily Rate (Lamson, Meier, Burman)	$30
Double Daily Rate (Damazo)	$22
Single Daily Rate (Damazo)	$44

For summer sessions

Summer room charges are calculated on a per day basis.

* The residence hall package plan includes unlimited access to laundry facilities, utilities, basic telephone, health club membership, and limited health care. It does not include health care lab work and x-rays, comprehensive psychological or substance use/abuse interventions or testing, health insurance, or miscellaneous expenses such as linens, cleaning, books, supplies, transportation or food. University Medical Specialties (UMS) charges the insurance company for any coverage applicable to the services provided to residence hall students, thus students should take their insurance information with them when utilizing UMS services. UMS waives any copay or deductible (for the student/family) for the limited health care provided. Note: Lamson and Meier Halls will close at 9am on Wednesday morning following the end of Fall Semester and will reopen at 9am on Wednesday morning before the beginning of Spring semester. Residents needed housing during the closure time should speak with a residence hall dean.

Residence Hall Room Deposit Payment

The room deposit is $250, payable by each resident prior to room assignment. Assignments are made on a first-come first-served basis. For priority room assignment, submit your application and deposit by August 1 for fall term, December 1 for spring term, and May 1 for summer terms. If a deposit is received after those dates, expect to be assigned to temporary housing.

Residence Hall Room Deposit Refund

Room deposits are refunded if you do not move into the residence hall and cancel your application by August 1 for fall term, December 1 for spring term, and May 1 for summer term. Cancellation must be made through the residence hall housing office. Students will receive room assignment notification during the month of July for the upcoming fall semester. They are expected to confirm this room assignment online. Failure to confirm or cancel by August 1 will result in room cancellation as well as release of the room deposit. Rooms that have been confirmed and then canceled after August 1 will result in forfeiture of the room deposit.

Failure to Check Out Properly

Students are charged if they leave the residence hall without following checkout procedures. Additional charges may be assessed depending on the amount of cleaning and/or repairs required.

Residence Hall Unreturned Key Charges (subject to change)

Unreturned or lost key fee	$75
Unreturned or lost security drawer key fee	$10

Personal Effects Insurance. The University does not provide personal effects insurance coverage. The University is not responsible for the loss or damage, from any cause, of personal belongings brought to the campus. This is true even though students are required by the University to purchase certain items or to keep them in a specified place. The University strongly recommends that students secure their own personal effects insurance coverage.

Meal Plan Charges

Residence Hall Meal Plan

Undergraduate residence hall students under age 22 are required to participate in the Declining Balance Meal Plan. The minimum meal plan charge is $1,800 per semester. The meal plan can be used for purchases at the Terrace Café, Gazebo and campus vending machines. In some cases, the minimum meal plan will not meet your complete food needs for the semester (for example, $1,800 should cover approximately two average meals each day, every day, throughout the semester). Students who know they will require a larger meal plan amount may opt to add additional funds through Dining Services.

Students who run out of funds in the meal account during the semester may add to the balance in increments of $100 by request at the Office of Dining Services in the Campus Center.

No refund will be credited to the student's account at the end of the semester if funds remain in the meal plan.

All residence hall students of Andrews University employees receiving 60% educational allowance must select a meal plan regardless of the student's age. Women living in Damazo Hall can select the Damazo Meal Plan. please contact your Student Financial Services financial advisor.

Meal plan cost per semester ($1,800)

Café Account

Minimum amount to open a Café Account ($50)

The Café Account is a plan for graduate and undergraduate students not living in a dormitory. Students may use their Café Account card to purchase food from the Terrace Café, Gazebo, or vending machines. To open a Café account with cash, check or credit card, visit the Office of Dining Services. To open a Café account with a credit balance on a student account, visit the Office of Student Financial Services.

Cleaning Fee, non-refundable	$100

Monthly Rental Rates

One-three bedroom houses ($555-1000)

The Office of University Apartments provides apartment descriptions and application forms upon request. Application forms can also be downloaded from www.andrews.edu/apartments/. If notice of cancellation is received before the date of stated occupancy, the application fee is refunded minus the $20 processing fee. Apartments or houses are assigned from the processing list in the order in which the application fee is received.

A student's immediate family only includes husband, wife, children, parents and biological siblings. Birth certificates must be provided showing the relationship to the student. Any other relatives (cousins, nieces, nephews, in-laws, etc.) who desire to live with students must first receive permission from the University Apartments director. Rent is increased by $20 per month for each additional person that is not immediate family as described above or the student does not have legal guardianship over. No overcrowding is allowed.

Single students wanting to share an apartment with a roommate will pay an additional $20 rent per month. The monthly rent, along with the additional extra person charge, will be divided between the roommates.

Rent Payments

The first month's rent is prorated to the date of occupancy. Students are required to pay the first month's rent in advance. Thereafter, rent is due in advance on the 1st of each month. A late fee of $30 is charged for any payment made after the 10th of the month. Payments can be made in person, by using the drop box, by mail or online. Address all payments and inquiries to:

Office of University Apartments

Termination of Occupancy

All tenants are required to sign a year lease at the time of occupancy. At the end of the initial lease a new lease has to be signed if the tenant wishes to continue occupancy.

College of Arts & Sciences Charges

Center for Intensive English Programs

Language Training (Short-Term Intensives)

Individuals and groups may register for short-term intensives: fall semester, beginning in August and late October; spring semester, beginning in January and early March. The program fees (tuition) will be pro-rated. Housing and meal plans are available for an additional fee.

CIEP Fall and Spring Semesters

Department of Aviation Charges

Flight Majors: Flight-training fees are to be paid at the beginning of each semester. This is to insure that flight training progresses without interruption due to financial limitations. Any additional flight or ground instruction, beyond each training module, will incur additional hourly training fees. Students must plan to cover their own costs of the 1st class FAA medical, and in the case of international students, the TSA application fee. FAA written flight tests, charts and other materials are additional and cannot be charged against the flight training fees.

Please note: Flight training fees are non-refundable. Students should plan to complete their training within the semester they have enrolled for the course. If, due to special circumstances, approved by the department; students unable to complete the training may be given a specified extension to finish their flight during the following break or semester. Beyond that exception, unused hours after the semester enrolled are forfeited and will be unusable.

Aviation Professional Fee

Fall $100

Spring $100

International Flight Students: TSA Application Fee for Permission to Commence Flight Training $130

The fee is required for all non-U.S. students training as Private, Instrument and Multi-engine pilots. An approved application allots one year of training for each of the above flight ratings. If a student does not complete the rating in that time frame, they will be required to repay the TSA fee and reapply to continue training.

Community (Non-Flight Majors) Taking Flight Training

Flight-training fees will be on a pay-as-you-go basis. Ground School classes are available with no university credit for $370 per course for the private, instrument and commercial courses and $980 for the CFI course. Credit for such courses may be obtained by registering through the registrar's office and paying regular tuition. For flight certificates without credit call the Department of Aviation for a cost estimate.

Flight Training Fees and Rates

Rates and fees are subject to change without notice due to changes in operating costs (insurance, fuel, etc.). Every attempt will be made to maintain published rates. Check with the airport administration for current rates. Flight-training fees listed below apply to this bulletin:

Course Fees For Flight Training Labs

The full fee amount is due at the beginning of the semester/registration for each course.

Transfer

Certain seminary programs are discounted to prepare students for specific ministries. If a student enrolls and takes classes in a discounted or reduced fee program (less than the published Doctoral or Master's rate) and then wishes to apply those credits earned to a higher priced program, the student will pay the difference in Tuition and Fees to transfer or apply the discounted credits to the higher priced program at the time of transfer.

Program Specific Fees and Discounts

MA: Full-time on-campus students may apply for a tuition discount (based on GPA and other criteria), at the Seminary Dean's office each semester by drop/add date (see below).

MAR, MA (Rel Ed) Tuition Adjustment: 25% discount

MAPM, MAYYAM Tuition Adjustment: 25%–38% discount

MDiv: The MDiv fee is already discounted down to a flat registration fee (automatic). No further discounts are available except during summer semester, when an on-campus student taking less than 8 credits on campus may apply for a reduction/proration of the summer fee. Applications available in the Seminary Dean's office. Must be submitted by drop/add date of third session.

The registration fee is due August 15 for fall semester, December 15 for spring semester, and May 10 for summer term. Any credits (over 14/16 for fall and spring semesters or over 12 for the summer) are charged at the regular per-credit master's tuition rate.

MDiv students taking a graduate course in the College of Arts & Sciences in fulfillment of their elective course requirement may request a 50% tuition reduction (up to 9 credits), provided the class is not full and there are a sufficient number of students paying full tuition to warrant the teaching of the course. Directed study, laboratory courses, and study tours are not eligible for reduced tuition. Neither is this discount available for dual-enrollment students who have been accepted in a graduate degree program in the College of Arts & Sciences. Application form is available in the MDiv office, but should be submitted to the Dean of Arts & Sciences.

A per-credit recording fee is charged for prior learning (CPL).

DMin: NAD employees are eligible for a 56% discount off the published doctoral rate. Tuition includes general, graduation and editing fees.

DMiss: 50% discount off the published doctoral rate.

PhD/ThD: Visit the PhD program office for scholarship applications in January of each year

Seminary Scholarships and Discounts

Scholarships

Endowed/Named Scholarships—Application deadline will be set some time during spring semester for the next year.

Emergency Scholarship

Visit the Seminary Dean's office for details.

Seminary Spouse Discount

Available to master's-level students enrolled in Seminary programs whose spouses are enrolled full-time in a Seminary program. Student must submit application to Seminary Dean's office each semester by drop/add date. Details and applications are available in the Seminary Dean's office. Discount, if granted, would net Seminary master's tuition to $150 per credit (maximum 9 credits per semester).

Note: The purpose of this section is to summarize the most common Seminary fees. Seminary students are still responsible for all fees and policies as set forth in this Bulletin.

Other departmental charges for individual courses are listed in the Class Schedule. These charges, which may be significant, are added to tuition.

Undergraduate Financial Assistance

Academic Scholarships Funded by Andrews University

The Andrews Partnership Scholarship reflects the university's desire to recognize academic achievement as well as assist students in achieving a degree in a Christian environment at Andrews University.

Andrews Partnership Scholarship

Merit-based

The Andrews Partnership Scholarship is available to accepted undergraduates including Canadian and international students. The Office of Undergraduate Admissions will determine the scholarship amounts for incoming freshmen and transfer students. To establish the scholarship amount, the Office of Undergraduate Admissions will determine a rating based on the following guidelines:

FTIACS (defined below)

- Confirmed U.S. SAT or ACT scores (Test must be taken by July 15)
- Confirmed U.S. cumulative GPA (following the conclusion of the sixth semester for academy or high school)

Transfer Students (defined below)

- Confirmed cumulative college GPA

Contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions for further details.

FTIAC (First Time In Any College)

Andrews Partnership Scholarships are merit scholarships awarded to students who have taken fewer than 25 college semester credits after graduating from high school. The award amounts are based upon a combination of cumulative high school GPA and ACT or SAT and can be calculated at the website www.andrews.edu/aps. The award levels are as follows:

Scholarship	4-Year Total
$12,000	$48,000
$10,000	$40,000
$8,000	$32,000
$6,000	$24,000

Additional Andrews Partnership Scholarship for FTIAC (First Time In Any College) Students

In addition to the Andrews Partnership Scholarship (based upon the combination of high school cumulative GPA and ACT/SAT scores) freshmen are eligible for an additional annual $2,000 special APS for either (only one) of the following categories:

- ACT composite of 30 to 33
- SAT Evidence-based Reading and Writing (ERW) + Mathematics combination score of 1390 to 1510.
- pSAT-NMSQT ERW + Math Combinations score of 1350 to 1460.

Note: Andrews University awards the ACT/SAT Scholarship for students scoring a composite score of 34 (ACT) or 1520 (SAT Evidence-based Reading and Writing + Math) or higher or pSAT-NMSQT of 1470 (ERW and Math) or higher. This scholarship covers 100% tuition for up to 144 undergraduate credits for incoming freshman. For details listed below under National Merit/National Achievement Finalists Scholarship, National Hispanic Recognition Program Scholar and ACT/SAT Scholarship.

Continuing eligibility and time frames for this scholarship are the same as for the regular APS. Transfer students do not qualify for the additional APS for ACT or SAT scores since their APS is based upon their transfer cumulative college GPA. Transfer students may qualify for full tuition scholarship if they were National Merit/National Achievement Finalists, National Hispanic Recognition Scholar or ACT/SAT Scholarship. Students qualifying for the National Merit/National Achievement Finalists, National Hispanic Recognition Program Scholars or ACT/SAT Scholarship are not eligible for additional APS. All tests must be taken by July 15 to be evaluated to raise their APS.

Transfer Students (transferring 25 or more semester credits taken after graduating from high school) to Andrews University who are full-time undergraduates and in their first degree program may be eligible for an Andrews Partnership Scholarship. Based on their incoming cumulative college GPA, the Office of Undergraduate Admissions will grant an Andrews Partnership Scholarship according to the following:

GPA	Scholarship Amount
3.50 and higher	$9,000
3.00 to 3.49	$7,000
2.50 to 2.99	$5,000
Below 2.50	$3,000

Transfer students may qualify for full tuition scholarship if they were National Merit/National Achievement Finalist, National Hispanic Recognition Scholar or ACT/SAT Scholarship.

Named Scholarships

Endowments and other restricted scholarship funds from alumni and friends of the university provide specially named scholarships as part of the Andrews Partnership Scholarship. Selected students are awarded, by their school, a named scholarship based on academic performance, declared major, and career goals. Because of this special recognition a thank-you letter is required to be submitted electronically to the Office of Development through finVue (can be found under the requirements section). Receipt of a named scholarship will not increase the total amount of financial aid awarded if an Andrews Partnership Scholarship was already given.

Student Missionary/Taskforce Volunteer Scholarship

This scholarship is awarded to an undergraduate student who has served as an AU Student Missionary or Taskforce Volunteer through Andrews University and enrolls full-time at Andrews University the year following the year of service. The scholarship is up to $1,500 scholarship. It is not transferable to any other school nor any other student. To apply for this scholarship fill out an application accompanied by a letter of evaluation from your mission field supervisor with the Student Missions Program in the Office of Campus Ministries. This scholarship is not part of the Andrews Partnership Scholarship.

Summer Ministries Scholarship Program

Summer camp scholarship will be based on $190 per week for a maximum of $2,470. Summer camps that pay minimum wage or higher are not eligible for this scholarship. Student Financial Services will determine the amount of the scholarship based on the information received from camp directors in time for financial clearance.

Magabooks and HHES are matched 50% of the net earnings. The entire net earnings must be placed onto the student's account at Andrews University before the scholarship is given. The scholarship cap is $2,600.

Summer scholarships for Andrews University Religion Department Barnabas Connection (Undergraduates Only) and Church/Conference outreach programs are matched 100% based on the information given to Student Financial Services from each organization. The entire scholarship must be placed onto the student's account at Andrews University. The scholarship cap is $ 2,400.

All summer scholarships are awarded to full-time undergraduate and graduate students in a degree program attending the Berrien Springs campus and require full-time service. The scholarship closing date for consideration is October 31 of the current academic year.

If a student attends Adventist Colleges Abroad, Student Missionary or Task Force that fall, their scholarship will be held until the following year and funds disbursed the next fall semester. If they also work in a summer ministries program that year, the scholarship would be given the following fall semester.

Included and Excluded Funds

Funding for Andrews Partnership Scholarships may include Andrews University grants, named scholarships, and departmental scholarships, as well as the value of spouse free tuition. Funds not included in the Andrews Partnership Scholarship are Summer Ministries, Student Missionary/Taskforce, General Conference Missionary Matching, Undergraduate Research grants, the DeHaan Work Excellence Award, employer-provided scholarship or assistance, music performance, and non-Andrews outside resources.

Continuing Eligibility

To retain the Andrews Partnership Scholarship each student must meet all of the following:

- The university's Satisfactory Academic Progress policy
- Complete a four-year degree in ten semesters or get permission for an APS extension from the associate vice president for Enrollment Management. Students are allowed terms of prorated APS for less-than-full-time attendance (minimum 6 full-price credits, i.e. half time; handled manually upon written request to Student Financial Services). A prorated term counts as one complete term of the ten Andrews Partnership Scholarship terms allowed. 9–11 credits=75% APS; 6–8 credits=50% APS.

- Be a full-time (minimum 12 credit hours) undergraduate completing his/her first degree on the Berrien Springs campus
- Be a full-time (minimum 12 credit hours) student on the Andrews University main campus. Twelve Andrews undergraduate correspondence credits, 12 ELI non-credits, May Express, Sahmyook Top Scholar, and other discounted credits, do not qualify as full-time eligibility for the Andrews Partnership Scholarship.

Summer Enrollment

An Andrews Partnership Scholarship recipient may request the Andrews Partnership Scholarship during the summer term if all of the requirements are met. The summer term will count as one of the 10 semesters for which the Andrews Partnership Scholarship may be available. Usually the only aid available for summer is a student loan.

Special Andrews Partnership Scholarship

National Merit/National Finalists Scholarship, National Hispanic Recognition Program Scholar and APS/SAT Scholarship

Andrews University rewards National Merit/National Finalists, National Hispanic Recognition Program Scholar and ACT/SAT Scholarship (for a composite score of 34 ACT or 1550 SAT (Math + Verbal or higher) a special Andrews Partnership Scholarship that covers 100% tuition for four years for incoming freshmen with a cap of 144 credits and limited to a degree. To confirm receipt of the scholarship, submit appropriate records (award letter, certificate and/or official test scores) to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Gift aid is:

1. All gift aid received by the awardee, including a university scholarship or grant, cannot exceed the cost of full tuition. All gift aid is added in the following order: external scholarships, merit aid, and then need-based aid. Should the external scholarships and merit-aid portions exceed the cost of tuition per semester, then books, general fee, required course fees and the minimum costs of room and board may be included in the calculation. Gift aid, for the purpose of this policy, is defined as
 1. Any Andrews funds such as, but not limited to Andrews Gift, named scholarships, or honors scholarships.
 2. Any external aid received by the student for the purpose of school-related expenses such as, but not limited to, State grants, Federal grants, private scholarship grants, or denominational educational allowance.
2. No cash amount is paid directly to the student, nor may any funds be transferred to any other student's account. Tours are not included.
3. The length of the National Merit/National Achievement Finalists, National Hispanic Recognition Program Scholar and ACT/SAT Scholarship - Andrews Partnership Scholarship is nine (9) semesters with a cap of 144 credits and limited to a degree.
4. All National Merit/National Achievement Finalists, National Hispanic Recognition Program Scholar and ACT/SAT Scholarship - Andrews Partnership Scholarships may be renewed yearly if students maintain a 3.25 Andrews cumulative GPA.
5. Transfer National Merit/National Achievement Finalists, National Hispanic Recognition Program Scholar and ACT/SAT Scholarship are eligible to receive the scholarship according to the general scholarship rules plus the following additional rules:
 1. The scholar enters the scholarship program at his/her appropriate grade level. In no case is a transfer scholar eligible for a full four-year scholarship.
 2. The student must meet the GPA requirements as outlined in #5 above at his/her appropriate grade level.

Andrews Gift Aid

In addition to the Andrews Partnership Scholarship, Andrews University makes Andrews Gift monies available to help satisfy the student's need as determined by the financial aid information. To be eligible for Andrews Gift aid, students must file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), www.fafsa.ed.gov. To complete your financial aid award, you will need to submit the AU Financial Information Sheet and any other documents required for verification by the Student Financial Services Office. If you did not or could not use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool on the FAFSA, we will need an IRS Tax Return Transcript. You can request one at www.irs.gov/individuals/get-transcript. The priority processing date is March 1. No electronic award letter will be prepared until Student Financial Services receives and processes these forms. Andrews Gift will be recalculated if outside resources are received after initial awarding.

Many of the financial aid programs presented in this bulletin are governed by Federal and State regulations. Every attempt has been made to be accurate in the program description at the time of printing. Changes, however, may be made over which the university has no control.

Defining Financial Need

When figuring eligibility for financial aid, need is determined by the following Financial Aid Formula: Cost of Attendance - Expected Family Contribution = Need

Cost of Attendance refers to the amount it costs to attend Andrews. This cost includes tuition, estimated cost of books, general fee, room and board, personal and travel allowances.

Expected Family Contribution is determined by taking financial information provided by the student on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and calculating a result.

Educational Need is the difference between cost of attendance and expected family contribution. Need-based aid comes from Federal, State, and/or institutional funds.

General Information

FERPA. Andrews University follows the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act guidelines.

Financial Aid Documents. To find required documents visit www.andrews.edu/sf. To complete your financial aid award, you will need to submit the Financial Information Sheet and other documents if selected for verification. If you did not or could not use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool on the FAFSA, we will need an IRS Return Transcript. You can request one at www.irs.gov/individual/get-transcript. No award letter will be prepared until Student Financial Services receives and processes these forms. Priority processing date is March 1. The United States Department of Education selects some students for whom the school must verify the information submitted on their FAFSAs.

When to do the FAFSA. Students can file the FAFSA online after October 1 for the following academic year and sign electronically with the student's FSA Id. The Federal office will process aid eligibility only after receiving an electronic signature.

School Name and Federal School Code. The FAFSA must include the name(s) of the college(s) to which the student is applying. Andrews University's Federal School code is 002238.

Federal, State, and Institutional Financial Aid. The information on Federal and State-based aid is in accordance with regulations and funding information available at the time this bulletin goes to press. Actual awards depend on Federal and State regulations and funding at the time aid is disbursed.

Aid money is credited to the student account each semester. Any change required in the student's verification process (check to be sure what was entered on the FAFSA matches what was entered on the verification forms) can change the financial aid award.

Master Promissory Note (MPN). Andrews University follows Federal guidelines for Master Promissory Notes. Students sign electronically a loan note only once indicating their intent to use loans to pay their tuition expenses and their commitment to repay the loans after graduation. Once electronically signed, the loan note remains active for ten years (unless it is canceled by the student). Andrews University uses an in-house loan-request form for students to indicate which loans and how much loan eligibility they will use each year.

Funding Limitations. Should university aid funds become over-committed, Andrews University reserves the right to reduce all previously granted awards, to discontinue making further awards, and/or to use other appropriate methods to bring aid expenditures into agreement with budgeted aid figures.

Financial Aid Eligibility. To be eligible for financial aid, a student must be:

- Accepted on regular, provisional, or probationary status (guest student status is not recognized for aid purposes).
- Enrolled in a program of study leading toward a degree or an approved certificate program.
- Registered for at least one-half of a full class load each semester.

A full class load is usually required for institutional aid.

Citizenship Requirements for Federal and State Aid.

1. A U.S. citizen or national (includes natives of American Samoa or Swains Island)
2. A U.S. permanent resident.

3. Citizens of the Freely Associated States: the Federated States of Micronesia and the republics of Palau and the Marshall Islands. Eligible only for Pell Grant.
4. Other eligible non-citizens.
5. Only students who meet the Michigan residency requirements and filing dates will be eligible for Michigan aid consideration.

Non-citizen Eligibility. An eligible non-citizen is a student whose status matches one of the following:

1. A U.S. permanent resident who has a Permanent Resident/Resident Alien card. (I-151, I-551, I-551C).
2. A person who has an Arrival-Departure Record (I-94) from the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services (BCIS) showing one of the following designations: "Refugee," "Asylee," "Parole," ["Conditional Entrant" (valid only if issued before April 1, 1980)]. They may also have a Refugee Travel Document (Form I-571).
3. Cuban Haitian Entrant having a stamped across the face of the I-94 indicating that they have been classified as a "Cuban-Haitian Entrant (Status Pending)." Students without I-94 documentation may have their status confirmed by a Customs and Border Patrol stamp, showing class of admission and date admitted or paroled on their passport.
4. Victims of human trafficking will have a letter from Health and Human Services or a T-visa. Battered immigrants under the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) will have an I-797 form, a court order from an immigration judge, or an I-360 form with approval or prima facie finding by USCIS.
5. Persons with a passport with an Arrival/Departure Record (I-94) stamped with the following endorsement: "Processed for I-551. Temporary Evidence of Lawful Admission for Permanent Residence. Valid until _____, Employment Authorized" with an A-number and valid date.
6. Persons with an unexpired foreign passport containing a machine readable immigrant visa (MRIV) in the passport, with a Customs and Border Protection inspector admission stamp and the statement "UPON ENDORSEMENT SERVES AS TEMPORARY I-551 EVIDENCING PERMANENT RESIDENCE FOR 1 YEAR." The MRIV must be in an unexpired foreign passport, endorsed, and is valid for one year from the date on the endorsement stamp.
7. Persons with a U.S. Travel Document containing a Re-entry Permit (I-327) or Refugee Travel Document (I-571) annotated with "Permit to Re-enter Form I-327."
8. Persons with at least 50% Native American blood born in Canada. They may need to provide proof of both qualifications.

Notes: Conditional Resident Aliens have documentation that expires. This documentation is acceptable to receive Federal Financial aid as long as the expiration date has not passed.

Students who have only a Notice of Approval to Apply for Permanent Residence (I-171 or I-464A), students who are in the United States on an F1 or F2 student visa only, or students on a J1 or J2 exchange visitor visa only cannot receive Federal and State aid. Also, persons with G series visas (pertaining to international organizations) are not eligible for Federal and State aid.

Certain Native American students born in Canada with a status under the Jay Treaty of 1789 may also be eligible for federal student aid.

Undocumented students, including DACA recipients, are not eligible for federal student aid, but you may still be eligible for institutional aid, in addition to private scholarships.

Class Loads and Financial Aid. Aid is awarded for an entire academic year (two semesters) and is based on full-time enrollment. The summer session usually is not part of the regular academic year. Students do not receive aid during non-enrollment periods. Most aid programs require students to be enrolled at least half-time. Students who enroll with a half-time class load may receive a maximum of 50% of the full-time award. Three-fourths time enrollment permits students to receive a maximum of 75% of the full-time award. Students who change their course load during a given semester should read the Financial Aid Refund Policy.

The student's continued eligibility for financial aid is also based on his/her academic progress as described in the following chart:

Credit Hours for Class Loads
Program/Level	Full-load	3/4 Load	Half-load
Undergraduate	12+	9-11	6-8
Physical Therapy	12+	9-11	6-8

Graduate School and Seminary	8+	6-7	4-5
MDiv	9+	6.75-8	4.5-6.74

Cost of Attendance Limitations. The maximum award a student can receive is regulated by Federal and State regulations. The university is required to ensure that the combined financial resources available to students from Federal and non-Federal sources do not exceed documented educational need. These sources include but are not limited to:

- Federal Perkins Loan Program
- William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program (formerly the Federal Stafford Loan Program—and hereafter referred to as the Federal Direct Loan)
- Federal Pell Grant
- Federal Supplementary Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)
- Tuition and fee waivers
- Andrews Partnership Scholarship
- Andrews Gift
- Scholarships or grants from parent's employer
- State grant and scholarship
- Any grant or scholarship from any source
- Federal work-study earnings

Student Financial Services monitors all aid and is required to adjust awards to conform to Federal, State, and institutional regulations.

Special Circumstances. Under certain situations, the United States Department of Education permits a school's financial aid office to make adjustments to the parent's or student's analysis information (provided on the FAFSA at the time of application). The adjustments permitted take into account changes in the family's financial situation that occurred since the FAFSA was completed. These special situations include, but are not limited to:

- Loss of employment
- Loss of untaxed income
- Separation or divorce
- Death of a parent
- Illness or excessive out-of-pocket medical expenses
- Tuition paid by parents for student siblings in elementary or secondary school

Students who have completed their financial aid process and later experience one of these special situations should ask their financial advisor to review their aid eligibility. To request this financial aid eligibility review, the independent student or the parent of a dependent student must provide a signed professional judgment request, with proof of change. Proof may include such documents as a death certificate, employer discharge letter, or last paycheck stub. When requesting a review, emphasis should be placed on information that was not available originally to the Student Financial Services Office. Anticipated changes are not grounds for a review. After reviewing the information submitted, Student Financial Services may require additional documentation.

Unfortunately, not all circumstances that are considered special by parents and students are permissible by the federal government. Appeals to the initial determination must be received in writing no later than three weeks after receiving the initial determination. Appeals are reviewed by the vice-president for Financial Administration and Enrollment Management together with the director of Student Financial Services. All information regarding financial aid in general and special conditions is treated confidentially.

Priority Dates for Financial Aid Applicants. Students desiring financial aid must apply each year and submit the following documents:

- October 1—The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) should be filed on-line at www.fafsa.ed.gov indicating Andrews University (school code 002238) as the first college to which the analysis report should be sent.
- After October 1—Submit the AU Financial Information Sheet (Undergraduates only) and other documents if selected for verification. If you did not or could not use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool on the FAFSA, we will need an IRS Tax Return Transcript. You can request one at www.irs.gov/individuals/get-transcript. Some campus based funds may not be available after March.

Financial Aid Refund Policy. This policy covers changes in the amount of financial aid due to the dropping of classes or withdrawal from school.

Students who receive financial aid from state or Federal funds must be aware that any change in the number of credits taken during each semester may affect the amount of financial aid they can receive. A smaller number of credits lessens the amount of aid. The amount of aid hereby forfeited must be returned to the aid fund. Likewise, a complete drop means that aid funds be returned, depending on the date of the complete drop. The rules controlling such refunds to the aid fund(s) are determined by the U.S. Department of Education and are used for all Title IV recipients nationwide.

Federal Title IV Aid Programs. After use of the Federal formula, funds are returned in the following order for students who drop all their classes:

William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan
Federal Perkins
Federal Pell
Federal SEOG
Other Title IV student assistance

State Grants and/or Scholarships. Michigan refunds are calculated using the following two-step formula.

1. Amount of aid for ÷ Tuition and fees = Percentage enrollment period for same period
2. Percentage x Tuition and fee = Amount returned adjustment to aid fund

Michigan Residents are defined as dependent students whose parents have resided in Michigan since June of the year before the enrollment year or as independent students who have resided in Michigan since June of the year before the enrollment year.

Pennsylvania, Vermont, Rhode Island, and other States. Determine grant eligibility following each State's applicable guidelines.

External Grants and/or Scholarships. Aid is returned to donor organizations according to each organization's own guidelines. Non-Title IV funds include:
State Grant/Scholarship
External Scholarships/Grants
Educational Allowance/Discounts

Adjustments to Andrews University Funds. To figure the amount of adjustment, use the following two-step formula.

1. Amount of aid for ÷ Tuition and fees = Percentage enrollment period for same period
2. Percentage x Tuition and fee = Amount returned adjustment to aid fund

Appeal Procedure. Students who think their needs have not been adequately met may follow this appeal procedure:

1. Students present all relevant facts for another evaluation to the Director of Student Financial Services.
2. Students wanting further consideration may appeal to the following administrators in order:
 1. The academic dean of the school/college in which the student is enrolled.
 2. The Vice President for Enrollment Management.
 3. The Vice President for Financial Administration.

All appeal decisions, of course, must conform to State and Federal government regulations.

Federal Perkins Loan Program

Students who are no longer enrolled, have not paid on a Federal Perkins Loan obtained at Andrews University and request their academic transcripts must contact the Perkins Loan Collection Office for more information. This office is part of Student Financial Services on campus and can be contacted by calling 269-471-6271.

Work Study Program

Students employed under the Federal Work Study (FWS) program receive their entire paycheck. Earnings are paid both by Andrews University and the Federal government. Students must do everything necessary to reach the work earnings that are estimated in their award. Otherwise they must be prepared to pay the difference from personal or parental resources.

Federal Work Study (FWS). To be eligible for assistance under the Federal Work Study program, students must demonstrate financial need and have a minimum overall GPA of 2.00. This program parallels the student labor program of the university. Eligibility for this program is determined through the standard financial aid application process. Students working under the Federal Work Study Program must be U.S. citizens or eligible non-citizens.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

Students must make Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) toward the completion of their associate, baccalaureate, or graduate degrees to qualify for financial aid. All students who receive assistance from a financial aid program that requires Satisfactory Academic Progress must follow the university's financial aid policy. The financial aid recipient's past academic work at Andrews University is reviewed regularly and must meet the standards of the Satisfactory Academic Progress policies noted below.

SAP Policy for Undergraduate Students with Financial Aid

The Satisfactory Academic Progress policy requires undergraduate students to maintain the following minimum standards:

- Full-time students must register for a minimum of 12 credit hours and must complete a minimum of 8
- Half-time students must register for a minimum of 6 credit hours and complete a minimum of 4

Students must complete at least 66.67% of the number of credits with a passing grade regardless of their enrollment status (full-time or half-time). Student Financial Services confirms that the student has met this requirement at the beginning of the student's new enrollment period. The student may attempt up to one and a half the number of credits required for their degree, over a six-year time frame. Credit grades include A, B, C, and D. Non-credit grades include withdrawal after drop-add date, audit, incomplete, failing, and non-credit.

Grade-Point Average (GPA) Required. To make satisfactory academic progress, students must maintain an Andrews overall GPA at or above the minimum levels listed below according to the number of semesters completed.

Semesters at AU Minimum AU GPA

1	1.50
2	2.00

Students who do not meet the SAP policy at the beginning of the school year are observed on a semester basis. Changes in GPA due to completion of "incomplete" or "deferred" grades or changes made for any other reason are considered when aid eligibility is reviewed at the next regular monitoring time.

At the beginning of each school year, students are placed into one of the following categories on the basis of the previous year's academic performance:

Satisfactory Progress. Students who meet all regulations outlined in the Satisfactory Academic Progress policy and new students beginning their academic work at Andrews University with the minimum GPA required for regular acceptance qualify as making SAP.

Financial Aid Warning. Students who fail to meet all regulations outlined in the SAP policy receive a Financial Aid Warning for one semester. During the Financial Aid Warning semester, students are eligible to receive financial aid as awarded. Academic Performance during this semester determines whether financial aid is given in future semesters. If students raise their overall GPA to the required minimum (see minimum AU GPA table above) and reach the minimum number of successfully completed credit hours required (two thirds of all hours attempted), they are returned to satisfactory progress status. Students who fail to reach the minimum required standards are no longer eligible for financial aid and their aid is ended. Students placed on Financial Aid Warning are encouraged to contact their academic department for assistance in planning for academic success.

Termination of Aid. Financial aid benefits are ended after the Financial Aid Warning semester if the student fails to reestablish a satisfactory overall GPA and/or reach the minimum credits required to be returned to satisfactory progress status. To receive financial aid again, the student must register for classes (at his/her own expense), successfully complete the required number of credit hours, and reach the minimum GPA required to meet the SAP criteria.

Financial Aid Probation Appeal. Students who fail to maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress and who lose current semester financial aid may appeal such an action. All appeals must be made in writing. Students must provide Student Financial Services with a copy of their Academic Plan made with their Academic Department. If an appeal is approved, a student will be placed on Financial Aid Probation. Students will be re-evaluated at the end of the probationary semester for continued Financial Aid eligibility.

Repeat Credits. Repeat credits are counted only once as part of the total credits attempted.

Adventist Colleges Abroad (ACA)

Eligibility Criteria. Students planning to attend an institution affiliated with Adventist Colleges Abroad (ACA) may be eligible to obtain Federal and State financial aid under the following conditions:

1. The student registers and has to be financially approved at the Andrews University Berrien Springs campus before attending Adventist Colleges Abroad (ACA).
2. The student must meet Andrews University's Satisfactory Academic Progress policy.
3. Aid-eligible students may receive Federal and/or State financial aid only as long as it takes to complete 25% or less of their total degree program (usually the equivalent of two academic semesters).
4. However, students are not eligible for:
 - Federal campus-based aid (Federal Work Study, Federal Perkins Loan, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant)
 - Andrews University scholarships and grants while attending an ACA campus.

Application Procedures. Students should follow the procedure outlined below to apply for financial aid for enrollment at an ACA college:

1. Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) form online at www.fafsa.ed.gov indicating Andrews University as the first college of choice. Federal School code is 002238 for Andrews University.
2. Complete your financial aid award, you will need to submit the AU Financial Information Sheet and other documents if selected for verification. If you did not or could not use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool on the FAFSA, we will need an IRS Tax Return Transcript. You can request one at www.irs.gov/individuals/get-transcript.

All students planning to attend an ACA college must meet the University's financial aid deadlines. Students who miss the deadline may experience difficulty in having aid posted to their account when they need it. Students are advised to complete the entire financial aid process before leaving the U.S.

Application Process—ACA Affiliated Colleges. A student planning to enroll at an ACA college should submit an ACA application form to Andrews University Enrollment Services.

A student is accepted only when all the necessary financial aid documents are received and Student Financial Services can process an aid application. The student is informed if he/she is eligible for aid.

When the verification process is complete, Student Financial Services credits the student's aid award(s) directly to his/her student account at Andrews University. A student applying for the Federal Direct Loan must sign a master promissory note and do loan counseling if these have not been done here at Andrews University before leaving for the ACA school. When a loan is approved, funds are credited directly to the student's account at Andrews University.

Student Missionary and Taskforce Worker Academic Credit/Loan Deferral Program

To enable students to participate in the Student Missionary and Taskforce volunteer service programs, especially students who have borrowed funds under the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan or Federal Perkins Loan, Andrews University has a special academic loan deferral program for U.S.-citizen and permanentresident undergraduate students. This program allows student borrowers to remain in loan-deferment status (student loan repayment is postponed) while keeping student status with either a non-credit continuation course or independent study courses arranged before leaving Andrews. The following guidelines apply:

While away, students may choose either Continuation or Independent Study.

