The purpose of the Greek Placement Exam is to ensure that students have the Greek skills necessary to understand and carry out effective Biblical exegesis both in seminary exegesis classes and in sermon and teaching preparation during their ministries.

Rev. February 2008
• Don’t forget to pay attention to:
  • changes in the meaning of a preposition when followed by a genitive, dative, or accusative.
  • rough breathing marks
• Appropriate word lists may be found in:
  • Metzger, Bruce. Lexical Aids for Students of New Testament Greek.

2. Morphology: Parsing Individual Words
• Be able to parse nouns, articles, adjectives, pronouns, and verbs.
  • Nouns (in all three declensions)
    • Case - nominative, genitive, dative, accusative, and vocative
    • Gender - masculine (m), feminine (f), neuter (n)
    • Number - singular, plural
  • Articles
    • Case, Gender, Number
  • Adjectives and Pronouns (in all three declensions)
    • Case, Gender, Number
    • Some pronouns also have 1st, 2nd, and 3rd person forms
  • Verbs (regular and irregular verbs, contract verbs, and -με verbs)
    • Mood - indicative, subjunctive, imperative
    • Tense - present, aorist, imperfect, perfect, future, pluperfect
    • Voice - active, passive, middle, deponent
    • Person - 1st, 2nd, 3rd
    • Number - singular, plural

• Infinitive - tense, voice
• Participle - tense, voice, case, gender, number
• The test will use the order and abbreviations listed above.
• Not all parsing elements will appear in every parsing question on the exam.
• Helpful introductions to parsing may be found in:
  • Mounce, William D. Basics of Biblical Greek: Grammar.

3. Syntax: Relationships Between Words
• Know how to analyze a Greek sentence in order to ascertain how a particular word influences or takes its cue from other words. For example: 1) Be able to identify the usage and, if necessary, the antecedent of αὐτός in a given context. Or 2) Be able to recognize the types of conditional sentences.
• Understand the range of possible meanings for:
  • each case of the noun family
  • the article or lack of article
  • each tense, voice, and mood of the verb
  • the infinitive
  • the participle
• Be able to choose the meaning most appropriate to the particular context in which the word is found.
• It is important to understand each of the basic syntactical categories of Greek nouns and verbs. Categories dealt with on this exam are based on David Alan Black’s It’s Still Greek to Me.
• While all of the syntactical categories are testable, listed below are a few which differ most from English usage.
  • Nouns
    • Nominative: Predicate, Vocative
    • Genitive: Absolute, Comparison, Subjective, Objective, Dir. Obj.
    • Dative: Possession, Instrumental, Locative, Direct Object
    • Accusative: General Reference, Respect (Reference)
Verbs
- Present Tense: Futuristic, Historical, Tendential (Conative)
- Future Tense: Imperatival
- Aorist Tense: Ingressive (Inceptive), Gnomic, Dramatic
- Imperfect Tense: Tendential/Conative
- Perfect Tense: Intensive, Dramatic (Aoristic/Historical)
- Middle Voice: Intensive (Indirect)
- Subjunctive Mood: Hortatory, Prohibition, Emphatic Negation
- Infinitives: Time, Result
- Participles: Imperatival, Attendant Circumstance, Telic (Purpose)
- Because the titles for syntactical categories vary from grammar to grammar, answer options will give a basic description of the category as well as its title. Therefore, understanding the different categories of usage for a particular case, tense, etc. is more important than memorizing terminology.
- Helpful intermediate grammars which address the issues of syntax include:
  - Black, David Alan. It's Still Greek To Me.
  - Wallace, Daniel B. Greek Grammar Beyond the Basics.

4. Translation of Greek Phrases, Clauses and Sentences
- Use your knowledge of vocabulary, morphology and syntax to:
  - Translate NT Greek sentences, clauses, or phrases.
  - Choose the best translation for words as required by a particular context. For example: ἔρχομαι may mean “I come” or “I go” depending on the context.
  - Fill in an implied subject, noun, or verb, as directed by the context. For example: In some sentences ἐστίν is implied rather than actually provided.
  - Memorization of the most common irregular verbs will greatly enhance ease and accuracy of translation.
- The best way to prepare for the translation portion of the test is to translate. Work at reading as much as possible from the Greek New Testament itself, consulting a lexicon etc. only when you have made your best effort to translate the text on your own. As you go, note what elements you need to review for the future.

5. Comprehension: Integration of Greek Grammar Skills
- Be able to:
  - recognize the implications of one’s syntactical analysis;
  - infer conclusions from the Greek passage as a whole.
- Since comprehension questions test your understanding of the theological meaning of one particular phrase or passage currently under examination. Be careful not to answer questions from general theological ideas but only from what the passage itself indicates.

TAKING THE EXAM
Two hours will be allowed to complete the exam, which will consist of 40 multiple choice questions. Your answers are to be recorded on a computer-graded score card, so bring a couple of HB pencils with good erasers for filling in the circles. No other materials are necessary (or allowable) in the exam. Blank scrap paper will be provided for those who desire it. All test materials are to be turned in at the end of the exam.

The exam will consist of a series of unidentified New Testament passages followed by questions regarding the vocabulary, parsing, syntax, translation, and comprehension of elements found with the passage. (Definitions for lexical forms used less than 50 times will be provided.) The passages will be taken only from the New Testament, excluding Hebrews, 1 & 2 Peter, and Jude.

The Greek placement examination (and/or the final exam for NTST552 Intermediate Greek) may be taken a total of three times.
If a student has taken this examination three times and has neither passed at the intermediate level, nor obtained a grade of C+ (%70) or higher in NTST552, the student must then repeat NTST552.

UNDERSTANDING THE EXAM RESULTS

Exam scores will be reported in the form of percentages.
• A score of 60% or better demonstrates that a student has the Greek skills necessary to proceed directly to the appropriate New Testament exegesis classes.
• Students scoring between 45% and 59% will need to take Intermediate Greek to enhance their skills before they will be able to complete their New Testament exegesis requirements.
• Students scoring below 45% need to take both Beginning and Intermediate Greek in order to be prepared for their New Testament exegesis requirements.
• Those taking the Greek Placement Exam for NT PhD must score 90% or higher to place out of Advanced Greek. The score required of other PhD students is determined by their department and program.

This study guide applies only to the Greek Placement Exam. The Intermediate Greek Final Exam has slightly different requirements.

SAMPLE EXAM QUESTIONS

The following sample questions are simplified for illustration purposes. On the actual Placement Exam, the various types of questions will be intermingled and will be based on longer passages from a variety of New Testament books.
