FINANCIAL AID

Defined

What is financial aid?

Financial aid helps you bridge the gap between school costs and what you and your family can reasonably contribute out-of-pocket. There are two types of financial aid; financial aid that is free (grants and scholarships) and financial aid that will have to be repaid at some point (loans-federal or private).

- Grants and scholarships can be offered on a number of different factors including merit, need, biographical, or employment.
- Loans can be obtained through the federal government or private lenders. Federal loan amounts are offered based on your year in school and your annual budget.

Do I have to apply for financial aid?

No, you don't have to apply for financial aid. However, we do encourage all eligible students to file the FAFSA and see what kind of federal and/or state financial aid could be available.

Undergraduates: The Andrews Partnership Scholarship and Educational Allowance do not require that you file a FAFSA. Simply complete the electronic AU Financial Information Sheet.

Sponsored students who require special billing should present all necessary information to our office before July 1.

FEDERAL DIRECT LOANS

Explained

Once you have filed your FAFSA-Free Application Federal Student Aid, your eligibility for Federal Direct student/parent loans will be determined. Your financial aid offer notification will state your eligibility amounts. If you decide that you wish to take part in the Federal Direct loan program, there are 3 simple steps to complete. All of these steps can be completed online. Links are available in SFS Self-Serve.

STEP 1: REQUEST LOANS

STEP 2: COMPLETE ENTRANCE COUNSELING

STEP 3: SIGN MASTER PROMISSORY NOTE

Don't want loans?

If you decide not to take any federal loans, simply go to Financial Aid Self-Service Banner, click on the loans offered and decline them. You may also submit a paper loan request form and your decline will be processed manually. Any loans offered will need to either be accepted or declined before your financial aid offer can be considered complete.

Remember,

you can borrow less than your school offers and can request more funds later if you need to. You should borrow only what you need.

UNDERSTAND FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) is a federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education. Students will need to give electronic authorization before staff are able to discuss account matters with others, parents & sponsors included.

KNOW HOW YOU WILL PAY FOR COLLEGE.

Will you be paying in USD or a foreign currency? Which payment plan will work best for you? Will someone else be paying on your account? Should you add them as an Authorized User or include them in your billing address? Consider getting a local bank account for ease of payments, refund deposits, and quick access to spending money.