1. Continuation Study
 1. All Andrews Student Missionary or Taskforce workers must register (before leaving for service) for IDSC296 or IDSC596 Student Missionary/Taskforce Experience for each semester they plan to be away. Students are charged a semester recording fee of $84. Students that have not completed any Andrews credits must pay the recording fee up front. (AU students are students that have applied, been accepted and have an AU ID number.)
 2. Students receive a non-credit continuation entry on their grade for each semester.
 3. During this time financial aid is not available.
2. Independent Study, TESOL Certificate, and Preparation for Mission Courses

1. Students that have completed one term at Andrews are eligible to register for 6 undergraduate credits each semester (a total of 12 credits) at the reduced tuition rate of $47 per credit. Student missionaries are eligible to register for up to 8 credits of mission preparation courses during the summer prior to departure. These courses include: TESOL Certificate Program ENGL435 Topics in Linguistics: TESOL Certificate, ENGL460, ENGL465 and RELP325 Preparation for Mission Service.
2. In consultation with the appropriate academic dean, students must develop an individualized list of courses for which they register that will apply toward general education requirements, majors, minors, emphases, or electives as approved by the dean.
3. For each course in which they are registered, students work with a teacher before leaving to identify the course requirements. They must remain in regular contact with the teacher during the time spent off-campus.
4. Students will receive a deferred grade (DG) for each course. Upon their return from service, students must contact the course teacher and complete all requirements within one semester after the date of return from service. (A suggested list of alternative courses is available from the dean's office.)

Both categories of students must complete registration for both semesters before leaving the Andrews University campus for Student Missionary or Taskforce services. Financial Aid is not available for students enrolled in this program. A detailed procedure sheet for these programs may be secured from the Office of Campus Ministries.

3. Non-Andrews students do not register for any classes and work directly with Campus Ministries when requesting deferred payment on student loans.

Loan Deferment Regulations. According to U.S. Department of Education rules governing the Federal Direct Loan Program, students who no longer are enrolled on at least a half-time basis must make their first student-loan payment six months from the last date of enrollment. The time limit for Federal Perkins Loan holders is nine months.

The Student Missionary/Taskforce Experience course is designed so students who are registered will not lose their grace period and will not have to begin repayment of their student loan.

Students Ineligible for Program Benefits. The following students would not need to enroll for Student Missionary Experience classes because they do not need the credits to ensure that their loans remain in deferment:

- Students currently choosing to make loan payments
- Students already in a loan deferment
- Students who have a Canadian Student Loan

Gift Assistance

Honors Audit Program. Honor students may audit a class each semester if they are enrolled for at least 12 regular credits. Honors audit credits are not taken into account when determining a student's academic progress. Also, honors audit credits do not count for determination of enrollment status for financial aid purposes. The student must complete an Honors Audit form during regular registration. For more information, consult with the Honors office.

Bureau of Indian Affairs. Grants are offered to students who are enrolled members of a federally recognized American Indian tribe and demonstrate financial need. Visit www.bia.gov and click "How do I...." to select your regional contact office.

Veterans' Education Benefits & Services. The University is approved for certification of students eligible to receive educational assistance from the Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA). Eligibility for VA educational assistance is determined by the Department of Veterans Affairs. Our regional office is located in St. Louis, Missouri. University services for students who receive educational assistance through the DVA are located in the Administration Building, first floor, in the Office of Student Financial Services. Information concerning VA educational assistance may be obtained by phone 269- 471-3286, e-mail veterans@andrews.edu, or a visit to the Office of Veterans Services. VA forms used for making application for educational assistance are available at the GI Bill webpage: www.benefits.va.gov/gibill. A printed copy of an application submitted online to the VA will be required by the University's Office of Veterans Services.

It is the responsibility of the student to complete a Veterans Registration form every term to continue receiving G.I. Bill money. The form is available in the Office of Veterans Services. Each term the required Certification of Enrollment (VA Form 22-1999) will be electronically submitted by the University's Veterans Certifying Official to the VA Regional Processing Office after the last day to add or drop a course. An earlier date for certification may be requested if the veteran feels certain his schedule will not be changed.

Students receiving benefits are expected to attend all classes and to progress satisfactorily toward their objective. Any change of degree program, change with class registration, or withdrawal from school must be reported immediately to the VCO in the Office of Veterans Services. Failure to comply with VA regulations may result in loss of benefits and/or legal action on the part of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs. If the student does not make satisfactory academic progress and is academically dismissed from the University, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs is notified and all veterans' benefits are ended by the USDVA. If a veteran is academically dismissed from the University but is later readmitted, the VA benefits cannot be resumed until the veteran has met the University requirements for reinstatement.

Vocational Rehabilitation & Employment. The University is approved for enrollment certification of veterans with service-connected disabilities who are eligible to receive Chapter 31, Title 38, U.S.C., educational assistance from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs. University services for veterans are coordinated through the Veterans Certifying Official in the Office of Veterans Services which is located in the Administration Building, first floor, in the Office of Student Financial Services. Information concerning educational assistance and campus procedures may be obtained by phone 269-471-3286, e-mail veterans@andrews.edu, website www.andrews.edu/sf or by visiting the Office of Veterans Services.

The veteran should make contact with the Vocational Rehabilitation & Employment Office (28), Detroit Regional Office at 313-471-3800. Veterans use VA Form 28-1900 to apply for the Chapter 31 benefit. The form is available online at www.benefits.va.gov/vocrehab. Information and instructions are included on the reverse side of the application form. Following receipt of the application in the regional office, VA will make a determination of eligibility. If the veteran is eligible, VA will schedule an appointment with a Counseling Psychologist (CP) or Rehabilitation Counselor (RC) for an initial evaluation to establish the veteran's entitlement to vocational rehabilitation. Contractors may be utilized to assist in working with the veteran to gather information needed for the CP or RC to make an entitlement determination. The VRE case manager will provide VA Form 28-1905 Authorization and Certification of Entrance or Reentrance into Rehabilitation and Certification of Status. This form is required for certification of enrollment which will be submitted to the VRE by the University Veterans Program Administrator in the Office of Veterans Services.

If the veteran requires academic accommodations due to a disability, he/she should contact the Student Success Center in Nethery Hall to coordinate the University's accommodations with those provided by the Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment Office. Student Success can be contacted at 100 Nethery Hall, success@andrews.edu or 269-471-6096.

It is the responsibility of the student to visit the University's Office of Veterans Services at the beginning of each term for which the student desires to receive VRE educational assistance. All required paperwork must be completed before the Certification of Enrollment (VA Form 28-1905) will be submitted to the Vocational Rehabilitation & Employment Regional Office. Certification will be submitted after the last day to add or drop a course each term. An earlier date for certification may be requested if the veteran feels certain his schedule will not be changed.

A Purchase Request Form that includes VRE purchasing guidelines is available in the campus bookstore. It is required for all purchases at the campus bookstore. Written approval must be obtained from the VRE case manager for certain purchases. Veterans should plan to make their purchases within thirty (30) days after the first day of classes each term. An invoice for tuition, academic fees, and books/ supplies will be sent to the VRE after that date. Payment will be made to the University and credited to the veterans's student statement.

Students receiving benefits are expected to attend all classes and to progress satisfactorily toward their objective. Any change of degree program, change with class registration, or withdrawal from school must be reported immediately to the VCO in the Office of Veterans Services. Failure to comply with VA regulations may result in loss of benefits and/or legal action on the part of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

Vocational Rehabilitation State/Federal Programs. Students who have permanent disabilities which may limit their employment (after completion of their study program) should contact the Vocational Rehabilitation Regional Office in their state of residence for possible assistance.

If the student requires academic accommodations due to a disability, he/she should contact the Student Success Center in Nethery Hall to coordinate the University's accommodations with those provided by the Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment Office. Student Success can be contacted at 100 Nethery Hall, success@andrews.edu or 269-471-6096.

Tuition Discounts

Local Business Employee—33 Percent Tuition Discount. Full-time employees of companies located in Berrien County and the South Bend/Mishawaka area may receive a 33% reduction of tuition for undergraduate courses. Application for the tuition reduction can be obtained at the dean's office and must be completed no later than the first two weeks of each semester. Students eligible for the reduction are not eligible to receive APS or any other Andrews discretionary funds. This discount does not apply to courses taken in the Center for Intensive English or online classes.

Prior Baccalaureate Degree—33 Percent Tuition Discount. Students who have earned a baccalaureate degree may receive a 33% tuition reduction for courses taken for a second baccalaureate degree. This discount applies only to courses required to complete the 2nd degree. Courses included in the package tuition, but are not required for the 2nd degree, will be billed at full tuition. This discount does not apply to courses taken in the Center for Intensive English or online classes.

Application forms are available at the offices of the respective deans. The completed forms must be filed with the respective dean no later than two weeks after the beginning of each semester for which the 33% tuition reduction is requested. An official transcript showing all class work and the awarding of a bachelor's degree must be on file with the Office of Academic Records of the university before the 33% tuition reduction can be applied. Students eligible for the reduction must be enrolled for a second undergraduate degree and are not eligible to receive any other Andrews discretionary funds. Students enrolled in a graduate program but who must complete undergraduate prerequisites are eligible. Note: Forms are to be picked up at the dean's office of your appropriate school.

Limitations to the Prior Baccalaureate Degree Tuition Discount. The following limitations apply to this plan:

1. No course taken under this plan may receive graduate credit or apply to a graduate degree.
2. In the School of Health Professions, this discount does not apply to PTH courses. The plan only applies to students accepted and enrolled for prerequisite requirements under the preferred acceptance guidelines.
3. This tuition reduction does not apply towards architecture degree.
4. In the School of Education, the student must be enrolled in a second baccalaureate degree; however, this plan is not available until one calendar year after graduation and is limited to 16 credits each semester.
5. In the School of Business Administration, the plan does not apply to independent study/readings/research or internship credits. Also, it does not apply to any course not offered as a regularly scheduled class in a given semester.
6. The plan applies to tuition only, not for housing, food and similar charges.
7. The discount does not apply to laboratory fees, surcharges for applicable courses, private music or flight lessons, independent study or reading courses, student teaching, courses in the Center for Intensive English, international languages taught as prerequisites for advanced degrees, courses taken off campus, study tours, May Express classes or private tutoring GNST 091.
8. This plan is applicable to classes where space is available and where hiring of additional faculty or staff is not required. In the event a class is not available, notification is given as soon as possible after the end of the drop/add period.

Local Area Educators—33 Percent Tuition Discount. Full-time teachers employed in Michigan and Indiana area schools who are not fully credentialed may receive a 33% reduction of tuition for undergraduate, Master of Arts in Teaching, and Master of Arts in Educational Administration courses taken toward the completion of their teacher certification requirements. Application for the tuition reduction can be obtained in the dean's office and must be completed no later than the first two weeks of each semester. The student must provide proof of area school employment. Students eligible for this reduction are not eligible to receive APS or any other Andrews discounts or any other discretionary funds applied to the program receiving the 33% reduced tuition. This discount does not apply to courses taken in the Center for Intensive English or online classes.

Workers from Overseas Divisions—Tuition Discount. "When any division other than the North American Division sends its workers or their dependent children to attend colleges in the North American Division and makes financial payments from denominational funds on behalf of such students directly to the college concerned, the college will match dollar for dollar with the sending division, up to 25% of undergraduate tuition. If the person also receives a Federal or State scholarship (or grant), the school may reduce this discount in direct proportion to the amount of such scholarship. Such remittance must come through the division and on approval of the division committee" (North American Division Working Policy, F 80 15).

Retiree Tuition Discount. A retired person who has reached age 65 may receive a 50% tuition discount for up to three undergraduate or graduate credits annually.

Former Andrews University employees who have retired may receive a 50% tuition discount. Admission to limited enrollment courses is contingent upon space available in the class, with preference being given to students paying regular tuition rates. Any additional class fees and/or supply fees are the responsibility of the student.

This discount applies to credit, audit, or non-credit classes. This discount does not apply to independent study, directed reading, private music lessons, practicums, clinical experiences, or any instruction outside of the normal classroom setting. Application for this 50% discount should be made to the dean of the school involved. The dean then authorizes the appropriate discount.

Students eligible for this reduction are not eligible to receive APS or any other Andrews discounts or discretionary funds.

Graduate Financial Assistance

Qualifying Criteria

For financial aid eligibility, graduate students must meet the rules in the following two areas:

- Enrollment Status—Students must be accepted into a curriculum authorized by the faculty of their respective school. Students enrolled on guest student status are not eligible to receive federal or institutional financial aid.
- Course Load—Students are awarded financial aid based on their percentage of full-time enrollment as defined in Class Loads and Financial Aid.

Special regulations apply to students who have completed all course work and are preparing theses, projects, or dissertations.

College of Arts & Sciences

Students who have completed all course work in an approved graduate program may not have completed all work needed to complete a degree. A student may be deemed to be enrolled fulltime provided the student meets one of the following criteria:

1. Is enrolled in one of the following courses:
COMM 589 (Internship)
2. Is enrolled in a Project Continuation, Recital Continuation or Thesis Continuation course. Only students who have enrolled for the required number of project, recital or thesis credits but have not completed the work are eligible.

School of Health Professions

Students who have completed all course work in an approved graduate program may not have completed all work needed to complete a degree. A student may be deemed to be enrolled fulltime provided the student meets one of the following criteria:

1. Is enrolled in one of the following courses:
PTH 881, PTH 882, PTH 883, PTH 884 (Clinical Internship)
NRS 680 (Internship)
2. Is enrolled in a Project Continuation or Thesis Continuation. Only students who have enrolled for the required number of project or thesis credits but have not completed the work are eligible.

Theological Seminary

Doctoral Students. Students who have completed all course work in an approved doctoral program must register for 1-6 credits under GSEM 796 - DMin Project/ Dissertation or 1-12 credits under GSEM 995 PhD-ThD Dissertation, or 1-14 credits under DSRE 995 - Doctoral Dissertation. If the candidate does not complete the dissertation, he/she must register for GSEM 788 - DMin Project Continuation or GSEM 888 - PhD-ThD Dissertation Continuation until the dissertation is completed to qualify for status as a full-time student. Confirmation by the dissertation chair that full-time work is being done must be sent to Student Financial Services.

Master's Students. To obtain full-time status for the MA degree, the student must register for GSEM 688 Master's Degree Continuation after he/she has registered for the allowable thesis credits but has not finished the work. Confirmation by the dissertation chair that full-time work is being done must be sent to Student Financial Services.

Andrews Graduate Scholarship

The Graduate Scholarship is a tuition reduction percentage, based on the GRE or GMAT scores and admission GPA.

Availability

1. The Graduate Scholarship is available for students in:
 - All on campus Master programs (except professional master programs).
 - Professional Doctoral level programs: EDS, EDD, DPT.
 - Doctoral programs PhD, ThD.
2. The Graduate Scholarship may be overlap with another scholarship from an Andrews University budget.
3. The Graduate Scholarship will not be available for programs that already have a discounted tuition below the standard tuition rate. If the Graduate Scholarship is greater than the discount provided by the specific program, then the difference will be awarded as an additional scholarship.

4. The Graduate Scholarship does not apply for staff members that are using the free class benefit from Andrews University. If the Graduate Scholarship is greater than the discount for which the staff member is eligible for, the difference will be awarded as an additional scholarship.
5. The Graduate Scholarship will be assigned by the School of Graduate Studies and Research and applied by the Office of Student Financial Services at the time of a student's registration.

Scores

The scholarship is awarded if the student meets the GRE or GMAT scores as listed below and an admission GPA equal or greater than 3.0:

Tuition Reduction	Combined Verbal and Quantitative GRE scores	GMAT Scores	Admissions GPA
10%	≥300	≥500	≥3.00
25%	≥310	≥550
50%	≥320	≥600

Time Limits

The scholarship is available for the following number of semesters:

Master's Level programs 4 Semesters

EDS, EDD, DPT 6 Semesters

PHD, THD 8 Semesters

Eligibility

1. Graduate students who meet the appropriate GRE/GMAT scores and cumulative GPA are eligible for the Graduate Scholarship. Students are required to take the GRE/GMAT and submit official transcripts prior to admission. Students who take the GRE/GMAT and submit official transcripts during their first semester (for example, the test is offered only on Sabbath or once per year in their home country) and are eligible for the scholarship will receive the scholarship during their first semester.
2. A new graduate student may take the GRE/GMAT test multiple times during their first semester for the purpose of increasing their scholarship. In that case, the highest score will count toward the GRE/GMAT scholarship.
3. In order to retain the Graduate Scholarship, students are required to maintain the minimum GPA for their program. Students whose GPA falls below the required minimum for their program will permanently forfeit the scholarship.
4. Students applying and accepted to a second graduate degree, who already had received the Graduate Scholarship, may be eligible for the scholarship for the new program.

Federal Aid

Students should read the General Information and Satisfactory Academic Progress sections to determine their eligibility for financial aid.

Federal Direct Loans are available to graduate students. To apply for this aid, refer to General Information.

Grants and Scholarships

Grant, scholarship, and assistantship funds are available through the offices of the various academic deans and department chairs. Grants and scholarships are gift aid; however, if a student is given an assistantship, this is considered to be employment and is processed through the Office of Employment. Application forms, if required, must be requested from and returned to the respective dean's office. The student does not need to complete any application paperwork for Student Financial Services to apply for and receive institutional aid. All aid received by the student (except assistantships), is taken into account when determining eligibility for a student loan.

Seminary Emergency Aid Fund. This emergency aid fund is available to seminary students for emergency relief only and is not a form of continuous financial aid. Students may apply for assistance through the seminary dean's office.

Student Employment Program

Work opportunities for graduate students are available through the university's Employment Office. Assistantships are available as arranged by the dean or department chairs of the school where the student is enrolled. For information regarding employment contact the Employment Office. The website is www.andrews.edu/hr/.

Federal Loans and Scholarships

Information on the following sources of financial aid may be obtained from Student Financial Services.

Loans

- Federal Direct Loan Program (Unsubsidized)
- Federal Graduate PLUS Loan

Scholarships

- Paul Douglas Teacher Scholarship

SAP Policy for Graduate Students with Financial Aid

Graduate students must meet the Andrews University Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) policy. The following minimum standards must be met for Federal and State financial aid purposes.

Students must maintain the minimum Andrews University graduate overall GPA required for the degree program in which they are enrolled. The SAP summary below indicates the minimum GPA required to meet the university's SAP policy for each type of degree program.

Degree	School	GPA	Maximum below B
PhD, EdD	SED	3.30	3
PhD, ThD	SEM	3.00	3
DMin	SEM	3.00	No policy
DPT, DScPT	SHP	3.00	See PT Student Handbook
EdS	SED	3.20	3
Master's	ALL	3.00	4
Professional Master's	SEM	2.50	No policy

Compliance with these requirements is monitored by Student Financial Services on a regular basis. Students must complete at least two-thirds of the number of credits attempted, regardless of their enrollment status (full-time or half-time), and maintain a 66.67% completion ratio. Exception may be made for courses whose requirements have a time-frame by design that extends beyond the limit of the semester in which it is registered.

Financial Aid Warning. Students who fail to meet the required SAP are placed on Financial Aid Warning status during the following semester. During the Financial Aid Warning semester, the student is eligible to receive financial aid as awarded. The student is allowed only one Financial Aid Warning semester for each degree program, except under extenuating circumstances. Academic performance during the warning semester determines the aid given in the following semesters. If the student again meets the minimum required, the student is returned to satisfactory progress status and is eligible to continue receiving aid as awarded. Students who fail to attain satisfactory progress after the Financial Aid Warning semester are no longer eligible for Federal financial aid.

Appeal Procedure. When failure to attain the required GPA is due to extenuating circumstances or circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the student, he/she may appeal for a semester of financial aid probation. All master's-level students may be allowed a maximum of a one semester probation. Doctoral-and specialist-level students may be allowed a maximum of a two-semester probation extension. However, the student must make the appeal for the second probation extension in the same manner as for the first appeal. Students should recognize that appeals are not "automatically" granted. Future financial aid is dependent on meeting SAP standards by the end of the probationary semester(s). All appeals must be made in writing and submitted to the appointed representative of the student's respective school. Proof must support the stated extenuating circumstances. The appropriate authorizing office sends written notification to Student Financial Services of the appeal details.

Aaron Moushon, Director

The Andrews Exploration Program recognizes that university provides students an invaluable opportunity to find personal and career focus through a range of academic and personal experiences. While many students start university with a determined plan, many need a structured way to clarify their future pathways.

The Andrews University Academic Exploration Program, also known as Explore Andrews, is designed to assist students in finding a desired academic plan and career through intentional and personal advising. Each student will be assigned an Explore academic advisor who will help guide the student through the first year of study at Andrews University. Students may choose an academic major at any time, but will continue to be advised by their Explore academic adviser until the end of the academic year. Students in the Explore Andrews Program may choose any major they desire, and the professional advisers in the Explore office will ensure that students are on a progressive graduation track regardless of major.

The Andrews University Academic Exploration Program will work closely with each student to better understand their abilities, talents and goals to help students understand their place in the world both before and after graduation. A review of high school curriculum, standardized test scores and institutional testing will help the student and their academic adviser explore program and career options suitable for each participant.

L. Monique Pittman, Director

In 1966 Andrews University determined to offer undergraduate students greater opportunities for intellectual, spiritual, and social development. To reach this goal, it created the honors program to foster an atmosphere that is both intellectually challenging and distinctively Christian.

Starting in 2001–02, the program offered a completely new curriculum. SAGES is a text-based alternative to the standard General Education requirements. It involves 37 semester hours of honors courses and leads to the designation "John Nevins Andrews Scholar" at graduation.

SAGES (Scholars' Alternative General Education Studies)

Reflecting suggestions from students, faculty and alumni for a curriculum based on the study of original texts, independent research, and writing, SAGES provides a series of interdisciplinary courses that REPLACE General Education requirements for the bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees. Following a year-long introduction to Western civilization and culture, students pursue a series of thematically-organized seminars similar to a "Great Books" approach, though broader in sources and subjects. The track concludes with independent research resulting in a senior project.

Because SAGES replaces many lower-division courses, admission at the beginning of a college career is advisable. However, transfer and currently enrolled students with demonstrated academic achievement (GPA>3.33) may apply to SAGES and receive individual waivers for some—but not necessarily all—specific courses based on previous academic study. Those admitted as juniors and seniors must complete at least five seminars plus the Research Pro-Seminar and the senior project.

Students wishing to transfer out of SAGES should do so at the end of the first year and apply the courses taken towards a standard General Education track. In the sophomore and junior years, SAGES involves significantly different categories of courses than the standard General Education track. These will not replace many of the freshman and sophomore courses required at most universities.

Progress in SAGES. Students in SAGES who fail to enroll in honors courses, or whose cumulative GPA falls below 3.33, will be asked to withdraw from the program at the end of the academic year.

Graduation as a John Nevins Andrews Honors Scholar

At graduation, the university confers the distinction "John Nevins Andrews Scholar" on students recommended by the Honors Council who display outstanding scholarship, achieve a minimum overall college and honors GPA of 3.50, and complete SAGES. Titles of the senior thesis or project are listed in the graduation bulletin.

Honors Service Requirement

All honors students are required to complete 12 hours of voluntary service per academic year to total 48 hours by graduation.

Replacing General Education Requirements

Because of the integrated and interdisciplinary courses, students completing SAGES will satisfy their General Education requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree with 37 credits of honors courses and 13 credits of mathematics, science, and physical education. The Bachelor of Arts degree requires the identical courses and foreign language proficiency. In each case, the normal requirements are significantly reduced, which frees students' schedules for cognate courses and electives.

Admission to The Honors Program

Each summer the honors program admits a limited number of prospective freshmen whose interests and achievements—as portrayed in part by the application essay—suggest they will benefit from participation in SAGES.

Students accepted into honors surpass the following qualifications:

- A minimum overall GPA of 3.50 on all secondary credits
- Scores of 25 on the ACT or 1200 on the SAT mathematics and verbal sections combined

Recognizing that for some students either high school grades or standardized test scores may not satisfactorily predict the potential for academic success in college, a small number of students who show considerable promise on one measure but not the other may be admitted to the program upon the director's discretion.

Admission for Transfer and Currently Enrolled Students

Applications are welcomed from currently enrolled students and transfer students who wish to participate in the program. Successful applicants demonstrate an interest in Honors and possess at least a B+ average on all college courses. Application forms are available in the Honors Office and on the Honors website.

Society of Andrews Scholars

Students in Honors form a society dedicated to spiritual, social, and intellectual activities outside the classroom. The society's logo depicts hands sheltering the flame of truth, which symbolizes the search for truth by students and faculty together. Excellence, Commitment, and Service is the society's motto. Membership fees and fees charged as part of the honors application process are used exclusively for student activities by the Society of Andrews Scholars. Annual participation in the service/citizenship/leadership program which is organized by the Society of Andrews Scholars, is required to continue in the J. N. Andrews Honors program.

National Honors Societies

The honors program works with the university's 17 departmental national honor societies to coordinate information and enhance their activities. It also works closely with the prestigious interdisciplinary national honor society Phi Kappa Phi which inducts about 30 junior and senior Andrews students each year who meet the rigorous requirements. See Accreditations, Approvals & Memberships for more information.

Graduation Distinctions

Designations are conferred at graduation on students who, one semester before graduation, have completed 16 semester hours at Andrews University with the following overall GPAs:

3.500–3.749Cum Laude
3.750–3.899Magna Cum Laude
3.900–4.000Summa Cum Laude

Both the Andrews and Cumulative GPAs must be a minimum of 3.50 in order to be considered for the above designations.

Honors Audits

To enhance Andrews Scholars' opportunities to learn for the sake of learning, a scholar enrolled full time (a minimum of 12 regular credits) may attend one course free each semester, registering as an Honors Audit (HN), which is indicated on the transcript. Though no credit is earned, an Honors Audit provides a significant opportunity to broaden one's knowledge at no cost even if it forms an overload. Registration for an Honors Audit (HN) should take place during regular registration, and in no case later than the regular drop/add date. Attendance and other regulations for an audit apply.

Honors

HONS 105H - Western Heritage

Credits: 5

A study of significant issues that emerged in Western civilization, approached through the reading of major works. The first semester's topics involve the era from the ancient world to the Reformation; the second, the Enlightenment to the modern world. In both semesters, spiritual and religious themes are emphasized, and the combined semesters replace one 3-credit religion course. Small-group projects and discussions, field trips, and cultural events enrich the lectures. Required for SAGES during the first year.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 2-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

HONS 115H - Transcribing the Self: Honors Composition

Credits: 3

What is the entity we call self? How is it formed, reformed, transformed? What role does the "other" play in our determination of self? To what extent is self an independent construct, and to what extent is it socially and ideologically determined? Such questions are addressed through written and oral examination of our own lives and the lives of others as presented in significant texts. Recommended during the first year.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: HONS

HONS 215H - Scripture

Credits: 3

The reading of Biblical passages chosen for qualities such as centrality to Christian belief, power as literature, and variety of expression. Entire books will be addressed thematically, including Genesis, Job, Romans, and Revelation. A portion of the course will involve the detailed interpretation of a selected section. Required.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: HONS

HONS 225H - Materialism & Idealism

Credits: 3
Philosophers and prophets often approach wealth with caution or hostility, but modern culture flaunts status symbols and values self-worth by material accumulation. Considering such differences, readings from Plato to contemporary authors will raise questions about the level of wealth we ought to desire, the thoughtful use of that wealth, and reconciling a Christian life of service with professional success today. Elective.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: HONS

HONS 245H - Meanings of America

Credits: 3
Examines understandings of American society, culture and physical environment by a variety of observers, including native, foreign and minority, through study of prose, poetry, music, film and the visual arts. Core readings will include works by Jefferson, Tocqueville, Martineau, Douglass, Bourne, Friedan and King. Elective.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: HONS

HONS 265H - Literature and the Arts

Credits: 3
Explores the ways in which visual, musical, and literary arts address the human experience. Through close analysis of primary texts, students become conversant in the distinctive and overlapping discourses of the various art forms. Drawing upon this fine arts literacy, they will examine concerns of primary importance to creative minds from the ancient world to the postmodern era. These themes will include several of the following: the sacred, the quest for knowledge, gender relations, ethnicity and identity, social order and/or violence.

HONS 325H - Justice

Credits: 3
What is justice? Is it a process, an end result, or both? Using concepts of right and wrong developed by Classical writers, medieval philosophers and recent Christian theologians, this course considers the relationships between justice and religious understandings of human nature and society. It then analyzes selected policies where concepts of justice can or should play a role, and critically examines the practical results of attempts to create greater social justice.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): HONS 115H. Elective.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Odd years
College Code: HONS

HONS 345H - What Is "Other?" The Non-Western World

Credits: 3
An introduction to the diversity and commonality of the global human experience and world views as expressed in literature, the arts, religion and other intellectual endeavors with special focus on the non-Western world. Small group activities, field trips, guest presenters, films and special projects enrich the discussion of significant texts.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): HONS 106H, HONS 115H. Required.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: HONS

HONS 365H - Cosmos

Credits: 3
An interdisciplinary, readings-based course which considers the nature of science and its relationship to other approaches to truth. Selected "key ideas" in science will be examined to explore how science informs our understanding of who we are and our place in the universe. Particular attention will be given to the interplay between Christian faith and science.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): HONS 115H. Required.
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: HONS

HONS 380 - Topic in Bioethics & Christian Faith

Credits: 3
A capstone seminar for Honors students in biology and related majors that engages the interface of biology and ethics from a biblical and Seventh-day Adventist perspective. Focused attention on select bioethical issues and their relationship to Scripture and Christian practice, including but not limited to: biblical and environmental stewardship, the molecular revolution, genomics and genetic manipulation, human nature, communication in science, and dilemmas in the health professions.

HONS 380 - Topic in Cognitive Science and Faith

Credits: 3
This topics course will be a readings-based seminar considering the possibility of integrating cognitive science (especially neuroscience and psychological science) and Christian faith in the domain of understanding human nature. The course will focus particularly on Adventist theological understandings of human nature in the context of ongoing debates about human free will in the cognitive sciences.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): Elective.
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: HONS

HONS 380 - Topic in Physics and Faith

Credits: 3
An interdisciplinary readings-based course which considers the relationship between Christian faith and science. Developments in physics and cosmology will be examined in light of Adventist Christian theological understanding.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): HONS 365H, PHYS 142 or PHYS 242 or consent of instructor.
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Lecture

HONS 380H - Topics, Independent Study, and Research

Credits: 1–4
Disciplinary and interdisciplinary topics selected for interest and importance. Typically the course revolves around reading, discussion, and individual projects. Elective.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning
College Code: HONS

HONS 398H - Research Pro-Seminar

Credits: 1
Preparation for the senior project. Expectations for the senior thesis are addressed, including consideration of alternative topics, refining the thesis proposal, the role of literature review, formal public speaking, presentation software, and evaluation. The letter grade assigned reflects the presentation of the project at the Interdisciplinary Honors Seminar; a DG is assigned until then. Strongly recommended for all sophomores and must be completed prior to beginning Honors Thesis research.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Seminar
College Code: HONS

HONS 415H - Thinking Theologically: Christian Life and Faith

Credits: 3

A capstone Honors course exploring the intersection of constructive theology and contemporary issues from a distinctly Adventist perspective. Special attention is given to the correlation of God and human flourishing as enunciated through a wide range of pressing questions raised in the postmodern context. The aim of such an exploration is to deepen the faith of the participants and to instill a new appreciation for the conceptual and spiritual richness of the Great Controversy theme central to the Adventist worldview. Students are encouraged to foster critical reasoning and integrative thinking through a seminar-style engagement with selected primary texts in theology and philosophy.

Certificate

Interdisciplinary Innovation and Entrepreneurship Certificate

The Innovation and Entrepreneurship Certificate (I&E Certificate) is a 15-credit sequence to actively lay a foundation, build a core, shape and polish a student's capacity for Innovation and Entrepreneurship (I&E) through engagement in advanced projects and ancillary coursework in the Andrews Interdisciplinary Institute of Innovation and Entrepreneurship (AIIE) . This program complements any major and can be completed in 4 to 9 semesters. Completion involves a capstone course that is a practical implementation of a project or launch of a business. This program is designed to be of special interest to traditional and non-traditional students who have ambitions for establishing a startup company developing or offering an innovative product, process, ministry, organization, or service.

Total Credits - 15

Pre-I&E - 3

Courses available before formal acceptance into the I&E Certificate program.

INEN 221 - Introduction to Innovation & Entrepreneurship - Foundations of Play

Credits: 3

INEN 300 - I&E Seminar Credits: 0

Capstone - 3

A capstone that integrates all Interdisciplinary project work into a successful point of launch.

INEN 455 - Advanced Project - The Launch Credits: 3

Skill and Knowledge Development and Application - 6

Courses that will give students opportunities to develop and apply the knowledge and skills necessary for a successful launch.

INEN 225 - Prototyping and Tinkering Credits: 3

INEN 309 - The Implementation Tool Box Credits: 3

Elective - 3

Three credits of electives to be chosen in consultation with and approved by student's primary I&E advisor.

Innovation & Entrepreneurship

INEN 221 - Introduction to Innovation & Entrepreneurship - Foundations of Play

Credits: 3

An introductory course developing skills needed for creativity, innovation, problem solving, and entrepreneurship. Students play, tinker, and try new ideas with like-minded people. They will create a project proposal that demonstrates "spark" suitable for application for formal admission into the I&E Certificate program. Upon completion of this course, students will implement design thinking principles, uncover forces that drive economic and social vitality, develop an innovative and viable solution-based model, and recognize the difference between ideas and opportunities.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SBA

INEN 225 - Prototyping and Tinkering

Credits: 3

Students grow ideas through advance play in a creative maker-space. I&E players learn a variety of prototyping approaches and techniques ranging from the quick and dirty, useful for the brainstorming stage, to more precise and sophisticated, best for final design presentation. Upon completion of this course, students will experiment with prototyping processes and reflect on successes and failures, apply discipline-specific methods of prototyping, and demonstrate the use of design thinking in model-making through an iterative process.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SBA

INEN 300 - I&E Seminar

Credits: 0

A required weekly seminar that incorporates rich discussion, selected readings, and guest speakers addressing topics in innovation and entrepreneurship. Students in this learning community connect with entrepreneurs and faculty across campus to gain access to new ideas and opportunities, learn from a cross-section of experts and problem-solvers, and exchange ideas with their peers. Students in the introductory course and after acceptance into the I&E Certificate program register for this course every semester. It is required for a minimum of four semesters, but continuation is strongly recommended until completion of the project. Upon completion, students will have made significant connections with faculty, entrepreneurs, experts, and peers and used ensuing ideas and opportunities to develop their project.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Schedule Type: Seminar

College Code: SBA

INEN 309 - The Implementation Tool Box

Credits: 3

Students apply the knowledge and skills used in previous I&E courses to the planning process required for new venture development. They explore the legal, regulatory, and ethical issues faced by innovators and entrepreneurs as well as what it takes to be an effective member of a new venture team. Upon completion of this course, students will develop a business plan or philanthropic proposal and present a needs analysis with regards to social innovation, patents, copyrights, funding, and venture capital.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: SBA

INEN 455 - Advanced Project - The Launch

Credits: 3

A practicum that focuses on the actual launch of the project with a mentor. Upon completion of the course, students, under the mentorship of an appropriate expert, will demonstrate the steps required to launch the proposed idea.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Independent

Pre-Professional

Pre-Professional Program in Dental Assistant and Dental Hygiene

Rob Zdor, Coordinator
zdor@andrews.edu
269-471-6696
Price Hall (Science Complex)

Students interested in a dental assistant career should obtain information concerning the program from the school to which they wish to apply.

Students planning a career in dental hygiene should complete two years of college work before entering a professional school.

Upon completion of an additional two years of prescribed college work at a professional school, the student will earn a bachelors degree in dental hygiene. For more information about dental hygiene, contact the American Dental Hygienists' Association: www.adha.org.

Pre-Professional Programs

Although essentially a liberal arts college, the College of Arts & Sciences offers certain pre-professional curricula for students who plan to enter professional schools. For medical and paramedical curricula, Andrews University maintains a special relationship with Loma Linda University.

Pre-dental Hygiene Curriculum—64

Loma Linda University admission requirements

- At least 64 semester units of accredited college coursework
- GPA of 3.0 or higher in science courses is recommended
- Courses must be a C or higher to meet LLUSD requirements
- Science courses must be completed within five (5) years of admission
- Proficiency in verbal and written English
- 20 hours minimum of observation/shadowing
- Dental assisting experience is strongly recommended

- Three letters of reference, including: spiritual leader, science professor, and employer
- A formal interview (by invitation only)
- Official transcripts from all schools attended

The following courses are recommended for the first two years before entering Loma Linda University. Students interested in applying to other professional schools should obtain specific entrance requirements for those schools. *Specifically required courses are signified with an .

Cultural and Spiritual Heritage—17-20

(must include both areas)

- Religion—3 semester units per year of attendance at an SDA college
- Humanities—14 semester units from three of the content areas listed below
 - History & Civilization
 - Art History & Art Appreciation
 - Music History & Music Appreciation
 - Performing Arts (4 units max)
 - Literature
 - Foreign Language
 - Philosophy & Ethics

Scientific Inquiry and Analysis—32

Physical & Natural Sciences—23

- BIOL 221* & BIOL 222*
- BIOL 260*
- BCHM 120* and CHEM 110*—one academic year covering inorganic, organic, and biochemistry with lab
- MATH 145*

Social Sciences—9

- SOCI 119*
- PSYC 101*
- ANTH 200*

Communication Skills—9

- ENGL 115* and ENGL 215*
- COMM 104*

Health and Wellness—5

- 1 course covering Personal Health or Nutrition
- Physical education (2 activity courses)

David Randall, randalld@andrews.edu; 269-471-3259, Halenz Hall (Science Complex)

Preference is given to applicants who have a broad academic background with a baccalaureate degree. The minimum entrance requirement is 96 semester credits with a 2.70 GPA (C=2.00) in both science and non-science courses, although it is recommended that students should maintain an A/B average in science, as well as overall. The Dental Aptitude Test (DAT) must be taken not later than October of the year preceding admission. Minimum entrance requirements for most dental schools follow. For more information, contact the American Dental Education Association: www.adea.org/ and the American Dental Association www.ada.org.

Pre-Professional Program in Law

Paula Dronen, Coordinator
269-471-3216, dronenp@andrews.edu
Buller Hall, Room 135

Law schools prescribe no particular college program. Therefore, a pre-law student may select his or her major(s) and minor(s) according to interest and aptitude without adversely affecting admission to law school. The prospective lawyer's education should be as broad as possible, including the development of writing and reading skills, logical and analytical thinking, and understanding of legal, political, social and economic issues and institutions. Because competition for admission to reputable law schools is intense, it is important to maintain a high level of academic achievement.

Students who want to go on to law school should consult frequently with the pre-law advisor, at least once per year and preferably more often. The Pre-Law Society, a student-led and student-run organization, provides additional opportunities and resources for the pre-law student.

The website for the Law School Admission Council: www.lsac.org provides a great deal of helpful information and is a good resource for students who are interested in preparing for, and getting into, law school.

Although allopathic (MD) and osteopathic (DO) medicine represent different philosophies of patient care, a physician in either branch of medicine is required to pass the same national board examination to practice.

Students seeking admission to medical schools are encouraged to plan a baccalaureate degree that includes courses which meet the stated entrance requirements of the medical school of their choice as listed in Medical School Admissions Requirements or the websites of the Association of American Medical Colleges: www.aamc.org and the American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine: www.aacom.org. The pre-medical student may choose any major or minor and is encouraged to become acquainted with the main bodies of knowledge as represented by the various academic disciplines.

In light of adequate preparation for the Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT) and changes in medical school requirements, students should incorporate classwork in the following areas into their curriculum:

- Biochemistry
- Sociology
- Psychology
- Statistics

An occupational therapist helps people cope with psychological or physiological dysfunction.

Pre-Professional Programs

Although essentially a liberal arts college, the College of Arts & Sciences offers certain pre-professional curricula for students who plan to enter professional schools. For medical and paramedical curricula, Andrews University maintains a special relationship with Loma Linda University.

Prerequisites for Loma Linda University

Admission

To be eligible for admission, the applicant must have completed a minimum of 96 quarter units (64 semester units) at an accredited college or university. The following prerequisites are required and must be completed successfully with a grade of C or better. Upon successful completion of didactic and fieldwork requirements, students will graduate from LLU with a bachelor's degree in health science and a master's in occupational therapy. Students are then eligible to take the NBCOT's National OT board exam.

Prerequisites: Domain 1: Spiritual and Cultural Heritage

Religious studies, 4 quarter units per year of full-time study.

(Applies only to students attending Seventh-day Adventist colleges.)

Minimum 20 quarter units, or 14 semester units. Choose from three subject areas: fine arts, history, civilization, literature, modern language, or philosophy. English as a second language may not be included. A maximum of 4 quarter units will be accepted in applied or performing art/music.

Prerequisites: Domain 2: Scientific Inquiry and Analysis: Natural Sciences

Human Anatomy with lab

Human Physiology with lab: 2 semesters or quarters of A&P are required.

Select one additional science course from chemistry, physics or physical science.

Mathematics: Two years of HS mathematics or equivalent. Accepted courses include algebra I&II, geometry, with grades of C or better. (These credits do not transfer although they meet the math requirement.)

Completed Need Social Sciences:

Sociology

General Psychology

Human Growth & Development. (Other acceptable equivalents are Developmental Psychology, Life Cycle, or Child Psychology and Adolescent Psychology.)

Prerequisites: Domain 3: Communication (9–13 quarter units, or 6–9 semester units)

Freshman English Composition, complete sequence, as required by the college you attended or are currently attending.

Note: If you test out of any Freshman English courses, you are still required to meet the minimum number of units for this Domain.

Speech, public speaking

Domain 4:

Health education (personal health or nutrition)

Two physical activities courses

Electives

Minimum requirement for entry is 96 quarter units, or 64 semester units.

Computer knowledge in the following areas is required: creating college level papers and assignments, Internet-based research, e-mail usage, PowerPoint presentations, online learning components.

Observation/Volunteer Service

40 hours of observation in occupational therapy settings. Documentation of community service performed is permissible as partial fulfillment of this requirement. Documentation of observation and/or community service must be submitted prior to admission consideration.

CPR—infant, child and adult. BLS health care provider. We only accept CPR from American Heart Association. This certification is not needed for the admissions process, but will be required upon acceptance to the program.

Note:

A minimum grade of C is required for transfer credit. C- and D grades are not transferable.

Pre-Professional Program in Optometry

Marlene Murray, Coordinator

mmurray@andrews.edu

Price Hall (Science Complex)

As a general rule, a minimum of two years of college work is required by optometry school. However, most students entering optometry schools have completed three or four years of college. The following courses with minor variations meet the entrance requirements of most optometry schools. For more information, contact the American Optometric Association: www.aonet.org and the Association of Schools and Colleges of Optometry: www.opted.org.

Pre-Professional Program in Pharmacy

D. David Nowack, Coordinator

269-471-6065

Halen Hall (Science Complex)

Entrance requirements to colleges of pharmacy vary; therefore, it is imperative that students familiarize themselves with the requirements of the school of their choice. (Ferris State University [FSU], Wayne State University, and University of Michigan operate accredited colleges of pharmacy in the state of Michigan.) Information about the various schools of pharmacy can be found on the American Associate of Colleges of Pharmacy website: www.aacp.org. The doctor of pharmacy curriculum requires 2 years of pre-pharmacy and 4 years of professional pharmacy education.

The following prepharmacy courses are those required by FSU. FSU offers a calculus course in the summer that satisfies the prepharmacy requirements and require the PCAT for admission. Science courses with a grade of D are not transferable.

Physician assistants (PAs), members of a health-care team, practice medicine with supervision of licensed physicians. PAs perform a wide range of medical duties from basic primary care to high-technology specialty procedures. Professional PA education offered at any one of more than 100 accredited schools is an intensive 2–3 year program. Most PA programs are moving toward requiring a bachelors degree, including courses in biology, chemistry, English, humanities/social science, mathematics, and psychology. The level of the science courses varies from program to program; consequently, each school should be consulted about its prerequisite requirements. Acceptance to a professional program typically requires extensive health-care experience such as nurse assistant, medical/X-ray lab technician, respiratory therapist, paramedic, hospital aide, or emergency medical technician.

The National Directory of PA Programs may be ordered from APAP at 950 N. Washington St., Alexandria, VA 22314 or via phone at 800-708-7581. PA programs and education can be accessed via the web: www.aapa.org.

Pre-Professional Program in Public History

Stephanie Carpenter, Coordinator

269-471-3291
Buller Hall, Room 135

Public or applied history refers to careers in history-related fields other than teaching, including museum management, archival management, and historic preservation, as well as the production of historical media programs. In most cases, a master's degree in a public or applied history or certification upon completion of certain graduate courses is needed prior to employment. The Department of History & Political Science recommends as curricula a major in history with a second major or minor and electives as the most advantageous undergraduate basis for a public-history career. Curriculum recommendations are available from the department chair.

Price Hall (Science Complex)

Andrews University offers prerequisite course work to prepare students who wish to enter a 2-year Associate of Science degree program or a 4-year Bachelor of Science degree program in Respiratory Care. Admission requirements vary among professional respiratory care programs. Not all professional programs accept transfer credits. Therefore, as soon as possible, interested students should contact the programs of choice for the most current prerequisite requirements. A list of accredited respiratory care programs may be obtained from the American Association for Respiratory Care, 11030 Ables Lane, Dallas, TX 75229 (phone 972-243-2272 and ask for the Education Department) or explore the web at: www.aarc.org/patient_resources/schools.html.

Loma Linda University:

Interested students may complete the prerequisites for Loma Linda University's Respiratory Care Education Program while attending Andrews University. Check with the above listed coordinator for the required course work. The Pre-LLU/RC student may then apply and transfer to LLU through its selective admissions process as a second-year student in their program.

Pre-Professional Program in Veterinary Medicine

Katherine Koudele, Coordinator

Entrance requirements vary among veterinary medical colleges. Students should check the websites of their choice for the most current requirements. Accredited veterinary schools are listed on the website of the American Veterinary Medical Association (www.avma.org). Students, in consultation with their departmental advisor, can develop individualized programs to meet the entrance requirements for their preferred veterinary schools.

Mission

The mission of the Agriculture Department at Andrews University is to transform our students as they are educated to:

- Seek Knowledge
 - Learn current, sustainable, practices and procedures in their chosen area of agriculture based on a strong scientific foundation and hands-on experience
- Affirm Faith
 - Realize our sacred obligation as the caretakers of this planet to preserve and improve it
- Change the World
 - Put the knowledge and experience gained into practice to improve:
 - the production and quality of life of animals and the humans who interact with them
 - the quality of the soil and water in agriculture areas
 - the beauty of living spaces with plants
 - food security for those in need now and for all of us in the future

Programs

Bachelor of Science. The BS degree prepares individuals to pursue advanced degrees for careers in teaching or research. Students may major in animal science with a minor to complement their intended purpose.

Bachelor of Technology. The BT degree is a professional degree. Graduates are prepared for supervisory and management positions in production agriculture such as crops or dairy herd management, horticulture or the landscape industry.

Associate of Science. The two-year AS degree programs provide students with adequate skills and working knowledge to apply for entry-level positions in their area of specialization.

Certificate. The Horticulture Certificate is designed to be a supplemental credential to equip those who desire to achieve the goals of improving the health of themselves and others through healthy food production and/or beautiful landscape development and maintenance with the knowledge they need. The classroom knowledge is put into practice in laboratories associated with classes as well as in an on-campus internship in the University's gardens, orchards, and greenhouses.

Associates

Agriculture AS

The Associate of Science degree in Agriculture prepares students for entry-level positions in their chosen area of specialization. It also provides a science-based foundation for students who already have significant practical experience. The credits earned in this two-year degree are fully transferrable to the four-year BT Agriculture degree at this university.

International Agriculture Development BT

The Bachelor of Technology in International Agriculture Development is designed to provide students with knowledge, skill and experience to prepare them for entry-level positions in agriculture or international development. Additionally, students who complete this degree and suggested electives will be eligible to enter the one-year Master of Science in Community & International Development program at Andrews University with Advanced Standing. Students are required to participate in a domestic as well as an international internship so that the experience of other cultures is embedded in the program. Job opportunities are numerous with NGO's, domestic and international governments and the mission field.

Students interested in smaller scale agriculture and international adventure with a purpose will find this degree a good fit.

Program Description

The BT degree is a professional degree. Graduates are prepared for supervisory and management positions in production agriculture such as Agribusiness, crops, dairy herd management, horticulture or the landscape industry.

Total Credits: 124

Major: Core Requirements - 60

The Bachelor of Technology in International Agriculture Development is designed to provide students with knowledge, skills and experience to prepare them for entry-level positions in agriculture or international development or to pursue an advanced degree. Students who complete this degree will be eligible to enter the MS Community & International Development program at Andrews University with Advanced Standing.

Agriculture Minor

Total Credits: 20

Selected from AGRI, ANSI or HORT courses in consultation with advisor.

Certificates

Horticulture Certificate

The Horticulture Certificate is a supplemental credential for currently enrolled students. It is designed to equip those who desire to improve their own health and that of others through healthy food production and/or beautiful landscape development and maintenance with the knowledge they need. The classroom knowledge is put into practice in laboratories associated with classes as well as in an on-campus internship in the University gardens, orchards, and greenhouses.

Pre-Professional

Pre-Professional Program in Veterinary Medicine

Katherine Koudele, Coordinator
269-471-6299
Smith Hall 112

Entrance requirements vary among veterinary medical colleges. Students should check the websites of their choice for the most current requirements. Accredited veterinary schools are listed on the website of the American Veterinary Medical Association (www.avma.org). Students, in consultation with their departmental advisor, can develop individualized programs to meet the entrance requirements for their preferred veterinary schools.

Agriculture

AGRI 118 - Soil Science

Credits: 4

Factors affecting soil formation, soil texture, particle size, pore space and their impact on soil air/water relations, and chemical characteristics of soils, including pH, ion exchange, and maintenance of soil fertility.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Alternate years

College Code: CAS

AGRI 137 - Practicum in _____

Credits: 1-6

Fifty hours per credit of supervised practical experience in one area of concentration. May be repeated in different areas for a maximum of 6 credits. Topics to be chosen in consultation with an advisor.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits

Schedule Type: Practicum

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

AGRI 175 - First Year Seminar

Credits: 1

This course is an orientation to the diverse field of agriculture. It covers the departmental expectations, goal setting for senior year, internship and project possibilities, and senior portfolio development. Also covered are department/university resources designed to help students be successful in college and in preparation for their eventual career.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

AGRI 206 - Farm Machinery

Credits: 3

Selection and operation of farm equipment, based on the initial cost and economic performance, including factors governing the site and type of farm machines, their capacity, efficient use, adjustment and repair.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

Year Offering: Alternate years

College Code: CAS

AGRI 240 - Fundamentals of Irrigation

Credits: 3

Design, installation, drawing, interpretation and maintenance of plastic or metal irrigation systems and control devices for proper sprinkler coverage.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

AGRI 270 - Management of Agriculture Enterprises

Credits: 3

An introduction to acquiring and analysis of management information for decision making; an understanding of basic economic principles that impact biological production systems and implementation of the principles for total quality management for increased productivity.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online
Year Offering: Alternate years
College Code: CAS

AGRI 285 - Undergraduate Research

Credits: 0–3
Students will either assist a faculty member in an ongoing research project or develop a project of their own with the help and approval of the faculty member in their areas of interest or study. This course is for students who are beginning to establish their knowledge of Agriculture, Horticulture or Animal Science at the college level.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: Minimum of four hours of work per credit.
Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 3 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
Special Approval: Instructor permission required

Term Offering: fall, Spring
College Code: CAS

AGRI 304 - Forage Crop Production

Credits: 3
Basic principles of forage crop production, emphasizing choice of crop, establishment, growth, maintenance, harvesting, storage and feeding.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years
College Code: CAS

AGRI 308 - Principles of Weed Control

Credits: 3
Control of weeds in horticultural and field crops, utilizing biological, cultural, mechanical, and chemical practices. Class study also involves preparation and testing for pesticide applicator's license.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years
College Code: CAS

AGRI 330 - Economic Botany

Credits: 3
This class explores the botany of commercial crops worldwide including: importance, distribution, economic adaptation, and botany of leading farm crops, emphasizing rotation, seedbed preparation, and economic production. Production and management of commercial vegetable crops; includes planting, cultural care, harvesting and post-harvesting procedures and marketing.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

AGRI 335 - Research Methods

Credits: 1
A preparation for a successful project in Agriculture related fields, that has been explored and practiced: this includes learning how to ask a good research question, conduct a literature review, develop appropriate research methodology, find resources to fund research, and properly present project results

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

AGRI 345 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4
A class based on selected topics of current interest in agriculture.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning
College Code: CAS

AGRI 390 - Agriculture Study Tour

Credits: 0
Travel to destinations relevant to individual programs of study. Classes will be selected from department offerings. Fee may be required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Noncredit (NC,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Blended Learning
College Code: CAS

AGRI 394 - Internship & Career Preparation

Credits: 1
An exploration of job possibilities in each student's area of study. Includes: job searching, expectation development, opportunity evaluation and professional communication skills. To be taken in tandem with first semester of AGRI 395.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite/Corequisite: AGRI 395 or AGRI 498
Schedule Type: Practicum
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

AGRI 395 - Internship in _____

Credits: 1–6
Supervised internship of on-the-job work experience in some field of agriculture under the direction of the employer and evaluated by a departmental faculty member. Students submit a report of their experience and must complete a minimum of 120 hours of work experience for each credit earned.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: CAS

AGRI 415 - Senior Seminar

Credits: 1
A synthesis course required of all bachelor degree students, in which each student assembles a portfolio, conducts career research and prepares for job or graduate school interviews.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Seminar
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

AGRI 440 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4
A class based on selected topics of current interest in agriculture.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning
College Code: CAS

AGRI 450 - Environmental Leadership

Credits: 3
The study of an individual's leadership role within environmental complexities. This class will integrate current leadership theory with disciplines steeped in our natural environment. Animal scientists, agriculturalists, landscape architects are some of our first responders to environmental issues on this earth. This class will explore many of those environmental issues while developing better leadership understanding and one's own leadership ideology.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online
College Code: CAS

AGRI 467 - Concepts of International Agriculture

Credits: 3
A study of the relative significance of the role of external institutions and agency, financial programs for agricultural development, human resource development and agricultural education as a means of fostering worldwide agricultural development to counter-balance the threat to global food security and to overcome food deficits.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Alternate years
College Code: CAS

AGRI 468 - International Agricultural Implementation

Credits: 3

The application of scientific agricultural principles of food production, utilizing cultural practices based on appropriate agricultural technologies that support a philosophy of sustainability for future generations.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years
College Code: CAS

AGRI 497 - Capstone In _____

Credits: 1–6

A capstone class to combine and apply a student's learning and acquired skill-set to specific research, program development, or design demands. This class will result in publishable quality artifacts used in senior portfolio development, and should consist of one sizable project in the senior's area of expertise. Planned to progress into Spring semester as AGRI 499, for a full year experience. To be taken in the Fall of the senior year.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Independent
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

AGRI 498 - International Internship in _____

Credits: 1–6

Supervised internship of on-the-job international work experience in agriculture/horticulture. Students submit a report of their experience to be evaluated by a departmental faculty member and must complete 120 hours of work experience for each credit earned.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: CAS

AGRI 499 - Project in _____

Credits: 1–6

Individual research in some field of agriculture under the direction of the faculty.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 10 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

AGRI 540 - Topics in:

Credits: 1–6

Students are able to select offerings from various contemporary Agriculture topics.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning
College Code: CAS

Animal Science

ANSI 114 - Introduction to Animal Science

Credits: 3

Farm animal anatomy, reproductive and digestive physiology, nutrition, genetics, housing, health management and production of animal products.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ANSI 125 - Livestock Handling Methods

Credits: 3

Principles and practices of handling livestock including proper catching, restraint, injections, tagging, grooming and hoof trimming.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

ANSI 150 - Companion Animal Care

Credits: 3

Principles and practices on how to choose the right pet, keep it healthy, pet grooming, training and correcting behavioral problems. Animal species covered are dogs, cats, small caged pets, birds, fish, reptiles and amphibians.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

ANSI 250 - Dairy Facilities

Credits: 3

A study of various types of milking systems, housing and manure handling systems of dairy cattle of all ages and production levels. Ventilation, stall and barn dimensions, and bedding will be some of the topics covered.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Alternate years

College Code: CAS

ANSI 278 - Dairy Health and Disease

Credits: 3

Principles and practice of physical examination of dairy cattle and the causes, preventions and treatment of infectious and metabolic diseases by system. Also included are dairy cattle breeding and genetics.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: one 2-hour lecture and one 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

ANSI 305 - Animal Nutrition

Credits: 3

Principles of feed chemistry and nutrient utilization, digestive tract anatomy and physiology including digestion, absorption, metabolism of feeds by domestic species, nutrition related diseases/deficiencies, ration formulation and feeding management.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Recommended: CHEM 131 or higher.

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

ANSI 325 - Domestic Animal Behavior

Credits: 3

Physiological basis for each type of behavior and its development, communication methods, normal and aberrant behavior in each domestic animal species as well as treatments for problem situations.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and 1 lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

ANSI 340 - Production/Management of _____

Credits: 3
Production methods and management practices of domesticated livestock species including nutrition, reproduction, housing, health and specialized care of a particular species. Course is repeatable for study of dairy cattle, equine, poultry and small livestock.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and 1 lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Fall, Spring
College Code: CAS

ANSI 379 - Small Animal Health and Disease

Credits: 3
Proper handling and care, nutritional needs, and common health problems of companion animals such as dogs, cats, birds, pocket pets, reptiles.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ANSI 420 - Canine Gross Anatomy

Credits: 4
Study of macroscopic skeleton, muscles, internal organs, blood vessels and nerves using preserved, latex-injected specimens. Comparisons made with the live dog through palpation.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and two 3-hour labs
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Recommended: BIOL 166
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ANSI 425 - Issues in Animal Agriculture, Research and Medicine

Credits: 3
Study of the ethical issues that challenge animal researchers, producers, caretakers, and veterinarians to treat and raise animals humanely yet effectively.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Course Attribute: Service Course

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ANSI 430 - Lactation Physiology

Credits: 3
Anatomy and physiology of the udder, milk secretion, disease prevention and treatment, milking management and milking systems.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and 1 lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Recommended: BIOL 166
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ANSI 435 - Animal Genetics

Credits: 3
Basic genetics principles, cytogenetics, immunogenetics, population genetics and quantitative genetics, biotechnology, gene mapping and the use of molecular tools to research inherited disorders using examples of veterinary medicine.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Recommended: BIOL 166
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ANSI 440 - Animal Reproduction

Credits: 3
Anatomy and physiology of farm animal reproduction including the cellular and endocrine components as well as management aspects.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and 1 lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Recommended: BIOL 166
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ANSI 445 - Physiology of Domestic Animals

Credits: 4
Physiology of digestive, cardiovascular, pulmonary, excretory, nervous and skeletomuscular systems in domesticated ruminants and monogastrics.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ANSI 450 - Equine Exercise Anatomy & Physiology

Credits: 3
The anatomy and physiology of the limbs (shoulder and pelvic girdles, legs, feet) as well as the respiratory tract, all of which are vital to a horse's usefulness.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ANSI 455 - Equine Health and Disease

Credits: 3
Topics covered in depth are: the causes of infectious (e.g. tetanus, strangles) and non-infectious (e.g. laminitis, colic, injury), diseases of horses, their prevention, diagnosis and treatment.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ANSI 540 - Topics in_____

Credits: 1–6
Students are able to select offerings from various contemporary animal science topics.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning
Term Offering: Spring

Horticulture

HORT 136 - Landscape Drafting and Graphics

Credits: 4
Introduces and develops proficiency in technical drafting for landscape design including symbols, 2-D and 3-D drawings, sections and elevations, titles blocks, legends and plan organizations. Studio puts graphics to work with a broad range of landscape projects represented. Introduces students to the residential design process and uses live projects to practice skills.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/lab
College Code: CAS

HORT 137 - Fundamentals of Landscape Design

Credits: 4

Introduces and develops the principles of design, design theory, site analysis, functional diagramming, circulation, spatial planes and design schematics. Course will explore both hardscape and softscape principles. Class integrates the design process in drawing plans of all sizes.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Recommended: HORT 136

Schedule Type: Studio

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

HORT 150 - iGrow

Credits: 4

An introduction to the horticultural and landscape field. This class offers basic care of the home landscape with ornamental trees and shrubs, perennials and annuals. This class covers growing fruits and vegetables for the small garden as well as some of the horticultural basics of plant science and soil science. Topics will cover pruning, training, insects, pests and disease, fertilizing techniques, plant basics, landscape design and more. Labs in the greenhouse and gardens while exercising scientific methods.

Course Attribute: Life Science

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab, Interactive Online

College Code: CAS

HORT 205 - Plant Science

Credits: 4

Introduces students to the requirements of plant growth and development. Understanding of these processes is gained by studying topics such as plant cells, tissue, and organ structure; photosynthesis, cellular respiration, plant reproduction, including flowering, fruit development, seed set, the role of hormones, and plant nutrition.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

HORT 208 - Propagation of Horticultural Plants

Credits: 3

Intended to acquaint students with the processes of sexual and asexual reproduction, especially as it applies to the horticultural industry. Asexual reproduction investigates methods of clonal reproduction utilizing non-flowering plant parts such as cutting, grafting, layering, and micro propagation (tissue culture).

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Recommended: HORT 150 or HORT 205

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

HORT 226 - Plant Systematics & ID

Credits: 3

Plant systematics, keying native plants & plant morphology. The identification and recognition of local woody and herbaceous specimen. Focus on identification, environmental requirements, domestic and native value,omenclature and preservation. Class introduces botanical principles and mastering a broad range of local flora.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

HORT 227 - Woody Plant Identification II

Credits: 3

Introduction to the identification and recognition of the deciduous, evergreen and broad leafed evergreen shrubs and vines of the northern. Focus will be on shape, color, size, texture, environmental requirements and the landscape value of native and cultivated shrubs and vines of the northern temperate zone.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

HORT 228 - Herbaceous Plant Identification

Credits: 3

Identification and recognition of shape, size, color, texture, and environmental requirements of the nonwoody plants providing color and ground cover in the landscape.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

HORT 315 - Landscape Structures and Materials

Credits: 3

Course combines lecture, drawing and hands-on labs covering an array of hardscape materials including retaining walls, decks and arbors, patios, fencing, edging, pools and more.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Alternate Years

College Code: CAS

HORT 340 - Land Surveying

Credits: 2

Course introduces the principles of land surveying such as measurements of distance, elevation and angles, instrumentation and mapping, and GIS.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and a 2-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

HORT 350 - History of Landscape Architecture

Credits: 3

A study of landscape history throughout civilization and its impact upon society and the environment. Course will look at the origin of landscape architectural styles and characteristics, and explore the influence of historical landscape design personalities upon the American landscape.

Course Attribute: Art History course

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

HORT 360 - Arboriculture

Credits: 3

Care of shade and ornamental trees living under environmental stress of urbanization, their legal protection and value. Includes tree anatomy and physiology, soils, nutrition and water relationships, transplanting, disease and insect control, mechanical injury and pruning to develop a healthy tree.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Alternate years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

HORT 365 - Urban Landscape Design

Credits: 3

Designing landscapes to meet the environmental challenges and conditions of urban spaces. Circulation patterns for conducting business, aesthetic and functional aspects of design for corporate/institutional, governmental agencies and municipal areas.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Course Attribute: Service course

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Recommended: HORT 136, HORT 137
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

HORT 369 - Greenhouse Environment and Production

Credits: 3
Concepts and principles of commercial plant production in the greenhouse environment. Topics include structure and environment of the greenhouse, production of bedding and potting plants and cut flowers.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years
College Code: CAS

HORT 375 - Landscape Estimating

Credits: 3
An introduction to the estimating process for landscape design, construction and maintenance work. Various schedules and forms are used to assign costs of equipment, plants, hardscape materials, labor and overhead. The many variables from project to project are explored and then formulas are applied to arrive at making landscape installations an efficient and profitable business.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

HORT 378 - Integrated Insect/Disease Management

Credits: 4
Study of significant diseases and insects of agricultural and horticultural plant materials, including life cycles and influence of environmental conditions; determination of effective control methods for crop, ornamental and turfgrass production.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

HORT 429 - Computer Landscape Design

Credits: 3
Principles and practices of computer-aided landscape design, including creating scale perimeter plot plans, using drawing tools, plant/site relationships, and graphic imaging leading to a computer-generated landscape drawing. Studio emphasizes skill development and proficiency in integrating software and hardware to create CAD-generated landscape designs. Prior landscape drawing course work is recommended.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Studio
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

HORT 441 - Advanced Landscape Graphics

Credits: 4
Advanced exploration and application of graphics applying to all aspects of landscape architecture. Working in multiple environments and media. Work will include plan view, 2D and 3D hand graphics. Products will be professional quality presentations including both artistic and verbal communication skills.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Recommended: HORT 136 and HORT 137
Schedule Type: Studio

Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

HORT 442 - Advanced Site Design

Credits: 4
Landscape Architecture concepts relating to the challenging problems of design. Field application through live projects encompassing all aspects of landscape architecture and presentation. This class is focused on synthesizing significant previous class work and applying it to a real customer setting.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Recommended: HORT 136, HORT 137, HORT 226, HORT 227, HORT 228 and HORT 441

Mission

The Department of Behavioral Sciences is concerned with the study of how human beings think and behave, both as individuals and in social, spiritual and cultural settings. By providing students with the discoveries and procedures accumulated from this versatile field of study, our goal is to empower students to utilize their knowledge to further the mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and to restore men and women to the image of our Maker.

The Department of Behavioral Sciences is organized as a consortium where faculty share expertise and research endeavors in related disciplines. The behavioral sciences are concerned with the study of how human beings think and behave as individuals, and in sociocultural and ecological systems.

Undergraduate Program Policies/Administration

Computer Policy

In the behavioral sciences, the computer is an indispensable tool for collecting and working with data, accessing scientific reports, and for writing and critical thinking. As a result, the Department of Behavioral Sciences requires students to have a laptop computer in order to meet the requirements of the curriculum; this computer must be purchased by the student's second year in the program or the semester of the first research class, whichever is earlier. Students are responsible for maintaining their computer with the required software appropriate for the courses that they are enrolled in as they progress through the curriculum. A list of required software and minimum specifications that a laptop must meet is available in the Department of Behavioral Sciences office; use of the computer varies by course.

Department Aims

This department aims (1) to introduce students to the salient discoveries and procedures accumulated from research in behavioral sciences disciplines and (2) to empower students to utilize this knowledge in furthering the mission of Seventh-day Adventists: restoring men and women to the image of their Maker. The department fulfills these aims by three principal means: (1) instruction by Christian professors; (2) course work which develops a strong liberal-arts foundation and interdisciplinary preparation leading to many different fields of Christian service; and (3) extracurricular participation by students in voluntary religious activities, community service, and research.

Minors, Cognates and Electives

Majors should take advantage of the variety of undergraduate courses available at Andrews to acquire a broad education. Combining behavioral science courses with other areas such as business, health, and language provides avenues for reaching individual professional goals. Students should counsel with advisors in selecting cognates and electives. Volunteer work is most beneficial and majors are urged to seek opportunities through the Service Learning Program. Those planning to pursue graduate studies should seek opportunities in research.

Research Sequence

It is strongly recommended that all BS majors take the Research Methods Sequence during their junior year.

Research Application Process

This section describes the competitive application process for undergraduate research beyond the undergraduate research methods sequence in the Behavioral Sciences Department. Students wishing to be considered as undergraduate researchers will need to write a cover letter with a statement of research interests (based on either current faculty interests or the students' own interests or prior in-class assignments), and attach a resume to an application (which has a section that includes the research classes and experience) to be considered as an undergraduate researcher. Applications will be reviewed at Spring faculty meetings for the next academic year, and each faculty member may select up to three projects to mentor for the following year (depending on other load considerations) from these applications. Students will receive an acceptance or rejection letter following the decision of the faculty. Faculty may also select students to mentor by direct invitation of the faculty member. A goal of this requirement is to set clear expectations for a specific end goal for the research project (such as conference poster, presentation, or research article).

Program Description

The Department of Behavioral Sciences offers master's-level education leading to a Master of Science in Community & International Development (MSCID). The competencies graduates are expected to acquire include social-science foundations of community and international development, especially with regard to understanding the causes of poverty and the meaning of people-centered development; skills related to planning, implementing, and evaluating development projects including grantsmanship; knowledge of basic principles of organizational behavior; leadership and management as they relate to not-for-profit organizations; understanding of ethical principles and financial analysis for assuring individual and organizational accountability; competency in at least one concentration area of development emphasis to meet the student's career goals; mastery of social research methods appropriate to the chosen field of concentration, and the ability to communicate effectively to stakeholders about community development program and plans. Courses are taught on the campus of Andrews University: students who are interested may attend up to one off-campus intensive session with the MS in International Development.

Depending in part on previous work experience, graduates who pursue the Master of Science in Community and International Development may find employment working for inner-city development agencies, education based service-learning organizations, faith-based community service organizations, grass-roots community advocacy groups, national and international faith-based NGOs, United Nations organizations, government organizations, and other development and relief agencies. Graduates are not limited by their concentration to opportunities in the humanitarian industry as the MSCID training make students viable candidates for a host of consultancy positions requiring persons with skills in grant writing, not-for-profit administration, education and philanthropy.

Program Description

Education at Andrews University has always been rooted in the concept of Christian service. Educators, administrators, nurses, agronomists, and various technicians have developed schools, hospitals, agricultural programs, and a host of other institutions and facilities that can improve the quality of life for people everywhere. Through its Off-Campus Programs, Andrews University has made it possible for students to earn degrees at off-campus locations around the world. The International Development Program is one such option. The principal purpose of this program is to provide a venue for leadership training of professionals whose work responsibilities and life situation do not permit a return to full-time study at a university campus. The interdisciplinary program takes three to five years to complete and it draws on the strength of all six schools of the university. Students attend 2-3 week intensive sessions at extension sites in various locations around the world. The goal of the program is to strengthen organizations in project management skills and administration. The ultimate goal is to enable graduates to acquire whatever capacities they need to be effective agents in assisting communities to attain well-being for its present members and their future generations.

Administration of the Program

The Master of International Development Administration degree follows an off-campus format and is known as the International Development Program (IDP). This program is administered by a number of committees. The IDP Coordinating Committee includes program administrators and faculty (current and emeritus) of Andrews University who regularly attend the off-campus sessions to advise students, provide guidance on curricula, selection of teachers, and student learning outcomes. Program recommendations are also sent to the following committees for appropriate action: IDP Council, Department of Behavioral Sciences, Off-campus Programs, CAS Graduate Council, and the University Graduate Council. Further, these committees receive council from the IDP Advisory Board, which consists of academics, representatives of NGO organizations, and church administrators.

The day-to-day administration of the program is the responsibility of the International Development Program office headed by the Director of the International Development Program.

Teaching Sites

The International Development Program offers its classes in multiple regions and languages around the world. Venues and languages are subject to change but currently include Chile (Spanish), Ghana (English), Italy (English), Kenya (English), Rwanda (French and English), South Africa (English), South Sudan (English), and Togo (French). A university campus is the preferred venue in each region for the teaching sessions.

Psychology, Pre-Professional BA

Within the BA in Psychology there are two options available - the General Program and the Pre-Professional Program. The Pre-Professional Program is for students planning a graduate degree. Whichever program students choose, they should consult their advisor in regard to their psychology classes, general or elective classes, and an elective minor. Classes should be chosen with occupational goals in mind. Students planning on graduate school should choose classes related to that area of specialization. As a BA degree, students are also expected to take an international language to at least the intermediate level. 21 credits must be selected from courses numbered 300 or above.

Recommended

Field Experience and a reading knowledge of a foreign language are strongly recommended, particularly for students who plan to take graduate studies in Psychology.

Major Field Test

Majors are required to take the Major Field Test in Psychology. The exam assesses the following areas: memory and thinking, sensory and physiology, developmental, clinical and abnormal, social, and measurement and methodology.

Computer Policy

In the behavioral sciences, the computer is an indispensable tool for collecting and working with data, accessing scientific reports, and for writing and critical thinking. As a result, the Department of Behavioral Sciences requires students to have a laptop computer in order to meet the requirements of the curriculum; this computer must be purchased by the student's second year in the program or the semester of the first research class, whichever is earlier. Students are responsible for maintaining their computer with the required software appropriate for the courses that they are enrolled in as they progress through the curriculum. A list of required software and minimum specifications that a laptop must meet is available in the Department of Behavioral Sciences office; use of the computer varies by course.

Occupational Therapy

For those interested in occupational therapy, the following psychology classes are often required for entry into occupational therapy programs: PSYC 101 - Introduction to Psychology, PSYC 301 - Human Development, PSYC 450 - Social Psychology, Statistics BHSC 230 - Research Methods I: Statistics for the Behavioral Sciences and PSYC 434 - Research Methods IV: Advanced Statistical Analysis and SPSS, Research Design PSYC 432 - Research Methods II: Introduction and PSYC 433 - Research Methods III: Advanced Research Design, SOCI 119 - Principles of Sociology, and ANTH 200 - Cultural Anthropology. Other classes from disciplines outside our department often include: Anatomy and Physiology BIOL 221 - Anatomy and Physiology I BIOL 222 - Anatomy and Physiology II, and English ENGL 115 - College Writing I and ENGL 215 - College Writing II. Some programs may want a class (or classes) in other areas such as Biology, Chemistry, Physics, or others. If you know which program(s) you may be interested in for graduate school, it is recommended that you look at their program and see which prerequisite classes they require. It is recommended that students consult with their advisors in regards to which courses should be taken.

Psychology, Pre-Professional BS

Within the BS in Psychology there are three tracks available: General, Pre-Professional, and Brain & Cognition. Pre-Professional is designed for students planning a graduate degree while Brain & Cognition provides students with training in experimental psychology. Whichever program students choose, they should consult their advisors and classes should be chosen with occupational goals in mind. Students planning on graduate school should choose classes related to that area of specialization. In each track, 27 credits must be selected from courses numbered 300 or above.

Sociology BA

Sociologists study the formation and interaction of human groups and the individual's relationship to social groups. There is a focus on the role of various groups in socialization of the individual into norms, values and behaviors. There is also a focus on the development of major social institutions and how they interact with each other and impact socialization across time and cultures. Sociologists use a theoretical framework that examines how institutions and groups function for the success of a society, the conflicts that may be inherent in group interaction and how human beings can change institutions and their relationship.

Sociology, Emergency Preparedness Concentration BS

Andrews University's BS in Sociology, with a concentration in Emergency Preparedness provides students with an "all hazards" approach in understanding the emergency preparedness process which includes understanding the core tenants of emergency management: preparedness, prevention, response, recovery and mitigation. Students will develop skills in planning and preparing for emergencies, the management of operations during an emergency, the implementation of recovery efforts after an emergency, and the after action assessment process. Opportunities in also developing essential skills such as, ethical decision making, critical thinking, analytical inquiry, and strategic planning are part of the curriculum. The concentration will also prepare students to assess risk and vulnerability associated with natural and man-made disasters and terrorism. Key principles and methods of incident management of various types of disasters, including the collaboration with all stakeholders, will be examined. Students will have the opportunity to understand the emergency preparedness process in the context of a Christian worldview. Upon completion of the concentration, students will be able to work in various areas of emergency preparedness at the local, state or federal level, including non-governmental disaster relief agencies.

In the Behavioral Sciences, the computer is an indispensable tool for collecting and working with data, accessing scientific reports, and for writing and critical thinking. As a result, the Department of Behavioral Sciences requires students to have a laptop computer in order to meet the requirements of the curriculum. Students are responsible for maintaining their computer with the required software appropriate for the courses they are enrolled in as they progress through the curriculum. Use of the computer varies by course.

Sociology Minor

Sociologists study the formation and interaction of human groups and the individual's relationship to social groups. There is a focus on the role of various groups in socialization of the individual into norms, values and behaviors. There is also a focus on the development of major social institutions and how they interact with each other and impact socialization across time and cultures. Sociologists use a theoretical framework that examines how institutions and groups function for the success of a society, the conflicts that may be inherent in group interaction and how human beings can change institutions and their relationship.

Masters

Community and International Development MSCID

The Community and International Development program requires 35+ credits of coursework and internship. SOCI 421 and SOCI 455 (CIDS 520 and CIDS 555) are required to meet degree requirements. If the courses were not taken at the undergraduate level, the student will be required to take them in addition to the requirements for the degree.

Students with previous completed or current enrollment in a masters will only need to complete 30 credits and a concentration will not be required.

All applicants must meet the following criteria, in addition to general admission requirements of the Andrews University School of Graduate Studies & Research:

- A Bachelor's Degree from an accredited college or university.
- An overall undergraduate GPA of 3.00 or 3.0 in 8 or more credits of previously taken graduate courses graded A-F. Students may be admitted provisionally with a GPA of 2.6 or higher. Such students must maintain a GPA of 3.0 or higher during their first 12 graduate credits to continue in the program.
- Completed Graduate Application packet.
- Completed coursework in Statistics and Research II. Provisional acceptance may be granted without these courses with the expectation that the student will take them during the first year of enrollment. Credits for these prerequisites will not apply toward the MSCID.
- The director of the program may request a personal interview or a third reference and/or other information.

Students who apply for admission to the MSCID program have two options related to the Graduate Record Exam (GRE). For those students who are seeking a graduate scholarship, the GRE must be taken. Scholarship amounts are based on the score achieved on the exam. For students who do not seek a graduate scholarship based on the GRE score, the exam is not required. A reading knowledge of a foreign language is strongly recommended for those planning on graduate work.

Additional Information

The schools and departments regulate policies that govern the elective courses offered as part of the concentration package and some may not be available. Some elective courses may require prerequisites and should be discussed in advance with the program director/advisor for guidance in completing the concentration.

The Field Practicum and Research Project/Thesis will necessarily be related to the area of concentration in order to provide students with an in-depth understanding of the chosen area, and with the possibility of applying course work in practice. Students are required to undertake a 720-hour internship (approximately 6 months at 30 hours per week) through a field placement with a domestic, national, or international organization/project. Internships are based on prior approval and advice from the program director. Arrangements for the internship will be made by the program director/advisor pending availability and feasibility of the placement proposed by the student.

Masters Dual Degrees

Note: Because each dual degree is listed in two schools you will find duplicates. The content is identical except for order of information.

Master of Science in Community & International Development/Master of Youth &

Young Adult Ministry Dual Degree MSCID/MAYYAM

Dual Degree Program Description

The Dual Degree Program in Community and International Development (CIDP) and Youth and Young Adult Ministry (MAYYAM) allows students to complete two degrees in three years. To facilitate this objective, the two programs will reduce the total number of required credits and will share a practicum and a limited number of elective courses. This amounts to a total of 69 credits to fulfill the Dual Degree.

The MAYYAM program is a 48-credit degree but it will share (use) six elective credits with the CIDP program thereby reducing MAYYAM credits to 42.

The CIDP program will reduce the required number of credits from 39 to 30 by removing the concentration requirement. In addition, up to two CIDP elective credits can be fulfilled through MAYYAM courses reducing the CIDP credits to 28. Finally, CIDP's 1-credit Practicum requirement will be fulfilled through MAYYAM's required practicum. Reducing the CIDP credits to 27.

Since both the CIDP and MAYYAM programs reduce the total credits in order to reduce costs and achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be received simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree.

MAYYAM Denominational Certification

The Basic Teaching Certificate for denominational certification may be issued to the candidate presenting a Verification of Eligibility form from Andrews University. The certificate is issued by the union conference where the candidate takes his/her first teaching position.

Requirements for this certificate may be completed by taking additional courses along with the MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry. More information about preparing to teach religion in Adventist schools is available from the University Certification Registrar in the School of Education.

MAYYAM Graduation Requirements

The MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry degree is awarded upon successful completion of a minimum of 48 semester credits with a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or better. A minimum of 24 semester credits are to be taken at the Theological Seminary or at an authorized extension center. The course work for the MA in Youth and Young Adult Ministry normally should be completed within seven years.

MAYYAM Additional Information

Transfer Credits

A maximum of 24 transfer graduate credits, when applicable, may be accepted from approved seminaries or universities upon approval of the dean. Credits approved under the Credit Through Learning in Professional Experience provision (see below) are considered part of the maximum of 24 transfer credits.

Master of Science in Community and International Development/ Master of Divinity MSCID/MDiv

To provide a Dual degree option for seminary students who are interested in pursuing a career in providing humanitarian or development services either as missionaries or as development practitioners.

Distinctive Features:

Students will receive practical training in:

- Finding Innovated approaches to improving quality of life of church and community members
- Addressing Urban Issues that affect the church: poverty, economic crisis, unemployment, etc.
- Assessing the needs of the community they will serve
- Fundraising and Grant writing
- Program Management
- Managing Humanitarian Crisis and Programs
- Program Design, Monitoring & Evaluations
- Analyze, evaluate and design and execute Policy that affect constituents and local community.
- Advocacy
- Research (design, analysis and recommendations)

Students will receive 6 months of Field experience. This increases their job readiness and marketability. CID/Seminary based Dual degree students will have two options:

- A six-month supervised internship abroad or in a local community full time.
- Utilizing knowledge and skills from both degrees. This is the regular standard for the HDS degree.

Work 6 months in the church and community selected for TFE assignment.
Students will be expected to identify humanitarian needs and issues in their churches and surrounding community and provide a feasible solution.

The knowledge and skills provided will allow students to more confidently address issues in their church and community. Student will be able to use both biblical and research/professional based answers to respond to social and economic issues in their community. An understanding of the humanitarian field and its expectations will increase the legitimacy of programs they implement and chances of receiving funding.

A CID degree will allow students to be more marketable to other fields outside of the church and improve their chances for employment. CID degree holders have a wide range of potential career paths in which the spiritual and physical contributions could be greatly beneficial. These roles generally fall into the following categories (not including exclusively pastoral roles):

- Practitioner: project management and implementation in the field
- Policy/Advisory: research, evaluation, lessons learned and developing policy recommendations to use within the organization and to advocate outside of the organization
- Advocacy & Outreach: ministry, campaigning, lobbying, fundraising, media, communications
- Support: human resources, finance, logistics, IT, etc.

General Information

Andrews University has formed a collaborative program between the Master of Divinity Program of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and the Community and International Development Program in the College of Arts & Sciences. Students can potentially complete the two degrees in 3 years; 2 years in the Theological Seminary and 1 year in the Community and International Development Program.

The objectives of this program are to prepare students to better follow Christ's model for ministry by Equipping Pastors, Evangelists and missionaries with important tools, skills and knowledge in order to address the socio and economic needs of their churches and community.

- Students who receive this degree will have a more holistic view of the Church's mission and their community. They will receive practical training in:
- Finding Innovative approaches to improving quality of life of church and community members
 - Addressing Urban Issues that affect the church: poverty, economic crisis, unemployment, etc.
 - Assessing the needs of the community they will serve
 - Fundraising and Grant writing, Program Management
 - Managing Humanitarian Crisis and Programs
 - Program Design, Monitoring & Evaluations
 - Analyze, evaluate and design and execute Policy that affect constituents and local community.
 - Advocacy
 - Research (design, analysis and recommendations)

Since both the MSCID and MDiv programs share certain cognate courses to achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be conferred simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of each degree. In the event that one degree was completed prior to enrollment for the dual degree program, the cognate requirements for the other degree will be adjusted as shown below. A dual student cannot march in graduation or March-without-Completion if both halves of the dual degree are not completed.

Total Credits: 95

Graduation requirements consist of the satisfactory completion of 95 semester credits with an overall grade point average of 3.0 GPA for the MA CIDS program. and 2.75 or higher for the MDiv program. 65 credits are MDiv credits, and 30 credits are Master of Community and International Development credits.

- 13 MDiv credits are used to fulfill equivalent MSCID requirements:
- MSSN 546 - Mission in Cultural and Religious Context (3 Cr)
 - CHMN 543 - Christian Leadership in a Changing World (2 Cr)
 - CHMN 560 - Theological Field Education (2 Cr)
 - 6 Credits of Electives with consultation of advisors

Admissions Requirements

Master of Divinity

All MDiv applicants must meet the Graduate Programs Admission Requirements applicable to all graduate students and the general seminary requirements.

- Hold a baccalaureate degree: A four-year degree from an accredited United States institution, or its equivalent from an institution outside the U.S.
- Minimum of 2.5 Undergraduate GPA
- Normally hold membership in the Seventh-day Adventist Church inasmuch as the MDiv program is specifically designed for Adventist ministers and is sponsored and financed by the Adventist church.
- Represent high moral integrity with a character, lifestyle, and spiritual commitment reflective of the beliefs and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and show promise of usefulness for Adventist ministry through personal maturity and adequate experience in the Church. (Persons of other faiths who are willing to live in harmony with these standards are welcome to apply.)
- Submit an autobiographical history and a 350+ word statement of purpose reflecting the applicant's family and spiritual development, sense of calling to ministry, experience in church work, and future goals in relationship to the MDiv program. A guideline is provided in the admissions package.
- If married, the spouse of the applicant is also asked to complete a statement in regard to his or her feelings and relationship to the partner's aspirations for future ministry.
- Background Check. Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to undergo a criminal background check and to make the results of the check available to the Seminary. The cost of the criminal background check is the responsibility of the applicant. Details about this requirement may be obtained from the MDiv office.
- An interview with a representative of the MDiv program may be required, either by personal contact, telephone, or video.
- Complete and return the Sixteen Personality Factor Questionnaire as directed.
- Pre-admission Conduct Disclosure Statement - Applicants to all Seminary programs are required to complete and submit to the Seminary the "Pre-Admission Conduct Disclosure Statement."
- Recommendations
 - Church board where the applicant is a member
 - Church administrator, pastor, or elder
 - General Recommendation from: College teacher or advisor, recent employer, or some other non-family member

English Language Requirements

Students whose language of education is not English must submit one of the following tests and minimum scores:

- TOEFL Paper-based - 565
- TOEFL Internet-based - 85
- MELAB - 81
- IELTS - 6.5
- PTE - 58

Application Deadline

Given that applying and obtaining pertinent documents for admission can be a long endeavor, the student must start the application process at least 4-6 months before the desired starting semester. See University deadlines for individual semesters here.

Master of Science in Community and International Development

Applicants to the Dual degree program must meet the following criteria, in addition to other general admission requirements of the Andrews University School of Graduate Studies & Research:

- A bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university;
- An overall undergraduate GPA of 3.00 or 3.50 in 8 or more credits of previously taken graduate courses graded A–F. Students may be admitted provisionally with a GPA of 2.6 or higher. Such students must maintain a GPA of 3.0 or higher during their first 12 graduate credits to continue in the program;
- Completed Graduate Application packet.
- Completed coursework in Accounting, Statistics and Research II. Provisional acceptance may be granted without these courses, and the student would be expected to take them during the first year of enrollment. Credits for prerequisites do not apply toward the MSCID.

The director of the program may request a personal interview or a third reference and/or other information.

Students who apply for admission to the MSCID program have two options related to the Graduate Record Exam (GRE). For those students who are seeking a graduate scholarship, the GRE must be taken. Scholarship amounts are based on the score achieved on the exam. For students who do not seek a graduate scholarship based on the GRE score, the GRE is not required.

Recommended: A reading knowledge of a foreign language is strongly recommended for those planning on graduate work.

Master of Science in Community and International Development/Master of Social Work Dual Degree MSCID/MSW

Dual Degree Program Description

Andrews University has chosen to explore a collaborative between the Community & International Development Program (CIDP) and the Department of Social Work in the College of Arts & Sciences to prepare students for service in occupations where social work and international development intersect. Social Workers, particularly those in the areas of Administration and Development and International Social Work, may have an interest in international work. In such situations, the MSCID could equip them with a complementary skill set. Likewise, development and relief workers often find themselves in situations where social work skills in counseling and therapy would be useful. In addition, the MSCID/MSW collaborative allows for a greater breadth of employment opportunities for students.

Since both the MSW and MSCID programs reduce the total credits in order to reduce costs and achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, both degrees must be received simultaneously in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree. In the event that one degree was completed prior to enrollment for the dual degree program, the requirements for the second degree would be met through completion of the requirements shown below.

Collaborative Program Objectives

To prepare students for various forms of work in which clinical and administrative skills in development and social work are needed;

To enable students to integrate development and social work knowledge, values, and skills into a multifaceted approach to service, thereby enhancing their value in the world.

Distinctive Features of the Program

The program is designed to give students an integrated approach to both international development and social work. Students who take a social work emphasis in Administration and Development and International Social Work can choose a dual degree with CIDP.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the MSCID/MSW dual degree program typically will have received a bachelor's degree (BA, BS, BSW) from an accredited four-year college or university in the U.S., or hold an equivalent educational credential from another country.

Application must be made separately to both the MSDIC and MSW programs. Acceptance into one program does not guarantee acceptance into the other. Applicants must meet the admissions requirements for each program, including all required prerequisites for each degree. Students in both programs must meet the following minimum requirements:

Students must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0;

No grade of D or F (or U) may count toward either degree.

Credits for Each Program

MSCID students are required to complete 39-40 credit hours for the two-year regular program, which includes 12 elective credits (minimum of 4 courses). Students with certain prerequisites may qualify for the 30-credit advanced standing program. The two-year regular MSW degree requires 46 core credit hours, plus 10 elective hours. Due to the strict requirements of the Council on Social Work Education's accrediting mandates, these core courses must all be taught or co-taught within the department by faculty holding an MSW degree. Occasionally, a student who has already earned a BSW from an accredited program may apply to this program. In this case, the student would be placed in the Advanced Standing program, and take either 33 credits (Advanced Standing) or 39 credits (Advanced Standing Plus). Students with an undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or higher are eligible to complete the Advanced Standing Program, while those with a lower GPA must complete the Advanced Standing Plus requirements.

These program models create a curriculum that allows for the integration of 21–24 Social Work and CIDP credits, giving students the advantage of being able to reduce their total credit load. Since both MSCID and MSW programs already share courses in order to reduce costs and achieve a more streamlined and efficient program, the course work for both degrees must be taken either simultaneously or within one academic year of completion of one of the degrees in order to fulfill the requirements of either degree.

Because of CSWE requirements, students in the MSCID/MSW SOCIAL WORK COURSES 215 dual degree program would register for social work core classes in lieu of certain CIDP courses and would take an emphasis in either Administration & Development or International Social Work. Students will take shared courses as outlined below.

MSW Requirements

Student Handbook

The MSW Student Handbook has been designed as the social work student's aid in understanding the program requirements, Social Work Department, and relevant policies of Andrews University. Inside the handbook you will find information such as expectations of students, the MSW curriculum, departmental policies, and other relevant information.

You are responsible for the information found in this handbook, so please take the time to familiarize yourself with the handbook and know where to find questions and answers if the need arises.

Field Manual

The Field Manual has been designed as your aid in understanding field education requirements, your role as a student in a field agency, and relevant policies of Andrews University.

You are responsible for the information found in this handbook, so please take the time to familiarize yourself with the handbook and know where to find questions and answers if the need arises.

English Language Requirement

For those applicants whose native language is not English, the following is required:

1. Demonstration of English proficiency by obtaining at least a minimum score on any one of the following exams. Exam must be taken within two years prior to enrollment.

TOEFL ITP (paper-based) - A minimum score of 550

TOEFL iBT (internet-based) - 80 with a minimum of 20 on each section

MELAB - 80 with a minimum of 80 on each section

IELTS (Academic version) - 6.5

PTE (Academic version) - 54

2. Nelson Denny - score of 13 and

3. Personal interview with MSW program director or designee.

Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after committee consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional course work in English may be required. A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Graduate Record Examination (GRE)

Students who are applying for admission to the MSW program have two options related to the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). For those students who are seeking a graduate scholarship, the GRE must be taken. The amount of a potential scholarship is related to the score achieved on the GRE as follows:

GRE ScoreScholarship

320 50% tuition reduction

310 25% tuition reduction
300 10% tuition reduction

For students who do not seek a graduate scholarship based on the GRE score, the GRE examination is not required.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 432 - Research Methods II: Introduction

Credits: 3

Asking researchable questions. Reviewing the literature. Hypothesis formulation. Research methodology emphasizes qualitative approaches but includes discussion of instrumentation, subject selection, and data collection procedures. Andrews' human subject research review process. Informed consent. Writing assignments include theoretical essay, pilot study, second pilot study, research journal. Lab schedule will be arranged.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite/Corequisite: BHSC 230 or STAT 285.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 433 - Research Methods III: Advanced Research Design- Experimental and Survey

Credits: 3

The principles of designing, administrating, interpreting, and writing experimental research, questionnaires and interview schedules. Survey also focuses on coding procedures and scale construction. Structured around a research project, and the interpretation of scientific reports and professional journals. Lab schedule will be arranged.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PSYC 434.

Prerequisite(s): BHSC 230 or STAT 285 and PSYC 432.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 434 - Research Methods IV: Advanced Statistical Analysis & SPSS

Credits: 3

A study on advanced parametric and non-parametric techniques such as two-way ANOVA, regression and power. The utilization of SPSS in the analysis and interpretation of statistical data. An analysis of professional journals and reports with an emphasis on the statistical reasoning.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PSYC 433/SOCI 433.

Prerequisite(s): BHSC 230 or STAT 285 and PSYC 432/SOCI 432.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 440 - Sociology of the Family

Credits: 3

This course focuses on theoretical understandings of family relationships in diverse settings and the various contexts that shape and sustain such relationships.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 444 - International Development:Cases and Application

Credits: 3

This course examines community and international development theory and practice through field study and fieldwork. Issues to be covered may include development and humanitarian aid and response.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning

College Code: CAS

SOCI 445 - Emergency Planning

Credits: 2

Principles of emergency planning used in any type of disaster. Includes working with volunteers, handling special events, evacuation, mass fatalities, planning for schools, and homeland security planning. Includes the use of related FEMA-provided modules.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): SOCI 408 or SOCI 508 or SOWK 408.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 449 - Disaster Response and Emergency Operations

Credits: 2

Study of the phases of disaster response and recovery with attention to local, state and national roles and expectations. Models of emergency management operations including communication, coordination, and chief executive decision making under conditions of disaster response will be emphasized. Attention will be given to the problems and concerns of recovery of victims and communities and the implications of disaster recovery efforts. Includes the use of related FEMA-provided modules.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BSAD 526; SOCI 408 or SOCI 508

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 454 - Poverty Seminar

Credits: 3

This seminar will examine the nature, extent and measures of rural and urban poverty, its causes and consequences, and the antipoverty programs proposed by government, activists, anti-poverty organizations such as NGOs, academic community, international and bilateral aid organizations.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning
College Code: CAS

SOCI 455 - Development Policy and Analysis

Credits: 3

Examine the processes that lead to the formulation, adoption, implementation, and evaluation of development policies and programs across countries. Study types of policies, policy design, and policy tools. Develop skills of political and bureaucratic analysis that can improve policy analysis, policy decision-making, and policy implementation for sustainable development.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

SOCI 460 - Death and Grief in Contemporary Society

Credits: 2

The study of cultural and societal perspectives on death and personal and interpersonal dynamics of death and dying.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

SOCI 468 - Community Psychology

Credits: 3

This course will introduce you to the field of Community Psychology which is an interdisciplinary field that emerged from clinical psychology, but incorporates perspectives and theories from sociology, public health, and anthropology. Utilizing a strengths-based approach, it goes beyond an individual focus to promote positive change, health, and empowerment at individual and systemic levels. This course can serve as preparation for those taking the practicum course as their capstone requirement.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): PSYC 101 or SOCI 119
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years
College Code: CAS

SOCI 470 - Demography

Credits: 3

Overview of the world's population; spatial dimensions of human populations; fertility concepts, measurements, trends, levels, and explanations; mortality and migration; population structures, life chances; population growth, economic development, and the environment.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

SOCI 474 - Social Thought and Theory

Credits: 3

The roots of self-conscious social thought and the rise of sociology and anthropology as scientific disciplines in the 19th century. Major theoretical orientations in their fields, proponents, and impact on present-day sociology and anthropology are reviewed.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Odd years
College Code: CAS

SOCI 475 - Topics:

Credits: 1–4

Examines emerging issues in Sociology

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

SOCI 478 - Principles and Practice of Hazards Mitigation

Credits: 3

Study of preparedness as related to hazards in the local community with attention to means of mitigation as well as planning measures. Includes the use of related FEMA-provided modules.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): SOCI 408 or SOCI 508 or SOWK 408.

Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

SOCI 480 - Field Experience

Credits: 1–8

Supervised field placement in a human services setting is approved in advance by the department chair. A minimum of 45 hours of fieldwork is required for each credit. Open only to departmental majors.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 8 credits
Schedule Type: Blended Learning, Practicum
College Code: CAS

SOCI 486 - Gender, Ethnicity and Family in Development

Credits: 3

This course provides an overview of the role of and issues surrounding gender and ethnicity in society. Particular attention will focus on how ethnic and gender roles impact family structure, function and interaction patterns as well as how these patterns impact community and international development.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

SOCI 490 - Capstone in Emergency Preparedness (Practicum)

Credits: 1–3

Experience in Disaster Preparedness exercises. Individually planned with the student by the instructor in consultation with local campus and community Emergency Coordinators. Briefing and reflections with the instructor will be expected of students enrolled in this course. Permission of instructor required.

Course Attribute: Service course

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Prerequisite(s): SOCI 408/SOWK 408 or equivalent and one other core course in Emergency Preparedness.
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 3 credits
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: CAS

SOCI 495 - Independent Study/Readings in Sociology

Credits: 1–3

Individual assignments and/or reports and/or individualized research in sociology are set up on a contract basis with no more than 3 credits per semester. Students may repeat or take any combination of departmental independent study courses for up to 6 credits. Consult staff before registering.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

SOCI 497 - Internship

Credits: 1,2

Supervised internship in a human services setting is approved in advance by department chair or program director. A minimum of 100 hours of internship is required for each credit. Open only to departmental majors.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 2 credits
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: CAS

SOCI 498 - Research Project in Sociology

Credits: 0–3

An independent research project in sociology typically supervised by a faculty member and resulting in a technical report summarizing findings or a submission to a professional conference. Students may repeat or take any combination of departmental independent study or research project courses up to 6 credits with no more than 3 credits per semester. Consult staff before registering.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
Special Approval: Instructor Permission Required

College Code: CAS

SOCI 508 - Emergency Preparedness

Credits: 2

Provides an introduction to basic philosophy and concepts of Emergency Preparedness as required by FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) and most states which certify staff. Includes use of FEMA-provided modules in the Professional Development Series, Incident Command Systems (100 and 200), and the National Incident Management System (700 and 800). A passing grade is required on each module for satisfactory grade and receipt of a Professional Development Series Certificate of Completion. Evidence of current CPR/AED certification must be provided before the end of the course.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 510 - Gender Roles in Contemporary Society

Credits: 3

Significant issues related primarily to the concerns of women as members of American society, but also in cross-cultural perspective. Includes such topics as socialization in sex roles, women in the professions, women in minority groups, the feminization of poverty, and women and substance abuse and crime.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 514 - Migrant & Refugee Issues

Credits: 2,3

This course will study fundamental theories and concepts regarding voluntary migration (migrant issues) and forced migration (refugee issues). It will also address the main political, social, economic and environmental push and pull factors that influence immigration and emigration within the framework of globalization.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 515 - Racial and Ethnic Relations

Credits: 3

A study of the distinctive racial and cultural minorities in American society with an emphasis on problems and adjustments within the larger society.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 532 - Research Methods II: Introduction

Credits: 2

Asking researchable questions. Reviewing the literature. Hypothesis formulation. Research methodology emphasizes qualitative approaches but includes discussion of instrumentation, subject selection and data collection procedures. Andrews' human-subject-research review process. Informed consent. Writing assignments include theoretical essay, pilot study, second pilot study, research journal. Lab schedule will be arranged.

Prerequisite/Corequisite: BHSC 230 or STAT 285.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 533 - Research Methods III: Advanced Research Design-Experimental and Survey

Credits: 2

The principles of designing, administrating, interpreting, and writing experimental research, questionnaires and interview schedules. Survey also focuses on coding procedures and scale construction. Structured around a research project, and the interpretation of scientific reports and professional journals. Lab schedule will be arranged.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): SOCI 534.

Prerequisite(s): BHSC 230 or STAT 285 and SOCI 532.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 534 - Research Methods IV: Advanced Statistical Analysis & SPSS

Credits: 2

A study on advanced parametric and non-parametric techniques such as two-way ANOVA, regression and power. The utilization of SPSS in the analysis and interpretation of statistical data. An analysis of professional journals and reports with an emphasis on the statistical reasoning.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): SOCI 533

Prerequisite(s): BHSC 230 or STAT 285 and SOCI 532. Must have achieved a grade of "C" (not C-) in either BHSC 230 or STAT 285 .

Graduate students who have not achieved a grade of "C" or better will be encouraged to take EDRM 605 Qualitative Research Methods in Education and Psychology.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 549 - Disaster Response and Emergency Operations

Credits: 2

Study of the phases of disaster response and recovery with attention to local, state and national roles and expectations. Models of emergency management operations including communication, coordination, and chief executive decision making under conditions of disaster response will be emphasized. Attention will be given to the problems and concerns of recovery of victims and communities and the implications of disaster recovery efforts. Includes the use of related FEMA-provided modules.

Prerequisite(s): BSAD 526; SOCI 408 or SOCI 508

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 550 - Social Policy

Credits: 2

Develops basic knowledge and skills for policy analysis, formulation and critical challenge within local and international contexts. Examines the determining factors affecting public policy in the United States as compared with other systems. Provides framework for analysis of social problems and policies, as they impact development and practice in human services.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 554 - Community Health & Human Disease

Credits: 2

Examines in-depth emerging issues in the behavioral sciences. May be repeated in different specialized areas.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 555 - Emergency Planning

Credits: 2

Principles of emergency planning used in any type of disaster. Includes working with volunteers, handling special events, evacuation, mass fatalities, planning for schools, and homeland security planning. Includes the use of related FEMA-provided modules

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): SOCI 408 or SOCI 508 or SOWK 408.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 560 - Family Resource Management

Credits: 3

Principles of sound management of resources including time, money, and energy as they relate to individuals and groups throughout the lifespan, with emphasis on the family.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Odd years

College Code: CAS

SOCI 565 - Demography

Credits: 3

Overview of the world's population; spatial dimensions of human populations; fertility concepts, measurements, trends, levels, and explanations; mortality and migration; population structures, life chances; population growth, economic development, and the environment.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

SOCI 575 - Topics:

Credits: 1–5

Examines emerging issues in Sociology

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Mission

The Department of Biology provides transformational education in the biological sciences for a diverse student population, set in the context of a Seventh-day Adventist Christian worldview. To achieve this mission we:

Seek knowledge and develop skills for lifelong learning through rigorous research, teaching and learning in the biological sciences;

Affirm faith, engender integrity and honor the Creator through personal mentoring, intentional study of life as God's creation, and the ethical practice of science; and

Change the world by active service, promoting responsible living as stewards of creation, and preparing students for meaningful careers in church and society.

Each degree offered by the Department of Biology includes a common core curriculum and additional courses tailored to students' special needs.

Bachelors

Biology, Biological Science Concentration BS

The Department of Biology provides transformational education in the biological sciences for a diverse student population, set in the context of a Seventh-day Adventist worldview. Our graduates pursue diverse careers: as physicians, dentists, pharmacists and other health care providers; as high school and college biology teachers; and in other fields such as environmental biology, biomedical research, and as museum scientists. We offer a BS in Biology with three concentrations, as well as the MS in Biology. We also offer, collaboratively with the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, a BS in Biotechnology.

BIOL 165 - Foundations of Biology Credits: 4,5
BIOL 166 - Foundations of Biology Credits: 4,5

BIOL 280 - Biostatistics and Research Design Credits: 3
BIOL 285 - Research Seminar in Biology Credits: 0
BIOL 305 - Scientific Communication Credits: 2
BIOL 371 - Genetics Credits: 3
BIOL 372 - Cell and Molecular Biology Credits: 3
BIOL 449 - Historical and Philosophical Biology Credits: 3

BIOL 348 - General Ecology Credits: 3
Or BIOL 345 - Field Ecology Credits: 3–6

Major: Concentration Requirements - 15

Concentration Requirements

Choose one course from the following two sets:

One on campus biology course:

BIOL 428 - Paleobiology Credits: 3
BIOL 454 - Vertebrate Zoology Credits: 3
BIOL 459 - Entomology Credits: 3
BIOL 476 - Biodiversity of Vascular Plants Credits: 4

Or

One Rosario Beach Marine Lab field course:

BIOL 456 - Marine Botany Credits: 3.5
BIOL 458 - Marine Invertebrates Credits: 3.5
BIOL 479 - Marine Ecology Credits: 3.5

Concentration Electives

Remaining courses to reach 15 credits may be selected from any BIOL course that applies to a biology major. (Note: Students seeking Secondary Certification must take specific courses reaching 17 credits in the Biological Science concentration in consultation with their Secondary Education advisor.)

Additional Elective Options Up to four elective credits may come from the following courses:

BCHM 421 - Biochemistry I Credits: 4
HORT 226 - Plant Systematics & ID Credits: 3
MATH 426 - Mathematical Modeling in Biology Credits: 3
PHTH 417 - Human Anatomy Credits: 3
PHTH 427 - Human Anatomy Laboratory Credits: 1

SOCI 119 - Principles of Sociology Credits: 3

Undergraduate Electives — 6-12

Students must take 6-12 elective credits from any college level courses.

Thesis (Optional)

A minimum of 3 credits of BIOL 495 or HONS 497H. Biology majors may elect to complete a minimum of 3 credits of original research in a topic of mutual interest with a Department of Biology faculty member and present this original work in the form of a senior thesis. This research experience may be supported by a research scholarship.

Biology, Neuroscience Concentration BS

One of three concentrations available to students pursuing a BS Biology, the Neuroscience emphasis provides a strong foundation for those interested in medicine or other health-science related career as well as those who wish to enter a career in neuroscience. Students build on a shared cognate and biology core and add specialized courses in neurobiology and related fields.

Biology MS

Admission Requirements

In addition to the general admission requirements under the School of Graduate Studies & Research, students must meet the following departmental requirements.

A bachelor's degree with major in biology or an approved, related discipline, with appropriate upper division courses. The following courses are recommended: cell/molecular biology, organismal physiology, developmental biology, genetics, and ecology.

A minimum GPA of 3.00 (B) in the undergraduate major.

GRE scores are required in order to review the application for admission (see required tests under the School of Graduate Studies and Research).

Cognate sciences, including full-year courses in general chemistry, organic chemistry, and physics. Mathematics through calculus and a course in statistics are strongly recommended.

Degree Requirements

BIOL 550 - Issues in Origins and Speciation Credits: 3
BIOL 681 - Research Methods and Biology Seminar I Credits: 2
BIOL 682 - Research Methods and Biology Seminar II Credits: 2
BIOL 670 - Comprehensive Exam Credits: 0 (A written comprehensive examination completed before the end of the third semester in residence)
BIOL 699 - Master's Thesis Credits: 4
A thesis earning 8 credits (Two registrations for BIOL 699)

Other Requirements

A final oral examination in defense of the thesis.
A minimum of 30 credits of approved course work and thesis.

Group A: Cell and Molecular Biology

BIOL 415 - Genomics, Proteomics, and Bioinformatics Credits: 3
BIOL 416 - Cell Signaling Mechanisms in Human Disease Credits: 3
BIOL 418 - Immunology Credits: 3
BIOL 419 - Immunology Lab Credits: 1
BIOL 445 - Molecular Genetics Credits: 3

Group B: Structural and Functional Biology of Organisms

BIOL 315 - Developmental Biology Credits: 3
BIOL 316 - Human Embryology Credits: 1
BIOL 444 - Electron Microscopy in Biological Investigations Credits: 3
BIOL 446 - Electron Microscopy Laboratory Credits: 2
BIOL 464 - Systems Physiology Credits: 4
BIOL 465 - Histology Credits: 3
BIOL 468 - Systems Physiology: Organismal Maintenance Credits: 3
BIOL 477 - Neurobiology Credits: 3
BIOL 486 - Neurobiology of Mental Illness Credits: 3
BIOL 477 - Neurobiology Credits: 3

Group C: Biodiversity and Environmental

Biology

BIOL 208 - Environmental Science Credits: 4
BIOL 417 - Virology Credits: 3
BIOL 425 - Parasitology Credits: 3
BIOL 428 - Paleobiology Credits: 3
BIOL 454 - Vertebrate Zoology Credits: 3
BIOL 455 - Medical Botany Credits: 3
BIOL 456 - Marine Botany Credits: 3.5
BIOL 458 - Marine Invertebrates Credits: 3.5
BIOL 459 - Entomology Credits: 3
BIOL 475 - Biology of Bacteria Credits: 3
BIOL 476 - Biodiversity of Vascular Plants Credits: 4
BIOL 479 - Marine Ecology Credits: 3.5
BIOL 484 - Animal Behavior Credits: 3
BIOL 487 - Biogeography Credits: 3

Biology

BIOL 100 - Human Biology

Credits: 4

This course is designed to provide students with a basic understanding of the structure and function of the human body. Emphasis is placed on the practical application of principles learned in the areas of nutrition, anatomy and physiology. Does not apply to major or minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 105 - Techniques of Molecular Biology

Credits: 3

Lab-based introduction to techniques in molecular biology and their application to forensics. Does not apply to major or minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and a 3-hour lab
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab
Special Approval: Only available for RESA students.

Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 110 - Principles of Biology

Credits: 4

A one-semester survey of the principles of biology as they apply to the study of biological molecules, cells, multicellular organisms, and ecosystems. The course will introduce key concepts of biological function, inheritance, adaptation, and diversity. Does not apply to major or minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 121 - Introduction to Dentistry

Credits: 1

This class will serve as an introduction to the many facets of the dental profession. Through both a didactic and hands-on set of experiences, students will explore a broad range of topics, spanning from pre-dental training to private practice. Topics will include tooth anatomy, dental subspecialties, DAT preparation, and dental school experience. Hands-on experiences will focus on work with common dental materials as well as activities that will help students to assess and develop their hand-eye coordination and spatial perception. Not applicable for major or minor requirements.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

BIOL 122 - Introduction to Medicine

Credits: 1

A seminar-type discussion-formatted exploration for the premedical student intended to expose students early in their collegiate preparation to the spectrum involved in entering and practicing medicine. Topics include the AAMC personal competencies, the application process, medical school curriculum, residence training, the patient-physician relationship, inter-professional collaboration, and "What is an Ideal Physician?" Students will be asked to develop a plan of preparation for their premedical undergraduate experience. Not applicable for major or minor requirements.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 165 - Foundations of Biology

Credits: 4,5

First semester of a full-year sequence addressing the foundational principles in biology. Explores the cellular and molecular basis of life, principles of heredity, biodiversity and classification of organisms excluding animals, and plant form and function. 5 credits when offered during the academic year, 4 credits when taken at the Rosario Beach Marine Laboratory during the summer.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 5 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 166 - Foundations of Biology

Credits: 4,5

Second semester of a full-year sequence addressing the foundational principles in biology. Explores biodiversity and classification of animals, animal form and function, history of life on earth, and ecology. Five credits when offered during the academic year, 4 credits when taken at the Rosario Beach Marine Laboratory during the summer.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 5 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 170 - Rocks, Fossils, and Life

Credits: 4

What can we learn from the study of rocks and fossils and the processes that form them? How does this study help us understand the past, and why is it important to our understanding of life today—especially human life and culture? How can rocks and fossils give us insight into global change and environmental degradation? How do these questions interface with Christian belief and responsibility? The course will explore these and similar questions in geology and paleontology. Meets the life science general education requirement; no previous science background required.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Odd years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 208 - Environmental Science

Credits: 4

Study of basic ecological principles as applied to human activities. Discussions deal with contemporary environmental issues. Lab includes field trips, guest speakers, and experiments. Meets certain state educational certification requirements.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab, Interactive Online, Self-Paced

Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 221 - Anatomy and Physiology I

Credits: 4

First semester of a full-year sequence addressing the structure and function of the human organism. Surveys introductory biological chemistry, cell biology, histology, and the structure, function, and control of the integumentary, skeletal, muscular, nervous, and sensory systems. Does not apply to a biology major or minor; applies to a human biology minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 222 - Anatomy and Physiology II

Credits: 4

Second semester of a full-year sequence addressing the structure and function of the human organism. Surveys the structure, function, and control of the endocrine, cardiovascular, circulatory, respiratory, urinary, digestive and reproductive systems. Does not apply to a biology major or minor; applies to the human biology minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): BIOL 221
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 260 - General Microbiology

Credits: 4

Includes history, morphology, classification, control, growth, transmission, and pathogenicity of selected bacteria, viruses, rickettsia, fungi, and parasites. Covers the nature of host defenses against pathogens, including the acquisition of specific immunity and immune disorders. Does not apply to a biology major or minor; applies to the human biology minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and two 1.5-hour labs
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 280 - Biostatistics and Research Design

Credits: 3

An introduction to research design and statistical methods in quantitative biology. Topics include probability, basic study design, descriptive statistics, sampling, contingency tables, t-tests, one- and two-way analysis of variance, correlation, and simple linear regression. Both parametric and non-parametric techniques are explored. Computational exercises will use the Excel and SPSS packages.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): BIOL 165, BIOL 166, MATH 145 or higher or MPE ? 3
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 285 - Research Seminar in Biology

Credits: 0

Required for at least 5 semesters for biology or biotechnology (biology emphasis) majors (or each semester for students who transfer into biology with less than 5 semesters remaining). Each registration will require students to attend and report on at least 3 departmentally approved research seminars during that semester.

Lecture/Lab: For semester: Attend and report on at least 3 approved research seminars.
Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Seminar

Term Offering: Fall, Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 305 - Scientific Communication

Credits: 2

A practical introduction to scientific communication. This course will focus on developing the fundamental skills required to convey information in the form of grant proposals, oral and poster presentations and research articles.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): BIOL 280
Prerequisite(s): COMM 104 and ENGL 215. Honors students: HONS 115H.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 316 - Human Embryology

Credits: 1

Acquaints students with the process of human development and embryology.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Recommended: Prior or concurrent registration in BIOL 485 is recommended.
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 345 - Field Ecology

Credits: 3–6

The course will introduce core ecological principles as applied to individual, population, community, and ecosystem levels of organizations along with hands-on experience in field ecology. Students will develop group and individual projects in aquatic and terrestrial ecosystems and develop skills in natural history observation and journaling and field research design, data analysis, and scientific communication.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture
Special Approval: Instructor permission required

College Code: CAS

BIOL 348 - General Ecology

Credits: 3

Ecological principles as applied to individual, population, community, and ecosystem levels of organization. Labs feature the characterization of ecological systems using standard field and lab techniques.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): BIOL 165, BIOL 166 or BIOL 208
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 371 - Genetics

Credits: 3

Mechanisms of heredity are considered in light of classical population and molecular genetics. Labs feature experience in Drosophila genetics, chromosome analysis, statistical techniques, and recombinant DNA technology.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures, a recitation and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166, and completion of or simultaneous enrollment in CHEM 131.
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 372 - Cell and Molecular Biology

Credits: 3

Information from molecular biology, biochemistry, biophysics, physical chemistry, and electron microscopy are integrated to present the cell as a functional unit.

Labs provide experience in the collection and analysis of quantitative data about cells.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166, and completion of or simultaneous enrollment in CHEM 132.

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

BIOL 405 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4

Investigates various specialties of biology.

Lecture/Lab: One lecture or lab for each credit

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: CAS

BIOL 415 - Genomics, Proteomics, and Bioinformatics

Credits: 3

An examination of the wealth of information to be found in our genomes and proteomes, the techniques used to produce and analyze these data, and its implications for biomedicine and related fields. Online databases and bioinformatics tools will be used extensively.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 165 and BIOL 166. Laptop required.

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Even years

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

BIOL 420 - Immunology

Credits: 3

This course introduces principles of immunology, including cells and organs comprising the immune system, innate and adaptive immune responses, generation of lymphocyte receptor diversity, antibody structure and function, and cell mediated immunity, as well as clinical applications such as autoimmune disease, tumor immunology and vaccination. Integrated into the course is a laboratory offering practical experience with basic techniques used in immunology.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and 1 lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 165, BIOL 166.

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Even years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 428 - Paleobiology

Credits: 3

Covers various specialties including general and vertebrate paleontology. Surveys the origins, history, adaptations, diversity and paleoecology of ancient organisms as documented by the fossil record.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166.

Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Even years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 430 - Molecular Laboratory Techniques

Credits: 3

Acquaints students with modern lab techniques of molecular biology. The manipulation and study of nucleic acids and proteins using model systems.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and 2 labs

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 440 - Electron Microscopy in Biological Investigations

Credits: 3

Lectures cover the theory, functions, and use of the transmission and scanning electron microscopes. Two 3-hour labs per week provide hands-on experience in the techniques involved in scanning and transmission electron microscopy, including use of the ultramicrotome.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and two 3-hour labs

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Alternate years (even)

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 447 - Cell and Tissue Culture

Credits: 3

A study of the methods and applications of animal cell culture. Topics will include laboratory safety and equipment, primary and established cell lines, culture contamination, cell transformation and differentiation, and cell transfection.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and 1 lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166.

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Odd years

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

BIOL 449 - Historical and Philosophical Biology

Credits: 3

Examination of biological, paleontological, and geological concepts central to the study of historical events in biological systems. Considers the interactions of data, theories, and extra scientific concepts in historical biology, within the particular context of a biblical worldview.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166.

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

BIOL 450 - Neuropsychopharmacology

Credits: 3

A study of the mechanisms of actions of psychotropic agents and how they affect human perception and behavior. Emphasis is placed on the organization and function of the nervous system and the molecular and biochemical basis of drugs used to treat behavioral and clinical disorders.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PSYC 101 or PSYC 180; BIOL 221, BIOL 222 or BIOL 165, BIOL 166.

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

BIOL 454 - Vertebrate Zoology

Credits: 3

Covers the various specialties of vertebrate biology, including herpetology, ornithology, and mammalogy.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics.

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Special Approval: Open to non-science majors.

Term Offering: Mammalogy (Fall), Ornithology (Spring)

College Code: CAS

BIOL 456 - Marine Botany

Credits: 3.5

A systematic study of the marine plants found in Puget Sound, with a survey of marine plants from other areas.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): BIOL 590

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: As scheduled - only at the Rosario Beach Marine Laboratory

Term Offering: Summer

College Code: CAS

BIOL 458 - Marine Invertebrates

Credits: 3.5

Biology of invertebrates studied in the marine environment of Puget Sound. A survey of the various phyla is conducted by studying the living animals in the field, and by tide pool observation, dredging, and scuba diving. A project on a specific group or species is required.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): BIOL 590

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: As scheduled - only at the Rosario Beach Marine Laboratory

Term Offering: Summer

College Code: CAS

BIOL 459 - Entomology

Credits: 3

Study of the fundamental aspects of insect biology.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Odd years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 464 - Systems Physiology

Credits: 4

Functional processes used by animals in adjusting to their external environment and controlling their internal environment. Labs involve the firsthand analysis of selected aspects of the major functional systems.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3.5-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166, CHEM 131.

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 465 - Histology

Credits: 3

Microscopic anatomy, cytology, ultrastructure of tissues and organ systems are correlated with function. Emphasis on normal tissues of vertebrates.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

BIOL 475 - Biology of Bacteria

Credits: 3

Study of the properties of bacteria that illustrate their function and relationship to other living systems. Topics include structure and function, classification, and interaction with the environment.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166; Organic Chemistry recommended (CHEM 231,CHEM 232, CHEM 241,CHEM 242).

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 476 - Biodiversity of Vascular Plants

Credits: 4

A taxonomic and morphological study of vascular plants emphasizing the plants found in the Great Lakes area. Field trips.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Special Approval: Open to non-science majors.

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 477 - Neurobiology

Credits: 3

The neural basis of behavior, with some emphasis on the human nervous system, including cellular and molecular approaches to neuron function, development of neurons and circuits, and neuro-endocrine mechanisms. Labs develop skills in electrophysiology and neuroanatomy.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 478 - Study Tour:

Credits: 0

Travel to destinations relevant to individual programs of study. Classes will be selected from department(s) offerings. Fee may be required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Noncredit (NC,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Blended Learning

College Code: CAS

BIOL 479 - Marine Ecology

Credits: 3.5

A study of interspecific, intraspecific, and community relationships demonstrated by marine organisms.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: As scheduled - only at the Rosario Beach Marine Laboratory

Term Offering: Summer

College Code: CAS

BIOL 484 - Animal Behavior

Credits: 3

Behavior of animals including considerations of social interactions, learning processes, instinct, motivation, experimental methods, and the analysis of behavior patterns characteristic of various species.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Even years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 485 - Developmental Biology

Credits: 3

A study of the cellular and tissue-level events that result in the development of integrated organisms. Vertebrate and invertebrate model systems will be examined and compared with plants. Lab activities include vertebrate developmental anatomy and experimental approaches to understanding basic developmental processes.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166 Foundations of Biology

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 487 - Biogeography

Credits: 3

The distribution of plants and animals in relation to their environment, including consideration of major biogeographic regions of the world and the role of distribution in adaptive change and diversification of life in the past and present.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour conference period
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 495 - Independent Research in Biology

Credits: 0–4

An independent research project in biology under the direction of a biology instructor. A minimum of 4 hours work per week is required for each credit earned (and for the 0-credit option), and a written paper is required.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
Special Approval: Instructor permission required.

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: CAS

BIOL 496 - Independent Study in Biology

Credits: 1–4

Independent study of a selected field in biology under the direction of a biology instructor. A minimum of 4 hours work per week is required for each credit earned and a written paper is required.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Schedule Type: Independent
Special Approval: Instructor permission required.

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: CAS

BIOL 497 - Internship in Biotechnology

Credits: 1–6

An internship where students apply course and lab preparation in an extended hands-on laboratory experience in either on- or off-campus setting. 50 hours of work per semester credit hour.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): Permission of biotechnology faculty.
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: CAS

BIOL 515 - Genomics, Proteomics, and Bioinformatics

Credits: 3

An examination of the wealth of information to be found in our genomes and proteomes, the techniques used to produce and analyze these data, and implications for biomedicine and related fields. Online databases and bioinformatics tools will be used extensively. Students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of primary literature.

Lecture/Lab: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): BIOL 165 and BIOL 166 . Laptop required.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years (even)
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 516 - Behavior of Marine Organisms

Credits: 3.5

Study of inter- and intra-specific behavior of marine animals and their behavioral response to the physical environment. Involves lab experience, field observation, and a research project.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Special Approval: Instructor permission required.

Year Offering: As scheduled - only at the Rosario Beach Marine Laboratory

Term Offering: Summer

College Code: CAS

BIOL 521 - Immunology

Credits: 3

This course introduces principles of immunology, including cells and organs comprising the immune system, innate and adaptive immune responses, generation of lymphocyte receptor diversity, antibody structure and function, and cell mediated immunity, as well as clinical applications such as autoimmune disease, tumor immunology and vaccination. Integrated into the course is a laboratory offering practical experience with basic techniques used in immunology. In addition to a broad survey of immunology, students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years (even)
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 526 - Mathematical Modeling in Biology

Credits: 3

Theory and application of linear and nonlinear mathematical models of biological processes. Topics selected from discrete- and continuous-time deterministic and stochastic modeling, analytic solution techniques, linearization, bifurcations, chaos, computer simulation, model parameterization, and model validation.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 191 or MATH 195, or permission from instructor.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years (odd)
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 528 - Paleobiology

Credits: 3

Covers various specialties including general and vertebrate paleontology. Surveys the origins, history, adaptations, diversity and paleoecology of ancient organisms as documented by the fossil record. Students will also engage selected topics more deeply through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture/lab
Year Offering: Alternate years (even)
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 530 - Molecular Laboratory Techniques

Credits: 3

Acquaints students with modern lab techniques of molecular biology. The manipulation and study of nucleic acids and proteins using model systems. In addition, students will deeply engage in selected topics through an additional research project and lecture topic presentation.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and two 3-hour labs
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years (odd)
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 540 - Electron Microscopy in Biological Investigations

Credits: 3

Lectures cover the theory, functions, and use of the transmission and scanning electron microscopes. Two 3-hour labs per week provide hands-on experience in the techniques involved in scanning and transmission electron microscopy, including use of the ultramicrotome. In addition, students will deeply engage selected topics through additional research project and lecture topic presentation.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and two 3-hour labs

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years (even)
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 547 - Cell and Tissue Culture

Credits: 3
A study of the methods and applications of animal cell culture. Topics will include laboratory safety and equipment, primary and established cell lines, culture contamination, cell transformation and differentiation, and cell transfection. In addition to this survey of topics, students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years (odd)
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 550 - Issues in Origins and Speciation

Credits: 3
A comparative survey of the assumptions, attitudes, methods, and conclusions of science and religion in the handling of data. Attention is given to current scientific data and their relationship to an understanding of earth history and the present diversity of life.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 554 - Vertebrate Zoology

Credits: 3
Covers the various specialties of vertebrate biology, including herpetology, ornithology, and mammalogy. In addition to a broad survey of vertebrate biology, students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
College Code: CAS

BIOL 555 - Neuropsychopharmacology

Credits: 3
A study of the mechanisms of actions of psychotropic agents and how they affect human perception and behavior. Emphasis is placed on the organization and function of the nervous system and the molecular and biochemical basis of drugs used to treat behavioral and clinical disorders. In addition to a broad survey of neuropsychopharmacology, students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: 2 lectures & a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): PSYC 101 or PSYC 180 ; BIOL 221 , BIOL 222 or BIOL 165 , BIOL 166
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 559 - Entomology

Credits: 3
Study of the fundamental aspects of insect biology. In addition to a broad survey of entomology, students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: 2 lectures & a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years (odd)
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 564 - Systems Physiology

Credits: 3
Functional processes used by animals in adjusting to their external environment and controlling their internal environment. Labs involve the firsthand analysis of selected aspects of the major functional systems.

Lecture/Lab: 3 lectures & a 3.5-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166 , CHEM 131
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 565 - Histology

Credits: 3
Microscopic anatomy, cytology, ultrastructure of tissues and organ systems are correlated with function. Emphasis on normal tissues of vertebrates. In addition to a broad survey of histology, students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: 2 lectures & a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

BIOL 575 - Biology of Bacteria

Credits: 3
Study of the properties of bacteria that illustrate their function and relationship to other living systems. Topics include structure and function, classification and interaction with the environment. Students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Recommended: CHEM 231 CHEM 232 CHEM 241 CHEM 242 or equivalent, full year course in Organic Chemistry
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 576 - Biodiversity of Vascular Plants

Credits: 4
A taxonomic and morphological study of vascular plants emphasizing the plants found in the Great Lakes area. In addition to a broad survey of vascular plants, students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature. Field trips.

Lecture/Lab: 3 lectures & a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Special Approval: Open to non-science majors.

Year Offering: Alternate years (even)
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 577 - Neurobiology

Credits: 3
The neural basis of behavior, with some emphasis on the human nervous system, including cellular and molecular approaches to neuron function, development of neurons and circuits, and neuro-endocrine mechanisms. Labs develop skills in electrophysiology and neuroanatomy. In addition to a broad survey of neurobiology, students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

BIOL 584 - Animal Behavior

Credits: 3

Behavior of animals including considerations of social interactions, learning processes, instinct, motivation, experimental methods, and the analysis of behavior patterns characteristic of various species. In addition to a broad survey of animal behavior, students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Year Offering: Even years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 585 - Developmental Biology

Credits: 3

A study of the cellular and tissue-level events that result in the development of integrated organisms. Vertebrate and invertebrate model systems will be examined and compared with plants. Lab activities include vertebrate developmental anatomy and experimental approaches to understanding basic developmental processes. Students will also engage selected topics more deeply through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 166

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

BIOL 587 - Biogeography

Credits: 3

The distribution of plants and animals in relation to their environment, including consideration of major biogeographic regions of the world and the role of distribution in adaptive change and diversification of life in the past and present. In addition to a broad survey of biogeography, students will deeply engage selected topics through original research, or through synthesis and critical analysis of relevant literature.

Lecture/Lab: 2 lectures & a 3-hour lab period

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

BIOL 590 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4

Investigates various specialties of biology.

Lecture/Lab: One-hour lecture or a 3-hour lab for each credit

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lecture/Lab

College Code: CAS

BIOL 648 - Workshop

Credits: 1–4

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Workshop

College Code: CAS

BIOL 655 - Program Continuation

Credits: 0

Students may register for this non-credit continuation course to maintain active status. For additional information on active status, refer to the Graduate Academic Policies. Registration does not indicate full-time status.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: CAS

BIOL 660 - Thesis Continuation

Credits: 0

Student may register for this title while clearing deferred grade (DG) and/or incomplete (I) courses with advisor approval only. This course qualifies for full-time status, requiring a minimum of 480 hours of work per semester of registration.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Course Attribute: Full-time status

BIOL 681 - Research Methods and Biology Seminar I

Credits: 2

An introduction to graduate studies in biology, the nature and methods of science, principles of research ethics, and exploration of research opportunities in the Department of Biology. Attendance to all biology department seminars is required.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Schedule Type: Seminar

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BIOL 682 - Research Methods and Biology Seminar II

Credits: 2

In this second semester of Research Methods and Biology Seminar, graduate students survey current literature and prepare a formal research proposal. Students give an oral presentation of the research proposal at the end of the semester. Attendance to all biology department seminars is required.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Schedule Type: Seminar

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

BIOL 690 - Independent Study

Credits: 1–4

Independent study in biology under the direction of the instructor. Consent of instructor required.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: CAS

BIOL 697 - Research in Biology

Credits: 1–4

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 4 credits

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: CAS

BIOL 699 - Master's Thesis

Credits: 4

This course qualifies for full-time status, requiring a minimum of 480 hours of work per semester of registration.

Course Attribute: Full-time status

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 8 credits

Mission

The mission of the Department of Chemistry & Biochemistry within the context of a Seventh-day Adventist Christian worldview is to assist all students to excel in developing their analytical and critical reasoning skills, using fundamental chemical principles and computational methods; prepare our chemistry and biochemistry majors to enter graduate school, professional school, the chemical industry, or the teaching profession, in a diverse world; develop in our students an understanding of responsible, environmentally sensitive use of global resources; engage students and faculty in the process of discovery and creativity in the research lab and the classroom to model a life of personal and professional integrity.

Students who plan to major in chemistry or biochemistry are expected to have entrance credit in the preparatory subjects of chemistry and mathematics (including algebra and trigonometry); a background in physics is desirable. Those who do not have entrance credit or equivalent training in these subjects, particularly mathematics, may not fulfill the department graduation requirements in four years.

Students are encouraged to plan early for an on-campus or off-campus research experience required of all students in the Bachelor of Science degree programs in chemistry and biochemistry (ACS) and strongly recommended for those in the Bachelor of Science degree program in biochemistry. This experience may take the form of a cooperative educational research experience or research in an academic, industrial, or governmental laboratory setting. Interested students should consult the department chair.

American Chemical Society Certification

Students desiring American Chemical Society certification must

Complete the required courses for the (ACS) Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry or biochemistry as spelled out in this bulletin.

Achieve a minimum GPA of 3.00 in all chemistry courses taken at Andrews University.

Satisfactorily complete a research or cooperative educational experience in chemistry.

A complete statement of certification requirements is available from the department chair.

Biotechnology, Chemistry Concentration BS

Program Description

Biotechnology is an industry that is growing by leaps and bounds. The biotechnology program at Andrews University aims to transform students into scientists of the highest caliber and ethical standard that can contribute to this industry in many capacities. Through a broad and interdisciplinary training in the biosciences, students will develop the practical scientific and communication skills necessary for employment in biotechnology. They will also develop in their knowledge of the ethical issues that frequently arise in this discipline. Areas of study include genetics, genomics and proteomics, biochemistry, and techniques in molecular cloning and analysis. Students specialize in either biological or chemical aspects of biotechnology. An internship requirement will introduce students to the biotechnology workforce and help them to make connections that may lead to future employment.

Andrews Core Experience 43-49*

Students must take all courses designated in the BA & BS Degree Requirements of the Andrews Core Experience or the Honors Andrews Core Experience (SAGES) while noting the following requirements and recommendations.

*49 credits for standard GE package; 41 credits for Honors.

Religion

RELT 385 - Bioethics and Christian Faith Credits: 3

Or HONS 380 - Topic in Bioethics & Christian Faith Credits: 3 (for SAGES students)

Math

Choose one of the following courses:

MATH 168 - Precalculus Credits: 4

MATH 191 - Calculus I Credits: 4 (recommended)

MATH 195 - Calculus I for Biology Credits: 4 (recommended)

Social Sciences

Pre Med Students will need to take the following courses:

PSYC 101 - Introduction to Psychology Credits: 3

SOCI 119 - Principles of Sociology Credits: 3

Undergraduate Electives: 7-19

Students must take 10-17 credits from any college level courses.

Program Objectives

Program Outcomes

Knowledge: Students will demonstrate a comprehensive knowledge and understanding of the properties and interrelationships of materials relevant to biological and chemical analysis.

Communication Skills: Students will effectively communicate biotechnical information to a diversity of audiences using a variety of formats. Students will obtain relevant biotechnical information from web-accessible databases.

Technical Skills, Safety, and Environmental Stewardship: Students will demonstrate competency in common biotechnology lab activities and instrumentation. Students will demonstrate commonly accepted laboratory safety and waste management practices.

Interdisciplinary Teamwork: Students will utilize positive team behaviors to accomplish interdisciplinary tasks.

Ethical Use of Biotechnical Information and Techniques: Students will execute the highest standards of integrity and ethics during their professional training activities.

Mission

To transform the student of science into a scientist of the highest caliber and ethical standard.

Goals

The biotechnology program aims to provide a broad and interdisciplinary training in the biosciences, educate students in the communication of science and the ethical use of scientific knowledge and skills, foster the development of practical scientific skills necessary for employment in the biotechnology sector, introduce students to the workforce through internship opportunities.

Courses in economics and marketing are strongly recommended.

A reading knowledge of German or French, although not required for professional undergraduate education in chemistry, is strongly recommended for students planning advanced study.

Students desiring American Chemical Society certification must achieve a minimum GPA of 3.00 in all chemistry courses taken at Andrews University.

Chemistry BS (Secondary Education)

Students majoring in chemistry or biochemistry in preparation for teaching in secondary schools must complete the degree requirements for Chemistry BS, Chemistry BS (ACS approved), Biochemistry BS or Biochemistry BS (ACS Approved), and the Andrews Core Experience listed below. They must also consult with an advisor in the department of Teaching, Learning & Curriculum who can guide them through the teacher preparation program successfully. In order for Andrews University to recommend a student for certification, the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) subject area exams must be passed in both the major and minor chosen by the student.

Students minoring in chemistry in preparation for teaching in secondary schools must complete the degree requirements for Chemistry Minor, Secondary Education Emphasis.

Study of the fundamental principles of enzyme kinetics and mechanisms based on the structure and chemistry of biomolecules including amino acids, carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, nucleotides, nucleic acids, and biological membranes.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 4 lectures

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 232

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

BCHM 422 - Biochemistry II

Credits: 3

Continuation of BCHM 421 including selected topics of hormone and regulatory biochemistry, the study of the four primary neurotransmitter systems and an overview of selected human pathologies emphasizing cancer biochemistry and biology.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BCHM 421

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

BCHM 430 - Biochemistry Lab

Credits: 1

Introduction to quantitative and qualitative methods for the isolation, purification and identification of biological materials and applications of enzyme kinetics.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: one 4-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): BCHM 421

Recommended: BCHM 422

Schedule Type: Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

BCHM 521 - Biochemistry I

Credits: 3

Study of the fundamental principles of enzyme kinetics and mechanisms based on the structure and chemistry of biomolecules including amino acids, carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, nucleotides, nucleic acids and biological membranes.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 232

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Summer

College Code: CAS

Chemistry

CHEM 100 - Consumer Chemistry

Credits: 4

A one-semester course primarily for non-science majors presenting an introduction to fundamental concepts of chemistry to convey an appreciative understanding of the nature of chemistry and how it is applied to our daily lives. Topics of consumer chemistry to be studied will be selected from fuels, energy, polymers, fertilizers, pesticides, food and food additives, household cleaners, cosmetics and personal care chemicals, pharmaceuticals, and air and water pollution. Not applicable toward a major or minor in chemistry or biochemistry.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Course Attribute: Fulfills the General Education Natural Science requirement

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

CHEM 110 - Introduction to Inorganic Chemistry

Credits: 4

An introduction to the principles and applications of inorganic chemistry; for nursing, dietetics, and allied health students. Not applicable toward a major or minor in chemistry or biochemistry.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Course Attribute: Fulfills the General Education Natural Science requirement

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

CHEM 120 - Introduction to Biotechnology

Credits: 1

Introduces students to the field of biotechnology through lecture and guest presentations.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

CHEM 131 - General Chemistry I

Credits: 4

This first course in chemistry is for students planning to major in science and engineering. Topics include stoichiometry, atomic and molecular structure, bonding, states of matter, solutions, chemical kinetics, and chemical equilibrium.

132

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 5 lectures and one 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MPE greater than or equal to P3, or passing grade in MATH 165 , MATH 166 , MATH 168 or above, or MATH 191 , MATH 195

Recommended: High school chemistry or physics strongly recommended.

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

CHEM 132 - General Chemistry II

Credits: 4

A continuation of CHEM 131 with topics including thermodynamics, acid and base chemistry, descriptive and nuclear chemistry.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 5 lectures and one 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): a grade of C- or better in CHEM 131

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

CHEM 175 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4

Investigates various subdisciplines of chemistry or biochemistry. This course does not contribute to a major or minor in chemistry.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and/or lab for each lower-division credit taken

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Prerequisite(s): Permission of instructor and chair.

Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: CAS

CHEM 195 - Independent Research I

Credits: 0–3

Students will either assist a faculty member in an ongoing research project or develop a project of their own with the help and approval of the faculty member in their areas of interest or study. This course is for students who are beginning to establish their knowledge of chemistry and biochemistry.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: a minimum of 4 hours of work per credit

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

Special Approval: Permission of faculty member required.

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer

College Code: CAS

CHEM 200 - Quantitative Analysis

Credits: 4

Lecture topics include statistics, chemical equilibrium, titrimetric procedures, gravimetric procedures, and electrochemistry. Laboratory experiments include gravimetric procedures and titrimetric procedures of acid and base systems and redox systems, electrochemistry, and an introduction to instrumental methods.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and two 4-hour labs

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 132

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

CHEM 210 - Current Chemistry Topics

Credits: 0

Attendance at departmental seminar series devoted to topics in current chemical research as presented by students, faculty, and guest speakers.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 seminar

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring
College Code: CAS

CHEM 231 - Organic Chemistry I

Credits: 3

The chemistry of carbon-containing compounds with emphasis on nomenclature, molecular structure, spectra-structure relationships, and a mechanistic approach to organic reactions.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 4 lectures
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 132
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CHEM 232 - Organic Chemistry II

Credits: 3

This course is a continuation of CHEM 231

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 4 lectures
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 231
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CHEM 241 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory I

Credits: 1

Experiments related to the course content of CHEM 231 .

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and one 4-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 231 or concurrent enrollment in CHEM 231
Schedule Type: Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CHEM 242 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory II

Credits: 1

Experiments related to the course content of CHEM 232 .

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and one 4-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 232 or concurrent enrollment in CHEM 232 .
Schedule Type: Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CHEM 290 - Independent Study

Credits: 1–3

Independent study of selected topics in biochemistry or chemistry under the supervision of a biochemistry or chemistry professor. Ordinarily a minimum of three hours of study per week is expected for each credit. The instructor may require written reports or oral presentations.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable to 4 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
Special Approval: Instructor permission required

College Code: CAS

CHEM 295 - Independent Research II

Credits: 0–3

Students will either assist a faculty member in an ongoing research project or develop a project of their own with the help and approval of the faculty member in their areas of interest or study. This course is for students who are establishing their knowledge of chemistry and biochemistry at the college level.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: a minimum of 4 hours of work per credit
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Prerequisite(s): A passing grade in CHEM 132 required
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
Special Approval: Permission of faculty member required.

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: CAS

CHEM 300 - Laboratory Glassblowing

Credits: 2

Practice of fundamental glassblowing skills common to both scientific and creative glassblowing. Two projects are required. The student may choose between scientific and creative projects. Not applicable toward a major or minor in chemistry or biochemistry. Does not meet the general education requirement in natural science.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture demonstration and a 4-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab
Year Offering: Even years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CHEM 311 - Seminar in Chemistry

Credits: 0.5

First half of semester consists of two meetings per week: one is an introduction to chemical literature and computer searching of Chemical Abstracts and chemical databases, the other meeting is the regular seminar series presented by students, faculty, and invited speakers. This course is required of, and open only to, junior chemistry and biochemistry majors, and attendance for both semesters is required for one credit.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two meetings during first half of semester, one meeting during remainder of semester
Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 232
Schedule Type: Seminar
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CHEM 312 - Seminar in Chemistry

Credits: 0.5

Continuation of CHEM 311. This course is required of, and open only to, junior chemistry and biochemistry majors.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 seminar
Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 311
Schedule Type: Seminar
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CHEM 340 - Environmental Chemistry

Credits: 4

A survey of environmental and energy-related problems. Topics include air, soil, and water pollution, energy and other resources, solid wastes and recycling, and toxic chemicals. Not applicable toward a major in chemistry or biochemistry.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 4-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 132
Recommended: CHEM 200 or CHEM 232 strongly recommended
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab
Year Offering: Odd years
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CHEM 375 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4

Investigates various subdisciplines of chemistry or biochemistry. Each individual topics course will be evaluated to determine whether it contributes to a major or minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and/or lab for each upper-division credit taken
Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Prerequisite(s): Permission of instructor and chair, and appropriate foundational courses.
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: CAS

CHEM 400 - Chemical Separations and Analysis

Credits: 2

Theory and practice of analytical separations by extraction and chromatographic methods including flash column, thin layer, high pressure liquid, gas, and affinity chromatography. After separation, the components of mixtures are analyzed by a variety of spectroscopic techniques that may include nuclear magnetic resonance, infrared spectroscopy and/or mass spectrometry.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and a 4-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 200, CHEM 231, and CHEM 241

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

CHEM 405 - Medicinal Chemistry

Credits: 2

Medicinal Chemistry is an interdisciplinary subject incorporating basic principles of organic chemistry, biology, biochemistry, toxicology, pharmacology, and molecular biology to understand how biologically active compounds (pharmaceuticals) operate in living systems. Selected topics in medicinal and pharmaceutical chemistry including the design and synthesis of new drugs as well as their pharmacodynamic and pharmacokinetic properties will be covered. We will also examine the path of pharmaceuticals from inception to clinical use by studying specific classes of drugs.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 232

Recommended: BCHM 421 is recommended either as a prerequisite or corequisite.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

CHEM 410 - Forensic Chemistry

Credits: 2

Principles of chemistry as applied to the methods of analysis and identification of drugs. Rules of evidence as they apply to testimony in court. Observation of drug-related court procedures.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and two 3-hour labs

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 200, CHEM 232

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Special Approval: Participation must be arranged with the instructor at least 2 months prior to beginning of course.

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

CHEM 411 - Seminar in Chemistry

Credits: 0.5

Departmental seminar series devoted to topics in current chemical research as presented by students, faculty, and guest speakers. During the semester, each student prepares and presents a seminar. This course is required of, and open only to, senior chemistry and biochemistry majors, and attendance for both semesters is required for one credit.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 seminar

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 312

Schedule Type: Seminar

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

CHEM 412 - Seminar in Chemistry

Credits: 0.5

Continuation of CHEM 411. During the semester, each student prepares and presents a seminar. This course is required of, and open only to, senior chemistry and biochemistry majors.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 411

Schedule Type: Seminar

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

CHEM 415 - Advanced Inorganic Chemistry

Credits: 4

Atomic and molecular structure, symmetry, group theory, solid state, acids and bases; structure, bonding, spectra, and reaction mechanisms of d-metal complexes, systematic chemistry of non-metals; organometallic chemistry and catalysis.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 4 lectures

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 232, CHEM 431

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Alternate years (even)

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

CHEM 418 - Chemistry & Biochemistry Seminar

Credits: 2

In this course, each student will demonstrate and integrate chemistry- and/or biochemistry-specific knowledge, communication skills and critical thinking acquired during the student's study of chemistry and biochemistry. A comprehensive written paper explaining the student's literature-based or lab-based research and a publically presented technical seminar are required. Students are also expected to demonstrate the development of professional skills. This course is recommended for students within 1-3 semesters of graduation. Enrollment is limited.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Corequisite(s): CHEM 210

Prerequisite(s): COMM 104 or COMM 320

ENGL 215

CHEM 232 and CHEM 242

And one of the following: CHEM 200, BCHM 421, or CHEM 431 (with CHEM 441)

Recommended: One of the following is required, but more are recommended: CHEM 200, BCHM 421, or CHEM 431 (with CHEM 441)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

CHEM 430 - Instrumental Analysis

Credits: 2

Theory and practice of chemical analysis by spectroscopic and electrochemical methods. Introduction to automated data collection and computer control of instruments. Operational theory that emphasizes hands-on student learning for a broad range of analytical instruments commonly used by industry and academia including: UV-Vis-NIR, fluorescence, atomic, and laser spectrophotometers; potentiostats; and analog and digital electronics.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and a 4-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 200, MATH 192

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

CHEM 431 - Physical Chemistry I

Credits: 3

Fundamental concepts in chemical thermodynamics, free energy, chemical equilibria, phase changes, solutions, molecular transport, chemical dynamics, and electrochemistry.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Choose one set.

Set 1: CHEM 200, MATH 192, PHYS 142 (or PHYS 242, PHYS 272)

Set 2: MATH 192, PHYS 241, PHYS 271, ENGR 285, and one of (MATH 240, MATH 286). Co-requisite: CHEM 200

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

CHEM 432 - Physical Chemistry II

Credits: 3

Wave mechanics, atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, atomic and molecular spectroscopies, and applications to chemical dynamics and statistical thermodynamics.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 431,
and one of: MATH 286 or MATH 240
Recommended: Both MATH 286 and MATH 240 are strongly recommended
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate years (odd)
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CHEM 441 - Physical Chemistry Laboratory I

Credits: 1
Experiments related to the course content of CHEM 431.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: one 4-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): concurrent enrollment in CHEM 431
Schedule Type: Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CHEM 442 - Physical Chemistry Laboratory II

Credits: 1
Experiments related to the course content of CHEM 432.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: one 4-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): concurrent enrollment in CHEM 432
Schedule Type: Lab
Year Offering: Alternate years (odd)
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CHEM 470 - Modern Synthetic Techniques

Credits: 2
An advanced laboratory course designed to incorporate a wide variety of modern synthetic techniques of organic, organometallic, and inorganic chemistry.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 4-hour labs
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 474, CHEM 415 or concurrent enrollment in CHEM 415
Schedule Type: Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CHEM 474 - Advanced Topics in Organic Chemistry

Credits: 2
Study of the principles of modern synthetic organic chemistry with applications from one or more of the following areas: natural product, medicinal, or polymer chemistry.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 232
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CHEM 475 - Advanced Topics in Physical Chemistry

Credits: 2
Advanced study of molecular spectroscopy, statistical thermodynamics, chemical dynamics, or the application of quantum mechanics.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 432 or CHEM 431 and permission of the instructor
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

CHEM 490 - Independent Study

Credits: 1-3
Independent study of selected topics in biochemistry or chemistry to enable advanced students to pursue topics not offered in scheduled courses. The student will study under the supervision of a biochemistry or chemistry professor. Ordinarily a minimum of four hours of study per week is expected for each credit. The instructor may require written reports or oral presentations.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

CHEM 495 - Advanced Independent Research

Credits: 0-4
Students will either assist a faculty member in an ongoing research project or develop a project of their own with the help and approval of the faculty member in their areas of interest or study. This course is for students who have a reasonably established knowledge of chemistry and biochemistry at the college level.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: a minimum of 4 hours of work per credit
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Prerequisite(s): Passing grade in CHEM 232/CHEM 242 or (CHEM 200 and CHEM 231 /CHEM 241) required
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
Special Approval: Permission of faculty member required.

Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: CAS

CHEM 497 - Internship in Biotechnology

Credits: 1-6
An internship where students apply course and lab preparation in an extended hands-on laboratory experience in either on- or off-campus setting. 50 hours of work per semester credit hour.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Practicum
Term Offering: Fall, Spring, Summer
College Code: CAS

CHEM 530 - Topics in Teaching _____

Credits: 2-4
Each time the course is offered, it treats one of the following areas: Concepts in Chemistry; Fundamental ideas of chemistry Demonstrations; Simple experiments which illustrate chemical principles Problem-Solving Strategies; Exploration into the mental processes and logic behind problem-solving; None of the above areas are to occur twice in one student's program.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 232
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

CHEM 540 - Topics in _____

Credits: 2-4
Independent readings to be chosen in consultation with the instructor. A written report and an oral presentation covering the materials read are required. A minimum of 60 hours of work is required for each credit.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 431
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

Mission

The Engineering and Computer Science department aspires to be a place of choice for engineering and computer science education where dedicated students and faculty grow together to reach their God-given potential for service to society and the church.

Faculty and students in the Engineering and Computer Science Department will:

Seek Knowledge by:

- Exploring current knowledge in engineering and computing from a Christian viewpoint, within the broader context of the liberal arts.
- Creating a nurturing environment for a committed lifetime of intellectual discovery, problem-solving, and innovation.
- Enhancing learning through research and scholarship.
- Preparing students to join their chosen profession or attend graduate school.
- Engaging industry and professional stakeholders in the planning and assessing of our curriculum.

Affirm Faith by:

- Acknowledging the leadership of God in their lives.
- Acting with personal and moral integrity.
- Serving humanity in a complex, technological, global society.

Change the World by:

- Applying knowledge and skills to the care of their God-given home.
- Solving contemporary societal problems.
- Providing selfless service to others.

Bachelors

Computer Science BS

Computer Science prepares students to design and implement innovative computing solutions to real world problems. Areas of study include (but not limited to) algorithms, software engineering, graphics, artificial intelligence, robotics, databases, theory of computation, networks and Internet technologies. The program emphasizes both theory and practical applications of computing. A degree in Computer Science prepares students for employment in developing and maintaining commercial applications and for graduate studies.

Program Objectives

Student Outcomes

- An ability to apply knowledge of computing and mathematics appropriate to the discipline
- An ability to analyze a problem, and identify and define the computing requirements appropriate to its solution
- An ability to design, implement and evaluate a computer-based system, process, component or program to meet desired needs
- An ability to function effectively on teams to accomplish a common goal
- An understanding of professional, ethical, legal, security, and social issues and responsibilities
- An ability to communicate effectively with a range of audiences
- An ability to analyze the local and global impact of computing on individuals, organizations and society
- Recognition of the need for, and an ability to engage in, continuing professional development
- An ability to use current techniques, skills, and tools necessary for computing practices
- An ability to apply mathematical foundations, algorithmic principles, and computer science theory in the modeling and design of computer-based systems in a way that demonstrates comprehension of the tradeoffs involved in design choice
- An ability to apply design and development principles in the construction of software systems of varying complexity
- A well-rounded, Christ-centered life perspective through the integration of the entire Andrews University curriculum

Computing, Computer Science Concentration BS

Computer Science focuses on a study of computing as well as on its role in an application area. Areas of interest include artificial intelligence, compilers, computer architectures, computer graphics, computer networks, operating systems, program development, and analytical theory. A degree in computing with the Computer Science emphasis prepares students for graduate study, employment in computer systems/networks, administration/ development, software development/maintenance, and for careers in education.

Andrews Core Experience

Students must take all courses designated in the BS Degree Requirements of the Andrews Core Experience.

Program Requirements

Progression Requirements:

No grade lower than C- may be counted toward any degree requirement. An Engineering or Computing course may be repeated only once. Students may repeat only two Engineering or Computing courses. Students will be asked to withdraw from the program if they fail two Engineering or Computing courses in the same semester. Readmission will be considered on an individual basis. All prerequisites for CPTR courses must be passed with a minimum grade of C- before entry into the class it is required for. Transfer credits need to be submitted a minimum of six weeks prior to beginning of classes. Transfer students will be considered on an individual basis. Courses 200-level and above are restricted to admitted majors/minors only.

The major field examination in Computing is part of the senior exit test.

Computer Policy

The computer is a tool that is integral to the success of the computer scientist in her/his professional development. All students in the Computing program are required to have a computer and software meeting the program guidelines. The policy is updated yearly and will be in effect at the beginning of the Fall semester. It includes changes to reflect continual changes in technology. Computer purchases should be made such that the computer is ready for use on the first day of the semester.

Program Objectives

Student Outcomes

- An ability to apply knowledge of computing and mathematics appropriate to the discipline
- An ability to analyze a problem, and identify and define the computing requirements appropriate to its solution
- An ability to design, implement and evaluate a computer-based system, process, component or program to meet desired needs
- An ability to function effectively on teams to accomplish a common goal
- An understanding of professional, ethical, legal, security, and social issues and responsibilities
- An ability to communicate effectively with a range of audiences
- An ability to analyze the local and global impact of computing on individuals, organizations and society
- Recognition of the need for, and an ability to engage in, continuing professional development
- An ability to use current techniques, skills, and tools necessary for computing practices
- An ability to apply mathematical foundations, algorithmic principles, and computer science theory in the modeling and design of computer-based systems in a way that demonstrates comprehension of the tradeoffs involved in design choice
- An ability to apply design and development principles in the construction of software systems of varying complexity
- A well-rounded, Christ-centered life perspective through the integration of the entire Andrews University curriculum

Computing, Software Systems Concentration BS

Software Systems is focusing on the development and maintenance of software in an application area. A minor in an application area is included as part of the degree. Typical minors might include one of the sciences, behavioral science, or business. Supervised "real-world" projects are a requirement for this degree. A degree in Computing with the Software Systems emphasis prepares students for employment in developing and maintaining commercial applications and for graduate studies in applied computing such as software engineering.

Engineering, Electrical and Computer Engineering Concentration BSE

Program Description

Engineering builds on a strong traditional mathematics, science, and engineering core. The Electrical and Computer Engineering emphasis focuses on the areas of digital systems, communication systems, and computer controlled instrumentation and computer simulation.

The mathematics courses listed as cognates for the Engineering degree satisfy the requirements for a minor in mathematics. A second major in mathematics requires 6 additional credits in mathematics, and a second major in physics requires 14-17 additional credits in physics. See the Mathematics and Physics department listings for details.

Computing & Software Engineering

CPTR 151 - Computer Science I

Credits: 3

An introduction to programming methodology using a high level language, advanced operating system usage, problem-solving, algorithm development, control structures, arrays, program style, design correctness and documentation techniques, as well as a brief overview of computer systems and computer history.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

CPTR 152 - Computer Science II

Credits: 3

A continuation of CPTR151. Examines program specifications, design, coding, correctness, and style with additional coverage of pointers and arrays, and an in-depth study of recursion and data structures. Includes files, lists, stacks, queues, trees, graphs, and an overview of computer ethics.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): CPTR 151

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

CPTR 245 - Discrete Structures

Credits: 3

Formal mathematical structures and methods used in developing computing solutions are introduced. Their application in computer science is emphasized.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 168 or MPE score of P4 or higher

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CPTR 251 - Application Development I

Credits: 3

A study of techniques and concepts used for developing service applications. Aspects covered include the internet, web, databases, networking and object-oriented. Content adjusted based on current trends.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 151
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CPTR 252 - Application Development II

Credits: 3

A study of techniques and concepts used for developing endpoint applications for modern computing platforms such as mobile devices. The content is adjusted based on current trends.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 152
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CPTR 276 - Data Structures and Algorithms

Credits: 3

A study of techniques for the design and analysis and implementation of data structures and algorithms commonly used in computing. Includes introductions to asymptotic notation, sorting, search trees, hash tables, and graphs.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 152
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CPTR 285 - Systems Programming

Credits: 3

Organization of programs and data; program analysis, pointers, manual memory management, system calls, introduction to threads, embedded programming.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 151
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CPTR 295 - Directed Computer Language Study

Credits: 1–3

Directed study of computer language in consultation with the instructor. Normally, the language is not included in other courses taught by the department. A programming project may be required.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 152 or equivalent.
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

CPTR 425 - Programming Languages

Credits: 3

Survey of current programming languages, including structure, runtime systems, the specification of syntax, and semantics. Definition of syntax for formal languages with emphasis on context-free languages. Techniques for scanning and parsing programming languages.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 276
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CPTR 430 - Analysis of Algorithms

Credits: 3

An introduction to the design and analysis of advanced algorithms. Topics include asymptotic complexity bounds, graph and tree algorithms, and algorithmic strategies (such as greedy, divide-and-conquer and dynamic programming).

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 245 or MATH 355, CPTR 276
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

CPTR 436 - Numerical Methods and Analysis

Credits: 3

A study of common numerical techniques applicable on a computer. Includes interpolation, extrapolation, approximation techniques, numerical methods for linear problems, root finding, function fitting, numerical integration, location of extremes, efficiency of numerical algorithms, and minimization of computational error.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 152 and MATH 215
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

CPTR 437 - Formal Theory of Computation

Credits: 3

Study of the various classes of formal languages, their grammars, properties and recognizing machines. Turing machines. Computability.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 245 or MATH 355, CPTR 276
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CPTR 440 - Operating Systems

Credits: 3

Process management, including asynchronous concurrent processes and deadlock, virtual storage management and job and process scheduling, multiprocessing, disk scheduling and file and database systems, performance and security.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 276
CPTR 152 - Computer Science II
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CPTR 450 - Network Computing and Architecture

Credits: 3

Concepts applicable to constructing a computer network and the application of computing algorithms and solutions using networked computers and devices. Study topics such as physical transmission media, protocols and associated layers, TCP/IP, application programming interfaces and frameworks, sockets, clustering and security.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 276
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CPTR 460 - Software Engineering

Credits: 3

Surveys basic software engineering topics associated with the processes, documents, and products of the entire software life cycle. Topics include software evolution, project organization, and management, feasibility studies, product definition, design, implementation, and testing issues, and the role of the software engineer within the life cycle.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 276
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CPTR 465 - Computer Architecture

Credits: 3

Focus on hardware aspects of computing and logical concepts. Includes data representation for numbers and other data types, Boolean algebra, digital logic circuit representations of basic computational building blocks, CPU components, interrupt schemes and buses. Relevance of supporting concepts is discussed, including system software, assemblers, assembly language programming and operating systems.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 152, ENGR 385
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CPTR 467 - Database Concepts and Theory

Credits: 3
Study of issues relevant to abstract and concrete aspects in both the creation of database management system software and its use. Indexing, buffering and other internal and physical database design issues. Relational model algebra, calculus and query languages. Functional dependencies and normalization. Study of and modeling using Entity-Relationship and other relevant paradigms. Common application databases. Introduction to the use of transactions, query optimization and non-relational database models. Design and programming assignments using databases.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 152, CPTR 276
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

CPTR 475 - Topics in _____

Credits: 1–4
Selected topics of current interest in computing such as Robotics, advanced languages, or others.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 151
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

CPTR 485 - Computer Graphics

Credits: 3
Introduction to computer graphics focusing on the algorithms and data structures for the modeling and shading of 3-d images. Topics include basic OpenGL programming, mesh generation, shading, raytracing, radiosity methods, procedural textures, and fractal methods.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 276
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CPTR 487 - Artificial Intelligence

Credits: 3
Provides the conceptual basis for understanding current trends in Artificial Intelligence. Topics include both symbolic and numeric processing, intelligent search methods, problem representation, machine learning, expert systems, and a survey of some social implications of AI.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 276
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

CPTR 490 - Research

Credits: 0–6
Students will either assist a faculty member in an ongoing research project or develop a project of their own with the help and approval of the faculty member in their areas of interest or study. This course is for students who have a reasonably established knowledge of computing at the college level. A minimum of 3 hours work per week is required for each credit earned and a written paper is required.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

CPTR 493 - Practicum

Credits: 0–6
This course facilitates a professional experience for the student. It functions with the consent and advice of the computer science program faculty. Opportunities and venues vary, and must include designing and implementing an innovative and novel computing solution. Three primary approaches are undergraduate research, professional internship, or a major design project. A minimum of 3 hours of work per week per credit is required.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Prerequisite/Corequisite: CPTR 460
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Practicum
College Code: CAS

CPTR 495 - Independent Study

Credits: 1–3
Directed study of material of special interest chosen in consultation with the instructor. No more than 6 credits may be earned in CPTR495.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

CPTR 496 - Special Projects

Credits: 1–3
Project chosen in consultation with instructor. No more than 6 credits may be earned in CPTR 496.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

Engineering

ENGR 120 - Introduction to Engineering & Design

Credits: 2
An introductory course in engineering and design. It teaches the basic principles of design and related design tools from a basic level. Students will be taught to use computer tools for engineering analysis.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 125 - Engineering Graphics

Credits: 3
Fundamentals of drawing as applied to mechanical engineering problems. Orthographic projections, auxiliary and sectional views, dimensioning and tolerancing, oblique and isometric views, detail and assembly drawing. Sketching and computer aided drafting.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 1-hour lectures and two 1.5-hour labs
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 180 - Materials Science

Credits: 4
Introduction to the study of materials. Covers physical properties, application and relevant properties associated with engineering material. A weekly hands-on laboratory helps demonstrate the relationship of properties of materials studied in lecture.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3-hour lecture and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 131
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 185 - Engineering Statics

Credits: 3
Principles of statics and their application to engineering problems; forces, moments, couples, friction, centroids and moments of inertia.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite/Corequisite: MATH 191
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 215 - Robotics Programming

Credits: 2,3
This course covers the basic operations of a robotic arm using the teach pendant as the main interface. A Robotics Handling Tool Software Package is used in this course. Students successfully completing this course will be able to: Safely power up and jog the robot; recover from common errors and robot faults; execute production operation; create, modify and execute a teach pendant program; and abort and access teach pendant programs. This course consists of lectures, demonstrations and a series of lab exercises.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a lab
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Year Offering: Even years
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 225 - Circuit Analysis

Credits: 3
Resistive circuit analysis, network theorems, dependent sources, energy storage elements, 1st and 2nd order circuit transient responses, ac circuit analysis using phasors and impedances, and ac complex power.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2-hour lecture and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 191
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 248 - Workshop

Credits: 1–4
Provides flexibility for the occasional workshop where it is appropriate to offer engineering credit. Workshop requirements must be approved by the department.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Workshop
Special Approval: Advisor permission required.

College Code: CAS

ENGR 275 - Electronics I

Credits: 3
Introduction to diodes and transistors and their applications in switching and amplification circuits. Introduction to the basic op-amp circuits and their characteristics. Binary numbers and codes, Boolean algebra, logic circuits, flip-flops and registers. Digital circuit applications.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2-hour lecture and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 225
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 285 - Engineering Dynamics

Credits: 3
Vectorial kinematics of moving bodies in fixed and moving reference frames. Kinetics of particles, assemblies of particles, and rigid bodies, with emphasis on the concept of momentum. Keplerian motion, elementary vibrations, and conservative dynamic systems.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 185 and MATH 192
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 310 - Linear Systems Analysis

Credits: 3
Convolution, analysis and spectra of continuous time domain signals, Fourier and Laplace transforms, discrete time domain signals, and the z-transform.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 215, MATH 286, CPTR 151
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 320 - Manufacturing Processes

Credits: 3
Deals with today's technologies and the future of manufacturing. It includes details of product design process, rapid prototyping and a survey of manufacturing technologies.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 180
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 325 - Electronics II

Credits: 4
Modeling of transistors, biasing of transistors in amplifier circuits, and amplitude and frequency limitations of transistors. Linear and switching electronic circuits with an emphasis on op-amps.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3-hour lecture and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 275
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 330 - Thermodynamics

Credits: 3
Introduction to the nature of energy and study of energy transport conservation in closed and flowing systems; properties and states of solids, liquids, vapors, and gases; enthalpy; meaning and production of entropy and introduction to cyclic systems.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): PHYS 241
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 331 - Thermodynamics II

Credits: 3
Principles of phase and chemical equilibria in the solution of chemical engineering problems in the traditional process industries, biological systems, materials processing, pharmaceutical manufacturing and other industries.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 330
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

ENGR 335 - Logic Circuit Design

Credits: 3
Modern digital logic families, state machines, design of digital logic circuits in FPGAs, and VHDL specification of logic circuits.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 275
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 340 - Mechanics of Materials

Credits: 3
Mechanics courses geared towards developing the ability to analyze a given problem in a simple and logical manner using fundamental and well-understood principles of mechanics. free-body diagrams will be used extensively to determine external and internal forces.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 185
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 345 - Chemical Engineering Fundamentals

Credits: 3
Introduction to Separation Processes of gas absorption, distillations, leaching/extraction, etc. Introduction to Methods of Chemical Engineering calculations and analysis. Stoichiometric relations, material and energy balances, and behavior of gases, vapors, liquid and solids.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 191, CHEM 131
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

ENGR 355 - Chemical Engineering Lab

Credits: 4
Introduction to various measurement techniques available for chemical and general engineering application. National Instrument LabVIEW Data Acquisition system is used to collect data for analysis.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 2 lectures and a 1.5 hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 200
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 360 - Fluid Dynamics

Credits: 3
Fluid statics and dynamics of fluid motion. Conservation of mass, momentum, and energy in laminar and turbulent flow. Boundary layer flow, lift and drag forces, viscous flow in conduits, open channel flow, flow measurements.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 285, ENGR 330, MATH 286
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 385 - Microprocessor Systems

Credits: 4
Introduction to computer organization, microprocessors, assembly language programming, memory devices, I/O devices, interfacing with emphasis on control applications.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3-hour lecture and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 335 or CPTR 276
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 390 - Engineering Measurements

Credits: 4
Introduction to measurement theory with statistics and uncertainty analysis. Principles of Instrumentation including temperature, pressure, velocity, strains and flow measurements. Use of National Instrument LabVIEW Data Acquisition System to collect data for analysis.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: two 2-hour Classes, One 1.25-hour Lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 330 ENGR 340
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 391 - Electric Motors

Credits: 1
Study of transformers, ac, dc, and stepping motors; and motor control requirements.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 275

Recommended: ENGR 390
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
College Code: CAS

ENGR 410 - Feedback Control Systems

Credits: 4
Fundamentals of control design and analysis of linear feedback systems, their characteristics, performance and stability. The Routh-Hurwitz stability, root-locus, Bode plots, and Nyquist techniques. Performance criteria, design, and compensation of feedback control systems.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3-hour lecture and a 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 275 ENGR 285 ENGR 310
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 415 - Virtual Instrumentation

Credits: 3
For engineering majors. Introduction to virtual instrumentation with emphasis on the sampling requirements and the signal conditioning requirements. Data logging and control applications.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 275, CPTR 151
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 415-002 - Virtual Instrumentation

Credits: 1
Introduction to virtual instrumentation with emphasis on the sampling requirements and the signal conditioning requirements. Data logging and control applications.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): CPTR 151
Schedule Type: Lab
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 420 - Machine Design

Credits: 3
This course emphasizes both failure theory and analysis as well as the synthesis and design aspect of machine elements. It touches on the commonality of the analytical approaches needed to design a wide variety of elements and the need to use computer aided engineering as an approach to the design and analysis of these classes of problems.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 320 ENGR 390
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 425 - Project Management

Credits: 3
Methodology used successfully to carry out a technical project including proposals, planning, work breakdown, scheduling, creativity, monitoring progress, and documentation.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): STAT 285 or STAT 340
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Odd years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 430 - Quality Control

Credits: 3
Analysis of the factors affecting product quality during manufacturing. Topics include use of basic statistics and probability for measurements, observations, sampling, control charts and reliability.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): STAT 285 or STAT 340
Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 435 - Electromagnetic Fields

Credits: 3
Study of static and dynamic electric and magnetic fields. Unbounded and bounded fields, fields in materials, force and torque, energy and potential functions, and Faraday induction. Propagation of electromagnetic energy; plane waves, transmission lines, and waveguides; radiation from dipole antennas; introduction to arrays.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 240, MATH 286, PHYS 242
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 440 - Heat and Mass Transfer

Credits: 3
Study of steady-state and transient heat conduction, forced and non-forced convection through ducts and over surfaces, blackbody thermal radiation, solar radiation, heat exchangers, and mass transfer.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 360, MATH 286
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 450 - Engineering Economy

Credits: 2
Study of engineering decision methodology and criteria used to evaluate the economic aspects of selection of equipment, structures, methods, and processes.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 145 or MATH 191
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 455 - Communication Systems

Credits: 4
Introduction to the fundamentals of communication systems including signals and spectra, information theory, sampling and quantization, coding, modulation, signal detection and system performance in the presence of noise.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 310, ENGR 325, STAT 340
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 464 - Kinetics and Reactor Design

Credits: 3
Basic concepts of chemical rate processes as applied to the theory of the design and operation of various types of commercial reactors for both non-catalytic and catalytic reactions; including mole balances, rate laws and stoichiometry, collection and analysis of rate data, multiple reactions, isothermal and non-isothermal reactor design, catalysis and catalytic reactors.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 345
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

ENGR 465 - Operations Analysis and Modeling

Credits: 3
The methodology of mathematical modeling and its relation to solving problems in industrial and public systems. Linear programming, scheduling, queuing, simulation, optimization, and decision analysis.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 192, STAT 340.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

ENGR 470 - Finite Element Methods

Credits: 3
Introduction of finite element methods for the solution of problems in solid mechanics and heat transfer. Techniques for obtaining approximate numerical solutions to governing differential equations in the problem areas are covered. Industrial software is applied to the analysis and design of a broad range of engineering problems.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 330, ENGR 340, MATH 286
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Even years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

ENGR 475 - Topics in

Credits: 1–4
Selected topics of current interest in engineering.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): Dependant on topic
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture, Blended Learning
College Code: CAS

ENGR 478 - Study Tour

Credits: 0
Travel to destinations relevant to individual programs of study. Classes will be selected from department offerings.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Noncredit (NC,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Blended Learning
Year Offering: Odd years
Term Offering: Summer
College Code: CAS

ENGR 480 - Process Design

Credits: 3
Application of the basic concepts learned in previous courses to the design and analysis of a chemical processing system, primarily through a design project; Computer-Aided Design (process simulation), economic analysis, process safety, flow-sheet synthesis (conceptual design), and decision-making analysis (optimization) are covered.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): ENGR 464
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

ENGR 485 - Community Project in Engineering

Credits: 2–6
"Hands-on" involvement in humanitarian and/or service-oriented projects. Work initiated by students requires prior approval of faculty.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

ENGR 490 - Research

Credits: 0–3
Students will either assist a faculty member in an ongoing research project or develop a project of their own with the help and approval of the faculty member in their areas of interest or study. this course is for students who have a reasonably established knowledge of engineering at the college level. A minimum of 45 hours for each credit earned and a written paper is required.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 3 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
Special Approval: Instructor permission required.

College Code: CAS

ENGR 491 - Review of Engineering Design

Credits: 1

Selection, proposal and planning of capstone project.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

ENGR 492 - Senior Design Project

Credits: 3

A significant design project which culminates in a working system, component, process or a complete description of a proposed design. Both an oral and written presentation of the results of the project are required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): ENGR 385 or ENGR 390

Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

ENGR 495 - Independent Study

Credits: 1–3

Individual study, research, or project in some field of engineering under the direction of a member of the engineering faculty.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

Special Approval: Instructor permission required.

College Code: CAS

ENGR 496 - Cooperative Work Experience

Credits: 1–4

Work experience in industry directed by an engineering faculty member. 120 hours of work is required per credit. A report must be submitted that summarizes the work experience and indicates the value of the experience to the student.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 4 credits

Schedule Type: Practicum

Special Approval: Instructor permission required.

College Code: CAS

Mission

The Andrews University Department of English constitutes a vital component of this distinctive Seventh-day Adventist institution of higher learning. It draws together a diverse community of learners committed to seeking knowledge, affirming faith, and changing the world. Within the framework of Christian faith and purpose, it develops graduates who are competent, creative and critical readers, writers and thinkers, capable of a variety of careers and scholarly pursuits.

English Proficiency Requirements

Students whose first language is not English must provide evidence of English-language proficiency before they are accepted into any program in the Department of English. To qualify for admission, students must obtain at least a minimum composite score on one of the following exams, with component score(s) at or above those indicated:

Paper-based TOEFL (ITP) composite score of 600 with no component score lower than 55. An additional written essay exam is required with a minimum score of 80, and an additional speaking evaluation with a score of not less than 3.

Internet-based TOEFL (iBT) composite score of 100, with Reading and Listening component scores of at least 15, Writing component score of at least 17, and Speaking component score of at least 18.

MELAB composite score of 84 with no component score lower than 80.

IELTS composite score of 7, with Reading, Listening, and Speaking component scores of at least 6, and a Writing component score of at least 5.

The exam must be taken within two years prior to enrollment. Students who score below these levels may complete language requirements by enrolling in Intensive English Program courses (ENSL) on campus. Students with a score on the TOEFL ITP of 575-599 (or the equivalent on any of the four other exams) may be eligible for the Language Bridge Program which allows students to take a limited number of degree program courses while completing language proficiency requirements in Intensive English Program courses. Students in the Language Bridge Program must demonstrate language proficiency within two semesters in order to continue in the degree program. Exceptions to these requirements may be granted by the Department of English on an individual basis.

English as a Second Language

Housed in the Department of English, the Center for Intensive English Programs (CIEP) offers programs to assist students in improving their English language proficiency. Students may enroll in the English for Academic Purposes (EAP) Program, which offers courses in grammar, reading, writing, critical thinking, and oral/aural practice. Students who complete all Level 4 classes in this program with a grade of B or better, who pass a required speaking test, and who pass the required exit exam, will be granted a certificate of completion. The certificate indicates that the student has completed the CIEP EAP program and has completed the university's language requirements.

Bachelors

English, English Education Concentration BA

A degree for students seeking careers as K-12 teachers in pre-collegiate denominational or public schools. Students normally spend four to five years in residence to complete the requirements.

All students who graduate with a BA in English will be able to:

Demonstrate familiarity with a diversity of Anglophone literature, its historical and cultural contexts, its genres, and major critical approaches.

Produce interpretive and analytical texts that are clear, organized, supported with evidence, and accurately documented.

Identify and discuss elements of a Christian perspective in the analysis and creation of texts and in language use.

Students who graduate with a BA in English, Literature Emphasis, will be able to:

Demonstrate cohesive knowledge of the scope and sequence of Anglophone literature, and broad knowledge and application of critical theories.

Major: Additional Requirements

Michigan Test of Teacher Certification (MTTC)

English majors enrolled in the English Education emphasis seeking Michigan state secondary certification credentials will take the Michigan Test of Teacher Certification—subject area: English (MTTC) in their last year of study. Arrangements for taking the MTTC should be made with the Department of Teaching, Learning, and Curriculum in the School of Education. When test score results are tabulated by the Michigan Department of Education, they are shared with the students' certification advisor and then passed on to their English Education emphasis advisor. The Department of English decides how and when to share individual results.

Secondary Certification

For more information see the Andrews Core Experience for Secondary Certification in the department of Teaching, Learning & Curriculum.

Andrews Core Experience

Students must take all courses designated in the Professional Degree Requirements of the Andrews Core Experience Program while noting the following approved course substitutions. If a student changes to another degree program, these course substitutions will no longer apply even if already completed.

Mission

The Center for Intensive English Programs (CIEP) at Andrews University seeks to provide students with an opportunity to develop the skills needed to:

- Meet life's needs in aural/oral and written communication
- Communicate within the language formalities of an academic institution
- Prepare for college/university entrance

Methods

- CIEP offers a rigorous academic English program to help students prepare to apply to college/university
- CIEP enhances English skills through a variety of academic, cultural, and professional experiences
- CIEP establishes tutorials and conversation partners to encourage interaction with native English speakers
- CIEP maintains small class sizes for optimal learning

Results

- Participants matriculate into undergraduate and graduate programs
- Professionals achieve English language proficiency
- Participants function within the various English language formalities

Non-degree Majors

English for Academic Purposes (EAP) Program

Program Information

The EAP Program develops and assesses college-level academic English language proficiency, and completing the EAP Program gives both undergraduate and graduate students at Andrews the opportunity to meet university English requirements. The EAP Program is offered during Fall semester, Spring semester, and in an eight-week Summer semester, which counts as a full semester. EAP classes are offered for credit or for non-credit hours.

Placement

The CIEP English Placement Test (EPT) is used to place new students into one of four levels in the EAP Program: Level 1 (Beginning), Level 2 (Lower Intermediate), Level 3 (Upper Intermediate), and Level 4 (Advanced). The Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), or any other English language proficiency test accepted by Andrews University, is not required for individuals to be placed into one of the four levels; however, if an individual has an English language proficiency score on record, this score may be used in determining level placement, though the EPT score is the primary level placement indicator.

Classes

Each of the four levels has core classes in grammar, reading, writing, listening, and speaking. Additional skill-building classes focus on pronunciation, conversation and discussion, academic presentations, and American culture and values.

CIEP Certificate

The CIEP Certificate is awarded to students who successfully complete the EAP Program, and earning the CIEP Certificate demonstrates completion of university language requirements. To earn the CIEP Certificate, an individual must do all of the following:

Pass (B grade or higher) all EAP classes starting at the level in which an individual was initially placed until Level 4 is completed (16 credits or non-credit hours per level in Fall and Spring semesters and 12 credits or non-credit hours per level in Summer semester)

Pass the required EAP Speaking Test, which is given as part of the Level 4 Speaking & Listening class

Pass the required EAP Exit Exam, which is given upon successful completion of all Level 4 classes

Note: The TOEFL (or any English language proficiency test other than the EAP Exit Exam) is not required to complete the EAP Program.

Certificates

Andrews English Experience

Andrews English Experience is a short intensive English program offered in July and/or January in sessions of two or three weeks on the Andrews campus or on the campus of another institution. Andrews English Experience has a general track open to all learners and professional tracks open to cohorts of ten individuals or more (for each professional track) in specific disciplines or professions (e.g., professional workshops can focus on business English, medical English, English for church leaders, etc.). Core English classes are offered in the mornings for all learners and specialized general track and professional track workshops are offered in the afternoons. Field trips and other cultural activities may be offered as part of Andrews English Experience for an additional cost. The Andrews English Experience Certificate is awarded to all individuals who complete the program.

Other Programs

Conversation Partner Program, Tutorials, and Community English Workshops

A conversation partner program is offered most semesters to students enrolled in certain CIEP classes. In addition, both one-on-one tutorial services and short-term group tutorial sessions can be arranged for a fee on a case-by-case basis. Finally, certain specialized English tutorials, such as a TOEFL preparation workshop, are offered for a fee and are open to the community.

Language Bridge Program

The Language Bridge Program allows students to take a limited number of degree program courses while completing language proficiency requirements in CIEP. To be eligible for the Language Bridge Program, individuals must have a TOEFL ITP score of 500-549 (or the equivalent on another English language proficiency test accepted by Andrews University) for most degree programs. Degree programs with higher admissions requirements will also have higher requirements for participation in the Language Bridge Program, and not all degree programs at Andrews allow students to participate in the Language Bridge Program. For full details on this program, see the Language Bridge Program Policy.

Mission

The Department of International Language Studies strives to develop students' knowledge of foreign languages and cultures in a Christian environment. It provides a broad range of educational courses and programs that build foreign language competence and enhance the understanding of foreign literatures and cultures. The department not only helps students develop a global perspective by training them to use their foreign language skills in a variety of fields, but also to develop critical understanding of world culture in its complexity and diversity, supporting and promoting Christ's appeal to this generation, "And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in all the world as a witness to all the nations, and then the end will come."

The department provides students with communicative competence in a second language, promotes a greater understanding of and appreciation for the significance of language in human interaction, fosters interest in other cultures, and encourages intellectual development through enhanced cognitive and analytical skills.

The department offers many opportunities for language students to enhance an appreciation of other cultures and to develop fluency in the use of another language by participating in the Adventist Colleges Abroad (ACA) programs, language clubs, the National Language Honor Society, and religious activities.

Departmental Tours

The Department of International Language Studies offers two study tours: Europe and South America. Each tour is equivalent to six credits that count towards majors and minors. The South American tour may be taken only as Portuguese and Spanish credits; the European tour can be taken as French or Spanish credits. A maximum of 6 tour credits may be applied to the major or minor for students participating in the ACA program. All courses included in the tour are taught in the target language. Andrews University policies apply to the tour.

Bachelors

French BA

The BA in French is designed for students who want to know more about French civilization and who are interested in professions such as medicine, law, teaching, and journalism, as well as those wishing to pursue graduate studies in French. The program also complements such majors as Communications, English, French, History, Music, Nursing, and Social Work. It requires a minimum of 36 credits. These include FREN 401 or 402, 420 or 430, and 445. All majors are required to attend a full academic year at the Adventist Colleges Abroad program at the Centre Universitaire et Pédagogique du Salève, Collonges, France. This requirement may be waived for native speakers or candidates who have spent an extended period of time in a French speaking country.

Spanish BA

The Department of International Languages & Global Studies strives to develop students' knowledge of the Spanish language and culture in a Christian environment. It provides a broad range of educational courses and programs that build the Spanish language competence and enhance the understanding of Spanish and Latin American literatures and cultures. The department not only helps students develop a global perspective by training them to use their Spanish language skills in a variety of fields, but also to develop critical understanding of world culture in its complexity and diversity, supporting and promoting Christ's appeal to this generation, "And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in all the world as a witness to all the nations, and then the end will come."

Other Programs

Adventist Colleges Abroad Program

Andrews University, as a member institution, participates in the Adventist Colleges Abroad (ACA) program which gives North American students an opportunity to enhance their ability to use a foreign language and to experience a foreign culture while completing the requirements for a baccalaureate degree in the regular four-year period without losing credits or extending their courses of study. The Adventist Colleges Abroad program offers a wide variety of courses in composition, phonetics, reading, literature, folklore, culture, business, and civilization. Other courses may be taken to fulfill Andrews Core Experience requirements. In addition, students participate in on-site guided field trips of geographic, historic, or economic significance.

Admission Requirements

Admission as a student at Andrews University.

Competence in the language at the intermediate level is recommended.

However, applicants with two to three years of secondary or one year of elementary-level college language study may be admitted.

GPA of 2.25 in the language and 2.00 overall.

Good citizenship record

Completion of ACA application with all required information and signatures (academic and financial arrangements).

Fulfilling Major/Minor Requirements.

Adventist Colleges Abroad students with majors or minors in a language are encouraged to take the required conversation, composition, civilization, and literature courses at the upper division level while studying abroad if their level of proficiency enables them to do so (see major requirements). Upon their return to Andrews University, students must take in residence the following minimum number of credits:

For a language major: 12 upper division credits

For a language minor: 6 upper division credits

These requirements apply to all students who spend a full school year abroad, including transfer students. Students should take a normal load of 16 credits each quarter or 12 credits per semester. Students also are encouraged to take as many Andrews Core Experience courses as possible.

Additonal Information

Language Honor Society. The local Beta Kappa chapter of AlphaMu Gamma, the national collegiate honor society for foreign languages, gives recognition to outstanding students.

Language Clubs. The Department of International Language Studies sponsors two language clubs. The purpose is to promote cultural, academic, social and spiritual activities. "Adelante" is the Spanish club and "Oh la la" is the French club. Both clubs require membership fees.

Language Requirements for Andrews Core Experience. Students who wish to have the language requirement waived (with or without credit) by passing a proficiency exam should apply at the Department of International Language Studies. Exams are given in the languages taught at the department: French, German, Korean, Portuguese, and Spanish. Exceptions can be made for other languages by the chair of the Department of International Language Studies. The examination will reflect the student-performance outcomes expected at the intermediate level in the four language skills of reading, writing, listening, and speaking according to the American Council of Teaching Foreign Languages (ACTFL) guidelines. Upon written approval by the instructor, the Department of International Language Studies will grant up to 12 credits per language examined. See here for fees for Language Proficiency exams. See p. 44 for CLEP options.

Preparation for Teaching. Students preparing to teach French or Spanish at the elementary or secondary level must qualify for teaching credentials as outlined in the School of Education section of this bulletin. The program leading to the Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) degree in French or Spanish is described in the School of Education section of this bulletin.

Liberal Arts, Humanities Concentration BA

Program Description

The Andrews University liberal arts curriculum seeks to challenge students by preparing them for an increasingly complex and interconnected world.

The liberal arts degrees demonstrate the following learning objectives in each of the concentrations: critical thinking, effective communication, and life-long learning and the preparation of students for lives of leadership and service.

The degree on the diploma and transcript will be listed as a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science. The major on the transcript will be Liberal Arts, with a listing of one of four concentrations: Humanities, Sciences, Social Sciences, Interdisciplinary.

The Liberal Arts degree program will be administered from the College of Arts and Sciences Dean's Office, with the Associate Dean assigned the responsibility to coordinate the advising of students. Academic oversight of the program will be the responsibility of the Liberal Arts Advisory Committee whose membership will include representation from the departments represented by the curricular requirements.

Liberal Arts students will be required to keep a portfolio of work done during their education in order to demonstrate progress toward meeting learning objectives.

Liberal Arts, Interdisciplinary Concentration BA/BS

Program Description

The Andrews University liberal arts curriculum seeks to challenge students by preparing them for an increasingly complex and interconnected world.

The liberal arts degrees demonstrate the following learning objectives in each of the concentrations: critical thinking, effective communication, and life-long learning and the preparation of students for lives of leadership and service.

The degree on the diploma and transcript will be listed as a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science. The major on the transcript will be Liberal Arts, with a listing of one of four concentrations: Humanities, Sciences, Social Sciences, Interdisciplinary.

The Liberal Arts degree program will be administered from the College of Arts and Sciences Dean's Office, with the Associate Dean assigned the responsibility to coordinate the advising of students. Academic oversight of the program will be the responsibility of the Liberal Arts Advisory Committee whose membership will include representation from the departments represented by the curricular requirements.

Liberal Arts students will be required to keep a portfolio of work done during their education in order to demonstrate progress toward meeting learning objectives.

Degree Details

Divided into four Concentrations

- Humanities
- Sciences
- Social Sciences
- Interdisciplinary

Governed by an Andrews University Advisory Committee

A minimum of 124 semester credits must be earned, including a concentration of 45 credits plus general education requirements and electives

A minimum of 30 semester credits in the degree must be from courses numbered 300 and above

A minimum of 60 credits must be earned from approved AU courses

A minimum of 15 credits in the concentration must be earned from approved AU courses numbered 300 and above

Why and For Whom

- Person with a broader interest than a single discipline
- For those who switched majors
- Fall-back for the capable student

More flexible than single-discipline degree
For affiliate campuses – only approved concentrations

Interdisciplinary Concentration

45 credits total
Required upper division: 15 credits
Required course: PHIL 224 - Introduction to Philosophy
The equivalent of two 20-hour focus areas approved by the Andrews liberal arts advisory committee
Restrictions on available minors for affiliate sites will be impacted by the terms and conditions of the specific affiliation agreement

Total Credits : 45

Social Sciences Concentration

Required course: PHIL 224 - Introduction to Philosophy

Three foundation classes are required. It is highly recommended that you take upper-division courses in the two focus areas you choose, since they are likely to be prerequisites for some of the other upper-division classes you will need. Choose three from the following list:

ANTH 124 - Introduction to Anthropology
FMST 115 - Introduction to Family Studies or FMST 201 -
Personal Relationships
PSYC 101 - Introduction to Psychology
SOCI 119 - Principles of Sociology
PLSC 104 - American Government
ECON 225 - Principles of Macroeconomics or ECON 226 -
Principles of Microeconomics

27 upper-division credits in two of the following six areas with a minimum of 4 upper-division classes from the two focus areas (for a total of 12 credits). The other 15 upper-division credits may come from any of the areas in the social sciences noted below:

Anthropology
Family Studies
Psychology
Sociology
Political Science
Economics

Two classes of electives (6 credits) from any of these acronyms: ANTH, FMST, PSYC, SOCI, PLSC, or ECON

Undergraduate Minors

General Studies Minor

A minor in General Studies may be used in conjunction with regular degrees or with a General Studies major

A GPA of at least 2.00 is required in all transfer credits—and in all credits earned at Andrews University that are counted for the minor—with no grade below C-

At least 3 semester credits must be earned on campus in courses numbered 300 or above

No more than 5 semester credits from the major can be used in the minor

Total Credits: 20

General Studies

GNST 091 - Academic Tutorial Support

Credits: 1–4

A tutorial application of the principles of academic success. Includes one-on-one tutoring and/or group-learning experiences. Could also include academic or cognitive evaluations when necessary.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Prerequisite(s): Consent of the instructor required.

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: CAS

GNST 298 - PLA: (Special Topic)

Credits: variable

PLA (Prior Learning Assessment) is a process which validates learning experiences that have occurred outside traditional college/university academic programs. A portfolio of evidence for demonstrating experience and competency justifies and determines the amount of credit granted.

Grade Mode: By examination (P)

Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: CAS

GNST 416 - GRE Standardized Test Preparation: Verbal

Credits: 1

Review of topics covered on the standardized GRE exam. Includes at least one full-length practice exam.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

GNST 417 - GRE Standardized Test Preparation: Quantitative

Credits: 1

Review of topics covered on the standardized GRE exam. Includes at least one full-length practice exam.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

GNST 498 - PLA: (Special Topic)

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: CAS

GNST 499 - PLA Portfolio Development

Credits: 2

The development of a portfolio of evidence to present for Prior Learning Assessment.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Self-Paced

College Code: CAS

Interdisciplinary Studies

Details of departmental course offerings and course descriptions may be obtained from the department(s) involved.

IDSC 278 - Study Tour:

Credits: 0

Travel to destinations relevant to individual programs of study. Classes will be selected from department(s) offerings. Fee may be required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Noncredit (NC,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Blended Learning

College Code: CAS

IDSC 280 - Cooperative Education in _____ (subject area)

Credits: 0.5,1

Supervised work experience with a cooperating industry, agency, or institution. The student is supervised by his/her department. At least 175 hours of work required per credit.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore standing or above and permission of the department chair. Students must apply and be accepted one semester in advance of their planned cooperative education experiences.

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 1 credit

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: CAS

IDSC 294 - Off-Campus Study in _____

Credits: 3–15

See advisor for details.

Grade Mode: Noncredit (NC,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 12 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

IDSC 296 - Student Missionary/Taskforce Experience

Credits: 0
This course qualifies for full-time status, requiring a minimum of 540 hours of work per semester of registration.

Credits: 0–15
See advisor for details.

Grade Mode: Noncredit (NC,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

IDSC 456 - Integrated Science

Credits: 4
This course is designed to provide a science experience that models what science professionals do in the real world. This course will integrate content from life, physical and earth science using a project driven, problem solving approach. Laboratory and lecture experiences are integrated continuously and include a strong technology component.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

IDSC 596 - Student Missionary/Taskforce Experience

Credits: 0
This course qualifies for full-time status, requiring a minimum of 480 hours of work per semester of registration.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Noncredit (NC,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent

Mission

Through teaching, research, and service, the Department of Mathematics seeks to provide leadership by

- Preparing a diverse student body with the mathematical understanding, problem-solving skills, and dispositions that enable career excellence;
- Increasing mathematical and scientific knowledge through publication and presentation and engaging undergraduates in research;
- Supporting the broader mathematics education community and mentoring others for generous service through a committed Christian life.

Mathematics is foundational to physics, engineering, and computer science, and is increasingly important in many fields of study such as finance, accounting, economics, biology, medicine, and environmental science. Students majoring in these and other fields will find that acquiring an additional major in mathematics or mathematical studies greatly enhances the marketability of their degree.

Special Requirements and Placement Test

Non-overlapping Credit Restrictions

Because there is substantial overlap in material covered in the following groups of courses, no student is granted credit (other than general elective credit) in more than one course from each group:

MATH182, 191, 195 (Calculus with Applications, Calculus I, Calculus I for Biology)

MATH145, 165, 166 (Reasoning with Functions, College Algebra, College Algebra for Business)

Minimum Grade for Prerequisites

Except for MATH191 and 195 which require a C in the prerequisite class (MATH168), the minimum grade to satisfy prerequisites is C-.

Mathematics Placement Examination (MPE) and General Education Mathematics Requirement

Information on the MPE and Andrews Core Experience Mathematics requirements is available in the section on Andrews Core Experience Mathematics and on the Department of Mathematics Web site.

Bachelors

Mathematics BS

Program Goals: BS Mathematics

- Students will demonstrate breadth and depth in their grasp of undergraduate mathematics.
- Students will conduct research projects, write papers, and make presentations.
- Graduates will be successful in obtaining employment or acceptance into graduate or professional programs.
- Graduates who enter graduate programs will be successful in completing the first year and eventually a master's or doctoral degree.
- Students will demonstrate a commitment to Jesus, the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and service to others.

Major Requirements: 39

Required courses

- MATH 191 - Calculus I Credits: 4 or MATH 195 - Calculus I for Biology Credits 4
- MATH 192 - Calculus II Credits: 4
- MATH 215 - Introduction to Linear Algebra Credits: 3
- MATH 240 - Calculus III Credits: 4
- MATH 286 - Differential Equations Credits: 3
- MATH 315 - Linear Algebra Credits: 3
- MATH 355 - Foundations of Advanced Mathematics Credits: 3
- MATH 389 - Mathematics Colloquium Credits: 0 or PHYS 277 - Physics Colloquium Credits 0
(4 semesters)
- MATH 431 - Real Analysis I Credits: 3
- MATH 432 - Real Analysis II Credits: 3
- MATH 441 - Abstract Algebra I Credits: 3

At least 6 credits in additional courses

In consultation with a Department of Mathematics advisor, students should choose at least 6 credits from the following courses:

- MATH 405 - Applied Mathematics Credits: 3
- MATH 408 - Complex Analysis Credits: 3
- MATH 426 - Mathematical Modeling in Biology Credits: 3
- MATH 442 - Abstract Algebra II Credits: 3
- MATH 475 - Geometry Credits: 3
- MATH 487 - Special Topics in _____ Credits: 1–3
- MATH 495 - Independent Study Credits: 1–3
- MATH 497 - Research in Mathematics Credits: 0–3
- STAT 340 - Probability Theory with Statistical Applications Credits: 3

Students in a secondary teacher certification program are required to take

- MATH 375 - Secondary School Mathematics Teaching Credits: 3
- MATH 475 - Geometry Credits: 3
- STAT 285 - Elementary Statistics Credits: 3

Note:

MATH 375 and STAT 285 do not count toward the 39 major credits. A major field test in mathematics is required during the senior year.

Cognate Course—3

- CPTR 151 - Computer Science I Credits: 3

Mathematics Education BS

Program Goals: BS Mathematics Education

- Students will demonstrate breadth and depth in their knowledge of undergraduate mathematics.
- Students will have teaching-related work experience during their college years.
- Graduates will be successful in obtaining employment or acceptance into graduate or professional programs.
- Graduates who accept teaching jobs or enter graduate programs will be successful in completing the first year. Those who enter graduate programs will eventually complete a master's or doctoral degree.

Students will demonstrate a commitment to Jesus, the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and service to others.

Graduated and student teachers will demonstrate a good understanding of the mathematics that they are teaching and the ability to communicate it clearly.

Mathematics

MATH 091 and MATH 092 are provided for students not achieving a score of at least P2 on the Mathematics Placement Examination (MPE).

Students complete the sequence MATH091/092 by passing a set of proficiency tests in arithmetic and algebra, at which time a P2 score is awarded. When this occurs, the student has completed the Math Skill part of the General Education requirement, and is considered ready to take MATH 145, MATH 165, MATH 166 or STAT 285. Depending on the diligence and previous preparation of the student, this may occur at any time in the MATH 091/MATH 092 sequence.

MATH 091 - Arithmetic and Algebra Review I

Credits: 3

Individualized review of arithmetic and algebra skills. Algebra topics include linear, quadratic and rational equations; graphs and systems of linear equations; and polynomial operations and factoring. Students completing all of the required topics and exams while enrolled in MATH091 will receive an MPE score of P2 and are not required to take MATH 092. Students earning a passing grade in MATH 091 but not completing all of the required topics and exams must enroll in MATH 092. This developmental course does not count toward college credit.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal with R (A-F,I,W,R)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 092 - Arithmetic and Algebra Review II

Credits: 3

Continuation of MATH 091. Students not completing the sequence requirements but fulfilling attendance, participation, and progress requirements may receive an R grade requiring re-registration the next semester. This developmental course does not count toward college credit.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal with R (A-F,I,W,R)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 091

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 145 - Mathematics for the (Mis)Information Age

Credits: 3

A quantitative reasoning course that teaches how to use algebraic tools and real-world data to make informed decisions and avoid being misled in public policy, science, health, and business. Topics include logic; interpreting graphs and tables; functions such as linear, quadratic, exponential, and logarithmic with applications to population growth and personal finance; and fundamentals of probability and statistics such as false positives and statistical significance.

Course Attribute: Fulfills the General Education Mathematics reasoning requirement

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MPE \geq P2.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 165 - College Algebra

Credits: 3

Introduction to precalculus. Linear, quadratic, radical, and absolute value equations and inequalities; graphs of lines, parabolas, circles, ellipses and hyperbolas; composition and inverses of functions; transformations of graphs, symmetry; linear, quadratic, exponential, logarithmic, polynomial, and rational functions. Introduction to derivatives of polynomials. Applications to business and science, including interpretation of graphs and charts.

Course Attribute: Fulfills the General Education Mathematics reasoning requirement

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MPE \geq P2.

Schedule Type: Lecture, Self-Paced

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 166 - College Algebra for Business

Credits: 3

Introduction to precalculus. Linear, quadratic, radical, and absolute value equations and inequalities; graphs of lines, parabolas, circles, ellipses and hyperbolas; composition and inverses of functions; transformations of graphs, symmetry; linear, quadratic, exponential, logarithmic, polynomial, and rational functions. Introduction to derivatives of polynomials. Applications to business and science, including interpretation of graphs and charts.

Course Attribute: Fulfills the General Education Mathematics reasoning requirement

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MPE \geq P2

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 167 - Precalculus Trigonometry

Credits: 1

Trigonometric functions and their inverses, identities, trigonometric equations; laws of sines and cosines, vectors, applications, and selected topics.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MPE \geq P3 or MATH 165 or MATH 166

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

MATH 168 - Precalculus

Credits: 4

Linear, quadratic, and absolute value equations and inequalities with applications; radical equations; polynomial, rational, exponential, logarithmic, inverse, trigonometric functions; higher order equations; exponential and logarithmic equations; the unit circle, trigonometric identities and equations; Law of Sines and Cosines; vectors in the plane, polar coordinates and graphs; complex numbers and De Moivre's Theorem; conic sections.

Course Attribute: Fulfills the General Education Mathematics reasoning requirement

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MPE \geq P3 or MATH 165 or MATH 166

Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online, Self-Paced

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 182 - Calculus with Applications

Credits: 3

Introduction to single-variable calculus, including limits, differentiation, optimization, and integration with applications to problems in business and the social sciences. Some topics from multivariable calculus, including partial derivatives and extrema of functions of two variables.

Course Attribute: Fulfills the General Education Mathematics reasoning requirement

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MPE \geq P4 or MATH 167 or MATH 168

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

MATH 191 - Calculus I

Credits: 4

MATH191, 192 is a standard introduction to single-variable calculus. MATH 191 includes limits, continuity, derivatives, applications and integration up through substitution and integration by parts. Formal definitions of limit, derivative, and Riemann integral. Proofs of standard theorems, including the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus.

Course Attribute: Fulfills the General Education Mathematics reasoning requirement

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MPE=P5 or MATH 167 or MATH 168 with grade no lower than C.

Schedule Type: Lecture, Interactive Online

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 192 - Calculus II

Credits: 4

Continuation of MATH191. Techniques of integration, improper integrals, applications of integrals, sequences, power series, Taylor and Maclaurin series, tests of convergence, error estimates, polar coordinates, parameterized curves, vectors, dot and cross products.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 191 or MATH 195.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring, Summer

College Code: CAS

MATH 195 - Calculus I for Biology

Credits: 4

Introduction to single-variable calculus in the context of the life sciences from the dynamical systems point of view. Limits, continuity, derivatives, integration by substitution and by parts. Formal definitions of limit, derivative, and Riemann integral. Proofs of standard theorems, including the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. In addition to standard topics, includes research applications to biology and medicine, an introduction to mathematical models and differential equations, equilibria, stability, and eigenvalues. Equivalent to MATH191.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): BIOL 165 or BIOL 166 or consent of the instructor

Prerequisite(s): MPE=P5 or MATH 167 or MATH 168 with grade no lower than C

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 215 - Introduction to Linear Algebra

Credits: 3

Vectors, Euclidean n-space, matrices, systems of linear equations, determinants, eigenvalues, eigenvectors, vector spaces, and linear transformations with emphasis on applications and computation.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 182, MATH 191, or MATH 195.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

MATH 221 - Mathematics for Elementary Teachers I

Credits: 3

This is the first of two courses that equip prospective elementary and middle school teachers with the deep conceptual knowledge, reasoning skills, and teaching methods for becoming effective mathematics teachers. This course emphasizes active engagement, conceptual understanding, mathematical reasoning, and hands-on teaching methods. Topics include numeration systems, sets of numbers (whole numbers, integers, rational numbers, and real numbers) and their properties, computational algorithms, and basic concepts of algebra and functions. Required of all students in the elementary education program.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MPE \geq P2

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

MATH 222 - Mathematics for Elementary Teachers II

Credits: 3

This is the second of two courses that equip prospective elementary and middle school teachers with the deep conceptual knowledge, reasoning skills, and teaching methods for becoming effective mathematics teachers. This course emphasizes active engagement, conceptual understand, mathematical reasoning, and hands-on teaching methods. Topics include geometric figures and their properties, proofs in algebra and geometry, geometric transformations, symmetry, congruence, similarity, measurement, data analysis, and probability. Required of all students in the elementary education program.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 221 with a grade of C or higher

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 240 - Calculus III

Credits: 4

Standard introduction to multivariable calculus. Vectors and vector functions, curves and surfaces, partial derivatives, multiple integrals, line and surface integrals. Stokes', Green's, and divergence theorems.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 192.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

MATH 286 - Differential Equations

Credits: 3

Ordinary differential equations as dynamical systems. Linear and nonlinear first order equations and systems, higher order linear equations, modeling, standard analytic and qualitative methods of solution, equilibria and stability, phase plane analysis. Computer graphing tools will be used.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 192.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 295 - Independent Study

Credits: 1–3

Independent study of selected topics in mathematics under the supervision of a mathematics professor. Ordinarily a minimum of three hours of study per week is expected for each credit. The instructor may require written reports or oral presentations.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): Consent of the instructor.

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: CAS

MATH 315 - Linear Algebra

Credits: 3

A rigorous proof course on vector spaces, linear systems, linear transformations, matrix representations, eigenspaces, and diagonalization.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 215, MATH 355.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Even years

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 355 - Foundations of Advanced Mathematics

Credits: 3

An introduction to concepts and methods that are fundamental to the study of advanced mathematics. Topics include logic, proof methods, set theory, relations, functions, number theory, and other selected topics from discrete mathematics. Mathematical reasoning and the reading and writing of proofs are emphasized.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 182, MATH 191, or MATH 195.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 375 - Secondary School Mathematics Teaching

Credits: 3

Content, methods, and materials for secondary school mathematics teaching, including secondary mathematics content, mathematical problem solving, lesson preparation, teaching of skills and concepts, use of technology, assessment of learning, issues in teaching and learning, and other selected topics.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 355.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Odd years

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 389 - Mathematics Colloquium

Credits: 0

Participation in at least 10 departmental colloquia or approved colloquia of other departments. Meets weekly, grade is based on attendance.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Fall, Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 405 - Applied Mathematics

Credits: 3

Solutions of first- and second-order partial differential equations and applications.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 240, MATH 286.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Even years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

MATH 408 - Complex Analysis

Credits: 3

Elementary complex analysis, contour integrals, complex series.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 240, MATH 355.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Odd years

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 426 - Mathematical Modeling in Biology

Credits: 3

Theory and application of linear and nonlinear mathematical models of biological processes. Topics selected from discrete- and continuous-time deterministic and stochastic modeling, analytic solution techniques, linearization, bifurcations, chaos, computer simulation, model parameterization, and model validation.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 191 or MATH 195.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Odd years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

MATH 431 - Real Analysis I

Credits: 3

Theorems on continuity, differentiation, integration, and convergence; additional selected topics such as topology, differentiable manifolds, and real analysis.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 240, MATH 355.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Odd years

Term Offering: Fall

College Code: CAS

MATH 432 - Real Analysis II

Credits: 3

Theorems on continuity, differentiation, integration, and convergence; additional selected topics such as topology, differentiable manifolds, and real analysis.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 240, MATH 355, MATH 431.

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Even years

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

MATH 441 - Abstract Algebra I

Credits: 3

A rigorous proof course on groups, rings, fields, and homomorphisms. Topics include cyclic groups, Cayley's Theorem, Lagrange's Theorem, factor groups, integral domains, and factor rings.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 240, MATH 355.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Even years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

MATH 442 - Abstract Algebra II

Credits: 3
A continuation of MATH 441. Topics include polynomial rings, divisibility in integral domains, and extension fields. Additional topics may include geometric constructions, Sylow Theorems, and Galois Theory.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 240, MATH 355, MATH 441
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

MATH 475 - Geometry

Credits: 3
Axiomatic development and history of Euclidean and non-Euclidean geometries, constructions, geometric transformations, and selected topics from finite, fractal, affine, and projective geometries. Relation of these topics to secondary teaching.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 355.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Even years
Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

MATH 487 - Special Topics in _____

Credits: 1–3
Consult the instructor in regard to the topic to be covered.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): Consent of the instructor.
Repeatable: Repeatable with different topics
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

MATH 495 - Independent Study

Credits: 1–3
Independent study of selected topics in mathematics to enable advanced students to pursue topics not offered in other scheduled courses. The student will study under the supervision of a mathematics professor whose prior approval is required. Ordinarily a minimum of three hours of study per week is expected for each credit. Grades are assigned on the basis of an instructor-selected procedure such as oral or written exams or reports.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Prerequisite(s): Consent of the instructor.
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

MATH 497 - Research in Mathematics

Credits: 0–3
A research project in mathematics supervised by a faculty mentor. A minimum of 4 work hours per week is required for each credit earned and a minimum of 4 work hours per week is required for the zero-credit option. A written paper is required for both the zero-credit option and all other credit options. Students register for each semester of ongoing research.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Prerequisite(s): Approval of the instructor.
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

MATH 530 - Topics in Teaching _____

Credits: 2,3
A. Algebra; B. Geometry; C. Analysis; D. Applications; Consult with department chair regarding availability in any given year.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

MATH 540 - Topics in _____

Credits: 2,3
Consult with the instructor in regard to the topic to be covered.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): Consent of the instructor.
Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits
Schedule Type: Lecture

Statistics

STAT 285 - Elementary Statistics

Credits: 3
A study of basic descriptive and inferential statistics, including elementary probability and probability distributions, statistical inference involving binomial, normal, and t-distributions, and hypothesis testing.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MPE \geq P2.
Schedule Type: Lecture, Self-Paced
Term Offering: Fall, Spring
College Code: CAS

STAT 340 - Probability Theory with Statistical Applications

Credits: 3
Probability theory and statistics for students having preparation in calculus. Topics include probability models, combinatoric problems, random variables, discrete and continuous distributions, expectation, moment generating functions, central limit theorem.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MATH 191 or MATH 195.
Schedule Type: Lecture
Term Offering: Spring
College Code: CAS

Mission

To mentor students in artistic, intellectual, and character development. Faculty of the Department of Music are committed to providing a vibrant musical and learning environment to nurture artistic and creative growth in all students of music, to encourage and guide students through dynamic interaction in classroom and practical experiences as they mature into tomorrow's music professionals, and to mentor students in responsible use of their talents for service to Christ and to humanity.

Undergraduate Information

Bachelor curricula in Music provide a comprehensive exposure to and experience with the performance, history, and theory of music. Students receive hands-on supervised teaching experience in studio or classroom teaching.

Non-music majors may take courses in music or participate in music lessons or ensembles for credit or non-credit. See the Andrews Core Experience in each program for more information.

The Andrews University Department of Music has been a member of the National Association of Schools of Music since 1964. Music majors may choose to join the student chapter of Music Educators National Conference.

Enrollment

Status as an undergraduate music major is provisional until the student demonstrates academic and performance skills on an acceptable level. All first-year students must take the Freshman Theory Placement Exam and arrange for an audition with the coordinator of their applied area prior to being considered for acceptance as a music major. After the student successfully completes these two admission requirements the Music Department freshman advisor makes a recommendation to the music faculty concerning the student's application for admission as a music major. See the Department of Music Student Handbook for further information.

Student Handbook. The Department of Music Student Handbook, available on the Department of Music webpage, provides clarification of general guidelines, requirements, and standards as well as information concerning recital attendance, recital requirements, and financial aid and departmental scholarships.

Applied Music General Requirements. All music majors register in applied music for every semester in residence and until they complete their senior recital.

Applied Music Examination Requirements. All music majors participate in an applied music examination at least twice during the school year. See the Department of Music Student Handbook for full details.

Ensemble Requirements. All music majors must enroll in a music ensemble each semester of residence for a minimum of 8 credits. Students who require more than eight semesters to complete their degree must participate in an ensemble during each semester of residence.

Minimum Passing Grades. No grade lower than a C in an applied lesson, ensemble, or music class will count towards fulfillment of degree or program requirements for the music major or music minor. This includes transfer music credits.

Piano Proficiency. All music majors and minors are required to achieve an acceptable level of piano proficiency. This requirement may be met by one of the following two ways: 1) by passing the piano proficiency requirement as stated in the document Andrews University Department of Music Information Sheet: Piano Proficiency Examination available at the Music Office as well as at the Department of Music web page, or 2) by taking four semesters of piano instruction for credit at the Andrews University Department of Music with a minimum passing grade of a B in each semester. Students choosing the first of these two options are expected to take the Piano Proficiency Examination before the end of the second semester of their freshman year; students choosing the second option are expected to start taking piano lessons during their first year in residence. If one of these two options is not met, students will not be allowed to register for upper-division classes (with the exception of ensembles) or upper-division applied lessons until the Piano Proficiency requirement has been met.

Recital Attendance. All music majors are required to enroll in the course MUPF 489 - Recital Attendance each semester in residence. Music minors are required to enroll in this course for four (4) semesters.

Upper-division Status. Request for advancement to upper-division status is submitted by the end of the sophomore year. See the Department of Music Student Handbook for full information.

State Certification. Students planning to teach music in K–12 must take the Bachelor of Music in Music Education degree and also complete required education courses specified by the School of Education.

Denominational Certification is not automatic with state certification and is not required for graduation. Contact the certification clerk in the School of Education for full information.

Music Performance Credits

The Department of Music offers private instruction in all major instruments and voice which may fulfill music major or non-music major elective requirements. Course outlines detailing specific course content are available from the instructor. The requirements correlate with guidelines suggested by the National Association of Schools of Music as outlined in the Department of Music Student Handbook.

Graduate Information

Master curricula in Music provide a comprehensive exposure to and experience with the performance, history, and theory of music. Students receive hands-on supervised teaching experience in studio or classroom teaching.

Non-music graduate students may take courses in music or participate in music lessons or ensembles for credit or non-credit. The Andrews University Department of Music has been a member of the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM) since 1964. Music Education students may choose to join the student chapter of Music Educators National Conference.

Graduate Programs Admission Requirements

General requirements for admission to graduate study as stated in the Admissions section of this bulletin.

Musicians with various backgrounds often qualify to study music at the graduate level. Normally, a baccalaureate degree with a major in music is required; however, the following categories may also qualify:

1. Students with an earned baccalaureate degree within any major, assuming adequate undergraduate preparation in music. Adequate preparation includes mastery of music theory equivalent to content of MUCT242 Music Theory IV and MUCT153 Ear Training Laboratory III; mastery of music history equivalent to content of MUHL446-448 Music Literature and Style (Antiquity to 20th Century); and mastery of level of performance appropriate to the specific chosen master's program.
2. Students who have completed programs comparable to the baccalaureate degree from non-United States institutions, with the level of mastery described in segment 1.

The Department of Music requires placement examinations in music history and literature, music theory, and an audition in the major area of performance for all entering students prior to registration. Admission status is provisional until these examinations are completed and any deficiencies removed. Courses used to make up for a deficiency may be taken for graduate credit but may not count for graduate requirements; a minimum grade of B must be earned.

A Graduate Scholarship Tuition Reduction is available to students with a minimum GRE Exam score of 297 (quantitative + verbal) or Music Placement Exam average score of 70 or higher.

Student Handbook. The Department of Music Student Handbook, available on the Department of Music webpage, provides clarification of general guidelines, requirements, and standards as well as information concerning recital attendance, recital requirements, and financial aid and departmental scholarships.

Piano Proficiency. Music majors must pass a piano proficiency examination. Graduate students who have not passed this examination on the undergraduate level may meet this requirement by one of the following two ways: 1) by passing the piano proficiency test as stated in the document Andrews University Department of Music Information Sheet: Piano Proficiency Examination available on the Department of Music web page, prior to the first registration, or 2) by taking four semesters of MUPF 516 Piano Proficiency with a minimum passing grade of a B in each semester.

Language Proficiency. For admission to the Master of Music, Voice Performance, language proficiency is required in French, German and Italian. Proficiency in these languages can be validated by evidence of coursework in each of these languages equivalent to two semesters of college level study, or by passing a language proficiency exam. Lack of proficiency in these three languages can be addressed by taking additional remedial coursework. Remedial coursework does not count toward completion of the graduate degree.

Non-degree (Guest) Students. A student who plans to study music under this classification may be admitted to courses as approved by the department chair.

Double Major Policy for Graduate Music Programs:

Two majors may be allowed only within a specific program such as the Master of Arts in Music or the Master of Music. No more than two majors are allowed.

Only one degree is granted. The different majors will only be listed in the transcript.

Candidates must complete the specific requirements for both majors.

Candidates must enroll for Final Project (thesis option, project option, or recital option as it may apply) twice to fulfill final project requirements for each of the two majors.

Candidates take comprehensive examinations that cover both concentration areas.

Decision on adding a second major must be made before the candidate fills out and submits the Advancement to Candidacy Form.

Once a degree is earned, a second major area may not be added to the transcripts.

Ensemble Requirements

Participation on a no-credit basis is required for four semesters in one of the following Andrews University ensembles: Wind Symphony, University Singers or AU Symphony Orchestra. Keyboard majors: see note below. Students who require more than four semesters to complete their degree must participate in an ensemble during each semester of residence.

Keyboard students in the MA and MMus (music education) programs on the Andrews University campus are required to enroll for one semester of MUPF505 Keyboard Accompaniment or one semester of MUPF510 Collaborative Piano. This may apply as one of the minimum four semesters of ensemble.

Performance majors in piano and organ are required to enroll for one semester of MUPF510 Collaborative Piano and one semester of MUPF515 Recital Accompaniment and may apply these towards the minimum four semesters of ensemble.

Recital Attendance

All Graduate music majors are required to enroll in the course MUPF 489 Recital Attendance each semester in residence.

Practical Training Requirement

All students pursuing master's programs (MA: Music, MMus: Conducting, MMus: Music Education, MMus: Music Ministry; MMus: Performance) are required to take the 0-credit course MUED655 Practical Training to develop professional experience in music. To fulfill this requirement, students are required to meet a minimum of 50 hours of work/service while enrolled in the masters program. This could be done over the summer. Some recommended areas of work/service that may count toward this practical training experience are as follows:

- Music ministers in church settings
- Music teachers or instructors for a public or private school
- Instrumentalists performing in professional or community ensembles
- Research assistants in approved music research projects
- Other alternative activities must be approved by the student's major professor

After completing this requirement students will fill out and submit the form Completion of Practical Training Requirements to Graduate Program Director for evaluation and signature. Students who have developed experiences equivalent to this practical training before entering the masters program may fulfill this requirement by submitting appropriate evidence showing sufficient work/ service experience.

Thesis/Project/Recital Requirement

This requirement for an MA in music, MA in music ministry or MMus in music education may be met by one of the following:

A thesis—6 credits of MUHL699 and/or EDM505.

Two projects—2 credits of MUHL698 for each project.

A credit recital—2 credits plus a minimum of 6 credits of applied music.

One project plus a one-credit recital—2 credits of MUHL698 for the project plus a minimum of 4 credits of applied music.

The MMus: Performance degree requires a 2-credit recital. Recitalists must have taken in residence at least one-half of their applied music credit in their major performance area. They must enroll in applied lessons for at least two consecutive semesters prior to the recital date and must audition before a committee of music faculty one month prior to the recital. Students majoring in performance without an undergraduate major in the same performance area (or the equivalent) must offer two recitals, only the second of which is for credit.

Students who opt for the project or thesis or Project Continuation must take concurrently the Research Master class.

Comprehensive Examinations. All graduate students in music take the 0-credit course MUHL670 Comprehensive Exam toward the end of their studies. Students should consult with their advisor concerning the appropriate time to apply for these examinations and for guidance in preparing for them.

Active Status. After completing all course requirements, all graduate music students must maintain an active status continuous enrollment for both Fall and Spring semesters until the degree is granted. This is accomplished by enrolling in MUHL665 Comprehensive Exam Preparation (non-repeatable with fee attached), MUHL670 Comprehensive Exam (non-repeatable), or MUHL655 Program Continuation (repeatable with fee attached) until the degree is earned. Students who fail to maintain continuous enrollment as defined here, will not be allowed to finish their degree requirements until they apply to the Department of Music for degree reactivation and pay the established fees for each semester of absence in the program. The reactivation fee used will be the latest AU Bulletin fee listed for MUHL655 Program Continuation.

Bachelors

Music BA

A liberal arts degree allows one to pursue a broad range of interests while majoring in music. The BA with a major in music is viable as a double major.

Note that in order to receive the BA: Music, students must take Andrews Core Experience requirements for the Bachelor of Arts.

Total Credits: 45

Admission Requirements

Graduate Programs Admission Requirements and Procedures

General requirements for admission to graduate study as stated in the Admissions section of this bulletin.

Musicians with various backgrounds often qualify to study music at the graduate level. Normally, a baccalaureate degree with a major in music is required; however, the following categories may also qualify:

1. Students with an earned baccalaureate degree within any major, assuming adequate undergraduate preparation in music. Adequate preparation includes mastery of music theory equivalent to content of MUCT242 Music Theory IV and MUCT153 Ear Training Laboratory III; mastery of music history equivalent to content of MUHL446-448 Music Literature and Style (Antiquity to 20th Century); and mastery of level of performance appropriate to the specific chosen master's program.
2. Students who have completed programs comparable to the baccalaureate degree from non-United States institutions.

The Department of Music requires placement examinations in music history and literature, music theory, piano proficiency, and an audition in the major area of performance for all entering students prior to registration. Admission status is provisional until these examinations are completed and any deficiencies removed. Courses used to make up for a deficiency may be taken for graduate credit but may not count for graduate requirements; a minimum grade of B must be earned.

A Graduate Scholarship Tuition Reduction is available to students with a minimum GRE Exam score of 297 (quantitative + verbal) or Music Placement Exam average score of 70.

Double Major Policy for Graduate Music Programs:

Two majors may be allowed only within a specific program such as the Master of Arts in Music or the Master of Music. No more than two majors are allowed.

Only one degree is granted. The different majors will only be listed in the transcript.

Candidates must complete the specific requirements for both majors.

Candidates must enroll for Final Project (thesis option, project option, or recital option as it may apply) twice to fulfill final project requirements for each of the two majors.

Candidates take comprehensive examinations that cover both concentration areas.

Decision on adding a second major must be made before the candidate fills out and submits the Advancement to Candidacy Form.

Once a degree is earned, a second major area may not be added to the transcripts.

Ensemble Requirements

Registration is required for four semesters in one of the following: any Andrews University Department of Music band, choir or orchestra.

Keyboard majors: see note below. Students who require more than four semesters to complete their degree must participate in an ensemble during each semester of residence.

Keyboard students in the MA and MMus (music education) programs on the Andrews University campus are required to enroll for one semester of MUPF505 Keyboard Accompaniment or one semester of MUPF510 Collaborative Piano. This may apply as one of the minimum four semesters of ensemble.

Performance majors in piano and organ are required to enroll for one semester of MUPF510 Collaborative Piano and one semester of MUPF515 Recital Accompaniment and may apply these towards the minimum four semesters of ensemble.

Thesis/Project/Recital Requirement

This requirement for an MA in music, MA in music ministry or MMus in music education may be met by one of the following:

A thesis—6 credits of MUHL699 and/or EDRM505.

Two projects—2 credits of MUHL698 for each project.

A credit recital—2 credits plus a minimum of 6 credits of applied music.

One project plus a one-credit recital—2 credits of MUHL698 for the project plus a minimum of 4 credits of applied music.

The MMus: Performance degree requires a 2-credit recital. Recitalists must have taken in residence at least one-half of their applied music credit in their major performance area. They must enroll in applied lessons for at least two consecutive semesters prior to the recital date and must audition before a committee of music faculty one month prior to the recital. Students majoring in performance without an undergraduate major in the same performance area (or the equivalent) must offer two recitals, only the second of which is for credit.

Piano Proficiency. Music majors must pass a piano proficiency examination. Graduate students who have not passed this examination on the undergraduate level must take the examination prior to the first registration. Students who do not pass this examination must enroll in applied piano until the examination is passed.

Language Proficiency. For admission to the Master of Music: Performance (voice performance specialization), language proficiency is required in French, German and Italian. Proficiency in these languages can be validated by evidence of coursework in each of these languages equivalent to two semesters of college level study, or by passing a language proficiency exam. Lack of proficiency in these three languages can be addressed by taking additional remedial coursework. Remedial coursework does not count toward completion of the graduate degree.

Electives. Each area of study has appropriate choices of electives.

Practical Training Requirement. All students pursuing master's programs (MA: Music, MMus: Conducting; MMus: MUSIC 195 Music Education; MMus: Music Ministry; MMus: Performance) are required to take the 0-credit course MUED655 Practical Training to develop professional experience in music. To fulfill this requirement, students are required to meet a minimum of 50 hours of work/service while enrolled in the masters program. This could be done over the summer. Some recommended areas of work/service that may count toward this practical training experience are as follows:

- Music ministers in church settings
- Music teachers or instructors for a public or private school
- Instrumentalists performing in professional or community ensembles
- Research assistants in approved music research projects
- Other alternative activities must be approved by the student's major professor

After completing this requirement students will fill out and submit the form Completion of Practical Training Requirements to their major professor for evaluation and signature. Students who have developed experiences equivalent to this practical training before entering the masters program may fulfill this requirement by submitting appropriate evidence showing sufficient work/ service experience.

Comprehensive Examinations. All graduate students in music take the 0-credit course MUHL670 Comprehensive Exam toward the end of their studies. Students should consult with their advisor concerning the appropriate time to apply for these examinations and for guidance in preparing for them.

Non-degree (Guest) Students. A student who plans to study music under this classification may be admitted to courses as approved by the department chair.

Active Status. After completing all course requirements, all graduate music students must maintain an active status continuous enrollment for both Fall and Spring semesters until the degree is granted. This is accomplished by enrolling in MUHL665 Comprehensive Exam Preparation (non-repeatable with fee attached), MUHL670 Comprehensive Exam (non-repeatable), or MUHL655 Program Continuation (repeatable with fee attached) until the degree is earned. A student who fails to maintain continuous enrollment as defined here, will not be allowed to finish their degree requirements until he/she applies to the Department of Music for degree reactivation and pays the established fees for each semester of absence in the program. The reactivation fee used will be the latest AU Bulletin fee listed for MUHL655 Program Continuation.

Electives. Each area of study has appropriate choices of electives.

Practical Training Requirement. All students pursuing master's programs (MA: Music, MMus: Conducting; MMus: MUSIC 195 Music Education; MMus: Music Ministry; MMus: Performance) are required to take the 0-credit course MUED655 Practical Training to develop professional experience in music. To fulfill this requirement, students are required to meet a minimum of 50 hours of work/service while enrolled in the masters program. This could be done over the summer. Some recommended areas of work/service that may count toward this practical training experience are as follows:

Music ministers in church settings
Music teachers or instructors for a public or private school
Instrumentalists performing in professional or community ensembles
Research assistants in approved music research projects
Other alternative activities must be approved by the student's major professor

After completing this requirement students will fill out and submit the form Completion of Practical Training Requirements to their major professor for evaluation and signature. Students who have developed experiences equivalent to this practical training before entering the masters program may fulfill this requirement by submitting appropriate evidence showing sufficient work/ service experience.

Comprehensive Examinations. All graduate students in music take the 0-credit course MUHL670 Comprehensive Exam toward the end of their studies. Students should consult with their advisor concerning the appropriate time to apply for these examinations and for guidance in preparing for them.

Non-degree (Guest) Students. A student who plans to study music under this classification may be admitted to courses as approved by the department chair.

Active Status. After completing all course requirements, all graduate music students must maintain an active status continuous enrollment for both Fall and Spring semesters until the degree is granted. This is accomplished by enrolling in MUHL665 Comprehensive Exam Preparation (non-repeatable with fee attached), MUHL670 Comprehensive Exam (non-repeatable), or MUHL655 Program Continuation (repeatable with fee attached) until the degree is earned. A student who fails to maintain continuous enrollment as defined here, will not be allowed to finish their degree requirements until he/she applies to the Department of Music for degree reactivation and pays the established fees for each semester of absence in the program. The reactivation fee used will be the latest AU Bulletin fee listed for MUHL655 Program Continuation.

Admission Requirements

Graduate Programs Admission Requirements and Procedures

General requirements for admission to graduate study as stated in the Admissions section of this bulletin.

Musicians with various backgrounds often qualify to study music at the graduate level. Normally, a baccalaureate degree with a major in music is required; however, the following categories may also qualify:

1. Students with an earned baccalaureate degree within any major, assuming adequate undergraduate preparation in music. Adequate preparation includes mastery of music theory equivalent to content of MUCT242 Music Theory IV and MUCT153 Ear Training Laboratory III; mastery of music history equivalent to content of MUHL446-448 Music Literature and Style (Antiquity to 20th Century); and mastery of level of performance appropriate to the specific chosen master's program.

2. Students who have completed programs comparable to the baccalaureate degree from non-United States institutions.

The Department of Music requires placement examinations in music history and literature, music theory, piano proficiency, and an audition in the major area of performance for all entering students prior to registration. Admission status is provisional until these examinations are completed and any deficiencies removed. Courses used to make up for a deficiency may be taken for graduate credit but may not count for graduate requirements; a minimum grade of B must be earned.

A Graduate Scholarship Tuition Reduction is available to students with a minimum GRE Exam score of 297 (quantitative + verbal) or Music Placement Exam average score of 70.

Double Major Policy for Graduate Music Programs:

Two majors may be allowed only within a specific program such as the Master of Arts in Music or the Master of Music. No more than two majors are allowed.

Only one degree is granted. The different majors will only be listed in the transcript.

Candidates must complete the specific requirements for both majors.

Candidates must enroll for Final Project (thesis option, project option, or recital option as it may apply) twice to fulfill final project requirements for each of the two majors.

Candidates take comprehensive examinations that cover both concentration areas.

Decision on adding a second major must be made before the candidate fills out and submits the Advancement to Candidacy Form.

Once a degree is earned, a second major area may not be added to the transcripts.

Ensemble Requirements

Registration is required for four semesters in one of the following: any Andrews University Department of Music band, choir or orchestra. Keyboard majors: see note below. Students who require more than four semesters to complete their degree must participate in an ensemble during each semester of residence.

Keyboard students in the MA and MMus (music education) programs on the Andrews University campus are required to enroll for one semester of MUPF505 Keyboard Accompaniment or one semester of MUPF510 Collaborative Piano. This may apply as one of the minimum four semesters of ensemble.

Performance majors in piano and organ are required to enroll for one semester of MUPF510 Collaborative Piano and one semester of MUPF515 Recital Accompaniment and may apply these towards the minimum four semesters of ensemble.

Thesis/Project/Recital Requirement

This requirement for an MA in music, MA in music ministry or MMus in music education may be met by one of the following:

A thesis—6 credits of MUHL699 and/or EDRM505.

Two projects—2 credits of MUHL698 for each project.

A credit recital—2 credits plus a minimum of 6 credits of applied music.

One project plus a one-credit recital—2 credits of MUHL698 for the project plus a minimum of 4 credits of applied music.

The MMus: Performance degree requires a 2-credit recital. Recitalists must have taken in residence at least one-half of their applied music credit in their major performance area. They must enroll in applied lessons for at least two consecutive semesters prior to the recital date and must audition before a committee of music faculty one month prior to the recital. Students majoring in performance without an undergraduate major in the same performance area (or the equivalent) must offer two recitals, only the second of which is for credit.

Piano Proficiency. Music majors must pass a piano proficiency examination.

Graduate students who have not passed this examination on the undergraduate level must take the examination prior to the first registration. Students who do not pass this examination must enroll in applied piano until the examination is passed.

Language Proficiency. For admission to the Master of Music: Performance (voice performance specialization), language proficiency is required in French, German and Italian. Proficiency in these languages can be validated by evidence of coursework in each of these languages equivalent to two semesters of college level study, or by passing a language proficiency exam. Lack of proficiency in these three languages can be addressed by taking additional remedial coursework. Remedial coursework does not count toward completion of the graduate degree.

Electives. Each area of study has appropriate choices of electives.

Practical Training Requirement. All students pursuing master's programs (MA: Music, MMus: Conducting; MMus: MUSIC 195 Music Education; MMus: Music Ministry; MMus: Performance) are required to take the 0-credit course MUED655 Practical Training to develop professional experience in music. To fulfill this requirement, students are required to meet a minimum of 50 hours of work/service while enrolled in the masters program. This could be done over the summer. Some recommended areas of work/service that may count toward this practical training experience are as follows:

- Music ministers in church settings
- Music teachers or instructors for a public or private school
- Instrumentalists performing in professional or community ensembles
- Research assistants in approved music research projects
- Other alternative activities must be approved by the student's major professor

After completing this requirement students will fill out and submit the form Completion of Practical Training Requirements to their major professor for evaluation and signature. Students who have developed experiences equivalent to this practical training before entering the masters program may fulfill this requirement by submitting appropriate evidence showing sufficient work/ service experience.

Comprehensive Examinations. All graduate students in music take the 0-credit course MUHL670 Comprehensive Exam toward the end of their studies. Students should consult with their advisor concerning the appropriate time to apply for these examinations and for guidance in preparing for them.

Non-degree (Guest) Students. A student who plans to study music under this classification may be admitted to courses as approved by the department chair.

Active Status. After completing all course requirements, all graduate music students must maintain an active status continuous enrollment for both Fall and Spring semesters until the degree is granted. This is accomplished by enrolling in MUHL665 Comprehensive Exam Preparation (non-repeatable with fee attached), MUHL670 Comprehensive Exam (non-repeatable), or MUHL655 Program Continuation (repeatable with fee attached) until the degree is earned. A student who fails to maintain continuous enrollment as defined here, will not be allowed to finish their degree requirements until he/she applies to the Department of Music for degree reactivation and pays the established fees for each semester of absence in the program. The reactivation fee used will be the latest AU Bulletin fee listed for MUHL655 Program Continuation.

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Music Organization

College Code: CAS

MUPF 515 - Recital Accompanying

Credits: 0,1

Preparation and public performance of a pianist/soloist recital in which the piano is the principal medium of accompaniment.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Music Organization

College Code: CAS

MUPF 516 - Piano Proficiency

Credits: 1,2
The development of basic keyboard skills required for building musicianship for all music graduate students: scales and chords, sight reading, accompaniment of melodies, and playing simple pieces and hymns.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

MUPF 520 - Diction for Singers

Credits: 2
The study of the rules for pronunciation and diction of the major languages used by singers. Study of Italian, French, German and Latin with application of International Phonetic Alphabet symbols.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture
Year Offering: Alternate Years
College Code: CAS

MUPF 525 - University Orchestra

Credits: 0,1
Department of Music ensembles are open to all students upon permission of the instructor. Ensembles seek to expand the intellectual, psychological and spiritual horizons of the student. Ensemble credit may fulfill part of the General Education arts/ humanities breadth requirement. Permission to add or drop an ensemble must be approved by the respective instructor.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Music Organization
College Code: CAS

MUPF 526 - University Wind Symphony

Credits: 0,1
Department of Music ensembles are open to all students upon permission of the instructor. Ensembles seek to expand the intellectual, psychological and spiritual horizons of the student. Ensemble credit may fulfill part of the General Education arts/ humanities breadth requirement. Permission to add or drop an ensemble must be approved by the respective instructor.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Music Organization
College Code: CAS

MUPF 527 - University Choral

Credits: 0,1
Department of Music ensembles are open to all students upon permission of the instructor. Ensembles seek to expand the intellectual, psychological and spiritual horizons of the student. Ensemble credit may fulfill part of the General Education arts/ humanities breadth requirement. Permission to add or drop an ensemble must be approved by the respective instructor.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Music Organization
College Code: CAS

MUPF 528 - University Singers

Credits: 0,1
Department of Music ensembles are open to all students upon permission of the instructor. Ensembles seek to expand the intellectual, psychological and spiritual horizons of the student. Ensemble credit may fulfill part of the General Education arts/ humanities breadth requirement. Permission to add or drop an ensemble must be approved by the respective instructor.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Music Organization
College Code: CAS

MUPF 538 - Chamber Music Ensemble

Credits: 0,1
Department of Music ensembles are open to all students upon permission of the instructor. Ensembles seek to expand the intellectual, psychological and spiritual horizons of the student. Ensemble credit may fulfill part of the General Education arts/ humanities breadth requirement. Permission to add or drop an ensemble must be approved by the respective instructor.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Music Organization
College Code: CAS

MUPF 545 - Sinfonietta

Credits: 0,1
Department of Music ensembles are open to all students upon permission of the instructor. Ensembles seek to expand the intellectual, psychological and spiritual horizons of the student. Ensemble credit may fulfill part of the General Education arts/ humanities breadth requirement. Permission to add or drop an ensemble must be approved by the respective instructor.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Blended Learning, Music Organization
College Code: CAS

MUPF 550 - Private Instruction in _____

Credits: 1–4
Private instruction in composition.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

MUPF 560 - Applied Music Study in Private Lessons (for performance music majors)

Credits: 1,2
Style and development of repertoire; preparation for public performance.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): Requires concurrent enrollment in MUPF 489.
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

MUPF 570 - Applied Music Study in Private Lessons (for non-music majors)

Credits: 1–2
Style and development of repertoire; preparation for public performance.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

MUPF 575 - Recital

Credits: 1,2
Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Independent
College Code: CAS

MUPF 578 - Study Tour

Credits: 0
Travel to destinations relevant to individual programs of study. Classes will be selected from department(s) offerings. Fee may be required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Repeatable: Repeatable
Schedule Type: Blended Learning
College Code: CAS

MUPF 589 - Recital Attendance

Credits: 0
Attendance of on- and off-campus live musical events. Required for all music majors each semester in full-time residence and four (4) semesters for music minors. Students are required to attend nine (9) live musical events each semester in order to pass the course, at least seven (7) of which must be sponsored by the Department of Music. Students may count ensemble concerts in which they perform, but note that multiple performances of a given concert may only be counted as one (1) concert. Music majors and minors who do not achieve a "pass" for one (1) semester may risk losing their standing as a music major or minor.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: CAS

MUPF 640 - Recital Continuation

Credits: 1,2

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: CAS

Music-Religious

MURE 420 - Church Music and Hymnology

Credits: 3

The biblical basis for and the theological implications involved in church-music practice with emphasis on the development of principles for guidance in the use and selection of available literature.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Even years

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

MURE 485 - The Church Organ and Service Playing

Credits: 2

The development of the organ and organ literature; a practical study of church services, including organ registrations for choral music, vocal solos, and hymn playing; discussion of the organ interlude and improvisation. Concurrent enrollment in applied music—organ is recommended.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

MURE 520 - Church Music and Hymnology

Credits: 2

The understanding and appreciation of the heritage and development of Christian hymn singing and Church music repertoire, in their respective liturgical and theological contexts.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Schedule Type: Lecture

Year Offering: Even years

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

MURE 590 - Ministry of Music Practicum

Credits: 1

A two-semester internship as minister of music or minister of music assistant in a selected church in the local area.

Grade Mode: Satisfactory w/DG (S,U,I,W,DG)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 2 credits

Schedule Type: Practicum

College Code: CAS

Mission

Advance the appreciation, understanding and application of physics in the context of personal integrity and service, scientific rigor, and Seventh-day Adventist faith.

Strategies

- Create an environment of scholarly inquiry, learning, and creativity
- Develop technical, analytical, and critical thinking skills
- Provide opportunities for intellectual independence, collaboration, and outreach
- Promote personal wholeness, integrity, balance, and spiritual well-being

Student and Faculty Goals

- Understand physics ideas, principles and interpretation, supporting and participating in research and education
- Measure, analyze and model physical phenomena, lending insight to other disciplines and professions
- Communicate scholarship in written and oral form, networking with scholarly, faith, and civic communities
- Connect scientific and religious world views, serving the Seventh-day Adventist Church and society

Physics describes the world in terms of matter and energy and relates phenomena to fundamental law using mathematical representations. Its scope includes systems that range in size from the sub-nuclear to the entire cosmos.

The BS: Physics program supports and enhances professional careers in all the physical sciences, engineering, and the life sciences. Its emphasis on problem-solving also provides a foundation for careers in medicine, business, law, and government.

The BS: Biophysics program prepares the graduate for direct entry into the workforce or advanced studies in medical and bioengineering fields as well as biophysics.

The BS: Physics Education program prepares the graduate for a career in secondary teaching.

The Major in Physics Studies is an add-on degree program that complements any baccalaureate degree without incurring additional general education requirements. It strengthens and expands marketability and interdisciplinary opportunities.

A Minor in Physics complements any baccalaureate degree. It is the minimum requirement for secondary teaching certification in physics. All physics majors and minors desiring certification should consult with the School of Education throughout their program.

Bachelors

Biophysics BS

Major Requirements: 40

Offered by the biology and physics departments

BIOL 165 - Foundations of Biology Credits: 4,5 *
BIOL 166 - Foundations of Biology Credits: 4,5 *
BIOL 372 - Cell and Molecular Biology Credits: 3
BCHM 421 - Biochemistry I Credits: 4 **
PHYS 241 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers I Credits: 4
PHYS 242 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers II Credits: 4
PHYS 271 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers Laboratory I Credits: 1
PHYS 272 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers Laboratory II Credits: 1
PHYS 277 - Physics Colloquium Credits: 0 ***
PHYS 311 - Classical Mechanics I Credits: 3
PHYS 316 - Biophysics Credits: 3
PHYS 330 - Thermodynamics and Statistical Mechanics Credits: 3
PHYS 377 - Advanced Physics Laboratory I Credits: 1
PHYS 431 - Electricity and Magnetism I Credits: 3
1 Credit minimum of PHYS 495 - Physics Research Credits: 0–3

Note:

*Students taking the 8-credit BIOL 165 and 166 Foundations of Biology course must take an additional credit of electives to meet the 40-credit requirement. Students taking the on-campus 10-credit BIOL 165 and 166 Foundations of Biology course will need to take a total of 41 credits in order to complete the requirements for the major.

By taking the cognate courses and BCHM 421, a student qualifies for a minor in chemistry.

PHYS 277 is required every semester. MATH 389 may substitute for PHYS 277.

Cognate Courses:

CHEM 131 - General Chemistry I Credits: 4
CHEM 132 - General Chemistry II Credits: 4
CHEM 231 - Organic Chemistry I Credits: 3
CHEM 232 - Organic Chemistry II Credits: 3
CHEM 241 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory I Credits: 1
CHEM 242 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory II Credits: 1

MATH 191 - Calculus I Credits: 4

Or MATH 195 - Calculus I for Biology Credits: 4

MATH 192 - Calculus II Credits: 4

MATH 286 - Differential Equations Credits: 3

Recommended Electives:

BCHM 422 - Biochemistry II Credits: 3
BCHM 430 - Biochemistry Lab Credits: 1
MATH 215 - Introduction to Linear Algebra Credits: 3
MATH 240 - Calculus III Credits: 4

Senior Thesis.

All Physics and Biophysics majors do some original research in collaboration with an established physicist on-campus or at another university, industrial or national laboratory. If students enroll for 3 credits of PHYS 495 or HONS 497H, they may prepare a Senior Thesis. Undergraduate Research Scholarships are available through the Office of Research & Creative Scholarship when students collaborate with Andrews Physics faculty.

Physics

PHYS 107 - Concepts and Applications in Physics I

Credits: 3

Identifying and quantifying physics concepts that organize daily experience, selected from mechanics, waves, thermodynamics, electromagnetism, optics, and modern physics. Includes individual and collaborative development of abstract and practical problem solving skills and applications in the classroom and integrated laboratory experience. Intended to lay a foundation for pre-professional and calculus-based introductory physics courses. In combination with PHYS 108, meets the physical science requirement for Andrews University General Education. Does not apply to a physics major or minor.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab

Term Offering: Fall
College Code: CAS

PHYS 108 - Concepts and Applications in Physics II

Credits: 3

A sequel to PHYS107, identifying and quantifying the remaining physics concepts from mechanics, waves, thermodynamics, electromagnetism, optics, and modern physics. Includes individual and collaborative development of abstract and practical problem solving skills and applications in the classroom and integrated laboratory experience. Intended to lay a foundation for pre-professional and calculus-based introductory physics courses. In combination with PHYS 107, meets the physical science requirement for Andrews University General Education. Does not apply to a physics major or minor.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): PHYS 107
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
College Code: CAS

PHYS 110 - Astronomy

Credits: 4

Exploring the cosmic environment—the solar system, stars and their development, star clusters, the interstellar medium, galaxies, and large-scale features of the Universe. Meets the Andrews General Education Physical Science requirement. Does not apply to a major or minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 2-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MPE P2 or MATH 145 or MATH 165 or STAT 285 or equivalent.
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab, Self-Paced
Term Offering: Fall, Spring
College Code: CAS

PHYS 115 - Mythbusting

Credits: 4

Examining what is commonly believed about the physical world and how to realign it with measureable reality. A conceptual and relevant understanding of physics—forces, matter and energy with 21st century applications. Meets the General Education Physical Science requirement. Does not apply to a major or minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 2-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MPE P2 or any GE-level math course.
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
College Code: CAS

PHYS 117 - Observational Astronomy Lab

Credits: 0,1

Practical experience and background in observational astronomy with modern optical instruments in laboratory, field or remote facilities. As weather permits, lab will include sessions at the Kingman Observatory with departmental or personal telescopes. This is a standalone laboratory course suitable for students in any major and for the general public. General Education Physical Science credit is limited to transfer students who are articulating a lecture course in astronomy or a Physical Science with 3 or more credits. Does not apply to a major or minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: one 3-hour activity
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: CAS

PHYS 141 - General Physics I

Credits: 4

Algebra based introduction to mechanics, wave motion, sound and thermodynamics.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures, 1 recitation, 1-hour of small-group learning and one 2.5-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MPE P4 or MATH 167 or MATH 168
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Workshop
College Code: CAS

PHYS 142 - General Physics II

Credits: 4

Algebra based introduction to electricity, magnetism, physical and geometric optics, relativity, and modern physics

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures, 1 recitation, 1-hour of small-group learning and one 2.5-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): PHYS 141
Schedule Type: Lecture, Lab, Workshop
College Code: CAS

PHYS 225 - Sound and Waves

Credits: 4

The production, transmission, synthesis, and perception of sound as understood through the physical principles, properties, and nature of waves. Includes a survey of applications—music, speech, locomotion, and imaging—and comparisons with light and other kinds of waves. Meets the General Education Physical Science requirement. Does not apply to a major or minor.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 3 lectures and a 2-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Prerequisite(s): MPE P2 or MATH 145 or MATH 165 or STAT 285
Schedule Type: Lecture/Lab
College Code: CAS

PHYS 235 - MATLAB

Credits: 2,3

An introduction to MATLAB programming with a focus on its application to physics problems. The capabilities of MATLAB are explored in the areas of graphing, data analysis, numerical methods, Fourier analysis, and signal processing.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture and a 4-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: CAS

PHYS 241 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers I

Credits: 4

A calculus-based introduction to mechanics, wave motion and thermodynamics emphasizing the mathematical formulation and the physical significance of fundamental principles.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 4 lectures and 1 recitation
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PHYS 271
Prerequisite(s): MATH 192
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

PHYS 242 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers II

Credits: 4

A calculus-based introduction to electricity, magnetism, geometric and physical optics, relativity, and modern physics emphasizing the mathematical formulation and the physical significance of fundamental principles.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 4 lectures and 1 recitation
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PHYS 272
Prerequisite(s): MATH 192 and PHYS 241
Schedule Type: Lecture
College Code: CAS

PHYS 271 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers Laboratory I

Credits: 1

Laboratory experiments in mechanics, wavemotion and thermodynamics, associated with the PHYS241 course.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: one 3-hour lab
Course/Lab Fee: Yes
Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)
Corequisite(s): PHYS 241
Schedule Type: Lab
College Code: CAS

PHYS 272 - Physics for Scientists and Engineers Laboratory II

Credits: 1

Laboratory experiments in electricity, magnetism, geometric and physical optics, and modern physics associated with the PHYS242 course.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: one 3-hour lab

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Corequisite(s): PHYS 242

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: CAS

PHYS 277 - Physics Colloquium

Credits: 0

Current topics and issues of interest to the physics community. Required each semester of all students with a physics major or minor. Interchangeable with MATH 389.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture or activity

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Seminar

College Code: CAS

PHYS 280 - Topics in _____

Credits: 0–3

Introductory-level topics in astrophysics, other current physics area or associated scientific programming.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): Approval of the instructor.

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 4 credits. Minimum of 4 hours per week is required for each credit earned.

Schedule Type: Seminar

College Code: CAS

PHYS 295 - Independent Study/Research

Credits: 1,2

Individually directed reading and lab projects in physics (e.g., holography and astrophotography). A minimum of 4 hours per week is required for each credit earned.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Prerequisite(s): Approval of the instructor.

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 4 credits

Schedule Type: Independent

College Code: CAS

PHYS 311 - Classical Mechanics I

Credits: 3

Statics, kinematics, and dynamics for single particles, including Lagrangian and Hamiltonian formalisms.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): MATH 192

Prerequisite/Corequisite: PHYS 241 or PHYS 142

Recommended: PHYS 242

Schedule Type: Lecture

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

PHYS 316 - Biophysics

Credits: 3

Modeling and describing physical phenomena of living systems, including transport and diffusion across membranes and electrical processes in muscle and nerve tissue.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 242 (recommended) or PHYS 142; MATH 192

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 325 - Astrophysics

Credits: 3

The application of physics to astronomical objects and systems. Includes orbital mechanics, observing with light, planetary systems, stellar mechanics, galaxies, and cosmology.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 242 (recommended) or PHYS 142 ; MATH 192

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 330 - Thermodynamics and Statistical Mechanics

Credits: 3

Systematic introduction to thermodynamics, kinetic theory, and statistical mechanics (classical and quantum).

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 242 (recommended) or PHYS 142 ; MATH 192

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 350 - Optics

Credits: 3

Geometric and physical optics; interference and diffraction, polarization, Fourier optics, lasers, and holography.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 242 (recommended) or PHYS 142; MATH 192.

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 377 - Advanced Physics Laboratory I

Credits: 1

Development of advanced lab skills in the study of basic physical phenomena. Emphasis includes scientific instrumentation, scientific computing, lab procedure, data reduction, interpretation, and technical communication. A public presentation is required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 2 credits

Schedule Type: Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

PHYS 400 - Demonstrations in Physics

Credits: 1,2

Identifying topics suitable for demonstration, surveying the literature, preparing demonstrations, finding suppliers of materials and equipment. Critically evaluating demonstrations—their design, preparation, and execution.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): Approval of the department chair.

Schedule Type: Lab

College Code: CAS

PHYS 412 - Classical Mechanics II

Credits: 3

Statics, kinematics, and dynamics of multi-particle systems, including Lagrangian and Hamiltonian formalisms.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 311 or ENGR 285 ; MATH 192

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 420 - Advanced Topics in_____

Credits: 2,3

Atomic physics, nuclear physics, or other current physics area.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 242 or PHYS 311

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 431 - Electricity and Magnetism I

Credits: 3

A treatment of electromagnetic phenomena in terms of potentials and vector fields. Develops Maxwell's equations with descriptions of electrostatics and magnetostatics as solutions to Laplace's and Poisson's equations.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 311

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 432 - Electricity and Magnetism II

Credits: 3

A treatment of electromagnetic phenomena in terms of potentials and vector fields. Addresses electromagnetic radiation in media, reflection and refraction, and the fields of waveguides and antennae.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 431

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 440 - Relativity

Credits: 3

Einstein's theories of Special and General Relativity. Includes introductions to black holes, relativistic cosmology and gravitational waves.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 242 (recommended) or PHYS 142 ; MATH 192

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 445 - Particle Physics

Credits: 3

A study of particle properties, forces, structure, decay and reaction mechanism in the context of the Standard Model.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 481

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 460 - Solid State Physics

Credits: 3

A study of crystallography, x-ray diffraction, properties of crystalline and amorphous solids, band theory of solids, and lattice dynamics.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 311

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 475 - Physics Review

Credits: 3

A review and synthesis of physics concepts and analytical and experimental techniques in preparation for entry into a graduate program. Topics include classical, statistical and quantum mechanics, waves and classical fields.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 311

Schedule Type: Workshop

College Code: CAS

PHYS 477 - Advanced Physics Laboratory II

Credits: 1

Development of advanced lab skills in the study of basic physical phenomena. Emphasis includes scientific instrumentation, scientific computing, lab procedure, data reduction, interpretation, and technical communication. A public presentation is required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 2 credits

Schedule Type: Lab

Term Offering: Spring

College Code: CAS

PHYS 478 - Study Tour:

Credits: 0

Travel to destinations relevant to individual programs of study. Classes will be selected from department(s) offerings. Fee may be required.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Noncredit (NC,W)

Schedule Type: Blended Learning

College Code: CAS

PHYS 481 - Quantum Mechanics I

Credits: 3

The mechanics of physical phenomena at small scales in formalisms developed by Schrödinger, Heisenberg, and Dirac. Treatments of infinite and square well, barrier, step, and harmonic oscillator potentials; uncertainty relations and angular momenta.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 311

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 482 - Quantum Mechanics II

Credits: 3

Matrix mechanics and spin, quantum mechanics applied to the hydrogen atom, many-electron atoms and solid state physics. Also an introduction to time-independent and time-dependent perturbation theory.

Grade Mode: Normal (A-F,I,W)

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 481

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 490 - Independent Study in Physics

Credits: 1–3

Individually directed study or problem-solving in selected fields of physics. A minimum of 4 hours work per week is required for each credit earned and a written paper is required.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits

Schedule Type: Independent

Special Approval: Instructor permission required.

College Code: CAS

PHYS 495 - Physics Research

Credits: 0–3

An independent research project in physics supervised by a faculty member. A minimum of 4 hours work per week is required for each credit earned. A written paper and an oral presentation are required. Students should register for credit, or for the zero credit option, for each semester during which research is being done.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits

Schedule Type: Independent

Special Approval: Instructor permission required.

College Code: CAS

PHYS 530 - Topics in Teaching _____

Credits: 1–3

Discussions on 1) the principles of physics and effective approaches for teaching them, or 2) the physics lab, its purposes, administrative and safety procedures, essential equipment, seminal experiments, data analysis, lab journal, and reports.

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 9 credits

Schedule Type: Seminar

College Code: CAS

PHYS 540 - Topics in _____

Credits: 2,3

Study in one of the traditional areas of graduate physics such as electromagnetic theory, analytical or quantum mechanics, solid state, atomic, nuclear or high energy physics, astrophysics, relativity, or mathematical physics. Students complete readings and problems.

Grade Mode: Normal with DG (A-F,I,W,DG,DN)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 9 credits

Schedule Type: Lecture

College Code: CAS

PHYS 577 - Physics Colloquium

Credits: 0, 0.5, 1

Current topics and issues of interest in the physics community. For non-zero credit options, includes specialized study and the preparation and delivery of a public presentation.

Lecture/Lab: Weekly: 1 lecture or activity

Course/Lab Fee: Yes

Grade Mode: Satisfactory (S,U,I,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 1 credit

Schedule Type: Seminar

College Code: CAS

PHYS 648 - Workshop

Credits: 1–3

An intensive program for middle school and secondary teachers and teachers-in-training who seek certification or endorsement in physics and who wish to update and expand their skills in the physics laboratory.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Repeatable: Repeatable

Schedule Type: Workshop

College Code: CAS

PHYS 690 - Independent Study/Research

Credits: 1–3

Individually directed study, problem-solving, or research in selected fields of physics. Open to qualified students who show ability and initiative. A minimum of 4 hours work per week expected for each credit earned.

Grade Mode: Normal w S/DG (A-F,I,S,U,DG,W)

Prerequisite(s): Consent of department chair.

Repeatable: Repeatable up to 6 credits

Mission

The Department of Religion & Biblical Languages seeks to engage majors and general education students through a biblically grounded, theologically astute and relevant process of spiritual formation; equipping and inspiring them to passionately serve the Seventh-day Adventist Church and the wider world beyond as dedicated lay persons and committed denominational employees in the expectation of the soon coming of Jesus Christ.

Students who are religion and theology majors must be in good and regular standing in terms of student life citizenship. As future ministers of the church, they are expected to live in harmony with Seventh-day Adventist beliefs and practices. Failure in any of these areas may lead to a student being placed on probation or being dismissed from the program. Academic requirements and other program standards are stated in detail in the departmental handbook.

Associates

Christian Discipleship AA

This degree prepares students for personal outreach ministries, including Bible instruction, and offers an opportunity to study a broad spectrum of courses covering both Old and New Testament.

This AS degree can be completed on-campus or online. Program requirements are the same for both the main campus and online options.
Main Campus: All courses for this program are available on the main campus. Campus course formats include lectures, labs, and more interactive learning experiences.
Online: All course requirements can also be completed online, with no time required on the main campus. Online courses are offered in self-paced open learning and self-paced full term formats, with a few also available in interactive online format (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Online Delivery Definitions).

Students must take the courses designated in the Andrews Core Experience: Associate Degrees outline.

Bachelors

Religion BA (Distance Ed)

Online Delivery: This degree is offered as self-paced online program, although some courses are sometimes available in an interactive online format (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). This program does not require any time on campus.

Total Credits: 124

Program Description

The BA in Religion is designed for students seeking a mastery of basic principles of biblical interpretation, theological reasoning, and practical ministry. This degree does not aim for intentional integration with a student's primary major and related vocational goals, but instead provides a broad-based immersion into Adventist theology and practice. As this degree fulfills part but not all of seminary prerequisites, it is a good fit for non-traditional students as they can finish their remaining prerequisites in the seminary.

RELB 216 - Law and Writings of the Old Testament Credits: 3

RELB 274 - Prophetic Writings of the Old Testament Credits: 3

RELB 335 - Acts and Epistles Credits: 3

Take 5-6 credits from the following:

RELG 225 - Foundations of Missions Credits: 3

RELP 240 - Personal Witnessing Credits: 2-3

RELP 330 - Homiletics—Introduction to Preaching Credits: 2

RELP 335 - Foundations of Youth Ministry Credits: 3

RELP 441 - Introduction to Pastoral Ministry Credits: 2,3

Andrews Core Experience

The Religion Andrews Core Experience requirement is fulfilled through completion of the religion major.

Students must complete an intermediate language course/requirement either through Greek, Hebrew, or a modern foreign language.

Students must take all courses designated in the BA/BS degree requirements of the Andrews Core Experience Program while noting the preceding specific considerations for this degree.

Program Outcomes

Seek Knowledge

Possess a foundational knowledge in the areas of Bible, history, and theology, from a Seventh-day Adventist perspective.

Affirm Faith

Expression of faith: In the context of present society, history, theology, be able to articulate the Seventh-day Adventist view of life both orally and in writing.

Exhibit growth in Christian life skills.

Change the World

Document an attitude of mission, experience & skills in personal service.

Note:

Students planning to enter the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary should select a major in theology. A religion major may be selected but must be supplemented with Seminary prerequisite courses. For entrance requirements, see the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary section of this bulletin.

Off-campus Locations

This program is also offered at approved off-campus location(s).

Additional Information

For students wishing to directly enter the seminary, it is recommended that you choose the following prerequisite courses in addition to the prerequisites built into the degree: RELP 485 (Pastoral Ministry), RELH 316 (History of the Christian Church I), RELH 317 (History of the Christian Church II), and RELP 330 (Homiletics). One of the RELP courses can count towards your practical studies elective component of the degree, and two of the three remaining courses can fit into your general departmental electives, leaving you with only (1) additional course.

Employment/Future Academic Progress Information

For students desiring to directly enter the ministry upon graduation, the Theology, BA is the standard, in-depth degree that has greater employment options. The religion degree should be done in conjunction with another major for employment purposes except for transfer/major change students attempting to finish up and go directly to the seminary.

Religion, Secondary Education Concentration BA

Certificates

Christian Discipleship Certificate

This program is designed for students desiring limited studies in Christian Discipleship.

Certificate Description

The Christian Discipleship Certificate prepares Christians to better connect with God, self, and others, through a deeper understanding of biblical foundations, applied to their vocational calling and specific ministries. The certificate requires academic study and service learning in an internship ministry experience, with a portfolio as evidence of completing all certificate outcomes. All courses may be counted towards other religion associates/baccalaureate degrees.

Online delivery: This program is also offered in a self-paced online format (see School of Distance Education and International Partnerships Definitions). Some courses may also be available in an interactive online format. This program does not require any on-campus time, unless one is enrolled in the on-campus delivery.

Mission

The Andrews University Department of Social Work, through excellence in teaching, research, and service, prepares students to be effective, knowledgeable, and qualified for practice in the twenty-first century. Using a person and environment perspective, graduates will enhance individual, family, group, organizational, and community well-being, celebrate difference, and promote social and economic justice for vulnerable populations. As a Seventh-day Adventist Christian institution, we build and disseminate knowledge, values, and skills that positively impact local, national, and international communities; affirm faith by integrating Christian compassion in action within generalist and advanced generalist social work practice; and change the world by enhancing the quality of life for all people by upholding the traditions, values, and ethics of the social work profession.

Bachelors

Social Work BSW

The Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) is a professional degree which prepares graduates for generalist professional practice and/or the opportunity to be admitted to a Master of Social Work (MSW) program with advanced standing within appropriate advanced standing GPA guidelines. In addition to the on-campus BSW program, the BSW program is offered as an off-campus program at Washington Adventist University, Takoma Park, Md. The off-campus BSW program is administered and delivered by the AU Department of Social Work and upon completion the BSW is conferred by Andrews University. The AU baccalaureate program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education through the year 2019.

The foundation curriculum consists of 10 core competencies that are required in every BSW program: (1) Professionalism, (2) Values and Ethics, (3) Critical Thinking, (4) Diversity and Differences, (5) Human Rights and Social Economic Justice, (6) Research, (7) Human Behavior and the Social Environment, (8) Social Welfare Policy and Services, (9) Contextualization, (10) Social Work Practice, plus two (2) additional departmental competencies: (11) Global Worldview and (12) Christian perspective.

Throughout the curriculum, the program integrates concepts of professional ethics and values, critical thinking, and sensitivity to diversity, oppression, social and economic justice, and populations-at-risk. Field education is an integral component of the program.

Although students may declare themselves as social work majors in their freshman or sophomore year, they must apply for acceptance into the social work program. Application is made in January of the sophomore year for formal acceptance into the program by the end of March. Applications are available from social work academic advisors of both the on-campus and off-campus sites.

BSW Student Handbook

The BSW Student Handbook has been designed as the social work student's aid in understanding the program requirements, Social Work Department, and relevant policies of Andrews University. Inside the handbook you will find information such as expectations of students, the BSW curriculum, departmental policies, and other relevant information.

You are responsible for the information found in this handbook, so please take the time to familiarize yourself with the handbook and know where to find questions and answers if the need arises.

Field Education

The Field Manual has been designed as your aid in understanding field education requirements, your role as a student in a field agency, and relevant policies of Andrews University.

You are responsible for the information found in this handbook, so please take the time to familiarize yourself with the handbook and know where to find questions and answers if the need arises.

Admission Criteria

Students qualify for entry into the BSW program when they:

- Applicants who fail to meet any of the above may be admitted only after committee consideration of the specific circumstances. Additional course work in English may be required.

A student who graduated from a four-year English-speaking high school, college or university may be exempted from all or parts of the above requirements.

Continued Enrollment and Professional Expectations

Continued enrollment is conditional upon the following:

- Acceptable academic performance
- Ethical conduct in compliance with the National Association of Social Workers (NASW) Code of Ethics
- Adequate knowledge and practice performance in the practicum setting.
- Appropriate demonstration of Professional Expectations.

Students in the BSW and MSW Social Work programs are expected to read, know, and integrate the professional expectations listed in the Andrews University Department of Social Work Handbook. Consequences for violations of these expectations could include but are not limited to verbal or written warnings, denial of admission, suspension, dismissal, or expulsion from a course or the program. Student Handbook can be obtained on the departmental website at www.andrews.edu/socialwork/.

Field Practicum

Students are required to complete a 400-hour field placement in a local human-service agency. Students are not eligible to take SOWK 401 or SOWK 402 or SOWK 435 before being admitted into the BSW program. The practicum is normally completed during the student's senior year. Prerequisites include the following courses (which must be completed with a grade of C- or above): SOWK 331, SOWK 332, SOWK 350 and SOWK 402, and a human biology course. Students may be dropped from the program or be required to complete additional practicum hours for the following reasons:

- Inability to demonstrate the skills, knowledge, and professional responsibilities required of a baccalaureate-level social work intern
- Clear violation of the NASW Code of Ethics

Past experience strengthens all BSW student applications. However, following Council on Social Work Education requirements, no social work course credit can be given for life experience or previous work experience.
